

Chapter 311: Teach Him How To Wear Clothes

Xia Jinyuan, whose back was facing Ye Jian, didn't notice her plight. He was thinking about which piece of clothing he should wear first.

The Tibetan lady gave him the clothes that they normally wore.

"Little Fox, I'm defeated by the Tibetan costumes. I managed to wear the white shirt but the left sleeve is bigger than the right sleeve. Can you help me see if this is how I should wear it?" Xia Jinyuan turned and pulled his white shirt. "I wonder how much time the Tibetans have to spend on wearing this every day. You must help me. If not, I don't know how long I'll take to wear these clothes."

He bathed at the river with his comrades just now. If he didn't go out soon, he wasn't confident about what those people might be thinking if Han Zheng decided to bring their thoughts astray.

Ye Jian had no choice but to open her eyes. She saw the scene in front of her and her heart beat faster. She had already calmed down but her eyes still floated around.

Xia Jinyuan was wearing a waist-length white silk shirt. He looked even sexier.

The loose shirt was unbuttoned and his beautiful and firm chest could be seen vaguely. The white shirt was translucent too so his small waist could be seen too. When he breathed, his chest raised slightly. His firm muscles raised along with it too.

As it moved, Ye Jian felt herself breathing in alignment with the movement of the muscles.

"Wear the round-necked robe made from cotton and fur." Ye Jian raised her hand and pointed at the clothes. Her slender and fair arm shone under the sunlight that entered the tent. It looked like the color of a pearl under the light.

Xia Jinyuan's gaze flew past her arm. He thought silently to himself: he made the right decision to wrap her tightly yesterday.

He had foresight. This little girl's skin was still so soft even after being shone on by ultraviolet rays. It looked really beautiful.

He retracted his gaze and started wearing his clothes following her instructions.

"Take the colorful belt and tie it around your waist."

Xia Jinyuan took the colorful fur belt and smiled. "This is really beautiful. I want to bring one back when I leave."

"It's a piece of art. Hurry up!" Ye Jian had no energy to chat with him now. She hurried him. "Tie that around your waist. Cross the two sleeves of the robe over your waist and tie it at the back..."

Inside the tent, Ye Jian taught Xia Jinyuan how to wear the Tibetan costume. She told him what he should wear first and how he should wear them.

Outside, Han Zheng and the other people had finished dressing up. They gritted their teeth and rubbed their hands as they waited for Q King, who didn't know how to wear his clothes.

"I don't believe that he doesn't know how to wear clothes!" J5 smiled as he said. However, his smile seemed sinister. "All four of us have finished dressing up. Yet, he is still inside being taught how to wear his clothes by a student. Isn't he embarrassed?"

The four of them came to bid farewell to Xia Jinyuan. They had settled everything in the village. The herdsman that was killed had been brought to an area that only Tibetans could go and was buried there.

They needed to go back to the military depot immediately and report the information they received.

This time, they realized that their targets were not just mercenaries.

The one that Ye Jian sniped was a soldier currently serving in a certain country.

If they didn't find a metal plate that revealed his identity when searching his body, they wouldn't have known that the person they sniped was currently a soldier.

This was something worth investigating. A soldier from another country led a bunch of mercenaries into their country and killed their soldiers. What was that country planning? What did they want? This needed more investigation.

How they should investigate this matter and what should they do after that weren't their concern anymore.

They took a bath in the morning and went back to their tents to change. Then, the four of them gathered outside. Only the ace soldier was still changing.

Why was he changing so slowly?

The people outside gritted their teeth impatiently. The sound of teeth rubbing against each other could even be heard. Finally, Xia Jinyuan finished wearing his clothes. He didn't wait for Ye Jian to admire him. Instead, he said in a low voice, "I'll go out for a while. They're outside."

Ye Jian was waiting for him to go out. Hence, she immediately urged him, "Hurry up and go. They must have something to ask you."

Ye Jian didn't know what the other soldiers outside experienced when she was teaching Xia Jinyuan how to wear his clothes.

