

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 598 - 600

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 598-Jack chuckled "Isn't it better for you to tell us?" Cheryl could vaguely sense that something was wrong. "Aren't we just having dinner? Why do I need to say everything so clearly?" Why did it feel like she was on a blind date?

In disbelief, her eyes suddenly widened. Her gaze shifted between Antonio and Jack.

After a moment, she shot upright. "So you didn't ask me out for dinner, but to set me up on a blind date?" "That's right." Jack was clueless as to the severity of the problem.

"A few days ago, Ms. Evans asked me to help find you a boyfriend. But she didn't tell me what type. So I had no choice but to bring with my own friend and introduce him to you." After saying that, Jack even smiled. "What do you think? As a brother figure, I'm doing great, right?"

Cheryl was so angry that she trembled all over. She picked up her bag and left the private room.

without a backward glance.

Jack was confused as he chased after her. "Cheryl, what is up with you?" "I'm fine!" As clueless as Jack was, he could tell that Cheryl was mad.

"Are you unhappy with the person I chose? If you're not happy, I can find someone else. Just tell me what type you like." When she saw Jack so concerned, Cheryl's heart started to ache. She had been looking forward to this date so much, but Jack was pushing her toward some other man!

Using all her strength, Cheryl managed to grit out, "Thank you for your concern, but I don't need you to butt into my affairs anymore." Afterward, she didn't dare to linger. She left without looking back.

Jack still wanted to go after her, but the crowd at the door blocked his way.

1/3 +15 BONUS "Stop chasing after her." Seeing Jack go against the crowd to go after Cheryl, Antonio called out to his friend at the door to stop him.

Jack had no choice but to turn around. "I'm sorry. I really don't know why she got mad.

Antonio laughed as he looked at Jack.

Jack was perplexed by this. He asked, "Is it that funny?" "Of course. After so many years, you still don't understand what's on a woman's mind.

"That girl obviously likes you, but you were trying to introduce her to someone else. If you were in her place, would you be angry?" "Stop joking. She's like my little sister." "She's like your little sister, not your actual sister." Antonio then teased, trying to test him, "Are you really not the slightest bit interested in her?" Jack shook his head. He had always seen Cheryl as a little sister and nothing else.

However, he had felt very uncomfortable a few days ago when Caroline said Cheryl wanted to find a boyfriend.

He felt like the one person he was close to, who he had gone to such pains to finally get, was going to leave him.

These few days, he had managed to push down his unease with much effort.

He even managed to look for a boyfriend for Cheryl in all seriousness.

How had things ended up this way?

Jack's mind was in a mess. He couldn't think clearly for a moment.

Right then, Antonio pointed out to him, "Your phone's ringing." After a few seconds' delay, Jack finally came back to himself. He was slightly disappointed when he got his phone out and saw that it wasn't Cheryl calling.

"Hello?" It was a call from Charles.

2/3 +15 BONUS "Did you call me for something?" Jack was in a daze as he answered, "No" Charles was so mad that he shot up in bed. "If there's nothing going on, why did you call me so many times? Are you trying to keep me from sleeping?" Charles' anger pulled Jack out of his dazedness.

"No. I remember now. I called you to tell you that I saw Daphne Dawson. Why hasn't she been dealt with?" Had she escaped?

On the other end of the line, Charles was strangely excited as he asked, "You saw her outside?"

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 599-"Y-yes..." Jack was a little confused. Why was Charles so excited? It was as if he had just caught a big fish.

On the other end, Charles was getting up. "Thanks." "No, you guys..." Jack started. However, the call had already been cut. Jack was flabbergasted.

What was going on?

Jack's mind buzzed in chaos. First it was Cheryl, and now it was Charles.

At Morrison Manor, Simon strode quickly into Jude's study. He was in such a rush that he even forgot to knock.

"Sir, something huge just happened!" Jude had been concentrating on practicing his calligraphy. With Simon's entrance, his interest in it was completely lost.

He put down his pen and looked at Simon. "Mr. Zellen, you've been working for me for a long time. When did you become as excitable as a kid?" Simon wiped his face and chuckled. "Sir, it's just that it's too huge and too unexpected." "Oh. Well, if there's something that can even surprise you, let's hear it. What happened?" "Someone just reported that they saw Ms. Dawson outside." "She's finally showing her face? Did you send someone to inquire why she hasn't gone out lately?" "Sir, there was no time at all." Simon revealed a meaningful smile.

Jude looked at him and asked, "What is it?" "Our people saw her go into a restaurant. A few minutes later, she came out with a man. They were even holding each other. They seemed very intimate. After that, they went into a nearby hotel." Jude's eyes narrowed. "Do you mean to say that Daphne is cheating?" 1/2 +15 BONUS "That's right. I wonder if Mr. Kirk knows?" Simon glanced at Jude.

