

Chapter 347 This Is A Conspiracy

Rayan stared at Janessa and saw the disbelief on her face. Rayan took out the phone from his pocket to show his evidence to Janessa. However, when he was about to show it to her, his phone suddenly turned off. It was out of battery. Rayan cursed himself.

Janessa looked at Rayan who stopped moving and said impatiently, "Why don't you show the evidence to me? Come on, show me." However, despite Janessa's annoyance, Rayan still didn't move. At first, Janessa thought it was because he admitted he was wrong.

Janessa was speechless because she thought that she was right. She turned around and started walking away. She went straight into the kitchen to make the soup which could help Rayan feel better.

Although Rayan was drunk, Janessa wouldn't want him to sleep with a headache.

In addition, he would surely feel very uncomfortable tomorrow morning due to a hangover.

Hence, Janessa would still want to take good care of Rayan regardless of her anger at that moment.

Janessa calmed herself by humming a song as she made the soup. But when she was done, Rayan had already left.

Thinking that Rayan was in the bedroom, Janessa went upstairs with the soup in her hand.

However, as soon as she entered the bedroom, Janessa couldn't help but frown. She was welcomed by a strong smell of cigarettes and wine. 'How much wine did Rayan drink?' Janessa thought.

Janessa put the soup on the tea table. Then, she looked around and saw Rayan's phone near the window. She heard the sound of running water from the bathroom. She was sure that Rayan was taking a shower!

Janessa looked at the mess before her and sighed. She walked to the window of the bedroom and opened it for ventilation.

However, before she could sit down, she heard a notification bell of an incoming message coming from Rayan's phone.

Curious, Janessa started walking toward the phone. She thought, 'Who else would send a message to Rayan at this hour?'

Janessa couldn't help but think of Gracie. That woman could be the only one to contact Rayan so late. She felt restless when she thought of what Gracie would say to Rayan. She came to the window and checked Rayan's phone.

Looking at the screen, she found it was an unknown number.

'A stranger?' Janessa unlocked the phone and clicked the notification to open the message.

The stranger sent a photo to Rayan. When Janessa saw it, it was a photo of her and Gordon in the cafe today.

It seemed like the person who took the photos was good at choosing the angle. Janessa and Gordon didn't act anything like a couple. However, because of the angle, they seemed very intimate.

Upon seeing the picture, Janessa understood why Rayan was so upset with her. He got drunk because he got jealous.

It was all because of this photo sent by a stranger who was watching them earlier.

Before Janessa could finish her thoughts, another message came in on WeChat.

"Do you believe me now? I told you the woman you love doesn't deserve your trust."

Because the message was very vague, Janessa could not figure out who the sender was. However, Janessa suspected someone.

Larry. This person was probably Larry. He might be warning Janessa. If she didn't do what he wanted, he would tell Rayan something worse next time.

Janessa held the phone tightly in disbelief. At the same time, Rayan came out of the bathroom with his hair dripping with water. Rayan saw Janessa holding his phone and looked at her sharply. He said indifferently, "You've already seen it. What else do you want to say now?"

Janessa just sat on the sofa silently and looked at the soup in front of him. Rayan believed that silence was Janessa's apology. Rayan believed that Janessa wanted to please him knowing that he had evidence.

However, was it really true? Was it possible that Janessa betrayed him?

Rayan wanted to believe that it wasn't true. However, Janessa kept being silent. The most unbearable thing for him was betrayal. After all, Gracie tasted his anger after she betrayed him.

He couldn't believe that Janessa still betrayed him and didn't learn a lesson from what happened to Gracie.

Was Janessa naive or did she just treat him as a fool who would spare her?

Rayan's anger started boiling inside him again when Janessa broke her silence. "Are you saying you believe this? This is it? This is your so-called evidence?" Annoyance was clear in Janessa's voice as she questioned Rayan. Although these photos were taken on purpose, Janessa could not remember what the person who took this picture looked like. In the first place, she didn't even know who was taking pictures of her and Gordon. It was true that the picture could be taken out of context. However, at that moment, what she knew clearly was that Rayan didn't believe her at all.

When they got back together, they promised each other their love for each other. Rayan said he loved her, and she believed him. Now, Janessa couldn't believe he became suspicious of her and believed others just because of a picture.