The moment Xia Jinyuan walked out, Ye Jian quietly moved her body so that her injured side was facing upwards. Then, she pushed her hand on the bed and got up slowly.

After she sat up, she placed one foot on the ground and slowly stood up. The entire process was really slow.

She had been sleeping for an entire night so when she got up, she let out a long sigh.

She didn't waste any time because... she was half-naked too.

It was alright for a man to be half-naked but it's inappropriate for a woman to do it.

Ye Jian had started her puberty so although she was still young, her curves could already be seen. The two round mounds in front of her were like a pair of cute white rabbits. Her waist was bandaged up but it was still thin.

She couldn't wear any clothes so she took out a traditional cloak she bought from an old man along the way. It was enough for her to cover her shoulders all the way to her hip.

She covered her body and then placed her feet into her shoes. She walked out in tiny steps.

The moment she walked out of the tent, she saw four soldiers in military attire and military boots standing in a row. Their aura and height were all similar. When Ye Jian looked over, she saw Xia Jinyuan who was in the Tibetan costume.

He wasn't in military attire but he was still the spotlight.

"I'll return to the military unit three days later. Be careful on your journey. Uncle Chen has borrowed a yak that you all can ride on. Once you leave this depopulated zone, leave the yak on the grassland. Someone will take it back to the village."

The soldiers in front looked at Xia Jinyuan with a serious face as he finished speaking. Xia Jinyuan saw Han Zheng pouting. Han Zheng smiled. "Your Little Fox came out and looked at us. Where is she going?"

Tsk tsk tsk. This is the Little Fox that subdued the wolf, Xia Jinyuan.

However, she was worth his wait. In her pure world, kind and evil were split clearly.

Chapter 313: Captain Xia Wants To Eat Her

When Han Zheng reminded Xia Jinyuan, the other soldiers got reminded too. They all looked towards the tent.

They saw the skirt below. Her body was covered with a cloak. She was moving in small steps. It was slow but she didn't stop. She continued moving forward.

Her movements were just like her personality. She didn't like to give up. If she could still endure the hardship, she would endure it.

"Q King, you have good eyesight." J5 retracted his gaze and gave him a thumbs up. "This little girl is impressive. She's just a little young. If you have any intentions, you need to wait."

As someone who had been an instructor before, he was unable to change some of his habits even though he was a soldier of the special force now. For instance, constantly reminding his comrades to obey military law.

The little girl was indeed outstanding. She could be considered a professional soldier based on her appearance when she faced her enemies. She was able to cooperate with them and they were willing to pass their backs to her.

Hence, it was understandable that Q King liked her.

Under his comrade's reminder, Xia Jinyuan looked back. He saw someone wrapped up tightly walking into the shadows slowly.

That direction is... Xia Jinyuan smiled. That was where the toilets were.

No wonder she asked him to hurry up just now. She needed to answer the call of nature.

The most dangerous moment had passed. She was able to move now. This meant that her wound was recovering well. Walking slowly was good for the recovery of her injury too.

The serious and cold man just now started smiling. He told the other four people, "There's nothing much from my side. I'll go back to the military unit in three days."

"Q King, can you please be nice to us too? The discrimination is apparent. I want to complain." Han Zheng saw his change in expression and felt frustrated. What a huge and obvious difference.

Xia Jinyuan raised his eyebrows. He moved his sexy lips and gave a bright smile. "When the ladies you like come next time, I'll smile at them."

There was a hidden meaning behind his words. The soldiers were all smart people. They immediately knew what this ace soldier was trying to say.

Even K7 raised his thumb and said, "Amazing."

"As expected of an ace soldier. When the lady our comrade likes appear, we will all put on a stern face to bring out our comrade's handsome smile." Han Zheng was very smart. He immediately knew what planning ahead meant. Hence, he guessed what Xia Jinyuan's intention was.

There was a flash of light in Xia Jinyuan's dark eyes. He laughed softly, "Brother, some things are meant to be kept to yourself. We're all smart people. There's no need to point things out directly. That will take the fun out of everything."

