Home / Romance / Bye, My Ex-husband

Chapter 121 Confess Love In Public

Janessa saw an old friend right in front of her company the next morning.

There was Gordon all decked up in a well-fitted suit. He had a bunch of red roses in his hand and he leaned against the sports car.

He looked like an absolute star with his sunglasses on. All the passers-by kept on staring at him.

Seeing Janessa he walked up to her with the gorgeous roses in hand.

"These are for you."

Every passer-by and employees of the Lu Group were stopping now and then to have a look at the two of them.

Janessa felt really embarrassed as more and more people stood by to watch the scene unfold.

'How come Gordon left the house? And what made him decide to give me these flowers in public?

He is turning things so difficult and awkward for me.

I gave Mrs. Shen my words. I promised her that I would never engage with him. But he is beyond control, almost unmanageable and too stubborn. I did let Alana know about my disinterest in this whole matter. Did she not inform him?

I think I should clarify it myself.'

Janessa did not immediately take the flowers rather she touched them slowly. They looked alluring and dazzling under the bright sun.

"Someone worthier than me deserves these beautiful flowers," Janessa said as politely as she could. She made sure only Gordon heard her.

She never saw a future between them and naturally did not want to drag things. She thought it was better to clear any confusion before things went out of hand.

"You are that worthy girl for me. Do you really want to refuse me here so that all these people can have a good laugh at my cost? It will be very humiliating for me Janessa." Gordon had this provocative tone in his voice as he spoke to her.

But she ignored the pleadings that his eyes expressed.

"You must remember I am not just some pure innocent girl, but a divorced woman!"

Janessa had faced pregnancy as well as divorce before this.

This was the unavoidable truth. Everyone in the city was aware of it.

These were two major factors for which the Shen family would never accept Janessa as their daughter-in-law. On top of that, she would never let herself enter Gordon's life while hers was covered with so many past wounds.

He deserved a better woman.

"All those things do not matter to me. You must know, you are the only person I have truly loved for so many years. I just want to be with you, no matter however I achieve that."

Three years back Gordon had already regretted letting Janessa go. He could not let that happen again.

"I am sorry Gordon, but you need to give up. We can't be together in any way. Your family will never accept a woman like me as the wife of their heir."

"Let me handle that part, okay?"

before he understood the reality.

Janessa was confused to find that he suddenly sounded so confident.

'His family had absolute control over him these days. Then how he is saying that he will take care of his family?

"Let us forget whatever happened in the past Gordon. We are all good now. I think we are much better friends that we were as lovers." She was at a loss after seeing him try without any exhaustion. God only knew the number of attempts he would actually take

Under no circumstances would Mrs. Shen ever agree to this proposal.'

It was also becoming difficult for her to refuse him directly. Whatever it was, they had been great friends for a very long time and "Janessa, you can refuse my love now, but please don't deny the reality, alright? We will be able to achieve great things if we manage to stick together in some way or the other." Gordon finally took off his sunglass to look at her seriously. She could feel a very stern expression in his eyes.

Gordon had seen how persistent his sister was for true love.

He wanted to show how serious he actually was and that he was not joking about a single thing.

she did not want to harm her relationship with Gordon in any way or humiliate him in front of a crowd.

Alana was brave to confess her love, even with the risk of betrayal and eventual break up.

He was older than his sister and should have been the wiser one. Why couldn't he see through this logic?

She looked around restlessly and noticed a tall and handsome figure nearby.

Janessa was feeling very helpless. With more people gathering round them, it was becoming impossible to tell Gordon otherwise.

She suddenly got an idea to make Gordon stop trying.

"Since you want to make it so clear, follow me now." She strutted towards that figure.

Gordon walked behind her and saw Rayan.

'Does that mean Janessa...'

Gordon felt like someone put a knife through his heart. He could feel a stabbing pain.

being together, I think you should know the truth. I like Rayan more. So you and I can't ever happen."

She quickly grabbed Rayan's arm casually and rested her head on his shoulder. Then she said, "Since you are so hell bent on us

She was almost expecting that he would shake her off immediately. So she was ready to defend herself. But when he remained silent she was really surprised.

Rayan looked at Janessa and saw that she was pretending to be happy. So he went along with the act and did nothing to refute it.

of needles were piercing his skin.

'Let's just get done with this first.'

Instantly Gordon knew the outcome of this discussion, but he decided to stand there and hear Janessa out. He felt as if thousands

"Oh that is nothing. There's nothing going on between them. I realized he is the only person I love after the divorce was finalized. And he resonated my thoughts. Therefore, we have decided to answer to the call of our hearts."

"But it is a fact that he is now with Gracie. Are you conscious of that? Would you want to stay with him even after knowing that?"

Janessa made everything look so real that Rayan was really impressed and almost believed in her made up story. She should be awarded for acting so well.

Rayan went a step ahead, lowered his head and placed the softest kiss on Janessa's beautiful red lips in front of everyone including all the employees and Gordon.

'What the hell is he doing? Is he trying to take advantage of me?'

But then she realized all this was for her own good. So instead of resisting she continued to kiss him in front of Gordon.

Seeing all this Gordon was really hurt. He lowered his head and thought to himself, 'No matter how rude Rayan is with her, and how much he has created problems for the Qiu Group, she will only love him. What am I struggling for so much then?

But is there a guarantee that Rayan won't make her life hell again?'

congratulate your beautiful love. I wish you two the best life." Gordon gently handed the roses to them.

Just as she was about to push him away, Rayan pulled her even closer and kissed her deeply for a long time.

again. "Since he is the one you love, I won't force you to change your mind in that case. I respect your choice. These roses are to

Gordon was really confused. He really wanted her to be happy with the person she loved, but was worried if she would be hurt Rayan casually threw the flowers on the ground and said, "Mr. Shen you can stop worrying about us now. I can give Janessa the flowers she loves whenever she wants them. You better stop chasing after her and find yourself someone else. What is the point I mean? She's not even that rich that you can get something out of it when you get divorce."

Janessa felt that Rayan was being mean without any reason. But his claim surprised her.

'Initially Gordon was hurt by what I said, but I think he is crushed now.'