

BOOT CAMP 1741

Chapter 1741: Major Xia Is Outstanding

They completed their search in a triangular formation. After clearing a region, they would gather at a certain point and search a large area.

This was the search pattern they followed, and they did not disperse. If a comrade had a problem, any comrade part of the triangle formation would be able to provide support immediately.

Ye Jian and another member of Storm Commando completed the clearing together. The two of them received Xia Jinyuan's order. One of them was responsible for guarding the surroundings while the other was responsible for attacking. They quickly rushed to the gathering point.

The two teams would not give the Blue Wolf's troops a chance to shoot. Since it was a counter-annihilation, they should decide on the method. Besides, it was a waste to shoot bullets in a blizzard. They could not even aim accurately. It was better to use cold weapons or bare hands to complete the counter-annihilation.

Xia Jinyuan had never planned to engage in a direct confrontation since he knew that the Blue Wolf unit might be lying in ambush at the hills. Among all the special forces in the various military districts, only the Blue Wolf unit had the upper hand. Their shooting skills were the most admirable.

Each one of them looked like they had the eyes of an owl. Their marksmanship was impeccable. It was not a problem for them to snipe in such a heavy snowstorm!

Xia Jinyuan didn't know when they were going to face off against the famous Blue Wolf unit with rifles. Unless he was stupid, he wouldn't do that.

"Demon King, how's the situation on your side?" While waiting for Ye Jian to come over, Xia Jinyuan contacted Demon King Li. The demon king was in charge of covering them. He needed to take a detour to the front and fight back.

As a southerner, Li Jin had only ever encountered such a huge snowstorm when he was in the military. After he was transferred to the navy, he had never seen it again.

Now that he was faced with it again, it had more or less affected him.

For example, the tips of his ears had already been frozen to the point of frostbite. The flexibility of his hands and feet had decreased as well.

However, as a special forces soldier, these were nothing. No matter how strong the snowstorm was, it couldn't stop him from leading his team forward.

"Fortunately, we're still about 400 meters away from our destination," he replied indifferently. At the same time, he raised his hand and lowered it behind him, indicating to his team members to lie on their stomachs.

By then, it was already six in the afternoon. It had been two hours since the operation started.

Whether or not they could successfully reverse the annihilation depended on whether or not all of them could successfully pass through the hills. Not a single person could be missing, and even one less person would be considered a failure.

This was the military's request.

Li Jinnian brought a total of eight team members with him to provide support. This was to save time for the team members who would come later. It was the same as clearing a path for the other team members.

After discovering the situation, he instructed his team members to hide and then spread out to approach the enemy, giving them a heavy blow.

The snow was heavy, but they were short on time. The snow on the ground was not thick, and it caused a person to fall, hurting them a lot when they landed.

When fists collided with fists, the negative temperature seemed to be able to shatter bones.

"Quickly get in touch with the company commander, they're almost there!"

Someone held Li Jinnian and the others back, instructing their comrades to contact their company commander. These were all soldiers from the Blue Wolf unit. All of them were highly skilled and their punches were powerful enough to knock someone down.

Li Jinnian glanced at the soldier with the communication device on him. His tall and straight body suddenly leaped into the air like a snow leopard leaping out of the snow. He grabbed the soldier and started rolling on the ground.

His movements were smooth and fierce, not giving the soldier a chance to contact their company commander.

Chapter 1742: Offense And Defense

When the company commander of the Blue Wolf Special Forces was unable to contact the fourth unit, he immediately carried out a plan to wipe them out. Close to a hundred soldiers split into groups and also did their best to search and fight.

Ye Jian and Xia Jinyuan had already started fighting with them. The entire anti-annihilation training had reached its climax.

The Blue Wolf troops were all too familiar with this desert. Every summer and winter, they would come here to complete their training. They knew where to ambush, where to exchange fire, and where to expose themselves.

However, even the company commander of the Blue Wolf unit knew that their chances of winning tonight were not high.

