Barren Mother Give Birth To Sextuplets To The Hot Ceo Chapter 266

“One of things I adore the most about you is that you are always confident no matter how severe the situation is.” Amy said.

Broderick smiled, “Let me get you to sleep then I can leave.”

“When did you plan on getting us out of here?” She asked.

“In twenty four hours. Just don’t panic, no matter what happens, okay?” He asked and Amy nodded.

He helped Amy to lay on the bed then sat beside her, Amy even laid her head on his lap while praying for all these obstacles around them to die down soon so they can live a happy ever after.

It took almost an hour before Amy eventually fell asleep, Broderick placed his head down gently and then stood and walked out.

He took his time to survey the entire prison and other cops who saw him didn’t suspect anything, they thought he was only on patrol.

Seven hours later, Broderick stood before eight thousand men in the underworld.

He had divided the men into groups and had told each groups which part of the country to attack. He chose the smartest group with him and assigned them to attack the prison.

“Dead is unavoidable. Whoever is scared to die should raise his hand?” Broderick asked in the dead silence world.

No one raised their hand. This was what all of them are born to do. Irvin was standing right before Broderick.

“Once it is 12PM in the midnight, we strike,” Broderick said and Irvin made a gesture that made everyone began to walk out one after the other.

The plan was to hang around where they were to attack and pretend to be civilian until it is time to attack.

Whereas, Nolan had got better except for the injury in his left eye. He hasn't been able to see very well with his left eye so he had to keep using a shade.

Today, he had flown through the air over to North Hill to meet with Amy.

Nolan stood in a reserved office at P Prison while the cops went to bring Amy and the kids. In a jiffy, Amy sat before Nolan while the kids sat on the second rows of seat available.

"Amy!"

"What? Are you happy that I'm in prison?" Nolan asked.

"Happy? I have always loved you. Why did you think I'll ever be happy for your predicament? Amy, I'm here to take you and the kids back to EastHill."

"Did you want to drug me again?" Amy asked.

"Despite the fact that you tried to kill me by drink poisoning, I still love you. I know you could not have done something like that yourself, someone obviously told you to do it," Nolan said.

"But why should you let yourself become a murderer? I know I'm wrong by bringing you here without your consent but Amy, try to understand my feelings for you," Nolan said.

"Nolan, I don't love you," Amy said. "And...I don't like you anymore. The only person I like and love is the father of my children, Broderick Alessandro. He may be harsh, strict and all that but he's the one my heart chose."

"Amy!" Nolan said with a painful heart.

"This is my decision."

"Did you want to spend the rest of your life here? If I did not get you out of here then there is no one that can get you out, you know this, right?" Nolan asked.

"It's either you follow me back to East Hill where you and the kids will be able to live a very comfortable life than to be inside a cell with your six kids. These cell can barely contain two people," Nolan said.

"Nolan, I'm not following you to EastHill. Let my children and I remain in jail," Amy then stood and told one of the cops standing by "please take my kids and I back inside the cell."

Once Amy left, Nolan suspected that there was something behind her confidence. Being inside the cell for days with her kids can't be comfortable for her yet she chose to stay here. He then placed a call across to Lucifer, once he answered it, he said, "Lucifer, I think Broderick may be up to something. Amy seemed overly confident and is not ready to leave the cell."

"What could Broderick be up to?" Lucifer scoffed. "The prison that she and the kids are in is guarded by over a thousand soldiers and police men. Broderick will soon surrender himself. As for Amy, I can increase her torture over there so that she will be forced to leave." Lucifer said.

"No, don't torture her. It's enough torture that she's inside the cell with the kids." Nolan hung up and left to his house at North Hill.

He planned on going to check Amy the third day and attempt to convince her again.

Once it was 12PM, heavy sounds of guns could be heard. Many soldiers of the underworld were penetrating easily inside P Prison and taking many soldiers guarding the prison down.

In a jiffy, the main gate to the prison was opened and a lot of prisoners rushed out. The prisoners were more than two thousands so it was hard for the underworld men to locate Amy and the kids.

Amy remained inside the cell with her six kids, she can't afford to run with them cause what if a bullet hit one of them.

