Chapter1 Chapter 241: Anderson goes to visit his friend Alucard. 3

A blistering atmosphere began to leave Victor's body, "Let's heat things up."

Victor reached forward, as his eyes began to glow blood red while the magic circles on his gloves also began to glow madly.

Anderson braced himself for any attack since he could feel that something big was coming.

"...Darling, this is insane..." As someone who controlled fire, Violet knew how irrational the attack Victor was preparing right now was.

Suddenly.

Fushhh.....

A fire greatsword began to be created in front of Victor.

Gulp.

Violet swallowed hard.

'Just how much power did he contain in that sword?' Violet could clearly feel, even though it looked like a simple greatsword, that sword was condensed with quite powerful fire.

Victor raised the fiery sword up and...

BOOOOMMMMMMMMMMM!

A pillar of fire started to shoot out of his sword.

Anderson's smile distorted, his teeth began to change and become sharper like wolf fangs:

"HAHAHAHAHAHA~, FINALLY YOU'RE SERIOUS!?"

Victor narrowed his eyes, "... Serious?" The pillar of fire began to cover Victor's entire body, his eyes shone with the color of his fire, and he spoke:

"Make no mistake, this is not even 10% of my power." He wasn't wrong, considering all his power was only released when he transformed.

"Eh...?" Anderson's smile died.

Suddenly the pillar of fire disappeared, and the greatsword that Victor was holding was glowing brightly. The heat emitting from that sword was insane!

It was much stronger than before.

But strangely... The heat wasn't melting the surrounding ice floor.

"Try not to die, my new friend." And the moment he said that, Victor attacked with the fire sword vertically:

"Purge."

FUSHHHHHHH

A giant tsunami of hellish fire flew towards Anderson at a speed that few could react to.

The blade was burning everything in front of it, leaving a trail of devastation in its wake.

"..." Watching the immense power that was approaching him, Anderson flashed a small smile:

'In that case, I'll make you serious.' He really wanted to see the full 'potential' of this man.

His eyes began to glow sapphire blue as his expression turned a little animalistic, then he opened his mouth wide and began sucking in all the air around him.

And as he did so, a white power began to cover his body. For a few seconds, everyone present could see animal fur growing all over his chest:

"This attack..." Scathach narrowed her eyes as she seemed to recognize it and knew it very well. She knew exactly what the man was trying to do.

'And to think that woman taught this kind of technique to her youngest son.' She thought.

"You better cover your ears." Scathach warned as she did as she said.

"Eh...?" Nobody understood why Scathach said this, and they reacted too late.

ROOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOAR

"UGH!" Everyone quickly covered their ears. That howl was too loud!

Anderson roared towards Victor while the power of his body seemed to concentrate in front of his mouth.

And then!

BOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

A massive beam of white power shot out of his throat and flew towards Victor's attack.

As if they were two forces that were being attracted to each other.

The two powers clashed, and...

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

Crack, Crack, Crack.

"Oh?" Victor's smile grew, and he pointed his hand forward, his hand started to catch fire, and he said:

"Let's get warmer!"

Victor's words came to reality with a sudden power surge in the attack he had previously unleashed.

"..." Anderson's eyes narrowed, an oppressive aura began to cover his body, and...

BOOOOOOOOOOM!

More power seemed to come out of his mouth!

The two attacks fought against each other, a battle of power and wills, trying to dominate each other. The ground around them had already disappeared from existence since Victor's ice couldn't hold against the power he and Anderson unleashed.

"What the fuck is this!? This is bullshit, I've never seen a wolf do that kind of thing before!" Violet couldn't help but speak as she held her hands to her ears.

"You've never fought an Anderson-level wolf before, Violet." Ruby replied in a neutral tone as she covered her ears.

"I know, but... This is still bullshit!"

"Well, you're right about that." Ruby laughed a little.

"No wonder wolves are considered the rivals of us vampires." Eleanor commented,

"I don't think all wolves are like Anderson, in a way, he's special. After all, he's the son of the king." Natasha added.

"Whooaaaa, so many lights." Pepper's eyes were shining, and she looked like a child who was seeing fireworks for the first time, but then her face suddenly started to perk up, and she screamed:

"I'm literally watching a power struggle! Holy Fucking Jesus!"

"..." Lacus, Siena, and Scathach narrowed their eyes when they heard Pepper say:

'Where is she learning to speak those words?' The three thought.

"...?" Natasha looked at Pepper.

"Power struggle?"

"Yes! A power struggle! THE POWER STRUGGLE!" Important things must be said three times!

"This is amazing! It feels like I'm watching an anime!"

Sasha woke up from her stupor and commented, "Now that you mention it... That's true."

Nod, Nod.

Ruby agreed with the two girls.

"Huh?" Natasha didn't understand anything.

But no one seemed interested in enlightening the woman with knowledge.

"The energy is changing." Scathach spoke in a neutral voice.

"...?" The girls who were distracted started to look at the fight again, and they saw the power start to act strangely.

The two powers began to unite and soared into the sky like a rocket.

The power easily pierced through the ice 'ceiling' that Victor created.

Kaguya narrowed her eyes a little and opened a hole in her 'realm' to let it out. The two powers rose to the Nightingale sky and quickly reached the stratosphere.

However, they soon reached critical mass, which was then followed by...

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

FUSHHHHHHHHH.

For the first time in its entire history, the Nightingale skies had a 'sun'.

...

"Master." Alexios said as he appeared next to Vlad, he was wearing beach clothes and had a 'wreath' of flowers on his head; he was clearly enjoying his vacation.

"Our space was violat-."

Vlad raised his hand.

"It's okay, this is just a game between two kids." Vlad flashed a small smile and looked away, precisely speaking, toward the window.

"...?" Alexios looked to the side, and when he saw the 'sun', his mouth opened wide, his expression was one of pure shock. He could clearly feel that the amount of energy in that 'sun' was insane.

"...Is this...Is this child's play?"

"Of course." Vlad flashed a small smile as he kept looking at the sun in the Nightingale sky and thought:

'If he wasn't able to do something like that, he wouldn't be worthy of being called 'king' of the night.'

"...I'm sorry to say, but... Your sense of child's play is completely broken." Alexios sighed.

"Hahahaha." Vlad laughed amusedly, "In my day, if vampires couldn't do something like this, they would be considered failures."

"...." Alexios was silent, and he didn't know what to say when he learned of this new information.

"Just go back to your vacation, you can come back when you feel satisfied."

"Yes, Yes. I will." Alexios, at this point, actually thought it was a good idea for him to take a vacation.

'...Before I go back to Hawaii, I'm going to visit someone.' Alexios thought as he opened the gate.

...

A silence fell on the place where Victor was while the two men continued to stare at each other. They didn't even care about the 'spectacle' they created.

Only one thing was on their minds right now.

A strong opponent was in front of me!

Victor suddenly made a move!

He started walking quietly towards Anderson....

Step, Step.

Anderson did the same, while he had a big smile on his face just like his opponent, as he started walking towards him.

"...Perfect..." Victor's voice started off low but slowly started to rise:

"You didn't disappoint me!" He clenched his fist, and the magic symbols on the glove began to glow brightly!

"I knew you were strong... I could feel it from the start, but this?" He clenched his fist.

Suddenly, the two men disappeared and then appeared standing in front of each other.

BOOOOM! BOOOOM! BOOOOM!

Several air blasts occurred around, as they attacked so fast that few could see what was happening!

"I didn't expect this!" Anderson's fist began to glow brightly, and he lunged at Victor's stomach.

An ice armor was created on Victor's chest, and it fended off Anderson's attack.

"I must say that I am extremely satisfied!"

Victor's smile grew, and then:

"HAHAHAHAHAHAHA!" He laughed with a maniacal laugh, his body began to be covered by lightning, and then he punched towards Anderson's face.

But surprisingly, the attack didn't reach Anderson, and the man dodged by fractions of an inch away and then jumped back to create some distance.

The two men faced each other.

A dark aura began to leave Victor's body.

A white aura began to leave Anderson's body.

They positioned themselves in their respective martial arts stances, the two men's smiles were the same, their atmosphere was the same, and they only had one goal!

"Let's have fun, Anderson!"

"Let's have fun, Alucard!"

The two disappeared again and appeared in the middle of the arena as punches began to be exchanged at high speed.

The two were trading punches in the arena, they were dodging each other's attacks, taking each other's attacks, and treating the arena as their personal playground.

BOOOOM, BOOOOM, BOOOOM!

Looking at the fight ahead, Yuran couldn't help but comment with a shocked face, "...I didn't believe it, even though I saw the video..."

"Hmm...?" Julian looked at Yuran.

"I thought it was deception, a forgery by the King of Vampires to make supernatural beings believe that this kind of aberration existed."

"Aberration?" Liza was drawn to the conversation.

"Indeed."

"A vampire who holds the power of the 3 strongest vampire Count houses, I honestly wasn't believing that."

"But..." Yuran looked at Victor.

The man would sometimes cover his fists with fire, sometimes he would create a giant sword out of ice, sometimes he would cover his body with lightning and 'run' through the arena.

He was using all three elements quite surprisingly well, in Yuran's opinion... However, the most impressive thing is his control of the ice element since he was basically switching weapons mid-fight!

Sometimes he wore gloves, sometimes he used a shield to defend himself, sometimes he attacked with a spear.

It was pretty obvious that he didn't have 'master' level experience with some of the weapons he created, but... He seemed to have 'experience' in using them roughly and clumsily like a mad warrior.

Victor and Anderson broke up again.

Victor stomped the ground, and soon a greatsword was created again, and then, as Victor took the Greatsword, suddenly, the sword was covered by fire and lightning.

Anderson, seeing this, started to prepare himself too, as fur started to grow on his body, and sharp claws started to grow on his hands, while his arm was covered by a white aura.

And soon...

Two giant white wolf claws were created.

"Grrr..." He growled a little, and slowly the pressure in his body increased until:

ROAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!

He roared to the sky as if announcing his presence to everyone.

The presence of an Alpha!

A mighty Alpha was in front of everyone!

"HAHAHAHAHAHA~!" And that only made Victor's laughter grow.

His body went up in flames, and like a mad warrior, he rushed towards his opponent and attacked with his sword!

Anderson did the same as he attacked with his claws.

CLANG!!!

The sound of two metal objects colliding was heard, followed by a burst of air and a shockwave, but that didn't stop them both.

They started trading blows again, and this time it wasn't limited to the ground!

They sometimes fought in the air, sometimes they fought upside down, the entire 'space' of the arena became a 'floor' for the two men.

"This is fucking bullshit..." Yuran couldn't help but comment. Just what was he watching?

He couldn't accept reality even if it was in front of him.

And another thing...

He looked at Anderson, and he felt his instincts itching to duck his head; 'Has he been hiding his power all this time?' He didn't remember Anderson being this strong.

"WW-WHOAAAAA!" Pepper suddenly shouted excitedly:

"This is fucking amazing!"

Slap!

Lacus hit Pepper on the head:

"Language."

"Ouch..." Pepper held her head, and then she looked at her sister with a look that said, 'why did you hit me?'

"There are children around." She pointed to a spot, and at that spot, a girl was standing while looking at the 'fight'.

Pepper looked where Lacus pointed and saw Ophis, "Huh...? Hadn't she gone home?"

"...Ugh."

"And besides, you are a child, you mustn't speak bad words!"

Chapter2 Chapter 242: Alpha Werewolf vs. Vampire Count.

Pepper was speechless as she looked at her sister with a shocked face as her brain processed what her sister said.

Her face started to get a little red, "HMMMM" her cheeks puffed out like a squirrel's, and she screamed:

"I'm not a child!" Suddenly a large object hit Roberta's shield, and the object easily passed through Roberta's barrier, passing within inches of Pepper's side.

BOOOOOOM!!

The object hit the ground and created a crater.

"Eh...?"

Pepper swallowed hard and looked at the object that passed her.

And she saw that it was the same man who was fighting Victor.

"What-..." Pepper was about to say something but fell silent when she heard Siena's scream.

"VICTOR! Don't throw weird stuff in our direction! What if it hit Pepper!?" Veins were bulging in Siena's head.

Nod, Nod.

Lacus nodded in agreement with her older sister's words.

"Watch it." She spoke in a neutral tone while looking at Victor.

But...

The man's gaze didn't even reach them. He didn't even seem to be listening to them, which was impossible due to vampire hearing, which means...

"He is very focused on the fight." Ruby explained, "When he's in this state...-" Before Ruby could finish, murderous pressure came out of Scathach's body, and a demonic voice was heard by everyone:

"Victor."

"..." Victor looked blankly at Scathach.

"Pay attention to your surroundings. What if you hurt Pepper?" Her eyes gleamed dangerously, and her hair was floating as if defying gravity.

"..." Natasha and Sasha were speechless when they heard what Scathach said. They wanted to say to her: 'Woman, you literally torture your daughters with the excuse of training, they wouldn't get hurt with just that!'

The mother and daughter knew that despite being called 'torture', it wasn't exactly 'torture'. Scathach's training was just too spartan for the current century.

In a way, it can be called 'old fashioned'.

"..." Victor stopped looking at Scathach and looked at Pepper.

His eyes sparkled for a few seconds, and he appeared in front of Pepper.

Victor extended his hand towards Pepper.

"Hii...." Pepper got a little scared with Victor's current appearance, he was very 'serious', and the aura that was emanating from his body was terrifying!

She closed her eyes a little when she saw Victor's hand reaching for her.

Pat, Pat.

Sounds of hair being stroked were heard alongside the feeling of a gentle pressure on the top of her head.

"...?" Pepper slowly opened her eyes and saw Victor's gentle little smile:

"I'm sorry about that, Pepper."

badump, Badump.

Pepper's heart started to beat faster.

She opened her mouth in shock. She didn't expect to see that expression on Victor's face, and her face turned a little red.

She swallowed hard and spoke with difficulty:

"It's okay-..." Before she could say anything again, Victor's eyes narrowed, and his smile grew, then he looked straight ahead.

ROOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOAR!

A wolf's roar boomed and echoed in the surroundings, and soon a man with white fur all over his body was seen.

The man looked at Victor, and the smile of a predator appeared on his face.

Victor suddenly grabbed Pepper's arm.

"Eh...?"

He spun a little and threw the girl towards Scathach.

"EHHHHHHH?"

And she wasn't the only one.

He approached Lacus and Siena and did the same:

"What-." Siena didn't have time to react.

"Don't touch-." Lacus didn't even have time to say anything.

Soon the bodies of the three ladies were flying towards Scathach.

Victor looked at Roberta, "Don't be lazy."

"!!!" Roberta's whole body trembled, and a smile appeared on her face:

"Yes, Master." Her eyes glowed violet for a few seconds, and she looked at the group.

Scathach narrowed her eyes and created a wall of ice to 'gently' catch her daughters.

""Ugh."" The three sisters hit the ice wall, and their whole bodies ached.

"...Mother, why didn't you-..." Lacus wanted to ask why her mother didn't catch them, but she didn't have time for that when Roberta suddenly appeared in front of the girls and created an even bigger shield.

This time, the shield was violet in color.

And before everyone could react.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

An explosion of unbridled power burst, generating waves of destruction from its epicenter!

Victor and Anderson clashed again, and, this time, the fight was taken to the air.

BOOOOM, BOOOOM, BOOOOM, BOOOOM!

Several bursts of air were heard by everyone, followed by:

"HAHAHAHAHAHAHAHA~"

The Laughter of two maniacs.

"Ugh, they're overreacting, and we're getting caught in the crossfire. If this keeps up, we're going to get hurt." Eleanor spoke with an annoyed face.

Although she didn't mind it one bit, after all, she had her regeneration, but even so, she didn't like to feel pain if she didn't have to.

"You're wrong." Sasha, Violet, and Ruby all spoke at the same time.

"Huh...?"

"When we're around, Victor always pays attention to us..."

"But what about Pepper...?"

"Anderson's body didn't hit my sister, right?" Ruby continued.

"..." Eleanor was silent.

Ruby looked up to the sky, "Darling will never put us in danger, no matter the circumstance." She spoke in a neutral voice.

"..." Sasha and Violet narrowed their eyes when they saw Ruby's current face and felt her emotions through their connection.

"Ruby-." Sasha was going to say something, but Natashia interrupted.

"Scathach, get us in the air, staying on the ground is giving me neck pain."

"..." Scathach looked at Natasha.

Seeing the woman's eyes, Scathach seemed to understand Natasha's intentions and nodded:

"Okay."

Scathach lightly tapped her toes on the ground.

Quake, quake.

A small earthquake started to be felt by all the girls.

"...Something is coming from below." Siena, who was getting up, spoke, and the moment she said this:

FUSHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH

A gigantic pillar of ice was created.

And soon, Victor's group was in 'heaven'.

"Ugh, she could at least warn us." Violet grumbled.

"Don't ask for the impossible, this is Scathach we're talking about." Sasha grumbled along with Violet.

"You're right..." Violet spoke with a smug face.

A portal appeared near the group, and soon Natalia appeared with a smile on her face.

"..." The two women looked at Natalia.

"Did you know this would happen?"

"I didn't know, but when things involve Countess Scathach, irrational things tend to happen, so I ran away."

"Ohhhh." Sasha and Violet felt that what the maid said made a lot of sense.

... They were clearly treating Scathach like an irregular, crazy, psychopath...

Wait, she is, isn't she?

"Pffft..." Natasha held back her laughter when she saw Scathach's gaze.

"Humpf," Scathach snorted and turned away, a mild pout visible on her countenance.

"...Wha-..." Natasha couldn't believe what she saw. Did she just huff? What the fuck?

"..." Ruby looked down, and she made a gesture with her hand.

And just as it happened just now, a great pillar of ice rose into the air.

"...I will not thank you, daughter of Scathach."

"I wasn't expecting it anyway." Ruby spoke in a cold tone.

"I see." Liza replied and turned back to the fight.

Ruby did the same as Liza and went back to looking at the fight.

And as if they were all in sync, the girls started looking at the fight too.

Although they are fighting at a much higher speed than normal.

Everyone could still follow what was happening.

Unlike the other times they'd fought, the two were hurting each other now.

Wrong, it would be more accurate to say that they weren't avoiding each other's blows anymore.

Victor was cut by Anderson's claws. Anderson had his chest pierced by Victor's hand.

Sometimes Anderson was punched by the ice gloves, and sometimes, he had his arm cut off by Victor's greatsword.

"That fool... He's switching weapons during the fight." Scathach flashed a small smile.

"Yes. That fighting style is pretty rare." Natasha spoke.

"Indeed." Scathach spoke.

'So that's why he wanted to become a 'master' at everything, huh?' Scathach could now understand one of Victor's goals.

If you're going to say it simply, he became a 'God of War'.

Why god of war? Because only the god of war had dominion over all weapons.

Even Scathach did not have 'complete mastery' in all weapons.

After all, she still preferred using the spear compared to other weapons.

'What he's looking for is something far beyond what I looked for.' To Scathach, this was an absurd thought, but...

She liked it, that's how it should be! If you are a man, you must fight for your goals, however stupid and irrational they may be!

A big smile started to appear on her face.

'Ahhh~, it's been a while since I felt this excited... I'm getting excited!' Scathach's eyes began to glow blood red, and she began to feel a strong urge to train again.

'Wait... Don't tell me?'

Scathach looked around, precisely speaking, she looked at the girls.

Seeing Violet and Sasha's clenched fists.

Seeing Lacus' and Pepper's puzzled looks.

Siena's annoyed look.

Eleanor's determined gaze.

She finally understood Victor's purpose.

"I see..." She flashed a gentle little smile: 'No matter how much time passes, he's still a gentle fool for the ones he loves, huh?'

Victor and Anderson separated and assumed a distance from each other.

Both were completely bruised and with blood oozing from their bodies.

But despite their bloodied appearance, the two men's smiles never left their faces.

"Let's level up, My Friend."

"Oh? I like that idea."

Suddenly.

The auras of the two men died completely, and a silence descended on the battlefield.

'The end is approaching...' Scathach could deduce that their combat would end at any moment.

Crack.

The sound of bones breaking shattered the silence in the courtyard.

Everyone looked at Anderson.

"Grrrr...." The man's eyes began to glow azure blue, hair began to grow from his body, the man's expression became even more animalistic and slowly began to change.

The man began to grow, as even more powerful muscles began to be created, a wolf's tail appeared behind him.

ROAAAAAAAAAAAAAAR

He roared to the sky.

The atmosphere started to get heavy as if gravity was multiplying in the immediate vicinity.

FUSHHHHHHHHHHHH

A pillar of Light ascended to the heavens.

"... This feeling." Liza broke into a cold sweat as she felt the power of an 'Alpha.'

"HAHAHAHAHAHAHAH~" Victor laughed with genuine happiness, he clenched his fist, and the magic circle of his gloves began to glow brightly:

"This is how it has to be, otherwise it wouldn't be fun!"

His eyes began to glow more intensely, and a suffocating heat began to leave his body as his hair began to defy gravity.

"Will he change into the shape of your family?" Sasha asked Violet as she felt the atmosphere around her warmer.

"..." Violet didn't answer and just kept watching intently.

Sasha looked like she was going to say something but fell silent when she felt something familiar coming from Victor's body.

She quickly looked at him and saw that clouds of lightning began to form near him, and lightning began to dance around him as if nature itself was celebrating the rise of a new power.

"Don't tell me..."

Rumble, Rumble.

"Oh?" A small smile appeared on Natasha's face, "Does he have the form of my family too?"

Natasha's question was answered by a large yellow pillar of lightning that rose from Victor's body.

"Pfft.... HAHHAHAHAHA~, He really does!" Natasha laughed like a madwoman, while she looked very happy.

SLASH!

Anderson used his claws and tore apart the pillar of light surrounding him, and soon everyone could see his werewolf form.

He was a werewolf over 2 meters tall, muscular, he had a huge tattoo on his right arm, and everyone could see little 'golden lights' coming out of the creature's fur.

'As expected... He inherited the blood of that woman...' Scathach seemed to have understood something when she looked at those 'lights'.

"Sister..." Pepper went behind Siena. She was feeling strange...

her body was shaking when she saw that creature.

"...Pepper?" Siena looked back, and when she saw her sister's state, she was silent and let her do what she wanted.

Violet felt someone holding her hand, and to see it was Ophis...

"... Are you okay?" She wasn't good at dealing with kids.

Nod

Ophis gave a simple nod.

"I see." Violet spoke and squeezed the little girl's hand a bit as suddenly a thought crossed Violet's mind, and she quickly stopped holding Ophis's hand.

"...?"

"I mean, you feel weird, right?" She was talking about Ophis' 'curse'.

"... Violet is good... Father, good memories..." She spoke a few words.

"...I see..." Violet flashed a small, gentle smile and took the little girl's hand.

"...What is this strange feeling...?" Sasha asked the question all newer vampires wanted to know the answer to.

"When we say werewolves are the opposite of vampires." Scathach began to speak.

"That's literally it." She pointed at Anderson.

She looked at the group, "They are a species contrary to us."

Natashia added, "It's like angels and demons, we are opposites of each other."

"And consequently, we have a 'little' instinctive fear when we meet werewolf 'royalty'." Scathach finished.

"..." The girls were silent while they were processing what they had just understood.

Scathach and Natasha smiled.

"Of course... It also means the same to the other party."

"...?" The girls didn't understand what the two women were implying.

But when they felt the atmosphere get heavier than it already was, they immediately looked at Victor.

"He doesn't have the perfect transformation yet." Natasha spoke curiously.

"...For now... Just give him time." Scathach spoke.

"Indeed."

Much like Sasha's transformation, Victor had his entire body covered in lightning. In this form, he didn't have long bat wings, but instead, his limbs had a high concentration of power. Precisely speaking, his legs were brimming with lightning power.

Victor took a deep breath and let it out of his chest as he opened his blood-red eyes and looked at Anderson.

Vampire and Werewolf look at each other.

A silence fell on the place until Victor's body seemed to distort in the air, and he displayed a big smile:

"I wonder if you've ever been kicked at the speed of sound."

RUMBLE!

Chapter3 Chapter 243: Special being.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!!!!!!

Rumble, Rumble!

A great burst of air, along with a crash of lightning, was heard by all present.

"Holy-... Is this the fight of two high-level beings?" Siena spoke, but the moment she said it, her face had a strange expression.

'At some point, I started to consider Victor as a high-level being?' She was perplexed to think about it unconsciously.

