Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot Ceo Chapter 251

A few minutes after Amy got to work, Joan informed her through an internal telephone about a stranger's presence, when she asked whom this stranger was, Joan told her that his name was Ray.

Amy wondered how Ray even knew her company talkless of coming. He then told Joan to let Ray into his office.

A few seconds after she has dropped the phone, she saw Ray walked in.

"Good morning, Amy," he greeted politely while was standing.

"Good morning, Ray. Please sit."

Ray sat gently and said, "I know you are at work and I didn't mean to disturb you. However, I have looked into your company's works over here and from the look of things, I realized that there hasn't been a notable increase of revenue for your company in the past one month."

"That's true but I think it's because I've not been fully focused here. Then there was a time we had a problem where two of our most skillful staff were sick so it really affected us," she said.

"Apart from that, the sales has reduced cause I checked the graph during my research, do you know about other reasons why the sales could have reduced?" Ray asked.

"No, those are the only reasons I could figure out."

"Because there is another site now competing with you. Have you heard about 'Nolan.com'?"

"What did you say?"

"Nolan.com is the name of the new website that does the exact same thing your platform does, and they have been growing so fast lately, so most of your customers are moving to Nolan.com and if something is not done quick, Meedaq.com might be left with little or no customers," he said and added, "cause truthfully speaking, they made their website in a more advanced way than Meedaq.com, from the theme to the interface to the fast loading prowess and the cheap cost of buying or selling on the platform."

Amy immediately picked up her phone and searched for the website, after surveying the website for about two minutes, she confirmed that everything that Ray said was true.

What's more disturbing about the competitive website is the name, Nolan.com. Did Nolan create the company to challenge here?

"Did they have a physical company?" She asked.

"I don't think they have one here at NorthHill. I am not sure if they have one in other countries cause their address wasn't exposed on their website," Ray explained.

Amy finally understood why the sales of the company had been reducing lately. Turns out what she thought was the reason wasn't actually the reason behind it.

"Did you know whom the CEO of the company is?" Amy asked.

"Not at all, since no one knows where their company is, anyone who want to contact them can only contact their customer service," Ray replied.

Amy's heart began to rumble all of a sudden and she stood, " / need to use the toilet."

"Sure," Ray watched as Amy walked to the toilet.

It was during this period that Broderick's text came through to Amy's phone. It was Ray who replied him with 'busy...' It was Ray who left his call answered, it was also Ray who replied him with, "Told you I'm busy, man."

And finally, it was Ray who texted him back that "lol, if only you know that I'm already fucking your personal assistant."

Ray deleted these messages from Amy's phone and placed her phone down gently as it had been. When Amy came back, she sighed. She didn't know maybe her stomach began to rumble cause of the news about the competing website.

After she had sat, she said to Ray, " what do you advise then?"

"That you also challenge them by reducing the cost and increasing the value of your website. Businesses has always been in a competition."

"Alright, I'll discuss with my team this afternoon," she said and Ray nodded.

"I called you these morning but you didn't answer, I guess you may be busy preparing for work. Did you see my text?"

“Sure, I did but too busy to reply.”

“Alright, if I have any other updates about the competing company, I’ll let you know,” just as Ray finished saying this, he received a message from his secret personal assistant and it states that Broderick is on his way to Amy’s office.

Ray stood and said, “I should you leave now.”

“Alright.”

“Can you give me a hug before I leave? Just a hug,” he smiled.

Amy smiled, the fact that he was more concerned about the growth of her business makes her thinks that he deserves her hus so she stood and walked towards him.

As soon as she hugged him, Broderick entered and saw the both of them.

“Amy!” Broderick called and Amy pulled her body away immediately from Ray’s hug.

Broderick looked at Ray who quickly bowed and walked away.

Broderick felt a sharp pain in his heart seeing Amy and Ray this way. So Amy was not blabbing when he texted her that he was having sex with his personal assistant?

“Falling in love is a curse,”Broderick laughed. He didn’t need a witch to tell him that he has fallen in love with Amy but ever since he does, his heart has been getting hurt again and again.

“Broderick!”

Broderick looked away painfully and shook his head pitifully, he wondered if there is a way he can stop being in love with Amy.

When he received the text from Amy that she was fucking his PA, he though she didn’t mean it but he came and saw them hugging. What was Ray even doing here this morning at her office?

