Chapter 77: My Master.

Victor stopped drinking Scathach's blood when he felt satisfied, and he licked her collarbone a little to clean up the spilled blood. Then, seeing that the woman was still drinking his blood, his eyes sparkled with a mischievous glint. Slowly, his hand approaches Scathach's head and begins stroking the woman's head.

Scathach's body visibly trembled as Victor began to stroke her head, but she didn't care, she didn't want to stop drinking his delicious blood because of it.

"Heh~" Seeing that he was successful, he exhibited the smile of someone who has gotten what he wants.

A few minutes passed, and Scathach was still drinking his blood; it seemed that the thirst of an ancient vampire was insatiable.

But Victor definitely didn't care, so he looked at the full moon of Nightingale's world.

"A beautiful night... A beautiful night indeed." As a creature of the night, he felt much more comfortable with the night. Every time he looked at the moon, he felt a tingle in his stomach. It was the same feeling he felt when he arrived at his mother's house.

It was a feeling of welcome, a feeling that said: you are home now... A pleasant feeling.

"Ahh~" Scathach stopped drinking Victor's blood, she was finally satisfied, so she started licking his neck like she didn't want to waste anything.

"Your blood is irresistible as always~." She spoke as she licked his neck.

Victor looks at Scathach, and, seeing the seductive smile on her face, he displays his own smile, "Are you satisfied?"

"... How long are you going to keep doing this?" She didn't answer his question, and instead, she asked another question, "I'm not a little girl."

"Kakaka~." Victor chuckled playfully, "Indeed, you're not a little girl. But you don't seem to dislike it, right?"

"..." Scathach lowered her face and used her right to remain silent.

Victor stops stroking the woman's head, brings his hand closer to Scathach's chin, and lifts her face a little higher, looking into his mother-in-law's green eyes, "Your eyes are back to normal, are you satisfied now? " He asked the same question.

Looking into Victor's crimson red eyes, Scathach felt a strange feeling in her heart, it was a very sweet feeling, a pleasant warmth, and it brought a spiritual peace to her:

"Yeah~" She flashed a seductive smile, "I'm satisfied...." Then, slowly, she starts to walk away from Victor, "For now...."

Without her even being aware of it, she was slowly creating a desire for possession towards Victor in her heart.

Scathach straightened her outfit, which was a bit messy, she straightened her hair, and soon she looked the same as she always does. Like at home, she was wearing casual clothes, a pair of jeans, and a simple black shirt.

She looks at the door and flashes a slight smile, "Come in, maid. We know you're there."

"..." Kaguya expected this, she opened the door and entered.

As she closes the door and turns around, she looks at the two individuals. Scathach was back to her normal appearance, but Victor didn't bother to straighten his clothes.

Because of this, evidence of what happened was still visible for Kaguya to see. Looking at her master, who was sitting at the window while looking at the moon.

Kaguya's throat began to itch, even though she had never tasted Victor's blood, just smelling the scent in the air made her very thirsty.

'Before it wasn't like that, but now... Why am I feeling this now?' She didn't understand this feeling.

"Kakakaka. Do your thing, maid. I'll go out for a bit." Scathach said she could deduce why Kaguya was here now.

Scathach walked to the entrance of the room, passing by Kaguya, she spoke in a low voice, "You're lucky, maid."

"Eh?" Kaguya doesn't understand, she looks at Scathach, but the woman has already left the room and closed the door.

Kaguya turned and looked at Victor:

"Master."

"Kaguya. You left your master for a long time. Do you have any excuses?" Victor spoke, still looking at the moon.

Kaguya's body visibly trembled when she heard Victor's serious voice, but soon she replied in a neutral voice:

"I told you-" Before Kaguya could finish saying something, Victor spoke:

"I'm kidding." He spoke, looking at Kaguya.

"..."

"KAKAKAKA" Victor laughed amusedly.

Kaguya very much held back her urge to pout.

Sigh!

Kaguya visibly sighed, she reached into her pocket and pulled out something that looked like golden paper that was rolled into a parchment shape.

"This golden paper is a contract, a material made by the witches. Does the master know about this?"

"Yeah. Scathach taught me the basics of contracts."

"The magic contracts made by the witch are divided into several levels according to the color of the paper. White paper are the simplest contracts that are made by an inexperienced witch, and this type of contract can also be broken by other inexperienced witches."

"The golden paper are exclusive contracts that can only be created and broken by experienced witches... There is also the black paper which is a contract created by the queen of witches, and like the other contracts, only the queen can break this contract ."

"Unexpected... I thought you were only taught about fighting."

"Oh, she taught me about fighting, but she also taught me some knowledge so I wouldn't be fooled by the witches."

"According to her, witches are greedy bitches."

"...Indeed." Kaguya agreed with Scathach's thoughts.

Soon Kaguya starts to explain:

"The contract for an exclusive maid works this way, the master must state their working conditions, and the maid must decide whether to accept it or not. To avoid situations where vampires use a maid against her will, this specific contract that is in my hand was made to record the entire contract process and send it to the government agency that oversees slave labor."

"That seems pretty safe, huh?" Victor said that, but inwardly, he was laughing at the irony. After all, Vampires treat humans like cattle in this world.

As he was jumping from building to building on his way back to Scathach's mansion, and saw several situations of humans being used only as merchandise... Like the ancient humans. This situation revolted him, but he wouldn't go out of his way and cause problems because of unknown people.

Despite being revolting to Victor, he was curious about one thing. 'The noble vampires weren't using humans as a sex toy. They just seemed to use humans as a blood store.'

Victor thinks this is an effect of the mindset of noble vampires who think they are superior to humans, noble vampires seem to be disgusted with seeing a human as an equal, and they just treat humans like animals or food.

'It's the same thing that happens in the human world.' Victor's thinking was that humans raised chicken, and after a few months of life, that chicken was killed and ended up on someone else's plate.

The thought was the same, they were taking the humans and using them as a blood store.

And another thing he realized with a brief look at the capital was that this type of market wasn't very popular in the vampire world. Yes, the market existed, but it was only frequented by young vampires.

Victor thinks this is because of the ritual he went through since he realized that most vampires were married.

Though Victor doubts that plebeian vampires who were once human will think the same way as noble vampires. 'But all the plebeian vampires I saw were treated like slaves.'

Plebeian vampires were slaves, and they had no autonomy in this world; they were at the bottom of the hierarchy.

Victor felt an irony in this situation. Humans were being treated much better than plebeian vampires.

'I think it's the difference in value? Humans, despite being treated like animals, all they need to do is give blood regularly to vampires, and the human will live a good life. On the other hand, plebeian vampires were just slaves for bored vampires to abuse.'

"Yeah. We are a civilized society. We do not enslave our fellow men."

"Kakakaka" Victor started laughing like crazy with the irony said by Kaguya without her knowing, and he couldn't hold back his laughter.

"Master?"

"Excuse me. It's nothing, Kaguya." He displayed a small smile.

"...Hmm, Okay." Kaguya takes the golden paper and throws it towards Victor.

Victor raises his arms and grabs the paper, then he analyzes the golden paper for a few seconds:

"My contract is simple, don't do anything that harms my family or me. To put it in precise words, actions like divulging information to enemies, actions like planning a betrayal, actions that in any way will harm my family will not be allowed."

The paper began to glow and began to float, and soon the words Victor spoke were written.

"... Only that?" Kaguya was internally surprised, she expected ten paragraphs of boring rules. But, instead, what Victor said is just the basics of the basics.

"Oh!"

"I forgot the most important rule..."

He exhibited a small smile:

"The maid can't deny the master's headpat."

"..." Kaguya's cheek turned a little red. It's not like she wanted to deny this treatment either.

"Oh, I almost forgot... The maid should always ensure her safety first."

"..." Kaguya's face distorted when she heard Victor's last order.

"Do you agree with these terms?"

"Master... I can't accept the last one. The main duty of a maid is to keep the Master safe."

Victor exhibited a gentle smile, "I know... And that's a dangerous thought. I'd rather die than let someone close to me die in my place; I would feel devastated if my favorite maid died in my place." He joked at the end, but Kaguya could tell he was being very serious.

"..." Kaguya didn't know how to react. It goes against what she was created to be.

"Kakakaka. Don't overthink; do you accept or not?"

"I-..." She didn't know what to say.

Victor continued, "You're free to do whatever you want. I just want you not to betray me. And I just want you to put your safety first, especially considering your power is good at running away, right?"

"..." Kaguya felt a warm feeling in her heart. It was such a sweet and gentle feeling that she didn't know how to react. This was the first time anyone cared about her, other than Julia, Sasha's personal maid who died by hunters. She was happy! But she didn't know how to express her emotions.

Sigh!

She just visibly sighed.

"I accept." By accepting this contract, she was going against what she was created to be, a maid who sacrifices herself for her master...

Soon the golden paper catches fire and disappears. As soon as the paper disappeared, Kaguya could feel a magical current around her heart. But for some reason, she didn't feel like she was trapped or that her freedom was threatened, it was a weird feeling.

Looking into Victor's crimson eyes, she flashes a professional smile, holds her uniform skirt, and gives an elegant greeting:

"I hope this partnership will last for a long time..."

"My Master."

Chapter 78: The game day.

Soon the day of the game between Sasha's aunt Victoria Rider against the leader of the Clan Horseman arrived.

As it was an important and festive occasion for Nightingale society, women and men can be seen in elegant clothes walking around the capital.

The capital was in a party mood, and the bored vampires couldn't wait to see what kind of game it would be... But one thing was certain; they were eager for it to be a fight. After all, it's very rare for two Clans with the level of a vampire count's power to fight each other.

"Hmm... Security is tighter than before." Violet spoke as she looked around, she was wearing a black dress with a violet flower on her chest, along with long black socks and black boots, around her neck, a black choker could be seen.

"Tsk, I don't like this. I feel like something is going to happen." Sasha was quite impatient, she was wearing more modern clothes, a pair of black jeans, a plain white shirt, and a black coat, she had pinned her long blond hair, which had grown in those six months, in a ponytail.

"Just smile, girls. Look at our husband. He doesn't look worried." Ruby spoke with a fake smile on her face. Like Violet, Ruby opted for a simple red dress with black accents, the only difference being that Ruby chose a slightly bigger dress because she didn't like people looking at her body.

Although even wearing a little bigger dress, the chest and ass areas were still a little tight...

"..." Victor didn't say anything and just continued with a small, simple smile on his face as he walked in front of the group. He was wearing the outfit he got from Scathach; the only difference was that he was wearing elegant red glasses that were rather old-looking. He found these glasses in Scathach's personal bedroom, and he thought it would be a good idea to use them to disguise the use of his eye powers.

After all, when he used his powers, his eyes glowed a very visible blood red.

The current group was separated from the other girls, and Victor was with Violet, Ruby, Sasha, Maria, and Yuki. Following through his shadows was Kaguya, she decided to accompany Victor through the shadows to provide information when needed.

The other group, Scathach, Pepper, Siena, Eleonor, and Luna, were already waiting in the VIP room.

Victor and his wives took a while to get ready because they were too lazy to get out of bed.

"Maria, stay close, or you'll get lost," Victor spoke without turning back as he continued walking.

"..." Maria, who was walking a little way away from the group, was speechless, 'Is he treating me like a child?' She thought.

"Yes, Lord Victor," Maria replied as she approached the group closer.

"Hehehe~" Violet approaches Victor and grabs his arm:

"You look excited, Darling."

"Oh? You noticed?"

"Of course, I know everything about you."

"Hahahaha." He laughed amusedly when he heard Violet's words, then he replied:

"Yes. Indeed. I'm excited."

Sasha, seeing Violet's attitude, wanted to do the same, but she was embarrassed. She wasn't shameless enough to take Victor's arm in the middle of so many people!

Ruby walks elegantly beside Victor and takes his arm:

"Oh?" Victor exhibited a small smile, "I thought you would be embarrassed."

"I am, but you're my husband, so it's okay."

"Heh~"

Seeing the teasing little smile on Victor's face, her cheeks took on a healthy little shade of red.

Sasha bites her lip when she sees this situation. Because of her shame, she couldn't take the initiative. When she was going to enter a sea of negative thoughts, she suddenly felt comforting emotions coming from Victor through their connection.

"Don't think nonsense, dear," Victor spoke without looking back. "Just take your time."

"..." Sasha was a little surprised, but she exhibited a small gentle smile:

"Mm," She nodded.

[Master, you're a philanderer, you always know where to attack, huh?] Victor heard Kaguya's voice in his head.

"What are you talking about? I just worry about my wives...." He spoke in a low voice.

Being close to Victor, his wives heard what he said, but they ignored it since they knew that Kaguya was in his shadow.

Although they were curious about what they were talking about, they seemed to be talking about them.

[...] Kaguya didn't know how to react to Victor's honest words.

"Master, we have arrived." Yuki suddenly spoke out loud.

In a VIP room reserved only for the family of vampire counts, Scathach's group was waiting for Victor.

Suddenly, all the women hear the sound of a door opening.

"Victor, you arrived... You guys were late, huh?" Scathach says, she looks at the glasses Victor was wearing and nods in satisfaction.

Victor looks at Scathach, who was sitting on an ice throne in her usual clothes:

"It can't be helped. I felt like the bed was a quicksand of comfort, so I didn't want to get out of bed." He replied.

"Heh~" She displayed a seductive smile, "I hope you treated my daughter well."

"M-MOTHER!" Ruby's face turned red with embarrassment.

"What? I just asked that because you are so lazy in the morning." She displayed an innocent smile.

"Well, she's not wrong, and Ruby also sleeps naked...So," Lacus commented with a small smile...

"Some things must definitely have happened." Siena smiled.

"Awawawawa," Pepper just had smoke coming out of her head, she seemed to be thinking about something she shouldn't.

"...Y-you guys..." Ruby didn't know what to say, and, in the end, she just sighed.

"Hahahaha, don't tease my wife so much." Victor walks beside Scathach, he snaps his fingers, and soon an ice throne a little different from Scathach begins to be created.

"Oh? You got better at creating ice structures."

"All thanks to your training...." He flashed a small smile, then sat down on the ice throne and crossed his legs.

"Kakaka, I know." She laughed.

"..." The women looked at the two with a speechless expression.

"Why did you create these ice thrones? Can't you guys just sit in the chair?" Sasha asked as she pointed to two simple but rather elegant chairs.

""Hell no. I will not sit in that simple chair.""

The two spoke in unison with a face of disgust.

"..." The group was silent; they just didn't know how to react.

This was the VIP Room, and it was equipped with the finest furniture in the vampire world, yet they called these luxurious seats a 'simple chair'.

Somehow, the women were already more used to this scene. They were slowly accepting the fact that Scathach was creating a male version of her and the only one that was freaking out internally was Eleonor, she had never seen another person so similar to her master.

The group spreads out and starts to sit on the chairs and sofas in the VIP room.

Victor looks through the glass of the VIP room towards the arena, "Hasn't started yet, huh?" He spoke in a low tone, then he looked at the arena with curious eyes.

Seeing the Plebeian vampires sitting in the stands, he began to inspect everyone; 'That one over there is strong, that one over there is hiding his powers.'

He looked at all the vampires who he had an interest in and judged their strength. After being trained by Scathach for so long, he could somehow evaluate a person's level based on behavior and a 'feel' that surrounds the vampire.

It's something very difficult to put into words, but it's something like a warrior can know if the other warrior is strong or not.

Sensing a glance in his direction, he turned his face and looked at another VIP room through the glass; the eyes behind his glasses started to glow, and his world turned blood red.

He focused his attention on the individual who had a large red aura surrounding them.

"Heh~" Victor's smile grew distorted.

"Oh? Did you find anyone interesting?" Scathach looks to where Victor was looking.

"If I'm not mistaken, that room is where Victoria's family is." Scathach spoke.

"My Aunt?" Sasha gets up from the couch and walks beside Victor, she looks where Victor is looking but doesn't see anything, she just sees a normal room with totally black glass.

"Interesting... Interesting indeed..." Victor turned his face and ignored them for the time being. He looked into another VIP room and saw a woman and a child sitting in a chair. They were both alone in the room, but Victor could see several vampires protecting the place outside.

Victor found something interesting with the child, she had a very distorted aura as if two colors were mixed incorrectly.

The child suddenly looked towards Victor and then disappeared.

"???" Victor was confused; 'She disappeared? Do not tell me....'

Soon Victor could feel someone sitting on his lap.

"Father."

Seeing the child in the gothic dress, he displayed a gentle smile:

"Hello, Ophis."

Chapter 79: The game day. 2

"Father."

Seeing the child in the gothic dress, he displayed a gentle smile:

"Hello, Ophis." He stroked the little girl's head.

"Mm," Victor leans her head on his chest and closes his eyes:

"Hehehe... Father~" She shook her head from side to side, she looked like a spoiled child who found her father and wanted a hug!

"F-Father?" Violet, Ruby, and Sasha almost choked.

"KAKAKAKA" Scathach was laughing like crazy.

"Hey, what are you doing!? Get off him!" Violet's jealousy didn't discriminate between gender or age... In a way, Violet's jealousy was true gender equality.

"Stop, Violet. Don't touch her." Scathach suddenly stops laughing and warns Violet with a serious look.

But Violet ignored Scathach's warning and held onto Ophis's body.

Suddenly Violet stops moving, and her eyes go blank as if she were dead.

"Violet!?" Ruby and Sasha spoke at the same time.

"Sigh... Stupid girl, I warned you."

Victor's eyes glittered dangerously when he saw Violet's state. He looked at Ophis, seeing the little girl's apologetic face... He sighed, he patted the little girl's head, and looked at Scathach:

"What is this?"

"She'll be fine soon, don't worry..." Scathach first soothed Victor's emotions, then she continued:

"That's what happens when Ophis is touched, she was born with a special condition that charms everyone who touches her... And she also sees the memories of the people who touch her."

"..." Victor strokes the little girl's head, now he understands why she lived isolated, for a child, it is difficult to see the memories of vampires who live for many years:

"Are you okay...?"

"Mm..."

"Father Memory... Good." She leans her face against Victor's chest again.

Suddenly, Violet's face distorted into anger, and she breaks the spell.

"Oh? It was faster than normal." Scathach spoke with curiosity.

Violet looks at the girl with angry eyes:

"Don't look at her like that. She's not to blame; you're the one who didn't listen to me." Scathach spoke.

"..." Violet closes her hands and opens them several times.

Soon, she lets out a long breath.

Sigh...

"Okay. Why is this little girl here again?" She asked in a neutral tone.

"Are you okay, honey?" Victor asked.

Ophis's body trembled slightly when she heard the way Victor called Violet.

"Yes... I am... Why is she here?" She asked again.

"I don't know, she just came out of the blue," Victor replied. He understood that Violet's mood was not good.

"...Are you okay, Darling?" She asked with apprehensive eyes. After all, she personally felt the powers of Ophis.

"Yeah, I don't feel anything," Victor spoke honestly, he didn't feel anything, and he also didn't feel like someone was reading his memories, though he wasn't sure what kind of feeling it would be if someone read his memories.

"..." Everyone except Victor, who was looking at Ophis, looked to Scathach for answers.

"Don't look at me. I don't know either~."

"..." Seeing the innocent smile on Scathach's face, everyone didn't believe her.

"T-This..." Violet's eyes were glowing blood red when she saw the position Ophis was in, but even so, she didn't move.

"..." People who had known Violet for a long time were shocked by this display of control; they thought she wouldn't be able to stand it.

Ruby and Sasha could tell from their connection that Violet was angry, but it was silent anger. It was anger mixed with possessive jealousy.

Suddenly the door opens, and soon everyone can see a woman with long black hair and violet eyes.

Violet turns her face she looks at the woman.

The woman looks into Violet's violet eyes, and, noticing Violet's obvious features, the woman could understand that she was someone from Clan Snow, and only one woman from Clan Snow had violet eyes.

"Who are you, bitch?"

"Sigh..." Everyone except Victor and Scathach sighed when they heard what Violet said.

"What a rude person...who are you?" She already knew who Violet was, but for some reason, she didn't want to lose this dispute.

"I asked first."

"..." The woman didn't want to answer.

"Princess, are you sure she's here? We must not enter this place in such a rude way...." The guard was terrified.

"Why are you afraid?"

"Kakakaka, you're as clueless as ever, Elizabeth."

"S-Scathach." The woman stuttered. Now she understood why the guard was scared.

"How's that old man doing?" Scathach spoke.

"...He's the king, you know?"

"Do I have the face of someone who cares?"

"..." Elizabeth was speechless, she knew that the only person who could speak those words so casually was Scathach, and for the sole reason that she was strong!

Elizabeth ignores everyone and looks at the second ice throne, she walks a little to the left, and soon she sees Ophis lying on Victor's chest.

'Again? Did she find him because of the mark?' She glanced at Victor, who was sitting on an ice throne, and then she looked around again, and seeing several women of high social standing, Elizabeth's curiosity was flickering frantically.

She even tried to use the king's shadows to find information on Victor, but they didn't find anything, actually... They haven't returned yet, and she didn't think too much about why they haven't.

'They have been eliminated...or are being tortured.' She thought. She knew Scathach's personality well, and if someone broke into her house, that was the fate of fools who tried to break into her home.

"...Just who are you?"

Victor looked at Elizabeth and flashed a small smile, "My name is Victor... Didn't I say?"

"..." Elizabeth wanted to hit the ground in frustration now!

"Bitch, don't look at him. You're going to infect him with some kind of dangerous disease." Violet spoke.

"Huuuh?" Veins began to pop in Elizabeth's head, she was a noble person and could ignore some insults, but she was not a saint who would take insults in silence.

"Why don't you go away and take this-...child with you?" Violet didn't want to insult a child since even she knew it was something horrible. Though, the little girl didn't do anything.

"Shoo, Shoo." She spoke as if she were talking to a dog.

"...I'm still a princess, you know?" She commented with a fake smile, "I can make you disappear-" She couldn't finish her words.

She suddenly felt very heavy, and an overwhelming feeling engulfed her entire body, her body broke out in a cold sweat, and slowly, she turned her face away.

When she looked into Victor's blood-red eyes that were visible even through the glasses he was wearing; her whole world seemed to go colorless:

"...Repeat what you said," Victor spoke with a cold tone that sent shivers down Elizabeth's spine. He could ignore arguments; after all, his wives did that constantly. He thinks it's a woman thing. But threats? Those he did not tolerate.

"I- I..."

"Princess!" The guards ran, but suddenly a much greater pressure than Victor fell on them.

Quickly, they stopped walking and looked at Scathach.

"Good, if you took one more step, I would have to hand your heads over to the king~." She flashed a crazy smile. Then, she snaps her fingers, and thorns of ice begin to hover over all the guards.

They gulped and didn't dare move. Although they had a duty to protect the princess, they didn't want to lose their lives uselessly. They knew that if Scathach killed them, nothing would happen to her.

"Disappointing." She hoped they would fight. Then, at least she would have an excuse to kill them all.

Soon she lost interest in the guards and looked at Victor, she was interested in what he was going to do.

"I'm waiting..." He slowly tapped the ice throne with his finger, like he was counting.

The sound of his finger touching the ice made the situation even more terrifying for Elizabeth.

Elizabeth tried to ignore the fear in her heart and slowly began to gather her powers. Then, her eyes changed to blood red, and an overwhelming pressure began to leave her body.

"Oh?"

Confidence restored, Elizabeth displays a cold smile, "I'm still a princess... And I can make her disappear at any time, no matter if she's a daughter of Clan Snow or not." She repeated what she said and added the ending as if it were an absolute truth.

Victor's eyes glowed brighter, and his pressure began to build.

"..." Everyone was expecting a fight to start at any moment, but something happened that left everyone with no reaction.

Victor's pressure disappeared as if it had never existed.

"HAHAHAHAHAHA" He started laughing like crazy, and slowly he began to clap his hands.

"Good! Good! That's the spirit! If not, I would be disappointed!"

"Huh?" Elizabeth did not expect this.

"..." Violet, Ruby, and Sasha didn't know how to react, and that applied to all the women in this room, so they just watched everything in silence.

Scathach just displayed a big smile on her face, she looked pleased with something.

"Believe me, Princess..." Victor's image began to blur. "Before you can touch a strand of my wife's hair...-"

"!!?"

"You would die." Victor appeared behind Elizabeth and spoke in a low voice in her ear.

Elizabeth's whole body froze in fear when she heard what Victor said, she couldn't even react to his speed! And she could also see that crazy woman was smiling as if supporting what Victor said!

She couldn't move, she didn't even dare turn back now, she feared that if she turned around now, she might die!

Chapter 80: Everything is Connected.

Victor disappears behind Elizabeth and appears sitting on the ice throne he created.

"Fast~"

"HaHaHaHa, did you like it, Ophis?"

"Mm," She nodded.

"Is different." She pointed to herself.

"Hmm? Yeah, what I did is something different than what you do."

"Different..." Ophis seemed to be thinking deeply about something, but actually, she was just enjoying Victor's caresses.

"She seems attached to you, Victor." Scathach spoke.

"Yeah, but I don't care; she's cute." Victor displayed a gentle smile.

Realizing that Victor wasn't doing anything else, Elizabeth began to slowly calm down.

Not just her, everyone started to calm down.

"Fuaaa..." Pepper lets out all the trapped air she's been holding, "That was intense...I thought they would fight any second." She spoke in a low voice.

"Really... I really can't understand Victor anymore. He's becoming too unpredictable; this is bad for my heart." Lacus spoke in a joking tone to alleviate the situation.

"It's our mother's fault... It's all her fault..." Siena said.

"..." The three sisters agreed.

"I'm glad nothing happened..." Yuki's heart was beating very fast, she didn't want to fight the king's family; that was just suicide! But... As a vampire, she liked Victor's attitude... But that's something she'll never say out loud!

"What are you doing, Maria?" Luna asked curiously.

"Nothing," Maria replied, she made a gesture with her hand, and soon, all the wires she had spread around the room began to be collected. She acted on instinct, but internally, she didn't know why she did it. 'Why was my first reaction was to try to protect that man? Is it because of the master's order? But the master didn't order me to protect Victor...'

"Darling~" Violet had a silly smile on her face, she wanted to hug Victor, but that child! That child was stealing her place!

"Violet, we need to talk," Ruby spoke seriously.

"Heh?" Violet didn't understand.

"Come here. We need to talk about something." Sasha grabbed Violet's right arm.

"Huhh?"

Ruby approaches Violet and grabs her left arm, then the two women drag Violet to the corner of the room.

"W-Wait... My D-Darling-"

"Shut up, we need to talk," Ruby spoke in a deadly serious tone.

"..." Violet was speechless, she had never seen that expression on Ruby.

Soon the two wives started to lecture Violet. Calling the king's daughter a 'bitch' was something above the level of disrespect... She needs to be more self-aware of her status!

What if, because of her words, a political war broke out!? Lots of vampires were going to die because of her decision! That was Sasha and Ruby's concern.

As Ruby, Sasha, and Violet talked, Victor spoke:

"Princess, have you ever heard a European proverb that said: because of a nail, the shoe was lost; because of the horse, the message was lost; because of the message, the war was lost."

"...I've never heard of it." Elizabeth continued to speak as her eyes slowly turned to violet.

"The lesson this proverb teaches is quite simple to understand...." As he stroked Ophis' head, Victor looked up at Elizabeth with a small innocent smile on his face:

"Because of a mistake made by someone, an entire war was lost... Everything is connected. So remember, it only takes one small mistake for an entire empire to fall to ruin."

"..." Elizabeth felt her whole body go cold when she heard Victor's words:

"Is this a threat?"

"Threat? Pfff... That's just advice coming from someone who learned from the best teacher in the world."

"..." Scathach exhibited a small smile when she heard Victor's words, she didn't have time to teach Victor much. Still, one thing she made sure to teach was the mentality of a warrior who goes to war. After six months of intense torture and with a disciple willing to learn, can work miracles...

"..." Elizabeth was silent, "I see... I will remember this."

Then she turns her face away and looks at Violet, Ruby, and Sasha:

"What is your relationship with them?"

"They are my wives." He replied.

"...W-Wh?" She thought for a moment that she was deaf.

He pointed to Scathach, "She's my mother-in-law and my teacher."

"Hi~, I'm his mother-in-law~" She spoke with a gentle smile as she waved her hand.

"..." Elizabeth didn't know how to react when she saw Scathach playing.

He pointed to the three sisters, "Those are my friends over there. Oh, you can exclude Siena; she's not my friend at all."

"Pfft." Pepper almost started to laugh but stopped when she saw Siena's gaze.

Lacus shook her head when she saw her sister's attitude.

"That one is my maid." He pointed at Yuki.

"..." Yuki made a simple gesture of respect.

He looked at Maria and flashed a small smile as if he understood something, "She's Sasha's maid."

"..." Maria repeated Yuki's gesture.

Victor looks at the guards, who still have ice spikes at their throats, and ignores the men.

"T-Three...?" Elizabeth tries to process everything she has heard, 'he is married to two heiresses of houses with the title of count, and a former heir to the title of count... And he is the disciple of Scathach!?'

Elizabeth was speechless. If he were just Scathach's disciple, she wouldn't mind. After all, the millennia-old woman has many disciples. But he's married to this crazy woman's heiress too!?

"Kakakaka, she broke completely." Scathach chuckled when she saw Elizabeth's expression.

"Are you sure about telling the princess about your relationship with these women?"

"Do I look like I care? It's not like it's a secret."

"Kakakaka, you're right."

Remembering something he wanted to talk to her, Victor said, "Scathach, don't overdo it."

"Hmm? What do you mean?"

"Don't eliminate the rats, just torture them."

"Oh? Do you know?"

Victor just pointed to his eyes.

"...This is a very convenient skill."

"Indeed."

"Why don't you want me to eliminate the rats?"

"It's a waste."

"Waste?"

"Yeah... If they're dead, we can't fight them. Why didn't you kidnap them and use them as a training puppet for your daughters? After all, they are strong."

"..." Scathach looked at Victor as if she were looking at a genius:

"Fuck, why didn't I ever think about it?" She puts her hand to her forehead in disbelief.

"You're very overprotective, I love that about you, but you need to let your daughters train a little," Victor commented casually. He also wanted to fight those men she eliminated.

"..." Scathach looked at Victor with a neutral expression, 'Did he really not understand what he just said?'

"ZzzzzzzZZzzzz"

"Hmm?" Victor looked at his chest, "Did she sleep?"

"...I think you will become a good father in the future," Scathach commented, and for a few seconds, her green eyes sparkled a little, she was clearly planning something.

"..." Elizabeth stops thinking bullshit and looks at Ophis, and, seeing Ophis sleeping peacefully on a stranger's chest, the only thing she can think of seeing Ophis' current state is; 'I hope the father doesn't see this, he's going to freak out.'

"Ladies and gentlemen!" Suddenly everyone heard the voice of the advertiser.

"The game between Clan Rider and Clan Horseman is about to begin!"

"Finally..." Victor said he hoped to see something interesting.

Hearing the advertiser's voice, the women stopped what they were doing and looked out into the arena.

Everyone, including the audience, was soon able to see four individuals walking towards the middle of the arena.

"That's my aunt."