As the new soldiers and veterans were taken down one by one, they left the battlefield one after another. After a while, they all left. When all 27 soldiers were taken down, the company commander of the Blue Wolf unit broke out in a cold sweat.

“This was certainly a tough challenge. I don’t know which military zone they’re from. Company Commander, I’m afraid they’ll make it over tonight.” The veteran contacted his company commander. His voice was low and cold. “The other party isn’t weak. They are not easy to deal with.”

They couldn’t figure out who the other party was, and they didn’t even know which military district they came from. The 27 soldiers lost contact with each other just like that and were dealt with by the other party.

“Guard the position well. Send two units to reinforce the entrance of the calabash mouth!” The company commander quickly adjusted the battle deployment and focused on the final juncture that the southern troops had to pass through.

The Blue Wolf unit’s mission was to guard the remaining hills and complete the annihilation plan. Now that the soldiers were dealt with, the enemy was doing their best to complete the annihilation. As long as they could hold on to the last area, the enemy’s mission would fail!

The Gobi could be considered their old nest. Their old nest had been kicked by someone. They would lose their reputation!

They had to get back their pride!

As the commander gave the order, the soldiers of the two groups immediately went to support their comrades at the last juncture. The members of the Xueyu unit led Storm Commando as they marched toward their final destination.

This was the camp they were staying in tonight. It was the only place in the entire Gobi that could shelter them from the wind and rain.

At the most crucial moment of the confrontation, the soldiers of the Blue Wolf Special Forces waited until the other party had eliminated their comrades. They immediately showed their ‘enthusiasm’ as northern men and welcomed the other party with their fists and empty ammunition.

Li Jinnian was supposed to take a detour to support his troops, but in the end, he was blocked by the deputy company commander of Blue Wolf and Mr. Zhuge. A fierce battle ensued.

They managed to hold back a portion of the soldiers from the Blue Wolf unit. They immediately informed Xia Jinyuan to cut off their connection and complete the annihilation.

Eagle, the scout commander, was the first to reach the mouth of the calabash. Dressed in disguise, he touched the highest point and sprawled among a pile of rocks. He rubbed his hands together and set up the rifle that was cold to the bone. He took a deep breath and aimed at the target. Once the target appeared at close range, he would take the shot.

“Q King, I’ve occupied a high spot. The snowstorm is too strong. I’ll try my best to kill as many as I can.” That was what he told his team leader. “Send a few brothers over. Attack from both sides and take them down as soon as possible.”

This damned weather was too cold! The earlier they completed the annihilation, the earlier they could get into their sleeping bags to warm themselves up!

Chapter 1743: Azure Bird, Attack!

Xia Jinyuan and Ye Jian cooperated seamlessly. The two of them fought their way out for the brothers behind them. When they heard Long Eagle’s call, Xia Jinyuan smiled and said, “It’s fine to guard by yourself. The wind and snow can hide your whereabouts.”

“But you have to be careful. The soldiers in the Blue Wolf unit are all good gunmen and sharpshooters. Be careful not to get shot in the back.”

There was really no extra manpower to send out reinforcements. All the troops of the Blue Wolf Special Forces had gathered in front of the mouth of the calabash. It was clear that they were not allowed to pass through. If they guarded too tightly, it would be more difficult to break through. How could there be any extra manpower to send reinforcements?

Eagle’s lips twitched when he heard that. Their young captain had always been sly and cunning. He knew that there was no problem, so how could he send reinforcements?

One must know that his favorite phrase was ‘self-reliance’!

There was not much sound coming from the headset. Unless they completed the concealment task, someone would flick the headset three times with their fingers to indicate that they had taken their original position.

The flick sounded. The two teams of the Xueyu unit and Storm Commando surrounded the entire Blue Wolf unit in a circle.

“Fire!”

As Xia Jinyuan’s cold and metallic voice was heard, gunshots rang out around the desert.

After three hours of deployment, Xia Jinyuan successfully completed the final annihilation instead of being captured by the Blue Wolf troops.

