

My Three Wives Are Beautiful
Vampires

Copyright

My Three Wives Are Beautiful Vampires.

Author : Victor_Weismann

Copyright owned by China Literature

Table of Contents

Chapter 47: like mother, like daughter.	2
Chapter 48: Ruby returns home.
Chapter 49: Mother and daughter.
Chapter 50: Ruby and Victor.
Chapter 51: Meeting.
Chapter 52: Meeting.	2
Chapter 53: What will you do?
Chapter 54: Hybrids.
Chapter 55: Digging your own grave.
Chapter 56: I can't contain myself anymore~.
Chapter 57: So it begins.
Chapter 58: The White Wolf.
Chapter 59: The White Wolf.	2
Chapter 60: The White Wolf.	3
Chapter 61: Progress.
Chapter 62: I knew it!
Chapter 63: Coward.
Chapter 64: Do you want it?
Chapter 65: Changes.
Chapter 66: Something happens!
Chapter 67: A weird situation indeed.
Chapter 68: Countess Eleonor Adrasteia.
Chapter 69: Countess Eleonor Adrasteia.	2
Chapter 70: King's Capital
Chapter 71: King's Capital.	2
Chapter 72: A little girl of few words.
Chapter 73: The King's Daughters.
Chapter 74: The King's Daughters.	2
Chapter 75: I just do what I want.
Chapter 76: It's not like they're trying to keep secrets.

Chapter1 Chapter 47: like mother, like daughter. 2

Arriving at Violet's mansion, Ruby's car pulled into the garage.

Luna got out of the car, opened the door for Ruby, and, just as Ruby got out of the car, Luna stood in front of Ruby protectively.

"Lady Ruby Scarlett," A vampire who was Violet's servant, spoke in a neutral, respectful tone.

"Luna, what are you doing?" Ruby asked.

"Sorry, I acted unconsciously," Luna smiled apologetically.

"Hmm," Ruby looked at Luna and thought; maybe she's thinking about that incident still?

A Maid who failed to protect her master must have affected Luna's mind in some way.

Deciding that she must solve this problem in the future, Ruby looks at the man, "Where are the prisoners?"

"Follow me," The man spoke as he started walking.

Ruby followed the man as she was accompanied by Luna, who walked behind her in silence and eyed the man cautiously. The two women followed the man into a dark basement that was lit only by torches.

"The prisoners are in this room," The man spoke as he pointed to a door, and then he disappeared.

"He's still around," Luna warned in a low voice.

"I know," Ruby said.

Ruby wasn't too worried, these vampires were Violet's servants, and they didn't have the balls to do her any harm. Unlike some hunters who underestimate Scathach's strength and madness, vampires knew all too well how crazy that woman could be.

And Ruby wasn't weak either, she was trained by her mother, and there's a massive difference between a hunter with the rank of a general and those vampires who are only good for cannon fodder.

Ruby walks through the door, and the first thing she sees is Jimmy and Thomas, two budding hunters who were captured by Violet and Victor; they were playing cards in a very relaxed way.

She looks around and realizes that there is a lot of food lying around. 'They are feeding the pigs,' She thought.

"Mister Vampire? Did you bring more food? Thank you so much, you can let-" Jimmy spoke, but he stopped talking as he looked toward the door.

"Hmm? Who are you?" Thomas asked as he turned away.

"Idiot!" Jimmy hit Thomas on the head.

"Ouch! Stop hitting my head, Dick-head!" Thomas yelled angrily.

Jimmy ignores Thomas and says, "Long red hair, and accompanied by a white-haired maid, and they're both vampires, how come you don't know them!?"

"...?" Thomas looked at Jimmy, confused.

"...I know what I know, and I don't know what I don't know." He snorted.

"...." Jimmy was speechless.

Jimmy sighed and ignored Thomas completely.

He gives Ruby a fake smile and says, "Lady Ruby Scarlett, daughter of the most powerful female vampire in the world, Countess Scathach Scarlett, what do I owe your visit to this humble place?"

"!!!" Hearing what Jimmy said, Thomas opened his eyes in shock, and then he eyed Ruby warily.

"Hmm," Ruby puts her hand to her chin like she's thinking about what to do. For her, these hunters weren't even worth her time. She's just here in front of these hunters because she wants to sort out the loose ends that her husband and her friend left in this town, she could clearly see that they were novice hunters; they wouldn't give her a lot of useful information.

"..." Seeing Ruby in silence and looking at them coldly.

Jimmy and Thomas broke out in a cold sweat; somehow, they could deduce they were in danger.

Ruby kept thinking until an idea popped into her head, she flashed a cold little smile.

Looking at the cold smile on Ruby's face, the two budding hunters knew they were fucked...

"Luna, bring me the magic contracts; Violet must have some in her personal room."

"But you're going to be alone-..." She wanted to protest, but she stopped talking when she saw Ruby's cold eyes:

"Do as I say."

"Yes, Lady Ruby," Luna bows in respect, then she turns and walks towards the exit.

Seeing Luna leaving the room, Ruby sighed inwardly, she changed her mind when she saw Luna's reaction. She thought to herself that she should solve this little problem as soon as possible, she didn't want an incompetent maid. Ruby faithfully follows the teachings of her mother and remembers what Scathach once said in the past:

'Ruby, if you ever make a mistake, don't take it to heart, try to learn from the mistake, and more importantly, try not to make that mistake in the future.'

Ruby agreed with her mother's thoughts; repeating the same mistakes over and over again was just insanity.

Ruby stops thinking about it, then she looks at the hunters with her cold, indifferent eyes, "First, clean up this mess, are you pigs?"

"Yes, mam!" Jimmy responded vigorously, and soon he got up and pulled Thomas:

"Help me, you idiot!"

"I-..." Thomas was going to say something, but when he saw Jimmy's eyes like he was telling him not to say anything, he closed his mouth.

Soon the two hunters began to organize the room. Not wanting to sit in a spot these two men have already sat in, Ruby creates an ice throne, and sits on it, crosses her legs, and waits patiently for her Maid to return.

A few minutes later, Luna returned with three golden papers in her hand; these were magical contracts made by the witches.

She handed the papers to Ruby and waited patiently beside her. Ruby took the papers, "Three, huh?"

"I didn't find any more magic contracts; I think Lady Violet only had these."

"Unexpected. I thought she would have more. After all, she has frequent contact with that Witch," Ruby commented, then she continued: "Well, three is enough"

She stands up, bites her finger, and a drop of blood falls on a paper, the paper starts to glow slightly, and then Ruby starts speaking in Latin:

"Primo clausula: Proditione et mortem." Translation: First clause. Betrayal and death.

When Ruby spoke these words, the gold paper began to float, and letters began to be written on the paper.

Listening to what Ruby said, Jimmy, who had already tidied up the whole room along with Thomas, said:

"Fuck...we're fucked." His face darkened.

"Huh? Why are we fucked?"

"..." Jimmy looked at Thomas with a tired face.

"Sometimes, I'm envious of your simplicity..." He sighed

"...?" Thomas didn't understand.

Jimmy wasn't in the mood to explain, and he just looked at Ruby with a tired face. He seemed to have given up on trying to resist; he was already in the vampires' lair. What could two mere budding hunters do?

Ruby flashed a cold little smile:

"Secundi clausula: Magister et secreto.." Translation: Second clause: Master and confidentiality.

"...Great...Just Great..." Jimmy already understood where this was going; sometimes, being a smart guy is a curse.

"Tertium clausula: Exploratore." Translation: Third clause: Spy

The gold paper has stopped glowing gold; Ruby raises her hand and takes the paper, then she looks at Thomas:

"The contract is simple, be my spy. If you betray me, you die. If you leak information about this conversation, you die. If they find out you're under a magical contract, you die."

'This is basically a slave contract!' Jimmy wanted to scream.

"...Do we have choices?" He asked.

Ruby looks at her healing finger, "No, you don't."

Sigh!

Jimmy sighed; he looked very depressed now.

Thomas looked at Jimmy curiously and asked, "Hey Jimmy. Why are you so depressed? Something happened?"

'This motherfucker!...' For a moment, Jimmy almost exploded with rage, but he swallowed that rage and tried to control his emotions.

"Just be quiet, okay? Don't make our situation worse." He spoke in a low voice as he bit his lip.

"..." Thomas nodded.

Jimmy knows it was Thomas's fault that they were in this situation; he warned him several times to come back and stay close to the more experienced hunters. But, he was obsessed with looking for the vampires alone, and, in the end, they both got stuck in this situation.

But, despite knowing that, he couldn't lose control of his emotions right now. He needed to think about how to get out of this situation; 'The witches' contract can only be canceled by another witch, we can cooperate with that vampire now, and the first opportunity we meet a witch in the future, we ask her to void that contract... But canceling the contract requires an exorbitant amount of money... Fuck! Damned mercenary witches!

"Have you finished thinking?" Ruby asked in a disinterested voice.

"... Can we try to negotiate the terms of the contract?" He asked, a little unsure.

"..." Ruby looked at Jimmy.

Jimmy felt his body tremble with fear when he saw Ruby's cold gaze.

"You seem to be getting something wrong." She spoke in words that made both Jimmy and Thomas' spines go cold, "You two are of no use to me; or to my husband. I just didn't let the vampires of this house feast on your guts only for the reason I believe anyone can be helpful with a little encouragement."

"Death... It's a good incentive, right?" She exhibited a small smile.

"..." The two hunters were silent, and they didn't dare say anything now.

"Then? What are you going to do?" She asked and added, "Death, or become a spy?"

Luna looked at the slight smile on Ruby's face and couldn't help thinking that Ruby was having fun with this situation, she was very similar to her mother; they both have the same cruelty and sadism... The only difference is that Lady Ruby is not as crazy as her mother.

Chapter 48: Ruby returns home.

After winning over two spies who have questionable competence, Ruby warned the vampires that they were Violet's servants to protect Victor's mother and father. She assured them that if anything happened to Victor's parents, they wouldn't have a peaceful death. Soon after that, she returned to the basement of Victor's house.

"Natália, is everything ready?" She asked, entering the room.

Natalia, who was standing in front of a door, said, "Yes, everything is ready, Lady Ruby... Oh, you're back," She looked at Luna.

"Yes, I'm back," Luna smiled at Natalia, she looks at the Maid who was next to Natalia, "Oh? So it's you..."

By looking at the woman's characteristics, she can instantly deduce who the woman was.

"Yes, Yes. The hunter who killed the vampires, the great villain of the story." Maria spoke in a sarcastic tone.

Ruby narrows her eyes a little when she hears Maria's words, she looks at the Maid, focusing her attention on Maria's lifeless eyes, and notices something; 'she gave up on resisting, huh?'

"A piece of advice. I suggest you don't say that in front of Sasha," Ruby warned.

"Yes, I know." She nodded, "I gave up fighting, but I don't want to die being tortured," she sighed at the end.

"..." Ruby was speechless. What happened in the time she was gone? She looks at Natalia:

"What happened to her?"

"Well... I had a little talk with her; I wanted to put her to work, after all. She was basically a parasite that lay around in a catatonic state... And I unintentionally said that she or that hunter from the church would die anyway."

"... You didn't lie... It's better to tell the truth than to feed a lie and raise false hopes."

"..." Natalia nodded in agreement.

Luna approached Maria and poked Maria's face with her finger.

"What are you doing?" Maria asked.

"I'm just curious... What are you?" Luna asked.

"Huh?" Maria didn't understand what she meant.

"I'm a leech, right? Why are you asking the obvious?"

"...Hmm, you don't look like a Vampire to me?" She spoke as she looked Maria up and down as if assessing, "You look like a dead human to me."

"Aren't vampires dead?"

"It's not that; you look something like a vampire but defective." Luna said, "At least that's how I feel looking at you."

Maria opens her eyes a little, and soon she remembers Sasha's words saying she was going to be a defective vampire.

"According to the words of my-..." She bit her lip, she didn't want to say the word, but in the end, she had no choice, "Master... I'm a defective vampire."

"Sasha did the ritual without the necessary materials," Ruby's face showed a slight annoyance, "What was that woman thinking?"

"She wasn't thinking about anything, she just wanted revenge," Natalia said.

"..." Ruby agreed with Natalia's reasoning.

'I hope this doesn't get out of hand, or I'll have to kill this woman; the race she has become is a hard curse to be exterminated if left unchecked.' Ruby thought.

Feeling a bad feeling about this, Maria asked Ruby, "What do you mean? What have I become...?"

Luna looked at her master curiously.

"..." Ruby was silent.

"You became a Ghoul," Natalia spoke for Ruby.

"Ghoul...?" Maria tries to remember the church records, "Ghoul, a vampire subspecies, the failed result of a vampire, they were used in the past as soldiers in war."

"... Did I become that?"

"Yes." Ruby continued.

"..." Maria didn't know what to say, she didn't really understand the Ghouls. But, from the reaction of the vampires around her, she somehow feels she was in a much worse situation than she imagined.

"Ghoul: A subspecies of vampires, the failed result of a vampire, they were often used in warfare as cannon fodder," Natalia explained.

"According to my mother, vampires at the time used ghouls as a biological weapon. After all, you only need one bite or scratch from this creature, and you become one of them. So vampires usually threw a ghoul into town and expected that in less than two days, the Ghouls would destroy the entire city if they weren't exterminated."

"...Isn't that like the zombies in the movies?" Luna asked.

"It's similar, at least in the way they propagate fast," Natalia said, she looks at Maria and explains, "Seeing that you are still conscious, you must have become a Ghoul King, a kind of leader who is able to control them."

"...great...just great..." She sighed at the end.

"Sasha is really vindictive, she chose the worst punishment a woman can have..."

"Huh?" Maria looked at Ruby, and she explained everything with a small cold smile on her face:

"It won't happen now because you've just 'died', but eventually your skin will start to rot, you'll eventually start to forget about things, and slowly, you'll lose your true self."

"In the end, you'll just become a beast whose only pleasure is killing and multiplying like a virus."

"..." Maria's face darkened, she bit her lip and clenched her fist tightly. Her body was visibly shaking, she lowered her head, and small tears started to fall from her face. "This is very cruel..." She spoke in a low voice.

But since everyone in the room had supernatural ears, everyone could hear her.

"This is the consequence of your actions and also the result of your weakness," Ruby spoke coldly.

"Indeed. If she was strong enough to kill Sasha, this wouldn't have happened."

"..." Maria said nothing.

Ruby turns her face away and starts walking towards the door, "...But if she killed Sasha, her fate would be worse than becoming something like a Ghoul... Trust me, there are far worse fates than the one you are suffering now."

When Ruby grabs the doorknob, she turns her face and looks at Maria, who made a sudden movement!

Maria ran towards the kitchen that was near the bedroom, and took a knife and tried to pierce her head, she was trying to kill herself.

"... It's useless," Ruby said as she looked at the knife that was inches from piercing Maria's eye, "The master's orders are absolute. If Sasha doesn't allow it, you can't kill yourself."

"Fuck!" Maria throws the knife to the ground.

"..." Luna and Natalia just looked at everything with cold, disinterested eyes; they didn't care a bit about Maria.

"Is the pointless joke over? Let's go back now; I need to see my Darling~" Ruby flashed a small affectionate smile.

...

Passing through the portal, Ruby finds herself in her personal room.

"My room..." She looks around and realizes that nothing has changed since she left the house.

"Oh?" Hearing a surprised voice, Ruby looks towards the voice and sees her mother:

"Mother!"

"Daughter, you've finally come back; I was wondering if I would have to kidnap you too." Scathach exhibited a loving little smile.

Hearing what her mother said, Ruby sighed, "Where are my sisters?"

"Siena is at work, Pepper is sleeping, and Lacus is sleeping too."

"Hmm?"

"Siena and Lacus, I understand... But why is Pepper sleeping too?"

"I do not know? Maybe she got tired from training Victor?" Scathach spoke like it didn't matter much then, she looked at Luna, and her eyes lit up, "Is everything ready?" She asked with a small smile on her face.

"Yes, whatever Countess Scathach asked me to do, I'm done," Luna spoke in a respectful tone.

"Good. Good!"

Scathach can't help but smile a little more, she can't wait for three days to pass soon!

Ruby sighed inwardly when she saw her mother's interest in Victor; 'Darling will be left with eternal scars after this training.'

"Luna, this is my house; I want you to treat them like my guests," Ruby said while pointing to Natalia and Maria.

"Hmm, even the Ghoul?" Luna asked to be sure.

"Don't call her that, she has a name, and yes... Even her." Ruby spoke.

"As expected from Lady Ruby, you are very kind!"

Ruby looked at Luna, "Wrong, I'm not nice; that's just basic etiquette."

"Yes, I know!" Luna smiled with a smile that said, 'I understand everything!'

"No, you don't understand" Ruby rolled her eyes and explained, "Maria is Sasha's problem; it's my friend who should solve this problem. I'll only get involved if she asks for help, and since she didn't, that's not my problem yet."

"Yes! As expected from Lady Ruby! You have a kind heart!" Luna flashed a smug smile.

"..." Ruby looked at Luna with a tired expression.

"Forget it," Ruby gave up.

"Come, daughter, let's talk" Seeing that the conversation ended, Scathach spoke to Ruby, then she started walking towards the exit of the room.

"Okay," Ruby nodded and started to follow her mother, she looked at Luna for a moment with a face that said, 'do your job'.

Luna looked at Natalia and Maria, "Come on; I'll accompany you two to the personal rooms."

"Pass," Natalia held up her hand, saying.

"Hmm?" Luna looked at Natalia curiously.

Natalia explained, "I went back to Nightingale, my work as a Maid is temporarily stopped until my master Violet leaves this town, so I'm on vacation~."

"... Envy~" Luna commented, she wanted a vacation too, but due to the mistake she made a few days ago, she thinks it's going to be difficult for her to get a vacation.

Natalia flashed a small smile when she heard what Luna said, she walked towards Ruby's wardrobe, then snapped her fingers.

She opens Ruby's wardrobe and sees that the interior of the wardrobe has changed to a portal, she looks at Luna and says, "I'm going to go back to my clan, and enjoy my vacation days, seeya~."

Soon she goes through the portal, and the moment she goes through the portal, the portal is closed.

"...Now that I've stopped to think about it, isn't she a human? What is a human doing in the vampire world?" Maria asked.

"Hmm? That is not so uncommon; humans can always come to this world at the invitation of noble families. Normally, humans of high status in society are the guests... and that woman's family is just very special; they are direct servants of the king of vampires himself."

"..." Maria looks at Luna with a bit of shock, she never thought Natalia would have such a deep background, she thinks a bit about what she heard in the past when Victor was kidnapped, "Clan Alioth, huh?"

"Oh? How do you know that?"

"I've heard Master talking in the past," Maria replied.

"Oh..." Soon her face darkened a little, "You're not supposed to know that woman is part of the Clan who is the direct servant of the king..."

"..." Maria was speechless when she heard Luna.

"...Is this supposed to be a secret?" Maria asked.

"I do not know...?" She spoke doubtfully, "I think so? But seeing Natalia's ability, everyone in the vampire world will associate her with that Clan's servant... Only ordinary humans shouldn't know anything."

"...So I think it's okay? I'm not a human anymore; I've become ... that." She said the last part in disgust.

"... Make sense," Luna said, and soon dropped the subject, she started walking towards the exit, "Come on, I'll show you to your room."

"Okay."

Chapter 49: Mother and daughter.

[A/N: 1 million views in a new original novel that only has 49 chapters... Let's fucking gooo!!!! You guys are awesome, you have no idea how happy that makes me! Thank you very much for the support you are giving me on the Webnovel website!]

...

On the porch of Scathach's mansion, two women were enjoying the tranquil mood of Nightingale's endless night. If strangers looked at them, they would think the women were sisters because of their identical appearance, but they could barely imagine that they were actually mother and daughter.

"Mother... Be honest with me..." Ruby spoke in a neutral voice.

"Hmm?" Scathach looked at her daughter.

"Why are you interested in my Darling?" She looked into her mother's eyes for answers. Ruby knew that her mother was interested in people with great powers; an example of this is Siena, her eldest adoptive sister. In the past, Siena showed great potential, and because of that, her mother adopted her.

Victor's potential is obvious; this is undeniable. Ruby still remembers the day that Victor assumed the form of 'Count Vampire' with only the awakening of powers, this kind of potential only appeared in the children of the King Vampire and Count vampires.

But if it were a small interest, Ruby would understand, but... Her interest in Victor is very abnormal, she went so far as to build an entire coliseum just for Victor. Building a coliseum was not cheap, and especially hiring witches for the service.

"..."

Scathach's neutral face suddenly changed into a big smile, "Ah~, my sweet and beloved daughter, my precious little Ruby. You really have no idea what you've got yourself into, huh?"

"...?" Ruby didn't expect this response from her mother.

Scathach gets up from the chair she was sitting in, and slowly she walks to the front of the chair where Ruby was sitting, she kneels in front of her daughter and lightly touches her daughter's face:

"Look at you, so young, so innocent, so pure, like a little red flower that's just growing~. I always had concerns that someone might try to deceive you," She started to caress her daughter's face.

"M-Mother?" Ruby didn't understand her mother's sudden reaction.

"Because of that, I was always overprotective of you. Who knew I could feel like this soon..." Scathach placed a hand on her chest, and her face showed a little disdain, "In the past, I hated that feeling, but... It's not so bad..."

"..." Ruby looked at her mother's expression without understanding anything. In moments like this, when she was frustrated with herself, she always said that she understood her mother, but in the end, she couldn't understand anything.

"...Mother, are you running away from the question?" Ruby asked

"..." Scathach exhibited a gentle smile, she looked at her daughter and stroked her face again:

"Who knows? Maybe I am, you know, right? I'm an old person, and I get emotional easily."

"..." Ruby looks at her mother's smile with neutral eyes; 'Again, she always evades questions, she's like a slippery eel, she never gave me a satisfactory answer, how can I try to understand her if she doesn't say anything? I'm not psychic!... This is frustrating...'

Since she was a little girl, Ruby has always felt like this. Just when she thought that she understood her mother, something happened that made her realize that she really didn't understand anything about her mother. For a child who wanted to be closer to her mother, it was frustrating, that was annoying!... And most importantly, that was lonely...

Scathach flashes a loving smile and tugs on both of Ruby's cheeks.

"Fua~!? S-Stop."

Scathach lets go of her daughter's chubby cheeks. "My little Ruby... Don't try to understand me; you'll end up going crazy just like me," She strokes her daughter's head.

Ruby looks at her mother, and she thinks; 'Oh, I already know this pattern, she's going to say something like.'

"A being who has lived for two thousand years on this Earth always has screws loose in their head."

"A being who has lived for two thousand years on this Earth always has screws loose in their head."

Ruby repeated her mother's words in unison.

"..." Scathach exhibited a surprised face.

Ruby flashes a slight smile, "It's the same pattern; when you don't want to say something to me, you keep throwing these confusing phrases in an attempt to distract me."

"..." Scathach's smile began to grow, "Pfft..." Then, unable to take it, she started to laugh, "HAHAHAHAHA!"

"...?" And that laugh only made Ruby's brain stop working again.

Scathach laughed as if finding something very funny; after a few minutes of laughing, she looks at her daughter with a gentle smile:

"Ah~, since Victor appeared, I seem to be laughing more."

"!!!" Ruby looked at her mother with a wary look, "Mother!?"

"Hmm?" Seeing her daughter's gaze, she understood something, "Oya? Are you thinking indecent things? You're already that age; what a perverted daughter I have~."

Ruby's face turned pure red, she never imagined her mother would tease her.

"Hahaha, you're so cute," Scathach pulls her daughter's head to her chest, and soon she starts stroking Ruby's head.

'It's different from Darling...' She thought when she felt her mother caress her head.

"..." Ruby sighed wearily and snuggled her head into her mother's breast, "It's frustrating... I'm your daughter, but I can never fully understand you."

For a moment, Scathach stopped stroking Ruby's head, "...Silly, it is impossible for someone to completely understand another being."

"Mostly understand someone like me." Scathach chuckled a little, and then she started stroking Ruby's head again.

Ruby looks up and looks at her mother, "Is there anyone who can understand you?"

For a moment, the face of a man smiling just like her appeared in Scathach's mind, but she shook her head inwardly, saying it was impossible for that to happen.

"...Who knows...? If there were someone like that, I would like to meet that person. Sometimes even I don't understand myself completely, I just do what I want, hahaha."

Sigh!

Ruby sighed again, she snuggles her head in her mother's breast and says without looking at her mother, "One day... One day, I'll understand you completely." She made a promise to herself.

"..." Scathach didn't say anything, she just kept stroking her daughter's head. Then, slowly, she turns her face to the moon and thinks; 'Ah~. My beloved daughter... I really wish that day will never come.'

...

After Ruby's conversation with her mother, the redhead decided it was time to visit her Darling.

Ruby was walking through the forest with an annoyed face; it was only when she left her mother's presence that she understood something:

Sigh!

Ruby sighed again, "She tricked me!" She stomped the ground in frustration.

She wanted to ask about her mother's interest in Victor, but at some point, the conversation turned into a mother-daughter conversation, and she avoided the subject entirely.

"She's always like that!" She steps on the ground again, and when she hit the ground, the ground froze completely, she ignored the frozen ground and yelled in frustration as she ruffled her hair, "Gaaah!!"

"She always uses that lip service and deceives me! Damn it! I should have known this, but why do I always fall for this trick!?" With frustration building inside her body, Ruby looks at a poor tree with her eyes glowing red.

"FUCK!" She closes her fist and attacks the tree.

BOOOOM!

The poor tree flew towards an unknown place...

Now that she was letting off steam, various feelings she had been holding in her heart started to come out.

She remembers an arrogant blonde vampire, "And that fucking arrogant son of a bitch! He always caused me trouble, and I had no excuse to kill him, but the first plausible excuse I find, he runs away! Damn it!"

She started attacking the surrounding landscape in frustration!

Stones, trees, sand, plants, everything wasn't safe from Ruby.

"Violet, this spoiled bitch! Always causing me trouble! Doesn't she know how hard it is to clean up her mess!? Especially in that incident where she blew up a damn building in the middle of New York!"

She created ice out of nowhere and attacked a rock!

"I mean...I know she was angry at being harassed, I was angry too, but she didn't need to blow up the entire building! She could have just killed the man! This would avoid drawing the attention of humans, and it would also avoid problems with the royal guard! If it weren't for the fear that the royal guard has of my mother, we would be in much bigger trouble!"

"AHHHHG!" She ruffles her hair again.

She sighs a little relieved, but soon the frustration rises in her heart when she remembers something:

"Sasha isn't out of the loop either! Though she isn't as troubled as Violet, can't she be any less reckless!? She was almost killed by hunters, and instead of looking for help, she isolates herself and doesn't accept anyone's help!"

"Irritating! Doesn't she know how worried I was!?"

"Fuck! Fuck! Fuck! Fuck!" She kicks the ground several times, and every time she kicks the ground, little ice explosions occur, so the whole area around Ruby feels like a pretty epic battle has taken place.

"And Darling is very insensitive! Because he hasn't come to find me yet! Doesn't he know how much I miss him!? And why am I having such strong feelings for someone I just met!? Ahhhhhh!" She ruffles her hair again.

After screaming in frustration.

She puts her finger to her lips and thinks, 'It's his blood, right? It's his blood that made me interested in him, right?' She tried to convince herself that this was it.

'But what is this feeling of obsession!? I feel like I want him just for me, and I get annoyed when Sasha and Violet are around; I want to kidnap him and lock him up in a basement. I want him just for me!'

"Aaaah! What are these feelings!?" She was very confused.

She lays on the ground and looks at the moon for a long time, she sighs, then she says, "It's all Violet's fault...Yes, it's all Violet's fault, she always loses sight of what's important when she's angry, and I have to clean up her mess later! If it was not-"

She was going to say more but stopped when she heard something.

"Whistle!" She heard someone whistle.

"Who's there!?" She stood up and looked at the visitor in a fighting stance. As the moonlight illuminates the visitor, Ruby's face darkened.

"D-D-D-Darling!?"

"Yo," Victor smiled gently as he looked at Ruby's disheveled appearance.

Chapter4 Chapter 50: Ruby and Victor.

"Look how dirty your beautiful red hair is," Victor spoke in a gentle tone as he arranged Ruby's appearance with his hands.

"... W-When did you arrive...?" Ruby didn't move, she was paralyzed.

"From the part you said; 'she tricked me'." Victor displayed a sneaky smile.

"!!!" Ruby's face changed expression several times.

Victor watched with curiosity as Ruby's face changed to a shocked expression, then an embarrassed expression, then an angry expression, and finally a resigned sigh.

Sigh!

"...If you were there, you could have called me..." she had a very dejected expression.

Finishing fixing Ruby's messy hair, Victor spoke with a big smile on his face:

"Hell no."

"... Eh?" Ruby didn't expect that answer.

"I didn't want to miss this show," Victor spoke as he pointed to the landscape around him, "A rare moment of my wife who is usually cold and aloof venting her emotions~, I will never miss this opportunity! Look, I even recorded it to see in the future." He takes out his cell phone and shows Ruby the video.

"!!!" Ruby's face immediately turned crimson red when she heard

Victor's words, and her face turned completely red when she saw the video Victor recorded.

"DELETE! NOW!" Ruby yelled.

"Eh?" Victor showed his face in horror; it was as if Ruby had asked him to do something inhumane, "I wouldn't commit such blasphemy, I need this video to show my children in the future how cute their mother is~."

"C-C-Child...!? Y-Y-you, T-This-" She was trying to say something, but because of Victor's words that caught her off guard, she wasn't managing to form a coherent train of thought.

Victor felt his heart being hit by an arrow when he saw Ruby's face.

"Ahh~, my wife is so cute!" Victor suddenly hugged Ruby!

"!!!?" Ruby's face got redder when she heard Victor speak, instinctively when Victor hugged her, she started to struggle, she didn't even know what she was doing, she just wanted to get out of here and hide in a hole, she was so embarrassed!

"L-Let go of me!"

"Never!" Victor spoke with a conviction that shook Ruby completely.

"..." Ruby stopped struggling and looked at Victor.

Seeing Ruby's cute face looking at him, he unconsciously displayed a gentle smile and kissed her.

"!!!" Not expecting this surprise attack, Ruby was completely melted in Victor's arms, she couldn't gather the strength to do anything else.

'Ah~, why am I fighting? He's my Darling... I'm just supposed to accept everything,' She thought with her mind a little shaken, then she wrapped her arms around Victor's neck and kissed him back.

A few minutes passed, and Victor stopped kissing Ruby; when he stopped kissing Ruby, a bridge of saliva connecting the couple's mouth formed. He looks at Ruby's red eyes and Ruby's erratic breathing.

He understood what she wanted, displays a gentle smile, and shows his neck, "Come."

Ruby wasted no time, her teeth changed into sharp fangs, and soon she bit Victor's neck!

"Ugh," Victor held back the moan as he felt Ruby's fangs pierce his neck, and, if that wasn't enough, he felt two mountains that were quite soft against his chest.

He holds Ruby by her ass, and when he felt Ruby's entire body, he thought; 'This body is just very unfair; it feels like I'm hugging a very seductive Succubus, I feel like I'm going to lose myself in lust if I don't control myself!'

Having sucked the blood from Sasha and Violet, the only one left was Ruby to quench Victor's thirst completely, soon a primordial desire began to rise in Victor's body.

His eyes changed to blood red, and sharp fangs replaced his teeth; he pushed Ruby's shirt back a little and bit down on his wife's collarbone!

"Ahhh~" Ruby moaned very loudly. For some reason, her legs were feeling very weak now, she also felt a clear liquid that was leaking from her secret place; this liquid was making a mess with her pants.

"...?" Victor didn't understand why she reacted so strongly, but he didn't have time to think about it when the taste of blood touched his tongue. Unconsciously, he tightened his grip on Ruby's thick ass.

Ruby wraps her legs around Victor's waist; when she does this, she feels something thick touching her intimate place, "D-Darling~" She looks up at the sky with unfocused eyes. She seems to be very ecstatic, she licks the blood that was running from her lips; this blood is very tasty!

Ruby's eyes begin to glow blood red, "Darling!"

Again, she bit Victor's neck.

...

A few minutes later, when the couple was completely satisfied.

"Hahaha, look what a mess we made" Victor chuckled when he saw the messed up state of his and Ruby's clothes.

Ruby looked at a specific region of Victor's body; 'he reacted to me~.'

For some reason, she was very happy.

"Hmm?" Seeing where his wife was looking, Victor flashed a sly smile.

"Are you curious...? Do you want to see?" He held his pants like he was going to take them off at any time

"...Huh? N-No! I do not want to!" Ruby turned her face to the side.

"Heh~" Victor appeared beside her, "Are you sure?"

"Yes!" Despite saying this, unconsciously, she looked again at the hard member.

Victor added information, "When I evolved, I noticed that all the muscles in my body grew and became denser and stronger~, and not only my muscles, but something else too..." He didn't need to continue; after all, Ruby was an intelligent woman.

Swallows!

She swallowed hard, and indecent thoughts began to form inside her head; just imagining her being ravaged by Victor, a sense of anticipation began to grow in her heart.

Victor's smile grew; he approached Ruby and lightly pulled the tip of Ruby's nipples that were hard as stones.

