Chapter 84 His Girlfriend And The Video

Her sudden request caught Xavier off-guard which made him choke on his words. Then, he quickly composed himself and said, "Sure, why not? But Mr. Sanderson is a very busy person and he usually doesn't have free time. I promise I'll introduce you guys to him when he is free."

Fortunately, no one noticed his lies. In all honesty, how could he introduce them to someone who he had never met before?

At the moment, Trevor was busy eating without knowing that he had been praised severely by Xavier.

Out of curiosity, Selma asked, "By the way, why is Xavier making things difficult for you?"

Obviously, Selma was surprised to see that Trevor tolerated Xavier's behavior. Considering his status, he could easily deal with Xavier.

Shaking his head, Trevor said, "Let's not talk about it. I just want to go to school without revealing my identity. I don't want to argue with him further."

After saying that, he took a mouthful of food. If he revenged him right now, that wouldn't be a small one. But he wasn't the type of person who would seek revenge for the smallest grievance.

When Brock heard Trevor's words, he chuckled lightly and said, "I can revenge him for you if you don't mind. I'm sure you'll be satisfied."

Raising his eyebrows, Trevor asked curiously, "So, how can you help me revenge him?"

With an obscene smile on his face, Brock laughed quietly and said, "Ha-ha. You will understand once you see it."

After saying that, he took out his phone to show Trevor a video.

Of course, Selma got curious and she, too, wanted to have a look.

Seeing Selma leaning forward, Brock immediately covered his phone and didn't allow her to see it. He was a little flustered when Selma tried to look at his phone.

Glaring at Brock, Selma said angrily, "Brock, what are you hiding? Why can't you show it to me?"

Seeing the look on Selma's face, Brock got frightened and he almost lost the grip on the phone.

With a flushed face, Brock gave his phone to Trevor while saying, "Just let Mr. Sanderson have a look first."

Once Trevor saw the video, he was stunned!

In the video, the main character was Xavier, who was shamelessly doing an indecent thing. There, he was tied to a bed while his hands and feet were separated.

Standing next to him was a woman with a nice figure. She was wearing a red mask and she kept whipping Xavier with a whip.

In the video, Xavier didn't show the slightest pain. Instead, he let out a moan as if he was enjoying it.

A voice came from the phone. "Ahhh."

As soon as Selma heard the voice, she immediately knew what that video was about. That was why Brock didn't want to show her.

Instantly, Brock pressed the mute button and cursed under his breath, "Damn it! I forgot to turn off the sound!"

Although he muted it hurriedly, a few people around him heard the voice which made him feel embarrassed.

When Trevor finished watching the video, he was shocked.

He didn't expect that someone like Xavier, who came from a rich family would do this kind of thing.

No one would believe it, if it weren't for the video.

Furrowing his eyebrows, Trevor asked, "How did you get this video?"

Taking his phone back from Trevor, Brock spoke. "Actually, I got this video from a website and I spent a lot of money on it. Normal people don't know this website address. So...what do you think about it?"

"Obviously, it would ruin his reputation if it went out."

"It's good to know that you're satisfied with it. Xavier will play a birthday blessing video later. I'll replace his video with this one."

After that, Brock quickly sneaked towards the backstage and replaced the birthday blessing video with the one in his mobile phone.

An hour and a half later, the meal was almost done.

At that time, the host came onto the stage and said birthday wishes to Xavier's father, Kern Blake.

Hearing his wishes, the audience applauded enthusiastically and said their wishes one after another. After that, the waiter brought them the birthday cake.

Since Xavier was the son of Kern, he went onto the stage to light the candles for his father.

When he finished lighting the candles, Xavier asked his father, "Dad, do you want to make any wishes?"

All the audience wondered what Kern would wish for.

With a smile on his face, Kern held a microphone in his hand and said to everyone, "Well, it's simple actually. I wish the Danton Real Estate can become bigger and stronger and I wish my son can have a girlfriend and introduce her to me."

As soon as the audience heard this, they cheered up and told Xavier to introduce his girlfriend quickly.

Of course, Corrie was blushing furiously as she was Xavier's girlfriend.