When the company commander of the Blue Wolf unit heard the gunshots, his heart tightened.

This group of soldiers from the south actually climbed up those severely weathered hills to surround him! He had concentrated his forces while they spread their forces out like a net, finally completing the encirclement!

How dare they! Weren’t they afraid of rolling down the hill and breaking their legs?

“We don’t have to be afraid of being surrounded. Let’s deal a few more blows!” Even though they were surrounded, the company commander of the Blue Wolf unit did not panic at all. The unyielding soldiers would not surrender easily until the very end!

Ye Jian had never thought that she would go against the company commander of the Blue Wolf unit. The company commander of the Blue Wolf unit didn’t expect a female soldier to come either. The appearance of the female soldier stunned him for a second.

A thought flashed across his mind. Could it be a group of female soldiers surrounding them?

There were very few female soldiers in the Northern Frontier. There were only seven female soldiers in the army.

Therefore, it was near impossible for female soldiers to enter the Gobi for training.

“Which military zone are you from? If you want to fight me, you should at least tell me who you are.” The company commander flexed his muscles. Although he was facing a female soldier and he thought she was weak, at this moment, he couldn’t be too careless.

This was a female soldier who dared to come to the Gobi to train. Who knew how many soldiers she had taken down along the way?! How would he dare to look down on her?!

Ye Jian’s hands were hurting. When she heard the voice, she knew that she had bumped into the company commander of the Blue Wolf unit. She took a few steps back carefully and pressed on her earpiece to contact Xia Jinyuan. “Q King, I’ve met the company commander of the Blue Wolf unit.”

She was speaking on the public channel, so all the team members could hear her.

J5’s voice was the first to be heard. “We’re too lucky! Come on, Azure Bird! Take down the company commander!”

“Good luck. I believe you can do it.”

“It’ll feel so good to beat the company commander to the ground! Azure Bird, attack!”

Chapter 1744: We Trust You

For the members of the Xueyu unit, as long as they encountered such a situation and confirmed that they could solve it, they had to do it. Anti-annihilation was the coordination between an individual and a team. As someone who was undergoing anti-annihilation training, Ye Jian had no other choice but to fight.

It was not that they were making sarcastic remarks. It was simply because this was something that every soldier had to face.

Xia Jinyuan waited for his comrades to say a few words before saying in a low voice, “95% of the people around him are lying in ambush. I’m about six meters away from you. After you lure the enemy, I’ll deal with the soldiers lying in ambush around him.”

“Okay.” Ye Jian didn’t do anything else but reply softly.

And in the headset, each of her comrades said, “Good luck, Azure Bird.”

“Azure Bird, show your true colors as a soldier and take down the company commander!”

“Don’t be afraid of injuring the company commander. If you really injure him, Demon King Li and Q King will settle it!”

Hearing her comrades’ words of encouragement and support, Ye Jian held her breath slightly and took a deep breath. She gradually distanced herself from the suffocating killing intent of her opponent.

She had carried out a mission before. She had used a gun and a dagger to kill people. Those who she killed had a kind of baleful aura on them. This kind of baleful aura was usually not revealed, but once she met an opponent and they encountered danger, it would be faintly revealed from their expression and actions. It would unknowingly serve as a deterrent.

At this moment, the commander of the Blue Wolf unit, who was less than a meter away from her, was exuding a murderous aura.

“Why? You can’t even give me a number? Or do you think I’m not qualified to know?” The company commander, who was dressed in a combat uniform, was not very tall. He looked to be about 176 meters tall, but his aura was very strong. It was so strong that it made people ignore his height. They only felt that he had a military bearing and a military aura.

Ye Jian touched the dagger on her waist and raised her voice. “I know that you’re the company commander of the Blue Wolf unit. If the number of my unit is not written in the document you received, I’m sorry, Company Commander. I really can’t tell you.”

They didn’t receive any documents. They only received a call from Lieutenant General Xia, the commander-in-chief of the military. They really didn’t know the number of the southern troops.

