

Chapter 1461: This Is Training

After Ye Jian told him about what happened in the day, the vigilance in the young man's eyes disappeared. He heaved a long sigh. "That's right. We couldn't do anything, Brother Xiong and I are in a dilemma! Mr. Charlie isn't around... All right, I'll contact Mr. Charlie. If no one comes, we will have to set the fire."

Then, he glanced at Ye Jian and asked in confusion, "Why didn't my uncle mention that other people were coming? He only told me that Old Dong and the rest came to help me. He didn't mention that a woman like you will come."

This sentence made Ye Jian realize that something was amiss. It sounded like this young man had some status.

Old Dong should be the square-faced man. How many? Where are the others? I need to find them too.

"If you didn't ask Old Dong to come up suddenly, I wouldn't have appeared! Old Dong can only stay in the lobby. How can he leave so easily? Call and ask the other people to keep an eye on him! Don't be impatient!"

Ye Jian tried to sound him out again. There was no need for her to be careful. She used an accusing tone and said blatantly, "You asked him to come up, and he was about to come up. What if the person who we are waiting for appeared? Don't you know who he is?"

How to wring information out of him and get the information she wanted as soon as possible... These were all skills that a Special Forces soldier must have.

After the young man finished calling his other companions, the smile on Ye Jian's face got deeper. This was her first time fighting alone... She was actually facing an enemy without any capabilities. Was she lucky?

She was indeed lucky. Ye Jian met someone who wanted to gain some credit so that his uncle could talk to the 'big commissioner' about his achievements and make him rich.

Five minutes later, the young man called his other four partners. After hanging up the last call, he said proudly, "Guard your place well. Nothing will go wrong."

One was guarding the back door, one was staring at the parking lot, one was hiding in the hotel's main computer room, and the other was facing the young man's room.

Ye Jian knew that she could move now... She just needed the other party to contact 'Mr. Charlie.'

The clock was pointing at 9:00 PM. Xia Jinyuan looked at the time in the car and said to K7, "Contact Ye Jian and ask her if she found anything."

Ye Jian wanted to keep the young man and see if she could find more clues. When she heard that his uncle wanted to meet the 'Grand Commissioner,' she knew that there were no other useful clues.

Hearing K7's voice, Ye Jian used the bedsheet to tie the young man up. She lowered her voice and said, "The criminals plan to start a fire at the hotel at 1:00 AM tonight. I have found a few of their accomplices in the hotel. One of the main suspects is not in the hotel...."

She told them everything she knew so that the three people in the car.

Xia Jinyuan raised his eyebrows slightly and smiled at White Crane. He said that his little fox would sit still and wait for death. Listen, she was already moving.

"Ye Jian, take care of the other four criminals." Xia Jinyuan finally opened his mouth and said slowly with a hint of coldness in his voice, "No one will support you in this mission for now. Think of a way to take care of it alone."

Chapter 1462: Growing Together Through Storms

Xia Jinyuan's cold voice came through the phone, stunning Ye Jian for three seconds.

It wasn't because of what he said. It was because of his presence. She had been contacting Pigeon ever since they left the capital city. Why was Xia Jinyuan here too?

"Is there a problem?"

While she was stunned, she heard his cold voice again. This time, it sounded like an order.

Ye Jian tightened her expression and replied, "No problem. I will take care of the remaining criminals as soon as possible. However, I'll need reinforcements to handle Mr. Charlie. He's too close to the hotel. If anything happens, he might escape immediately."

She didn't ask why she had to deal with all the criminals in the Tongzhou International Hotel alone. She chose to obey orders.

K7 glanced at Xia Jinyuan. Seeing that his captain nodded and agreed to Ye Jian's request, he said to Ye Jian in a low voice, "Sure, be careful." Just as he was about to hang up, he seemed to have thought of something. His calm voice turned a little darker. "A single soldier can be king. Every soldier from the Snow Region Brigade is like that."

Ye Jian wasn't the only one who was surprised. Even Xia Jinyuan and White Crane were surprised when they heard this.

No, she shouldn't be surprised.

"I understand. Thank you for your reminder," Ye Jian replied, smiling. It was good. It was really good. Even K7 was concerned about her. Did the Snow Region Brigade had accepted her and treated her as their comrade?

K7 told her that every soldier from the Snow Region Brigade could fight alone. They could fight ten people alone. It wasn't that their comrades didn't come to support them, but that they believed in their combat ability.

