Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot Ceo Chapter 261

When Broderick arrived at his quarters, he heard the sound of an adult from inside. He had brought his kids to come and live with him in his quarters. He wasn't expecting an adult with them.

He quickly walked inside and saw Martha sitting comfortably with the kids at his living room. Once the kids saw their dad, they all rang to hug him.

"Hey Broderick, you are welcome," Martha greeted him with a smile.

Broderick snubbed her and lead the kids inside their room with the promise that he was going to come and play with them at night.

He then walked back to the living room and asked," what gave you the ordersity to come my room?"

"Broderick! I only came to play with the kids."

"The same kids that you heartlessly wiped off their memory? Do you intend on damaging them even more?" He asked as he walked closer to her in anger.

"Broderick!"

"Get out and don't ever show up here anymore," he commanded.

Martha immediately began to cry but unlike those days, he wasn't moved at all.

He grabbed her hand and dragged her outside then locked the door on her.

Martha couldn't believe that Broderick could do this to her. She immediately placed a call across to Lucifer and once he answered it, she sobbed to the phone.

"What did he do to you?" Lucifer asked.

"I went to his house to play with his kids and..." She sniffed in her tears and added," he grabbed me and pushed me out."

"Watch me deal with him," Lucifer said and hung the call up.

A couple of minutes later, an aggressive knock could be heard on Broderick's door. He had just finished showering at that time so he got dressed and walked towards the door wondering who had the gut to bang the door that way.

On opening it, he saw many soldiers before the door.

"We have been ordered to arrest and detain you for the next twenty four hours," one of the soldiers said.

"The fuck! Who gave you such order?" He asked.

"Lucifer," one of the soldiers responded.

Broderick then placed a call across to Lucifer who immediately answered it, before Broderick could speak, he said, "you should have known better not to treat Martha rudely. Yes, I ordered them." He then hung up without giving him the chance to say a word.

Broderick was immediately handcuffed, he felt like a slave as he was being taken away. Who would take care of his children while he's away.

Broderick was soon locked inside the prison, the handcuff in his hand wasn't released at all.

How can the president of a country be treated this way? All because he didn't refuse to treat Martha well?

Broderick remained in the prison for another twenty four hours after which the prison was unlocked. The handcuff in his hand was also unlocked.

Then one of the soldiers handed a phone that was already on call to him, he collected the phone and Lucifer's voice came through, "Broderick, be good to Martha and marry her quick and you won't have problem. Also, I expect that the marriage should happen in forty eight hours."

"Alright. I don't have a choice," Broderick said and handed over the phone back.

While he was walking back to his quarters, Martha quickly ran towards him, "Broderick, I'm sorry you were taken to the prison for twenty four hours. I have no idea Lucifer will do that to you."

"Alright, we are getting married tomorrow so make preparations," he said and Martha jubilated merrily.

"I need rest, as you can see, I've been in chains for the past twenty four hours. I hope you don't disturb me?" Broderick asked calmly.

“Oh! We’ll see tomorrow then,” she said.

“Alright,” Broderick then walked away. There was a secrete anger boiling inside of him but he couldn’t act cause of his kids that are around.

He went inside his quaters and saw his children playing game, once they saw him, they ran to him merrily,” dad, you went for an assignment and you didn’t tell us again?” Moses frowned. This was the lie that Martha told the kids so they wouldn’t bother about their dad.

Broderick smiled, “I’m sorry but I actually went to meet your mun. She won’t be able to come here cause of some reasons so i’ll be taking you to her this night.”

“Aww...I can’t wait to see mum,” Debby said, jumping up merrily.

“Same here,” Queen also said.

“I need to get some things done, hope no one is hungry?” He asked.

“Not at all,” Majority of the children replied and watched as Broderick walked inside.

“Dad looked lean, am I the only one who noticed it?” Moses asked.

“Brother, you are always noticing weird things about dad. Dad is fine,” Queen said.

“Dad said he is just coming from mum, how can he look lean? Plus he is only away for a day,” Angel said.

