Chapter 389 Coincidence

The sudden sound of the system eased the atmosphere of the living room.

At first, someone laughed and then everyone started laughing.

After that, the girls weren't cautious around Trevor anymore. They even asked him if he had a girlfriend or not while visiting the villa.

However, when Trevor said that he had a crush on someone, they restrained their thoughts with regret.

They didn't stay in the villa for a long time when the tour was finished. Even when Trevor saw them off, their faces were filled with excitement.

Obviously, a tour in the luxurious villa was truly satisfying.

In fact, as time passed, Trevor liked this villa more and more. Then, he lay back on the soft bed.

The only thing that was running in his mind was to invite Luisa to his newly bought villa.

Judging by the way they acted around each other, they were considered to be in a relationship right now.

When Trevor recalled about the past few months he spent with Luisa, a faint smile appeared on his face.

If he confessed his love for her again, would Luisa accept him this time?

Maybe she would. Now, he needed to find a suitable opportunity to tell her about his true identity.

While he was thinking about it, his phone rang.

While he was thinking about it, his phone rang.

The smile on his face became wider when she saw the caller ID.

What a coincidence!

He was thinking about Luisa and she called him.

The moment he picked up the phone, he heard Luisa's sweet laughter.

"Trevor, did you miss me?"

Despite his beating heart, Trevor calmed himself as he smiled and joked, "Yes, I'm lying on the bed now. I miss you so much that I want to see you even in my dream."

The closer they got, the more comfortable they felt whenever they talked to each other.

After chatting and laughing for a while, Luisa changed the topic.

"Trevor, the hospital informed me that Dilan can be discharged from the hospital tomorrow. Let's pick him up together."

"Okay, I'll drive there. Let's have a big meal to celebrate along with Noor and Dilan."

After making the plans, the two of them chatted for more than half an hour.

In the end, Luisa had to say goodbye reluctantly as her mother urged her to take a shower.

After hanging up the call with Luisa, Trevor called his father and borrowed a Benz business car.

Since he had to take two children with him, the Bugatti Chiron was a bit small.

Then, he told his father about his newly bought villa and about the hooligans that made trouble for him.

Then, he told his father about his newly bought villa and about the hooligans that made trouble for him.

The whole time, Ronald was calm. Later, he told him in an indifferent tone that he had already known about it and that he had investigated the person behind all of this.

However, he didn't tell the name of the person behind this matter directly.

Instead, he encouraged Trevor to use the resources to find out the culprit behind everything.

At this point, Trevor got used to his father's method to educate him. Therefore, he didn't have any dissatisfaction towards his father.

After hanging up the call with his father, Trevor put his hands under his head and tried to recall the whole process of the attack.

However, no matter what, he couldn't find any clue.

The biggest clue he had right now was the chat box that Brice showed him.

In the end, Trevor smiled bitterly and sighed.

Then, he muttered to himself, "I hope that Maison can find something with the information I gave him. Even if he isn't powerful enough like the guys my father sent to protect me, I hope he can bring me some new information. In that way, I can find out the culprit more easily."
