

Chapter 1141: Need A Deeper Understanding

A confident man was never afraid of comparing with other people. Xia Jinyuan was this kind of man. He was confident, calm, and would never suspect Ye Jian's loyalty to their love. He would never suspect his charisma too.

Time passed. The low voices slowly disappeared and the lights turned off. It was late and quiet. Sleepiness was in the air.

Li Jinnian hadn't slept. The blue screen shone on his cold and handsome face that had a sharp expression on it. He was still writing the content for the selection of the commandos team and the training. He made multiple changes and used the abilities of the soldiers who passed the first selection as a guide to arrange his training.

His typing speed wasn't very fast. Sometimes, he would pause for a long time before he typed the next sentence.

The risk of training in the water was much higher than the risk of training on land. For instance, the training where the soldiers' limbs were tied and thrown into the water. Some trainees couldn't untie their strings in time and fainted from the lack of oxygen.

Some trainees suddenly fainted when they practiced holding their breaths for two minutes... There were many other instances of these dangerous accidents happening.

"The members will be in groups of two and tied together. Everyone will need to wear 50 kg worth of equipment and swim 30 km together. At the same time, they need to..." The sentence that could freeze people's blood appeared on the computer screen.

Carrying 50 kg of equipment and swimming for 30 km. Didn't that mean that the soldiers needed to stay in the sea for an entire day?!

Someone knocked on the door. Then, the commander-in-chief of the navy walked in and said, "You haven't finished writing?"

"Yes. The foundation week in front is already completed for the devil training. Please take a look at it." Li Jinnian looked up from the screen and placed his hand on the file beside him. He passed the file to the commander-in-chief. "I received a message from Seaweed saying that they wish I will train with the soldiers that passed the first round of assessment. I plan to leave in the afternoon tomorrow. I will arrive at night and can train with them."

The commander-in-chief's hand stopped abruptly just as he was about to take the file. Then, he pulled his hand back and asked, "You changed the foundation training again?"

“Since I’m going, I have to change it. Please take a look.” Li Jinnian pretended that he didn’t see the commander-in-chief’s action. He continued calmly, “Also, I will settle the person that the army wants to send over after I come back.”

The commander-in-chief took the file helplessly. When he opened it, his brows relaxed a little. He continued flipping the file and sighed, “Jinnian, the other party is still a female. Can you be a little more tolerant?”

“How can the stamina of a lady be compared with a navy soldier? You inserted a night swim in the foundation training. Also, she’s from the army. Her skills underwater might be limited. Listen to me and change the content a little.”

Change the content a little? Li Jinnian gave a cold smile and said indifferently, “Commander, I never give anyone special privileges. Since she came here for training, she will follow what I’ve planned. Also, after the army sees my training plan, they might not send the person over anymore.”

“The content of the training won’t change. Whether she can persevere or not is her problem. There’s no problem on my side.”

What a stubborn person! Why doesn’t he listen to advice?!

The commander-in-chief glared at him, “You are going to suffer because of your temper one day! Jinnian, you need to be a little more easygoing as a human. Don’t always act according to your wishes.”

If he wasn’t his favorite soldier, he wouldn’t even bother talking to him! It was so tiring!

“Commander-in-chief, you think too much. I’m just talking about the training. I can’t cut back on the training. Our enemies won’t show us any mercy. I don’t feel guilty for everything I did.” He didn’t feel like typing anymore. Li Jinnian turned off the computer and stood up. He said to his commander-in-chief who was concerned about him, “It’s getting late. You should get some rest too.”

Chapter 1142: The Youngest Military Unit

The commander-in-chief gave a long sigh when he heard this. “Thank you for your hard work. I know that it’s normal for you not to give in. You will only be able to rule over the battlefield if you’re strict with yourself today.”

“The Storm Commando had only been formed for less than a year. You led your team to gain many merits and the generals of the three biggest warships are extremely satisfied with the results of your training. Everything you do is answerable to the responsibility you carry.”

“Go and have a rest. I notice that you only turn off your lights around 3 am every day. Training is important but your health is important too.”

Li Jinnian, who was taking his white navy cap from the hatstand, paused for a moment. He wore his navy cap and looked at his commander-in-chief calmly with his cold eyes. “This is my responsibility. I can’t abandon it. Everything I do is part of my job.”