"!!!" Ruby's face turned red, and she pulled away from Victor quickly as she covered her breasts.

"W-What are you doing!?"

"Teasing my wife."

"..." Ruby's face turned completely red, then she turned her face away again as she pouted.

Victor appears beside her again, "I can't help it~. My wife, who is usually cold and distant, is showing so many reactions; somehow, I feel like my sadistic side is waking up~."

He blows in Ruby's ears.

"!!!" Ruby walks away again. "S-Stop!" Despite saying this, her face was completely red and panting.

"Okay, I'll stop," Victor backed away and spoke, still smiling.

"Eh...?" Ruby didn't expect this answer, somehow she got...

He appeared again beside her, "Are you just disappointed now?"

"..." She showed a face that said, 'how did you know?'

"Heh~, I have a very perverted wife, huh? How lucky~."

Ruby's face starts to turn completely red, and soon, a small explosion happens in her head.

"Idiot!" She screamed.

When Ruby tried to run away from this situation.

"You can't run away~!" Victor holds her like a princess and starts walking towards the place where Sasha and Violet are sleeping.

"Let me go!" She started to struggle as she screamed.

Victor squeezes Ruby's ass a little hard, "If you don't stop, I'll continue what I was doing before."

"..." Ruby looked at Victor with a blank expression.

"Let me go!!" She screamed louder and began to struggle.

"..." Victor looked at Ruby with an incredulous expression, but slowly his smile started to grow, "Heh~" He kissed Ruby's mouth.

"Humpf!?" Ruby was taken by surprise, but soon she returns Victor's kiss.

A few seconds later when Victor stopped kissing Ruby:

"I never thought my wife was a masochist~" He chuckled.

"!!!" Ruby's face turned completely red, and she turned her face away in an attempt to hide her embarrassment, she completely gave up on running away now; 'Masochist? Me!? How absurd...' She thought.

Victor displayed a gentle smile and then started walking again.

As he walked through the forest carrying Ruby like a princess,

Victor's eyes glowed blood red for a few seconds, and he stared at a distant spot in the forest.

"Heh~," Seeing two individuals up in a tree, Victor exhibited a smile that wasn't a satisfied smile; after all, he wasn't an exhibitionist, and he didn't want anyone to see that side of his wife, even if these individuals were Ruby's sisters.

...

"It somehow developed into something e-exciting..." Lacus stuttered a little with a slightly red face.

"... Y-Yeah." Pepper nodded, her face completely red.

The two sisters were originally sleeping, but when they heard Ruby's voice in the mansion, they quickly woke up and went after the younger sister; they were missing Ruby so much.

But they didn't expect them to see this scene...

"...Somehow, I'm feeling that seeing this scene, it's going to come back to bite my ass in the future..." Pepper spoke with a grim face.

"..." Lacus was silent, she knows Pepper's instincts are usually correct.

Soon she shrugs as if it's not important, "Well, he won't hurt us. After all, we're related to his wife, and we didn't do any harm to Ruby." She understood a little of what Victor's personality was like.

In simple words, to understand, Victor was like their mother...

"Fuck," Now that Lacus thought about it, he really had their mother's personality, and if one thing their mother knew how to do was tease people when she wanted to.

But despite not liking to be bothered, Lacus was a little expectant about what Victor was going to do with them.

"Sister, stop NTR fetish," Pepper spoke into Lacus' ear.

"Kyaaa!" Lacus was startled by the sudden voice and yelled in a surprisingly cute voice, she looked at Pepper, "What are you doing!?"

Suddenly her face turned a little red, "I don't have an NTR fetish!"

"Funnnnn" Pepper stares at Lacus in away cute.

"What?"

"How do you know what NTR is?" After all, that wasn't a word 'ordinary' people knew.

"..." Lacus used her right to remain silent.

Chapter5 Chapter 51: Meeting.

Scathach house, two days later.

At a ridiculously large table, several people were seated. And, not far from the table, Luna, Kaguya, and Maria were waiting to take any requests from their respective masters.

"...Victor, I'm really wondering if it was the right decision for my mom to bring you here," Siena asked, she was sitting next to Lacus and Pepper.

"Oh?" Scathach looked at her daughter with curious eyes.

"Hmm?" Victor, who was sitting on a couch next to Violet, Ruby, and Sasha, looked at Siena with a disinterested look.

"Question," He continued with the same disinterested look, then he added, "Are you the owner of this mansion?"

"No," Siena denied.

"Then why are you poking your nose in matters that don't involve you?"

"..." Pepper broke out in a cold sweat when she heard what Victor said.

Violet and Sasha looked at Siena with a neutral gaze.

"Heh~, these past two days, all you've done is just...play with your wives..." She wanted to offend him, but she didn't want to offend his wives, who were her friends. In the end, she didn't know what to say. "I can't sleep because of the noise."

"I'm doing what your mother asked me to do..." Victor flashes a sneer, "I'm relaxing~."

"..." Siena frowned.

"If you're so upset, why don't you move somewhere else? Or rather... Why don't you ask your mother about it and throw me out?"

Crack!

Unconsciously, Siena broke the wood of the table. Moving to another place? That is impossible, she always wants to be close to her mother. Question her mother? She would rather die than do something like that, she respects her mother a lot.

"Sigh," Ruby sighed.

"Can't you get along with her?" She spoke while looking at Victor with the same cold face as always.

"..." Victor felt his heart moved, it's been a few days since his and Ruby's relationship progressed, and he understood better his wife, who didn't show many emotions.

He wanted to get along with Siena, but in the end, he couldn't lie to himself:

"...It's impossible," Victor said.

"Impossible," Siena agreed.

"She looks at me like she's looking at a cattle; I don't like that," Victor said. He didn't really care about Siena; he just wanted to get along with her because of his wife. But, he was never a man who accepts being stepped on by other people. Even before he turned into a vampire, he was a very vindictive man, and he doesn't care if she's Scathach's daughter or Ruby's sister.

An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, and blood for blood. That's how he thought before, and that way of life has only been enhanced by his evolution to a vampire.

"But isn't that what you are...? A cattle?" She smiled disdainfully, but soon her expression changed to neutral as she felt the air of the three women standing next to Victor change.

"Bitch... repeat what you said...?" The air around Violet began to heat up, her face distorted, and she looked at Siena like she was going to pounce on her neck at any moment.

"Big sister..." Ruby didn't say much, but from her cold stare and the chilling temperature around her, Siena could tell she was furious.

"Siena, I suggest you don't say this in our presence..." Sasha advised coldly, she was trying not to act too reckless despite being annoyed.

"..." Siena looked at all of this with a little shock.

'Violet is understandable, she has the same personality as her mother, but Sasha and Ruby too? How did he get their affection so fast...?' Siena thought.

"I'll be careful," She backed off; Siena was very fond of Ruby, and she didn't want to get into conflict with her sister. The interest she had in Victor still remained, but from the moment she learned that Victor was a human in the past, half of her interest was lost. However, she was still curious to know how a 'commoner' had so much power.

"Kakakaka," Scathach laughed as if she found it all funny, she shook her wine glass of blood.

"She must be irritated because, since you arrived, she can't sleep."

"Yes...I can't sleep either; what in the name of the seven hells are you doing in that room?" Lacus added.

"..." Pepper's face turned red with embarrassment.

Victor patted Violet's and Ruby's head, who were beside him. Since that moment in the woods together, Ruby seems to have acquired some of Violet's personality traits.

"..." Feeling Victor's caresses, Ruby's face continued with the same cold expression, but the air around her became more peaceful. Violet was more expressive, she just flashed a satisfied smile and ignored Siena.

"Relaxing with my wives~" He replied to Lacus.

"..." Pepper's face turned redder. Then, feeling Victor's gaze on her, she quickly turns away and ignores everything.

"...Can't you make it more silent...? I want to sleep..." Lacus commented in a low, shy voice.

"Impossible; I can't control my wives' voices." He chuckled a little.

"...Fuck it." She cursed under her breath.

"Kakakaka, don't tease my daughters so much..." Scathach laughed, and then she added with a big smile, "Or do you want to feel my teasing?"

"Mother!?" Ruby and Siena spoke at the same time.

"I'm looking forward to it," He replied with a Scathach-like smile.

Suddenly Victor felt three fists in his stomach.

"Oof," He looks at his wives.

"Oh?" Scathach found it all very interesting.

"Darling... What are you implying?" Violet asked with blank eyes.

"Indeed... Don't flirt with my mom," Ruby spoke in a colder voice than usual.

"Husband, control yourself... Or do you want to lose your little brother...?" Sasha threatened.

Victor's whole body shivered, then his smile grew disproportionately, "HAHAHA," he started to laugh.

"...?" The three women didn't understand his reaction.

"...Sigh, he really has problems with his head," Sasha said, suddenly she felt someone kissing her face.

"!!?" She looks to the side and sees Victor smiling.

"Yes, I have head problems," He nodded in agreement, then he looked at his three wives with a gentle smile that looked like it was being lit by the sun itself:

"I just love my wives too much~."

"!!!" Sasha, Ruby, and Violet received critical damage from this unexpected attack.

And the damage didn't stop there; the damage swelled and spread AOE and hit Lacus and Pepper.

"Wawawawa," Pepper began to shake her head several times to get the indecent thoughts out of her head.

"..." Lacus just looked at her sister as if she had lost her mind.

"Sigh, Lord Victor is becoming a Playboy," She commented in a low voice.

"...I've never seen Ruby with that expression..." Luna commented.

"..." Maria just looked at everything with a neutral gaze.

Ruby turns her face to the side, and her sisters could see that her ears were a bit red.

Sasha did something similar to Ruby, she was not used to this display of affection in public.

Violet simply hugged Victor possessively and started saying, "Darling~! Darling~! Darling~!"

Victor chuckled a little and started stroking Violet.

"...You're good at this," Siena praised, she realized what he'd done.

"Hmm?" Victor looked at her, confused.

"..." Seeing Victor's genuine expression, Siena thought; 'Don't tell me he did all this naturally!?'

Seeing that Siena didn't say anything, Victor lost interest; he looked at Scathach and saw the wine glass in her hand.

'Blood...' His eyes change to blood red, and unconsciously, he thinks in disgust; 'Rotten blood', and soon he gets up from the couch.

"...?" His wives didn't understand why he suddenly got up.

He walks to Scathach's side, "Allow me?"

"Hmm?" Scathach looked curiously at Victor. Seeing his gaze on the cup, she was curious about what he intended to do, so she hands the cup to him.

Victor takes the cup and dumps all the liquid on the floor.

When he did that, his face had an expression of disgust.

Seeing that the cup was empty, he bit his wrist with his sharp teeth, and soon his blood spilled into the cup.

"Darling!? What are you doing!?" Violet practically screamed, she was going to jump towards Victor, but she was stopped by Ruby and Sasha.

"What!?" She looked at Ruby and Sasha.

"Just watch," Ruby said, and Sasha nodded.

Ruby and Sasha expected to see something interesting; after all, they know that when Victor's blood leaves his body, it loses its delicious taste and turns to blood with a disgusting taste.

"!!!" Smelling blood in the air, every vampire in the room was hit with a strong scent, and all of them, without exception, were influenced in some way.

"... That is," Siena gulped, she could now understand the girls' obsession; the smell of blood was very delicious.

"...That looks good," Lacus muttered.

"..." Pepper just looked seriously at Victor's blood; unconsciously, she started drooling.

'The aroma is better than before,' Kaguya thought with an expressionless face.

"Ugh," Maria clenches her fist and swallows hard, she somehow tries to hold back her instincts to jump on top of Victor and devour his body. She was the one most affected by the scent of blood, she too was confused; 'Why didn't I feel this before...?'

She remembers seeing Natalia draw Victor's blood, but she didn't react as strongly as she did now.

Seeing that the glass was full, he nods his head satisfied.

Then he lifts his wrist, and in less than a second, the cut he made has regenerated.

"Try it," He offered the cup to Scathach.

"..." Scathach looked at the goblet filled with blood.

Smelling the yummy aroma, she asked, "What do you intend to do with this...?" She swallows dry at the end.

"I don't know," He replied, smiling.

"...Huh?"

"I just felt it was the right thing to do. So what are you going to do?"

... She hesitated for a few seconds, but soon she reached out and took the cup.

Chapter 52: Meeting. 2

Victor just waited with a smile on his face. He didn't know why he offered his blood to Scathach, but one thing he was sure, something interesting was going to happen; something inside him said that.

Scathach brings the cup to her mouth, and slowly, she drank...

The moment Victor's blood touched her tongue, Scathach's eyes glowed pure red, and soon she had turned the cup over.

Gulp! Gulp!

She drank the blood like she was someone who found water for the first time in her life, she was dying of thirst.

"..." Siena, Pepper, and Lacus didn't believe what they were seeing.

"Lord Victor made another mistake... Now this madwoman is going to get even crazier," Kaguya sighed as she spoke in a low voice.

"...Oh? Who are you calling crazy, Maid?"

"Your owner, of course... Or isn't she crazy?"

"..." Luna didn't know how to answer that question; after all, she knew it was true.

Kaguya looks at Maria, who was slowly looking like someone who would lose control at any moment. Slowly her darkness began to spread and cover Maria's shadow; 'Just in case.'

"...How did she manage to drink that bad-tasting blood?" Sasha commented, she thought she was going to see something interesting, but she didn't expect that.

"Explain!" Violet didn't understand, she was angry because other people drank Victor's blood.

"Hmm. I think his blood is only bad for us. After all, we're used to drinking straight from the fountain..." Ruby deduced.

"So... For someone like Scathach who has never drunk straight from the fountain, his blood is delicious...?" Sasha looks around and notices the vampires' reactions. "The scent of his blood is very effective too, although it doesn't affect us."

"Maybe it doesn't affect us because we're not thirsty," Ruby said; they had spent two whole days feasting on each other's blood.

"Huh? What is happening!?! Explain now!"

Seeing Violet's irritated face, Ruby and Sasha sighed and then began to explain what Natalia had done.

As this happened, Victor flashed a small smile as Scathach drank all of his blood.

He heard the sounds of chains from somewhere, "Hmm?" He looked around and even used his vampire vision, but he couldn't pinpoint where that sound came from.

Realizing that Scathach had finished drinking his blood, he stopped looking for the sound of the chain and focused his attention on his mother-in-law.

"What do you think?" He asked.

Scathach lowers the cup, drops it to the floor, and hears the sound of glass breaking, but she doesn't care, she starts breathing heavily and erratically. It was like she was intoxicated by something; her cheeks get red, and she looks at Victor with her eyes glowing blood red.

"Look how you got dirty~" Victor approaches Scathach and uses his hand to wipe the blood from her mouth, "Don't drink so fast next time; you might choke."

"..." For a few seconds, silence dominated the room. It was as if everyone forgot to breathe; they were just too shocked to see Victor treating Scathach like she was some kind of kid who needs help.

"Boy..." She took a moment to control her breathing, but soon she spoke in a serious tone, "You're playing with fire."

"Don't worry. I'm immune to fire." He continued to smile as he stroked her cheek.

"..." Scathach's smile grew, and an obsessive look began to appear on her face.

"How are you feeling?" Victor asked as he backed away; he was feeling three stares piercing his back.

Seeing Victor walk away, Scathach's eyes lost their intensity and became calmer, and, after a few seconds, her eyes returned to sapphire green:

"...I'm feeling better, and my head isn't hazy like it used to be, but..."

Her eyes went back to blood red, "That's still not enough."

"Umu. Bloodlust, huh?" He said.

"Side effect of losing the 'husband'" She spoke dismissively.

"Yes, I heard," Victor laughed and continued, "Apparently, you killed your husband."

"Oh...? Were you scared to hear that?"

"Scared? Pfft." He shrugs nonchalantly, "If you killed him, you probably judged him as 'pointless', or 'impotent'"

"Heh... How are you so sure about that? It could be something else that led me to kill him as an important reason or something, don't talk like you know me."

Victor rolled his eyes, "Scathach, please... Don't treat me like a fool. I may have only known you for a little while, but one thing I'm sure of."

"You're not crazy...well, not totally..." He chuckled a little at the end.

"..." Scathach continued to look at Victor neutrally.

Victor's smile grew, his eyes changed to blood red, and his teeth changed to sharp fangs:

"You were bored, right?" He approached her face.

"..." Slowly, Scathach's smile grew.

"Such a boring man, a man without potential, a man who doesn't train, Blah, Blah. There are several reasons, but the main one was boredom. He wasn't like you, he didn't want the same goals as you, and from the beginning, you weren't interested in him; you just took him because he had 'powers' that matched your own power."

"A tool, that's what he was, and, when he fulfilled his purpose," He clenched his fists in front of her, "you eliminated him."

"...Indeed, you got it right." Her eyes sparkled as she looked at Victor, but one question remained:

"How did you know my reasons? You speak as if you were present."

"Hmm, I just took your past into consideration." He withdrew his hand from her front and pulled back a little.

"Oh?"

"Countess Scathach Scarlett, a vampire over 2000 years old, a cold and crazy woman. With just this little bit of information, someone with 2 IQ can deduce a little bit of your personality; the rest was a guess based on my few experiences I had with you."

Victor smiled, "2000 years old, you've experienced a lot of wars, a lot of tragedy, and you probably had a lot of fun in those wars, huh? For such a person, the end justifies the means."

"Indeed, the reckless woman."

"Hahahaha, you are right and wrong" She laughed amusedly.

"Oh?"

"In the past, I was more cautious, but after I realized that I got so much stronger than the beings in this world, I stopped worrying."

"The law of the fittest, huh? Understandable, after all, who in this world could challenge Scathach?" He spoke, smiling.

"Indeed," She smiled, then she replied, "Only one man could fight me, but he's very boring and prefers to rule this mess he calls 'Nightingale'. And, when he's not doing that, he's been sleeping for centuries; he's probably rusty from not training for millennia."

"Heh..." Victor displayed a distorted smile, "Who is this man who is capable of fighting you?"

"The King, The First Original, and the Progenitor of All Vampires."

"I see..." Victor's smile grew and widened erratically; he was even feeling his heart pounding with emotion.

"Take that smile off a little, brat. If you can't even fight me, you can forget about trying to fight that man." She advised him.

"I don't feel like fighting him," Victor lied. He did want to fight that man, but not now; that would just be suicide.

"Oh?"

"I was just happy that there are people stronger than you," He spoke the truth; upon learning that there is someone stronger than Scathach, he realized that that saying, 'there is always someone stronger than you', was true.

Scathach's face distorted a little, "He's not stronger than me."

"But you're not 100% sure you could beat him fighting, right? He doesn't have the title of Progenitor just for decoration."

"..." She was speechless for a moment when she heard Victor's words.

"Hahaha, you're right." She laughed casually.

"..." Siena, Lacus, Ruby, and even Pepper were speechless when they saw their proud mother admitting it so casually. They were also feeling jealous to see their mother laughing and talking casually to Victor, she never did that to her daughters.

"...Hmm, Mother?" Siena spoke

"Hmm?" She looked at her daughter.

Seeing her mother's bored face, Siena bit her lip a little, "Why did you call this meeting?"

"Oh...? Indeed, what was the reason?" She completely forgot.

"...Mother..." Siena sighed and looked at Luna.

Seeing Siena's gaze, Luna yelled, "Yes!" Then, she disappeared and soon returns with a letter in her hand and hands it to Siena.

Realizing that his conversation with Scathach had ended, Victor walked towards the sofa, where he was sitting, and sat down among his wives.

"Darling... What the fuck are you doing?"

"..." Victor was speechless.

"Hmm... Talking?" He answered honestly.

"...To me, it looked like you were flirting with my mother. Are you crazy?" Ruby spoke in a cold tone of voice.

"Treason is not allowed. If you betray me, I will kill you." Sasha warned in a serious tone.

"... Weren't those my sentences?" Violet looked at Sasha, who completely ignored her. Being honest with herself, Sasha couldn't kill Victor like Violet; she'd just lock him away somewhere so he could be safe.

"Eh?" Victor wore a genuinely confused face.

"..." Sasha, seeing Victor's confused face, was speechless; 'is he doing this unconsciously?'

She focused on her connection and saw Victor's superficial thoughts; 'Hmm, why are they angry? I was just talking normally.'

"Where in the seven hells is this normal!?" She practically screamed!

"..." The women in the room looked at Sasha.

"... Sorry," Her face turned a little red, she looked at Ruby and Violet, "Use that."

"Oh, I forgot about that," Violet said.

"Oh," Ruby just opened her mouth a little.

The two concentrate and look at the superficial thoughts of Victor, who was looking at them; 'Hmm, my wives are so cute, I want to do

XxxXx, xXx~.'

"..." The two women's faces turned pure red, and soon they turned their faces to the side.

"...?" Victor didn't understand their reaction.

Sasha was curious, she focused on the connection she had with Victor and saw his thoughts; 'Cute~.'

"...?" She didn't understand why Violet and Ruby were reacting like that.

"What are you doing?" Pepper asked curiously, she was looking at her sister, who had a red face, and was acting suspiciously.

"N-Nothing," Ruby stuttered a little.

"Funnnn..." Pepper glared at her younger sister.

"What?"

"Are you practicing dual cultivation here?"

"..." Lacus and Ruby's faces turned pure red.

Chapter7 Chapter 53: What will you do?

"Dual cultivation?" Victor, Violet, and Sasha were confused.

Somehow Ruby and Lacus sighed in relief when they realized they were the only ones who understood.

"Pepper! Stop talking nonsense!" Ruby spoke.

"Awawawawa, I'm sorry! But you blushed, and you were acting weird, I thought-"

"Stop! Okay! We understand!" Lacus closes Pepper's mouth.

"Hmmhmmmm," Pepper tried to say something, but only strange sounds came out of her mouth.

"Don't let her say anything!" Ruby ordered.

"I know!" Lacus spoke.

"Enough," Siena said, trying to bring order to the situation, she looks at her mother.

"Hmm? What is it, Siena? I was having fun~" Scathach said. For her, a bored person, watching her daughters play with her son-in-law was something nice.

"Mother, Why did Lady Victoria declare war?" Siena asked in a serious tone.

"!!!" Hearing the familiar name, Sasha reacted, "Aunt? What is my aunt doing?"

"Oh, she proposed a game with Clan Horseman to regain Clan Fulger's lost count title," Scathach replied.

"What!?" Sasha was shocked, she never thought that selfish, narcissistic, proud aunt would do something like that. She's pretty sure her aunt isn't doing it to help her Clan.

"The Horseman Clan accepted? What were the bet this time?" Siena asked.

"Horseman clan? I've never heard of this Clan," Violet questioned.

"I want to know too," Victor said.

"Oh, I'll let you two in on the subject." Ruby started to explain to Violet and Victor who Clan Horseman was.

"Victoria just wants the title of vampire count, and she's staked all her riches."

"..." Siena was speechless.

"Is she crazy!? Her equity is absurd; it's more than three trillion dollars counting on illegal and legal businesses; why would she give it up for just one title?" Sasha spoke.

Pepper and Lacus, realizing that the conversation was becoming 'boring', decided to close their eyes and go to sleep; they were too lazy to think about it.

"You don't know why since you're just a member of the Clan, but the title of vampire Count is very important," Siena said, and Scathach nodded in agreement.

"What do you mean?"

"Sorry, I can't say. Only the leaders of the Clan holding the title of Count can know this information."

Sasha frowned, then she looked to Scathach for answers.

"Don't look at me, Brat." She said and continued, "This is something that even I can't talk about."

"Tsk," Sasha doesn't like it, she looks at Siena, "And how do you know that?"

"Oh, it's because I took on Count's duties in my mother's place."

"... Is this allowed?"

"If the king approved, then yes, it's allowed." Siena smiled

"..." Sasha frowned in annoyance when she saw Siena's smile; for some reason, she didn't like that smile.

"I see..." Victor spoke when he finished listening to Ruby's entire explanation about the Clan Horseman.

"...Why didn't my mom tell me about this? This is an important issue." Violet asked herself.

"You probably left the house and didn't even want to talk to her, right?" Ruby spoke.

"..." Violet was silent, she knew Ruby was right.

"Scathach, tell me the situation of Sasha's family; you should know more about it, right?" Victor said in an unnaturally serious tone.

"Oh...? What will you do if you know?" Scathach smiled.

All the women looked at Victor, waiting for his answer; even Pepper and Lacus, who decided to sleep, were a little interested in Victor's answer.

"It depends on the situation," Victor started to speak.

"If Sasha is being 'owned' by someone else because of a stupid bet made by her idiot mother..." He looks at Sasha, "Sorry for the offense to my mother-in-law."

"It's okay. She's a fucking idiot; everyone knows that"

"..." Violet and Ruby were a little surprised to hear Sasha use such inappropriate words.

"Then? What will you do?" Scathach looked more interested than usual.

Victor spoke in a definitive tone as if it were an absolute truth, "Training, getting stronger, and no matter how long it takes, I will slaughter that entire Clan... Nobody touches my wives and gets away with it."

"..." Scathach's smile grew, she seemed to like the answer.

"Victor~" Sasha smiled.

"Hmm, maybe I'll make my mom lose a bet too..." Violet said; she got jealous.

Slap!

Ruby hits Violet on the head.

"Ouch!" Violet holds her head in pain: "What are you doing, bitch!?"

"Stop talking nonsense. Didn't you realize that when he said 'wives', he included us too?"

"Oh," Violet opened her mouth.

"And what are you going to do if Sasha doesn't belong to anyone and her family just lost the count title?" Siena asked a little curiously.

Victor looks at Siena and replies in a disinterested tone, "I won't do anything."

"Huh?"

"Huh?"

Siena and Sasha spoke in unison.

"Sasha is fine, and for me, that's what matters. Now, if she wants to get that stupid title back, I'll support her, and if she wants my help, I'll help her, but other than that, I won't intervene." It's not like since she's lost the title of count vampire, she would be poor.

"Stupid title..." Siena was trying not to strangle this man.

"...You believe in your wives a lot," Scathach said in a neutral tone.

Victor looks at Scathach and displays a gentle smile, "If I don't believe my wife, who will? I always believed in them, from the beginning." He spoke with absolute confidence in what he was saying.

"...I see," She displayed a small smile on her face.

"Victor!" Sasha suddenly hugged Victor.

"...?" He didn't understand, but he didn't deny her embrace; feeling small tears on his shirt, he was a little shaken.

"What's it...? What happened?"

"N-Nothing...-" She spoke, sobbing a little. "Just let me stay like this for a moment." She didn't know what she was feeling but hearing Victor's confident words somehow, she remembered talking to Julia; 'when did I get so emotional? I was not like that...'

"Umu, you can hug me all you want~" He chuckled, then he started stroking her head.

"...Unfair...This bitch-" Violet suddenly had her mouth covered by Ruby's hands.

"Read the mood, damn it!" Ruby spoke in a low voice.

"... Hmhmh," She tried to say something, but Ruby didn't understand.

"Satisfied? Now. Explain it to me," Victor said, looking at Scathach.

"Brat, you must have more-" Siena was going to say something, she was already annoyed to see Victor treating her mother so casually.

Victor looked at Siena as his eyes glowed pure red, "Shut up. You are annoying."

"!!?" Siena felt her body tremble, she tried to say something, but her mouth couldn't move, she couldn't move her body:

"Yes, I will be quiet," She spoke in a monotone.

"Good." He nodded with satisfaction; 'Finally, she was silent.' He thought.

"Oh?" Scathach looked at it curiously, she remembers seeing it in the past.

Kaguya also remembered a similar situation that happened to her; 'That again, doesn't he realize what he just did?' She thought when she saw Siena's reaction.

Violet's violet eyes sparkled a little when she saw Siena's reaction, she remembers that something happened in the past with the two budding hunters.

"Big sister? Why are you standing like a robot?" Pepper asked curiously, she pinched Siena's cheek, but the older sister wasn't moving.

Lacus, who saw everything that happened, just looked on with eyes shining with curiosity.

Scathach looks at Victor and says, "Sasha's situation is exactly the second situation." She totally ignored her daughter's condition.

"Oh?"

"The Horseman Clan requested a game with Sasha's mother, and the bet was the title of Count vampire." She explained and then added, "The Horseman Clan was betting on something very unique..."

"Something that even a vampire who's lived over 1900 years, and is bored as fuck, would be curious enough to bet the Count title for."

She puts on a face of disgust, "They were betting a hybrid."

The whole room was silent the moment they heard what she said.

...

Lucy's Underground Base.

"It's a success" Lucy smiled satisfied, he was looking at an open white coffin with the symbol of the black cross.

And on the floor were several red magic symbols; the symbols seem to have been made with blood.

"Yes, all we have to do now is fill the coffin with the blood of the innocents and noble vampires~."

"If everything goes as we planned, we will become noble vampires!"

"Indeed," Lucy nods with satisfaction, spending almost his entire fortune to hire a corrupt witch seems to have been worth it.

"What did you do with the sacred artifact? That one spear seemed to be quite strong," Karen asked.

"I threw it in the trash," Lucy replied.

"..." Karen was speechless, she even thought she had gone deaf for a few seconds. "...What did you do with the sacred artifact?" She decided to ask again.

"I threw it in the trash," Lucy replied.

"..."

Lucy looked at Karen, and when he saw her expression of disbelief, he explained, "The only ones who can use these artifacts are the hunters. If I sell them to the witches, those whores will sell information from me to the hunters, so the artifact was useless, and I threw it in the trash."

"...Couldn't you keep the artifact or something?"

"Keep? Where?" He asked.

"..." Karen couldn't answer.

"And I'm also not a fool who would keep a deadly weapon that I can't even use in my house." Lucy snorted.

"Because of that, I threw it in the trash."

"... Make sense" Karen didn't find arguments to refute Lucy's decision, and the spear had an ancient look. In fact, the item didn't even have the appearance of a weapon; it looked like white wood in the shape of a spear.

"Where did you throw the spear?"

"In Violet's territory."

"..." Somehow Karen had a bad feeling about this.

"Couldn't you throw it somewhere else!? At sea or something!?"

"The hunters would retrieve the spear if I did that; they somehow manage to track that object, you remember, right? Every time we would go somewhere, there were hunters waiting like they knew where we were going"

"...Yes, if it weren't for that corrupt witch, we'd be lost."

"See? As the witch's spell ran out, I threw the spear into Violet's territory. If the hunters find the spear, they will automatically link the incident to Clan Snow."

Karen started to think, and after a few seconds, she said:

"Hmm, I think you made a stupid decision."

"Huh?"

"Did you forget they know you stole the artifact?"

"Heh?" Lucy opened his eyes, then he said, "Of course I didn't forget! But they don't know who I was working for!"

"...Is your brain melting? Hunters aren't dumb, they can hate vampires and blame all the shit they do to us, but that's just dumb."

"First, you stole the artifact, and they know that; everyone knows that. Second, that princess of Clan Snow has already met the hunters, and they must know she doesn't have the artifact. Third, did you see the Vatican incident? That was probably retaliation from that crazy bitch; some stupid hunter must have hurt her daughter."

"The hunters must know that the three noble clans that were in that incident are not involved in this theft. Come on, what would a count vampire who is over 1500 years old want with an artifact like that? They are basically useless to them after all like you said; only hunters can use that weapon."

Realizing the important points she made, Lucy said, "A Karen with a brain... this is new."

"Huuuh!?" Karen's face distorted into anger.

"Okay, Okay," Lucy backed off, "I'm going to retrieve the spear, and I'm going to throw it further away, okay?" he said. He would never admit that he didn't think deeply about it; Lucy was so excited about his plan working that he totally forgot about that detail.

"Throw the artifact as far away as possible, preferably under the sea or something," Karen suggested and adds with a serious look, "Don't fuck with us now. We're almost close to completing what we've wanted for so many centuries."

"... Okay."

Lucy picks up the phone and dials a number; then he puts it in his ear:

"Johnny? I have a job for you."

Chapter8 Chapter 54: Hybrids.

"Hybrids?" Victor asked in curiosity. Hearing that word, he remembered the movies he watched with his father; it was about a female vampire who wore a black tights outfit and had a hybrid boyfriend. He remembers that hybrids in fiction are often portrayed as the best of both races, and they are very strong.

"..." Siena, Violet, Sasha, and Ruby's faces practically changed to disgust when they heard the word.

Lacus and Pepper don't seem to care much.

"Yes. Disgusting creatures that are the result of crossing a Noble vampire and a werewolf."

"Hmm..." Victor looked around and saw the reaction that this word caused his wives; his curiosity increased:

"Are hybrids strong?" That was his first curiosity.

"Hybrids, strong? Pfft..." Siena started to laugh, she looked like she managed to regain control of her body. Siena wanted to irritate Victor as a form of revenge for what happened, but when she felt the gaze of Scathach, Ruby, Violet, and Sasha, she closed her mouth.

She only cared about her mother and Ruby; 'Why is my mom on his side now?' She thought.

"..." Victor looked at Siena with annoyed eyes; 'That bitch hadn't shut up?'

"Darling, unlike movies, hybrids aren't strong. They're like an error in the genetic code; they're something like a donkey."

"Oh?" Victor looked at Ruby.

Ruby continued, "Werewolves and vampires are two very different species genetically, and physiologically from each other, to put it in simple words, we are the opposite of each other, because of that quirk, we can't mix."

