

Chapter 322 Get The Marriage Certificate Now!

It was already 1 o'clock in the afternoon when Rayan and Janessa arrived at his parents' house.

As soon as they entered the yard, Janessa felt slightly uncomfortable. She was nervous about meeting Rayan's parents. They had a big fight when they divorced. Now that they were back together, she didn't know what Rayan's parents would think of her. She hoped they could look at her favorably. However, she also knew that his parents could dislike her.

Rayan stopped the car and looked at Janessa. When he saw the silent Janessa, he already knew that she was thinking about the past.

"Don't think about the past too much. My mother actually dotes on you a lot. She even treats you better than me. There's nothing for you to worry about. I'm sure that the relationship between you and her as daughter-in-law and mother-in-law will never be a problem." Rayan had always accepted the fact that to his own mother, he was even less important than Janessa, who had been the family's daughter-in-law for only three years.

In the past, Rayan never understood why his mother was so partial to Janessa. Now, he knew it was because of Janessa's irresistible charm.

Looking back, his mother did have a good sense back then.

"Don't tell me you are jealous of your mother?" Janessa eyed Rayan in frustration. Truthfully, Janessa didn't know how to describe the man in front of her.

In the past, Rayan was as cold as a devil from the hell who wouldn't back down from an argument and loved to torture others. But now, he became some jealous freak. Life was indeed unpredictable. He could be jealous of everyone, which also included his own mother. Janessa resigned to the fact that she couldn't do anything about it.

"Well, you two get along so well," Rayan admitted frankly. He smirked at Janessa and raised her chin as if saying, "That's right, I'm jealous. Is that a problem?"

"Come on, we have to go now. Get off the car." Janessa was still hesitant to meet the two elders of the Lu family. Although she didn't have any plan, she couldn't shrink back now since she was already here. Either way, it was a fact that she was the daughter-in-law of the Lu family. She should stop being fearful and face it head-on.

With the gifts they had prepared, Janessa and Rayan entered the house together. As soon as she entered the living room, Janessa felt something unexpected.

That was because, in the living room, not only Rayan's parents were present. His aunt whom he hadn't seen for quite a while was also there.

"This will get complicated," Janessa thought while biting her lower lip. In fact, the last person she wanted to face in the Lu family was this aunt. She wanted to avoid meeting her as much as possible. But in the past, she often came across her in this house.

Maybe Janessa and Rayan's aunt were meant to be enemies. Seeing the horror on Janessa's face, Rayan leaned in closer and whispered to her, "What are you so afraid of? I am here with you. There's nothing for you to worry about."

Rayan grinned as he wrapped Janessa's hand on his naturally before they walked into the living room with their fingers interlocked.

Before they entered the living room, they heard a sarcastic voice coming from Rayan's aunt. "Hey, look at who we have here! Isn't that Rayan's former wife? Why is she here? Does she have so much time that she could visit us today?"

Rayan's aunt acted like she was reluctant to talk to Janessa. However, she was inclined to taunt Janessa. Naturally, her tone toward Janessa was not friendly.

"Aunt Wendy, do you have too much time in your hands? Why do you have to visit my parents every day? You are more diligent than me, their own son," Rayan retorted immediately. His words were also ruthless.

Rayan, their son, didn't come back every day. However, their sister-in-law never got tired of coming over. This made her even more like a member of this family than Rayan himself.

Janessa looked at Rayan who had an evil look on his face, evidently displeased at his aunt's rudeness toward her. Rayan had always been good at taunting others. However, Janessa didn't expect that he would rebuke even his relatives that sharply.

At that moment, Janessa felt that the way Rayan treated her in the past was so much better.

"Rayan, how dare you talk to me like this?!" Furious, Wendy glared at Rayan. "Sarah, did you just see how disrespectful Rayan was to me?" As Rayan's aunt, Wendy found it difficult to retort after being humiliated like that. If she retorted sharply, it would make her appear narrow-minded. But if she put it lightly, she would feel humiliated. Either way, she couldn't do anything about Rayan's behavior. Such a thing could only be handed over to the Rayan's mother. She hoped that Sarah would take her side.

Janessa carefully suppressed her laugh. After all, Rayan's aunt was an elder of the family.

