

Chapter 421: The Nation's Sword

Xia Jinyuan started the car, pulled down the handbrake, and stepped on the accelerator. In the midst of his laughter, the car rushed into the darkness like a beast out of its cage.

"The training ground that you just saw is not suitable for a novice like you. I'll bring you to one that's suitable for your initial training." His eyes were locked onto the front as he brought Ye Jian out of the training ground. He took a pistol filled with blanks out of the car and passed it to her. "Hold it, shoot when you see the target."

Commander Liu was looking at the recorded scores, pointed at the scores that were marked in red and bellowed, "There are only 12 people who have a 100% pass rate so far. Is this the results that you want me to see?"

"Have you counted how many months before it's December? Did you think that you still have a few years and have plenty of time for you to train? Everyone says they want to train, but where's the result? Where's the result?"

The commissar was looking at another set of scores. When he heard Commander Liu yelling, he knew that he was venting his anger that had pent up for the night.

He closed his folder and signaled for the battalion commanders to go back. "You're so anxious. There's still time. It's still September now. Looking at these scores, with time, I think we'll definitely pass."

When the commander was fuming with rage, only the commissar dared to approach him. He took the scores from Commander Liu's hand and stuffed it into a soldier's hands and smiled, "Come on, let's cool down. Ye Jian, that little girl really had the courage to come here. I just saw Major Xia driving his old jeep to basement one."

There were three levels here in the basement. Basement one was the level for foundational training.

"I'll go later. That girl is fast at picking things up. When things are finished here in December, I'm afraid she'll be done there. Old Yan, go take a look over at the front. Try to get everyone's passing rate to 100% by the end of October." Commander Liu mentioned Ye Jian and managed to cool down a bit. He then mentioned the training again. "A few chiefs are coming over at the end of the month. If the results are unsatisfactory, we will be put to shame."

Ye Jian was now sitting at the shotgun seat and when the car stopped, the entire training ground fell into silence. The white lights lit up the ground and she saw the tire marks that were left on the ground.

Xia Jinyuan drove while she fired the shots. While being driven around at more than 300 kilometers per hour, she shot at the targets that randomly appeared.

The beastly jeep stopped abruptly when all 15 blank cartridges were used up.

The sound of braking and firing combined together, unexpectedly created a masterpiece that was full of stimulation, tension, and adrenaline. This was the first time that Ye Jian was exposed to another training besides sniper training.

Xia Jinyuan looked at her and smiled, "From tomorrow night onwards, you can keep training till December. It's only September now. There's more than enough time for you to climb another peak."

Special forces? Little Fox, if you want to be part of the special forces, then... you will need to learn the fundamentals first before you can do the fancy stuff.

Chapter 422: Amazing Marksmanship

After returning the gun to him, the colors on her face and her heartbeat went back to normal. In an instant, she became demure and calm. "I like it a lot. Captain Xia, thanks for giving me this opportunity!"

"Opportunities are not given by others, you should be grabbing them." He took the pistol and buckled it at the steering wheel, putting it back into its original place. The modified jeep had a special place for placing a pistol.

"Get off, let's see how accurate you are." He opened the door and got out of the jeep. There was still a bit of coldness left in his eyes after speeding around in the jeep. He glanced at Ye Jian with his deep eyes. "Let's see how much you have grown after a year."

One either moves forward or fall behind. Based on the little fox's capabilities, she should not have fallen behind.

The car's speed was maintained at at least 300 kilometers per hour. Standing beside the target, Xia Jinyuan raised his head slightly. His handsome and exquisite side profile made Ye Jian glance over.

He looked at it and happiness spread from his eyebrows to his gloomy eyes. "Two shots were fired here, and both of the blank cartridges hit the same position. Interesting."

"Quite satisfied. In fact, it's surprising. I never thought my little fox would be so impressive." He lowered his head. The laughter in his eyes was like rippling water, with the power to contain everything. People who looked at him could dispel all the rashness they had in their hearts.