“Dad looked distressed,” Moses insisted.

“Dad is fine,” Queen insisted and walked away with Angel.

Moses looked at his brothers.

“Let’s go back to resume the game,” Elijah said and left with Elisha leaving Debby and Moses alone.

“Well, I could be wrong.” Moses finally admitted that he could be wrong.

“Our parents are going through a lot, I think they are intentionally hiding some stuffs from us so we won’t be disturbed. You may be right but let’s cheer up,” Debby encouraged Moses and he nodded after which they joined others to resume the game that they had paused.

Broderick drove out of the presidential lodge secretly at night, he had dressed like a security guard and told the kids to keep their heads down in the backseat of the car so the soldiers at the entrance of the presidential lodge won’t suspect that he was going out with the kids. A

Luckily, everything went as planned and after Broderick began to drive on the empty street of North Hill, he ordered for the children to raise their head up again.

As he watched the mother of six lead the children to sit, his phone rang and he checked the caller ID, seeing that the caller ID was Irvin, he answered it quickly, “boss, leave where you are asap. There is a tracker in your car and they are tracing it.” Broderick didn’t have the time to ask him how he knows, he went to whisper to Amy and said, “there is an urgent meeting at the presidential lodge, have fun with the kids.” Then he kissed her cheek.

Amy smiled and said, “okay, come as soon as you are free, okay?”

“You and the kids are what I live for now, any of my free time will be dedicated to you,” Broderick said and looked at the kids, “I love you all.”

“We love you too, dad. Bye!” The kids waved at him and he waved back. He walked towards the door calmly as if he was not in hurry, once he walked out, he closed the door and ran speedily to where his car was.

On stepping in, he started the ignition of the car quickly and used all the strength in his leg to match on the accelerator, the sport car sped off like wind.

As he drove through the empty streets, he suddenly got to a junction, there was a tied road that leads to the left and an untied road that leads to the right.

While wondering which he should turn to, he heard sounds of cars behind him and on looking through the front mirror, he saw many cars coming after him.

He turned to the right, through the untied road and began to drive as fast as he could while the dust of the roads kept flying in the air.

The two hillixes behind him also followed suit and sped as much as they could.

Broderick drove towards an old and abandoned house and immediately stepped out and ran inside the house then locked the door.

The two hiluxes behind him stopped before the old and abandoned house and the soldiers stepped down.

Since these soldiers were not citizens of North Hill but of different countries, many of them couldn't speak English not hear unless they have an interpreter doing the job for them

Unfortunately, all the twelve soldiers here couldn't speak English language so no interpreter could help.

They spoke in their language demanding for Broderick to step out. They weren't even with gun but were with other ammunition for safety. It's not as if Broderick committed an offence, they just wanted to know where he went to at this time of the night since Lucifer had told them all to keep eye on all his movement.

One of the soldiers shouted in their language out of frustration telling Broderick they didn't intend to hurt him.

Broderick peeped through the small hole in the door and after confirming that they were not with guns, he stepped out.

One of the soldiers spoke to his phone so that google translation can help him translate all he said. Once all he said was on the screen of his phone in English Language, he threw the phone to Broderick, Broderick received the phone and overall, they were asking why he was running and that they only wanted to know where he went this night and that he better tell them or they will be force to hurt him.

Broderick used the same phone to speak English Language and set the translator to their language, saying, "This is my country yet I'm being treated like a slave. My most precious beings are safe and at this moment, the fight for freedom starts."

Once it converted to their language, he too threw the phone back to the same soldier who had thrown the phone to him. The soldier was expecting a corporation from Broderick but reading what he said angered him. He gave the phone to his friends and on reading it, they were also beyond angry.

One of the soldiers charged towards Broderick in order to hit him in the face as he thinks he was enough to deal with Broderick. It's only people in North Hill who knows Broderick well, people living outside of North Hill had no idea how powerful Broderick is. Not just in influence but in strength and capacity.

He hit the man heavily in the stomach before he could make a move, the man almost coughed out his intestine. When others saw this, they were beyond angry. They immediately regret not coming here with their guns otherwise, they could have immediately shot him.