"Oh?" Victor looked at the woman who was walking towards the middle of the arena. He could feel that this was the same woman who was in the VIP room a little way away from him.

The woman had long blonde hair and blue eyes, she was wearing a long elegant black dress, she had a gentle smile on her face as she walked towards the center.

Victor examines the woman up and down and then looks at Sasha. Then, seeing the obvious differences in the chest, legs, and ass areas, he asked with genuine curiosity:

"Is she really your aunt?" He couldn't help asking that question. The woman was just very different from Sasha, and the only things alike were her hair and blue eyes.

"Yeah, she's a lot like my mom as usual..." Sasha replied as she looked at her aunt.

"..." Victor was speechless:

"...Genes are an unfair thing sometimes." He spoke in a low voice...

"What are you looking at, Darling?" Ruby asked with narrowed eyes.

"I was just admiring how beautiful my wives are." He smiled.

"..." Ruby was a little embarrassed, but she was getting used to her husband's charm, she won't fall so easy!

Victor flashed a small smile and snapped his fingers, and then soon, three more ice thrones were created beside him.

"Feel free." He pointed to the thrones.

Sasha, who was closest to Victor, sat next to him, Violet sat next to Sasha, and Ruby sat next to Violet.

"Kakakaka, they complain so much, and in the end, they did the same thing." Scathach laughed.

Victor exhibited a small smile and stroked Ophis' hair, who was sleeping on his chest, then he looked at the arena again. He saw that a rather tall man was heading towards the center of the arena.

The game was starting...

Chapter 81: Sly Fox.

A man wearing noble garb, looking like he came out of a medieval movie, entered the arena; he looked like he was 190 CM in height.

A muscular body that can even be seen through the clothes he is wearing.

What stood out most about this man who had just entered the arena was his cold dead eyes.

The phrase, 'The eyes are the window of the soul' couldn't be more correct in talking about this man. Looking into the man's lifeless eyes, everyone could immediately think he was dead inside.

Looking into the eyes of the man who had just entered, Victor flashed a small smile:

"Oh?"

"You can tell?" Scathach displayed a small satisfied smile.

"Yeah. At first glance, it might appear that he is a man bored with everything, a dead man. But that couldn't be more incorrect...." Victor's eyes gleamed a little through the glasses he was wearing.

"Hahaha~. Foxes always know how to deceive someone, for these animals deceiving people is like second nature, that man... He's a fox." She laughed in amusement, looking pleased with Victor's opinion.

"... Is he strong?" Violet asked.

"Yeah. Of course, he's strong, but the question you should be asking is, how strong is he?" Scathach replied.

"..." Violet looked at the man again, she seemed to be examining the man, "I feel that my mother is stronger than him."

"Pfft... HAHAAHAHA" Scathach started laughing as if she heard the funniest joke in the world.

"..." Violet looked at Scathach with an emotionless look.

"Girl, a woman who relies only on her powers isn't qualified enough to be called 'strong.' Do you know why?" Scathach bared all her teeth as she laughed.

"..." Violet waited for Scathach's following words.

"Because when someone takes that power from her, she will become useless..."

"... This-." Violet wasn't able to argue anything against Scathach's words. After all, she also knew that her mother had never trained anything in her life other than her power. Is she strong? Yes, of course, she is, she has mastered the control of her power... But.

Without that power, she becomes useless... It's like a wizard that if he loses his magic, he will become an ordinary person.

And she didn't even bother to train the vampire's basic powers.

Scathach continues, this time in a teacher's tone of voice:

"Remember, A hunter must always have several weapons in his arsenal at his disposal. He must always have different ways to kill a creature stronger than himself."

"If you can't use your innate vampire powers, use martial arts and force close-range combat. If you can't use martial arts, get a weapon. If a weapon is not available, take a stone. Use the environment to your advantage, use everything you can to kill your enemy, that's what a hunter does, and that's what I taught Victor."

"... I get it." Violet took this as a learning lesson, she thought she should ask Victor to teach her something in the future.

"..." Ruby, Lacus, Siena, and Eleonor didn't know how to react to these words, but as former students, they decided to take notes on Scathach's words, but they were wondering something internally; 'Why didn't she teach this to us too?'

The four women unconsciously looked at Victor.

Feeling the eyes of the women on him, Victor, who was looking at the man who arrived at the center of the arena, said:

"Let's go back to watching."

"Before that...Give me my sister." Elizabeth demanded.

"Hmm?" Victor looks back and sees Elizabeth standing behind him.

"It's not like I'm holding her here. You can take her off if you want." Victor stopped petting Ophis and opened his arms.

"..." Elizabeth walked in front of Victor, but before she could do anything, she took a pair of black gloves from her pocket.

Victor looked at the glove and saw several magic symbols engraved on the glove. "Protection?"

"Yes." She answered. Soon she started to move her hand towards Ophis.

"..." Everyone looked at this scene with curious eyes.

When Elizabeth's hands touch Ophis's arm, the little girl suddenly opens her eyes.

Ophis's blood red eyes were emitting a dangerous light, she gripped Victor's clothes tighter and looked at her sister.

Elizabeth's body visibly trembled, but she remained calm and said, "We need to go back, Ophis."

"Stop."

Elizabeth's body suddenly stopped moving as if paralyzed.

But this only lasted a few seconds, then she was able to regain control of her body:

"Ophis-." She smiled gently and tried to convince Ophis, but before she could say anything more:

"I will not go." The little girl refused to listen.

"Tsk." Violet was waiting for her to accept.

"Violet..." Sasha and Ruby looked at Violet:

"Do you remember our conversation?" Ruby says. She didn't like that either, but she's conscientious enough not to seek a fight with the king's family.

"Yeah. I won't do anything." Violet turned her face away.

"..." The two did not trust her words.

Victor exhibited a small smile, he closed his arms and strokes Ophis' hair:

"Let her do what she wants."

"Mm"

Seeing Ophis's satisfied expression.

"Sigh"

Elizabeth sighed and turned away from Ophis, she walked to a chair next to Eleonor and sat down.

"Princess."

"Countess Eleonor."

The two exchanged little greetings.

Soon the whole group looked towards the arena, which began to create a dome around the two individuals, and suddenly a golden scroll appeared floating in the middle of the dome.

"Count Niklaus Horseman, thank you so much for bringing the Countship for me today~."

"You are very confident." The man spoke in an emotionless tone.

"Of course I'm confident; I'm not my sister who would lose something so important to someone insignificant like you."

"I see..." He looked at the audience with a bored look.

"..." Victoria was a little annoyed internally, she wanted to tease him a little to try to learn a little more about the man's personality, but he didn't react as she expected.

He looked back at her, "How are we going to decide this? A fight? A dance? A board game? If you choose a board game, I suggest chess... Oh but-."

He exhibited a small cold smile, "Chess can be a difficult thing for you, considering you don't seem to have much intellectual capacity."

"..." Victoria opened her eyes a little, she didn't expect this coming from someone like him, but she wasn't someone who would let this little insult disturb her emotions.

"I want a fight, something simple. With that, you will have no excuses if you lose... And we need to entertain this entire audience, right? A game of chess would be tedious." She smiled gently.

"A fight is fine with me." Niklaus agreed.

"How many rounds? How many competitors? And what are the rules?" Niklaus cracked his neck a little.

"One round is enough. The rules are simple, we fight until the other side has lost their heart or gives up on their own."

As vampires, they are immortal, but it is not true immortality. If the vampire has their head completely destroyed, they will die, and if the vampire suffers an attack with their mortal weaknesses, they will die too.

Because of that, she proposed a rule: if the vampire loses their heart, they will lose the game. After all, this type of injury can be easily healed with vampire regeneration.

"I heard from a little bird that your twin sons are geniuses, put one of them to fight... Then, I will select a trusted warrior to fight him." She continued with a gentle smile on her face. It was quite clear that she had confidence in the warrior she had chosen.

"...What a coincidence... I also learned from a little bird that was a color very similar to yours that you had a child, and to my surprise, that child was an oriental vampire; I wonder if the Clan Fulger knows that." Niklaus flashed a cold little smile.

"..." Victoria's eyes changed to blood red for a moment, and she took on a cold expression:

"Where are you going, Count Niklaus?" Victoria didn't like it. She's pretty sure she hid her son's information from the fangs of these old vampires. They weren't supposed to know about her son.

"Use your son to fight. If you choose your child, I will accept these terms."

'That fox...' Victoria knew that if she didn't accept it, the next news the entire vampire world would know was that she had a child by a foreign vampire, and she knows that the first person who would knock on her door upon learning of this information would be her sister.

Normally this would not be a problem, but as her son was born with the lightning power she did not inherit, her sister will demand that her son be turned over to Clan Fulger.

'He cornered me.' She knew that if her son fought, the chance of him using his lightning powers was high.

"...You can give up, you know?"

"..." Victoria clenches her fist tightly, she can't give up. She's come too far to give up now!

"I accept... He will fight."

"I accept the terms." Niklaus looked at the parchment, and, seeing that everything was correct, he turned away.

"..." Victoria watched the man's back for a long time, but soon she turned too and walked out of the arena; 'It's okay, my son inherited his father's talent, he can win without using lightning.'

Chapter 82: The match is starting...

After the events that took place in the arena, the two clan leaders split up and returned to their respective VIP rooms.

Inside a VIP room very similar to the one Victor was in, three people were present.

A blonde woman wearing a long elegant black dress was sitting on a sofa, and beside her was a woman wearing a purple dress with some white accents.

Unlike Victoria, where the dress was more noble, this woman's dress was more modern.

"Tatsuya, I'm counting on you... And remember not to use lightning. You can win with only your father's talent; I believe in you. Take care, my son." Victoria spoke with a gentle expression on her face as she looked at her son, a tall man at 185 cm in height, pale skin, long dark blond hair, and dark black eyes.

He was wearing a black yukata with gold accents.

"Yes, Mother." The man exhibited a small, gentle smile as he walked towards the exit of the room and walked towards the arena.

The moment Tatsuya left the room, Victoria looked at the woman beside her with a serious look different from what she was showing before.

"How? How can they know about Tatsuya? I'm paying you billions of dollars every month, so that doesn't happen." She spoke in a cold tone.

"...Believe me, Victoria. I do not know either." The woman spoke with a small sigh.

"Even for a witch like you... you don't know?" Victoria's eyes changed to blood red.

"... Sigh." The woman sighed after watching Victoria for a while.

"Yes, I don't know. But I do have a hunch."

"What?"

"One of that woman's daughters has the clairvoyant ability, maybe your son showed up at some important event in the future, and she knew about it? But that wouldn't explain why the Horseman Clan knows about it."

"..." Victoria was not satisfied.

"Hecate, I'm paying you a dear price every month for you to hide my son's existence and protect him." She assumed a cold smile, "From the moment that old man discovered my son's existence, you failed your job. I will lower your pay."

"...!" The witch opened her eyes wider, and her face darkened a little, "W-Wait, his existence hasn't been discovered by everyone yet, and that doesn't break the contract rule!"

Victoria ignored what Hecate said, "If you don't want to lose money, hurry up and find out what happened."

"Yes, I will." Hecate sighed a little relieved, she didn't want to miss her golden goose. Being hired by a woman with a net worth of trillions of dollars like Victoria was every witch's dream.

"So? Who will fight, my older brother or me? Maybe my little sister?" Einer Horseman asked, and, as always, he had that crazy grin on his face.

Niklaus, who was standing watching the arena through the glass, spoke without looking back, "Your older brother cannot fight, and I will not entrust such an important matter to my daughter."

"You will fight."

"Oh? Thanks, Father~" Einer continued to laugh.

"This is your last chance...Don't fail me like you failed to capture that alpha wolf. This time, the opponent is someone of your level, and he won't be using all of his power. You shouldn't have excuses if you lose to that woman's son."

Niklaus was very disappointed. He gave his son a simple mission and even sent someone strong enough to capture an alpha wolf, but even so, the two failed because of their arrogance.

"..." Einer kept showing his smile as he looked at his father seriously. He knew he had disappointed his father, and that is something that shouldn't be repeated.

"I will not fail, Father." He spoke with absolute confidence. He had no confidence in fighting an alpha wolf, but a vampire? That's easy.

"Good. Now, go."

"Yes." Einer got up from the couch and walked towards the exit of the VIP room.

"..." Zwei and Jessica just fell silent.

"How is the boy's condition?" Niklaus asked.

"Dying...sick..." Zwei responded neutrally, and then he continued, "He doesn't have time..."

"..." Niklaus started to think a little before speaking:

"... That's a problem... It's very difficult to create a hybrid. We can't lose it until we complete our goal."

"What shall we do with those individuals my brothers have brought," Jessica asked, she was curious about what her father was going to do with Lucy and his subordinates.

"Nothing. Karen is keeping an eye on them."

"I don't trust Karen," Jessica said. She couldn't trust Karen, she felt that this woman would betray them at any moment.

"My Daughter." Niklaus looked at his daughter with the same bored eyes he always has, "It doesn't matter whether you trust her or not. She's doing her job and giving information; that's all that matters."

"But-." Jessica wanted to say something, but her father continued,

"If she becomes useless and doesn't do her job, she should just be eliminated." He looked back at the arena.

"Asking for a vampire's trust is sheer nonsense."

"..." Jessica was silent, she didn't know what to say to her father because, in the end, she knew he was correct. Vampires will always act in their own best interest.

A man wearing a red and black suit walked into the middle of the arena. He was a tall man and was wearing a smiling mask on his face.

The man raised his hands in the air and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, the two clans have decided the rule of the game today!" His voice strangely traveled to all corners of the arena.

"Look at this!" He pointed into the air, and soon everyone could see a giant hologram showing.

Chosen games: a 1 v 1 duel.

Rounds: 1

Rules: If the participant has their heart destroyed, they lose. If the participant surrenders, they lose.

Time limit: No limit.

Clan Horseman bets: Vampire Count title

Clan Rider bets: The Rider Clogomerate

ATTENTION: THE GAME STARTS IN 10 MINUTES!

...

"OHHHH!" The crowd started clapping and cheering.

"It's a fight! A fight!" A man shouted excitedly.

"Would we be able to see two Count-level vampires fighting!?" A woman spoke with a big smile on her face, she looked excited.

"This is a great opportunity!" A man across the arena spoke.

"Finally, something interesting is happening." A bored-looking man spoke.

"...I wouldn't be so optimistic...." A pessimistic-looking woman commented.

The vampires who were present in the arena started to debate who would fight whom; they looked very impatient.

But it wasn't just them. Victor's group was also impatient.

"Tsk." Mainly Victor.

"Father?" Ophis looks up and sees Victor's annoyed face.

Victor looked at Ophis and smiled gently, then he began to stroke her head, "It's nothing, Ophis."

"Mm~" She exhibited a small smile and closed her eyes as if enjoying his caresses.

"Haha~. Be patient, Victor. These things take time to get done." Scathach commented.

"..." Victor didn't say anything and just remained silent.

"My aunt seemed to get annoyed for a moment." Sasha, who was beside Victor, spoke.

"Oh, did you notice?"

"Yes," Sasha nodded.

"It was only for a few seconds, but her emotions seemed to intensify," Ruby commented.

"That man must have done something." Elizabeth, who was a little far away, spoke.

"...You seem to know him, Princess." Victor looked at Elizabeth.

"Nothing escapes the king's eyes." Elizabeth smiled.

"HAHAHA!" Scathach laughed as if she'd heard the funniest joke in the world.

"..." Elizabeth's face became neutral.

"Nothing escapes the king's eyes. Except for Countess Scathach." She rephrased her sentence.

"Heh~, glad you understand, Princess."

"..." Elizabeth turned her face away and ignored Scathach. When she turned her face away, she could see her guards, who were still standing with thorns of ice hovering around them.

"... Can you let my guards go?"

"Oh... I forgot about them." Scathach snaps her fingers, and soon the ice is gone.

"Thanks, Princess." The guards spoke, and soon they broke away from the group and stood guard near the door.

Sigh!

Elizabeth sighed. For some reason, she just wanted to get out of this place, she couldn't handle Scathach!

"You seem to be having a rough time, Princess," Eleanor spoke.

"..." Elizabeth looked at Eleanor with a neutral gaze and nodded.

"Don't worry, we all understand your feeling."

"..." Everyone in the room except Victor, Sasha, Ruby, Violet, and Scathach, who were talking to each other, nodded.

"My mom is a very difficult person to deal with... Especially now that she's... Hmm... having fun?" Siena spoke.

"..." Elizabeth looked at Siena with a neutral expression.

Siena's eyes darkened a little, "But don't worry, you'll get used to it soon, and look! She found someone like her; we have two Scathach now!"

"...Bloody Hell, I want to get out of here...." She really wanted to get out of that room right now.

Chapter 83: Let the games begin!

10 minutes had passed, and the game was about to start.

The hologram of the arena suddenly changed, and soon everyone could see the participants' faces, their age, and their names.

Einer Horseman, heir to the Horseman Clan.

Age: 105

Tatsuya, hired mercenary.

...

When the audience saw that they were two children, their reaction was mixed.

"Tsk, two kids." Some didn't like it.

"...It's better than nothing." Some just didn't care anymore.

"...They're cute..." Some thought they were both attractive.

"Boring." Some lost interest.

"I wanted to see the two leaders fight...." Some were honest with their thoughts.

Despite having different reactions, there was something they all had in common; they were bored! But there wasn't much better to do, so they were going to watch anyway.

"So it's him... Tatsuya." Victor's smile grew when he finally got to know the name of the person who had a strong presence. He had seen a strong presence some time ago near the VIP room where he was, and he finally got to know who this individual was.

"And Einer Horseman." Victor's eyes lit up a little when he saw the name 'Horseman'.

'So he's the heir, huh?' He thought with an indecipherable little smile.

[Do you want me to investigate it, Master?]

Victor suddenly heard Kaguya's voice in his head. He stroked Ophis' head and thought for a moment, "... No need."

The reason he refused was simple, he didn't want to put Kaguya at risk. When Victor looked at the leader of Clan Horseman, he could tell what kind of person he was, and with Scathach's words a few minutes ago, he knew that man was someone careful.

Despite having a convenient power that can help her escape from any situation, Victor doesn't want to risk putting his favorite maid in danger.

[Okay, Master. But if you need anything, talk to me. I'm feeling useless just being in your shadow.]

"Haha~, I'll talk to you if I need anything," he replied in a low voice.

"..." Ophis looks up and stares at Victor.

"Shadow..."

Victor displays a gentle smile and puts his finger to his mouth in a gesture of silence.

"Mm." Soon she lays her head on his chest.

"Heh~... She hid his last name, huh?" Scathach exhibited a small smile.

"He looks familiar somehow...." Sasha spoke as she stared at the image.

"..." Violet didn't care about the contestants, she was just staring at Ophis with a death glare. Despite ignoring it for a few minutes, she still felt jealous and envious of the little girl, and Violet was thinking of doing something.

"...Stop," Ruby spoke.

"...But I haven't done anything yet..." Violet looked at Ruby in disbelief.

"Yes. You haven't done anything YET." Ruby looked at Violet with a look that completely understood Violet's actions.

"..." Violet was wondering when she became so predictable...

Sigh!

Ruby sighed, "Don't do anything now, okay? I'm also jealous, and I also want to do something about it, but, despite my feelings about this situation, this little girl is still the king's daughter. So though my mother wouldn't mind it, and our husband wouldn't either, we must not get into conflict with the king."

"Tsk..." Violet turned her face away.

"Ladies and gentlemen!" Hearing the announcer's voice, the girls looked towards the arena, where they saw two men walking towards the arena.

A man with long golden hair was walking calmly towards the middle of the arena.

He was wearing a black Yukata with golden details, and he also had a small Katana around his waist.

The feeling he gave was that of a sharp but gentle warrior.

A very opposite feeling from the other competitor.

He was wearing a black sweatshirt and black jeans. The man had a big, distorted smile on his face, and his crazed eyes gave away what kind of personality he seemed to have.

Upon reaching the middle of the arena, the two fighters faced each other.

Despite being opposites in personality, the audience didn't have a favorite fighter, they didn't care for the gentle-looking fighter, and they also didn't care for the crazy appearance of the other fighter. Instead, they just wanted to see something interesting!

The announcer knew that and, because of that, he didn't speak more than necessary; he approached the participants and spoke out loud so that everyone could hear.

"Everyone present here knows the rule, but I will repeat it. Permanent death is not allowed; if any of the fighters break this rule, severe consequences will happen to the Clan the fighter is representing..."

The masked referee looked at the two, "Did I make myself clear?"

They both felt a shiver down their spine as they looked through the small space of the masked man's mask.

""Yes."" The two replied.

"Good... Let the game begin!" The referee disappeared.

The moment they heard the referee's words.

The two participants seemed to disappear from view, and soon they appeared in the middle of the arena. Tatsuya was holding his katana, and Einer was holding a completely black rapier.

The two swords collided in the middle of the arena.

"...?" Tatsuya looked at the rapier with appraising eyes. He wondered when this weapon appeared in the man's hand, he knew his opponent didn't enter the arena with this weapon in hand, but he didn't have much time to think when he felt something trying to pierce his back.

Realizing the danger, Tatsuya decided to flee from this situation.

"Calm down, don't run away~."

"!!!" Tatsuya looked down and saw that his feet were trapped in the ground by some kind of black slime; Tatsuya's body started to crackle with lightning for a few seconds but soon stopped. Instinctively, Tatsuya would use his lightning bolts, but remembering his mother's words, he managed to control himself.

With no choices, he decided to do whatever was necessary not to lose the game from the start. So he uses a Parry technique and deflects Einer's blade.

In doing so, he managed to knock the blade away from Einer.

Realizing his chance, he makes a decision and ... cuts off his legs!

With his body falling towards the ground, Tatsuya supports himself with his hand and moves away. He looked at the place where he was and saw a kind of blackthorn piercing the air.

'What is that?' With a calm face, he tried to understand the enemy's power.

"Hahaha~. I wonder if the public knows what's going on." Scathach laughed in amusement.

Suddenly everyone could feel a sensation that made the spines of their bodies shiver, and everyone in the VIP room looked at Victor:

"Heh~. As expected, you didn't disappoint me again~" Scathach's smile grew.

Victor's hair seemed to be floating like it was defying gravity, his eyes were glowing a dangerous red, and he had a huge smile that showed all the sharp teeth in his mouth.

"Father?" Ophis called him.

But Victor seemed to be in a trance, and he didn't hear her.

Ophis looked at Victor, her big eyes shining cutely, she didn't understand why Victor didn't talk to her.

"That feeling is scary..." Pepper muttered a little, "Did he get like this just seeing those two fight?"

"..." Everyone in the room except Violet, Ruby, Sasha, Scathach, and Ophis, who were more concerned about looking at Victor, agreed with Pepper.

Seeing the face she considered an excited face of her disciple, Scathach started to think of a few things, she looked back to the arena.

"Aren't you going to attack me? Just because I'm in this condition, are you underestimating me?" Tatsuya asked in a cold voice.

"Hehehe~, I don't need to move to attack you."

Suddenly a blackthorn pierces Tatsuya's heart!

"Tatsuya... My son, why didn't you finish the fight...?" Victoria didn't seem worried about her son. In fact, she looked impatient.

"Tsk... This is boring." Someone in the audience complained. As a 450-year-old vampire, this kind of fight wasn't surprising to him.

That same feeling was shared by the other vampires who were similar in age to that man and were watching the fight. For them, it was just a child's fight. Do you have fun when you see two kids fighting? Of course not!

"What are you waiting for, boy!? Finish the opponent! And end this farce soon!" A man from the audience shouted towards Einer.

"HmmHmmm~" Einer seemed to be singing a song and totally ignored the man in the audience, then his red eyes started to glow.

"I feel weird~" Einer started to think of a few things, and soon he made a move that left everyone speechless. He takes the Rapier he created and pierces his own heart!

"..." An uncomfortable silence descended on the arena. Nobody understood what happened!

Silence remains for 30 seconds, then everyone hears the sound of breaking glass.

"The sky is cracking...?" Someone spoke in disbelief.

The sky suddenly broke, and soon everyone woke up in a stupor.

Vampires under 500 years of age looked at the arena in shock:

"Huh!? Are you both okay?"

"What happened!?"

The audience was freaking out.

An older vampire in the audience said, "Children these days are too weak to fall for this simple trick..." He shook his head in disappointment.

"Unexpected... I thought this would be easy." Tatsuya spoke in a cold voice. He was still standing in the same spot the game had started and was about to finish the fight when he realized that Einer had fallen into his power, but his instincts warned him not to get closer now.

Einer's smile grew disproportionately, "I see~ I see~. We didn't know about this power."

Chapter 84: Tatsuya Vs Einer.

"What...? What just happened...?" Violet rubbed her eyes.

"...This power is dangerous. I didn't even feel like I was in an illusion," Sasha spoke in a serious voice, she felt uncomfortable as she imagined she could be in an illusion at any time.

"Illusion...?" Violet looked at Sasha.

"Yes. I don't know how it works, but that is the power he just used, right?" Since she wasn't sure what she was talking about, she looked to Scathach for answers.

Sasha was internally surprised, 'Is his power so strong that it could affect several young vampires present in the arena simultaneously?'

"..." Seeing what Sasha was doing, Violet also looked at Scathach.

Sensing Sasha and Violet's gaze, Scathach looked at them and flashed a small, unreadable smile:

"You're correct that his power is an illusion, but that's not all." Then she looked back at the arena.

"..." Sasha and Violet nodded. They understood why the woman spoke so mysteriously, she was basically saying; 'Use your brains; the problem is right in front of you.'

"Hmm... That power, when was it activated? I don't remember looking him in the eye...." Ruby commented.

"Indeed... He doesn't have an emo attitude either." Pepper, who got up and approached Ruby, added.

Violet and Sasha looked at their sisters:

"What are you talking about?" Violet asked as she raised her eyebrow.

"Nothing." The two spoke at the same time.

Tatsuya looked at Einer with a cold look on his face:

"Tell me, do you think your reality that you see is really real?" Then, his eyes changing to blood red, he started walking towards Einer.

"I don't know, and I don't care either." Einer looked to his right side and ignored what Tatsuya was saying.

"I see..." Tatsuya's image disappeared from the arena.

"If the act of observing reality is what determines what is real, then...." Tatsuya appears beside Einer and attacks him.

Black thorns suddenly grow from the ground and cross Tatsuya, and Tatsuya's blood splashed in Einer's face.

For just a small moment, Einer's face displayed a tiny bit of pleasure. He thought he had it right this time, but soon a strange sensation like the one he'd felt the first time hit him.

"What am I to you? A reality? Or an illusion?"

The image of Tatsuya being pierced by the black thorns disappears like a mirage, and a Katana blade appears behind Einer and cuts him vertically.

"Fuck-" Einer tries to dodge the attack, but he can barely manage. He had to sacrifice his arm, his arm fell to the ground, and he felt the pain.

He backed away quickly and looked at his arm, and again he felt that nagging feeling in his heart.

"This isn't real..." The moment he identified what was real, his arm disappeared from the ground and returned to his body.

"If you can't understand me, you can't fight me since you can't fight what you don't understand."

A katana suddenly pierces Einer's chest.

Cough!

Einer coughed up blood on the floor. This time, he felt that this wound was real!

He creates black thorns behind him and attacks Tatsuya.

"Tell me... The wound you just received, does it exist?"

"Tsk." Hearing Tatsuya's voice, Einer's face for the first time showed an annoyed expression.

"Fuck off!" Several thorns appear around Einer.

"Where are you! Show yourself!"

"..." The audience was silent. They couldn't understand what was happening right in front of them. But, of course, this only applied to the younger vampires, the older vampires knew what was going on, and the only thing that crossed the mind of the older vampires was:

'Where did the leader of Clan Rider find this man with such exotic power?' The eyes of the older vampires looked at Tatsuya with a look of limitless curiosity; for them, who were bored, Tatsuya was a perfect existence to kill their boredom.

"Hahaha, that kid must be having a hard time right now." Scathach chuckled, she looked at Victor, who seemed to have all of his senses focused on the fight.

"Do you seem to understand what's going on, Victor?" She exhibited a small smile.

"..." Hearing Scathach's question, everyone looked at Victor.

"Yeah. Look, Tatsuya is going to cut his legs off now."

And just like Victor said, Tatsuya's Katana appears on Einer's legs and cuts diagonally!

"!?" Einer was going through a difficult time, he understood what was going on, but despite understanding the enemy's power, he couldn't do anything to counteract that power.

"It's useless." He heard Tatsuya's voice again.

"As long as you don't understand my existence, you can't fight me." The katana appears again in front of Einer and tries to cut off his head.

Einer quickly creates a thorn shield in front of him and jumps back using his hands.

When Tatsuya's Katana touches the thorn shield, the katana disappears like mist.

"..." Victor's group was surprised again.

"This is a tough fight for me." Eleonor was honest, she was primarily a fighter who used strength to overcome everything.

"Indeed. This man is like an eel, he is very slippery, and that power is irritating to fight back against." Elizabeth spoke.

"How do you fight someone who can confuse all your senses? He has the advantage." Lacus spoke.

"You are thinking wrong." Victor and Scathach's voices were heard at the same time.

"..." The group was silent again.

For the first time, Victor stops watching the fight and looks at Scathach, then he exhibits a small smile, "Do you explain, or do I explain?"

She smiled, "...You explain." She wanted to know Victor's thoughts.

Victor gets up with Ophis in his arms and says something in Ophis' ear:

"Mm..." The girl nodded in agreement.

He decided to demonstrate, after all, is better than explaining:

"Watch." He places his hand in front of Ophis and descends slowly.

The group started to watch the movement of Victor's hands, Victor's hands began to glow with the power of lightning, and it caught the girls' attention even more; he looked like he was going to do something big!

Suddenly he said, "Now, where is Ophis?"

"...Huh!?" The women looked up and saw that Ophis had disappeared.

"She disappeared!?" Elizabeth screamed and got up from her chair, she couldn't lose her sister again!

Ruby, Sasha, and Violet look around, and soon they see Ophis sitting on Victor's ice throne, but since the throne was so big, it looked like she had disappeared.

"She's on the throne...." The three spoke.

Elizabeth walks close to the throne and sighs with relief when she sees Ophis sitting in a Cute fashion.

"What I just did is simple, I focused your attention on my hands, and you didn't see Ophis come down from my arms, a simple attention-shifting trick."

"That's basically what he's doing to deceive Einer. Of course, he's not using this simple magic trick. He must be using his power to make it work on a large scale."

"Hahahaha~. Good, you get it, but you missed something, idiot disciple."

"Oh?" Victor and the group looked at Scathach.

"That man, he is not trying to deceive the boy of Clan Horseman; he is deceiving his very existence." She exhibited a teacher's smile, "By becoming a difficult creature to be observed, the brain cannot understand what it is observing, so it looks like he is using a form of illusion."

"He said it, right? You can't fight what you don't understand; that's basically a tip he left."

"I see..." Victor's smile grew a little.

"Father..." Ophis raised her hand up in a gesture that told Victor to hold her.

"... What a spoiled girl~." Victor smiled kindly and picked up Ophis again, then sat on the ice throne he created.

"Better..."