"I see, I see." J5 bowed and pretended to feel unhappy. "No wonder I am still single. It's not because my looks are not good, it's just that my environment needs to change. If I have a Q King long ago, I might have a child by now."

"Q King, my future will depend on you. Can you help me ask if there are other female students around Ye Jian who are similar in style? Help me to reserve them."

Chapter 314: Let Me Carry You

G3 added on. "Don't you know what's first come first serve? Move to the back. My future has not been solved. Yours can wait." After reprimanding J5 coldly, he said to Xia Jinyuan in a light tone, "Q King, I'll pass you my future too. If I have a child next time, you'll be his godfather."

"Me too." It was rare that K7 participated in their conversation too. Seriousness was written all over his lean and handsome face. "I need to solve the problem of my future too."

Xia Jinyuan smiled elegantly when all his comrades pleaded for his help. "I haven't solved my own problem yet. Once I solve it, I'll take care of your problems."

The four of them nodded. They expressed that they would support their ace soldier wholeheartedly. At the same time, they formed a deal with this wolf who was well-versed with schemes.

He came up with a perfect scheme so that he could catch one Little Fox. Xia Jinyuan narrowed his eyes. He didn't know how the Little Fox would react when she realizes the truth.

No matter what her reaction is, he will just take whatever that comes.

He waved his hand and bid farewell to his comrades. Then, he walked towards the direction Ye Jian went.

He didn't rush in rashly as he was afraid of scaring Ye Jian. Instead, he looked for Yang Jin and asked for her help.

Yang Jin was making some yogurt. She heard his voice and tilted her head to look at the handsome soldier. He had a high nose bridge and was wearing a lotus-print Tibetan costume that signified peace. She smiled. "You look manly when you wear the Tibetan costume. You look like a man from the highlands."

"Thank you." Xia Jinyuan smiled too. He realized that the friends of his Little Fox were all ladies who were frank and straightforward. "I'm worried that she couldn't do it herself so I would like to bother you to help me look after her."

He stood below and waited patiently.

On the other side, Ye Jian was so embarrassed when she understood what Yang Jin was trying to say through her hand signals. She wanted to bang her head on the wall. Why did he know everything? If he knew everything, what's the point of hiding it?

When she came back, she saw him standing in front of her and waiting for her to walk over. Ye Jian groaned painfully. Why does she always feel awkward when she looks at him?

However, when Yang Jin heard her groans, she thought that something had happened to her. She started shouting.

The Tibetans living in the highlands had good lungs. They all had loud voices. Thus, Xia Jinyuan was able to hear her calling him to come over hurriedly.

Before Ye Jian could understand what was happening, she saw the man running towards her.

His movements were agile. He moved quickly and stably. In a blink of an eye, he arrived in front of her.

“Did your wound split again? Don’t move. I’ll carry you.” He rushed over and squatted down without even panting. “Come up. Let’s go back to the tent and take a look at it.”

Yang Jin also thought that Ye Jian’s wound had split open again. She held on to Ye Jian and carefully placed her on Xia Jinyuan’s back.

“Lean closer. Don’t use any energy on your waist. Put your hands over my shoulders and place your weight on your hip.” Xia Jinyuan waited for her to lean close to him before standing up.

He was worried that Ye Jian’s weight would be placed on her waist so he leaned forward purposely and let her place her weight all on him. He didn’t place his hands on her buttocks but placed them around her thighs instead.

Chapter 315: Gentle Trap

Understanding someone is to be considerate and dispel her awkwardness silently, to allow her to stay relaxed in front of you.

Xia Jinyuan had no love experience. But he understood Ye Jian and knew how he could be closer to her heart.

Ye Jian was not someone calculative. She was already being carried and she did mention that she was fine and wanted to get down. She might as well just thank him.

She whispered, “I was fine just now, Yang Jin misunderstood me. You don’t have to worry too much, I have always known how to take care of myself.”

“In the absence of somebody who can take care of you, it is only natural that you have to take care of yourself. But now, I am here to take care of you. You don’t have to feel that you are being a burden. Let your wound recover properly, then I won’t be worried.” Her words made Xia Jinyuan sigh softly. The compassion in his heart grew and the Little Fox had made his heart ache.