"He received good training..." Eleanor couldn't help but comment as she watched the scene in front of her.

Victor attacked Anderson's face with his feet, but...

The scene of seeing the werewolf flying was not seen.

Instead, what happened was:

"Yes, I've already been kicked at the speed of sound." Anderson parried Victor's attack with his arm.

"Oh?" Victor's smile threatened to distort his entire face.

Frankly, it was very bizarre!

That was Liza's opinion and that of Anderson's group.

Grab! Crack!

Anderson quickly makes a move, and he grabs Victor's foot, everyone hears the sounds of bones breaking, but no one seems to care as he spins around Victor in the air.

FUSHHHHHHHHH.

He rotated so fast that a small hurricane formed in his place.

"Oaaaaaaa!"

He threw Victor skyward.

His eyes glowed azure blue, a white power covered his body, that power condensed in his claws as he raised both claws to the sky and made an animal biting gesture with his hands.

"Can he use this technique too...?" Scathach's smile grew.

'That woman raised them well, huh?' Scathach laughed a little.

"That technique?" Natasha didn't understand what Scathach was talking about, but when she paid attention to the man's position, a memory of a woman seemed to overwhelm him.

"Oh... I remember now." Natasha narrowed her eyes as she looked at the wolf's appearance: 'As expected, he inherited that woman's blood... And that disgusting power too.' She knew that this technique couldn't be used if the individual did not have something special.

And what is this special something?

The blood of a deity, a deity that is extremely close to animals, specifically the wolf.

'If he receives this attack directly, being a very strong vampire or not, he will receive severe damage.' Natasha looked dangerously at Anderson; 'If that happens...' Killer thoughts started running through Natasha's head.

"Stop."

"Eh...?" Natasha's thoughts stopped racing wildly, and she looked at Scathach.

"If you stop this fight, Victor will hate you forever."

"!!!" Natasha's entire body shook when she heard Scathach's warning.

"He doesn't like it when someone steals his 'prey' and ruins his 'fun'."

"..." Natasha was silent since she understood this personality of Victor too, but despite understanding, she... She didn't like it.

Her insides twisted when she saw Victor get hurt, and she felt that if she didn't know about Victor's personality, she would practically jump up and stop the fight.

... She looked at Violet and saw the woman's clenched fists.

And it looks like she wasn't the only one who thought so. This time, she looked at Ruby, who, despite her neutral expression, was looking dangerously at Anderson.

Her eyes clearly gave away the woman's annoyance.

"..." She flashed a gentle little smile and thought, 'I guess that's what it means to be a good wife?'

In the same way that Victor lets his wives do whatever they want and always supports them in whatever they want to do, the same applies to Violet, Sasha, and Ruby.

Even though they hated to see him get hurt, they never interfered in Victor's fight because they knew.

After an enemy that messes with his family, the second thing Victor hates the most is someone ruining his fun.

"What are you talking about?" Sasha asked when she saw her mother look at her.

Natashia flashed a small smile, "...You'll see soon."

"...?" Sasha looked at her mother, confused.

The moment Natashia said that everyone heard:

"The beast devours the heavens."

FUSHHHHHHHHH!

A white power came out of Anderson's arm and flew to the skies.

Slowly the power began to take the form of something.

ROOOOOOOOOOOOAR!

The white wolf's head flew skyward towards Victor.

"What!? This is... This is her power... how can he use it?" Yuran looked quite distracted.

"..." Victor's eyes began to glow blood-red, and he did several somersaults in the air.

Soon, he is standing on Kaguya's 'ceiling' of darkness,

He looks down and sees immense power flying towards him.

'This feeling...'

badump, Badump!

Victor touched his heart.

He definitely didn't expect this. He didn't expect this opponent to be this strong, he's completely shocked.

... And that's definitely not bad!

"HAHAHAHAHA~!"

Rumble, Rumble, Rumble.

His body began to glow brightly in lightning.

'My Friend, you are definitely not a disappointment.' For the first time, he thought with genuine happiness, he had found a strong opponent of the same generation as himself, an opponent that could force him to go all out.

RUMBLE...

Lightning sounds were heard by everyone.

With Victor's current speed, he could dodge Anderson's attack in the blink of an eye since, in his perception, the power would take forever to get close to him, but...

Why would he do that?

Indeed, why would he do something so boring? A worthy opponent was in front of him, and he must face him open-hearted!

RUMBLE!

His fists began to glow brightly, and slowly, he began to 'fall' towards the wolf.

Seeing that Victor was within his reach.

Anderson folds his hands, "Catch."

The wolf closes its mouth on Victor's entire body.

But...

The result that Anderson and his group had hoped for did not happen.

"...Bullshit." Anderson couldn't help but say with a big smile on his face when he saw that the man just 'held' the wolf's mouth!

"Little Wolf, be polite, and go back to your owner!" Victor punches the wolf in the face!

And soon, the power returned to Anderson.

"This is fucking BULLSHIT!" Yuran practically screamed, he completely lost his posture, but no one could blame him. After all, he was one of the few who knew what technique Victor used.

'That man... Wrong, that monster is dangerous! He's a monster! How can he just 'slap' the power of a god? Huh?' Yuran started to look at Victor more carefully.

"Pfft... HAHHAHAHAHAHA!" Scathach laughed like a woman possessed.

"Hmm?" Liza looked at Scathach.

Scathach laughed for a while until she looked at the woman and said:

"When you're really close to him, you get used to that kind of irrationality."

"...Just what did Darling eat to get so strong in just 1 year?" Violet couldn't understand what she was seeing, she's seen enough of Victor's display of irrationality, but this was the first time she's seen something of this level.

"..." Ruby's face turned a little red when she heard Violet's words.

"...Oya, OYA?" Natasha flashed a suggestive smile as she looked at the woman with long red hair.

"...Hmph."

"..." Violet looked at Ruby, and seeing her friend's embarrassed face, she understood pretty much everything with one look.

"... It's decided, he will be sucked." Violet's smile grew, and thoughts that weren't safe for children started popping into her head.

But... There was one little problem that Violet forgot about... Precisely speaking, a little girl.

"... Eat? Suck? Huh?" Ophis looked completely confused by the thoughts she was 'hearing.'

"!!!" Violet quickly lets go of the girl's hand.

"...Violet, what did you do?" Scathach asked.

"Hmm... I-..." Violet broke out in a cold sweat, and she didn't know what to do.

Ophis looked at Violet with a neutral gaze of hers, and she asked in a monotone, "...Violet, what is sex?"

"...." A deafening silence fell around the area, and it was as if a supernatural creature cut through the silence of the place.

"Violet..." All the women looked at Violet with serious looks. Just what did she do for Ophis to ask that?

Violet started to use her brain as she thought of various ways to come up with an excuse but in the end...

She gave up. If you can't fix the problem, just make the problem worse! And everything will be fine!

Trust her. Those are the words of a wise woman.

Soon, she began to explain in a teacher's tone:

"Well, sex is when..."

Slap.

Ruby and Sasha smacked her on the head, "Stop!"

Ouch.

"What do you think you're saying to a five-year-old?"

"But I didn't say anything! She just read my-..." Violet would grumble that it wasn't her fault, but she couldn't.

"!!?" The girls looked at the explosion site and saw that the entire area around Anderson had become one enormous crater.

The man himself appeared completely unharmed.

'This resistance is insane...!' Eleanor thought when she saw that the man had no visible wounds on his body.

"... My garden..."

"..." The girls rolled their eyes when they heard Scathach's useless worry, what is this cheap sentimentality?

The garden did not exist from the beginning! It was just trees around!

Victor came down from the skies and looked into Anderson's sky blue eyes, and then he did and said something that left everyone shocked.

He undoes his transformation and says:

"I am satisfied, for today... Shall we enter the house? I'll ask someone to fix you a drink."

"...Huh!?"

...

Hearing the noise, Vlad commented to himself, "The fight is over, huh?"

Several shadows fall behind Vlad's throne:

"Should we investigate the details of the fight, master?" The leader of the men spoke in a respectful tone.

"It's not necessary, if the Count isolated the place, it's because he wanted to fight in peace without anyone getting in his way." Vlad shared his thoughts.

"Or because he wanted to hide something."

"... That too." Vlad continued, as he looked to the right, his gaze seemed to pass through all the walls and fell on top of a person, precisely speaking of a woman:

A woman with long white hair and blue eyes.

"..." The woman stops doing what she is doing and looks into the man's eyes:

"Husband?" Her smile blossomed as if it were the first spring.

"...I have things to do, let me know if 'it' makes a move." Vlad spoke to his shadows

"Yes, Master."

Chapter4 Chapter 244: Misunderstandings Happen.

Sasha was the first to wake up from the stupor Victor had caused everyone, and she quickly asked:

"WW-Wait, Darling, are you just going to stop the fight like that?" She couldn't even believe she was saying that sentence.

In her mind, it was unthinkable. Wrong, it was completely impossible for Victor to stop a fight.

"Yes."

"...." Everyone's mouth opened as they were shocked again when they heard his short, simple answer.

What was that answer? Those who knew Victor before felt awkward at this simple answer. They couldn't describe the way they were feeling right now.

But it was a strange and incomprehensible feeling, especially on Scathach's part, since she was 100% sure that Victor wouldn't do something like this all his life.

"..." Seeing everyone's reaction, Victor flashed a small smile and continued:

"I've already achieved my goal by fighting Anderson..." Victor started to explain his thinking to the girls.

"What was your objective?" Violet asked, not understanding.

"..." Natasha showed a small smile and closed her eyes; she already knew what his next words would be.

"You're all now motivated, right?" Victor looked specifically at Sasha, Violet, and Scathach.

"..." The women were silent when they heard what Victor said.

"Also, by fighting him, I showed my master how much I've evolved, and..." Victor looked into Scathach's eyes.

"..." Scathach stared into Victor's eyes in silence.

"I did it with the aim of her getting me to train properly this time."

If there's one thing Victor learned this year, it was...

To hold back. He learned to wait, to acquire the best 'dish'. He realized that when he fought an opponent at the right time, and when both were at a very high level,

The satisfaction he'd feel would be immense, far greater than the satisfaction of fighting without a suitable place.

"...Heh~." She flashed a small smile. It was a seductive smile, a dangerous smile:

"That was an inevitable fate, Victor." Does he think he's going to run away after showing me this? Hell no!

"... Good to know." Victor didn't seem intimidated by the pressure radiating off of Scathach's body since, to him, it looked like the woman had just gotten more excited than usual.

"Of course..." Victor's smile suddenly grew unnaturally, and he looked at Anderson with a gaze glowing blood-red:

"I honestly did not expect this result." He was honest.

"I have to say, I didn't expect the new Count to be more special than I thought." Acknowledging Victor's explanation, Anderson understood why he stopped the fight suddenly, but, despite understanding and being agreeable, he was not satisfied.

"Hahaha~, calm your nerves, my friend. We will fight again, but not here... not now..."

"After all, for beings like us, this kind of place is..." Victor looked around him, "Pretty weak for a fight of this level."

"..." Anderson looked around and saw the destruction caused by the two.

Literally speaking, the ancient garden of Scathach now looked like a desolate wasteland. It was as if several powerful bombs had been dropped on this place, and marks of struggle could be seen everywhere.

FUSHHHHHHHH.

Suddenly, a little girl appeared on Victor's shoulder:

"Oh?" Victor looked at Ophis.

"Father, cool."

"Heh~"

"Better than your other father?"

"Of course!" She flashed a gentle little smile.

"..." Eleanor and Natalia were silent, her face almost threatening to display a smile, but they couldn't do that!

He's the king, you know!?

"Dawg, Strong."

"...." Anderson's eyes narrowed a little. He didn't like being called 'dog' at all.

"Hey, she's a child, don't take it too seriously." Victor's eyes gleamed dangerously, and this time no amusement could be seen in his eyes. It was pretty clear that if he continued to look at Ophis like that, if he continued to stare in that threatening manner, something good was not going to happen to him.

"...." Anderson's eyes returned to normal, and soon his transformation was undone:

"I'm sorry about that, our race has a little problem with the word 'Dog'."

"Well, deal with it?" Victor didn't care about the problems of an entire race.

"..." Anderson opened his eyes a little, and he understood that Victor said that in a way that he, himself, should solve this problem. After all, he was a prince.

"...I can't do that yet, despite being the second prince, my father doesn't plan to relinquish the reign to his sons."

"...?" Question marks started to appear around Victor since he didn't understand how Anderson came to this conclusion:

"Who says you need to wait for his permission? Just do it." He felt Anderson shouldn't depend on his dad. He's a big boy, right?

Why does he have to wait for his father if he wants to do something?

"...Huh?"

"You are already a grown man, an adult. So grow a pair and do what you want."

"Just do it." He wanted to say: 'just grow the fuck up!'

But Ophis was here, and she couldn't hear that kind of barbarity yet.

"...." Anderson opened his eyes wide as he understood that Victor was saying that if he doesn't like something, he should just go there and fix it.

'He must know about our Alpha tradition? Is it because of that he said that?'

Just for context, the Alpha class had codes to follow. If you want to be the new king, the new Alpha, the new big boss,

You must challenge the king and defeat him, and in doing so, the king will cease to be the Alpha and will become a subordinate.

Wolves had a simple society in which the strongest fist ruled the entire kingdom.

... A society of warriors, although this type of society has a tendency to abandon the 'weak', and it is usually those weak who have the greatest 'intelligence'.

The kingdom hadn't collapsed so far because of the Queen, who understood this sort of thing, considering that, unlike the werewolf king, the woman was a governess from birth.

"Alright... I should just do this." Anderson's eyes were shining with determination.

"...?" Victor didn't understand why so much determination to grow up and be independent. Isn't that something easy to do?

"Yes, just do it." But as a good friend, he completely supported his friend's independence, and if he gets weak, why does he depend so much on his father!?

He doesn't want his friend to become like those weak vampires.

"...I have to go, I'll be back later." Anderson started to fall towards the ground, and, as he was falling, he looked at his subordinates.

The four subordinates nodded, then jumped off the ice pillar and followed the man.

"Tsk, Tsk. What a hasty man, won't he stay for dinner...? Btw, what do werewolves really eat?"

"Dawg food?" Ophis used her incredible wisdom and shared it with Victor!

"...Does that somehow make sense?" Victor looked at Ophis.

"Dawg?"

"...." Why does he feel that she wasn't speaking the same language as him?

"...He... He just, just...-" Siena didn't seem to believe what she was seeing.

"Yes, don't question it. Just accept it; it's better since your brain won't fry like that." Ruby spoke in a tired voice.

"How can he cause such a misunderstanding...? Can this already be called talent?"

"... Just for context, Anderson is the culprit." Ruby explained.

"...Really?" Eleanor wasn't sure about that.

"Yes." Ruby spoke while she looked at her mother, who had completely entered her own rosy world:

Seeing her mother like this, she felt a great urge to sigh, but she held it back and said:

"Mother, please?"

"Umu?" Scathach looked at Ruby.

"... You too?"

"Me what?"

"...Nothing, just lower the pillar."

"Oh, okay." Scathach stomped the ground lightly, and soon the ice pillar began to descend to the ground.

...

The group was now on the ground:

"Kaguya, undo your territory." Victor spoke as he had Ophis on his shoulder.

"Yes, master."

Kaguya's eyes glowed a little blood red, and soon her entire territory began to be sucked into her body.

"Done."

Victor nodded, satisfied, as he looked at a location and said:

[Eve, Bruna.] He didn't need to say much, and with those few words, his Maids already understood what he wanted.

[Yes, master.]

A few seconds passed, and then Eve and Bruna appeared, and they were carrying a type of creature that had two horns, red skin, a tail, and two wings.

"What are they holding?" Sasha asked curiously while she was a little disgusted. After all, the creature looked revolting.

"..." Natasha's entire atmosphere grew colder and sharper.

And it wasn't just her; Eleanor and Scathach also looked just like Natasha.

"Mother?"

"...demons?" Scathach narrowed her eyes. Just what kind of mess did Victor get into this time?

"Oh, they really came." Ruby spoke in a neutral tone.

"We've been waiting for this, they really have the balls to invade this place." Kaguya spoke with disgust.

"... Language." Bruna lightly scolded their 'leader'.

Looking at Ophis, she displayed a reaction, "...Oh." She had completely forgotten about the little girl.

"...It can't be helped, Kaguya was Lady Violet's former Maid, it's not impossible to think that she picked up some quirks from Lady Violet..."

"..." Kaguya's eyes narrowed when she heard what Eve said.

"Hahahaha, isn't that a good thing?" Victor looked at Violet.

"Darlin-." Violet flashed a loving smile, but that smile was broken when everyone heard:

"Father, what is sex?" Ophis asked in a neutral, easy-to-understand tone.

"....."

"Eh...?" Victor opened his mouth wide, thousands of thoughts popped into his head, but the main thought was:

'Where did she learn that?'

Violet turned her face away, and began to whistle, "... Whistle, whistle."

"..." Could she be any more obvious?

"We'll talk later..."

She flashed a sly little smile, "If it's in bed, I'll be fine with it." She didn't miss a chance.

"... That too." He wouldn't deny it.

"Master, we're back." Although they were already close to Victor, Bruna told her master to pay attention to them.

"How many demons this time?"

"Just a few scouts, they were quickly annihilated."

"Tsk."

Victor's face distorted, "Belial is really looking to die, that motherfucker."

"Language." Violet was the one who spoke this time, while she had the smile of someone who managed to give back what she 'suffered': 'Feel my pain.' She thought in jest.

"Oh..." Victor couldn't help but flash a small smile.

Cough, Cough.

The demon spewed up black blood on the floor.

"... He is alive."

"Yes, I thought Master would want him alive." Eve spoke.

"Good job, Eve."

"..." Eve flashed a small smile, but then her smile faded when she heard a voice.

[Tsk, Tsk, that was my idea] A voice seemed to speak in Eve's head.

[Shut fuck up.] Eve replied.

[Tsk.] The voice stopped speaking.

Victor put Ophis on the ground as he walked up to the demon and grabbed him by the head, as he lifted the demon up and looked into his eyes:

"Belial, you sackless coward, speak up. I know you're watching."

The demon's face distorted, and a dark aura came out of his body. Soon the minion's eyes opened, and everyone could see a red eye.

"...this aura." Pepper swallowed hard as she felt the malicious aura that carried nothing but negative thoughts.

Chapter5 Chapter 245: One Year and Six months.

Two months after Vlad had closed the gate to Nightingale, how was Victor doing?

Of course, he was angry!

What did you expect? That he would wear a calm smile when he was unable to see his wives and family?

The first week that Victor found out he couldn't go to Nightingale, he found this situation strange, and not just him, Ruby too.

The two didn't think much at the time, considering they had just left a very pleasant 'date'.

The two were in a good mood... They had literally reached Nirvana several times.

As they couldn't get in that day, they decided to wait.

A day passed, and the gate was still closed.

Another day passed, and the gate was still closed, and the Clan responsible for transporting Nightingale stopped responding to Ruby altogether.

On the third day, they realized something was wrong.

Trying to understand the situation the two were in, the two vampires went looking for a witch, precisely speaking,

Esther.

Arriving at the witch, Ruby asked if Esther knew anything, but the woman didn't know anything either. She even said that the vampires who lived in Nightingale and frequented her bar hadn't been coming for two days either.

Which was impossible. After all, these vampires were at least addicted to the environment that Esther had created there.

"And now?" Victor asked Ruby. He spoke in a calm tone, but Ruby could feel his impatience and concern.

Victor felt that something was wrong since something like this wouldn't happen all of a sudden.

He wanted answers... Wrong, he needed answers.

"I don't know, the only people who might even know this are the witches, or the clan responsible for the gate, but Natalia isn't answering me either." Ruby tried to call the maid, but the call didn't connect, which was impossible. After all, the cell phone that Natalia gave the girls was quite special, and could talk between worlds, so if Ruby couldn't get in touch with Natália...

It was because...

'Someone or something is interfering.' Ruby narrowed her eyes.

"... Hmm, I know someone who can help, but... It's going to be expensive." Esther spoke suddenly.

"...Hmm?" Victor and Ruby looked at Esther, and from the looks of both of them, they clearly didn't like what they'd heard; 'was this bitch trying to suck money out of them?'

Gulp.

She swallowed hard when she felt the gaze of the two, more precisely speaking, Victor's!

"It's not me, it's the witch I'm going to contact who will need to be paid."

"..." The looks of the two became neutral, and Ruby asked:

"Who is this contact of yours?"

"One of the witch queen's daughters, the second daughter, Helena Moriarty."

"..." A silence fell on the place.

Ruby held back her urge to sigh and said, "...Are you crazy?" Just how much money would she have to spend to hire the service of one of the queen's daughters?

"... Well, you are Vampire Counts, right? You must have a lot of money. Hiring her service must be cheap."

"Just tell me how we are going to access the money?" Ruby asked skeptically.

"Huh?"

"All our money is in Nightingale." Victor continued.

"You don't leave the money in the human world?" She couldn't believe such nonsense. How could they not leave their money in the human world?

What if something happened and they needed to use cash?

"Of course not, we only bring small amounts, but most of our money is in Nightingale." Despite having said 'small' amounts, the value could reach up to 8 figures in dollars, but even then, it wouldn't be enough to hire the daughter of the witch queen.

"...why?"

"Taxes." Victor and Ruby spoke at the same time.

Just how much tax should they pay the US government for bringing their money into the human world?

The two of them didn't even want to think about it, and dealing with the bureaucracy of it was boring as fuck.

"..." She definitely didn't expect that answer.

But...

"Pay taxes, huh." Just imagining that she should pay her hard-earned money to someone made her stomach ache. Now imagine paying the government?

Hell no!

"I can understand you guys in that." Esther spoke in an understanding voice.

"..." The place was silent again.

"...any other method?" Ruby asked.

"... There is a method, but... You probably won't like it." Esther spoke in a way that didn't trigger Ruby.

"Spit it out." Ruby had no patience for games.

"...Fine." Esther spoke, and then she added, "You can contact a god."

"...?" Victor wore a confused face.

"God? Are you talking about the god of the church?"

"It's not that god, it's another god." Esther explained.

'By the way she speaks, it suggests that there are several gods?... Are they strong?' Victor started to think about it.

"Why a god?" Ruby asked.

"Gods are social beings, they have contacts with various gods who may know about your problem. Especially this god I'm referring to, she's quite social... a bit too social." Esther muttered at the end.

'She?' Ruby's eyes glowed blood red for a few seconds.

Seeing that, the environment fell silent again.

"Precisely speaking, I'm talking about the goddess Aphrodite who happens to be living in this city."

'Aphrodite?' Despite not knowing much about mythology, this name he knew; it was a well-known name after all.

Aphrodite, the goddess of beauty and love. Admired by all Olympians as the most beautiful goddess.

"Where is she?" Victor asked as he wasted no time. If this goddess or whatever knows the answers to his questions, he must go to her.

"Well, her location-." Esther was going to say something, but suddenly Ruby spoke.

"I refuse."

"...Huh?" Victor looked at Ruby.

"You're not going to meet that Bitch." Ruby's eyes were dark as a black hole.

"Huh?" Victor couldn't understand Ruby's reaction, and he didn't like being stopped from doing something. But he wasn't stupid, so he wanted to understand why she wouldn't let him go visit Aphrodite.

"I've heard rumors, the goddess Aphrodite is the greatest Thot on the entire planet, she will definitely ask to sleep with you in exchange for the information."

"You know I wouldn't, right?" Victor narrowed his eyes.

"I know, but..." Ruby meant that she was going to use her 'charm' on Victor to get him to sleep with her.

"Anyway, you shouldn't go, because if she wants to do something to you, I won't be able to stop it."

"..." Victor was silent.

Ruby continued her reasoning, "Although she is not a goddess of battle, or of war, she is still a goddess. She is strong."

"Oh..." Victor's smile grew when he heard that she was strong, but soon his smile faded.

'It's not time to fight, I must solve my problem first.'

"Is there another method, witch?" Victor asked Esther.

"...I have a name, you know..." She grumbled.

"..." Victor continued looking at her with a dry gaze.

"Only two types of beings can know about this problem..." She stopped talking and thought for a while, then she rephrased her sentence, "Wrong, only three types of beings can: and these beings are the gods, the witches, or beings versatile in time/space magic."

"...The last one is practically impossible for you to find right now."