Since the female soldier didn’t want to say anything, then so be it. She wouldn’t say anything while standing in front of him.

“You keep your mouth quite tight.” The company commander naturally raised his hand and patted the snow off his shoulder. His sharp eyes swept across the room as he raised his hand and drew a line while filled with killing intent. The faint sneer on his weathered and resolute face disappeared.

The sound of gunshots came from an unknown direction. Bang! The empty shells directly shot into the snow. Instantly, snow mixed with dust flew everywhere.

As the gunshots rang out, the company commander saw the female soldier’s actions and stopped smiling. The murderous aura around him intensified!

The female soldier actually dodged!

She dodged the bullets! She dodged them perfectly!

Ye Jian, who had been observing him, didn't dare to be careless. She could see his every move. If he moved slightly, she would definitely dodge.

Regardless of whether there was an ambush or not, she would complete her evasive action.

There was more than one gunshot.. There were so many shots fired.

Chapter 1745: Complete Destruction

Bang bang bang bang...

A row of blank cartridges hit them, and a row of bullet holes instantly appeared in the snow. The shower of gunshots not only caused the snow and sand to fly everywhere but also formed a snow fog.

When Ye Jian saw a pile of snow, she supported herself with one hand and flipped over to the pile.

"Company Commander, the target has disappeared!" The Blue Wolf soldiers who had stopped shooting shifted their gaze away from the target for a while. From where they were looking, they could only see the snowstorm through their night-vision goggles. The female soldier was no longer in sight.

Xia Jinyuan was like a snow leopard chasing its prey. He was still five steps away from the soldier when he leaped into the air. The soldier who was contacting his company commander and searching for his target felt a gust of wind coming from the side. He hugged his gun, and before he could roll around, he was taken down by the person who attacked with a gust of wind.

"The soldiers of the Blue Wolf unit are famous for their marksmanship. Brother, I'm sorry but I can't give you the chance to shoot again." The elegant and dangerous Major Xia took off the soldier's gun. At the same time, he took off the soldier's ear-mic and said very politely, "Company Commander Jiang, your guards have been taken care of."

With the guards taken care of, it was about time for the annihilation training to end.

After his soldiers failed to shoot, Company Commander Jiang directly confronted the female soldier whose reaction was unbelievably fast. His fist was held by the other's hand which was obviously smaller than a male soldier's. An unfamiliar male voice came from his earpiece.

'Your guards have been taken care of,' said the man. This meant the veteran who shot the female soldier just now had been taken care of.'

The entrance of the calabash mouth had been completely destroyed by the troops from the south. However, they had yet to complete their training. He could still finish off this female soldier first.

If one was careless in close combat, they would be punched by the opponent's fists and kicked by their military boots. It would feel as if their bones were getting shattered with each kick.

As the company commander of the Blue Wolf unit, his skills were exceptional. Every punch carried a strong force. He didn't show any mercy. Whenever he had the chance, he would call out to Ye Jian.

Ye Jian was suppressed by him until she had to roll on the ground several times to avoid him. When she retaliated, she didn't even use her fists. She just used her legs to kick him back.

His long legs swept left and right, sweeping past Company Commander Jiang's body that dodged to the left and right. He used his own two hands to block the attack. His arms were also slightly numb from the force of her legs.

Both of them were already drenched in sweat. After a heavy collision, both of them fell onto the snow. When they half-squatted, they did the same thing again and took out their guns to shoot at each other!

Bang! Bang!

Two gunshots were heard. The close-range shots were all aimed at the bulletproof vests to prevent any accidents.

This time, their actions were surprisingly similar. Ye Jian's heart couldn't help but beat wildly.

She knelt on one knee to hold the gun. In order to maintain the accuracy of the shot, she had to maintain the stability, coordination, and relaxation of her muscles. When she was practicing kneeling on one knee to hold the gun, Uncle Chen had taught her a trick. Over time, she had a habit of slightly tightening her elbow so that she could better control the strength of her arm muscles.

