

Blessed 51

Chapter 51 Kick Him Ou

When Xavier saw Trevor and the others, he said in surprise, "Why are they all here? Not everyone can enter this place."

As Corrie and her roommates were not expecting to see Trevor, they were surprised.

Both Trevor and his roommates were angry since they were just tricked by Xavier.

Therefore, once they saw Xavier, Rob rushed over to him and pulled him by his collar while saying, "Xavier, you disgusting shameless bastard! You ordered an expensive wine in the restaurant without even telling us! You deliberately did that to make us unable to pay the bill!"

While talking, Rob got so angry that he shouted in the end, which attracted the people's attention.

With a frown on his face, Trevor looked around the manor.

After all, this was his manor and he didn't want to make any trouble. If something happened, it would leave a bad impression on the distinguished guests and he would be the one who had to suffer the consequences.

In order to prevent the fight, Trevor walked towards Rob as he pointed at the security guards, who were standing not far away, and said, "Rob, put up with it for a while. It's not good to fight here. Look there are securities over there."

At that time, Aldrin and the others all turned to look at the direction Trevor was pointing. All of them realized that they would definitely be driven out of here if they fought.

Truth be told, no one wanted to offend the boss of the Willard Villa. Therefore, they had no choice but to put up with Xavier for a while.

Gritting his teeth, Rob looked directly into Xavier's eyes and said, "We'll deal with you later when we are out of here."

In fact, he was trying his best to hold back his anger.

As if he knew nothing about the wine, Xavier said with a scornful smile on his face, "What wine are you talking about, Rob? Are you trying to sling mud at me?"

Raising his eyebrows, he continued, "I really want to know how you guys even came in. Did you crawl in from a dog hole or something? I mean as far as I know, no one can enter this place without a VIP card."

Of course, Corrie didn't believe that Trevor had a VIP card in his hands. So, she assumed that they sneaked into the manor. Thinking of this, she despised him even more than before.

To be honest, Zavier only had the silver VIP card which was the lowest-level of membership card in the manor. Moreover, he got the card only after his father spent a lot of money to bribe the related personnel.

In their eyes, how could Trevor have the VIP card of the Willard Villa when he couldn't even afford his tuition fee of the college?

Rob snorted and said, "Bah, bah, now you're talking nonsense. I bet you are the one who crawled in from the dog hole. We came in from the door openly."

No matter what Rob said, no one believed him.

In order not to get them into the trouble, Corrie said, "Just tell us the truth, Trevor! If someone found out, we will be kicked out of here together with you guys."

Since it wasn't easy for her to come to the Willard Villa, she didn't want to be kicked out of here when she didn't do anything wrong.

Staring at the disgusted look on Corrie's face, Trevor shrugged and said, "I'm not lying. It's up to you to believe me or not. We really came in from the front door openly like Rob said."

Trevor couldn't understand the reason why these people didn't believe him when he was telling the truth.

Sighing in his heart, Trevor thought to himself, 'Don't I deserve to be trusted just because I'm poor?'

At that time, one of Corrie's roommates said in disgust, "Why are you keeping lying? How can you come in here from the front door without a VIP card? Do you really want us to get kicked out too?"

Most of them thought that Trevor and his friends must have sneaked into the manor furtively. What shameless men they were!

Due to his actions, even they would get involved.

At that moment, a man trotted his way to Trevor from a distance.

At first glance, Zavier found that it was none other than Kirby, who was the manager of the Willard Villa. With wide eyes, he asked, "Kirby, why did come here in person? Don't you remember me? I'm Zavier of Danton Real Estate."

When Kirby heard his words, he took a glance at Zavier and gave him a nod of recognition. After that, he turned his head and looked at Trevor.

Actually, Kirby rushed out to welcome his boss the moment he heard that the boss was here.

Kirby was about to greet Trevor when he found that he was giving him a look as if he was secretly telling him not to greet.

Shaking his head slowly, Trevor thought to himself, 'I hope Kirby understands that I don't want them to know about me.'

The moment he saw Kirby, Trevor was a bit flustered and worried as he was afraid that Kirby would reveal his identity.

Fortunately for Trevor, Kirby was a smart man. Judging by the look on his boss's face, he understood that Trevor didn't want to reveal his identity. Besides, he once heard that his boss wanted to keep a low profile and didn't want his identity to get exposed, especially to the outsiders.

Immediately, he withdrew his hand that he had raised to greet Trevor and chose not to show too much respect to him.

The way Kirby had been staring at Trevor didn't go unnoticed by Zavier. Raising his eyebrows, Zavier asked, "Kirby, do you know that Trevor sneaked in here? Are you here to kick him out?"