Jude was frowning "Cheating How could she dare?" Even if she didn't know Kirk's methods, as someone who had spent so much time in the entertainment industry, Daphne should know that there were people she couldn't offend. For example, the people at the top of the food chain.

Why would she... Jude got up.

"Continue keeping an eye out. I want to see what's this fishiness going on!" After a moment, he looked at Simon again and asked, "By the way, I asked you to look for Kirk's photo. Have you found it?" He couldn't wait to figure out what Kirk and Caroline's relationship was. He knew that Kirk could keep things from him. After all, he was cunning as a fox.

But he believed that Caroline wouldn't lie to him. Even if she wanted to, she would never be able to hide something from him.

Just then, one of the household staff came into the room.

"Sir, one of Mr. Kirk's employees called. He says he has something urgent to talk to you about." Jude raised an eyebrow. "What is it?" The person brought the phone closer and held it out to Jude.

Jude took it.

Charles' respectful voice sounded from the other end of the line. "Good evening, Mr. Morrison Senior. I'm Mr. Kirk's assistant. There's an issue over here for which Mr. Kirk needs your presence.

Jude frowned. "What's going on?" "Mr. Kirk says that he will tell you personally once you're here." After saying that, Charles hung up.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 600-Seeing that Jude was holding the phone without saying anything, Simon couldn't resist going forward and asking, "Sir Jude suddenly came back to himself. After a second, he said, "Prepare the car immediately." "Sir, what's going on?" Jude's face was very twisted up now. "I'm not sure. Let's go over there and see how things go." At this, Simon quickly went out to arrange the car.

Later, Jude and Simon both arrived at a hotel. It was all quiet inside, as though it was under lockdown.

Jude had just walked in when Charles brought a large group of people out.

Jude was stunned at the sight of this.

As someone who had been in a high position himself, this used to be the kind of thing he did. Now that he was seeing someone else do it, Jude suddenly got a dissonant feeling.

He also felt like the person in charge had changed.

“This way please, Mr. Morrison Senior.” Charles led Jude to the second floor. Soon, they all arrived at the door to the presidential suite.

Stepping inside, he saw Daphne and a naked man both kneeling on the ground.

Opposite them was Kirk, sitting in a leather chair.

Kirk’s expression was so thunderous that it was scary. The beauty mark at the corner of his eye somehow made him look even more devilish.

“Uncle Jude.” Kirk’s unbothered voice broke the silence in the room. Yet, at the same time, it seemed to make the temperature plummet.

The two people on their knees trembled.

“Yes.” Jude walked over to Kirk’s side with the support of his walking stick. Kirk got up and helped Jude into a chair.

1/3 +15 BONUS Jude’s stern gaze fell on Daphne. Even though he already knew the answer, he asked, “What’s going on here?” “I’m so sorry to call you here so late, Uncle Jude. But you’re the only one who can handle this.” Kirk’s tone remained bland.

Jude looked at Kirk suspiciously. He couldn’t figure out what Kirk was thinking at all.

“Tell me,” he said, deciding that he could only take things one step at a time.

Kirk turned. “Charles.” Charles walked in from the doorway immediately. “Sir.” “Tell Uncle Jude about everything that happened here. There’s no need to hide anything.” “Yes, sir.” Charles looked at Jude and recounted exactly how he had caught Daphne cheating. Of course, there were some key differences in what he said and what was the truth.

For example, this man hadn't bumped into Daphne and flirted with her out of nowhere. He had been intentionally placed in that restaurant.

Also, they hadn't been found out because of Jack's phone call. Rather, the information had come from the man Daphne had been caught "cheating" with.

"That's the situation," Charles said expressionlessly.

"One of the company's staff found out that the madam was cheating. That's why I brought some men to seal things up here." Jude's expression was grim. However, it wasn't because of Daphne's infidelity.

Rather, it was because there were simply too many strange aspects to this situation.

He looked up at Kirk and said, "Kirk, how do you plan to deal with this?" Kirk smiled slightly. "You're my uncle. That's part of why I asked you to come. I think it's best that you deal with this." Jude frowned. "That wouldn't be right. It's your private matter. I think you should deal with it yourself." Jude thought that Kirk would push the matter back to him, but Kirk smiled instead. "If you say 2/3 +15 BONUS Jude couldn't relax. He kept having the feeling that Kirk had been waiting for that.

"The Morrison family doesn't condone cheating. As such," Kirk's voice suddenly became sinister, "this marriage is over!" "I don't approve!" Jude levered himself up using his walking stick.

Right then, he understood what Kirk was trying to do. If he wasn't able to see it at this point, he would truly have wasted all his years of life.