Company Commander Jiang was the same as her! He also slightly tightened his elbow!

Uncle Chen had personally told her that such shooting required training from the very beginning. In other words, one had to start when their shooting standard was zero. The technique could not be changed midway.. It was also a skill that he had personally figured out.

Chapter 1746: Come, Let's Talk

Since that was the case, why did Company Commander Jiang also know it?!

The answer was obvious.

When Company Commander Jiang saw the female soldier taking out her gun and shooting, he couldn't help but let out an exclamation. This was a little strange. The female soldier wasn't a female soldier in their army, so why was her shooting movements the same as theirs?

"Company Commander, the enemy has successfully counterattacked and captured the mouth of the calabash. Our side has lost."

Commander Jiang, who was about to take a look at the female soldier's shooting posture, heard the soldier's voice. He stood up and kept his gun. "You win, female soldier."

The entire anti-annihilation training lasted eight hours and was completed at 7:23 p.m.

When the members of Storm Commando came back, they helped each other. Some of them were so cold that their lips were turning purple, while others were so frozen that their knees were stiff when they walked.

It was cold, too cold! It was so cold that it seemed as if they would merge into the snow at any moment.

Li Jinnian rubbed his comrade's swollen fingers with both hands. Although his expression was cold, his brows were furrowed tightly. "Move your feet and start stomping on the ground!"

On the other side, Company Commander Jiang said quickly and anxiously, "Quick, help them to the fire and sit down! Fetch the water, bring some water over! The few of you, boil the snow by the fire!

"Heat up the alcohol and give the brothers with purple lips a few sips!"

How to resist the cold? Company Commander Jiang had his own methods that were quite effective. Taking sips of warm alcohol, using a hot towel to cover one's face and hands... These were more or less enough to let people breathe freely again.

"Come, come, stick these radish slices to the spots where there's frostbite until they're not hot, then roast them over the fire before doing it all over again." Mr. Zhuge from the Blue Wolf unit handed the radish slices that had been roasted until they were hot to the southern brothers who had frostbite on their hands. He said enthusiastically, "These tricks from the people of our country that were handed down from 5,000 years ago will definitely work!"

This group of brothers from the south... They were really hard working! They could actually endure the cold! Look at that man, his toes were frozen to the point of bleeding, yet he could still endure it. He was a true man!

This was a man-made underground cave at the mouth of the calabash. When the Blue Wolf troops were training in the Gobi, they would rest here at night to start a fire. The cave was warm and could eliminate a day's fatigue.

However, this fire could not be started just because they wanted to. If not because they were taking care of their brothers who had just come from the south, there would be no fire for warmth.

Everyone had a mouthful of wine and a bowl of boiled snow water. They leaned against each other, and dozens of people received warmth from the two pits of fire.

Ye Jian was much better than the members of Storm Commando. She had experienced cold weather similar to this and her body had a certain resistance. She didn't drink alcohol and just drank two bowls of warm snow water. Then, she saw Company Commander Jiang walking toward her.

Xia Jinyuan, who was applying frostbite ointment on his comrade, saw this and his gaze became a little tense.

"You must be tired tonight. How is it? Can you keep up?" Company Commander Jiang looked at the young female soldier whose skin was as delicate as a peach. The doubts in his heart grew.

The sun at the northern border was strong. Even the most beautiful female soldier would have their cheeks turn red from the sun in less than half a year. This female soldier was obviously not a female soldier from the northern border. If that was the case, why would she have the unique posture of the Blue Wolf unit?

Chapter 1747: Who Are You?

Commander Jiang's approach didn't surprise Ye Jian much. On the contrary, she had actually been waiting for him to come look for her.

Hearing this, Ye Jian, who was about to stand up and speak, was patted on the shoulder by Company Commander Jiang again. He gestured for her to sit back down with an authoritative tone. "You're welcome. Let's sit and talk. We've been running for half a day. Let's relax during this break time."