In three minutes, she was the only one left in the prison.

The gate to her prison opened all of a sudden and when the kids saw Broderick, they immediately ran to him, "Dad!"

They all swarmed around him, hugging him dearly.

"We need to leave here quick," Broderick held three of his children while Amy also held the remaining three children.

Through the earphone in Broderick's ear, Irvin spoke, "sir, please leave P Prison quick, over five thousand reserved soldiers that we didn't even know about are coming over."

"Got it!" Broderick said and soon got inside the car with Amy and the kids. In a jiffy, the car began to speed.

Amy's heart was throbbing, the chaos in P Prison was too much and blood had littered everywhere.

In the future, her children will sure have stories to tell.

Amy looked at the fearful look on her kid's face and felt so sorry for them, "we will soon be in a safe place, okay?" Just as Amy finished saying this, the car made a screech.

Broderick wasn't the one driving so he shouted on the driver, "what happened?"

The driver parked in the middle of the long road and saw the one of the tires bursted, he immediately told Broderick what happened.

"Drive like that!" He commanded.

"Sir?"

"Did we have a fucking choice? I said drive like that," the driver immediately got in and drove with the wheel until they were a distance away to the portal.

"Sir, if I drive to the portal, the wheel of the car had been making marks on the road and hence, they can easily trace us to the portal. It's better we get down here and run to the portal." He said.

"Nice idea," Broderick got down and helped the kids and Amy to get down the car after which they all began to run to the portal. Once they got there, Broderick squatted to the ground and punctured a code, the portal gave way and they all climbed the stairs down to the underworld after which the man who drive closed the portal.

Whereas, there was still heavy fights going on in North Hill. Every citizens were stuck in their houses and no one dare to step out.

Broderick lead

the kids and Amy inside one of the available rooms and then took the boys inside the bathroom, bath for them and began to change their dress into a nice cloth while he told Amy to go and bath for the girls.

In a jiffy, the kids were all looking fresh, clean and calm. The look of fear on their face had vanished as the underground world was as quiet as a graveyard.

“Come with me,” Broderick lead Amy to the bathroom, undress her and placed her gently on the bathtub.

“Is it bad to make love in the middle of chaos?”

“Why should we stop having fun?” Amy asked and they both giggled.

Broderick bathed her tenderly then he also went to stood under the shower and bath himself. Now that the both of them were clean and naked, he helped her out of the bathtub and pinned her gently to the wall.

He made her back him and then he spanked her round ass gently making Amy to moan.

Broderick centered his dick right on her pussy and pushed it in gently, the fact that she was very wet already made it easy for his dick to go inside of her deeply.

“Oh my! I’ve missed it,” Amy said and Broderick spanked her ass hard and pushed in deep then he began to thrust in and out of her while she kept moaning in pleasure.

He found her left breast with his hand and played with it even as he continued fucking her, he played with her nipples for a while then pulled out and suddenly turned her towards him.

He carried her in his arms and ensured that her pussy swallowed up his dick while Amy curved her two arms around his neck. He began to hit her ass right on his waist making her pussy to keep swallowing his very hard dick. It was a very sweet session of sex that neither of them wished for it to stop.

His head find his way to her breast and he sucked on the nipples tenderly even as he keeps fucking her hard, when Amy was about getting tired as the very sweet sex had lasted for up to thirty minutes, Broderick placed her down gently.

Amy could barely stand as her legs had become jelly, he made her kneel to the ground and set her ass in a doggy style, he pushed in his dick and fucked her so hard until his dick felt an even greater amount of pleasure.

He suddenly released mercilessly inside of her while breathing erratically, Amy also clenched her fist hard and tightened her eyes so hard as she released some hard substances from her pussy.

Both felt relieved and calm, he took her to the shower and they both showered together.

Whereas, Nolan was pacing to and fro the living room, he had heard of the chaos and he knew this was Broderick. He didn't expect for Broderick to even make an attempt to fight with them.

A knock landed on the door as if it was urgent and he walked quickly to the door, "who the fuck is there?"

"It's Martha."

Nolan opened the door and Martha walked in. He immediately closed the door back.

