

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot CEO Chapter 121

Chapter 121 Your Response Will Determine Your Fate

Amy turned when she began to hear loud sound as though something was being hit, her heart almost fling away when saw Broderick being beaten mercilessly. It was a bloody sight and she can't afford to look at it. She looked away and quickly ran Inside her room. Once she got before her door, she buried her face in her palm and cried. 'Why was Prince Nolan punishing him that way?' she thought. She felt so bad for Broderick but she couldn't interfere, afterall, Broderick also buried Nolan alive.

She cleaned the tears in her face after two minutes of sobbing and walked inside with a dull heart.

Seeing her kids, she faked a smile and asked, "are you feeling hungry yet?"

"Where is dad?" About three of the children asked at the same time, ignoring her question.

"He travelled to a far away country for some business deal, he will back in two months time," Amy responded.

C

Moses looked at the screen of the phone in his hand and then looked at Amy, "a news says here that Prince Nolan of EastHill has arrested our dad."

"Huh?" Amy walked over to him and checked the screen of the phone, she saw that the news of Broderick's arrest has already made it to the news.

What was she even thinking? Whatever happens to a man like Broderick Alessandro will definitely top the news site.

If the children confirmed this to be true, they will be very devastated. And taking them to Broderick is not an option as Broderick had already warned her not to bring the children to him.

"Oh!" Amy stood upright, "North Hill is in chaos at the moment and everyone is trying to play smart. Your father escaped, trust me cause he called me after he reached the far country he went to." Amy said.

"I'm worried," Debby said as she rested her head on her palm like someone in deep thought.

Amy went to sit beside her and hugged her dearly, "Debby, don't worry about him. He had to escape North Hill cause of the military men that just took over. If he didn't, he would be arrested."

"Can we speak to dad? Just to be sure he's fine?" Moses asked.

"Erm... He says I shouldn't call him often so the cops would not track his location but i'll try to mail him to ask what time he will be free so that you guys can speak to him," Amy said and Moses nodded.

"We need to eat," Amy said and went to pick up the remote on the table then called Bristol over.

Bristol informed them that the food is ready and so lead them to the royal dinning table where they all ate.

After they were done eating, they returned back to their room. Amy wanted to play with the kids but the kids were not in a good mood at all. They even requested for their own room, Amy felt bad that they didn't intend to live with her here as the room is very large enough to contain them all.

Nonetheless, she understands that they may need their privacy and so promise them to get them their own room. She planned on speaking about it to Prince Nolan once he comes around.

Amy laid on the bed with the back of her head to the pillow, she had a heavy heart as she wondered if her of her children will spend the rest of his life. Obviously, there was no way that Broderick could escape. Maybe if he didn't lose his memory, he might probably use other mysterious things about himself to free himself but he only knows what Martha told him. Although Amy had said she wished for Broderick's downfall, she didn't really mean it. Though he had bullied her a lot with his power but she also understands that he was only doing that out of a wrong perception of her.

A couple of hours later, a knock landed on the door and Amy went to open it, she saw a guard who immediately bowed to her, "the king sent for you!"

Amy looked at her cloth and saw that it was decent then turned to the children and told them she would be back soon.

She followed the guard to the king's chamber where Nolan is.

"Prince," Amy called with a boring smile.

"King actually," Prince Nolan corrected and Amy smirked, "it will take time before I adjust to calling you king, anyways, King Nolan."

Nolan chuckled, "please sit, Amy."

Amy sat on one of the couches in the room that was directly facing the king sized chair that Nolan was.

"You sent for me?" Amy asked after a few seconds of awkward silence had passed.

"Yes. I don't want you to feel rushed but then, the members of the parliament wants me to get married as soon as I can. Infact, they only gave me seven days as it's in our culture for a king to be married," Nolan said.

"Oh!"

"Yeah, since you already promise to be my queen, then you can agree to marry me, right?" Prince Nolan asked.

Amy sighed and without thinking, she answered, "yes." Afterall, she promised him.

Prince Nolan heaved a breath of relief and said, "good. Then we will get married in six days time, I'll immediately start to make preparation."

"Alright." Amy said.

"Can you come over, please?" Prince Nolan gestured for her to come and she stood. She walked over to him and sat beside him.

He curved his hand around her and said softly to her, "Amy, you aren't scared of me, are you?"

"No, I'm not." Amy answered and added, "but... I'm worried that now that you have all the powers, you can just change towards me."

"People don't change their character, they just get to reveal what has been hiding inside of them. I'll never hurt you, okay?" Prince Nolan said gently and Amy looked at his handsome face. Their faces were now an inch away from each other.

"Promise me that you will never hurt me and my children," Amy requested.

"I promise you." Prince Nolan said and kissed her on her forehead.

"Do you know how to play ludo game?" Prince Nolan asked.

"I use to play it when I was young but that's a children game," Amy said.

"Adult plays it too at leisure," Prince Nolan stood and went to bring the ludo and the dices. He sat and created a small distance between them where the ludo board rested.

The two adults began to play the game, they were both quiet at the beginning of the game but Amy started to laugh when she kept winning him and the fact that he kept claiming he was skilled in ludo game amused her even more..

They laughed together and indeed had fun until a few hours had passed. Nolan didn't want to let Amy go as he enjoyed playing the game with her so much but Amy told him she needs to attend to the kids.

Amy retruned to the room and found out the children already ate lunch. When they were hungry and didn't see Amy in sight, they called on Bristol themselves and ate alone.

Amy was stunned but was happy they had eaten. Everything seems to be going well, there was no one to bully her, Prince Nolan was being gentle to her and her kids were with her but was she happy, no?

It's like a poor man wishing earnestly for money. If only he can become rich, he would be the happiest man in the world, so he thinks. But hen the poor man has it all, his life was still a defination of sadness as money alone in itself does not guarantee happiness.

Amy felt sad but she felt very lonely too, despite the fact that her children were with her. She felt incomplete and was moody like a woman in her period.

She tried to sleep but she couldn't. The children as a matter of fact were not so lively as they used to.

Amy eventually called Bristol to arrange a room for the kids and immediately, the kids were taken to the room that was beside that of Amy.

Amy assured the kids that she would check on them often. Amy then went to shower, she remained under the shower for almost an hour even when she was feeling cold, she didn't leave. She felt burdneed and guilty. It's like a thorn was placed around her neck and it's hurting her.

Of course, she loved Broderick Alessandro. She loved him so much but she thinks that she can easily stopped loving him just like she stepped loving Callan. But it seems the love she has for Broderick was stronger. It cuts deep into her soul and reside at the deepest part of her soul.

A loud sound errupted all of a sudden and Amy left the bathroom with only a towel around her body and went to peep through the large windows of the room. She then realized that it was an heavy downpour of rain.

Wait! Is Broderick Alessandro still at the center of the palace field? If he was, does that mean this heavy rain will fall on him?

Amy immediately got dressed in a trouser and a blowse then walked outside of the palace.

Standing before the palace, she saw Broderick Alessandro from afar, the rain was falling heavily and was beating him

Even her was scared of stepping inside the rain. There was not a single person outside as everyone had hidden because of the rain, even the guards, Amny felt terribly bad for Broderick and ran in the rain towards him. Before she got before Broderick Alessandro who was tied to the pole, she was already wet.

The first thing she noticed was the scar on his body, the scars were too visible and her heart clutched painfully.

She cried uncontrollably but it was impossible for anyone to know she was crying because the rain was pouring on her hair down to her face.

Broderick had his head lowered before she came and even after she stood before him, he still had his head lowered.

“Broderick!” She called but Broderick didn’t respond.

“Broderick?” She called again but he didn’t respond still yet the rain was heavy and was causing her so much cold.

“Broderick!” She shouted out of frustration and Broderick raised his face up towards her.

“What else did you want from me? I have fallen from the most powerful man to an ordinary slave, which is what you have always wished for.” Broderick said.

“Broderick, I am so sorry. I didn’t want to agree to the treason but... I guess I didn’t think deeply. I hate to see you this way,” Amy said, crying.

“Why did you hate to see me this way? I’m a man that had cause you pain. I have never really made you happy and I bully you. Why do you feel sad for me? Go inside now, you will catch cold,” Broderick said.

Amy began to shiver as a result of the heavy rain that had caused her so much cold.

“I love you,” Amy said, crying.

“You can stop loving me and love your new king,” Broderick smiled painfully. “Go.”

“No.”

“I don’t want you to catch cold, you may fall sick. If anything happens to you, how will you take care of the kids?” Broderick asked.

“No, I don’t want to leave you. I want us to leave here together,” Amy said.

“Go!” Broderick shouted on her but she wasn’t moved at all, when she was about to collapse on his body and hug him dearly, a loud voice called her name.

“Amy!”

She turned and saw Prince Nolan running towards her.

When Prince Nolan got to her, he immediately covered her with his big coat and said, “oh my! If you get cold, I won’t forgive myself.”

Prince Nolan then carried her in a bridal style and began to carry her away.

“Leave my woman” Broderick screamed and tried to break free from the chains but it was impossible for him to break free. Like a possessive wolf, he wants to crush Prince Nolan to death and take Amy away from him.

Amy heard him and only shut her eyes in pain as Nolan carried her away.

* You! I’ll kill you! I’ll destroy your kingdom! I’ll...” Broderick’s angry and jealous voice trailed off as Amy got taken inside

Broderick screamed in the rain, his voice was like that of thunder, he gritted his teeth under the heavy cold and looked up at the sky, letting the heavy rain beat his face mercilessly.