Having to stay strong alone for so long, she had forgotten that she could sometimes rely on others too.

His words silenced Ye Jian. She had always been used to taking care of herself, and she knew how to do that.

She also knew that in her life, the most dependable person that she had was herself, no one else.

But she could not refute Xia Jinyuan’s words. She should not be treating him harshly as these sincere words came from his heart.

Seeing that it was none of her business, Yang Jin said something to Xia Jinyuan and left, bouncing with joy.

Yesterday's gunfight did not taint the passionate Tibetan girl's heart.

Carrying her and avoiding the sharp stones, his pace was steady. And his back was like a mountain, providing strength and support to Ye Jian to rely on. It was also like the ocean, accepting her wholeheartedly.

Her face was lightly pressed against his back, feeling his temperature. Her facial expression showed a tinge of confusion.

She thought in her heart that Xia Jinyuan is special.

So special and yet so dangerous. She wanted to escape, far away from him.

She did not need family. Neither did she need love.

What she needs are strength and courage...

She needed to rely on her own strength to come out on top. With her own hands, she will use them to crush those who had bullied and humiliated her, so that they will never have the chance to do that ever again.

Ye Jian was a strong girl, having experienced near death and always staying true to her initial resolution, she was able to quickly think positively again.

Back in the tent, Xia Jinyuan did not question why she had gone out, and did not mention that the next time she wanted to relieve herself, she could tell him in advance.

He understood that all these care and concern, if he were to say it, it would only make Ye Jian unhappy.

Pretending to not know occasionally can sometimes protect the other party's dignity.

"Slow down, don't use too much strength." Xia Jinyuan supported her body weight with his body, before slowing relaxing his hands. "I'm letting go now, get up slowly, don't rush."

She badly wanted her wound to recover. Ye Jian did not dare to be complacent anymore. She slowly stood up, with both hands on the shawl, so that she would not slip.

With his head hung low, Xia Jinyuan said with a helpless voice, "Stop covering, I will close my eyes and not look at it."

Her heart skipped. As a result of his words, her grip on the shawl tightened

Chapter 316: Comrades In Uniform

After a while, Ye Jian felt that she was overreacting. Fortunately, Xia Jinyuan was very gentlemanly and did not manage to see her reaction as he closed his eyes.

After a sigh of relief, Ye Jian said, "Forgive me, I am not really used to being taken care of. Therefore, I might overreact sometimes. Please forgive me, Captain Xia."

Revealing her thoughts, Ye Jian felt that she would feel more comfortable and less awkward.

Additionally, she did not think that her abnormal behavior would go unnoticed by Xia Jinyuan's eagle eyes. He could clearly see that, which was why he chose to shut his eyes and stay silent, to dispel the awkwardness and embarrassment.

It was better to explain clearly than to pretend and let him know that she was such a person.

"You are really a little fox." Opening his eyes, Xia Jinyuan raised his hand and lightly flicked her forehead. "I know you're not used to it. I believe you see that I'm trying to let you get used to it."

It was natural to be unaccustomed. That was why he had to put in massive amounts of effort in the short time they were together to leave more impressions in her heart. Such that when she had calmed down, she would think of him.

"Comrades are supposed to help and support one another. If you are injured, I will take care of you. There is no need to get used to it. You have to accept it."

"In the future, you will not only take care of yourself on the battlefield. You will have to take care of the other members too when everyone is fighting together. Remember this, Little Fox, you are not alone. You can rely on me, Grandpa Gen and Uncle Chen!"

Ye Jian lowered her head and looked at her toes. After he finished speaking, she slowly replied, "Grandpa Gen and Uncle Chen are indeed people whom I can rely on, as for Captain Xia..."

She raised her head and smiled. "As for Captain Xia, not for now. One day, when I wear the uniform and become a real soldier, that is when I will regard you as my comrade, someone who I can rely on and whom we can support one another. For now, our relationship is that of a soldier and a civilian."