Surrounded by his gaze, Ye Jian's heart trembled slightly. This man's eyes... were too captivating. She was flustered when she looked into his eyes accidentally, and said disgruntledly, "What little fox? It sounds intimate."

One sentence was enough to calm Ye Jian down. She then lifted her head, looked at the laughing man and got serious. "Captain Xia... I'm not a fox... You don't have to... say it like this."

She had no experience and never had any contact with the opposite sex. Even though she might be calm, her words still sounded pure and innocent.

She was ruthless, and yet her words were so pure and innocent. These were two extremes that should not be combined together. Yet, Ye Jian had both, blending together nicely. She was eye-catching like a blooming orchid. The more you look at it, the more you felt that she was beautiful, and the more you are unwilling to part with her.

Xia Jinyuan was like that. The more he looked, the more he felt that he had a great taste. He heard the words and smiled, "The important thing is not what you've said, it's..." He pointed at the targets that haven't been checked. "Those are the important things. There are still thirteen bullets, let's go and check if the results are still as impressive."

He stepped over with his long legs and headed for the next target, leaving Ye Jian with a helpless look as she kept up with him.

She made those shots herself. She had a feeling about every bullet that went out and was sure about the outcome without even checking.

She maintained a distance away from him. Far away from his minty smell, but near enough for her to hear and speak to him. Ye Jian thought she was being impassive, but Xia Jinyuan, that 'wolf' had already seen through her.

Chapter 423: A Born Soldier

No matter how smart Ye Jian was, she could not do anything if he wanted to get closer.

Although she was older than Major Xia if you add both of her lifetimes together, she grew up in a different environment and she needed to grow stronger.

"A sniper that was trained by a world-class sniper is indeed impressive. They are all sharpshooters in the unit." Xia Jinyuan sighed after looking at the last target. "With your skills and marksmanship, the men in the units would be ashamed."

It was the truth. Xia Jinyuan was not exaggerating.

He wouldn't be able to replicate what she did!

300 kilometers per hour, wind, recoil, bullet speed, and trajectory... All of these need to be calculated with precision before firing. It's astonishing. It was unbelievable how she could achieve such accuracy.

Ye Jian bent over to pick up the bullets and looked at him with a smile. "Intuition, my intuition has always been good. It's the same for shooting. Besides that, I did some calculations too. I rarely miss."

Such an answer made Xia Jinyuan silent. He then slowly whispered, "This is talent. And you did not waste your talent. Let it play to its fullest potential. Little Fox, you're born to hold a gun. You will go faster than anyone on this path!"

How was that talent... It was all the hard work and effort that she had put in her past life. That was why she was able to stand where she was today.

"Can we go back now? It seems like a lot of time has passed." Having another chance to live was something that only she needed to know. It would be too shocking for anyone. Even Grandpa Gen and Uncle Chen did not know anything about it.

Xia Jinyuan noticed that Ye Jian's facial expressions had changed and immediately cut short the topic. There was no need to continue talking about it as she had put up a bit of resistance.

Wait, did I say anything sensitive?

No, I'm sure I didn't. Then, why did the little fox's mood change suddenly?

Although puzzled, Xia Jinyuan did not probe further and looked at the time. "We've been here for twenty-five minutes. The training over there hasn't ended, you can spectate them for around half an hour. Their training usually starts around 10.30 pm. If you're early, you can get a soldier to teach you."

"Mmm, I would have to trouble the commander and commissar then." Ye Jian got on and suddenly remembered the seven-day holiday and frowned, "Unfortunately, I can't come over during the seven-day holiday on National Day. Our school is having a military training."

The military training is not arranged in the school and it was impossible for her to leave at night. It was regrettable that she won't be here for seven days.

"Provincial No.1 Middle School is very efficient. They arranged military training for the eleventh and twelfth grade students so quickly." Xia Jinyuan naturally knew about the military training. The plan to get students to participate in military training was proposed a few years ago, but it was only implemented this year.

Xia Jinyuan saw that she was somewhat unwilling to participate and chuckled lightly, "I don't have holidays here to accompany you in training. It's not a bad idea to go for military training. You can put Ye Ying back in her place."