Prince Nolan placed Amy down gently in his bathroom and said, “please undress quick and bath in this warm water, I believe you will be warm. I’ll tell the maid to provide the cloth you will change into when you are done.”

“Okay, thank you,” Amy said and watched as Nolan walked out.

When Nolan got outside of the bathroom, he was angry that Amy even went inside the rain just to meet with Broderick. Does she still has feelings for Broderick? He walked outside angrily and commanded two guards to follow him to where Broderick was. Nolan carried a heavy block of clustered sand and threw it angrily to his right chest making the block crash on his chest. Broderick felt a heavy pain in his right chest that he stopped breathing for many seconds.

“You! How come Amy still has feelings for you?” Nolan was very angry.

Broderick coughed out blood and looked at him, “how is it my fault that she loves me?” Nolan hit him severely in the stomach and slapped him hard, “if you don’t want me to kill you, when next Amy come, tell her you don’t love her and tell her never to come to you again, understood?”

“Why don’t you tell her yourself not to come to me anymore?” Broderick asked. He was feeling pain and cold all over his body.

“Cause I don’t want her to feel uncomfortable around me. I don’t want her to feel like I’m controlling her. I want her to feel free cause I want her to be happy always. Unlike you that always cause her pain, I will only make Amy happy. I already swore to make her happy always but you, must tell her that you never loved her so she can stop coming to you,” Nolan felt threatened about Broderick’s presence.

“I have never told her I love her,” Broderick said.

“But you screamed her name to be your woman when I was carrying her away, huh?” Prince Nolan asked.

“Yes, because she’s mine. She has a place in my heart, I don’t know how she finds a way to my heart but one thing I’m sure of is that I have a soft spot for her. I don’t know if that is love,” Broderick said.

Nolan removed the gun from the hostler of one of the guards beside him and pointed it to him, he cocked it and said, “will you tell Amy you did not love her and that she should stop coming to you? Your response will determine if I will shoot you or not.”

“I will not.”

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot CEO Chapter 122

Chapter 122 My King! My King

Shooting Broderick will most definitely hurt Amy. Amy may not mind the fact that he was torturing Broderick since he is on a just cause. Afterall, Broderick buried him alive at North Hill. But no woman would stand and watch the father of her children get shut. Nolan smirked, “I can see you are not scared of death.”

Broderick lowered his head and wished earnestly to get free from the chains he was tied with.

“I’ll get married to Amy in six days and she will become my queen. Together, we will rule EastHill while you will forever remain our slave,” Prince Nolan said.

Broderick raised his head up slowly and said, “you can have her body but you can’t have her heart.”

“Is that so?” Prince Nolan asked and smirked, “I would take that as a challenge, you will realize that she will get to fall deep in love with me as we spend time together.”

Broderick only looked at his face blankly without saying a word.

Nolan then turned and began to walk away while the men covered his head with an umbrella to stop the rain from hitting him.

Nolan soon entered the king's chamber and realized that Amy had already left. He wished she wait for her but then, they were not married yet. Once they get married, the both of them can live in the same chamber.

After breakfast the following morning, Moses reminded Amy, "Amy, have you been able to reach our dad and ask when he will be able to speak to us?"

"Sincerely no, but I'll do that now and come back to update you on what he said," Amy left the kid's room and went straight to the king's chamber.

The two guards before the room bowed before her and then Amy faced one of them and asked, "is the king inside?"

"Yes, he is," the guard responded politely

Amy knocked on the door and Nolan's voice sounded from inside "come in."

Amy opened the door and walked in. Once Nolan saw her, he smiled broadly and stood then welcomed her politely. "Please sit."

Amy sat and he sit right before her. "How was your night and I hope you took breakfast already?"

"Yes, thank you. I believe you are fine too?"

"I'm doing good though I'll be having a meeting with city mayors in the next one hour,"

Nolan said as he checked his wrist watch,

"Oh! Nolan, please I have a request to make," Amy said,

*Sure, go ahead," Nolan sat upright showing her his willingness to listen to her,

* The kids wants to speak to their father. I actually told them he travelled to a far away country cause telling them that he has been enslaved will hurt them so much. Not been able to speak to their father is hurting them so I told them they can talk to him on phone." Amy said.

"Oht" Prince Nolan thought and said, "are you sure Broderick will want to speak to them?"

"To his kids? Of course yes. I'll just have to explain the situation of the matter to him,

"Amy said,

"Okay... You can just go to him and give him the phone to speak to the kids," Nolan said.

"Why don't you take him away from there, he might actually die as a result of too much exposure to sunlight and cold." Amy said.

"If you want me to take him away from there, I'll do that," Prince Nolan said and shouted "guards!"

A guard appeared before him at once, "take Broderick Alessandro to the the dungeon but keep the chains in his leg."

"Of course, my king," the guard responded. All the slaves in the kingdom do not always have the freedom to walk freely, they use to walk with chains to their two legs so they would never be able to run away

Once the guard walked out, Amy said to Nolan, "thank you so much."

"Anything for you, Amy. I just want to see you happy always," Nolan said.

"I was thinking if we could watch the movies together this afternoon at my cinema room?" Nolan requested.

"You have a cinema in the palace?" Amy was stunned.

*Sure, we have all sort of fun filled activities in the palace. That is why the palace is very large,” Nolan said.

“Okay, around what time and what type of movie?”

“Around 2PM. You can select any movie you wish to watch, I’m sure I’ll enjoy it too,” Nolan said.

“Okay... I’ll think of a movie before then,” Amy smiled. She added after a few seconds,” the children are waiting for updates as regarding speaking to their father, let me just go to the dungeon to meet Broderick.”

“Alright”

Amy then stood, after taking two steps to walk away, Nolan spoke,” Amy, you won’t change your mind about marrying me, right?”

Amy turned to him and said,” it’s a promise I made to you. I won’t go back on my words.”

Nolan felt relieved. He didn’t want Amy and Broderick to be meeting but he can’t stop Amy cause he doesn’t want her to feel restricted. As long as he and Amy marry, the feelings she has for Broderick will die a natural death, that was his believe.

Nolan smiled and watched her leave

Amy beckoned on one of the guards before the king’s chamber to take her to the dungeon that Broderick was

Amy was immediately led to the entrance of the dungeon, there were about twenty five guards before the dungeon all seated and drinking. They looked very scary and extraordinary burly

The guards already recognized Amy to be Nolan’s guest so they immediately stood in respect of her. The guard who led Amy there bowed to Amy and walked away

“I want to meet with Broderick,” Amy said to the dungeon guards.

“Sure, miss,” many of the guards responded. The thick gate was immediately opened and Amy walked in.

The dungeon was so scary as the walls of the dungeon were stones. The dungeon looked like a space between a mountain. There was no way air could penetrate inside the dungeon, hence, it was hot. There was no ceiling there, the ceiling there were just stones. Even if one is a superman, it will be impossible for them to break through this dungeon.

Amy saw Broderick sat on the floor, his two legs folded, his head lowered and his eyes closed as if he was meditating.

“Broderick!” Amy called and he fluttered his eyes opened. He raised his head up to her and asked,” what are you doing here?”

“I spoke to King Nolan to take you from the palace field and bring you here, I don’t even know which is worse cause the heat in here is like fire,” Amy said.

“I asked what you want?” Broderick asked with a blank face.

Amy sighed and sat before him,” the children wants to speak with you.” Amy observed Broderick and after seeing that he was only quiet, she added,” they want to speak with you on phone. I actually told them that you escaped North Hill and went to a far away country and that you can’t have enough time to speak with them. But they demanded to speak with you at least once just to be sure you are fine.”

“Call them,” Broderick said.

"There is only one phone available. I'll give you my phone and use another line to call you as soon as I get to the kid's room," Amy said.

"Okay," Broderick said and Amy handed over his phone to him.

Amy felt so bad for Broderick.

"You can go."

"Why are you chasing me away? Don't you want to see me at all?" Amy asked.

"You are getting married to Nolan in five days time. I think you should stay away from me and focus on the preparation of your marriage," Broderick said.

"There is nothing to prepare. Everything is being handled by Nolan. I just want you to know that I did not love Nolan. I'm only agreeing to marry him cause of the promise I made to him," Amy said.

"Goodluck to you," Broderick said. "This place is too hot. Please leave."

"You are concerned about me that has been here for only a couple of minutes? How about you that will be here for hours?" Amy asked.

"Don't act like you care about me now. Your wish to me has come through. I wonder what else you want from me," Broderick said.

"Broderick, I mean it when I say I love you. I really love you so much," Amy said with a pitiful face. She held his hand and kissed the back of his palm.

"Broderick!" She called lovingly but Broderick only looked at her in silence. "I will think of a way to get you out of here."

"I don't need your help."

"I have caused this and I must get you out of here," Amy said determinedly.

"And where will I go to after my escape? NorthHill is being ruled by my enemy, I will be arrested in sight," Broderick said.

"You don't have to go back to NorthHill. You can go to other countries to live," Amy suggested.

"I don't need your help still," Broderick said.

"Why? Is it because you have not forgiven me for being among the people that brought this on you?" Amy asked.

"I have left my freedom in the hands of fate. But if fate lets me escape here, countries will perish and numerous soul will be lost, I assure you," Broderick said.

Amy moved closer to him and kissed his lips then sat back.

Broderick smirked, "what are you trying to do? You kiss Nolan before me at my office a couple of weeks ago and now you are using the same lips to kiss me."

Amy didn't know what else to say to make Broderick forgive him.

"Have you eaten since you were brought here?" Amy asked.

"No."

"Taken water?"

"No. Go now or I will throw you out," Broderick hated how Amy was caring for him. He didn't want to believe she cared for him.

