Chapter 432 Where Is She

After Janessa drove out of the mansion, she headed straight to the hospital downtown to look for Rayan. At the thought of him in danger, she couldn't get herself to calm down no matter how hard she tried.

She felt a little bit odd, but she told herself that it was just the worry.

Her right eyelid kept twitching and messing with her vision. It was not suitable for her to drive in her state of nervousness but luckily, there weren't many cars on the mountain road.

Without any hesitation, Janessa took out her phone and called Rayan's number again and again, but she couldn't get through to him.

"Rayan, answer the phone, please. Why won't you answer?"

Janessa took a deep breath, feeling more and more uneasy.

When she looked at her side mirror, she found a car following her closely.

She was driving very fast, and the mountain road was wide enough. If the car wanted to overtake her, there was so much room for it.

increased to 120 miles per hour.

"Maybe we are just going in the same direction." Janessa tried to tell herself. As she stepped on the accelerator, the speed

That alone should have put a distance between her and the car behind but it also sped up, keeping its previous distance behind her, instead of overtaking.

Why?

Staring at the car in the mirror, Janessa had an ominous feeling.

Was the person targeting her?

way the Lu family wouldn't have known about it.

Worse still, the call she received was from a stranger.

It suddenly occurred to her that when she called Corbin this morning, Rayan was in the middle of a general shareholder's meeting.

Although she had only slept for an hour, the meeting couldn't have ended so soon. And even if there was bad news, there was no

The more she thought about it, the more she felt something was off. When she saw an abandoned gas station in front of her, she parked the car on the side of the road, her focus still on the car behind her.

She called Corbin's number, but to her surprise, he didn't answer, either.

"Could Rayan really be in danger?"

They looked so vicious, and everything about them just screamed danger.

The call still wasn't going through. As she was about to drive off, her car was hit suddenly from behind. Janessa hit her head on the steering wheel.

She was about to get out of the car when two men quickly got out of the car that had been following her and walked towards her.

"They were after me." It dawned on her and Janessa regretted her hasty actions. Why didn't she just stay at home and wait for the news to be confirmed before going out? Now she was really in danger.

Janessa immediately started the car, but it was already too late. The two men were in front of her car. They stared at Janessa and smirked. One of them opened the hood and cut off the engine line while the other one slapped the door. He gestured for her to come out.

"Mrs. Lu, what can I do for you?"

Just then, Corbin answered the call and his voice was carried through to Janessa.

Thank God! Corbin answered the phone. Janessa sighed in relief, but her voice was trembling.

"Corbin, where is Rayan?"

"Mr. Lu is still in the meeting. The issue is more complicated than we thought, so the meeting isn't over yet."

Rayan.

other end clearly.

Janessa instantly lost consciousness.

Corbin entered the meeting room in a hurry.

Corbin's words proved that the situation would only get worse for her now.

Good thing was that Rayan was fine.

He was still holding a meeting in the company. Jenessa was truly relieved.

She finally understood that all along she had been the one in danger, and like the fool she was, she had fallen into their trap.

Although she didn't look flustered on the outside, she was still afraid.

Her silence made Corbin suspicious. He asked nervously, "Mrs. Lu, is anything wrong?"

The window was banged violently by the people outside. Janessa tried to calm herself down as any shock from her could affect the baby.

She didn't know why they were after her and or who had sent them, but she was sure that they were going to use her to threaten

But still, it was just a car, so the window could not resist the force for too long.

Fortunately, Rayan's car was holding up against the attack, so she was safe inside for a while.

"I was on my way to downtown. I..." Bang!

"Mrs. Lu, what's with the noise? Are you all right?" Corbin's heart pounded heavily. He could hear the sound of banging on the Before she could finish her words, the car window was broken. Janessa subconsciously moved away, but it was too late.

Her hand was caught by someone and the man already had a syringe full of anesthetic ready. The needle was shot into her neck,

The car door was opened and the two men pulled Janessa out of the driver's seat. They tied up her hands and feet, covered her eyes with a black cloth, and threw her into their trunk.

Corbin's voice could still be heard before the man reached out and hung up the phone.

One of them recorded a video. He sent the clip to someone else before they drove away.

At this moment, Rayan was still under pressure from the shareholders. They were forcing him to hand over the position of CEO of the Lu Group to someone else. But Rayan was so calm that they were all a little scared of him.

dire circumstances. It was better to wait and observe the situation for a while.

After weighing out the options, Corbin decided to tell him about the incident.

After all, no one knew if Rayan had plans of his own.

Although all the shareholders present had signed the contract to support Larry, it was only a formality that wouldn't hold under Corbin knew how important Janessa was to Rayan, but at this key moment...

Larry, who was facing Rayan, had already received the video. A small smile appeared on his face. Things were finally getting into place.

seemed to have been calling someone when she was caught. Rayan already knows the news."

Ken went out to answer a phone call. A few seconds later, he walked in and whispered into Larry's ear, "Gracie is ready. Janessa

'Rayan, let me see which one you will choose, your beauty or business.' Larry's smile grew even wider.

"Mr. Lu, I have a video here that I believe you will be interested in." As Larry spoke, he put the phone on the table and gently pushed it to Rayan's side.

Rayan's eyes turned red as he watched the video clip.

Larry waved his hand, and Ken went and stood behind him obediently.

His urge to kill Larry became stronger than ever.

In the video, Janessa's hands and feet were tied and her eyes were covered. She wasn't struggling or moving, meaning they had knocked her out somehow.

They had gone too far. They even dared to hurt Janessa.

Rayan smashed the phone on the table with a loud crash.

At that moment, Rayan was frightening. Zeke looked at him calmly, his eyes full of complacency. "Where is she?" Rayan asked.

The people around him were so scared that they didn't dare breathe.

Where is site. Rayan asked.