With Xia Jinyuan, she could only use a delay tactic! When she finally dons on the uniform, ha, that will be at least three years later.

Three years, hundreds of days and nights, that was enough to change many people, many things! Including memories!

The meaning of her words had Xia Jinyuan silent for three seconds. After that, he smiled. "Now, what's left for you is just a military uniform. You have cooperated with us for three times now, not only do I regard you as our comrade, even Han Zheng, and the others agree too."

"In our hearts, to have fought side by side, that is a reliable comrade. Enough, my little comrade, I will need to check on your wound. Please cooperate and lie down gently."

Uncle Chen, Uncle Chen, I have now understood why you smiled before we parted ways last night.

The one stopping him and the Little Fox from being together was not Grandpa Gen or Uncle Chen. It was the Little Fox herself!

Always wanting to steer clear of any relationships with him, even mentioning that she would only become comrades when she dons on the uniform...

It would be at least three years by the time she donned the uniform. Three years was enough to let feelings fade.

Chapter 317: A Beautiful Memory

Little Fox, Little Fox, so smart that he had to be ready to adapt at any time.

Ye Jian pouted and sighed. She knew that he had understood her intentions.

She really wanted to ask Xia Jinyuan what he is really thinking!

The way he is now, who knows what he is thinking?

Comrades, sure! Since he said comrades, then comrades they shall be! It was just as she wished, being just comrades with him was exactly what she wanted the most.

Next time, if he dared to display any intimate behavior or words, she... will simply solve it with violence!

Outside, Principal Chen had his hands behind his back. He was whistling to the tune of Tibetan folk songs. With a smile on his stiff face, he headed for the herd.

Captain Xia, Captain Xia, no matter how fierce a wolf might be, when facing someone who can make you gentler, you need to keep your claws in.

Moreover, Jian will not be easy prey for you. She is too smart for that!

With Xia Jinyuan around, no one would need to be concerned with Ye Jian's matters. After checking the wound and changing the gauze, he taught her Tibetan while mentioning some interesting things about the military unit.

"In my second winter vacation at the military school, that place was much more remote than Fujun Town. Letters come around every one or two months for the soldiers in the unit. On my fifteenth day there, the letters came to the unit. A squad leader took a few squads' worth of letters and brought it to the training field and told the new recruits, if they thought that their girlfriends had sent letters, they would have to do 50 push-ups. The new recruits were all vying to do the push-ups."

"I didn't do it at that time. Ten over people were doing it together, there were only four letters in the squad leader's hands. The other people without letters would have done push-ups for nothing."

Ye Jian listened to the stories attentively. When she saw him pause, she chuckled. "Why did not do it? What if your girlfriend wrote one for you?" Such a stellar, charismatic Captain Xia would surely have a girlfriend when he was in school.

"Of course I wouldn't. I had no girlfriend. After the 50 push-ups, the squad leader got the new recruits to retrieve their letters and asked one after another "Is it your girlfriend?", two answered yes. The squad leader put on a fake smile and said, "Such an important letter, you should do more." Finishing that sentence, he asked the other recruits how many would be suitable, and that it was usually more than 200 push-ups. After that, we heard that the squad leader did not have any girlfriend and was jealous."

Ye Jian was laughing until her back curved. Seeing that, Xia Jinyuan, who was changing the gauze for her, laughed. "Is it so funny? You will be laughing in the future."

Afraid that she would laugh too much that her wound would open up, he told her to stop. His gaze turned solemn.

In his eyes, her undulating back was shining in the sunlight like a piece of jade. Her perfect curves were so beautiful that no words could describe it.

She was lying down and he could vaguely see a small arc on her chest, trembling along with her smile.

The beauty that he discovered while he looked up, came crashing into his heart.

From then on, it carved a memory so deep in his heart.

Chapter 318: A Light Kiss

Such unintentional moments were the most memorable and revealed the true feelings of a person.

Xia Jinyuan retracted his gaze away from the beautiful back in a flurry. When he lowered his head, he swallowed his saliva. He calmed himself a little before saying, "Don't laugh too hard. Your wound just started healing. Don't split it again."

