

BOOT CAMP 1961

Chapter 1961 Next Move

One could see a bulletproof glass door once the elevator doors opened. The man swiped the card and invited Ye Jian and Principal Chen in while he stood at the entrance of the elevator and waited.

Hou Zi had been waiting for Ye Jian in his office. The moment Ye Jian stepped into the hotel, he had received the news.

He personally brewed the tea and served it to Principal Chen. He smiled and said, "Please have some tea. I'll talk to Little Ye first. Please listen and voice out if you have any suggestions to make."

Suggestions?

Principal Chen looked at Hou Zi quietly. Although he had never been involved in the underworld before, he had heard of Hou Zi's name. He was a famous boss in the Southern Province and even other countries... He was also a boss in the underworld. Both the legal and illegal communities had to show him some respect.

He had heard of him before, but he never expected him to be so refined.

Principal Chen took the tea from him and smiled. "You're welcome. If there's anything about Ye Jian, I'll definitely listen to it."

He didn't know that Ye Jian was in contact with Hou Zi. When he received Hou Zi's help, he was shocked.

"It's indeed about Little Ye. Ah Yuan has asked me many times to take care of Little Ye. Hence, I know a thing or two about Little Ye. It can be said that Little Ye's matter is my business too. I'll support her no matter what she wants to do." Hou Zi was a loyal person. When he spoke, he was calm and had the demeanor of a general. As he spoke, he explained how he knew Ye Jian.

Principal Chen understood immediately. He was relieved.

Seeing this, Hou Zi smiled calmly and said to Ye Jian, "Is Sun Yaozu's matter not over yet? How far has it progressed? Can you tell me?"

"Little Six instructed me to help you if you were to make a big move in the Southern Province. I thought that you would be making a big move this time, but this senior's expression changed a little and he thinks that your move might not be as big as I think. You might be doing something bigger in the dark."

"You're Little Six's girlfriend, so I'm your Brother Zi. We share such a relationship. Little Ye, you can tell me what to do next."

"You need to tell me about your plans. My identity is much simpler than yours."

This sentence made Principal Chen, who was quietly drinking tea, raise his gaze slightly. That was right. It was indeed easier for Hou Zi to do certain things compared to Ye Jian due to his status.

However, dragging Hou Zi down... was a little immoral.

Ye Jian thought so too. She smiled bitterly and said, "Brother Zi, you have helped me too much. If you continue to help me, you'll be trapped. Let me tell you the truth, Brother Zi. I have a grudge against Sun Yaozu because he killed my mother. There are too many things behind my mother's death. I'm afraid that if I'm not careful, everyone who is related to me will be in trouble."

Commissioner Cai had clearly told her that her mother's death was very complicated. Some things were still classified and could not be revealed at all. They could only be dug out with time.

She needed to dig through the mud that had accumulated over time to find out the truth behind her mother's sacrifice and her murderer... She really did not dare to let too many people get involved, even though... many people were already involved.

Chapter 1962 Action

Hou Zi smiled when he heard that. "If you want me to get involved with military matters, I can tell you now that I definitely won't. However, if it's dealing with Sun Yaozu, it won't be a problem."

"If Little Six were here, he would definitely think of me first. He wouldn't even trouble his childhood friends. Little Ye, just tell me what your plan is. I'll definitely help you. If I can't, I'll tell it to you straight."

Then, he looked at Principal Chen who had been silent. "Senior, what do you think?"

This old senior who cared about Little Ye from the bottom of her heart would know what to do. It was more suitable for him to speak.

Hou Zi couldn't be wrong. Otherwise, he wouldn't have invited Principal Chen to his office.

"Girl, tell me what you plan to do first." Principal Chen was very willing to get someone to help Ye Jian because Sun Yaozu was a gangster.

Ye Jian was silent for a long time. When Principal Chen spoke again, she lowered her eyes and said her thoughts, "I want to handle Sun Yaozu. I also want to ask him some questions."

Since it concerned a life, her plan was to settle it herself.

"I won't step out to settle Boss Sun, but I can provide you with some convenience," Hou Zi said calmly. Even when he was clearly talking about a big matter, he would make it sound like a small matter.