"..." The room fell silent again.

[Master, you must go visit the goddess.]

"Hmm?"

[The Goddess is the closest and easiest being you can find and get the information you need... You just shouldn't fall for Charm .]

"Charm?"

Hearing what Victor said, Ruby's eyes began to glow dangerously, and she spoke:

"Kaguya!"

A cold air left her body and spread through the place:

"What are you doing?"

A woman came out of the shadows, as she looked coldly at Ruby, and spoke:

"I'm telling him the information you withheld from my master."

"Kaguya..." Ruby's atmosphere seemed to grow even heavier.

Kaguya narrowed her eyes, "Stop treating my master like a child. If he wants to go somewhere, he will."

"..." Ruby was silent.

"If you're afraid of something, it is your duty to let him know so he can be prepared when dealing with it." Kaguya was totally against it when someone tried to limit her master.

As a free being, the master must make his own decisions by himself so he can grow and become 'strong'.

"...You two..." Victor's eyes narrowed.

"..." The two looked at Victor.

He first directed his gaze at Ruby. "First, explain what you're hiding."

"Second," He then looked at Kaguya, "She is not limiting my movements. If I had no choice, I would have gone anyway."

"..." Ruby's eyes narrowed. She didn't like Victor's answer, and she didn't want him to see that Thot.

"Third. Ruby, if you know something, you should tell me."

"Huh?"

"We are a couple, right?" He flashed a small smile.

"..." Ruby opened her eyes wide.

"It's the couple's duty to share." Victor spoke simple words that shuddered through Ruby's entire body.

"Darling..." She looked at the man with the eyes of a woman in love.

Sigh.

After a long silence, she sighed:

"I'm sorry, I seem to have let my fears carry me away." She gathered her thoughts and began to explain:

"Simply put, that bitch is a goddess of love, and beauty, and consequently, her divine power is related to that. That is, she has something similar to what a vampire has."

"The Charm. However, the difference between that power and ours is that her charm is of the highest level."

"She can turn any man into a thirsty pig that wants to fuck her." Ruby spoke with disgust.

"How do you counter it?"

"You cannot." Esther joined the conversation.

"Huh?"

"There is no way to counter that power." Esther began to explain:

"Her power touches a sensitive area of all beings, the 'partner' area, meaning she takes the 'love', the 'desire' you have and focuses on it."

"This is complicated..." Even Victor thought that.

"...Whether female or male, no one can escape her Charm ."

"Women too?" Victor raised an eyebrow.

"Most gods are bisexual."

"...And some have peculiar tastes." Esther felt disgust when she thought of Zeus.

"Is there a way to avoid this?" Kaguya asked.

Esther looked at the Maid and said, "...Yes."

Soon she looked at Victor:

"You must not have any interest in her."

"..."

"You can't find her beautiful, you can't have desires for her, and that's impossible. After all, she is the goddess of beauty. That is, she is the ideal beauty for 'everyone'..."

"Split out, witch. What should I do?" Even Victor was getting angry now.

"You must become a eunuch."

Chapter6 Chapter 246: The Goddess Aphrodite.

Absolute silence fell on the place as no one dared to speak a word... In fact, they couldn't, they were too shocked to show any reaction.

"Eh...?" Victor had never been more afraid of a word than he was right now.

Thinking he didn't hear her correctly, Esther repeated it again, this time a little louder:

"Like I said, you should cut off your dick, sever your balls, and become a eunuch."

"Only this way will you be able to avoid the charm of the goddess of beauty."

A being who had no lustful desires, or beings who have no need for reproduction, a being who finds the goddess of beauty ugly, only strange beings like that can negate the effect of Aphrodite's Charm.

"....." Silence fell over the place once again.

'This bitch, I'm going to kill her.' Kaguya thought while making shadow daggers. Who does this bitch think she is to suggest something absurd like that? No one will castrate her master! She started to walk towards Esther, but she stopped suddenly when she heard a scream.

"HELL NO!" Ruby practically screamed, her entire aura becoming more hostile than before.

This time, even Victor agreed with Ruby.

What the fuck is this about becoming a eunuch?

Is this bitch high? Did she smoke illegal stuff?

"He has important duties to fulfill, he cannot lose his 'D' now!" She was being absolutely serious about this matter. Now that she'd had a taste of forbidden pleasure, she was absolutely not going to let it go that easily, and more importantly, she was not going to let anyone take it away from her!

Victor is hers! Only hers! The D is just hers!

"..." Now it was Esther who was silent when she heard what Ruby said.

Was this woman so brazen before?

'Is it possible that with just one fuck, she became this obscene?' Esther thought.

Ruby quickly turned to Victor:

"Darling, this is..." Ruby wanted to say that it was a bad idea to meet Aphrodite, but she was silent. She didn't want to boss Victor around since, just like he respected her free will, she wanted to respect his right to free will as well.

It is the duty of a good wife to support her husband and not be toxic.

'But I refuse! I won't let you lose the D! If anyone dares to do that, that individual will be sent to hell in less than a second! I'll send them to the devil's lap!'

It is common sense throughout the supernatural community that Aphrodite is a 'Thot'. Why did everyone think that?

It's quite simple, actually. Aphrodite doesn't discriminate, so if she likes someone and she considers that person 'beautiful', she will sleep with that person.

And once you fall into the clutches of the black widow named Aphrodite, you can never forget her, and that's because the goddess of beauty is unforgettable.

If a being witnessed the 'embodiment' of beauty in real life and felt her 'love', that being will never be aroused by any other person.

Men and women report that having sex with Aphrodite is more addictive than sleeping with a Succubus.

And it's not just that.

Everyone knows what kind of man Aphrodite likes...

She likes men like Ares, tall men with muscular bodies, strong men, men who love to bathe in the blood of their enemies.

The tale of Aphrodite betraying Hephaestus with Ares is well known throughout the world.

And it's pretty obvious that Victor fits this description perfectly, he's tall, has a body that could be considered 'perfect', and most importantly, he loves to bathe in the blood of his enemies!

It was knowing about all this information that drove Ruby to prevent Victor from getting close to Aphrodite. She wouldn't let that Thot touch a hair on Victor's head!

Never!

Victor was silent as he was thinking about the decision he was going to make.

'Become a eunuch?'

Hell no, he didn't even consider that an option.

'Looking for someone who is experienced in space and time? Someone who wasn't a witch?'

This might work... But it would take a long time, and Victor was impatient.

He left that option on hold for now.

Looking for another god? A god other than Aphrodite?

There is that option too...

He looked at Esther:

"Witch, do you know the location of any god other than Aphrodite? No matter the location, I can get there in the blink of an eye."

"..." Esther was silent, she started to think about the information she got from her clients, and in the end, she said:

"I do not know."

"..." Victor was silent.

"Don't look at me like that, my information network is not as big as the witches, I recognize that myself."

"Maybe the witches know something, but..."

"Yes, they will charge a lot." Ruby spoke in a neutral tone. For the first time in her life, she was feeling in her skin what it was like to not have money to pay for a witch, and for the first time, she felt in her skin how abusive the witches' prices were.

"Tsk, what if I take a random witch and charm her?"

"...I wouldn't recommend doing that." Esther spoke in a calm tone.

Ruby nodded in agreement with Esther and then spoke:

"Witches are very protective of their members, just like werewolves. So if you attack one witch, they will all attack you..." Ruby explained.

"... Getting into conflict now is not a good option." Victor didn't care about that, but he didn't want to waste time getting into conflict now, "Why are they like that? Is it because of what happened in the past?"

"Yes, they hold a lot of grudges against the witch trials that happened..."

"I see..."

"..." Victor fell silent again and started using his head, he had several options to use, but most of them were options that would take some time or were dangerous.

For example, if he went to meet a god, it was not guaranteed that that god would be friendly to him, and everyone knew Victor.

He was the symbol of the saying.

'An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, blood for blood.' He didn't mind raising his hand to hit women. His fists held true gender equality.

The moment a being raised its 'weapon' to fight him, he would counterattack.

That's how Victor is.

That's how Victor has always been.

"...Ruby, would my charm work on Aphrodite?"

"..." Ruby was silent.

"...?" Esther looked curiously at Ruby's response. She knew that Victor was special, he was someone who possessed the rare blood, the Golden Blood, but she didn't know what kind of benefits it gave a vampire.

After all, for vampires, someone who had Golden Blood only served as food, and never in history had a human who had Golden Blood been turned into a vampire.

Not that she knows, at least...

But...

'A human who is turned into a vampire is supposed to become a slave vampire, but this man somehow broke that rule and became a noble vampire. That's interesting, an interesting subject indeed.' Despite being a businesswoman, she was still a witch, and witches were always after new knowledge.

"To be honest... I don't know... Gods originally have a high resistance to this type of attack, they can only be influenced by other gods of the same divinity level or higher."

"...." Victor was silent; this was not good.

"If my mother were here, she could tell us something, but..." She made an annoyed face.

"That'll be a long shot for us, huh?" Victor spoke.

"Yes." She couldn't deny Victor's words.

"...." A silence fell on the place again.

Kaguya, throughout the conversation, was silent, and she kept watching Victor:

'He's going to explode at any moment.' She could tell by the veins that were showing up on Victor's face.

He was angry, but he was holding back his anger.

"...Did the air get warmer?" Esther spoke in a strange tone, she hadn't noticed before, but she was getting sweaty, so she looked at the air conditioner she had in the office and saw that it was on 16!

And yet, she was sweating?

There was only one explanation...

She looked at Victor:

Seeing his current state, she thought; 'Interesting, do the powers of the Count families influence him too? Is that why he's so unpredictable?'

"Darling, calm down." Ruby spoke in a cold tone.

"..." He looked at Ruby with dark eyes like a black hole:

"I'm getting a bad feeling, Ruby-."

"I know, but nothing will happen to the girls. Remember, my mom is there, and so is Natashaia."

"..." Hearing about Scathach and Natashaia, Victor's heart began to calm down.

Victor had fought Natashaia before, and she was strong... Insanely strong, and that wasn't even her final form.

Natasha's personality was her flaw, and she was 'weak' in that state.

But now, with her true personality, she is much stronger than before.

Scathach goes without saying, the woman is his master, and the strongest female vampire in the world.

"Right... You're right..."

The air around Victor began to lighten as his eyes stopped glowing dangerously and took on a cold glow.

Now, the air around him started to get colder.

"...He's so bipolar... Now he's too cold." Esther turned off the air conditioning.

"...." Victor and Ruby were silent and did not answer the woman.

Victor looked at Kaguya:

"My Maid."

"Yes, master."

"Take care of my mother and my father."

"..." Kaguya made a strange face, and soon she understood something:

"Master made his decision?"

"Yes." Victor got up from where he was.

"I will go to see this goddess."

"Darling-."

"Ruby." Victor spoke the name of the red-haired woman as he walked over to her and held her face with both of his hands:

"No matter what happens, my love for you will not diminish, and know that if something happens, it is not because of my will." Victor's eyes looked like they would suck Ruby into an endless abyss.

"...Darling..."

"Don't worry, you know me, if something happens and I don't like it, I'll hold a grudge about it..." Then, his face went completely dark, and only his eyes and big distorted smile were visible:

"And I will definitely visit this bitch in the future."

"!!!" Ruby's entire body trembled as she sensed Victor's intent:

"Are you going to kill a god?" Not even her mother was able to do that. After all, they were essentially immortal, so to kill a god, you'd have to destroy their divine soul.

"..." Victor just remained with his smile, and soon he turned and looked at Esther, and his face had already returned to normal:

"Witch, give me the location of this goddess."

"Sure." Esther was quick to work, she lightly touched the table, and soon a green magic symbol appeared where she had touched it, while slowly this magic symbol started to grow.

And a cell phone appeared...

"Another cell phone..." He remembered that June gave him a cell phone too, which didn't work! The device was rubbish! Can't connect when needed!

"What do you think would show up? A medieval map or something? We must modernize."

"..." Victor was silent while he just looked at the woman with a neutral gaze.

"Tsk, you are no fun." She pouted.

"Anyway, this phone has the location of the goddess, just open Google Maps."

"..." He looked at the woman with a look that said, 'are you serious?'

"What?" Esther didn't understand the man's gaze.

"Why Google?"

"I mean, why not google?" She replied and then continued, "It's a tool created by humans, and it's quite convenient."

"... whatever." Victor gave up trying to understand. Was he honestly expecting something more like a crystal ball or something?

'Come to think of it, Natalia uses a crystal ball when she wants to spy on someone.' Victor thought.

Victor took the cell phone and put it in his pocket:

"Darling, I'll-."

"You are not going."

"..." Ruby narrowed her eyes.

"I'm sorry but... You're the only one who's here with me. If I lose you too, I... I..." His voice at the end started to sound static and distorted.

It made Ruby and Esther shiver, and even Kaguya felt a chill down her spine.

"D-Darling?" Ruby stuttered a little.

Victor touched his face to hers:

"Just stay here safe, okay? Please?" For a moment, Kaguya and Esther could see that he was basically on the verge of begging.

Feeling the 'fear' inside of their connection, Ruby flashed a gentle little smile:

"Don't worry, Darling. I will be here, and I will be fine."

"...Thanks." He flashed a small smile.

Rumble, Rumble.

Victor's body began to be covered by lightning, "I'll be back soon." The moment he said that, he disappeared, leaving streaks of lightning through the air.

When Victor left, Ruby was silent. She looked down as thousands of thoughts started going through her head, and while she was in that state, she spoke in a cold tone:

"Esther, forget what you saw today." She didn't want anyone to see that 'state' of Victor.

Esther, who was watching everything in silence, just said, "Sure..." She felt that if she didn't respond positively, something terrible would happen to her.

'Ugh, this crazy couple! What did I get myself into!?' She felt like she was walking on a precipice, and if she did something wrong, she would disappear from existence.

'I curse my younger self who decided to listen to this bitch.' She regretted her fate.

"I will be back." Kaguya suddenly spoke up.

"Take care of Victor's family."

"That is obvious."

"And... I will train the Maids, more intensely." Kaguya had a feeling that Victor was going to need them more than she initially thought.

And she couldn't be in two places at once, so she needed more hands.

"That is a good idea." Ruby said:

"Just don't overdo it with Eve... The girl is..."

"I know, I was present when master recruited her."

"Oh, I forgot about that..." Ruby said.

"I will go now." Kaguya turned and walked towards the exit.

Looking at Kaguya's back, Ruby said, "Be careful out there... After all, you're important to Victor too."

"... I know." She flashed a gentle little smile. It's a shame no one saw that smile.

Chapter 247: The Goddess Aphrodite. 2

Inside an excessively large mansion, which looked like it was decorated with a Greek culture theme,

A woman was looking at a man in a suit who was kneeling on the floor.

"Belial, I've told you a thousand times, I will not be your wife." She spoke in a tired tone.

Belial looked at the woman with desire shining deep in his eyes.

She was beautiful... Beautiful was an understatement to describe how beautiful the woman was.

She was wearing a Greek dress and had long pink hair that reached down to the floor, pink eyes, perfectly shaped full breasts, a little slender waist, a very modest and pert ass.

The woman crossed her legs, and he could see her legs jiggle.

"But... I'm Belial, you know? One of the 72 demons-."

"Shut up." She spoke in a dry tone, but despite having spoken like that, she still looked very beautiful to the man.

"I've told you a thousand times, I don't sleep with demons. Their energy disgusts me." She spoke with disgust.

"I wasn't talking about that... I just want to-" The Man tried to justify himself.

The woman rolled her eyes, "Belial, how old do you think I am? Before humanity was even born, I was already alive, your words don't work on me."

"You came here looking for only one thing." She flashed a small smile.

But to the man, that smile looked like a loving smile.

"You came looking for my body."

"This is not true!" The man felt unjustified. Of course, he didn't come here to this place just to have sex with the goddess of beauty.

"Yes, Yes. Of course, it isn't, look at my face that believes you." She spoke in disdain.

Her eyes glowed pink a little:

"I don't sleep with demons, that's been my rule since that Bitch created her race. Your efforts are useless."

"..." Belial narrowed his eyes. He didn't like what the woman said at all. Whether she was the goddess of beauty or not, she can't talk like that about their creator!

"Don't talk about Lilith-."

"Huh? Will you scold me?" Her eyes gleamed a little brighter, she flashed a 'loving' smile, and the man lost all his motivation.

"... Of course not." He spoke with a slightly red face.

Her face became serious as she crossed her legs again, "I have rules, I only sleep with men I handpicked, and everything about you disgusts me. It's no use faking your appearance, I can see the real you, a disgusting being with disgusting energy."

"Ugh... What was that woman thinking about creating disgusting beings like you? If I could, I would have eliminated all demons from the face of this world."

Although she was saying things that could be considered offensive to the demons, Belial didn't feel irritated...

In fact, he was glad she was looking at him.

'... Well, he was Charmed again.' She flashed a sneer, she didn't even need to raise her energy to the max, and the demon in front of her was already caught in her Charm.

Snap.

"!!!?"

She snapped her finger, and the man snapped back to reality.

"Go away, this is the last time I allow you into my residence, next time you come... know it will be your last."

Realizing that he fell for Charm again, he got angry; 'This power of hers is irritating. If it weren't for that, this bitch would already have been mine.'

For a demon who is considered the 'sin' of humanity, Aphrodite was perfect for him. She was the oldest 'whore' in the world, and only a woman of that level could be worthy of being his 'queen'.

But this bitch has a very irritating power! And he can't make her submit because even though she's a 'whore', she was still a goddess.

A strong goddess, a goddess who was born from the balls of the father of Chronos, the titan of time, she is strong... even if she is not a combat goddess.

In a way, she is also considered a titan because of her special status. After all, she was born from the energy of Uranus, the first king of Olympus.

[A/N: Aphrodite has two versions, I'm using the version she was born from Uranus. Yes, I'm also mixing the events of the two versions of her a little bit to suit the story]

Rumble, Rumble.

"...?" Belial and Aphrodite looked out the window and noticed that clouds had started to form in the sky, and the sunny weather had started to turn into rainy weather.

"Tsk, is it Zeus? Or Thor?" He looked at Aphrodite.

"Which of your lovers did you call?"

"...You fucking demon, I don't have lovers." She spoke the truth, she only slept with men she handpicked, but she didn't get into a relationship with them for a long time.

"And who wants to sleep with Zeus? That motherfucker dared to force me to marry that shit Hephaestus." She still had a grudge against Zeus for this. Does he dare imprison the goddess of beauty?

The goddess of beauty is free! She does what she wants!

"So it's Thor?" The man narrowed his eyes.

"...Thor, he's been busy trying not to die from the werewolf king's pet."

"...Huh? Has Fenrir allied with someone?" He opened his eyes wide, he thought he was hearing bullshit from the woman, but he knew the information network of an ancient god, like Aphrodite, was as big as the size of her pussy hole.

"How?" To the devil, this was unthinkable.

"And why should I tell you? Why don't you ask the wolf?" She flashed a small smile.

The demon found that smile dazzling, but he wasn't crazy to approach Fenrir. He didn't want to be devoured by the wolf that was described as the wolf of Ragnarok.

Rumble!

Everyone heard a crash of lightning falling nearby, and in the blink of an eye, a man appeared in the room.

He was tall, had short black hair, blood-red eyes, and had an aura of confidence exuding around him.

"A vampire?" Belial turned away without understanding. He didn't expect to see this race here.

"...Oh." The woman seemed to know the man in front of her. 'He has grown splendidly since the last time I saw him.' She flashed a gentle smile.

"..." Victor looked at the woman.

'Badump, Badump.' He felt his heart pound, and for a few seconds, he could see Violet's appearance, Sasha's, and even Scathach's appearance on her.

'...I see, I understand now why everyone is Charmed by her...' As the personification of beauty and love, any being will see their 'love' or their 'ideal' of beauty in her.

In the case of Victor, he could see his wives, only in a more beautiful way?

Not even he could understand why he had these feelings.

'That woman is not them.' Victor was convinced of that. He wasn't here for jokes, he wanted to know something, and he would immediately leave.

'Staying here is dangerous.' All his instincts warned him of this, that the woman in front of him was dangerous.

In a completely different sense.

She is strong? Yes, he could tell that too, she was incredibly strong.

But the problem was her beauty.

Victor looked at Belial:

"My name is Alucard, who are you?"

"... Alucard? The new vampire count?" The demon touched his face and began to think, remembering the information he'd gotten by chance about the new vampire.

"..." Victor was silent and waited for the man.

"My name is Belial, one of the 72 Dukes of Hell."

"Oh... Cool."

"..." Belial narrowed his eyes. What was this lack of reaction? He's a duke of hell, you know? He'd expected more of a fearful reaction, not this indifferent reaction.

'Oh, doesn't he know who I am? The new count is certainly ignorant of the supernatural world, so he doesn't know me.' He had high self-esteem.

Victor only introduced himself out of politeness. He had no interest in the man, he had more important things to do:

The word 'hell' didn't even register in his mind. He was too focused on his goal as he looked at the woman.

badump, Badump.

Again his heart began to beat madly, but he managed to remain calm:

"Goddess Aphrodite, my name is Alucard, I came here seeking a request." He was respectful.

"Oh? Of course, what do you want to know?" She responded quite positively, and that surprised Victor a little.

"...?" He didn't understand, wasn't that very easy? But he wasn't going to waste this chance.

"I want to know-" As he was about to ask his question, the two of them heard someone speak.

"Hey." Belial called out to Victor.

Victor looked at Belial with a neutral gaze, but inside he was a little irritated by the man's meddling. Couldn't he just shut up and let him solve his problems?

"Alucard, I hear you're a disciple of Scathach. You can introduce me to that bitch, I hear she has an amazing body-." The man didn't even have time to finish what he was going to say when he felt his instincts screaming for danger, but it was too late.

Victor suddenly appeared in front of the demon, while his whole face turned into pure darkness, his eyes were glowing blood red.

The whole place was covered in dark energy.

Rumble, Rumble.

Lightning sounds were heard.

"Hey, Hey, don't get so angry, it's just a question." He didn't seem intimidated by the man's presence.

"And what is this energy? You look more like us than a vampire-."

He was going to say something, but his whole body suddenly started to show cuts.

By the time the lightning was heard, Victor had already approached Belial, and when he got close to the demon, he created a blood dagger that was covered by the lightning's power and slashed Belial, 10 times, 100 times, hundreds of thousands of times.

Belial's body didn't even register what happened because it was just too fast...

He held Belial's head, and his hand began to discharge a large amount of electricity:

"Piece of shit, who do you think you're talking about?"

Suddenly.

BOOOOOOOOOOM!

The demon's head exploded into thousands of pieces.

Belial really caught Victor at a bad time, he was entirely in a bad mood, rushed, and cautious, and this demon decided to insult Scathach in front of Victor. What did he expect would happen?

That he would stand by and let Scathach be insulted? Huh?

That's not Victor's way of doing things.

And as he realized that the man was stronger than him, he decided to attack first. After all, it was a universal rule. Whoever attacks first wins.

Blood covered Victor's entire body, but the man didn't care and just looked at Aphrodite.

Hell.

A gigantic being with big horns and wings, the being looked like a mixture of several weird species as he looked at the floor of his throne with a strange look.

"He just killed me...?"

"How? Even if I was in a human body, I should still be immortal."

Belial tried to access the soul he was using and suddenly realized something:

"The Soul disappeared?"

"Huh? How did he do it?" The demon didn't understand anything, but... He knew something.

"Does he dare attack me? I, Belial!?" The being's face distorted in rage.

'...Aphrodite was interested...' When he thought about it, his body gave off a red aura.

"This motherfucker is going to get her 'love'." And that seemed to make him angrier than losing his 'body' on Earth, or being insulted by the man.

He raised his big hand, and then a human soul appeared:

"Tsk, this one isn't as pretty as the other shell, but it will do." The being's eyes began to glow red.

"... Gulp." She swallowed a little when she saw the man's state.

A tall man, covered in the blood of enemies, a confident and courageous man, a mighty warrior!

Exactly the kind she liked!

'Ah~... He's really grown up splendidly...' Her eyes started to glow pink a little, but quickly stopped glowing; 'Wait, wait, I can't. Calm down, Aphrodite, first listen to what he has to say.'

"..." Victor didn't notice Aphrodite's change, considering the woman just kept looking at everything with an interested look.

But... Victor felt the danger increase, and he decided to ask the damn question right away:

"Goddess Aphrodite, do you know why the Nightingale gates are closed?"