“Regarding the training, don’t persuade me anymore. I will not take a step back. Also, you should know that our country’s frogmen training started a little late and is lagging behind other developed countries. Now, we have to work hard to catch up with the capabilities of other country’s frogmen.”

The Storm Commando was an entirely new and the youngest armed forces military unit of the country. It had only been present for less than one year!

Before this, China didn’t have a commando team specially for the navy. The Guangdong Military District had its own frogmen commando team and the Military District of Southern Province had their own too.

However, Li Jinnian’s Storm Frogmen Commando belonged to the country directly. It was the only commando team that belonged to the country directly. This team was formed less than a year ago and was the youngest armed forces military unit in the country!

All its members were picked from the thousands of navy and army soldiers in the country. The physique, techniques, mentality, way of doing things, willpower, and quality were all top-notch!

As the leader of this young navy commando team, if Li Jinnian didn’t control the quality of the soldiers sent in, if he didn’t increase the difficulty of their training, how could he take on the responsibility of leading this team? How could he answer to his country and the civilians?

Reality proved that choosing him as the first leader of this armed forces commando team was the right choice made by all the leaders of the navy. Within a year of its formation, its combat ability exceeded what normal people expected. Their training grounds were all located at some deserted islands and corners of the sea. This gave this military unit a mysterious aura.

You could say that in terms of ability, the navy Storm Commando and the mysterious Xueyu Special Forces unit were on par!

Both teams were the top-tier military units of the country. Both of them were hidden in the dark so not many people knew about them!

However, there were still differences between the two military units. First, based on the year of establishment, the Xueyu unit was formed at the end of the 1980s. It had already been ten years since its formation!

As for the Storm Frogmen Commando unit, it was only set up in June last year. It had been less than a year since its establishment! Li Jinnian was the first captain of this team so the pressure on his shoulders was much heavier than Xia Jinyuan.

Naturally, he was someone who didn’t like to laugh but now, after he became the captain of the commando unit, his angular, cold, and handsome face got colder and his gaze got sharper. When he stood in front of the commander-in-chief, his aura was powerful with killing intent in it.

“Also, this time, I purposely increased the difficulty of the training. You should know what I’m trying to prevent. This is not a place where the sons of higher authorities can use to get military merits or a higher military status without working hard! Military merits and military ranks are for soldiers with abilities. Commander-in-chief, I won’t let my comrades, who went through thick and thin with me, suffer.”

Chapter 1143: Sweet

After he finished speaking, the commander-in-chief patted his shoulder and said in a relieved tone, "Jinnian, you have never disappointed me. Do it properly. We will always support you no matter what. The three largest warships will support you too!"

"I will not interfere with Ye Jian's issue anymore. You are the captain so you have the right to make arrangements. I will not have any objections."

There was finally a hint of a smile on Li Jinnian's face. It was extremely faint, like a small wave in the sea. It disappeared very quickly but it was enough to dissipate the coldness in his expression. "I know that you always support what I do."

With a superior that supported his work, he was able to disregard many external factors and allow his work to progress more smoothly and orderly.

"Supporting you is what I should do. Come, let's go back to the dormitory. It's good that you're going there tomorrow. The new batch of soldiers is worse than last year's batch. They can't even be compared to your batch. I wonder if the good soldiers have all been chosen by other units. I feel that they are too impulsive and incomparable to the soldiers in the past."

The commander-in-chief was speaking in a stern tone. The lights at the side of the corridor shone on the two figures wearing the same clean white military uniform until they disappeared at the staircase.

The wind blew and the waves crashed on land. The sentinels held their guns and stood up straight. They observed their surroundings with eagle eyes until dawn broke.

A new day started with the arrival of the sun. Xia Jinyuan finished his morning run and placed a bowl of piping hot white porridge in front of Ye Jian who just finished washing up. He said seriously, "I didn't hear any compliments yesterday night. Later, after you finish the first mouthful, remember to praise me. I'm waiting for it."

Sometimes, Major Xia acts childishly too!

Ye Jian pursed her lips and smiled. After swallowing a spoonful of porridge, she complimented, "Not bad, the porridge you made is thick but not sticky, and it's very fragrant..." To compensate for her lack of praises yesterday, Ye Jian took ten minutes to finish her porridge today.

Five minutes were spent on complimenting Major Xia!

