Chapter 386 The Way To Dispel The Misunderstanding

"Humph, you are just an employee of the moving company who is helping the owner to move in. Why didn't you come out after entering for such a long time?"

In fact, Lois was a straightforward girl who spoke out her thoughts directly.

When she saw the indifferent look on Trevor's face and the luggage that was still placed at the hallway, she stamped her feet angrily and scolded, "At first, I thought you were righteous and cool to protect the rights of the owner when you didn't let us in to have a look at the villa.

But now, you haven't even dealt with the luggage. Are you using the identity of the moving company to enjoy the villa? What are you going to say, huh?"

After hearing her accusation, Trevor raised his eyebrows and smiled bitterly in this heart.

The girl actually thought he was the employee of the moving company.

Even though she was scolding, Trevor wasn't angry at all.

After all, it could be seen that the girl named Lois was kind-hearted and justified.

With a small smile on his face, Trevor looked at the sunset falling on the river in the distance and teased, "Then, why did you stay outside the villa for so long? It must have been at least twenty minutes right?"

Hearing this, Lois's face suddenly turned red. Without saying anything, she just pouted and played with the corner of her clothes.

Seeing the girl's cute behavior, Trevor couldn't help but laugh.

Obviously, these girls really wanted to see the villa.

After all, they still hadn't given up the idea of visiting the villa. Maybe they wandered at the door because they wanted to know the owner of the villa.

Thinking about it, Trevor chuckled.

Well, if these people didn't give up the thought of him being the moving boy, they wouldn't be able to meet the owner of the villa.

He was about to explain about his identity, when one of the girl snapped, "What are you laughing at? Don't change the topic."

It seemed that she was irritated by Trevor's chuckle, as she felt insulted.

At that time, the other girl agreed, "Yes, he is the one who used his identity to enjoy the villa yet he didn't let us in! Maybe he will use the owner's trust to make a new key and use the villa when the owner isn't at home."

"I think this guy is very scheming. He's just playing hard to get. He rejected Lois' request on purpose to attract attention."

The chatter of the girls made Trevor feel a little embarrassed.

With a heavy heart, Trevor thought, 'I was about to say something when you interrupted me, girl. Now, how am I going to explain?'

Seeing that these girls were looking at him with scrutiny, Trevor shrugged helplessly and asked, "If I tell you guys that I am the owner of this villa, will you believe me?"

However, before he could even finish his sentence, the girls showed a look of contempt.

It was as if they had already guessed that he would say something like that.

The looks on their faces showed that they didn't believe what Trevor just said.

Trevor sighed helplessly as he already thought of this reaction.

As far as he knew about them, Trevor thought that it wouldn't be easy for him to persuade them.

Since Camille was the one who helped him with the formalities, he couldn't show the evidence for the time being.

It was supposed to be quite easy for him to ignore these girls.

However, with the way Lois was acting, she might call the police in the end if he stayed in the villa. When that happened, it would cause a lot of trouble.

Of course, he could always ask Camille and the others to come over to testify. However, that would be a lot of work. Moreover, if he called them on the phone, it might be taken as an act. This kind of thing was too familiar to Trevor.

After thinking for a while, he thought he shouldn't be too aggressive because of Lois' well-intentioned behavior.

There was only one solution to solve this problem.

Trevor clapped his hands to attract the attention of the girls. With a smile on his face, he said confidently, "So, do you want to visit this villa?"

In fact, this villa's intelligent system had the recognition function. If the girls saw that he had the ability to control it, he could naturally prove his identity as the owner.

Who would have thought that he would have to invite the strangers in his newly bought villa, instead of his acquaintance?