It was not a problem for Ye Jian to take care of a few minions. She tied the young man's limbs and dragged him into the bathroom. Then, she stuffed a towel into the young man's mouth. To prevent the young man from breaking free, she tied the young man and the toilet together with the towel. Then, she closed the bathroom door and wrapped the door lock with the belt of the bathrobe.

"One suspect is in the male washroom in the hotel lobby. The last suspect is in the bathroom on the fifth floor of room 5015. I will go and deal with the other suspects now."

Ye Jian told K7 the location of the suspect that had been settled. The follow-up cleanup could be handed over to K7 and the rest of the Tongzhou police.

"Okay." K7 ended the call and said to Xia Jinyuan, "The Tongzhou police will handle the follow-up work. Will the Tongzhou police handle the offender, Mr. Charlie?"

To the police, this was a chance for them to gain merits. Also, the Snow Region Brigade couldn't interfere so easily. They needed to find out the truth.

"Inform the Tongzhou police and tell them the location of the two suspects that have been caught. There's no need to say anything else for now. If they need our help, it's not too late to take action." Xia Jinyuan was well-versed in local policies. Although their chances of winning were high, since the Tongzhou police had already deployed their forces, they would complete their mission.

Otherwise, how could the local officials explain the director-general being bait?

As for Mr. Charlie, Xia Jinyuan pondered for a few seconds before instructing White Crane, "Contact Pigeon. I need to ask the director-general for instructions."

The director-general didn't rest at all. When he received Xia Jinyuan's call, a smile appeared on his serious face. "Ye Jian did a good job. This Charlie is the biggest fish in Tongzhou! The Tongzhou police will catch him. There's no need to implicate you in the local affairs, increasing your workload."

Chapter 1463: Wait For Your Return

After all, the soldiers sent by the army had to go to Guilin and not catch criminals.

Xia Jinyuan had no objections to the director's arrangement. He had the same intention too. As a soldier, it wasn't suitable for him to be involved in local affairs. Even if it was the military police, he needed to understand his position. He didn't want to show off his abilities in other people's jurisdictions. If that happened, not only would he not have any merits, he might even get stained with blood and returned to the military unit.

The Tongzhou police had already made arrangements. The members of the Snow Region Brigade chose to watch from the side and watch Ye Jian deal with the criminals who wanted to start a fire.

The temperature in the north dropped very quickly. Ye Jian, who was near the stairs, called a criminal guarding the hotel's computer room. She had just finished off the criminal guarding the parking lot and the criminal guarding the back. She had already killed two. Her back was already sweating.

She raised her hand and wiped the sweat on her forehead. The faint blue light from the phone illuminated Ye Jian's facial features. It was as if there was a layer of blue frost on her face.

She had learned the young man's voice perfectly. It was hard to tell if it was real or fake. Like how she dealt with the previous criminals, she learned the target's exact location before acting.

The hotel's server room was on the second floor. There were security guards on duty.

The criminal she needed to take care of was a security guard on duty.

Ye Jian didn't slow down from the underground parking lot to the basement second floor. She lowered her feet and raised them gently to ensure that no sound of footsteps could be heard.

Walking past the corridor where the air was muddy, Ye Jian pushed open the heavy fire door and saw two security guards sitting on an old sofa, smoking, and chatting.

Their voices were not her targets. Ye Jian, who had retreated to the fire door, dialed another set of phone numbers.

Not long after, the sound of footsteps came from behind the fire door. Ye Jian's back was pressed against the cold wall. In the dark, her black eyes were like a beast crawling in the dark. She calmly locked her eyes on the fire door.

The fire door opened, and a tall and fat figure entered Ye Jian's vision.

The door closed, and the sound of fists hitting flesh could be heard in the dark corridor, followed by the sound of something heavy rolling down the stairs. It was not until the end that the sound of someone struggling and a frightening sound echoed.

Ye Jian took out the man's belt and forced it into his mouth. Then, she tied it behind his head and locked it. The man could only make muffled sounds.

She tied his legs too. There was no need for light. Ye Jian tied the criminal's hands and legs tightly in the dark.

At this moment, the tall and fat criminal was tied up by Ye Jian. His chest and belly were pressed against the cold ground. His chin was raised high, and he couldn't struggle at all.

The third one was solved.

“One every five minutes.” K7 raised his eyebrows when he received Ye Jian’s call again. There was a subtle smile on his indifferent face. He said to White Crane, “Are you looking forward to meeting her?”