In front of him, even if it was just a bowl of porridge, Ye Jian kept smiling. It was a smile that came from the bottom of her heart. Her smile was like the sun that just rose outside, bright and warm.

In her past life, she was extremely quiet. She was talented but she didn't make use of it. She rarely smiled too. This time, only Xia Jinyuan was able to give her so much happiness such that she was finally able to smile like a blossomed flower.

Looking at her smiling as she spoke, looking at the happiness in her eyes where sadness couldn't be seen at all, the dark clouds in Xia Jinyuan's gaze disappeared.

He felt that he wouldn't need to worry about her training in the future. He could really let go now... And let her face them herself. She didn't need him to straighten her thoughts for her anymore or guide her emotions. She could do it alone.

After experiencing so many difficulties, his little fox had become more persistent, more mature, and her mentality had gotten stronger too. She wouldn't reveal any helplessness anymore when a comrade she knew sacrificed.

At 6.30 am, Ye Jian went back to her room to pack the revision textbooks she needed to bring to school today. Xia Jinyuan washed the dishes.

After he finished washing the dishes, he saw Ye Jian standing in front of his luggage. From her side profile, she looked a little stern.

Ye Jian turned around when she heard footsteps. She looked at the tall figure walking towards her. She bent down with pursed lips and took out a set of training clothes that were stained with mud. "Captain Xia, where did you rush over from this time?"

Looking at the bag he forgot to zip yesterday night, Xia Jinyuan smiled casually. "I didn't rush. I came over after I finished my work. I didn't hurry here purposely."

Chapter 1144: My Life Became Beautiful Because Of You

As he spoke, Xia Jinyuan lifted his hand and attempted to take the training clothes that he wore when he was climbing the mountain. However, Ye Jian moved her hand quickly and didn't allow him to take it back.

"You rushed over and you didn't take a car. You..." She pointed to the two mud stains on the knees that were an obvious sign that he climbed a mountain. Ye Jian's lips were pressed against each other tightly and her eyes were starting to turn red. "Where did you come from? Why did you have to climb a mountain?"

If he was training, both the knees and the elbows would have stains. However, Ye Jian only saw stains on the pants this time. There were no mud stains on the elbow at all but there was mud on the sleeves. She understood everything.

It was hard to hide this kind of matter from her.

Xia Jinyuan couldn't bear to see her crying because of him. He used his thumb to wipe the drop of tear that almost dripped down the corner of her eye. He explained in a gentle voice, "When I came out, there was a landslide and it blocked the highway. I wanted to catch the last bus to the city so I had to climb down the mountain."

“Be obedient. Don’t cry. We will always meet this kind of matter. Don’t worry about it too much. You can pretend that I was having outdoor training. I will feel sad if you cry. I came to see you smile and to listen to your voice but I didn’t expect to make you cry.”

He hated to see her cry. Her tears were like pellets knocking on his heart, one by one. He kept coaxing her gently. There was sympathy and love in his deep voice. “Stop crying. I just climbed a small hill. Look at how sad you got.”

Ye Jian didn’t know why she suddenly started crying. She wanted to restrain her tears at the start but after she heard his explanation, her heart churned and tears fell uncontrollably.

Someone was willing to travel so far and even climbed a mountain to see her... Even if she didn’t have any love experience in her two lifetimes, she also understood that he treated her differently. He really loved her dearly and put her in his heart. He was using the methods she could accept to love her and guide her.

She had a strong personality but her past life was too lonely. Thus, when this person appeared in her life and made her feel the warmth that she never felt before... Her heart started burning because of the warmth. It was so hot her tears suddenly fell without restraint.

Xia Jinyuan was in a flurry. He really didn’t know why she started crying. After so many years, he only saw her crying twice. Once, when her comrade sacrificed and the other time was... now.

He didn’t expect her to cry so fiercely.

He just climbed a hill but it caused her tears to fall continuously.

Xia Jinyuan knew how to console people without needing to learn. His voice was low and gentle and he didn’t repeat any sentence. “If anything happened to me, I won’t be standing in front of you. I came because I wanted to see if you’re alright but I made you cry. Little Fox, you need to forgive me this time.”

He always thought about her but he never cared about the hardships he had to go through. Her nose was a little stuffed. Ye Jian held the hand that was wiping her tears and looked up at the handsome face that was filled with gentleness. “Captain Xia, I will definitely take care of myself. I will take care of myself like how you take care of me.”

