

Chapter 422 The Thing They Were Worried About Finally Came

After Janessa moved to the old house of the Lu family, her appetite improved. She began to feel much better and enjoyed eating her meals every day.

Rayan had to come to work every day, but he made sure to come home just in time for dinner.

At the dinner table, Sarah couldn't help feeling sorry for her son when she saw how tired he looked.

"Son, is everything alright in your company? Please don't push yourself too hard. You've lost some weight in the past few days."

It had been only a few days, but Rayan had indeed lost some weight.

Janessa noticed it as well, but there was nothing she could do. She couldn't get involved in the company's affairs now, and Rayan wasn't saying anything to her either.

"Don't worry, I'm fine. The issue is almost solved." Glancing at his father, Rayan suddenly remembered what they had talked about two days ago.

Sarah didn't know what happened to Donald when he was young. However, if Larry were to really try to deal with the Lu family, then he would definitely want the Lu Group to go out of business just to watch the Lu family fall apart.

He really felt bad for her mother because she didn't know anything. Rayan wasn't sure if his mother could bear it if she were to find out.

Janessa saw the gloomy look on Rayan's face and the worried expression on Donald's, but she didn't say anything.

It wasn't until the evening when they went back to the bedroom that Janessa finally asked Rayan, "Is there something that you don't want mom to know?"

Rayan looked at Janessa in surprise and quickly put on a smile.

Janessa was so sharp that she could easily read his mind with just a glance.

Janessa had been able to read his mind for so long, but she chose not to say anything earlier.

"Why are you staring at me like that?" Janessa felt a little uncomfortable being stared at like this. All she did was ask a simple question.

Was there something on her face?

Feeling a bit conscious, Janessa wiped her face, but Rayan just kept looking at her with a smile.

"I almost missed a woman who knows me like the back of her hand?" After saying this, Rayan grabbed Janessa's hand and gently kissed its back.

Janessa let out a soft chuckle.

This man was such a smooth-talker.

"I'm asking you something serious. Don't try to change the subject." Pretending to be angry, Janessa pounded on Rayan's chest twice, which made him beg for mercy.

After fooling around for a while, Rayan spilled the beans and told Janessa about what happened yesterday. He also expressed his doubts and concerns.

"You mean that Larry's daughter and your father were in a relationship before? And because he left without saying goodbye, that Elizabeth ended up committing suicide? If that's the case, then Larry had a reason to deliberately get revenge on the Lu family. I didn't expect this man to hold a grudge for so long. How could he take revenge for something that happened more than 30 years ago? It's like asking a son to pay for the debt of his father."

A helpless smile appeared on Rayan's face. It was indeed the case. But, what was he supposed to do?

He was now the chairman and the backbone of Lu Group. Faced with the issue involving Larry, he had no choice but to fight back with everything he'd got.

Although he was dealing with quite a difficult task, he had to do it.

"Yes, that's why I'm worried that Larry might do something bad to my mom." Rayan looked outside the window, with tears welling up in his eyes. After taking a deep breath, he walked towards Janessa.

Every time something bad happened, the only thing that could calm him down and help him think about things was being with Janessa.

After thinking for a while, Janessa patted Rayan's thigh and said in a firm tone, "Don't worry. I'll take care of mom. If anyone suspicious tries to get near her, I'll kick them out."

"Just make sure you stay safe, okay? Now that you mention it... It's the weekend tomorrow. The general shareholder's meeting will be held on Monday. I'm going to meet Zeke tomorrow. You should stay home and take good care of mom. Make sure to check anything that needs mom's signature."

If someone wanted to send something to Sarah in secret, they could have it sent as an express package rather than have it delivered by some random person. This meant that the one they should keep an eye on was the deliverymen.

Last time, Gracie sent her something by sending a package.

"Not only the packages, but the e-mails as well. Anyway, you have to be careful at home tomorrow." Rayan was worried, but he wanted to be prepared.

He had been feeling on edge these days, as though something bad was going to happen.

However, now that he had everything under his control, nothing bad should happen.

The following day, Rayan went out early. Although it was the weekend, Janessa got up early as well and thought of preparing breakfast in the kitchen.

The servants were hesitant to let Janessa do it, but she insisted, so they decided to just give her a hand.

It was just breakfast, so Janessa didn't think too much of it.

When Sarah went to the dining room, she happened to see Janessa coming out of the kitchen with breakfast in her hands. She flew off the handle in an instant.

She scolded the servants, "What's the matter with you? Didn't I ask you to serve her? Why did she have to make breakfast herself? Don't bother coming to work tomorrow."

Sarah was fuming with anger. She didn't want Janessa to do anything. But, these people had the audacity to let this pregnant woman prepare breakfast by herself, which was supposed to be their job.

If she didn't make the rules clear today, there was no telling what else they could do tomorrow!

"Mrs. Sarah, it was Mrs. Janessa who insisted that she wanted to make breakfast by herself. We tried to stop her but she wouldn't let us." The two servants were shaking in their shoes. They couldn't help thinking that Janessa was such a troublemaker. If it weren't for her stubbornness, they wouldn't have been scolded. If she hadn't insisted on preparing the food herself, they wouldn't have lost their jobs.

Janessa never would've thought that cooking to get a bit of exercise would cost the two servants their jobs.

There was no way she could let them lose their jobs like that, so she had to persuade Sarah.

"Mom, I was the one who wanted to cook for myself. Although they cook delicious food, everyone has different cooking skills. I just got the urge to eat something I cooked myself all of a sudden. Please don't be mad. It's not their fault." Janessa pleaded for the two servants.

Knowing what kind of person Janessa was, Sarah decided to just let it go.

"Well, just don't do it again, okay?"

Aside from what happened at breakfast, everything else went well that day.

That being said, Janessa felt so anxious the whole time. Even though she tried her best not to let it show, Sarah could still notice it.

"Janessa, is something bothering you? You can talk to me. Maybe I can give you some advice."

"It's okay, mom. Don't worry. Maybe it's because I didn't get a good sleep last night."

"If you're feeling tired, you should go to your room and get some rest. It's not good for the child." The last thing that they wanted was for her not to have a good rest. It was very important for the child.

"No, I'm fine, really." As soon as Janessa said this, the butler came in holding a document bag in his hand.

As Janessa looked at the butler's hand, her heart started racing.

The thing they were worried about finally came.

"Madam..."

"Ah, is that my package? I wasn't expecting it to arrive so soon." Before the butler could say anything, Janessa grabbed the package from his hand.

With her back to Sarah, Janessa secretly winked at the butler, gesturing for him to keep quiet.