"And, when we get mixed up, an extremely rare case can happen, a hybrid can be born..." Violet spoke in disgust, just imagining that a vampire slept with a wolf; her body shuddered in disgust, she even felt like throwing up.

"As we are very different species from each other, the hybrid will be born with various genetic problems." Sasha continued, "they will be sterile, and they will have a short life expectancy. Sometimes they are born with unusual diseases that can affect the two species; because of that, when a hybrid is identified, it is immediately hunted and eliminated by the two races."

"Hmm, I see" Victor placed a hand on his chin.

"I wonder what the Horseman Clan was thinking about protecting a hybrid. Don't they know they can cause a pandemic at any time? What are the royal guards doing? Those old eunuchs wouldn't allow that kind of monstrosity to run around." Violet was surprisingly more involved in the conversation.

"They're quiet...Surprisingly quiet..." Siena spoke.

"Those old people who keep talking about how the past was a thousand flowers?" Ruby asked, then she frowned, "Do the king's guards have some sort of agreement with that Clan?"

"That's not possible; the royal guards are just a kind of police to keep everything in order. They only follow the orders of the royal family..." Sasha spoke, then she opened her eyes.

"Oh~, looks like you understand" Scathach exhibited a small smile...

"Someone from the royal family is supporting that clan," Sasha spoke with disgust, she started to think of the princes and princesses of the king, but only one came to mind when she thought of this kind of dirty scheme.

"The first prince?" She said.

"Probably I'm not sure yet, but that's something he would do; he doesn't hide his intentions of desire about the throne much," Scathach spoke in disinterest, she doesn't like political schemes, she prefers to solve everything by force, though she knows that not everything can be resolved that way, especially delicate situations involving the royal family.

As she knows she doesn't have the patience for this kind of political bullshit, she avoids getting too involved in politics. After all, she knows that at some point, she's going to get angry, and she's going to end up destroying another clan of noble vampires.

"I don't understand something," Victor spoke doubtfully.

"Hmm?" Scathach looked at Victor.

"Are hybrids so rare that they might attract my mother-in-law's curiosity?"

"..." Lacus and Pepper were somehow surprised that Victor could speak the word 'mother-in-law' so easily; it was as if he hadn't even insulted the woman a few moments ago.

"Yes. They are very rare, and there are a lot of stories about hybrids. Most of those stories are as bad as you've just heard, but some of those stories have been twisted to think that hybrid blood is something 'delicious'." Scathach nearly threw up.

"...You seem to have your own experience about it," Victor commented.

"In the past, I found a hybrid and drank its blood... That was one of the things I regret the most in this life; I felt like I was eating garbage. It's disgusting."

"..." Lacus, Ruby, and Pepper didn't know how to react to this new information, but one thing was going through the sisters' minds, why did their mother always reveal pieces of her past so easily when Victor asks something?

When her own daughters ask a question, she always avoids answering something...

"My mom was basically fooled by the hybrid stories. And, because she was bored, she didn't think twice about betting the vampire count title, and in the end, she lost..." Sasha got angry, and she started to speak:

"That dumb blonde! The dumb blonde stereotype must have been invented by her!"

"..." Victor didn't know how to react to Sasha's words; in the end, he just patted her head.

Seeing that Sasha started to become visibly calmer, he said:

"So my mother-in-law was tricked... What a surprise~" He rolled his eyes, then he felt a foreboding, "Why am I feeling this is going to become common in the future?"

"Everyone feels that when they hear about that woman." Sasha rolled her eyes.

"..." Victor was silent again.

"If Mom got the invitation, then was our clan invited to see the game?" Ruby decided to ask something she was curious about.

"Indeed. I wasn't planning on going at first, but the situation has changed~" She looked at Victor with a small smile on her face.

"Hmm?" Feeling her stare, he looked at Scathach confused.

"..." Seeing their mother's look, the sisters just visibly sighed. They could clearly understand that she accepted the invitation just for Victor to see how the game works... their mother's interest in Victor is reaching the point of no return.

She's even changing her habits just to give Victor more experience in the vampire world!

"When will the game take place?" Sasha asked.

"In 6 months," Siena replied in Scathach's place.

"Why so long?"

"Probably because Clan Horseman wants to prepare."

Siena takes the card that was on the table and throws it towards Sasha; before Sasha can take the card, Violet puts her hand in front of her and takes the card.

"..." Sasha looked at Violet with neutral eyes.

"...Humpf!" Violet snorted, then she opened the letter:

"Blah, Blah, political bullshit, Blah, Blah." She started to read.

"..." Everyone rolled their eyes, except Victor, who smiled kindly and patted Violet's head.

"Hehehe~" Violet displayed a satisfied smile.

"Oh? Are all Clans with the title Count invited? That Bitch is confident of winning, huh?"

"Well, it's my aunt, unlike my mom, she never lost a bet, because of that, she built a big noble clan practically in less than 500 years," Sasha said.

"Question..." Pepper held up her hand.

Feeling the stares of everyone in the room, Pepper asked cutely, "What are we going to do about Victor's powers...?"

Ruby opened her eyes a little, "Oh... You're right, sister. If they find out he's a vampire who has the three powers of the Count houses, trouble could ensue."

"So, are we going to seal his powers?" Lacus suggested.

"Hell no! If it's problems they want they will have them, I won't limit myself or hide my powers just because I'm afraid of problems."

"Hell no! if it's trouble they want, they're very welcome to look for trouble~."

Victor and Scathach spoke in unison as the two wore a predatory smile.

"..." Everyone was speechless when they heard their words; they spoke differently, but the essence was the same, do they want trouble? Then problems they will have! They even looked excited...

"..." Scathach and Victor looked at each other, Scathach was visibly a little shocked by what she just heard, but soon her smile just grew and grew.

"Oh Fuck..." Ruby, Siena, and Lacus realized it was too late to make Scathach lose interest in Victor.

Violet hugged Victor and looked at Scathach with possessive eyes, "What are you smiling at, old hag, shoo, shoo, he's mine!"

"Heh~, brat. You're looking forward to my punishment, huh." Scathach displayed her fist.

"Humpf, he's mine! Go find another man!" Violet didn't flinch, she hugged Victor tighter.

"..." Scathach's blood-red eyes increased in intensity for a few seconds but stopped as soon as Victor said something:

"Hahaha, my wife is so adorable" He pulled Violet and hugged her, then he started stroking her head.

"S-Stop, I'm serious!" Violet spoke in a serious tone, and Victor's smile only widened.

"Umu, I know" He kissed her cheek.

"..." Violet's face turned a little red, but she didn't deny Victor's advances.

"...I've decided something," Scathach suddenly spoke up.

"..." Everyone looked at the red-haired woman, then she flashes a small smile at the others.

"I will start training Victor from today~."

Chapter9 Chapter 55: Digging your own grave.

"I will start training Victor from today~."

Suddenly Scathach disappears and appears in front of Victor.

"Not that again!" Victor instinctively jumped back.

"You're still too slow to avoid me~" Scathach appeared behind him and lightly attacked his neck, but a small block of ice on Victor's neck stopped her hand.

Victor covers his body in lightning and kicks towards Scathach's face; every time he made these moves, he had a big smile on his face:

"Oh? You have good instincts, I like it~" She grabs Victor's leg, the lightning striking the ground was heard all around, and even the pressure of the wind made a hole in the wall behind Scathach; it just shows how much force Victor put in his attack.

"But it's still not enough," She decided to put on more strength, she squeezed Victor's foot tighter and pulled towards her.

Crack!

Victor grits his teeth and tries not to react to his foot being broken by Scathach's grip.

He placed an ice shield on his stomach, but this time, Scathach easily passed through the ice as he felt the punch connect with his stomach.

"Cough"

Realizing he was losing consciousness, he quickly bit down on his tongue; as soon as he felt his consciousness return, he quickly kicked the ground and backed away from Scathach.

"Hahahaha," Scathach started laughing when she saw Victor's reaction, she seemed to be enjoying herself, she lets go of Victor's leg and allows him to step away.

"Darling!?"

"Husband!?"

Victor raises his hands to his wives in a Stop gesture, and he looks at Scathach with a big bloody grin on his face:

"You don't have to do this to try to get me to go with you; I'll gladly follow you. I told you, right? I won't run away from you~."

Scathach's body visibly trembled, her cheeks turned a little red, and her smile grew, "Good, Good! That's the spirit I want! follow me."

As soon as she disappeared, Victor used his eyes and continued to keep his senses focused on Scathach, and he said without turning around: "I'll train."

"..." Lacus, Siena, and Ruby are just speechless. As Scathach alumni, they know it's not easy to do what Victor has done now.

He suddenly turned to Sasha, "Don't do anything reckless, okay?"

"I won't, don't worry, husband," Sasha said with a small smile.

"You too, Violet."

"Huh? But I never do anything reckless!" Violet felt a little sad to be parted from Victor.

"..." Everyone in the room rolled their eyes.

Victor walked up to Ruby, and he patted her head, "Take care of them, okay? I trust you."

"Mm"

Victor displays a gentle smile, then he disappears.

"..." The three wives clenched their fists tightly.

"... Fue? Where is Kaguya?" Pepper asked as she looked around, she was sure Kaguya was beside Maria, but suddenly Kaguya disappeared, and as a maid wouldn't leave without the master's permission, she thought it was weird.

"..." The three wives were speechless, but soon they exhibited a small smile:

"As expected of her," They spoke in unison.

"Huh? What do you mean?" Pepper asked.

"Nothing," The three spoke in unison.

"..." A moment of silence descends into the room, then Violet opens her mouth:

"I'll go back home..."

"Heh?" Ruby and Sasha were surprised.

"What's it?" Violet was upset.

"Nothing, it's just a surprise you want to part with Victor," Ruby commented.

"Indeed. I thought you were going to scream in rage or something," Sasha added.

"Believe me; I don't want to part with him... And I'm really angry too!" Violet's eyes went completely dark, "...But as long as that old witch is with Victor, I probably can't find him... Somehow, I'm jealous of Kaguya now, she can be with Darling all the time as if she were his shadow."

"..." Ruby and Sasha nodded in agreement with Violet's words.

"I'm going back home, and I'm going to train, I feel my power steadily increasing, and I don't have the confidence to control it like before."

"..." Siena, Lacus, and Pepper were a little surprised when they heard what Violet said. They know that for vampires to get stronger, they have to get older or train to learn new techniques and incorporate them into their fighting style. However, Violet just said that her power was steadily growing; that's theoretically impossible for vampires.

Violet's powers shouldn't have a power-boosting spurt until she's 500 years old!

"Oh, now that you mention it, I felt it in me too, but I ignored it because I can control it perfectly," Ruby said.

"..." Sasha looks at Ruby with a neutral expression, "That's because you're a small monster trained by an even bigger monster."

Ruby was a little annoyed, "... How rude to call me a monster."

"But that's what you are; you've been trained by Scathach since you were little. You're a little monster." Sasha smiled.

"..." Ruby turns to face Violet and ignores Sasha:

"How are you going to get home? We are in the North, you know? It's a long trip to the southern territory, which is where you live."

"I will run with the power of my fire; I can boost myself to get back faster," Violet spoke.

"This is stupid... That is just a waste of energy." Ruby said, "Why don't you use an airplane or something? it's easier."

"It's too slow."

"..." Ruby couldn't deny it's slow, but it's better than wasting energy.

"Why don't you call that maid? Speaking of the devil, where is she?" Sasha looked around but couldn't find Natalia.

"Hmm, she said she's on vacation until Violet goes back to the human world," Luna said.

"...Explain." Ruby looked at Violet.

"That maid's contract is only for life in the human world; that's all I can say," Violet spoke neutrally.

"Sigh, what is your family thinking of getting involved with that Clan?" Ruby sighed.

"Although my mother is a narcissistic bitch, she still has a good head on her shoulders, she got a deal with the king to employ someone from that Clan as a Maid."

"... Why did she risk so much?" Sasha asked.

"She wanted to shop in the human world easier."

"..." Sasha looked at Violet sympathetically, she put her hand on her shoulder, "It's hard to have a mother like that, right?"

"Yes..." Violet sighed.

"..." Ruby didn't say anything. Despite Scathach being the way she is, she was still a good mother... At the limit of the possible, of course. She was strict, kind, and never let her crazy things affect her daughters, she was also very overprotective of her daughters.

And she was always there when her daughters needed her.

Overall, Ruby had nothing to complain about her mom, she just had trouble getting close to her mom, she always seemed so far away... Because of that, she feels a little envious of Victor, who managed to bond with Scathach very easily.

And that's a thought that is shared by all three of Ruby's sisters...

"What are you two going to do?" Siena asked Ruby and Sasha, and then she got up from the table along with Lacus and Pepper.

"I'll train too, although I don't think I need it; it's always good to go over the basics," Ruby said.

"Me too, unlike these two freaks, I'm not a genius," Sasha said.

Ruby and Violet rolled their eyes.

'train and use the Count Vampire Transformation even for a little while. If that's not being a genius, I wonder what is' Ruby thought.

Not even Ruby could access the Count Vampire form yet, and Sasha and Violet could already do that.

Although different from the two women, Ruby had two elements that were essentially the same element. Ruby's ice and water were much more challenging to train than Sasha's lightning bolt and Violet's fire.

"And you two?" Siena asked Pepper and Lacus.

"I'm going to watch anime; I saw that a new season was out." Pepper chuckled silly.

"!!!" Ruby reacted to Pepper's words, "Tell me a little more about this," She said.

"Of course!"

"..." Siena sighed and looked at her middle sister:

"I'll go to sleep~" She smiled, then she disappeared.

"Well, I'll go back to my job. I predict my mom will be confined for six months with that man..." Siena smirked, then she spoke in a shocked voice, "Wait, isn't this a bad thing for you guys? After all, you saw what happened, right? I wonder what will happen if my mom is alone with that one for six months~."

"!!!" The eyes of the three wives began to glow, and a suffocating pressure began to leave their bodies.

"Hiiii!" Pepper, who was close to Ruby, quickly fled and got behind her older sister.

"Forget what I said; I'll get my Darling!" Violet quickly changed her mind.

"Indeed," Ruby said in a cold tone.

"It's dangerous to leave that woman alone with Victor," The three look at each other and then nod to themselves; then they disappear, leaving traces of their respective powers.

"HAHAHAHA," Siena laughed, she finally got a little revenge, she was also very petty like Victor.

"Big Sister..." Pepper whispered.

"Hmm?" She looked at Pepper.

"Our mom isn't going to like this, and if she finds out it was you who came up with the idea... Well." Pepper couldn't finish the sentence, she just looked sad.

"Oh Fuck," Siena's face darkened, she felt that every time she tried to provoke Victor, she was digging her own grave.

Chapter10 Chapter 56: I can't contain myself anymore~.

Inside a coliseum, Victor and Scathach were in the center of the arena looking at each other; at some point, as Victor ran after Scathach, the red-haired woman disappeared in front of him and came back wearing a tight-fitting outfit that clung perfectly to her body.

The outfit was black with golden and red details. At first glance, it looked like a tight full-length bodysuit, but looking closer, he realized it was something like a battle suit.

To be honest with himself, Victor was having a hard time looking at Scathach; that voluptuous body was just too unfair. And, since she looked like a more mature version of Ruby, who was his wife, the temptation was much greater.

But despite being feeling it, he kept a poker face with a slight smile on his face; he didn't want to be rude. His mother always said not to stare at women's bodies too much; after all, they felt the eyes of men.

He still remembers her words, "Look once, observe, appreciate, and commit the image to memory, don't be staring at the woman like a weirdo!"

Scathach flashes a small smile when she sees Victor's gaze, and her smile grows even wider when he keeps a poker face and doesn't stare at her body like a dog in heat.

She nods contentedly; like a woman who considers herself old-fashioned, she quite appreciated Victor's attitude.

"First of all, we should start training your resistance to pain." A small ice stake appears in front of Scathach, "Don't dodge. You can take it easily, right?" She said.

Soon she throws the stake into Victor's heart. Realizing the stake will pierce his heart, Victor grits his teeth and doesn't move.

Soon the ice stake pierced his heart, and he felt pain throughout his body, he felt like screaming, but he gritted his teeth harder and resisted.

"Good~" Scathach complimented, "As expected, you didn't disappoint me."

Victor takes the ice stake that pierced his heart and pulls the stake out, his body was shaking, and it was visible that he was hurting, but he didn't scream. Something inside him wouldn't allow it; he'd rather die than demonstrate a pathetic action like screaming and acting like a little girl.

"Heh~"

Victor throws the stake into the ground.

Scathach nodded in satisfaction once more as she began to explain, "The vampire is a physically weak breed compared to werewolves, but in compensation, we have regeneration that is far superior to that of wolves, and, in combat, we get hurt a lot. Because of that, we must train resistance to pain."

As she was satisfied with Victor's previous action, she demonstrated with actions what she meant.

Scathach shows her right hand, then her hand hardens and becomes sharp, she extends her left arm and suddenly cuts it!

Blood fell to the ground, and yet the smile never left Scathach's face, and she never stopped looking at Victor.

Her arm fell to the ground, and in less than a few seconds, her arm disappeared and then reappeared attached to her body

In less than 1 second her arm has completely regenerated!

"!!!" Victor was surprised by this demonstration, he touched his heart, and at some point, he could feel that his heart had already healed.

"See? In time you will be able to do this."

"Pain resistance, that's what we're going to train first. And this skill is the most important for our fighting style." She finished the explanation, and ordered:

"Now, take off your clothes and just leave your underwear on."

"Okay," Victor spoke in a neutral tone as he began to undress.

"Oh? Aren't you going to ask why we shouldn't train with weapons, or powers, etc.?" She spoke of the complaints her students always made.

He stops undressing and looks at her; he replied in a neutral tone, "You are the master here; I just have to follow what you order me to do."

"..." She didn't expect this answer.

"And..." He smiled a little, "I trust you; I know you won't make me do something useless. After all, just like me, you want me to get stronger quickly, right?" When he finished speaking, he started to undress again.

"!!!" Scathach's smile slowly grew distorted, her eyes were glowing blood red, and her teeth changed and sharpened, and an immense pressure of murderous intent left her body.

The birds around the coliseum started to flee in fear; they feared for their life, they could feel that a predator had arrived, and this feeling was felt by all the animals that were around.

Victor's shadow began to shake violently, and soon the shadow seemed to leave his body and fled out of the coliseum.

"Ah~, as expected, I can't contain myself anymore~" She put both hands on her face, her cheeks turned red, and her breathing became ragged. She loved the answer he gave her!

"I don't want anyone in the way..." Her killing intent grew bigger and formed a dome around the coliseum:

"For six months, I will cut this diamond any way I want." Somehow she felt her private parts a little wet.

"W-What is this?" Violet fell to the ground while breathing quickly, she was very terrified.

"T-This is M-Mother..." Ruby was leaning against the tree as she stared at the coliseum that had turned into a dome of murderous intent.

"W-What happened? Is she angry?" Sasha asked as she held her trembling arms.

"L-let's step back a bit."

"Y-Yeah," Sasha nods and then leaves the coliseum area.

Seeing that Violet was unable to move, she seemed more affected since she was closer to the coliseum when the explosion of murderous intent took place.

"Sasha," Ruby said.

Sasha turns and looks at Violet, she bites her lip, resists her fear, and covers her body in lightning, then she appears beside Violet. "Let's go."

"Y-Yes" Violet didn't refuse, she was too numb, she had never felt this feeling before in her life; 'Was I teasing this monster all along?'

Only now did she understand why Scathach was called the strongest female vampire in the world.

...

At a considerable distance from the Coliseum, the three wives were on top of a mountain.

"What in the seven hells is this?" Sasha asked, she was looking at a black dome, she could feel all the negative feelings in that dome; instinctively, she knew that if she approached that place, she would be killed.

"That's my mother's killing intent ..." Ruby commented in disbelief, she had seen her mother's killing intent before, but it was nothing like what she saw now.

"Just how many beings has she killed...? Sasha can't help but ask, "Just how many? How many lives do you have to take to have such frightening pressure?"

"I don't know, but she participated in all the wars she found interesting. With just those wars, you can imagine the huge number of beings she killed," Ruby added.

Suddenly Violet's shadow begins to tremble, and then Kaguya emerges from it coughing.

"Kaguya!?" The three women spoke.

"What happened?" Violet asked.

"I got kicked out; I couldn't stand it. I felt like I would die if I stayed in that place... I'm sorry, Lady Violet."

"And Darling!? What happened to him!?" Violet started to shake Kaguya, who was trying to recover.

"Calm down, Violet," Sasha spoke, she took Violet's hands.

Violet glared at Sasha:

"My mom won't kill Victor. Remember she took him to that place to train, she probably doesn't want to be interrupted." Ruby added.

"..." Violet sighs, and she says, "I'm sorry, Kaguya, can you tell us what happened to make Scathach act like that?"

"..." Ruby and Sasha were a little surprised that Violet could listen to them so easily.

Kaguya nods, and soon she starts to explain.

Some minutes later:

"So it's Darling's fault...?" Violet didn't know how to react.

"I don't think so," Ruby said; she was the one who understood a little more about Scathach.

"All her students always complained about her training; even I was like that. But Victor is different, and he seemed to be willing to accept whatever my mother threw at him; that must have been the trigger that made her act that way." Ruby finished the explanation.

"She was always obsessed with being stronger and training. And my husband is a lot like her." Sasha spoke.

Violet bites her lip, just thinking that Victor is going to be stuck with Scathach for six months; her body trembles with jealousy and rage!

"Don't think about it," Ruby warned her.

"Huh?" Violet didn't understand.

"I can read your superficial thoughts, have you forgotten?... But I don't even need to read your thoughts to understand what's going through your head right now. So again, I repeat, don't think about it, or jealousy will consume you."

"My mom isn't interested in relationships; she's just excited that she's found a potential disciple for her to train any way she wants.

"..." Violet bites her lip.

"...Are you 100% sure she's not interested in a relationship?" Sasha asked.

"..." Ruby was silent. Realizing that Ruby didn't respond, the two women became more concerned. Honestly, Ruby didn't know. Her mom never talked about it, and she never saw her mom get in touch with anyone either.

One time 14-year-old Ruby asked her mother that had received a marriage proposal from a Clan:

"Mother, why don't you get married and hook up with someone?" She asked her mother, who was on top of the wreckage of the Clan that the man who sent her the marriage proposal was from.

Scathach exhibited a face of disgust, "I'm not interested in trash; these men are just unworthy of my attention. They're just pigs to be slaughtered by me." the vampire's entire body is covered in ice until it becomes a statue.

Ruby looked at it with cold eyes and asked, "So which man is worthy of you?"

"I do not know."

"..." Ruby was speechless.

Scathach looked at her daughter and showed a small smile, "But I'll know when I meet this man in person; my instincts are always correct."

"Then I'll wait patiently for the day I have a father," Ruby said coldly, but her mother could see the sarcastic tone in her daughter's words.

"Kakakakaka, that day will probably never come. My standards are too high and almost impossible to meet," She laughed, then she jumped towards the street and started walking towards her mansion.

Chapter11 Chapter 57: So it begins.

After finishing removing all of his clothes and leaving only a pair of boxers, Victor looked at Scathach. He didn't seem to have noticed the killing intent that was coming out of Scathach.

"I finished; what now?" Honestly, he was wondering why he should just wear his underwear, but that thought died the moment it was born; after all, he wasn't ashamed of his current body.

"Hmm," Scathach puts her hand on her chin as if thinking about something, she looks at Victor's body in curiosity. Then, she approaches Victor and touches her fingers to his body.

Seeing the firm, well-defined muscles, her eyes gleam a little, she seems to have come to some conclusion.

"Interesting~ looks like you'll take whatever I throw at you." Suddenly, she reaches into her pocket and pulls out a small, old-fashioned cell phone.

"Well-" Victor was going to say something, but he suddenly felt his body being pierced.

"Cough" He spits blood on the floor. He looks down and sees Scathach's hands across his stomach.

"Hold on," She spoke in a neutral tone, and then she started to churn Victor's stomach like she was looking for something.

Victor gritted his teeth; his body trembled in pain, but he just clenched his fists tightly and held on.

Scathach removed her hand from his stomach, and the moment she did, he felt something pulled out of his stomach.

"Cough, that's-" He almost fell to his knees on the floor, but the moment that sensation came, he quickly stomped harder on the floor and stood up, his pride not allowing him to kneel.

"Your gut" She flashed an innocent smile.

"..." Victor was speechless.

A few seconds later, something started to happen; Victor's intestines that were in Scathach's hand dissolved into blood and then disappeared, and at the same moment that happened, Victor felt something return to his stomach.

He touches his belly region, he doesn't feel pain anymore, and the cut on his stomach has also been restored. Even the blood he spat has disappeared.

"Impressive~" She smiled contentedly as she looked at her cell phone, "In less than 10 seconds, you had your whole stomach restored."

"Is this normal...?" Victor asked in curiosity.

"Of course it isn't." She put away her cell phone and began to explain, "For an ordinary noble vampire, it takes between 30 seconds to 1 minute to regenerate this type of damage. For a noble vampire descended from a Count clan, it takes around 30 to 40 seconds depending on the individual's potential."

"This kind of regeneration is only seen in the children of the royal family. For example, the youngest daughter of the king, she is a newborn, and her regeneration is around 10 to 15 seconds."

"You seem to know a lot about this."

"Of course I know. All the king's children that are born, I went to check whether they had potential or not personally."

'By potential, she probably meant beat up every one of them, huh?' Victor thought.

"They all have good talent, but unfortunately, they are useless; the mentalities of them are not like me. Because of that, though they have great talent, I never took any of them to train personally," she said with annoyance.

"..." Victor didn't know how to react to this. After all, he never saw the king's heirs personally, and if Scathach judged them as 'unworthy', he simply lost interest in them.

He considers Scathach too much like him, and, because of that, he strangely trusts her judgment a lot.

Scathach exhibited a small smile, "You are indeed an anomaly~, your blood has made you special, it has strengthened all your bases, even your body is stronger than a common vampire noble."

"..." Victor exhibited a small smile; 'If I'm an anomaly, what are you? In less than 1 second, your whole arm was restored.' He compared himself a lot to Scathach, which was absurd, she is a vampire who had 2000 years to train, and he? He was just born.

"Follow me," Scathach started walking towards the coliseum wall.

Victor followed Scathach, as he was behind her, unconsciously he looked at her ass that looked like she was trying to hypnotize him; 'Thick ass... This outfit is against the rules... Not that I'm complaining, but it's weird looking at your wife's mother like that... I think.'

He stared for only a few seconds, and then he looked away; he noticed how beautiful the coliseum was. Which was a lie; he was reviewing what he saw in his mind and comparing it to Ruby; 'Scathach wins, although Ruby isn't far behind. Like mother, like daughter, huh?'

'Although, Sasha's legs are better~.'

Apparently, he had plenty of free time to think about bullshit, and Scathach noticed it too when she felt Victor's gaze on her ass, but she didn't care, she was feeling satisfied for some reason.

Stopping at the coliseum wall, Scathach lightly touches the wall, and soon a new wall with various training weapons appears.

"Choose a weapon you like," She pointed like a saleswoman who was selling an item, "Don't worry, all weapons are tough enough; they've been enchanted by witches~."

"Hmm," Victor looked at the weapons curiously. He saw that she had several weapons of all varied types, eastern, western, and even firearms.

Victor didn't think too much; he wasn't experienced in using any weapons, so he just chose what he liked personally. He liked the Spear and Greatsword, but in the end, he chose Greatsword. After all, he still has memories of watching a movie with his father about a barbarian who used a Greatsword, and, since that day, he has always been fascinated by the Greatsword.

He looked at the sharp blade of the sword with curious eyes; the Greatsword was simply too big, he was currently 195 cm tall, and the sword blade was almost the same size as himself.

"Greatsword, as expected of a man, I think?" She laughed.

"I was in doubt about the Spear and the Greatsword, but I just chose the one I liked best." He spoke while swinging the Greatsword with extreme ease; he even felt like the sword was made of paper, it was so light.

"Heh~" Scathach's eyes sparkled a little when she heard that he liked the spear. Despite being a master of all weapons and having completely mastered them, the weapon she first practiced with was the Spear.

"Since we have little time, your torture/training method is simple, a fight to a near-death state." She wasn't even hiding anymore that it would be torture for him, although Victor doesn't seem to mind.

Victor looked at Scathach, his smile growing disproportionately when he heard what she said, "As vampires, we're going to abuse regeneration, huh?"

"Oh? You got it fast~" She smiled and explained, "Usually, I would start by taking it easy. I would teach you the basics step by step, and I would apply a little torture to get you used to the pain, just like I did with my daughter... But..."

She walks to the wall and picks up a spear, she makes some moves with the spear and points the sharp part of the spear at Victor:

"You woke me up, and now... I want to have fun~" Her smile grew distorted, sharp teeth began to show on her face, and her eyes began to glow blood red.

Just like Scathach, Victor's smile grew:

"Then? What are we waiting for~? Let's start."

He swings the Greatsword horizontally and attacks Scathach.

Scathach uses the spear hilt and defended Victor's attack. The swing of the Greatsword created a gust of wind, but despite all that strength, the spear didn't even move when receiving the attack. She then used the tip of the spear and pierced Victor's stomach.

A small ice shield appears on Victor's stomach but is easily pierced by Scathach's spear.

Victor attacks again with the Greatsword, but Scathach pulls the spear out of Victor's stomach and slashes his legs at inhuman speed.

"Ugh,"

"Lots of useless moves; try to simplify more. The way you use the power is correct, but..."

She waits for Victor's legs to regenerate, and when she saw that he had recovered, Scathach covers her legs with ice and kicks Victor in the stomach! "You need to use the powers with more density. Your ice looks like glass that is easily broken; try to make it more resistant."

He flies backward, using his fire as a support; he manages to reposition himself in the air.

Scathach runs towards Victor at moderate speed, and slowly her speed starts to increase, she covers the spear with ice and attacks the air.

A wall of ice began to be created on the ground and headed towards Victor.

"What!?" Victor covers his arm with fire, then he punches the air, and a blast of fire flew into the wall of ice.

BOOOOM!

An explosion happens when ice and fire collide.

Scathach appears at Victor's side, "Bad decision. If you don't have experience fighting, limiting your field of vision is—" She turns her head slightly and dodges the Greatsword's blade.

She looks at Victor and sees his eyes glowing red, "Your eyes... They're special, huh? I didn't know that~."

"I didn't say," Victor flashed a small smile.

"Oh? Are you hiding more stuff from me?"

"Who knows? How about you try to find out for yourself?"

Scathach's face turned a little red at Victor's response, she smiles sensually as she licks her lips, "Hehe~, don't worry, soon, I'll know all about you~."

Chapter12 Chapter 58: The White Wolf.

Hearing the noise of the explosion, the girls looked towards the coliseum.

"They started, huh?" Ruby spoke.

"What are we going to do?" Sasha asked as she looked at the coliseum.

"What we originally intended to do, train," Ruby replied, and soon she turned and started walking towards her mansion.

"...I will go with you; I feel that if I train with you, I will get more results," Sasha spoke and started to follow Ruby.

"Like old times?" Ruby smiled a little.

"Indeed." Sasha smiled.

"I want some tips on Count's transformation; I haven't been able to unlock mine yet," Ruby commented.

"I need to improve the basics, and I think you're really good at it."

"So we have a deal," Ruby chuckled.

Sasha looked at Violet, "What are you going to do?"

Violet bites her lip and clenches her fist in frustration, "I'm going back home. Like I said before, I feel my power increasing, and I don't have the confidence to control power like before; I need to complete my training. "

She gets up off the ground and looks towards a place.

"..." Ruby and Sasha seem to have gone deaf for a while.

"Excuse me, but what!?" Sasha practically screamed.

"What do you mean you didn't finish your training?" Ruby asked in disbelief; usually, vampires end their training at the age of 18, and after you turn 18 and finish training, you have to develop powers independently. That's how it happened to her and Sasha.

Ruby trained from a young age in martial arts and how to control her powers with Scathach.

Sasha just trained how to control her powers.

After all, vampires are born knowing how to use their powers; they just don't know how to control them.

Ruby's case is very rare in the vampire world as well. After all, vampire parents don't teach their children to use martial arts created by humans they consider to be 'cattle'.

"..." Violet ignored Ruby's question.

"...It's like Lady Violet said," Kaguya spoke when she realized that Violet was focused on something else, "She spent many years watching Victor, and because of that, she didn't complete her training."

"... And how did she manage to use the Count form if she didn't even train?" Ruby asked, she remembers that in the past, Violet also used this power for a while.

"I don't know," Kaguya replied, "But Lady Violet has always easily controlled her powers; maybe that's the trigger?"

"..." Ruby was silent, but inside she just wanted to scream; 'Bulshit!'

"Kaguya," Violet spoke.

"Yes, Lady Violet?" Kaguya looked at Violet.

Violet looks at Kaguya, and soon her violet eyes turn blood red, "I'm revoking your status as my Maid."

"...?" Kaguya didn't understand this sudden decision.

Violet continues, "As of today, you are my Darling's Personal maid."

Kaguya's cold expression broke, and she just couldn't let go of the first word that popped into her mind:

"Eh?"

