Chapter 401 A Shocking Secre

"What's on your mind, father?"

Trevor was keenly aware of the subtle change in his father's expression.

As Ronald's next of kin, he had a good sense for these things even though the two of them had not been in close contact for quite some time.

"I can't hide anything from you, Trevor!"

A bitter smile grew on Ronald's normally calm and resolute face.

He patted Trevor's shoulder and sighed.

"To be honest, I always think that it's good for you and your sister to live a safe and happy life under my protection. But I must say... your performance in Jork has gone beyond my expectations. When Bradley reports to me, he always praises your willpower. You've never complained despite how strict your training is.

Today, while listening to how you analyzed a problem, I discovered another merit. Although your judgment is still a little naive, you can maintain a clear head and properly think things through. You seem competent enough to be the successor of our family."

After uttering these words, Ronald sighed, but he looked far from tired.

Instead, he became more energetic. His eyes gleamed in approval as he looked straight at Trevor. His grip on Trevor's shoulder tightened a fraction.

The atmosphere in the living room of the villa became solemn.

After a moment's silence, Ronald slowly added, "I was a little hesitant... But on second thought, maybe it's better if you're the one who decides what kind of life you want to live. What do you think, Trevor? Do you want to become the successor of our family and live freely as a rich man? Or do you have other plans?"

Trevor was shocked. He had not expected his father to ponder over his future in this manner.

Now that he was faced with a choice, he found himself unable to decide right at that moment.

Trevor currently wanted to enjoy the high life.

However, he wasn't a hundred percent sure that it was the right choice. Besides, he had no idea what would happen in the future.

In the end, he could only smile helplessly and reply, "Father, I'm afraid I can't give you an answer for the time being."

Upon hearing that, Ronald regained his composure, as if Trevor's words had just relieved him of a heavy burden.

He could guess what was going on in his son's mind so he smiled and said, "Don't worry. No matter which path you decide to take, I will support you the whole way."

After a pause, he changed the subject.

"But since we have brought up the idea of you taking over the family business, I think you should know a little more about our family."

Trevor couldn't help but become interested at the hint of mystery in his father's tone.

Before this year, he had thought that the Sanderson family was poor. After all, his parents had to go abroad to keep the family afloat.

But now, he was coming to terms with the fact that their family was actually rich. They were responsible for the development of several industries in Jork. Trevor had no idea just how wealthy his family was.

What kind of family was the Sanderson family?

What kind of family was the Sanderson family?

As a proud member of the Sanderson family, Ronald smirked and said, "The Sanderson family has industries all over the world which are managed by many branches of our family, but we do not publicize the total number of our properties. This is why no one from our family is on the wealthy list. Actually, the wealth of our family can easily surpass those of several small countries!"

Although Trevor had kind of expected it, he nearly bit his tongue in surprise after hearing the family secret from his father.

His family was really richer than a small country. Past him could never have imagined such a thing.

The rich young people of Jork were shocked when they learned that Trevor had ownership of a commercial street.

How much was a commercial street compared to a country?

His family was actually hiding a commercial empire!

Ronald couldn't help smiling in amusement at Trevor's shocked face. He also had the same reaction when he first learned how wealthy the Sanderson family was.

When Trevor finally recovered from his shock, Ronald shook his head and spoke once more.

"Are you ready, Trevor? I have a bigger secret to tell you..."

Chapter 402 Future Plans

Trevor finally had a deeper understanding of the Sanderson family.

But who would have thought that his father would have an even bigger secret to tell him?

Could it be that the Sanderson clan was actually a family of aliens?

Trevor calmed down and steeled himself for what his father was going to say next.

Ronald nodded as he said with a serious tone, "Did you know, Trevor? A family as powerful as ours is not invincible. In fact, there are three super clans in the world, and each one has unimaginable wealth."

Trevor hissed in response.

That was shocking to hear. There were two other business empires as huge as the Sanderson family's?

Despite his shock, Trevor had another terrible thought.

"Something is not right. Wouldn't the national government have noticed our existence by now? Would an economic entity like ours really not attract their attention and surveillance?"

"How clever you are, Trevor! You really are my son."

Ronald's lips curled up a little, but he didn't answer directly. Instead, he posed another question.

"Where do you think a person as agile as Bradly came from?"

Trevor's eyes widened as he came to his own conclusions.

What? Was that possible?

Bradly and his men were probably secret agents!

Seeing that his son had come to a realization, Ronald explained, "How could the government not attach importance to a family like ours? In fact, we have intelligence officers or special agents of the National Security Agency constantly investigating us."

