

Chapter 1681: You Can't Go In

K7 was right. If he was more careful, he would have realized that something was wrong with Ye Jian... But he didn't. He never thought that she would get sick!

He should have thought of this. She was still on her period. A girl's body was weaker during their period, but she was still rolling around in the snow with the soldiers. She fought and ran. In the end, she was surrounded by him. How could she endure it?

At this moment, Xia Jinyuan didn't regret teaching Ye Jian a lesson. He just blamed himself for not being more careful.

K7 saw that he was being stubborn, so he didn't persuade him anymore. His hand was injured when he climbed the soft ladder with Ye Jian on his back. He didn't wear his combat gloves so he climbed hurriedly. His palm was badly bruised.

If he didn't want to deal with it, so be it. This injury was just a small injury to them.

The military doctor listened to Ye Jian's heartbeat and looked at her pupils. Then, he took off Ye Jian's combat vest and unbuttoned her combat uniform. She wore a windproof warm-up jacket which revealed a dark green undergarment. He pulled the shirt over her navel and looked at it. Then, he checked her back. Although her skin was flushed red, her breathing and heartbeat were alright. Her life was not in danger for the time being.

"The situation is still alright." After the inspection, the military doctor told Xia Jinyuan who was full of killing intent, "But we can't rule out the possibility that there might be other symptoms."

Xia Jinyuan looked at K7 and saw his comrade nodding slightly to show that he was right. Before he could say anything, K7 said in a low voice, "An allergic reaction will cause blood pressure. If it's serious, it will cause serious skin issues. She's still in danger."

K7 said in a deep voice. The military doctor couldn't help but raise his head and look at him... The other party was right. But why did it sound like he was trying to scare this young major?

"Her breathing is a little rapid. It's very likely that she will have asthma, alveolar inflammation, and pulmonary fibrosis. Her nervous system will also be damaged and she will show signs of encephalitis. In serious cases, she will lose her life."

The military doctor was certain that this officer was just scaring people.

There was some skin allergy, but... it wasn't as serious as he said. Also, the rashes on the female soldier's neck were lighter than before. It could be seen that her condition was stable and didn't worsen. However, there might be accidents.

He said that just now to scare the young major because he felt that he was the one who beat the female soldier up!

After hearing what K7 said, Xia Jinyuan felt as though his heart was being hammered by a steel nail. His heartbeat stopped abruptly. The temperature of his blood was still dropping. Under the sound of the helicopter, it finally dropped to the freezing point. If his lover, his Little Fox, and his comrade really got into trouble, he felt that his life would be gone.

Because Ye Jian was his life.

The helicopter arrived at the nearest tertiary Grade A hospital at the fastest speed. The hospital didn't have a helipad. Xia Jinyuan carried Ye Jian again and tied her up with ropes. Carrying Ye Jian, who had a high fever, he walked down the swaying soft stairs step by step.

The doctors from the hospital were already on standby. They placed the unconscious Ye Jian on the stretcher. Xia Jinyuan, who was running with the doctors, didn't have any intention of stopping. He almost rushed into the emergency room with the hospital staff.

The nurse quickly blocked him. "You can't go in. You can only wait outside."

Xia Jinyuan stepped on the emergency brake and looked at the door of the emergency room that was closed. He stood there as if there were roots under his feet.. He couldn't move at all.

Chapter 1682: I'm Scared

K7 chased from behind and saw the figure that was as towering as a mountain and the lighthouse in the hearts of all his comrades. He stood up straight with an unapproachable aura. A few nurses who walked past him walked around him nervously.

"It will take some time. Have a seat." K7 walked over and stood beside him. He looked at the red light in the emergency room and reminded him again, "Your hands are injured. If you don't treat them, will Ye Jian's face be stained with your blood again?"

Xia Jinyuan raised his hand and looked at his palm. Finally, he moved his feet.

After he sat on the cold plastic chair, he looked at K7 weakly. Under the light, there was still sweat on his forehead. He asked, "Are there any sequelae after being rescued?"

"There's too much." K7 maintained his usual concise tone and handed over the medical items in his hand. "Bandage it yourself."

Ha, let him worry. If he knew this would happen, he wouldn't have hit her so hard.