Broderick was dissapointed in her. His mind raced back to his late wife who seemed and looked very honest in all their three years of marriage with him, who would have known that she was cheating on him secretly. He used to think that all women are like his late wife but after getting to know Amy, he began to believe that Amy deserved a chance. Afterall, he had hurt her so much in the past.

He had no idea that giving her a chance will cause him more damage than good

“Is that why you are asking for more time before you can get married to me?” He asked and added, “you don’t love me anymore, right? It’s Ray you love.”

“I love you, Broderick.”

“Shut the fuck off,” he shouted on her angrily that she jerked back. His loud voice almost break the wall of the office.

“You!” He gritted his teeth in anger. He then walked out. Firing Ray is not an option. Infact, he would never fire him. Cause this is not about Ray, this is about Amy. A woman should be able to get rid of a man she doesn’t love. Even if the man is persistent in wanting her, she should let him know that her ‘no’ is ‘no’ and not entertain him again and again until something unexpected happens between the both of them.

If he fires Ray and employs another male personal assistant, what is the probability that this man would not get interested in Amy again? So, as far as he was concerned, Amy was at fault.

But did Amy really had sex with Ray? How can she claim to love him yet have sex with someone else? He thought as he approached his car.

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot Ceo Chapter 252

Ray met with Broderick in the office a couple of hours later and they even worked together, but Broderick didn’t react coldly to him at all. It was if he didn’t see him hugging Amy at Amy’s office.

Sincerely, Ray was surprised about how Broderick maturedly handled the situation, some other bossess would have fired their subordinate for that.

When Ray arrived at his quaters, he stood before his mirror and mumbled, “everything is going as planned.” He had a subtle smirk on his lips.

When he guessed that Amy would have arrived home from work, he walked out of his quaters and began to walk towards Amy’s quaters.

“Where are you heading to?” A voice suddenly sounded behind him.

He turned and saw Broderick, “Sir!” He was shocked that he suddenly appeared behind him without him even suspecting.

He composed himself and answered truthfully, "to Amy's quarters."

"I see..." Broderick also had a clear guess he was going to Amy's quarters.

"Don't you want me to go, sir?" Ray asked.

"Why not?" Broderick shrugged, "but in all you do, avoid my children."

"Sure, sir," Ray bowed and began to walk away.

Broderick trailed behind him carefully and watched as Ray got before the house. Broderick expected that after how he angrily left Amy's office this evening, she should still be remorseful and not let Ray inside the quarters.

After Amy heard a couple of knocks on the door, she walked to the door and on opening it, she saw Ray.

"Hi!" She greeted.

"Hi Amy, hope work isn't too stressful today?" Ray asked.

"Not at all, thank you. Why are you here?" Her voice was a bit off.

"Oh! I was heading over to one of the senator's quarters in order to deliver an assignment. But I can't help but check on you. You look a bit off, Amy, are you fine?"

"I'm cool, thank you." Her response remained blunt.

"Seems you did not want to see me, I guess I'll take my leave then," he said.

"Ray!" She called and then Ray looked at her.

"I am not in a good mood at the moment, I hope you understand?"

Ray nodded with a smile, "if you need someone to talk to, please don't hesitate to call me. You should go inside and rest."

"Alright, thank you."

"Why do I feel like you need a warm hug to feel better?" Nolan asked.

Amy smiled, "thank you, I'm fine. You should head quick to where you are going."

"How about a peck?" He asked and Amy smiled even more, before she could respond, he pecked her cheek and said, "that should make you feel warm." He then left with a smile.

Amy was shocked at how he pecked her swiftly, but thinking that it was just a peck and nothing more, she shrugged like it really meant nothing and walked inside.

After going back to the dining table where the kids were, she was surprised that they had all stopped eating, "why did you all stop eating?"

"We can't eat without you, mum," Queen said.

"When I heard a knock on the door, I thought it would be dad," Elijah said.

"Even me," Elisha added. The kids had missed their dad so much and it was obvious.

"Don't worry, he will come. Now let's eat," Amy said.

Broderick walked in and saw that the kids were eating, so he remained where he was until they were done eating. He then appeared before them, once the kids saw him, they ran towards him merrily and hugged him dearly.

The sight was so beautiful that a refreshing smile appeared and remained on Amy's lips.

Broderick spent time with the kids and only advised them to go to sleep when it was night. Even at that late hour of the night when their eyes had become heavy and was full of sleep, they were not willing to leave him.