Ye Jian looked at him and said, "I'm waiting for Sun Yaozu to take the initiative to look for me. He became famous after his apprenticeship. Even if I have to investigate, I have to let the police know that Sun Yaozu was the one who committed murder but got killed instead."

He had said that the girlfriend that Little Six found was a ruthless character. Look at how things were arranged... Everything was quite well-planned.

The matter was settled.

Principal Chen, who wanted to stay behind, was forcefully sent back to the military by Ye Jian. She didn't allow him to interfere. Hou Zi repeatedly guaranteed that nothing would go wrong, so Principal Chen had no choice but to return to the military. He was worried that something might happen to Ye Jian.

It was the third day since Sun Yaozu found out that Ye Jian had gone to look for Grandma Ye. He found out from his wife, Ye Zhixiang. He looked at his wife who didn't know anything and immediately took a car to the People's Hospital.

When he came out of the People's Hospital, his face, which had stitches and bandages around his eyes, revealed a fierce look.

How dare that wretched girl come to their door?

He would look for her too!

She wanted to settle the score? Fine, he would settle it with her!

If he couldn't kill her this time, he would no longer have the surname Sun!

Grandma Ye couldn't bear to let her daughter and son-in-law take the risk. She wanted Ye Zhifan to come forward but he hadn't been coming to the hospital recently. She couldn't fulfill her plan.

Since her son-in-law, Sun Yaozu, had come over, he could only settle it himself to prevent any unexpected troubles.

Ye Jian didn't let Sun Yaozu search for too long. She wanted him to find her, so how could she waste time? She wanted to meet Sun Yaozu more than anyone else.

"Miss Ye, there's someone following behind you. Don't turn back and keep walking forward."

Walking along the dimly lit street, Ye Jian knew that someone was following her even before Hou Zi sent his men. "I know. Don't get too close to me."

It was a street that led to a town in the city. The residential buildings were all low-rise buildings from the 1970s and 1980s. The electric lines above her head were dense like a spider web, and the streets on the left and right were narrow. Only bicycles and motorcycles could go along them.

Ye Jian had been out and about for two days. Finally, the person sent by Sun Yaozu arrived.

Chapter 1963 Dragged Away

In the depths of the alley, a person was walking hurriedly as if there was a terrifying monster behind him. In the blink of an eye, he turned into another alley. When he confirmed that there was no trouble, he leaned against the cold wall and gasped for breath. At the same time, he hurriedly knocked on the rusty iron door of his house.

The lights in the house were turned on. A woman answered from inside, "Coming." She opened the door and then opened the metal gate outside. Before the door was fully opened, a frightened pedestrian squeezed in with a frightened look on their face. "Hurry into the house!" His voice was soft and hurried as if he was afraid of being seen. The woman was startled. "What happened?" She turned off the lights.

The man, who worked overtime until eleven o'clock today, found a chair in the dark. When he sat down, he realized that even his legs were trembling. "A group of hooligans blocked a young lady. I took out a stick and wanted to help, but when I saw that the other party had even taken out knives, I was so scared that I almost peed my pants. I didn't dare to help and hurried back."

They were in a town in the city. It was the town with the most disorderly security measures. Robbery cases were common here.

However... this was the first time he had ever encountered a group of people using knives to block someone.

The woman was so frightened that she sucked in a breath of cold air. She was so nervous and started stuttering. "Y-Y-You... Are you alright? That... That incident is none of your business. Our family depends on you. If anything happens to you, who will we depend on?" "I won't care about it. I won't do anything. I don't dare to care even if I want to. All five or six of them brought knives." The man was scared out of his wits. He wiped his face and asked the woman to pour him a glass of cold water to calm himself down. After a while, he sighed. "That young lady, sigh. I reckon..." The woman saw that he was still talking about it and scolded in a low voice, "Alright, let's not interfere with other people's matters. Just pretend you never saw anything. Shut your mouth and stop causing trouble for our family. Do you hear me?!"

"I know, I know. I just feel..."