Xia Jinyuan could tell that his comrade was in a bad mood. Coincidentally, he was the same. He took the medical items and didn't probe further. He didn't even have the mood to talk now. It didn't matter if there were sequelae. He just wanted her to live well. As long as her life was fine...

“Why did you want to teach her a lesson?” K7 couldn’t help but ask him angrily. “You beat her up. What were you thinking?”

What was he thinking? What was he thinking at that time?

He thought about his comrades who had sacrificed themselves. He thought about his comrades who had been sent away and never came back. He thought about his comrades whose bodies had not been found, and their souls had not returned to their hometowns. This was what he thought.

“Do you still remember R2?” His injured right hand was wrapped around his injured left hand. Xia Jinyuan lowered his eyes and said bitterly, “She took the same path as R2. That’s why I’m afraid.”

R2’s old path!

K7’s body trembled. His fingers were already trembling slightly. To hide his attitude, K7 took the gauze from Xia Jinyuan’s right hand in a rough manner and wrapped it up. He didn’t say anything else.

R2 was their comrade. He died overseas two years ago. He was not asked to do that mission. He asked to go.

He said that he wanted to settle his best brother personally and give the country an explanation.

He died in the hands of a former comrade. They were once so good that they could trust their backs to each other. The frontline came back and said that before he died, he asked his former comrade if he could turn himself in if he died by his gun.

That person said, “If he dies, he will definitely return to his country and turn himself in.”

R2 probed his brother and used his life to probe. In the end, he really lost his life.

From the side door of the hospital, the members of the Snow Region Brigade, who were walking up the fire escape stairs, felt the strange atmosphere. Xia Jinyuan, who had his hands bandaged, laid his head on the cold wall and closed his eyes expressionlessly.

Sitting on the plastic chair opposite him, K7 held his helmet and lowered his head. No one knew what he was thinking.

The two of them didn’t communicate. However, there was a heavy and suppressed emotion flowing between them. What happened? Did Azure Bird... die?

Everyone’s heart dropped.. They quickened their pace and walked over with a cold aura. J5 asked in a low voice, “How’s the situation?”

Chapter 1683: Helplessness

The sound of footsteps made the two people who were sitting move their bodies. Xia Jinyuan, who was leaning against the wall with the back of his head, tilted his head and saw his comrades appearing one after another in their jungle combat uniforms and combat boots.

“She’s here.” His voice was extremely hoarse. He opened his mouth and turned his head. He continued to wait without moving.

Only ten minutes had passed, but the ten minutes were stretching too long.

After a long wait, Xia Jinyuan looked at the door of the emergency room and closed his eyes.

Waiting on the battlefield and waiting in the hospital were two entirely different emotions. He could remain calm and composed while waiting on the battlefield. The time to rest had arrived.

Waiting in the hospital felt very long. He felt that life was so fragile. The smell of disinfectant was like the smell of death. It was everywhere. You couldn’t escape it.

This waiting was filled with helplessness, hope, and panic.

Xia Jinyuan thought that he might never like a hospital in his entire life. Staying here for too long, might torture a normal person until they went crazy.

The red light was still on. Even if he stretched his neck, he couldn’t see what was happening inside. His beloved, his life, was still inside. Xia Jinyuan chose to ignore his comrades’ gazes.

He didn’t want to say anything now. He only had his lover in his heart and mind.

Major Xia let his comrades take a few more glances at him. Then, he shifted his gaze to K7.

“Let’s talk on the roof.” K7 tucked his helmet under his armpit and walked towards the fire escape.

At this moment, it was already dawn. Standing on the roof, K7 took a deep breath of the cold wind that had the smell of snow. Facing his comrades who were concerned made his usual skinny face turn a little cold. His gaze slid past his comrades who didn’t even wipe their paint. Just as everyone thought that he needed to continue brewing, K7 suddenly spoke.

The moment he opened his mouth, it was as if he had thrown two grenades. One was a murder grenade and the other was a chemical grenade. Everyone was stunned and their expressions were synchronized.

“Azure Bird took the old path of R2.”

That was what K7 told them. After a few words, everyone’s gaze turned sharp. The corners of their mouths were pressed together. Because of their change, the north wind was like lead. It was heavy and full of pressure.