"Huh?" She made a strange expression, "Are the gates of that world closed? Give me a second." She took out a cell phone that was hidden in her breasts and dialed a number:

"Aphrodite?"

"Hi, hi, Kairos, how are you buddy?" Aphrodite spoke as if she were a teenager.

"I'm fine, thank you. What do you want?" Kairos, the god of opportune 'time' spoke in a dry tone

"It's no big deal, can you check Nightingale for me?" Aphrodite.

"Vlad's kingdom?" Kairos.

"Yes." Aphrodite.

"Sure, give me a sec, I just need to make a call to a friend of mine." Kairos.

"Oh, speaking of her, how is she?" Aphrodite.

"She's still doing her tedious job of preserving the present."

Kairos.

"I see... And how are her sisters?" Aphrodite.

"They are the same as they always were, standing in the same place trying to preserve the past and the future." Kairos replied with the same dry tone, but this time it contained a little sadness.

"Ugh, can't they go out and have some fun?" Aphrodite complained.

"Of course not. If she does that, the entire past, present, and future of beings from her mythology will literally fall apart." Kairos replied as if it were something obvious.

"Meh, who cares? It's boring to stand in one place for thousands of years." Aphrodite didn't seem to mind.

"Well, that I can agree with you." Kairos.

"..." Victor narrowed his eyes a little. Isn't this woman just gossiping?

'And why does she look so beautiful doing something so simple?' Victor bit his tongue hard to wake him up from his stupor.

'Fuck, woman stop gossiping and tell me what I want to know!' Staying longer here is dangerous!

Realizing that she was gossiping too much, she said, "Anyway, let me know as soon as you know something."

"Sure, soon, I'll give you an answer." Kairos spoke.

"Bye Bye." Aphrodite said goodbye as she hung up the phone and looked at Victor.

An awkward silence fell over the place since Victor didn't want to talk to the goddess.

But the social goddess did not like to be silent:

"Let's talk?"

"... How about no?" He didn't want to talk to her, Victor's body started to heat up, and soon all the blood evaporated from his body.

"...Mooh, I'm helping you. How about answering some of my questions?"

'Are you a cow, woman?' Victor really wanted to say this now.

She had a point. She is helping him, and it doesn't hurt to answer a few questions:

"Fine, but I won't answer anything I don't want to... And the limit for questions is three."

"Of course, of course... But you must answer honestly, I'll know if you're lying." She flashed a sly smile.

"...Fine."

Chapter8 Chapter 248: The Mistake of the Goddess of Love.

[A/N: I stopped by to inform you that the next illustration that will be done is by Ruby Scarlett, thank you all for your support!]

...

Looking at the man who was showing an indifferent and neutral attitude, the goddess's smile widened a little, she was tempted to use her Charm to see how the man would react, but she held back those playful feelings out of respect for a friend of hers.

"First question"

"..." Victor looked at the woman and waited for her question, but inside he was:

'Kairas, kiro, kira, whatever, are you going to be long? Hurry, Hurry, Hurry! Call the woman and tell her the information! So she can tell me and I to get out of this place!'

"Why did you attack that man?"

"... Huh?" Victor's brain seemed to short-circuit and stop working.

Thinking he misheard, the woman spoke in a louder, easier to understand tone, "My first question is, why did you attack that man?"

"...." Victor continued silently... To be honest, he expected the woman to ask a more personal question...

He definitely didn't expect that kind of question from the woman, but by no means was he sad about it!

"It's simple, he insulted my master in front of me." He spoke in a cold tone.

"...Do you know who he is?" she asked in a curious tone.

"It does not matter."

"Oh?"

Victor clenches his fist, and the magical symbols on his glove begin to glow brightly, "No matter who he is, no matter what hole he came out of, insulting my master in front of me, there's only one fate..." Victor's smile grew distorted:

"Death."

"!!!" Aphrodite opened her eyes wide, her eyes slightly glowing pink, while she seemed to be seeing something beyond the comprehension of mere mortals.

Gulp.

The woman visibly swallowed and crossed her legs sensually as she adjusted her posture and said:

"I see..." Her legs felt like they were shaking a little.

"Just to let you know, that man was Belial, one of the 72 Demon Dukes of Hell.

"...?" Victor didn't understand why she was saying that.

'And does hell really exist?' Now that he was paying more attention, he could understand this information.

'...Hmm, if Gods exist, then hell should exist, right?' He felt that was kind of obvious.

Seeing that Victor was thinking deeply, she added:

"Oh, don't mind the hierarchy of hell. That place is a total mess, and, in the end, the most important beings are the two kings of hell. The 72 dukes are just powerful demons who call themselves dukes to grow their ego a little bit, in the big picture, they are unimportant."

"...."

"Oh, but the 72 dukes do command hundreds and thousands of demons, and I think it's because of that they call themselves dukes?" Aphrodite was thinking, and then she's like, "Meh, who cares."

"...." This woman likes to talk, huh? Victor can't help but think as he remains silent.

An awkward silence fell over the place, and the social goddess looked at the man with an annoyed look:

"Why are you so quiet?"

"...is that your second question?"

"..." The woman's gaze narrowed a little, and her mood turned a little bad:

"Tell me why you're so wary of my presence. That's my second question."

"..." Victor looked into the woman's pink eyes and spoke in a dry, brutally honest tone:

"I hate the fact that you can turn me into a horny dog at any time."

"..." She flashed a small smile.

"I hate the fact that your existence reminds me of my wives, and more importantly..."

Aphrodite's mood suddenly turned sour when she heard the word 'wife'.

"I'm dealing with a goddess, I have to be cautious."

Aphrodite's pink eyes seemed to glow for a few seconds, and she said:

"... The first two are true, but the last one is a lie."

"...." Victor's eyes narrowed a little, he didn't lie, but he didn't tell the whole truth either. If I'm going to specify what he said, he just omitted some information, and that's not a lie.

"It's useless to lie to me."

"...For the first time, I discovered that I hate dealing with opponents like you." This time, he spoke the truth.

"...?" Aphrodite didn't understand:

"Opponents who can manipulate the individual's will in the blink of an eye are the most troublesome." That was Victor's honest opinion.

He hasn't had that much trouble so far because his natural resistance as a Night King kept him from being manipulated, but against beings that are the embodiment of a 'concept' that resistance is useless.

"..." Aphrodite narrowed her eyes as she assumed an annoyed expression, rested her head on her hand, and spoke:

"I don't understand... Why are you treating me like an 'opponent'? Haven't we just met?"

"..." Victor was silent.

Aphrodite seemed to think for a while, and then she spoke with a sneering face, "I get it now, you heard about me, huh?"

"..." Victor's facial expression didn't change, as he remained in a neutral state and on alert.

"Probably, from some woman, you must have heard the 'rumors' of me and were wary of it." Being cautious when meeting a god is common enough, Aphrodite understood that, but this man, he already seemed to come to this place with a prejudice pre-established

He had already marked the woman as 'dangerous' because of information he received from another individual.

Aphrodite could easily understand this, considering it wasn't the first time this had happened in her long existence.

This happened many times, and gods who didn't even know her personally already came to visit her with a pre-established thought in their minds.

"I am not your enemy, Alucard." She spoke in a neutral tone.

"That's not for you to decide."

"Yes, it is."

"Because..." Her eyes started to glow pink as a strange pressure started to leave her body, and a pink aura started to spread around her.

Victor felt the 'world' fall on top of him.

"If I decided you were my enemy, you wouldn't even set foot in this place."

Crack, Crack.

The ground around Victor began to break.

But even though he was feeling the goddess's aura... It didn't affect him, why?

'It's a little weaker than Scathach.' He judged the woman to be on par with or close to Scathach, and she didn't seem to be using her full strength.

'She is strong.' Normally, this would put a smile on Victor's face, but something strange started happening in Victor's body.

His body started to get hot, the tent started to be pitched, and he started to get excited. When this information registered in his head, without wasting any more time, he immediately made a move:

He creates an ice stake and pierces his head.

"Eh...?" The goddess was taken by surprise.

And then his body fell to the ground.

"...." Aphrodite looked at this with an incredulous expression.

She took the pressure off him and looked at the body with a neutral gaze. Honestly, she just wanted him to understand that she wasn't his enemy, but how did that happen?

Victor's hands gave a sign of Life, and as soon as his regeneration began to take effect, he stood up and looked at the woman with eyes as dark as a black hole:

His mood was at its worst now, but even in that state, he hadn't done anything yet, he'd come here with a goal in mind, and he hadn't forgotten about it.

Looking into the gaze of the man in front of her, Aphrodite understood that she had pushed the wrong buttons if, before, the man had been cautious and with a prejudice in mind about her.

Now, he's become entirely hostile, and she can clearly understand that the reason he didn't do anything was that he needed the information she could offer.

'Tsk, annoying.' Now, even Aphrodite was irritated. She didn't want things to turn out like this, and she didn't like the way that man was looking at her at all.

Noticing the silence in the place, she said, "Next question."

"..." Victor cracks his neck a little and continues watching the woman with a dead look and a cold stare:

"...What do you think of me now?" She was a little curious.

"Nothing."

"Huh?"

"I need something, and you have this something. When I get that something, I'll be gone, just that, nothing more and nothing less." He spoke the truth in the face of Aphrodite's question. The woman asked, what does he think of her 'NOW', and those were his honest thoughts.

"..." Aphrodite felt it was true, but at the same time, there was a small lie.

"... Hmm." She touches her cheek with her finger, and assumes a cute expression:

"What if I refuse to give you what you want?"

Victor narrowed his eyes a little, but soon he replied, "Nothing will happen."

"I'll just leave." Victor was tired of dealing with this troubled woman. If she didn't give him what he wanted, he would just walk away, he wouldn't beg or anything like that, and he would just try to find out what happened another way. In the end, there were several options for him, and he just chose to visit this woman because it was the quickest option.

"....." A silence fell over the place.

This silence lasted for a few minutes, something Victor was very grateful for since he didn't want to talk to the woman anymore.

Suddenly, the phone ringing starts to be heard.

Aphrodite takes her cell phone and puts it to her ear:

This time, Victor tried to hear their conversation, but for some reason, he couldn't hear anything even with his senses.

"I see."

"Okay, thanks, Keiros."

"You're welcome." The man hangs up the phone.

Aphrodite keeps looking at Victor and says:

"The king of vampires, Vlad Dracula Tepes, has closed his world, no one can enter, and no one can leave."

'Vlad...' Victor's black hole eyes glowed with a spark of blood-red color.

"At the same time he closed the passage to his world, he also altered the Nightingale's time apparently, that place has time running slower now." She tossed her long pink hair back and spoke in an impressed tone:

"The power of that Clan is certainly enviable, he did something that only gods like Kronos can do-..." She stopped talking when she saw that Victor was already far away, "Hey!" She gets up from where she was.

"Thanks for the information, Goddess Aphrodite." Victor said as he walked towards the exit. His mother always taught him to be 'polite' with those who help you, even if you can't stand the existence of that person.

It's just how society works.

Victor opens the door and closes it.

"...."

A silence fell in the place, and soon the woman sat down in the chair.

"Sigh..." She sighed visibly, a melancholy expression appearing on the woman's face.

'It's hard to try to get along with someone who's been defensive from the start... I shouldn't have done that either. It just made it worse.' She was reflecting on what she had done.

Unlike other people, she wanted to get along with the man, not in a sexual sense... I mean, if possible, also in a sexual sense, but that's not the point.

The man was the son of her only friend in the human world, so she wanted to get along with him.

"Well, at least... Did I pay my debt to you, Anna?"

'...I feel that in my other form, I'll have a better chance than in this form...' She thought as her body slowly began to change.

Her long pink hair disappears, the 'divine' body that can be described as 'perfect' becomes more 'normal' as far as the beauty goddess's tastes go.

And then a woman with long blonde hair, with a curvy body, was seen: 'I'm going to visit my friend, I haven't seen her for a few months.'

She thought as pink light covered her body and she disappeared.

...

Outside Aphrodite's house, Victor encounters someone, a tall, muscular man with golden hair that has clearly been dyed the wrong way.

He looked like any thug, but Victor knew who he was.

'He's alive, huh?' Victor narrowed his eyes as he realized it wasn't that easy to kill a demon.

Victor takes a step and appears in front of the man as he touches the man's shoulder:

"Piece of shit-."

"Belial, Duke of Hell, one of the big 72 demons who runs the whole damn thing."

"...Oh?"

Victor assumed a gentle smile that was emptier than his wallet these days:

"I, Count Alucard, come here and tell you..."

"You are a lucky man."

"...Eh?"

"The goddess of beauty, Aphrodite. Just said she likes you, isn't that amazing?"

"What-." Belial assumed an expression of disbelief, and when he was about to say something, Victor said:

"Yes, Yes. Believe me, I never lie. She said to me in a loud and clear tone,"

"I like that demon, I can't be with you."

"..." Belial's brain seemed to stop working, and he just kept listening to Victor.

"It hurts me to be rejected by the goddess of beauty, but you know, in a man's life, rejection is a symbol of perseverance. So I won't worry, and I'll just look for another goddess of beauty." He made a disappointed expression.

"But!" Victor placed his other hand on Belial's shoulder:

"I'm rooting for you." Victor's eyes glowed blood-red:

"Give your love to the goddess of beauty! She will love you in return!"

"..." Belial's body shook a little as his eyes lost life for a few seconds but quickly recovered.

"Really? Did she really say that about me?" Belial was in disbelief.

"Of course, I never lie." Victor flashed an honest smile.

'Tsk, I can't control him... But at least, I put a suggestion in this motherfucker's brain.'

Victor lets go of Belial's shoulder and says, "I'm rooting for you, Buddy! Go and conquer the oldest milf in the world!"

"Ohhhh... OHHHHHH, I WILL!" He started to get excited!

Victor nods, satisfied, and he turns his back to the man and walks a little distance, as his body starts to be covered by lightning.

Rumble, Rumble. As if he were a golden rocket, he shoots towards the sky.

He looks a little at the goddess's mansion and thinks; 'I hope I never go back to this place, this place disgusts me.' When Victor felt that pink power entering his body, he felt his whole body reject that energy. It was disgusting, it was awful, and he felt like throwing up.

He would rather die than feel that energy again.

And mostly, he hated to 'see' his wives in that woman. Just thinking about it, his whole heart darkens, and he feels like erasing this 'annoyance'.

If I'm going to put into words what Victor is feeling right now, it's basically the same thing Violet and the girls feel when they see Victor with another woman they don't know.

A deep hate.

'Forget it, Victor. I will no longer see this goddess anyway.' This wasn't the time to be thinking, 'I need to see Ruby.' arriving at a considerable height, he changes direction to another place.

BOOOOOOOOOM, BOOOOOOOOOM, BOOOOOOM.

Sonic blast sounds were heard all around.

Chapter9 Chapter 249: Alucard has become an expert in causing chaos.

"Alucard, you are still an irritating being, as always."

Looking at the minion's face, suddenly, "HAHAHAHA~" Victor's laugh was heard everywhere, it was a very different laugh from his usual one, it was more... Crazy?

Not that his laugh wasn't crazy enough already, but something felt more 'evil'.

At least that was Sasha and Violet's impression.

"..." Veins started popping on the minion's face, and it was pretty obvious that he was furious.

Victor stopped laughing and spoke with a big smile on his face, "Looks like you haven't solved your problem yet, have you?"

"And whose fault do you think it is!?"

"Because of you, I have become impotent!"

"... Pfft." Pepper almost burst out laughing, but she held back.

"Hmm?" The demon would look at whoever was laughing at him, but Victor held the Minion's face.

"Oh?" Victor squeezed the minion's face a little to keep him from looking elsewhere.

"I wonder if I'm really to blame for this."

"Of course you are, if it weren't for you, Aphrodite wouldn't have cursed me helplessly!"

Goddess Aphrodite, the goddess of love and physical beauty, but she also has one more divinity... The goddess of sex.

One of the most worshiped goddesses in ancient Greece.

Now, what does this have to do with Belial's problem?

It's simple. Just like love and physical beauty, she is the personification of sex, that is, she can control all aspects of sexual intercourse.

And that means she can 'curse' any being to have no sexual desires, rendering it impotent for life.

And that's what happened to Belial.

He became a eunuch.

The devil bothered the goddess so much that the woman couldn't take it anymore and took the man's masculinity...

... What a terrible goddess...

"And...?" Victor flashed a disdainful face, "Who says that is my problem?"

Belial's eyes turned as dark as night, obviously, he didn't like Victor's answer at all.

An evil pressure started to come out of the minion's body. It was Belial's raw power, but unfortunately, the minion wasn't capable of holding that much power, and the lesser demon's body was giving away.

"Not only leaving me like this, but also interfering in hell's affairs..." Belial's voice started to become distorted.

"I haven't forgotten about that incident, Alucard. You have interfered too much in hell, and that debt will be paid."

"..." Scathach and Natasha narrowed their eyes when they heard the word 'debt'. They know that demons take contracts very seriously, and for Belial to be saying this, Victor must have made a contract with some demon? And he broke that contract?

Questions began to pop into the two older women's heads, but they had no answers.

"Oh? A big demon terrorizing a little girl, is that what you call debt?" Victor's eyes glowed blood red.

Six months ago, in Victor's perception, he was walking around Greece looking for a way to invade Nightingale, and he came across the scene of a demon chasing a little girl. Despite being a vampire and having questionable morals, he is only like that for whoever attacks him, so he wouldn't ignore this scene if he could intervene.

And that's what he did, he intervened, and it got him into trouble.

"...By saving that little girl, you've put a huge target on her back, our king won't like that at all."

"I don't give a fuck."

"Your king can go and sit on Zeus' lap, I bet he would like it." He flashed a meaningful smile.

"..." Eleanor, Lacus, and Siena opened their mouths in shock.

'This man, he really has a knack for making enemies, huh? Now he's even putting Zeus in the middle.'

"...You-." Belial looked like he was going to say something, but Victor started squeezing the Minion's head harder.

"Hey~..." Victor's smile grew.

"..." Belial felt a bad feeling about that smile.

"Since we met six months ago in Greece, I have always wondered something." Victor glanced at Kaguya.

Kaguya nods and pulls something out of his shadows. It was the head of an entirely red being.

Precisely, the head of a demon.

Victor took the demon's head and showed it to Belial.

"!!!" Belial opened his eyes wide when he saw that head, all of his aura disappeared, and a dull mood descended around him.

His smile grew widely:

"Can demons cry?"

"~~ALUCARD!~~"

Crack, Crack, Crack.

Just with his voice alone, he seemed to distort all the space around him from his fury!

This man not only left him impotent and got in the way of his king's plans, which consequently the responsibility fell on Belial, and to make matters worse, he did this...

He killed his heir.

"Hiii..." Pepper hid behind the sisters.

"I searched hard, I had to visit a dozen witches specializing in your race, but I managed to find him..."

"And unsurprisingly, just like his father, he was a piece of shit."

"You will pay for this."

"Blah, blah, blah."

"..." The pressure around Belial seemed to grow even more.

"From the moment I interfered with your plans in Greece, I knew this would happen, I just attacked first." Victor cleans his ear out and flashes a small smile, "Just like my master taught me, attack first and ask questions later."

"..." All the women looked at Scathach.

"Eh...? I didn't teach that." She made a confused face.

"..." Everyone just looked at the woman with a dry look; clearly, no one believed her.

"War, it's inevitable." Sounds of bones breaking were heard all around:

"I'll see you in hell, motherfucker."

CRACK!

Victor crushed the minion's head, and all of Belial's pressure disappeared.

"..." As if a supernatural creature had cut the sound off the place, an uncomfortable silence fell around them.

The women kept looking at Victor, and several thoughts were going through their heads, but the main one was:

'He became more cruel'.

And that was inevitable. Being away from his wives for 1 year meant he lost his shackles, and the only one keeping him sane was Ruby, but the woman couldn't be in several places at the same time, and she needed to train too.

Just as Victor has been training all this year nonstop, Ruby has done the same.

But on the rare times that Victor went out somewhere, Ruby wasn't there.

That is, he was alone, and an Alucard alone is never a good thing for other individuals.

Seriously... He caused more chaos than Violet and Sasha combined.

"..." Ruby looked at Victor silently as several emotions passed through her heart now.

When Victor said, 'I will go on a night walk.' Ruby knew someone was going to die that night.

And he always did that when he got bored of training alone. He'd take his Maids and go somewhere.

As if death were walking in the moonlight, he took his Maids and caused chaos wherever he went.

Ironically, the only people he killed were the people he thought were 'bad', and as part of Victor's morality is still that of a normal human, the ones who died were usually criminals, rapists, and vampires who preyed on the weak.

In the literal sense, he was like an 'anti-hero' who walked only at night.

Though his methods were... bloody.

And before she knew it, Roberta was also part of the 'maids' of the group.

From what Victor explained to her, Roberta wanted revenge against the gods, and as Victor 'provoked' the goddess Aphrodite in Roberta's perception, the woman wanted to join him.

Ruby doesn't know the exact details about Roberta's revenge since Victor didn't tell the details, he said it was something personal to the woman, and she would tell Ruby if she chose.

It wasn't like he was keeping it a secret. He just respected his new Maid's wishes.

"Natalia."

"!!!?" The woman was startled when she was suddenly called by Victor.

"Get over here."

"Y-Yes!" She felt a little embarrassed that she was stuttering, but it was inevitable since she didn't expect the man to suddenly call out to her.

Victor says something in Natalia's ear, "Open a gate at these coordinates."

The woman felt a shiver down her spine when she heard Victor's voice right next to her.

But that shiver quickly turned to an icy chill as she felt the gaze of several women on her.

When Victor finished explaining the coordinates, the woman opened her eyes wide.

"This will use up almost all my energy..."

"You can't do it?" Victor asked in a neutral tone.

"I can, but I'm not like my father who has a high amount of energy, this place... It's quite protected."

"Opening a large portal is literally impossible alone." Natalia judged the mission as impossible.

"I'm not asking you to open a portal my size, I'm telling you to open a portal about this size." Victor lifted the demon's head.

"..." Natalia looked at the demon head:

"Oh... In that case, it is possible."

"It's just a small hole, the protectors of that place should not notice."

"Good, now... Do it."

"Okay."

"Kaguya gave me that item."

Kaguya opened her eyes a little, and she asked:

"Are you really going to do this?"

"Yes."

"Master... The reaction of the demons will be the worst possible. Doing this is basically declaring war against King Diablo's faction."

"I don't give a fuck." Victor's eyes gleamed dangerously.

"..." The girls felt weird when they saw Victor's attitude. Normally wouldn't he fight the man? After all, he likes to fight.

"Victor, why are you doing this?" Scathach asked curiously, she didn't know what he was going to do, but from Kaguya's reaction, it's going to be something that could cause a war.

Victor looks at Scathach, "Belial and his subordinates don't have my respect. To me, they are the worst beings there are, and their leader has clashed with me, so I will eliminate him." He made a face of disgust as he remembered the 'vision' of what the piece of shit he was holding did to the human world.

This piece of shit had a peculiar taste for children, and when he finished doing his thing, he 'bathed' in their blood.

"This is not a fight anymore... This is a war, and I will do everything to eliminate my enemy." Demons can come to the human world and possess a human body, meaning they can use this method to harm Victor's relatives and acquaintances.

He knows it, and because of that, their friends are always under constant protection from Violet's vampire and dark witches that Esther recruited in a certain incident in the past.

"...You seem to understand the meaning of war." Scathach narrowed her eyes.

"I don't understand... I haven't personally experienced it." Victor was honest, he knows how cruel war is, but he only knows this through the teachings he learned in school.

He didn't personally experience it as Scathach had.

"But I understand that I can't be what I am if I go to war."

"... That's true." Scathach had nothing more to say.

Victor looked at Kaguya and extended his hand:

"...Sigh, if the master is so determined, it's not a Maid's duty to stand in your way." Kaguya extends her hand, a dark power appears in her hands, and soon that power disappears.

And in Kaguya's hand was a small golden cube.

"THAT IS!" Eleanor opened her eyes wide.

"How did you get this?"

"I bought it." Victor spoke as he took the item and placed it in the demon's mouth.

"How? This item only exists in my territory, and there are no witches there." Eleanor looked quite worried.

"I do not know. I just bought it from a witch, and it was cheap." Don't be fooled kids, despite saying it was cheap...