"If that's the case, I should not expose the truth behind my identity, right?" Trevor asked, feeling a little like he had just been thrown a curveball.

He had planned on confessing his identity to Luisa!

Ronald smiled knowingly as if he could see through his son's thoughts. He patted him on the shoulder and teased, "Haha! Don't worry. Your identity is not really secret anymore. I will even help you if you want to take any initiatives to publicize it."

Trevor couldn't help but grumble under his breath.

He could tell that his father was teasing him.

Ronald chuckled upon seeing his son's unhappy expression.

Once he settled down, he became serious once more.

Once he settled down, he became serious once more.

"Don't worry too much about it, Trevor. The Sanderson family is not one to be bullied. We have connections in several areas so you don't have to worry about our family getting picked on. Besides, money makes the world go round. In the end, talents like Bradly have become our subordinates, haven't they?"

Ronald and Trevor continued to converse on the sofa. Eventually, the third subject came up.

Ronald's investment in Jork was about to come to an end.

Before leaving, he planned to hold a grand banquet for his son and to introduce him to other rich people in Jork and even from neighboring cities.

He had planned to do all this upon his return to Jork but was delayed by the Duffy family causing trouble.

Seeing that his son had no qualms about being one of the wealthy, Ronald naturally came up with this idea.

This banquet would send a warning message and effectively guarantee Trevor's safety in Jork.

The purpose of the banquet was to inform all the rich businessmen that Trevor was his son!

Chapter 403 The Conspiracy

Once his father left the villa, Trevor felt a little dizzy.

The whole afternoon, they had a long conversation. His father's words helped him get some new understanding of the Sanderson family.

The Sanderson family was so rich that they were like a business empire. So, Trevor had to choose what kind of life he would lead in the future.

In the end, Trevor decided not to think about it for the time being. Sighing helplessly, he lay on the comfortable big bed.

For the next two or three days, a news spread all over Jork which made everyone excited!

It was said that Ronald, the big shot was going to entertain the rich men all over Jork and the neighboring cities and that the mysterious Mr. Sanderson from the Sanderson family would show up in public for the first time at the party!

Even though many big shots knew the identity of Trevor, there were many rich people who still didn't know him.

Moreover, the news about Ronald investing in a lot of fields shocked almost all the rich people in and beyond Jork!

As a big shot as Ronald was going to entertain the guests, the people in and beyond Jork became very excited.

"I heard that all the hotels in Jork are occupied these days."

Being the main focus of attention of the party, Trevor felt a little helpless when he spoke to Maison who just called him.

His father's party was a little too grand. This party made him difficult to carry out the plan that he had made.

After all, Trevor had planned to invite Luisa to the party and announce the "surprise".

However, at this point, this "surprise" would be displayed in front of many powerful rich men in and beyond Jork!

Even if Trevor was composed enough to face anything, he had to consider whether he had the courage to do that in front of many people.

On the other side of the line, Maison didn't know what Trevor was thinking. However, he laughed and said in a flattering voice, "Of course. Your father has a great reputation. Even many gangsters from neighboring cities want to see you!"

At that time, Trevor hoped that those gangsters wouldn't kidnap him and ask for ransom from his father.

Thinking about it, Trevor was a little bit worried.

Although Maison said those words to flatter Trevor, he only made Trevor unhappy.

However, with the power of the Sanderson family, no one would dare to kidnap the members of the family.

Moreover, even if the gangsters came to Jork, they wouldn't have a chance to see Trevor.

When Maison didn't hear any response from Trevor, he realized that his words didn't please Trevor. At that time, he got so scared that his whole body trembled.

In a hurry, he decided to tell Trevor the reason why he called him.

"Mr. Sanderson, we have investigated the reporter named Jacob. We found that he did contact Brice with the net name and tell him to teach you a lesson. Plus, my men found his manuscript. He had intended to publicize it to slander you by using his position at the Red Wine Newspaper!"

As soon as he finished saying that, Maison sent Trevor a screenshot of a document which made Trevor frozen.

As soon as he finished saying that, Maison sent Trevor a screenshot of a document which made Trevor frozen.

When Trevor took a look at the screenshot, he noticed a shocking title. "Shocking news! A student from a university used the student grants provided by Mr. Sanderson to buy a luxurious house for himself!

What is the bottom line of this guy's morality?"

Under the title, there were some blurry photos.

One of the photos was taken when he went to the office to sign the education grants document. Another photo was taken when he just bought the villa and was about to enter it; the last photo was about him seeing off the girls, including Lois.