The roof was very cold. The wind was strong. There was no sun or snow. One could only see the gloomy weather. The figures standing on the roof were like white poplar trees in the wind. No matter how strong the wind was, it couldn’t suppress their tall and straight backs.

This was a group of soldiers who fought at the frontline and used their lives to protect their country. They were a group of soldiers who were loyal to their country. They had bled too much and suffered too many injuries. Some even almost died in a foreign country.

The path they were walking on was too difficult and tiring. All of them were brave people who walked on the edge of a knife. They overcame all obstacles and came here drenched in blood.

It was tough, but they had never shed a single tear. At this moment, tears were already flowing down the corners of their eyes. The unyielding Special Forces soldiers wiped their tears secretly.. They gritted their teeth and suppressed their emotions violently.

Chapter 1684: It's Over! It's Over!

"Oh... I see." J5 nodded lightly. The cold wind must have been blowing for a long time. His voice was dry without any warmth. "Azure Bird made a huge mistake."

After he finished speaking, he rubbed his face and crumpled the paint on his face. His sharp eyes were flickering with a dark light. "This time, I support Q King's actions. Disregarding Azure Bird's gender, she's a soldier like all of us. A soldier who has her life tied to her belt."

"Now that she has violated the principles of a soldier, it's normal for her to receive Q King's punishment. I'm on Q King's side this time. He did nothing wrong."

"I will send you off and wait for your return. Brothers, this is the training passed down by word of mouth from the Snow Region Brigade. R2's death has alerted us. We will not allow such a thing to happen again."

J5's words made the members of the Snow Region Brigade nod slightly. Putting aside their emotions, Q King was right to use the rationality of a soldier to deal with problems. That was because they didn't want to see their comrades go on a mission to then hear the bad news that they would never see them again.

"How is Azure Bird's condition? Did the doctor say anything?" Pigeon asked in a low voice. He watched as Azure Bird was being dealt with. Q King's viciousness made him a little afraid.

He kicked and punched with all his might. He didn't hold back at all. He used all his strength, so he wondered if there were fractures.

"The fever medicine caused her allergies. Her body was flushed red. Her breathing and heartbeat were normal. Besides a high fever..." K7 just wanted to scare Xia Jinyuan. He answered his comrades' questions truthfully. "... the rest shouldn't be a problem."

After he finished speaking, he remembered that he hadn't told Q King the truth.

Hearing that it shouldn't be a problem, the members of the Snow Region Brigade heaved a sigh of relief. Then, they heard K7 say, "However, I was a little angry at that time, so I scared Q King. Now, he might think that something bad will happen to Azure Bird."

After a few seconds of silence, his comrades in combat uniforms gave K7 a thumbs up. Good job, brother! Well done!

“We are very angry too. Since you scared Q King, you help us vent our anger.” T6 expressed his agreement. Then, he felt his vision turning dark.

Oh no! Oh no!

He hadn't managed to win An Jiixin's heart. In the end... he beat up her best friend. He needed to hide this matter.

For a moment, T6 felt that he was in deep trouble. He was worried that Ye Jian would not be fine. He was also worried that the girl he was chasing would ignore him because of this. He felt tormented as he stood in the cold wind.

There was another team member who was worried too. Z7, whose real name was Han Zheng, looked at their comrade who heaved a sigh of relief when he knew that Azure Bird was fine.

The brothers who were taught a lesson by Q King all expressed their understanding and approval. However..., brothers, you don't know that the two of them are a couple now!

As her boyfriend, Q King beat his girlfriend to the hospital. If his girlfriend woke up and wanted to break up... What should he do? What should they do?

Commander Xia was frustrated too. After listening to White Crane's report, he finally understood why his son wanted to teach his future daughter-in-law a lesson.

Chapter 1685: Major, You're Poor

Commander Xia thought for a while and decided not to think about it anymore. From a soldier's point of view, his son was right.

However, from the perspective of his relatives and future father-in-law of Ye Jian, this matter could be big or small. Commander Xia felt that his son should have a headache after sending his girlfriend and future wife to the hospital.

Let him have his headache then. When his future daughter-in-law wakes up, he will call and greet her. At the same time, he will tell her that since that brat is so ruthless, she shouldn't pamper him too much. She can take care of him however she wants.

However, there was a prerequisite: Don't mention breaking up.