"Throw me out," Amy dared him.

Broderick stood and grabbed her hand then dragged her towards the exit of the dungeon and pushed her outside. "Lock the fucking gate!" He commanded and the guards locked the gate.

Tears streamed down Amy's face as she watched Broderick from outside of the dungeon. He looked empty and devastated.

Broderick pants heavily and laughed, "Nolan can marry you but can never have you." Broderick turned from her and faded into the dark.

Amy ran away with heavy tears falling off her face, she had to run into an empty room to cry out her pain,

Broderick sat in the far end of the dungeon that was covered in the dark and then turned on the phone, he knew Brett's number offhand so he simply dialed it and once Brett answered, Brett spoke, "Mrs. Amy, how can you be so unfair to be among the people that conspired against our country? Have you let your course of revenge on Broderick blinded you? I really hate you right now. Did you know how much Mr. Broderick is suffering in the hand of Prince Nolan? That's what you want, right? Gosh!

Anyways, what are you calling me for?"

"It's Broderick Alessandro" Broderick's voice sounded, Brett was shocked, "What! Mr. Broderick?"

"I need to get out of here, did you have any plan in place?" Broderick asked.

"Your company has ceased operating cause the new president ordered for it's operation to be suspended until further notice. I couldn't function as all the men under me are scared of our new president. We are under the military era now and not under democracy like before so everyone is being cautious." Brett said.

"I need to get out of here,"

"Sir..."

"Don't worry, I'll think of a way and reach you," Broderick said.

"Alright, sir. How were you able to call me? Were you given some sort of freedom cause last I heard, it was said that you were tied to the center pole at the palace field of East Hill,"

"I used Amy's phone secretly, bye for now," Broderick said and hung the call up.

He kept his mind still and shut, trying not to think about anything. The phone rang a couple of minutes later and he answered it.

"Hey dad," Debby's voice came through. Broderick was familiar to the kids so well that he can recognize them all by their voices

"Debby, my dear," Broderick said affectionately.

The other children called his name and he replied them all one after the other.

"Dad, we miss you so much," Queen said with a pathetic voice.

"Don't worry, I'll be back soon. I miss you all too," Broderick said.

"Dad, Amy said you would be coming after four months to us, must it take that long?" Elisha asked.

"I might come next month or before that," Broderick said and the children jubilated.

"Dad, please come quick, we miss you so much," Elljah said. Other children said similar words. Broderick felt so emotional and he didn't know when tears slipped down his eyes. He had missed his kids so much. He was fond of seeing them everyday but ever since he got arrested, he had not set his eyes on his beautiful kids.

"I'll see you soon," he said and after the children said 'bye' they hung the call up.

Broderick dropped the phone before him and clenched his fist. He feels a great pain in his heart cause he wasn't able to see his six kids. He felt very restricted and helpless.

"I will rise back to power! This time, no mortal will be able to bring me down," Broderick declared.

When it was 2PM, Amy was already in the cinema room of the palace with Prince

Nolan. In a jiffy, the movie commenced,

“Oh! This is even a comedy video, I’m sure we will enjoy it,” Prince Nolan said Merrily after he found out the genre of the movie. The two adults had popcorn in their hand, “Yes, it will be fun,” Amy smiled.

The movie began and during a funny scene, Prince Nolan laughed so hard but when he couldn’t hear any sound of laughter from Amy, he turned to her and saw that her face was just glued to the big screen that was displayinh the movie, she looked absent minded.

“Amy!” He called but got no response. “Amy!” He called and Amy came back to life. He had been lost in thought about the predicament of Broderick and was thinking of every possible way to make him escape.

“What’s wrong? You are absent minded,” Prince Nolan said.

Amy forced out a smile and said,” oh! Forgive me... Amy felt bad that she was about to ruin this fun time for Nolan. “I just had a lot on my mind.” ;

Nolan stood and went to pick the remote then paused the video and went to sit back beside her,” Amy, is it about Broderick?”

“Broderick? Of course not.” Amy responded. She will be marrying Nolan in five days time and it doesn’t make sense for her ‘husband to be’ to know that her mind was occupied with another man.

Nolan trust every single words of Amy as he believed her to be an honest woman. He heaved a sigh of relief, happy that the reason why she was absent minded wasn’t because of Broderick.

“So what is it? Just feel free to tell me and I’ll do something about it. I’m the king now and my power is unlimited. Just tell me what you want?” Nolan requested.

“It’s not really something physical. Don’t worry, I’ll be fine,” Amy placed her hand on his shoulder and looked inside his face affectionately then she rested her head on his chest.

Nolan was happier for her reaction, he cuddled her softly as he caressed her back then he kissed hair dark hair. “I love you so much, Amy.”

Amy hugged him even more but didn’t respond. It was hard to confess to someone you did not love that you love them. It was Broderick that she loved and she finds it easy to tell it to him.

“My king! My king!” A guard suddenly called loudly and repeatedly outside of the door of the cinema room.

Sensing the thr call was urgent, Nolan stood since Amy had already pulled back from the hug. Nolan and Amy walked towards the exit of the cinema room and when they opened the door, the guard said as he pants heavily, “Broderick escaped.”

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot CEO Chapter 123

Chapter 123 The god of War

“Search the entire kingdom for him,” Nolan commanded and the guard dissapeared from his sight immediately

Prince Nolan faced Amy and asked,” Amy, tell me the truth, did you make him escape?”

Amy furrowed her brow, "how is that possible? The dungeon has many soldiers as guards and it doesn't even have a window or a breakable ceiling that anyone can escape through. Why are you falsely accusing me? You haven't even spoken to the guards guarding the dungeon yet before you placed the accusation on me," Amy was disappointed.

Nolan could sense sincerity in her seriousness, "I'm so sorry, I'm just..." His voice trailed off and he looked away.

"Please go to your room, I need to find Broderick," Nolan said and Amy walked away.

Nolan immediately went to his palace central hall and sat on his throne, he had already summoned for the head of the guard guarding the dungeon that Broderick was kept.

Once the man arrived, Nolan shouted, "how did he escape?"

Before the man could start explaining, someone shouted "we found him."

Nolan stood and watched as Broderick was dragged roughly towards him. He was immediately made to kneel.

Nolan was relieved that he found Broderick, "you dared to escape, huh?" Nolan laughed, "to think you can escape EastHill is a joke. You will be my slave forever, Broderick." Nolan said and set his face keenly on him.

He suddenly commanded, "place a heavy shackle on him."

A minute after he had given that order, a shackle was immediately brought and hung on Broderick's neck. It was so heavy that Broderick doubt if he would be able to stand. It was as if an heavy weight was placed on him. One literally have to commit treason against the country before shackles can be placed on them.

The shackles is like a big chains whose weight is heavier than a stone.

"Henceforth, you will serve as my slave. You will be able to walk freely in the palace attending to me at my call," Nolan said.

Broderick lifted his head and smirked.

"What's funny?" Nolan questioned angrily.

"Aren't you amused I escaped your so called best guards?" Broderick asked.

Nolan laughed dryly, "that doesn't make you a superman." Nolan was curious about how he was able to defeat the twenty five guards at the dungeon.

Well, with the shackles around Broderick's neck, it will be impossible for him to escape. From that day henceforth, Broderick was made to forcefully serve Nolan. He was even made to wash his feet under an heavy force. He was tortured day and night and he barely have time to sleep.

It was finally the day that Nolan and Amy would be getting married,

The palace officials were present as well as many kings and presidents from different countries.

Commoners were not allowed to participate, other participants at the wedding were all members of the royal family and extended families.

Amy ensured that her kids were not here today. She was dressed in a wedding gown and seated beside Nolan in the the most beautiful hall in the kingdom popularly known as 'King and Queen's Hall!

"I'm so happy we are finally getting married," Nolan said.

"Same here," Amy smiled.

When the wedding program commenced, before the groom and bride will be called out, someone was brought out and made to kneel before everyone. Amy almost stood when she saw Broderick Alessandro. Her heartbeat increased and she looked at Nolan," why did you bring him here?"

Broderick was not wearing a cloth nor a trouser, he was dressed in only a short pant and he had chains tied to his legs, chains tied to his hands and scars all over his body. His face had lost his handsomeness as it was swollen on different part. It was hard to recognize Broderick.

"To show the world how powerful I have become," as soon as Nolan finished speaking, the priest called Nolan to step forward.

Nolan had precisely included it in the wedding programme for Broderick to be brought. He believed that what he is about to do will make other kingdoms and countries fear him.

As soon as he stood at the alter and collected the microphone, he spoke," welcome to my wedding ceremony ladies and gentlemen."

He smiled then looked at Broderick who was made to kneel on the floor," here is Broderick Alessandro. I believe everyone knows him?"

A lot of people replied with 'yes.'

"Well, he use to be the most powerful man in North Hill and he bully so many people who dared to confront him but he made a mistake the day he came against me. He even buried me alive at NorthHill." Prince Nolan said making a lot of people seated surprised.

"I told him that I will come for him but he didn't believe. Now see him now serving as my slave. What's more interesting is that he would be my slave forever," Nolan said and went before Broderick.

"My dog," he said to Broderick and giggled.

A lot of people also scoffed at Broderick Alessandro.

"Today is the day I will be getting married to Amy. The woman you have never valued. Your once upon a time mistress," Prince Nolan said. "Did you have anything to say?" He then placed the microphone on Broderick's mouth.