“You don’t have to appear in front of me when I’m at the most tiring moment of my training. I know that you care about me and worry for me... But, you don’t have to calculate the time my training ends and rush over to find me. I will work hard to grow up faster so that you won’t have to worry about me anymore.”

She looked at the man with her eyes which were as clear as water. She saw the pain in his deep gaze. Ye Jian tiptoed and landed a light kiss on his chin. “You worry about me so you traveled thousands of miles to see me. Similarly, I will feel pain because you are exhausted from all the traveling.”

Chapter 1145: You Have Me And I Have You

“You were in such a rush yesterday and you’re still able to wear a clean white shirt when you came over. You kept your dirty clothes and took the effort to change because you’re afraid that I will worry. Since you know that I will worry, you shouldn’t strain yourself in the future, okay?”

To stop Xia Jinyuan from doing such tiring things in the future, Ye Jian even made use of her beauty. She would pause after every sentence and give him a peck on his attractive chin.

After kissing him a few times and saying some sweet words in her gentle voice, the young major felt his heart trembling and his mind in a whirl.

He hugged her slender waist with his long arms and directly kissed the lips that caused his heart to pound furiously. Immediately after that, he sucked her soft lips deeply. His actions were sometimes gentle and sometimes domineering. Her breath entangled with his and their breaths merged. It was hard to differentiate between them anymore.

The sudden deep kiss caused Ye Jian’s body to shudder slightly. With trembling hands, she hugged his muscular waist. She was tiptoeing the entire time and used her lips and tongue to kiss the man who gave her a sense of security and love.

Her active response made Xia Jinyuan elated. At the same time, he heaved a sigh of relief... Finally, she stopped crying.

He heard many people saying that women were made of water. At first, he didn’t believe it. Now, he believed.

His little fox, who wouldn’t even bat an eyelid when she bled, suddenly cried without any warning. Her tears fell like a pearl necklace that was cut. He was stunned for a few seconds because of her crying.

The last time, when she cried for her comrade who sacrificed, he was prepared for it. This time, when she cried because he climbed down a mountain, he really didn’t have any time to prepare at all. It was totally out of his expectations.

Their progress had always been smooth ever since he gave her his ‘love letter’. But, they lacked the intimate interactions most couples should have because they were rarely together.

When they really spent time together, it was impossible for them to reach an unstoppable stage because both of them had amazing self-control. They wouldn’t get overboard. After kissing, they placed their foreheads together and panted slightly. Then, they quickly regulated their breaths.

Xia Jinyuan was tall so when he lowered his head, he saw Ye Jian’s chest, which had developed properly, heaving up and down right beneath his eyes... ‘This is bad’, he wondered to himself before quickly closing his eyes again. He stopped looking at the enticing ‘scenery’.

Ye Jian, who was training the entire year, was developing really well and her proportions were perfect. Her legs were long and her waist was thin. Her chest was curved. Along with her aura, she would be able to attract men’s attention wherever she went.

When he was sending her to Provincial No.1 Middle School, Xia Jinyuan saw many young men glancing at her even though the journey was only a few hundred meters. However, their gaze wasn't offensive. Instead, they seemed puzzled.

It had only been seven days. How did Ye Jian get so skinny? Also, who was the man beside her? They had never seen him before.

After some time, two more young men glanced at them. Major Xia straightened his expression and glanced at them calmly. He didn't do much but the two young men shifted their gaze in a flurry because of his 'frightening' gaze.

"Hurry up and leave. He's so scary!"

"Who's that man? How did Ye Jian get so skinny?" The two young men in grade eleven dashed off quickly while talking to each other in low voices.

Ye Jian was definitely a famous person in Provincial No.1 Middle School. Everyone from grade ten to grade twelve knew her. It couldn't be helped. Every year, she would say her speech on stage at the school-opening ceremony as the student representative. All the teachers would also tell their students to look at their senior sister, Ye Jian. They would keep asking them to look at her and see how hard she was working even though her results were already so amazing!

Chapter 1146: Who Is The Man Beside Ye Jian

"Look at you. Your results are so poor but you're still not working hard! Do you think that you're amazing? If you are, learn from Ye Jian. If you are half of Ye Jian's standard, I won't care about you even if you sleep in class!"