"What's the use of that? Do you think you can beat those people who are wielding knives? Ignore them and go take a shower. You still have to rush to work early tomorrow. We need to pay another round of tuition fees when school reopens. Your parents are still looking forward to you sending money back to your brother so he can marry a wife. Don't bother about other things."

The woman was afraid that he would cause trouble for them, so she scolded the man in a low voice. The voices in the house became softer and softer until they gradually became quiet.

On the other side of the alley, the sounds of feet grinding against the ground gradually disappeared. The two men who were keeping watch looked around and said to their other two companions in a low voice, "There's no one. Quickly carry her to the car."

Their footsteps were messy as they stepped on the bumpy cement road. The sound of a car engine could be heard in the quiet night. A van quickly crossed the street and disappeared.

"Brother Zi, they've taken Miss Ye away." Someone looked in the direction where the van sped past. He was holding a phone that emitted a faint blue light in his hand as he talked to Hou Zi. "It's heading toward the south of the city. It's taking the middle lane." Hou Zi had already returned home. He was making supper for Xia Yiwei, who had not gotten off work yet. While wearing a blue and white checkered apron, he turned off the stove and walked out of the kitchen. "Keep an eye on the situation. Call me if you need anything."

"Brother Zi, can Miss Ye really do it alone?" the assistant asked worriedly. "Boss Sun sent over six people with knives. I'm afraid Miss Ye will be at a disadvantage."

Most importantly, if Miss Ye suffered a loss, how would Brother Zi explain it to Sister Wei? How would he explain to the crown prince of the Xia family?

Chapter 1964 My One And Only

Now that he had become a good man, Hou Zi put on an apron and sat on the sofa. He picked up his phone and started to speak into it, "The Miss Ye you're talking about is not a simple person. One day, you guys can ask her for guidance.

"Arrange the car. When you see her coming out, pick her up immediately. Clean up the scene. Don't leave any trails behind." Since he had agreed to it, he naturally had to finish the job properly. Leaving traces behind for others to catch was never his way of doing things.

The doorbell rang. Hou Zi immediately stood up. "I'll hang up first. If there's anything, I'll contact you." Before his assistant could say anything, he quickly hung up the phone and walked away.

Xia Yiwei, who was wearing a deep blue coat, braved the cold and walked in. Before she could change her shoes, Hou Zi hugged her and brought her to the living room where the heater was turned on. "You've worked hard enough. How many days have you been working overtime? You're so heartless to let your husband stay alone in the house every day."

On the outside, the mighty Third Master Hou who could shake the entire Southern Province with just a stomp of his feet was a filial husband when he returned home. A successful man like him shouldn't have to worry that his woman would mess around at home. However, when it came to Hou Zi, he was completely different. He was afraid that this heartless woman in his arms would abandon him again.

Xia Yiwei laid lazily in her man's embrace. She said weakly, "Don't you always bicker with me and say you want to go back to the Xia family with me? Let's go back together on Chinese New Year's Eve. I don't want to leave you alone for the new year."

She spoke softly, but Hou Zi felt as though he was sitting on a roller coaster. He suddenly rushed up into the clouds and fell back down to the ground. He asked her with uncertainty, "Baby, are you talking nonsense?"

"Why? You don't want to go home with me for the new year?" Xia Yiwei, who seemed weak just now, suddenly sat up from his embrace. She glanced at him from the corners of her eyes, her aura instantly becoming stronger. She looked like a queen. "Then forget it. Pretend I didn't say anything." It seems that she meant it!

Hou Zi, who was pleasantly surprised in his heart, controlled his expression and said in a low voice, "You have to keep your word. How can you be so casual? I have to prepare some tea too. The old master likes to drink tea, so I have to prepare some good tea leaves. The old madam likes small ornaments like embroidery, so I have to find a few good ones too. It's best if they're vintage items.

"You have to give me a list of what your uncles, aunts, brothers, and sisters-in-law like. It's my first time visiting, so I have to be polite. I can't be rude."

"What about your brothers? What do they like? The Xia family is full of grief and sorrow. Apart from you, there's only one other daughter from your aunt's family. I have to put in some effort for this younger sister."

