

Blessed 80

Chapter 80 Only One Vacant Seat Lef

Since Sylvia had gone too far this time, Rob couldn't control himself anymore and shouted angrily, "Sylvia, you shouldn't go too far. What has Trevor ever done to you in the past? He had always treated you nicely before you broke up.

I believe that he didn't do such kind of thing. So, you shouldn't speak ill about him like that!"

With a sneer, Sylvia said in her heart, 'What has he done in the past?'

Truth be told, Sylvia admitted Trevor was indeed good to her when they were dating.

However, that didn't change the fact that he was nothing but a pauper with no money.

It was a good thing she broke up with him and chose Dennis because now her life was better than before. Now, she had all kinds of branded handbags, clothes and perfume that she wanted.

Well, Trevor was lucky to get some amount of money. Nonetheless, that money wasn't enough for him to use for the rest of his life.

Even though Dennis wasn't rich enough, he was richer than any other people among their friends. His pocket money was more than enough for her to waste for a long time.

Thinking about it, the disdain in Sylvia's eyes became more prominent. Feeling that she had made a right decision by choosing Dennis, she snuggled closer to him happily.

Taking out his phone, Dennis said, "You said he has never done this kind of thing. But, the evidence is here. How are you going to explain about this?"

While talking, he showed the video in the group chat of the class.

Seeing it, several girls started to point the finger at Trevor.

"Damn, I can't believe he really blackmailed someone! See? The woman gave money to him!"

"I didn't expect him to be this shameless."

A look of disgust also appeared on Corrie's face. With a snort, she said coldly, "Trevor, I didn't know you were this disgusting."

At that time, she felt glad that she turned down the offer when Bessie asked her to date Trevor. If she had accepted her offer, she would be in a relationship with this kind of man right now.

With a determined look on her face, she reminded herself to tell Bessie about him so that she wouldn't be deceived by him.

In fact, Trevor felt disgusted since the time Sylvia started flirting with Dennis. What was more, these people were accusing him with an edited video! It made him sick and more resentful than before.

Gritting his teeth, Trevor said, "That car knocked me down when I was just walking. I didn't blackmail her and I obviously didn't take that money from her!"

Dennis sneered and said, "Humph, it's just your words. Who would believe you? This video is the evidence yet you are still denying it?"

Clenching his fist to control his anger, Trevor snapped, "Someone edited that video maliciously."

The more he stared at Dennis, the more Trevor wanted to punch him because of anger.

Much to Trevor's dismay, not many people believed him.

Taking a deep breath, Trevor tried to compose himself as he knew that it was useless for him to explain to them. They would never believe him unless Selma came to testify on behalf of him!

In fact, he was going to stay silent. However, when he saw the arrogant look on Dennis' face, he couldn't let this matter go without doing anything.

An idea flashed in his mind at that moment.

Composing himself, Trevor squinted at Dennis as he took out his phone and said, "If you want to talk about evidence, how about you show them the messages from the group chat yesterday? We can see the evidence that you ran away without paying the bill."

When the crowd saw the chat messages, they burst into an uproar again.

Everyone cast a weird look at Dennis and Sylvia.

In an instant, Aldrin uttered, "He's right! I had to pay thousands of dollars for that party. Dennis only paid that money back on the second day."

With a smirk on his face, Rob exclaimed, "That's right! He ran without paying the bill."

Of course, Dennis and Sylvia didn't think Trevor would bring this matter out again. It was needless to say that both of them felt so embarrassed right now.

In her heart, Sylvia was cursing Trevor for bringing that matter out. Clenching her fists, she tried her best to control her anger.

Only a while ago, she had boasted about Dennis being a good match, but now, she felt humiliated.

The whole time, Xavier was looking at Dennis with a playful smile on his face.

In fact, Xavier didn't care a bit about the money. Actually, he was still pleased and felt happy because of the compliments Dennis just made.

In order to smooth things over, Xavier tried to change the topic as he said, "Let's not just stand here and talk. The party is about to start. Why don't we go and have a seat first?"

With Xavier leading at the front, the crowd entered the birthday party venue. All of their seats were not very close to the front.

Nevertheless, no one complained.

After all, no one from the group had a great background. How could they sit in the front row?

Truth be told, no one would have the guts to sit in the front row even if they were invited to do so.

According to the seat plans, everyone quickly found their seats and sat.

Everyone was seated when Trevor saw that there was only one vacant seat left.