The number easily reaches 7 digits, and that's just one unit.

"..." Eleanor opened her mouth wide as she couldn't believe the bullshit she was hearing.

"Eleanor, explain what this is." Violet spoke to Eleanor.

"..." Eleanor was silent while she seemed to be thinking about several things.

"Eleanor!" She called the woman again.

"Leave her alone... It must have been a shock to her." Ruby spoke.

"Huh?"

"Do you know what this is?" Violet asked.

"It is clear." Victor flashed a smile.

"What is it?" Sasha asked too.

"A bomb."

"...." The two women were silent.

"My daughter, you must explain in detail. How about the little fact that this is a bomb made from monster materials? And that its blast radius can easily destroy a city?" Scathach spoke.

"Oh... I forgot to explain that." Ruby flashed an innocent smile.

"A bomb created with material from monsters?" Sasha looked at her mother.

"It's a long story..." She was too lazy to explain.

A vein pops in Sasha's head, "Summarize in 30 words!"

"Ugh... Later."

"...I see, I understand now why Eleanor is so shocked..." Violet spoke, and then her eyes widened:

"Wait, don't tell me." She looked at Victor, who completely burned the flesh of the demon's head and left it practically unrecognizable, as he smashed the demon's head, and soon a black ball was created.

"Where do you want the portal to appear?"

"On top of Belial Castle."

"... You are crazy."

"I call it military tactics, US generals would be proud of me." Victor replied.

"...." Even his answers got better... Natalia felt awkward now.

"Now, do it."

"Yes, yes."

Maria points her hand forward, and soon a small portal appears:

Victor takes a deep breath several times, "Testing, testing, one, two." Every time he spoke, his voice grew thicker.

Soon he shouts, "I, Beelzebub, declare war on BELIAL!"

"....." A deathly silence fell around them.

"You son of a bitch, you will pay for eating my wife!"

Victor makes a motion with his hand and throws the black ball into the portal.

3 seconds pass, and everyone hears:

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

Followed by Victor's maniacal laugh:

"HAHAHAHAHAHAHAH~" He laughed out loud as he clapped his hands, looking very pleased with what he did.

Chapter10 Chapter 250: Belial loves say the name of... ALUCARD!

Hell, territory of Belial.

"Son of a bitch!" A gigantic being slammed his fist into the throne he was sitting on, and his booming voice resounded throughout the castle.

Belial had never felt so angry before in his entire existence.

A small demon with long wings and two horns appeared in front of Belial, wearing a butler suit:

"Lord Belial, what happened!?"

Belial looked at the demon, his mood becoming a little more neutral, but the dangerous aura continued around him, and soon he said:

"Prepare a body for me in the human world, and call my generals."

'I'll make him pay' Belial's eyes gleamed dangerously. Demons were famous for returning what they received in kind, and Belial was no different.

Alucard killed his son.

And Belial will do the same. He will kill a son of Alucard, if he doesn't have a son, he will kill his mother, his father, any being related to that man.

It didn't matter if their targets had only known Alucard for a few minutes, he would kill everyone involved with the man! That's how demons work!

An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, death for death!

He will have his revenge for his son! And for the frightening instrument that became just a shrunken chick!

"...." The butler demon made a difficult face.

"Lord Belial... I'm afraid to say this is an impossible request. The quality of human bodies is declining, humans aren't as healthy as they used to be, and the best bodies are reserved for the two kings and the dukes next to the kings. The body you lost a few months ago was one of the best."

"..." Belial narrowed his eyes when he heard what the demon said, he couldn't help but show an annoyed face when he heard of the 'monopoly' that the two kings were making, but he couldn't say anything about it at all.

In hell, the rule is simple.

The strong command, and the weak obey.

Despite being one of the strongest demons, Belial was still weaker than some demon dukes and the king himself, so he followed.

'Tsk, if that woman had a stronger fist, I wouldn't mind joining her, but Queen Lilith is too soft.' Despite respecting the woman mentioned, after all, she was the creator of demons, he was still a demon.

He always prioritized his desires and goals above others, and he didn't mind betraying whoever went after those goals. That is just the kind of creature demons are.

"We don't have enough resources to send your generals to the human world." The butler continued.

"...What about the minions?" Belial asked since he could possess minions as a medium and use them as a means to walk through the human world.

'Tsk, if it wasn't for that annoying god, I wouldn't have to go through this.'

It was a divine rule, demons cannot intervene on Earth, and there was a 'door' that prevented the passage of these demons, and at that door, there was a guard.

Lucifer, the first demon king and guard of hell, was responsible for keeping demons in hell, but...

The man decided to simply take a vacation; he broke the key to the gate in two and gave it to his most faithful 'friends'.

Lilith, the mother of demons, also known as Adam's first wife, who rejected being 'chained' by god. She subsequently became the Queen of an entire faction.

And Diablo, the incarnation of evil, also nicknamed 'Satan' by mortals. Later on, he became the Demon King Diablo, who was the leader for which Belial served.

The main objective of Diablo's faction was the control and dominance of the human race, so he wanted war against humans!

In the end, the two leaders wanted war!

With the key to hell's gate broken, the gate itself went into a state of instability, and 'gaps' began to appear in the gate.

And it's through these breaches that dukes and kings could send minions into the human world.

At the time, the strongest demons were excited when they saw the breach in the gate. They thought they could finally get out of this boredom that is hell and wanted to go to the human world, unfortunately... They couldn't, only low level demons could go through the gate.

And there were two options for high level demons.

Seal your power and enter the human world with the power of a low level demon or possess a human's body.

Sealing off their power was a big 'no' for the demons, considering they didn't know when their friends would turn their blades on them.

So it was a general agreement that demons would possess the bodies of humans who had just died, and, by using the human's soul as a key, they could enter that human's body.

"...It is possible to send the boys to the human world, but you will need the king's permission."

"Tsk."

"I will-." Belial was going to say something, but suddenly, he looked up to the sky.

His eyes narrowed, and he seemed to see beyond his castle.

Suddenly all the demons in Belial's territory heard a thick, demonic voice:

"I, Beelzebub, declare war on BELIAL!"

That statement was met with strange looks from Belial's subordinate demons:

"...but Lord Beelzebub is our ally?"

"Yes, he is. Something is strange."

"Did Lord Belial do something?"

"...Don't tell me that Lord Beelzebub discovered his green hat?" A demon laughed in amusement.

All the demons associated with Belial knew the man's personality. If you put it in simple words, he'd stick his dick into whatever hole he found interesting.

Some demons called him Zeus' Twin Brother because of this personality.

"Kekekeke" A lesser demon laughed awkwardly and said, "If so, then we're fucked."

"Hell yeah." His friend spoke.

"Let's run away?" the lesser demon spoke.

"That's a good idea." The friend agreed and then continued:

"I have a bad feeling about this."

"Me too." Soon they flew towards somewhere.

Another demon spoke, "...This is strange..."

Some demons found this strange since Diablo himself had forbidden conflict between allies until the war was over.

But as the demon king knew what kind of race the demons were, he only forbade internal war for futile and causeless reasons. But, if it was something personal, it was possible to resolve it with a duel between the two individuals involved.

They didn't have to discard 'resources' in a fight considered by Diablo to be 'childish'.

So there was only one reason, "Lord Beelzebub found out that Lord Belial ate his daughter?"

"...If so, it took quite a while, it was common knowledge that this sort of thing happened."

"Well, Lord Beelzebub lives in a rather isolated place, so maybe his subordinate demons don't know?" A male demon with blue skin and golden eyes resembling a lizard spoke.

Soon the voice was heard again, and this time the voice sounded more irritated:

"You son of a bitch, you will pay for eating my wife!"

"....." A deathly silence fell for all of Belial's subordinate demons.

"Fuck" All the demons in town spoke at once.

The butler looked at his master, "...Lord Belial, I warned you that this would go to shit."

Veins began to pop in Belial's head, and the being spoke:

"It's not Beelzebub you fucking idiots! It's that man!"

"... What man?"

"The man who killed my little brother."

"How?" The butler looked quite confused since he didn't remember his master saying that.

"...Nevermind." Belial just remembered that he didn't tell his butler. After all, that was a disgrace to him.

Suddenly the butler opens his eyes wide; 'Was that why he didn't touch the Succubus? Has he become impotent?' The butler looked up to the sky and saw something falling towards the ground.

'What is that?' He narrowed his eyes a little more, and with his demonic eyes, he could see a head falling, recognizing the head's identity, he said:

"That's the son-..."

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM.

...

Thousands of miles away from the demon's castle, the demons looked at the mushroom cloud that rose to the sky:

"Well, shit." A large demon spoke.

"We got lucky." The lesser demon continued.

"Is Lord Belial dead?" the large demon asked in a nonchalant tone.

"Of course not, he's one of the 72 Dukes of Hell, you know? It's hard to kill him."

"Tsk, and here I was thinking I could loot his treasures." The large demon spoke in annoyance.

"Are you talking about the pornography collection?" A lesser demon asked curiously, it was common knowledge about Belial's perversion, and when he conquered a 'woman', he always took pictures of these conquests and kept them in a book.

"What else would it be?" The larger demon looked at the smaller one with narrowed eyes.

"I don't know, gold maybe?"

"Gold doesn't give pleasure, and if I want something, I'll just steal it."

"Make sense..." The lesser demon couldn't help but agree.

"Tsk, I need to pet my goose." The greater demon looked quite nervous.

"...Why don't you visit a Succubus?" the lesser demon asked when he saw the state of his acquaintance.

"Are you crazy? I don't want to die." He rolled his eyes, then continued:

"Those bitches are on another level, she'll suck you to death, literally speaking."

"... Well, that's true."

"But at least she'll satisfy all your dark desires."

"...Well..." The bigger demon was tempted to try now... But! He feared for his life, so he decided this was a bad idea.

"What about the incubus?"

"They're extinct, have you forgotten?"

"Huh...? Have they gone extinct?"

"Of course, Lord Dantalion made a point of persecuting the entire race and extinguishing it from the 7 hells... Didn't you know that?"

"Of course not! It may not seem like it, but I am a young devil!"

"...I thought you were a lesser demon."

"I am not!" He felt wronged.

"What race are you then?"

"I'm an Imp." He patted his chest proudly.

The bigger demon turned its face to the side and spoke in a confused tone, "Simp?"

"IMP!"

"Ohhh, so you're lower in the hierarchy, RIP for you, buddy."

"Tsk, don't remind me of that."

Suddenly Belial's demonic voice was heard by the two demons:

"ALUCARD!!!"

The whole body of the demons trembled in fear:

"He's angry." The large demon spoke.

"Don't say the obvious, Mr obvious."

"..." The bigger demon looked at the Imp with an annoyed look:

"But..." The Imp looked at the bigger demon.

"Who is Alucard?"

"...How would I fucking know? Do I look like an information bank?"

"... Well, yes?"

"...." The two fell silent.

Suddenly.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

A pillar of fire rose to the heavens, Belial was seen by the two demons, the giant being looked at his destroyed city, and the pressure of his body seemed to get heavier:

"You will pay for this, ALUCARD!"

The spines of the two beings trembled with fear:

"Is he so angry about losing his porn collection?" the bigger demon asked.

"I would be too if I were in his place." The Imp replied.

"..." The bigger demon looked at the Imp with an accusing gaze.

"..." The imp opens his eyes a little and says, "Oops."

ROOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOAR!

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

Belial roared skyward, and a pillar of fire shot out of his mouth.

"We should get out of here..."

"That's definitely a good idea."

The two low level demons quickly did what any low level demon would do in this situation.

They fled!

...

"HAHAHAHAHAHAHAH~"

Looking at Victor, who was clapping his hands.

One thing was very clear to the girls; 'He's really enjoying this.'

"Darling..." Sasha raised her hand as if she were a child asking the teacher's permission to speak:

"Hmm?" Victor looked at Sasha:

"What's up, Honey?"

Hearing the gentle tone Victor used to speak, Sasha, Violet,

Scathach, and Natashaia all flashed a small smile.

They only thought for a few seconds about the possibility that Victor had changed so much that he forgot about them, but it seems that this is not true.

The truth is that his love seemed to get stronger? It's heavy...

At least that was Sasha and Violet's impression.

Natashia and Scathach didn't know that.

Sasha flashed a small smile, "What was that about Beelzebub?"

"Oh, from what a witch told me, Belial is very famous for sticking his...-" He stopped talking, and looked at Ophis for a few seconds, then continued:

"His little brother everywhere."

"He was even labeled the twin brother of Zeus."

"...That's not a good comparison." Scathach narrowed her eyes.

"Indeed." Natashaia nodded in agreement.

"Thinking about the man's personality, I just threw in random words about cheating. If that works, Good. He will be busy with another demon for a while, but if that doesn't work..."

"Well, it's not like anything is going to change." Victor suddenly turned around and started walking towards Scathach's mansion.

"...umu..." Pepper nodded to herself and said, "Somehow, my godfather has become an expert in causing chaos."

"... Godfather? Is he not your brother-in-law?" Scathach looked at her daughter, confused.

"...." Pepper, Siena, and Lacus looked at Scathach with a dry gaze.

Looking at Victor's back, 'Father...' Ophis' eyes lit up a little, then Ophis was covered in a black power and appeared on Victor's shoulder.

"...." Victor displayed a gentle smile and patted Ophis' head.

[Girls, you're free to do whatever you want, I won't be leaving for a while.] Victor mentally spoke.

[Yes, Master.] The five almost spoke at the same time, and soon they became more relaxed.

Except for one Maid, of course.

Kaguya's body became pure darkness as she disappeared into the ground and entered Victor's shadow:

[Kaguya?]

[If I don't keep an eye on the master... The master will run away somewhere I can't see... Again.] Kaguya spoke up.

'... am I a child?' Victor almost said it, but he knew this was Kaguya's way of taking care of him, and he didn't hate it:

[Then follow me, My Maid.]

Kaguya flashed a gentle smile and said, [Always.]

The little girl displayed a small satisfied smile.

Soon Victor turned around, "Shall we? We need to eat."

Hearing the word 'eat', Scathach, Natasha, Violet, and Sasha's eyes glowed blood red, and they looked at Victor as if he were a walking pig.

"Indeed, we haven't eaten yet." Violet licked her lips.

Natashia's eyes stopped shining, and she asked in a non-confident tone, "...Hmm, can I too?"

Victor looked at Natashia, and with the same gentle smile, he said, "Of course."

And with those simple words, Natashia's gloomy mood seemed to lighten.

"Let's go!" She was very excited.

Chapter11 Chapter 251: Demon.

Yes, Indeed. They are called demons by mortals...

Creatures who were rejected by God for being too corrupt.

Once angels who were on God's side, but now cast out of paradise and abandoned in the confines of a world in decay.

Punished by the creator himself to be the representation of all the 'evil' of humanity.

Creatures that when mortals think of the word 'evil', the word 'demon' certainly comes to their minds.

Condemned to roam the seven hells for all eternity, demons are the result of a single action...

'Sin'.

When people kill in anger.

When people envy other people's goods, and steal those goods.

When people are too lazy to do something.

When people are very proud and believe they are always right, consequently harming another being.

When people have an insatiable gluttony and do not share with their peers despite having better conditions.

When people accumulate enough goods without need.

And when people have an uncontrollable lust, that can lead to the death of other beings.

When a 'sin' is committed, by divine law, you will be condemned to hell.

But... God is just...

Sin will still be judged.

By the hands of the three judges of the abyss...

Gigantic beings whose only visible features are their golden eyes, golden hands, and a mouth that seems to contain an entire 'galaxy' inside it.

Supernatural beings call these judges the eyes, hands, and mouth of God because, with one decree from these formless beings, you can be condemned to eternal happiness, or eternal suffering.

Judges who judge mortals...

And If it is declared that their sins are too high to redeem.

The mortal soul will be thrown into the confines of the 7 hells, its soul will be recycled, taking only the good part, and all that is left is...

An empty shell of pure evil... These are the beings known as demons...

People of antiquity believe that there is no 'goodness' in demons. After all, that part was taken from them a long time ago.

But like every story related to the genesis, everything is not what it seems.

The first human woman to be created, Lilith. That, in another time, would become the mother of demons.

She is a special being that, despite being a demon of the highest rank that can be considered an evil god, she still has her 'goodness'.

But that's not the case for... Diablo.

The incarnation of evil... the bloody plague.... The demon of Chaos.

There are many titles that beings have given him.

Diablo is the first demon born when God implemented the soul recycling system, humanity's first sin, and, consequently, by being the first and beginning of everything, he is the 'idealization' of what demons should be.

And this being was looking at a distant place.

Sitting on a red throne decorated with the bones of his enemies, the Demon King narrowed his eyes.

With its long thorny tail, it picks up a black soul with some white parts. Clearly, the soul was corrupted, but there was also a bit of 'goodness' in that soul, something that shouldn't be happening.

"Stop, Stop! Do not do this." The soul begged.

Paying no attention to the insect's murmurs, it just opens its mouth full of sharp teeth and....

Eats.

The demon king's eyes begin to glow blood red:

"A breach has been created... Someone has invaded..." A dark, distorted voice resounded throughout the castle.

"Belial was attacked." He touched his claws to his chin and seemed to think.

"Beelzebub?"

"Wrong, that's not his voice."

A silence fell around, and all that could be heard was the noise of several souls who were behind Diablo.

These souls were asking for help.

But no one here would help them.

They will become Diablo's snacks.

Again the demon's tail moved and captured a soul, he brought that soul to his mouth, and...

Crunch!

"...Someone is trying to bring chaos to my army."

"But that individual failed miserably." He spoke in disdain. Demons have been in conflict with each other for hundreds of thousands of years, they literally never stopped fighting.

This tactic is very childish, in Diablo's opinion.

"Bael."

A red pentagram appeared on the ground, and soon an 'extremely handsome man' appeared.

He was tall, with long golden hair tied in a ponytail that reached to the ground, he had green eyes and was wearing a white suit. It was a look you wouldn't expect to see in a place like this.

"...You're still using that disgusting form." Diablo spoke in a dry voice that gave Bael little chills, but it didn't last long since he was used to Diablo's disapproval of his appearance.

"What can I say? I got used to using this body." He shrugged as if he had no choice.

"..." The being was silent, and then he spoke:

"Call Belial, and make him spit out all he knows."

The man's eyes turned cold, "...What happened?"

"Someone invaded hell and attacked Belial, this being is trying to cause chaos in my army." He explained quickly and in a way that was easy to understand.

"..." Bael touched his chin and began to think:

'There are not many beings who can pass through the gate of hell without God's permission.'

'Even if the gate is unstable, this is an almost impossible feat.'

'Yes... Indeed, the keyword here is 'almost'. Who is attacking? A space god? A weather god? Or maybe someone this god works for?'

"Well... It doesn't matter." Bael's green eyes gleamed a little dangerously, "Whoever it is, he's going to die."

"I will call Belial, and have this investigated."

Diablo grabbed another soul with his tail and put it in his mouth:

"Call Beelzebub too."

"The person who attacked was using his name, he might know something."

Bael looked at the souls that Diablo was eating and found it a waste to have so many good souls that could serve as bodies for the army of demons, but instead were being used here to feed this ancient demon. Rare souls that escaped the hands of the judges of the abyss due to an error in the divine system.

Bael had to agree that Lucifer was adept at causing trouble for God, with just the simple gesture of breaking a key that was supposed to be unbreakable, he messed up the entire 'perfect' system that God created.

And he did all this simply because he wanted to take a 'vacation'.

"... Okay." Bael turned and soon disappeared into a pentagram.

Diablo looked up at the blood-red sky, his eyes seemed to glow a little, and he saw a gigantic black door that appeared to be 'bleeding'.

'No change, huh.' He was used to this sight. Since he received a part of Lucifer's Key, he was able to see 'the door to hell', but he could only see, he could not touch or interact with the door.

Diablo believed he could only do so if he had the complete key.

'Soon... Yes, indeed... Soon, I will leave this place.' He closed his eyes again and went back to what he was doing.

In Victor's personal room.

Scathach, Violet, Ruby, Sasha, and Natasha were present, and the girls were scattered around the room.

Ruby and Sasha were sitting cross-legged while they were reading manga...

Precisely, only Ruby was reading, as Sasha was more focused on what Victor was talking about.

Violet and Natasha had their heads resting on the shoulders of Victor, who was sitting on the bed, with his back to the wall.

Scathach was seated in a chair a little ways away from the group, and she had a large table beside her with several old books that she asked Luna to bring from her mansion.

She seemed to be focused on researching something.

When Victor finished 'eating' and the girls too, the women grabbed him and Ruby and dragged him to the room, demanding an explanation. They needed to know what Victor did to prepare for this.

As they were already in the room anyway, they took off all their heavy clothes and put on light clothes.

"...How can you cause so much chaos in just one year?" That was Sasha's first question.

"..." Victor touched his chin and thought about what Sasha said, and then he said:

"I do not know."

"..." Sasha opened her mouth a little, and then she sighed...

Victor had just finished explaining everything that had happened in the year he was alone with Ruby, and she just couldn't believe how much chaos he'd caused in such a short time.

"But..."

"Hmm?"

"One thing I can say is, try to leave Violet without seeing me for a year and knowing that this was someone's fault..."

"I ask you, Honey. what do you think will happen?"

"The world would burn... Literally." Sasha and Ruby gave an instant response.

"..." Violet was silent and didn't defend herself because she knew it was true. After all, she couldn't go 1 week without seeing Victor when she was younger, let alone a year?

She would completely freak out.

"It seems like everyone wants to be your enemy, Husb-...Victor."

"..." Sasha looked at her mother with a dry look but soon went back to reading her manga.

"..." Victor displayed a small smile and pat Natasha's head a little, and he said:

"Everyone wants to be my enemy, huh?" Victor flashed an odd smile.

Natasha displayed a small gentle smile when she felt Victor's affection. Everything felt very peaceful now, and she finally got what she wanted!

But unfortunately, she still didn't get 'everything' she wanted. She still wanted him inside her! She still wanted him to call her Honey, similar to how he talked to her daughter!

And more importantly, she wanted a threesome with her daughter!

A small, obsessive smile appeared on her face, but she quickly hid that smile as she laid her head on Victor's chest.

She wanted more!

More... More... MORE! AND MORE!

"Well, I don't think I'm the cause of it." Victor chuckled a little and patted the head of Violet, who was next to him.

"...!" The woman's body trembled a little, but soon she leaned her body closer to Victor and enjoyed the man's caresses.

Soon she spoke in a proud tone, "...Darling's presence is very intimidating, and because of that, he makes enemies wherever he goes."

"True, 'small' men will be intimidated by Victor's presence." The word 'small' appeared to contain several hidden meanings.

And Violet, with the dirty mind that she had understood the full meaning of what Natasha said.

"Indeed, indeed. Darling is on another level." She spoke with a suggestive smile.

Natasha looked at Violet, and she smiled the same way the woman did, "Oh? I feel like I'm going to get along with you."

"Me too~." Violet laughed a little.

"..." Ruby and Sasha looked at the two women with a dry look, their gaze saying: Bitch, please. Have some decency.

"Blowing up the entire Inquisition base." Ruby suddenly started.

"In my defense, that was done by Mizuki... I just cheered... Yes, I just gave my motivational support. I definitely didn't like seeing those fireworks~" Victor quickly defended himself with a big smile on his face, but clearly, everyone knew he liked what he did!

"Looking for a fight with a demon duke." Sasha continued.

"Well... He pissed me off, and I didn't like the way he talked about Scathach. He started it." He spoke in a neutral tone, but everyone could see the anger that was pouring out of his words.

"..." Scathach flashed an imperceptible little smile when she heard what Victor said but quickly went back to her reading.

She wasn't particularly offended to hear this, considering many people had already said that, and these people disappeared from the face of the earth. He would just be next on the list.

"Call the goddess Aphrodite who is a Titan Goddess, a Bitch." Ruby spoke as she sighed a little internally. She should have gone with Victor, she regretted it a little, but...

Victor's state that day was very chaotic, she needed to listen to him a little, or he wouldn't be 'relaxed'.

Ruby understood that when he couldn't see the rest of his wives, she was the only bridge that kept Victor's obsessiveness at sanity, and if she 'disappeared from his sight too', he would go crazier than he already was.

"..." Victor was silent since he had no words to defend himself. He did that, after all, he didn't like the second encounter he had with Aphrodite at all.

