Chapter 98 One Hundred Thousandth Customer

Staring at the delicious meal on the table, Marlon didn't have the gut to eat them.

If he had to pay the bill in the end, how could he be able to pay for four hundred thousand dollars? Even if he got 50% discount, it would still cost two hundred thousand dollars.

While Marlon was lost in his thoughts, Aggy, who was sitting next to him raised her chopsticks and said, "What kind of meat is this? This looks so yummy. Let me try it." Before she could pick up the food, someone interrupted.

At that moment, Marlon was so frightened that his face turned pale. Hurriedly, he grabbed her hand and said, "Don't eat!"

Furrowing her eyebrows, Aggy asked in confusion, "What's wrong, Marlon?"

At that moment, she thought that Marlon stopped her because he wanted to try this dish first. Therefore, she said in a sweet voice, "Oh, do you want to eat it first? It's okay. I'll serve it for you."

She pushed Marlon's hand away and reached her hand out again to pick up the food for Marlon.

Seeing this, Marlon raised his hand and slapped down Aggy's chopsticks while shouting, "Fuck! I told you not to eat it! Don't you understand what I said?"

Due to his actions just now, Aggy lost her temper and shouted angrily, "Marlon! What the hell is wrong with you? Are you crazy? Why are you acting this way?"

Everyone couldn't understand why Marlon was acting this way. All the dishes were served in front them so, why couldn't they eat them?

At that time, Seth walked towards Trevor's table and said with a smile, "Mr... Hey bro, are you satisfied with the dishes I arranged for you?"

Nodding in the direction of his table, Trevor said, "I haven't gotten any dishes yet. You sent them to the wrong table."

Glancing towards the big table next to him, Seth scolded the waiter, "How are you guys working? You served the wrong table!"

Hearing their boss's angry voice, the waiters got panicked. None of them expected that all these dishes would be served to one person. In a hurry, they moved the dishes from Marlon's table to Trevor's small table.

Since the table wasn't big enough to place all the dishes on it, they had to move another table over.

Staring at the scene in front of them, Aggy was stunned. All these delicious dishes on the table were removed before she could even have a taste.

Why did the boss tell them to move all the dishes to Trevor's table? Weren't these special dishes belonged to them?

Turning to look at Marlon, Aggy asked in confusion, "What's going on? Aren't these dishes for us, Marlon?"

All the others looked at Marlon in confusion.

The corners of Marlon's mouth twitched slightly. Of course, he knew that the person who ordered the waiters was none other than Seth, who was the son of the owner of Spring Restaurant and had a noble status.

Even he never had a chance to have a connection with such a big shot like Seth. How could Trevor get served with the special dishes by Seth?

Why did he give these dishes to Trevor personally? Did they know each other?

Thinking about it made Marlon's scalp tingle.

At that time, Trevor had already sat down to eat without caring the surprised looks on everyone's face.

Walking up to Seth, Marlon asked respectfully, "Mr. Wright, what is happening? Although that guy came with us, he doesn't have money to order those special dishes."

As Seth knew that Trevor didn't want to expose his identity, he made up a story and explained to the crowd, "Well, this customer happens to be the one hundred thousandth customer who entered the Spring Restaurant. So, these special dishes are served for him for free. He doesn't need to pay the bill."

Everyone was shocked to hear his words!

No wonder Trevor got to eat so many special dishes. It turned out that he was the one hundred thousandth customer of the restaurant.

How could he be so lucky? Everyone at the table was envious of him. If they entered the restaurant the last, they would become that lucky customer!

Giving a smile to Luisa, Trevor said, "Luisa, would you like to join me?"

Without hesitation, Luisa smiled as she sat down next to Trevor and started to enjoy this fancy meal with him.

All the others could do nothing but to watch them eat the special dishes.

Later, the waiter slowly served the dishes that Marlon ordered before.

However, they couldn't help but compare the dishes with the ones Trevor was having. The dishes were too ordinary compared with the special dishes.

Staring at the dishes on the table, Marlon had no appetite to eat anymore.

Originally, he invited everyone in order to show off his wealth in front of Luisa to impress her.

However, everything was ruined now. That poor loser, Trevor took his limelight.

The whole time, Aggy's attention was on the dishes on Trevor's table. The more she stared, the more she wanted to have a taste.

Not caring a bit about how she mocked and insulted him just now, Aggy stood up shamelessly and walked to Trevor's table. Then, she pulled out a chair and sat down.

"If we didn't agree to take you here, how would you be the one hundred thousandth customer? So, I can have some of it too,"

Aggy said coldly as she grabbed the lobster in the middle plate and ate it brazenly.

Another male stood up while saying, "She's right. I can have some too."

Just like that, everyone except Marlon went to have the dishes with Trevor.

Nonetheless, Trevor ignored everyone and chatted with Luisa as he ate.

At the other table, Marlon was left alone and he looked pitiful.

He was so angry that he didn't have the appetite to eat at all. Gritting his teeth, he thought to himself, 'You are just a poor loser who got lucky, Trevor. I'll let you know what a real rich man is in the near future.'