Not until then did Trevor realize that Jacob had stalked him.

These photos were arranged in a way which could make people misunderstand.

It was as if Trevor not only used some dirty means to buy the luxurious villa with the student grants, but also hooked up with several beautiful girls by using the villa.

It made Trevor sneer in anger.

Without his real identity, this would ruin his life.

After all, some people's remarks could sometimes ruin someone's reputation and even life.

Chapter 404 Mobilize Public Opinion

Jacob was sitting in an armchair at Red Wine Newspaper headquarters, quietly drinking coffee. He had no idea that his manuscript had been read by Trevor's men.

Jacob had worked for a long time at the Red Wine Newspaper. As an elder in the company, he could personally deal with the material he had collected for editing and publication.

The fact that he was unaware of the possible cooperation between the Purple Band and the Sanderson family the last time, caused his report to lose all interest. Such ignorance was a big deal in their profession, and it made Jacob the laughingstock of other newspaper offices.

Because of this mistake, Jacob was told off by his boss. Jacob blamed all his misfortunes on Trevor and he hated Trevor so much.

He smiled grimly as he flipped through the manuscript about the fake news he made up. He had already prepared his revenge against Trevor and the latter was going to meet a tragic end.

"That poor boy had the nerve to offend me! Well, I will personally destroy his life." Jacob's grim smile widened as he spoke.

When he inquired about Trevor's identity from Orion, he was delighted to learn that Trevor was just a poor loser who often got lucky. It seemed that he would have no difficulty dealing with Trevor.

At that time, Orion didn't know Trevor's true identity yet. If Jacob went to ask Orion about Trevor now, Orion would not dare to expose Trevor's identity.

Jacob didn't think for a second that Trevor could own that villa.

He thought Trevor probably worked for the owner of the villa. It was either that or the villa belonged to a wealthy woman and she took care of Trevor in exchange for his favors...

Jacob's eyes suddenly lit up. It seemed he liked this last hypothesis very much.

He thought maybe he should edit the contents of his manuscript to spread the rumor that Trevor had a mistress in this villa instead.

He had been able to gather a few pictures of Trevor chatting with some very beautiful girls at the villa gate. These photos could be used to support his rumor.

In fact, Jacob didn't really care who the owner of the villa was.

All he had to do was publish his article to ruin Trevor's reputation forever. Trevor would henceforth appear in the public eye as a despicable person who had embezzled student grants and cheated on so many girls.

People were always driven by emotions and Jacob intended to use that to his advantage. Once the rumor spread, people would start violently attacking Trevor on social media, regardless of whether the rumor was true or not.

In fact, people didn't care about the truth. They just needed a way to vent their emotions and Trevor would be the perfect scapegoat.

A poor guy like Trevor would be powerless against a mob lynching.

In fact, even if Trevor managed to prove that he hadn't embezzled school funds, that wouldn't be enough to clear his name. People would always be dubious as they would wonder where Trevor got so much money to buy the villa.

And even if he managed to prove that the villa was not his, it would only reinforce the collective idea that he was dating several of the girls who lived in the villa.

In fact, no matter what Trevor would do to clear himself, he would never be able to completely clear his name. There would always be people who would doubt anything he said.

Jacob's Machiavellian plan was cleverly thought out.

Even if in the end the truth finally came out, it would take time. In the meantime, Trevor would have already acquired a notoriety which he would have done well without.

Jacob was already enjoying his revenge against Trevor. He was so happy just thinking about what effect his plan would have that a malevolent smile appeared on his face. He immediately picked up a pen and edited the manuscript again.

He did not intend to publish this article immediately. He actually wanted to publish it when Ronald's party was held to maximize the impact.

He did not intend to publish this article immediately. He actually wanted to publish it when Ronald's party was held to maximize the impact.

To prevent people from suspecting that it is a hoax, he chose not to publish his article under Red Wine Newspaper.

The reason was also that Jacob was angry with his boss for giving him a hard time. Because of that, he decided to go it alone on this one.

In fact, he planned to secretly operate personal media on the Internet while still working at Red Wine Newspaper. News about Trevor would earn him a first audience.

Jacob was truly a narrow-minded person. Not only did he want to destroy Trevor's life, but on top of that, he wanted to make Trevor the stepping stone to his career and success.

Jacob hovered in his cloud, but little did he know that his plan had already been exposed.

Meanwhile, Trevor read with great interest the hoax that Jacob wanted to publish against him.

He had to admit that Jacob was really good at photographing. Combined with the very harsh words that were contained in the article, one could tell that Jacob put a lot of energy into this "project".