White Crane nodded. The smile on his handsome face was deeper than K7’s. “That’s right. I’m looking forward to it more and more.”

“These are nothing to her.” Xia Jinyuan smiled gently. No one knew better than him how powerful his Little Fox was. His Little Fox was going to be the king. It was nothing to him now.

Chapter 1464: Satisfied?

Xia Jinyuan quietly waited for Ye Jian to get rid of the dangers in the hotel one by one. He waited for her to complete her mission tonight.

The major general of the army sat in his office with his head lowered. Other than occasionally raising his head to take some documents that were placed further away, he never raised his head or moved.

The alarm clock on his desk rang. He looked up from the pile of documents and put his work aside. Then, he picked up the telephone receiver.

At 9:30 PM, Xia Jinyuan received a call from the major general. The major general asked, “How’s Ye Jian?”

Xia Jinyuan seemed to be waiting for the major general’s call. He replied calmly, “She has cleaned up. The Tongzhou police are clearing the dangerous items in the hotel according to the criminal’s statement.”

“Ye Jian’s situation is very good. In one hour and seven minutes, she finished six criminals. At the same time, she helped the Tongzhou police to catch one of the main suspects.”

Watching wasn’t a difficult thing for Ye Jian.

A faint smile appeared on the serious-looking major general’s face. “This is the first time that a single soldier without any weapons has successfully completed his mission. This is a good start for Little Ye.”

To Ye Jian, this was a mission. But to the military, this was her first time fighting alone, and it was a test.

“Yes, it’s a good start. Major general, I wonder if the military is satisfied?” Xia Jinyuan smiled and asked. His unfathomable black eyes looked out of the car window. The neon lights reflected in the car window, warming his cold eyes. “I think you should be satisfied.”

His answer made the major general burst into laughter. “It looks like you have already guessed my intention. That’s right. Ye Jian has controlled the situation. She has already submitted an answer sheet that satisfied the military temporarily. It is also an answer sheet that I can rest assured about temporarily.”

It was all temporary. This meant that Ye Jian’s test had just begun.

The military wanted to see if she was able to fight alone calmly and decisively. They also wanted to see if she would be able to find a solution to this problem when she was helpless.

Although the mission to rescue K7 was also to fight alone, at least she had a clear goal. She knew that there were reinforcements behind her. If there was any danger, she could contact her comrades immediately.

This time, she didn't have a clear target or any accurate information. She didn't know if there were any reinforcements. Ye Jian didn't have any clues, so she could only rely on herself.

The major general was a little nervous when he made this decision.

Other than being bold and careful, she also needed to know how to find clues and control the situation. She also needed to interact with the criminals and complete the mission secretly so that she could escape danger.

Ye Jian needed to think about these things alone while nothing must happen in between.

Just like this time, once she was exposed and the criminals noticed something amiss, they might start arson in advance and confront the police in the most extreme way.

Xia Jinyuan smiled. "You trust her and are willing to give her a chance."

If they didn't trust Little Fox, they wouldn't have let her fight alone and wouldn't have arranged such a mission to train her.

Chapter 1465: An Outstanding Special Forces Soldier

The smile on the major general's face disappeared. A sharp look appeared in his eyes as he revealed his plan to Xia Jinyuan. "You want her to enter the Snow Region Brigade directly after she graduates. Me too. You can't lead Pigeon's team. They need a leader."

This was why he wanted to groom Ye Jian with all his heart. This was because she could lead the entire team. Also, her comprehensive ability was top-notch. She was not worse than Xia Jinyuan.

When the leader recommended Ye Jian to go to the capital city to protect the director-general, he had already thought further. He immediately discussed with the military not only to let Ye Jian go to the capital city to protect the director-general but also to let her join the cleanup operation and arrange for her to act alone.

At the same time, he promised the military that he would let Ye Jian become a qualified Special Forces soldier and enter the Snow Region Brigade immediately.

If she wanted to become a Special Forces soldier like Xia Jinyuan, Ye Jian needed to train herself.

With her outstanding performance in the past few years and her tough personality, it was possible for her to enter the Snow Region Brigade directly after graduation like Xia Jinyuan.

“Thank you for your trust in her. I can promise you that Ye Jian will not disappoint you or the military.” She even put her hatred aside temporarily so that she could become an outstanding Special Forces soldier. Xia Jinyuan trusted the girl he loved completely and wouldn’t disappoint the person he placed his hopes on.