In her two years in senior high, Ye Jian was always the one being compared to. Every day, she would be compared to other people. It never stopped.

In this situation, it would be weird if someone didn't know her.

Because they recognized her, when they noticed that a young man with a powerful aura suddenly appeared beside her, their gazes would land on her for a longer period of time.

"Who is this man? His gaze is so scary."

"Maybe it's Ye Jian's brother. The two of them look alike. The way they walk, their expression... are a little similar. They look like siblings."

"Are you stupid? Ye Jian doesn't have an elder brother. She's the only child in her family. How can the other person be her brother? However, they do look alike. Maybe they are cousins or distant relatives?"

7.20 am was the peak period for students to come to school. There were many students at both the front gate and the back gate. Normally, the students already took notice of Ye Jian and some would even come over to greet her. However, today, none of them did it. All of them looked at her silently and left quietly thereafter.

“Why did she suddenly become so skinny? Is she sick?”

“She is skinny but she doesn’t look sick. She seems quite energetic.”

“Who’s the person beside her? He looks quite handsome but his gaze is a little scary. I don’t dare to look at him for too long.”

The soft discussions floated into their ears. Some were muffled and some couldn’t be heard properly.

The conversations didn’t affect Xia Jinyuan. He wore a faint smile on the side of his lips and walked Ye Jian to her school elegantly. “Everyone says that you’ve gotten thinner. They might think that you got thin due to fright because you followed a scary man like me.”

“Am I scary? I don’t think so. I think I look quite appropriate.”

This was the first time he accompanied his future girlfriend to school. Xia Jinyuan was smiling brightly. He didn’t hold her hand but he was finally able to reveal his face in front of the students from Provincial No.1 Middle School. He was able to show some presence now.

His identity couldn’t be revealed yet but it felt good to walk in front of her classmates.

“Don’t think too much, Captain Xia. They looked at me first before looking at you. You are just an extra glance for them.” When he said that he wanted to send her to school, she already guessed that there would be many students sizing them up. Just as she expected, she received many gazes on the way here.

Ye Jian smiled as she spoke. Then, she smiled and nodded at a girl that was smiling at her. She politely greeted the girl, “Good morning,” before continuing the conversation. “But, you are probably right about something. They might suspect that I was frightened by you.”

He would be returning to his military unit in the afternoon. From the small district to the school, it was only 400 meters. The 10 minutes stroll became part of their time spent together. She wanted to spend more time with him. Even if her classmates saw her, she didn’t mind.

In the past, she was afraid that his soldier identity would get affected if he got too close to an underage student. Now, she was 18 years old. What was there to be afraid of?

“Go in quickly. I’ll come and look for you when I’m free.” Xia Jinyuan sent her all the way to the back gate. He wore a clean white short-sleeved shirt and long black pants. He stood at the side handsomely with a gentle smile in his eyes as he sent Ye Jian off with his eyes.

Male students looked at Ye Jian while the female students sized Xia Jinyuan up secretly. He was slender and tall. When he stood among the students with an elegant and enchanting smile on his face, even though he was just smiling at Ye Jian, it made the other female students’ hearts beat faster.

Chapter 1147: Kiss In Front Of The Students!

When they walked past him, they blushed even though they didn’t say anything.

Ye Jian, who had already walked through the school gates, lifted the corners of her lips slightly when she saw this. She walked out. There were so many ladies looking at him... Fine, for the first time, she was a little jealous.

“Captain Xia.” She walked to his side and smiled. She used her hand to signal him to lower his head. Then, under everyone’s gazes, Ye Jian quickly kissed Major Xia who was bending down...

Exclamations and gasps were heard around them immediately from both male and female students... They saw the ‘good student’ of their school, Ye Jian... kissing a man’s... face.

“I’m going to school now. See you next time, good brother.” After kissing him, Ye Jian glanced at Major Xia who was in a daze because of her actions. Her mood got even better. She waved at him and then turned her body in a relaxed manner amidst all the exclamations. She walked through the school gates without any pressure!

Xia Jinyuan was really stunned. A second ago, he was still thinking that his status couldn’t be revealed. The next moment... His little fox, who never acted according to the script, kissed him in front of at least 30 students.

After she kissed him, she even tried to confuse them by calling him ‘good brother’.