"My name is.,, Broderick Alessandro!" Broderick said gently into to the microphone. No one was expecting him to say such,

Nolan laughed" i'm not asking you of your name dummy, I'm asking you of..." Before Nolan could finish his statement, Amy ran to the alter and whispered to his ear," Nolan, I know you want to humiliate Broderick so bad at every chance you get but please don't ruin our wedding. Take him away."

Amy then smiled to the crowd and walked back to her seat graciously,

Nolan believed that ridiculing Broderick will make him and East Hill more adored and revered by every other kingdoms and countries.

"Well, since you have nothing to say then you must kiss my feet before I tell my guards to take you away," Prince Nolan said.

Amy was not pleased with Nolan for being so adamant to ridicule Broderick.

Nolan placed his feet before Broderick with a victorious smirk on his lips, "bow and kiss it, my dog."

Broderick raised his head up to the crowd and his face met with that of Amy, he shouted," Woman! Warn your husband to be careful."

Amy looked away from his stern face, Nolan slapped Broderick and shouted on him," how dare you speak to my woman that way? If you did not kiss my foot, then I will have you stone to death. Dare me!"

"I won't bow before any man," Broderick said and shouted in anger, "cause my name is Broderick Alessandro." He stood and gritted his teeth hard as he struggled to break the hard chains that was used to tie his hand to the back.

The chains broke after a few seconds and his hand got freed.

Everyone in the hall, "...".

The atmosphere fell into a deep silence, how can a mortal man break such an heavy chain?

Nolan couldn't believe his eyes, Broderick held the shackles that was locked on his neck and groaned in anger as he unlocked it and break it open with all his strength. Broderick at this moment looked like a wild beast in the forest. Everyone thought for a second that they were watching a movie cause they think that stuffs like this may only happen in the book or in movie.

"Is he a god?" A woman whispered to another woman beside her.

"Perhaps, a god of war," another responded.

Someone who heard what the woman said from the back said, "I heard that the god of war is such a powerful man from birth. Even at a young age, he will fight with the best soldiers and beat them."

"True, but rumours had it that the god of war went underworld cause his power was uncontrollable," an old man behind the second woman said.

"Could he be the god of war?" Someone listening to the gossip asked.

The women set their eyes on the old man waiting for his response, the old man observed Broderick and said, "there is only one god of war in the world.

"Is he the one?"

"Tell us, is he the one?"

Before the old man could respond to the women's question, Broderick shouted like thunder as he beat his chest, "I will destroy kingdoms and break powers. I will crumble principalities."

He held the chains that his leg was tied to and while trying to break it, Nolan came to his senses, "guards, arrest him."

Before the guards could run to where Broderick was, he had already broke the chain in his neck, His legs and hands were bleeding cause they tore while he was trying to break the chains forcefully from his body.

With only a small pant by his waist, and scars all over his body, with blood dripping from his neck. his hand and legs, he looked like a beast. Even the guards were scared of their life.

Everyone in the room sat still, as if scared to stand.

"I say arrest him," Nolan shouted to the guards. Eventhough the guards in the hall were up to fifty, they were scared to come closer to him.

Who would not be scared to come closer to a man who broke an unbreakable chain, it's like breaking a mountain.

The old man in the crowd ran outside and immediately knelt before Broderick, "god of war! god of war! You are the god of war!"

Immediately, an uproar and rumors spread immediately like wild fire amidst those seated. Some people who want to record history immediately brought out their phones and start recording the old man that was kneeling before Broderick.

"Who are you?" Broderick asked with a face covered with scars and anger.

"I was there at your birth, I was there when you were seven days old and I was there when you clocked five years old. I left North Hill as a result of an agreement between your father and I," the old man said.

1T

11

"I want to get out of here, can you help me?" Broderick asked.

"My honour!" The old man stood and said to Nolan, you must let Broderick return back to North Hill."

"Never, that is not happening." Nolan said back.

About five men walked out of the stage, they were kings of other kingdoms, they pointed to Nolan angrily and one of them spoke, "how dare you speak to Sir Wesley? Watch your tongue or we will destroy your kingdom."

"I guess his father didn't tell him about me." Sir Wesley said to the king's and faces Nolan back, "Let Broderick go now or your kingdom alone will be fighting with ten other kingdoms," the old man said.

An elder from East Hill walked out quickly and whispered to Nolan, explaining to him how powerful the old man was and that he was not someone he could afford to offend. The elder advised him to yield to his request.

Nolan became scared of the old man. How powerful could he be to have ten kingdoms under him? He can't afford to go into a war with ten kingdoms, that would mean a destruction of East Hill,

"This is not fair," Nolan said.

"Say another word again and watch us storm your kingdom and turn it into ashes, one of the kings behind the old man said. They hated how Nolan was speaking to Sir Wesley with gut.

The East Hill elder quickly bowed to the old man and said please take Broderick away."

The old man then gestured to Broderick, "You are free to go back to your kingdom."

"With my children. I want my children" Broderick said,

*Provide his children wrimediately. The old man commanded and the East Hill elder immediately sent for the kids to be brought

Broderick wouldn't like his kids to be see him this way so he ordered, " send them to North Hill, to my wife, Martha, I will meet with them there."

"Got it," The old man said and looked at the East Hill elder without saying a word but his facial expression speaks a volume. '

The East Hill elder immediately ordered for the kids to be taken back to North Hill.

Broderick then glanced at everyone in the crowd and his face eventually fell on Amy. He smirked and turned away, then began to walk out while the five kings and old man followed him.

The wedding was no longer a thing as everyone started dispersing.

When Broderick got to the seashore, he said to the old man, "thank you."

"I was the god of war many years ago but you are the present god of war. My time is over," the man said with a smile.

The five kings behind the old man bowed to Broderick on hearing that he is the new god of war.

"Broderick wished he remembered his memory, he would have got to know all the mystery about him.

"Did you want to dress and change before going to North Hill?" Sir Wesley asked.

"No. I want to appear at North Hill like this so everyone can see how I was tortured." Broderick said.

"I will declare you now as the god of war as soon as you leave, by default; you already have ten Kingdoms under you," he said.

"Is EastHill among?" Broderick asked.

"No, they are an independent country," Sir Wesley responded.

"We'll see again, Broderick Alessandro," Sir Wesley patted his shoulder and walked away. The five kings bowed once more and walked away.

With only a short pant on him, he stepped inside the ship and was taken back to NorthHill.

When he stepped on the seashore of North Hill. He knelt and got from the sand of NorthHill.

"NorthHill, my dear country. Your own has betrayed you and sold you out to foreigners, Don't worry, I'll fight for your freedom. All those who sold you out to foreigners and make your citizens live in fear will pay 1, Broderick Alessandro has spoken!" Broderick poured the sand he got on his head and then stood upright

A car parked before him and Brett stepped down, he immediately ran towards Broderick and hugged him, he didn't care about how bloody and ugly he looked. He disengaged from the hug and said, "I knew you would be out. I was helpless but I know you can't be helpless."

Broderick smiled, "I will reward you for your loyalty."

"Come in quick, let's get you cleaned up and dressed up." Brett immediately went to open the door and Broderick stepped inside Brett was so happy for the freedom of Broderick majitty, Brett pulled over the car at one of Broderick's house. It was the same house that Broderick had taken Amy too where they almost had sex in the pool many months ago Broderick went inside the bathroom, brushed his teeth and bathed with warm water. He had not even bathed since his arrest. He dried himself up in a towel, combed and got dressed in his suit. Suit is his favorite dress,

He then stepped out but needful to say, his body still ached him.

"Sir, come here please," Brett said to him and he walked over to meet Brett at the dinning table and he sat.

Brett had prepared his favorite food, he immediately began to eat while Brett just sat on one of the chairs in the dinning, pressing his phone.

"Are my children around?"

"Yes, they are with Martha."

"Brett, when will you have a girlfriend though?" Broderick teased and Brett laughed shyly. "Last time at Amy's office, you were defending Joan, are you sure it's not what I'm thinking?"

"Sir!" Brett was shy and looked away, smiling sheepishly.

He immediately changed the topic, "how about Amy?"

"I'm here," the door opened and Amy stepped in.
"The ordersity to appear in my house," Broderick flinged the table over making the remains of the food and every other thing on the table pour away.

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot CEO Chapter 124

Chapter 124 A Bodyguard?

Broderick stood and walked towards her while Brett followed behind.

"Sir, I'll take my leave," Brett said and walked out as if he didn't see Amy.

"Feel like killing me? Go ahead. I committed an act of treason and also betrayed you, I deserve death, right? You can do whatever you want with me," Amy said, looking into his face gently.

"I can do whatever I want with you?" Broderick asked.

"Yes," she responded. "I deserve whatever punishment you decide to inflict on me."

"Come with me," Broderick's anger had reduced, he didn't know why but he won't let her go unpunished anyways.

Amy followed him to one of the bedrooms in the house and then he commanded her to remove her clothes and lay.

"Sex?" Amy wondered if he wanted to punish her by having sex with her. But was sex a punishment?

Amy unclothed herself and was left with only a pant and bra then she laid on the bed.
Broderick

a couple of minutes later with a rope, he used the rope to tie her two hands that he had made to be above her head then tie her two legs to different side poles of bed.

Broderick placed his hand on her pant and massaged it gently while Amy simply looked into his face without saying a word. Coming into his house was daring him, but what's more, she was ready to accept whatever punishment he would inflict on her.

Broderick slide his finger inside her pant and caressed her bare vagina, Amy let out a moan and slowly, he dipped his finger right inside of her vagina.

She tightened her fist as she felt a wave of pleasure surge through her body, Broderick pushed his finger in deep that she almost felt choked, he pulled out slowly then began to fuck her with his fingers while Amy kept moaning out loud.