He noticed that there was only one female soldier present. She was the only female soldier who followed the male soldiers into the Gobi for training. From this, he could tell that this female soldier was outstanding.

He had never come into contact with female soldiers in his 15 years in the Northern Frontier Army. He had never come into contact with any female soldiers who dared to follow male soldiers and train as hard as male soldiers.

There was a gentle smile on his weathered face. Even his gaze was less sharp. "Don't worry. I'm just curious about your posture. I'm sure you've noticed that our posture is different from others.

"Our posture when holding the gun has been taught to us since the day we joined the Blue Wolf unit. If a soldier not from our unit saw it, their first reaction would be to think that we were unqualified. However, only we know that once we learn this position, we'll be able to use pistols, rifles, and sniper rifles with greater accuracy.

"Of course, not everyone is used to such a position. The soldiers under me are in such a situation as well. Normal standard postures can be used to shoot. However, it would not be the same if the posture was changed to the posture unique to the Blue Wolf unit."

Ye Jian knew this. When she was learning to snipe, Uncle Chen had told her that not everyone was suitable for the posture he created.

Actually, at this moment, Ye Jian already had an answer in her heart. She knew which army Uncle Chen came from.

She knew the answer she wanted to know, but Company Commander Jiang still did not know why she had the unique posture of the Blue Wolf unit.

Pursing her lips slightly, Ye Jian replied with a smile, "We need to train from the first day. I've been using this training method since the first day. It's very effective."

“That’s right. As long as we learn the key points and grasp the key points, our shooting accuracy will be even more precise than when we use the standard posture. However, I want to know how you, who came from the south, learned the unique posture of the Blue Wolf unit.”

At this point, Company Commander Jiang’s voice was a little cold. “This is my question. I need you to answer it.”

“Company Commander Jiang, I can answer your question.”

Behind her, a low and domineering male voice sounded. Xia Jinyuan, who had been paying attention to the situation, walked over and said smoothly, “Only I, the captain, can answer your question.”

Ye Jian was a soldier trained by Uncle Chen. Since her posture was unique to the Blue Wolf unit, Uncle Chen must have retired from here.

There was no need for Ye Jian to be questioned by Company Commander Jiang. He would answer for her.

“Go and help the other comrades. Leave this to me.” Xia Jinyuan walked over calmly and patted Ye Jian’s shoulder. He wanted to tell her to leave everything to him.

Xia Jinyuan saw Ye Jian’s hesitation. She knew that Uncle Chen’s retirement was a ‘sacrifice’.. In other words, the military unit that he was in, including Commander Jiang and the rest, thought that the senior who created the posture unique to the Blue Wolf unit had sacrificed himself and was no longer alive.

Chapter 1748: Peace Only With You Guys

She could leave the questions that she could not answer to him.

Company Commander Jiang looked at this young major who was more powerful than him. He knew very well that this was a soldier who had been to the front line and killed enemies before.

He immediately stood up. “As this is a serious matter, I need to understand it clearly.”

“I know.” It was unique to this particular military unit. It couldn’t be replicated or spread around easily. Xia Jinyuan understood why Commander Jiang was being cautious.

Naturally, Xia Jinyuan was better at handling such matters than her.

How could she explain it? She could not let Commander Jiang know that Uncle Chen was still alive. With Xia Jinyuan’s ability, he could easily hide the information and give Commander Jiang a reasonable explanation.

She believed that he would settle things properly.

However, this also served as a warning to her. When she returned, she needed to learn the standard posture of using a gun to prevent similar problems from happening again.

Uncle Chen's identity could not be exposed. Even though he had been 'sacrificed' for more than ten years, he still had to continue hiding and not let others know about him.

After about ten minutes, Company Commander Jiang found Ye Jian again. The 36-year-old iron-boned man looked at Ye Jian with eyes as gentle as the wind in May in the Northern Frontier. His gaze was bright and warm. "Sorry for my rudeness just now. You're an outstanding female soldier. I look forward to seeing you again on the training ground."