...

Night.

Human World, current location somewhere around Brooklyn in a nightclub called "The Lost Club".

BAMM!

The sound of the club door opening suddenly was heard, and soon everyone could see a dark, muscular man standing 195 cm tall. He was wearing black pants with a simple white shirt, and around the man's neck was a necklace with a sharp fang that was very visible.

He had short white hair, sapphire blue eyes, and a stern face. The man's body was covered in black-striped tattoos, and he had several small scars strewn across his arms.

"Oh, you came back. How are you feeling now?" A woman, who was leaning against the wall smoking, spoke as she looked at the man.

The man exhibited a small smile that showed his white teeth, which were strangely a little sharper than usual, then he started walking:

"I'm calmer~."

"Just don't make a fuss again." The woman rolled her eyes.

He walked past the woman as he spoke, "Bitch, please. I never make a fuss~. I am the most peaceful and hardworking man you will meet."

The woman rolled her eyes again, "Yeah, Yeah." Then she ignored the man.

The man walked down the halls to a door that had a tall man on guard, "Johnny, you're forbidden-" The guard spoke but was stopped from continuing by a sudden movement of the muscular man!

The muscular man puts his arm around the neck of the man who was on guard and pushed him to the wall:

"What did you say?" He spoke with a smile that showed his sharp teeth.

The guard was sweating all over his body; he could have sworn he pissed himself a little.

"..." The woman, who was a little farther away smoking, was just speechless. In less than a few seconds, the man known as Johnny already got into trouble.

"NN-Nothing... You can pass," The guard spoke.

Johnny steps away from the guard, "You should have said that from the start." Soon he walks into the club.

Smelling alcohol, drugs, women, and sex, he flashes a satisfied smile, "I'm home~."

"..." The guard sighed in relief. He adjusts the suit he was wearing, and touches the communicator in his ear, and says, "The mercenary is here."

"What!? That mother fucker is banned! Why did you let him in?"
He heard a woman's voice.

"Madame, you know the man, if he doesn't come in, he will cause a fuss and destroy more property."

"...You were just scared, right?"

"..." The man used the right to remain silent.

The woman sighed, "I'll go talk to Judy, Jessica, Jinsei, probably Roberta too, maybe some of these bitches can calm him down."

"..." The man was speechless; just how many women has this man slept with?

Then she yelled again, "And do your job to keep people out! I'm paying you for this."

"Yes, ma'am." Realizing the comm had hung up, he whispered, "I'll try..."

He could handle a normal human, but these freaks who came to this club, it was a big "NO" for him.

...

"Oya, Oya. If it's not the legendary mercenary, Johnny, The White Wolf. I thought I'd never see you again; after all, you're banned from this club~" A black-haired man wearing a bartender outfit spoke with exaggerated gestures.

"Your mood is still exaggerated as always, Eddy," Johnny told the man.

"What do you want, Mister White Wolf?"

"The usual"

"Johnny special, huh?" Eddy smiled, then he asked, "Do you have money?"

"Take it" Johnny takes out a large amount of money and throws it on the table.

"30,000 dollars, that should pay half my debts, now give me a drink! My throat is dry!"

Eddy's smile grew as he began to prepare Johnny's drink.

"Business seems to be going well," He started the conversation.

"You know how it is; people always need someone to clean up their mess."

"The client this time, I heard he was quite... exotic."

"If by exotic, you mean a leech, yes."

"..." Eddy stopped preparing the drink for a while and said:

"...Just a piece of advice from a wolf friend who has been in this life for a long time... Don't get involved with the leeches' problems. Things tend to get more complicated when they are involved." Soon, he went back to preparing the drink.

"Hah! When aren't things complicated? And you know how it is; money is money, these bastards have lived so long their pockets are full of money, and they don't mind throwing that money away too easy."

"Indeed... They really are the best customers."

"You seem to know this man; tell me a little about him."

"I'll continue if you pay your debt."

"Tsk. Take it" He throws another amount of money.

"This should cover all my debts."

"...Yes, until you decide to make another mess and get in debt again."

"Hahaha, I never caused a fuss."

"..." Eddy rolled his eyes and remained silent, then he takes a glass and puts it on the table:

"Johnny special, enjoy~."

Johnny's eyes light up when he sees the drink, then in a single sip, he drinks it all.

"Ah~, ambrosia of the gods~" He belched, satisfied.

"Now... Give me tequila."

"Yeah, Yeah"

The man takes a whole bottle of tequila and puts it on the table, and he fills Johnny's glass.

And, as if it were water, Johnny drinks the whole glass again.

"Again," He puts the glass down on the table.

Eddy refilled the glass.

And again, Johnny drank it all.

"Again"

This process was repeated for 20 doses; when Johnny finally felt satisfied, he asked:

"And? Tell me about Lucy."

"Oh, it's the usual, commoner Vampire with big dreams of becoming a noble Vampire."

"Oh, Boring~. Continue."

"He's kidnapping innocent men and women to do a ritual that will change his race, and he's working with a new noble Clan house that I still don't have information about."

"Vampires using human sacrifices, nothing new. Go on." Johnny drank another shot, and soon Eddy refilled his glass.

"Apparently, the leeches' political power game that has never changed for 2000 years is starting to change."

"Politics? Meh, boring."

"I heard your sister is in love with a newborn vampire."

"Pffft," He spat all the tequila in Eddy's face.

"Disgusting," Eddy said as he wiped his face.

"Wh-... What did you say?"

Chapter13 Chapter 59: The White Wolf. 2

"Your sister is in love with a newborn vampire," Eddy repeated as he wiped his face with a damp cloth.

"...W-What kind of bullshit are you talking about...?" Even though he heard it again, he still couldn't believe it.

"My little sister would never fall in love with anyone! She's just a child!" Johnny started to remember his sister, she was so little, and she kept screaming around, "big brother" unconsciously, he smiled like a fool.

"Johnny, it's been 18 years; she's grown up," Eddy shattered his illusions.

Johnny imagined his little sister, grown-up and embraced by a random vampire.

His face distorted in anger, "I won't allow it!"

BAAAM!

He smacked the wood of the counter.

"...I'll put it on your account," Eddy said with a small sigh. "And your sister is already an adult, she can make her own decisions, and this passion won't last long; after all, vampires and wolves can't mix."

"Oh? What do you know? Spit it out! And give me more tequila!"

Johnny decided not to comment on what Eddy said. After all, he knows that Eddy's words were wrong; wolves and vampires can relate. If the two individuals want, nothing can stop them, only death, of course.

"You have money?" Eddy smiled.

"Tsk, you're going to make me poor again," Johnny complained.

"Business is business. Friendship should not interfere with business."

"Whatever, just spill it!" He took another amount of money and threw it on the table.

Having already prepared this in advance, Eddy takes a document from under the counter.

...

Name: Victor Walker.

age: 21 years old

Height: 175 CM

Weight: 50 KG

Personality: Stupidly honest, vindictive, petty, loyal to the family. According to witnesses who live close to the individual, he is a nice guy that if you don't upset him, he won't mess with anyone.

Warning: Has tendencies towards sociopathy. Very jealous of those close to him, he has chances to become a Yandere like a certain pink-haired girl.

...

"What is this amazingly nice man?" Johnny can't help but talk, and he remembers seeing him somewhere, "And what is this ending? Yandere? Explain!"

Eddy puts his hand to his head as if he has a headache; 'that crazy woman, can't she make a correct report?'

"Basically, Yandere means that a person has an unhealthy love for another and would be able to kill, usually out of jealousy or fear, any "obstacle" to being with that loved one."

"...Isn't he a nice guy?" Johnny said, after all, for wolves, this was normal, they were very territorial, and if anyone touched his women, he would do the same.

"..." Eddy was speechless.

"Kyaaa!"

Hearing a familiar scream, Johnny turned his face and saw a blond woman with blue eyes being held by a tall, bald man.

"Bitch, how dare you refuse me!? I'm paying!"

"Fuck you; this isn't a prostitution club!"

"Grrr," Johnny's face distorted, sharp fangs appeared in his mouth, his face became more animalistic, his blue eyes glowed like neon blue, and then he stood up.

"I'll put it on your account," Eddy said; he already knew what was going to happen.

Johnny ignored Eddy, so he grabs a chair next to him and throws it at the man!

BAAM!

The chair hits the man's bald head and shatters, the man's face distorted in anger, and soon he screams like a roar:

"Who did that!?"

"J-Johnny," The woman spoke.

"Judy, step back."

"Y-Yes!" Judy quickly kicks the man's balls and runs.

"Bitch!" The man roared.

"Where do you think you're going?" Johnny appears in front of the man and holds his face, and then he throws him into the middle of the club.

Whistles! Whistles!

Several men started whistling, and shouting "Fight! Fight! Fight!"

"That man is fucked," A woman said, laughing.

"Of course he is; he touched Johnny's wife. That was expected to happen." The man beside the woman laughed.

"Hey! I'm not his wife!" Judy complained.

The man looks at Judy, "Tell yourself that and keep believing it. But, at the end of the day, you still go to his bed, right?"

"...Fuck off." Judy held up her middle finger.

"Judy, are you okay?" A pale-skinned woman with slightly curly hair and dark blue eyes spoke in concern.

"Yes, I'm fine, Jessica," Judy smiled gently.

Seeing the attitude of the customers who seemed to be enjoying themselves, Eddy's eyes sparkled a little, "This is getting common now... Should I make a fight club?" He could smell money when he thought of that idea.

"What the fuck is going on here!?" A woman looks at the center of the club and yells in frustration, "That damn wolf again!"

Eddy looks to the side and sees a woman with short silver hair and a golden eye, she was wearing an eye patch covering half of her face, and she had a tired expression.

She was wearing a stylish black suit, and she was smoking a black cigarette that looked like it was custom made.

"Madam"

"Eddy? Why didn't you stop that mother fucker-" She started to complain again, but Eddy cut her off.

"Madam, I have a proposal for you; I guarantee you will make a lot of money."

"Oh? Tell me more," The woman's tired eye seemed to come back to life.

BOOOM!

"Do you think you can demand something from her!? Huh!? In my territory! Know your place!" Eddy and Madam look at Johnny slamming the bald man's head to the ground

"As expected, he didn't last long, disappointing," A woman spoke up in annoyance.

"Yeah, at least we made some money," A man next to her said, laughing.

"He's going to kill that man if he keeps this up," a woman with chocolate skin, sapphire blue eyes, and long straight white hair spoke worriedly.

"Jinsei? Can you stop him, please? I don't want to have to clean up another body tonight." Madam spoke in annoyance.

"Yes" Jinsei closes her eyes for a few seconds, then she opens her eyes. Her old blue sapphire eyes changed to golden eyes with a reptilian-like slit.

"Johnny~, you're back; let's talk a little?" Her seductive voice flew towards Johnny and visibly affected him.

"Hmm?" Johnny stopped hitting the man and looked at Jinsei; soon, his predator's smile changed to a gentle smile.

"Heh~, I missed you" He leaves the middle of the club and ignores the man who was in a half-dead state. He gets close to Jinsei and hugs her.

"..." Madam looks at a subordinate and gestures as if to clean up the mess.

"... I missed you too." She spoke in a soft voice, feeling Johnny squeezing her ass, she got annoyed:

"Stop it!"

"Hahaha." He laughed a little and looks to the side:

"Oh? Jessica, you're back."

"Yes." She exhibited a gentle little smile, and then her expression changed to serious, "We need to talk later. It's important."

"Okay," Johnny looks at Madam:

"I already paid my debts. So don't look at me like that, old hag."

Madam looks at Eddy, and, seeing her subordinate nod his head, she sighs, "Just don't make trouble again, boy."

"Eh? But I never caused any problems."

"..." Everyone rolled their eyes.

Johnny looks at Judy, and soon the atmosphere around him changes, "Judy," He growled.

Judy's body visibly shook, "W-What?"

"Were you 'working'? Did I already mention that I don't allow it? Do I have to kill every man in this club so you don't work again?"

"I-I..." She swallows hard when she senses Johnny's mood, she was scared, but soon her face changes to an annoyed expression, and she growls at Johnny, "I wasn't working!"

"You know since I... Hmm... stayed with you," Her face turned red, "I don't work anymore!"

"That man looked at me coming out of the second floor and started screaming, demanding services."

Johnny smiled when he saw Judy's expression, "...You're too innocent sometimes for a former stripper dancer."

"Fuck off," She flipped her middle finger and turned her face away.

"Madam, that man must not come back here," He said with a serious face; he would never let a man live after talking like that to his wife.

"Sigh... I'll put it on your account," Madam said, she didn't want to get her hands dirty again today, but money is money, and she knows Johnny always pays his debts.

"How is your father's health?" He asked Judy...

"..." Judy visibly softened, "Thanks to the bite, he's as healthy as ever."

"...He's in my pack now, but out of consideration for you, I won't force him to do anything." Johnny sat down on the bench and drank another shot of tequila.

"...Thanks, Johnny... If it weren't for you, I'd still have to be working in that disgusting place." As a former stripper dancer, she went through many things that she prefers to forget about. If it weren't for her father's illness that needed a lot of money to treat, she would never have subjected herself to that kind of work.

She hates her old profession, she knows and has many friends who had a similar situation like her; women who needed money, and when they need it most, they had no support from anyone and somehow had to find the money. Pimps take advantage of these struggling women and make them prostitute themselves in exchange for scraps of money.

A disgusting market...

She hates all of this, and if it weren't for Johnny, she would still have to live this life.

"No need to thank me, I had a crush on you, and from that moment on, it was already decided that you would become my woman." He drinks some tequila:

"I couldn't leave my wife in that deplorable place."

"Jerk!" Judy turns her face away in annoyance.

"Can't you be a little more honest with yourself?" Jinsei asked in a gentle voice.

"..." Judy threw Jinsei the middle finger.

"...Now that I remember, my sister..." He clenches his fist angrily.

"Even though that man seems like a nice guy, I need to see him in person. I won't give my sister away easily..." Then, he suddenly realized something, "Wait, did you say he became a vampire? So his appearance might have changed?"

Eddy said, "Exactly. This information is from before he became a vampire; his appearance may have changed according to his potential."

"Plebeian vampires are weak, and they are slaves... I feel sorry for that man," Johnny spoke in a disappointed voice. But, he didn't look sorry, he drinks some tequila while out of the corner of his eye he looks at Jessica who is sat beside him.

"Eddy, explain your plan to me," Madam asked curiously.

"Oh," Eddy looks at Madam and starts to explain what he was thinking of doing.

Jessica climbs up on the bench and takes the document, she looks at the document, and soon her eyes light up a little, she seems to know the man.

Johnny noticed this but decided to remain silent.

"Where's Roberta?" He asked Madam.

Madam, who was talking to Eddy, just pointed up, indicating she was on the second floor.

"I'll go see her," He said, then he left the bench and walked towards the second floor.

"I'll go with you," Jinsei said.

"Me too." Jessica got off the bench and followed Johnny.

"..." Judy didn't say anything, she just followed Johnny silently.

Chapter14 Chapter 60: The White Wolf. 3

"Roberta!"

BAAM!

Johnny opened the door with a bang.

"Ara~?" Roberta, who was sitting on a sofa, spoke, then looked at Johnny with a gentle smile: "Why the hurry?"

Johnny looked at the woman, she was wearing a flowing ankle-length black dress and had abundant silky black hair that reached the floor, healthy white skin that seemed to glow in the dim lighting, and violet eyes that shimmered with a playful light. But, what stood out most about her were her enormous breasts that were bigger than Johnny's head; they were the famous J-Cup.

Seeing Johnny staring at her breasts, she flashed a seductive smile: "How was your job?"

"Are you really 40 years old?" Johnny asked as he stared at her breasts; the question was very reasonable. Even though she was an older woman, her breasts didn't seem to be sagging down.

he eventually replied: "Yeah, the job was easy."

He approaches her and sits beside her, then extends his arms and places them on the woman's shoulder.

"Yes, I am~" She replied.

Slap!

She slaps Johnny's hand that was almost touching her breast, she turns to face Johnny and speaks with a 'gentle' smile: "Not in public."

"..." Johnny was speechless, but he accepted her will; he doesn't like to force his women.

"Tsk," Jude was annoyed: "Are those things growing?"

"I do not know? I stopped caring about it~."

"I'm surprised you don't have back pain," Judy said.

"The key is posture." She laughed.

"Tell me about it later; my back hurts a little," Jinsei said.

"Okay~"

"Johnny, we need to talk," Jessica said.

"What is it?" Johnny looked at Jessica.

"..." Jinsei, Roberta, and Judy are silent and wait for Jessica to speak.

"My brothers are in town, and they're working with the man who hired you."

"Oh?" Johnny puts his hand to his chin: "What does Clan Horseman want with Lucy?"

Jinsei narrowed her eyes a little, she hated vampires. At first, it was difficult for Jinsei to get along with Jessica, who was a noble vampire, but she learned to accept her as time passed, especially since Johnny didn't like how the two women were constantly fighting. But other vampires? She hates them.

"I don't know. I'm just the third heiress, so Father and my brothers don't tell me much," She didn't lie. Her brothers didn't tell her anything, she was the one who discovered their plans through conversations and documents.

They didn't tell her anything, but they didn't stop her from figuring things out either.

"Hmm," Johnny wasn't very interested in this. He just works for Lucy because the vampire sends large amounts of money for small services.

The job he did today was just to retrieve a relic from the hunters and throw it into the sea. Easy job. And, he was paid very well for it.

Jessica continued: "But one thing I'm sure of, they came to hunt a man named Adam William Lykos."

"...!" Johnny narrowed his eyes: "What do they want with that old man?"

"... Do you know him?"

"He is my father."

"!!!" Jinsei, Jessica, Roberta, and Judy looked at Johnny in curiosity. Johnny never talked about his family to the women, and they never asked about it.

"What do your brothers want from my father?"

"...they want the blood of an Alpha wolf."

"Hah! Let them try; my dad isn't weak." Johnny snorted.

"...But are his children..."

Johnny's atmosphere changed, and he was becoming more aggressive, and his eyes started to glow bright blue, then he looked at Jessica fiercely.

"..." Jessica just looked at Johnny indifferently, she obviously wasn't affected by Johnny's pressure. After all, she wasn't weak like the three women in the room, but inside, she was sad to see Johnny's reaction; 'As expected, vampires and wolves can't be together, huh?'

That was a question she had always had since she started a relationship with Johnny.

Although Johnny doesn't care about the wolves and vampires' dispute, it was hard for Jessica not to think that way, mainly because he treated other women very differently from how he treats her.

Johnny might not realize it, but something inside him didn't like mixing with a vampire, and unconsciously, he treated her differently because of that.

And, Jessica is a new lover. Compared to the three women who have known Johnny for a long time, they've only known each other for two months, and, since then, their relationship hasn't progressed much.

"Johnny, calm down. She's not guilty; you know that." Jinsei spoke in a calm tone.

"Grr," Johnny growled, but soon he swallowed his anger, the wolves were very protective of the pack members, and even though Johnny has been away for a long time, he never left his father's pack.

Seeing Jessica's face, he thought inwardly; 'Fuck'.

"Don't think nonsense, and tell me what's going on," He was a man who didn't know how to apologize...

"..." The women just sighed.

"...My brothers have come to see the ritual Lucy is preparing, but this is just an excuse; his main objective is to hunt the man named Adam William Lykos. They want alpha wolf blood to use... They probably want to keep that freak stable." Jessica said the last part in disgust.

"Freak?" Johnny asked.

"Hybrid"

"..."

Realizing what she said, Jessica's face darkened. By badmouthing hybrids, did she just deny her relationship with Johnny? After all, if they ever had a child, their child would be born a hybrid:

"Anyway, I just came here to warn you not to get involved in this matter, but now that I know that man is your father, I find it hard for you not to get involved... Just don't die."

She got up from the couch, walked towards the door, and quickly left; Johnny didn't stop her from going.

"..." All the women sigh at the same time.

"Johnny-" Roberta was about to say something, but Johnny interrupted:

"I know, you don't have to tell me," Johnny sighed; he knew he wasn't good with feelings.

"She's a noble vampire, and it's difficult for her to change who she is. Plus, like all vampires, she hates hybrids. That's natural for her species. So she must feel disgusted just being around the hybrid who lives in her house," Jinsei explained.

"I know, older wolves are like that too," Johnny said; he didn't particularly care about that.

Roberta's eyes glowed violet for a few seconds: "...You have to talk to her, or you'll lose her forever," she advised him.

"Another day," Johnny doesn't listen to her. Instead, he gets up and walks towards an empty spot, and then he takes out his phone, opens the contacts tab, and sees his father's number. Sighing, he clicks on the phone number then hears: "Johnny?"

"Hey, old man-"

Seeing Johnny's decision, Roberta just shook her head, a little disappointed.

'He just does what he wants and never listens to anyone. That kind of attitude will bite his ass in the future... But that doesn't matter, as long as he's with me, he'll be fine, even if all his lovers die', she thought while showing a 'gentle' smile.

...

A week later.

"Scathach, why are you sitting?" Victor asked curiously as he looked at Scathach, who was sitting on top of a pillar of ice.

"I'm meditating... And stupid disciple, call me master."

"Hmm," Victor nodded, but he completely ignored the last sentence Scathach spoke. Instead, he looked around and saw several small craters that were starting to regenerate on their own; 'Magic is amazing,' He thought.

The training (beating) was going well, Victor fought Scathach for a week straight, and even now, he didn't feel tired. The only visible sign of tiredness on Victor's body was his sweat; since he moved around a lot, naturally, he would be sweaty; but that was it.

He progressed decently in swordplay and in the martial arts that Scathach was teaching him.

Scathach didn't name the martial art he was learning, she just said it's a martial art that she created herself. However, he noticed several moves from famous martial arts like Muay Thai, Taekwondo, Boxing, Karate, etc.

But while they were similar, they were very different. The martial art he was learning was created to extract 100% of the vampire race's potential.

"I think it should happen anytime now." Scathach opened her eyes and looked at Victor.

"...?" Victor didn't understand, but he soon felt his throat go dry and fell to the ground while holding his throat.

"Bloodlust, one of the vampire's most obvious weaknesses," Scathach jumped off the ice pillar as she fell to the ground: "Bloodlust can drive the individual mad. He won't recognize who is ally or enemy. A perfect berserker state."

Victor looks at Scathach. His appearance has changed, his eyes have turned blood red, and his teeth have sharpened.

He didn't understand; his bloodlust seemed to be stronger than before; 'Maybe it's because I used too much power?' He thought.

Scathach started to twirl her spear.

"If you're a vampire who has gone through the ritual, when you've been bloodthirsty for a long time and can't control yourself. A ritual protection spell will be automatically activated... This spell forces the vampire into a coma state."

"..." Victor took the greatsword and got up from the ground.

"The witches created the ritual at the request of the vampire king to control the bloodlust of the vampires who were running rampant at the time. The ritual spell is simple. They alter the vampires' human bloodlust and focus that bloodlust on their lovers."

"Because of this, female, and male vampires who have lost their lovers, will eventually fall into a deep coma until they perform a ritual with another lover."

"The ritual made it easier for vampires to control their bloodlust, and because of this tool, we were able to live in society."

Scathach stops spinning the spear and aims the sharp part of the spear at Victor's neck.

She displays a seductive smile: "The time period for the spell to be activated is one month. If you can't control yourself in a month, you'll become an empty corpse~."

Chapter15 Chapter 61: Progress.

Kaguya side.

Kaguya was up in a tree, and she's been standing there without moving for a week, she was looking at the coliseum with a complex look.

Sigh!

Kaguya sighed.

Kaguya was in big trouble, she got fired! And the second she was fired, she got another job...

She became Victor's personal maid...

But that wasn't what she was freaking out about:

"What about my salary!? And my retirement plan!? My extra benefits!? And most importantly, what about my vacation!?" She started to ruffle her hair.

"Gahhhhhh!" She was freaking out!

She sighed again and looked at the coliseum with a complex face.

"I mean, I'm glad I'm free of Clan Snow, but Lord Victor can't support me! I am a very expensive maid! The perfect maid!"

She knows that she is not totally free from the chains of Clan Snow, but now that Victor 'owns' her, she will have more freedom; it all depends on what kind of contract Victor wants to make with her.

And Kaguya trusts Victor, she knows he won't make a contract with too many restrictions like Clan Snow.

Sigh!

She sighed again, she doesn't know how many times she sighed this week...

But the money problem still remains, she is a very expensive maid! However, she has some savings that she's saved over the centuries, so it's not like she's going to be poor all of a sudden...

But work is work, personal life aside, she needs money! Everyone needs money! Even vampires need money!

"Hmmm," She puts her hand to her face like she's thinking about something profound.

"But... Lord Victor's personal maid, huh?" She showed a small smile on her face:

"Heh~... That doesn't sound bad... that doesn't sound bad at all."

...

Ruby and Sasha side.

After being separated from Violet, the two women returned to Scathach's mansion and immediately began training.

Ruby, who had the strongest foundations, was teaching Sasha the basics, and she noticed something:

"Your basics are a complete mess. What were you doing for a living?" Ruby spoke as she looked at Sasha on the floor.

She realized this a week ago, and she didn't say anything because she thought Sasha would get better as she taught, but no! She hasn't gotten better yet, she is like a chicken, she tries to teach her something, but when Sasha takes three steps, she forgets about everything!

A vein popped in Sasha's head, and then she rose from the floor:

"You're too bad at explaining! What in the seven hells is; Boooo! Baaahhhh! Pew, Pew!"

"..." Ruby's face turned red.

"I'm not a damn translator! Explain correctly, good dammit!"

"I didn't explain it like that!" Ruby countered.

"Huuu!?! So I'm deaf!?"

"Maybe..." Ruby didn't want to give up.

"Bitch!"

"What did you say!?" Ruby was irritated.

The two ran into each other and were about to fight again.

"Okay! Stop!" Lacus appeared in front of Sasha and Ruby.

"Lacus!?"

"Big sister?"

"For God's sake, can't you guys go 10 minutes without arguing!?"

"She is the one who can't explain!"

"No, you are the one who doesn't understand!"

"..." The two look at each other for a few seconds.

"Humpf!"

"Humpf!"

Sigh!

Lacus sighed, she had been watching the two of them train for a while. After all, she had nothing to do and, after watching them for a whole week, she understood something.

The two women were two different types of geniuses.

Ruby was a genius at learning things faster and, because of that, she was able to finish Scathach training more quickly. But she had a problem, she couldn't explain what she learned.

And Sasha was a genius at learning things by instinct, and she knew how to explain things she learned verbally, but she was terrible at trying to learn from someone else. She's the kind of genius who learns everything her way.

When the friends were younger, it didn't cause much trouble, since they were just learning to control their powers, but after each one grew up and each one acquired a peculiarity... It became impossible to train together without an intermediary.

The two were complete opposites, so they needed someone to bridge the gap between the two.

Chomp! Chomp!

The three women heard a noise of someone eating, so they looked in the direction of the noise and saw Pepper eating something that looked like popcorn but had a deep red color like blood. Beside her was a completely red drink like Strawberry juice.

She was wearing pretty big black glasses with a "3D" symbol on the rim of the glasses, she looked like a woman who went to the cinema to enjoy a movie.

"..." The three women just looked at Pepper in disbelief.

"Fueeee? Why are you looking at me?" She looked like a cat that was caught eating something it shouldn't.

"..." The three sighed again.

"Let's take a break," Sasha said.

"Yes," Ruby agreed.

...

Some hours later.

"Okay, let's start again," Sasha got up and looked at Ruby, "This time, don't say anything, just fight using basic moves."

"...What about the Count transformation? When are you going to teach me?" Ruby asked.

"After you teach me something useful..." Sasha's eyes narrowed.

Ruby frowned a little, "...Okay."

"Lacus will be responsible for stopping us if we're doing something wrong," Sasha continued.

"Ehhh? But I don't want to do anything~" Lacus, who was lying on the ground, looking like a caterpillar, spoke.

"Big Sister...Please." Ruby looked at Lacus like she was a kitten who wanted something.

"..." Lacus looks at Ruby. "I refuse-"

"Pleaseeeeeee?"

"Ugh-...O-Okay. FINE! I'll do it..." Lacus rose from the grass, and at the same time, she wondered why she was so weak to Ruby's eyes.

"But if we are going to do this, we must do it correctly." She became serious.

"Yay," Ruby laughed.

"..." Sasha glared at Ruby.

"...W-What?" Ruby returned to her cold expression.

"You should show your smile more...Darling would like it."

Ruby's cheeks turned a little red, "S-Shut up."

"Says the woman who can't be honest with her feelings," Pepper suddenly said.

"...!" Sasha's cheeks turned a little red, and she looked at Pepper.

"S-Shut up! And stop making noise with that food! You'll get fat if you eat a lot!"

"Vampires can't get fat~, this might look like popcorn, but it's basically crystallized blood."

She started laughing like she was a child who did something evil, "Muahahahaha."

And as if it were a law of nature, her two mountains began to shake heavily, which caused damage to Lacus.

Veins appeared in Lacus' head, and she screamed:

"...You don't get fat because everything you eat goes to your breasts!"

"Eh?" Pepper looked at her older sister with an innocent face, "Sister, are you stupid? Vampires can't get fat~"

"..." Lacus didn't know how to react to her sister's innocent face.

Realizing something, Pepper flashes a sly smile, "I pity you, Big sister~."

"Huh?"

"You'll never be able to grow up, and you'll always get stuck in that Loli body~."

"..." Lacus lowers her head a little, and that causes her red hair to cover her face; soon, she disappears from everyone's view.

"Pepper, you just did that..." Ruby looked at her sister with pity.

"Fueeee?" Pepper didn't understand, she just tried to tease her sister a little.

As soon as Lacus appeared again with a rope in her hand, she lifted her face and looked at Pepper.

Pepper seeing Lacus face that had several pulsing veins and glowing red eyes:

"Awawawawa, I'm sorry, big sister!" she started running.

"Excuses are useless..." Lacus vanishes into mist and appears in front of her sister:

"All that remains is punishment."

"NOOOOOOOOO! I don't have a BDSM fetish!"

"Accept your fate!" Lacus snaps the rope.

"NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO," Pepper's scream can be heard throughout the forest:

"Ugnya~" Along with an awkward moan.

...

Violet side:

After separating from Ruby and Sasha, Violet returned to her house, and the first thing she did when she got home was, start her training.

As she didn't have complete control of her powers, she spent this entire week learning how to control her powers again.

This was an arduous task; after all, despite saying that she wanted to train, her mind was thinking about Victor.

She couldn't stop feeling that it was a bad idea to leave Victor and Scathach alone.

And that made her very angry!

But despite having these thoughts, she made a lot of progress in controlling her powers.

"I was surprised when you said you wanted to complete your training, my daughter~, but I'm impressed," Agnes said as she looked at a huge crater.

"That kind of power at just 21 years old? Amazing~"

"That's still not enough; I feel like I can't control my power like I used to," Violet said.

"Okay~" Agnes smiled.

And soon, Violet's training continued under her mother's supervision.

Unlike Sasha and Ruby, who are training in martial arts, Violet focused more on her power, she doesn't know martial arts and has no interest in it either. Which is a mindset that Scathach very much disapproves of.

Vampires who focus only on power are like glass cannons; they have a lot of power but little stamina. And if these vampires face their natural enemy of wolves, they will lose without any resistance.

After all, wolves have better physical attributes and resistance to the elements than vampires.

Scathach doesn't much like the Snow Clan mentality. They think they're superior because they have one of the powers that are the vampire's deadly weakness, fire...

Yes, indeed. This clan is deadly to vampires, but what about wolves? And the witches? And the hunters?

The strongest wolves can get their body covered in fire, and they won't feel anything. The strongest witches just cast a magic shield.

And the strongest hunters will use the high-level defensive enchantments.

And Voila! Their Clan trump card is lost.

"Lady Agnes. Lord Adonis needs to talk to you-." Hilda stops talking when she feels Agnes rushing past her.

"Darling!! I'm coming~!"

Hilda holds back her will to sigh and says, "...It looks like I'll have to take over your training for a while."

"I'm counting on you, Hilda," Violet said.

Chapter16 Chapter 62: I knew it!

Two weeks later.

Two weeks passed, and Ruby and Sasha finally started showing the results of their training.

As they are vampires, they just need to rest for a few minutes, and soon they manage to get back to training again, taking full advantage of their vampire abilities.

Sasha's advance was all thanks to Lacus, who served as an intermediary.

Sasha learned the basics of martial arts that Ruby learned from Scathach, and she can finally see results as she uses her powers. "As expected, Scathach was correct."

"Well, my mom isn't the strongest female vampire for nothing," Lacus said.

Ruby smiled and agreed with Lacus' words.

"Let's continue. I think in two months, you can learn the basics," Ruby said. "I still want to learn about the vampire count transformation."

Ruby didn't need to train very much on the basics, she just needed to find new ways to use her powers. She's not like her mother, who likes to use weapons; she prefers to use her powers and the martial arts her mother taught.

"Once I learn the basics, it's up to me to improve, huh?"

"Yes. My mom always said that we should build our paths by ourselves, she just taught me the basics of her martial arts, she never taught me everything." Lacus continued in Ruby's shoes.

