

Billionaire's Ex-Wife And His Hidden Babies

Book 2- Chapter 34

"If we have a daughter, then we will name her Arline, and in case of a son, we will name him ARTIN. What do you say about that? Even the meaning of both name names is amazing."

"It is but... I'm a witch, and I can't give birth to a son." Caroline responded.

"Oh, that forgot that part." Artemis said before adding, "But we can adopt a son, right?" Artemis suggested.

"Right. But is something wrong with daughter or daughters?" Caroline asked to know his thoughts about the baby girl and baby boy. She didn't have any problem with male babies, but she hated when anyone preferred a boy over a girl.

"No. Nothing is wrong with daughter or..." he smirked. "Daughters. But I want a protective brother for my princess or princesses. Also, we can give a family that baby, you know. I'm really impressed with the work that your parents did, so... you can say that I took this inspiration from my in-laws." he finished with a wink, winning Caroline's heart again.

"Finally, you're on social media. And see, there are some people in your suggestion." Artemis said, and the first person in her suggestion was Calvin L Haysbert. Caroline quickly took her phone from him.

"Who's that man, and... do I have a feeling that you know him?" Artemis asked, feeling uneasy after seeing how handsome that man was. Though he couldn't get a chance to check his profile properly, he did observe that Calvin was standing shirtless on some mountain.

"You said neither you will pry nor ask about my past life." Caroline reminded him, but she saw how his body got tense. "By the way, don't get jealous by the fact of how handsome he is because he is my brother, Calv AKA Calvin Logan Haysbert."

"Thank Moon Goddess!!" Artemis sighed in relief. "I don't have to compete with him," he added with a smile. He really got anxious after seeing Calvin's profile. He didn't fail to observe that Calvin's was not just verified, but other's profile under it was also verified.

'Don't think of searching about that man, now.' Bolt said. 'Our mate won't like it if we break her condition.'

'Don't worry, and I won't do that.'

Later, Caroline removed the spell around her and Artemis and enjoyed exploring the city. Not just that, Artemis made sure that Caroline would receive flowers, chocolates, and other gifts one by one whenever other water taxis crossed there.

"Will you please stop now?" Caroline laughed when she looked around. When their water taxi passed under the bridge, all the people on the bridge started showering flowers on them out of nowhere.

"Nope." Artemis grinned. "There are a lot of things now." After saying this, he looked at the driver, who stopped the boat in the middle. Caroline looked around and couldn't find anything at that place. "I have gotten two scuba gear. Take whatever you need because we are going to jump in the river.

"What? Really." Caroline asked in surprise.

"Yes! You told me that you wanted your proposal under the water. So.."

"You are going to propose to me?" Caroline asked in shock this time.

"Of course, baby!! Just like you wanted, under the water with a little twist." He winked. "Now, take whatever you want. I don't need anything because I can hold my breath for long in the water."

~~~~~

"Same here." Caroline smiled and couldn't believe that this was happening for real.

"Ready?"

"Ready." Holding each other's hands, they jumped from the boat. Even Aiden followed them but maintained some distance so that he wouldn't end up ruining Alpha Heir's moment with his mate.

"You can speak in water, you know," Caroline said, on which Artemis looked at her in surprise first before opening his mouth.

"How?" He spoke first thing in the water and realized that he could really talk. "Damn, I wonder what else you can do?" he laughed.

"It's nothing in front of the little things that you do for me." Caroline expressed and gasped when she saw two other people in scuba gear holding the proposal banner from both sides of the big white rectangle cloth.

"Caroline,

WILL YOU MARRY ME?

Let me be the one to love you forever...."

~~~~~

Artemis left her hand because he had to get ready with the ring while she was trying to come out of her shock. She slapped her hands over her mouth, trying to overcome Artemis's proposal. Not just that, there were not just two people. She turned her head and saw every single person was holding the white clothes, with the painting of the pictures that both Artemis and Caroline took while enjoying Spain.

"How long were you planning to propose to me?" She asked Artemis and looked at him but found him missing. She gasped again when she saw him on one knee, holding red roses.

"I hope someone would be taking photos of all these moments.' She hoped and smiled, looking at him.

"Caroline Sarah Haysbert, I'm learning about important dates in history. Wanna be one of them?" He asked. He had dreamt about all this moment for a long. When they were together, Artemis learned about all the wishes of Caroline, and she shared them with him without hesitation because she thought that he was trying to know her better. But she had never thought that Artemis would make it come true. It meant a lot to her or to any girl.

Everything was happening all of a sudden, but Artemis made sure that Caroline would enjoy each and every phase and wouldn't think twice that she was taking a risk by marrying him.

"Regina, think about my knee, and please answer soon." Artemis joked. Caroline laughed and cried at the same time and nodded her head.