He hoped never to see the woman again, but fate is a bitch, and he met her again.

"Not that she isn't a bitch." Sasha defended Victor.

"Indeed." Natasha and Violet supported Sasha.

"..." Ruby looked at Sasha with a dry look, her gaze saying, 'Weren't you on my side?'

Sasha just turned away and started whistling.

'Traitor!' Ruby thought, then she continued:

"She can be a bitch, and sleep with any man she's interested in, but we're not supposed to say those things." As a teacher, Ruby began to explain:

"After all, she is a goddess who has lived since the beginning of time, her morality is different from ours."

"... Well, yes." Sasha couldn't help but agree with Ruby, looking for a fight with a goddess of Aphrodite's level was just silly.

"I'm surprised she didn't do anything to Victor." Natasha suddenly spoke up.

"..."

"Yes... This is definitely strange, this man has the ability to offend everyone. If he talks to a stone, I have no doubt that this stone will spit blood for such offense."

"..." Victor's eyes twitched when he heard what Violet said.

"Why didn't she do anything?" Sasha asked the doubt in the heads of the four women.

...

"Why didn't she do anything?" Sasha asked the doubt in the heads of the four women.

"..." A moment of silence fell between the women as they were trying to understand the goddess's thoughts.

But...

"Who cares?" Scathach suddenly spoke, and she managed to get the girls' attention.

The long red haired woman raised her head and looked directly at the girls.

"Who cares about the thoughts of a goddess?" She spoke with disdain on her face.

"..." The girls were silent.

"You are losing focus." Scathach continued.

"What do you mean?" Natasha asked, trying to understand the woman's intentions.

Scathach ignored Natasha's question and continued, "It doesn't matter if she helped him or not, it doesn't matter at all."

"What matters is, this Bitch is very interested in him..." Scathach's eyes flashed blood red. Who did this bitch think she was to run after her disciple?

"..." Violet, Sasha, and Natasha narrowed their eyes when they heard what Scathach said.

"Hmm..." Ruby put her hand on her chin and seemed to think:

"That's true." Remembering what Victor said about the woman, Ruby couldn't help but agree with her mother.

"..." Victor showed a small smile and was silent all this time. For him, the girls' discussion and debate were like a song played by the best composer in the world.

He really missed it.

And... He really liked it when girls talked about him and were protective of him.

It was not out of ego or anything like that.

But... He just loved it.

Because that was their way of showing love to him.

'Although...' Victor looked at Scathach, seeing the woman sitting on the chair with her legs crossed while holding a thick book in her hands. He couldn't help but think that she was very beautiful...

His blood-red eyes glowed a little.

He measured his and Scathach's strength, and just as he'd expected:

'It's still not enough...' Despite having trained 1 year non-stop, he didn't progress much in 'power', and instead progressed more in his techniques that became more refined.

Victor was at a bottleneck, and he understood that a vampire's nature was an unbreakable rule, and he couldn't break it.

Believe me... He tried, almost killing himself in training has its perks, but...

'It's still not enough.'

But that thought didn't depress Victor. It actually made him more excited to know that he could still get stronger, and as he remembered Natasha's fight, he saw that he still had several ways to improve his techniques still.

And as he improved his technique, he would improve his strength, make less useless moves, and would become a more 'complete' warrior.

'I have to be patient.' Yes, he should have patience and focus on what he already has. He needed to train what he already had so that one day he could reach the level of the woman in front of him.

After all, it took her 2000 years to get where she was today, and Victor must go through the same. He must wait 2000 years for his body to evolve naturally.

But... Like all adults in the 21st century, he didn't want to wait...

'2000 years is a long time.' Indeed, 2000 years was a very long time since various civilizations could rise and fall in the meantime. Who knows?

Perhaps Earth would be finished two thousand years into the future.

Because of this, Victor thought of an alternative.

'Natalia...' Precisely speaking... The power of her Clan.

'If an individual had the ability to close down a whole world and slow down time, he could definitely do that on a small scale.' Victor's thought was to create a room where time passed faster for him so that his body could age and he would train at the same time.

'But... That's impossible, for now.' After all, from what Victor understood, only Alexios had that power.

His daughter didn't.

And Victor was 100% sure that Alexios wouldn't help him.

Why? Because Alexios was a faithful servant.

And just like his Maids, a faithful servant would not help a possible 'enemy' of the person they served.

'Probably, he could help me, but I would have to make a contract or something that forbade me from harming Vlad or anyone in his family.' And that was something Victor didn't want.

He didn't want to be chained...

The simple fact of not being able to do something he wanted left a bad taste in his mouth.

"So, what should we do?" Violet asked.

"..." And hearing Violet's voice next to him, Victor woke up from his thoughts.

"Something you should have done a long time ago." Scathach closed the book with a bang and spoke with a big smile on her face:

"Train."

"...." A silence fell over the room, and all the women looked at Scathach with surprised expressions.

Why is it all about training?

"Of course, I will train you."

"..." Violet, Sasha, and even Natashia made an annoyed face since they didn't want to train.

"That's a good idea, I need some teachings from you, mother."
Ruby's eyes went dark as a black hole:

"I've managed to access the Vampire Count form, but I still have trouble controlling-...I need your teachings."

"Oh?" Scathach looked at her daughter with an interested smile. She saw the smile on her face, it was an excited smile... A smile like Victor.

"..." Scathach opened her mouth a little in shock and looked at Victor:

"...Victor..." Her voice came out menacingly.

"..." Victor turned his face away and started whistling.

"What did you do to my daughter?" Her voice came out darkly.

WHISTLE!

"What are you talking about, I didn't do anything." He played innocent.

"..." Scathach narrowed her eyes.

And looked at her daughter:

"What did he do to you?" She decided to ask the victim.

"...?" Ruby didn't understand the question, but thinking she was talking about how she was able to access her transformation, she said:

"It's no big deal, he just promised that if I trained with him, he would reward me..." Her face turned a little red at the end.

Of course, the reward was 'that'.

Dual cultivation, explore the dragon's den, traverse the mountain tops, etc.

And they all clearly understood that.

Except for one.

"What kind of reward?" Scathach asked with narrowed eyes.

"....." Sasha, Natasha, and Violet looked at Scathach with a face that said:

Bitch, please. You are older than Jesus, how could you not understand the hidden message? Are you kidding?

"...Well..." Her face turned redder.

Gulp...

She swallowed hard and seemed to gather courage.

"SSS...-" She bit her tongue...

And her face got redder.

"..." Scathach's eyes darkened as she finally understood; Victor used the carrot method, Ruby would help him in training, and he would reward her with something she liked... And so he did, and in the end, she became addicted to training because unconsciously, she knew she would get a reward if she did that:

"You bastard, you've addicted my daughter." Scathach looked at Victor but saw that the man was nowhere to be found.

Her eyes glowed blood red as she searched for Victor and quickly found him standing in the doorway.

"Victor..." Her eyes and her face were dark as a black hole.

Victor's smile grew:

"Hey, Scathach. I need to sort something out. When I get back... I'll train with you."

"...Oh?" Scathach was interested in what Victor was going to say.

"I need your teachings..." He displayed a gentle smile, "And I want to spend time alone with you, I've missed you."

"...Huh?" All Scathach's momentum seemed to disappear with the leaves in the wind.

"I'll see you later, Scathach." He flashed a small smile, and his body began to be covered in lightning.

Rumble.

And in the blink of an eye, he was gone, leaving behind streaks of lightning.

"....."

An awkward silence fell in the room while the girls looked at Scathach, who was stunned in place. She looked like an adventurer who looked into medusa's eyes and was paralyzed as stone.

"...He's gotten better at dealing with Scathach..." Violet muttered.

And the girls couldn't help but agree with the woman.

"Ahhh!" Sasha suddenly opened her eyes.

Natashia looked at Sasha, "What is it, Daughter?"

"Let's follow him!"

"Eh...? But I have to sort out my Clan's problems..." She spoke the truth since she had just left everything in Victoria's hands a few days ago.

"Who cares about the Clan?"

"Was that really something an heiress should say?" Violet asked with a dry look.

But Sasha didn't seem to be listening to her since she was more focused on her thoughts.

"..." Ruby looked at Violet:

"Those words coming from you, that's really ironic."

"..." Violet was silent as she looked at Ruby:

"I-..." She looked like she was going to say something to defend herself.

"I can count how many times you neglected the heiress' job to pursue Victor." Ruby picked up a red book that had a strange padlock on it.

"I have it all written down here." Ruby flashed a small smile.

"..." Violet looked at Ruby with a shocked face.

"Why do you have this!?"

"Blackm-... Cough, I mean, if I ever needed to convince one of my friends to do something for me."

'This bitch! She was definitely going to say Blackmail, right?' Violet's eyes glowed blood red.

Sasha approached her mother and spoke in her ear:

"We can be alone-." She didn't even need to finish saying that as Natasha understood what her daughter meant.

The woman quickly got up from the bed, clothes began to be created on her body, and she looked at her daughter with sparks of lightning flashing in her eyes.

"Let's go."

"...." Sasha's smile grew.

Rumble, Rumble.

The two women were covered by lightning and soon disappeared.

"Ugh, why don't I have this power? I could follow them now." Violet mourned her fate.

"Woman, you literally have the power every vampire would love to have."

"...?" Violet looked confused at Ruby.

"What power are you talking about?"

"You can walk in the sun, bitch. Did you forget?"

"Oh... But is that a big deal?" Violet didn't understand. Given her preference, she would rather have a power equal to Kaguya so she could chase after Victor 24... Wrong, 25 hours a day, 8 days a week, 666 days a year.

... The calendar doesn't work like that!

Ruby narrowed her eyes, "...These privileged people must die..." She really envied Violet's power. After all, if she had the power to walk in the sun, she wouldn't have to wear that stifling coat, and she could resolve things in the human world more easily.

"...That's really ironic coming from you..." Violet didn't miss the opportunity to timely Ruby.

"Why?"

"You are the daughter of Scathach, and you were born with two powers."

"Vampires were spitting blood right now if they heard what you said."

"..." Ruby started to think about what Violet had said and added, "That really makes sense, they all have the attitude of a young master of a Wuxia novel, it's quite possible they did that."

"...?" Violet didn't understand anything Ruby said since she wasn't into the culture yet.

Victor stopped in the middle of the Scathach mansion room, he was only wearing pants.

"Victor, what are you doing?" Lacus asked with a curious look.

"...?" Victor looked at Lacus and saw that she was accompanied by Siena, Pepper, Ophis, and Eleanor.

"Oh, you've come at a good time." Victor looked at Eleanor.

"But I didn't go anywhere, I was stuck here from the beginning." Eleanor retorted.

Victor pointed to Eleanor, "You're coming with me to a place."

Eleanor narrowed her eyes, "... I can deny it, you know?"

"If you don't go, I'll steal your horse, I know she's stopped outside the capital."

Eleanor's eyes gleamed blood red, "...Try to steal Chloe from me, just try... I guarantee your head will be rolling the moment you touch my horse." She was quite protective of her horse.

"Oh..." Victor's smile grew, and he started to stare at Eleanor.

"Victor is acting like a hooligan." Pepper muttered.

"But hasn't he always acted like this?" Siena spoke.

"... Of course not." Pepper took a while to respond.

"Usually, he has mother's attitude, the difference is he's not mother, so we thought he was a Hooligan." Lacus explained.

"OHHH." The two understood each other now.

Suddenly.

BOOOOOM!

The front door was slammed open.

"...." The group looked towards the door and saw a woman with long black hair and violet eyes. She was being accompanied by another woman who looked like her.

Two wild princesses appeared, and they brought their guards.

"OPHIS!"

"Geh." Ophis' face distorted a little.

"What do you mean by 'GEH'? Huh?"

"..." Ophis turned away and ignored her sister.

"I finally found you, you should go home." Elizabeth demanded,

"Kotowaru!." Ophis' face, for a moment, seemed to grow more mature.

"..." The two sisters looked at Ophis in shock and then looked at Victor:

"What did you teach her?"

"Why did the blame fall on me? I did nothing." He felt unjustified, but soon his mood changed, and he looked at the guards with his gaze glowing blood-red:

"You all wait outside."

"...We don't follow-." The guard leader wanted to say something, but Victor didn't give a damn.

"I said..." Victor's voice started to get darker, and he ordered with eyes glowing blood red, "You all wait outside."

The guards' bodies trembled a little, they felt a chill down their spines, and in that very second, they lost consciousness and became puppets:

"Yes, Master."

All the guards turned and left the mansion.

"..." A silence fell over the place.

Pepper and Lilith's faces looked a little red, while Elizabeth looked at Victor with a little fear that soon disappeared.

"Father is cool." Ophis' eyes gleamed. She felt no fear, but soon her face became strange.

"...Cool Father?"

"Father cool... Huh?" She seemed to be trying to unravel a divine mystery.

Rumble, Rumble.

Natashia and Sasha appeared alongside Victor.

"Oh, the group has grown..." Sasha said.

"Will you come?" Victor asked.

"We can't?" The two asked at the same time.

He flashed a gentle little smile and said, "I didn't say that."

"..." The two smiled a little.

"Kaguya." Victor spoke aloud, and soon a shadow left the ground.

Victor looked into Kaguya's eyes:

[I will go visit Big Guy and that strange tree, take care of the house for me.]

[...Will you go alone?]

[Natashia and Sasha will be with me... And Eleanor too]

[At least take a Maid, master.]

[Which do you suggest?]

[Eve... She is very unstable these days, she needs your attention.]

[...I didn't realize that....] Victor felt bad about it.

[No need to feel this way, master. Your head was full of training and concern for your wives. It's understandable.]

[But don't forget about us...]

Victor looked seriously at Kaguya:

[That will never happen... After all, you are my lovely Maids.]

[...I know...] Kaguya displayed a small smile. Throughout the past year, Victor always paid attention to the Maids, it was only when he was close to returning to Nightingale that he didn't look at them much, but that was understandable.

AND...

'There is me.' Kaguya was there to look after the maids as well when her master was too busy.

"...." The group fell silent when they saw Victor looking at Kaguya silently.

"... This is weird." Pepper spoke.

"Yes." They all agreed for different reasons, they knew he was talking to Kaguya, but it was in a way they couldn't understand.

Only Elizabeth and Lilith didn't know what was going on, and because of that, they agreed with what Pepper said.

"Hmm..." Natasha looked at this with a bit of envy.

Sasha and even his maids had something special with Victor, only she and Scathach had nothing! This was unfair! Older women need something too!

Her eyes gleamed with determination while she seemed to be thinking about something.

"I am going." Victor spoke as he turned and looked at a woman.

"...Eh?" Eleanor felt a bad feeling when she saw Victor's eyes.

"Be careful, master."

"Thank you, My Maid."

Before Victor left, Ophis suddenly appeared beside him and held Victor's hand:

"Hmm?"

"Father... Blood... Hungry..." She spoke in a monotone, but everyone could understand her intentions.

"Wha-..." The two sisters' world seemed to have frozen, and they looked at Ophis with a shocked look.

He looked at the little girl in a gentle tone and said, "... I'll come back quickly. If you're still here, I'll give you my blood, okay?"

"Ugh... Okay..."

Rumble, Rumble.

Victor disappeared, leaving lightning trails behind, and appeared in front of Eleanor as he raised the woman like a princess.

"Huh...? Let me go-."

"Don't open your mouth or scream. You will bite your tongue."

Rumble, Rumble.

Victor disappeared again.

"Yep, she was kidnapped." Siena spoke.

"I hope her butler doesn't know this, he'll be pissed." Lacus spoke.

"Who cares? Victor doesn't seem to mind either."

".... Well, yes." Lacus couldn't help but agree with Pepper.

Sasha and Natasha looked at each other, and then.

Rumble, Rumble.

The two followed Victor.

"...." The three sisters and Kaguya looked at the two princesses,

"They're going to explode any moment..." Kaguya predicted, and she quickly put her hands to her ears.

The three sisters imitated what Kaguya did and waited.

Veins started popping in the two sisters' heads when they saw Ophis' face, and they screamed.

"ALUCARD!!!"

Chapter13 Chapter 253: Pepper is not a Hooligan!... Maybe.

[A/N: For those who don't know, the woman on the new cover is Kaguya, our perfect Maid. Umu! Ah yes, Ruby's sketch is available on discord or pa treon... She's almost ready to become a new cover, hehe... See you guys later]

.....

"Ugh, you're screaming too loud, stupid princesses." Violet walked downstairs with Scathach and Ruby.

"If things continue like this, will Victor become a new kind of deity? People seem to enjoy shouting his name." Ruby thought aloud as she remembered Belial screaming Victor's name.

"...." Scathach looked at the two princesses with indifferent eyes, but soon the woman ignored the two women and walked towards her daughters.

Lilith and Elizabeth looked at Violet with an irritated look and said:

"Look what he did to our sister!" They pointed at Ophis.

"..." Violet and Ruby looked at Ophis and saw the little girl mumbling something about being hungry and wanting blood.

"Oh... didn't you know?" Violet made a strange face as she looked at Elizabeth and said, "But weren't you around when she drank Victor's blood?"

"..." Lilith looked at her sister.

"Yes, I was there, but I didn't expect that little drop of blood to get her addicted!" Elizabeth justified herself, and she continued:

"I thought Ophis just marked him! I did not expect this result!"

"Ah..." Elizabeth just realized she was talking nonsense.

"...Eh...?" Lilith opened her mouth wide when she heard what her sister said; 'Did she mark him? Huh? Why didn't she tell anyone about this?'

"..." All the girls looked at the two sisters with a neutral gaze.

Violet narrowed her eyes "...Hold on for a few seconds."

"..." The two sisters looked at Violet.

"What do you mean by 'Mark'?"

"Yes, that seems to be important, given the reactions of the two of you." Ruby continued with a cold stare.

"..." The two sisters were silent.

The whole room was enveloped in an awkward silence, and no one spoke as everyone just watched the two sisters.

"Why do you insist on keeping quiet? Explain yourselves!" Violet demanded. She had no patience for things that were related to Victor and things that might affect him in some way.

The same could be said about Scathach and Ruby. Although the mother-daughter duo were a little different.

Ruby took care of Victor like a worried wife, while Scathach took care of him as her 'foolish' disciple.

"W-Well..." Elizabeth didn't know what to say.

Being the eldest, Lilith decided to take the initiative:

"...Unfortunately, we can't tell you that, even if we wanted to." Lilith spoke in a neutral, professional tone and pointed at her throat.

"...A contract..." Scathach spoke in a neutral tone, but inside, she was a little surprised that that old man, who loved his daughters so much, would do such a thing.

'Whatever this 'Mark' is, is it important enough for the old man to do this kind of deed to his daughters?' Scathach thought, and she started to get more interested in what it was as she looked at Ophis, who was looking at her sisters.

Noticing that someone was looking at her, Ophis looked at Scathach with an innocent look:

"...?" She didn't understand why Scathach was looking at her like that since the only thing going through her head now was the boredom of having to wait for Victor to come back.

'...But... I don't have to wait?' Upon hearing about 'Mark', she just realized that she could also follow her father!

Her eyes glowed blood red, and she started to look around as if she was looking for something.

"How can I say, our father is quite strict with family secrets." Lilith replied in the same tone of voice.

'Hmm?' Elizabeth looked at her little sister, and, seeing the actions her little sister was doing, she narrowed her eyes in suspicion.

She definitely knew what those strange movements were.

'She's trying to run away again.' She accompanied Ophis for a long time! Don't underestimate her!

She quickly made a move. She appeared behind Ophis and held the girl by her gothic dress, she looked like a baby cat that was caught by her mother by the neck.

"...?" Ophis looked at her sister with an annoyed look.

"Do not do this." She spoke in a stern tone.

"I wasn't going to do anything..." Ophis felt wronged now, she literally did nothing! She definitely wasn't planning on following Victor wherever he went!

Believe her! She is an obedient child!

"Do not lie to me." Elizabeth narrowed her eyes.

"..." Ophis used her right to remain silent, she knew the rules of society! No one could force her to say something she didn't want to. And as the king's youngest daughter, she had the right to be spoiled!

She had every right to do whatever she wanted!

This is a free monarchy!

Elizabeth's eyes lit up a little, and she said, "I've been with you long enough to know your quirks."

"..." Ophis made an annoyed face and turned away. She will ignore her sister!

Annoying woman!

Seeing Ophis's state now, she couldn't help but say, "Ugh, she's become so troublesome ever since she found Victor."

"..." Seeing her younger sister's state, Lilith was surprised again.

Ophis was normally a dutiful child who listened to everyone, and she had never heard about any trouble that Ophis caused. After all, she usually just stayed inside her castle and did nothing.

Only occasionally did Lilith hear that Ophis ran off to explore the 'city', but that was normal; she is a child, she must feel suffocated being in a castle alone with only Maids.

It was because of her peculiarity that no one could touch her without being 'enchanted' by her 'supernatural beauty'.

She lived without any contact with her older brothers, and her own father paid no attention.

'Father... He's a stupid man sometimes.' Lilith knew the truth that Vlad watched his children from afar, but for a child, she didn't want her parents 'far away', but close to them.

When Ophis first ran away, Elizabeth, who was only recently considered the King's youngest daughter, began to spend more time with Ophis.

Because of this, of all the siblings, Elizabeth was the one who knew Ophis the most.

"...This Mark or whatever, can't you guys tell me about it?" Ruby suddenly asked as she looked at Lilith.

Lilith looked at Ruby and replied, "We can't, as you know, the contract is absolute."

Ruby and Violet narrow their eyes a little.

"You don't need to be so cautious..." Lilith said.

"Oh? Why don't we?" Ruby started questioning Lilith.

"The thing that Ophis did to Victor is not harmful to the man himself, in a way, it's a blessing. I even feel jealous of it a little bit." Lilith was honest.

"...." Ruby, Violet, and Scathach narrowed their eyes.

"What do you mean by blessing?" Scathach was the one who asked this time.

"I can not say." Lilith made a hard face. She didn't like the look of Scathach, and her stare sent shivers down her spine.

"But just know that it's not a bad thing... And maybe this will help Ophis as time goes on too, maybe in the future she can be a normal girl?" Lilith finished speaking with a gentle tone as she looked at Ophis.

Lilith didn't know who Ophis' mother was, but she knew something.

When Ophis appeared in Vlad's hands when she was just a baby, the power emanating from her body was terrifying. Despite being a baby, she put fear in a 500 year old vampire.

She is and always has been a little monster.

"Tsk." The three clicked their tongues at the same time. They didn't like it, not knowing anything.

"Anyway, where's the bitch from the west?" Violet asked the three sisters who were silent as a way to change the subject or did she do it because her mood got worse.

"Fuewhh?" Pepper was the first to react as she looked around and realized that Kaguya had disappeared!

Where did she go? And how is she going to explain what happened to these three women!?

Pepper's brain began to spin, and she came up with a magnificent idea!

"Lacus, you tell them." She threw the whole bombshell on her big sister.

"Eh?" Lacus was speechless with Pepper's attitude. She knew that Violet asked the three sisters, and Pepper being more talkative of the three, fell in the eyes of women, but she couldn't she be more...

Discreet?

"Well..." Siena, as a savior of the sisters, began to speak, "Victor kidnapped Eleanor." But she explained it in the worst possible way.

".... Huh?" Ruby and Violet's faces narrowed.

"I'm surprised you guys didn't hear Victor and Eleanor argue, he was literally acting like a Hooligan."

Scathach narrowed her eyes, "... This is not an attitude worthy of my discip-..." She looked like she was going to say something, but was interrupted by Siena:

"You know how it is, he took after my mother's quirks." Siena casually blamed Scathach.

"..." Scathach opened her mouth a little in shock.

"..." Violet and Ruby looked at Scathach with a dry look. In the end, as always, it was all the fault of Scathach's teachings, this woman...

Violet and Ruby felt a bit of a headache, and they really regretted not having stopped the woman from taking him to training.

... Not that they could've stopped her in any way.

"Yes!" Pepper looked excited for some reason, "He literally showed up here, and he said..." She got up from the couch and pointed to Siena:

"You come with me to a place." She perfectly mimicked Victor's expression.

"..." An awkward silence fell over the place, the silence lasted for a few seconds, and then that silence was broken by Ophis:

"...Father?" She felt that Pepper was a lot like her father now, although Pepper's aura was much less overbearing than her father's.

Pepper's face returns to normal, and she said in an innocent tone, "He was a lot like my mom when she wants something."