"..." Elizabeth didn't know what to say or think seeing her sister like this.

Crack!

Violet's grip was so strong that she broke the ice throne she was sitting on a little. In an attempt to ignore what she was seeing, she said:

"He is hiding his very existence, and by doing so, he manages to fool his opponent...?" Her brain was spinning to try to understand what she just heard.

"That doesn't make any sense," Ruby said.

"His power is quite unusual in our community. I think he must be a foreign vampire." Siena commented, as an older vampire, she could understand the battle and the power of man, but even for her, his power was something interesting and curious...

"The power of the vampires out there shouldn't be that strong." Elizabeth continued.

"His power is not strong." Eleonor explained, "It's the way he uses his power that makes it look like his power is strong."

Suddenly everyone could feel a dark pressure; they quickly look into the arena and see Einer's body covered in a distorted black aura:

"Annoying... Annoying, your power is irritating, your existence is irritating." He had a distorted expression on his face and seemed very upset.

"I don't need to understand you to defeat you!" A pillar of black energy came out of Einer's body. Slowly, Einer's skin began to change to a dark black, he started to grow in height, his ears grew, and black wings made of pure power grew up behind him.

His hair lifted as if defying gravity, his eyes took on a deeper shade of red, his teeth sharpened.

"That's..." Victor's smile grew distorted, and everyone could see the big smile Victor had on his face.

"The Vampire Count Form."

Chapter 85: Tatsuya Vs Einer. 2

"This power..." The audience was speechless, especially the younger vampires.

"How did he achieve this form despite being so young? It's impossible!" Some were unbelievers.

"OHHHHH! That's what I wanted to see! Now it's interesting!" The most bored vampires didn't care; they just wanted to have fun.

"Hey blond boy, show me something interesting too!"

The two fighters ignored the voices of vampires from the audience and focused their attention on each other.

"Father..." Zwei spoke in a neutral voice, but one that held a sense of warning.

"I know. It's all right. It's not like it's rare for the sons of vampire counts to take that form." Niklaus didn't look worried.

Jessica looked intently at the arena. Although this was a power she still hadn't quite grasped, she hoped that by watching her brother do it, she might understand something.

"Lady Victoria..." Hecate looked worried.

"...It's okay... My son can win, but..." After seeing the form her son's opponent took, she thought; 'These damn geniuses, how old is he? Only 105? And even though he's so young, can he take that form?'

She was really starting to get worried about her son. Even though her son is a full-fledged genius, he hasn't released this transformation yet! She knows it's foolish to just let him fight without using all of his powers...

But despite knowing this, she's still a mother, she wants the best for her son and doesn't want to involve her son in Clan Fulger's schemes.

"...Hecate. If things get bad, send him a message telling him to use all his powers."

"...What about the Fulger clan?"

"I'll deal with those bastards later, but first, we must win this game."

But despite being a mother who wants the best for her child. She was an ambitious woman. A contradiction of ambition, desire, and a mother's affection.

"I see. I will get the message across if something happens."

...

Crack! Crack!

Sounds of breaking glass can be heard. It felt like reality was breaking...

"This reality will decay in the face of my power!" He raised his hands, and his power seemed to cover all the space around him.

The moment he raised his hand, the world around him began to rot, and slowly, the illusion disappeared and showed Tatsuya, who had a surprised expression on his cold face.

Einer broke Tatsuya's power with sheer brute force!

"And to think you surpassed my power with pure strength... And there's also this transformation... Do you call it Vampire Count Form?"

"Are you scared now? Don't be. We've just started." Einer's smile grew.

"Wrong...I'm not scared. I just realized that I still have a lot to improve... that's a good thing." Tatsuya braced himself.

"I see." Einer didn't care. Einer's wings of power seemed to grow, and, as soon as he rose into the air, he spread his wings.

Black thorns began to grow inside the wings, and soon a shower of thorns flew towards Tatsuya.

Using a foot movement that would be the envy of any martial artist, Tatsuya dodged all the thorns.

He seemed to be dancing in the middle of the arena and avoided all attacks with as little effort as possible.

The thorns hitting the arena seemed to be causing a decaying effect, and the ground was becoming unstable.

But for Tatsuya, it wasn't a bother; he just realized that he shouldn't let those thorns touch his katana.

"His footwork is awesome. I want this technique..." Scathach and Victor's eyes sparkled with curiosity.

As two beings who were always wanting to get stronger, seeing a new technique was something that made them very interested.

Scathach; 'Does this look like a Japanese martial art? But it seems that whoever invented this martial art adapted it for use by vampires...' As a 2,000-year-old vampire, she could already understand the technique with just a glance.

And it took less than 10 seconds for her to understand that this technique was useless for her. After all, she had something like that, and the technique Tatsuya used was created specifically for Katana users.

But she thought it didn't hurt to learn, and, because of that, she just watched the boy fight. By doing that, she could learn faster since, as a master of all martial arts, it was something simple for her to do.

"Interesting... It's very similar to the technique I use, but it's more refined...." Lacus was interested in the match now. The vampire count form and Tatsuya's footwork caught her attention.

Sasha had the same feeling as Lacus, but she didn't want the speed, she wanted that calm that man has; even being in danger, his emotions were never altered.

She wanted that, and this thought was shared by Violet, she knows that one of her weaknesses is that she loses control of her emotions too easily.

"Tsk." Seeing that he wasn't making any progress, Einer decided to change his strategy.

"Cocoon." He whispered in a low voice.

Soon several black thorns came out from under the arena and formed a black cocoon.

"Hey!! I can't see the fight that way!" The audience complained.

"Yes! Yes! Do something! It was just starting to get interesting! You mother fucker!"

"Do not worry!" The referee acted quickly, then used a magical observation device, and soon their fight could be seen through the giant hologram that was floating above the arena.

Using the cocoon as a means of using his powers, Einer was throwing several thorns at Tatsuya, a simple overpowering tactic.

"This is getting complicated...." Tatsuya whispered while dodging the black thorns. Then, realizing he was getting cornered with each passing minute, "I don't have any choice...." He decided to do something.

His eyes began to glow blood red, and golden energy began to shine in his Katana, "I'm sorry, Mother. I will be rebellious today."

He suddenly stopped moving and assumed an Iaijutsu stance.

"I got you!" Einer yelled excitedly. He was finally going to kill this slippery eel! He completely forgot that he shouldn't kill opponents.

"Ryujin..." Tatsuya whispered in a low voice as a colossal pressure started to come out of his body, and that pressure crushed all the black thorns. He drew the Katana from its scabbard, and everyone could see only the wake of the Katana attacking the air.

"Hakai no Sora."

ROOOOOAAAAAAR!

The image of an oriental dragon with blue eyes and golden scales that appeared to be covered in lightning seemed to come out of Tatsuya's sword, and it flew towards Einer.

"What!?" Einer quickly fled from Tatsuya's attack; he was not foolish enough to try to defend against that attack.

The dragon destroyed the cocoon easily and continued to fly towards the dark skies of Nightingale.

"That is!" Sasha rose from her throne and looked at the dragon in shock, "He has the power of my Clan!?"

"..." A moment of silence descended throughout the arena.

"OHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!" This time everyone was impressed.

"That was amazing, blonde boy!"

"Incredible!"

"Do it again!"

The audience looked like excited children now.

"... Tatsuya..."

"Maybe it's better this way," Hecate spoke to Victoria.

"That's not what I'm surprised at."

"Oh, he disobeyed you, huh?"

"Yes, he was always an obedient boy." Victoria wasn't angry, she was just surprised that Tatsuya disobeyed her.

Einer continued watching the dragon until it disappeared completely. Then, he looked at Tatsuya, his eyes glowing for a few seconds. After that, he descended from the heavens, took his transformation off, and created a Rapier with his powers.

He positions Rapier in front of him and takes a fighting stance.

"Oh?" Tatsuya was curious.

"I'm just wasting energy uselessly, you're too fast, and my powers won't hit you." He looked completely different. Even his voice became more serious.

"This is the most efficient tactic." He understood that he couldn't overcome Tatsuya with raw power, and he also could only assume that form for a few minutes before he was completely exhausted; he didn't want to risk losing because of that.

"I wonder if this is a good idea. How are you going to hit me if you don't understand me?" Tatsuya exhibited a small smile.

"You're wrong." Einer disappeared and moved in front of Tatsuya.

Soon the two blades collide in the middle of the arena. Tatsuya tried to use his powers to deceive the opponent, created a mirage of himself, then backed off.

But he was surprised when Einer ignored his mirage and ran towards him.

Again the two blades collide.

"Now, I 'understand' you." He displayed a small neutral smile.

"..." Tatsuya exhibited a slight smile, "I wonder about that."

Soon the two collide again and begin to fight.

...

Crack! Crack!

Broken ice sounds can be heard. Everyone looks at Victor and sees him squeezing the armrest of the ice throne as if holding on to keep from jumping into the arena and fighting.

A frightening pressure began to leave Victor's body, and his smile only grew and grew. But, this time, the pressure felt more terrifying, and it seemed to be affecting everything around.

Some places in the room seemed to be hot like the desert, some places seemed to be cold like the North Pole, some places in the room were making small sounds of electricity crackling.

"!!!" Eleonor, Siena, Lacus, and Pepper quickly left the part that was too hot and went to the part that was cold.

"Heh~" Scathach flashed a small smile, she completely understood how Victor was feeling.

"V-Victor? Stop-... Hiiii!" Pepper tried to talk to Victor, but she couldn't, she quickly fled behind her sister, she knew the place near Victor's wives was the safest.

"...Monster." Eleonor and Elizabeth spoke at the same time when they realized that this was being caused by Victor.

Elizabeth was the most shocked: 'That man has the powers of the three strongest Clans!? What in the seven hells is going on!?' She felt that she needed to find out what was going on. As a princess, she started to think that the three clans came together and decided to create a monster, and the result of that is Victor.

"Ahhh~..." Victor let the air out of his lungs, the air seemed to be very hot, and while keeping his smile:

"HAHAHAHAHAHAHA!" He started laughing madly.

Chapter 86: How can I not be excited?

'An opponent, a strong opponent, is in front of me! I want to fight! Fuck these policies, fuck everything! I want to fight!'

'And I know someone who can give me that opportunity, someone who doesn't care about the consequences of breaking the 'game' of two large families.' Finally, Victor couldn't hold back his desire any longer.

"Scathach Scarlett!" Victor's voice resonated throughout the VIP room.

The princess' guards and the princess herself were surprised as Victor called Scathach; they were hoping that woman would get angry.

"I know, I know. I knew this would happen, so I prepared everything. Wait for me here." She smiled as she rose from her ice throne.

She didn't do anything!? What the fuck!? They were freaking out.

Sigh!

As she walked towards the exit of the VIP room, she sighed.

"What don't I do for my stupid disciples?" She looked pretty tired.

That's what it looked like if you ignored the big smile on her face; she seemed to be enjoying the whole situation.

"!!!" The guards, realizing that that monster was walking towards them, quickly backed away from the door.

"Luna!" Scathach spoke up.

"Yes!?"

"Come with me."

"Yes..."

"... what just happened? Do they have some kind of telepathy?" Elizabeth asked honestly as Scathach left the VIP room.

"Probably," Lacus replied.

"Knowing my mother, she must be planning something." Siena continued, visibly upset.

Violet, Ruby, and Sasha were pouting annoyed, they didn't like it. It seems Scathach understood Victor more than they did!

The one most affected by it was Violet! She was about to freak out! 'I wasn't supposed to let Scathach train, my darling! I should have asked for war!' Her thoughts were running wild.

Sensing the turbulent emotions of his wives, Victor's desire to battle calmed a little, and he said:

"Calm down, girls. I am fine. And don't think about nonsense."

"Huh?" Ruby, Violet, and Sasha looked at Victor.

"My wish is simple..." Victor's eyes sparkled intensely.

"I want to fight... For six months, I was beaten by my master, and she said I got better. I want to know... I need to know how much better I got! Fighting my master isn't enough; she's just too strong..."

"Oh." The three spoke at the same time.

"Two possible strong opponents are in front of me... How can I not get excited? How can I contain my desire? It's impossible. I've always been honest with myself, and now that I'm a vampire, that urge has gotten stronger."

'Now that I'm a vampire, huh?' Elizabeth raised an eyebrow, she understood what that phrase implied.

"I see..." Ruby nodded, she finally understood Victor's thoughts; 'Wait... Isn't that the same thought process as my mother?'

Violet puts her finger on her face, "Darling just wants to have fun..."

"...Do you want to fight them now? What about the game?" Sasha asked curiously. It's not possible that he wants to fight the two of them now, right?

'Probably, he was talking about fighting them later....' Though Sasha thought that was very unlikely.

"I don't know, and I don't care." Victor was honest, he would only care about something if it was related to his wives, and he knows this game has nothing to do with Sasha. That woman may be Sasha's aunt, but she's something of a distant aunt or an aunt that Sasha doesn't have much contact with.

Soon he looked back at the arena and saw a referee in the middle of the arena, it looked like something had happened, and he hadn't noticed.

"I will entrust this matter to Scathach, my master must be planning something, and I know it won't negatively affect me..." Victor spoke honestly, he knows that Scathach would only throw him to the lions in an attempt to make him stronger, and he didn't mind that attitude. In fact, he actually liked it.

"..." Everyone was silent and surprised at how much confidence Victor had in his master.

"Ladies and gentlemen. I apologize, but this game will be stalled for a few minutes." The referee suddenly spoke.

"Huuuh?" The audience felt like a child who had just had their favorite candy stolen!

"Hey!" Someone from the audience there complained, but the referee just looked at that individual and said,

"Be patient." His cold voice sent shivers down the vampire's spine.

"O-Okay." He sat back.

...

"Huh? Why was the game stopped?" Victoria didn't know what was going on.

Knock Knock!

"Lady Victoria Rider, please come to the administration room."

Victoria heard the voice of the arena worker.

"...?" Victoria looked at the door, "What's going on?"

"A new Clan has joined the wager." The official spoke.

"Huuuh? But isn't that against the rules?!"

"We know that, but we can't ignore the person who placed the order... It's just impossible."

"..." Feeling a little fear in the employee's voice, Victoria was curious:

"Can I at least know who the Clan is that got involved?"

"Clan Scarlett..."

"...Heh?"

"...Countess Scathach Scarlett..." Victoria swallowed her saliva. What did that monster want with her? She was just a helpless woman!

"Yes..."

"Fuck!"

...

A somewhat similar scene was taking place on the side of Clan Horseman.

Knock Knock!

"Come in." Niklaus' cold voice was heard by the clerk.

The employee enters and immediately starts talking:

"Count Niklaus Horseman, a new Clan, has decided to play the game. Please head to the administration room."

"..." Niklaus nodded coldly. He knew this was against the rules, so his curiosity was piqued:

"May I know who the new bettor is?" He asked as he walked towards the exit of the VIP room.

"Countess Scathach Scarlett."

"..." He suddenly stopped walking, a small hint of surprise appeared on his face, but it soon disappeared as if it didn't exist, "Okay..."

"Wait here."

"Yes, Father," Jessica spoke up.

"..." Zwei nodded.

Victoria and Niklaus meet at the door to the administration room.

"..." The two looked at each other in silence for some time.

" Oldest first," Niklaus spoke with a knightly gesture.

"Oh?" A vein popped in Victoria's head, she flashed a neutral smile and said, "Why don't you go first? After all, you are someone of high status."

"That's true..." He nodded, then opened the door.

When Niklaus opened the door, they saw a woman with long red hair standing next to an old man. They seemed to be chatting amiably.

"Oh?" Scathach's smile grew, "You arrived, good. Come in, come in."

"..." The two were wondering if they could refuse this offer, but remembering what was at stake, they entered.

They sat on opposite sides, and as they sat down, they heard Scathach's voice:

"I don't want to waste a lot of time with useless conversations. So my proposal is simple: I want my disciple to fight your two heirs."

"..."

"My bet is simple: Whoever defeats my disciple, I will support 100% of whatever goal you have."

"!!!" Victoria and Niklaus' eyes seemed to glow.

With the same smile on her face, Scathach continued:

"Do you want to take the king's throne? I will support it. Do you want me to teach your children? I will do it. Do you want to destroy the human world? That is a simple job. Do you want a war against the wolves? I would love to participate."

"The period of my support is 1 year." She flashed a cold smile, "How about? It's a good deal, right?"

"..." Yes, it was a great deal. In exchange for winning the fight against a vampire who is this woman's disciple, they would have the full support of the strongest female vampire.

Just by having Scathach's name in whatever plans they had, that plan would carry more weight than usual. It just goes to show how much weight that woman's name has for all vampires.

But they know that there is no free lunch in this world... If this woman trusts her disciple so much, then he must be very strong... But it was hard to know; after all, it's known to everyone that Scathach has enough disciples scattered around the world.

And many of them weren't so strong that they could fight two geniuses alone.

"What do you want if your disciple wins?" Niklaus was faster than Victoria to speak. For him, that was a good deal, and he trusted his son, considering his son had 'that' which no vampire had.

"...Hmm, you don't have much that is useful for my disciple and me... Oh, how about this? My disciple is allowed to come to your house at any time to 'use' your heirs for training, and he can learn anything that is not a 'secret' for your Clan?"

"..." This was a rather strange condition even for the two vampires.

"Hmm... Explain to me in more detail about your bet." As a businesswoman, Victoria wanted to be sure what she was getting into. After all, a bet with Scathach shouldn't be simple, right?

"Huh? Haven't I already explained? Are you stupid?" She made a confused face.

"..." A vein snapped in Victoria's head, she thought she must be being cursed to find two people she couldn't offend on the same day.

Soon, they started arguing about this matter. Victoria wanted the title of count. Niklaus wanted to protect his title, and he also wanted the resources he could only gain from Victoria.

But with Scathach's intervention, things had to change, and they didn't have many choices in this matter; after all, the bet was just too good.

The support of the strongest female vampire in the world...

30 minutes later, an announcement was heard.

"A new player has joined the game!"

"Heh?" This was the reaction from everyone in the arena. They know it's against the rules!

Soon Victor's image appeared on the screen.

Victor Walker/Snow, Fulger, Scarlett. Disciple of Scathach Scarlett.

...

"What?" All vampires were shocked.

"What the fuck is 'Walker/Snow, Fulger, Scarlett?' What is his relationship to these three Clans!?"

"Wait! He has the same last name as that woman!"

"Disciple of Scathach...? Another one?"

"He is young! A baby!"

"He has the same name as that woman, so they're families!? Is that why he is her disciple? Huuh?"

The audience was going crazy with lots of questions, but one thing was for sure, they were curious now.

"D-D-Darling!?" Violet stutter.

"H-H-Husband!?" Sasha couldn't believe what she was seeing.

"...She did this..." Ruby looked very tired.

"Pffft... HAHAAHAHAHAHAHA" Victor was laughing a lot now.

"... Father... Having fun," Ophis spoke.

Scathach enters the VIP room:

Hearing Victor chuckle, she showed a small satisfied smile.

"Victor."

Victor stops laughing and looks at Scathach.

"Go have fun, my stupid disciple. But... Remember, don't lose... If you lose or demonstrate a pathetic fight to me, prepare for your punishment." Her eyes glowed blood red as she flashed a sultry smile:

"This time, you will spend 10 years training with me in isolation~." Scathach would not allow a weak disciple.

Chapter 87: Victor Vs Tatsuya and Einer.

"This time, you will spend 10 years training with me in isolation~." Scathach would not allow a disciple of hers to be weak.

"!!!" The three wives reacted strongly to Scathach's words.

"W-Wait, Mother!" Ruby said.

"You can not do that!" Violet growled angrily.

"Yes, he just got out of training!" Sasha agreed with Violet.

"...I think that would be a reward for him...." Pepper whispered.

"..." Lacus and Eleonor looked at Pepper.

"What?" Pepper asked with an innocent face.

"Nothing," Lacus replied.

"..." Scathach ignored everyone and continued to look at Victor.

Victor exhibited a small smile as he rose from the ice throne while holding Ophis like a princess and placing her where he was sitting. As he made these movements, Victor's shadow grew, and soon Kaguya stepped out of his shadow.

Realizing she couldn't stay in Victor's shadow during the game, Kaguya stepped out of his shadow and walked towards Luna, Maria, and Yuki.

"Hmm...?" Ophis turned her face away in confusion.

Victor removes his glasses and places them beside the ice throne.

He looks into Scathach's eyes and displays a gentle smile, "Thank you, Scathach."

"..." Scathach felt a strange sensation in her heart when she heard those words. It felt warm and sweet, but it wasn't bad...

"Girl, I'll be back soon. I'm going to play for a bit~" He spoke in a playful voice as he had a small sadistic smile on his face; he looked like a kid who was going to leave home to play with his school friends.

Although, the smile he had on his face at that moment was not the smile of someone who would play with friends...

Then he turned and looked at the glass, and lightly touching the glass, the magic symbols of his white gloves began to glow blood red.

And then a scene that left some people shocked happened; Victor's hand began to pass through the glass.

"W-What?" Sasha, who was closest, was shocked.

Slowly, Victor's entire body passed through the glass, and soon he was standing there floating outside the arena.

"How is this possible?" Violet was shocked, she knew what it was, but how did he ever learn it?

"Did he learn that too...?" Ruby was surprised.

"Didn't I tell you?" Scathach walked towards her throne.

Hearing Scathach's voice, everyone looked at her, "I trained his basics. That means he's mastered what I consider the basics of a 'noble vampire'." She spoke with a slight smile on her face as she sat on her throne.

She crossed her legs elegantly and continued, "If he couldn't do it, I would be disappointed~."

"..." Everyone was speechless. They were wondering something, how high is Scathach's standard? They know that this technique is basically a fusion of bat transformation abilities with the vampires' fogwalk ability.

An advanced technique! And she considers it basic!?

Scathach's disciples were wondering if this was why she always had a bored face when she taught them. Was it because they didn't meet her standard!?

"Don't be so surprised. My foolish disciple hides more secrets~." She laughed a little, "After all, I personally taught him that in a fight, you should have two or three hidden cards to surprise your opponent. Just sit back and enjoy the show."

Luna, who was carrying several documents while accompanying Scathach, only sighed when she saw that she was forgotten, soon she walked towards Siena and handed all these documents to her:

"Take it, Lady Siena."

"Huh?" Siena was taken aback by the amount of documents she received. "What is that?"

"Work."

"Eh? But it's my day off..."

"..." Luna didn't say anything, she just walked away from Siena and stood beside the maids.

...

Einer and Tatsuya, who were informed that the game was changed by their respective clan leaders, looked at Victor, who was floating in midair as he descended towards the arena.

"That smile, I don't like it." Einer no longer liked Victor.

"..." Tatsuya's opinion was neutral, but internally, he didn't like that smile from Victor either.

"Oh? That boy, has he mastered it...?" An older vampire in the audience spoke in curiosity when he saw Victor floating, "As expected of that woman's disciple, I think?"

Victor descended smoothly in the middle of the two participants, and the moment his feet touched the arena floor, the entire surface was turned to ice!

"!!!" Einer and Tatsuya quickly jumped.

"This power..." A man in the audience was shocked.

"It's from that woman's Clan!"

"Is that why he has the last name Scarlett!? Is he her son or something!?"

"Idiot, didn't you see the other last names too!?"

"So who is he!?"

"I do not know!"

"Shhh, shut up! Things are starting to get interesting!"

Victor's smile grew, a smile that showed all his sharp teeth was shown to the audience, he inhaled a little of the air around him, and when he let the air out of his lungs:

"Einer Horseman" His voice echoed throughout the arena; it was a heavy voice, a strong voice.

"Tatsuya."

"Let's have fun~."

"Start!" The referee spoke as if following Victor.

Wasting no time, Einer ran towards Victor. He felt an instinctive desire to want to wipe that smile off Victor's face; he didn't like it!

Creating a Rapier with his powers, he tried to pierce Victor's face. He wanted to pierce his head! And wipe that smile off his face!

"Die!" The thrilling scene he'd been hoping for didn't happen.

Covering his fingers with pure ice, Victor stopped Einer's attack with just one finger:

Beng!

Everyone heard the sound of two blades colliding.

"Wha-" Before he could react to the scene that happened before him, he felt his face being hit by something invisible.

At the same time, Victor made a move. He positioned himself with a simple martial arts pose and punched the air!

Fuusshhhh!

A blast of air flew towards Einer, he was unable to dodge.

The gust of wind hit him with violent force!

BOOOOOOOM!

An explosion happened when Einer hit the wall.

"Cough!" Einer coughed up blood on the floor, but the attack wasn't over yet.

The effects of Victor's attack began to show up in Einer's body, his body slowly starting to freeze.

"What...?" The audience didn't know how to react. They just couldn't understand what just happened in front of them.

"Is that the power of a vampire baby?" The older vampire opened his eyes in shock. He felt like he was seeing the power of a 500 year old vampire! The only thing he was thinking now was; 'That monster created another little monster....'

"Good~" Scathach would look pleased.

"Mother... You overreacted... Again." Pepper could only say that she had seen this attack before, and she knows how devastating this attack is.

"Yes, he did it. I hope that guy is alive." Lacus.

"He's a vampire; he won't die that easy. I think..." Ruby.

"Darling~" Violet is a little red in the face.

"...Lady Victoria." Hecate didn't know what to say when she saw Victoria's glare.

"That woman created a monster."

"..." Hecate can't help nodding her head instinctively, so she goes back to looking at the arena with curious eyes.

Victor looked at Tatsuya, "You use Katanas, right?" He flashed a small smile, "Let's make things a little fairer."

"..." Tatsuya remained silent. His eyes were very serious, and he simply understood that the man in front of him shouldn't be underestimated.

Victor snaps his fingers, and slowly a greatsword of pure ice is created in front of him, and then he takes the greatsword and places it on his shoulder as he displayed a provocative smile on his face:

"Now the fight is fair."

"..." The audience was speechless. Is that fair? You are carrying a sword over two meters long! Bulshit!

Victor raises his hand, and with a provoking gesture, he says:

"Come."

"..." Tatsuya didn't move, and he just held his scabbard and positioned himself.

Slowly, Tatsuya's image began to fade.

"Heh~. You won't come? In that case."

Victor's body began to crackle with lightning, and soon he disappeared and left only a trail of golden light behind.

Tatsuya's eyes opened in shock, "Wha-"

Rumble!

The sound of lightning hitting something was heard!

Soon everyone could see Tatsuya flying towards the sky; he seemed unconscious.

With a big smile on his face, Victor lifted his finger, and a sphere of fire began to be created, and slowly... This sphere started to grow.

"What... am I dreaming...?" Someone from the audience asked in disbelief as they rubbed their eyes.

"This is... what is this? What is this being? No... What is this monster!?"

When the sphere of fire grew enough to be called a miniature sun.

"Burn."

The sphere flew towards Tatsuya.

"TATSUYA! Dodge now!" Victoria screamed in horror, she feared for her son's safety.

Hearing his mother's voice, Tatsuya's eyes opened, his eyes seemed to glow golden for a few seconds, his body was enveloped in lightning, and soon he disappeared from the sky.

The fireball flew towards the dark Nightingale sky and exploded, the effect of the explosion so big that all the clouds around the city were gone. For the first time in many years, everyone could see the capital's sky clear without a cloud.

"..." An uncomfortable silence descended on everyone in the arena.

The audience was speechless again, they didn't know how to react to what they had just seen, it was just too unbelievable, that man... No, that monster just used the three powers of the Count Clans!?

Despite having lost the title of vampire count, Clan Fulger was still considered by the public to be a count's family. After all, they held the title for a long time.

Victoria sighed in relief when she saw her son safe, but...

"...Scathach..." She spoke in a low voice as her body began to shake, and, slowly, a feeling of anger rose inside her.

Her eyes glowed blood red, she squeezed the chair she was sitting in so hard that the chair cracked under her strength:

"SCATHACH SCARLETT! JUST WHAT KIND OF MONSTER DID YOU CREATE!?"

Victoria's voice echoed throughout the silent arena...

And soon, everyone could hear the wild laughter of the strongest female vampire in the world.

"HAHAHAHAHAHAHA!"

Chapter 88: A little monster was created.

"Father..." Zwei spoke in a neutral tone.

"I know... I didn't expect this result either." Niklaus spoke with a serious face, very different from what he'd shown before.

Hearing Scathach Scarlett's laugh, the man clenched his fist a little harder. He felt cheated, now he understood why that woman was so confident, but soon his expression became serene since he remembered that even if his son lost to Victor, he wouldn't lose the count title. He would just lose Scathach's support.

'That woman, did she do all this just to show off her disciple?' Niklaus thought it was very unlikely, she didn't seem like that kind of woman.

Niklaus looked at Victor:

"What kind of monster are you?" His curiosity started to grow. For him, a vampire who could use three completely opposite powers was something quite interesting; 'Is he an experiment organized by the three clans? Are they in an alliance?'

Niklaus thought that an abnormal vampire like Victor couldn't be born suddenly overnight; someone must have created him.

"..." Jessica looked at Victor and then looked at her father, 'He really didn't recognize him? Is he getting senile?' She thought inwardly.

Jessica looks at Victor again, 'Although... He has changed a lot compared to his old appearance.'

Violet Snow, the heiress of Clan Snow. She's spent her entire growth phase in the human world, and that would obviously arouse a little curiosity from the other clans.

'What is Clan Snow's heiress doing in the human world?' That was their curiosity at the time, and to satiate their curiosity, they sent someone to investigate, and the result disappointed most of them.

'Oh, so she's just obsessed with new food.' That's what the older vampires thought, and they completely forgot about that subject.

They would never imagine that this 'food' would become what it is today.

Victor's smile grew:

"C'mon, C'mon! Get up!"

"What are you waiting for!? I know you weren't defeated by that alone. I trust you, don't disappoint me!"

Rumble!

The sound of lightning was heard.

Hearing this, Victor's smile only grew more distorted, "Good~."

Soon Tatsuya appeared in front of Victor, his appearance was immaculate as always, but some parts of his Yukata were completely destroyed.

"I don't know how it feels to know you trust me." He spoke in a neutral tone as he stretched his body a little. 'That hurt...'

BOOOOOM!

An explosion is heard by everyone, and soon Einer appears beside Tatsuya:

"Mother Fucker." Einer's expression was not good.

"HaHaHa~"

Slap, Slap!

Victor started to laugh out loud as he clapped his hands.

"Good, Good! That's how it has to be! If that weren't so, it wouldn't be fun!"

"I almost died..." Tatsuya muttered with a neutral expression. Tatsuya was wondering if this man had forgotten the rules.

Victor looked at Tatsuya, "Don't lie to me. I knew you would survive that attack."

"..." Tatsuya remained silent since he didn't want to deny or confirm Victor's words.

"And you." He pointed to Einer.

"I knew you would survive that small slap I gave."

'... Small slap? That one...? I almost died!' Einer was quite annoyed.

"Now! Let's continue!" With a small thrust of his arms, Victor threw his greatsword towards them both.

The two quickly dodged the attack.

BOOOOOM!

Like a missile hitting the ground, the sword was destroyed and created a massive explosion of pure ice.

Looking at this scene, Einer and Tatsuya look at each other for a few seconds and nod. They seemed to have come to a common understanding.