"I don't understand... Why didn't she teach everything?"

"We weren't qualified..." Pepper spoke neutrally.

"What do you mean by 'qualification'?" Sasha asked.

Pepper looked at Ruby, "Ruby better explain; after all, she is the heir to our Clan."

Sasha looked at Ruby and waited for her to explain.

"...My mother had many disciples in her life."

"But not all of these disciples were qualified to learn everything from her." Ruby looked at Lacus, "She once told me that only a disciple she thought worthy would inherit everything she learned."

"Yes... She said the same thing to me." Lacus nodded.

"How should I say ... she's strict, huh? She didn't even teach her own daughters everything."

"...That's not entirely correct," Ruby explained.

"Huh?"

"My mother's martial art consists of 4 main bases... Strength, speed, resistance, and power."

"Since I'm the daughter who was born with the most power, she taught me resistance," Ruby said.

Ruby positioned herself a little away from Lacus. "Try to attack me with your power."

"... Okay." Sasha didn't understand but did as Ruby asked.

She appears in front of Ruby with her body is covered in lightning and attacks Ruby's face.

The moment Sasha's attack touched Ruby, Ruby's entire body turned to ice.

"Ouch," Sasha held her hand a little, she felt like she was hitting solid metal.

"Using my power as fuel, I can coat my body with ice and create something like an impenetrable shield," Ruby spoke as the ice slowly began to disappear.

"Is it something like how I use my power?"

"It's similar, but not the same. You cover your body with lightning, but I turn my whole body into pure ice."

"Huh? How is it different?"

"Your power is covering your body like a cloak. It is not inside your body, for example; you can't use lightning to improve your brain activity, right?"

"...I can, but it would fry my brain."

"..." Sasha's face darkened in horror.

"..." Ruby just flashed a cold smile.

"...That's insane. You're basically destroying yourself over and over again using this technique!" Although vampires have regeneration, it still hurts when their body is injured. Having your body destroyed and rebuilt is not a pleasant experience. And, if you don't have control, some important places like the heart and brain can be destroyed simultaneously, and the vampire can die forever.

"Ruby is different, she can do this more easily because she was born with the power to control water," Lacus explained.

"Ruby uses her water control so that the moment she stops using this technique, the ice will slowly melt back into flesh, and, thanks to the vampires' natural regeneration, she'll quickly return to normal."

"She will feel pain, but it's not the kind of pain that will completely destroy her body."

"And this feat can only be achieved because Ruby has extremely precise control of her own power." Lacus finished the explanation.

"Insanity... I can only use lightning in my body because I have the abnormal resistance of my father, but my mother doesn't have that, and when she uses lightning too many times, her body is destroyed."

Just imagining the pain she would feel, Sasha's body shudders.

"The other techniques are strength and speed, and those are Pepper and Lacus, respectively," Ruby said.

"Pepper learned strength, it may not seem like it, but she's super strong, look." Ruby looked at Pepper.

Pepper nods and steps away from the group, looks at an empty area and then positions herself in a karate position, then she yells, "Ey!"

BOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

Pepper's punch created pressure in the air that destroyed the entire forest within a radius of 1 KM.

"Bloody Hell..."

Despite the cute scream, Pepper's destruction was no joke.

Sasha looked at the destruction and thought; 'I can do something like that if I use the lightning technique, but it's very different from you just casually doing it with a punch.'

"You got weaker, huh? That's because you don't train!" Ruby hit her sister on the head.

"Fue? But there's no one to fight! I also prefer watching anime~."

"Is this weak...?"

"Yes. In the past, she could destroy 3KM of this forest with one punch."

"..."

Seeing Sasha's expression of disbelief, Ruby said, "Just adding, my mom can destroy up to 100 KM in a straight line... And unlike Pepper, nothing would be left; the air pressure would destroy everything."

"... You are monsters."

"How rude... I'm not a monster; it's you guys who are weak!" Pepper pouted.

"Lacus was born with the fog ability. Because of that, she learned speed; as you saw, she is very fast." Ruby changed the subject.

"Oh? I wonder who's faster." Sasha looked at Lacus with a competitive look.

"We have to test this another day." Lacus smiled.

"Siena, my older sister, learned the power, but since she's not here, let's ignore it," Ruby said.

Sasha stops looking at Lacus and starts to think, and soon she understands something:

"...I see, her martial art was shared among her daughters."

"Wrong," Ruby spoke.

"Huh?"

"Although she is a master of all martial arts, the main martial art she uses is Sojutsu (Spearmanship), the martial art that uses the spear; Scathach only learned melee martial arts because she was bored..."

"..." Sasha doesn't know how to react to all this. Just because she was bored, Scathach created such a deadly martial art; boredom with a person who likes to train can be something scary.

"Unlike other vampires who waste time doing useless things, my mother used two thousand years to improve herself."

"And even so, she's not the strongest vampire there is," Ruby commented.

"The King, huh?" Sasha spoke.

"Yes, I don't know what he looks like, I've never seen him in person, but if my mom says she doesn't have a 100% chance of winning against him, that must mean something."

"..." A moment of silence fell.

"I wonder what martial art my husband is learning right now," Sasha said.

"..." The three sisters were silent since they were also curious about this subject.

"Let's get back to training," Ruby said.

"Yeah," Sasha agreed.

Suddenly the two looked in the direction of the coliseum:

"That is," Sasha clenched her fist in frustration.

"Bloodlust... He's losing control. He must be going through a difficult time right now, unlike us who have had to deal with it since childhood; this is the first time he's been dealing with it..."

"And his bloodlust is much stronger than me, you, and Violet combined." Sasha continued.

"Darling"

"Husband"

Both were worried.

...

In those two weeks, Victor surpassed Scathach's expectations, and he managed to hold his bloodlust.

And, despite the pain and suffering it was causing him, he overcame everything with a smile on his face. He seemed to be having fun instead of training.

He learned to handle the Greatsword more naturally, and his battle instincts were sharpened by fighting Scathach for two weeks straight.

He started using his powers more naturally, the powers were a part of him even now, and it wasn't something he just used as if it were borrowed.

Soon Scathach was considering making Victor switch weapons. After all, she won't be satisfied until her disciple has mastered all the weapons.

Everything was good while it lasted, but soon, Victor's bloodlust became unbearable for him to bear.

"Well, I didn't expect this to happen so quickly." Scathach spoke as she looked at Victor, who was kneeling on the floor while holding his throat; he seemed to be in a lot of pain.

"Thirst... My throat... Hurts!" He screamed with a roar of pain as he fell to the ground.

The sound of chains could be heard by Scathach.

"I underestimated your bloodlust..." Scathach spoke.

"My back!" He screamed.

Crack! Crack! Crack!

Sounds of bones breaking can be heard.

"Normally, when an average vampire loses control because of his bloodlust, he will go into the berserker state until he is satisfied."

"AHHHHHHHHH!" suddenly, a bone wing came out of Victor's back.

"If the bloodlust isn't satisfied, or the vampire controls himself during the period of a month, the protection spell will activate, and the vampire will go into a coma." She repeated her words.

Victor's skin began to darken, Victor's pale skin changed to dark purple skin, Victor's ears sharpened.

"Usually, that was supposed to happen... Indeed, that's supposed to happen."

"Ugh, Ugh!" Victor fell to the ground, and suddenly he stopped moving; it was like he was dead.

Blood began to appear around Victor, and slowly, this blood began to go towards him as if it was being drawn into Victor's body, and soon the blood started to float.

"But...I forgot to consider something..." Scathach spins her spear and braces herself, "You're no ordinary vampire."

Victor's eyes open, unlike before when only the iris of the eye turned blood red, Victor's eyeball turned completely blood-red:

ROOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOAR!!!

A demonic scream that shook the entire structure of the coliseum was heard.

Seeing Victor's form, Scathach's cheek turned a little red, and she cried out in ecstasy, "Ahh~, I knew it! I knew I was correct! HAHAAHAHAHA~!"

"Now. Come! Let's have fun!"

Chapter17 Chapter 63: Coward.

Violet's side.

"Darling..." Violet muttered worriedly as she looked towards the coliseum. Even though the structure couldn't be seen in the distance, Violet instinctively knew where Victor was.

"Don't distract yourself in a fight." A cold voice spoke from beside Violet.

Violet turned quickly and tried to defend against the oncoming attack, but she wasn't quick enough.

Hilda kicked Violet in the face, and her kick was so hard it threw Violet across the hill, "Ugh" Violet was buried under a pile of rocks.

"Never let your guard down, always be prepared to use your powers at any time, remember; you are the heiress of Clan Snow, everyone envies you, and everyone loves you, but at the same time, you have a lot of enemies." Hilda straightened her white glove and continued watching the place where Violet was buried.

"HAAA!" Pure fire covered Violet's body, and soon she came out of the rocks.

She looks at Hilda, "Now I understand who was inflating my mother's narcissism."

"...It's not a lie if it's true."

Violet rolled her eyes.

"You don't understand how special your Clan is," Hilda appears beside Violet and whispers.

"Huh?"

Slap!

Hilda slapped Violet on the cheek and sent her flying again.

"You've let your guard down again." She spoke coldly as she watched Violet, who was buried in the same area.

"BITCH! Stop hitting my face!" Violet yelled angrily.

"Your 'Darling' would be disappointed to see how weak you are right now," Hilda said coldly.

"...Huh...?" Violet's face darkened, her eyes lifeless. Then, slowly, her body began to release a dark red pressure; this was killing intent... She was irritated.

And Hilda saw it.

"That's it, use the anger, our power comes from that anger, but-..." Hilda walked towards Violet with elegant steps.

And slowly, Hilda's image was blurred; it was as if she was drifting in and out of existence.

Violet's fist started to catch fire, and as soon as she punched the air, a massive amount of flames flew towards Hilda!

"Anger out of control is just a waste of power." Hilda's image slowly faded.

"Tsk," Violet realized that the attack didn't touch Hilda, she started using her senses in an attempt to find Hilda.

"Your way of using power is very raw." Violet heard a cold voice behind her.

"!!!"

Violet turns around, and soon she sees Hilda's hand inches away from her face.

Hilda's two fingers began to be covered in fire, "Looks like we have to work on all your control again." She finger-flicked Violet's forehead.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

With one simple move, she managed to create an explosion that sent Violet flying away.

As she looked at her clan heiress, Hilda thought; 'Tsk. Agnes did a sloppy job again. I should have taken over Violet's training when she got home...'

Hilda has noticed Violet's improvement this week, but that's not enough for her since she is a strict woman. So she will not be satisfied with this 'little' improvement.

Hilda visibly sighed. "Hmm?" She looks at her shadow and, seeing the shadow of a man within her shadow, she said:

"Oda?"

"Yes, Lady Hilda" the shadow's mouth moved, and she heard a voice in her head.

"...Go get Lady Violet, and when you finish this work, I want you to get in touch with Kaguya. I want her to come home."

"..." The man was silent, and he seemed to be thinking about something:

"Kaguya was fired from her task by the Snow Clan heiress."

"I know, but she's still part of Clan Snow, she has to go through all the legal processes to get fired from her Maid job. She also needs to find her new co-worker."

"... Yuki, huh."

"Are two maids not overkill?" He can't help but ask.

"...You're asking a lot of questions today, huh?" Hilda spoke.

"I'm just trying to understand, is this man so important to receive a servant from Clan Snow and Clan Blank?"

"I don't know... But that was Lady Agnes's order and Lord Adonis... Initially, she would just be a servant of Clan Snow, but now that Violet has fired her Maid and transferred the right of the master to her husband ...Things just ended up like that..."

Hilda frowned a little; 'For some reason, Lord Adonis is very supportive of Violet's new husband. He seemed very happy that he found a son-in-law. Lady Agnes doesn't seem to like Lady Violet's new husband very much, but in the end, it doesn't matter if Lady Agnes doesn't like it. After all, when Lord Adonis wants something, Lady Agnes will do anything to please him.' She thought.

"..." Oda didn't know what to say; he just kept thinking about what he heard.

"Finished with the questions? Now go do your job."

"Yes!"

...

Human world. Outside Queens.

On top of a building, a white-haired man was sitting on the balcony while drinking a bottle of tequila.

As he stared up at the starry sky, he was thinking about Jessica.

"I fucked up," He knew he'd screwed up, he was aware of it, but he couldn't apologize.

"Whatever. I'll think about this problem in the future." He took a sip of tequila

"This is not what I expected from our meeting, my son."

Johnny's whole body shivered when he heard the sudden voice behind him, he was startled! Johnny turned and looked at the visitor who was standing on top of a water tank.

"You keep doing this, huh? Can't you show up in the normal way, Old Man?"

"Normal?" Adam put on a confused face, "I'm just an ordinary professor working at an ordinary university. I'm the most normal person you'll ever meet, my Son."

"Yeah yeah, whatever." Johnny turned and took another sip of tequila.

Adam jumped slightly and landed next to Johnny. He sniffs the air and soon displays a face of disgust, "Wolf, human, Vampire, and Witches."

"Looks like you're still the same. You can't control where you put your dick, huh?"

"Yes, you know how things are. I'm just like you."

"...I've never slept with a human or a witch, and especially with leeches."

"Hey, you're wrong on the last one; I haven't slept with her yet." Johnny rolled his eyes.

"Yet, huh?" Adam's eyes sparkled for a few seconds. He clearly didn't like that answer, but as soon as he felt disappointment, he decided not to poke his nose in this matter, and he just started stroking his mustache. A habit he always does when he's thinking about something.

And, Johnny knew about that habit. He waited for his dad to finish thinking and took another sip of tequila. "Damit, this is good."

"Well, whatever. As long as you don't have a child with these women, I won't mind too much... And you wouldn't listen to me anyway."

"Hey, glad you know that." Johnny chuckled.

"...And to think you're my heir... If the king discovers that..." Then, just imagining his Alpha's disappointed face, Adam's feeling of disappointment grows; 'Well, I still have Edward, even though his mother doesn't have the best genes, he's still my son...'

'Ugh, my son who has the most potential is a drunk who can't control which hole he wants to put his dick in... And my youngest son is a good kid who listens to me, but he's weak... what have I done to deserve this?'

Adam also had his problems...

"Fuck-" Johnny was going to talk bad about the king, but he stopped when he felt a huge pressure seeping from Adam's body.

"Don't you dare continue," He spoke with a growl as his teeth shifted, and his face took on a more animalistic shape, "Even if you are my son, I will not tolerate offense to the king"

"..." Johnny swallowed hard and turned away.

Adam continued watching his son for a few seconds, but soon he relaxed his expression:

"Let's talk." Adam approaches the balcony.

"I heard that my sister is in love with a leech" Johnny ignored what his father said and spoke.

Crack!

"H-Heh..." He broke the concrete with his grip; he didn't expect to hear that. 'Calm down... My daughter has no interest in a leech, she wouldn't dare lie to me!'

"Where did you get this information?"

"The Lost Club."

"Madam contacts, huh?" Adam's eyes glittered menacingly, and he thinks; 'If that's true, then it's that woman who investigated Victor... Maybe this information could be true.'

"Oh? I never thought someone of your status would visit that place."

"Hah! Fool, don't you know what kind of place that is? Have your senses gone numb?"

"???" Johnny was confused by his father's reaction.

"Stupid son, that place is a haven for lone wolves. Madam is a witch, but at the same time, she is considered an 'Alpha' by the wolves."

Adam purposely didn't mention that Madam also houses witches who are tired of living in the witch nation.

"... Heh, that old woman is that important, huh?"

"..." Adam didn't say anything, but soon he changed the subject:

"Ignoring my daughter's love issues..." Adam sighed.

"What did you want?"

"You're being hunted," Johnny spoke simply, then took another sip of tequila.

"Hah! Do you think I don't know? Boy, who do you think you're talking to?"

"Oh? Tell me."

"The Horseman Clan, right? Those fucking twins think they can threaten my family, and I won't know?" Adam spoke in contempt.

Then he continues, "If you came to talk to me, then you must have gotten this information from that disgusting leech."

Crack!

Johnny broke the tequila bottle with his grip.

"Don't talk about her like that." He growled.

"What a waste~" Adam totally ignored his son's threat.

Adam looks at his son, and his eyes sparkled intensely, "Before you threaten your father, you must first be prepared to follow through with your threat."

Johnny turned his face away. He wasn't going to fight his father since he knew he was going to lose; it was a futile fight.

Adam shakes his head in disappointment, then he turns around, "Coward, if it were someone else I know, he would have jumped on me and fought, regardless of whether he was going to lose or not..."

"In a way, he's more wolf than you."

"He seems to be crazy, this person you talked about." Johnny wasn't offended; it's been a long time since he stopped caring what his father told him.

"Indeed...He's crazy, but at the same time, he's not a coward. He would fight me just because I offended his wife. Even though he knew he would lose, he would fight anyway, and he would probably evolve in battle and have fun fighting. That's the kind of man he is."

Adam turns his face and looks at Johnny, and then he flashes a small smile on his face:

"Like I said, he's more wolf than you, despite being a leech." Soon Adam disappears.

Johnny looks at the full moon. His eyes were shining brightly; he wouldn't deny it, hearing his father talking like that about someone else affected him a little:

"...Heh, I wonder who this man is."

Chapter18 Chapter 64: Do you want it?

Lucy base.

"Are you happy now, Karen?" Lucy spoke with a calm face.

"Yeah yeah." Though Karen's face was smiling, veins throbbing in her head could be seen.

"Nice job hiring a mercenary to do an important task... Wow, good job! You really are a genius! Einstein would be embarrassed to know that there is anyone with such a large amount of IQ." She started to clap her hands.

"...You don't need to talk like that. Johnny is trustworthy."

A vein popped in Karen's head, she hits the table with a crash and screams:

"IN WHICH WORLD IS A MERCENARY TRUSTWORTHY!?"

"..." Lucy puts his hand to his ear. Her voice was so loud that his senses were overwhelmed for a few seconds.

"Take easy, Take easy, Karen. Johnny is trustworthy; I can promise you that. I've worked with him a few times, and he won't say anything."

"..." Karen was almost bursting with rage again.

Sigh!

She sighs and looks at Lucy with cold eyes.

"You know what? I'm done!" Karen left the office.

"Huh?"

"W-Wait! What will you do!?" Lucy got up from his chair and ran after Karen.

"I will speed up the ritual. We have all the necessary ingredients, and the only thing left that we need is the blood of a noble vampire," She takes a vial of blood and shows it to Lucy.

"And I already have that ingredient."

"But what about me?"

"Fuck you," Karen held up her middle finger at Lucy,

"You never listen to me! Just get another vial of noble vampire blood." Karen's instincts were tingling like crazy, she had a feeling that if she didn't rush the ritual, she would never be able to complete what she wanted so badly.

"Eh?" Lucy didn't expect this answer; he puts a hand on his chin; 'I pissed her off that much?'

"Boss!" A vampire ran beside Lucy.

"What?" Lucy looked at his subordinate.

"They are here! The noble vampires!"

"...Huh...?" Lucy's face went paler than should be possible for a vampire.

...

Looking at a coffin that was covered in blood, Karen picks up the vial and pours the contents of the vial into the coffin.

When the contents inside the vial fell into the bloody coffin, the magic circle under the coffin began to glow crimson red. Seeing this, Karen said, "Sucess."

Soon she starts to undress, and after taking off her clothes and becoming the way she came into the world, she enters the coffin:

"With this, I will be reborn." She lies down in the blood and closes the coffin.

The moment she closed the coffin, the magic circle grew and covered the entire room, and soon the crimson light that was emanating from the magic circle grew stronger. If anyone entered the room, they wouldn't be able to see anything because of the light that was entirely blurring their vision.

...

Lucy was walking briskly along his base, "This is too soon! This is too soon! This is too soon! That wasn't the deal!"

"Where are they!?" He yelled as he opened the hall door.

"Kakakaka, Hello, Lucy~" Lucy looked at the man.

He had messy black hair, pale skin, red eyes, and a creepy smiling expression on his face; the first impression Lucy had of this man was that he had several screws loose in his head...

"Einer Horseman, you're early."

"Yeah~, my twin brother and I were looking forward to coming to the human world, you know?" He started laughing again as if he found something funny.

"He doesn't seem to be anxious," Lucy said, and then he looked at the other man who was sitting on the couch while drinking blood from a teacup.

Like Einer, this man looked similar to the younger twin, the only difference being that he dressed more politely, and his hair was straight.

Bright blood-red eyes, pale skin, shoulder-length straight black hair, and an expression that showed disinterest in everything.

He was a man who had impeccable noble etiquette, but at the same time, he seemed to be dead inside. That was Lucy's impression of this man.

"Zwei Horseman..." Lucy didn't know what to say, unlike the younger brother who was easy to talk to, this man was simply impossible to understand what he was thinking.

The man looks at Lucy and nods, "Hello," He spoke in a dry tone, then he turned his face and started drinking his tea.

"Kakakaka, ignore my brother, you know how he is, it may not look like it, but he's anxious, right?" Einer appears beside Zwei and forces a smile on his face, "See?"

"..." Lucy didn't know how to react when he saw Zwei's blank expression.

Einer lets go of his brother's face, "Let's talk business..."

Everyone could feel a little pressure coming from underground.

"Oh?" Einer displayed a curious face.

"Below," Zwei spoke and drank the tea again; he didn't look interested.

"Looks like you guys rushed through the ritual," Einer spoke with the same goofy grin on his face.

"My partner was anxious, and she decided to rush the ritual." Lucy tried to comment indifferently.

But Einer realized that Lucy was holding himself back from going underground.

"Kakakaka, let's go down. I want to see the results."

"Okay," Lucy nodded since he was also curious.

Zwei got up from the couch and started walking ahead.

"Hmmmhmmm~" Einer approached his brother and started making sounds like he was singing a song.

...

Karen opened the coffin and left, she quickly started checking her body, but she immediately noticed something important, nothing changed!

"What happened!?" She was trying to figure out what went wrong, she was so focused on her thoughts that she didn't notice someone approaching her.

"Kakakaka, are you disappointed~? Nee, Nee. Are you disappointed?"

"!!!" Unconsciously, she made a fist and attacked the man's face.

But her fist was held by another man:

"Stronger," Zwei spoke.

"Yeah yeah. She got stronger~" Einer just laughed at everything.

"Did the ritual work!?" Lucy asked as he looked quite anxious.

"I don't know...-" She started to speak but was interrupted.

"The ritual failed~" Einer chuckled.

"Impossible. We did everything right." Lucy couldn't believe it.

He looked at both of them with the same smile on his face and said:

"Didn't you think it was too easy? Steal a sacred artifact from the church, ask a witch to perform a ritual, fill the coffin with the blood of the innocents, and use the blood of a random noble vampire, then you put all those ingredients in the blender, and Boom! You become a noble vampire?"

"..." The two were silent, now that they thought about it, was it really that easy to change races?

"Right? Of course, it's not easy. Are you underestimating the noble vampires?" With the same silly smile on his face, he spoke in a serious voice:

"You might be called 'vampires', but you're not the real vampires. We are totally different species, and you are a subspecies of us, a flaw, a product that was created only for use as a weapon... You are no better than the Ghouls."

"..." Lucy and Karen clench their fists tightly.

"...But~" He returned to the playful voice, "You were successful this time."

"Huh?"

"The ritual was correct. After all, you got a little stronger, right?"

"But you didn't get reborn because the main ingredient was missing."

Einer claps his hands, and soon a tall man appears beside the twins holding a briefcase in his hand.

"!!!" When did he get here? Karen and Lucy thought.

"The ritual to become a noble vampire is easy, but getting the last ingredient is an impossible task." He opens the briefcase, and soon everyone can see a small vial of blood.

"!!!" By the time he opens the briefcase, Karen and Lucy's throats are starting to go dry, they are looking at the bottle with thirsty eyes, but there is also a bit of fear in their eyes.

They were afraid of a small vial of blood!

"T-That is..." Lucy stammered, he didn't know what that blood was, but one thing he was sure of, he needed that blood!

"T-This blood..." Karen was thinking the same thing as Lucy.

Einer took the bottle out and showed it to them: "The blood of the king... It's not the blood of his descendants, it's not the blood of his wives, it's his blood. The king's blood. The Progenitor, the strongest creature on Earth, the being that has been walking this earth for over 5000 years... That's the last ingredient."

"Do you want~?"

"We want it~" Lucy and Karen reached out and reached for the bottle.

"Do you really want it?" He kept smiling as if he was luring two little rabbits into a trap,

"Yes, we want it."

BAAAAAAM!

He slammed the case closed with a loud bang!

"But I refuse!"

"..."

"KAKAKAKAKAKAKA" Einer started laughing madly, and he looked like he was enjoying himself.

Chapter19 Chapter 65: Changes.

Six months later.

Around the coliseum.

A woman with long white hair, light blue eyes, and pale skin was looking at the coliseum, which was in a degraded state.

She was wearing a modern Maid dress:

"Finally, that creepy killing intent has disappeared," She circles around the coliseum and focuses her attention on the structures:

"Amazing~... How did they manage to destroy this structure? I see several high damage resistance magic enchantments around, and yet the structure has been compromised." She spoke in a beautiful voice that sounded like the voice of an angel.

"Tsk,"

She puts her hand on her chin, "Hmm... I think it should be time anytime now."

"Tsk,"

"..." The woman looks to the side and sees a Maid with oriental features.

"What-" She was going to say something but couldn't because the Maid turned her face away.

"Tsk,"

"..." The woman was speechless.

"Can you at least try to hide your annoyance?"

"...Hmm? I feel like I heard an insect talking to me... Of course, it must be my imagination. After all, insects don't have intelligence." The Maid spoke as she looked around.

"..." The woman's expression started to look like an annoyed squirrel, but quickly her expression changed to a 'cool' expression.

"...Kaguya, don't be a child. I didn't want this job either, but I was given orders and, I must follow them."

"..." Kaguya looks at the woman for the first time.

"...You're right, Yuki. Sorry for my inappropriate behavior." Kaguya apologized.

"So, are we okay?" Yuki smiled gently.

"Hell no." Kaguya displayed a professional smile.

"..." Yuki's smile broke.

"Oh? Kaguya and...who are you?" Sasha appeared along with Ruby, Siena, Pepper, Maria, and Lacus.

Kaguya looks at Ruby and Sasha; 'I don't see or feel any drastic changes... Didn't they train?' She thought.

"White hair, blue eyes, dressed as a maid, and accompanied by Kaguya," Pepper spoke.

Suddenly, she made a water microphone and pointed at Ruby, "The answer is?"

"The Snow Clan"

"Papaparun, correct answer~!" Pepper laughed.

"Your reward is all the One Piece volumes!"

Ruby's eyes lit up, "Everything?"

"EVERYTHING!" Pepper yelled.

"That is a good deal..."

"..." Everyone ignored Ruby and Pepper's jokes; they were used to it. Except for Yuki, who was startled by Pepper's sudden scream.

Kaguya looks at Yuki, "She's not following me. She's just existing next to me." Then she turned her face away.

"..." Ruby and Sasha, who knew Kaguya the most, were speechless.

"What did you do to make her react like that?" Sasha asked curiously.

"Tell me if you ever find out," Yuki spoke with a small sigh at the end.

"Who are you?" Ruby asked.

"Eh? But we already know she's a Snow Clan Maid—." Pepper started to talk, but Lacus covered her mouth. "Hmmmhmmm?" She produced indecipherable sounds.

Yuki bowed with traditional Maid etiquette and said:

"At the order of Countess Agnes Snow and Count Adonis Snow, I came here to serve my new master Lord Victor Walker."

Ruby and Sasha opened their eyes a little in surprise; they didn't expect this.

"Tsk," Kaguya was annoyed again.

She returns to her normal position and says, "My name is Yuki Snow. Nice to meet you."

"Nice to meet you!" Pepper approached Yuki and took her hands.

"... Eh?" Yuki didn't expect this sudden intimate contact.

Pepper started bombarding Yuki with questions. But, unfortunately, Yuki was so surprised that she couldn't answer any questions.

Sasha looked at Ruby for a few seconds, and then she nodded at Ruby like she was trying to say something.

Understanding what Sasha implied, Ruby decided to keep an eye on Yuki. For Ruby, the action of sending a Snow Clan Maid, who was the Main Clan, was quite suspicious; she was thinking that Yuki was sent to watch Victor.

Which would make sense, after all, their only heiress had married a stranger; 'Violet's clan must know about Victor, but they must not have cared at first. They must have been thinking that Victor would just be Violet's 'food', but suddenly, this food turned into Violet's husband.' Ruby thought.

She was trying to understand why Violet's Clan sent a Maid to Victor.

For all of Ruby's intelligence, she could never deduce that Adonis, Violet's father, was quite interested in her daughter's new husband.

"They are coming." Siena, who was leaning against the tree, said. She stopped her work just to see the result of her mother's new 'disciple', although Siena's expectations were low. After all, they only trained for six months.

'In six months, he must have advanced a bit. Maybe he can face Pepper now?' She thought.

Suddenly the coliseum door began to slowly open, and the moment the door was opened, everyone suddenly felt very heavy.

"W-What?" Yuki, who was younger than everyone present, fell to the ground, she felt like her whole body was heavy, and she could feel her instincts screaming danger.

"D-Darling?" Ruby stuttered a little.

"T-This is him?" Sasha couldn't believe what she was seeing.

"I-Impossible..." Siena opened her mouth in shock, she was the strongest of the group along with Lacus, she could see beyond Victor's killing intent; 'Has he improved so much?'

"As expected... He went beyond what I thought." Lacus chuckled a little, she didn't seem affected by Victor's Killing intent. As someone who has trained with Victor briefly, she knows how fast he gets better; to be honest, she felt it was unfair.

'Just for a brief comparison, he completely surpassed Pepper's level... And knowing my mother, she must have taught Victor tricks... So maybe he can fight vampires over 200 years old?'

Thinking that a man who was just 21 years old has already reached Pepper's level of power, Lacus can't help but feel sour.

Kaguya exhibited a small smile when she noticed Victor's progress, she looked at Yuki, who was lying on the ground with sweat running down her body.

"Tsk," Kaguya's shadow covered Yuki.

Although, for some reason, she doesn't like Yuki, Kaguya is still proud as a Maid, and she wouldn't let the new Maid be embarrassed in front of her master.

"T-Thanks," Yuki got up from the floor.

"..."

Maria stared coldly at Victor, who opened the door completely, her body was giving small danger signals, but she ignored everything and concentrated on the man.

He was wearing a full burgundy red suit and, on his hands, he had two white gloves that had a blood-red magic circle etched on top of the glove.

And his back has a purple coat that was draped around his shoulders.

And more importantly, his old blue eyes have completely disappeared, and now his eyes have turned blood-red.

Finishing opening the door fully, he looked at everyone. "Oh?" He displayed a small smile.

"Were you waiting for me?"

Scathach appears behind Victor and looks at the group, she displays a seductive smile, "Heh~, what are you doing?"

"..." Everyone was shocked, but it wasn't because of Victor's appearance but because of Scathach's presence. Did she seem calmer? The old menacing presence that always existed around her had disappeared. And that wasn't all they noticed; there was the obvious change in her eye color.

The old blood-red eyes that showed she was always hungry disappeared and were replaced by an emerald green just like Ruby's.

Scathach's green eyes look at everyone present, and then focus on Yuki, she looks at Victor:

"Victor! Stupid! Control your instinct!"

"Oh, I forgot," he scratched his cheek a little. Suddenly all the menacing pressure coming out of Victor's body disappeared.

Sigh!

Yuki sighed in relief, and then she started watching Victor. 'This is my new master...?' She didn't know how to feel.

"M-M-Mother, your eyes," Ruby pointed with her hand that was shaking like crazy.

"W-what-" Sasha was going to say something, but suddenly Siena yelled:

"What happened in that coliseum!?"

"Heh, did you guys notice?" Scathach smiled.

"It's obvious!" Lacus and Pepper yelled.

"Hmm," Victor takes a step, then suddenly disappears, soon he appears beside Sasha and Ruby:

"I miss you," Soon, he hugs the two.

"!!!" Ruby and Sasha immediately hugged Victor.

"Darling~"

"Husband!"

The two hugged Victor tighter.

They couldn't deny they were lovesick too.

"!?" Lacus, who observed what Victor did, immediately understood what he did. "Th-that's my technique!" She inadvertently bit her tongue.

"Mother!?" Lacus looked to her mother for answers.

"Hahaha~." Scathach didn't say anything, she just laughed sensually.

"Do not laugh!" Siena screamed.

"Oh? Have you grown up enough to try to boss me around?" Scathach's eyes changed to blood-red, and her pressure changed to something more menacing.

"!!!" Siena recoiled, "Sorry-"

"Hahaha," Scathach chuckled, she looked at her daughter with emerald green eyes, "I'm kidding" The pressure disappeared as if it hadn't existed.

"..." Lacus, Pepper, and Siena didn't know how to react.

Their mother playing? Is the sun rising in this world where night is eternal? Maybe the vampire king got gender-bent?

The three sisters looked at Victor, and they wondered, what in the name of the seven hells happened in that coliseum!?

Their mother didn't seem willing to say anything, and they know the minor threat she made to Siena was a warning not to meddle too much.

"How are you? Are you okay? Did you sleep well? Did someone mistreat you? Oh! You must be thirsty!" Victor looked more like a mother than a husband...

