

Blessed 398

Chapter 398 The Expected Confession

Trevor hung up the phone and put it down. Although the call disturbed him, he didn't let anything show. Right now, the only thing that mattered to him was to make the most of the time he was spending with Luisa.

The dishes on the table were exquisite and looked quite delicious. The Blue Lake Restaurant was actually famous for its uniquely flavored dishes.

Much like Trevor, Dilan and Noor also chose to ignore what happened earlier. They feasted on the delicious food on the table. It was so good that Dilan and Noor wanted to bring some to the orphanage to share with others.

Luisa was enjoying herself too. She especially liked the dessert. She had never tasted anything like it before. She turned to Trevor and said in a curious tone, "Trevor, I have this feeling that you are becoming more and more mysterious these days. Why invite me to dinner in such a classy place?"

In fact, Luisa felt that this place was way too expensive for them. When the waiter told them the price of a VIP seat, she nearly choked.

The total expenses for this dinner were approximately $20, 000. For someone from a modest family like Trevor, this sum was simply staggering.

Fortunately, the restaurant manager informed them that the meal was offered by the house. Otherwise, she would have offered to pay part of the deposit for Trevor and suggested that they change restaurants.

Hearing Luisa's question, Trevor smiled slightly. Of course, he had guessed that his behavior would arouse suspicion.

Trevor hung up the phone and put it down. Although the call disturbed him, he didn't let anything show. Right now, the only thing that mattered to him was to make the most of the time he was spending with Luise.

The dishes on the table were exquisite and looked quite delicious. The Blue Lake Restaurant was actually famous for its uniquely flavored dishes.

Much like Trevor, Dilan and Noor also chose to ignore what happened earlier. They feasted on the delicious food on the table. It was so good that Dilan and Noor wanted to bring some to the orphanage to share with others.

Luise was enjoying herself too. She especially liked the dessert. She had never tasted anything like it before. She turned to Trevor and said in a curious tone, "Trevor, I have this feeling that you are becoming more and more mysterious these days. Why invite me to dinner in such a classy place?"

In fact, Luise felt that this place was way too expensive for them. When the waiter told them the price of a VIP seat, she nearly choked.

The total expenses for this dinner were approximately $20,000. For someone from a modest family like Trevor, this sum was simply staggering.

Fortunately, the restaurant manager informed them that the meal was offered by the house. Otherwise, she would have offered to pay part of the deposit for Trevor and suggested that they change restaurants.

Heeding Luise's question, Trevor smiled slightly. Of course, he had guessed that his behavior would arouse suspicion.

However, he was doing this on purpose. In fact, Trevor had no intention of hiding his true identity from Luisa for much longer.

However, he was doing this on purpose. In fact, Trevor had no intention of hiding his true identity from Luisa for much longer.

The more he spent time with Luisa, the more he got to know her.

Trevor knew he loved Luisa, and he was sure she had a pure crush on him too. She wasn't drawn to him because of wealth or power.

At this moment, he reached out his hand and held Luisa's hand solemnly.

Although she was a bit shy, Luisa didn't stop Trevor from holding her hand.

Trevor blinked at Luisa and said with a smile, "Luisa, trust me. I will soon lift the veil on this mystery for you."

The Blue Lake Restaurant was quite a charming place. However, Trevor thought the venue wasn't suitable enough for what he wanted to do.

He intended to confess his love to Luisa!

He wanted a magical place for that. He was thinking of placing flowers all over the courtyard of the luxurious five-star hotel his father had just bought, and confessing his love to Luisa there under a starry sky!

'That would be ideal. After all, dad said he would give me the hotel once I found a girlfriend!'

Thinking of that, Trevor's eyes shone with love as he stared at Luisa.

Luisa blushed seeing the way Trevor was looking at her. The man she loved was becoming more and more confident! Luisa's heart was filled with joy at this moment.

She nodded at what Trevor just said. Then, with a bright smile, she said, "I trust you, Trevor. I'm looking forward to the day when you will finally confess it to me."

Her big eyes twinkled giving her a unique charm. She looked like a lovely policewoman who interrogated others during a routine.

Trevor was deeply moved to see how much Luisa trusted him.

The second half of the sentence she said in a joking tone made Trevor smile. If only she knew what he was about to confess to her.

He replied in the same playful tone, "Yes, madam." Actually, Trevor wanted to say something but he chose to keep it to himself. In his heart, he thought, 'I really hope I can soon steal your heart...'

Trevor, Luisa, Dilan and Noor had a great time at Blue Lake Restaurant. After dinner, Trevor sent Dilan and Noor back to the welfare home, then took Luisa home.

They happened to run into Rodney and Keyla who were shopping outside.

Trevor wondered why Luisa's parents seemed less hostile to him.

Perhaps Rodney and Keyla felt that it would be useless for them to try to break up the relationship between their daughter and Trevor. So they just gave Trevor cold glances but didn't say anything.

It seemed that the relationship between Trevor and Luisa's parents was getting better.