Einer pulled away from Tatsuya, his body slowly grew, his skin turned dark, and long black wings appeared behind him.

"Oh?" Victor's smile only widened as he saw Einer step into vampire count form.

Tatsuya's body began to crackle, and, gradually, his body was covered in Lightning, and soon he disappeared in a flash of golden light.

"HaHaHa," Victor creates another ice greatsword and defends against Tatsuya's attack.

Beng!

The sound of swords clashing was heard by everyone.

"Have you finally decided to use all your power?"

"..." Tatsuya didn't answer. He didn't need to; he just concentrated on using the lightning power more.

He uses his power to increase his speed, and soon he disappears in front of Victor.

Suddenly a large black thorn came out of the ground, pierced Victor's stomach, and lifted him into the air.

"Die!" Einer threw black thorns from his wings.

"HaHaHaHa," Despite having a massive wound in his stomach, Victor never stopped laughing.

"Darling/Husband!?" Ruby, Violet, and Sasha exclaimed at the same time.

"...Are you really vampires? That wound is nothing, watch."

Scathach spoke.

Victor snaps his fingers, and a large ice pillar is created that destroys the black thorn. Then he stood on top of the pillar and created an ice shield in front of him.

The thorns thrown by Einer hit the ice shield and do not leave a scratch.

"Tsk." Not wanting to give up, he continued to throw the thorns into the ice shield. Slowly, the shield began to crack, but just when Einer thought it would be destroyed, the ice shield suddenly regenerated!

"FUCK! Die! Die!"

"HaHaHa," Victor chuckled in amusement. He liked seeing Einer's angry expression.

A few seconds passed, and a scene happened that left all the younger vampires gaping:

Victor's stomach regenerated at an abnormal speed, and his clothing was also intact! It was like he went back in time! And it was in less than 7 seconds!

"...What is this guy?" They kept being surprised to see Victor's abilities.

"See?" Scathach smiled.

"..." Sasha, Violet, and Ruby knew this, but they were still worried!

Tatsuya suddenly appears behind Victor. He was floating in the air with his body covered in lightning as he positioned himself in an Iaijutsu pose.

"Oh? Are you going to use that technique!?" Victor's smile grew.

"Ryujin... Hakai no sora!" He unsheathed his katana at an almost invisible speed.

ROOOOAAAAAAR!

Just like the last time, a blue-eyed oriental dragon with golden scales covered in lightning flew toward Victor.

"OOOOOHHH!" The audience was excited when they saw that eastern dragon again.

And the audience wasn't the only one; Victor was too.

"Aaaah~, it's so beautiful." Victor wore a satisfied smile as if he were enjoying a piece of art.

"But..." Victor raises his hand in front of him, the magic circle on his glove starts to glow brightly, "It's a shame it's so weak..."

He waits for the dragon to touch his hand, and a vision that all young vampires and Tatsuya won't forget happens. The dragon became a sculpture of ice...

"... How is this possible!? He froze the lightning! It makes no sense!"

"...This..." Tatsuya was speechless.

Victor clenched his fist a little, and soon the entire ice sculpture was destroyed, then he looked at Tatsuya with his eyes glowing red:

"It's my turn."

Tatsuya unconsciously took a step back when he saw Victor's gaze, and upon realizing what he had done, it made him very angry with himself; 'Me scared? Me!?'

'Unforgivable!' He was very strict with himself.

"When you meet something you don't know... You feel scared."
He suddenly heard Victor's voice beside him.

He quickly turned around in an attempt to react, but it was useless, and Victor grabs Tatsuya by the neck:

"Apparently, you feel it too~."

"Let go of me!" Tatsuya started to struggle. He tried to cut Victor's arm, but Victor's arm was covered in pure ice, and Tatsuya's katana couldn't cut the ice from his arm!

"Okay. I will." Victor showed an innocent smile.

"Eh?"

While holding Tatsuya's neck, Victor rolled a little in the air and threw him towards Einer.

Seeing Tatsuya flying towards him, Einer flashed a smile, he thought it was a good idea to submit Tatsuya now, but thinking that he would have to face Victor alone later, he changed his mind...

He decided to help Tatsuya.

He flies towards Tatsuya and catches him in the air, "Stop playing around. Let's defeat this monster soon."

"What do you think I'm trying to do?" Tatsuya spoke in a serious tone as he covered his body with lightning.

The giant ice shield that Victor created melted, and Victor began to control the water towards the sky.

"Today's weather forecast is ice thorns~. Take care of the children." He displayed an innocent smile.

"This fucker...!" Einer's eyes flashed with anger.

Soon a shower of icy thorns began to fall towards the two men.

Tatsuya managed to dodge the attacks using his lightning power. However, a very different situation was happening with Einer, as he didn't have much mobility in the air, he decided to use his thorns as a defense.

"Hmm, Hmm." Victor seemed to be tuning his voice, then he spoke with an innocent smile on his face:

"Attention, please. We have just received information that intense lightning showers are on the way."

Rumble, Rumble!

Sounds of thundering lightning could be heard in the sky.

"Mother Fucker..." This time even Tatsuya insulted Victor.

And as Victor spoke, an intense rain of lightning began to fall towards Tatsuya and Einer.

"Fuck!" Lightning broke through Einer's defense and hit him.

The same happened with Tatsuya.

"Ugh." Despite having the power of lightning, Tatsuya was not immune to it. Why?

"Fire...?" The audience was speechless when they saw that wherever the lightning struck, a few seconds later, that same area caught fire, and it was quite obvious that this occurrence was unnatural.

"Can that monster merge his power!?" Someone in the audience screamed.

"Hahahahaha!" Victor laughed a lot.

"He looks like he's having fun..." Ruby flashed a small smile.

"Yeah." Sasha also displayed a small smile.

"... Darling~." Violet's eyes looked quite dangerous now.

Narrowly surviving the rain of lightning and icy thorns, the two looked at Victor with an annoyed look.

"Good, Good!"

Victor started clapping again with a big smile on his face, but as if by magic, his smile changed to an innocent smile, and he said:

"But... What are you going to do with this one?" He pointed to the sky.

Einer and Tatsuya, even the audience, looked up at the sky.

And the first thing they saw was... A giant spike of ice that could easily cover the entire arena.

"Fuck..." The two spoke at the same time.

Chapter 89: Teamwork.

"K-Kid! Do you want to destroy the arena!?" An older vampire in the audience yelled. The vampire knew most of the arena was safe, considering it had been equipped with various defensive enchantments created by the witches.

But an attack of this magnitude will destroy these enchantments!

"Hmm?" Victor looks at the oldest vampire in the audience and flashes a small smile:

"Do I look like I care?"

"..." The audience was speechless.

"HAHAHAHAHAHA!" Scathach was having a great time.

"Mother, stop laughing! This is serious! If he unleashes an attack of that size, the entire arena will be destroyed!" Ruby spoke.

"And not only that, what will happen to us!?" Lacus spoke.

"Awawawawa, we are going to die!" Pepper was running around while freaking out.

"..." Siena looks at the giant ice spike that was approaching and thinks, 'That's my technique, huh.' She didn't know how it felt to see that her mother taught her technique to someone, but one thing she was sure of; 'My mother created a monster just like her...'

"...Do you underestimate witch technology so much? If the arena were destroyed by such an attack, the arena wouldn't have lasted for millennia." Elizabeth said. As a princess, she was the one who came into contact with witches the most, and because of that, she knew how reliable witch technology was...even though they were expensive.

"..." The sisters were silent, but inwardly they were calmer.

"Fuck! He really attacked!" Suddenly everyone heard the scream of someone from the audience, as they quickly looked up to the sky and saw the gigantic ice spike falling towards the arena.

"..." Pepper's face darkened, and with the speed that surprised everyone, she made a decision, "I'll run away!"

Just as she started to run, she was caught by her shirt collar by Sasha.

"Ughyaaa" Pepper made a strange noise, "Fue...? Let me go! I will run away!"

"Calm down, it's my husband we're talking about. He wouldn't put us in danger." Sasha looks at Ruby:

"You as his wife should know about his personality."

"..." Ruby nodded in agreement with Sasha's words, she knew what kind of man Victor was, but she was taken aback by his sudden personality change.

But when she thought more calmly, she found he hadn't changed much. Like her mother, he would always put the safety of his family first.

"Indeed. Darling, doesn't play with our safety." Violet flashed a loving smile, she and Sasha weren't worried.

"Hmm...Father trustworthy." Ophis spoke.

"..." Violet, Ruby, and Sasha looked at Ophis blankly. They didn't know how to feel to hear this little princess talking so confidently about Victor. Elizabeth was feeling the same feeling they were.

"Hey... what are we going to do!?" Tatsuya asked with a blank face while looking at the spike of ice approaching the arena as he started to prepare himself.

"... Do I look like someone who knows?" Einer responded with an expressionless look as he prepared himself as well. 'If things got too much worse, I still have 'it'. I won't lose so easily! My father will not accept another failure.'

Tatsuya covered his body with the power of lightning, and he looked towards the spike of ice with sharp eyes:

"I will cut it."

"Huh...?" Einer didn't believe what he heard.

"That's not normal ice, you know that, right?"

"Of course I know. The strongest female vampire's powers are well known."

"But...I doubt that man is on that woman's level." He spoke with confidence.

"..." Einer nodded in agreement with Tatsuya's words.

"Have you finished planning?"

"..." Tatsuya and Einer felt very strange now, 'was he waiting for us?' That's what they thought.

"Good~, Good~." Victor waved several times, "Let's make things more interesting." Soon, he raised his finger to the sky.

A small bolt of lightning shot out of Victor's finger and flew towards the ice.

"... What is he doing?" Someone from the audience asked curiously. Even though they knew they were in danger, they didn't care that much. They know the arena is safe, and if things go too far, the referee will intervene. After all, he must protect the audience.

And it's not like they can't protect themselves, they're vampires, and most of the vampires present are over 300 years old. Only a few vampires were younger than that.

When the little lightning bolt touched the ice spike, the entire ice spike was covered in lightning.

The image of a giant ice spike covered by lightning was seen by all.

"..." The audience was silent.

"Bloody Hell..."

"He's overreacting!" Someone from the audience screamed, and everyone couldn't help but agree with that person.

Victor exhibited a small smile and created a small ball of fire, which he threw on the ice spike. And the previous scene was repeated.

Fuuuushhhhhhh!

Soon the entire ice spike was covered with the three elements.

The image of a giant spike covered with lightning and fire that was the weakness of vampires was a rather intimidating sight.

The referee looked up at the sky, and the eyes behind his mask seemed to glow for a moment; 'It's not time yet.' Soon his eyes return to normal color. He made the decision to wait. His thought was that he would step in if things got too far, but this kind of power was still acceptable by his standards.

"...This is excessive...." Even Violet was feeling it now.

"HAHAHAHAHA! Good~, Good~, but... That's still not enough." Scathach's eyes glowed a dangerous red, she seemed to be thinking about something profound.

"Is that still not enough...?" Everyone in the VIP room had no reaction at hearing Scathach's words.

"Mother..." Ruby looked at her mother, a little worried, she knew that expression, and from her own experience, she knew that this was not a good thing.

"...Can you cut that?" Einer said as he was covered in a cold sweat.

"...I'll try..." Tatsuya didn't look very confident.

Victor's smile grew unnaturally, his eyes glowed blood red, and Victor's image seemed to get distorted:

"And now!? And now!? What are you going to do!? The attack is coming!"

"That crazy son of a bitch...." Einer muttered angrily.

"..." Tatsuya nodded in agreement with Einer's words.

"Tsk, we have no choices. Let's destroy this thing." Einer points his hand to Tatsuya.

A dark power came out of Einer's hand and covered Tatsuya's body.

Rumble, Rumble!

Tatsuya's lightning changed to black lightning.

"...?" Tatsuya didn't understand what Einer did, but he felt stronger!

"Oh? What is this~?" Victor noticed it too, and knowing that his opponent got stronger made the smile on his face grow; he seemed to be enjoying it a lot.

"This will help protect you from the fire and will increase your strength a little." Einer didn't explain too deeply.

"What is that?"

"My power. Now get ready!"

"..." Tatsuya nods and doesn't question it anymore. He understood that Einer didn't want to talk about it.

"In the end. He needed to use that..." Niklaus's eyes sparkled a little when he saw Einer's attitude.

"He doesn't have a choice," Zwei responded neutrally.

"Either he uses it, or he loses," Jessica spoke up.

"I will try to hold off the attack as long as possible. You must destroy it!" Einer said.

"... Okay." Tatsuya assumes the position of Iaijutsu.

Rumble, Rumble!

The surrounding black lightning was building in power.

Einer raises his hand towards the ice spike. "I didn't want to use so much energy, but I don't have a choice..." His eyes began to glow more intensely

Everyone in the arena feels the ground shake as if there's an earthquake.

"What is happening!?" Pepper asked.

"Something is coming from under the Earth." Eleonor, who was more sensitive, spoke.

Soon several giant thorns rose towards the sky. The thorns began to rotate and seemed to be merging.

Slowly, the two powers were closing in on each other until...

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

The two attacks collided, an incredible explosion of power took place!

Einer's thorn and Victor's ice spike seemed to be struggling to see what power would lose first.

"Ugh." Einer felt the recoil of the attack, he felt his whole body damaged, but he ignored it and looked at Tatsuya:

"Do it."

Tatsuya nodded slightly.

Bang!

Suddenly everyone heard the sound of lightning hitting something, so they took their attention away from the clash of powers and looked at the arena. Soon they could see Tatsuya covered in lightning.

His hair was up like he was defying gravity, his eyes were glowing gold, and the skin on his hand was completely black with tiny sparks crackling; it was like his hand was bathed in lightning.

"One hit, one kill..." He muttered, and then he was gone.

Exceeding the speed he showed before, he flew towards the ice spike.

Einer seizes this chance and removes his thorns. Losing the only thing holding it back from falling, the spike of ice that Victor created began to fall again towards Tatsuya and Einer.

Tatsuya at this moment appears in front of the gigantic spike:

"Rairyū no Zangeki."

This time, the speed with which he drew the Katana from its scabbard was so fast that few could see what he did.

"..." A moment of silence in the arena, but that silence was broken by Victor's voice.

He spoke in a solemn voice, "Ahhh~, that was amazing... Yes, indeed. That really was a wonderful performance~" He seemed to be enjoying something as he looked at the spike he created.

Crack...

Suddenly everyone could hear the sound of something breaking, they quickly looked up at the sky and opened their mouths in shock.

"He cut... He cut that attack!?" Someone in the audience screamed.

And, as if in sync with this man in the audience, the spike of ice began to snap in half.

"OHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!"

"They did it!"

Chapter 90: The End. And the beginning.

The audience was cheering excitedly. The show of power, along with Tatsuya and Einer overcoming Victor's almost 'invincible' power, was great entertainment for everyone.

But not everyone was enjoying it.

The ice debris were still falling towards the arena, the arena will not be destroyed, but the damage to the city will be enormous.

The referee realized this, and he wanted to intervene since he couldn't let a part of the city be destroyed.

"Don't worry, old man." The referee heard Victor's voice.

He heard a snapping of fingers, and soon all the ice debris created by Victor turned to water and then turned to ice again, but this time, it was just hail.

Soon a small hailstorm occurred in the arena.

The referee looked at Victor, and, seeing the satisfied smile on his face, the referee felt awkward; 'Why does he look so pleased? Why is his skin glowing? Does he look prettier? What the fuck?'

The referee had a lot of doubts in his head now, but before asking something, he wanted to refute something:

"I'm not old."

"What is your age?" Victor asked.

"1794. I'm still an adult." The referee responded.

"...You're older than the man at the store I knew... You're an old man."

"... I'm not." The referee didn't want to give up, he felt a bad feeling when he was called old, he didn't like it!

"Yes, you are. But don't worry, you can still find a wife, but she won't be as pretty as my wives."

A vein popped in the referee's head, but because he was wearing a mask, his face was not seen by Victor.

"Are you going to continue the match?" The referee asked, changing the subject.

"I wanted to... But unfortunately..." Victor looked at Einer and Tatsuya, who were on the ground breathing deeply. They looked quite tired.

"They are like this..."

Sigh...

Victor released a long, disappointed sigh, "That's really a shame, I was having so much fun, but unfortunately, they got tired."

"..." The referee remained neutral and didn't comment on this, but internally, he was thinking the same thing as Victor; the fight was a lot of fun for him too.

"I... haven't... lost... the fight yet," Einer said, he looked quite tired, and his transformation had already been undone.

Tatsuya leaned on his Katana and got up too.

The two look at Victor with the intention of continuing the fight.

"Oh...?" Victor's eyes gleamed in admiration, and he displayed a small satisfied smile. Then, slowly, that smile grew, and he spoke with a big happy smile:

"I like both of you!"

"Eh?" Tatsuya and Einer didn't understand.

"Huh!?" The audience didn't get it either.

"What!?" Ruby, Sasha, and Violet were freaking out.

"Pfft... HAHAAHAHAHAHA!" Scathach was laughing a lot. She somehow remembered her past, she remembers doing the same thing when she was younger. It's a unique feeling when you meet a strong warrior... Wrong, the correct word would be a rival. 'Although, these two boys are still far from my disciple's level~, but they have talent... Mainly that boy from Clan Horseman.'

Scathach judged the two to be gifted vampires. Tatsuya has a very peculiar Katana-based martial art, and he has a strange power of illusion, not to mention that he also has the powers of Clan Fulger.

Einer, despite being young, could already access the vampire count form and even seemed to have a lot of control over his power in this form, although he still has stamina issues.

"...Hmm?" Realizing what he said, Victor corrected himself, "Oh, don't look at me like that. I like women, and I'm married too."

"What!?" This time it was the female vampires in the audience who screamed. A young vampire so strong and with excellent connections!? It's the dream of every female vampire who doesn't have much status.

Not to mention that Victor is a baby! These women's Shota instincts were screaming to eat him.

"...This bitches..." Violet's eyes weren't pretty now.

"..." Sasha and Ruby shared the same sentiment.

Even Scathach felt a little annoyed when he heard the female vampires in the audience talking about Victor; 'They think they can do whatever they want with my disciple!? Haha! Looks like some female vampires are going to disappear today.'

Five killing intents began to leak from the VIP room towards the audience, and it made the female vampires scream in fear... Wait, five!?

"Father... Is mine."

"..." No one knew how to react to Ophis' words except Violet.

"Bit-... Kid, go grow up first! You are too young!" Violet was going to insult Ophis, but realizing it was inappropriate to say that to a child, she quickly changed what she was going to say.

A small vein popped in Ophis' head, "Is mine..."

"Huuuh!?" Violet's eyes glowed blood red.

"..." Elizabeth again was in disbelief when she sensed a feeling of anger coming from Ophis; 'she is usually so apathetic....'

"Oh..." Tatsuya and Einer sighed a little when they heard Victor's words.

"Although I really want to continue our fight."

"!!!" They were surprised to hear Victor's voice beside them.

"You are in no condition to fight, and I won't have fun like that." Victor brings both of his hands towards Tatsuya and Einer's forehead.

"See you in the future... Einer, and Tatsuya~."

"Wha-"

Soon He finger-flicked their foreheads.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

A small explosion happened, and the two flew towards the wall completely unconscious.

The referee appeared beside the two and assessed them. Then, seeing that the two were not in a position to continue, he raises his hand and says:

"The winner is..."

"Victor Walker!"

"OHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!"

The audience roared excitedly as they clapped their hands.

...

A few hours later, in a meeting room.

Countess Scathach Scarlett, Victoria Rider, and Count Niklaus Horseman were present.

Next to them was the director of the arena.

"Then? What happens to our game." Victoria asked with a neutral look.

"My disciple won, so our reward is what I said at the previous meeting."

"I'm not talking about that. I'm talking about my game against this old man." She pointed to Niklaus, who was a little way off.

"Oh, that's your problem." Scathach exhibited a small smile.

"..." Victoria's face shook a little.

Scathach elaborated a little, "From the beginning, I had made it clear; the fight that will take place against my disciple is another completely separate game. The fight against my disciple has nothing to do with your game. You're the one who didn't pay attention."

"So, this fight was futile?" Victoria spoke.

"For you guys? Yes. But for my disciple? Of course not, since he can finally loosen up a bit."

"..." Victoria was feeling cheated now, but she knew Scathach was right. From the start, she never said she would meddle in their game.

What happened was basically her interfering in the fight between two Clans just so her disciple could 'let go' a little.

They fought for nothing!

Irrational! This woman is very irrational! She just casually interfered with the fighting of other clans just for her disciple to have fun! Hateful woman!

Victoria was freaking out internally, but she didn't dare say it out loud.

Niklaus was thinking a little differently; 'Not everything was useless... My son learned from this fight, it was a shame he failed, but unlike before, this situation was not in his control.' He wasn't an irrational man; he was just very strict.

And they were able to discover the existence of Victor, which in itself changes a lot...

"Are we done? I have to go now~. Enjoy the game." Scathach got up and walked towards the exit.

"Countess Scathach Scarlett." Niklaus looked at Scathach.

Scathach turned and looked at the man.

"Who is that boy?"

Scathach exhibited a small smile, "He's my son-in-law."

"What..." Victoria opened her mouth in shock, she never thought she would live long enough to hear those words from Scathach's mouth. After all, she knows this woman's stories, she knows she wouldn't accept an 'ordinary man' to be her daughter's husband.

"And my disciple." She laughed a little, "He's a lot of things, but it's up to you to find that out, considering he'll be coming to your house in the near future."

"...I see." Niklaus nodded.

Ending the conversation, Scathach soon left the room.

"..." A moment of silence fell in the room, the two Clan leaders were thinking about their next move, but before that, they needed to resolve this situation.

"Are you going to continue the bet?"

"...No..." Victoria replied after thinking for a moment, "The situation has changed." She gets up and walks towards the exit.

"So we decided this as a tie?"

"Yes. It's fine by me." She spoke as soon as she opened the door and left the room.

Victoria didn't give up on her ambitions, she just backed off... Victor's existence and his connection to the three great vampire clans can bring about many changes, and she doesn't want to make another rash decision like she did now.

Niklaus looked at the arena director for a few seconds, but soon he got up and left the arena too.

The arena director displayed a small smile as the guests left his room, "Did you send it to the king?"

"Yes." A man wearing an all-black outfit with a mask on his face appeared behind the director.

"Good. I wonder what his reaction was...." The man smiled a little.

"... If I may say so."

"Oh?"

"The king is angry..."

"This is rare. He rarely displays emotions even to his subordinates. Was he angry with the fight?"

"It didn't look like he was angry about the fight."

"Hmm... Something that might annoy the king... His daughters, I think?"

"I do not know. I'm just his eyes and ears." Soon he disappears.

"... I know." The man exhibited a smile.

Chapter 91: Wife time... And became famous.

One day after the events of the game between Clan Horseman and Clan Rider...

A pale-skinned woman with long white hair, wearing only a black nightgown, was sleeping in a King Size bed.

The bed was completely messed up, as if several people were sleeping in it.

The woman turns her body to the side and touches the bed as if looking for someone.

"Hmmm..." Violet slowly opens her eyes, "Darling...?"

"!!!" Realizing that Victor wasn't in bed, she quickly opened her eyes and sat up in bed.

The first thing she heard when she sat up in bed was:

[Countess Scathach Scarlett surprised everyone yesterday when she introduced her new disciple-.]

Suddenly the voice changed to that of a woman.

[What kind of connection does this man have with the three-]

"Tsk." She hears Ruby's annoyed voice, and soon the woman's voice is completely silenced.

"They're still talking about it..." Sasha spoke in a sleepy voice.

"They're going to talk about it for a long time... And it's only been a day," Ruby said.

"One day is a long time! They should have forgotten already!

But..." Sasha knew she was asking the impossible. After all, vampires wouldn't forget so easily.

"Our husband caused chaos yesterday. The existence of a vampire who can use all three powers has shaken the entire vampire community... I think it's still not a good idea that he's demonstrated his capabilities." Sasha continued.

"It's not like he would listen to us." Ruby rolled her eyes.

"Indeed... He's surprisingly proud." Sasha grumbled a little.

"Well, he's a vampire," Ruby spoke.

"...Although his pride is only in matters involving fights." Sasha seemed to be thinking of something.

"That's true..." Ruby nodded.

Violet looks toward the two women. Ruby and Sasha were sitting on a spacious sofa, and, just like Violet, they were just wearing a nightgown.

Ruby was wearing a very comfortable and provocative red nightgown, while Sasha was wearing a white nightgown that looked quite noble and innocent.

The two women were watching TV, the news channel from the vampire world. Despite being called the news channel, the entire vampire community knew that these news channels were gossip channels.

As a society that has been around for a long time, they have several companies that provide entertainment for these bored vampires, and gossip channels are the most popular.

Everyone wants to know what the famous are doing, right? Although some find this type of channel a waste of time, at the end of the day, they will watch these channels if they are interested in a famous figure currently being discussed.

Because of this, gossip channels are quite popular in the vampire world.

After the fight that took place yesterday, the channels kept talking about Victor, Scathach's new disciple, and his possible connection to the three great clans of vampire counts.

The vampire world community was dying to know who this man was. They were hunting for any information about this man, but it proved quite difficult despite his efforts to get any information about him. Since anything related to Scathach was deeply hidden, and no one dared to provoke the wrath of that madwoman.

After all, they don't know if at any moment that woman is going to knock on their door and cause mass destruction.

Suddenly everyone hears the sound of a phone ringing.

"Tsk."

Violet heard Sasha's annoyed voice.

"Are they still calling?" Ruby asked.

"Yes. I don't want to answer and hear my mom's bullshit." Sasha was quite annoyed.

"I think she was surprised to find out about your relationship with Victor, especially since she wasn't informed, right?"

"It's not like she cares either, she only cares about her image... And probably, she's just curious like all vampires, considering, in that game, Victor was using our family's last names... "

"..." The two women were silent for a long time, their eyes opened completely, they seemed to have discovered something.

Sigh...

Ruby sighed, "My mom did it on purpose, right?"

"Yes..." Sasha nodded.

"I wonder what she's thinking." Sasha continued.

"She's probably just bored, and she's looking for some entertainment, and shaking up the whole vampire society seemed like something she'd like to do."

"Hmm..." Sasha started to think deeply.

"Where is my Darling?" Violet finally asked.

"He said he was going to visit his new 'friends'." Ruby spoke, she wasn't surprised to hear Violet's voice, she had already realized that the woman had already woken up.

"..." Violet was silent, she seemed to be thinking of something.

"Aren't you going to get ready?" Sasha asked.

"Huh?" Violet didn't understand.

"You forgot?" Ruby looked at Violet with a face of disbelief.

"...Hmm?" Violet puts her hand to her chin and starts to think, but in the end, she couldn't remember, she could only think about Victor's blood that she'd sucked last night.

"Today is that day." Sasha illuminated Violet knowingly.

"...Oh..."

"... Are you okay? I thought you would be more excited." Sasha continued, finding Violet's reaction strange. Normally, she was supposed to be screaming around excited. Did she eat something bad?

"I'm excited!... But I also wanted to just stay in bed with my Darling~ and drink his blood...Maybe do this and that, hehehehe~" She lay back on the bed and grabbed the pillow, and began to laugh with a perverted smile.

She sniffed the pillow, "Ahhh~, Darling~."

"..." Ruby and Sasha rolled their eyes when they saw Violet's attitude, but...

"Actually...I think this is a good idea since we haven't had a lot of time with our husband these days." Ruby spoke after thinking about it a bit.

"Hmm. Soon we will be returning to the human world, our husband misses his family, and we can spend a lot of time with him." Sasha spoke.

"...That's true. It's been six months since Victor arrived in this world. Our husband's mother must be worried." Ruby nodded.

"I have some unfinished business in the human world too." Sasha's eyes gleamed with a dangerous glint.

"Don't do anything stupid."

"Indeed. Darling would be sad if you did something like that." Violet suddenly sat up in bed and looked at Sasha.

"I know. I will ask for your help when the time comes. You will help me, right?" Sasha smiled.

"..." Ruby and Violet were a little shocked when they heard Sasha's words, but soon they both flashed a small smile and spoke at the same time.

"Of course."

...

Victoria Rider mansion.

A man wearing an all-black suit was walking calmly through the corridors of Victoria's mansion.

Strangely, despite passing by several vampires, these vampires could not feel this man. The image of this man seemed to be blurry, and no one could feel his presence.

"Tic~, Toc~. I arrived Bitches!" Victor suddenly opens the door, he came to this place to visit his new friend! Who was his friend?

Tatsuya Rider, of course!

After the fight, Victor felt like fighting his new friends! And because of that, he went to visit!

"Oh?" Upon entering the room, the image of a blond man did not appear in his vision, and instead...

"..." Victoria looked at Victor with a neutral gaze, she was in the middle of changing clothes.

Pale skin, slim body, B-Cup breasts with little pink nipples, a small pert ass. Victoria's appearance was what you expected from a noblewoman.

Victor looks Victoria up and down, then he nods, "As expected, genes are an unfair thing sometimes."

"Heh~" A vein pops in Victoria's head, "I wonder what you mean by that..." Her eyes changed to blood red.

"I was comparing you to my wife Sasha," Victor was brutally honest as usual.

Victoria's eyes seemed to sharpen, "...By Sasha...Are you talking about my niece, Sasha Fulger?" She wouldn't let this information go unnoticed, and she wasn't a little girl either who would scream when a man saw her naked body...

As a woman of high status, she would usually order this man killed. Or, she would personally kill the man who saw her naked body without permission, but that is impossible to do with this man.

"Who else would it be?" Victor replied, and soon he lost interest in Victoria. He started walking around the room while looking around like he was looking for something, and his eyes seemed to be glowing a little red.

"..." Victoria nodded, she learned something new. 'So that's why he has the surname of Clan Fulger... Wait, what about the other clans!? Don't tell me he's married to members of the other clans? Scathach has confirmed that he is her son-in-law, so which daughter is he married to? Ruby? Lacus? Siena? Maybe it's Pepper? What about the Snow Clan?'

Her head was spinning too fast in an attempt to absorb the information she just learned, she even forgot to wear her clothes.

"Tatsuya~. Tatsuya~. Where are you~." Victor looked like a child who was looking for his childhood friend.

"..." Victoria was speechless when she saw Victor's reaction, she was actually doubting her appearance now. 'Why didn't he react to me? I'm not pretty!?' That's what she thought.

As a woman, she was proud of her appearance and seeing someone so...insensitive. It bothered her a little. 'He is gay? But that's impossible... He's married... Hmmm'

Victoria couldn't accept the fact that she didn't attract a man's attention; it hurt her pride a little.

What she didn't know was that Victor has no interest in women who don't have the 'quality' he likes best, and he was also too loyal to his wives to try to look out for other women.

Victor's eyes suddenly stop in front of a wall. "I found you~"
Victor's smile grew unnaturally.

Victor gently touched the wall and, soon, the magic circles on his glove began to glow.

'These symbols....' As a woman who had always had hired witches around, she knew a little bit of magic, and it took only a glance to understand the incantation; 'Restriction?'

Victoria's face darkened a little when she realized that Victor was holding back in the fight with Tatsuya and Einer.