If he continued like this, he felt that he will become more and more like a beast.

However, Ye Jian felt comfortable talking about the things in the military unit. She smiled as she said, "I realized that the most powerful people in the military unit are 'evil'. When I went back to the military unit last winter vacation, the regiment commander of the team just came back from a meeting in the capital city. He was in normal attire and came back during dinner time. The regiment commander was from the northeast. He went to get a green onion from the cafeteria so that he could eat it with some sauce."

"I was making dumplings with Uncle Gen in the cafeteria. One of the recruits from the Sichuan province saw the regiment commander and pulled him to the side. He didn't know that this was the regiment commander and took him as the old man who sends the groceries. He asked if he could bring him one cigarette tomorrow to let him satisfy his craving."

“The regiment commander was afraid that I would say something so he signaled to me behind his back and asked me to just watch him silently. He talked to the recruit and found out which platoon and which team he was in.”

“In the end, his entire platoon and team had to run with weights on as a punishment.”

“The regiment commander told them that since they were bored, he would give them something to do.”

“After they finished their run, the regiment commander stood at the entrance of the camping ground and waited for them. After he saw them, he smiled and told them that a grocery man like him had the right to punish a bunch of recruits.”

“Until now, the platoon leader didn’t know which recruit mistook their regiment commander as the grocery man. I didn’t say anything too. I just watched them happily from the side.” Ye Jian’s mood was entirely different when she talked about the happenings in the military unit. She was energetic and vibrant like the rising sun.

She was speaking so happily that she didn’t realize that Xia Jinyuan got enchanted by her glaring beauty. He was captivated by her.

After journeying through mountains and rivers, she was the one he was looking for.

He placed the bandages lightly before looking up. After looking at her intently, he lowered his head and closed his eyes. He gently landed a kiss on the bandage.

It was a very light kiss. Ye Jian didn’t feel anything. Only his heart fluttered lightly.

“Are you done?” Ye Jian didn’t suspect anything. She smiled, “Are there no more bandages? Maybe you can use the tape. That’s fine too.”

“No. I was just thinking if I should tie it up nicely,” Xia Jinyuan replied calmly. He asked sincerely, “What do you think?”

Ye Jian pursed his lips and said, “Even if you tie it beautifully, I won’t be able to see it. Hence, there’s no need for it.”

She didn’t know that he kissed her. Even if it was just on a bandage, Xia Jinyuan still felt that this was his first kiss with Ye Jian.

After kissing her, Major Xia realized that he didn’t leave a deeper impression on Ye Jian. He was the one who got enchanted by her instead. He didn’t guard her for that night. He went to sleep.

Chapter 319: Who Is The Person I Fell In Love With

When he opened his eyes again, Xia Jinyuan smiled bitterly. He couldn’t sleep properly. Luckily, he didn’t need to take off his Tibetan costume when he was sleeping. Thus, he could just go out immediately.

He walked out of his tent and walked instinctively towards Ye Jian's tent. He took a few steps when something red shined under the moonlight.

"You haven't gone to sleep?" Principal Chen saw the person who came out of the tent and teased him, "Yang Jin is guarding her tonight. Captain Xia can have a good rest tonight."

Xia Jinyuan gave a forced smile. He walked beside Principal Chen who was smoking and sighed. "I finally understand why you smiled that night. You understand Ye Jian well. You know that she is not an easy person to chase."

"Captain Xia, the older, the wiser. I'm much older and more experienced than you. Jian is not a simple little girl. She is outstanding."

"Last time, there was a male student called Gao Yiyang who was interested in her. His family background was good too but Jian didn't have any feelings towards him."

"To her, family background is not important. It wouldn't cause her heart to waver. Captain Xia, good luck to you." Principal Chen patted Xia Jinyuan's shoulder after he finished speaking. He said sincerely, "Uncle Gen and I hope that Jian will become a reliable and independent lady. If you can woo her easily, she won't be Jian anymore."

This was why Principal Chen and Uncle Gen didn't stop Xia Jinyuan. They knew that Ye Jian was not an easy girl.