When it came to marriage, Hou Zi was just like a normal man. He was afraid that he would leave a bad impression when he went to visit for the first time. He wanted to make it perfect.

Xia Yiwei looked at him as he spoke seriously. The smile in her eyes was already revealed. She and the man had been gone in circles for nearly 20 years before finally ending up together.

She watched as the once handsome young man on Chang'an Street became the mature and steady middle-aged man in front of her. Time had treated him well. He didn't become uglier and uglier. Instead, he became more and more handsome. His entire body was filled with a charm that made women fall for him. His peach blossom eyes were especially deep and reserved. If one looked at them for too long, their heart would beat faster. Although his face was handsome, what fascinated her even more was his feelings for her. In the past 20 years, he never had another woman. He had always kept himself clean.

In the past, he had said to the young her, "You'll be my one and only. My feelings for you will never change."

Chapter 1965 A Gentleman's Promise

For nearly 20 years, she was indeed his one and only. It was the same in the past and the same now. He had always kept the promise he made when he pursued her back then. She was his one and only.

A gentleman's promise was carved into his bones.

Xia Yiwei raised her slender arm and hooked it around Hou Zi's neck. She lowered her head and kissed his sexy lips that were still chattering non-stop. "Third Master Hou, did you plan to go home with me a long time ago? Otherwise, why do you know so much about my family's hobbies?"

"You even know that the old madam likes embroidery. Everyone thinks that she likes to read."

Hou Zi was the least affected by Xia Yiwei's teasing. His lips were gently nibbled by her. His sexy Adam's apple moved slightly, and even his breathing became heavier. "Of course, I have to find out about these things. Otherwise, how can I avoid getting into trouble?"

"Baby, you guys are a big family while I'm all alone. I need the support of the Yue family. With the support of the Yue family, I can..." He turned the tables. He turned around and pressed the woman in his arms onto himself. The pair of peach blossom eyes that had captivated countless women and scared countless opponents surged slightly. "Only then can I lock you by my side. You'll never think of escaping from me for the rest of your life."

Meeting Xia Yiwei was the biggest disaster in his life. But for her, he was willing to do anything even if it meant eternal damnation.

Xia Yiwei smiled coquettishly. Her eyes were filled with deep affection as she looked at the man who wanted to be with her for the rest of his life. As he kissed her lips, she closed her eyes and murmured softly, "If I give birth to a child, you'll definitely be able to lock me by your side."

"Yes, my queen." In front of the only woman he loved, the all-powerful Hou Zi tried his best to please his lover. 'You will be my one and only. My feelings for you will never change...' He would use his entire life to fulfill this promise.

The cold wind blew in the dark night, and the crackling of firecrackers could be heard somewhere, bringing some noise to the cold night.

The assistant Hou Zi sent out followed the other party all the way to the villa complex in the south of the city. He watched as the van stopped in front of a villa that had its outer wall decorated. He said to the person beside him, "Drive the van to the back door. Be alert. I'll contact you two anytime."

"Okay!" The two men nodded and lowered their caps to cover most of their faces. Then, they straightened their collars and left.

Bang! Just then, the door of the other party's van opened. Two men pushed Ye Jian out of the car and warned her in a low voice, "Be obedient. If you dare to play any tricks, I'll break your legs!"

Ye Jian, who had a bag over her head, didn't know where she had been brought to. She was pushed to the ground, and her shoulders shook violently. It was as if she wanted to shake off the two hands pressing on her shoulders. The two men holding her became fiercer. The first man who jumped down quickly walked to the front and entered the villa. Soon, Ye Jian was brought in too.

There was the smell of paint in the air and the smell of damp cement... It seemed to be a construction site.

Ye Jian, whose hands were tied, instantly determined where she was when she was pushed in.

Following that, someone said, "Why are you only here now? Boss has been waiting for more than half an hour. He even lost his temper just now. Quickly bring her over." "This girl is very fierce. She only became more obedient after we used our knives. She even bit one of the brothers. F*ck, we'll deal with her later." The man who was in charge of capturing Ye Jian cursed and urged the people behind him. "Hurry up and bring her in. Boss is not in a good mood."