Both the father and the children had a fun filled time. It's been long that Broderick had laughed but he laughed for real while playing with the kids.

Amy appeared and persuaded the children to sleep as they needed to wake up early the following morning for school.

After she had ensured that the children lay in their rooms, she walked out of the kid's room to meet Broderick and said, "I can see that you had fun with the kids?"

"I did." He answered and slowly, his face grew cold.

Amy sat beside him and after a few seconds of silence, she said, "Broderick, I'm sorry for..."

"I watched Ray kiss you a couple of minutes ago, what are you sorry for?"

"That was just a peck," she said.

Broderick smirked, "really?"

"Broderick, Don't be overly jealous. Just because Ray came over here and pecked me doesn't mean there is something going on between us," she said.

"So basically, I can peck anyone I wish to, right?"

"Why not? Maybe when we are about to get married, we can talk about what we want and what we did not want but for now, you are only my children's father while I'm only your children's mother, nothing more!" Amy said.

Broderick almost spilled out blood. Really? If this was the relationship that had subsisted between them, why has she always wished for him to divorce Martha and had always told him consistently that she loved him.

Now that he fell in love with her, she was now acting as if she had never had feeling for him. As if her wish isn't for the both of them to end up together.

"You are tempting me," Broderick said.

"I don't understand what you mean," she said.

Broderick was referring to how tempted he was by his secretary sexy body figure, he was battling with lust on the inside and this woman that he loves wasn't even helping matters.

"Did you really have sex with Ray or you were just babbling?"

"Sex? Who told you I had sex with him?" Amy asked angrily and stood, "Broderick! What the fuck is wrong with you? Why did you keep up bringing assumptions. You are taking everything too seriously. You know what? Just leave," Amy folded her arms angrily.

Broderick felt like a sharp needle pierced his heart, "you want me to leave?"

"Cause you kept on making what is not a big deal a big deal," she screamed.

Broderick stood slowly and said angrily, "so sex with another man isn't a big deal."

"What nonsense are you talking about?" Amy was furious. So just because Broderick saw her hugging Ray, he already assumed they had sex?

"If you won't leave then I'll walk away," Amy then walked out angrily from the building.

"She walked out on me?" Broderick thought incredibly.

Broderick gnashed his teeth in anger, he then went inside the kid's ward to check on them, seeing that they were sound asleep, he walked out of the building.

He thought she was going to see Amy hanging around outside the building but he didn't see her. Where could she have gone to?

A silly idea about Amy going to Ray's place popped up on his head but he waved it off, why would she go to his place this night? He was about walking back to his quarters when he decided to check Ray's quarters just to confirm if Amy was there.

On getting there, he saw that Ray's door was locked. Implying that Ray wasn't even at home.

About turning to leave, he saw two people approaching him, when they got closer to him, he identified the two people to be Amy and Ray.

"Wow!" He exclaimed and said to her, "so you walked out from me to come to him?" He then walked away.

When he was about entering his quarters to drown himself in his sadness, a call came through to his phone and seeing that it was a call from his secretary, he answered it.

"Sir, you have some visitors, sir. Will you be able to meet them this night cause they want to meet with you this night," his secretary said.

"Who are they?" He asked.

"The king of EastHill and his entourage," she answered.

Lucifer? What could Lucifer be doing here at this hour of the night?

"I'll be there," he said to his secretary and turned.

In a jiffy, he was inside his office. His secretary appeared and said, "Good evening, sir. I'm sorry I disturbed your sleep."

Broderick's manhood charged hard on seeing her, he almost stood to demand for sex but he cautioned himself, "not a problem. Let them in."

“Alright, sir,” the secretary said and walked out of his office. Broderick couldn’t stop looking at her round shape big ass as she walked away

He drank from the warm water before him and sighed. A few minutes later, the door opened and Lucifer walked in. He had braided his hair like that of a woman and he was dressed in a white long robe.

Broderick smirked at his outlook and said, “Lucifer, why the sudden visit?”

“I heard about the battle you are fighting with Egypt and it’s Allies.”

Broderick interrupted, “I don’t need your help on that, I’ll handle it myself.”

“I’m not here to offer you my help.” He said and walked closer to his table, “I’m here to advise you to give EastHill back to Nolan. After all, you already took over your country from him.”

“Whose side exactly are you? That of Nolan or me?” Broderick was angry. Who was this man to think he can tell him what to do and what not to do.