The major smiled brightly as he touched the cheek that Ye Jian kissed. He even smiled at a few male students who were looking at him in fear. He brought his elegance and nobility with him as he left the back gate handsomely.

Not bad, his little fox finally admitted his identity. He had been waiting for four years. He finally saw the silver lining on the clouds.

Ahhhhh!!!

Big news!

Just now, Ye Jian kissed a man at the back gate!

That’s absolutely true!

Many students saw it personally!

That’s right!

They weren’t lying!

It was really true!

She really kissed a man and that man was really handsome too. His presence was dominating!

If you said that the man was Ye Jian’s brother, they did look a little alike. They wondered if he was really her brother.

The morning self-study session hadn’t ended before the news that Ye Jian kissed a man spread throughout the school. Instantly, exclamations of disbelief could be heard in all the classrooms.

“That’s impossible! They really kissed?”

“Are you sure? Did you really see it?”

“F**k! Really? The goddess in our hearts kissed a man?”

“What does he look like? Is he handsome? Is he ugly?”

“What the f**k, is he really so handsome? Are you sure? He’s tall too?”

Ye Jian wasn’t in their class so they could only ask like this.

As for the students in Class One of Grade Twelve, they just stared at Ye Jian directly. Their gazes were as bright as a searchlight as they attempted to detect anything unnatural in her expression.

This time, An Jiaxin took the lead and sat on the same bench as Ye Jian. She sounded really worried as she said, “There’s around forty days before the university entrance examination. Ye Jian, why did you kiss a man?”

“If you really want to kiss, you can do it secretly. Why do you have to kiss him in front of so many people? Do you know that you need to take care of the consequences? You need to worry about the consequences! Let me tell you, the entire school knows about this! Everyone! The teachers want to speak to you. Just wait. They will definitely look for you!”

The girls at the side got anxious. Why wasn’t she asking the main thing?

They kept shushing her at the side before asking, “Are you dating? What does that man do? Where is he from? When did you start dating? Jiaxin, ask the main points, the main points!”

F**k, she was asking the main things!

An Jiaxin turned and glared at the girl who was urging her. She continued, “When did you start dating? Why weren’t there any signs at the start? Who is that man? Is he reliable? What does he do? Do you know?”

Chapter 1148: He’s My Boyfriend

After she finished asking, all the students started breathing softly. They waited for the calm Ye Jian to reply.

At this moment, someone charged into the classroom like a tornado and shouted, “F**k, I heard someone saying that Ye Jian kissed a man that is so handsome even god will get angry. She was the one who initiated the kiss too. Do you know about this?”

The classroom was very quiet so the boy’s voice sounded exceptionally loud. The classmates that were waiting for Ye Jian to answer turned and glared at the boy who came in late. All the students sitting here know about it! Why are you shouting so loudly?

“So handsome that even god will get angry?” Ye Jian smiled and thought for a moment before saying, “He isn’t that handsome but he’s indeed quite handsome.”

An Jiaxin touched her forehead and forced a smile on her face as she asked, “Jian, you got the wrong point... Can you answer some of my questions? You dared to break the rules at a crucial time like this. Aren’t you afraid of getting punished?”

Everyone was only concerned about who the man was. An Jiaxin’s concern was entirely different. She was afraid that something would happen to Ye Jian at a crucial time like this!

“Don’t worry, nothing will happen,” Ye Jian comforted her. She smiled and continued, “I will tell you who he is later. It’s not convenient now. However, I can tell you that he’s very very close to me. Our relationship isn’t like what you think.”

“Everyone can dispel your curiosity now. It’s just a normal kiss. Don’t tell me the couples in class don’t know what a ‘normal kiss’ is. That is what happened.”

The couples in class and normal kiss. Ye Jian didn’t reveal anything directly but the students from Grade Twelve Class One immediately understood what she meant. A few young men cried in weird voices and shouted, “She’s taken. We don’t have hope anymore! Let’s go, let’s go. Let’s turn our sorrow into motivation and study harder!”

The entire class burst into laughter. After everything was revealed, there was nothing surprising. Everyone had a crush. Everyone had imagined kissing someone before.

As for Ye Jian... Her results were ahead of them and her progress was ahead of them too. They couldn’t compare with her.