Chapter 1966 End Her

After the leader finished scolding, he instructed the other three men, "The three of you, guard outside and don't let anyone near. Open your eyes wide. If you make the boss unhappy, all of us will be in trouble."

A total of six people went to capture Ye Jian. Now, three would stay outside to guard the place while the other three would go in together.

Ye Jian secretly moved her tightly bound hands. When she walked through the dark corridor, her right hand suddenly bent strangely. Her hands, which were originally tied, were released for a minute.

She secretly tugged at the rope. Not bad, it was indeed very sturdy. She would use it to deal with Sun Yaozu later. Ye Jian didn't move immediately. She only wanted to deal with Sun Yaozu. These people weren't within her scope. There was no need to kill more people.

Ye Jian, whose head was still covered, felt that she had entered a very spacious room. Perhaps it was a new room. The air seemed to be filled with dust.

Then, she was pushed down the cement stairs. There was still dust and dirt everywhere. After walking down the stairs, she could clearly feel that the air was not flowing freely anymore. It seemed she had entered a sealed space.

A basement? Had she been taken to a basement?

When her toes touched a hard object, Ye Jian deliberately lost her balance in order to confirm her guess. She staggered forward and kicked the object with her toes.

After a series of echoes, Ye Jian knew that she was right. They were in a basement.

The man walking in front heard the commotion and turned around to glare at Ye Jian. He glanced at Ye Jian, who was being dragged along the way. His two accomplices said angrily, "Hold her steady. If she falls to her death, we'll be equally unlucky."

It was obvious that they were afraid of Sun Yaozu.

Ye Jian smiled slightly. This kind of fear did not stem from awe. Instead, it was the fear of getting their money transactions ended. It was the most unreliable sort of 'fear'.

In that case, she wasn't afraid that these people would really protect Sun Yaozu with their lives. They were only after money and wouldn't be willing to sacrifice their lives for him. Brother Zi reminded her to pay attention to the four bodyguards who Sun Yaozu always kept close to him. Two of them were foreign bodyguards from South Asia. These bodyguards usually had blood on their hands.

She was wary of those two.

There was one good thing about being a foreign bodyguard. They could shift the blame. After the man in front finished speaking, Ye Jian could faintly hear the echo of the roar coming from the basement. She couldn't hear it clearly, but it made Ye Jian understand that this basement probably had more than one floor. There were at least two floors.

It was Sun Yaozu's voice. He never had much patience. After becoming the boss, he became more restrained. However, he didn't have any patience toward Ye Jian.

Not long after his men went out, he started asking questions. Ye Jian hadn't arrived even when it was nine o'clock, so he got furious. When his men caught Ye Jian, the only two chairs in the room were already broken into pieces.

When he heard that Ye Jian was brought here, he picked up a broken table leg and spat viciously. "Drag her in!"

That wretched girl! She was finally in his hands today. Tonight was the time to end her life!

No, he couldn't do it immediately!

Back then, Sun Xueqing, that b*tch, blinded one of his eyes. No matter what, he had to blind her daughter's eyes first! He had to slowly torture that wretched girl!

A savage look flashed across Sun Yaozu's eyes as he let out a few sinister laughs. His already fierce face instantly resembled a ferocious monster that could eat people. Gritting his teeth, he said to the two bodyguards who stayed close to him, "Do whatever I tell you to do later. Do you hear me?"

Chapter 1967 Confrontation

"Yes, Boss." The two bodyguards nodded. Their job was to do whatever their boss told them to do.

It didn't take long for Ye Jian and the rest to go from the first floor to the second floor. Sun Yaozu had just finished giving his orders when he heard footsteps. His single eye was gloomy-looking as he let out a cold snort. He stood in front of the four bodyguards and waited for Ye Jian to come in.

When he saw Ye Jian being dragged in by his men, he laughed heartily. After laughing, he said ruthlessly, "Remove the bag over her head."