"D-Darling, we're fine. Stop undressing!" Ruby quickly said when she saw that Victor started taking off his suit.

"Y-Yeah, we can control our bloodlust." Sasha quickly grabbed Victor's hands.

"Oh," For some reason, he looked disappointed.

"But you are still thirsty, right?" He displayed a loving smile.

"..." They couldn't deny what he said.

"Okay, when we get back, I'll be your 'meal'" He spoke with a teasing smile.

"..." Ruby and Sasha's faces turned a little red, but they wouldn't deny that they had high expectations, especially since it had been a while since they had drunk his blood.

"Hmm?"

Victor looks at a white-haired woman standing next to Kaguya, then he takes a step and disappears again.

"Who are you?" He appeared beside the woman.

The woman's body shivered all over, "Ughyaaa!" The woman screamed in a cute voice.

She quickly looks to the side and sees Victor's eyes.

"Hmm, white hair, blue eyes, wearing Maid's uniform," He started walking around Yuki as if he was sizing her up.

"..." For some reason, Yuki felt a little nervous.

He stopped in front of Yuki, "Violet's Maid, huh?"

Yuki raised her head a little; after all, Victor was very tall, "...W-Wrong..." she stuttered a little as she looked into Victor's red eyes.

"Oh?" He exhibited a small smile and lightly touched Yuki's chin:

"Tell me, who are you?"

"I- I..." Yuki's face turned completely red, she wasn't used to having so much intimate contact.

"You?"

"I'm your maid!" For some reason, she found it difficult to speak that sentence.

"My maid?"

Chapter20 Chapter 66: Something happens!

"My Maid?" Victor displayed a confused face.

"Yes"

"Hmmm," Victor puts his hand to his chin as if he's thinking.

"Kaguya," He called in an orderly tone.

Kaguya approached Victor, "Yes, lord Vic-"

She stopped talking when she felt Victor stroking her head, she felt goosebumps all over her body for a moment.

"What do you think about this?" He asked.

He looks at Kaguya's black hair and nods, satisfied. He was missing this, and Scathach wouldn't let him stroke her head.

"...It doesn't matter to me, and it was Lady Violet's parents' order. I don't have much of an opinion on the matter," Kaguya said.

"..." Yuki almost put on an angry squirrel face, but she managed to control herself and keep her poker face.

"Heh~" Victor displayed an unreadable smile.

"Lord Victor, you may not know, but I am also your personal maid now."

"Lady Violet fired me and transferred the master rights to you... But, first, we need to talk about my salary and what kind of contract we're going to make."

"Oh? But I can't pay you, you know." He chuckled.

"..." She nodded in agreement.

"As expected, I'm going to have to fire you."

"!!!" Kaguya's entire body shook.

"Maybe in the future, I'll hire you as my Maid, but now, I'm broke~."

Victor stopped stroking Kaguya's head and slowly backed away.

"W-Wait..."

"Hmm?" He looked at Kaguya, who held his suit.

"You can take out a loan, and, in the future, when you earn money, you can pay me back."

He flashed a smile, "Are you sure?"

"Y-Yes" She stuttered a little, she was thinking about her vacation, but when she remembered that the sacrifice was for the greater good, she didn't care! It's for the greater good, after all!

"HAHAHA," Victor laughed happily, then he lifted Kaguya and looked her in the eyes, "You can't go back now."

Looking into Victor's blood-red eyes, Kaguya sighed and thought; 'Whatever'. Strangely, she no longer cared.

"Put me down, please..."

"Of course."

"..." Sasha and Ruby were staring at Victor with a deadly glare:

"Why is he acting like this? Is it unconscious?" Ruby spoke coldly, the air around her cooling rapidly.

"Is he becoming a Playboy?" Sasha whispered in a dangerous voice.

Scathach appears behind Sasha and Ruby, she wraps her arm around Sasha and Ruby:

"Yeah, he might not realize it, but he instinctively knows how to act with women. When I questioned him about it, he said his mom taught him about women."

"Anna..." Ruby sighed.

"Well, she seems to be that kind of mother." Sasha sighed at the end.

"I will visit her in the future, she seems to be interesting," Scathach flashed a smile.

"!!!" Ruby turns her face to her mother, and, looking into her mother's emerald green eyes, she says, "Why this sudden interest in my Darling's family?"

The corners of Scathach's mouth turned up a little, "Can't I be interested in my disciple's parents?"

"..." Ruby didn't know how to respond.

"Yes, you can. But don't get too close to him!" Sasha growled, and slaps Scathach's hand, then she walks closer to Victor.

"Kakakakaka, she's jealous~"

"Mother..." Ruby looked at her mother.

"Don't look at me like that, my daughter, you're going to make a hole in my head with your gaze~."

"You-." Ruby was about to say something, but suddenly everyone could hear a loud scream.

"DARLING!!"

"..." Yuki, Maria, and Siena put their hands over their ears.

"Ugh," Pepper covers her ears, "How does her throat work? Does she have a superpower that raises the volume of her voice or something?"

Victor quickly looked up at the sky, then his smile grew, and he pulled away from everyone and opened his arms.

Everyone looked to where Victor was looking, and they could see a beam of fire in the air.

"She's flying... That's so cool!" Pepper's eyes sparkled.

"Heh~, she finally got better, that stupid girl," Scathach chuckled.

Violet started to descend at high speed towards Victor, and soon a small Violet-shaped meteor hits Victor!

"..." Everyone expected a big explosion to happen, but unexpectedly, before Violet touched Victor, her power completely disappeared.

"Darling~! Darling~! Darling~!"

"She has improved in her power control," Ruby praised.

"Violet~" Victor hugged Violet tighter. "How are you? Are you okay!"

"Nooo~ I'm not fine; I need my vitamin V!"

"Vitamin V?" he asked, confused.

"Shh," She puts her finger to Victor's lips, "I'm reloading now" then she hugs him tighter.

Victor smiled lovingly, and soon he started stroking Violet's head.

While Victor and Violet were in their world.

Luna suddenly appeared, "Lady Scathach, you are late! The game starts in three days, we were supposed to be in—" She was going to say something, but when she looked at Victor, she was speechless.

"...He got stronger."

"Oh, the game, huh? I totally forgot about it," Scathach said.

"Let's go. We need to go to the capital." Scathach started walking towards her mansion.

When Luna looked at Scathach, she was speechless again, she hadn't realized it because she was in a hurry, but her eyes weren't red anymore...

'What happened in that coliseum?' She thought inwardly.

Scathach has stopped walking and looks back, "Aren't you coming?"

"..." The women look at each other and nod.

...

On the walk back home, a strange situation was happening. Victor was walking with Violet sitting on his shoulder, and beside him were Ruby and Sasha, and a little further back were Yuki, Kaguya, Maria, and Luna.

"...I didn't expect this," Yuki commented in disbelief.

"What?" Maria asked.

"..." Kaguya and Luna were a little surprised to hear Maria speak, but they didn't convey that surprise on their faces.

"I didn't know my master was married to the three flowers of the vampire world!"

"Three flowers? What is this weird title?"

"The four flowers of the vampire world is a title given by all-male vampires, the title speaks of Ruby, Sasha, and Violet, along with the youngest daughter of the king who was born with supernatural beauty even to vampires."

"Oh..." She understood now.

"So you're surprised he's married to three of the four flowers in the vampire world."

"Yes," Yuki replied.

"Hmm," Maria looks at Victor, who was carrying Violet on his shoulders, seeing him laughing and happily chatting with his wives.

She adjusts her glasses and speaks with a serious expression, "I have a feeling that if he meets the daughter of the king of vampires, they will end up together."

"..." The three Maid were surprised by this bold statement.

"Impossible," Kaguya immediately spoke.

"Oh? Why?" Maria asked.

"Lord Victor is a faithful man, and he won't run after other women if he already has three wives."

"..." Maria, Luna, and Yuki looked blankly at Kaguya.

"What?"

"Didn't you realize you were flirting with him a few minutes ago?" Maria spoke.

"...That's not flirting."

"Hmm? What is it then?" Yuki asked.

"This is... A form of thanks...Yes, this is a form of thanks. After all, I'm a hardworking Maid!"

The three Maid rolled their eyes.

"Believe me, he can treat me like that, but he doesn't have any hidden desires. It's just the way he is; he's a caring man."

"..." The three were silent and decided not to prolong the conversation. They knew it would be useless to say something now, and also because they realized they were getting close to the mansion.

...

"Before we go, Victor and I should take a decent shower." They had a bath in the coliseum, but they were very simplified, and the bathroom was created with that intention because, in training, luxuries are not allowed.

"Yeah, you're right, Scathach," Victor agreed, and he started walking in a random direction. Did he know the location of the bathroom? Of course not, but he didn't need to know the location of the bathroom. After all, he knew that he would eventually find one of the bathrooms in this gigantic mansion.

"Let's go."

Scathach nodded and followed Victor.

"WAIT!" Violet, Ruby, and Sasha yelled simultaneously, then they disappeared and appeared in front of Victor and Scathach.

"What?" Victor and Scathach asked at the same time.

"Are you guys going to take a shower together!?" Ruby yelled.

"Yeah...?" Victor turned his head a little confused.

"And don't you realize this situation is weird!? For God's sake, she's my mother! She is your mother-in-law!"

"Oh... Now that you say it's true." Victor nodded.

"Master, you are my mother-in-law." He looked at Scathach and spoke with shock visible on his face.

"Yeah, did you forget?" She smiled seductively.

"Well, I was busier trying to survive," Just remembering that he had every part of his body taken out in grotesque ways made his body shudders a little. He's not going to lie and say he's not a little traumatized by the training that he went through, but... As time went by, he got used to it, and the pain became tolerable.

If Scathach asked him to train again, would he go?

Of course, yes! He liked to train with her, and he also loved the sense of progress. The feeling of growing stronger was something very addictive.

"..." The three wives were speechless.

"Wait... From the way you're reacting like everything is normal, don't tell me you guys have already done this!?" Sasha yelled.

"Yes. I was beaten every day in a lot of different ways, and it was Scathach who carried me to the bathroom." Victor nodded.

"..."

Violet's body began to release a dark, distorted pressure, her eyes turned dark, and she looked at Scathach.

"What?" She smiled teasingly.

Before Violet did something stupid, Ruby quickly held her up like a sack of potatoes.

"Put me down." She spoke in a distorted voice.

Ruby ignored Violet and looked at her mother,

"Darling, go shower with us! You're going to shower alone!"

"Hmm? Hell no! I'll do what I want, and you can come with us."

"H-Huuh? M-Mother!?" Ruby didn't believe what she heard.

"What?"

"..." Realizing that this is not going anywhere, Victor said:

"Hmm, I'm taking a shower; follow me if you want. Now give me Violet." He approached Ruby and picked up Violet, and carried her like a princess.

Violet quickly hugs Victor's neck and glares at Scathach menacingly.

Soon, he walked in a random direction.

"..." The people around were speechless when they saw Victor treating Violet like a teddy bear.

"Well, let's go?" Scathach soon followed Victor.

"..." Sasha and Ruby still couldn't believe what they were seeing.

"Wait!" The two shouted in unison and followed Victor.

Ruby and Sasha weren't alone. Everyone who knew Scathach's personality enough to tell what kind of person she was, weren't believing what they were seeing either.

Only one question remained in these people's minds.

What happened in that damn coliseum!?

Chapter21 Chapter 67: A weird situation indeed.

In an unnecessarily large, luxurious bathroom, Victor, Violet, Ruby, Sasha, and Scathach were showering the way they came into the world.

"This is weird," Sasha spoke up.

"Scathach, pass me the shampoo," Victor asked.

Scathach, who was in the bathtub, looks to the side, and, seeing the shampoo, she takes it and throws it to Victor.

"Take it"

Victor raises his hand and catches it, "Thanks," then he goes back to washing Violet's hair.

"Hmmm~" Violet didn't want to think about anything right now. Her mind was blank and, she was just enjoying it.

"This is definitely weird!" Sasha yelled.

Victor, who was washing Violet's hair, and Scathach, who was in the bathtub, looked at Sasha and spoke at the same time:

"What?"

"..." Sasha's face turned red with frustration.

"This whole situation is weird!"

"What's is weird, girl?"

"..." Sasha's head seemed to be fanning out in anger.

"The fact that my husband and I are bathing naked next to my mother. That's what's weird." Ruby spoke in a much cooler tone than usual; even the water around her seemed to be creating little blocks of ice.

"Scathach, hand me the soap."

"Take it," She takes the soap and throws it towards Victor.

Victor takes the soap and then starts washing every corner of Violet's body.

"..." Ruby just looked at all this with even colder eyes, she looked at Violet, trying to get some help, but she was speechless when she saw Violet's face that looked like someone who had entered a state of enlightenment.

"You're thinking too much." She heard her mother's voice. She looked at her mother and saw that she leaned against the bathtub and closed her eyes. "Just relax~."

"..." Sasha and Ruby were almost freaking out internally.

"Umu~, I'm done."

Ruby and Sasha looked at Violet and saw her writhing on the floor with a happy expression; they could even see that her eyes were unfocused. To be honest, they were a little scared; Violet seemed to be out of her mind.

"This massage technique is amazing." Victor chuckled.

"Yeah... I know, right?" Scathach exhibited a small smile.

"!!!" Ruby and Sasha couldn't take it anymore and were about to explode in anger and demand an explanation.

"You guys are next," Victor said as he walked towards Ruby and Sasha.

"...Heh?" The two did not know how to react.

"W-Wait," Ruby started to stutter when she saw Victor approaching with that visible thing swaying back and forth as if trying to hypnotize her.

"Y-Yeah, I'm not ready yet," Sasha got up and tried to run away, she didn't want to end up looking like Violet, she was going to die of embarrassment!

"No excuses... And I need to give you my blood too." Victor's eyes flashed a dangerous red.

"..." Ruby and Sasha tried to run away, but it was useless. Victor appeared beside them and then caught the two like they were sacks of potatoes.

"NOOOOOOOOOOO!" The two screamed.

Scathach opens one of her eyes, "What a monster I created... As expected of me," She nodded in satisfaction, then she closed her eyes and relaxed again.

...

"Then? Who are we waiting for?" Victor spoke out loud with a neutral expression on his face. "Shouldn't we be running or something? I heard we're late."

Victor was wearing the outfit he got from Scathach.

"I don't want to run. I just bathed~," Scathach said, she was wearing her usual form-fitting battlesuit.

"We are waiting for my foolish disciple."

"Oh?" Victor was interested.

"Is she strong?"

"Yeah, she is." Scathach flashed a smile.

"Interesting~" Victor approaches Yuki and starts stroking her head.

"...W-Wh" Yuki's face turned red, but she quickly managed to control her expression, "What are you doing, master?"

"Kaguya went out somewhere saying she needed to sort out some contract issues. Scathach won't let me stroke her hair, and my wives are like that... So, in the end, you're left."

"..." Yuki was speechless, 'That was supposed to be an explanation!?'

Speaking of Scathach.

Victor still remembers when he tried to stroke Scathach's hair.

...

"What are you doing, stupid disciple?" Scathach asked with neutral eyes as she looked at Victor, who tried to pat her head.

"I've been trying to relax. It's been two months, you know?" Victor spoke, then he tried to stroke her head again. When his hands would have touched Scathach's hair, the woman disappeared.

"Stupid disciple, are you treating me like a child?" Scathach's red eyes glittered dangerously.

"..." Victor made an expression, "I wish Kaguya were here." He spoke in a sad voice.

"..." Scathach was speechless when she saw Victor's reaction.

"Stop thinking about bullshit," She turned her face and started walking, "Let's take a shower, and then we have to go back to training."

"...." Victor wasn't motivated. He knows that the training she was talking about is him being beaten daily. In the first month, it was fun, but then it just became boring. He wasn't feeling his progress, even though Scathach said several times that he was progressing. But would he stop fighting because of it? Of course not! He likes to fight no matter the season or the time of day... But he just wasn't motivated.

"...If you make a little cut on my body, I'll let you do what you want," Scathach said.

"!!!" Victor's eyes changed to a bright blood red, and his whole body began to give off a dangerous sensation.

"Heh~" Scathach smiled seductively, "You look motivated."

Victor takes his greatsword, "Let's go. I have an important mission to do!" He spoke in a surprisingly serious voice.

"The inquisition is released and, I have to hunt a two thousand year old vampire! All for the greater good! God bless me!" He seemed more motivated than the very hunters who had faced Scathach in the past.

"..." Scathach, a vampire over two thousand years old, didn't know how to react to Victor's strange words at that moment.

...

"Sigh!" Victor sighed.

In the end, he couldn't scratch her body, and he was depressed for a few days.

"What happened to them...?" Pepper asked in curiosity as she looked over at Ruby, Violet, and Sasha, who were sitting back to back with addled faces.

"They seem out of their minds," Lacus spoke.

"Ruby?" Siena appears accompanied by Luna, she approaches Ruby, "Are you alright, sister?" She asked, a little worried.

She called Ruby several times in an attempt to get her sister to respond.

"..." But Ruby didn't answer anything, she seemed to be staring into space.

"They just experienced something I taught Victor." Scathach flashed a mysterious smile.

"It's a technique I learned when I was bored. The technique is a simple massage that relaxes the whole body, and it was a technique used by an Assassin from the past."

"Assassin?" Siena raised an eyebrow.

"Yes. He would kill the victim by massaging them, and when the victim was completely relaxed, he would hang them, a quick and simple job." Scathach nodded to herself, "I learned this technique and improved it. Now, this technique can kill a being simply because the being has become too relaxed and has stopped thinking."

"..." Just what kind of nonsense is this woman talking about? A massage technique that can kill because it makes you stop thinking?

Those were the thoughts of Lacus, Pepper, and Siena.

"Interested? Do you want to try it?" Scathach laughed and pointed to Victor, sitting on the floor with Yuki, who had a completely red face, in his lap.

"Hmm?" Victor looked at the three sisters, then he smiled and gestured with his hand:

"Come and experience the pleasures of a massage that can make you meet the god himself!" He looked like a loan shark offering a shady deal.

"..."

"I humbly decline," Pepper took a step back and hid behind her mother.

"Pass..." Lacus also refused.

"Hmm," Siena's eyes sparkled, she seemed to be interested, she thought; 'A technique created by the mother, maybe I can learn it too?'

"That's it? What a shame." Victor looked sad.

"Oh, they arrived." Scathach looks away.

Everyone looked to where Scathach was looking and saw nothing, they used their vampire senses to their fullest, but still, they couldn't feel anything.

Only Siena and Lacus could feel anything, but even so, it was a considerable distance for them.

Victor focuses his gaze, and soon his world turns blood red:

"What is that?" he asked curiously.

"Huh? Can you see, Victor?"

"Yes," Since he couldn't explain what he was seeing, he decided to keep silent.

"M-Master, please...let go of me..." She was very embarrassed, but it's not like she hated it either; it was a strange feeling...

"Hell no."

"..." Yuki's expression changed to that of a sad squirrel.

After a few minutes of waiting, everyone could hear the sounds of horses and armor in the distance. It was like an army was marching towards them.

"Oh? You're fast~" Victor spoke as he looked at the woman who appeared beside Scathach.

"KaKaKaKa. Did you get to this place from your territory in less than a day? Looks like you and your army didn't fail in training." She laughed contentedly.

"Fue?" Pepper couldn't react to the woman's sudden appearance, she was only startled when she saw a tall woman standing next to her.

She wasn't the only one; Maria, Luna, and Yuki couldn't react either:

"You've gotten stronger, Eleonor... And that's not a good thing." Lacus spoke with a pitying expression.

"Yes." Siena nodded in agreement with Lacus' words.

Eleonor ignored the two women and said, "Master, I'm glad to see you again." As she went to kneel, Scathach grabbed her shoulders.

"Stop. You are a countess now. Never kneel to anyone, especially to I who am in the same status as you." She spoke in a cold voice that shivered all over Eleonor's spine.

"But you aren't just anyone, master..."

"Did you not listen to me?" Scathach's eyes changed to blood red.

"..." Eleonor nods and adjusts her position.

"Good," Scathach nodded in satisfaction, then her eyes changed to sapphire green, which was something Eleonor noticed too.

"M-Master, Y-You eyes," She was stuttering a lot.

"Hmm? Yeah, what about them?"

Before Eleonor could answer anything, everyone could see an army of black knights approaching.

Chapter22 Chapter 68: Countess Eleonor Adrasteia.

Chapter 68: Countess Eleonor Adresteia.

Victor looked at the army with eyes shining with curiosity since it was the first time he had seen something like that.

An army of black knights with black lances bigger than the knights themselves, their appearance was quite menacing, especially with those red eyes gleaming behind the helmet.

"They're all vampires," Victor's smile grew. He got up from the ground and released Yuki, who sighed in relief, and at the same time, felt disappointed for some reason.

He totally ignored the frightening pressure the army was putting out and approached the horses since he was very curious about them.

"These horses, they're not normal." Victor looked at the horses and saw that the horses' eyes were blood red.

Looking around, Victor saw a horse that was riderless, and soon he approached the horse and touched it then he started stroking the horse's head:

"liliiirri, Rilinchin." The horse neighed happily.

"Hehehe, aren't you a good girl? Tell me, you're a good girl." He realized the horse was female.

"liliiirri, Rilinchin!" The horse hit the ground and brought her head closer to Victor.

Eleonor, the horse's owner, seeing this scene from a distance, couldn't help but comment:

"...To think that Chloé would like someone..." She couldn't believe what she was seeing, Chloe never let strangers touch her, and Victor touched her so easily.

"Kakakaka," Scathach laughed in amusement, she was looking at everything with great pleasure; it was like she was waiting for something to happen.

Because of the noise of the army, the wives who were in a new unknown world slowly began to wake up.

"Huh? Who are these Stormtroopers?" Ruby spoke a little groggy.

"They are Countess Eleonor Adrasteia's personal army," Luna replied.

"Eleonor?"

"Hmm," Sasha looks at the tall woman.

She had long flowing white hair, pale skin like all vampires, and bright golden eyes. She was wearing a simple red coat with black gloves on her hands, a simple white shirt that couldn't hide her H-Cup breasts, along with a pair of black jeans that highlighted her big legs.

And what stood out the most about her was that she was a tall woman, she looked almost the same height as Victor, but with the eyes of an expert Maid, like Yuki and Luna, they could tell she was 190 CM tall.

"Eleonor?"

"Hi, Sasha. How are you?" She nodded to Sasha.

"I'm fine, thanks." Sasha stretched.

Violet gets up off the floor and shakes her head a little to get rid of the feeling that her brain is melting:

"Yo, Bitch from the west, how are you?" Violet stretched a little like Sasha.

"...You're still as rude as ever, Violet. And I'm fine, thanks." She spoke with a gentle smile.

"Oh? That's too bad. I thought you were going to die from a random thug someday."

"..." Veins began to pop in Eleonor's head.

"You're still tall as usual, huh? In fact, I think you've grown even more in height... Are you trying to cosplay a giraffe?"

Eleonor's smile threatened to break at any moment.

'Take a deep breath Eleonor, the master is here, the master is here, don't lose control. You know this bitch, she's always like that. It's nothing new'.

"Fue...? Is the earth shaking?" Pepper looked at the ground with a cute face.

"Have you forgotten what Eleonor's power is, Pepper?" Siena looked at her sister.

Pepper looks at Siena with a cute expression, "...Of course I remember! Eto, Eto..." She started to panic.

"Sigh," Siena puts her hand to her head.

"Well, don't blame her so much. Pepper is a bit dumb sometimes." Lacus spoke.

"Yes, she forgets things easily."

"...." Pepper's face threatens to cry at any moment, but suddenly she is hit by a gust of wind in her face. "Fueee!?" She looks to the side and sees Victor swinging a completely black greatsword that was bigger than him, and he was twirling that big sword like it was nothing.

"HAHAHAHAHA," He looked like he was having fun.

"Hey! What are you doing with my sword!?" Eleonor quickly yelled, she walked with quick steps towards Victor, but inside she was a little shocked that he managed to lift all that weight like it was nothing.

"Swinging it?" Victor replied as he turned his face away.

"... That's not what I meant!"

"Oh..." Victor understood the problem, "Can I borrow this horse and sword for a few hours?" He asked with a polite smile while looking very noble.

"liliiirri, Rilinchin" Chloe approached Victor and whinnied as if asking permission too.

"Of course you can't!" She practically screamed, and all her noble looks were gone like leaves in the wind.

"These are my things! Mine! And Chloe, don't pay attention to him!"

"... Tsk." Knowing he was wrong to take other people's things without permission, Victor obediently backed off.

He looks at the horse and strokes the horse's mane, "Don't worry, soon I will save you from this insensitive woman." He spoke like someone who was saying goodbye to a longtime companion.

"liliiirri, Rilinchin." Chloe nodded, and everyone could see small tears in the horse's eyes.

"I know, I know. But, soon, I will save you~."

"HEY! Why am I the villain of the story!" Eleonor stomped on the ground in frustration, she was freaking out!

Victor reluctantly pulls away from Chloe, but soon he feels someone touching his shoulder:

"What do you think you're doing...?" He heard Eleonor's cold voice.

"Huh? But weren't you the one who asked me to get away from Chloe?" He spoke in an innocent voice.

"It's not that! Give me back my sword!"

"Oh"

"Don't give me that 'Oh'! Give it back!"

"...F-Fine, T-Take it."

"...Why does this seem so difficult to you!? Goddammit!"

"... Just take it!" Victor puts down the sword and hands it to Eleonor, and he uses his other hand to cup his face as if covering his crying face.

Eleonor ignores all this and grabs the sword hilt.

"...Ahhh, you did it." Violet suddenly appears beside Eleonor.

"Huh?"

"You made him cry, you made my husband cry... Look what you did," Violet spoke with a sad face.

"..." Eleonor's face changed several times, she gripped the hilt of her sword harder and looked at Violet with a face red from anger, but in the end, she wasn't a bad person. She took a long breath as if she were giving up on something.

"Fine. I will lend it! But for just an hour!"

"Seriously!?" Victor turns his face away and looks at Eleonor with his eyes shining.

"Y-Yeah," Eleonor was taken aback by this sudden change.

"Yes!!" Victor hugged Eleonor.

"W-Wh?" She didn't know how to react to this sudden intimate contact.

Soon Victor separates from Eleonor and approaches Violet.

"I love you, Violet." Victor kisses Violet on the mouth.

"H-huh?" Violet was taken aback as she returned Victor's kiss.

Victor stops kissing Violet and runs into the forest.

"W-Wait, Darling! We need to go to the capital! Don't go too far!"

"Oh," Victor stopped running and stared at the forest as if he was thinking about something.

"Whatever." In the end, he just decided to swing the sword right there.

He positioned himself and brandished the sword!

"Fuuushhh," A gust of wind flew in a straight line and destroyed several trees.

"Hahahaha, this is fun!" Then, he began to practice what he learned from Scathach.

Every time he brandished the sword, powerful gusts of wind were felt throughout the group.

"Oh," Some knights spoke. They looked impressed, although because of their training, they didn't react much.

"Here, take some blood." Ruby appeared beside Eleonor.

"Thanks" Eleonor drank all the blood in one gulp, and somehow, she was feeling better.

"Kakakakaka, I knew something interesting was going to happen when he met you," Scathach chuckled.

"Master, I heard about him a few days ago, and I didn't believe it, but... It's really true." Eleonor looked at Ruby, Sasha, and Violet.

"He actually married them..."

"Yeah. He is also my last disciple."

"Huh? What do you mean, master?"

"Exactly what I mean, I won't teach anyone else for a long time. Six months was just enough to teach him the basics; I need more time to cut this diamond~" Scathach chuckled in amusement.

"..." Scathach's daughters, Victor's wives, and Eleonor didn't know how to react to Scathach's words. Especially Eleonor, since she hoped that her teacher would train her army again.

Siena, Lacus, and Pepper might not look it, but they were freaking out internally. Did he get so strong just learning the 'basics'? Bulshit!

They know that Scathach's teaching standard is very high if she said she only taught the 'basics'. This means that she has completely strengthened Victor's foundation for the future.

Watching Victor brandish the sword, Pepper also noticed something, "He's using my force control technique..."

"Huh?" Siena and Lacus didn't know how to react.

"Mother! Did you teach our techniques to that man!?"

"Yeah~" Scathach spoke like it was no big deal.

"...M-Mother..." Ruby stuttered and didn't know how to react to this knowledge, she knows that learning what the sisters learned was not easy, especially Ruby, who had to go through a long period of torture to learn how to control her power precisely.

"He was like a sponge that soaked up everything I threw at him, and I thought; 'Why not?' I wanted to test how much he could learn... And in the end, he learned all five of the basic techniques."

"As expected from Darling..." Violet was just as happy as if she was the one who had achieved something.

"..." Sasha was silent, she heard about Scathach techniques directly from Ruby's sisters, and she knows how absurd these techniques are.

"Five!? Wasn't it four!?" Lacus asked.

"It's five. I just didn't teach any of you the last one because you weren't ready," Scathach said.

"Just out of curiosity, what is the fifth technique." Pepper raised her hand and asked in a cute voice.

"It's Control... And the prerequisite for learning this technique is learning all four other techniques." She decided to demonstrate since it's easier to show than to explain:

"Victor!"

"What!?" Victor stopped brandishing the sword and looked at Scathach.

"Come here!"

"Okay."

"And return Eleonor's sword!"

"...O-Okay," He replied with a little difficulty.

He looks at the sword as if looking at a friend who has to say goodbye, then after that. He positions himself as if he is about to throw something, then with a small gesture of strength. He throws the sword he was holding towards Eleonor!

"W-Wha," She couldn't believe he threw her sword like that!

Seeing that Violet was going to try to get the sword, she said, "Stop, you're going to get hurt."

"Huh?" Violet stopped walking.

She steps forward and raises her hand, then a loud sound as if a heavy object is colliding with another heavy object is heard, she grabs the sword hilt and holds it comfortably on her shoulder.

Even the ground beneath Eleonor was damaged with a cobweb of cracks.

"..." Just how many kilos does that sword weigh? Those were the thoughts of Violet, Ruby, and Sasha, who were close to Eleonor.

Chapter23 Chapter 69: Countess Eleonor Adrasteia. 2

Seeing the shocked faces of Violet, Sasha, and Ruby, She explained:

"My sword is very heavy, and no ordinary vampire can lift it without the proper training."

"...Why is it so heavy? Doesn't that hurt in a fight against another vampire?" Ruby asked.

"That's because her sword wasn't created to fight other vampires..." Lacus replied.

"..." Eleonor is silent, she can understand that Lacus said this on purpose to pique Ruby's curiosity.

"What do you mean?" Ruby asked.

"..." Lacus didn't answer anything.

"Forget it, Ruby. That's not something you need to know right now." Siena supported her sister.

"..." Ruby was silent.

"Why? Why can't she know?" Sasha asked.

"...Because this is a rule created by the king, only the king, or the leaders of the Count Clan can give that kind of information... The rule is silenced by a magical contract," Violet explained.

"...You seem to know about this, Violet." Ruby looked at Violet with a glint in her eyes.

"Oh? Who told you about it?"

"My Mother."

"...Agnes..." Eleonor sighed.

"Remember, don't overdo it, okay?" Then, hearing Scathach's voice, the group looked toward the woman who was talking to Victor.

Leaving that subject aside, for now, the women decided to watch what Victor was going to do.

"Okay... You don't have to keep repeating it."

"I don't want you to destroy the entire forest! The poor thing already suffers from my daughters and me!"

"...Where did this cheap sentimentality come from out of nowhere? This is not like you... Just hire a witch to revitalize the forest or something."

"I changed, okay? In fact, my head is clearer now..." Then, realizing she was getting off the subject, she said, "Just don't overdo it, and just use the ice!"

"Okay."

Scathach nods with satisfaction.

Eleonor pointed her trembling finger at Scathach:

"... T-This is my master?"

"..." Victor's wives and Scathach's daughters were silent; they also didn't know what was going on.

But one thing they were sure of! They didn't know how to react to this situation!

They weren't used to Scathach reacting so differently!

And Victor's wives aren't enjoying this change at all! Mostly Ruby!

Victor relaxes his body a little and assumes a fighting stance.

"This position... It's the same as mine... No, it's a little different."
Siena analyzed...

The magic symbol on Victor's gloves starts to glow blood red, "Just ice, just ice..." He muttered over and over as if trying to concentrate.

His fist is covered in an ice glove, and with a quick punch that only people like Siena and Scathach could see, he punches the air!

BOOOOM!

The women heard a noise as if the air had been broken, the air pressure was so intense that the forest could not take it and it was torn apart, and there was no tree left to tell the story! And, the effect of the attack is not over.

After the wind pressure was gone, everyone could see that a small part of the forest had turned into a snowy area.

"... V-Victor!" Scathach disappears and appears beside Victor, and then she slaps him on the head, "You overreacted! How am I going to explain anything now?"

"Eh? But I did it right!"

"Huuuh? Where is this correct!?! I told you not to overdo it!"

"I didn't exaggerate! It is the forest that is weak! It's not my fault!"
The two leaned their foreheads against each other and started facing each other as if they were about to fight at any moment.