Commander-in-Chief Xia was afraid of this. His relationship with his ex-wife had affected his son's view of marriage. In the past, he even told him that he wouldn't get married in the future.

Now, he finally had a girl who was willing to stick to him like a piece of plaster. If they broke up, he was really worried that his son would be single forever.

In addition, his impression of Ye Jian was very good. He didn't want their relationship to be complicated or want other people to snatch his future daughter-in-law away.

Commander Xia, who was a father and a mother, was extremely worried. He decided to call Ye Jian as soon as she woke up and put in a good word for his son.

At this moment, Xia Jinyuan was a little stunned. He glanced at T6, K7, G3, and Z7. Holding a tissue in his hand, he removed the last bit of paint on his face and said, "It can't be. It's not that serious, right? Are you trying to scare me and take revenge?"

The four of them were removing the paint on their faces in the washroom. After they revealed their faces, Z7 started talking about their worries. "You were so ruthless. What if your girlfriend wakes up and wants to break up?"

Major Xia was dumbfounded.

"..." He didn't even think about that!

Z7 Han Zheng was a playboy in the past. Based on his dating experience, this was very possible.

"Q King, you need to be mentally prepared." Han Zheng had a look of sympathy on his face. "I've been in dozens of relationships. I'm half an expert. Everything I said can be used as evidence."

T6, K7, and G3, who had never dated before, looked at Xia Jinyuan and Han Zheng.

What did he say just now?

At least a dozen relationships?

Did he want to be beaten up by the few of them who had never dated before?

Kid! He has harmed so many girls. They wanted to uphold justice!

However, Xia Jinyuan didn't believe it. He grew up in the same courtyard as Han Zheng. When Han Zheng was wearing diapers, he always wanted the female soldiers in the courtyard to hug him. He talked about his glorious history every day and bragged about how many women he had. He was just putting on a show, how was that called dating?

If he wanted to date, he would spend money on houses within the second ring of the capital city. He was using money to buy entertainment. How was this a relationship?

Han Zheng knew that he didn't believe him when he saw his expression. He didn't get angry. Instead, he laughed and took pleasure in his misfortune. "Don't doubt me. I have dated many people.. All of them were loved and pampered by me like princesses."

"Look at you. You beat her up until she was sent to the hospital. I think that Ye Jian got a high fever because of your viciousness and ruthlessness. Brother, you should be mentally prepared."

T6 added appropriately, "Although I don't have the experience of harming more than ten girls like him..."

"Mind your words," Han Zheng interrupted him. What did he mean by 'harming more than ten girls'? He never harmed girls. It was all a matter of mutual consent.

"Although I don't have any experience, I have to admit that what the 'scourge' is saying makes sense. Other people dote on their girlfriend, but when it comes to you..., you beat her up until she's hospitalized. Brother, if I were your girlfriend, I would have broken up with you too. I'm afraid!"

Han Zheng's mouth twitched when he heard that he got another 'scourge' nickname. Forget it. What's there to fuss about between him and a bunch of virgins who have never dated before? They were just jealous!

K7 and G3, who were glaring daggers at Han Zheng, retracted their gaze when they saw that he had become obedient.

Wasn't he a scourge? More than ten brothers combined might not have as much 'love experience' as him!

Xia Jinyuan's heart trembled. He turned and looked at his two comrades who knew about him and Little Fox but hadn't expressed their opinion. "What about you two? What do you think?"

Major Xia Jinyuan, a virgin who had only kissed one girl and had zero dating experience, was a little flustered now.

"I don't have any experience, but I agree with what the 'scourge' said. As for you, you're the first boyfriend I've met who can send his girlfriend to the hospital." G3 was sincere in his words. This matter wasn't easy to deal with. "We heard from K7 why you taught Azure Bird a lesson. As a soldier, logically speaking, we agree with your actions."

Xia Jinyuan heaved a sigh of relief. With a cold expression, he nodded. "As her comrade, I must make her remember that using her life to test the enemy on the battlefield is a stupid action!"

"That's right. If it was us, we would definitely do that. However..." G3's gaze was filled with pity. His tone took a 180-degree turn. "However, you're her boyfriend. If you really want to deal with her, you should have let us do it."

"This is your mistake," K7 concluded calmly.