Truthfully, Janessa felt disappointed. How could this man believe others and not her? Maybe she believed in him so much. If she didn't, she wouldn't feel so sad that he believed in the picture a stranger sent him. After all, he had always been self-centered and felt that he was always right.

"Are you really asking me that? You were so close to Gordon! The two of you were kissing and hugging. Do you think I wouldn't get angry?!" Rayan said angrily. Thanks to the warm shower he took, Rayan had sobered up.

Men were always able to separate their emotions and life regarding right and wrong. When they reasoned with others, they always behaved like a philosopher.

"What will you and Courtney do when someone deliberately exposes your scandal to the media?" Janessa said in a calm voice. She remembered several news reports about Rayan and Courtney kissing in the underground garage.

In the past, Janessa had always thought that those were true. However, Rayan and Courtney's behavior convinced her that the news was a misunderstanding at most.

Rayan could do such a thing with others, but he would not believe that someone would take photos from a particular angle to frame her? She wondered if Rayan ever thought about the issue from that perspective. Although Janessa knew that he was furious because of jealousy, it still made her feel so upset.

"What are you saying? What does this issue have to do with Courtney? Right now, we are talking about you and Gordon. Why are you suddenly talking about Courtney? You should not get others involved." Rayan gritted his teeth at Janessa. He thought that she was merely making an excuse. So, he became angrier at her.

Janessa heaved a helpless sigh. Seeing Rayan's anger toward her, Janessa didn't know what to say. She knew that he wouldn't listen to her.

What could she say? Would he believe her if she said the truth? Seeing Rayan's eyes shooting daggers at her like she was a sinner made her heart hurt so much.

"Rayan, we're both adults. Despite being your girlfriend, you don't trust me. You got yourself drunk and came back to question me about these pictures a stranger sent you. Are you saying you believe a stranger more than me, your girlfriend? Don't be so childish, Rayan. You know Gordon and I have been friends for a long time. If you really believe that picture that much, I really have no choice."

After saying those words, Janessa swiftly moved toward the cabinet to take her pajamas without looking at Rayan. After getting her clothes, she walked toward the door without turning back.

After all, with their fight, they wouldn't sleep together tonight. Since that was what Rayan wanted, Janessa just left him alone.

She felt like she needed to coax him like a child tonight. But she didn't want to do it. She knew that it wouldn't work on him.

Janessa knew that Rayan was jealous. It was obvious from his anger. However, how could she explain herself to him? Rayan wouldn't even listen to her.

Even if she tried explaining to him, he would not believe her. He would merely take it as an excuse.

With her hand on the doorknob, she opened the door with all the intention to leave Rayan for tonight. Although she knew that it could make their fight worse, she didn't have any choice, especially since he wasn't keen on letting herself explain. They would only either fight all night or feel very uncomfortable until morning. When Janessa was about to close the door, she heard Rayan's voice behind. "Come back." However, at that moment, Janessa just wanted to rest. She didn't want to say anything more. Truthfully, she felt so tired trying to explain herself. Without looking back, she closed the door and headed toward the guest room.

As soon as she entered the guest room, Janessa locked the door.

Only in this way could she feel safe. After all, she just realized that someone took a picture of her and sent it to Rayan.

Janessa took a quick shower. Then, she lay on the bed to sleep. However, after minutes of tossing and turning, unable to fall asleep, she sat up. Her mind was still full of the events that happened that day. Who would take such a photo on purpose and send it to Rayan? Janessa met Gordon today coincidentally. However, how could someone accurately know that she and Gordon would be together?

Then, it hit her. Someone was probably following her all the time. That was the only explanation she could come up with. If it was true, was that person following her around just to take pictures of her and create scandals?

Obviously, the one who took the picture knew that she wouldn't be intimate with any other man. So, he probably waited for the opportunity to take such controversial photos.

"Then, this whole thing was done against me?" Janessa thought.

Was the plot behind the Shen family really against the two of them? Or was it just against her?

Janessa felt increasingly frightened the more she thought about it. The thought of someone following her around sent a chill down her spine.

If Larry was the one behind this, she had to settle their problems as soon as possible. Otherwise, she wouldn't know how many people would get involved.

After thinking about it for a long time, Janessa figured out a lot of things. However, there were still a lot of things she couldn't figure out. She didn't fall asleep until dawn.
