

BO LOVE LIFE 8

Chapter 8: First Kiss

At the age of seventeen, she was just like a flower bud that was blooming uniquely and vibrantly.

She was pretty, wonderful and puerile.

Although she had yet to mature, she was irresistible and undoubtedly the best antidote for him.

As the bathrobe slid off her body, she felt a sudden coldness in her undergarments as she was overwhelmed with shyness and embarrassment.

At the same time, she discovered that he was staring at her like a wolf, making her feel threatened.

I have just been reborn. Am I going to lose my virginity again!?!

Luo Zheng's heart skipped a bit and she tried to put on her bathrobe.

Bo Hancheng suddenly grabbed her shoulder.

Luo Zheng looked up at him in horror about to beg him to allow her to leave.

She did not think about how she would be revealing her beautiful neck when she raised her head.

Bo Hancheng felt the flames of his desire he tried hard to suppress, were suddenly lit again, so much so, that he could no longer control himself.

He decided not to bear with it anymore.

Since she was the one who had sent herself to him, she ought to bear the consequences!

"Brother, I..."

At this very moment, Luo Zheng finally realized that there was something wrong with him. His eyes were bloodshot and he had a menacing expression on his face.

He is... drugged? By what!?!

Could it be... an aphrodisiac?

Oh my god, what a joke. We are both drugged with aphrodisiacs!

Before Luo Zheng could even get a grip on her emotions, she was pinned against the cold hard wall.

"Jerk... mm...."

He raised her chin and kissed her to stop her from continuing the rest of her sentence.

In fact, he was nibbling on her lips like a hungry wolf that had just found some fresh meat, desperately wanting to devour it.

Clearly, he was a wolf and Luo Zheng was the fresh piece of meat!

Luo Zheng felt her lips being chewed and nibbled by him, so much that she could not breathe.

He even let his hands wander around her body, lighting it up.

Luo Zheng was battling the effects of the aphrodisiac and hence, she could not control herself at all.

However, she did not rush to stop him from kissing her.

She found the kiss to be rather familiar!

All of a sudden, he pressed his cold mask against her face, making her eyes widen in shock as she raised her hand in a bid to grab the mask.

To her surprise, he planted a deep, long kiss on her lips and grabbed her wrist when she touched his mask... Staring at her from above, he gibed, "Kid, curiosity kills the cat!"

A derisive look formed in her eyes as she snapped out of her trance.

How can it be Mr. Bodyguard? How is he here?

She scanned his body from head to toe to see that he was covered in scars that were intertwined, and that his muscles were toned and firm. He also had a V-line... and a killer figure. Luo Zheng began to feel parched and aroused. However, she knew it was the effects of the drug.

Her heart said no but her body reacted subconsciously.

"Continue."

Bo Hancheng could guess that she was drugged with an aphrodisiac too. He suddenly licked her earlobe and spoke in a hoarse voice.

Upon hearing his words, Luo Zheng began stroking his chest and moving her hand upwards. All of a sudden, she draped her arms around his neck. "Continue? Sure! I'm just afraid that you'd mind, Brother."