“Don’t get angry, yet. I have someone to show you,” he said and turned to the door then clapped.

| The door opened and a woman adorned beautifully like a king appeared.

Broderick stood in shock, “Martha!”

Martha smirked, “even I thought it was over for me but God gave me a second chance.”

Broderick looked at Lucifer as if asking how he was able to heal her.

Lucifer smirked, “did you know sir Wesley is Nolan’s biological father?”

Broderick became even more confused.

Lucifer continued, “King Travis wasn’t his biological father, but both King Travis, Nolan and his twin brother, Amold weren’t aware of this. Sir Wesley claimed Nolan as his son a couple of months after king’s Travis death. The DNA test result actually proved that sir Wesley was actually Nolan’s father. Sir Wesley explained that it was him that Nolan’s mother love and wish to marry but Nolan’s mother family sold her to king Travis. But before she could become a queen, she was already pregnant for Sir Wesley.”

“You should be able to reason with me that Sir Wesley won’t choose you over his son. Sir Wesley wants Brett, your personal assistant to step down as the king of EastHill so Nolan can take his rightful position. And if you are not selfish, you should allow that to happen,” Lucifer explained.

The revelation was too much for Broderick to handle. He meditated on all that Lucifer said and spoke," but Sir Wesley fought with me against Egypt and its allies."

"Yes, that's only because he has a personal grudge against the prime minister of Egypt but he won't be able to fight with you anymore." Lucifer said.

Broderick loved Sir Wesley cause he had helped him severally in the past and even in the battle so he called him and once he answered the call, he said," Lucifer came now and was telling me that..."

"All he says is truth plus, I was the one who shot you when you were almost entering the plane that will take you back from EastHill to North Hill," Sir Wesley said.

"What!"

"Immediately command Brett to step down from his position as that position belongs to my son. Otherwise, I will also join the allies of Egypt to fight against you," Sir Wesley said.

"Infact, the king of WestHill, Lucifer will join in the course and fight against you. You alone can't defeat all of us, you know this?" Sir Wesley asked.

Broderick didn't respond, instead, he hung the call up.

"Nolan took me over to his country, tied me publicly and beat me day and night. He took me to the dungeon and let me suffer. Nolan also tried to take the mother of my children away from me. He even once took over my country, he deserved death." Broderick said.

Lucifer laughed," Broderick, I installed you as the president but I can also let you fall off this position easily. I'll ask you for the last time, will you let Brett step down?"

"If EastHill, WestHill and Egypt alongside their allies decides to fight me, I'll be ready for them," Broderick said and Lucifer laughed.

"What if your personal assistant and your soldiers also join us in the fight against you?" Lucifer asked.

| "What are you talking about?"

Lucifer clapped and Ray walked in, Ray removed the facial skin mask on his face and Broderick almost fall off his foot. So Ray is Nolan?

Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot Ceo Chapter 254

“So you have been Nolan all along?” Broderick asked in shock. It was impossible for him to hide how surprised he was. As smart as he was, he didn’t suspect at all that Ray was Nolan.

Nolan smirked, “why did you think I’m after Amy?”

“Broderick, did you still want to be stubborn or should we show you what we can do?” Lucifer asked.

“What can you do?” Broderick asked.

“Okay, don’t blame us for being ruthless,” Lucifer said and placed a call across and said to the phone, “subdue all their soldiers.” Immediately sounds of gun shots filled the air.

While that was going on, Lucifer said, “my soldiers and the soldiers of the countries that are in alliance with mine had strategically hijacked all the barracks and stations in every states and their capitals in North Hill. And even now, we are subduing the securities around the presidential house and you will soon be left with nothing.”

Broderick remained fearless, even if he was going to die today, he wouldn’t bulge.

Broderick sat back and wanted to call Brett but Lucifer snatched the phone from him. Broderick was furious and then stood to challenge him but about twenty guards walked in and pointed the guns at him.

“It’s over, Broderick,” Lucifer said.

Logically speaking, Broderick knew that it would be impossible for him alone to fight Egypt and all the countries associated with it, to fight WestHill and all the countries associated with it and to fight Sir Wesley and all the kingdoms under him. But still, he remained fearless.

“We are heading over to East Hill now to take over, if you want Brett to keep living, tell him to run away before we get there otherwise, we would be forced to kill him.” Lucifer said.

“Don’t worry, we won’t take North Hill away from you. You would still be the president of North Hill but under one condition.”