The rest of the men charged at him but Broderick defeated them all in ten seconds. Seeing all the men bleeding on the floor, he squatted to the ground and hit the sounds angrily, he roared like thunder, "North Hill, my country. I will take you back from my enemies."

The fury in his eyes was too much, it can devour the most dangerous beast in the forest. Remembering how he was taken to prison for twenty four hours angered him more. Remembering how Nolan kidnapped Amy to EastHill angered him even greatly.

He then placed a call across to Nolan and he answered it, "Expect me!"

Nolan laughed, "Expect you?"

"You better begin to admit that despite being the president of North Hill, you are still a slave to Lucifer and I," Nolan said.

"Where is Brett?" Broderick asked.

"In the darkest dungeon, starving night and day," he said.

Broderick laughed angrily, " release him."

Nolan thought that Broderick had ran mad, "Man, are you alright?"

"I will say it for the last time, release him and I'll let you die an easy death."

"Fuck you Broderick! How dare you threaten me?" He asked in anger, " i'll make sure you sleep behind bars for seven days without food or water."

Nolan hung up and immediately placed a call across to Lucifer and told him how Broderick was threatening him, "I'll do as you have said. Infact, I will add seven more days to his punishment. By the time he's done starving in the prison for fourteen days and fourteen nights, he will realize that we are truly his leader and that he's just a slave who has no power anymore?"

Debby asked, "dad, is anything wrong?"

"I don't want people in the presidential lodge to know that I'm taking you away," he said.

"Oh! Are we coming back here?" Moses asked.

"I doubt it," Broderick said, "but i'll come over to meet with you guys often."

The children never stopped asking their father all sort of questions until he parked at the deserted area that Amy was residing.

He soon stepped down with the kids and when he appeared at the entrance, he knocked but got no response.

He knocked severally but got no response still..

He immediately became disturbed. Hope these people haven't found Amy?

He then placed a call across to Amy, the call was almost coming to an end before she answered it, "Broderick!" She said with a hoarse voice.

"Amy, where are you? I'm before the house I told you to stay," he said.

"Hold on," Amy said and a few minutes later, the door opened and Amy immediately jumped on Broderick as soon as he saw him.

The children were happy to see how loving their parents had grown to become.

The family of eight walked inside the house.

Amy immediately began to hug her kids one after the other while squatting to their level, she was examining their face to be sure nothing was wrong with them.

"Ha! I've missed you all so much," Amy said and lead all her kids to sit. She has thousands of questions that she wanted to ask them and the kids also had a lot of gist for her, expecially the girls.

Broderick was happy that he was able to make Amy and the kids reunite. The happiness on Amy's face was so glaring that a refreshing smile crawled up on Broderick's lips and remained.

Once Nolan hung the call, Lucifer immediately placed a call across to the chief of the security men in the entire North Hill. This chief of security use to be his bodyguard at WestHill and the one he trusted the most that was why he installed him as the cheif of all securities at North Hill.

"Arrest Broderick immediately and lock him up in the smallest prison where he won't even be able to stand, he will be forced to sit and remain the same position. Let him remain there without food nor water for forteen days and seven nights," Lucifer said.

"On it, sir," COB, meaning, chief of bodyguards said and hung up.

The COB immediately commanded his men to find Broderick His men went over to Broderick's quaters but didn't find a single soul there. While reporting to the COB, someone ran in, he was a soldier from another department as these soldiers have different department with different functionality.

"Commander, we found out Broderick Alessandro left the presidential lodge in disguise. Twelve of our men followed him but we haven't heard from them all."

"All cars has a tracker, track the location of the car immediately," COB commanded and the soldier immediately ran out. The COB trailed after the soldier who had just left while his escorts followed.

On getting to the computer room where cars are being tracked, the COB said, "find the location of the car quick."

The man before the computer had already gotten into work immediately so he spoke a few seconds later," it seemed that the tracker of the car had been removed."