Suddenly Victor's image began to distort, and soon he was through the wall.

"!!!" Once again, Victoria was surprised; 'Monster...'
That was the only thing that crossed her mind, since she knows how difficult it is to do what Victor just did, and he did it so naturally like it was too easy.

Chapter 92: Tatsuya Gained a Friend...

Tatsuya's Personal Room.

A man with long blond hair was lying on a bed, and beside this man was a woman, specifically speaking, a witch.

The woman had short brown hair that came to the shoulder and green eyes, she was wearing a white outfit with violet accents and a witch hat on her head.

The man and woman were looking at a tall man who was standing in front of them with a big, dangerous smile on his face.

"So, are we going to fight?"

"I'm in recovery," Tatsuya spoke in a cold voice.

"Hahaha!" Victor laughed as if he had heard the funniest joke in the world, "Who do you want to kid? You are a vampire. You are already recovered! Let's fight!"

Seeing Victor's crazy eyes, "...Ugh," Tatsuya moaned in frustration. He was wondering what he did with his life to draw this madman's attention to him.

"Let's go! Let's go!"

"...Can I at least eat? I just woke up, and I'm hungry."

"...Hmmm." Victor puts a hand to his chin as if he's thinking about something very important.

"Hahaa~" Hecate chuckled gently as she covered her mouth.

"What?" Tatsuya looked at the woman.

"Nothing. It's just funny to see someone generally cold have so much trouble with someone."

"..." Tatsuya didn't know how to react to Hecate's words. In the end, he just sighed.

"Okay. You can eat, but after that, we'll fight!" Victor thought hard about his decision, and after very extensive consideration, he let Tatsuya eat. After all, he couldn't fight properly with hunger, and if he couldn't fight properly, Victor wouldn't have fun!

"Thanks?" Tatsuya felt strange hearing Victor give him permission.

In a ridiculously large room, Victor, Tatsuya, Victoria, and Hecate were present.

Victor was sitting on an ice throne with a small smile on his face.

Tatsuya was sitting in a chair some distance away, drinking a red liquid from a wine glass.

"..." He was feeling uncomfortable with Victor's gaze. Couldn't he eat in peace?

Hecate was beside Victor looking at the symbols on his glove, she had a curious look on her face. Victor didn't mind the witch since, according to Scathach, his glove spell is a pretty simple thing to do, so he wasn't worried.

"I'm sorry, Lady Victoria!" Several vampires were kneeling towards Victoria, who was sitting on a couch.

Victoria had an annoyed look on her face, she paid dearly to keep her house safe, and a random vampire managed to break into her home and enter her room without anyone knowing!

Bunch of useless! I will lower their wages!

She was more irritated with Victor! He just casually walked into her house like he owned the place, saw her the way she came into the world, and then completely ignored her! Hateful man!

"Whatever... Just don't repeat it-." Victoria would continue to lecture her subordinates, but suddenly she heard Victor's voice.

"Your subordinates are useless."

"Huh?" The subordinates were surprised by Victor's sudden voice.

"What are you saying, Kid!?"

"We are not useless!"

"HaHaHa~" Victor smiled dangerously, his eyes glowed blood red, and then he raised his hand in a silent gesture, "Shhh."

"...!?" Victoria's subordinates' bodies trembled, and suddenly, they couldn't speak.

"... That is..." Victoria immediately understood what Victor had done, 'But this should be impossible! Just who is this man!?' She was getting tired mentally.

"Continuing~." Victor looked at Victoria, "Your subordinates are useless. I could easily get past your defenses, and I didn't even have to work very hard."

"That's because you're abnormal, a normal vampire—" Hecate tried to defend Victoria's minions, but she stopped talking because she was surprised by Victor's attitude.

"Hello~" Victor ignored Hecate and waved to the ceiling.

"..." The vampires on the ceiling broke out in a cold sweat when they saw Victor's gaze.

Tatsuya's eyes turned cold, and he quickly rose from his chair.

"You have a lot of admirers." Victor chuckled playfully, "Well, you're beautiful, so I think that's normal? Hahaha~"

"Hecate!" Victoria ignored Victor and quickly gave the witch the command.

"Yes." Hecate raises her hands, and soon several magic circles begin to appear around the mansion.

"Oh?" Victor's eyes sparkled with curiosity.

The shadows that were in the mansion quickly began to flee when they realized they had been compromised by Victor.

But some were not so lucky, as the walls of Victoria's mansion began to move as if alive.

"Tsk. Some fled." Hecate did her best to capture everyone, but she wasn't a fighting witch.

"..." Sensing the enemies' speed, Tatsuya understood that he couldn't catch them all alone, so he looked at Victor:

"...Hey, my friend." Tatsuya felt awkward saying the word 'friend'.

"Hmm?" Victor looked at Tatsuya with a curious look.

"Help me deal with these bugs..." Tatsuya felt that he would regret his following words, "And I will fight you as long as necessary."

"Heh~" Victor's smile grew disproportionately, his image started to get distorted, a frightening pressure started to leave his body.

"Don't forget what you said, my friend~."

"..." Tatsuya was already regretting what he said and felt he said some cursed words...

'But it's alright.' Tatsuya was quite annoyed with himself, he couldn't see that his mother was being watched, he didn't win an important game for his mother, and to make his mood even worse, he completely lost against Victor! This weakness irritated him! He had never felt so angry with himself!

"Let's go?" Tatsuya's body was covered by lightning.

"Just sit still, my friend. And enjoy the show~."

"Huh...?"

The magic circles on Victor's gloves began to glow brightly blood red, and as he sat on his ice throne, he snapped his fingers.

"Cocoon." He muttered under his breath.

Fuuushhhhhhh

Cold air began to leave his body and spread throughout the mansion.

And with supernatural speed, a cocoon of ice began to be created around the entire mansion of Victoria.

"This... This is just bullshit." Victoria couldn't help but comment when she looked out the window and saw only pure ice.

Her mansion's land covered over 500 meters! It's a considerable distance! And he covered it all!?

"... You've learned?" Tatsuya remembers this technique; it was the technique Einer used.

"It's a pretty simple technique," Victor spoke honestly. The technique was simple, and the only prerequisite you needed to use this technique was to have extremely precise control of your power.

"Victoria Rider."

"..." Victoria looked at Victor, and seeing the bloodthirsty smile on his face, she felt a shiver down her spine, she felt a bit of fear... Her only current thought was, what will this monster become in the future?

But as an experienced trader, she did her best not to show those emotions on her face:

"What?"

"Live, or Dead?" Victor asked a simple question.

And Victoria immediately understood what he was talking about.

"Live."

"Okay."

Victor lightly touches the ice throne with his finger.

"..." Victoria expected something to happen, but she felt nothing.

Suddenly, she started to hear the noise of rain.

"...?" She walks towards the window and is faced with a sight that shocks her very much.

All the surroundings of her mansion turned into a desert of pure ice, and she immediately understood what was causing it:

"The rain..."

Raindrops when they touched something, that something was immediately frozen and turned into ice structures.

Victoria looked at Victor with a disbelieving look, "Did you do this?"

"Hmm? Yeah, you wanted them alive, right? The quickest way to do this is to freeze everything, and since they are vampires, they won't die from the cold."

She felt stupid for asking that question since it was obvious he was the one who did it. If it wasn't him, who would it be? But the sight in front of her only made her brain stop working for a few seconds.

Honestly, this extremely precise control of his power was scary, and to make her fear even worse, he didn't even look tired!

"..." Tatsuya was feeling strange now. He didn't even have to do anything...

Victor's eyes glowed blood red while he looked towards a wall, then he said, "Done."

"Done?" Hecate didn't understand.

"Yes. They all turned into ice sculptures~" Victor flashed an innocent smile that sent shivers down Hecate's spine.

"Oh..." She can only say that.

Victor looked at Victoria's subordinates and ordered in a cold tone, "Go do your job."

"!!!" The subordinates quickly waved as if they were part of the army.

"Yes, Sir!"

"..." Victoria had never seen her subordinates so scared in her life.

Sigh...

She was feeling tired, so she sat down on the couch again and looked at Victor, who had another small smile on his face; 'He's my niece's husband, huh?' Then, suddenly, she realized something.

She just realized they're related. Maybe that's a good thing? After all, having a strong relative is always welcome, and he doesn't seem to be prejudiced against her like the rest of her family, although that could change in the future if he discovers her secret.

But... She felt that Victor wouldn't mind. He didn't seem like a man who cared about little things.

Sigh...

She sighed again, she just wanted to lie down on the bed and not think about anything right now, she had so many things to do! Especially now that she found out her mansion was compromised. But for some reason, she didn't want to do anything today.

"Mother, are you alright?" Tatsuya asked worriedly.

"Yes, I'm just a little tired."

"...I can understand you."

"..." The two looked at Victor, who was sitting on the ice throne.

Noticing the look of the two, Victor looked at them, "What?"

"Nothing," The two spoke.

Chapter 93: Tatsuya Gained a Friend... 2

A few hours later, in the Garden of Victoria's mansion.

After the previous events, Victoria went off somewhere with Hecate and her new prisoners. Apparently, they were going to solve a little problem that Victor didn't bother to hear.

Victor had no interest in these men or the subject of Victoria. He only helped the woman because Tatsuya said he would fight him.

Kaguya, who practically stayed 24 hours, seven days a week in Victor's shadow, was watching her master and the man called Tatsuya fighting.

Normally, she and Yuki were supposed to be accompanying Victor wherever he went, but Yuki lost this time because she overslept, and Kaguya didn't bother to wake up the lazy maid.

As a professional maid, it is the maid's duty to wake up before the master.

If Yuki can't even meet this minimum requirement, she's not qualified to be a personal maid.

"Wrong, wrong! You are using the power wrong!" Victor looked quite frustrated as he approached Tatsuya and pointed his finger at him.

"Huh?"

"Your way of using power is very direct. You look like a horse that only knows how to run forward! Use it more flexibly!"

"Huuuh!?" A vein popped in Tatsuya's head, "I'm not a horse!"

"Then fight correctly!"

"Fine!"

The two walked away again and positioned themselves a little apart from each other.

The two look at each other, and in the blink of an eye, they're gone!

Beng!

The sounds of blade colliding were heard.

Although the only one using a blade is Tatsuya. Victor is using his hand as a blade of ice.

An intense exchange takes place, and neither of the two seems to be backing down.

"The pace my master improves is absurd..." Kaguya couldn't help but be amazed. With just one look, Victor already had the power of a 500 year old vampire; this is proved by the previous display of control.

But the scariest thing is, "He gets better faster when he's having fun."

Victor doesn't seem to realize this fact.

"This man too..." Tatsuya was similar to Victor.

"Although his pace is slower compared to my master, he is also not left behind."

With just a few simple changes, Tatsuya was improving a lot too. 'I think reality hit him hard.' Kaguya thought.

The reality that he wasn't strong, and the reality of enemies watching his mother and he can't perceive those enemies, made him furious! And he's using that fury to get better.

Boooooom! Boooooom! Boooooom!

Small explosions happen when the two collide; both were using pure martial arts.

Tatsuya used his Katana.

And Victor used his fists, and on some occasions, he used the greatsword.

At some point, while they were fighting, they started fighting in the air using only lightning.

"HAHAHAHAHA! THAT'S IT! THAT'S IT!" Victor looked like he was enjoying himself.

Seeing the smile on Victor's face, Tatsuya couldn't help but flash a small smile on his face. He was getting excited too!

"The shit..." Kaguya realized that Victor's personality was transmissible like a virus.

The two collide for the last time and fall to the ground at a distance from each other.

Victor points his finger at Tatsuya.

Rumble, Rumble!

The lightning around Victor seemed to have thickened.

And with a huge smile on his face, he said, "Don't die, my friend. Or I will descend all seven hells and pull you back to this world."

"!!!" Tatsuya felt a shiver down his spine when he saw Victor's gaze and quickly realized that something big was coming.

He assumed an Iaijutsu stance, as his eyes seemed to glow golden for a few seconds.

Rumble, Rumble!

And just like Victor, the lightning around him seemed to have gotten stronger too.

Crack, Crack!

The earth around them seemed to be being shattered by their concentration of power.

"They're overreacting..." Kaguya couldn't help but mutter.

Suddenly, a burst of pure energy left Victor's finger and flew towards Tatsuya.

Seeing the tremendous energy coming towards him, Tatsuya wasn't afraid, "I'll cut this." It was like he was making a promise to himself.

His lightning seemed to be focused on his Katana, and the whole Katana seemed to be bathed in pure lightning.

When Victor's attack was inches from colliding with Tatsuya's body, he made a move!

Cut!

With an Iaijutsu move, Tatsuya cuts Victor's power in half!

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

Losing its initial strength, the power failed to maintain its form and exploded, but the radius of the explosion was so large that it made a small crater in Victoria's garden.

"HAHAHAHAHA!" Victor was laughing his ass off as he watched the explosion with satisfied eyes.

"Master... Please don't take up the hobby of blowing things up." Kaguya couldn't help saying it in a low voice when she saw the expression Victor was making.

Hecate and Victoria, who had returned from her business, suddenly appeared in the garden:

"What was that noise-... Tatsuya!?" She quickly ran beside her son, who was lying on the floor.

"Are you okay!?"

"Y-Yes..."

"Hey, Hey! Let's continue-... Oh?" Victor appears beside Tatsuya.

"Tsk, you're tired already..." Victor was about to complain, but when he saw the satisfied smile on Tatsuya's face, he said:

"Oh...? I know that smile." He displayed a small smile as if he understood something.

"What are you talking about?" Tatsuya pretends to be innocent.

"HAHAHAHA! If you don't want to talk, that's fine! It's more fun this way~."

"Master... You overreacted again." Kaguya suddenly appeared at Victor's side while looking at him with a stoic look, she seemed to be silently accusing him of a crime.

"Huh?" Victor didn't understand.

"Look around," Kaguya spoke.

Victor looked around, "Oh..."

The old garden that looked like an ice desert was now completely destroyed and had several craters scattered throughout the garden.

"Well, I think it's okay? After all, Victoria has this witch." Victor pointed to Hecate.

"I'm not a landscaping expert," Hecate spoke dryly.

"And fixing this is going to cost me a lot of money." Victoria continued, "Can you get up?" She asked Tatsuya.

"Soon, give me a few seconds." Tatsuya was very worn out.

"Tsk, you have to work on your stamina! How are you going to satisfy a woman like that!?"

"..." Tatsuya, Victoria, and Hecate stared at Victor with an expressionless look.

"Master... This is inappropriate."

"But is it not true?" Victor remembers that Scathach always talked about it in his training, something like endurance being very important.

"Well... Vampire women are... thirsty..." Kaguya didn't say much.

"Lady Victoria should have more experience with this." She continued.

Hecate, Kaguya, and Victor looked at Victoria.

"H-Huh?" Victoria was taken aback that the focus of the conversation shifted to her at some point.

"Well..." Victoria remembered that she had nearly dried her husband out several times when he was alive, and, even though he was a vampire, he had nearly died.

"See?" Victor smiled. He didn't need Victoria's confirmation since her own silence was a confirmation.

"..." Victoria was wondering if she was that easy to be influenced... Of course, she isn't! Usually, she sets the pace for the conversation! It's all this man's fault! She started freaking out again inside.

"Can we change the subject?" Tatsuya didn't want to hear about these things, especially when his mother was around.

Feeling his body was better, he stood up.

"Oh?" Victor's eyes sparkled for a moment, but when he looked closer, he realized that Tatsuya was still tired.

Realizing that he couldn't have fun again, he said:

"Tsk... There's no way. I'm going to visit my other 'friend'."

"Send my condolences to him," Tatsuya spoke with a happy smile. He was happy that someone would suffer the same thing as him, although he was grateful to Victor since, if not for Victor, he wouldn't have taken a step to improve, but that's something he will never say out loud.

So much for pride and so much not to provoke this crazy man! Imagine what he will do if he knows I've improved! I will not have peace in this life!

"Okay. I will."

"Come on, Kaguya."

"Yes, master." Kaguya entered Victor's shadow.

"Oh." Victor remembered something as he quickly turned around and looked at Victoria, "Go visit your niece, ungrateful woman. Even though you left your clan for a reason, I don't care. Sasha has nothing to do with it ."

"...I Will." Victoria, for some reason, didn't mind Victor's rude way of talking to her anymore, she didn't even get angry anymore either.

"Good." Victor displayed a gentle smile, very different from the smile he always had. It was a smile he only showed his wives.

"..." That smile somehow felt warm in the hearts of Hecate and Victoria.

Rumble, Rumble!

Victor's body was covered by lightning.

Victor exhibited his characteristic smile and said, "I'll see you in the near future. Seeya~."

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

Like a rocket soaring into the sky, Victor flew skyward at a speed that would be the envy of any user of Clan Fulger's lightning power.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

When he reached a considerable height, everyone could hear a sonic boom, and soon all they could see was a golden trail flying across the sky.

"..." The three were speechless when they saw the lightning being used in this way, especially Victoria. Not even her sister could do what he did without consequences! And it looks like he could do that at any time.

"...He sure is intense... But, somehow, I understand why your niece liked him." Hecate commented, her face a little red.

"...Yes." Unconsciously, Victoria agreed.

"Mother!?" Tatsuya stared at his mother like a hawk.

"I mean... He's young, he's handsome, he's strong, and he has a personality that's attractive to female vampires. So it makes sense that my niece likes him."

"..." Tatsuya didn't know how it felt to hear his mother praising his 'enemy' so openly.

Getting her son's look wrong, she said, "Don't worry, son! Even though you're almost 100 years old, you're still a baby! One day you will have a wife too."

"..." Somehow, Tatsuya received critical damage when he heard his mother's words.

Chapter 94: Is Ophis a spoiled girl?

After flying a few kilometers away, Victor finally arrived in Eastern territory, which was owned by Clan Horseman.

Why didn't he go to Clan Horseman's personal mansion in the royal capital? Well, he went to the mansion, but the mansion was empty, so he deduced that his 'friend' had returned to his territory.

"I think it's here." Victor was on top of a building.

[It's here, Master.]

"Hmm... Is this place pleasant? What is happening?" Victor felt the temperature of the place, the sudden change in temperature made him a little curious. After all, the North, which is the territory of Scathach and the royal capital, was colder than here.

[The territory of the East, formerly belonging to Clan Fulger, is a milder territory that always seems to be in autumn.]

"Oh, is this territory where there are those groups of monkeys that can be tamed?"

[Yes... How do you know about this?]

"Elizabeth told me when we were visiting the capital."

[Heh...? When did you get so close to the princess?]

"I'm not close to her, she just accompanied me on my visit to the capital because Ophis didn't want to leave with her."

[Oh...] Kaguya understood now, suddenly starting to remember Ophis's expression a day ago, she looked like she didn't want to part with Victor.

Flashback.

When Victor was declared the winner of the game, he returned to the VIP room, and a small situation was happening:

"Ophis, we need to get back," Elizabeth spoke.

"No." Ophis denied it.

"Ophis..." Elizabeth narrowed her eyes on her sister. This was no time to be spoiled!

"Nooo!" Ophis ran towards Victor and climbed on his shoulder.

"Hahaha," Victor laughed gently as he held Ophis with his arm and patted the little girl's head.

"Father~" Ophis displayed a small satisfied smile.

"Girl, listen to your big sister, and go home~." Violet had a smile on her face, she's obviously happy, and she wasn't even trying to hide it.

"...Yes, it's time for the child to sleep." Sasha surprisingly supported Violet.

"Girls..." Ruby was speechless.

"What? Will you say that you like to see her close to our husband?" Sasha's eyes weren't pretty.

"..." Ruby was silent, she knew Sasha was correct.

"Do something!" Elizabeth looked at Victor with accusing eyes.

Seeing Elizabeth's gaze, Victor looked around and even looked behind himself to see if he could find someone. Since he wasn't sure if she was talking to him, he then pointed to himself:

"...Me?" He had an innocent smile on his face.

"Who else!?" Elizabeth was about to freak out.

"Hmm," Victor thought for a bit. To be honest, he didn't want to do anything, considering it's not like he hated Ophis' presence. But probably, as a princess, she must have things to do, right?

"Father?"

He looked at Ophis, and seeing Ophis' cute face, he said, "Go home, you can always visit me whenever you want, you know where I live, right?"

"Huh?" Violet, Sasha, and Ruby didn't expect to hear those words.

"Mm..." Ophis nodded.

"When you feel like it, just come visit me, but for now, listen to big sister, okay?"

"..." Ophis makes a hard face as if she wants to deny it, but when she sees Victor's gentle smile, she relents, "Okay... Father."

"..." Was it that easy!? Why does she just listen to you!? He's not even her real father! Elizabeth was freaking out internally!

Victor puts Ophis down, and the little girl looks at her sister, "Returning."

"Wai-"

Suddenly a dark power covers Ophis' body, and she disappears.

"Fuck! She always does that!"

"Hey, that's not a princess' vocabulary." Victor chuckled.

"Fuck you! This is your fault!"

"HaHaHaHa!" Victor just laughed and didn't care.

"This bitch..." When Violet was going to do something, she was held up by Ruby.

"Don't do anything. She's finally leaving, and if you try to look for trouble now, she'll stay here longer."

"Oh." This was not something Violet wanted.

"Humpf!" Elizabeth turned her face and walked towards the exit of the VIP room, she looked at the royal guards, "Come on, do your job this time!"

"Yes, princess!"

"Her noble image was completely destroyed," Pepper commented.

"That happens a lot when someone is dealing with Victor," Eleanor spoke.

"Own experience, huh?" Lacus exhibited a small smile...

"Yes." Eleonor did not deny it.

...

Seeing Victor's interested smile through the shadow, she said, [You're not going to tame those monkeys, are you?]

"I wanted to...But I don't have time today. Maybe in the future." Victor spoke, then he looked towards a ridiculously large mansion and jumped towards it.

In midair, Victor's image started to get distorted, and he suddenly turned into a swarm of bats.

The swarm of bats flew towards the mansion, past the mansion's defenses, and soon he was standing in the middle of the garden. Unlike the time with Victoria, this time, someone could feel Victor's presence.

"Intruder."

Victor looked at the man, and seeing that he looked like a grown man, he asked,

"Who are you?"

"Who are you, intruder?"

"Victor Walker."

"Who are you?" Victor asked again.

"...James. What are you doing here?" The man seemed to know Victor's name.

"Visiting my friend~" He spoke with a small smile on his face.

The butler nodded.

"Second floor. When you go up the stairs, he'll be at the tenth door on the left." James turned and walked towards somewhere, and soon the image of him disappeared.

"Thanks,~." Victor turned and walked, but before he went to the indicated place, he used his powers. However, for some reason, he couldn't see anything.

He stopped walking, 'What is this? This is the first time this has happened...' He felt strange, considering his visual power never failed him.

But he didn't think much about it. After all, he knows that with the existence of magic, a lot can be done. So he just kept on alert.

James was walking back to his work, but suddenly he stopped walking and said, "Oh, I gave the wrong instructions, that was Lady Jessica's room..."

When he thought he should go back and warn Victor about it, he got lazy, "Whatever." He ignored the whole situation and pretended he didn't know anything.

At the door of a very feminine room, Victor was standing looking at the sight in front of him:

"I wonder why this keeps happening to me." He was really wondering about it. It's not like he was purposely going into the women's rooms; he wasn't a pervert! And he was married!

In front of Victor was Jessica, just like she came into the world, and she looked like she had just woken up.

[Master is unlucky, and at the same time, lucky?]

"Perhaps."

"Wh... what-." Jessica's face was pure red.

"Oh, her reaction is different. She froze."

[Well, she is younger than Lady Victoria.]

"Make sense."

Victor looked Jessica up and down. The girl was short, 168 cm tall, thin, and pale skin like all vampires, B-Cup breasts, and long, slightly curly black hair and dark blue eyes.

"So, who are you?" Victor asked.

"Jessica Horseman..." Unconsciously, she replied, but soon an anger rose inside her heart, she took a blanket and hid her nudity, and when she went to ask Victor to leave, she heard:

"Oh, you're Einer's sister... Tell me, where is he?"

Isn't this man too insensitive!? He saw her nudity and didn't react at all!? Was she ugly!?

"Hello, hello? Woman, are you in this world?" Victor walked over to Jessica and waved his hand in front of her face.

"E-Eh?" Jessica was surprised, but for several reasons now that she couldn't describe!

"Oh, you came back to life. Now tell me. Where is he? I asked your butler, and he said it was here."

"..." Jessica's eyes narrowed; 'Was it James' fault!? I will reduce his salary!'

[Master... Why don't you use your power? Isn't it easier?]

"I tried, but something seems to be blocking my view."

[Enchantments, perhaps?]

"I don't know, but this is the first time it's happened, and since this is a count's mansion, security should here be tighter, right?"

[Or they are hiding something.]

"Make sense." Victor thought it was quite possible, he tried to use his power again, and as expected, he couldn't see anything, he just saw the red world, and in this world, there were several walls as if they wanted to keep him from seeing something.

"Why are you talking to yourself?"

"Oh, don't mind, I like to think out loud." Victor smiled.

"..." Jessica was silent.

"Then? Where is Einer?"

"He is in a coma." She spoke in a cold tone without any sympathy.

"Oh?" Victor was interested.

"After the game, he was in a coma from using his power too much and is recovering."

"Hmm." Victor puts a hand to his chin, as he seems to be considering something; 'That butler, doesn't he know his master is in a coma? or is he the elder brother's butler?'

'Lots of questions~' Although Victor is in doubt, he doesn't care much. After all, he knows that the vampire clan is quite complicated.

Looking at Jessica's face, he smiled a little.

"Well, I believe you."

"Heh?"

"What is this shocked face?" He asked.

"Nothing... Just..."

"???" Victor didn't understand, and the woman didn't continue talking either.

"Just what?"

"Nothing."

"..." For some reason, Victor felt like he was talking to Ophis now.

Though Ophis was cuter than she was.

[What now, master?]

"I will go after the monkeys."

[You hadn't given up!?!]

"Yes, but I haven't had my fun, and I still have time... So why not?" Victor smiled.

[Sigh...]

"Monkey?"

"Hmm? Yeah, do you know where they are?"

"Are you talking about the big apes that eat black bananas?"

"Yes, that one." Victor's eyes gleamed with interest.

"Their habitat is further east, in a dense forest. You can find them there."

"Heh~, thank you for the info."

"..." Jessica flashed a small smile when she heard Victor's words 'thank you'.

"Well, nice to meet you, Jessica. I'm going now." Victor turned and walked towards the exit.

Seeing Victor's back walking away, she said, "Do you know where the exact location is?"

"I do not know." Victor smiled.

Jessica was speechless. Is he just very adventurous? How do you go to a place you don't know?

"But I have someone with me who knows."

[Indeed. Lady Sasha visited that place in the past with Lady Violet, I know the way.]

"As expected of you."

[...] Kaguya's shadow seemed to smile.

Jessica understood that someone was accompanying him:

"Oh. Take care, I think?"

"Thanks." Victor casually walked out of Jessica's room.

As the door closed, Jessica suddenly remembered something, "He saw me... He saw me!" She had completely forgotten about it, she was caught up in his rhythm!

"AHHHHHH! I can't get married anymore!"

...

Chapter 95: The wives are feeling threatened.

While Victor was visiting his friends.

A little chaos was happening in the room where he sleeps with his wives.

"Not this one. Not this one. Not this one... This one looks like an old woman's dress."

"... Will we be like this too when it's our turn?" Sasha asked as she looked at Violet, who was only wearing a black bra and black panties.

She was in front of the wardrobe, taking all the clothes out of it and throwing them on the bed. She seemed very indecisive about what she was going to wear.

"Probably?" Ruby replied.

"Hard to say, huh?"

"Yes..." Ruby nodded.

"Can you help me!?" Violet suddenly looked at both of them.

"..." The two were speechless.

"But wasn't it you who didn't want our help? Are you getting senile?" Sasha snapped.

"Whatever, just help me!"

"Ugh. This girl is very irrational."

"This is nothing new."

"Indeed. She's been like that since she was a child." Sasha didn't feel like getting off the couch; it seemed to be swallowing her... She was too lazy.

"Coming to think, she's changed a lot, huh?" Ruby spoke after looking at Violet.

"You think?" Sasha raised an eyebrow at her. Violet looked like the same irrational, crazy, and stalking woman she'd known since childhood.

"Yes, until a few days ago, she would try to kill us for being close to our husband."

"Oh... That's true." Sasha nodded.

"We also changed. For example, you wouldn't be as comfortable talking about these things now as before, right?" Ruby exhibited a small smile.

"..." Sasha smiled gently:

"You've changed too... Now you smile more." She remembers that Ruby used to be colder and rarely showed emotions.

"...Oh." Ruby is surprised, but soon she flashes a gentle little smile, "Indeed."

"..." Sasha felt her heart flutter a little when she saw Ruby's smile, then she also flashes a smile:

"I've said it several times already, but you should show that smile more to our husband... He would love it."

"In the future." Ruby laughed.

"..." A moment of silence fell in the room, and the only noise the two of them could hear was Violet pulling several clothes out of the wardrobe. Yet, in some strange way, this noise left the two women with a feeling of peace in their hearts.

"A lot happened suddenly, and we didn't have time to talk about it."

"Indeed." Sasha nodded.

"Do you intend to go home?" Ruby asked.

"In the future. After my date with Darling~."

"Oh? Since when do you call him 'Darling'?"

"Since now." Sasha laughed, and then she spoke with a serious expression, "I'm tired of not showing my feelings to my Darling. I feel that if I don't get closer to him, your mother will steal my Darling from me."

"..." Ruby didn't know how to feel when she heard Sasha's words, but... Inwardly, she thought the same thing as her.

"That is impossible," Ruby said, or at least she wanted to believe so.

"Wake up to reality, they are very similar, and it attracts them, even if they don't realize it." Sasha's face darkened a little, "And something happened while they were training. Didn't you see that Darling is regularly giving his blood to your mother?"

"..." Ruby's and Sasha's eyes darkened, "Indeed. I realized that, but one thing we can be sure of, our husband will never cheat on us. But, we have to be careful with women... Mainly, my mother." She never thought she would say that in her life.

She also never thought that she would have to feel threatened by her own mother! It shouldn't be like that!

"Don't forget Ophis, Elizabeth, and Eleonor." Sasha ignored Ruby's sisters because she realized that Victor's relationship with them is more like a sibling relationship.

And Victor doesn't like Siena, Ruby's older sister...

"Ophis too? She is a child!"

"She's a child 'now.'... But what about in the future?"

"..." Ruby raised an eyebrow, she had completely forgotten about that.

"But we're missing something," Sasha added with serious eyes.

"What?"

"Our husband's feelings."

"Oh." Ruby thought that was true. After all, they were just thinking about themselves, and they never thought about Victor's own feelings.

Come to think of it now, they never had a proper conversation with Victor about it...

"Currently, he only has eyes for us.... And Scathach..."

Ruby looks at Sasha, "... Because of that, she's the most dangerous, huh?"

"Yes..." Sasha wore a face of uncertainty, "Although depending on our husband's tastes, these women will never get a chance to be around him."