“Whom did you think you are to put me on condition?” Once Broderick said this, the head of a gun landed on his cheek hard that he groaned in pain. It was done by one of the soldiers pointing the gun at him.

“Broderick, don’t you get it? You don’t have power anymore. We are the one ruling the world right now. All the soldiers of NorthHill will be scattered across our ally countries and the soldiers that will be here in North Hill would be selected soldiers from our ally countries. That way, we would have control over the security system over here.”

“So I would just be a figurehead. Leading without power?” Broderick asked.

“Exactly. Just a president ruling without power. It’s not like you are totally powerless though, it’s just that your power is limited,” Lucifer said.

“I can’t wait to take over my country and rule it with my woman,” Nolan said and smirked.

“Your woman?” Broderick repeated, hoping Nolan wasn’t referring to Amy as his woman

“Baby,” Nolan called and Amy appeared. She leaned on Nolan and even kissed him briefly on his lips.

Broderick felt like everyone betrayed him. If the woman he loves the most even join his enemies, then he had truly lost power.

“So Broderick, the condition at which you must remain a president is that you must marry Martha. If you can’t do that, then you would have to step down as a president.” Lucifer said.

“I would rather step down,” Broderick said.

“Actually, if you step down, we believe that you will become a rebel cause it’s only when you are a president that we can monitor you closely. Hence, we would lock you up in the darkest and deepest dungeon if you step down.” Lucifer threatened with all sense of seriousness.

Broderick knew at this point that wisdom is profitable to direct, this was not the time to usurp his power. If Lucifer threatens that he would lock him up in the dungeon then he would.

If he would fight all his enemies who seems too much, he needs to use wisdom.

“I’ll marry her,” Broderick said.

“Good. If she ever complains to us that you maltreat her, then we would strike you hard.” Lucifer threatened but Broderick didn’t say a word. Lucifer dropped Broderick’s phone on the table and said, "I'll advise you call Brett to flee for his life." He then said to his men, let's leave to East Hill."

As the soldiers, Lucifer, Nolan and Amy left, Broderick called, "Amy, are you really leaving me?"

Amy turned, rolled her eyes against him and walked away with Nolan,

Broderick felt empty, although he will continue to remain as the president here, he had already lost North Hill again to his enemy.

He shouldn't have agreed when Lucifer wanted to install him as president.

People who suddenly decide to help you without any reasonable reasons always end up stabbing one again unexpected.

Broderick rested on the backrest of the chair and as he thought painfully about how Amy reacted to him and how she chose Nolan over him, his heart broke.

Martha was the only one left in the office with him.

"Broderick, I know this is a tough time for you but..."

"Quiet." He commanded. "You are one of my enemies."

Martha sat and said to him, "Broderick, remember you can't be hash on me, Lucifer must not hear about it."

"So you are threatening me to be good to you so you won't report to Lucifer, right?" Broderick laughed at himself. He feel powerless.

He had never been a situation where he would be choiceless.

"Leave my office," Broderick commanded.

"I don't know anywhere around here, please take me over to where I'm to be staying," she said.

Broderick called his secretary over and told her to lead Martha to a quarter

"Broderick, you will come and visit me often, right? Remember we must marry." She said.

"Take her away," Broderick said to the secretary and soon, the secretary and Martha left.

He should have actually killed Martha. Like bury her in the deepest grave. So Martha is back to his life? Even if Amy wasn't in view, Martha can never be an option. Never!

Broderick walked out and ran to Amy's quarters to check on his children. When he got there, he saw his children sleeping sound.

He sighed. As long as his children are not taken away, he would be fine and know how to fight back.

So Amy actually left six children behind and followed Ray or Nolan... whatever his name is to East Hill, really? What sort of woman has she grown to become? Thought she use to care so much about her kids?

Whereas, Amy was stunned to wake up in a strange bedroom, she sat upright and wondered how she got here. The woman that had disguised as Amy to Broderick at his office wasn't Amy at all. Amy was drugged by Nolan and then brought over to EastHill without her knowledge.

She stood and walked towards the window, she looked through the transparent glass and realized that the environment was kind of familiar.

A knock landed on her door all of a sudden and she spoke, "come in."

The door opened and a stranger walked in, the stranger immediately closed the door and removed the mask on his face.

"Brett!"

"Hi Amy," Brett immediately said.

"Where is this place?" Amy asked.

"EastHill." Brett explained everything that happened in Broderick's office to her expect the part where 'the woman disguised in Amy' acted in support of Nolan.