He had witnessed her growth. It was exciting and difficult. Every step she took was steady. She didn’t take any shortcuts. How could Ye Jian not become a Special Forces soldier?

The major general also felt that Ye Jian wouldn’t disappoint him. He reminded Xia Jinyuan with a stern and cold expression. Then, he said, “The director-general has been very worried. After she finishes her work, ask Ye Jian to call the director-general to tell him that she’s safe.”

The director-general didn’t know about the military’s arrangements for Ye Jian’s test.

To the director, Ye Jian was living as a live target in the Tongzhou International Hotel. To the military, it was a test for Ye Jian. There was no danger at all.

If a Special Forces soldier couldn’t even take care of a few criminals, they didn’t deserve to be called a Special Forces soldier. They might as well wash up and go home to sleep.

Ye Jian didn’t disappoint the major general. She was able to find clues even when there were no clues. She didn’t ask for support and subdued the six criminals by herself. This showed that she had a strong mentality and didn’t panic.

“We found twenty barrels of gasoline, four ground explosives, and five quilts soaked in gasoline. We also found twelve lighters and six spring daggers from the six criminals.”

In the hotel, the Tongzhou police cleared out all the dangerous items. A male police officer said as he recorded, “According to the statement, all the items were brought into the hotel using their position as hotel security.”

Twenty-five liters of gasoline, four explosives, and five quilts soaked in gasoline. It was enough to burn an entire hotel!

“It’s none of my business. It’s really none of my business. I don’t know anything. I just came over to stay for one night.” The man’s frightened pleas came from the room next door. He was crying as he tried to redress his grievances.

Chapter 1466: The Return of An Old Friend

Ye Jian, who was assisting the Tongzhou police, raised her head and said to the male police officer who was recording, “This criminal has some connections. He has an uncle who is very close to the main culprit of the evil cult. When I was trying to get information from him, I found out that he was planning to let his uncle bring him to meet the ‘Grand Commissioner’ to take credit for his achievements.”

Facing the words of the biggest contributor tonight, the male policeman didn’t have any doubts. “Okay, I’ll report it immediately!”

“Okay, you’ve counted everything here, right?” Ye Jian had planned to hand the criminal over to the Tongzhou police before leaving. She took off her mask and looked at the male police officer with a faint smile in her black obsidian-like eyes. “The hotel crisis has been resolved. I think it’s time for me to leave. Thank you for your hard work, police brothers.”

The male police officer, who was about to pass the room next door, stopped in his tracks immediately. “Are you not staying at the hotel tonight? If you want to leave now, I’ll go and ask the deputy bureau chief first.” The male police officer was very young. He had just graduated from the police school. He didn’t have the authority to search outside and was still a little green. If not, he wouldn’t have stayed behind to clean the dangerous materials.

He said shyly, looking a little embarrassed, “Before the Deputy Commissioner left, he told me that if you want to leave, I have to...”

As they were speaking, a few footsteps were heard. They walked very quickly and appeared in the room in the blink of an eye. The male policeman turned his head, and his shy expression turned serious.

“Commissioner Cai, Deputy Commissioner!”

“Has everything been cleaned up? Did you find any other dangerous items?” The man who spoke was around 45 years old. He had a serious look on his face and had the dignity of a leader. He looked at the young male police officer with a gaze that was like a torch and said, “Be careful when taking inventory. Don’t make any mistakes.”

The male policeman straightened his back and replied, “Yes, Commissioner Cai!”

The deputy director said, “Commissioner Cai, this is Comrade Ye, who helped the Tongzhou police a lot tonight. It’s all thanks to her. If not, we wouldn’t have been able to complete the search so smoothly.”

He smiled and introduced Ye Jian, “Comrade Ye, this is Commissioner Cai.”

Compared to the deputy bureau chief, who was smiling comfortably, Ye Jian felt that the serious and righteous Commissioner Cai was easier to talk to. “Hello, Commissioner Cai. I’m Ye Jian, an active soldier.”

She didn’t say anything else. Even the director didn’t mention it.

Commissioner Cai didn’t notice Ye Jian immediately when she was standing behind the male policeman. Now that she walked out gracefully, Commissioner Cai’s gaze landed on her face.

The young girl had the aura of a soldier. Even though she was wearing casual clothes, one could tell that she was a soldier with just one step.