"Hope you are not traced here?" He asked.

"Not at all," Martha immediately went to sit.

"All the prisoners in P Prison had escaped and the entire North Hill is in chaos. Broderick caused chaos in North Hill after going to East Hill to cause chaos, what sort of a man is he?" Martha asked in confusion.

"Sincerely, I also can't understand. He's really too mysterious. Whenever he says, I'm Broderick Alessandro, the most powerful man in North Hill, I used to think he was bragging not until now that I see the way things are unfolding." He said.

"This is serious, what do we do now? I'm sure Amy would have escaped from prison," Martha said.

It's no wonder Amy spoke with confidence that she was not leaving the prison. She must have known that Broderick has a plan.

"Is the presidential lodge safe?" Nolan asked.

"Yes, Broderick's Soldiers didn't attack us but he attacked every single station of the police and the barracks of the soldiers, I wonder where Broderick's soldiers were getting bomb, if they keep bombing everywhere this way, won't North Hill become deserted?" Martha asked.

Nolan received a call from Lucifer at this moment and on answering it, Lucifer spoke, "Nolan, hope you are safe?"

"Yes, I am. I'm in my house at North Hill but did the COB still have everything under control?" He asked.

“No, he told me he has lost all men but I’ve almost arrived at North Kill with over ten thousand soldiers. I’ll end Broderick Alessandro today,” Lucifer said.

“Alright,” Nolan said and Lucifer hung the call up.

Once Lucifer arrived with his men in about three hundred aeroplanes, they immediately dispersed for battle.

Lucifer however drove over to Nolan’s house and on getting there, he knocked and once Nolan confirmed that he was the one, he opened the door for him and he stepped in.

“Nolan, can we fight together?” Lucifer asked.

“It’s too risky, bro... What if we get shut? Since you already came over with thousands of men, they should be able to deal with it,” Nolan said.

Lucifer smiled, “you seem scared of Broderick.”

“At this point, I must admit.” Nolan said

“I’ll end Broderick, this, I assure you,” Lucifer said but his phone rang after he said this.

Seeing that it was his head of soldiers at West Hill, he immediately answered it, “what?” He asked.

“My king, the palace is on fire and so many places are being destroyed,” he said making Lucifer’s heart almost fall off.

“What are you talking about?” Lucifer asked.

“Some men came over with jets flying in the air and started to throw bomb everywhere, even me...” This was the last word he said before Lucifer heard a loud blast.

“Fucking Broderick!” Lucifer shouted.

“What’s wrong?” Nolan and Martha asked at the same time.

"I don't know how he knew that I have left WestHill with many men, his men are over there destroying my country," Lucifer almost cried.

"I kept a lot of golds inside my palace, is this how I'll lose them all," Lucifer sunk to the couch sadly.

The entire room fell into a drop dead silence as the three adults in the room, Nolan, Lucifer and Martha had fear of Broderick Alessandro written all over their face.

Whereas, Irvin was flying the jet in the air alongside his men, happily throwing big bombs all over West Hill, he was even laughing and then said to Broderick who was on call; "sir...hahaha...I won't leave West Hill until it is deserted. We will make it a land that had once existed."

On the other end, Broderick said, "those who don't know about Broderick Alessandro are those who don't fear me."

Broderick shouted from the center of the first big hall in the underworld that he was standing, "My name is Broderick Alessandro."

All the soldiers of the underworld who had returned untouched and unharmed to the underworld all echoed. "The most powerful man in North Hill!"

Broderick smiled, "Now I need to get my boy out." Broderick was referring to Brett.

Broderick told Amy about where he was heading to and told her not to worry or fear as the underground world is the safest for anyone in North Hill.

Broderick picked a few men with him and flew over to East Hill however, there were men at their embassy who started firing missiles.

They lost a bird and some men but had to return back. EastHill was heavily guarded at this moment.

After Broderick's birds and that of his soldiers had landed, they all returned back to the underworld but it was late at night.

Broderick walked inside the room that Amy was in a frustrated manner, although his wife and kids were here, Brett was also very important to him.