There was a light in the basement. Under the snow-white light, Ye Jian, who had been in the dark for more than an hour, couldn't get used to the light. Sun Yaozu stared at her and mocked her proudly, "Tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk. Military academy cadet? Just look at you now. Hahaha. Are military cadets as cowardly as you?"

The two foreign bodyguards stood beside him. The other two bodyguards guarded the exit that led to the first floor and the second-floor garage respectively. Ye Jian narrowed her eyes and scanned her surroundings. Finally, she looked at the exit where there was wind. It was the exit that led to the second-floor garage.

"Sun Yaozu, you're indeed bold," said Ye Jian coldly, "You dare to kidnap a cadet. It seems that you're not afraid of being caught."

As if he had heard a joke, Sun Yaozu raised his head and laughed loudly. "Catch me? Hahaha, girl, I'm the one who caught you! Who the f*ck dares to catch me?"

"Who am I? I have money and people! You're just a poor cadet. How can you fight with me?" Sun Yaozu seemed to realize that there shouldn't be too many people here. He shouted at the three people who brought Ye Jian in, "F*ck, why are you standing here? Get out!"

The three of them were already used to being yelled at. They quickly turned around and left.

After the three of them left, Sun Yaozu glared at Ye Jian fiercely. "You want to find trouble with me? Who the f*ck do you think you are?! The old lady said that you wanted to kill my whole family. Stupid girl, I'll kill you first!"

"It's normal for me to want to kill your entire family. You were responsible for my mother's death back then!" Ye Jian's eyes were as cold as water. She said calmly, "You killed my mother, so I want to kill your entire family. Why are you angry?"

Ye Jian naturally brought the topic back to the past. Now that Sun Yaozu thought that victory was in his hands, he would definitely say a few more words to show that he was the 'winner'.

He had already kicked out the men who kidnapped her, leaving only his personal bodyguards with him. More to the point, he knew he might say something, so he didn't want too many people to know.

As long as she brought up the topic, he would definitely bring up the past.

Although Sun Yaozu didn't have much patience, he didn't tell Ye Zhixiang about what had happened back then. It was obvious that he had a tight mouth. When Ye Jian mentioned the past incident, his laughter got louder.

"So what if you've found out something? Your mother made me blind back then. I can only take revenge on you!" He took out a small knife from his pocket and shot a look at his bodyguards. "Hold her down!"

Ye Jian pretended to be afraid and retreated. She said angrily, "My mother should have fully blinded you back then! She trusted you so much but you betrayed her!"

Chapter 1968 Who Will Have The Last Laugh?

"Hahaha, you wretched girl. Your mother called me her little brother back then. Who else could she trust if she didn't trust me? Betrayal? Pfft! I did a good job and earned a lot of money. How could she make me give up on being rich with just a few words?"

Sun Yaozu stood at the same spot and said fiercely. His other two bodyguards walked toward Ye Jian.

Ye Jian, who was still retreating to the corner of the wall, heard that her mother previously called Sun Yaozu her little brother. Her eyes darkened.

Her grandfather did not have any sons!

"My mom doesn't have a younger brother. She only has one younger sister, Sun Dongqing! Sun Yaozu, don't try to claim connections with my mom." If she really called Sun Yaozu her little brother, there were more things that needed to be explained.

When her mother died, she was holding a dagger in her hand. There were no signs of fighting around her, which meant that Sun Yaozu, who was stabbed by her, was actually beside her mother at that time. Her mother discovered something, so she hurriedly raised the dagger and stabbed him. Unfortunately, she was shot to death before she could finish him off.

"My surname is Sun. Your mother's surname was Sun too. Is there a problem with her calling me her little brother?" Sun Yaozu smiled sinisterly. His fierce eyes were filled with killing intent as he stared at Ye Jian. He gritted his teeth and said, "I'll remember the injury that blinded my eyes! I'll make you pay for it today!" "Catch her and press her to the ground!"

When the two bodyguards heard the order, they didn't hesitate any further. Instead, they pounced on Ye Jian.

They thought that they would be able to lay their hands on Ye Jian easily. In the end, Ye Jian rolled on the spot and dodged agilely. At the same time, she rushed toward the exit that she noticed earlier.