Xia Jinyuan raised his eyebrows. He smiled bitterly before changing into a confident expression. "This is good news. She doesn't like Gao Yiyang and Xia Jinyuan. One is wealthy while the other is handsome. That little girl has high expectations. It's something I should be happy about."

"Hahaha, that makes sense. Just like what Major Xia said, I was worried that Jian would get into an early relationship." Principal Chen laughed loudly. He seemed to take pleasure in Major Xia's misfortune. "All the best, Major Xia."

You need patience if you like Jian.

If he could persevere on, it was a happy thing too.

Both of them were in the military so they could walk together. They could understand each other's plight too.

Under the starry night, Xia Jinyuan smiled elegantly. "I'll never change my mind. No one will be able to interfere with my decision too. Even my family members can't do it."

He was telling Principal Chen that he didn't do this on impulse. His family was not a problem.

This was why Xia Jinyuan was a reliable person. He would always voice out other people's concerns before other people said it. His words were sincere and firm.

Principal Chen didn't express his opinion immediately. He wouldn't waver with just a few words from a youngster. A human's mind can change. Time will tell.

After three days, Ye Jian's injury had recovered greatly under the care of Xia Jinyuan. She was able to walk properly and there was no need to worry about getting any inflammation.

Chapter 320: I Like This Display Of Gratitude

Ye Jian was hoping that her wound would recover faster. Hence, she was very careful too. She didn't need to lay on the bed to let Xia Jinyuan bandage her wound. She could sit down and let him change her wound.

"There's no need to change the bandage again after this. The wound is mostly healed but you mustn't move too much." After changing the bandage, Xia Jinyuan needed to leave. Before he left, he reminded her, "You can't touch water and don't climb any mountains. If you want to get some fresh air, walk around the tent."

"This is the third day. On the seventh day, I'll drive a car over to fetch Uncle Chen and you."

Ye Jian covered herself with the cloak after the wound was bandaged up. She covered her shoulder and her waist. Then, she smiled, "I'll be careful. Don't worry. I want to leave as quickly as possible too. School is starting in a few days."

She anticipated her high school life.

"Municipal No.1 Middle School is not bad. A few people from the military school came from there. However, no one managed to enter the National Science University. If you enter the National Science University, you'll be the pride of the school." Xia Jinyuan knew from Principal Chen that Ye Jian rejected the invitation from Provincial No.1 Middle School and chose the Municipal No.1 Middle School which was closer to Fujun Town so that she could come back during the weekends.

"The workload in high school is more than the workload in middle school. You need to manage your training and your studies at the same time. If not, you'll have a hard time entering military school."

He had a one month break after descending the mountain. He wondered if he will be able to send her back to Municipal No.1 Middle School directly.

Xia Jinyuan made a decision. He reminded Ye Jian a few more times before getting up. "I'll leave first. Take care of yourself these few days."

When he was here, Ye Jian wished that he would leave faster. However, when he really left, she felt a little uncomfortable.

She stood up and turned. She saw his figure at the entrance of the tent.

She took a few steps forward. Xia Jinyuan stopped at the same time and looked back as he lifted the curtain up.

“Have a safe trip, Captain Xia.” Ye Jian felt uncomfortable again under his intent gaze. She said softly, “Return to the military depot safely.”

He wanted to walk out but when he saw her looking at him reluctantly, his heart wavered. He suddenly turned back.

Ye Jian got a shock. She frowned and looked at the man nervously. She pursed her lips.

His gaze was too intense. It was glaring like the sun. Anything that came near it would turn into ashes.

She didn't know what to do.

This sly Little Fox always took a step back when he moved a step forward.

Luckily, when he took a step back, she would carefully take a step forward. This must be sweet torture.

Xia Jinyuan smiled as he walked closer. Ye Jian could feel his breath on her face. He saw her blushing and sighed. “You are really...”

His voice was filled with love and resignation.

He hugged her and said, “I'll be safe. You too. Have a good rest. Don't think so much at such a young age.”