"..." All the women looked at Scathach.

The woman defended herself, "Well, I taught him right, if he wants it's something, he should just get whatever it is."

"As expected of my foolish disciple." She flashed a small smile and said, "He's learned well."

"....." Everyone felt like sighing now.

"Question, why didn't you teach us that too?" Siena spoke as she raised her hand as if she were a child asking the teacher for knowledge.

"...?" Scathach looked strangely at Siena, "But didn't I have to teach that?"

"Huh?"

"After all, you already had that attitude from the beginning." Scathach spoke.

"...Eh?" This time it was Ruby, Siena, Lacus, and Pepper who were surprised.

"Wait, wait, wait." Pepper broke out in a cold sweat, "I don't have the attitude of a hooligan! I'm not that kind of person!"

Siena touched her chin and began to speak, "... I recently had to solve a problem with the vampires in Japan. You went to a manga store, and apparently, it was selling the limited edition of 'One Bikini'. You wanted to buy it, but the seller didn't want to sell it, and in the end, you used your charm and took the product and left without paying."

"..." Everyone looked at Pepper with a surprised look, except for Scathach, who flashed a small, proud smile:

"See? I didn't need to teach anything."

"B-But, it was a limited edition, and they didn't want to sell it to me! I even offered 10x the starting price!" She tried to justify herself but only sank deeper into the hole she created herself.

Seeing the look everyone was giving her, "Ugh," her cheek grew like a squirrel, and she pointed at Lacus.

"Lacus, when she went to E9, a gaming event, she literally caught every exclusive game hypnotizing the employees!"

"Eh...? What the hell, Pepper! You promised to keep that a secret." Lacus felt betrayed now.

"If I'm going down, I'm taking everyone with me, HAHHAHAHAHA~."

"..." Why is she laughing like Victor? He's a bad influence, you know!

She suddenly looked at Siena, and she was going to say something, but in the end, she gave up and said:

"Well, Siena is Siena, right?" She didn't have much to say about her older sister. After all, of the three sisters, she was the most authoritative and did what she wanted.

"... What do you mean by that?" Siena narrowed her eyes in annoyance.

"She meant you've been a bitch from the start." Violet didn't miss an opportunity to cause chaos.

"Huuuuh?" Siena's eyes weren't pretty.

"Sister, you literally treat everyone who is not a vampire like cattle, who must do as you order." Ruby explained.

"..." Siena looked at Ruby with an unjustified look. She's not like that!... Maybe...

"In the end, all vampires are equal, all are authoritarian." Lilith spoke, whatever the girls said would be something she would do if she really wanted something.

"Hey, I'm not a bitch! I at least pay for the things I buy... Sometimes." Pepper muttered at the end.

"Pepper, Stop. You're only sinking further." Ruby facepalmed.

"Ugh." Pepper pouted and sat down on the couch again, looking pretty depressed.

"Bitch..." Suddenly everyone heard Ophis' voice.

"..." Elizabeth's eyes gleamed blood red,

"You are teaching Ophis bad words!" She looked at the girls who spoke bad words, including her sister.

"Eh? Me too?"

"Sister, what will you do if our little Ophis becomes like Violet!?"

"Hey, bitch. If you have a problem with me, why don't you say it to my face, huh!? Let's settle this outside!" The air around Violet started to get warmer.

"See? She is the perfect picture of a delinquent!" Elizabeth looked at her sister.

"..." Lilith imagined Ophis becoming like Violet, and soon her face darkened, that wasn't a pretty picture...

Elizabeth looked at Violet again:

"And language!"

"Language, my-..."

Slap!

Ruby hit Violet on the head.

"Stop."

Veins started popping on Violet's head as she looked up and said:

"What was that!" She was ready to attack Ruby at any moment.

"You must learn to control yourself a little. When you have a daughter, you can't teach her those bad words!"

"... H-Eh? D-Daughter..." All of Violet's anger disappeared when she heard the word 'daughter' as she started to imagine a tiny version of herself screaming around 'Mom, and Dad'.

Gulp.

She swallowed hard, for some reason that thought didn't seem bad to her.

"Daughter..."

"Daughter..."

Violet's voice was mixed with Scathach's.

The three sisters looked at Scathach:

"... Shit." They couldn't help but speak at the same time when they saw the state of their mother.

'She's not planning to adopt another daughter, right? Or worse... She's not thinking about having another daughter, right?' The three thought at the same time.

Siena looked at Ruby and said:

"This is your fault."

"Eh?" Ruby didn't understand the sudden accusation.

"Look." Siena pointed at Scathach.

"...?" Ruby and all the women looked to where Siena was pointing and saw Scathach, who appeared to be in another dimension.

She was completely lost in her thoughts.

"Oh..." Ruby understood now, and she could only say one thing:

"Fuck."

"Language." Elizabeth spoke again in strictness like a teacher.

Veins popped on Siena, Ruby, Lacus, and Pepper's heads, and soon the girls spoke at the same time:

"Shut the fuck up!"

Chapter14 Chapter 254: Is Roberta a Failure of a Maid?

Before Victor left the mansion completely, he went through the kitchen and kidnapped his Maid Eve.

"E-Eh?" Of course, the Maid herself was taken aback by her master's sudden action.

Victor placed her on his back, and unconsciously, the Maid held onto him.

He narrowed his eyes a little, and added:

"Hold on tighter, or you'll fall." Unlike Eleanor, who was in his arms, he couldn't properly hold his Maid, so she would have to handle her positioning herself, though it'd be fairly simple, considering the strength of a vampire, especially a vampire like Eve.

"Y-Yes." She had no choice but to say that word. She was conscious enough to know that when her master ordered something, it was a maid's duty to simply reply with a 'Yes', things were easier that way.

Not only easier but things also became simpler that way too. However, Kaguya, Roberta, and sometimes Bruna would question what her master said.

Which was a good thing, considering he was not always correct, but most of the time, the Maids just did what he asked.

Rumble.

Victor quickly disappeared, leaving behind streaks of lightning in his wake.

"AHH! I'm so jealous! Eve has been kidnapped by the master!" Maria screamed as she was the first to react when Victor appeared and immediately stopped doing her work.

She looked around, "Ugh, he kidnapped her! I wanted to go too!" She looked quite frustrated.

"...Eve was kidnapped...Much envy..." Bruna muttered in a low voice while cleaning a window. She looked at Roberta, who was sitting at a table drinking red tea calmly.

"...I wonder if this is really something to be jealous of..." Luna couldn't help but comment.

"Well, his maids have a few loose screws in their heads." Natalia replied.

"..." Bruna narrowed her eyes as she stopped what she was doing and looked at the two other maids, "You-..." She was going to say something, but Maria beat her to it:

"You wouldn't understand." Maria said quickly, being the first to defend Victor.

"Huh?"

"For us, our master is our 'beginning', he is the beginning of our everything. We simply feel immeasurable pleasure in serving him."

Nod, Nod.

Bruna crossed her arms and nodded her head in agreement with what Maria said. As the first Maid that Victor created, Bruna was immensely proud to serve him!

She would do anything her god asked of her!

Anything!

Important things must be said twice.

Unconsciously, her face turned a little red as she thought of things a Maid shouldn't.

"....." Luna and Natalia were silent since they couldn't wrap their heads around Maria's thought process.

For Natalia, she was a human who came from a family that served the King of Vampires. Under normal circumstances, she wouldn't be a maid but rather be training to be the future advisor to the king and his right-hand man.

But, due to a Snow Clan incident from the past, she ended up becoming Violet's personal maid.

At first, she didn't like it, but over time, she got used to it, and her job was easy. She just needed to clean some things and help Violet with transport. The rest was done by Kaguya.

Yes, the job was very easy...

But now, the job has become a 'little' complicated. After all, she was Violet's maid.

Yes, indeed, the key word here is a 'little'.

After all, Violet never seemed to be alone anymore, she was always with Victor, and Victor had several Maids that made her job a lot easier than it was when it was just Kaguya around.

Now, she had basically just become a means of transportation... People only needed her when they needed to go somewhere far away.

'Wait... Isn't that a demotion?' Natalia couldn't help but think about it, considering she went from a trusted maid to a means of transport!

'HEY! Isn't this really bad?' Now that she came to think of it, Ruby didn't call on her anymore to sort out matters that involved the witch Esther.

'Come to think of it now, a year has passed on Earth, so the plan Ruby made must have gone a long way now?' Natalia thought about it.

"Well, I suppose you're right." Luna agreed with Maria's words.

Luna, who was a vampire, didn't fully understand either. After all, she was already a noble vampire when Ruby recruited her, and she served Clan Scarlett, not just Ruby.

But as a Vampire, she could understand that the pleasurable feelings the Maids were feeling must've been the fact that Victor had sired them. Which could also account for why they were loyal to him... she supposed.

But that didn't make sense. After all, the girls were clearly not commoner vampires... They definitely didn't feel like one, and they seemed like they were something more.

Mostly... Maria.

She looked at the Maid with long blonde hair.

'It's like she is mixed with something...' Luna was one of the maids who watched Maria the most during the time she spent as Sasha's Maid.

Has she become more alive? As if she's found a purpose in her life?

'...Hmm, this is complicated.' Luna decided to stop thinking about it. After all, this seemed to be something important involving her masters, and as a maid, she should only know certain knowledge if her masters allowed it.

Bruna narrowed her eyes when she saw Roberta being lazy,

"Woman, why aren't you doing anything?" It was not just her and Maria that were supposed to be working, Roberta was a Maid too, she must do something!

"...Eh?" Roberta was taken by surprise at the sound of Bruna's sudden voice and spoke in a gentle tone, "Do you want me to help?"

"..." Maria and Bruna were silent when they heard that Roberta wanted to help.

And then, a memory of several broken plates, glasses, and silverware popped into their minds, and that memory was replaced by the kitchen on fire.

"... Better not." They immediately refused.

What more can the two say? Roberta, this woman... She was simply a mess in the kitchen, and she had the incredible achievement of setting the kitchen on fire just by frying an egg.

They wondered how the fuck that was possible?

It was just supposed to be a normal dinner for Victor's parents, but it turned into an incident that required the entire kitchen to be remodeled.

Although Anna was glad this happened. Apparently, she had wanted to renovate her kitchen for a long time, but Leon didn't, since it was a waste of money, he said, but that incident supplied Anna with the perfect excuse.

After that day, the Maids never let Roberta help in the kitchen again.

And to make matters worse...

She wasn't just bad in the kitchen.

She was bad at EVERYTHING.

Anything related to delicate work, she would end up breaking something, sometimes multiple things.

But... At least she could clean the walls.

Yes!

The only thing she could do was clean the walls...

'...isn't she a failure of a Maid?' Bruna and Maria thought at the same time when they saw the older woman sitting in her French Maid uniform drinking red tea.

Outside the mansion.

Victor held Eleanor a little tighter as the poor woman's eyes were rolling since she just wasn't used to 'traveling' at Victor's speed.

And Victor realized that, but what did he do? Did he help the woman? Did he stop using his powers and run like a normal vampire?

Of course not!

'I will increase the speed.'

He supplied even more strength to his legs and channeled more of his lightning through his body.

BOOOOOM.

A small crater in the shape of a spider's web formed,

And soon, he soared into the sky, achieving a considerable altitude.

"Ugh." Eleanor felt even dizzier, but Victor ignored the woman.

His eyes began to glow blood red, and soon the noise of lightning could be heard all around.

Rumble, Rumble.

Black clouds began to form in the sky, a storm was coming!

But a strange thing happened, there wasn't a single drop of rain to be found...

Clouds charged with lightning started to form, and that was it, and these clouds looked strange.

As if creating a 'pathway' for Victor, the clouds stretched for thousands of kilometers.

Victor flashed a small smile, and soon a change began to run through his body, his entire body turned to pure gold, including the two women, and they disappeared into the clouds.

Sasha and Natasha stopped following Victor while they looked at what Victor did with a surprised look:

"Well, this is something new... How the fuck did he do that?" Sasha said, and then she looked at her mother, considering she was the lightning expert here, right?

"Hmm..." Natasha touched her chin and started to think, and soon she arrived at an answer:

"Is it the same principle as the technique he used before? I think he covers his body with lightning and flies in the sky?"

"...." Sasha fell silent and began to listen to her mother's explanation.

"Although... This seems to be more like 'traveling' through the clouds rather than 'flying'."

"...And?" It can't be just that, right? Sasha's eyes widened a little.

"And what?"

"Do you know what he did? Give me a plausible explanation." Sasha asked.

"And how the fuck should I know?" Natasha's answer was very simple. What Victor did just now was something very out of the ordinary. How did he manage to travel through clouds? Huh? Did he become a god?

Should I call him Thor?

"...." Sasha was speechless, 'of course you should know! You are the leader of Clan Fulger, woman! Lightning is our power! You're supposed to be the expert here!'

"Ugh..." Not wanting to destroy her daughter's confidence in her, Natasha started using her brain!

Rumble, Rumble.

Little flashes of lightning appeared around her head, she was trying hard as she gathered everything she knew of Victor and the techniques he'd shown her, and soon she came to a conclusion.

'... Is he using something like Scathach's technique?' She couldn't help but think about it when she remembered that Scathach used a defensive technique that turned her body into ice, although it was suicidal because you were literally freezing your body.

"..." She opened her eyes wide when she realized that this was very possible, but the question was, how was he utilizing this technique without being in the perfect Vampire Count form?

The Vampire Count form was said to come extremely close to what a 'true' vampire was in the way you honed your control over your own power and increased it as well.

But in the perfect Vampire Count form, the vampire basically merges with his own power, and he becomes something closer to an 'element and spirit' rather than a vampire.

Of course, these kinds of traits were unique to vampire families who took the power of elemental control to the peak.

A family that could create rope and use those ropes to attack wouldn't be able to do that since they were two different types of powers.

"...You seem to have discovered something." Sasha asked.

"Yes... But that's impossible." Natasha was in disbelief. With the knowledge she now had, she judged what Victor had just done as impossible.

'And how is he protecting the two girls from his power? In her mind, what he just did, didn't make any sense.

"Well, you get used to it when you're around him." Sasha spoke in a dry tone in a neutral voice.

"..." Natasha looked at her daughter with a little surprise.

"So? What are your thoughts." Sasha asked.

Natasha explained in a sigh, "...He's using something close to Scathach's technique of turning body parts into ice, a defense technique."

"Hmm."

Sasha started to think, and soon she understood something, "Darling spent a lot of time with Ruby, and Ruby's specialty is defense, she uses the power of her water and turns her body parts into ice."

"From what I heard from Ruby, this was Scathach's technique that she perfected when Scathach taught her." Sasha explained to her mother and then continued:

"...he must be doing this, but with the power of lightning?"

"...Maybe... But..." Natasha assumed a frustrated expression.

"That's not how our power works! Lightning and ice are essentially different! He can't do the same thing! ...or can you?" She closed her eyes in contemplation, she seemed to discover something.

Natasha looked at her hand:

Rumble, Rumble.

Her hand became covered in the power of lightning, Natasha's eyes glowed blood red a little, and slowly, the flesh of her hand began to be replaced by pure lightning.

Natasha's eyes narrowed a little, she was in pain from what she was doing, but she didn't let it show on her face.

Natasha made a movement with her hand, and her hand seemed to disappear from their vision.

"...That's..." Sasha opened her eyes wide.

"Yes, that's what he's doing, but on a smaller scale." Natasha stopped using her power and hid her hand behind her.

Her hand was pure bone, as all her flesh had disappeared:

"How did he do it?" She was really curious now. With this test, she could understand that she could use this method with her vampire count transformation.

But... She couldn't use it in her base form.

'I'll ask you later.' She didn't want to get hurt for nothing. She should take care of her body for her husband!

"Can you teach me that?" Sasha's eyes were glowing with excitement.

"..." Natashia looked at her daughter with a neutral look and said:

"I can't teach because I don't know what I did either." She told a white lie.

"Huh?" How did she not know what she did if she just did it? That made no sense.

"Oh." Sasha misunderstood, believing that her mother was like Violet, a genius who couldn't explain how she learned.

"This is a more advanced way of using lightning power, we should ask Victor how he does it first." She said,

"Hmm, you're right." Sasha spoke aloud.

"Anyways, let's follow him."

"Yes."

Rumble, Rumble.

The two women were covered by lightning once again as they resumed their chase of their husband, and soon, the two disappeared.

Chapter15 Chapter 255: Gorilla meets an Old friend. Gorilla Meets Female vampire... Gorilla knows the secret...

Rumble, Rumble.

A thunderbolt of lightning was heard across the surroundings, and soon a great golden lightning bolt fell from the heavens.

BOOM!

A small crash echoed across the land as Victor impacted the ground, but interestingly enough, his immediate surroundings weren't destroyed as expected, merely leaving the ground with burn marks.

Victor was holding Eleanor like a princess while Eve clung to his back.

The faces of the two women looked a little sick, but it was pretty evident that Eleanor had suffered the most.

Her eyes were rolling, her whole face was dark, and it looked like she was holding back the urge to throw up.

Eve slowly descended from Victor's back and leaned against a tree nearby. Despite having done it several times, she still wasn't used to Victor's new mode of transportation. Seeing the world go by so quickly was a very... sickening feeling.

"Ugh..." Eleanor held her hand over her mouth.

"..." Victor broke out in a cold sweat when he realized the woman had nearly vomited.

Victor rested Eleanor against a tree on the ground and ordered

Eve:

"When you recover, follow me."

"...Y-Yes, Master." At least she could still answer Victor... barely.

"Umu." Victor nodded in satisfaction, then turned around and walked towards a giant tree.

Step, Step, Step.

Walking calmly through the forest, he enjoyed the 'climate' of the place. It was a climate he remembered well.

'This sense of danger'. Victor's smile grew, 'And it looks like the Big Guy is still alive and well.'

Rumble, Rumble.

The sound of Lightning rumbled once again in the surroundings, heralding Sasha and Natasha's arrival at Victor's side.

"You two sure took your time."

"It was just a few seconds!" Sasha argued.

Natasha narrowed her eyes, "...Just so you know, that wasn't my top speed." She felt a little competitive when she saw the small smile on Victor's face.

"I know... I could clearly see it in that fight." Victor flashed a gentle little smile.

"..." Natasha's smile grew a little, and she nodded, satisfied, "It's good you know."

"Next time, I won't lose!" Sasha, like all of Clan Fulger, was quite competitive when it came to speed. After all, it was their pride.

They were the fastest family there was, and, with the power of lightning, no one could beat them!

"Ahh, Honey~. For that to happen, you need to train harder." Victor flashed a big smile that sent a slight chill through Sasha.

"...I-..." She was going to say she refused and that she didn't want to train with Victor, who was trained by Scathach. He trained like a maniac, and she preferred to train alone, at her own pace. She felt that she progressed more with her methods, but Victor said,

"Don't worry, if you train with me, I will reward you."

"...Oh?" Sasha's eyes lit up slightly as she got a little interested...

And she wasn't the only one, Natasha was too.

"What do you mean by reward?"

"Anything."

Gulp, Gulp

Natasha and Sasha swallowed their saliva.

"Anything?" they asked with obvious interest.

"Of course...anything."

Victor's smile grew a little lovingly, "Anything you wish for, I'll give to you, but... You'll have to train with me to earn your reward."

"..." The two were silent. This was definitely a good proposition.

"Yes, let's go! Let's train!" The first to fall into the trap was Natasha.

"..." Victor's smile grew a little evil, but it disappeared as quickly as it came.

Victor was using the same strategy he used with Ruby.

The carrot strategy!

By promising a great reward that was anything the woman desired, he would make the woman train with him and grow stronger.

He had fun with it whenever he saw the person he was training getting stronger, while they had fun with it because they'd receive anything their hearts desired from him. In the end, everyone would win!

This was the strategy used on Ruby that had proven effective. The woman couldn't live without training anymore, and he had effectively managed to find a method to make people who were not addicted become addicted!

He could already be called a supreme genius strategist! The Big Brain!

Although... This strategy had a flaw. It only worked on women who were interested in whatever rewards he could provide...

But it worked with Ruby, which meant it'd prove effective for the other girls as well!

And everyone would leave feeling satisfied! There was literally no downside to this!

Of course, the risk of addiction was high. Victor was like a drug that, after a female vampire had a taste, she wouldn't be able to live without indulging further. After all, his blood was very delicious, and to add on to that, the pleasure dual cultivation provided, he literally was a walking, talking drug.

"Of course, let's train." Victor would never refuse such a request.

"Yes, Yes!" Natashia looked quite happy since she would finally get what she wanted so much! And all she needed was training! That was a small price to pay for endless bliss with her 'husband'!

... In the future, she would likely regret this decision... Or maybe not... Or maybe both at the same time. She would dread it yet feel satisfied with the outcome at the same time.

Women were complicated...

Gulp.

Sasha didn't say anything, but she was definitely interested.

Seeing Sasha's eyes, Victor exhibited a small smile as he brought his palm to the top of her head and provided his greatly desired headpats:

"Take your time. Even though I said that, the training we do is difficult. You shouldn't go in if you don't have enough motivation." He laughed a little.

"..." Sasha's eyes glowed a little red, her body trembled as she felt Victor's caress, and she spoke in a low tone, "I will..."

"Hmm?" Victor didn't seem to have heard what she was saying.

"I will train too!"

"Oh... That's good." His smile grew at the end, "Indeed, this is definitely good news." His gentle smile morphed into a predatory grin, like a dragon that had set its sights on a helpless lamb.

Gulp.

Sasha swallowed hard when she felt Victor's gaze pass over every inch of her body:

"...Uhh, can I change my mind...?"

"Of course not."

"Shit..." Despite having complained, she still had a small smile on her face.

"Oh, before anything else, explain to me how you transformed into literal lightning?" Natasha asked Victor with a little curiosity.

"...?" Victor looked confusedly at Natasha.

"What are you talking about?"

"I'm talking about that technique you used when traveling at great speeds through the clouds. How did you do that?" She specified her question.

Hearing her mother's question, Sasha looked at Victor curiously, as she also wanted to know how he did what he did. Considering that even her mother couldn't come to a conclusion, Victor surely must've invented something new or had broken the common sense in the world, like he often did...

"..." Victor touched his chin, he seemed to think a little, and then he said:

"Oh, are you talking about this?"

Victor's body suddenly began to be covered by lightning, but unlike before, his skin had turned completely yellow, and he took a step forward... and disappeared.

Literally, not even a streak of lightning was left.

Soon he appeared again where he was.

"What did you do?" Sasha asked curiously.

"I didn't do much, I just walked up to that tree and back." Victor pointed to a tree in the distance.

"...I didn't see anything..." Sasha felt awkward since even though the event happened in front of her, she couldn't see it.

"..." Natasha narrowed her eyes a little since even she almost couldn't see what he did:

"Yes, that's it. What is that technique?"

"Oh, it's no big deal, it's just a different application of Ruby's technique." Victor spoke in a simple tone since, in the time he spent training with Ruby, he had learned several things that the woman herself had developed in secret.

Like her control of spears and her defensive technique that she'd honed from her mother.

Ruby was on the learning side too, but she didn't learn as much because Victor didn't exclusively use the power of ice and water.

But not all was in vain, as Victor himself was a monster of ideas, discussing and talking with Victor after training and training in bed.

She took several ideas that she could develop, as she learned by listening to him. After all, he had quite a few exotic ideas...

"...?" Natasha didn't understand Victor's meaning.

"Hmmm..." Sasha seemed to have an idea of what he was talking about, but at the same time not...

Victor held his hand a little and decided to demonstrate. After all, it is easier to demonstrate than to explain.

And then a small bubble of water appeared:

"Although I don't use it much, like Ruby, one of my powers is the water element."

"Ruby used this element to improve Scathach's defense technique, and, by doing so, she would not take damage when she used the technique."

"Oh..." Natasha seemed to understand now what was happening.

"All I did was change Ruby's technique a little bit. Instead of freezing water on a specific part of my body to create armor, I covered my entire body with water, and used lightning."

"After all, water is a conductor of electricity... at least mine is." Victor knew that water itself did not conduct electricity. For this to happen, the water must have minerals or some particles that were ionized molecules. In this way, electric currents could pass.

This was the knowledge he'd learned in high school, and everyone who paid attention in class knew it.

But for reasons he couldn't fathom, the water he produced with his abilities could easily conduct electricity.