"The fuck!" The COB immediately walked out to summon all the soldiers in the presidential lodge. "Find every hooks and crannies of North Hill and bring me Broderick Alessandro with disrespect."

"Got it," over ten thousand voices of soldiers sounded like thunder and they immediately dismissed with their guns.

Messages had been sent across all stations and barracks in North Hill for all the soldiers and police men and women to begin to search for Broderick Alessandro.

In command, every TV stations in the country had been hijked to announce Broderick Alessandro as a wanted man and that if anyone sees him, they should report immediately to the COB's cabal. Also, everyone was threatened not to accomodate Broderick Alessandro as there would be a house to house search in the entire North Hill.

Amy was in her room reading the news about Broderick, her heart was beating so hard. Praying that she and her kids wouldn't be found and also praying that Broderick will not be found. Now that Broderick had fallen fully in love with her, she wanted to spend the rest of her life with him in peace.

But didn't Broderick say he was going to a presidential meeting?

Her phone chirped and she immediately answered it when she saw that it was Broderick, "Broderick, have you heard the news?"

"Yes. Don't worry, I'm like a wind, it's impossible for them to catch me. I'll be burying my sim after this call so they wouldn't use it to trace me, all I need you to do is to trust me and don't ever leave that house, okay?" Broderick said.

"Are you sure we are safe here?"

"Very safe. I assure you." Broderick said.

"Broderick, nothing must happen to you, okay? Remember your kids and I needs you," she said.

Broderick smiled, "I'll stay alive, I promise you. When everything has died down, we will make another baby."

Amy blushed, "really?"

"Yes, I assure you."

"I love you, Broderick," she said.

"I love you too, my woman," Broderick said and Amy cried. Broderick then hung the call up.

Broderick had already changed into one of the soldier's dresses so he was fully dressed like a soldier. He placed a call across to Irvin and he immediately answered it," sir, I also hear about the news. I've been waiting for your call."

"Sir, should we all step out and fight?" Irvin questioned.

"No, I'll fight alone. It's not yet time to use you all. When it's time, I'll let you know," Broderick said.

"Sir, there are over hundred thousands soldiers and police officers searching for you, please command the underworld to help you," Irvin almost cry. How can Broderick say he would fight thousands of men. That's logically impossible.

"I, Broderick Alessandro will fight them all alone and win. I'm burying this sim now. At the right time, I'll reach you," Broderick hung the call up, removed his shoe and buried it. He also buried the phone and began to run through the sandy road as fast as he could.

"This fight is my fight and I'll win," he screamed like a beast, his legs speeding like the wheels of a running sport car and his voice echoing through the desert.

Broderick didn't stop running until he got to C50. C50 is a place in North Hill, preferably a secret place for some sets of rich and powerful men. There were many who don't make their money legally and hence, all sorts of killing and illegal buying and sellings happens over here.

Once Broderick walked in, he was unsurprised at the bloods flowing around. He, Callan and Michael registered here many years ago and do come here regularly for occultive business before he personally opted out of the cult.

He ran towards where the illegal private jets that are always available there and ran into the pilot's seat. Piloting was a skill that must be learned if anyone would join this cult and he alongside Callan and Michael learnt it then.

He started the ignition of the jet and immediately began to move it, it went forward for a while before it picked up and started flying in the air. After fifty five minutes of flying, the jet appeared at EastHill, Broderick drove the jet in the air until it was on top of EastHill's palace.

He threw four bombs into four strategic places before driving away. When he arrived at the backend of EastHill, he landed the jet carefully and stepped down quickly then stopped a random man on powerbike, paid him an huge amount of money that can buy thrice of his power bike, climbed on it and drove out of EastHill through road.

The entire EastHill immediately became chaotic, Nolan was also affected as he was near where the second bomb was thrown. Nolan had immediately taken to the Palace health center while other soldiers who suffered severe injury were immediately being carried for treatment.

When the news of what happened at EastHill reached Lucifer, he needed no one to tell him that this was the handiwork of Broderick Alessandro. He sent more soldiers over to East Hill to find the whereabouts of Broderick but after twenty four hours, he didn't get any positive feedback.