He paused all of a sudden, looking into her face that was filled with embarrassment, she set her eyes on him as if asking why he stopped.

Broderick doubled his fingers and slide both in, she felt pain but the pleasure she felt afterwards covered up for the pain. He continue to fuck her while she kept screaming and enjoying every bit of it. The pleasure increased high and higher until her body lost control, she squirted mercilessly. Only then did Broderick removed his hand.

Any breathed heavily repeatedly like someone that had just ran a hundred meter race.

Broderick walked to the bathroom and wash his hand then came back and stood before the bed.

Amy nad calmed and her breath was now steady but she was still tied, "are you going to release me?"

"Who says I'm done with you?" Broderick asked and Amy went quiet. She wondered what next he planned on doing to her.

Broderick dragged a chair that was in the room closer to the bed and sat on it, the chair was now directly before the bed that Amy laid, his death the punishment given to people who commit treason?"

* You committed an act of treason, do you agree with me that you deserve death?" Broderick asked.

"If there is a punishment worse than death, they deserve it. Permit me to kill you," Broderick said.

Amy had never heard of such request in her life. How can someone asked for her permission to kill her.

"I'm tied and helpless, you can just kill me without my permission. After all, you are the god of war, who dare to question you?" Amy asked.

Broderick crossed his legs and said, "I suffered so much in East Hill. I was born with a silver spoon and have enjoyed comfort all my life. I never knew a time will come when I will be treated like a dog," Broderick said as he imagined how he was grossly humiliated by Nolan at East Hill.

"But in all this period, you showed your concern. You look like you regret selling me off to my enemies," Broderick said but Amy didn't know what to say.

"I'll give you three punishment. The first punishment is that you will not be able to step out of here for one month."

"Huh?"

"You heard me. You may call it imprisonment or kidnapping, I don't care. You will be under this roof for another one month and you are not permitted to even take a step outside or... I'll kill you," Broderick said. His voice was stern. "I was chained like a dog shackles was placed 3, shackles was placed on my neck like a criminal with the worst offence and what's worse, I was not given food and water for seven days. Did you really think I will spare all my enemies? No, not a single one of them will go free. Starting from you," Broderick said.

"Will I be tied this way for another one month?" Amy asked.

Broderick stood and walked up to her then loosened the rope that tied both of her legs and hands.

Amy winced in pain as she sat upright, "I won't run away."

"You can try to and watch what my anger will cause on you," Broderick said.

"What are the other two punishment?" Amy asked.

"After serving this punishment, I'll tell you the remaining two." Broderick said.

"So after I have served the three punishment, you will forgive me, right?" Amy asked.

Broderick hesitated before responding, "If you survived it which I doubt, I can forgive you."

Amy then nodded and stood.

* I want to know my limitations in this house, are there some rooms that I can not enter?" Amy asked.

* Follow me." Broderick took her outside of the room and when they got to the corridor before the cooms upstairs, Broderick leaned on the small wall that guards people from falling upstairs. The house was a four bedroom duplex. Three bedrooms were upstairs ensuited with their own bathroom and toilet while the kitchen, dining room, home office and one another large room, also called the master room was downstairs From where Broderick and Amy stood, they could see the large living room “you are free to enter any room. The house is lenced, so you can even go out of the house and play around the compound but the day you slep out of the tence is the day you die.” Amy sighed’ can you stop threatening me with death? I already told you I will do all you have said.”

“So I’ll be living alone here? Will you be coming at all for this one month?” Amy asked.

“Of course. But as you know, I have a wife and kids to take care of, I can’t come here often but in order not to let you die of loneliness and in order to ensure that you don’t get out of that gate cause I don’t trust you, I will get you a bodyguard.”

“A bodyguard?”

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot CEO Chapter 125

Chapter 125 Broderick Alessandro’s Sport Car Just Drove Over

“Yes, a bodyguard. He would be the one to cook for you if you don’t want to cook. He will ensure you don’t step out of the gate and keep you protected Incase the enemies wants to hurt you,” Broderick said.

“He? A man! Are you sure you will be comfortable with a man staying with me here?” Amy asked.

“A bodyguard would not cross his boundary. Or let me say, the bodyguard I will provide will be a loyalist,” Broderick said.

“Well.” Amy sighed.

“You can help yourself with food, everything is available in the kitchen. I have to go home to meet my kids now,” Broderick said.

“Can I make a request?” Amy asked.

“Go on.”

“Can you bring the kids here once in a while? Remember I’m still in the process of making them recover their memory?” Amy asked.

“No.” Broderick turned and walked away.

“When is the bodyguard coming?” Amy shouted but Broderick didn’t respond. He soon faded out of the main door.

Amy sighed and looked around the house.

Immediately Broderick left EastHill and seeing that her kids had left too, she immediately took off without letting Nolan knows. There was no point staying in EastHill anymore since her kids were not there plus Nolan may want to convince her to stay back if she tells him that she wanted to go back to North Hill.

Amy went back inside and showered then changed into a shirt and trouser. The only clothes available there were that of men but she didn’t mind.

Amy then went to the kitchen and began to make herself a meal. EastHill to NorthHill was a six hours journey and she hadn’t eaten since her ship left the seashore of EastHill.

When the food was done, she turned off the gas and served the food into a dish. She didn’t want to think about how her experience will be here for the next one month.

As soon as she was done serving her food, a knock sounded on the door. She took the plate of food to the dining and placed it on the dining table then she walked towards the door.

She wondered if Broderick came back for something but then, why would he knock? She twisted the knob of the door and saw a tall man standing before her, he was dressed in a blue Khaki and a blue trouser with a white and blue beret that made him look like a special security man.

"My name is Wayne I'm the special security guard assigned by Broderick Alessandro to ensure your safety, Wayne said and bowed,

Amy sensed that this person standing before her was familiar. She couldn't place it precisely but it seems as if she knew when this person is

"Have we met before? Amy asked

"No, ma," Wayne said politely.

"You look familiar though," Amy said.

"Oh!"

"Might be a coincidence, don't worry. My name is Amy, nice meeting you, Wayne," Amy said.

"Thank you so much, miss Amy," Wayne said.

"I hope you don't mind that I will be sleeping in one of the rooms in the house?" He asked.

"Not at all, there are many rooms here, but I suggest you have the master room here as yours. That way, you can be downstairs while I'm upstairs," Amy said.

"That's so kind of you, ma. Thank you so much," he bowed slightly.

Amy then took Wayne to the master room and said to him, "feel free, okay?"

"Sure, miss." He said gratefully.

Amy walked back to the dining to continue eating her food.

Wayne dropped the box in her hand and looked around the room, he wondered how he would live here as a guard for one month? Well...man must do anything for love, he thought to himself.

Wayne sat and crossed his legs, he mumbled, 'Amy, I do hope my new strategy to win your heart wins.' he mumbled and stood to stand before the mirror.

He almost laughed on seeing how he looked like at the mirror, he touched the mask on his face that made him look like a different person and chuckled.

His phone rang and he took it off from his pocket, seeing that the caller ID was Lord Douglas, he answered the call, "hey Master."

"Is it going as planned?"

*Well, she almost suspect my identity, but she later thought of it as coincidence. Brett had been deceived already, I hope that when Broderick get to see me, he would be deceived to think I'm a different person too," Michael said.

"Broderick is not god and he doesn't know all so he can't know it's you. Even if he suspects, give him a reason not to doubt you," Lord Douglas said.

"Okay master"

One more thing, don't hesitate to give me a call Incase there is any trouble, I'll be more than ready to provide our soldiers for you." Lord Douglas said,

"Don't worry father, I'm here to win Amy's heart not to fight with Broderick, Wayne said and then Lord Douglas hung the call up

Whereas, Prince Nolan had also come to NorthHi, he had come to take over the position of the president of the country as he had already sent his twin brother to rule at East Hill on his behalf. All in all, they were very identical people can hardly tell any difference between them.

Nolan, as the new president of Northhatt sat in the presidential lounge, resting on the sofa that was before a large blue swimming pool, he had a document in his hand. He was reviewing all the previous works of his brother,

Needful to say that the leadership was a military type of leadership where basic freedoms are freedom of speech or freedom to protest unlike the democracy era. In every military regime, every freedom of human right is always suspended and sole decisions as regarding matters of the country are always made by the military president, technically known as the Major General of the country. He doesn't even need to conduct the Senate before he can pass a law.

As a matter of fact, law doesn't exist in the military regime, only decrees and orders are. Someone walked in and saluted him then said, "Major General Nolan, we have tracked the location of miss Amy and have found it."

Nolan threw the document in his hand away and stood, he asked, "where is it? Infact, take me there."

"Won't that alert the public? Also, as the president, you can't just go to places for the sake of security," the person speaking was chief bodyguard to the president, his name Dave.

"But I need to go there now," Nolan said. He knew he has to listen to the advise of his chief bodyguard lest he put his life in danger.

"I know and we can work that out. You need to leave secretly without alerting anyone in the Presidential house," Dave suggested.

"Okay, let's do that," Nolan said. He couldn't wait to see Amy and ask her why she suddenly left him at East Hill. Didn't Amy know that his life can't be complete without her? He had fallen deeply in love with Amy and she is the only person in this world that he wants to spend the rest of his life with.

"Please follow me, sir," Dave said and lead Nolan through some passages. They passed a secrete backdoor that didn't have the CCTV camera and in a jiffy, there were inside an average looking car that was not too expensive nor too cheap.

Dave then began to drive and after a couple of minutes, he packed two houses away from the house that Amy was.

"The house she is, is the house painted in full white color over there," Dave pointed.

"Got it, that third house, right?"