Ye Jian saluted the company commander who was about to return to the military unit.

This was an unyielding soldier. Even the snowstorm didn't make him bend his waist. He was a Northern Frontier soldier who faced the wind and sand like a white poplar, using his straight body to guard the border.

He was a respected soldier. He dedicated his youth to the land that belonged to the country even though it was barren. He was loyal and protected the country with a heart that never changed.

The snowstorm covered their footsteps. The figure at the front had completely disappeared from sight. The figure at the back carried a rifle and followed the other comrades fearlessly.

"The Northern Frontier citizens who live here say that they're the guardians in military uniforms. Life will only be peaceful with them around. Ye Jian, our existence is to protect the lives of the people in our country. This is the belief of all the soldiers in the Blue Wolf unit. It's also the direction that they've been persisting in.

"Company Commander Jiang asked me to pass on a message to you. Hold on to your initial belief. Use the gun in your hand to guard this territory and complete your mission as a soldier."

The belief of all the soldiers in the Blue Wolf unit was a legacy. Uncle Chen had walked out of this unit and left behind a legend. He also left behind his dedication as a soldier.

Generation after generation had passed. Even if one's body disappeared, one's faith was like steel that would never be destroyed.

When they walked out of the cave at five o'clock in the morning the next day, the entire Gobi was white like a forgotten world. It was so quiet that it did not seem normal.

Today, they had to walk 40 kilometers into the desert. After a night of rest, the members of Storm Commando saw that the snowstorm had stopped. They could not help but smile.

They were not afraid of wind and snow, but they could not help enjoying a moment of good weather.

"The weather is good, it's suitable for a walk."

"The sun is out. Let's go!"

"It's even better to drink some wine before leaving."

With the arrival of a new day and the arrival of new training, the team members were just as optimistic.

Chapter 1749: Their Journey

The weather was good and suitable for training. The white snow fell, stretching for thousands of miles without end. Light shone through the clouds, illuminating the pure white world without any filth.

The members of the two teams who had finished counting their equipment quickly lined up under Captain Xia Jinyuan's cold gaze. There was no need for them to form teams anymore. They just looked at the linear formation.

"All of you!" The young major who was at the front of the line stood tall and straight. His voice was like a bamboo breaking. Everyone's attention was instantly focused on him.

Ye Jian always knew that Xia Jinyuan was an extremely charming man. He had the majestic aura of a soldier and the elegance of a man.

When he was under the sun, the Xia Jinyuan she knew was a gentleman. When he was in the dark, the Xia Jinyuan she knew was a bullet. He had a frightening sharpness.

At this moment, Xia Jinyuan was standing in the sunlight and facing his comrades. Although his gaze was sharp, it was filled with encouragement. He was like the compass of the entire team and their pillar of support. With him, it felt that all difficulties could be solved easily.

He briefly explained the important training program for today. They would start with the 40-kilometer hike today followed by tactical training, which was mainly for desert attacks.

"Let's continue with the same method. There's no so-called balance between work and rest along the way, nor is there any logistics support. As for frostbite and injuries, we'll deal with them on our own. Do you have any other opinions? Alright, if you don't, then let's set off in a line."

Xia Jinyuan finished his sentence in one go. He asked his comrades if they had any opinions but stopped them from voicing out.

He was just being polite. They shouldn't take it too seriously.

At this point, who would still have something to say? What should they say? Nothing at all. They just needed to continue training obediently.

When they set off, it was still the same as yesterday. 44 figures were carrying guns and backpacks as they advanced into the desert in single file.

When looked at from afar, it was like a majestic dragon in the snow. The sight was extremely shocking to the eyes.

The desert training was even harder than the Gobi training. They had to roll and crawl in the sand. Sometimes, they had to rush down the high sand slope and shoot at the same time. At the end of the day, their bones seemed to come loose. They needed to massage themselves at night.

Ye Jian gritted her teeth and endured it. She only had one belief in her heart. Since she was here, she wouldn't be worse than anyone else!