Lucifer was frustrated as his men couldn't find Broderick all over North Hill and EastHill. Nolan on the other hand had been on sick bed. As for Brett, he was still in the secrete dungeon.

Broderick arrived at a less developing country amidst the countries that surrounded North Hill. The country was South Hill. There was not many modern technologies available there so he was sure that it will be impossible for them to track him here.

Broderick went to a call stand in the city and dialed Amy's number to be sure she and the kids were safe, once Amy answered the call, he spoke, "Amy, are you fine?" His concerned voice went through.

"Broderick, is that you?" Eventhough she can recognize Broderick's voice even in the dream, she still asked to be sure.

"Yes, how are you and the kids?"

"We are fine. I haven't gone out of the house as you have instructed and we have not been found, luckily. Where are you?" Amy asked.

"I can't disclose where I am cause the call may be tracked soon. I'm safe here and I'm glad you are fine," Broderick said.

"Okay, okay...the kids and I miss you so much. Will you come anytime soon?" Amy asked.

"I'm on a mission to get Brett out, once Brett is safe, I'll find a way to bring you and the kids over here," Broderick said.

"That place must be really safe then, I can't wait," Amy said and quickly added, "I love you."

"I love you too," Broderick said and hung the call up then went to the small house he had rented.

Immediately Amy dropped the phone, Moses and Debby rushed towards her suddenly with panic all over their face, "what's wrong?" Amy asked with a heart that was now throbbing quickly.

"Some soldiers are standing before the house and they had Queen with them," Debby said.

"What!"

Amy's heart skipped. She immediately rushed outside without think twice and saw over a hundred soldiers before the house. Their face was not fanimorous at all.

Then someone walked out midst those soldiers and on beholding the person, it turned out to be Lucifer, "where is my daughter?" Amy asked him.

"You have six children and we took one, should you be bothered?" He asked.

"Even if I have hundred kids, I can't let you take one away," Amy said.

"Where is Broderick?" He asked.

Actually, they had traced the call that Broderick made to her to find out where she is.

"Let me see my daughter first?" She requested.

These time, Amy's five kids were all behind her, they couldn't really defend their mother this time cause of the nenerous tall and scary looking men around. They were scared of what these people wanted for their mum and also hope to see Queen who was not in sight.

Lucifer ordered for Queen to be brought over and once she appeared, Amy ran towards her, the soldiers wanted to stop her but Lucifer waved his hand, signalling for them not to stop her.

She carried Queen in her arms and asked, "did they hurt you?"

Queen shook his head in response and said, "I'm fine but I'm scared, mum."

Amy hugged her dearly and sighed, she ruffled her hair and said, "Don't worry, I'm with you all."

She placed Queen down from her arms after a few seconds and she walked to meet the rest of her brothers and sisters. Amy stood gallantly and said, "if you had heard the communication between Broderick and I on call, you will know that he didn't disclose where he is."

"We need you to guess where he could be," Lucifer said civilly.

"I can't guess. A man like Broderick Alessandro can't be predicted." Amy said.

"Well, in that case, I'll have to arrest you. As for the kids, we would keep them safe, don't worry," Lucifer said.

"What's my offence? Why would you arrest me?"

“For being an accomplice to the most wanted man in the world.” Lucifer said and commanded his men,” handcuff her.”

“Don’t take my kids away from me, no matter what,” Amy said while the soldiers walked towards her and handcuffed her.

“Did you want your children to live with you in the prison?” He asked.

“I don’t care, I want my children around me,” Amy said, eventhough she didn’t know how being in the prison will look like.

“If that’s what you want, I’ll grant your request. The purpose of your arrest is so that Broderick can show up,” Lucifer said.

“He won’t show up.” Amy said.

“You mean he won’t care if you rot in jail with the kids? Well, we shall see,” Lucifer motioned to his men and Amy and the kids were immediately led to the back of one the hilux cars.