She would be in trouble if the elders saw her laughing. However, Janessa really couldn't help it. Hence, she hid behind Rayan.

It took so much willpower to stop herself from bursting into laughter. It was so hilarious! In the past, she used to face Rayan's aunt by herself. But now, Rayan's aunt would not be able to bully her like before. It felt amazing to have Rayan support her like this.

Seeing that Janessa was practically trembling behind him, Rayan grunted, "Ahem!" Rayan pretended to cough and nudged Janessa to stop laughing. Although he could help Janessa, his aunt was still an elder of the family. It would spell trouble if they would see Janessa disrespect Rayan's aunt. After all, he didn't want his wife to be called rude. Still, he wanted to get their approval regarding taking Janessa as his wife again.

Janessa composed herself and sternly scolded herself when she almost laughed again. Then, she made a pleasant smile that she practiced a lot of times in the past and greeted everyone. "Uncle Donald, Aunt Sarah, Aunt Wendy, I'm sorry for visiting just now. Is everything going well? Both Rayan and I are too busy to come back often. That's why we decided to come back today for a visit!" Janessa bowed and politely handed over the things in her hands to the servant. Then, she sat beside Sarah exactly how a girl coming back home after getting married should behave.

Sarah smiled at Janessa and held her hand as soon as she sat beside her. Now, Janessa understood why Rayan was jealous. Rayan's mother truly adored her. They were really like mother and daughter already.

Just a few moments ago, Rayan was jealous of their close relationship. But now, he felt thankful for it. It was a good thing that his mother favored Janessa.

His mother and his wife had no conflict between them. Rayan felt so blessed at that moment. This was what every man wanted.

"Well, this is better than not coming at all. It's a good thing that you came back. I'll tell the cook to make some more dishes later. Isn't braised pork in brown sauce your favorite? I'll be sure to relay that to our chef."

Janessa felt so touched that Rayan's mother remembered her favorite dish. It had been a long time since her last visit. However, Sarah still remembered those little things about her. Tears flowed from Sarah's eyes when she saw Janessa again. She had missed this girl so much.

In fact, she once went to the hospital to ask Janessa about her relationship with Rayan. At that time, Janessa still insisted that there was nothing between them. Now, seeing them together again, Sarah felt relieved.

She knew since the start that they would make a good couple.

Rayan's father, who was watching silently at first, broke his silence and said, "Now that you're back, I only have one task for you. You have to get your marriage certificate as soon as possible." Ryan's father was a serious man. However, happiness could still be seen on his face.

They could see a small smile at the corners of his mouth. That was evidence enough that he approved of them already.

"Of course. We will get the marriage certificate after the New Year." Rayan attached great importance to this matter. After all, after being apart for 3 years, they were going to be together again. They didn't marry for love last time. This time, he would organize the wedding attentively and make everything right.

He already had some ideas about their wedding. He knew he shouldn't plan it on his own. However, he couldn't stop his excitement. He still didn't have a concrete plan. But one thing was sure—he wanted the scale to be bigger than their first wedding. Of course, it would be much more luxurious as well.

"Why do you have to wait for that? Go and get it before the New Year!" Sarah, who seemed impatient about it, exclaimed. More than their marriage, Sarah wanted to have a grandchild soon. After all, it would depend on Janessa.

Janessa squeezed Sarah's hand and said gently, "Aunt Sarah, that's too hasty. Personally, I don't want to rush it." Janessa had already made up her mind to be with Rayan for the rest of her life. However, she didn't want to rush their marriage.

Seeing that Janessa would not change her mind about the matter, Sarah sighed. "You are still the same as before, Janessa. I have always regarded you as my daughter-in-law."

"Indeed, you are Sarah's daughter-in-law now and then. Calling Sarah 'aunt' wouldn't be appropriate," Wendy spoke. It was not easy for her to find a fault in Janessa. So, she was eager to point it out once she had seized one.

She wouldn't let go of any opportunity to ridicule Janessa.

Janessa knew what Wendy was trying to do. Hence, she made up her mind before speaking again. "Mom, Rayan and I had already made up our mind to be together forever. Sooner or later, we'll get married. However, we don't want to rush it. We prefer to enjoy the process of being in love for now," Janessa said shyly. Wondering how he would react to it, she glanced at Rayan cautiously.