"Yes, sir

When Nolan was about to step down, Dave said to him, "one more thing, sir."

Speak

"That house is one of Broderick Alessandro's house, please be careful."

Nolan was scared at this moment to step out of the car, what if Broderick was inside?

He may just Slaughter him alive

As it Dave knows what Nolan was thinking, he said, Broderick isn't in here, we confirmed that he is in his main house with his wife and kids if at all he drives over, I'll see it from here and alert you immediately

Nolan left (elevated and stepped down. He walked to the house and stepped inside the gate of Amy's house. When he got before the maidooi he pressed the doorbell and he was glad when he heard footsteps approaching him.

But a call came through to his phone at this period, seeing that the caller ID was Dave, his heart skipped in fear and he quickly answered it.

"Broderick Alessandro's car just drove over."

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot CEO Chapter 126

Chapter 126 She jumped off The Bed!

Nolan's heart almost pop out through his throat, his hand shook fearfully that the phone almost fall off his hand,

"Oh! It's not Broderick Alessandro," he said, "the sport car I saw just now was like that of Broderick Alessandro."

Nolan heaved a sigh of relief and hung the call up, it was at this time that the door opened. He was stunned to see a strange man standing before him.

"Hey," Nolan greeted. He expected that this man standing before him would recognize him as the president of the country. After all, everyone in North Hill had already seen the pictures of the president.

*Hi," Wayne greeted, pretending not to recognize Nolan.

"Don't you have an idea who I am?" Nolan asked.

"Not at all, I'm Wayne, the bodyguard to miss. Amy, can I ask what you want here?" Wayne asked.

"Well..." Nolan wondered if he should reveal himself as the president to him but considering the fact that there was no tight security in place, he thought it wise not to reveal his real identity. "Inform Amy that Nolan wants to see her."

"I need to know why you want to see her," Wayne questioned.

"Excuse me? Who are you? Just an ordinary bodyguard yet to you tried to question me. Go now and inform Amy of my presence," Nolan said.

"Okay, hold on," Wayne turned and smirked. Nolan was his friend but he couldn't even recognize him to be Michael cause of the skin mask on his face. Michael went to the small table beside the television and placed an internal phone call across to Amy. Once Amy answered it, he told her, "a man with the name Nolan is at the entrance of the door, did you know him, ma?"

*I'll be with you soon," Amy said, walked out of her room and soon appeared before Michael at the living room

"Where is he?" Amy asked.

*He's before the door," Michael responded.

Amy wondered if she should meet with Nolan or not. Meeting with Nolan in Broderick's house is too risky, what if Broderick meets him here? Broderick would definitely murder him.

Amy shook her head and said, "tell him this is Broderick's house and that it's too risky for us to meet here. Tell him to call me when he gets home*

"Ainght ma Michael said and walked out to meet with Nolan.

*Can i come in now? Nolan asked as if he was so sure that Amy would let him in NO 156 Amy said I should tell you that this is Mr Broderick's Alessandro's house and that it's too reby to meet with her tele, Michael Said

Broderick

60

g hele anytime soon, tell her to please see me." Nolan said, he was not ready to * Si advise you leave You can call her when you get home, Michael said

Nolan placed a call across to Amy and she answered it. Amy was now seated in the living room.

"Amy, please show up at least. I have missed you so much," Nolan said.

"No please. I'm currently under Broderick's punishment, I don't want it to get any worse," Amy said.

"Broderick's punishment? Broderick dared to punish you? Did you realize that I'm now the major general of North Hill? I have exchanged position with my identical twin brother, he has gone to rule East Hill. I don't care if Broderick is the god of war, I can save you from him. I'm the major General of North Hill, who dare to comfront me?" he boasted.

"Nolan, we can meet next month somewhere else, for now, please understand, I can't meet with you," Amy said.

"Amy, you are hurting me. You now how much I love you, right? I love you so much and I always wish to meet with you. Just let me see you at least?" Nolan almost cried. He was truly hurt. How can Amy be inside, yet he wouldn't show up to at least see him. Amy sighed, it wasn't her intention to hurt him but she has to make some tough decisions.

"Please Amy, show up," Nolan pleaded earnestly. He was sl desperate to see her.

"Actually, I was the one who let Broderick punish me, I went to him myself and subject myself to him," Amy said.

Nolan was stunned, how could Amy do such," just show up before me, please."

"No."

Nolan didn't know what else to say, his heart hurts badly. He looked angrily at Michael that was before him and poured his frustration on him, "get the fuck out of my sight!" His voice was loud and stern.

Michael smirked," I advise you find someone else to love."

Nolan was angry that he raised his hand to slap him but before his hand could land on his cheek, Michael held it and smirked," I'm a bodyguard, remember?"

Nolan withdrew his hand angrily and said, "I'll deal with you." He then walked out angrily.

When he got inside his car, Dave turned his head to him and ask, "how was it, sir?"

"She didn't come out to see me. She's inside but she wouldn't come out," Nolan said, feeling a sharp pain in his heart. "I wonder if she loves me at all."

Dave sighed, "Can I drive, sir?"

"Fucking no!" Nolan shouted. How could he leave this place without seeing Amy? "I need to think of another way to see her."

"Did she refuse to open the door for you or what?" Dave asked.

“Broderick provided a bodyguard for her and talking of the bodyguard, he’s rude and I want to deal with him,” Nolan said,
“I can take care of the bodyguard if he’s the reason why you can’t meet with Amy.” Dave said and Nolan looked at him as if he just found hope.
“Do it!” He commanded and Dave stepped down at once. Dave was an undercover agent for NorthAMI
Government for thirteen years, he’s so skilled in fighting and killing. He’s very Dangerous and those who truly know him fear him. In fact, to focus on the career that fate had chosen for him, he castrated himself. Such a weird and harmful man.
Dave entered through the gate and soon appeared before the main door of the duplex, he knocked on the door and it opened in no time, then Michael appeared.
“How can I help you, sir?” Michael asked politely.
“Are you the bodyguard to miss Amy?” Dave asked.
“That’s right,” As soon as Michael answered, Dave drew him closer and knocked him out. He did it in less than a second then he went back to the car that Nolan was.
“I took him out, you can go inside now,” Dave said making Nolan smile.
Nolan then walked inside the house and when he was approaching the door, he saw Michael on the floor, he was unconscious but he didn’t look harmed in any way.
“You deserve it,” Nolan said and twisted the knob of the door then walked in.
He surveyed the silent living room but didn’t see anyone. He wanted to surprise Amy with his visit. He went to the kitchen but didn’t see anyone then he went to the master room.
He walked upstairs and started checking each room then when he opened the third room out of the four rooms upstairs, he saw Amy on the bed, she was laying and her eyes were closed but she couldn’t tell if she was sleeping.
“Amy!” He called and Amy immediately fluttered her eyes opened. She was just trying to take a nap. When she saw a man in the room, she jumped off the bed first of all and after examining the man, she realized that it was Nolan.

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot CEO Chapter 127

Chapter 127 Can’t wait to F*ck Her Hard!

Her heart skipped fearfully as she wondered how Nolan got here.
“Nolan, what are you doing here? How did you enter my room?” Amy frowned.
However, Nolan was so happy to see her. His face was bright. He answered gently, “I can’t go home without seeing you. I won’t be able to sleep or eat.”
“But you should understand me when I tried to explain to you. This is Broderick’s house, he won’t take it easy if he finds you here, you know this?”
“Amy, stop being worried. I’m the major general of NorthHill and I’m heavily guarded. Nothing is going to happen to me.” He said.
Amy sat down, she was so restless about his presence. ‘where in the world is that bodyguard? How could he allow Nolan inside her room? What if Nolan was someone that wants to kill her?’
She must definitely report to Broderick about how nonchalant this guard is.

"Erm... Amy, can I sit?"

"You can." Amy answered bluntly.

Nolan sat and said, "Amy, I know things didn't work out as we planned in EastHill but you are still holding onto your promise, right?"

"What promise?"

"That you will marry me of course?"

"I don't think fate has designed the both of us together otherwise, we won't have problem when we are about to have our wedding. If you had not brought Broderick over to the stage to glorify yourself and humiliate him, did you think our wedding would have been cancelled? But you were the one who caused this." Amy said.

"I admit. I was just burning heavily for revenge. That guy literally kept me under the soil for hours, how can I forgive him?" Nolan asked.

Amy sighed and looked away.

"Why did you subject yourself to Broderick's punishment? I'm willing to help you if you let me," he said.

"No, I don't need you help. I actually want the forgiveness of the father of my children. Did you know I committed an act of treason against my country, I literally sold out my country to a foreigner and I deserve to be punished." Amy said.

*You regard me as a foreigner?" Nolan asked,

"arent you one? You aren't a citizen of North Hill, neither is your brother. The blood of NorthHill isn't funning through you. You are a citizen of EastHill yet you are our president today and I'm one of the seasons why it's so Amy said,

*You dont have to feel guilty Amy Nolan said and tried to place her hand on Amy's shoulder but Amy took her hand off

*Don't touch me, please

*Dont you love me anymore? Nolan asked

Who says I love you before? Have I ever said so? Because I agreed to marry you doesn't mean I love you," she said.

Her words hurt Nolan to the gut, he almost stopped breathing. He looked away for many seconds then turned back to Amy, " why are you hurting me?"

"Cause you don't want to understand me. We can't see for another one month , try and understand that. You can call me and we can video call all day but we can't see, why can't you just understand?" Amy asked, sighed in frustration and stood *I'm sorry I insisted on seeing you, I'll leave," Nolan said with a painful heart, he mumbled sadly, " I love you, Amy." He then walked out.