However, that wasn’t the main point. The main issue was that when Commissioner Cai saw this young face clearly, his expression changed subtly. His stern and cold eyes flashed slightly before he reached out his hand. “Thank you for your hard work, Comrade Ye.”

This young face was familiar too. However, one of them had already fallen asleep, and the other was alive.

Another face that was sealed in his memory flashed past his mind. Looking at the similar face in front of him, Commissioner Cai felt his heart pounding.

He looked around the room that was filled with the smell of petrol. Commissioner Cai's gaze turned deeper as he sized up Ye Jian again. "Let's talk outside. Little Zhu can take care of this place."

Little Zhu was the male policeman who had been talking to Ye Jian just now.

Sensing that there was something wrong with Commissioner Cai's gaze, Ye Jian smiled and nodded. Then, she followed him out of the room.

The deputy director tactfully stayed behind and didn't follow them. Director Cai had something to ask, so he didn't need to follow them.

Chapter 1467: Touch and Test

When Commissioner Cai walked, his arms were swinging rigidly out of habit. He was wearing the police uniform and had a towering background. He had the aura that Ye Jian was most familiar with.

Commissioner Cai was a retired soldier.

Ye Jian's eyes turned a little dark... Her facial features were very similar to her mother's. Grandpa Gen said that anyone who knew her mother would know whose daughter she was if they saw her.

Could it be that the retired Commissioner Cai knew his mother?

Wasn't this too much of a coincidence?

However, she couldn't help but suspect that Commissioner Cai was indeed looking at her because he was reminiscing about an old friend.

Could it be her mother? Could it be such a coincidence?

She knew too little about her mother. She didn't even suspect that her mother's death was related to Grandma Ye and Sun Yaozu. She didn't know where to start her investigation.

For a moment, Ye Jian's calm mind was unstable.

Although her emotions were unstable, Ye Jian still had some anticipation. As Commissioner Cai raised his hand, she sat on the lounge chair in the hotel room. As soon as she sat down, she looked up slightly and met Commissioner Cai's reminiscing gaze.

It was getting late. She still had to look for the director-general. Although she was looking forward to it, she wasn't sure that Commissioner Cai knew her mother. She shouldn't have too much hope.

Within a few seconds, Ye Jian regained her composure.

Commissioner Cai didn't notice the fluctuations in her emotions just now. He was still thinking about his thoughts. The memories buried deep surged up. If he felt that Ye Jian was similar to his old friend when he saw her for the first time, as the memories got deeper, he really felt that Ye Jian was the daughter of his old friend.

Otherwise, how could they be so similar?

However, they had once received news that his old friend had passed away due to an accident. In that case, this Little Ye who looked like his old friend in front of them... This wouldn't do. They needed to stabilize their relationship. He could mention it again after observing her carefully.

The room was very quiet. Ye Jian saw that Commissioner Cai didn't speak for a long time and only looked at her deeply. She couldn't help but frown.

This small action surprised Commissioner Cai even more.

When she frowned, she looked more like her old friend... Besides the expression on her face, her facial features really looked like they were carved from the same mold.

Although their facial features were similar, they didn't look alike. This Comrade Ye in front of him had a cold gaze, like a pine in the snow. His old friend had a gentle gaze, like the blooming of a red plum, and there was a gentleness between her brows.

Comrade Ye didn't. Her expression was firm and her gaze was sharp. Although there was a faint smile on her face, her cold aura seems to keep her at a distance from other people.

As he looked at the face of his old friend that overlapped with his memory, Commissioner Cai felt a little unsettled.

He didn't say anything. Ye Jian didn't say anything either. She even picked up the teapot on the square table and poured a glass of cold water for herself and Commissioner Cai.

The sound of water being poured caused Commissioner Cai's gaze to shift slightly. He shifted his gaze from the young face to the teacup and sighed with nostalgia in his warm voice. "Sorry! I was a little rude."

"You're welcome." Ye Jian wasn't someone who was curious about other people's private affairs. Even though she could tell that Commissioner Cai missed his old friend, she didn't want to know.

Chapter 1468: Pardon Me

If Commissioner Cai's old friend were his mother, he would definitely mention it. If not, there was no need for him to know other people's private affairs.

Ye Jian calmed down completely. Even the Commissioner of the Tongzhou City Public Security Bureau couldn't read her mind.

A polite reply, a calm smile, and a calm face. When Commissioner Cai took the cup from her, he couldn't help but say, "You're as steady as Mount Tai. It's rare."