Who needs him to accompany her? Ye Jian was scowling inside but she spoke calmly, "There's no need to. She has heart disease. One leave slip and she will be excused from military training. I feel that the seven days spent in military training is not worth it."

It was not surprising that he knew that Ye Jian and Ye Ying were in the same class. He knew Uncle Chen and Principal Cao. All he needed to do was ask and he would know.

Chapter 424: A Captivating Man

"I kind of want to see you crushing her ego. Unfortunately, I can't accompany you for the military training. If it was at the Fujun Town military unit, I could still apply, but there's no reason for me to apply now." Xia Jinyuan saw through her and deliberately mentioned it, but in return, Ye Jian did not want to see him.

Her abilities rose and so did her temper.

Xia Jinyuan was not angry and laughed until Ye Jian turned her head. "Don't laugh, and don't say anything about accompanying me!" He was always teasing her till her heart pumped, but he was unaffected!

"Okay, I won't laugh, I won't laugh. I'll listen to whatever you say."

A gentle smile, low voice, and deep black eyes... Ye Jian took a quick glance at him and saw the light in his eyes and sighed deeply. Focus, focus... Don't let this dangerous man disrupt her focus!

He drove the car back and saw the commander and commissar standing by the parking lot and having a conversation. They didn't know what they were talking about.

When they heard the sound of a car driving over, they looked over and saw that the car that Xia Jinyuan had driven off had returned.

"I'm fine, you throw the line and I'll get the bait. If there's a need, we'll need to disrupt Major Xia." Commissar Yan spoke faster too, ending the other discussion topics before the two came over. "And Old Liu, we need to get the little girl to initiate the topic on where the motorized infantry would go."

Commander Liu didn't understand, and asked quickly while the two were approaching them, "Why? What for?"

"You don't get it? It's called the hook! The more she knows, the deeper she'll fall! The little girl is disciplined. Once she knows more, she will choose to face it and not escape."

Seeing that his old partner was talking like a machine gun, Commander Liu patted his head and pretended to be afraid. "I'm so glad we're always partners in the same camp!" Otherwise, he wouldn't even know if Old Yan did something to him!

When the distance was about one meter away, Commander Liu greeted them with a smile and started the conversation. "Jian, how is it? Impressive?" There was fire dancing around in his solemn eyes even though he had put on a smile. "You always liked challenging and tough training. This is not bad, right? Do you like it? How about you give it a try? I think you can do it."

Ye Jian didn't dare to let all these get inside her head. If it was a sniper competition or free combat, she would definitely be confident about it. As for driving, tonight was the first time she had touched the steering wheel for both her lifetimes.

Moreover, she felt that when she came over, the commander and commissar... they both seemed to have found a treasure. Their eyes were shining brightly.

She replied honestly, "I've disappointed you. If it was not for Captain Xia, I wouldn't have touched the steering wheel. I'm not like the soldiers over here who could drive like they were walking and do whatever they wanted to."

The little girl had a good trait – honesty.

Commander Liu laughed and the rage inside him seemed to have been extinguished. He said gently, "I'll give you a month? And see if you can progress till such a level?" As long as she was willing to work hard, she will be able to achieve it.

Chapter 425: The Decision

Seeing that Ye Jian was still pondering about it, he continued, "The military training that your school is having will involve our soldiers. Basics like commands and army cadences are child's play for you. You don't have to participate in that. If you succeed, I promise to bring you to a good place."

Bring me to a good... place?

The National Day military training was indeed a child's play for her. The moment Mrs. Tong announced it, she was tempted to take leave. However, it had to be completed since it was going to be included in the students' school records.

Now, there was a chance that she would not need to participate, but there were terms and conditions by Commander Liu.

She was tempted by the motorized infantry's training. It was a challenge for her.

Commander Liu's sharp eyes could see her hesitation and added, "You definitely won't lose out. Even if you didn't manage to meet my expectations, you will still be here every day. There's no loss. At most, you will need to participate in seven days of easy basic military training, and the instructor will get you to be the 'role model'."