"Oh?" Ruby raised an eyebrow.

"You seem to be absolutely sure what you're talking about." Sasha looked at Ruby:

"Don't you see? Darling just reacts to women like Violet, Scathach, you, and me."

"...What do we have in common?" Ruby was thinking deeply, but she couldn't think of anything.

"What is Violet's most striking feature?" Sasha helped a little.

"She's a yandere...Oh," Ruby responded without thinking, and when she answered, she understood what Sasha was suggesting.

"Yandere?" Sasha didn't understand.

"It means something close to a stalker." She was too lazy to explain.

"...Our husband only reacts to women like that. He has problems in his head... Wait, am I like that too?" Somehow she just realized it now.

"Wait, Wait!" She started to panic, "I don't remember being like this!" She was a more noble and calm woman! She's not like Violet! At least that's what she believes.

"I wasn't like that either..." Ruby muttered.

"We were influenced...." Ruby looked at Violet with accusing eyes.

"It's Violet's fault, right?" Sasha spoke.

"Indeed. It's the ritual's fault too, thanks to the side effect of the unsuccessful ritual, we can feel each other's emotions."

They faithfully believed it. But, they didn't realize that this was all an illusion of their own making; they were never normal.

How can a child who was raised by a woman who loves to gamble and a woman who is mad about battle be normal? Not to mention that they are vampires. Biologically, this breed feels emotions more intensely. They never had a chance to be 'normal'...

Sensing Ruby and Sasha's accusing stares, Violet stopped what she was doing and looked at the two of them.

"What? Why are you guys looking at me like that?" She was so focused on choosing an outfit that she didn't hear the two women talking.

"Nothing..." The two replied at the same time.

Suddenly the two heard Yuki's scream.

"Ughyaaaaa! I'm late!"

"Oh, she woke up now, huh?" Ruby spoke.

"Yes, it's a shame our husband has already left," Sasha spoke.

"Since she's not doing anything, I'm going to ask her to help me!" Violet had a great idea.

"Wait, she's not your maid!"

"But she is from my Clan! And she's my Darling's maid, and if she's my Darling's maid, she's my maid too! After all, everything of my Darling's is mine, and everything I have is my Darling's!"

"..." The two were speechless with this twisted logic.

"...Somehow, in a distorted way, that makes sense," Sasha spoke after thinking for a few seconds.

"..." Ruby nodded in agreement.

"Right? I will call her!" Violet ran toward the bedroom exit.

"Wait! Put on some clothes first!"

"Oh..." Violet suddenly stopped running, she looked at the bed, and seeing whatever clothes she liked, she took the clothes and put

Soon she left the room!

"She left the door open..." Ruby sighed.

"I'll fix it." Sasha's body is covered with lightning, and as soon as she disappears, in a flash, she closes the door and lays down where she was again.

"I envy that ability..."

"Hahaha~" Sasha laughed in amusement.

...

In a dense forest, Victor was standing on top of a gigantic tree, and beside him was Kaguya.

"I swear. If God exists in this world, he is trying to make a fool of me."

In front of Victor was a four meter tall monkey, the monkey was bathing in a waterfall, and this monkey was clearly female.

"Master, you have strange luck."

"Is this luck?" Victor pointed to the monkey that was taking a bath.

"I think this is bad luck. Considering you had two lucky moments a few moments ago. The universe is trying to balance things out, I guess?"

"Which lucky moments are you talking about?" Nothing came to mind for Victor when he thought about it.

"..." Kaguya looked at Victor in disbelief:

"Master... Are you serious?"

"...Yes?"

Sigh!

She gave a very visible sigh, then she said, "Don't you remember? Seeing your friend's mother and your friend's sister naked?"

"...Oh." Victor thinks for a moment and says, "Is that luck?"

"For some men, it is...." Kaguya commented.

"Hmm." Victor thought Andrew, his childhood friend, would find this situation quite lucky.

"Whatever." Victor didn't think about it much since he had no interest in it.

"..." Kaguya exhibited a small smile when she saw that Victor didn't care for those women.

"Just a curiosity, what do you consider as luck?" She was quite curious.

"Hmm... I think I'm already lucky." He answered honestly.

"Huh?" Kaguya didn't understand. After all, that wasn't the question she asked him!

Victor elaborated, "I mean, I have three wives that I love very much, a master who takes care of me in her weird way, and I have you." He smiled kindly.

"Oh..." Kaguya turned her face away quickly.

"Kaguya?"

"W-Why don't you go fight? The monkey is in front of you!"

Victor looked at the monkey, "Hmm, I think that would be disrespectful. Attacking someone while that person is taking a shower...it's kind of...right?" It's not like Victor is trying to kill the monkey. He just wants to fight.

"Y-Yes. Whatever... Why don't you look for another monkey then? I will be waiting here."

"Hmm...Okay." Victor nodded, and soon his body was covered in lightning, and he flew into the sky.

Realizing that Victor is gone, Kaguya kneels in a fetal position and puts her hand on her face. She doesn't want anyone to see her face right now.

"This is unfair, Master..."

Chapter 96: Strange Place.

Victor was in front of an animal that looked more like a gorilla. He was a huge gorilla over 15 meters tall, muscular, had black fur and red eyes, and was sitting like he was enjoying the moonlight.

"Gorilla, banana, Gorilla. Me, leader, banana, Gorilla."

The gorilla turns his face and looks at Victor and sees him making strange gestures while pointing to the black bananas on the ground. The gorilla exhibited a strange face, and the only thing he thought was; 'Is he a fool?'

Somehow the gorilla was enjoying what Victor was doing and started clapping his hands as if to say to continue.

"..." Victor was speechless when he saw the gorilla's attitude.

"This isn't working..." Victor gets up off the floor and pats his clothes to dust them off.

"Hmm... How do I tame this creature?" Victor's eyes sparkled. He wanted to tame this creature. He wanted his own King Kong!

"Urru, Urru!"

"What?"

The gorilla pointed to the piles of black bananas.

"Oh, take it. I can't eat them anyway." Victor threw a banana in the direction of the gorilla, who caught it quite easily. Victor tried to taste the banana before, but for him, it had the worst taste in the world.

"Urru, Urru!" The gorilla looked happy.

"Yeah yeah. Whatever." Victor spoke as if he understood him, but the question is: does he understand!? Of course not!

But just like the other animals he came in contact with in the past, he could understand the creature's intentions, and the gorilla is far more intelligent than other animals, so he can understand it a little.

"Hmm, I should have asked someone about taming a gorilla." Victor sat down on the floor and put a hand to his chin in a bored way. He was wondering what to do next.

The gorilla looked at Victor, and his eyes sparkled with curiosity as he got up from the tree he was leaning against and approached Victor, then sat down next to him.

"Oh?" Victor looked at Gorilla, who was beside him with only a pile of bananas separating the two.

"What's up, Big Guy. Do you want more bananas?"

"Urru, Urru!"

"I see... Take as much as you want."

The gorilla started eating bananas.

"Hmm..." Victor was watching the gorilla eating the food so exquisitely. Somehow, he was curious.

"Is this really that good?" Too bad he couldn't eat.

"Urru!" The gorilla pointed to the pile of bananas when he saw Victor's gaze. He seemed to be offering it to Victor; he was a polite gorilla.

"Unfortunately, I can't eat, Big Guy. Look."

Victor bared his fangs.

When the gorilla saw Victor's fangs, he understood what Victor was saying, and with a sudden movement, the gorilla got up and walked towards the tree he was sitting on.

He opens the hull of the tree and grabs something, then he goes back to Victor and sits down on the ground.

Suddenly, he throws a large amount of items on the ground.

"Oh?" Victor looked at the items in curiosity.

The items looked like a completely red type of fruit.

"What is that?" He inspected the fruit.

"Urru, Urru!"

"I can get it?"

The gorilla nodded, then went back to eating the banana Victor had brought.

Victor takes the fruit, "Oh? It's quite soft. It looks like jelly."

"Urru!"

Victor looked at the gorilla and saw the gorilla pointing to its mouth.

"Oh, do you want me to eat?"

"Urru, Urru!"

"... Hmm. Well, why not?" Victor took the fruit and put it in his mouth, suddenly the fruit seemed to burst, and a red liquid came down in Victor's mouth.

"!!!" It tasted delicious like he had drunk apple juice when he was human.

Unconsciously, he started to pick more fruit and put it in his mouth.

"Urru, Urru!" The gorilla started clapping.

The fruit was not as tasty as his wives' blood, but it was quite nice! Wait... If he can eat these fruits, then...

"Is this blood?" Victor looked at the fruit, and then he looked at the tree, he focused his attention more on the tree, and he could see the tree was moving!

"What the fuck! It is alive!" He quickly gets up from the ground.

"Urru, Urru!" The gorilla started to laugh at him.

"Shut up! I didn't know this kind of creature existed, okay!?"

"Urru, Urru!" He started to clap his hands.

"Ugh, the language barrier is tough." Victor thought this was how a foreigner felt when he went to a country that didn't know the local language.

"But what is this?" Victor examined the tree, and, just out of curiosity, he touched the tree's hull.

When Victor touched the tree's hull, something happened.

Slowly, the tree began to send her branches onto his hand and began to wrap around his arms.

He was scared at first, but... He didn't feel threatened. In fact, he feels welcome?

Victor looks at the tree hull that the gorilla opened, and out of curiosity, he looks inside, and inside the tree hull, he sees several skeletons. He focused his attention on the skeletons.

"Fangs..."

What he saw was clearly a vampire skeleton, and he could also see some human skeletons mixed together.

"This place..." He pulls back a little and looks around, "This place evolved to devour beings."

Victor clearly saw the result of the beings that approached this place.

"But... Why don't I feel threatened?" He was feeling a strange feeling in his heart.

"Master, why are you-...Master? What are you doing!?"

Suddenly the atmosphere of the gorilla and the tree changed from peaceful to hostile.

ROOOOOOOAARRRRRRRRR!

The gorilla roared towards Kaguya.

"!?" Kaguya quickly covers her body with darkness and prepares to fight.

The gorilla began to approach Kaguya with hostile intentions.

He didn't even look like the peaceful gorilla that Victor was with and completely changed his attitude when Kaguya appeared.

Seeing that Kaguya is in danger, Victor takes a step towards her, and soon he disappears and then reappears in front of Kaguya.

"Kaguya, step back."

"B-But, Master."

"Do as I say!" Victor's eyes sparkled.

"O-Okay." Kaguya was a little startled by Victor's gaze, but she quickly ran in the opposite direction.

Realizing that Kaguya was safe, Victor's body relaxed a little. Victor cracks his neck and looks at the gorilla, as his smile grows:

"Hey, Big Guy. Let's have some fun?" He didn't even try to talk to pacify the gorilla.

ROOOOOOOARRRR!

The gorilla roared and thumped its chest in a sign of defiance.

"That's the spirit!" A frightening pressure left Victor's body.

Victor jumps towards the gorilla and attacks him!

The gorilla does the same and swings his big arms as he attacks Victor.

The gorilla expected Victor to fly away when he attacked him. After all, he was tiny compared to his size, right? But the reality he expected didn't happen.

The two fists collide in the air!

BOOOOOOOOM!

And for a moment, the sound of a crash of air was heard.

And an unexpected result happened, the gorilla pulled away and fell to the ground sitting up!

"Urru?" The gorilla looked at Victor in disbelief. He didn't expect this result.

"Tsk." Victor clicked his tongue in annoyance when he saw his broken arm; 'If it were Scathach, that gorilla would have flown far. I'm still weak!'

In less than 7 seconds, his arm was completely regenerated, and he looked at the gorilla, then he positioned himself again:

"Let's continue~."

Seeing Victor's smile, the gorilla displayed a small smile that showed all of his fangs.

"Heh~? I like that smile."

The gorilla gets up from the ground. He had completely forgotten about Kaguya, and all that was in his head now was Victor!

ROOOOOOOOARRR!

BAAAM! BAAAM!

He roared at Victor as he hit his chest several times; this time, he was serious!

Victor's smile grew disproportionately, "HAHAHAHAHAHAHA!" He laughed like a maniac.

"That's the spirit, Big Guy!" The magic circles on Victor's glove began to glow blood red.

"Let's fight!"

ROOOOOOOOAR!

The gorilla roared as if saying the same thing as Victor, and, with speed disproportionate to his size, he appeared in front of Victor and punched him in the face!

"Wha-?" Victor didn't expect this speed coming from someone so big!

BOOOOOOOOM!

A sonic boom was heard, and soon Victor's body flew skyward.

"HAHAHAHAHA!" Despite having some broken body parts, he laughed! He felt it! This pain! It's the same as when he was training, and it's also the sign that he was facing a strong opponent!

Victor's body regenerated in midair, and soon he created an ice shelf behind him and, using the ice shelf as support, he flew towards the gorilla!

In midair, Victor's hands began to get covered by an ice glove.

And like a rocket, it hits the Gorilla's face, "ORAA!"

BOOOOOOOOOM!

A bang was heard as Victor punched the Gorilla in the face, and this time as he got momentum, the gorilla was thrown back by his strength, then just as the gorilla's body was going to fall to the ground:

"It's not over yet, Big Guy!"

Victor appears under the gorilla and holds it!

"Urru!?" The gorilla didn't believe what he was witnessing. He was heavy, you know!?

With a show of strength, "AHHH!" Victor threw the Gorilla in the air!

Victor points both his palms at the gorilla.

Fusshhhhhh

Fire and ice began to be created in front of him.

"HAAA!" Soon this power flew towards the gorilla.

"!!!" Realizing the danger, the gorilla did something that only increased Victor's smile.

The gorilla's body appeared to be covered in some kind of black material.

BOOOOOM!

The two powers collide against the Gorilla's armor, and a tremendous amount of smoke is created.

ROOOOOOOOAR!!!

The gorilla roared in midair and blasted away all the smoke created by the attack.

And Victor can clearly see a gorilla wearing full-length black armor!

"HAHAHAHAHA!" Victor began to applaud in genuine happiness, "You're the best, Big Guy!"

"Master... You are an incorrigible man." Kaguya, who was watching everything from a tree at a considerable distance, couldn't help but say that when she saw Victor's smile.

Chapter 97: Two new weird friends.

"And to think that he would enter the forbidden forest and approach a demonic beast without knowing it," Kaguya commented as she watched Victor exchange punches with the gorilla.

"Ora, Ora! Come on, Big Guy! Show me all your strength!" Victor was attacking his armor several times.

ROOOOOOOOAAAAAR!

The gorilla roared and walked away from Victor, and then, after grabbing a tree, he removed the branches from it and used the tree as a spear. Slowly the tree he held began to be covered with the same black material he was using as armor.

"Oh? Are we going to switch to sword fighting? In that case!"

Victor created an ice greatsword and then raised the greatsword in front of him.

"Let's go!"

Victor jumped towards the gorilla and started attacking him again.

"...Didn't he notice that the monkey looked different and much stronger than the one he had seen before? My God... My master is incorrigible." Kaguya sighed.

Beng!

The sound of metal on metal was heard.

"Ugh." The noise was too loud, and Kaguya put her hands to her ears in pain.

And suddenly.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

An explosion happened on the spot, rocks and trees started flying around, this was just the result of the clash between the two!

"KEKEKEKEKEKEKE!"

"HAHAHAHAHAHA!"

A demonic gorilla and a vampire started laughing like crazy as they fought.

At first, the fight was at a normal pace, but...

Slowly, their speed began to increase.

And little by little, they became images that untrained eyes could not see.

"Holy Fuck... Is this really a fight between a gorilla and a vampire?" Kaguya, for the first time in a long time, spoke a bad word, she was just in total disbelief. When a normal vampire and a demonic creature fight, that kind of thing doesn't happen!

And especially this gorilla! Why is he so fast!? It doesn't make sense for him to have this speed at this size!

BOOOOOOM! BOOOOOOM! BOOOOOOM! BOOOOOOM!

Several explosions happened every time Victor and the gorilla collided with each other. And this fight attracted the attention of other predators, some demonic animals that were in the vicinity began to approach, seeking the opportunity to kill them both.

"This is getting dangerous. I better hide." Kaguya disappeared into the shadows.

A fox-like creature with horns approached Victor and tried to attack him.

ROAR-

"Fuck-off! Don't get in my way!" But Victor just punched the fox in the face! The punch was so hard that the fox flew far away!

A similar situation happened with the gorilla when a wolf tried to bite his neck.

ROAAAAAAR!

But the gorilla just punched the wolf towards the fox.

"Auuuuu! Kiiiiii!" The wolf and the fox wept in pain.

Victor created a gigantic fireball and threw it at them both!

BOOOOOOOM!

An explosion of fire happened.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, the gorilla stepped on the ground and created a thorn with the same black material and threw it at the two beasts.

Pierce!

Soon the sounds of fox and wolf disappeared completely.

The thorn with the black material made by the gorilla has pierced the fox and the wolf!

A demonic beast skewer was created!

"Did they plan this...?" Kaguya, who was watching from the shadows, asked in disbelief.

"HAHAHAHAHAHA!"

"KEKEKEKEKEKEKE!"

Soon the two jumped into battle again.

"... I do not think so."

...

A few hours later, Victor was lying on the floor, breathing heavily. He looked quite tired, had some parts of his clothes cut off, and even had a wound that wasn't healing.

Despite being in this state, he had a big smile of satisfaction on his face as he looked at the moon:

"Ahh~, tonight is a beautiful night."

Next to him was a giant gorilla with several pieces of broken armor, also breathing heavily just like Victor.

"I haven't been so tired in a while." Victor was honest. The only times he got tired was when fighting Scathach.

And, just like in the fight with Scathach, he only needed to rest a few minutes until all his wounds regenerated, as well as his vigor.

"I'm thirsty..."

And just like in Scathach's fight, he always got thirsty when he was completely exhausted.

Victor looked at his body and saw that his body was completely healed, but he didn't feel like getting up.

The gorilla got up and sat down.

Victor looked at the gorilla and saw the gestures he was making.

"Urru, Urru." He pointed to himself and to the large tree that was surprisingly undamaged by their struggle.

"Yeah, I know. I'll tell her." Victor had an idea what he was talking about, from what he could understand was something like; 'don't let that girl come near the tree.'

"Urru!" The gorilla got up and walked towards the tree, and every step he took made the earth around him shake, so he sat on the ground leaning against the tree trunk.

He looks at the moon, then closes his eyes.

"He's tired, huh?"

Victor stands up, "Well, I won't judge him. I'm also a little tired."

Victor soon started walking in the opposite direction from the gorilla, "Oh, I forgot something."

"Hey, Big Guy."

The gorilla looked at Victor.

"I will be back." Victor flashed a smile.

"Grrr," The gorilla snorted and turned away.

"...?" Victor didn't understand the gorilla's reaction.

But soon, the gorilla gives a thumbs up with his hand.

"Pfft... Is he shy? This is unexpected coming from you, Big Guy."

ROAAAAAAR!

"Yeah yeah, I'm leaving. I'll be back later to visit you two." Victor spoke.

Victor exhibited a small smile when he saw the tree swaying its branches as if it was saying goodbye to him.

...

Walking out of the forest where he was, Victor met Kaguya.

"Master-..." Before Kaguya could say anything.

"Are you okay?" Victor spoke as he started looking at every corner of Kaguya's body.

"M-Master, I'm fine." Kaguya wasn't used to this sudden attention.

Sigh...

Victor sighed in relief.

"Master-"

Victor placed his hand on Kaguya's head.

Kaguya thought he was going to headpat her, she was looking forward to it, but the headpat didn't come!

Crack!

Victor squeezed Kaguya's head tightly.

"M-My Head!" Kaguya screamed in pain.

"Kaguya," Victor spoke in an extremely serious voice.

"You wanted to stay, right? Did you forget about the contract?" He was talking about the previous situation.

"..." Kaguya was silent.

"But-..." She was going to say something, but Victor stopped her.

"No, but... Remember, don't mind me. Your safety is more important to me."

"I hope that doesn't happen again."

"..." Kaguya was silent, but she nodded.

"Good." Victor displayed a gentle smile as he started walking in front of Kaguya.

Seeing Victor's back, Kaguya thought wistfully; 'It's hard not to care about your safety, master...'

"Kaguya."

Suddenly, Kaguya heard Victor's voice again, and soon she woke up from her thoughts.

"If you want to protect me, get stronger."

"..." Kaguya opened her eyes a little.

Victor looked at Kaguya, "But even if you get stronger, and you can protect me. I ask that you always prioritize your safety."

"...This is a contradiction, Master..."

"Hahaha~" Victor laughed gently, "Indeed. But that's the way I am." He started walking again in front of Kaguya.

'I ask, huh?' She realized he hadn't ordered her. He'd just made a request, so it's up to her whether she'll follow that request or not.

...

Rumble, Rumble.

"Huh? It's raining?" Pepper looked out the window, and as usual, the skies over the capital were cloudy, but it didn't seem to be raining.

"Impossible. The capital does not have rain." Lacus replied.

"But what about these lightning noises!?" Pepper asked.

"Must be your imagination," Lacus replied.

"It's not my imagination!"

RUMBLE!

The lightning noise got louder.

"See!?" Pepper smiled with a victorious smile.

"...Why are you showing that smile! Don't be a child!"

"Hehehe~" Pepper laughed.

RUMBLE!

Suddenly everyone heard the noise of lightning hitting the ground.

"Hiiii! That was near here!"

"... Pepper... Do you have chicken brains?" Lacus asked her younger sister a genuine question.

"Fuee?" Pepper didn't understand.

Lacus elaborated, "Think with me; It's impossible to rain in the capital, and who is the person who has lightning powers outside the mansion now?"

"Oh." Pepper opened her mouth.

Soon everyone hears Victor's voice:

"Girls, I'm back!"

"It's Victor!" Pepper exclaimed.

"Yes." Lacus smiled.

"He likes an extravagant entrance, huh? Can't he arrive normally?" Eleonor appeared at Siena's side.

"Oh? I thought you were gone?" Lacus asked.

"I had some matters to settle with Siena, and I need to talk to that man."

Suddenly Eleonor heard Victor's voice behind her.

"I have a name, you know~."

"!!!" Eleonor jumped back, her heart beating too fast, "Don't do that... It scared me."

"Oh?" Victor exhibited a small smile. He didn't expect this reaction from her.

"Ugh, Victor. You reek of wild animal." Pepper put a hand to her nose.

"Yeah, I was fighting a gorilla in Eastern Territory."

"Oh, those four-meter monkeys?" Eleonor asked.

"Wrong, the biggest ones."

"Eh?" Eleanor.

"What?" Lacus.

"Fue?" Pepper.

"Huh?" Siena.

The four women thought they heard something wrong.

Kaguya suddenly stepped out of Victor's shadow, the four women looking to the Maid for answers.

"Yes, he fought a demonic gorilla, the one who protects that strange tree in the forbidden forest..."

"Eh...? Huuuh!?"

"You're crazy...." Lacus said.

"Hahahaha, thanks for the compliment." Victor scratched his head, a little embarrassed.

"That wasn't a compliment! What was on your mind, fighting that beast!?"

"Well, it was fun... Why not?" Victor displayed a sincere smile.

"Y-You... Sigh... You're incorrigible." Lacus gave up.

"And? And? How was the fight!?" Pepper looked more animated than usual.

"I want to hear too, that gorilla is a very famous beast. Few vampires were able to fight him and survive, and those who survived had quite severe mental trauma," Siena spoke with curiosity.

She even remembers that in the past, her mother fought the gorilla, but Scathach refused to give any information to her daughters, she was very curious about this matter.

"..." Victor looked at Siena with a strange look.

"What?"

"Did you eat something bad, woman?" He didn't understand why she was acting so 'docile' with him. Wasn't she the woman who kept saying he was just cattle?

A vein popped in Siena's head, "You know what!? Nevermind! Humpf!" She turned her face away and walked towards a spot.

"...What was that tsundere reaction...? Did she eat something bad?" Even Pepper doubted her older sister.

Coming out of her initial stupor, "...You came at a good time, I need to talk to you..." Eleonor suddenly spoke, and her voice caught everyone's attention, even Siena, who was leaving.

Victor looked at the woman who was almost the same height as him with curious eyes.

Eleonor puts her hand on her chest and makes a noble gesture:

"Victor Walker. I, Countess Eleonor Adrasteia, invite you to come to my territory as a special guest."

"Oh? Okay, I will."

"Eh?" Eleonor and Siena were surprised at how easily Victor accepted it.

Chapter 98: An invitation from a Countess.

"Wait! Victor, do you understand what it means to visit her territory?" Siena squealed and quickly approached Victor.

"I will pay a visit...?" Victor tilted his head as if he didn't understand the problem.

"Idiot! You don't understand anything! Come here!" Siena takes Victor's hand and suddenly pulls him aside.

"..." Lacus, Pepper, Kaguya, and even Eleonor looked at this situation strangely.

"...She definitely ate something bad." Pepper nodded, "Maybe she's interested in Victor now after seeing him fight those two heirs?"

"..." The three women looked at Pepper, and when they saw Pepper displaying a smug face like she'd discovered a grand scheme, they just rolled their eyes.

Outside the mansion, Siena let go of Victor's hand and pulled away, then she started talking to Victor:

"First, do you understand who Eleonor is?"

"Is she a countess?"

"Yes. And if she's a countess, she has territory."

"And what's wrong?"

"The problem is that her territory is not normal."

"Oh? Explain to me." Victor was interested.

Siena felt a little uncomfortable when she saw his smile:

"...Do you remember the gorilla you fought?"

"Big Guy? Yes, what about him?"

'Big Guy? Huh?' Siena didn't understand, but she didn't think too much, she was slowly getting used to Victor's oddities:

"He's a demonic beast, and Eleonor 's territory is infested with these beasts, and by inviting you as a 'special guest', she's basically asking you to fight with her against these beasts!"

"Heh~" Victor's smile grew, "That's good news, isn't it?"

"...Fuck. I forgot about your personality." Siena does a facepalm.

"..." Victor looked at Siena for a few seconds. It was like he was thinking deeply about something, his eyes sparkled a little with interest, and he said:

"...Are you hiding something?"

Sigh...

She sighed.

"I can't say anything, you remember, right? I'm silenced by the magical contract, only my mother can tell you that."

"Hmm..." Victor started to think again. 'I remember she spoke vaguely about it when I was playing with Eleonor's sword.'

"Oh... But your wife Violet may know something, and she's not bound by the contract." She remembers hearing this from Violet in the past.

"I will ask my wife then." Victor turned and started walking towards the mansion.

"Will you go anyway?" Siena asked.

"Of course, an environment full of demonic beasts, exotic animals that I've never seen in my life? That is very welcome for me~" Victor had a big smile on his face as if he had found a new toy to play with.

"Of course you would...." She felt like she asked a pointless question.

"But I won't go now." His expression suddenly changed to neutral.

"Oh?" Siena looked at Victor.

Victor turned his face and looked at Siena as he displayed a gentle smile, "I'll go spend time with my wives first."

"...Oh." Siena somehow thought Ruby was very lucky to have a husband who cares for her, which is something very hard to find in the vampire community.

"I also want to visit my mom, dad, and my friends... I'm missing them. It's been six long months. I want to see my cat!"

"..." For some reason, Siena thought that the real reason Victor wanted to come back was because of the cat... Then, suddenly, she realized something:

"You will rest?" Siena looked at Victor strangely; 'Is he really Victor? Where is that man who loves to fight? Is he an imposter?'

"Of course not, I'll still fight and train, but I'll just spend time with my family. A lot has happened in a short time, and I haven't had time to appreciate these simple moments."

"I want to take the next step in my relationship with my wives too."

"Oh..." She flashed a small smile, "...That's a good reason."

"Indeed." Victor laughed.

...

Victor went back to the mansion again along with Siena and looked at Eleonor:

"Before making any decision, is this invitation just for me, or is it for my wives too?"

"...It's for your wives too," Eleonor spoke after thinking for a moment.

"I see. In this case, it's okay with me. I will also ask my wives to see if they want to go with me."

Eleonor exhibited a small smile, "...Okay. The invitation period is three months. I expect good news from you." Finishing what she had to do, she walked towards the exit.

When she left Scathach's mansion, Walter and Chloe were already waiting for her.

"He accepted?" Walter asked

"Yes, but he's not going now. He will also ask his wives if they will want to go along with him."

"Lady Eleonor invited the wives too...?" Walter made a strange face. This was not what they agreed on earlier.

After seeing Victor's performance in the arena, she decided that it would be advantageous to bring Victor to her territory to help her with a small problem.

Eleonor initially wanted her master's help, but Scathach refused, she said it wasn't her problem. Yet, because of that, Eleonor decided to ask Victor for help, especially after seeing his fight against those heirs and see how easily he dominated his opponents.

She thought he would be a good help in her territory.

"I thought if I didn't extend the invitation to his wives, he wouldn't accept it, but it looks like I was wrong... It's too late now. I can't go back on my word."

"I hope they're not dead weight."

"It's hard to know. The three women are daughters of vampire counts, and they have great potential. Especially Ruby, who is my master's blood daughter."

Despite looking innocent and inexperienced, Ruby hides great potential, and that was her true thoughts about Ruby.

"How much time did you give them to make a decision?"

"Three months."

"Hmm... I think in three months, they will be stronger." Walter said, like an old man, he understands what influences can do in a person's life, and he thinks that when girls see Victor much stronger than before, they will want to get stronger too... And in a way, he was correct.

"Yes." Eleonor nodded, and soon she climbed on top of Chloe.

"iiiiirri, rilinchin..." Chloe didn't look happy.

"Eh...?" Eleonor looked at Chloe with a shocked look.

Feeling her master's gaze, Chloe just turns her face to a random place, she didn't want to be ungrateful to her master, but she was very honest with her feelings, she didn't like it when Eleonor climbed on top of her, but as an ancient friend, Chloe will allow her to ride her.

"She doesn't seem to like you riding her," Walter commented.

"..." A vein popped in Eleonor's head, she flashed a dangerous smile. 'That bastard, he stole my horse... He'll pay for it. I'll look forward to the day he comes to visit my territory.'

...

When Eleonor left the mansion, a conversation was taking place with Victor and the women.

"Speaking of my wives, where are they?"

"They are still in the room," Lacus replied.

"They are being very lazy." Pepper commented in a cute voice.

"..." Siena, Lacus, Kaguya, and Victor looked at Pepper with a dry look.

"Fuee...?"

"She really didn't realize what she said, huh?"

"Indeed." Lacus nodded in agreement with her older sister.

"What's it!? Spit it out! Stop talking in codes!"

"We are shocked that you are commenting that my wives are being lazy when you are lazier than they are." Victor was honest.

"... Eh?" Pepper looked at the group again and saw them nodding in agreement with Victor's words. "Ughghgh." She made strange sounds while her cheeks puffed like a squirrel, and then she said:

"I'm not lazy...." Initially, she was going to scream, but slowly her voice wore off, and in the end, she just mumbled under her breath since she herself had realized she was lazy.

"It's okay. You can be lazy." Victor chuckled a little as he patted Pepper's head.

Pepper felt her body tremble when she felt Victor's caresses, she felt good. She looked at him and said:

"Victor..." She looked like she was looking at a great ally.

