

BOOT CAMP 2007

Chapter 2007: Things Have Changed

Ye Ying was no longer as arrogant as before. She sat down obediently and was as gentle as a flower in a greenhouse. The change was so drastic that the older attendant was dumbfounded.

“You’re too kind, Director Ye. It’s all because of our poor management that your daughter had to suffer. How about this? Consider the clothes as compensation from our mall. Please accept it.”

How could the mall manager not know the director of the Provincial Construction Bureau? Sometimes, the mall needed to be renovated, and the Provincial Construction Bureau was the one that had to agree to it!

He didn’t dare to offend such a godly person, so he could only trouble the attendants.

He then said to the senior attendant, “Go back and explain the situation to the customer. You guys, thank goodness the person you came across today is Director Ye. If it were anyone else, they wouldn’t be so easy to talk to!”

Sun Dongqing, who had been keeping her thoughts to herself, touched the woolen sweater that her daughter had bought to show her filial piety. The quality and color were alright, and it was enough to serve as an apology. However, her daughter’s grievance could not be forgotten just because of a piece of clothing. “Manager, my husband thinks it’s a small matter, but as a mother, I don’t think so.

“My daughter is here to spend money to buy clothes and not to suffer grievances. No need for apologies? I can’t accept it. The two attendants in your mall are so arrogant. They didn’t even allow my daughter to leave. Do you think my daughter is easy to bully?”

Since she refused to let the two attendants off easily, the manager could only ask his employees to apologize.

Since ancient times, people have followed the principle that the powerful should not be provoked. The mall manager continued to smile obsequiously and replied, “Yes, they should apologize.” He turned to his own employees and said sternly, “What are you waiting for? Apologize to the director’s daughter!”

No matter how much the older attendant did not want to apologize, she had to apologize now. If she did not apologize, her salary and bonus would be deducted.

Ye Ying looked at the service staff in front of her. She didn’t bother to hide the contempt in her eyes. “Weren’t you fierce just now? You said that I hit someone. Are you going to say the same thing now?”

The attendant was in her 30s, but she had no choice but to lower her head and swallow her pride. “I apologize for my bad attitude just now.”

“I won’t be bothered if your attitude is bad, but you said that I hit someone. Tell me, did I hit someone?” Ye Ying didn’t let her off. How dare she embarrass her? She didn’t know her own worth!

A knock on the door interrupted Ye Ying. The mall manager said, “Come in.” The office door was pushed open. The security guard and the attendant with red eyes invited Ye Jian in.

Ye Ying was like a cat whose tail had been stepped on. She stood up from the sofa. The look of elegance on her face was gone too. She stared at Ye Jian with widened eyes.

Sun Dongqing's reaction was the same. She stood up suddenly and wanted to question Ye Zhifan. However, Ye Zhifan coughed and stopped her.

He had almost forgotten that this wretched girl was no longer the same as before!

Endure! He had to endure it!

Now, even Old Ye was afraid of that wretched girl and did not dare to confront her directly. He had even been strangled by her once, so he had to endure it. He could not scold her directly like before. If he wanted to scold her he could only scold her in his heart.

"Why is she here? Is she on winter break? Old Ye, our whole family feels uncomfortable every time that wicked girl appears!" Sun Dongqing mumbled. She stared at Ye Jian nervously. She was afraid that she would do something bad to her family.

Ye Zhifan didn't pay attention to what she said. When he saw Ye Jian coming in and looking at the shopping bag with the woolen sweater, he had a bad feeling.

Chapter 2008: Bad Feeling

He had a bad feeling about this. He immediately stood up and said to the mall manager, "I won't disturb your work anymore. You don't have to give us the woolen sweater. It should be given to whoever bought it."

At the same time, he secretly warned Sun Dongqing to shut up.

The young attendant who had gone to look for Ye Jian didn't understand what was going on. She held back her grievance and said timidly, "Manager, this customer bought the clothes first. Sister Fan brought her to pay for the bill. Meanwhile, I stayed in the shop to pack the clothes.

"Then, this customer also took a fancy to the same piece of clothing and asked for a larger size. I said that the last piece had just been bought and the customer had already gone to the cashier to settle the bill. I didn't have a bad attitude and even patiently explained it to her, but this lady didn't listen. She directly threw the money on the counter, picked up the bag with the sweater, and left.

"I didn't dare to let her leave. In a moment of desperation, I grabbed the shopping bag!" She explained everything that had happened. Then, she said that Ye Ying slapped her face with the shopping bag. Finally, she looked at Ye Jian and whispered, "This customer can testify. Manager, I didn't do anything wrong."

Sun Dongqing's expression changed when she heard this. She was furious. The attendant had said that Ye Ying was bad in front of Ye Jian. Sun Dongqing had been enduring it. Now, the attendant even asked Ye Jian to testify?

Was she trying to trample her daughter to death?

Not daring to throw a tantrum at Ye Jian, Sun Dongqing rushed out and shouted at the young attendant, "You're so young, but your mouth is full of bullsh*t! Speak, who asked you to do this?! If you don't give me an explanation, no one can leave today!"

Although she didn't dare to throw a tantrum at Ye Jian, her words meant that she was coming for her.

As the wife of a provincial official, her words were so vulgar that even the manager who had been apologizing frowned.

Ye Jian didn't want to talk to her.

The Ye family wouldn't be able to keep being so arrogant for long. Hence, she simply said to the manager, "I'm here to bring away the clothes I bought. May I know where my clothes are?"

She was petty. Even if Ye Ying wanted to fight with her, she would not let her.

Hearing that Ye Jian was going to take the clothes away, Ye Ying couldn't take it anymore. "I already paid for the clothes. Do you dare to take it away?"

She wasn't going to let Ye Jian have it her way!!

Ye Ying didn't make a fuss. She stood beside her mother and said coldly, "I've given the money to the attendant. Ye Jian, do you dare to take the clothes away?"

"Why wouldn't I dare to take the clothes I bought?" Ye Jian smiled and looked at the other party as though she was looking at an idiot. The shopping bag was placed beside Ye Ying. Ye Jian calmly walked past the mother and daughter who were ready to fight. She opened the bag naturally and took out the clothes to take a look.

"Yes, it's this one." She nodded at the manager and left with the sweater.

Seeing that Ye Jian didn't care about her, Ye Ying was furious. "Ye Jian, if you dare to leave this place, I'll be sure to teach you a lesson!"

The loud shout startled the mall manager and two attendants. They looked back and forth but did not make a sound.

Both of them had the surname Ye, and they were acquaintances.

With Ye Jian's appearance, the Ye family was no longer targeting the attendant but Ye Jian instead.

Faced with Ye Ying's anger, Ye Jian only gave her a disdainful look. She didn't want to scold her anymore.

Teach her a lesson?

She had said the same thing countless times, but what about it?