However Trevor was far from being impressed.

Such a thing just made him despise Jacob even more.

On the other side of the line, Maison was fuming.

"Mr. Sanderson, you just have to give a word and I'll drag that bastard out into the street to teach him a lesson."

Trevor smiled and replied calmly, "There is no rush. For now, focus on collecting all his online accounts. He definitely doesn't dare to publish such fake news using his real name. He will most likely choose to post it on the Internet. Besides, it's very likely that he would do that when the party is held, so that this rumor is at the center of all discussions."

Chapter 405 Tacit Understanding

"Wow, Mr. Sanderson, you really are wise. I'll arrange it right now."

Once again, Maison tried his best to flatter Trevor again. Then, he followed his order to work.

When Trevor heard his flattering words from the other end of the phone, he shook his head with a smile on his face.

Obviously, Jacob's plan was indeed insidious for ordinary people.

However, Jacob thought that the person he was going to frame didn't have social status and that there was no appropriate way he could make a sound on his news. In that way, he could grasp the direction of public opinion.

Thinking about his plan, Trevor smiled confidently.

"If Jacob really planned to release the fake news on the banquet day, I'm pretty sure that all the reporters will be willing to speak for me."

Because of his father's thinking ways, Trevor also started to think more.

Now that everything had been arranged, he just needed to wait for Jacob to jump into the trap himself.

Therefore, Trevor decided not to pay attention to this matter anymore.

Since he still had spare time left, he thought about the plan that he wanted to carry out with Luisa. It seemed like a perfect time for it.

All of a sudden, his phone rang.

The moment he saw the caller ID, a bright smile appeared on his face instantly.

These days, he was getting more and more tacit with Luisa.

With a smile on his face, Trevor answered the phone and said excitedly, "Luisa, you called me in time. I was going to call you."

From the other side of the phone, a clear and pleasant voice sounded, "Really? I have something to tell you too!"

"Then, you tell me first."

"Okay, you tell me first."

The two of them said similar words at the same time. Then, they burst into laughter.

At that time, Trevor couldn't help but tease in his heart, 'If this isn't tacit understanding, what is this?'

After thinking for a while, Trevor said nervously, "Luisa, have you heard about the grand banquet that is going to be held in Jork? I want to invite you to attend it together with me..."

After thinking for days, Trevor decided that he didn't want to lose this kind of good opportunity to express his love and identity to Luisa.

Even if there were going to be many guests at that banquet, so what?

It didn't matter as long as he could give the best surprise to Luisa!

As a man, he should grit his teeth to overcome the shyness in his heart for the girl he loved.

However, when Trevor made this request, there was an astonishing tacit understanding between them again.

However, when Trevor made this request, there was an astonishing tacit understanding between them again.

Almost at the same time, Luisa's sweet voice sounded and her words were surprisingly similar.

"Trevor, can you accompany me to the banquet held by the Sanderson family..."

Hearing this, Trevor blinked in disbelief.

Wow, this kind of feeling... This was so amazing.

About half an hour later, he arrived at Luisa's house.

Since he had come there a few more times, he was quite familiar with the route there.

Truth be told, when Trevor heard that Luisa was invited to the banquet of the Sanderson family, he was surprised.

Since the grand banquet held by his father had a very high barrier to entry, a small family like the Burke family obviously didn't have the qualifications to receive the invitation.

However, that wasn't the most unbelievable thing.

While parking the car, Trevor couldn't help but think about the doubt that had been running in his head.

Furrowing his eyebrows, Trevor muttered, "Luisa's parents told her to invite me? That's weird."

In fact, this was really strange. Why would Rodney and his wife behave completely different from the past?

Chapter 406 Pretend To Be The Rich Man

At that time, Trevor even wondered if his real identity was exposed or not.

After all, he hadn't been trying to conceal his identity these days.

However, once Trevor arrived at the Burke family's house, he realized that he thought too much.

Because Rodney and his wife didn't treat him in a friendly way. They criticized him as usual.

On the other hand, Trevor didn't care about their attitudes at all. After all, it was their daughter he liked, not them.

For a while, Rodney just sat on the sofa and looked at Trevor before saying slowly, "Trevor, you can attend the party with my daughter, but you have to do what we say."

Trevor listened to him with his eyebrows raised. It turned out that they had some requests. All of this suddenly made sense now.

No wonder they allowed Trevor to attend this party with Luisa.

However, when he heard their request, the corners of his mouth couldn't help twitching. At that time, he didn't know whether to cry or laugh.