Commissioner Cai didn't immediately mention the similarity between his old friend and Ye Jian. He hadn't settled his business. He could talk about his private matters later.

Commissioner Cai took a sip of cold water and put down the glass of water. He looked at Ye Jian again. She was drinking the cold water calmly under his gaze. There was no nervousness on her face nor restraint in her actions. Director Cai smiled and nodded secretly.

She managed to resolve the hotel crisis with her strength. After that, she contacted the Tongzhou police without any intention of taking credit for it. Then, she immediately retreated and let the police handle the follow-up matters. It was rare for her to be able to act so steadily at such a young age.

"You captured six criminals and provided clues to the main case of Tongzhou. Little Ye, I will write this merit in the report and hand it over to the assembly hall." Commissioner Cai started talking about official business and explained everything clearly. He wasn't as ambiguous as the deputy bureau and was afraid that Ye Jian would steal the credit of the Tongzhou police.

"Although the Tongzhou police knew there were criminals inside the hotel, they didn't know what their plans were. They also didn't know that the hotel's security personnel had joined the cult. If it weren't for your help, things wouldn't have gone so smoothly tonight."

"I will write everything in detail in the report. I won't hide anything. If there are any commendations later on, the Tongzhou police will contact you in time. It will help your military career."

Soldiers were the same as the police. They needed to achieve something. The more commendations they received, the more help they would have in the future.

Also, the credit belonged to her. No one could claim it; what belonged to her could only belong to her. The Tongzhou police wouldn't snatch the credit from the soldier who helped them.

However, Ye Jian didn't need it. She smiled and said, "You're too polite, Commissioner Cai. This is the responsibility of a soldier. Besides, I didn't do anything else. I just caught a few criminals along the way. The rest of the work will be taken care of by the Tongzhou police."

She was just like her old friend. Although she was a lady, she was an upright person. She never liked to show off.

After drinking half a glass of water and chatting for four to five minutes, Commissioner Cai, who had clearly heard her attitude towards this matter, relaxed his body. He leaned against the backrest of the casual round chair and looked at Ye Jian with a long and deep gaze. "Comrade Ye, I'm sorry to ask you a few personal questions. If you don't want to answer, you don't have to worry. Just tell me directly."

If he didn't get to the bottom of this, he would regret it.

Ye Jian tightened her grip on the glass of water. She smiled and said, "Please speak."

Facing Commissioner Cai's profound gaze, Ye Jian knew that he was reminiscing about his old friend deeply at this moment. Her heart, which had originally calmed down, was once again in turmoil. She thought that Commissioner Cai didn't plan to talk about her old friend, but when he suddenly mentioned it when she wanted to leave, hope rose again in Ye Jian's heart.

Chapter 1469: What Do You Want To Know

If only Commissioner Cai knew his mother.

He didn't say it immediately. He stared at her for a while before sighing. "You're very similar to an old friend of mine with the surname 'Sun.' Your facial features are very similar, but your aura is completely different."

Ye Jian's heart trembled when she heard this sentence. This was her mother's surname. Her calm black eyes lit up. She stared at Commissioner Cai and said softly, "Commissioner Cai, my mother's surname is also 'Sun.'"

Did he really know her mother? Did Director Cai really know..., her mother?

Ye Jian's fingers trembled slightly as she held the cup tightly. She was a little nervous.

A fierce look flashed across Commissioner Cai's eyes. They both had the surname 'Sun.' Was Ye Jian really the daughter of his old friend?

If that was the case, why did the reply they received say that their comrade's daughter passed away unexpectedly?

Also, the comrade who asked around said that she passed away because of an accident. He also said that she was young and mischievous. In the middle of the summer, she went out to play alone, fell into the pond, and drowned.

Commissioner Cai, whose heart was already in turmoil, said, "She once joined the military."

If she was really the daughter of his old friend, she should know more about her mother.

Of course, Ye Jian knew a little. However, she didn't know much because Grandpa Gen didn't know much.

But now, she met an old friend who might know her mother. Ye Jian suppressed the excitement in her heart and tried her best not to be impolite. "I don't know if the old friend I'm talking about is my mother. I only know that my mother is a martyr. When I was three years old, she, unfortunately, sacrificed herself for a mission."

Suppressing the excitement in her heart, Ye Jian was still a calm and composed Special Forces soldier. She didn't like to be out of shape. Although she was as vast as the sea, she was deep and unpredictable.