He needs to get Brett out first before he would get rid of Lucifer and Nolan. Unless he sees Brett, he would not be able to fight with Nolan and Lucifer directly. He thought it was wise to get Brett out first.

He kissed Amy in the forehead and went to the bath then laid beside him, Amy immediately hugged him out of fear, she mumbled, "save me?" But her eyes were still closed.

Broderick knew that she was having a nightmare so she cuddled her tenderly and said, "my woman, I'm here with you. No harm will befall you."

In a jiffy, he also fell asleep.

One week

later, WestHill, the glorious and beautiful country, the country with the fastest growing economy has unfortunately now become a ruin, many of her citizens had vacated as a result of the non stop shooting and bomb. A country with over five million population including male and female now remained less than 300,000. Even the three hundred thousand people that left are those in the rural part of WestHill where the chaos hasn't hit.

Lucifer and Nolan arrived at WestHill today cause it was yesterday that Irvin and his men finally left WestHill. Irvin and his men made WestHill devoid of peace for six consecutive days. Burning their oil reserves, bombing all the companies that produce things needed for the country to keep surviving and bombing heavy assets.

When Lucifer got before his palace that used to compete in beauty with the palace at EastHill, he fell to his knees and cried. The palace was now in ruin, all the beauty is gone and there was not a single soldier around. They had all fled for their life.

Lucifer felt empty, as for all the countries who are backing him, he has to sign an agreement before he can use their soldiers but he didn't bother to use them cause he believed he can handle Broderick alone.

He didn't know that Broderick is far from a human being, he's a beast, He's truly a wind that is impossible to catch.

Lucifer carried the sand of East Hill in his hand and mourned by pouring the sand on his jelly hair, while Nolan and Martha simply stood behind him. They felt very pathetic for him.

Lucifer gritted his teeth hard and shouted, "Broderick Alessandro, you have made my city a ruin, I'll destroy everything you have laboured for.” He cried even more. His heart hurting terribly

Nolan knew that East Hill was very safe as there were soldiers all around East Hill eagerly waiting to take down anyone who dares to come in, either by water, by land or by air.

“Broderick’s personal assistant is with me,” Nolan said.

Lucifer stood with fury all over his face and said, “command your men to give him a painful death then bring me his head. I want to hand his PA’s head to him personally as a gift when we meet.”

“Okay,” Nolan immediately placed a call across to head of security at East Hill, “kill Brett.”

“Copy that.”

Brett had not seen the sun nor the moon for the past eight days. He was being given hard beans only as food and it happens only once a day. He was hoping that someday, Broderick Alessandro will get him out of here.

The first gate that leads to the dungeon he was got opened, then the second gate and the third gate until the fifth gate was opened. The dungeon is deep down under the palace, no one has been kept there for centuries not even Broderick.

Brett was immediately made to stand and then getting dragged out. He couldn’t see anyone’s face cause the darkness in the dungeon was thick. The darkness will make anyone think they are blind. There is no difference between closing your eyes and opening your eyes.

Brett was immediately taken to the center of the large field before East Hill palace. A burning flame had been set there and the heat alone is enough to stop anyone from breathing.

Brett suspected what was about to happen and pulled back, “please don’t throw me, please!” Brett was damned scared of death. What’s worse, he will be dying inside a fire. This kind of heavy fire will not only burn his body to ashes but also burn his skeleton to nothing.

Whereas, Nolan said to Lucifer, they were still standing before the ruined palace at West Hill," if we kill Brett, it means we have nothing against Broderick anymore. Broderick loves Brett and we can keep him as hostage. Remember the person whom we are after is Broderick and not Brett?" He suggested.

"You made sense, if he hasn't been killed yet, tell your men to send him over here," Lucifer said.

"This place is ruined and is far from safe. Brett can easily be made to escape here. East Hill is heavily guarded as I speak to you and you can be sure that Brett is safe," Nolan said. He knew that the calamity what had befallen Lucifer's country would not let him think rationally so Nolan was trying to make him see things the right way.

Lucifer sighed," okay, keep him."

Nolan immediately placed a call across for Brett to be back to the dungeon.