"You mean you want me to pretend as a rich man?"

At that time, Keyla curled her lips in disgust and shouted, "Cut the crap. Try your best to pretend like a rich man. Don't let others find out that you are not a rich man. You can drive the Bugatti Chiron that you have borrowed and wear your fake Armani suit. But don't forget to cover the logo so that no one will find out that it's fake."

Of course, Trevor didn't pay attention to what Keyla just said. However, he felt a bit helpless and amused at the same time.

Why did he need to pretend to be a rich man when he was in fact a rich man?

The biggest problem here was that no matter how many times he showed that he was wealthy, Keyla and Rodney didn't believe him at all!

Even now, Keyla thought that the Armani suit was fake.

When he listened to Keyla's impatient explanation, Trevor finally found out about the situation.

It turned out that Keyla's cousin family was invited to attend the banquet of the Sanderson family in Jork.

They showed off their wealth in front of Rodney and Keyla and it made them feel very displeased.

The more they thought about it, the angrier they became. These days, they even lost their appetite because of it.

In the end, Rodney and Keyla decided to find someone to act like a rich man and have a close relationship with Luisa. In that way, they could show off in front of their relatives.

However, even after thinking for some time, they couldn't find a suitable one among the men they knew.

Moreover, Luisa didn't agree to be with anyone, except Trevor.

Therefore, her parents had no choice but to ask Trevor to pretend to be a rich man.

When Trevor found out about it, he smiled helplessly.

The thing that made him even more speechless was that Rodney and Keyla prepared many exquisite fake goods, including shoes and watches.

At first glance, these items didn't seem to be different from the real ones. However, when Trevor took a closer look, he found that they had various flaws and they were relatively rough in workmanship.

At first glance, these items didn't seem to be different from the real ones. However, when Trevor took a closer look, he found that they had various flaws and they were relatively rough in workmanship.

Nonetheless, Keyla treated them as if they were treasures as she said, "Trevor, we are lending these things to you for a while. You have to return them back after you have used them, okay?"

Looking at the pile of fake goods in his hands, Trevor couldn't help but grin widely.

How was he going to match his designer suit with these fake goods?

He couldn't even think of the scene where he wore them.

If he really dressed in that way, it would definitely make him look funny.

In fact, this ridiculous situation made Trevor want to laugh.

However, this wasn't the end.

Rodney and Keyla's painstaking efforts were not just that.

They even bought necklace and jewelry that was worth nearly ten thousand dollars. Obviously, these accessories weren't fake. Their plan was for Trevor to give it to Luisa in front of their relatives.

After hearing their plan, Trevor had no idea what to say.

In the end, Trevor agreed since he had nothing to lose anyway.

However, Trevor wondered why Luisa's parents always compared themselves with others. He wanted to know why they were trying their best to be superior to others in all aspects.

Chapter 407 An Important Day

Days passed by quickly and finally, it was July 21st.

The bright sun looked as if it was indicating the enthusiasm of the people in Jork.

It was the day of the banquet that was held by Ronald, the master of the Sanderson family. It was held in Season Hotel and many celebrities were invited to the banquet.

People were so enthusiastic that they were even motivated to help others on the road.

They helped old people cross the road, pointed out directions to outsiders, helped ladies to carry heavy objects...

After all, the one who brushed past them that day could be a rich person.

Among the citizens who tried to join in the fun, Trevor would be the most excited one.

After all, it would be the most important day in his entire life!

Right now, Trevor was making his last minute preparation before going out. He carefully straightened his tie as he looked at his confident and handsome face in the mirror.

According to the reports from Maison recently, there was still no news about Jacob. It seemed that he was likely to release the fake news today.

However, Trevor didn't care much about it!

In fact, all the internet accounts of Jacob, including a suspected personal media account that had just been registered yesterday, were monitored closely.

Once the fake news was released, Jacob would be the one who lost his reputation!

Trevor got to spend time with Luisa. It would be his priority.

After checking his looks, Trevor picked up the clothes bag in the corner, which contained the dress that he had personally asked Danna to design for Luisa.

Today, Trevor didn't put on the fake clothes that Rodney and Keyla prepared for him. He bought a new set of branded clothes.

After all, the banquet had significant meaning for him and so, he made extra effort for this event.

He didn't even bring the necklace and jewelry that Rodney and Keyla gave him.

It was because Trevor believed that Luisa deserved a better memory which didn't involve fake items.

When everything was ready, Trevor drove his Bugatti Chiron out of his villa.

When he arrived at the downstairs of Luisa's house, he found that the neighborhood was quite lively.