As the only female soldier of the two teams, she worked hard to stimulate the male soldiers' desire to fight. Every day, she invested 200% of her energy into completing the day's training.

These people, who were devoting themselves wholeheartedly to training, seemed to have forgotten the time and the date. They were already training at sunrise, and they were still training at sunset.

Not only did they train in the day but they also trained in the middle of the night. On the fourth day of training, when the entire team was exhausted, a sharp whistle sounded from outside the sandpit.

All the team members woke up from their deep sleep and put on their equipment as quickly as possible to gather.

"If you don't arrive within three minutes, prepare yourself to be punished. My punishment is to have you strip naked and run in the icy desert. Demon King Li's punishment is a little different from mine. Those who are late will receive their punishment from Demon King Li."

Xia Jinyuan, who was waiting for his team members to gather, was calculating the time on his watch as he spoke.. His comrades who heard his words felt their hearts turn cold.

Chapter 1750: The Punishments I Set

Demon King Li's punishment was even harsher than Q King's.

The purpose of an emergency assembly was to maintain the combat strength and discipline of the team. They had to be vigilant at all times, and as long as the order was given, they had to quickly fight.

A normal unit required the members to assemble within five minutes after putting on all equipment. Storm Commando and the Xueyu unit had to assemble within three minutes because they were special forces soldiers.

A sharp whistle sounded. The two teams appeared in front of Xia Jinyuan and Li Jinnian at the fastest speed possible.

Ye Jian, who was sleeping alone, woke up from her nightmare. She didn't even realize where she was for a few seconds.

She had a nightmare. She dreamed of her previous life. Before she died, she dreamed that she took a glass of water from her colleagues who were usually on good terms with her. After she finished drinking it, she went to the hotel manager's office. She was pressed onto the office table by that beast. His dirty hands grabbed her shirt and dug into it.

What happened after that?

The sharp whistle sounded again. It was more rapid than the previous time. Ye Jian's body twitched and she blinked. She was confused, helpless, and sad.

“One more minute, one last minute.” Xia Jinyuan’s voice came from the empty space ahead. He looked in the direction where Ye Jian was.

It was a little unusual for her, who was always quick to act, to not have appeared even now.

Ye Jian woke up from the second emergency whistle. She woke up completely from the dream that she didn’t want to recall.

She was not the Ye Jian who woke up too late in her previous life. She was a soldier now. She was training now. She still needed to go overseas to fight!

Ye Jian woke up and stood up. There was no sadness, confusion, or helplessness in her dark eyes anymore. There was only coldness that was clearer than the moonlight.

She put on her equipment as quickly as she could and picked up the gun that had never left her hand. She was wearing a helmet and looked like a proud soldier. She was calm and confident.

‘All the best, Ye Jian!’ She encouraged herself in her heart and ran toward the gathering point with a cold expression.

The numbers on the timer changed very quickly. The dim blue light reflected on the young major’s face. He was holding the timer. His handsome eyebrows looked even colder than the crescent moon in the sky.

There were still 25 seconds left. He looked in the direction of two o’clock again. She had not appeared yet!

Li Jinnian also noticed this and replied calmly, “She’ll be late, and my punishment this time is severe.”

“Your punishment has always been heavy.” Xia Jinyuan pursed his lips. He wasn’t afraid of the demon king’s punishment but he was worried about Ye Jian. She was never late but she was late today.

Was there something wrong with her body?

He didn’t think so. He didn’t notice anything abnormal with her body when he gave her the textbook last night. Her mental state was also quite good. After training, other than the tiredness on her face, everything else was fine.

Xia Jinyuan’s gaze turned slightly cold. Since it wasn’t a problem with her body, it meant that her vigilance hadn’t reached its peak. Once he relaxed after high-intensity training, even his vigilance would drop.

“My punishments are indeed severe, but they’re all for good reason,” Li Jinnian said calmly as he glanced at the watch in his hand and looked around.. His cold eyes narrowed slightly.
