

BO LOVE LIFE 15

Chapter 15: Hubby, Save Me, I'm Terrified!

Luo Zheng was rather eye-catching because she was standing alone in the corridor, clad in a bathrobe.

Brother Sen.

Upon hearing that name, Luo Zheng began to clench her fists as her face grew sullen.

In her previous life, she was molested by a bunch of gangsters who were led by Brother Sen.. They touched her with their filthy hands and caused her to go through an unforgettable nightmare.

Unfortunately, the lights were off in the room and she could not see what they looked like. All she could do was to struggle helplessly, wail and beg for mercy.

A few years later, she finally found out who Brother Sen was. However, due to various reasons, she had no choice but to bear with it and pretend like nothing had happened before!

Luo Zheng was extremely anxious and she stared at Bo Hancheng while biting her lip.

How could they think that I am a prostitute? She thought to herself, feeling absolutely disgusted.

Due to the fact that she did not wish to expose her identity, Luo Zheng continued to stare at them silently... for fear that Jiang Xinlei would run out of the room and see her.

How would the remaining show be able to proceed then?

At this very moment, a few other gangsters turned to look at Luo Zheng.

She suddenly grew flustered.

"Brother Sen, Wuzi is right. Let's take her! We can at most take liberties with that chick inside but we can't actually get intimate with her, so what's the point? Since there's one that we can sleep with here, why don't we negotiate and settle on a price before playing with her..."

Clearly, they were all talking amongst themselves and were convinced that Luo Zheng was really a prostitute because she was not saying anything.

Mu Sen looked at Luo Zheng sinisterly before saying, "Look at you guys, you're so useless! Go and ask for her price. Get her to bring a few more chicks too. Otherwise, how are we supposed to split her?"

Wuzi immediately smiled in agreement before walking towards Luo Zheng lecherously. "Babe, hurry and tell me how much you charge per night."

Luo Zheng could not control herself. She turned around and spat out some saliva at him anxiously.

She watched as Wuzi walked towards her in a bid to catch her.

She then turned to look at Bo Hancheng who seemed to be staring at her calmly with no intentions to help her. Not only was he leaving her in the lurch, he was also... gloating.

I wish I could bite him to death!

He is out here waiting to watch a good show right? In that case, I shall drag him down with me!

Luo Zheng was caught off guard and she immediately draped her arms around Bo Hancheng's neck before wrapping her legs around his waist like a koala bear.

"Hubby, save me. I'm terrified! Someone is calling me a prostitute and asking for my price. You must stand up for me..."

Luo Zheng was loud enough for them to hear her. She then buried her face in his neck to hide her features.

"Go away."

Bo Hancheng said coldly.

Luo Zheng panicked for she did not expect him to be that cruel. She begged, "Pretty brother, they're going to bully me, you can't leave me in a lurch!"

She then wrapped her legs even more tightly around his waist.

Wuzi did not expect that she was not a prostitute. Feeling indignant about the fact that she was attached, he asked, "Buddy, are you guys really married?"

As soon as he finished speaking, Bo Hancheng nodded coldly and barked, "Get lost!"

Wuzi immediately quivered, feeling as if he was in hell. He found it hard to even speak.

At the next instant, Bo Hancheng closed the door with her still latched onto him.

"Pretty Brother, you're really impressive and suave!"