In the originally empty parking lot, a eye-catching new Mercedes Benz multi-purpose car was parked. The price of it was estimated to be seven to eight million dollars.

There were no other cars parked in the two parking spaces near it as it was expensive.

With a faint smile on his face, Trevor parked his Bugatti beside the new Mercedes Benz.

Then, he slowly approached the door of the Burke family's house. When he got nearer, he found that the door was a little ajar and there seemed to be guests inside.

"Keyla, what's wrong with Luisa's friend? Why is he so late? You said that he is handsome and rich, right? When is he coming?"

"Don't be so impatient. He'll come soon. The lifestyle of the rich men is different from ours."

"Don't be so impatient. He'll come soon. The lifestyle of the rich men is different from ours."

Hearing the conversation, Trevor smiled. Judging by the voice, he could tell that Keyla was a little unhappy.

Without thinking too much, Trevor reached his hand out and knocked on the door two times politely.

At that time, the door was ajar.

Trevor was about to push open the door and enter when the door was opened from inside.

He didn't expect that Keyla would be this fast to open the door.

However, once he saw the expression on her face, he nearly laughed.

Obviously, Keyla pulled a long face. She looked as if everyone owed her hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It was needless to say that she was angry.

After all, Trevor was late.

Therefore, Keyla had planned to vent her dissatisfaction.

However, once she saw the way Trevor was dressed, she was stunned!

The saying 'the tailor made the man' was indeed true.

Since Trevor had never dressed up so carefully in his life, he looked more confident than before. His new look also surprised Keyla.

If she didn't know him, she would have thought that the man standing in front of her was indeed a young man from a rich family!

However, her face darkened the moment her eyes fell on the logo on his suit.

Chapter 408 Competition

Trevor noticed the shift in Keyla's expression.

He briefly looked at himself, and, suddenly, the memory of when she had told him to cover the special logo of the customized Armani suit crossed his mind.

Trevor smiled knowingly when he saw Keyla's gloomy face.

He did not only wear the suit, but he also prepared Luisa a matching dress with the same logo. He wanted to give everyone a big surprise.

Keyla's face darkened even more. She wanted to scold Trevor, but she did not dare to do so.

Suddenly, a voice came from behind.

"Keyla, is this Luisa's friend you mentioned before?"

A middle-aged woman, who looked somewhat like Keyla, poked her head out of the living room.

She was Keyla's cousin, Noelle Todd.

Unlike Keyla, Noelle wore exquisite jewelry, which made her look like a noble lady.

It could be seen that her family's situation was better than that of the Burkes'.

Keyla and Noelle's characters were surprisingly similar, though.

Trevor noticed that Noelle was stunned when she first looked at him. But the next second, an unhappy expression appeared on her face.

"Wow! What a rich young man!"

she exclaimed with jealousy.

"Well, of course," Keyla replied with gloating. She then turned to Trevor and added, "Trevor, come in and have a seat."

Her attitude towards him took an unexpected turn. She must have thought that Trevor had saved her face, so she suddenly became kind to him.

Trevor was taken aback but he composed himself quickly. He had seen this behavior in Luisa's mother before.

What he did not expect was that Keyla and her cousin would compete with each other at every chance they got.

Judging from Keyla's sullen look a while ago, she was at a disadvantage.

Trevor could not help but judge them.

These two women were raised in the same family. No wonder they were like this. Fortunately, Luisa did not turn out like her mother.

Keyla could not figure out what Trevor was thinking.

Nevertheless, she was pleased as Noelle sounded unhappy. With a bright smile, she waved her hand at Trevor and beckoned him to go inside.

People who did not know Keyla would think that she was just being kind.

When Trevor walked into the living room, he saw that there were more people than he had anticipated.

The four members of the Noelle's family had arrived in Jork. Although her two daughters were pretty, they seemed arrogant.

They looked a few years older than Luisa.

Their boyfriends had come with them as well.

The two men were stylish and looked rich at a glance.

However, their temperament was inferior to that of Trevor's.

No wonder Noelle was displeased.

No wonder Noelle was displeased.

At this moment, Trevor glanced at the people in the living room, and they also looked back at him.

Meanwhile, Luisa's eyes lit up the moment she saw Trevor come in. Her elation was apparent in her sweet smile.

This was the first time she had seen him so well-dressed and confident. Seeing him like this, her heart fluttered in her chest.

Even Luisa's cousins forgot to be arrogant for a moment. Their mouths fell in astonishment, and they could not help but gawk at Trevor.

"Are you Luisa's friend?" one of the cousins asked.