"So Nolan is Ray? How come I didn't suspect?" She asked.

"And then you have to disguise as one of the soldiers of EastHill?"

“Yes, Broderick told me I need to stay around here to keep an eye on their moves. Though it’s risky but I’m willing to do anything for Broderick.” Brett said.

Amy sat, “I still don’t know how I get here.”

“You don’t? Didn’t you kiss Nolan at Broderick’s office and willingly supported Nolan and Lucifer?”

“I don’t know what you are talking about. Kiss who?” She asked, her face held so much confusion.

“Broderick told me that you acted against him and joined forces against his enemy. He said you kissed Nolan before him and when he even called you at a time when you were walking out with Nolan, you rolled your eyes against him. I had come here to ask why you acted that way, it’s so unusual of you,” Brett said.

“I?” Amy asked. “I didn’t do anything of such. The last thing! remembered was that Ray and I had a drink outside of his house only for me to wake and find myself here.”

Brett was stupefied at what she said, “so you had no idea about following Ray to Broderick’s office?”

“Not at all, I just woke and find myself here.”

Brett then understood that Nolan and Lucifer must have set this up.

“Okay, just stay calm, okay? I’ll find a way of communicating to Broderick,” Brett said and another knock landed on the door.

Brett was scared cause as a soldier, he shouldn’t be inside this room.

He put on his mask and whispered to Amy, “tell whoever appears that you sent for me, okay?”

Amy nodded and then spoke, “come in.”

The door opened and Nolan appeared, “Amy!”

“Explain how I get here for me?” She demanded.

Nolan then sighted a random soldier, “the fuck are you doing in my woman’s room?”

Brett immediately kneel and spoke respectfully, “My Lord, I was walking by when she called for me.”

Nolan walked to him and kicked him hard in the stomach," and you had the gut to enter my woman's room."

"My Lord, I have sinned, I deserve death," Brett bowed expecting another kick

"Stop punishing an innocent guard, I called him over, he has done nothing wrong. Let him go," Amy said to Nolan

"Scram!" He shouted on Brett and he stood and ran away quickly.

Nolan's face then melted from the stern one into a calm and gentle one," my woman, don't be angry, some soldiers can be annoying."

"I ask how I get here?"

"I'm Ray."

Of course, Brett had already told Amy this, nonetheless, she had to act like she was shocked," what! So you were Nolan all along."

"I have to do everything possible to get close to you," Nolan said.

"You still haven't answered my question. How did I get here? The last thing I remembered was that I was having a drink with you."

Nolan fell to his knees before her and said," I know that if I tell you to follow me to EastHill, you won't agree so I had to drug you."

"What! So this place is EastHill and I guess you are the king now?"

"I am. I have taken over what rightfully belongs to me. I want to rule my kingdom now with you, please Amy. You know I do this out of love not out of wickedness," Nolan pleaded.

"But I don't love you. Liking you naturally doesn't mean I have fallen in love with you. This is wrong. Bringing someone over to another country without their knowledge is wrong," Amy rebuked.

"Which is why I'm on my knees, please forgive me. Appreciate my love and I'm sure you will fall in love with me," Nolan said. "You know what it means when a king kneels?"

Amy gritted her teeth and said," how about my kids?"

"They are at NorthHill with Broderick. You don't have to worry about them as Broderick will take a good care of them. He's still the president of NorthHill."

"My children are my life, how can you separate me from them?" Amy asked. "Please just stand and stop acting pathetic. How does kneeling down solves the problem of separating me from my kids?"

"Amy!" Nolan called.

"Stop fucking calling me, please! Stop. Take me back to North Hill or let me go on my own," she demanded.

"I can give you everything in this world except to take you back to North Hill. Please Amy," he pleaded, "Agree to be my woman and we would have kids together."

"You are such a wicked man! I should have been very careful around you," Amy began to cry. Although Nolan was on his knees, she knows that he was obsessed about her and the last thing he would allow was let her out of his sight.

"Just get out," Amy said, her mind trailed back quickly to her beautiful kids. The relationship between her and Broderick had not even been stable lately, they have been having a misunderstanding upon misunderstandings yet this bastard set a woman who looked like her up to act like she was in support of him.

Nolan stood and said, "I have appointed a maid that will take care of your needs for you, she will be here soon." Nolan then stood and walked out like someone who feels guilty for what he had done.