"...Monster...Master created another monster..." Eleonor spoke.

"This is ridiculous; there's nothing left of the poor forest," Pepper commented.

"..." Siena just looked at Victor with an emotionless face. It looked like she needed to reassess her opinion of him.

"..." Lacus didn't say anything either.

"Hmm, I can do something like that" Violet didn't want to miss it!

"Let me show you!"

"NOO!" Sasha held Violet.

"Violet, just don't try to compete now, okay? We know that with your fire, you can wreak havoc."

"Eh? But..."

"Just no, okay!?" Ruby spoke in a more assertive tone. "I don't want my house to become a deserted place."

"...Just hire a witch," Violet pouted.

"..." Ruby said nothing and stared at Violet.

"Okay, okay." She sighed.

"Ladies... Shouldn't we have left for the capital now?" Luna suddenly reminded everyone.

"Oh," Everyone has completely forgotten about that.

Scathach and Victor move away from each other.

Soon Scathach explains her technique, "Originally, this attack was to freeze everything in a straight line, but Victor put in a lot of force, and because of that, there's nothing left to be frozen."

"This is like a combination of my technique and Pepper's technique," Siena said.

"Yes. Control is the fifth technique. Control focuses on using all four techniques as efficiently as possible. Now, do you understand why I never taught you?"

"Yes, we're not ready yet," Ruby said.

"Yes. Unfortunately, you guys aren't as passionate about training as he is."

She didn't want to discourage their daughters and say that they didn't have the same talent as Victor either. After all, she knows it was because of Victor's blood and mindset that made it possible for him to learn things in such a short time.

If he only had the talent, he wouldn't be so strong in such a short time. The mentality of looking at training as fun made it possible for him to learn things faster since, when someone is having fun learning something, they learn faster; it's common sense.

And she's sure her blood played a big part in his training, though she wasn't going to say it out loud.

"...That's not true, we train-" Pepper was about to protest, but she stopped talking when she heard her mother's voice.

"Lacus lives in her sleep. You live watching cartoons together with Ruby, and I also know you got weaker because you didn't practice what I taught you, and Siena is always busy, and when she's not busy working, she's looking for a husband."

"..." Ruby, Lacus, and Pepper had no way to defend themselves from their mother's words.

But Pepper said something in a low voice, "It's not cartoon... It's anime."

"M-Mother!?" Siena couldn't believe her mother said that out loud.

"Pfft," Victor laughed at the same time as Violet.

"Desperate woman." The two said at the same time.

"You guys..." Siena's eyes flashed blood red.

"We need to go!" Luna screamed again.

"..." Everyone nodded in agreement.

...

"Hahahahaha," Victor was laughing a lot, he was currently riding Chloe, and as a special horse, the speed Chloe was running was very high.

And this was a new experience for Victor. The horse was faster than any car he had ridden in the past, and he felt intoxicated when the wind hit him in the face.

"..." Violet, Ruby, and Sasha just looked at it with a dry look; although Sasha was in the mood to join Victor, she thought it looked fun.

"...Chloe... Why did you abandon me..." Eleonor was looking at Chloe like a woman who had been dumped by another man.

Currently, the group was going to the capital in a luxurious carriage prepared by Eleonor, and in this carriage was Eleonor, Victor, Violet, Ruby, Sasha, and Scathach. Originally, Victor was supposed to be in the carriage with the girls, but when the group left for the capital, he quickly got bored and decided to play with Chloe.

"Now that I've stopped to think about it, what are these horses?" Ruby forgot to ask.

"Oh, they are demonic horses. They live in an isolated area in the West," Eleonor said.

"Why is this name so scary?"

"Well, they're much stronger and tougher than regular horses, so why not?"

"..." Ruby didn't know what to say, she just thought the name a little ugly for such a beautiful creature.

"That's unfair, I tried to ride one of those horses, but I got kicked off." Sasha pouted.

"If it were so easy, my army wouldn't be special!" Eleonor snorted, then she explained, "Riders go through a long period for the horse to get used to their presence; they have to have a brother-sister bond."

"...But what about Darling?" Violet asked in an innocent voice, but Eleonor could have sworn she saw a slight smile on Violet's hateful face.

"..." she decided to be silent, she had no answer to that question... Victor was just very strange...

"Kakakaka, you'll get used to this feeling soon." Scathach laughed, she was leaning against the carriage, she looked very relaxed.

Sigh!

Eleonor just sighed.

In another carriage was the group of Pepper, Siena, Lacus, Maria, and Luna.

"Umumumum," Pepper was making strange noises, "That looks fun..." She looked at Victor with a sharp look.

Like Sasha, she also tried to ride a horse, but she was also kicked off by a horse.

"Just give up. You heard from Eleonor, right? These horses won't let you ride them." Lacus spoke.

"Never! I want to have fun!"

"Don't be spoiled," Siena said.

"But I'm not spoiled! I just want to have fun, and it's unfair that Victor is having fun alone! What about my rights!? I also want to ride a horse and feel the wind in my face!"

"..." Siena rolled her eyes.

Pepper looked back at Victor with a piercing look.

Suddenly, a lightbulb flashed on top of her head, she seemed to have an idea.

"Whatever you're thinking... Just don't do it."

Pepper ignored Siena's voice, "Eyy," as she backed onto the carriage and jumped towards Victor.

"Pepper!?" Lacus and Siena spoke at the same time.

Victor was surprised when he saw a body flying towards him, but he quickly picked up Pepper and placed her in front of him, "What are you doing?" He patted Pepper's head a little.

"..." Pepper's face turned a little red, "I want to have fun too and, it's unfair that you're having fun alone!"

Maria and Luna looked at Pepper, "Lady Violet is not going to like this," They said at the same time.

"Oh?" Victor flashes a small smile as he takes Pepper's hands.

"Heh?"

He opens her hands and makes her hold the horse rope,
"Enjoy~."

"Heh? OHHH!" Pepper looked like a child who was riding a horse with her father.

He looks into Chloe's eyes, and, seeing that the horse is upset, he says, "Just hold on for a few minutes," He spoke in a low voice.

The horse neighs nodding.

"This Bitch... What is she doing!?" Violet freaked out.

"Pepper..." Ruby sighed.

"Kakakakaka," Scathach just chuckled like she was enjoying herself.

"Unfair...I want to try too." Sasha's blue eyes sparkled, then she jumped towards Victor too.

"Even you Sasha!?" Violet couldn't believe what she was seeing, she just thought of something; 'Those bitches! I missed my chance!'

Seeing another body flying towards him, with a gesture of impressive dexterity, he rises from his horse and jumps back in a somersault, then he catches Sasha in midair and puts her behind Pepper.

Soon he falls behind Sasha and grabs her waist.

"Eh?" Sasha didn't understand what happened.

"Fue...? I feel something soft on my back." Pepper muttered.

Chapter24 Chapter 70: King's Capital

They were accompanied On their way to the capital by the personal army of Countess Eleonor Adrasteia.

The group traveled relatively quickly. A trip that could have taken two days of running at a moderate pace was reduced to one day, and, as a consequence, they arrived just before the match between Victoria Rider and the Horseman clan leader happened.

Of course, if they were running, they would have arrived faster, but a comfortable ride is always the best option.

And in a way, Victor had fun riding Chloe, the horse was very fast, and she was very obedient... Honestly, he was actually considering kidnapping Chloe...

But when he thought about it, his conscience quickly hit him hard. He tried his best not to take Scathach's bad habits, but after living six months under the same roof with a woman that has a strong personality like Scathach... Like it or not, he was influenced a little.

After all, they were already similar.

Looking at the capital from a distance, Victor was at a loss for words for the first time.

"...Beautiful, right?" Sasha spoke with a small smile as she looked at Victor's stunned expression.

Victor wakes up from his stupor and, soon, he displays a small smile as he pats Sasha's head, "It's not as beautiful as you..."

"..." Sasha flashed a small satisfied smile and leaned her back against Victor's chest.

"But... indeed, this is a beautiful city," I said as I looked out over the city again.

A smile curls my lips involuntarily. Ahead of me, I saw a city that was even darker than horror movie cities.

Flying bats, and ancient buildings that seemed to have come from early times, even I could feel that, despite being old, their buildings were incredibly resistant.

Despite looking gloomy, the capital was reasonably illuminated by the lights of the houses. In a world where the night never ended, the city had a confused feeling of depression, joy, and especially danger...

Some powerful auras made me feel excited and expectant; 'After training with my mother-in-law, my blood is boiling to experience a decent fight.

Although it's fun to train with Scathach, I still can't compare myself to her, I know I've gotten stronger, but the question I most want to know is; How much stronger did I get compared to other vampires?

How much stronger have I become!? I want to know! I want to have fun! I want to find someone strong to test my limits! I don't know why I'm feeling this overwhelming desire in me, but I don't care! I want to fight!

And something tells me I will find the answer in this capital.

...

"HOLD!" Two guards covered in armored armor yelled; he was holding a spear somewhat resembling Eleonor's army.

"Identify yourself!" they shouted in unison.

Victor looked at the guard with curious eyes, he could also feel several eyes watching him inside the walls, and each one of these guards gave a different sense of pressure. He could instinctively tell that all these guards were strong!

"They are not common guards," Victor whispered with a small smile on his face. His instincts were begging him to fight! But he held back; he knew it wasn't time yet.

"Yes, they're not..." Sasha observed the guard, "They're the king's personal guard, vampires specifically trained to protect the king, and the king's family," Sasha explained.

"I see..." Victor nodded, and then he concentrated on stroking Sasha's head, and, just like that, he could calm his instincts.

"Walter, please," Eleonor said.

Soon one of Eleonor's armed vampire soldiers rides beside Eleonor's carriage, that soldier removes his helmet, and soon the face of an old man is shown:

"Your wish is my command, Countess Eleonor." He spoke respectfully, then walked towards the guard.

"This level of security at the entrance is not common," Ruby, who was inside the carriage, said.

"Oh?" Victor looked at the carriage window.

"Usually, these guards are not at the city gate. They are royal guards, and they just protect the king and the king's family; they are mostly in the king's personal residences... Having so many guards at the entrance to the capital is not a good sign," Ruby explained.

"Kakaka. Don't overthink it, my daughter. The king is just being overprotective of his daughters." Scathach chuckled.

"... They are here?"

"Probably so. After all, that man just goes overboard with security when his daughters are around."

"An overprotective father... He reminds me of someone," Victor thought of his teacher... When thinking about his acquaintances, Victor suddenly felt a sense of longing for his family; 'Are my mom and dad okay?'

He hasn't talked to his family for six months, and he's never been away from his family for so long. 'When I have time, I'll call them.'

"Pepper...I think it's time you got off that horse, right? We've already arrived in town... You too, Sasha." Violet with a 'gentle' smile on her face.

Pepper's body shivered when she heard Violet's voice, "...B-But." She didn't want to get down now, she had a lot of fun, but she still wanted to play more!

"Humpf," Sasha turned her face and leaned into Victor even more!

Veins began to pop in Violet's head when she saw Sasha's attitude.

"Pepper~..." Violet's eyes changed to blood red, and her blood pressure seemed to increase.

"Nooo! I do not want to!" Pepper turned away.

"Stop bullying my sister, don't be jealous. She's not interested in that sort of thing. You know that." Ruby spoke.

"..." Violet didn't want to give up.

"Hahaha. Don't be angry, Violet." Victor displayed a small smile.

Hearing Victor's voice, Violet's eyes changed to violet, and she looked up at him with a pout on her face:

"B-But Darling-" Violet was going to say something, but she stopped talking when she heard Victor's voice again.

"How about this? I'll take you on a date later, just the two of us~."

"!!!" Violet, Ruby, and Sasha's eyes changed to blood red.

Not wanting to miss the chance, Violet said, "You promise!?"

"Yeah, pinky promise." He joked, but his wives knew he was serious.

"G-Good." Violet's body started to shake, and a huge smile threatened to escape her face, but she quickly turned her face away and looked out over the landscape.

Seeing that Victor was silent and didn't mention the two, Ruby and Sasha looked at Victor with intense eyes.

Feeling Ruby and Sasha's gaze boring into his head, he looks at them:

"Don't worry. I haven't forgotten about you." He strokes Sasha's head:

"I'll take Violet first, but I want to have a one-on-one date with each of you." He flashed a loving little smile.

"O-OH..." Even though they wanted a date, they didn't know how to react when he openly spoke those words...

They were happy! But they were also embarrassed!

Women are complicated beings...

"You can come in!" The gate behind the guard began to open:

"The Countess Eleonor's army must remain stationed outside the capital!"

"Walter, deploy the army in my personal mansion outside the capital; that place has enough space."

"Yes, Countess Eleonor," Walter speaks, and soon he starts giving orders to the knights.

"Don't make a mess in the capital, or—" The royal guard would threaten the group.

"Heh, or what?" Scathach shows her face through the window and looks at the guard, then she opens the carriage door and gets out.

Looking at the woman who got out of the carriage and seeing her striking features, he immediately recognized the woman:

"C-C-C-Countess Scathach Scarlett!" They were getting cold under their armor now.

How could they not know this woman? After all, she was the one who trained some of them in the past.

"Tell me, what are you going to do if I decide to blow up the gate?" She had a slight smile on her face.

She looked like she was kidding, but the guards knew not to play with this crazy woman!

"W-Well..." The guard didn't know what to say.

Siena and Lacus, who were seeing this from a distance, said:

"Mother seems to be a little irritated," Lacus.

"Indeed, what happened to make her angry?" Siena.

"Hahahaha, even the king's guards are afraid of you... Just what did you do, Scathach?"

"..." The guards looked at Victor in shock. He just used Scathach's name so informally!? Is he crazy!? He will die!

"I did a lot of things...I don't remember anymore~" she flashed a small smile.

...She didn't do anything!? The guards were freaking out internally.

"As expected of you." He flashed a small smile.

'Just who is this man!?' The guards knew that in the vampire world, there was only one being who could speak to Scathach like that, and that was their king!

They didn't know this man!

In the past, if someone disrespected Scathach, that was reason enough for that vampire to die!

"Well, isn't the gate open? Let's get going?" Victor got off the horse along with Sasha, and he stroked Chloe's mane. The horse neighed happily and a little sadly.

"..." Eleonor looked at it with a jealous look.

Chloe looked at Pepper with a hateful look; after all, this dairy cow was on top of her now!

"...Her mood has improved..." Lacus commented as she looked at her mother, who was entering the capital.

"... Mother." Siena puts her hand to her face and sighs.

After this minor incident happened to the guards at the entrance to the capital, the group soon entered the capital.

But without Victor knowing, a rumor ended up circulating among the guards, and soon that rumor began to slowly spread through the city.

The rumor was simple, "Someone called that red-haired demon informally and survived!"

The initial content of the rumor was this. But as time went by, and the rumor circulated by word of mouth, it turned out that in the end, the rumor was totally distorted, to something like:

"Someone managed to tame that red-haired demon!"

There were versions of the rumor that said something like, "The red-haired devil got a new toy!"

And in the end... No one knew anymore which was the true version of this rumor... But one thing is certain, because of this misunderstanding that Victor unknowingly provoked, he increased his reputation a little with the king's guards.

Chapter25 Chapter 71: King's Capital. 2

"The atmosphere of this place is very different from anything I've experienced..." I spoke in a low voice.

Unlike the territory of Scathach that I didn't explore much, the capital had a very strange climate, the place, despite being well lit, had areas that were totally dark, and, although it looked safe, I could feel danger in the air.

The place was elegant, and at the same time old-fashioned, I could even see several vampires walking the streets in modern clothes...

The capital was a mixture of ancient architecture and inhabitants with modern habits.

The capital was a contradiction in terms; it was chaotic... But at the same time, it was beautiful...

I think this is what happens when vampires create a society? As they are an immortal race, they see no need to change structures and, because of that, there are old structures.

But as they need to live in society, they had to 'modernize' and not get stuck in the past.

It was strange... The city was very strange. I won't deny that fact, but it was interesting...

"What are you looking at? Fuck off!"

Hmm? I look to the side and see Violet threatening some women.

"Tsk. That's why I don't like to go out. These idiots keep looking at me like I'm a rare animal or something." Lacus complained.

I look around and see that several vampires are looking at the group with curious eyes. Still, even though they are watching the girls, the vampires are focusing their attention on Scathach, Eleonor, Violet, Sasha, and Ruby.

And surprisingly, I was attracting the attention of female vampires... That's why Violet was so irritated with women.

"Hey, aren't they?"

"Yes...they are. It looks like they came to see the games too."

"But who is this man?"

I could also see that some men were looking with lecherous eyes at the girls...

They were trying to hide it because they noticed Scathach in the group.

But even though they tried to hide it... I didn't like it... I felt an irritating feeling in my heart; it was as if someone was lusting after something that is mine.

My blood cried out for retaliation!

I start to clap my hands.

When I got their attention, I said:

"Disappointing"

When they meet my gaze, they seem to freeze.

"Is that what vampires are? You can't even be considered noble vampires. You're are just a pitiful mistake of a faulty thing." The best way to deal with vampires is to hit their egos.

"Huuuh? Who are you-" A slicked-up black-haired vampire spoke up.

"Stop. I don't want to hear anything from a dog like you... Wait, calling you a dog is an insult to the dog itself; at least dogs are loyal..."

"You're just a pig..." I display a small smile.

"Oh indeed..." I started to walk towards them, my smile grew, I felt my teeth change and get sharper, I started to slowly clap my hands. Then, slowly, my image starts to get distorted, and an overwhelming killing intent starts to leave my body:

"You are just pigs to be slaughtered by me~."

"Heh~" I heard Scathach's voice.

"W-Wh..." The vampires began to visibly sweat, and I could also see that some had pissed themselves; seeing this sight, my sadistic side begged for more.

Feeling a hand on my shoulder, I looked at whoever touched me and saw my wife, Ruby, "Stop. If you make a fuss here, you won't be able to enter the city again... And we won't be able to have our date."

"Yeah, if it weren't for that, I would have burned those bitches that are looking at you by now." Violet surprisingly supported Ruby.

"...They're right, just forget about it. They're not worth our time," Sasha supported.

Surprisingly, all three seemed to have the same opinion on this matter.

"Tsk, just let him loose." Scathach looked annoyed again.

"Mother... You shouldn't just say that because you're angry-" Pepper tried to say something, but Scathach just looked at her daughter when she wanted her daughter to shut up.

Pepper stopped talking and looked up at the sky as she began to whistle.

Whistle!

"What beautiful weather this is, right? Look at those cloudy clouds!" She started to stroke Chloe's mane with a pout on her cheek, but Chloe didn't seem to be enjoying it.

Hearing my wives' words, I held back my sadistic desires, and looked at the vampires, my eyes gleaming a little for a brief moment:

"Get lost!"

The vampire men's bodies seem paralyzed for a few seconds, and then they assume an attitude of obedience:

"Yes, Master!" They just left the place obediently...

I should have done it from the start, but I wouldn't be satisfied like that...

"..." The female vampires who were seeing this just stared at Victor once more with an interested look. They thought that he was someone important since he was hanging out with several high-status women.

Before Sasha, Ruby, and Violet could say anything, they heard Scathach say:

"What are you waiting for? Fuck off!"

"!!!" The female vampires quickly fled when they felt Scathach's pressure.

After this small incident finished, the group walked towards Scathach's mansion, which was near the arena.

On the way to Scathach's mansion.

Eleonor didn't take her gaze off of Victor. Unlike the other female vampires, she wasn't stupid, she knew something happened when Victor looked at those vampires.

After all, arrogant vampires wouldn't call someone random a 'master' out of nowhere.

Victor felt Eleonor's gaze, and he knew more or less what she was trying to find out, but he didn't care... It also didn't mean he would voluntarily explain what he'd done.

"Eleonor, why are you following us...?" Ruby asked.

"Now that Ruby says that... West Bitch why are you following us? Shoo, Shoo!" Violet spoke.

"..." Eleonor ignored Violet and was silent for a few seconds, then she said:

"Originally, I wanted to ask my master a favor..." She looked at Scathach, who was walking beside her daughters.

"But she said she wouldn't train anyone else for a long time... So I just decided to follow you guys to watch the game, and after the game is over, I'll go back home."

The two girls nodded when they heard Eleonor's motives.

Ruby suddenly remembered something.

"Luna, you can buy some books on the human world."

"By books, do you mean Mangas?" Luna exhibited a small smile.

"..." Ruby was silent and just looked at Luna.

"I want you to buy me something too!" Pepper squealed excitedly.

"I need some things too," Lacus said.

"Eh?" Luna was surprised that suddenly the women started asking her for things.

"I need some new tech gadgets," Siena said.

"Oh, that's a good idea! Buy me a camera too!" Pepper yelled.

"W-Wait! It's a lot; how am I going to bring it all!?"

"..." All women looked at Maria.

"Eh?" Maria was surprised that she suddenly became the focus of attention.

"Put Maria to work too. She's my maid after all," Sasha said.

"Ohhh... Good idea!" Pepper laughed.

"..." Seeing that she had no option in the matter, Maria just sighed.

"I need something too. I'll send my butler to go with you" Eleonor picks up a phone.

"Walter? I need you to come back here."

Violet suddenly said, "Darling~, do you need something?" She looks to the side and suddenly notices something.

"Darling...? He disappeared!"

"Husband?" Sasha looked around

"Don't tell me he got lost?" Pepper somehow thought of a green-haired anime character who kept getting lost in the group.

"He was probably kidnapped," Lacus deduced.

"Impossible... With my mother's current affection, she wouldn't let that happen," Siena said, but everyone in the group could feel a little jealousy coming from her voice.

Scathach ignores Siena's words and says, "If you're looking for Victor, he turned onto a random street a few blocks back; he seemed to be interested in a store."

Ruby sighed, she looked around and also noticed that someone was missing, "Where's Yuki?"

"That girl? She went with him".

"...Well, she's his Personal Maid," Sasha said.

"Indeed. It would be weird if she didn't go with him." Lacus agreed.

"Darl-"

"Don't freak out yet," Ruby spoke before Violet could say anything.

"Eh?" Violet looked shocked at Ruby.

"Don't look at me like that. How long have we known each other?" Ruby rolled her eyes.

"But Darling is gone!"

"Hmm... He's just curious about things around him. He looked like a country kid who came to the big city," Sasha said.

"Yes." Ruby nodded with Sasha, she looked at Violet and continued, "Trust our husband, okay? Just because he got interested in a store doesn't mean he's going to cheat on us with some random woman. He's not that kind of man."

"Indeed. My son-in-law is a faithful man~" Scathach flashed a provocative smile.

"..." The three wives looked neutrally at Scathach.

"What?"

"Nothing." The three spoke at the same time.

They just realized that Scathach was the real enemy here.

...

Victor Side.

Victor was in a suspicious-looking gun shop.

"Looks like I split up..."

"Yes, you split from the group, Master," Yuki spoke.

"..." Victor was silent.

"Well...whatever." He could use his connection at any time to meet the group again.

Victor starts looking around with his eyes shining with curiosity and sees some red daggers:

"Hey, old man. What is this dagger?" He spoke to a young-looking man who was in a tent.

The professional smile almost broke when he heard what Victor said.

"I'm not old."

"You are a vampire, right?"

"Yes"

"How old are you?"

"1645"

"My god..." He made a shocked face, "You are older than many human countries, as expected of an elder."

"..." Veins began to pop in the man's head.

"I am a young adult! Don't call me old!"

"Yeah yeah. But what is this dagger?"

"Listen to me! Damn it!"

Victor exhibited an amused smile when he saw the man's reaction and, although he could feel the man was strong, he didn't care. After all, he could deduce that fights were not allowed in the capital, he looks to one side a little and sees several royal guards patrolling; 'With those guards circling all over the capital, I doubt any madman will cause any kind of trouble.'

Chapter26 Chapter 72: A little girl of few words.

"You didn't answer my question, old man," Victor spoke again.

"This is a dagger of crystallized blood..." He sighed at the end, and it looked like he's given up on something.

"What is it for?"

"To eat."

"Eh?"

"...From your expression of shock at knowing this is something common, I can tell you're a newborn."

"Although..." The man looked at Yuki.

"If you are accompanied by a Snow Clan Maid, then you are someone important..."

Victor flashed a small smile, "You're pretty honest, huh?"

"Living a long time simply makes you become a simple man."

"Hahaha, I believe so."

"What is this store anyway?" He saw several red-colored weapons, and he even had a huge, completely red ax.

Initially, he entered the shop thinking it was a gun shop, but it looks like he was mistaken.

"This is a custom candy store."

"Candy?"

"Yes."

'Isn't that just crystallized blood?' Victor was curious.

He decided to buy to try, "How much is the dagger?"

"It's $300, and we accept debit, credit, and even checks. If you want to use illegal money, we can give you a trustworthy bank account."

"...Dollar?" Victor was genuinely confused. He thought vampires used a kind of currency of their own. He was even a little shocked at the price, but he thinks making daggers with crystallized blood shouldn't be easy.

And Yuki didn't say anything, so he wasn't being fooled... Although it was kind of questionable whether he should trust Yuki in this kind of situation, after all, a rich person's sense of money is quite skewed.

"In the past, we tried to use our own currency, but the economy failed in less than 500 years so, because of that, we used human currency," Yuki explained.

"Oh," Victor was looking at Yuki like she was a walking encyclopedia.

"Master, haven't you studied the basics of our society?"

"Yes, I studied. But what they taught me were just stories about this world, etc. They didn't teach me common sense."

Victor didn't lie. Six months ago, Pepper, Ruby, and Lacus taught Victor the basics of vampire history, but they didn't teach common sense.

And when Victor started training with Scathach, he didn't even think about learning; he just concentrated on getting stronger.

Sigh...

Yuki sighed and asked herself what those women were thinking.

"I will pay in debit." Victor took out a black card that Scathach gave him.

"Okay... But before proceeding with the purchase..." The man looked at the window. "Is that child with you?"

"Huh?" Victor looked where he was looking and saw a child who looked to be about five years old wearing a black goth dress, she had long black hair and violet eyes.

Realizing that Victor noticed her presence, the little girl walks elegantly towards the door and enters the establishment, she walks towards Victor, just when she gets close to Victor, she takes his hand:

"Father"

"..." Victor was speechless.

"W-Wh..." Yuki didn't know how to react.

Victor looked at the young-looking man. "Old man, is this your daughter?"

"My kids aren't that cute." The man denied it.

"..." Victor looked at the little girl again and, seeing her appearance, he had to agree that she looked adorable, even by vampire standards.

"Didn't she just call you dad?"

"Old man, don't talk nonsense. I still haven't tasted the forbidden pleasure."

"Cherry boy, huh?"

"Unexpected, I thought you would be a Playboy."

"What makes you think that?" Victor was speechless.

"Instinct? I felt threatened when you walked into my shop; I thought you were going to steal my wife or something."

"..." Victor.

"..." The old man.

"...P-Playboy." Yuki thought of Victor's wives and his relationship with Scathach, and internally, she couldn't help but agree with the old man's words.

"Father?" The little girl squeezed Victor's hand tighter.

Victor looked at the little girl, and then he knelt down and looked at the little girl in her eyes:

"What's your name?"

"Ophis"

"Ophis?" he questioned.

"Mm," She nodded her head in agreement.

"Why are you calling me father, Ophis?" Victor is absolutely sure he hadn't made such a beautiful daughter.

"Because you are my father...?" She spoke with a cute face.

"..." The old man.

"..." Victor.

"Make sense..."

It makes no sense! The old man wanted to scream at Victor.

"What's your father's name?" He asked.

"Father." She answered.

"..."

"... what's your mother's name?" he asked again.

"I do not know..."

"..." Victor didn't know how to react to the little girl's sad expression.

'Ugh, is she so hard to talk to because she speaks so few words?' He thought to himself.

"Is there someone responsible for you?" he asked.

"... I do not know?" She answered.

"..." Victor sighed.

"Well, Ophis. Do you know the capital?"

"Mm," She nodded.

"Let's take a walk then." Victor's thought was simple, if he walked around with this girl, her guardians would find her; at least, that was the excuse he thought to himself.

He lifts the little girl up and puts her on his shoulder.

"In the end, you decided to stay with her. I don't know if you're a dumb man or a kind man."

"Whatever, old man. That's not your problem, and haven't you noticed how difficult she is to talk to? It will take years to find out who is responsible for it, and I still want to explore the capital."

"...Make sense, just don't get in trouble, boy."

"Impossible"

"Huh?"

"A pretty little girl finds me out of nowhere, and I decided to stay with her for a while. Of course, that's begging for trouble."

"So you are aware of that...?"

"Yeah."

"And why are you taking care of her anyway?"

"Well, it's interesting, right? Why not?"

"..." The old man was speechless.

"Hey, old man. Give me that dagger."

"Give me the card first."

"Okay"

After buying two blood daggers, Victor leaves accompanied by Yuki and Ophis, who was on his shoulder.

A few minutes after Victor left, a woman with long black hair entered the store accompanied by several royal guards:

"Did this little girl come through here?"

Looking at the image in the woman's hand, the old man broke out in a cold sweat, but with years of experience, he managed to keep his poker face.

"Who are you, ma'am?"

"Elizabeth Tepes." She showed the old man a badge she always carries with her.

"..." The old man's whole body shook when he heard the woman's last name.

Realizing he was talking to royalty, he did what every good citizen would do in this situation:

"Yeah, I just saw her go out with a tall man and a Snow Clan Maid."

He denounced Victor to the authorities...

Soon he pointed to where Victor left, and he also gave information about Victor's appearance.

"Good job, your store will be rewarded." The woman turned and left, accompanied by the knights of the royal guard.

Sigh!

The old man sighed. He had nothing against Victor, but that's it, he just met the boy, and he wouldn't risk his neck for a stranger.

Though the old man had a feeling, Victor wouldn't mind.

...

"Master, I think you're overreacting..." Yuki commented, holding back the growing urge to sigh that was building in her heart.

"Eh? But she's so cute!" Victor spoke.

The girl was wearing a black bunny hat that had red eyes, she was holding several crystallized blood candies.

Yuki looked at Ophis, and when she saw the slight smile on the girl's face stoic, she realized she was enjoying what Victor was doing.

'I better not tell this to the master's wives... they're going to freak out.' Yuki thought.

Somehow Victor felt like a father who should spoil his daughter. At first, he just walked around with Ophis sitting on his shoulder, but every now and then, he saw that she was interested in something, but she didn't say anything.

And instinctively, Victor took action and bought her several things.

Victor takes Ophis off his shoulder and lifts her like a child, "Tell me, do you hate this?"

Ophis looked into Victor's red eyes, then she said, "I don't hate it, Father."

"See?" Victor chuckled and soon puts her on his shoulder again.

"..." Yuki sighed, although personally, she found it cute how Victor spoiled a child looking like an overprotective parent... But the problem is that the child is not his!

It's a random kid he found in a random place! This is kidnapping! She can somehow hear the police siren KM away!

"Ophis, if you find anything interesting, just point your finger, okay?"

"Mm," She spoke as she licked the crystallized candy.

Victor even tried to eat these sweets, but he didn't like them, and he even almost threw up. It tasted awful for him, so it was quite impressive to see Ophis and Yuki eating it like it was delicious.

Yes... Yuki ate the candy too, despite complaining a few minutes ago. The Maid had completely forgotten about her work, she only remembered when she saw that Victor was overdoing his shopping.

The group started walking around the city again, "The city is busier than usual," Yuki commented.

"Is it because of the game?"

"Yeah, as it's a public game, the authorities took the opportunity to make a big event. After all, if Lady Victoria wins, she will become a new Count Vampire, and that will mark a new record in vampire history. Never in history has it happened that the title of Count passed to another owner in such a short period of time."

"I see..."

Ophis points to a children's clothing store.

"Oh? Are you interested in clothes?"

"Mm... Cute"

"Let's go then!" When Victor entered the store along with Ophis and Yuki.

Someone was watching him from a distance.

"What are we supposed to do, Princess?" A young-looking knight asked; he looked quite impatient.

The woman shows a small smile on her face:

"You won't do anything. Just wait outside the store."

"But, princess-." The knight was about to protest, but with just one look from the woman, he was silent.

"Wait here. I won't repeat myself again, okay?" She smiled 'gently' at the knights.

"Yes!" They quickly nodded in agreement.

The woman nods, satisfied, and then she walks towards the store.

Chapter27 Chapter 73: The King's Daughters.

Upon entering the store, Ophis started pointing her finger at various cute clothes. Victor called an attendant and, when the attendant arrived, he asked:

"Do you have a locker room here?"

"Yes, My Lord. The locker room is in that direction. Follow me"

'My Lord?' Victor thought about the strange way the woman called him, but he thought the woman called him that because he was accompanied by Yuki; after all, her features screamed that she was from Clan Snow.

Victor took several clothes that Ophis pointed out and gave to Yuki.

"Eh?"

"I can't go into the locker room with a kid I barely know, right? That would be inappropriate."

"... Unexpected..."

"Huh?"

"I thought my master didn't have common sense." She spoke with a gentle smile, but her words weren't kind.

"...Just help Ophis change her clothes," Victor spoke as he took Ophis off his shoulders and set her down.

"Yes, Master." Yuki looks at Ophis and says, "Come on, Lady Ophis. I will help you change your clothes."