It's true. She wouldn't lose anything if she didn't meet the standards, and if she did, she'd gain! Not only can she train and compete with the motorized infantry, but she could also skip the school's military training!

It's a win-win for her.

Seeing that things were about to materialize, Commander Liu secretly gave the smiling commissar a look. In an instant, the commissar became serious and got into action.

He was indeed a political commissar with an instructor background. He was adept at mobilizing specific thoughts. "Not much, just seven days of holidays. After the seven days, you can come back. And I promise that it would not affect your school records. Instead, it can add some political points for you when you're applying for military school."

Ye Jian's heart wavered. But Commander Liu was a greedy man and Commissar Yan was a wolf in sheep's clothing. Ye Jian's gaze fell onto Xia Jinyuan, who was keeping silent.

Taking a step back, she nudged Xia Jinyuan lightly, who seemed to be thinking about something, and whispered, "Captain Xia, should I agree?"

A regiment commander said that he would bring Little Fox out and also add some political points... that's no trivial matter.

And the little fox came to him for reassurance... Having gained her trust, Xia Jinyuan signaled her to be calm and asked Commander Liu with a faint smile, "You've always done things without discussing with the soldiers. Now that you're discussing with us, we're not very used to it."

"How about this? Commander Liu, since Ye Jian doesn't know what you're referring to, and also what standards she should achieve before being able to go with you, why not you show her what your expectations are?"

Commander Liu glanced at Ye Jian before looking at Xia Jinyuan. His eyes flickered a little before smiling intriguingly. "Sure, does it mean that there's a chance? Major Xia, can you... help Ye Jian make a decision?"

"She should be the one making the decision. I'll just assess this for her. I can't help it. Commander Liu, you are the unit's 'Buddha', not even the Monkey King can escape from your palm. Ye Jian is just a little girl. All you did was just give her a bunch of sweets and she trusts you already. She hasn't even had a taste of it yet."

"I'm here to assess things for her, see what's your expectations, and judge what she's going to do."

Xia Jinyuan was an expert in testing leaders and bringing them back to the topic. He would always dominate the conversations and not let the other person lead him away from the topic.

Chapter 426: The Bait

Ye Jian laughed after hearing what he said. This major was indeed a Jack of all trades.

"Good, let's have an appetizer first before we let Jian take a look." Commander Liu walked towards a battalion commander and spoke to him. The battalion commander nodded and replied, "Yes, right away!"

Then, Ye Jian saw a sedan speeding past her line of sight. She didn't know what the soldiers inside did, but the car only had two of its wheels on the ground instead of four while it rushed out sideways. Bullets swept out of the back of the car like a rain of bullets.

The bullets landed and after a few clicks, several targets were severed into two.

“Can you reach this kind of standard?” Commander Liu walked over and said half-heartedly. He looked at Ye Jian with anticipation. “If you can, I’ll bring you to a good place. How is it? Do you want to try?”

Xia Jinyuan’s face became dignified. What is this place that requires a little girl with such skills to go to?

“Commander, commissar, it’s difficult to reach this standard within a month. Moreover, you’re letting a little girl take on such a big risk just for a few political points for the military school. It’s too risky.”

With such standards, the place she would be going to might be a good place. But it would be full of danger. That was what he was more worried about.

Ye Jian had considered this too, but she did not reject it immediately and smiled. “Commander, commissar, may I know where these soldiers will be sent to?”

She did not want to reject them, but she wanted to know how dangerous it was. The best way to find out was to find out where they would be sent to so that she could judge how dangerous it would be before she decides.

After all, the more capable one was, the higher they would go.

Commander Liu and Commissar Yan’s smiles faded lightly after hearing what Ye Jian had said. This girl... she’s honest and smart too. She knows her way around words.

If you’re not afraid of her words, you won’t be afraid of her!

The two ‘tigers’ in the military unit secretly exchanged looks and smiled. Jian was smart, but she was no match for their ‘bait’.