"But don't overdo it, or your mother will kidnap you and take you to train."

"...!?" Pepper's body shook for a different reason now. "...I won't...I promise!" Her eyes seemed to be glowing with motivation. She didn't want to go back to training! Her mother's training is just inhumane! Not that she was human, but even for a vampire, that training was difficult!

Fear can often be a good tool.

"Where's Yuki?" Kaguya asked in a neutral voice.

"Oh, she woke up a few hours ago, and when she woke up, Violet suddenly showed up and kidnapped her. So now she's helping the girls with something." Siena replied.

"So she's not being completely useless... Good." Kaguya nodded in satisfaction.

"Well, the conversation was good, girls. But I must go take a shower." Victor spoke.

"That's a good idea, you stink...." Pepper put a hand to her nose.

"You're right. But..." Victor sniffed the air a little.

"You stink too."

"Eh?" Pepper made a shocked face.

"..." Lacus and Siena were speechless when they heard Victor's words.

"...Master..." Kaguya did a facepalm. This is not something to say to a girl!

Pepper sniffed her body and realized that Victor was right...

"I will take a shower!" Pepper suddenly turned around.

"Umu, I'll go too." Victor followed Pepper.

"Let's go!" Pepper raised her hands up, screaming, it was like they were going on a big adventure!

When Victor and Pepper disappeared from view by Kaguya, Lacus, and Siena:

"...!?" The girls suddenly realized something:

"Did they just go together now?" Lacus commented in disbelief.

"This is inappropriate! He is a married man! I must stop them!" Siena was freaking out, so she quickly ran towards the bathroom to stop them! They must have a little decency!

"Wait! I will go too!" Lacus' eyes sparkled in amusement.

When the two left, and Kaguya was alone, the Maid said:

"...It surprises me that my master casually went into the bathroom with Pepper, and he didn't even notice it... And being the airhead that Pepper is, she didn't notice either..."

Sigh...

Chapter 99: The Four Clans of Vampire Counts.

Yes, indeed. They're called many names, vampire counts, the pillars of vampire society, the king's trusted families, super vampires.

They have many names that the masses give them, but they are better known as:

The Four Clans of Vampire Counts.

Being only one rank below the king, they are an essential part of vampire society, and, being an essential part of vampire society, they have important duties that are divided into four main subjects.

Military defense, war, economic affairs, and domestic affairs.

The Adrasteia Clan, located in the West, is responsible for military defense. They are the king's shield. They are a strong warrior clan specializing in the art of warfare. Despite holding an important position like this, their Clan is located in a very remote area, and they are very far from the royal capital.

Few know why this Clan is so far removed from civilization, but as part of the Four Counts, they are highly respected by the entire Vampire community.

The Scarlett Clan is located in the north, a region with a cooler climate and an abundance of trees. Just like the Clan Adrasteia, Clan Scarlett lives in a very isolated area from society, and the countess does not have a capital that she takes care of. The reason for this is Countess Scathach Scarlett herself.

Possessor of the title of being the strongest female vampire, she single-handedly supports an entire vampire Count Clan, she doesn't need many subordinates, she doesn't need a city to manage, she just needs herself.

Clan Scarlett is responsible for matters of war. If Clan Adrasteia is the king's shield, Clan Scarlett is the king's spear. In cases of emergency, such as a possible enemy invasion, it is Scathach Scarlett who must assume the role of general and lead a counterattack.

East of Nightingale, a milder place, and in what always seems to be autumn, there is a city that is managed by the Horseman Clan. This is where products like 'blood crystals' are created and sold to all vampires.

Previously, this territory belonged to Clan Fulger, but due to Clan Fulger's recent defeat by Clan Horseman. All authority in this city has been passed to the Horseman Clan.

Responsible for the domestic affairs of the vampire world, the Clan Horseman is behind all the 'food' in this world.

In the south, a more tropical place with slightly warmer climates and plenty of beaches is where the Snow Clan resides.

Clan Snow is responsible for the economic affairs of the entire vampire world, it is they who trade/control the entire economy of the vampire world, and it is they who support small noble families to grow.

Without Clan Snow's permission, you can't do business in the vampire world, and you don't want to stand against this family. Possessing the rare power of fire control, they can burn any disobedient vampire to ashes.

And they are also the only vampire clan that can walk peacefully in the sunlight, and because of that very special characteristic, they are also involved in international politics. They are the ones who trade and come into contact with other races and the vampire community who live in the world of humans when the situation is needed.

After all, for vampires who live in the human world, Nightingale is heaven on earth for them.

Despite having so many powers in the vampire world, vampire count clans cannot make major decisions without the direct approval of the king.

Like it or not, they are servants of the king, and few dare openly challenge the king's sovereignty, the only being... Wrong, the only woman mad enough to do this is Scathach Scarlett.

And despite openly challenging his sovereignty several times, the king does nothing. Why? Scathach Scarlett is just that important... her knowledge, her experience, and especially her power can greatly help vampire society as a whole.

And this woman was having a very interesting meeting now...

In a mansion located slightly in the center of Nightingale's territory, a meeting was taking place.

"Where is my son-in-law?"

A woman wearing a rather noble white dress spoke, she had pale skin like all vampires, long blonde hair, and blue eyes, she looked very much like her sister Victoria Rider.

This woman's name was Annasthashia Fulger, the birth mother of Sasha Fulger and former holder of the title of vampire count.

"Bitch, what are you doing here? Why don't you go back to your husbands? Your hole must be feeling lonely right now." Said a woman wearing spandex pants, a black shirt with an animal coat, and small black glasses on her face.

She has long white hair and golden eyes, she is Agnes Snow, the birth mother of Violet Snow.

"Oh~?" The woman flashed a small smile, "But if I'm going back to my husband's, I'm going to bring your husband along with me too.

The poor bastard must be bored with just having you as a wife."

"Bitch..." Agnes' golden eyes seemed to be glowing brightly, the room around her started to get warmer.

'Hehehe~ So easy.' Annasthashia thought. She knew how to deal with Agnes. After all, this woman had a sick obsession with her husband, and if she just mentions her husband's name a few times, she'll be pissed off.

The room suddenly got colder, and Agnes flashed a small smile:

"Airport chest."

"Huh!?" A vein popped in Annasthashia's head.

"Isn't it? With your attractiveness, you could never conquer a man, and, because of that, you have to kidnap them. After all, you don't have confidence in your own appearance!" Agnes wrapped her arm around her chest like she was showing off how big she was.

"Haaah! At least I'm not a dairy cow who has insecurities with her relationship! Because you are afraid, right? You're afraid your precious 'Darling' will be stolen by other women!"

"Huuuh!?" A vein popped in Agnes' head.

"HaHaHa~" Hearing a familiar chuckle, the two women looked at the woman who was sitting on an ice throne elegantly.

"You guys never change, huh?" Scathach wore a mocking little smile.

"Humpf!" The two snorted and turned away.

"How long do you think it will take them to fight again, William?" A white-haired, violet-eyed man wearing a white suit asked the man beside him. The two of them were sitting on a sofa a little way from the three women.

"Hard to say, considering Natasha and Agnes are like cat and dog." The man replied, he had short blond hair and green eyes and was wearing a medieval nobleman's garb.

This man's name is William Salvatore Florence, he is Annasthashia's first husband, and he is also Sasha Fulger's biological father.

And Natasha was what he called his wife since her name was too long.

"Indeed." Adonis, Violet's father, agreed.

William looked at Adonis out of the corner of his eye; 'Has he become more beautiful?'

Adonis ignored William's gaze and looked at Scathach; 'She's still beautiful as ever....' He flashed a gentle little smile.

He felt very grateful for Scathach because it was this woman who saved him from a very precarious situation in the past...

"Darling...?" Agnes suddenly looks at Adonis with a dangerous look.

"What is it, Honey?" He continued to smile with the same gentle smile. Like a war veteran, he knew very well how to treat a woman... especially the crazy ones like Agnes.

"Hmm..." Agnes continued looking at Adonis for some time, seeing that his smile was going to her, she felt satisfied but was still suspicious, "Nothing..."

Agnes' instincts were on high alert, she knows that Adonis feels something for Scathach. Considering, the suspension bridge effect must have been activated when he was saved by this crazy woman in the past, and because of that, she didn't let her guard down!

'Tsk, I didn't want to bring my Darling to this place...' Agnes grumbled.

"Where is my son-in-law?" Annasthashia asked again.

Scathach looked at Annasthashia with a neutral gaze, "Natasha, do you intend to take back your title of vampire count?"

"Huuuh?" Natasha didn't understand Scathach's question, she just wanted to know about her son-in-law!

"Answer my question."

"..." Natasha continued looking at Scathach for a few seconds, then she replied:

"I'll take it back in the future..."

"Hmm." She made a confirming sound, she seemed to be thinking of something.

"Satisfied? Now, where is my son-in-law?" Her eyes sparkled with curiosity, she saw Victor's performance in the arena, and the way he used her Clan's lightning power, the way he dominated his opponent, made her very curious! Not to mention that man has the powers of the three clans!

'Why did my beloved daughter hide him from me?' Natasha asked herself.

She totally forgot about Tatsuya, her sister's son.

"That's something I want to know too... Who would have thought that boy would become that..." Agnes' eyes were similar to Natasha's, and they were sparkling with curiosity.

Initially, she had no interest in Violet's new 'toy', but seeing this man in action... totally stunned her! A vampire who can use all three powers! And perfectly! Her curiosity was running wild, she wanted to know more about him!

"..." Scathach rests her head in her hand and looks at the two women with a bored face.

"...I'm feeling this is going to end badly...." Adonis muttered.

William, who heard the words of Adonis internally, began to prepare himself to flee at any time from this place as quickly as possible. He didn't want to be caught in the crossfire of these crazy women!

Even though one of these crazy women was his wife, he didn't want to get in the middle of a possible fight between these women. Although he is sure that in the end, Scathach would win the fight.

It's not that he doesn't trust his wife... It's just that he can't imagine Scathach losing a fight; that woman is just on another level.

Scathach held up a finger, "First, he is not your son-in-law. He is MINE. Only mine."

"Huh...?"

Chapter 100: The Four Clans of Vampire Counts. 2

Scathach held up a finger, "First, he is not your son-in-law. He is MINE. Only mine."

"Huh...?" What nonsense is this woman talking about? Has she become senile? If that man is married to our daughters, he's our son-in-law too!

"..." Adonis and William will open their mouths in shock. Did this woman just get jealous?

In the eyes of the two men, Scathach's act of declaring her son-in-law as her own was clearly an act of jealousy.

"...He's a lucky man..." William's eyes sparkled for a few seconds when he realized that someone had managed to win Scathach's affections, and it wasn't just anyone, it was a man!

"..." Adonis didn't say anything, but inwardly, he agreed with William's words.

"Second, he's at my house now. That should be obvious." She spoke with a face of disdain.

"..." Natasha nodded and seemed to think for a few seconds, "I want permission to visit your territory."

"You want?" Scathach raised her eyebrow when she heard Natasha's tone of command, she didn't like it at all, and her eyes began to slowly change to blood red.

"Fuck." When Natasha realized what she said, it was too late.

Bloody pressure left Scathach's body.

"!!!" Natasha's whole body felt heavy, she felt difficulty breathing, a feeling of fear covered her body.

'H-Has she gotten stronger?' She clearly remembers that she wasn't so strong back then!

The same was happening with Agnes, who got caught in the crossfire, she couldn't move.

"You two seem to misunderstand something." Scathach's voice sent shivers down both women's spines.

Crack, Crack!

Her pressure was so intense that the walls, furniture, and everything around it started to break!

"I don't give a damn if my disciple is your 'son-in-law'. To me, you don't mean anything. I just came here because, even though I don't care about it, my disciple is married to your daughters, and mine."

Suddenly the pressure coming from her body disappeared.

"...." An uncomfortable silence descended over the place.

Scathach's eyes returned to normal, and another shock hit the room.

"Y-Your eyes..." Adonis stammered as he pointed at Scathach.

When everyone heard Adonis' voice, they also looked into Scathach's eyes, and only now did they notice that her eyes were no longer blood red like she was bloodthirsty!

"Hmm?" Scathach turns her face and looks at Adonis:

"Oh, you are here. I didn't notice."

"..." Adonis was speechless, but it wasn't because Scathach didn't realize his existence; that was normal for him. Instead, he was speechless because she managed to solve her bloodlust problem.

And if she managed to solve her problem, that means she found someone to replace the husband she killed...

He knows that Scathach's male standards were very high, and her standards are so unattainable that he doubts there is a man that one day could completely satisfy the requirements to be with the strongest female vampire.

"How did you solve your problem?" He was quite curious now.

Just who is this man she married?

"That is none of your business," Scathach said.

"..." He was speechless again. Wasn't she colder than usual? Why is her mood so bad today?

"Darling?" Agnes raised an eyebrow.

"Aren't you curious?" He looked at Agnes and totally ignored his wife's gaze.

"I am, but...." Agnes nodded, then added:

"It's none of our business."

"Hahaha, glad you understand~" Scathach flashed a cold smile.

"..." The group won't lie and say they weren't curious, but they don't want to provoke Scathach's ire for something 'small' like this.

As much as they are curious... Dying of curiosity.

Agnes and Natasha were a little shocked internally by something else too, without them noticing, Scathach got stronger again, it's been some time since the two women met with Scathach, and they clearly remember she wasn't as strong as she is now.

If their memory serves, the last time they spoke to Scathach was when Ruby was kidnapped in the past, and, at the time, Ruby was 3 years old, and currently Ruby is 21, which means...

This monster just got stronger in just 18 years!? This is impossible! The strength of an older vampire doesn't grow that fast! Something must have happened!

'Stopping to think, Violet also had a sudden increase in strength...' Agnes' eyes sparkled a little.

"Maybe it's my son-in-law's fault?" She unknowingly spoke aloud.

"..." Scathach's smile broke, and she looked coldly at Agnes.

Agnes felt uncomfortable when she saw Scathach's face, and she quickly changed the subject:

"Scathach, I ask your permission to visit your house. I want to see my daughter's new husband."

Scathach's eyes became more neutral, and then she said, "Okay, I give permission."

"Eh...?" Was it that easy!? And what was that whole show a few minutes ago!? Agnes was speechless.

Agnes thinks for a moment, and then she understands. 'Oh, it's been a few years, and I've already forgotten how to treat this woman...'

Scathach's temper was very different from what she remembered, she is calmer. Normally, she was very intense, and because of that, she forgot the basics of how to treat Scathach.

This is something all vampires should know when encountering Scathach; Be humble, or you'll get your ass kicked by her. Agnes had completely forgotten about that.

The same happened with Natasha.

"Scathach, can I visit my daughter and her new husband?"

"..." Scathach looked at Natasha, "Yeah, of course, you can."

A smile threatened to break out of Natasha's neutral face, but she held back.

"But before that..."

"Luna!" Scathach's voice echoed through the mansion.

"Yeshhh," Suddenly, a white-haired Russian maid appeared.

"Were you Sleeping?"

"...I was not."

"Wipe your mouth first. You're drooling." Scathach rolled her eyes.

"!!!" Luna quickly wipes her mouth and looks to Scathach for any order from her.

"Deliver the contracts to these guests." She pointed to Agnes and Natasha.

"Yes!" Luna disappeared, and a few seconds later, she returned with several golden contracts in hand.

"And us?" the men asked.

Scathach just waves a hand for Luna to hand over the contract to them too.

Right after that, Scathach totally ignored the two men since, in her view, the two men weren't worth her time.

The white-haired man was only good for being handsome, and the other man had the same purpose as the first man, but unlike the first man who tries to be useful, the other is just a waste of air.

And to make her mood even worse, which is bad since she knows that today is Victor's date with Violet, the two men reek of talentlessness.

She spent so much time with Victor that she completely forgot that other men aren't like him.

"... What is it?"

"Hmm?" Coming out of her thoughts, Scathach looks at Agnes:

"Are you blind? Or are you illiterate?"

'...Okay, her mood isn't good today, just what happened to her mood, it's so...dark?' Agnes thought.

"Why this contract? I just want to see my daughter's husband." Natasha spoke.

"Tsk." Scathach clicked her tongue with visible annoyance.

"Listen. The contract is simple. You must sign and keep all the information you learn from my disciple to yourself, and if this contract is broken, I will know." Her eyes glittered dangerously.

"And I will pay you a visit~."

Agnes' eyes flashed in annoyance, "Scathach... Are you threatening me? Yes, you're strong, but you can't fight alone-" She was going to keep saying that Scathach couldn't fight alone with an entire Clan of Vampire Counts, but she couldn't continue her words...

"Agnes..." Scathach's voice came out in a demonic tone that left Agnes completely paralyzed.

"Don't make my mood worse. Or I promise you, the next words you say will be your death sentence."

"..." Everyone felt a chill rising in their spines, their bodies froze, they couldn't move, they swallowed their saliva, in front of her, they just looked like scared children.

Was she that angry? They could see that she was being very serious this time, and they knew that if they teased her any further, she would do what she promised.

'Master...' Luna felt her master go back to what she was before she met Victor.

Slowly, the pressure coming off of Scathach's body began to fade, and as she spoke, she clearly wasn't in the mood for more bullshit today:

"The contract is simple. Shut the fuck up about my disciple. I don't want to hear any leaked information about him. By doing that, you can see my son-in-law. It's simple, right?"

She is very overprotective! That's what everyone thought.

It is common knowledge that it is quite difficult to find information about the Clan of Scathach, and why? It's just that the woman herself is very overprotective with her daughters, she hides any kind of information about her daughters from the public, and the Ruby incident made her very paranoid.

And everyone in this room knows she only gives her daughters that kind of treatment! After all, they signed a similar contract when their Clan heirs began to bond with Ruby.

They also understand that Scathach would not allow her daughter to marry someone 'useless' or 'talentless'.

And when they remembered Victor's fight, they understood that he screamed potential.

The curiosity of the vampires present was once again piqued.

Just who is this man who managed to cause such a strong reaction in this crazy woman? They needed to know! They needed to meet this man!

"..." After a moment of silence, the group signed the contract since they were just too curious to step back now.

"Good." Scathach flashed a small, cold smile when she saw the group signing the contract.

...

Unaware that his in-laws and mothers-in-law are quite interested in him, Victor was sitting in a bathtub enjoying his shower, the way he came into the world, and was enjoying the hot bath while singing a song.

"HmmmHmmHmm" Of course, he didn't dare sing the song out loud since he wasn't confident that his singing voice was pleasant.

He might be a lot of things, a battle nut, a man who has a taste for women with pretty dubious personalities, a little clueless about things around him, but he wasn't a singer.

But for the curious who are wondering what song he is singing, the song is called; Imagine, by John Lennon.

Victor's tastes in music were quite eclectic. If he listens to the beat and thinks it's good, he'll like it. It doesn't matter if he doesn't understand the music; he's a simple man. But, despite having eclectic tastes in music, the music he listened to most when he went to school was Rock.

"Master." He heard Kaguya's voice.

"Umu?" He looked at the maid who was in the bathroom with him, and, despite being in the bathroom, the maid was still dressed in a maid's uniform.

"What is it Kaguya?"

"Master, you lack common sense." Kaguya got right to the point, she knows that in order to talk to Victor, she shouldn't waste time beating around the bush. She must be honest.

"What were you thinking about going to the bathroom with Pepper?" She knows he had no perverted intentions, which is something she likes a lot, but it's still inappropriate! Luckily, Siena managed to prevent a tragedy from happening. And Pepper is also very clueless! She didn't realize Victor was with her!?

"Oh, what about it?"

"..." Kaguya was speechless when she saw him treating it so casually. What if his wives find out!? Imagine the chaos that will ensue!

"Hahahaha~, don't look at me like that." Victor laughed amusedly.

"Master..." Kaguya started to speak, but Victor interrupted.

"To be honest." He started creating small ice structures in the bathtub, something he did when he was bored during Scathach training, and it also served as a way to train ice control.

"I wasn't thinking about anything."

"..." Of course, he wasn't thinking about anything... Kaguya felt like sighing again.

"I just do what I want, and at that point, I didn't think too deeply. I admit I was wrong, considering it could cause a problem with my wives, which is something I don't want."

"..." Kaguya nodded several times in agreement, she felt she was teaching her master common sense.

"I think I'm very used to Scathach..."

"Hmm?" Kaguya looked at Victor; 'Scathach again!? Just how much has this woman influenced you?'

"What does the master mean?" She decided to look deeper.

"Basically, I lived six months with Scathach, and in those months, we lived without worrying about anything.

"Huh?" Kaguya didn't understand.

Realizing he didn't explain very well, he elaborated, "What I mean is that we lived with only two thoughts in mind, training, and fighting. We didn't care about little things like; 'what will the other person think', or 'is this the right thing to do?'"

"Oh." Kaguya understood now. Basically, he lived simply for six months and ended up getting used to that reality; 'Probably, my master just trained until he was tired, then he rested, and went back to training. He didn't think of little things that could get in the way of his training.'

'And I think Scathach did it on purpose...' Could this be the secret of his sudden increase in strength? That's what she thought.

After all, Kaguya remembers that she never trained as intensely as Victor, she did a little combat training, but her main training was how to be a perfect maid.

"And for you, it may have been six months, but for me... I feel like it was a lot longer than that."

"Hmm?" Seeing her master's strange expression, she thought, 'Maybe because he was so focused on training, he felt like he spent too much time?'

Kaguya was curious, she wanted to know more about what happened during the six months. How did he get so strong? She clearly remembered that six months ago, he was much weaker than her:

"How was your training?"

"... My training?"

"Yes."

"Well... I was basically beaten to death several times, I was tortured, and whenever I did something wrong, Scathach pointed it out to me, and when she judged by her standards that I learned something, she taught me something else. ."

"..." Kaguya was speechless. Wasn't this basically a form of torture!?

"... And how did you get stronger?" That alone didn't explain the sudden increase in strength.

"Hmm? I do not know? I just did it. Oh, I got plenty of rest too, and when I was hungry, I drank Scathach's blood."

"..." An uncomfortable silence descended over the ridiculously huge bathroom.

Sigh...

Kaguya swore to herself that she would keep it a secret. After all, it's the maid's duty to hide her master's dirty secrets!

What she didn't know was that Victor didn't care if she was going to tell someone or not, considering it wasn't a secret or something.

Wait... Blood? Suddenly Kaguya noticed something. 'Can it be?' After all, she knows that Victor's blood is special, she even witnessed her former master Violet increasing her strength little by little when she drank his blood.

"Just out of curiosity, how many times have you taken Scathach's blood? And how many times has Scathach taken your blood?"

"Hmmm," Victor crossed his arms and began to think deeply.

Somehow Kaguya was waiting to hear about this, she couldn't contain her curiosity.

After a few minutes of thinking, he said:

"I don't know?"

"...Ugh." She wanted to scream now! Is he serious!? What was that suspense? Despite wanting to scream, she avoided it since this was inappropriate behavior for a perfect maid.

"But I remember this happened many times after I learned about my own power."

"Oh... So Master sucked Scathach's blood over and over again."

"Yes."

"She also sucked your blood over and over again."

"Yes."

"And while you sucked each other's blood, you hugged each other the way you came into the world, you licked each other's necks, you got turned on, and you indulged in each other's lusts."

"Yes...Wait!"

"..." Kaguya just looked at her master with a dry look.

If a look could kill, Victor would already be dead from the look of Kaguya.

Realizing he had fallen into Kaguya's trap, Victor exhibited a helpless little smile:

"I never thought I had such a perverted maid."

"Eh...?" Kaguya's face got a little embarrassed.

"But don't worry, my maid. I will keep this secret to myself."

"Ugh..." Kaguya somehow became more embarrassed, especially when she heard Victor say, 'My maid.' She quickly turned her face away and ignored her hateful master!

"Hahaha~" Victor laughed amusedly and said, "Just to fix something."

"The part of; 'You gave yourselves to each other's lusts' didn't happen."

Still embarrassed, she looked at her master, "But the other parts happened, right?"

"Well, I needed to help my mother-in-law, or I would suffer more than necessary..." Victor remembers that when Scathach cured her bloodlust, he didn't suffer as much in training as he did in the beginning, and he just had the members of his body cut-off, just that...

Hey, at least his guts were still in his body, sometimes...

"Hmm." Kaguya continued to stare at her master.

...

Coming out of the bath with only a towel covering his intimacy, Victor looked at Kaguya with a small smile on his face and lifted his arms:

"Do your magic."

"..." Kaguya displayed a small satisfied smile on her face.

Slowly, her body begins to be covered by darkness, and soon she passes through Victor's body, and in less than a few seconds, Victor was dressed in a black suit.

"Whistle."

"As expected of you." He displayed a satisfied smile, and he also noticed something very different from the other times. Now he could clearly see what Kaguya had done. 'I think this is proof that I've gotten stronger?' he thought jokingly.

"At your service, My Master." She bowed in a gesture of respect as she had a smile on her face.

"Come on, I have a date today."

"I don't think it's a good idea...." Kaguya said.

"Hmm?"

"Lady Violet won't like anyone else on her date. I should stay home."

"Oh, that's true." Victor nodded.

"Master, what happened to your wine red suit?"

"Oh, I have a lot of suits now. Most are black or red, or wine red."

"Did you buy these suits?"

"I didn't buy it, but, when I went back to my room, I saw these suits in the closet with a letter that said, 'It's a gift, stupid disciple.'"

"Scathach..." Kaguya felt like sighing now.

"Yes." Victor chuckled a little when he saw Kaguya's expression that showed she wanted to sigh at any moment. He was understanding his maid better now as time went on.

He looks at the small table and sees a pair of white gloves with a magic circle stamped on them, and takes the gloves and puts them on.

After putting on the gloves, he clenches his fists, and when he does, the red magic circle seems to glow blood red:

"Good." He nodded in satisfaction.

"..." Kaguya was silent at this demonstration, she was a little curious about these gloves, she knows it's a magic tool, but she doesn't know what the purpose is.

Victor turned and walked out of the bathroom, "Tell my wife I'm waiting for her in front of the mansion, my maid."

"Yes, master."

Chapter 102: Ruby introduces a new world.

Some time ago, before Victor came home.

In Victor's and his wives' bedroom.

"In the end... You decided to wear this outfit." Ruby spoke.

"Yes, this is the outfit I met my Darling in person for the first time in a long time." Violet touched the outfit fondly, "It's very important to me." She displayed a loving smile.

Hearing what Violet said, Yuki sighed inwardly; 'Sigh... Why did I go to all that trouble to choose the clothes and help her change her clothes?' She didn't know what to think, she felt like she made a futile effort.

But she wasn't going to complain. After all, she's a maid, and meeting the master's selfish demands is a maid's job... Although Violet isn't her master.

Her master is Victor, but...

Her master abandoned her!

Yuki felt like crying, 'Why didn't he wake me up?' She thought, and the moment she thought about it, she shook her head several times. A maid's job is to wake up before the master, she knows that! She knows she's wrong...

"Sniff"

"Yuki?"

Yuki quickly turns away and ignores Ruby.

After a short time... A long time... A really long time, Violet finally chose her outfit, and the outfit she chose was the same outfit she wore when she met Victor for the first time in a while.

Long white hair tied into a ponytail that reached the floor, a black dress with a small tie in the torso area, big black boots that reached to her knees, Violet's outfit looked like goth cosplay.

"..." Sasha looked at the King Size bed where they were sleeping with their husband and saw the massive amount of clothes piles lying on the bed...

'Why does she have so many clothes!?' That was Sasha's thought, even for her who had a considerable amount of clothes, the amount that Violet had was ridiculous.

"Ara. So that's why I was called back~. My master is going on a date. This is a joyous occasion."

Ruby, Sasha, and Yuki looked at the woman who was wearing a French maid dress.

"Have you gained weight, Natalia?" Ruby raised an eyebrow.

"..." Natalia's eyebrows twitched a little, she looked at Ruby:

"I didn't get fat. Unlike you guys, I'm a human. I get old. And it's been six months."

"Hmm... I think she wasn't talking about that..." Sasha focused her eyes on Natalia's belly, which was a little full.

"Yes, you got fat. I think you relaxed a lot during your vacation."

"... I didn't get fat..." Natalia's gentle smile threatened to break at any moment.

"..." Yuki was speechless, she didn't have much contact with the heiresses of Clan Fulger or Clan Scarlett, but she's sure the two weren't that direct with words like that.

'My master and Lady Violet are influencing them?' Yuki thought.

"Question; what did you do on your vacation?" Sasha held up a hand.

"... Is this really necessary?"

"Yes." This time Ruby and Violet responded along with Sasha. Violet was also curious to know what her maid did on vacation.

Sigh...

Because it's Violet's request, she had no choice but to say:

"I slept, I ate, and I traveled to some places in the human world, and I repeated the process."

"Oh." Sasha exclaimed as if understanding something, "So you relaxed and ended up getting fat."

"...I didn't gain weight. I'm just a little full because I ate a few things, that's all."

"That's the excuse that someone who got fat would say." Ruby exhibited a small smile.

"..." A vein popped in Natalia's head, she comes back from vacation, and that's how they treat her!?

But as an experienced maid, she wouldn't complain about this treatment since it would be an embarrassment to her.

She just kept the gentle smile on her face.

Rumble!

Suddenly lightning sounds could be heard by everyone.

"Oh... Darling is back!" Sasha was the first to speak.

"..." Violet and Ruby looked at Sasha with a neutral gaze.

"What?"

"Hmm, wasn't that my line?" Violet spoke, she felt that Sasha was stealing her role.

"Really?" Sasha didn't understand

"Yes." Ruby confirmed in Violet's place, "I expected this kind of reaction to come from Violet, not you."

"..." All the women in the room nodded in agreement with Ruby.

"Well... He came back using the power of lightning, and because of that, I felt it faster." Sasha turned her face a little embarrassed.

"Pfft... Being a Tsundere is difficult." Ruby spoke in a low voice, but since everyone had keen ears, everyone could hear her.

"Ruby... I don't know what this is, but I don't like it." Sasha spoke with a serious expression.

"... Sigh, come here, I'll show you what it is." Ruby got up and walked towards a spot in the bedroom where she was going to educate Sasha about culture.

"Oh?" Sasha looked at Ruby curiously, then she too got up and walked towards Ruby.

"What are you doing?"

"Nothing. Just go to your date. Enjoy the time with Darling because we are next." Ruby spoke neutrally to Violet.

"Hmm...Okay."

'...Do they look closer than before? What happened?' Natalia didn't understand; 'I think six months can change a lot.'

And like it's fate or something, everyone hears a knock on the door followed by Kaguya's voice:

"Lady Violet. My master is waiting for you in front-"

"Darling~!"

Before Kaguya could even finish, Violet opened the door and ran towards somewhere.

"...She never waits for me to finish..." Kaguya felt like sighing as she looked towards the room:

"What is this mess?"

Piles of clothes were tossed on the bed, some clothes were thrown on the floor, and she could see that deeper down, Ruby was pulling out a collection of her Manga for Sasha to see.

This was the Manga collection that Luna bought for Ruby before the match between Clan Horseman and Clan Rider happened. As a maid who knows her master's habits, she also bought some old Mangas, considering she knows that when Ruby goes back to the human world, she will procrastinate a lot.