"I want to strike Broderick back in a way that will hurt him and everything he loves," Lucifer said.

A rope was immediately thrown down and the rope tied itself hard around Lucifer, in a jiffy, Lucifer was drowed up in the air. It firstly looked like magic in the first two seconds but after the aeroplane on top had dragged Lucifer inside, Nolan came to consciousness.

Before the aeroplane could drive away, a letter was thrown to the floor from it then the aeroplane drove away..

Nolan shifted back first and Martha quickly went to hold onto him, "Lucifer has been taken away," Martha said fearfully.

"This Broderick is becoming something else," Nolan said and went to where the letter had dropped. He picked up the letter and it reads," Lucifer of course, will now be in my custody. I know his death may not affect you much but if I can destroy Lucifer's country and capture Lucifer, don't think I can't destroy you, Nolan. I'll say this for the last time, Release Brett."

Nolan shivered in fear, he suddenly felt unsafe. It was as if Broderick was somewhere looking at him.

"Martha, we are not safe, let's go to East Hill." Nolan said.

Martha feels safer with Lucifer than Nolan, nonetheless, she trusted that Nolan can not hurt her. North Hill is dangerous for her to stay now so she better elope with him to a safe place.

Nolan and Martha soon got inside the presidential aeroplane and they both got driven to East Hill.

In the underworld, at North Hill. Broderick stood before Lucifer in one of the rooms that was available at the far end of the underworld. The room was brightened and there were only two chairs in the room.

One was a royal kingly chair where Broderick sat while the other was a metal chair where Lucifer sat. Lucifer was dressed in only pants and had been tied to the chair. He had been beaten mercilessly that he now had all sort of scars all over his body. His head could barely stand on his neck, he looked weak, exhausted and like someone that will die soon.

“Didn’t you say you were the god of the world, huh, Lucifer?” Broderick asked. “You made me a president and also betrayed me, you liased with Sir Wesley and with the support of tens of countries, you think you can defeat me?” Broderick asked.

Maybe because Lucifer had been beaten to an extent that life was almost crawling out of his mouth, he couldn’t talk.

Broderick stood and walked out then saw Amy in the hallway. He had appeared behind her, “Amy!” She called and Amy turned immediately at him.

“Where are you heading to?”

“To the kitchen,” she lied. Actually, she wanted to go and check where Broderick is. He had heard of loud cries of someone in the room that Broderick was and she wants to see whom this person is.

Broderick smiled and said, “are you lying to me?”

“Yes...sorry? ...I wanted to come and see who you are with in that room,” Amy said.

“It’s Lucifer. I captured him,” Broderick said.

“Lucifer? Was he the one been beaten that way?” She asked.

“Sure, he even deserved death,” Broderick said.

"Indeed. Can I check on him? Like, I just want to see him," she said and Broderick nodded.

"I'll be inside our room," he said and walked away.

Amy then walked inside the room that Lucifer was.

Once Lucifer saw her, he spat his mouthful of blood and said, "Amy! Save me."

When he saw that Amy was just looking at him without saying a word, he said, "I don't love you anymore, the feeling is dead, I don't care if you are with Nolan or with Broderick. I was just trying to be a ruler of most countries and also helping Martha to revenge."

Amy hummed and asked, "why are you helping Martha to revenge?"

"Martha has a rare and powerful blood. According to history, someone with such type of blood only gets to be seen once in a hundred years. I used Martha's blood to cure my long-term secret illness. So, I owe her. Helping her to recover her health is not enough, I also want to help her get the man she loves," Lucifer said.

"And you see where that has landed you? I'll say it again, Lucifer, Broderick is not someone you want to fight with. He's too smart," Amy said.

"Just save me, please," Lucifer said.

"I can't help you," Amy said.

"Then I'll spill the secret between us to Broderick," he threatened and spat another mouthful of blood that had stored in his mouth.

"He won't believe you, he will assume you were talking rubbish. Did you even have proof?" Amy asked.

Lucifer frowned, "Amy, don't dare me. I don't want to spoil the relationship that is already working out between you and Broderick."

"I advise you don't say what will make Broderick command his men to beat you to death," with that being said, Amy walked away and walked over to the room that Broderick was.