Amy wondered why so many people fall in love with the her. Was she that beautiful? She regretted the fact that she hurt Nolan with her words, Nolan was a good man who doesn't deserve to be hurt, she didn't intend to hurt him but then, it's important she let him know that she didn't love him. It's the truth, she liked him naturally because he's hot and handsome plus he is a good man, but that doesn't mean she love him.

Amy slumped to her bed and gritted her teeth, "argh!!!!" She shouted out in frustration. Then her mind trailed back to the nonchalant bodyguard. She wanted to see him and rebuke him for being so careless to allow someone enter her room.

She stepped outside and shouted his name, " Wayne! Wayne!"

However, she got no response. She searched everywhere in the house but got no response still.

'Did Wayne went out without informing her?' She thought to herself as she walked out to see if he could be outside.

When she appeared outside, she was stunned to see him lay lifeless on the floor.

"Wayne !" She shouted and ran to him, "Wayne!" She shook his shoulder and her eyes flutter opened.

Michael who is also Wayne of course, winced in pain as he felt a heavy pain in his head and shoulder. Those were the parts of his body that Dave hit.

"What happened to you?"

"Someone hit me and knocked me out," Michael immediately stood and said, "miss, are you fine?"

"Sure. Who is that person that knocked you out, is it Nolan?" She asked.

"No, it's a strange man. I have never seen him before," Michael said, "I'm not so weak, but the man Caught me unaware Amy guessed that the person who knocked Michael out could be someone sent by Nolan. Maybe that was why Nolan had the free will to come over to her room.

She placed a call across to Nolan immediately and accused him directly, "you were the one that sent someone to take down my bodyguard, right?"

"Yes"

You are so pathetic Goshe" Anny hung the call up and said to Michael, I'm so sorry."

"No, miss, I should be the one apologizing for not being proactive. Were you hurt in any way?"

"Not at all."

"I promise not to let this happen again." He said and bowed slightly.

"Will you be able to treat yourself?" Amy asked.

"Sure," Michael answered, "please come inside, ma."

Michael then lead Amy inside after which he walked to his room. 'I wonder how I will win her heart when there are two other Powerful men trying to win her love?' Michael thought.

He may just end up on the losing side if he didn't act fast. Michael then decided to force himself on Amy. If he can have sex with Amy and release his seed in her, Amy would carry his baby and may because of that, want to be with him. It seems that's the only way out.

Michael then began to think of how to work out this idea that had settled in his mind.

When it was late at night, Michael went to Amy's room and knocked gently.

"Who is it?" Amy asked.

"Wayne, ma. I want to ask if you have taken dinner?" Michael raised his voice so that Amy can hear.

There was silence for a few seconds then the door opened, "hey Wayne, don't bother about me, I'll know how to take care of myself, okay? Just ensure that you are doing your work as a bodyguard."

"Got it, ma," Wayne said and turned but before Amy could close the door, he began to cough.

Amy attended to him immediately and asked caringly, "Wayne, are you fine?"

Wayne bent and coughed more making Amy also arch her back in concern, Amy felt a sharp pain in her leg all of a sudden and she lost all consciousness at once.

Before she could fall, Michael carried her and began to take her downstairs, he opened the door to the master room that he occupies and placed Amy down gently on his bed. "I am not so gentle like Nolan nor considerate like Broderick. My name is Michael Alessandro, I take whatever I want by force and take anyone who is an obstacle in accomplishing my goal out." He said and laid on Amy, his dick had charged up so hard. He caressed her cheek and pulled back, but his knees were still separated on the sides of her waist. He immediately began to remove his shirt. He was so horny and can't wait to fuck her hard.

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot CEO Chapter 128

Chapter 128 Wasn't He A Loyalist or Broderick?

After being shirtless, he salivated on her body but he felt guilty on the inside of him. This is rape. Sex without consent is rape. If Amy finds out he took advantage of her, she would probably hate him for life.

Is this the best way to win her heart? He thought then unbuckled his belt and took off his trouser leaving him with his short pant, "there seems to be no other way to win you over than this, Amy."

His dick had become very hard and when he was about to lay on her, a sound of the doorbell could be suddenly heard.

"Must it be at this time?" He thought to himself angrily and immediately wore his trouser and shirt then walked out to the master room. When he got before the door, he peeped and saw Martha.

Martha? What was she doing here? Michael thought it was too dangerous to have Amy in his room plus Amy musn't wake and find herself in his room.

"Hold on," he said and ran back to the master room, he carried Amy and togk her back to her room then laid her down gently.

"Fuck!" He grumbled, as he walked back to the main door, he hoped that Martha would get done with what she wanted to do here quick and leave.

He opened the door and saw Martha frowning, "aren't you Amy's bodyguard?" Martha didn't recognize Michael cause of the mask on his face.

"Yes, miss." Michael replied politely.

"What in the world took you so long to respond?" Martha asked angrily and turned, "come babies."

Michael was stunned to see Amy's six kids appear, he pretended not to know the kids and asked, "can I ask if you and the kids want to meet with miss Amy?" Michael asked gently.

"Get out of the door, I'm Broderick Alessandro's wife," she pushed him aside rudely and walked inside while the kids followed behind.

The kids had been anticipating to see Amy. The children had been requesting to meet with Amy ever since Broderick got home. He could not understand what connection the children had with Amy. He had expected that after the kids arrived at North Hill, they would want to spend more time with Martha but it's obvious that they didn't even miss her during their stay at EastHill.

"Which room is Amy?" Martha asked Michael.

"The third room upstairs, ma," Michael responded and added, "but she's asleep."

"Oh, Amy has slept off already," Moses mumbled. The kids had decided to come this night to play with Amy cause they won't have chance the following day as they were going to school.

"Please sit, I'll find a way of informing her of your presence," Martha said to the kids and faced Michael who was still standing by the door, "where is her room?"

"She won't like it if she gets disturbed from her sleep, ma," Michael said.

"I ask where the fuck is her room," she shouted,

Michael sighed and pointed to a room. Michael was already tired of all the humiliation he was going through here How dare Martha shout at her? If only Martha knows that the person she thought was a berguard vas birn, Martha then walked to Amy's room. She planted a knock on the door, not like she was expecting a response, she just wanted to confirm that Amy was asleep. She twisted the knob of the door and walked inside.

She saw Amy sleeping tight. "Bitch, you made Broderick keep you in his eyes after selling him out." She felt like hurting Amy severely but because of the kids in the living room, she couldn't dare to.

She then tapped her on her legs multiple times, Amy fluttered her eyes opened and sat upright. Her mind trailed back to what happened to her a few minutes ago, Wayne was coughing and she tried to attend to him then she suddenly felt a sharp pain and that was it.

She looked around of the room and when she cimfirmed that she was in her room, she wondered what Martha was doing here.

She stood upright cause she can't really trust what Martha is up to, "what did you want?"

"Broderick told me to bring your kids over to spend the night with you, I'll be taking them back around 5AM tomorrow morning," Martha said.

"You finally agreed the children are mine, huh?"

"Dummy, the kids were never mine but no one will believe you. Is the room beside yours empty, I'm tired and need to rest," Martha said.

"Where are my kids?" Amy asked, she was so happy that she would be seeing her children. She had thought that she would not be able to see her children for another one month. She was so happy that Broderick changed his mind about her, meeting her kids.

"They are at the living room," Martha responded. "Did you say the room beside yours is empty?"

Before Amy could respond, the door pushed open and the kids appeared.

Amy wanted to smile on seeing the kids but her smile retreated when she saw the panic on the children's face, "the big uncle has taken Debby away."

Amy furrowed her brow in shock, it was now that she realized that the kids that appeared are five and not six

"What big uncle?" Amy asked in shock.

"Is it the man that I asked where Amy's room is from?" Martha asked Moses.

"Yes. He suddenly grabbed Debby few minutes after you left us with him at the living room, covered her mouth and ran away with her," Moses said sadly.

Amy ran outside like a mad woman, actually, she didn't even know what she was doing at the moment. She sped so far outside of the house and when she appeared in the compound of the house, she ran around in panic, hoping to find Wayne. Not seeing him, her heart clutched in pain. Could he had taken Debby away? Wasn't he a loyalist of Broderick?

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot CEO Chapter 129

Chapter 129 I Can Feel Your Pain

Eventhough Broderick had told her not to step out of the vicinity of the house but this was a very serious case, she stepped out of the gate and searched around with all her might but still couldn't find Wayne.

She didn't want to believe that he kidnapped Debby away. She had to be optimistic. Wayne to her doesn't look like someone that could hurt a fly. She ran back inside the house and picked up her phone, she called Broderick immediately but he didn't answer until the call came to an end.

This time, her hands were shivering that she could barely press the button on the phone, she managed to dial his number again and he only picked it when the call was almost coming to an end.

"What is it?" Broderick asked sternly.

"Debby has been taken away by Wayne, did you know about this?"

"What are you talking about?" Broderick thought he didn't understand what she meant.

"I meant that Debby is not with me at the moment, only the five kids are. Moses told me they saw Wayne cover Debby's mouth and ran out with her."

Broderick felt dead for a second. His body became numb and he stood from the office chair that he was at once. He hung the call up without saying any more word to Amy, he placed a call across to Brett and he answered immediately.

"Wayne seems to have kidnapped my daughter away. Didn't you confirm is loyalty to us?" Broderick asked.

"Of ourse he's loyal, his family will pay for such act. I have the full details of all our guards with me, I'll get to work now," Brett said and Broderick hung the call up.