"Yes," Trevor replied with a smile. He then looked at everyone and introduced himself. "Hi, everyone. My name is Trevor, Luisa's good friend."

As soon as he finished speaking, he sat down next to Luisa with a clothing bag.

Little did everyone know, he was beaming with happiness.

He was both excited and nervous, especially when he was sitting beside Luisa. They were so close that he caught a whiff of her perfume.

Fortunately, he managed to conceal his excitement, and nobody noticed how exhilarated he actually was.

In order to make his resolution stronger, he motivated himself, "We may be friends right now. But before this day ends, I hope that I'll be Luisa's boyfriend."

Chapter 409 The Brat Is Good At Bragging

At that time, the atmosphere in the living room of the Burke family was a little subtle.

All eyes were fixed on Trevor.

He was wearing a black suit with a decent tie. On his wrist, there was a luxurious and exquisite watch.

Most importantly, Trevor's handsome and confident face impressed them as it made him look even more charming.

Honestly, Keyla was so happy right now as she finally had something to show off in front of her relatives.

Before Trevor came, their family couldn't compare with her cousin's family in all aspects and it made Keyla a little sad.

However, everything was different now.

At that time, Keyla glanced at Noelle with a smug look on her face and thought, 'Ha, you used to brag about how outstanding your daughters' boyfriends are? I bet they are not as good as Trevor!'

At this moment, Keyla thought that Trevor wasn't that bad.

Now that he dressed up, he looked really outstanding.

Nonetheless, she couldn't help but doubt something.

She thought that the fake goods she gave him weren't this exquisite. Then, why did they look so nice now?

On the other hand, Noelle became a little annoyed. Since there was no flaw in Trevor's appearance and temperament, she curled her lips and asked, "So, what kind of business does your family do, Trevor? My daughters' boyfriends are engaged in different business areas. Kody Diaz's family is engaged in garment trading while Troy Mccoy's father is the president of a medicine company and his assets are more than one billion dollars. I mean a boy who is pursuing a beautiful girl like Luisa must have a good background, right?"

Hearing her question, Trevor simply raised her eyebrows and answered honestly, "Actually, my family business is in all kinds of fields."

It was true. After all, Ronald had been investing in all kinds of industries in Jork these days. Therefore, there was no problem for Trevor to say something like that.

However, his answer only made Noelle even more annoyed.

Clenching her fist, she thought to herself, 'You bastard! You are so good at bragging! Your family's business radiates in every field?'

In an instant, she said sarcastically, "Wow, then, your family must have a lot of assets. Can you tell me how much is that, Trevor?"

At that time, even her two daughters' boyfriends couldn't sit still anymore.

In fact, the two of them were nowhere near Trevor's handsomeness. Kody was overweight and Troy was way too thin.

Both of them thought that Trevor was bragging. So, they were clearly dissatisfied.

One of them said with a sneer, "Wow, your family must be so powerful. Then, you must have a lot of money."

Another one echoed, "That's right. Why don't you tell us a figure of your family assets to refresh our vision?"

The two of them looked at Trevor with their eyes filled with hatred. They felt that their limelight would be taken away if they just sat still without saying anything.

In the face of these people's sudden verbal attacks, Trevor said with a faint smile on his face, "I'm sorry. I can't count my family assets because it's way too many."

'Damn it! How can he brag like that without hesitation?'

Kody and Troy looked at each other for a moment. It was clear that they were a little angry with Trevor's bragging.

Kody and Troy looked at each other for a moment. It was clear that they were a little angry with Trevor's bragging.

In fact, both of them thought that Trevor was talking nonsense. How could he be so shameless enough to brag about the size of his family's assets to such extent?

Obviously, Noelle didn't believe what Trevor just said either.

When she first saw Trevor, she was a little anxious, but now, she had gradually calmed down.

She knew that Keyla's family had just become a moderately rich family in Jork in recent years. So, how could Keyla know such a powerful rich man?

If she did, she would have called Noelle every day just to show off!

Thinking about it, Noelle said sarcastically with a frown on her face, "Wow, it seems that Trevor came from a very rich family. Then, your father must be a big shot in Jork. Since it's still early, can I have the honor to invite your father out to have a chance to know him? Actually, my husband is also planning to develop his business in Jork."

It was needless to say that she was testing Trevor.

The truth was, after Noelle calmed herself down, she concluded that Trevor was an actor hired by Rodney and Keyla to save their faces.

After all, she knew Keyla well enough and so, she saw through her little trick.

Unfortunately for her, Trevor was a real rich man!