While Broderick was studying the map of EastHill and how to navigate his way to save Brett, he saw a notification of the most trending news in North Hill.

He clicked on it and the news displayed pictures of Amy and the six kids with the caption, “Broderick Alessandro’s Ex Wife in detention With Her Six Kids.”

His heart felt like it was being stabbed when he heard that. How was it possible for them to trace where Amy was. He had studied the map of North Hill very well and thought that where he kept Amy and the kids was the safest.

Or could it be the call he placed across to her?

Broderick Alessandro's mood deflated at once, he made a research about the prison that Amy and the kids were being kept and he realized that it was the biggest and the most secured prison in North Hill.

Broderick stood, confused on whom to save first. His personal assistant whose life is in jeopardy cause he was a hundred percent loyal and obedient to him or Amy and the kids who meant everything to him?

He paced to and fro the room and angrily hit the wall, "Lucifer, Nolan, I swear with my life that I'll make you two die the most horrible death. Just watch!"

He began to storm his brain on what to do.

Three days later, Amy sat in her small cell with her six kids. She has grown lean. She wasn't given a cellmate since she already has six kids with her. She doesn't get to decide what type of food she wants to eat, she doesn't have her freedom and as for her kids, they couldn't go to school.

Though Lucifer provides whatever the kids needs for them in terms of food and ensured that no one in the prison bullies them but as for Amy, he cares less about her. .

Just yesterday, Amy was beaten by two female gangsters because she wouldn't lick the pussy of their gangster leader. The gangster female leader was a lesbian who abuses many female prisoners.

Amy's body was very weak and a side of her head had been bleeding. She did her best to hide it from the kids since yesterday but today, after making the kids sleep, she felt more pain in the head but it was incomparable to the pain of being stuck here with the kids.

She wanted to go out to inform one of the cops about her head injury but to do that, she has to leave her children behind. There are many dangerous people here, what if they hurt her kids?

While thinking of what to do, a cop appeared before her cell. Seeing the tall figure of this cop, she stood quickly and walked towards the door.

The cop looked left and right and then unlocked the cell gate carefully and walked in.

"What are you doing here?" Amy asked. She thought that this man wanted to hurt her.

He removed the facial skin mask on his face and it turned out to be Broderick, she almost exclaimed loudly but he was quick to cover her mouth. In a quick succession, he drew her closer to himself and kissed her passionately.

With tears streaming down Amy's face, she kissed him back too.

After a few seconds, the duo disengaged from the long and deep kiss. He cleaned the tears on her face with his thumb and spoke, "life will be boring without challenge."

Seeing the confidence in his face, Amy chuckled. Maybe it doesn't make sense to laugh in the middle of all these chaos but Amy did, and with tears dropping from her face.

"Amy," he called affectionately and said, "together, we will rule the world."

Amy nodded and said, "this police uniform doesn't fit you."

Both adults laughed quietly.

They suddenly heard sounds of steps and Broderick immediately hid beside the bunk, it was one of the cops doing cell check, when he got before Amy's cell, he saw that Amy was laying with eyes closed, thinking that she was asleep, he moved on to the next cell.

Broderick appeared from hiding and Amy also stood from the bed, "was scared!" Amy said.

"You don't have to." Broderick said and made her sit. He also sat beside her.

Amy rested her arm on his shoulder and said, "how about Brett?"

"EastHill is even more guarded than North Hill at the moment. They are not allowing movement in and out of the country so I couldn't penetrate but from what I gathered, Nolan got injured during the bomb blast I caused at his palace, either his health is getting better or not, I can't really say. So it's impossible for me to know how Brett is doing," Broderick responded.

"I really hope that Nolan doesn't hurt him." Amy said.

"Don't worry, we'll win," he assured her and kissed her on her forehead.

"Broderick, this is too dangerous, what if you are caught?" Amy asked.

"I miss you and the kids so much that I had to risk my life," Broderick stood and kissed all his kids in the forehead. He felt bad that they had to be in this position.

“I will be studying this entire prison and see how I can get you all out,” Broderick said with confidence.