“Are you really alright? Are you sure?” The other students walked away but An Jiaxin didn’t leave. She whispered, “You always know what you’re doing. If you say that it’s alright, it’s alright. Sigh, what the f**k, I was really scared just now. When I went to eat breakfast, I heard a bunch of people saying that Ye Jian kissed a man and the man was really handsome... How handsome is he?”

An Jiaxin always believed Ye Jian. Once she said that it was fine, her worry disappeared immediately. She laughed and asked, “The most handsome man I saw is the handsome soldier that taught us about preventive measures in junior high.”

“Tsk, tsk, tsk, that’s really handsome! He was so handsome that I’m drooling!” She pretended to wipe the corners of her mouth as she spoke. “My saliva is all over the floor.”

Huh? She still remembered him? Ye Jian gave a meaningful smile. “Yes, he’s as handsome as the soldier. I will bring you to meet him next time.”

“Really? He’s really so handsome? Sure, bring me to meet him, bring me!” An Jiaxin nodded instantly. Then, she touched Ye Jian’s arm and frowned as she stared at her wrist. “What’s the matter? How did you turn so skinny in seven days? What did you do?”

“I went to settle some things and didn’t eat much. Don’t worry, I will be fine after a few days.” Coincidentally, the bell for the morning self-study rang. Ye Jian asked An Jiaxin to return to her seat quickly. “I will be fine. Nothing will get affected. Hurry up and go back to your seat.”

Chapter 1149: The Person Wrecking Havoc Is Here

Since she dared to kiss, Ye Jian wasn’t afraid of anything happening. Also, she didn’t do anything bad. What consequences could there be?

Affect her studies? It wouldn’t. Even if she rests from now until the day of the university entrance examination, her studies wouldn’t be affected.

Influence her classmates? She didn’t date in school and she didn’t tell everyone that she was dating someone. How could she influence them?

The teachers naturally know about this. The entire student cohort knew so it was impossible that they didn’t know.

“The school doesn’t have to care about this. I know who that man is. He’s a friend of Ye Jian and they have known each other for many years.” Principal Cao smiled as he said to Mrs. Tong who was slightly worried, “You don’t have to mention it or worry about it. It won’t affect Ye Jian’s exam.”

Principal Cao wasn’t surprised when he heard this piece of news. He could already tell that Major Xia treated Ye Jian differently. Ye Jian finally turned 18 years old and their relationship had some progress. They already exercised much restraint.

They were already able to restrain their love so there was no need to be afraid that other things would happen.

There was no need to worry at all. Nothing would happen!

Since the principal said this, Mrs. Tong didn’t go and speak to Ye Jian. The school didn’t care about this issue so the news that Ye Jian kissed a man died down on the third day as the exam drew nearer.

The students from grade ten and grade eleven were having their mid-term exam while grade twelve students were having their mock university entrance examination. The entire school was quiet. Only the sound of pens writing on the surface of papers could be heard.

Grandma Ye stood at the entrance of the school and looked at the empty campus. She said to Ye Zhifan, who was accompanying her, “Zhifan, ask the guard how long it will take before the students end their lessons. Also, find out where Ye Jian’s form teacher is. I will go and talk to her first.”

She did have some ability. She managed to enter Provincial No.1 Middle School. She was just too disobedient!

Ye Zhifan always put on a good front so he smiled and replied, “Sure, you can take a rest first. I will go and ask.”

After two minutes, he came back. "We came at an inconvenient time. It's their mid-term examination now. I asked the guard to call Jian's form teacher. We can only enter when the form teacher comes out."

"Mom, what stupid school is this? Do they know how to respect their elders?" Ye Zhixiang frowned. She was wearing bright red and dressed lavishly. She said in contempt, "I think Leilei and Chengcheng should study in private schools. I don't really like this kind of place."

Ye Zhifan glanced at her and replied calmly, "If you can enter Provincial No.1 Middle School, it means that you've stepped into the gates of universities. We don't even know if Leilei and Chengcheng can enter this school. This school looks at results."

"Results? Just donate a few hundred thousand and my sons will be able to enter if they want. They can even choose their teachers!" Ye Zhixiang rolled her eyes at her brother and pouted in disdain. "Also, I want to send them overseas to study in the future. I'm not going to let them stay in China. Yaozu and I are considering becoming US citizens."