There was something suspicious about her mother's death. An old friend who might know her mother suddenly appeared. Although it was a coincidence, it was better to be careful.

In her past life, Ye Jian became cautious and didn't trust other people easily.

"Your mother is a little similar to my old friend. She is indeed a soldier. She sacrificed herself for justice 17 years ago." Ye Jian probed carefully. Commissioner Cai was the same. He didn't say much or say much. He just said something useful.

Commissioner Cai was cautious when he learned that the daughter of his old friend had passed away unexpectedly. Ye Jian was suspicious because of her mother's death. She didn't take the initiative to continue the topic. She waited for the other party to say something before she replied.

"What a coincidence. My mother sacrificed herself for the government 17 years ago. When she was sent back, the leaders of the Military Commission said that my mother was personally sent to the incinerator by the prime minister...." Ye Jian couldn't help but close her eyes gently at the mention of the past. The corners of her eyes were already wet.

Sometimes, it was not a good thing to have a good memory. She remembered that day very clearly. Even after living two lifetimes, her memory was still so clear.

When it was time for the flowers to bloom, the peach blossom forest was covered with a thick layer of pink, red, and white powder. As she was playing at home, she suddenly heard Sun Dongqing's cries coming from outside the peach blossom forest. She didn't know anything, but she kept looking up and saw two soldiers in military uniforms and military caps walking out of the peach blossom forest.

Chapter 1470: Dense Fog

One of the soldiers was holding a small dark-colored box in his hand. On the box was a square red flag. There were a few soldiers behind the two soldiers. The villagers surrounded them, and some of her aunts were sobbing.

Later, she found out that her mother sacrificed herself and her remains rested in that small dark-colored box.

The peach blossoms fell like rain. The sky was filled with grey mist, and it was drizzling. When it fell on her face, it was very cold. Her heart felt empty.

They all said that her mother sacrificed. Sacrifice meant death.

What was death?

When she was three years old, she experienced her mother's death and understood what death was.

"When I sent her, the willow tree at the edge of the pond had just turned green. The peach blossoms were at the end. I know that my mother sacrificed herself," Ye Jian said softly. She knew that Commissioner Cai hoped that she would be able to answer every sentence he said. Then, she would link them together and know if she was the daughter of his old friend.

Commissioner Cai, who was leaning against the back of the chair, sat up straight unconsciously. There were tears in his deep eyes. "All our comrades liked to call her 'Red Plum.'"

“Is it because her name has the word ‘snow’?” Ye Jian raised her hand and wiped the tears from the corner of her eyes. She knew that her heart was beating a little fast. It was as if it was going to jump out of her throat.

With every word, she observed Commissioner Cai more carefully. She didn’t want to miss any of the expressions on the middle-aged man’s face.

She thought that she did meet her mother’s old friend and her former comrade.

Commissioner Cai’s eyes were filled with nostalgia, sorrow, and reminiscence of the past. “Yes, her name has the word ‘snow,’ like a red plum blooming in the snow. That’s why her codename was ‘Red Plum.’ Red plums blooming in the snow.”

As he spoke, his voice turned hoarse. “Sun Xueqing, this is my old friend and my former comrade.”

There was no mistake. Ye Jian must be her daughter.

Red Plum, Red Plum, I didn’t expect your daughter to be so old. She even inherited her mother’s aspirations and became a female soldier who served the country just like you!

You must feel gratified in the afterlife.

Commissioner Cai completely believed that the girl in front of him was the daughter of his old friend. His serious eyes turned warm as he slowly talked about the past. “I know that she has a daughter. All the comrades in the team know about it. However, more than ten years ago, we sent a letter and asked about it. We received a reply from the town saying that Comrade Sun Xueqing’s daughter died due to an accident. We asked a retired comrade to ask about it and received the same reply.”

“They all said that you went out to play at noon in the summer and unfortunately fell into the water and died. Your comrades in the same class as Red Plum all believed it. We all believed that you died.”

In the end, Red Plum’s daughter was still here! He met her!

At this moment, Commissioner Cai believed that the young female soldier in front of him was the daughter of their comrade, Sun Xueqing.

She never knew that her mother’s comrades had come to ask about her. However, even if they did, she wouldn’t know. When she was young, she struggled to survive in Sun Dongqing’s hands. She was forced by Ye Ying to be timid and weak. In addition, Ye Zhifan received Grandma Ye’s orders to deliberately cripple her. She didn’t know anything about the outside world.