"Mm..." Ophis didn't say anything, she just held a part of Victor's pants as if she didn't want to be separated from him.

Victor displays a gentle smile when he sees this. He kneels and says, "Coming with you in that locker room would definitely be inappropriate. Just listen to Yuki, okay? I'll wait outside." He stroked her head.

When she felt Victor's caresses, for a few seconds, Ophis' eyes sparkled intensely, she seemed to have enjoyed it a lot... Soon, she closed her eyes as if enjoying herself.

Victor stops stroking Ophis' head, "Go. I will wait."

"... Mm, Father." She agreed.

"..." Victor felt his heart being caressed by the cuteness of Ophis now...

Soon Yuki and Ophis entered the locker room.

Taking this chance, the attendant approached Victor, "Lord, are you interested in buying this?"

Victor looks at the object in the woman's hand, "A camera?"

"Yeah, and it's not just any camera, it's a high definition camera that was made specifically for taking high-resolution photos, and with witch technology, the photo is printed on the spot."

"... Interesting." Victor was interested, but he didn't see the need to buy a camera right now.

"But I don't-" Victor was going to refuse, but he stopped talking when Yuki walked out of the locker room with Ophis.

"Looks good?" Ophis asked.

"..." Victor didn't know how to answer.

Ophis' black dress was swapped for a black bunny coat and a pretty black skirt, she looked incredibly adorable!

Victor was speechless and, for the first time, he realized why cuteness is justice.

"Give me that shit!" He took the camera from the woman's hand and started taking pictures of Ophis.

"Thanks for the purchase~" The attendant laughed and walked away.

...

"Ughyaaa! So cute!" Victor was freaking out while taking several pictures of Ophis in different outfits, all the outfits were made for kids, and none of the outfits Ophis wore were inappropriate.

"Master..." Yuki was actually considering calling the royal guards. But she still hasn't done that because she realized that Victor had no malicious intent behind his actions.

He just looked like he was having fun.

Yuki looks at Ophis and sees a small smile on the child, she seems to be enjoying it too.

Feeling a gaze pierce his back, Victor stopped taking pictures and looked at Yuki:

"Don't look at me like you're looking at a criminal; I just realized I liked cute things." Victor was definitely not abnormal.

He liked thighs! Breasts! A grown woman! The cuteness was meant to be appreciated!

Remembering the jokes he played with his wives when they were alone. Victor nodded in satisfaction; adult women are better.

Feeling someone pulling the fabric of his pants, he looked down:

"Ophis?" The little girl seemed to be hiding behind him.

He looked over to where Ophis was looking and saw a woman with long black hair with shades of violet, violet eyes, and pale skin common to vampires.

She had a nice womanly figure, she was thin and short for Victor's current height, about 172 cm.

But despite being thin, she had everything in the right places, B-cup breasts and a perky ass.

She was wearing a short black dress that looked to be quite simple, but at the same time very elegant, she had a black choker around her neck, and on that choker held a small black jewel.

She definitely has the appearance of a cool woman.

'Oh, she finally decided to show herself,' Victor had already noticed her for some time, and he just didn't do anything because he thought she had no bad intentions.

He shifted his attention and looked towards the wall, then his world changed to crimson red, 'They're still waiting.'

Victor's smile grew, he had already deduced the woman's identity, but the question was, what is her relationship with Ophis?

'Maybe her sister?' Victor felt it was quite possible that this was correct.

But one thing was for sure. He was definitely comparing his strengths to the woman in front of him. 'Although she is hiding her power.' He could deduce that because she appeared to be relatively weak.

'But as that man's daughter, she shouldn't be weak, right?'

"Hello." She waved a hand as she approached.

Victor flashed a small smile, "You finally revealed yourself. I was starting to wonder how long it would take you." He got right down to business.

"..." She was a little surprised that Victor didn't try to extend the conversation, so she displayed a small satisfied smile, she liked his attitude of not wasting time with useless conversation.

"Well... I didn't think the time was right to go in..." She looked at Ophis and the clothes Ophis was wearing.

Yuki approaches Victor and stands behind him, she had noticed the strange atmosphere between the two.

"Admit it; you just wanted to see more, right?"

"...Indeed, my sister is a bit quiet, so it's rare to see her exhibiting so many emotions."

Ophis' grip tightened on Victor's leg.

Victor stroked Ophis's head:

"You say, sister... But she doesn't seem comfortable with you."

"Complicated family." She laughed.

"I can imagine." Victor flashed a smile that showed his sharp teeth.

As he couldn't move properly with Ophis holding his leg, he picked up the little girl and placed her on his shoulder.

"..." The woman's eyes sparkled for a few seconds when she saw that Ophis easily accepted being touched. 'Is he not feeling anything? Interesting~.'

Like Ophis' sister, she knew of the little girl's special condition and seeing a person touching her sister directly and not being influenced made her quite curious.

"We didn't introduce ourselves, huh? My name is Victor Walker."

'Walker?' She has never heard of this family of vampires.

"Elizabeth Tepes, the daughter of the king."

"Oh... Cool." Victor didn't react much.

"..." Elizabeth didn't know how to react, she expected a reaction similar to the one from the owner of the store.

"Is she your sister?" He asked Ophis directly.

"Mm. Sister." Ophis nodded in agreement.

"Do you like her?" He asked.

"Mm, Sister is a good person, Father."

"F-Father...?" Elizabeth stuttered a lot, and her noble appearance of hers went away as if it never existed.

...

Scathach's mansion in the capital that was close to the arena.

"Darling is taking a while... I'm having a bad feeling about this." Violet was impatient.

"It's only been two hours, Violet. Take it easy." Ruby spoke.

"I'll go look for him; I can get to him easily with my speed." Sasha was feeling the same feeling as Violet.

Ruby holds Sasha's hand:

"He'll be back in an hour, and if he's too late, we can go out and look for him. After all, we can easily find him." She was also worried, but she wanted Victor to also have some time alone, especially considering he spent six months training without resting.

"...Violet is understandable, but...even Sasha and Ruby? I never expected to see them make these expressions... I think marriage changes people, huh?" Eleonor spoke, she was sitting next to Siena, Lacus, and Pepper.

Currently, there were only Violet, Ruby, Sasha, Lacus, Pepper, Siena, Eleonor, and Chloe in the mansion.

Scathach had gone off somewhere, she had said she was going to visit an old friend.

Maria and Luna are in the human world.

"Things have changed since that man moved here." Siena sighed.

"You seem to dislike him?"

"...At first, I had a certain prejudice towards him, but seeing him becoming strong in such a short time... And seeing him receiving my mother's affection..." Her voice began to darken every second she spoke.

"... Jealousy, huh." Eleonor could understand Siena a little. After all, Victor seemed quite close to Scathach, which is something she has never been able to do, even though she is Scathach's disciple.

"Wrong. I'm not jealous of him. My opinion of him is neutral."

"..." Eleonor rolled her eyes, she obviously didn't believe it.

"And you, Lacus?"

"Hmm? I like Victor; he's a fun guy." She said, then she continued, "Sometimes when I talk to him, I feel like I'm talking to my mother, they are very similar in certain aspects, I think they match."

"...Why are you talking like he's going to become your father?" Eleonor was speechless.

"...Oh." Lacus didn't realize what she said.

"Victor is a lot like my mother... But he's kinder than she is."

"Humpf. My mother's kindness is demonstrated through actions!" Siena snorted.

"I know, but I also miss hearing an 'I love you' or 'I was worried,' she's not a woman who says these things." Pepper commented a little sadly, she was the one who missed it the most; she was quite emotional about family issues.

"..." Siena and Lacus didn't say anything, but they internally agreed with Pepper's words.

The three foster sisters had the same feelings as Ruby towards their mother, they wanted to be closer to Scathach, but they didn't know how to go about it. And, because of that, they were also a little jealous of Victor for being able to get close to Scathach so quickly.

Chapter28 Chapter 74: The King's Daughters. 2

Victor was walking through the streets of the capital accompanied by Yuki, who was on his left side, who had several bags in her hands. These were the purchases Victor made for Ophis.

Talking about Ophis, the little princess was sitting on his right shoulder and gently holding his neck as if she was afraid of falling.

Ophis was back in her goth dress, she bought several outfits, but she still decided to keep her dress. However, she had said she would wear the dresses at home.

On Victor's right side was a very elegant and dazzling looking woman, and all the little gestures she made were charged with a lot of nobility and elegance.

"Kakakaka, they sure are tense." Victor chuckled as he looked at the group of royal guards.

He waved softly at them, and he could see that some were annoyed to see him making the gesture.

"Well, that's their job... even though they're overreacting," Elizabeth spoke in an elegant voice.

After Victor and Elizabeth's brief encounter at the clothing store, Victor somehow gained new company on his visit to the capital.

The princess seemed quite interested in accompanying him and, as he saw that Ophis wasn't afraid of her, he didn't mind having this princess accompany him.

Apparently, Ophis just didn't want to go home.

According to Elizabeth, Ophis lives in a very isolated location, and she has little contact with other people so, because of that, she speaks very few words.

Unlike before, when he was enjoying the capital in a carefree way, this time, he was more aware of his surroundings.

The group started visiting various stores while talking about random things. If anyone saw it from the outside, they would think the group looked like a group of friends enjoying the local festivities.

In a suspicious-looking store.

"What is that?" He pointed to an object that looked like a black banana.

"This is animal food."

"Oh?"

"In some isolated regions of the East, there is a group of monkeys that can be domesticated, and this is their food," Elizabeth explained.

"Heh~" Victor's eyes sparkled with interest, "Why is everything here the darkest color?"

"Evolution." She said.

Victor immediately understood what she meant, "Oh, as this is a world where there is no sunlight, they evolved differently."

"Yes. Because of this peculiarity, there are many strange animals."

"Interesting...I hope to see these animals in the future." Victor soon turned and started walking again in search of something else that piqued his curiosity.

Elizabeth looked at Victor's back for a moment, she seemed to be thinking deeply about something. Then, seeing Victor playing with Ophis, who pointed towards a strange item, the princess exhibited a small smile on her face and soon followed the two.

One thing Victor noticed was that he was getting more attention now.

It turned out that walking around with an elegant princess caused that kind of effect... And the royal guards who weren't that far behind the group didn't help either. This kind of situation was a dish full of curiosity for vampires who were always bored.

Victor didn't mind the looks this time. After all, they weren't looking at his wife. He just kept his senses alert since he expected something to happen at any moment.

And he wasn't wrong.

Something actually happened... But it wasn't with him.

"Did you touch me? You inferior!" A grown man yelled.

"Huuuh? The street is public! And you were the one who leaned against me, look at my clothes, they're dirty!" The other man, who looked like a teenager, yelled as he pointed at his shirt, which had a small spot of dirt.

"Fuck your outfit. I want compensation! You hurt me!!"

"Fuck you!" The younger man held up his middle finger.

"Hmm. Are they idiots?" Victor looked at a group of Vampires who were arguing in the middle of town.

"Idiots..." Ophis repeated what Victor said, she looked like she was learning a new word.

"... This happens more often than you think," Elizabeth spoke.

"Ego the size of the world..." Victor said.

"Indeed," Elizabeth agreed...

"...I wonder how I would feel if I stepped on these fragile egos, what expressions would they make~?" Victor muttered under his breath with a neutral expression that threatened to break into a smile at any moment.

With vampire senses heightened, the women heard what Victor said, but they decided not to comment on it.

"Hmm..." Victor looked at the two men and saw that they immediately fled when the royal guard approached them.

"Boring. Let's keep walking." He started walking again.

The group walked through several streets and stores, they ended up entering a street that had no vampire in sight, Victor thought this would be a shortcut to the other street, but it ended up being a dead end.

"Let's go back...." He was going to turn around, but suddenly Elizabeth said:

"Unfortunately..."

"Hmm?" He looked at the princess.

"I need to go home, and so do you, Ophis."

"!!!" Ophis quickly gripped Victor's neck tighter, she looked at her sister with an expression that said she didn't want to go.

"Ophis-..." Elizabeth tried to say something, but she was interrupted by Ophis.

"I don't want... Idiot."

Veins began to pop in Elizabeth's head.

"Pff... Cough. What?" A laugh almost escaped from Victor, but he quickly controlled his expression.

"This is your fault. She has never spoken those words before!"

"Eh? I'm innocent, believe me, I never lie. Look at my smile. Is this a liar's smile?" Victor smiled with a smile that showed all of his sharp teeth.

"..." Elizabeth rolled her eyes.

"Ophis, we have to go. You don't want to upset our Maid, right?"

"..." Ophis pouted cutely.

Ophis looks at Victor and says, "Give me."

"What?"

"Hand."

"Hmm...Okay." He saw no reason to refuse.

Victor reaches his hand toward Ophis, and soon she does something that leaves Elizabeth gaping.

Bite!

Ophis bites Victor's hand and drinks his blood.

"O-Ophis!?"

Victor looks at her with a curious look, he waits patiently, and in less than a few seconds, Ophis stops biting Victor.

"Yummy~" Ophis licked her lips.

"What did you do?" He asked.

"Mark."

"Mark?" Victor looked at his hand in curiosity, but he saw no difference, and the wound Ophis had made has already healed.

"Yes." She nodded and jumped off Victor's shoulder.

As she falls to the ground, Ophis' appearance begins to distort, she looks at Elizabeth:

"Returning."

"W-Wait!" Before Elizabeth could catch Ophis, the little girl disappeared, and all everyone could see was just a dark trail.

"She ran away again!" She stomped to the ground in frustration.

"Hmm..." Victor analyzed the situation. He could feel that the girl didn't run somewhere, she just disappeared from existence; he couldn't even feel her presence anymore.

'Some kind of concealment technique?' He tried to deduce what he just saw.

Elizabeth looks at Victor and, her eyes begin to glow blood red, then she speaks in an ordering tone:

"Keep what you saw a secret."

Victor looks at Elizabeth, then starts to laugh:

"Kakakaka. I will keep the secret, don't worry." He walks towards Yuki, takes the things he bought for Ophis, and quickly gives the items to Elizabeth.

"Eh?" Elizabeth was surprised by several things now, but unconsciously she held the bags.

"I also need to leave now. Be careful where you walk, Princess~." He picks up Yuki like a princess.

"M-Master?"

"Close your mouth, or you'll bite your tongue."

Not expecting Yuki to prepare, Victor takes a step in a random direction, then disappears.

"!!!" Elizabeth was surprised again by this display of speed, "Fast..."

"Princess." The royal guards approached when they realized the princess was alone.

"Who is that man?" She asked aloud, "My charm didn't work... He didn't seem affected by Ophis' condition either..."

"And my sister called him Father..." She muttered.

"Princess?" The guards called her again.

But Elizabeth didn't mind, "I forgot to ask him for personal information...?"

"Wrong..." She shook her head, "Actually, he deflected the questions on purpose."

Elizabeth remembers that when she asked personal questions, Victor pretended to be interested in something and didn't answer her question.

Elizabeth started to think with a frown on her face, but soon she wore a smile on her face, "Whatever. I can get this information easily. After all, nothing escapes the eyes of the king's shadows."

Elizabeth hands the purchases to the guards, "Let's go back. My sister should be home now."

...

On top of a tall building, Victor was standing on the highest part of this structure.

Victor was watching all this from several miles away, he couldn't hear it from so far away, but he could see from that distance because of his special eyes.

'Hmm. She'll probably be interested in me and send someone to investigate me.' Victor was thinking of talking to Scathach, she seemed to know a lot about the king's family.

'Some kind of concealment technique, or a power I don't know about... This world sure is interesting~.' Victor had a huge smile on his face.

"M-Master, don't drop me." Yuki looked down with a bit of fear.

"Kakaka. Even being a vampire, are you afraid of heights?"

"...This has nothing to do with being a vampire or not."

Seeing Yuki's expression, Victor felt an itch in his heart, and it was a feeling as if someone had said 'tease her'.

And that's precisely what he did.

"Don't scream, or you'll bite your tongue."

"Huh?"

Victor takes a step in the air, and soon gravity begins to do its work.

"!!!" Yuki quickly hugged Victor's neck when she realized he was falling at high speed, and she did as he asked, she didn't scream, but she wanted to scream now.

"Good." He nodded in satisfaction.

Victor does a somersault in the air and kicks the building's wall, and soon he disappears from view.

His control was so perfect that he didn't destroy anything and didn't make any noise when he made all these extravagant moves.

Chapter29 Chapter 75: I just do what I want.

Using the connection to his wives as a guide, Victor managed to find Scathach's mansion.

"Hey, Girls. I came back- " Before Victor could finish his sentence, a Violet-shaped rocket attacked him.

"Darling~! Darling~! Darling...?"

Violet stops snuggling and smells Victor's clothes:

"A woman..." Her eyes darkened, but soon she wore a confused expression, "Wrong, is that a little girl...?"

"Hmm..." Violet pulls away from Victor and looks at him, "Did you get your hands on a little girl?"

"Kakakaka..." Victor laughs, then he looks at Violet and says, "When I was visiting the capital, a strange little girl approached me."

He started to explain to her his meeting with Ophis and Elizabeth.

In the middle of the explanation, Ruby and Sasha also appeared, accompanied by Lacus and Pepper.

"Yuki... Are you okay?" Pepper asked, a little worried.

"Do I look okay?" Yuki commented with a tired face.

Her elegant appearance was totally worn out, and even her hair was messed up.

"Ugh." Yuki put her hand over her mouth, she felt like throwing up.

"I think you should take a shower..."

"I'm still working-" Before she could finish speaking, she felt someone patting her head.

"You're off your job today. Go rest." Victor chuckled, then went back to explaining what happened to his wives.

"..." Yuki exhibited a small smile, she nodded her head and soon entered the mansion.

...

In a room at Scathach's mansion.

Victor was sitting on the couch, Violet was on his left, Sasha and Ruby were on his right.

"...Darling...How can you get in so much trouble when you're alone?" Ruby asked in disbelief.

'Did he just go to a random shop and suddenly meet the king's two youngest daughters? Bulshit!' If Ruby didn't know Victor's personality and trusted her husband, she definitely wouldn't believe this story.

"In my defense, I was walking around the capital having fun, I didn't look for trouble, and it was Ophis who approached me and started calling me 'Father'."

"But you could avoid that by turning down Ophis's request, right? You just didn't do it because you found it interesting."

"..." Victor couldn't deny Sasha's words.

"See? He's a lot like my mom." Pepper laughed as she spoke to Eleonor.

"Shh," Eleonor put her hand over her mouth in a silent gesture, she looked like she was about to watch a very interesting scene.

"..." Pepper pouted cutely.

"Letting my mother take care of you for six months was a big mistake... You ended up acquiring her quirks of looking for problems." Ruby commented.

"Kakakaka, no need to be so upset, I know what I'm doing, and I do what I do on purpose."

"Husband, you don't know! They are-"

Victor interrupted, "They're from the king's family, and they're definitely going to investigate me, and they're going to find out about our relationship, right? And that can cause problems because some of the children or relatives of the king will not like this situation. They will think that the three families have become allies." He commented with a smile on his face.

"And some of those relatives are definitely going to come looking for trouble."

"..." Sasha was silent.

"Sasha... My beloved wife, I'm not stupid." He patted Sasha's head.

"Then why-." Violet, who was silent, was going to ask why he did it even though he knew the consequences, but Victor interrupted her:

"I did it because I wanted to."

"..." She was silent.

"I do what I want, whenever I want, and wherever I want. I won't limit myself because I'm afraid that 'X' or 'Y' person will be upset with my actions."

"And I'm not ashamed of our relationship either. I love you girls. And this is definitely not wrong."

"..." Violet, Sasha, and Ruby's cheeks turned a little red at the sudden confession.

"I will live my life however I want, and if someone doesn't like it, they are most welcome to knock on my door. I will rip their guts out and hang it on the gate as a warning." He spoke with a smile that showed all his sharp teeth.

"But what if you get it wrong...? I mean, what if you make a wrong decision?" Eleonor asked.

"If I make a mistake, I make a mistake... I'll just have to live with the consequences of my mistake. I'm not a perfect being who never makes mistakes, and I also don't want to live by planning every step I take. That isn't living; that's just a way of mentally torturing yourself."

"..." Eleonor was silent, she seemed to be thinking of something.

"And if I get it wrong..." He showed a gentle smile, "I also have my wives to advise me, and say something like; 'Victor, you idiot, you made a mistake.'"

"I'm not alone... My wives are my greatest allies."

"..." Sasha, Violet, and Ruby showed a small smile on their faces.

They were so happy that Victor thought so deeply about them.

"Tell me, my wives. Was the decision I made today a mistake?" He asked, still smiling.

"...If you look at the whole situation coldly... You didn't make a mistake because it looks like you've earned the affection of the king's youngest daughter," Ruby commented, she looked like she was planning to do something.

"I don't know, and I don't care about politics either. I just don't like other women getting close to you!" Violet spoke as honestly as ever.

"I think contacting the king's daughter now was a rash decision... Although I understand you didn't know that Ophis was the king's daughter...." Sasha commented.

"...See?" He smiled and looked at Eleonor, "My wives have different opinions from each other, and with those opinions, they can help me a lot... But in the end, I'll still do what I want, just as my wives will do what they want..."

"And if any of us make a mistake, we just have to help each other, together as a family..."

"..." Violet, Ruby, and Sasha felt their hearts were quite sweet now, and they even had a goofy smile on their faces.

"My beloved mother always told me when I was a teenager that making mistakes is normal. Every human makes mistakes, but to keep making the same mistake is just insanity. You must learn from the mistake so that in the future you don't repeat the same mistake. We must always seek to improve."

"...Although I am no longer human, that concept still applies to me and to everyone in this room."

He always took his mom's lessons seriously since his dad just taught him not to be a coward, and he thanks his dad for teaching him that since he was little.

Seeing the faces of the women in the room, he said:

"I think I said too much, Kakakakaka. This turned out to be a moral lesson, ignore what I said, okay? Those are just my honest thoughts."

"It's okay...I could learn something from this conversation." Eleonor seems to have understood something.

"..." Pepper, Lacus, and Siena also nodded in agreement with Eleonor's words.

"Umu!" He nodded in satisfaction.

Suddenly, he felt the presence of someone around the mansion, and Victor exhibited a smile of a predator:

"This is something Scathach always told me while I was training with her; 'Victor, you must not limit yourself, live however you want, but you must know the consequences of your choices.'"

"That's something my mom would say...." Siena commented.

"..." Everyone in the room agreed with Siena's words.

"You know what? I agree with Scathach."

"..." Everyone in the room rolled their eyes; for them, this was no longer a novelty.

"KAKAKAKAKA!" Scathach's laugh echoed throughout the mansion.

"Oh no..." Pepper said.

"...He definitely did it on purpose." Lacus sighed.

"Well said, stupid disciple!" Scathach appears behind Victor, she leans behind the couch and looks down towards Victor's face.

Victor lifts his face and looks into Scathach's green eyes:

She holds Victor's face and displays a distorted smile:

"Why live limiting yourself? Why live by the rules of others? Why live always planning the future? That is not life."

"Just do what you want. So what if you make a mistake? Just don't make the same mistake in the future! You should just move on and never give up on the path you've chosen; that's the way of life I live. Living this way is a lot more fun, right~?"

Victor's teeth sharpened, his smile grew, and his red eyes glowed:

"Indeed... Indeed, it's a lot more fun to live like this."

"Pfff...KAKAKAKA!" Scathach laughed madly; it was like she found something hilarious.

"KAKAKAKAKA," Victor started laughing along.

"..." Violet, Sasha, and Ruby didn't know how to react to their words, but one thing they were sure of, it was a mistake to let Victor stay with Scathach for six months! Just what has he become!?

By teaching Victor, Scathach basically created a version of her in male form!

They could handle one Scathach... But two!? Two is impossible!

"...Now, I understand why my mother reacts so much to Victor..." Siena commented in a low voice.

Lacus, Pepper, and Eleonor looked at Siena.

"They're the same..." But, then, she corrected her words, "I mean, they're not exactly the same because that's impossible; after all, no one is the exact same as anyone."

"What I mean is that the starting point of the thoughts that dictate their actions are the same. I think that's why my mother reacts so much to Victor... She found someone who is similar to her... "

"..." Hearing what Siena said, the women looked at Scathach, who had stopped laughing, and was sitting next to Victor.

"... You may be correct, sister..." Lacus commented, then she added, "But Victor is still not as crazy as my mother, he has not experienced tragedies or fought wars, he is very green... "

"Yes, but the seed is there, and that similar way of thinking has been there from the beginning. He just has to experience it... And, when he experiences it, he will turn into something terrifying..."

"..." Lacus was silent, but inwardly she agreed with Siena's words.

"War...Huh." Eleonor seemed to be thinking of something, she looked at Victor, and for a moment, her eyes flickered with interest.

Chapter30 Chapter 76: It's not like they're trying to keep secrets.

A shadow appeared in the middle of the room at Scathach's mansion, then a maid with oriental features emerged from the shadows.

"Oh, Kaguya. You came back."

Kaguya heard Siena's voice, then she looked at the woman:

"Yes. Where is my master?"

For some reason, Kaguya felt a pleasant itch in her heart when she said, "My master."

"Victor? Currently, he is on the second floor, in a room that has been assigned to him and his wives... If you follow the stairs, you can easily find him."

"Thanks." Kaguya made a simple gesture of thanks, then walked towards the stairs.

On the way to the stairs, she saw someone's room with the door open, and, as a responsible maid, she would close the door to give more privacy to the individuals inside the room.

When she touches the doorknob to close the door, she hears Pepper and Ruby's voice:

"Pepper, is this a new anime?"

"Oh, it's a release from last season. I don't think you've seen it, sister."

"Hmm. A lot of things happened, and I had to train for six months...I missed two whole seasons."

"Umu. Don't worry, as a responsible big sister, I recorded all the animes!"

"Ohhh! Good job, sister... But what is this 'Umu'?"

"Victor says that a lot when he's happy or relaxed. I thought it was cool... So I copied it."

"... Hmm. I remember that Anna, Victor's mother, talks about that a lot too... But, you've been watching my husband a lot, huh...?"

"... F-Fue? What is that scary look!? I did nothing!"

"Nothing. Let's just watch anime."

"Ruby... Don't become like Violet, please..."

"..." Ruby was silent.

'Well, that was interesting.' Kaguya was pleased, but realizing what she had done, she quickly shook her head several times and closed the door.

'How rude. I must not eavesdrop on others' conversations.' She thought she was being a very bad maid now.

Going up the stairs, Kaguya reached the second floor, and again, she found another room with the door open, and, like a competent maid, she had to close the bedroom door.

As she approached the room, she heard the voices of Eleonor, Lacus, Sasha, and Violet.

"I don't understand how this works...." Sasha.

"What?" Eleanor.

"That sword. It's massive and heavy; I prefer something lighter like daggers." Sasha.

"That's because your fighting style is more focused on speed." Violet.

"Indeed. My fighting style is more focused on strength, and, because of that, heavy weapons are better for me... But, now that I stopped to think, what is Victor's fighting style?" Eleanor.

"We don't know, but the way he easily used his sword, is he a strength user? But he's pretty fast too." Sasha.

"I wonder if he chose greatsword as his starting weapon to train with my master." Eleanor.

"...The only sword influences in Darling's life were the movies of a barbarian he watched with his father, so I think so. He must have chosen greatsword as his first training weapon." Violet.

"..."

"What? Why are you looking at me like that?"

"Just... Sigh." Sasha sighed, then continued, "Just how long have you been watching my husband?"

"A long time... A long time indeed."

"..."

"...How can I say... would Countess Agnes be proud? After all, her daughter is just like her." Eleanor commented in a sarcastic tone.

"Hey! West bitch! Don't bring my mother into the conversation!"

Deciding enough was enough, Kaguya closed the door.

'As expected. Stalker's blood is strong in this family...' Kaguya nodded and then started walking towards Victor's room.

How did she know it was Victor's room? Well, the name 'VICTOR'S ROOM' was written on the door. Looks like someone did it on purpose. After all, he's the only man in this mansion.

Touching Victor's doorknob, she heard Victor and Scathach's voice:

"KaKaKaKa. Did you let that little girl drink your blood? Violet better not find this out; she's going to freak out."

"But she already knows. I had a hard time making her calmer..."

"Kakakakaka"

"Stopping to think... I remember your daughters said that vampires only drink blood from other vampires only if they are from the family or someone very close as a lover."

"Indeed."

"I totally forgot about that."

"Well, don't worry too much, she just drank a few drops of your blood, so it shouldn't be a big problem... But I think she'll go without food for a while, considering all the blood she eats will have a disgusting taste to her."

"I see; I hope she's okay...."

"...You seem to like the princesses...."

"Ophis? Yes, she is a good girl. Elizabeth? I don't know. My opinion of her is neutral."

"Not bad... I think...?"

"But to think you'd find the fourth flower of the vampire world with just a casual stroll through the capital. Kakakaka"

"Flower? Who? Elizabeth?"

"Ophis."

"Eh?"

"Don't make that stupid face. Haven't you noticed her unearthly beauty despite being 5 years old? That's unnatural even for vampires. That's why she's so protected."

"..."

"Oh, I remember she completely disappeared from my senses, was that some concealment technique?" Victor seemed to change the subject.

"Kakakaka. You're wrong, stupid disciple. That is not a technique; that is her power, she was born with the ability to teleport."

"... Interesting... I thought the king's family would follow the same example as the noble vampire family. So, for example, you can control ice, and your descendants will also inherit your powers."

"You are right and wrong at the same time. The king's family is special. You will find out more in the future."

"Why so much mystery?"

"Kakakaka, it's more fun this way, and it's not like this information could help you with anything because even I don't know all the powers of the king's children... That man made sure to hide that secret completely."

"I understand..."

"..." A moment of silence fell in the room. Then, sensing an opportunity to step inside, Kaguya turned the doorknob but stopped when she heard Victor's voice.

"So, how's your bloodlust?"

"It's manageable... It's been years since my head felt light like a feather, although I'm already starting to feel the effects of bloodlust again."

Victor, who was sitting at his bedroom window, looked into Scathach's eyes. Seeing her eyes constantly changing color and seeing the frown on her face, he realized she wasn't completely honest. She was already thirsty but just didn't say anything.

"Come here." Slowly, he unbuttoned his suit a bit and showed Scathach his neck.

Scathach, who was sitting in an armchair away from Victor, looked at this scene.

Bathing in the moonlight as he sat elegantly at the window, Victor's current appearance seemed quite irresistible to her, especially when she looked into those crimson red eyes that, for some reason since the coliseum incident, never changed to sapphire blue again.

"..." Scathach gets up from her chair and walks elegantly towards Victor.

Coming close to him, she spoke in a low voice, "Do you know what you're offering me?" She lightly stroked his neck, and slowly her eyes changed to blood red.

Victor displayed a small smile that showed his sharp teeth:

"Yeah. As you said earlier, vampires only offer their blood to other really close vampires or family members, right? You're my mother-in-law, you're my family... And I can't let you walk around with constant destructive impulses."

"Humpf, I put up with this easily for 21 years. Don't treat me like a delicate woman."

"I am not. I just don't want to see you in that state again~" He lightly stroked her face, "And I know damn well how strong you are."

Scathach leans her voluptuous body against Victor, she wraps her arms around his neck and then starts sniffing his neck, "Hmm... Glad you understand~" she spoke in a low voice, she extended her tongue, and start licking his neck.

Victor lightly grips Scathach's waist and does his best to ignore the feeling of temptation that is overflowing from this woman's body... But, this proved to be an arduous task; Scathach was very similar to Ruby, which was a weak point for Victor.

He kept repeating like a mantra in his head: 'She's my mother-in-law. She is my mother-in-law. She is my mother-in-law.' He didn't want to betray his wives, and what he was doing now was just helping Scathach control her bloodlust.

And that was also a form of thanks for helping him out of that deplorable state he was in the coliseum. If it wasn't for her having helped him, he wouldn't know what he would become today.

Scathach's teeth began to sharpen as she bit into Victor's neck.

"Ugh" Victor held back the moan, feeling his blood being sucked, his eyes began to glow blood red. Looking at Scathach's delicate collarbone, his instincts were begging him to bite.

And that's what he did; he hugged Scathach tighter and bit her neck!

"Hmm~" Scathach tightened her grip on Victor's neck, and unconsciously, she was regulating her strength so as not to break his neck.

Victor's bedroom door opened a little, and then Kaguya's snooping eye appeared.

'That was unexpected... I don't know what happened in those six months, but they got so close for my master to casually give his blood?' Kaguya thought in surprise.

Kaguya was thinking about several things now, and the main ones were how their relationship had become so close in such a short time, but she had a doubt that remained from the beginning; 'Scathach is a 2,000-year-old vampire, she must have already realized that I'm here. And Victor is a vampire who was trained by her, so he also knows I'm here... Now, why do they want me to see this?'

Like a hardworking maid, her mind began to work on an answer, and soon she understood something; "Oh, as Victor's personal maid, I must know about this." She thought that was it. After all, a maid sometimes hides the darkest secrets of their masters.

Despite being a hardworking maid, she could never imagine that Victor and Scathach just didn't mind someone in the family watching them both; it's not like they were trying to keep secrets either.