Grandma Ye didn't like her daughter's exaggeration. She said unhappily. "Don't talk about things that haven't been decided. Provincial No.1 Middle School is a hundred-year-old elite school. You can't enter it however you want. Also, don't keep saying that you want to become another country's citizen. I don't like to hear that."

Ever since Sun Yaozu's crime was cleared, Grandma Ye could feel that her daughter and son-in-law didn't like to listen to her anymore. However, she didn't have a choice. She could only admit it.

But, that didn't mean that she couldn't be of any help. She still had to settle Ye Jian's matter personally!

One didn't want Ye Jian to surpass his daughter while the others didn't want Ye Jian to have a bright future. Everyone wanted their wish to come true. At the crucial moment, they still had to rely on her.

Chapter 1150: Speak And Think Differently

The entire Provincial No.1 Middle School was having their exam. Even if the guard called the teachers' office, they needed to wait for Mrs. Tong to finish invigilating before she could come out.

The weather in May wasn't hot. If one sat under the shades of the tree and chatted with other people amidst the breeze, time would pass quickly. However, Ye Zhixiang didn't have any intention of talking. She got impatient after waiting for less than five minutes. "Why is she not out yet? Brother, go and urge them. What are they doing? We waited for so long but there's no sign of anyone."

They were standing outside the school like idiots. It felt as though that wicked girl was really important to them!

"Zhixiang, go back to the car and wait. Don't pace back and forth in front of me. You're making me dizzy." Grandma Ye decided to ask her daughter to wait in the car since she was so impatient. This was to prevent them from giving the form teacher a bad impression.

She still wanted to play her relative card with the teacher and let the teacher know that their family welcomed Ye Jian. However, she was too ambitious so she didn't want to go back to her family.

She needed to grasp the teacher's attitude first and then ask the teacher to talk to Ye Jian. She wanted to see if Ye Jian respected her teachers and whether she had a sense of shame.

Grandma Ye was a master at dealing with the family business. After she understood Ye Jian's matter from Ye Zhifan, she immediately knew that she mustn't find Ye Jian directly. She needed to look for her teacher first and let Ye Jian's teacher stand on their side.

She would wait for an appropriate time to appear in front of Ye Jian and drop a few tears as she complained about the hardships in the past. She didn't believe that that girl would be able to escape unscathed.

In terms of calculation, Ye Zhifan was good at it. But, he wasn't as good as Grandma Ye in terms of dealing with family matters. As for Ye Zhixiang, she didn't even need to be mentioned. She didn't learn anything from them at all. She believed that everything could be solved with money.

Ye Zhixiang really went back to her imported BMW. As she watched her leave, Grandma Ye furrowed her brows secretly.

Her daughter's attitude was the reason why she didn't want to be at loggerheads with Ye Zhifan. With a brother in the government sector protecting her, Sun Yaozu would think twice before acting.

"Zhifan, your younger sister has a straightforward personality. As her older brother, you should guide her more in the future. I'm getting old. I can't interfere too much in your matters. For the sake of me who has not treated you badly for so many years, I hope that you can look after your sister in the future. After Leilei and Chengcheng grow up, your younger sister will have someone to rely on."

Grandma Ye always loved her daughter to whom she gave birth to. Now, she was getting old so when she noticed that her daughter was so impatient, she was worried that her daughter wouldn't be able to restrain Sun Yaozu in the future. At that time, she might divorce him and become an abandoned wife.

After returning to the Southern Province for so long, this was the first time Grandma Ye bowed down and begged her foster child to take care of her daughter for her sake. From this, you could tell that she didn't trust her son-in-law, Sun Yaozu, anymore.

For her daughter's sake, she was able to forsake her ego.

However, Ye Zhifan just smiled at her calmly and said, "Mom, you are worried that there isn't anyone protecting Zhixiang but why aren't you worried that there won't be anyone protecting Ye Ying in the future? Mom, don't you think that the world is fair? There is no one protecting your daughter and now, no one can protect my daughter too. It's really fair."

His words caused Grandma Ye's eyelids to jump furiously. That matter... she was really a little ruthless. That year, she was too young so she was afraid that her second daughter-in-law would bear a male child and snatch the inheritance of the Ye family.

"You still blame me. I know, I know." Grandma Ye gave a long sigh. That young spirit on her dispersed a little along with the sigh. In an instant, she looked much older.