Major Xia: "... " He felt that his strong heart couldn't handle his comrades' words.

"Anyway, if she wants to break up, I will think that it's normal." As a comrade, T6 continued to stab him. Since he had already stabbed him so many times, it didn't matter if he stabbed him again.

Stabbing in advance was equivalent to injecting a 'tranquilizer.'

Major Xia took a deep breath in front of his comrades. He suppressed the panic in his heart and said calmly, "You're right. I made a mistake. I shouldn't have gone up personally to take care of her. You should have go"

At that time, he only thought that if she dared to do this, he would let her have a taste of it and let her pay the price for her stupid action.

He was happy that she came. How could he bear to let her leave?

He brought her step by step to the path he walked. He only hoped to advance and retreat with her hand in hand. How could he accept someone leaving early? If he was given the chance to change what he did, he would still choose to teach her a lesson!

Chapter 1687: Kneeling For Love

She would always remember that acting smart could make her careless.

However, he didn't expect to send her to the hospital.

He didn't regret teaching her a lesson. He once said that they wouldn't just be lovers in the future. They would be comrades too. When comrades make mistakes, as the captain, he had the responsibility to teach her the consequences of making mistakes.

"Although I was successfully fooled by a few of you, I still believe that Azure Bird won't suggest a breakup." Major Xia was a little flustered. He wouldn't be so easily affected. He turned on the tap and washed his face with cold water. He changed into his jungle combat uniform and stood in front of his comrades. He looked at his comrades with his deep and cold eyes. His gaze was as cold as an ancient sword. He said calmly, "Although I believe that Azure Bird won't suggest a breakup, as her boyfriend, I still have to apologize first."

G3's mouth twitched. From his expression just now, she thought that he would never admit his mistake to Ye Jian and say that he regretted teaching her a lesson.

The next second, the ace soldier bowed down for love!

The comrades guarding outside saw their captain walking over calmly with his head held high and chest out. Although the corners of his mouth were swollen, he looked very calm. "There's no need to stay in the hospital. Go back and tidy up the second training base led by Captain Li."

The hospital was not a military unit. It was already 7:00 AM. There would be more and more people in the hospital. It was too conspicuous for a group of people to be wearing combat uniforms. They could become a target, so they needed to leave immediately.

"When Ye Jian wakes up, I will tell you immediately and tell her your concern. Everyone, stand at attention!"

One minute later, the entire team left. Before Han Zheng left, he patted his friend's shoulder and said earnestly, "Lower your head and apologize properly. At this moment, you need to pretend to be a grandson. Don't bear with it. If you lose your girlfriend, other people will benefit."

If she wasn't his brother's girlfriend, he would have wooed her!

T6 was even more heartbroken. "Jiaxin is her good friend. My heart is bleeding now! Why did I agree to go with you to catch Azure Bird? Am I stupid?"

Q King was still in a relationship. He held her hand and kissed her. As for him... He didn't succeed, but he was still working hard. When he thought about this, T6 felt his heart bleeding.

Seeing this, Xia Jinyuan 'kindly' consoled him, "Relax. If you have not got her, how can you lose her? What are you hurting for? Scram as far as you can!"

Stop scaring me! I'm not that easily frightened!

Ye Jian didn't know that Major Xia's heart was churning furiously outside. Her brain, which was burnt until she fainted, gradually cleared up. She felt that something was about to touch her. While laying in the resuscitation room, she opened her eyes. At the same time, she grabbed the nurse's wrist tightly with her right hand.

"Ah!"

The nurse who was about to give Ye Jian an injection was so frightened that she almost dropped the syringe in her hand. She raised her head subconsciously and was shocked again by the coldness in Ye Jian's eyes. The syringe that was trembling in her hand didn't escape the fate of falling. Bang... It fell on the floor.

The doctor turned around when he heard the commotion. He saw that the patient had woken up. The doctor, who hadn't even taken off his sterile mask, walked to the side of the bed and smiled at the woman. "You're awake so soon? Do you feel better?"

Chapter 1688: Heartache

The skin allergy wasn't serious. It was mainly the high fever.

After a series of inspections and the skin test, the patient was able to wake up after three minutes of intravenous infusion. As expected of a soldier with a strong physique.