If there was wind, it meant that the flow of air was smooth.

This was the exit that led to the underground garage. The bodyguard from South Asia was guarding this spot. He didn't expect the girl who was dragged in by the hooligans to be so agile. When he reacted and reached out to grab her, he only managed to grab a corner of Ye Jian's clothes.

Within a few seconds, Ye Jian rushed out of everyone's sight. Even Sun Yaozu, who had been staring at her intently, didn't have time to react.

When he finally realized what was going on, he roared angrily, "F*ck! Go after her! I f*cking hired a bunch of trash!"

The four bodyguards lifted their sleeves and chased after her.

Ye Jian had already rushed out of the exit of the second-floor garage and was heading toward the entrance of the villa. Now, she needed the people sent by Hou Zi to distract the bodyguards.

Hou Zi's assistant wasn't an ordinary assistant. Ye Jian walked past him and saw a few figures chasing after her. He immediately knew what he should do.

Ye Jian heard the meow of a wild cat and quickly hid. Soon, four figures were seen running over.

The three people guarding the villa were already tied up. Even the three people who were chased out by Sun Yaozu were tied up and thrown into the van they drove over.

Six of them were tied up while four bodyguards were chased after her. Sun Yaozu was the only one left in the huge villa.

When he saw Ye Jian coming back, before he could say anything, Ye Jian knocked the back of his neck with a broken wooden chair leg... His fat body instantly turned limp as he fell down.

When the two people who came in with Ye Jian saw this, they lifted Sun Yaozu and left without saying anything.

Chapter 1969 Who Will Win?

The people who came to help Ye Jian were the most trustworthy subordinates of Hou Zi. After receiving Hou Zi's orders, they only did their work and didn't ask much. They just did whatever Ye Jian needed them to do. They didn't ask any questions.

Sun Yaozu's body was wide and fat. It took quite a bit of effort for the two of them to lift him up. By the time they carried him to the car, their faces were flushed red and they were sweating profusely.

"Miss Ye, Brother Zi told you to go to Mount Dalang. There are people waiting for you there." After putting Sun Yaozu in the car, the driver who was guarding the car jumped out and handed the car keys to Ye Jian. "Leave the rest to us."

They needed to capture the two foreign bodyguards and bring them to Mount Dalang as well. They also needed to leave behind a trail of fake evidence so that Miss Ye, who is under Brother Zi's care, could be safe and sound.

As Principal Chen thought, Hou Zi's help had saved Ye Jian a lot of trouble. He was capable enough to protect Ye Jian. This was why Xia Jinyuan asked Hou Zi for help.

Hou Zi, who had a lot of influence in the Southern Province, had retreated from the underground world but it didn't affect his actions.

"Thank you for your hard work. Those two bodyguards are from South Asia. They might have retired from the government. Be careful." Since things had come to this, Ye Jian didn't hold back anymore. She took the car keys and drove away quickly under the gazes of the few people.

Mount Dalang was the largest natural forest park in the Southern Province. Many places were classified as protected areas and prohibited human development. It was indeed a simple matter to deal with one or two people in the depths of the forest.

Sun Yaozu was forcibly awakened by the cold. The pain in his neck made him shudder violently. He was still somewhat confused as he opened his single eye. Soon, he realized that his surroundings were very strange. A gust of cold wind blew past. The pitch-black surroundings made him stand up.

Damn it, what kind of place was this?!

Before he could stand properly, Sun Yaozu suddenly remembered that he was knocked out by Ye Jian... After that, he didn't remember anything!

They were in the mountains!

Sun Yaozu, who had completely woken up, roared angrily, "You damned girl! You actually threw me to the mountain!"

He was careless and ended up being tricked by the wretched girl. Gritting his teeth, Sun Yaozu held onto the cold tree and said with a sinister look, "Stupid girl, just you wait!"

At this moment, he had yet to realize the danger he was in. A wild animal had crawled through the frozen bushes. The sudden sound frightened Sun Yaozu so much that he jumped. Then, he raised his leg and kicked at the tree he was leaning against. He cursed, "F*ck! Here..."