When Trevor heard Noelle's question, he smiled as usual and replied politely, "I'm sorry but my father is very busy today. I don't think he can spare much time."

The moment she heard Trevor's words, her face became stiff in an instant. Then, she cursed in her heart, 'Brat! How dare you say that?'

She got so angry that she snorted and said with a sneer, "Wow! What a busy man! But I hope he is not busy enough to attend the banquet tonight, is he?"

In her eyes, she only thought Trevor was just an actor hired by the Burke family.

Even though he had been exposed by her, Trevor still tried to find various excuses to prevent her from revealing Keyla's trick!

Hearing this, Trevor simply replied, "Of course not." Trevor simply shrugged his shoulder.

Of course, his father would attend the banquet he was holding.

Since the middle-aged woman had been unfriendly to him from the beginning, Trevor wouldn't be polite to her. Therefore, he deliberately used vague words to deal with her.

However, what he said was literally true.

Not many people there were willing to believe it. Only Luisa, who was sitting next to him, looked at him with flickering eyes. She looked as if she was thinking about something.

At that time, Keyla quickly changed the topic as she said, "Well, Trevor, I thought you had brought something for Luisa?"

Obviously, she was one of those who didn't believe Trevor's words at all. After all, if they didn't see his father at the banquet, her lie would definitely be exposed!

With a smile on his face, Trevor said, "Oh yes, I brought a gift for Luisa."

At that time, Noelle said with a sneer, "Wow, a rich man like Trevor must have brought something great, right?" In fact, she was sure that Trevor was just bragging.

On the other hand, Keyla said with a sneer, "Of course. Trevor, show us your gift quickly."

After all, she was quite confident in the jewelry necklace she had prepared for her daughter. Therefore, she was urging him to take it out.

Just like that, the two middle-aged women started a verbal confrontation as neither of them agreed with the other.

At that time, Kody and Troy also joined them as they said, "Trevor, what gift did you buy? I gave my girlfriend a pair of diamond earrings back then and they cost twenty thousand dollars."

"Yes, I also bought a limited edition LV bag for my sweetheart. It costs forty thousand dollars. So, I think your gift must be very good, right?"

No matter what Trevor said was true or not, they wanted to be under the limelight all the time.

Hearing the flaunting words from the young rich men, Rodney and Keyla were stunned.

It was because the necklace they gave to Trevor was only worth about ten thousand dollars.

Originally, they thought that their gift was good enough to earn some respect. However, now that they heard what the two guys just said, Rodney and Keyla felt ashamed.

What were they going to do? What should they do to continue their story?

When Noelle saw the change in Rodney and Keyla, she could finally smile again.

With a smug look on her face, she thought, 'The poor are just poor. I am sure that the gift you prepared is not presentable to us.'

On the other hand, the change of expression on their faces didn't go unnoticed by Trevor.

Without thinking much, he took out the well packed dress out of the bag and said softly to Luisa, "Luisa, this is the first gift I prepared for you. Do you like it?"

With her eyes filled with confusion, Luisa took the gift box Trevor handed to her.

After all, this was totally different from the original plan they had.

The whole time, she was worried that Trevor would be laughed at by others when Noelle found out the price of the necklace.

The whole time, she was worried that Trevor would be laughed at by others when Noelle found out the price of the necklace.

But what was this gift?

Under Trevor's encouraging eyes, Luisa took out the dress gently.

Inside the box, there was a black satin dress which looked as smooth as flowing water. The layers of flounce were elegant and gorgeous.

Plus, the vintage dark lines of the fabric grain were extremely exquisite. If the gown was recognized as the quiet night sky, the small glittering diamonds on it would be like stars embellishing it.

It gave them the feeling of the dark night sky with stars shining brightly.

Seeing such kind of delicate and elegant evening dress, Luisa covered her mouth in surprise.

Her two cousins looked at the dress with their eyes filled with envy.

However, their expressions were nothing compared with their mother's.

At that time, Noelle was staring at the dress and her face twitched a little.

No matter how much she thought about it, she couldn't figure out how Trevor could afford this kind of exquisite dress.

No, to be exact, how could an actor like Trevor buy something exquisite like this? Was he crazy?

Of course, Keyla was also shocked. Then, her eyes saw the dress label which had the special logo of Danna's work.

At that time, she couldn't help but wonder where Trevor got such kind of decent fake good.

Even though it looked amazing at first glance, it was still a fake dress!

How dared Trevor flaunt a copy garment there when there was a rich young man who was engaged in clothing business? Had he gone crazy?