'Perhaps because water is my power? And, because of that, I find it easy to do so?' That was the only thing he could deduce.

"So, what exactly do you do?" Natasha asked.

"I cover my whole body with the power of water, this includes all my muscles, my heart, bones, etc. And I let the lightning 'pass' through these places since the water is there to keep me from harm."

"Do you take damage when using lightning?" Natasha asked.

"Yes. Internally, yes. But not externally."

Victor could use the full power of lightning outside of his body since he'd realized he didn't take any damage from it, but...

When trying to use all his power inside his body, the result was disastrous. His inner body, despite being tough, was not as tough as his exterior.

Victor didn't understand why this was so.

Maybe it was a quirk of Sasha's late father? After all, from what they'd said about him, he had an abnormal exterior endurance, but his interior defenses were practically paper thin.

A funny thing that he tested was that if he used the power of blood, any and all lightning damage was nullified inside his body.

He didn't understand how this was possible, but he thought that because his blood had more 'power', it was possible? Or was it because of the 'authority' contained within his blood?

He couldn't say, but it was definitely worth studying.

"So this is just a technique that only you can use..." Natasha and Sasha deduced quickly.

"Yes, and no." Victor spoke.

"I assume you can use this technique if you're in perfect vampire count form."

"Oh..." Natasha feigned surprise, but she already knew that.

Step, Step!

Quake, Quake!

Footsteps followed by the ground rumbling were heard.

Victor's smile grew:

"He's finally here."

"Who?" Natasha and Sasha asked.

"The Big Guy."

"Big Guy.....?" They didn't understand. However, soon a memory popped into Sasha's head.

"Oh! Are we in our territory?" Formerly Clan Horseman territory, and now Fulger territory, Sasha and Natasha were in the forbidden forest.

"..." Natasha thought about what her daughter said and understood something.

"Oh, you're in that forest." She stopped focusing all her attention on every inch of Victor's body and looked around.

Only now did she realize where she was.

Realizing that the moonlight had disappeared, Natasha looked up and saw a giant gorilla.

ROOOOOOOOOOAR!

The giant gorilla roared at the two women.

Sasha's body shook a little, and her heart started to beat fast, she quickly wanted to get out of this place.

Natasha narrowed her eyes a little as she stood in front of her daughter and looked at the gorilla with a hostile gaze.

Victor narrowed his eyes as he disappeared and then appeared in front of the gorilla's eyes:

"Hey big guy, have you forgotten about me already?"

The giant gorilla's face changed from hostile to neutral as he seemed to recognize Victor.

"Grrr." He made a strange sound and turned away, seeming to snort a little.

"Hahahaha~, you're still a shy guy."

The gorilla's eyes lit up a little as he looked at Victor and pointed at the two women:

"Urru, Urru!"

"I know, I know. They won't get too close, I promise."

"Urru..." The gorilla narrowed his eyes. He definitely didn't trust Victor's words.

"Hey, what's with that look? I haven't broken any promises before, have I?"

"..." The gorilla went quiet since, now that he stopped to think, the man was right.

"Urru!" He pointed at the girls and then at Victor, then he made some lewd hand gestures that Victor was definitely wondering who he learned from.

"Yes, how do you know that?" Victor asked with a little surprise.

The gorilla pointed to his nose.

"My scent, huh..."

"....." An awkward silence fell between mother and daughter. What the fuck were they watching now?

"...Yes, I expected my Darling to do everything but a gorilla handler? Bruh. Give me a break." Sasha looked a little tired.

"...He's not a gorilla." Natasha said, "He is an extremely dangerous demon beast."

"... I know." Sasha spoke with a sigh, and then she looked at the demon beast:

"In the end, he still looks like a gorilla, so he's a big gorilla."

"...." Natasha had no arguments to deny her daughter's words.

The older woman continued to look at Victor with far more interest than before while she wondered how he could get along with that creature so easily.

Chapter16 Chapter 256: Gorilla's surprised.

"Anyway, Buddy. How is the other guy?" Victor changed the subject and asked about the strange tree.

"Urru!" The gorilla roared angrily.

Victor rolled his eyes when he saw the gestures the gorilla was making, "Bruh, how the fuck would I know that a tree has a gender? And yet that gender is feminine? I don't know how to talk to trees. Even our discussion is being viewed with strange eyes by the girls, look."

"Uru?" The gorilla looked at Sasha and Natasha, and when it saw the two women's strange expressions, he looked back at Victor.

"Pfft." He put his hand over his mouth and seemed to laugh at something.

A vein bulged in Victor's head, his smile distorted a little, "What are you laughing at, mother fucker?"

"URRU!" The gorilla started to laugh louder and then turned around with the same smile on his face.

"Tsk." Victor made an annoyed expression, but a small smile was always pasted on his face. He was a little happy that the Big Guy was healthy as ever.

Victor descended towards the ground and began walking behind the gorilla as he followed. But he stopped and looked over his shoulder at the still seated Eleonor and the pale faced Eve.

"Eve, watch over Eleonor."

"Bu-" Eve tried to protest, wanting to follow her Master wherever he went, but was interrupted by Victor's commanding voice.

"That's an order."

"...Yes, Master."

"When she's finally capable of moving by herself, follow after me."

"..." Eve looked at Eleonor and bit her tongue in frustration.

Victor then turned around and continued following the Big Guy.

"Vic-." Sasha and Natasha tried to get close to Victor, but the man turned around and stopped the girls from getting close to him.

"Don't get too close, he's very territorial. He's making a big exception by letting you in because of me, but don't approach too carelessly."

Natasha's eyes narrowed a little. This wasn't the attitude of the Victor she knew, "...Are you scared?"

"...Are you serious?" Victor looked at Natasha with a deadpan expression.

"..." Natasha was silent and continued watching Victor.

"I'm not scared, I just don't want to clash with a friend of mine, because if he does something to Sasha, things won't end well." Victor explained his thoughts.

He knew himself very well, and, no matter who it was, whether it was a friend or family, if someone hurt someone he deemed important, he wouldn't hold back, and he would definitely fight that person, and in that fight, that person would probably die.

And that was something he wanted to avoid with Big Guy, after all, he was not in the wrong, they were technically invading his territory.

His territory, his rules.

Of course, if Victor didn't have respect for the demon beast, he wouldn't care about it, but it was different when he respected someone.

Natashia opened her eyes a little, and she looked at Victor as if she understood something, then she said, "...Respect, huh..." She seemed to understand Victor's thoughts.

She flashed a small smile and thought, 'He's really a lot like Scathach.' Somehow, this whole encounter was looking like the way Natasha met Scathach.

Though at the time, she was much more insistent than she was today.

"Darling, you like this Gorilla a lot, huh?" Sasha asked.

"Hmm, that's not it." Victor spoke, and then he turned and continued to follow the gorilla.

"...?" Sasha didn't understand, but then, seeing him start to walk, she started to follow him at a safe distance.

As he walked, Victor said, "I don't like him that much, what I feel is more like respect. After all, to me, he is a strong friend who can fight me anytime."

"Yeah, it's a punching bag relationship." Victor found those words quite appropriate.

"..." A vein seemed to bulge on the gorilla's head.

"Urrrr!" The gorilla suddenly turned around and pointed his middle finger at Victor

"...HUUH?" Victor's face distorted, and he pointed his middle finger at him too, "Well fuck you too, buddy!"

"Roar!" The gorilla seemed to snort and turned away.

"...." The two women were silent as they watched this exchange between an ape and a human... Wait, a Gorilla and a vampire.

Somehow they felt that something was wrong here... Did he really not like this Gorilla?

Why was their relationship so good then?

The two had doubts about whether what Victor said was real or not.

Getting closer to the place, Victor's eyes and his mood started to become more serious, and when he got close to the giant tree, he immediately realized that something was wrong.

And it wasn't just him, even Natasha and Sasha felt it.

"Hey, Big Guy. How many people have you killed here?"

Yes, indeed. The smell of blood from this place was much stronger than before, and he clearly remembered that this place didn't smell of 'fresh' blood.

The gorilla turned to face Victor and displayed a small predatory smile, but he didn't answer his question.

However, there was no need. After approaching the tree, Victor saw a huge pile of bodies.

"...Ugh." Sasha, for a few seconds, felt like throwing up when she saw several bodies of beings scattered and trampled around.

The place was a mess.

"... Stay here." Victor spoke.

"Yes, we know." The two spoke at the same time.

Victor nodded in satisfaction and walked over to the nearest body.

"Uru, Urru." The gorilla seemed to be talking to the tree, and the tree's branches were moving as if understanding him.

Victor watched this but didn't say anything, as he just lifted the body of the nearest corpse and looked at its head.

The head was completely broken, the man's face was practically unrecognizable, but he could see something.

"Vampire fangs..."

'Vampires were hunting The Big Guy?' Victor tossed the body to the side as if it were a piece of garbage and touched his chin as if in thought.

His indifference at the sight of such carnage drew a few admiring sighs from Sasha.

"Why does he seem so...used to it?"

"My Daughter, it's not the first massacre he's ever seen or committed, have you forgotten?" Natasha looked at her daughter in disbelief. Are all blondes really that dumb?

Wait, she was a blonde too... Wasn't she just badmouthing herself?

"Oh... That's true." Sasha recalled that he'd done this before, back during the werewolves' incident and around the time the police attacked Victor.

"Unrecognizable." He muttered as he picked up the next corpse. He looked around again and saw a head that looked intact, so he threw the body he had held away and walked over to the head.

Picking up the vampire's head, he saw that it was a Caucasian male.

"I think you will do."

Suddenly a dark pressure fell all over the place.

"!!!" The gorilla's entire fur stood on end, and he quickly went into battle mode and looked at Victor.

The gorilla's eyes start to glow blood red, but suddenly he felt a branch touching his shoulder.

"... Urru?" He looked at the tree.

The Tree seemed to have communicated with the gorilla because it started to calm down and watched what Victor was going to do:

"Urr..."

Victor's face disappeared and all you could see was a deep darkness, while the blood red eyes and the sharp teeth on Victor's visage became the only visible features:

"Tell me your secrets..." His eyes glowed deep blood red, he opened his mouth a little, and all the blood from the head he'd grabbed started to flow out and into Victor's mouth.

Soon the vampire's head became as dry as a mummy and...

Fragments of memories began to appear in Victor's head.

Victor found himself in a camp in the woods. He looked ahead and saw a tall man who was wearing flashy armor; he was most likely the leader.

"By our count's orders, we must eliminate these two beasts! The count gave the order, we must follow it!"

"WOAAAAAAAAH!" Everyone yelled around.

And suddenly...

The world around Victor shattered like pieces of glass.

And he saw himself on the battlefield.

Or, precisely speaking, in the extermination camp?

After all, the sight that Victor was now seeing was pretty incredible.

All the vampires were being slaughtered by the gorilla in full black armor.

When the gorilla got close to the vampire that Victor consumed...

Victor woke up in reality.

"..." Victor was silent, his face returned to normal, and soon a big smile appeared on his face:

"Pfft...." He attempted to hold back, but in the end...:

"HAHAHAHAHAHA~!" He laughed a lot, it was as if he had seen something very funny.

"....?" No one understood Victor's sudden burst of laughter, but apparently, everyone was used to the man's madness.

The gorilla snorted for a few seconds, then sat down by the tree.

Victor suddenly stopped laughing, and looked at the gorilla, "You did a great job, Big Guy."

"Uru?" The gorilla had an innocent face, he didn't seem to understand what Victor was talking about.

"Hahaha~, no need to pretend to be modest, you really are a good warrior."

"... Urruuuu?" Question marks started to appear over the gorilla as he wondered what the man was talking about.

"Anyway, let's clean this place up." Victor held up his palm.

His eyes started to glow a little, unlike the magic circles on his glove that started to glow madly, then...

All the blood in the place began to float and started to be gathered in one place.

And soon, a large sphere of blood was standing in front of Victor.

"Hmm..." Victor looked at the blood sphere, not knowing what to do, then he looked at the gorilla who was staring at him with his mouth open in shock.

He flashed a small smile; it looked like he managed to surprise the gorilla.

Looking at the giant tree, he noticed small cuts on it.

And since he knew that the tree fed on blood, he decided to do something.

He made a gesture with his hand, and the entire sphere of blood flew towards the tree, and he stood in front of it, a curiosity hit Victor, and he wanted to see how the tree fed and what effect it would have on it.

"Take it."

For a few seconds, the tree and the gorilla made no move.

But slowly, the branches of the tree began to envelop themselves around the sphere of blood, and soon it began to absorb all the blood.

Chapter17 Chapter 257: Gorilla meets Berserker woman.

Everyone watched in silence as the tree began to absorb the blood that Victor gave.

Slowly, all the blood was sucked into the tree, and immediate changes began to happen.

Some roots of the tree that were damaged began to be recovered, and...

Red leaves started to grow, the ancient giant tree that looked completely dry seemed to recover a little.

"Uru, Urru!" The gorilla looked quite pleased.

Gulp.

Natashia swallowed hard and looked at the tree and the gorilla with a wary look, as she was feeling a sense of danger emanating from the two beings...

But wasn't it a danger like Scathach, it was something more like an instinctual danger? It's the same feeling she got when she met a hunter, and saw the hunters' weapons.

She focused her gaze on the gorilla; 'It was a small thing, but I felt his strength increasing a little... Are they connected in some way?' She deduced that, after all, the moment the tree drank the blood, the gorilla's strength seemed to increase.

"Hmm." Victor touched his chin and seemed to think deeply, he felt the same thing as Natashia, and it put a small smile on his face.

"...Darling, do you know what you're doing?" Sasha, who was a little farther away from Victor, asked.

"Of course..." Victor looked at Sasha and flashed a gentle smile.

"..." Sasha kept looking at Victor; 'As expected, he knows something, I wonder what he's doing.' she thought.

"I do not know."

"....." Sasha's entire thought process seemed to stop, her brain short-circuited, and for a moment, she nearly fell to the floor.

"Huuuh?" That was the only reaction she managed to do, "Why are you giving blood to this Mon... Being, if you don't know what effect it will have on you?"

Her husband can't be that random, right? He can't be that kind of being who just does random things expecting random results, right?

He is not an agent of chaos!

"Well, it's interesting, isn't it?" He flashed an innocent smile as if he were a child doing experiments.

"....." He is! He's completely random!

"Ugh." Sasha put a hand to her head. She seemed to have a headache, she followed Victor hoping to be alone with him, but she never imagined she would see this vision.

The sight of a giant gorilla, and a strange tree that has life, she had heard stories from when Victor first visited this place, but seeing and hearing is different...

'I wonder what Violet's reaction will be when she sees it. this place.'

"...!!!?" Sasha's entire body shivered a little when she saw a branch slowly approaching Victor.

"Darling-...? Huh?" She looked like she would initially warn him of the danger, but she was surprised when Victor turned and looked at the branch with curious eyes.

"Why isn't he doing anything?" Sasha asked her doubt out loud since Victor was just standing there and looking at the branch like he was waiting for something.

"Hmmm..." Natasha found this situation quite curious, and she tried to remember the past before she became a countess. Her mother must have told her about this tree, and she had a feeling that her mother said something to her, but she doesn't remember. After all, it happened thousands of years ago.

She didn't care at the time for information about a random tree.

But she had a feeling this tree was important somehow.

'Fuck, I should have listened to what my mother said at the time, I was too busy envying her big breasts that I completely forgot about it.'

Natasha felt a little bad now since, if only she had listened to her mother and not focused on useless things like the size of a woman's breasts or her legs, and wondering if she would ever have the same body as her mother...

She could help her husband! But no! Her younger self had to focus on useless things!

"Hmm?" Natasha stops thinking nonsense when she sees a change in the tree's branches.

Drops of blood began to form on the tip of the tree branch, and at supernatural speed, a fruit was created.

"... What is it? A fruit?" Sasha spoke up.

"Yes, it looks like an apple..." Natasha continues.

"Ohhh, I missed eating this." Knowing what it was, Victor quickly grabs the fruit and bites into it.

"He's eating..." The two spoke in disbelief. Didn't his mother teach him that it's common sense not to eat food from strangers? Especially from a monster!?

"Delicious~." Victor finished sucking it all out pretty quickly. It tasted quite different from his wives' blood, it wasn't that 'delicious,' but it was a different taste, and he liked to eat it.

"Uru, Urru!" Gorilla seemed to clap with satisfaction, and then he looked up at the tree again.

And saw that the leaves that grew on it began to dry up a little again.

"Urru..." He looked a little sad about that.

"... Hmm." Victor looked at this phenomenon with interested eyes and realized that by drinking the fruit from the tree, it had run out of vitality, so he began to think.

"... I do not like this." Sasha got a bad feeling every time Victor got like this.

"What?" Natasha asked curiously.

"When Darling gets that face, it means he's going to do something outrageous again."

"Hey, Big Guy."

"Uru?" The gorilla looked at Victor.

"The tree needs blood, right?"

"Ugh." He nodded in agreement with the man's words.

"What kind of blood?"

"Beast blood? Vampire blood? Werewolf blood? Human blood?"
He named all the types of blood it was possible to obtain in a short period of time.

Thinking of a possibility, his smile widened a little, and he asked:

"The blood of a god?"

"..." Natasha started to feel the same bad feeling that Sasha was feeling.

"Seeing the sweat pouring off her mother's face." Sasha flashed a tired smile,

"Do you understand now?"

"Yes..." Even though she replied like that, she was thinking, 'As expected of my husband! He's crazy, and I love it! Ahh~. I want to suck his blood again.'

... Her insides and her outsides were completely different...

"..." The gorilla was silent, he looked at the tree for a few seconds, as he seemed to communicate with the tree, and then he looked at Victor.

He made a gesture with his hand that means...

"Everyone, huh?"

Yes, literally everything. She wanted all the blood.

Victor laughed a little and looked at the tree, "She's pretty hungry, huh?"

'The blood of a god is impossible now, but monsters and vampires, it's pretty easy.' Victor thought quickly in his head.

"...." The tree branches seemed to shake a little when she heard what Victor said. Did she seem to feel a little ashamed?

"Very well..." Victor's whole atmosphere changed and became more serious.

"Take care of the girls for me, Big guy."

"Geh." He made a face that showed he didn't want to.

Victor narrowed his eyes and proposed a deal, "If you do this, I will collect bananas for you."

"Urru..." The gorilla's eyes gleamed a little.

"..." He nodded in agreement with the deal. All he needed to do was look at the women, right? It wasn't difficult.

"Good. I will be back soon."

Realizing she was going to be left behind again, Sasha quickly asked, "W-Wait, Darling. Where are you going? Will you leave us here?" She didn't want to be alone with that gorilla.

"Well, yes? I Will be back soon, or do you want to help me?"

"What do you want to do?" Natasha asked curiously.

"I will capture beasts around here and criminal vampires. With a count's authority, I can do that quickly." Victor explained in an easy to understand and straightforward way.

"...Whoaa..." Sasha was amazed at how easily Victor could break the rules.

"Is that true..." Leaving aside about kidnapping the vampires, Natasha asked:

"Why are you going to do this? Are you going to feed that tree?"

She deduced.

"Yes." And he gave a simple, easy-to-understand answer, an answer that even a monkey could understand.

"Why?" She saw no need for it.

"I mean, why not?" He asked.

Victor didn't have a deep thought when doing this, he just had a random idea to feed the tree, and he's going to do it.

There is no deep motivation, no grand plan, just Victor doing whatever he wants, anytime he wants to, and when he wants.

"...." Sasha was silent, she didn't have anything to say about it, after all, just like Victor, she also did random things sometimes, she thought it was interesting, and that's why she did it, she didn't have big goals for it.

And because of that, she understood a little bit how Victor felt right now.

"And...? What are you going to do?" Victor asked.

"...." The two women looked at each other for a few seconds and nodded to each other. Their thoughts are simple, let's help him finish this random moment so he can be alone with us!

"We will help." The two spoke at the same time.

"Good." Victor's smile grew a little, and he began to order:

"First, we're going to capture Nightingale's prisoners. We will catch those vampires who committed the most serious crimes."

"...Darling, you know they are strong, right?" Sasha spoke up.

"Most of them are older vampires." And Natasha continued.

"I know, but they will be weak because they haven't fed properly." Victor had no motivation to fight someone weak, he knew just give blood to that person, and he will get stronger, but he didn't want to bother.

His goal is not to fight but to feed the tree.

And he's also 'satisfied', he's in Buddha mode, and he's been enlightened. After all, he had a good fight with Anderson and had an 'intimate' moment with Violet after a long time.

He is also calmer after drinking Violet and Sasha's blood.

He doesn't want to fight now.

"Natashia and I will capture the criminals, Sasha you will lure the beasts to this location so the Big Guy can finish them off."

"...Uruh...?" The gorilla pointed at himself while he seemed to have a face that said, am I?

Victor narrowed his eyes, "You are the guardian, you will help too, or I will not bring bananas!"

"....." Veins popped in the gorilla's head. Does he think he's going to be convinced because of some bananas? He wants to be lazy!

When he was going to protest about this, he felt a branch tapping his shoulder.

He seemed to communicate with the tree for a few seconds, and then he made a slightly annoyed expression and sighed:

"Urru..." He was convinced.

"...Pfft... He's commanded around like a bitch... Pfft..." Victor was trying hard not to laugh.

"Grrrrr..." The Gorilla's eyes narrowed.

Suddenly everyone heard the sounds of footsteps and the voice of two women:

"Ugh, this Victor is a clueless man. How can he kidnap me to this end of the world? I'm still a countess, you know?" Eleanor looked quite irritated.

"...I don't care. Why are you telling me this?" Eve spoke in a nonchalant tone.

"I just can't stand being silent anymore." She was honest. From the moment she woke up, Eve just kept looking at her silently, and the only thing Maid said was,

"Follow me, My Master is waiting ." And soon she started walking towards somewhere, and Eleanor, who didn't know where she was, had no choice but to follow Maid.

And the entire time she followed the Maid, the woman remained silent without saying anything, and she couldn't take it anymore and started talking to the woman.

"Deal with it." Eve spoke in a cold tone as she turned her face forward and said:

"... We're here." Her eyes immediately went to Victor.

"... A monster." Instinctively, Eleanor made a gesture to take the hilt of a Greatsword off her back, but...

The sword that always accompanied her was not there.

"Fuck." She grumbled.

"Grr..." The gorilla creaked a little when he saw the two new women.

"Tsk." Victor clicked his tongue and looked at the gorilla that was getting hostile:

"Stop being a precocious boy, they are with me."

"..." The gorilla was speechless when he heard what Victor said.

I'm older than you, did you know? He had that kind of face.

He turned his attention to the girls who had just arrived. He looked at the girl with long black hair, and she conveyed the same feeling as Victor. Which means, in the gorilla's view, she's Victor's daughter or something.

Which wasn't wrong, considering Victor raised Eve.

He looked at the taller, white-haired woman.

The taller woman had nothing... She didn't smell like Victor. On the contrary, she smelled like blood, beast blood... Wrong, monster blood.

And instinctively, the Gorilla became more wary of her.

'I think it was not a good idea to bring this woman here.' Natasha thought when she saw Eleanor's serious state.

"Eleanor, this is the being I wanted you to meet." Victor suddenly spoke up.

"..." But the woman didn't answer. She didn't seem to have heard, and the only thing that was going through her head now was.

'Kill, Kill, kill, kill.... I WILL KILL THE MONSTER' A distorted smile appeared on her face, as she was completely beside herself.

"Oh?" Victor really liked that smile.

Quake, Quake, Quake.

The ground around Eleanor began to shake violently, an earthquake was coming.

She stomps the ground, and soon an Earth greatsword is created.

She pulls the greatsword off the ground, puts it on her shoulder, and looks at the gorilla with a gaze glowing blood red.

Slowly, Victor's smile started to grow and get distorted, it seems he found a similar one; 'No wonder she was trained by Scathach.' He thought.

"..." Natasha narrowed her eyes when she saw Eleanor's attitude. If she continues like this, she will provoke a fight.

"Grrr..." Seeing that the woman was more menacing than before, the gorilla positioned himself opposite her.

Suddenly, everyone heard a noise that left everyone silent.

SLAP!

Before everyone even knew it, Victor appeared in front of her and slapped her across the face.

"...Eh?" Eleanor opened her eyes wide and touched her face, which was a little red.

"Calm down." He spoke in a firm voice that allowed no refusal.