Ye Jian blinked in a daze. Her long eyelashes trembled. She seemed to have confirmed where she was. She closed her eyes and released her hand.

She fell asleep again. The frightened nurse patted her chest and picked up the syringe. She needed to redo the medicine.

The lights in the emergency room turned from red to green. Xia Jinyuan rushed over instantly. Ye Jian was lying on the bed. The nurses and doctors pushed her out.

He only saw Ye Jian in his eyes. He saw his lover's lips turning red. It was the color of her lips before her fever subsided.

There was a frightening bruise at the corner of her mouth while there were small cuts on the left side of her face. These were all caused by him.

His face was pale and her face was red. The blanket was as white as snow. The bright color made Ye Jian look like a fragile porcelain doll that would shatter at the slightest touch.

His heart felt as though it had been gouged out. It was so empty that he panicked.

Looking at the IV drip and the doctor's expression, Xia Jinyuan felt alive.

The doctor and nurse saw the young soldier in front of them clearly. Their gaze slid past the wound on the corner of his mouth.

Why was she so injured?

The female soldier who was lying on the ground had more than ten bruises on her body, especially the last two. Two of them were the most obvious. Her subcutaneous tissue was badly inflamed and black.

Fortunately, they avoided the important parts of her back and didn't hurt her vital parts.

He looked at the male soldier. He was injured too.

Xia Jinyuan asked in a low voice, "Doctor, how is the patient? Is she out of danger?"

He wasn't in a hurry. He spoke very slowly but the doctor could hear the urgency in his voice.

"It's not a big problem. The situation is very good. The patient is strong-willed. She woke up once two minutes ago. She will wake up naturally once she has some rest." The doctor shrunk said everything that the other party wanted to hear. He wasn't sloppy. He said that he still needed to observe the situation.

His professional instincts told him that if he did not say that, this soldier wouldn't have the patience to ask him.

After hearing what the doctor said, Xia Jinyuan felt his cold blood slowly warming up. He thanked them politely and pushed the bed into the ward that was arranged for her.

The doctor followed Xia Jinyuan all the way to the ward. He said a few words to Xia Jinyuan, "Contact me if anything happens." Then, he left with the nurse.

This was a special ward. After the hospital received the call, the doctors were all on standby. Fortunately, the allergy wasn't serious. She only had a fever.

Now, the redness on her body had subsided, and her condition was stable.

After the door was closed, the ward became so quiet that only the sound of breathing could be heard. Xia Jinyuan sat by the bed and clenched his fists tightly. He kept looking at Ye Jian. Her eyes were closed and she was lying on the bed quietly. At this moment, she didn't look good. Her face was especially pale.

Chapter 1689: Serves You Right

He touched the wound on the corner of her mouth lightly. The coldness in the young major's eyes was gone.

"I'm sorry, Little Fox." He got up and slowly bent down. He touched her lips with his lips that were injured too. He didn't dare to use too much force because he was afraid that the corner of her mouth would hurt. He kissed her lightly. He carefully touched the corner of the blanket and sat back down.

Xia Jinyuan pursed his lips as he looked at her sleeping face.

He watched and accompanied her quietly. It was so quiet that he could hear her breathing. That was how he felt at ease.

After some time, the buzzing sound from his phone broke the silence. Frowning, Xia Jinyuan immediately took it out and picked up the call.

At the same time, she stood up and walked to the balcony that the single ward had.

The sliding door closed gently. Standing outside the glass door, he stared intently at Ye Jian as he said, "Dad, speak slowly."

"You're quite capable. You sent your girlfriend to the hospital. Aren't you a smart person? Why? Did you get kicked in the head and become a fool?"

Commander Xia started mocking his son on the other end of the phone. He was definitely an old father. He wasn't afraid of Xia Jinyuan putting down the phone at all. "I felt that I complimented you when I said that you're stupid. Ye Jian made a mistake, so she should be taught a lesson. However, you can't send your girlfriend to the hospital."

"This is good. Your girlfriend is in the hospital. I have a feeling that my future daughter-in-law will run away! Xia Jinyuan, if you scare your wife away, go back and explain to the Old Madam and the Old Master. I won't scold you anymore. I'll give you four words, it serves you right!"

Why did Comrade Little Xia and Comrade Old Xia not get along? This was the root cause.