She saw Broderick resting on the sofa with eyes closed, she went to lay on him merrily and kissed his neck, "my man!" She caressed his chin softly but Broderick remained stiffed and didn't open his eyes.

She raised her head up and kissed his succulent lips yet Broderick remained stiff.
"Broderick, are you sleeping?"

Broderick opened his eyes slowly, there was anger glaring on his face, that made Amy scared that she had to withdraw her body from his.

"What's the secret between you and Lucifer?" Broderick asked.

Amy was shocked. She didn't expect for Broderick to have heard.

Actually, there was a webcam and microphone in the room that Lucifer was so Broderick heard and saw it all.

"Broderick," she swallowed and didn't know how to tell it to him.

Broderick sat upright and asked again, "what's the secret between you two?"

Amy just stuttered, she couldn't say it. Broderick then barged out of the room and walked inside the room that Lucifer is, "tell me."

Lucifer raised his face up to him and asked, "what?"

"The secret between you and Amy."

Lucifer was also surprised that he knew there was a secret. Although he threatened Amy with it, he didn't have a plan of spilling it out to Broderick, at least not yet.

"Erm...there is really not secrete," as soon as he said this, Broderick threw a punch to his mouth that sent two of his front teeth falling to the floor.

Broderick walked over to where the plier is and picked it up, "I'll pluck out the rest of your teeth if you dare to lie to me."

Seeing the anger and fury on his face, Lucifer spoke, "Amy and I had sex."

Broderick's heart sunk to his belly, he smiled incredibly and looked around the room wondering if he was dreaming, "what did you say?"

“We had sex during the time that she was in prison. I didn’t drug her, I invited her to my office and one thing lead to the other and we had sex,” Lucifer said without any remorse on his face.

Broderick felt as if a hot fire from hell was being poured to his body, he felt burnt both in his heart and his body. He gritted his teeth in pain. The pain that held onto his heart was incredible that he could not help but let the tears that quickly welled up in his face fall.

When Lucifer saw him crying, he smirked,” sorry man! You really can’t trust women.”

Broderick turned to the wall and hit his head hard on it as if he was begging for death. He had a scratch on his forehead that made blood start spilling.

He turned back to Lucifer with a bloody face, Lucifer’s smirk dissapeared at once and fear gripped onto his soul. Broderick looked like a blood sucking demon from the deepest part of hell.

He turned and walked out. When he got inside his room, he couldn’t find Amy in his room.

He screamed in anger,” Amy!” The blood in his head was still dripping down his nose to his mouth.

When he got no response, he began to search for her in the dungeon, he finally heard some sounds coming from Irvin’s room.

Without knocking, he kicked the door with his leg and the the door fell off, “You had sex with Lucifer?” He asked her with a broken heart.

Amy had come to Irvin for safety cause of the fear of what Broderick may do to her. Amy immediately hide behind Irvin.

“Boss, please tamper mercy with justice,” Irvin pleaded.

“Scram!” Broderick yelled on Irvin.

“Boss, she’s my sister, ” even Irvin was scared that Broderick may just kill Amy.

“I say scram!” Broderick shouted on Irvin but he would not leave the side of his sister.

It’s in the rules of the underworld that a subordinate dare not to refuse their leader, even if the leader command them to die, they must immediately drown themselves in the sea or shoot themselves in the head yet Irvin disobeyed him twice.

Broderick walked over to him in anger and threw a heavy blow to his cheek, Irvin fell to the floor immediately and fainted. Broderick had used all his power as the god of war to hit him

Who is Irvin to Broderick? Its like comparing a goat to a lion.

Amy immediately bent before Irvin and shouted, "brother! brother!" Amy thought that Irvin was dead. The blow was just too heavy. It sounds as if a heavy mountain was thrown to Irvin's cheek.

Broderick grabbed her in the neck and pulled her up angrily, he slammed her to the wall in a hard way, it was as if her back with break.

"How does my heart looks to you? A toy you can play with ?" He was carrying her in such a way that her legs couldn't touch the ground and she was losing life fast as she could barely breath.
