Home / Romance / Bye, My Ex-husband

Chapter 258 They Are Very Satisfied

Janessa was ecstatic when she heard the news. After skimming through the latest news about Imani, she found that most of them were about what happened at the engagement party.

The words were harsh.

"I wonder who it was that avenged me." Needless to say, this put Janessa in a good mood. She now suddenly found her noodles more appetizing.

In the end, she ate up an entire bowl of noodles.

"Janessa, you're scaring me. I've never seen anyone eat that much noodles. Do you have more? I'm a little hungry, too." Before Janessa could even respond, Alana went to the kitchen to get a bowl of noodles for herself.

Although it was nothing special, she seemed to enjoy it.

Janessa had never cooked anything that Alana didn't like. But this time, she thought of saying something to liven up the atmosphere.

"I'm not complaining or anything, but the noodles taste bland today," Alana remarked as she ate the noodles.

Hearing this, Janessa sighed and looked at Alana, pulling a long face.

If her body weren't in so much pain, she would have gone downstairs to find a restaurant.

wildfire, and the video where Imani was sleeping with a man was played on live TV. "She must have offended someone powerful. The Qiu family has a lot of connections. Scandals like this are a dime a dozen. Why

Without giving a response, Janessa just casually watched the entertainment news on TV. The news about Imani had spread like is her affair all over the news this time?" Alana was simply commenting, but Janessa suddenly had a rough idea of what was going on.

Alana was right. Even if something had happened to Imani, Aydin definitely would have done something to sweep it under the rug. But, considering how things were now, it was indeed unusual.

Who on earth wanted to drive Imani up the wall?

A single name suddenly flashed through Janessa's mind. There was probably no one in A City other than him who was capable of doing such a thing.

He wouldn't hesitate tearing Imani into pieces.

"Rayan," Janessa blurted out.

"What did you say?" Alana was thinking about what she was going to eat next. So, she wasn't paying attention to what Janessa was saying.

"It must be Rayan." Janessa was quite positive.

After all, Imani drugged him and took him to her room.

He probably couldn't forgive her.

"Did Imani do something to offend Rayan at the banquet? Then, this will be the death of her." Even without witnessing it with her own eyes, Alana could already imagine what would happen to Imani.

Imani brought it upon herself.

that could save them now.

went back to her room to take a nap.

people were cursing her all over the Internet.

"Yes, you're right." Janessa helplessly said. Everyone knew that it would be pointless to plot against Rayan, but Imani didn't seem to think so.

In the end, she just got herself in trouble.

"Janessa, what are you going to do if Rayan decides to get revenge on the Qiu Group?" It suddenly occurred to Alana that Imani's actions not only would ruin her own reputation, but it would definitely affect their family business as well. If it came to that, it would spell the end for the Qiu Group.

"The Qiu Group is in their hands now. Whether they go bankrupt or not is totally up to them." Truth be told, Janessa had been planning to take back control over the Qiu Group. Once the Lu Group finally collapsed, she would be able to take back control of the business her father had established. After all, her father had worked so hard for decades.

about it anymore. They were running the company now. She could no longer care less what happened to it. A miracle was probably the only thing

But, these days, looking at Aydin and his family's faces made her lose interest in getting her shares altogether. She didn't care

"You're right. You've already done everything you can. I've gonna hit the sack first." Alana gave Janessa a pat on the shoulder and Janessa had been sleeping for hours during the day, so she wasn't feeling sleepy at all. She sat comfortably on the sofa and tried to see if there was anything interesting to watch on TV. Finally, she found a TV series that she liked and leisurely watched it.

Compared to how carefree Janessa was right now, Imani was in deep trouble. With the sound of something shattering, a porcelain bottle fell to the ground and was broken into pieces.

"No, no... This can't be happening. Didn't you say that you'd make sure it doesn't get out? Why was it exposed? Why?!" Imani suffered such a heavy blow. When she came back home from the hotel at noon, she immediate sensed that the people around her were acting weird, and

All she did was sleep with someone else. Why were they making such a big deal out of it? Who were they to judge her?

"Will you shut up?! Don't you think that's enough?!" Aydin was cudgeling his brains, trying to figure out why things turned out like this.

The media had assured him that they wouldn't release the news.

But, it was still exposed. As if that wasn't bad enough, a video of Imani fooling around in bed with another man was all over the

It besmirched the good name of the Qiu family. The value of their stocks would definitely plummet tomorrow.

This time, the Qiu Group was doomed.

Internet as well.

"No, I don't. You promised to shush the media, so what the heck happened? It was still exposed, wasn't it?" Imani blamed it on Aydin. She was fuming with rage, as if she could break all the porcelain bottles in the house.

"Shut up! This wouldn't have happened if you didn't try to harm Janessa in the first place! Do you seriously think that the media just took my money and put it on the news anyway?" Although Aydin was a bit slow, he understood what happened.

"Dad, what do you mean?" Hearing this, Imani suddenly stopped in her tracks and listened attentively to Aydin.

"But, that's impossible. Who would... It must be that bitch, Janessa!" Imani couldn't believe it at first, but when she thought about it, she hadn't seen Janessa ever since she left her at the suite. This raised her suspicion.

"Do you think those people from the media didn't do anything after taking my money? Someone must've offered them more money to upload the video. The one behind this obviously wants to ruin your reputation."

"Gosh! What have you done really?" Aydin furiously glared at his daughter and thought, 'This girl brings me nothing but trouble.' If she hadn't done this, she might still have the chance to be with Rayan.

Now that the Zhou family knew what she had been up to, there was no choice but to break off the engagement.

"Forget about Janessa. Why did you have to go and offend Rayan? What made you think you can plot against him just like that? Wake up!" Aydin was pissed off by his daughter's foolishness.

tenfold!" Imani's heart was burning with rage.

"Since Janessa stole the man I loved from me, I wanted to get back at her. If I ever get through this, I swear I will pay her back

"If you try to do something stupid again, I'll be the one who'll beat you to death!" Imani had already ruined the Qiu family's reputation. And Aydin knew that they might be really doomed this time.

"Keep an eye on her. If she tries to run away, you know what to do."