Before he could finish his sentence, his raised left leg was pulled back. His entire body crashed into a tree. Sun Yaozu, who was seeing stars, realized that his legs were tied up. He tried to kick the tree but tripped himself instead.

Ye Jian, who had been looking at him calmly, said coldly, "Don't tell me you really thought that I only threw you into the mountain and would stop there?"

She went through so much trouble just to bring him up to the mountain? Ha, he was really full of himself!

Her calm voice was enough to make Sun Yaozu's heart sink. He hit his head and stood up again. He looked around at the pitch-black surroundings and roared, "Stupid girl, step out!"

"Back then, I was also thrown into the snow by your family. Didn't you say that you wanted me to have a taste of being stabbed in the eye? Then I'll let you have a taste of being frozen to death first. As for you wanting to stab my eye, I won't give you the chance."

Chapter 1970 Revenge

Ye Jian, who was stepping on a pile of clothes, laughed coldly. She said coldly and slowly, "It's not a pleasant feeling to be frozen to your death. Even so, I hope you enjoy it."

After being reminded by Ye Jian, Sun Yaozu was shocked and angry. He realized that he was only wearing his shirt and pants... No wonder it was so cold. It turned out that his clothes were all taken off by the wicked girl!

No, that wasn't right. This was the mountain. It was impossible for her to go up the mountain alone... There was someone secretly helping her!

Sun Yaozu, who was shivering all over, hugged his arms tightly. The murderous glint in his eyes did not diminish. He really thought of himself as a local tyrant who could not be offended. He even shouted as usual, "You want to play with me? I'll play you to death, you fatherless child!"

Sun Yaozu, who had not realized that his life was about to end, still had the confidence to say these words because he was now rich and had resources.

In his eyes, Ye Jian was just a little cadet who had no one to protect her. Did she want to kill him? Sun Yaozu had never even considered that.

When Hou Zi's subordinates heard that, they couldn't help but look up. Boss Sun was the only one who didn't realize that he was about to die.

"Am I not playing with you now?" Ye Jian laughed softly. Her laughter was colder than the wind. "What you just said is exactly what I want to do too. If I don't kill you tonight, I won't leave."

She said it softly and gently. The cold wind blew into everyone's ears.

Sun Yaozu did not feel anything. Instead, he raised his head and laughed out loud. "Play me to death? Hahaha, you, an orphan, want to play me to death? Hahaha, are you f*cking kidding me?

"I have plenty of money in the Southern Province. I have people above and below me. How dare you, a mere cadet, go against me? You damned girl! I can crush you to death with one finger!

"Let go of me first, then kowtow ten times. Only then will I consider letting you off! Hahaha, play with me? Hahaha, what do you have to play with me? Money? Manpower? Do you have those? Hahaha... Hahaha!"

He smiled arrogantly. He was certain that Ye Jian wouldn't dare to do anything to him. That was what he thought. Ye Jian smiled. He didn't believe her? Fine, they would start, then.

The more he didn't believe it, the more afraid he would be in the end. He was smug now, but he would beg for mercy later.

She did not respond, and the surroundings fell silent. The cold wind blew past the pine trees that had frozen over. It brought with it a bone-chilling cold that froze all the blood in one's body.

After laughing wildly, Sun Yaozu wanted to wait for Ye Jian to kowtow and apologize to him. When the surroundings were so quiet that only his breathing could be heard, he started looking around.

It was too quiet, so quiet that he felt like he was the only one here. It was so cold that the joints in his entire body were almost stiff.

He started to panic, and his confidence started to diminish.

"You damned girl, get the f*ck out here! F*ck
you!"

Sun Yaozu roared loudly, but he was only met with dead silence.

Sun Yaozu roared a few more times but still received no response. Sun Yaozu, who was shivering from the cold, began to realize that he was in danger.

He stopped roaring and crouched down, trying to untie the ropes that bound his legs.

No matter how hard he tried, he couldn't untie them. It was getting colder and colder. His fingers were getting stiffer by the second but he couldn't untie the ropes no matter what.