"Do you understand now? That's a Tsundere." She heard Ruby's voice.

"...I'm not this annoying pink-haired girl...." A vein popped in Sasha's head.

"I know. You're more like this one." It showed a woman with black hair in a twin-tail style standing next to a man with white hair.

Reading the character description, she said:

"... I'm not!"

"Although you have a sadistic personality to your enemies, and you're DereDere to our husband, so you're a bit like this one too." It showed a character who had long blue hair and was wearing a military uniform.

She repeated the process and read the character description again:

"I'm not a sadist like this woman!"

"...Oh? Who was it that condemned Maria to a miserable future?" Ruby raised an eyebrow.

"She deserved it," Sasha spoke in a cold tone.

"I know, but it's still a sadistic attitude. But, don't worry, our husband loves that side of you. I would suggest you show this side of yourself more. I'm sure he'll love it, just like you said before, right? He only reacts to crazy women."

"..." Sasha didn't know what to say when she heard what Ruby said; 'Didn't she just indirectly call me a crazy woman?'

"Do you have any more of these drawings?"

"How rude... The name is Manga."

"Whatever."

"..." Ruby looked at Sasha with a neutral eye.

"What?" Sasha didn't understand Ruby's gaze.

"Pepper, come here!" Suddenly Ruby screamed, she called an ally! She's going to teach Sasha a new world!

"Okay~" Soon, everyone hears Pepper's voice.

"Well... I'll go back to my services..." Kaguya slowly left the room, she didn't want to stay in the room, she knew these lazy princesses wouldn't organize the messy room, and in the end, the responsibility would fall to some of the maids present in this mansion.

She only serves Victor! And nobody else! That was the determination of a perfect maid!

Seeing Kaguya leaving, Yuki did the same thing, she didn't want to stay in this place.

"... Well, I have to serve my master... So..." Natalia creates a portal at the entrance to the room and then goes through it.

"Huh?" Ruby looked around and realized she was alone with Sasha, and then she looked at Violet's mess.

'Who will organize this?' She definitely won't!

"Hmm..." Ruby started to think, suddenly an idea popped into her head:

"Sasha, call your maid." She looked at Sasha.

"Hmm..."

"Sasha?" She approaches Sasha and sees her reading a Shoujo Manga.

"Oh?" Ruby's eyes sparkled.

Suddenly Sasha yelled:

"What's with this woman!? Why is she so indecisive!? If you can't decide on one man, just take them both!" She seemed quite interested in the story.

"..." Ruby was speechless, she knows that reverse Harem is a common practice in the vampire world. After all, even Sasha's mother has three husbands, but she doesn't need to scream like that... What if someone hears?

Ruby's face turned a little red, "S-Stop, you're talking too loud."

"Oh..." Sasha's face also turned a little red.

"I arrived!" Suddenly the door opens, and Pepper enters!

"Fueeee? What is this mess? Looks like a tornado went through here..." Pepper looked around.

"Pepper, you came at a good time!"

"Oh?" Pepper looks at Ruby, and when she sees her with several Manga, Pepper's eyes seem to glow red for a few seconds, and then she flashes a smile:

"Interesting~."

"..." Ruby and Sasha were speechless; 'Just for a moment, she looked just like Scathach/mother.' The two thought at the same time.

Chapter 103: Date.

Victor was waiting in front of the mansion, leaning against a pillar with his arms crossed while he had a smile on his face, "Hmmm, Hmm" He seemed to be singing a song to himself.

"Darling!"

"Umu?" Hearing his wife's voice, he looks at Violet with his mouth slightly open in shock, seeing that she is wearing the same outfit from when they first met, Victor's expression slowly started to change to a loving one.

"How am I?" She displayed a gentle smile.

"Perfect."

"Hehehe~" Violet's whole mood seemed to lighten up, and it even seemed like there were little roses coming from her smile.

"Shall we?" He extended his arm.

"Yes!" Violet wastes no time and grabs Victor's arm possessively.

"NATALIA!"

"Yes, Yes. I haven't forgotten my duty. No need to scream, Lady Violet." A portal appears at the entrance to Scathach's mansion, and soon Natalia exits the portal.

"Oh? You're back, Natalia." Victor displayed his usual little smile, very different from the one he used to show his wives.

"How long has it been since we have seen each other, Lord... Eh?" Natalia was speechless as she looked at Victor. Is he really Victor? Huh? Were six months enough for him to change so much?

Natalia couldn't express her feelings clearly. She was just surprised by Victor's sudden change; his whole atmosphere changed! He was exhibiting a very different natural confidence than before. Every time she looked at the small smile on his face, she felt an air of danger and unpredictability, and more importantly... She felt like she was in front of a natural predator.

That was a feeling she only had with a few vampires. 'Has his growth in power changed him in any way?' She felt it was possible. After all, it's quite common for vampires to be influenced by the power it awakens.

"Natalia, stop staring at my husband," Violet spoke dryly, her eyes no longer pretty.

"Oh." Natalia woke up from her stupor.

"Where do you want to go?" She smiled again with the same gentle smile.

"We don't know." The two spoke at the same time.

"Eh...?" She was speechless.

"Hahaha, don't look at us like that. Violet and I aren't planners; we just do whatever we want. Right, Honey?"

"..." Violet didn't say anything, she just displayed a loving smile that confirmed Victor's words.

"..." Seeing the 'love' in the air, Natalia felt like she had eaten dog food now.

"Do you have any suggestions?" Victor asked.

"Well, if we're talking about romantic dates, the obvious choice is Paris, right?" At least she, as a woman, would like a man to take her to Paris on a romantic date.

"In that case, we're going to Paris." Victor didn't think much since he didn't have much experience in dating, considering he never went on a date in his life. And for him, wherever he was with his wife was enough.

"Yes!" Violet thought the same as Victor. As long as she was with Victor, it was enough! It doesn't matter the place, the time or the time of year!

Natalia nods and snaps her finger.

"Done." When she said this, a portal appeared behind her.

"Come on, Darling!"

"Before that, take this." Natalia threw two bracelets.

The two raise their hands and take the bracelet she threw.

"What is that?" Victor asked curiously.

"A magic tool that automatically translates what you say into the local language since you can't speak French, right?"

"Oh." The two spoke at the same time; they totally forgot about it.

'It's quite cute how similar they look...!' Natalia flashed a motherly smile.

The two put the bracelet on their wrists, and, right after doing this, the bracelet seems to glow green and soon fits perfectly on their wrists.

"This is interesting," Violet spoke.

"Honey, have you never used this?"

"Yes, after all, I didn't travel much to other countries."

"We have to change this in the future, right?" He displayed a gentle smile.

Violet takes Victor's arm and says with a big beaming smile:

"Of course."

Soon the two walk towards the portal.

"Have fun~." Natalia dismissed the two with a gentle smile.

As soon as they go through the portal, the portal is undone.

"..." An uncomfortable silence fell in the room.

"I must look for a husband." She decided that when she saw the atmosphere of happiness and love in the couple.

"...But looking for a suitable man while being part of Clan Alioth is very difficult, right?"

"!!!" Natalia was taken by surprise, she never expected that anyone could catch her off guard! She quickly jumps back and looks towards the voice.

Seeing a woman with long black hair and golden eyes, she immediately recognized the woman:

"... June... Your hair has grown."

"Fufufufu, it's quite rare to take you by surprise." June showed a smug face. "And yes, my hair has grown. It's been six months, you know?"

"I hope you have good news for Lady Sasha." Natalia returned to her gentle smile.

"Yes, I do..." She spoke with a serious face, "But before that..." Her body broke out in a cold sweat.

She looked at the place and said, "Can you ask them to stop looking at me with that look...? I'm almost shitting myself."

Natalia looked up and saw Lacus and Siena standing on top of the mansion as she looked at the two of them with their eyes glowing blood red.

They looked like they were about to attack at any moment.

"..." Natalia's eyes sparkled for a few seconds.

June didn't like that look in Natalia's eyes at all, she had a bad feeling.

"I do not know her," Natalia spoke and quickly turned and entered the mansion.

"Eh...? W-Wait-" June was going to say something, but suddenly, she felt two hands touching her shoulder.

"Why don't we talk a little? I have a basement made for people like you~" Siena flashed a slight smile that showed her teeth.

"Don't worry, it's a very welcoming place." Lacus continued.

"We even have a very comfortable electric chair." Siena.

"Some coffins with nice thorns that pierce your skin." Lacus.

"We have lovely tools that can easily remove every part of your body." Siena.

"It's a very welcoming place~" The two spoke at the same time with a small smile on their face.

June's expression changed several times, and tears threatened to fall from her face. Just from the hair of the two women, she knew who they were, and she heard a rumor that Scathach's daughters were crazy like their mother, fearing for the future, she did the most obvious thing:

"N-NOOO!" June quickly covers her body with magic and runs.

She ran away...

"Oh? I like to chase my prey~" Siena licks her lips, then runs after her.

"You can't run away from me." Lacus' body turned to mist, and soon she chased June as well.

Looking back, she saw the two women chasing her with rather frightening looks, "Hiiii!" After that, she started to pick up the pace.

"Cursed that sadistic maid!!"

Hearing June's screams, Natalia flashed a cold smile.

Despite being a professional maid from a renowned clan... She was very petty at times.

...

Paris.

A couple was walking hand in hand through the streets of Paris, the man was wearing a very elegant all-black suit, and he was also wearing black glasses over his eyes.

Next to him was a woman who was wearing an outfit that looked like a gothic cosplay, and because of her stunning looks and their outfits that were complete opposites, the couple drew a lot of attention from the locals.

Wherever the couple went, they drew attention while people talked about the two of them.

"Are they shooting a movie?"

"Both are so beautiful..."

"Are they models?"

"That man is hot..."

"That woman looks like a doll, she is so beautiful~."

After his evolution, Victor acquired a unique charm that caught everyone's attention, a vampiric charm that enchanted all lost lambs.

And, after training Scathach, he acquired a feeling of a predator. A contradiction of beautiful but dangerous. A duality that made him irresistible.

Violet was a stunning beauty in her own right, she gave the feeling of a delicate violet flower, but this flower concealed thorns that could tear the flesh of anyone who was bold enough to touch it.

'As expected, I feel uncomfortable in the sun' Despite not burning to ash when bathed in sunlight, Victor couldn't like the sunlight, and he felt very uncomfortable:

'The night is better~. But...' He looked at Violet, who was walking beside him with a big smile on her face, she looked very radiant, she looked very happy.

"Darling! Look at that, what is that!? They are weird!"

"Darling! Let's go to that place! Sounds like fun!"

Violet would point to any place that caught her interest and take him with her, and all the way through, she had a smile so dazzling it made Victor's heart twist in love.

For some reason, Violet looked absolutely stunning to Victor today. Victor's eyes sparkled with emotions of love and affection, and soon he displayed a gentle smile:

"I couldn't see this vision at night."

"Darling?" She looked at Victor with a cute face.

"It's nothing. Shall we continue, Honey?" Victor smiled and started to lead the way this time.

"Yes~"

Did they have a plan in mind? Of course not. Did they know about Paris? Of course not.

But did that matter to the two lovebirds? Of course not!

Victor is not a man who likes to plan things; he likes to live! Especially when he's going on a date with his wife, who he loves a lot. Despite having no knowledge of how a proper date worked, he wasn't shaken by it. After all, for him, it didn't matter much, and he's just going to be himself as he always has been.

It's better to be true to yourself than to be a fake, accept who you are, and live life! Stop wasting time thinking about bullshit. It's bad for your health!

Violet was in the same boat as Victor, she didn't think about things much, and for her, just being close to Victor was enough... But...

Feeling Victor's hand entwined with hers, his gentle, loving gaze that she could feel even though he was wearing those glasses, his smile when she suggested they do something together.

Her heart was beating like a bullet train that was running at the highest possible speed!

"Darling, Darling, Darling~!" She clung to him, covering his face with kisses, not caring that the pedestrians on the street were watching.

She felt so sweet, she felt so loved... She felt happy.

"No, I want more!"

And slowly, she felt her possessive feelings build. Being near him wasn't enough! She wanted more! She wanted him to be hers! She wanted to become one with him!

She jumps on his body and hugs him, and while ignoring the shocked faces of the people around her, she kisses his lips, she feels warm, while Victor isn't the least bit shy about kissing her back.

Because of their movements, Victor's glasses ended up falling on the floor, and his clothes got a little messy.

Victor displayed a gentle smile as he felt Violet's burst of feeling coming from the connection they had, and like his dear wife, he stopped holding back.

A wave of feelings invaded Violet's body like a tsunami, feelings of possession, feelings of happiness, feelings of love, feelings of desire for Violet. For the first time, Victor displayed everything he felt for his wife.

For the first time, he showed that side of himself that he slowly developed when he was away from his wives.

"!!!"

"This is..." Violet stopped kissing Victor when she felt the explosion of feeling coming from him.

"Darling-"

"Shh." He put his fingers to her mouth, his red eyes were opaque, and they carried a glow of love that left Violet feeling very overwhelmed.

His Love was heavy! And she loved it!

"Let's enjoy our time together, Honey~."

Violet felt goosebumps all over her body, a feeling of anticipation began to grow inside her:

"Yes, Darling~."

Chapter 104: An unforgettable day.

In the late afternoon, somewhere on the outskirts of Paris.

A couple was walking through the streets of Paris while holding each other's hands, although a few hours had passed, the radiant aura of a happy couple still hadn't diminished and, in fact, it seemed to be increasing...

And it did a lot of harm to single women and men all over Paris.

Wherever the couple went, unconsciously, someone took critical damage from seeing them be so close.

Some Asian men visiting Paris coughed up blood when they saw the couple, and these same men praised the couple as an unsurpassed jade beauty.

One even took some pictures with the thought of showing his family. He never thought there were such beautiful people in the world.

"Darling~! Darling~! Darling~!" Violet called Victor again. He doesn't know how many times she spoke those words today.

"What's up, Honey~?" But it's not like it mattered since Violet's voice was like a gentle song that soothed him; he liked it a lot.

"Look at that!" She pointed to the Eiffel Tower, one of the most famous sights in Paris.

"You want to go there?"

"Yes!"

"Well, the princess's wish is an order." He bowed and responded with a smile as if he were a professional butler.

"Pfft, Darling. You're not a butler!" Violet displayed a gentle smile.

"Ehh? Why?" Victor made a face like he couldn't believe what he heard.

"Your smile is terrifying!" She laughed.

"Well, but I'm sure my master doesn't mind, right~?" He pulled Violet up and held her waist.

"Of course not~."

The two walk to a back alley.

"Hold on tight, Honey." Victor raised Violet like a princess.

"Yes, Darling." Violet holds Victor's neck.

Victor looks up at the tower, his eyes, which were open for all to see, glowed a blood red, and soon he takes a step.

The moment he took a step, he appeared in the sky.

"Ohhh, that was silent, Hahaha~" Violet seemed to be enjoying herself.

"Be careful not to bite your tongue, Honey," Victor warned.

When he was in the sky, he created a small boulder of ice, and using that boulder as a boost, he flew towards the tower.

He repeated this process a few times, it was like he was walking on air, and in less than a few seconds, he was at the peak of the Eiffel Tower.

"That was fun. I wonder if I can learn it."

"Hahaha, you can try to do something similar with your powers."

"I will try in the future. Will you help me, Darling?"

Victor's smile grew, "Of course."

Victor sits in an area of the Tower and places Violet in his lap.

Violet looks at Paris that is starting to darken, opens her eyes a little, and wears a gentle smile with such beauty.

"The view is amazing."

"..." Victor looked at Violet, seeing the smile on her face, and, seeing how stunning she looked with the scenery behind her, he couldn't help commenting with a small gentle smile on his face:

"...Yes, it's an amazing view indeed..."

"Right?" She turned to Victor, "I wonder what the girls would think of this view-" She looked like she was going to say something, but Victor just put his finger to her lips in a silent gesture.

"Shhh"

"Darling?" Violet didn't understand why he did it.

"They would probably love this sight, but don't think about it right now."

"Oh." Violet's smile grew, her eyes darkened as she looked at Victor possessively, "You're right, Darling." She rested her head against Victor's chest.

"Good." Victor laughed. He didn't want distractions now since he had promised he would give his wives a suitable date and wanted to keep his promise. Although he doesn't know if it's working or not, he's just following his instincts and doing what he wants like he always does.

Soon, he started stroking Violet's head.

Violet's body trembled a little, but soon she snuggled even closer and enjoyed Victor's caresses.

'Ahh~, I never get tired of it... I feel so safe....' She thought with a gentle smile on her face.

"..." A moment of silence fell in the surroundings, and the only thing that could be heard was the sound of Victor and Violet breathing.

And that somehow made the two lovebirds quite relaxed.

They spent a few hours in silence enjoying each other's presence, and in that time, Victor began to remember everything that had happened since he met Violet.

The vampire transformation that changed everything for him, the little revenge he had with Luan, the hunters, Ruby and Sasha, his dear wives. He later met his mother-in-law, a very intense but fun woman, he was soon taken to train with her, and after six months of training, he fought in the arena against Tatsuya and Einer, and they became great friends.

Many things happened in such a short time that he didn't even have time to reflect on everything that happened.

His life was turned upside down by this beautiful white-haired vampire.

Thinking back, he can't help but smile lovingly.

"Ah~, I'm really lucky to have you in my life, Violet." He was completely honest, and that honesty took Violet by surprise.

"D-Darling?" Her face was a little red, but she had a big happy smile on her face.

"Sometimes..." He caressed Violet's face affectionately,

"Sometimes I wonder what my life would be like if I had met you long before?"

"..." Violet was silent.

"Would my life be like today?" Victor seemed to reflect for a few seconds, and then he shook his head, "Probably not."

He understands that himself. If his life hadn't gone the way it turned out, he probably would have met Ruby and Sasha differently. They probably wouldn't even be his wives.

"..." Violet bit her lip, she seemed to make a difficult face, "Would you be happy if you had met me sooner?"

"Of course." He didn't even waste time before answering.

"..." Violet opened her eyes, a little surprised.

"Hahaha~." He chuckled playfully and caressed Violet's face, "My dear wife, you have a special place in my heart..." But, despite having said that, he felt an immense pain in his chest as he thought more deeply about this subject. He felt his heart was stabbed by a dagger and felt incomplete...

Just imagining him away from Ruby and Sasha made him very sad. He could no longer imagine being away from his wives.

Ruby was a cold woman who didn't seem to care about anyone but who hid a sweet side that wanted to help everyone close to her.

He still chuckles in amusement when he remembers the little outburst of rage she had, she was quite cute.

Sasha was a noble and reckless woman who, because of the environment she grew up in, suffered a lot. A strong, noble, gentle, sadistic woman who, at the same time, was a very fragile woman who hides several insecurities in her heart.

His chest tightened, and he felt an immense pain when he remembered how she cried in his arms for the loss of the woman who was a mother to her.

"I'm happy~" Violet's smile grew, but then a frown appeared on her face, as she felt a strange feeling in her heart, "But I'm also angry for some reason."

Yes, it would be great if she had Victor all to herself! It would be a dream gift! But... She feels that she would miss something very important in the process.

"Ugh..." She couldn't figure out what this 'important' something she was going to miss.

Victor displayed a gentle smile, and he leaned his head against Violet's forehead.

"Don't think nonsense. In the end, that's just a 'What if'."

"A useless subject." Violet laughed, she seemed to relax a little more.

"Indeed." Victor agreed.

He looked at Violet's neck, and he felt his throat go dry. 'I forgot to feed...' After the fight with Big Guy, Victor didn't feed, and the effects are starting to show up now.

Sensing her husband's wishes, Violet displayed a seductive smile, and slowly, she began to unbutton her clothes.

Gulp!

Victor gulped in anticipation.

Unbuttoning her outfit completely, Violet shows off her neck, "Come, Darling."

Wasting no time, Victor's fangs seemed to grow, and soon he bit her neck!

"Ahh~" Violet moaned a little and squeezed Victor's neck tighter.

Violet's eyes slowly began to glow blood red, her body began to get hot.

Soon, the teeth in her mouth change, and small fangs appear, and wasting no time, she bites Victor's neck!

'Darling~'

The couple continued to suck each other's blood for a few minutes.

Having finished drinking Violet's blood, Victor starts licking her neck so as not to waste a drop.

Violet stops drinking Victor's blood, licks Victor's neck a little, then she looks into Victor's eyes.

"Darling~, I can't wait any longer." Hearing Violet's voice that sounded like a Succubus that was trying to seduce him.

Victor's eyes flashed red, and he spoke in a heavy voice that made Violet a little wet.

"... Me either."

Suddenly, he hugs Violet and lifts her up like a princess.

"Darlin-"

"Be careful not to bite your tongue."

He jumped somewhere.

"!!?" Violet didn't understand this sudden move, but all she did was hug Victor tighter.

And just like before, Victor creates a small piece of ice in the air and uses it as a boost.

After some jumps, he landed on a balcony of a building.

"W-What?"

"Who are you!?"

A man and a woman who appeared to be a couple were shocked by Victor's sudden appearance.

Victor's eyes met the man's and the woman's, then he made a silent gesture, "Shhh."

"Huh...?" Their eyes went dead.

"It's okay... Everything's okay, right?"

"Yes..."

"Good." Victor smiled, satisfied, and soon he gave the orders, "Enjoy the Paris night together and sleep in another hotel. You can be back here in 48 hours."

"Yes, Master." The two spoke at the same time, and soon they left the room.

When Victor and Violet heard the sound of the door closing.

Their eyes seemed to glow brighter.

Violet steps out of Victor's arms, grabs Victor's clothes, and pulls. "Darling~!"

Not caring about his clothes that were torn, Victor pulled Violet and started kissing her, while the two began to fight a different fight in the room, and without realizing it...

BOOOM!

They hit the wall.

"Darling~! Darling~!" Violet started tearing at Victor's clothes.

Victor's smile grows, but he doesn't do the same as Violet, he removes her clothes more carefully, he knows that Violet loves the clothes she is wearing a lot, after all, if she didn't love these clothes, she wouldn't go for their date in the same outfit they met, right?

When the two were as they came into the world, Victor lifted Violet like a princess and placed her carefully on the bed.

"Will you become mine, Violet?" He lightly stroked her face.

Violet displayed the prettiest smile Victor had ever seen in his life.

"My Darling... My lovely husband...."

"I am already yours..."

Chapter 105: Unexpected visits.

While Victor and Violet were enjoying their time together.

Some unexpected visitors showed up at Scathach's mansion.

"M-Mother?" Sasha, who was wearing a white sweatshirt and white pants, spoke.

"Hello, My Daughter~." Natasha, Sasha's mother, exhibited a small smile.

"We came to visit you." The voice of a man beside Natasha was heard.

"Even my father." Sasha was speechless at what she was witnessing.

"Where is my daughter?" Agnes looked around curiously, her eyes darting around the mansion, looking for Violet.

"Hmm..." Adonis looked around curiously, while his violet eyes were glowing with curiosity; 'So this is that woman's mansion... it's quite common.' He expected something more... scary.

"Why are you standing at the door? Are you porters? Just go in!" Scathach kicked the group in the back.

"Ugh." The group moaned. Wasn't this woman too rude? They are counts/ex-counts, do you know?

"Why did you do that!?" Agnes asked.

"Because I wanted to?" Scathach did not understand Agnes' question.

"Ugh, irrational woman."

"..." Adonis was silent, but inside he was laughing at that irony. 'Can a woman who is a hedonist, who does whatever she wants to, say something about it?'

But as an experienced man, he didn't dare say it out loud since he didn't want to wake up looking like the living dead the next day...

"Mother..." Ruby sighed while doing a facepalm when she saw her mother's attitude. She was wearing an outfit similar to Sasha, with the only difference being that the coloring of her clothes was more red and black. Considering she was at home, she liked to be as comfortable as possible.

"What?" Scathach looked at her daughter as if she didn't understand what she'd done wrong.

"Nothing." Ruby knew it was useless to try to say anything.

Hearing the commotion in front of the mansion, Maria, Kaguya, Yuki, Natalia, Siena, Lacus, and June, who managed to escape possible torture, appeared.

"Mother, you're back!" Pepper smiled happily.

"Mother, welcome back." Siena spoke as she looked at the group and thought; 'This is the first time I have seen the three counts together other than in a meeting with the king himself ...'

"Mother." Lacus gave a little wave as she had a small smile on her face.

"I'm back..." Scathach exhibited a gentle little smile.

"Countess Agnes!?" Yuki opened her mouth in shock.

"Hmm? Oh, Yuki. You arrived at a good time since, because of a certain someone, my maid cannot enter the mansion." Agnes looked at Scathach for a few seconds.

"Do you think I like having so many people in my mansion? Look around, with a brief count, there are more than 10 people in this mansion, and if I gave permission, you would bring half of your employees to this mansion. After all, you are very lazy."

"Well..." Agnes turned her face away and said nothing because she knew Scathach was correct.

"Anyway, since I'm without a maid, you'll serve as my maid for a while."

"Yes, Countess Agnes." Yuki wasn't against it, considering she is a maid of Clan Snow, and Agnes is the leader of her clan.

"Speaking of people..." Scathach looked at June as if sizing her up and, seeing the plethora of magical items, she understood what this woman was:

"Who are you, Witch?"

"W-Well." June gulped, she just ran away from being tortured by that monster's daughters, and now the monster itself is going to torture her!? The world is cruel! She's just a greedy witch! She never hurt anyone!

She was already thinking of bad things that would happen to her if Scathach got her hands on her. She would suffer this and that, and this demonic woman would probably even bathe in her blood.

'I do not want!' June froze and, despite wanting to run away, she couldn't move as she stared into Scathach's red eyes.

"Why did she freeze?" Scathach didn't understand. She just asked a question.

"Well, that's what happens when you stare at people with your red eyes," Natasha spoke.

"Huh?" Scathach touched her face, then walked to the mirror and saw her eyes were red, suddenly she felt her throat go dry. 'Why didn't I feel symptoms right away? Did I ignore them while I was angry?'

"Those eyes can be quite intimidating for someone younger." William, Sasha's father, continued.

"Indeed..." Adonis nodded in agreement, even he felt scared sometimes.

"She is my daughter's hired witch. Don't worry, she's trustworthy," Agnes said.

"... Agnes." Scathach looked at Agnes and wanted to sigh at such idiocy.

"What?"

"Witches are never to be trusted." Scathach spoke dryly.

"I know. But she can be. After all, she's too scared to do something." Agnes' golden eyes sparkled a little as she looked at June. "Right?" She smiled with a gentle smile.

"Yes, Yes! I am a trustworthy witch! I almost shit myself a few seconds ago, but it's okay!" June's eyes were rolling, and she didn't even understand what she had just said.

"..." Everyone was speechless when they heard what June said.

"Ugh... So much chaos." Kaguya spoke in a low voice.

"Well, you get used to it." Luna appeared beside Kaguya. Her eyes were dead tired, and she seemed to have been through a lot.

"Where were you?" Maria asked.

"Working... something you should do."

"I'm not your maid; I'm Lady Sasha's."

"Oh?" Natasha's eyes sparkled when they heard Maria's words.

"... Fuck." Maria understood that she had just dug her own grave.

"New maid, huh?"

"What happened to Julia?" Natasha looked at her daughter.

"...A lot has happened, Mother. But you probably wouldn't mind."

Hearing her daughter's venomous tone, she said, "You're right, but I'm curious, what happened to Julia?"

"... She died..."

"Oh? That's a shame, but it's a good thing you got yourself another maid." Soon she lost interest and started looking around, "Where is your husband?" She avoided saying the phrase 'my son-in-law' since she knows that somehow that phrase made Scathach angry.

Sasha clenched her hands tightly while her green eyes slowly changed to blood red. She was angry! She knew her mother was like that! She knew... But even knowing that, it doesn't make her any less hateful.

Ruby walks up beside Sasha and holds her hand.

Sasha looks at Ruby.

"Calm down. You don't need to lose control of your emotions because of it." She spoke in a gentle tone.

"Yes, Lady Sasha. You need to calm down." Kaguya walked beside Sasha.

"..." Slowly, Sasha's eyes began to return to normal, and she displayed a gentle smile, "Thank you... And you need to be calm too, Kaguya."

"... I'm calm."

"Your eyes don't say that."

Kaguya lowers her head a little and hides her face as she bites her lip in frustration. She doesn't like Natasha's tone at all.

"Just ignore what they say. It's better for both of you." Ruby advised.

"..." The two nodded in agreement.

"..." Agnes, who was watching this scene out of the corner of her eye, looked at Natasha, "It surprises me how you can have such a terrible relationship with your daughter."

"Huh? Our relationship is good. I love my daughter." Natasha didn't understand.

"..." Agnes rolled her eyes. 'This woman is blind.' She thought inwardly.

She looks at her husband, who is staring at Maria, while his eyes glow a little violet:

"Darling?"

"Hmm..." He approaches Agnes and speaks in her ear, "Keep an eye on that maid."

"Oh?" Agnes looked at Maria for a few seconds, she didn't notice anything wrong, but she trusted her husband's words:

"Okay, I will."

Adonis nodded, satisfied, then he looked at the group and asked, "Where is my daughter?"

"Lady Violet is on a date with Lord Victor." Kaguya, as Victor's personal maid, responded.

"Oh, it's good they're getting along." Adonis smiled, satisfied.

'He really looks happy.' Natalia thought in disbelief, considering she thought Adonis would be pissed off like all parents are.

"Hmm, are they coming back today?" Natasha asked.

"I do not know." Kaguya didn't give much information.

"So my daughter will become a woman... This is a strange feeling..." Agnes didn't know how to feel.

"Huh?" Adonis, Sasha, and Ruby exclaimed together. They clearly didn't understand.

"...You are surprisingly very innocent." She looked at her husband in disbelief, "As an older man, you should know it's pretty obvious that after the date, they're going to have sex."

"Huuuuh!?" 'Didn't they just go on a date!?' Sasha and Ruby thought at the same time.

"M-My D-Daughter..." Somehow Adonis was shaken and leaned against the wall while touching his heart; 'My Daughter... my little violet flower....' He seemed to have entered a catatonic state.

Crack!

Suddenly everyone in the group hears the loud sound of something breaking, they look to the side, and soon they see the sight of Scathach 'accidentally' breaking the pillar of her mansion.

"Heh~" Her smile was not pretty, and a dangerous killing intent began to cover her body.

"I must pay a visit to the builder of this mansion. It is very fragile~."

BOOOM!

She punched the wall!

"Look how fragile it is~, he did a sloppy job, HaHaHaHa~."

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

She punched the wall several times.

"I really need to visit the man who built this mansion. He did a horrible job~" Not wanting to be in the room with all these guests, Scathach disappeared and went somewhere else.

"..." An uncomfortable silence fell around. What was that reaction!? She is scary! What is that distorted smile at the end? That's what the women's group thought.

"Mother..." Ruby was thinking of something else as she looked at Sasha and nodded.

"I know. This is turning into something dangerous." Sasha spoke.

"Yes." Ruby agreed with Sasha.

"..." The two men in the group were thinking of something else; 'That boy is very lucky!'