Broderick couldn't sit again. He couldn't continue the work he had been seriously trying to complete on his computer. He was so restless.

He kept pacing to and fro the room, hoping to get a positive news from Brett.

About ten minutes later, the sound of the doorbell rang and Broderick walked up to the door and opened it, seeing Brett, he asked, "what are you doing here?"

"The real Wayne had been paralyzed ever since we gave him the job, the person who has been a bodyguard to Amy was totally different person, sir," Brett said.

Broderick's heart sunk immediately to a bottomless abyss, "my enemies at it again."

Broderick's heart began to beat abnormally.

"Can you find him?" Brodrick asked.

"It's impossible to trace him since he is putting on a different identity," Brett said.

Broderick didn't know whether to cry or die.

"Drive me to the house I kept Amy," Brodrick said and soon got inside the car with Brett. Brett drove as fast as he could to Broderick's second house where Amy was.

Once Brett parked the car, they both stepped down and walked inside. Martha immediately ran to Broderick as soon she saw him cried hard, "my daughter has been taken away... Please help find him, I'm going to die if I don't see her...please!" Martha cried earnestly.

Amy was shocked at her act cause Martha had not shed a single tear ever since they got the news of Debby's disappearance.

Broderick saw that Amy was seated on the floor in the living room, sobbing so hard. The kids were around her "Take her away." Broderick commanded, referring to Martha.

"Please, let me take you home, ma," Brett said to Martha and she walked out of the living room with him sadly. She knew Broderick was in a very bad mood at this moment so she dared not to protest but only kept pleading, please find my baby Linda." The new name she gave Debby was Linda.

Broderick couldn't look at Martha's face, he just felt sorry for her. After Brett and Amy had disappeared from the room, Queen and Angel ran to Broderick and hugged his waist, crying.

"Dad, has Linda been kidnapped?" Queen asked. These were the only thought that filled the children's heart.

"Yes, but I'll find her," Broderick said.

Amy had already guessed that Debby was kidnapped but she had not been so sure but now that Broderick confirmed it, her heart ripped apart and she cried out loud.

The boys that were around their mother petted her tenderly, they as a matter of fact were very sad but they didn't have tears on their face like the girls.

Actually, there was a time when Elijah wanted to break down and cry but when she saw the tearless face of his brothers, he retracted the tears and only bore the heavy pain in his heart.

Moses cleaned the tears on Amy's face while Elisha placed his hand on her shoulder, it was a sad moment for the family of eight.

Broderick held the two girls in their hands then went to sit, he made the two girls sit on his sides, the little ones laid and placed their heads on his lap, sobbing quietly.

Broderick knew there was no point telling anyone to stop crying. It's normal to cry during a trying time such as this.

"I'll find him," Broderick said after a few seconds of silence.

"I thought you said the bodyguard was a loyalist?" Amy asked.

"I thought so. He actually impersonated the real person that was to be your bodyguard," Broderick said.

"So how do we find her? I can't imagine what state Debby would be now?" Amy said, as far as she's concern, she would always refer to Debby as Debby and not as Linda. The pain she felt at this moment was as though she lost all of her kids. It was an unbearable and painful moment.

"I'll find her, I just need everyone to trust me," Broderick said and everywhere went quiet again.

After a few seconds, Broderick took the kids to the master room, there were two beds there, the king sized one and the medium sized one. He asked for the two boys to sleep on the small bed while he gestured for the three girls to lay on the king sized bed.

“Please trust me, I’ll bring Debby’s back,” Broderick said this but couldn’t afford to look at the face of any of them

He then walked out and stood a distance away from Amy who was still seated on the floor, her back was resting on the foot of the chair He felt pathetic for her and wondered why she felt extremely devastated this way because Debby was lost were the kids really for her?

The pain in her eyes was too glaring compared to the pain in Martha’s face Although Martha was crying, he couldn’t discern the kind of pain he discerned on Amy’s face on that of Martha

He went to her and squatted beside her, Amy had paused crying cause she was now having a heavy headache as a result of too much sobs.

He placed his hand around her shoulder and tapped her left shoulder slowly, he pulled her closer to himself and then whispered softly.” I dont know why you feel so much pain cause one of my kids is missing but I can feel your pain.”

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot CEO Chapter 130

Chapter 130 Michael Is My Brother

After a few moments of silence, he stood upright and helped her to sit on the chair, “your eyes are already swollen.” Broderick bent before her and caressed her face, “I’ll find my daughter.”

“I can’t live without her,” Amy said and bursted into tears again,

Broderick carried her from the chair like a baby and began to walk outside with her. Amy didn’t struggle at all, she just rested her ass on his big arm and her chest resting on him. When Broderick got beside the house, before some flowers, he placed her down gently and Amy looked around wondering why he had brought her here.

He held her two hands and stared into her face as they were both now standing before eachother. “Debby has been taken away, it’s a sad reality but I just need you to believe strongly in me that I can bring her back. Nolan thought he could enslave me forever but I proved him wrong. I always win every battle and this wouldn’t be any difference. As the most powerful man in NorthHill, I expect that I will have many enemies which is why I have a lot of guards in place but the enemies outsmarted me this time.” Broderick’s voice was like dew on Amy’s hurting heart.

“Can you really find her?”

“I will,” Broderick assured determinedly.

Amy remembered when Broderick had promised her that he would bring Moses back home alive at a time when he was poisoned by the enemies. If he can even save Moses from death, how much less kidnapping?

“I trust you,” Amy said and shut her eyes.

“I know it’s been tough on you, just know for sure that a day will come when our lives will be peaceful like a calm sea. All we would experience is peace in all times. Until then, I hope you can keep fighting,” Broderick said.

“I’ll try,” Amy’s heart was so heavy, she didn’t know when she slumped to his chest. She immediately wanted to withdraw from his chest but he guarded her with his arms, not letting her escape.

“Remain in my arms, my woman,” Broderick said and Amy just sobbed quietly on his chest and after five minutes of being in his arms, she felt a little relieved. Truth is, it will be impossible for her to be totally fine without seeing Amy but Broderick had assured her that a day will come when her life will be as peaceful as a calm sea. In those times, Amy believed that there won't be enemies in place and she would probably be living her life with the one whom she truly love and her kids.

Amy's phone then rang, Broderick freed her and when Amy stood upright, she brought out her phone and saw that the caller ID was Michael.

“Michael is the one calling, can I pick it?” Amy looked at Broderick's face, clearly and innocently asking for permission.

“Yes, go ahead,” Broderick's voice was calm.

Amy nodded and answered it, she intentionally placed the call on loud speaker.

“Amy, Martha informed me that Linda...oh sorry, Debby, is lost. I have immediately got to work and I've found out where Debby is,” Michael said.

Amy looked at Broderick as if asking what she should say. She was actually so shocked that Michael already found out where Debby was. It sounds really suspicious.

Broderick collected the phone from Amy and said, “Michael, did you kidnap my daughter?”

Michael was not expecting Broderick's voice, he quickly defended himself, “is that how to appreciate me for working so hard to find your kid? Why would I kidnap your kid? For what?”

“We would soon find out,” Broderick said and added, “where is my daughter?”

“The person who kidnapped her took her out of the country already,” Michael responded,

“What country is she taken to?” Broderick asked calmly.

“WestHill, just so I remind you since you lost your memory, the king of West Hill is a Devil, infact, people call him Lucifer cause he's a blood thirsty heartless man. He even placed an embargo on his citizens for the past ten years for them not to travel out of the country neither do they allow any foreigner into their country, I advise you shouldn't try to go there.” Michael said.

“So how did this kidnapper went there with my kid?”

“He's a citizen of East Hill,” Michael responded.

“Do you mean to say that it's impossible for me to see my kid again since WestHill doesn't accept foreigners into their land?” Broderick asked.

“Kind of but I have a way out, I can speak to Lucifer on your behalf,” Michael said.

Lucifer was the nickname of the king of WestHill.

Broderick smirked, “what relationship subsist between you and a king that has never travelled out of his country?”

“I made friend with him in my quest for power. Trust me, I can help you. Infact, I'm the only one who can help you get your kid back,”

“So what did you want in return?” Broderick asked.

“Nothing. Just give me the permission to search for your kids and I'll begin the search immediately.” Michael said.

“Go ahead.”

"I'll be needing your help and that of your soldiers, I can't go alone. I will be going with the Alessandro's soldiers while you also come with me," Michael said.

"I thought you said the king of EastHill your friend? Why then did you need a guard to meet with him?" Broderick asked meticulously.

"Common Broderick! This king is called Lucifer for a reason. Just because the king of a kingdom is friend with the king of another kingdom doesn't mean he should go to greet the king of another kingdom without guards. We need to have a plan B in place. Just in case they decide to attack, we can fight back."

"So you want us to go together to WestHill to save my daughter?" Broderick asked.

"Yes."

"What time tomorrow?" Broderick asked.

"Let's leave by 7PM. I would have got all the Alessandro's clan soldiers ready, you should do the same. If possible, contact the underworld and request for them to follow you. You know...just to play safe," Michael said.

"I'll be with my soldiers before the Alessandro's mansion tomorrow by 6:30PM)"

Broderick said.

"Good, bye," Michael said and hung the call up.

Broderick handed over Amy's phone back to her. Amy heard all of the conversation between Broderick and Michael since the call was on loud speaker.

"I know we are desperate to find Debby but I have a bad feeling about this going to EastHill with Michael. What if he's lying? Michael is a murderer, he literally murdered Callan. "Can we really trust that kind of person?"

"Michael is my brother, don't worry about it," Broderick said but Amy was very worried. She just have an ill feeling about it.