If his son committed a crime outside, he wouldn't be able to comfort him. The moment he opened his mouth, he would say that he had never changed.

Comrade Little Xia was used to it now. He had already accepted such a unique fatherly love. Was it so difficult to say that he cared about him? Did he have to mock him?

What was there to feel comfortable about? The more he spoke, the angrier he got.

Rubbing his forehead with his fingers, Xia Jinyuan said, "Dad, I'm thinking about how to change my girlfriend's mind. What a coincidence that you called."

"Did Little Ye really mention breaking up?" Commander Xia's voice was a little higher. He didn't sound very worried. "That's right. You hit her until she was hospitalized. Normal girls will think that way. Apologize properly and don't let Little Ye change her mind. Don't come home this year if you are alone"

He was definitely his father. He was actually gloating!

Xia Jinyuan snorted. "Don't laugh too early."

"Ha, I didn't laugh too early. You can think about this matter. I only acknowledge Little Ye as my daughter-in-law. I can't change to someone else." Commander Xia felt at ease when he heard that his son didn't give up because of this and insisted on staying firm.

Commander Xia, who was relieved, hung up quickly.

Xia Jinyuan could only sigh. He sat on the bed again and held Ye Jian's hand. He said in a low voice, "Little Fox, you mustn't mention breaking up with me. If there's anything, we can talk nicely.. Don't talk about hurtful things."

Chapter 1690: Something's Not Right

"My dad is getting anxious. It sounds like he has already told Grandpa Gen and the Old Madam. He even said something harsh. He said that if I hurt you badly, I couldn't go home."

As he spoke, Major Xia started to rack his brains to think of ways to apologize. He had no experience in apologizing.

It didn't matter. He would tell the Little Fox the truth before apologizing.

He needed to remember, never to say things like 'I hit you for your own good.' He also had to do what Little Fox asked him to do when she woke up.

G3 said that there were still women in their line of work who were willing to follow them. It was definitely because he received good karma from doing good deeds in his past life that he managed to be with a good girl in this lifetime.

His girl, his Little Fox, was one of a kind in this world. He chased her for so long. How could he give up?

He couldn't deny that his comrade's words affected his mood. However, if he had to choose again, he was sorry to Little Fox, but his choice would still be the same.

All the training in the military unit was to prepare them for war. It was a tense, serious, and dangerous thing. Once you split up, it meant that you were going to the battlefield.

Your every move will be key to whether you can survive or not. He brought her here not to see her dying due to a mistake, but so he can walk side by side with her and live on!

He wanted the two of them to live well!

When Ye Jian woke up, there was no more IV drip. Someone was lying quietly on her right side. His back was bent like a leopard hiding on a tree. He would wake up immediately and reveal his sharp claws if there were any movement.

The moment she moved her hand, the vigilant man raised his head abruptly and locked his gaze on Ye Jian's face.

Three hours later, his Little Fox finally woke up.

She was previously sleeping soundly. Now, her face had turned red. Her red lips, which had been burnt, had turned pale. When she woke up, she was obviously in a much better spirit.

"I'll go get a glass of water." He let go of her hand and carefully placed it under the blanket. When he got up, he didn't forget to lower his head and kiss her gently on her forehead. "Lie down properly and drink some water before talking."

Ye Jian blinked. She watched as he poured water for her and tested the temperature of the water. When he came over with a glass of water, he treated her like a baby and fed her the water.

Ye Jian, whose throat was dry from the fever, enjoyed his meticulous service. She looked at him without blinking as he immediately informed the nurses and doctors. Then, he sat down again and whispered, "Lie down properly and wait for the doctor to come and check."

"Major Xia, you... seem a little off." Ye Jian sharply noticed his cautiousness and couldn't help but say, "Is there something waiting for me?"

Xia Jinyuan held his breath. She was indeed afraid!

The doctor knocked on the door. He said in a low voice, "Let's talk after the doctor finishes his checkup. Don't think too much. You need to rest."

The doctor rushed over and asked the nurse to first take Ye Jian's temperature. Then, he checked if the rashes on her arms, neck, and back had subsided. After the checkup, he smiled and said, "The rashes on her body are gone. Her temperature has dropped too.. She just needs to rest."