Xia Jinyuan’s facial expressions changed slightly and he even raised his hand to put it around Ye Jian’s shoulder. He whispered, “Little Fox, you crossed the line and...” He remembered something and his gaze became sullen, “Commander...”

He wanted to stop them, but Commander Liu was one step ahead of them. He went forward, grabbed Xia Jinyuan’s wrist and laughed, “Captain Xia, don’t make your advances on her in front of us.”

Commissar Yan laughed and diverted the topic, “Have you watched ‘The Bodyguard from Beijing’? It’s a good movie. You can learn something from it.”

Everyone understood.

Ye Jian understood too, and immediately said, “Sorry Commander Liu and commissar, I said too much.” After a short pause, she continued, “I’ll do my best and try to be part of them!”

Commander Liu, who had deliberately sabotaged Xia Jinyuan’s plan, chuckled softly. He whispered to Xia Jinyuan, who wanted to stop him after noticing what was happening, “It’s late, Major Xia. The commissar and I know your capabilities. We can only start off strong.”

Chapter 427: Betting With My Life

Xia Jinyuan raised his eyebrows, curled his lips, and sighed with a smile, "No matter how capable I am, I'm no match for the two of you. Ye Jian thought she knew too much and couldn't get away with it and decided to face it. These were all calculated by both of you."

"Commander Liu, you and the commissar are two greedy 'tigers'. I'm convinced."

"You flatter me. It takes experience. The more you do, the better you are. Major Xia, why are you so protective of Jian?" Commander Liu was in his early forties and had a daughter around the same age as Ye Jian. He treated Ye Jian like his daughter.

He patted Xia Jinyuan's shoulder and sighed, "I learned about Jian's situation. Her mom was a soldier from our unit. Although I don't know how exemplary Sun Xueqing was, I could tell that Ye Jian had inherited some skills from her. She might even be better than her mom."

"On National Day, our leaders would be visiting abroad. The political situation over there is a bit sensitive and the military had thought about Ye Jian tagging along as a student representative. She's good in English, has strong adaptability to changes, and she's not only able to protect herself, but she could also even protect the leaders around her. Her name was on the list when the meeting was held."

"I can't tell you which leader is going over, and I think you know which country we're going to. So... we considered having Jian to go over, not without reason." When the leaders go abroad for meetings and diplomatic relations, the military units would know in advance. Xia Jinyuan too. Commander Liu was not considered to be revealing sensitive information to him.

Ye Jian was so serious that her facial expressions were stiff as she was listening to the commissar calmly.

She agreed and everything was much easier. Commissar Yan said, "There's no need to be nervous. The military already had such intentions. Some agreed and some objected. Commander Liu and I do hope that you can agree."

"Think for yourself, not for others."

"I know that Commander Liu and you are taking care of me. I will definitely do my best to live up to your expectations. However, I can only come to train at night. I am worried..." Ye Jian was not worried that she wouldn't be able to learn it. She was worried that time was not on her side.

Time wouldn't be a problem as long as she agreed. Commissar Yan chuckled, "Let us arrange this. Let Major Xia send you back tonight. It's already midnight. You should go back and rest early."

Whether there was enough time or not was naturally a problem that the unit would resolve. Ye Jian did not need to worry about it at all.

"It is indeed an excellent opportunity. I really wanted to accept it for you too. I was thinking about it, but I didn't expect you to step directly into the pit that the two tigers had dug for you. You couldn't get out even if you wanted to.” Xia Jinyuan joked as they got in the car. “I wanted to pull you out, but was stopped by Commander Liu.”

Ye Jian frowned and smiled bitterly, “I knew I crossed the line after I asked, and I knew that I had fallen into the ‘trap’. But it’s an opportunity. At least I can be in direct contact with the leader. And I have another chip to use.”

Showing her face in front of the leaders and completing the tasks assigned by the military, no matter how powerful the people backing Ye Zhifan were, he would still need to tread carefully.

It was an opportunity that one would need to bet his life on.

Chapter 428: Was It Painful?

“Because of Ye Zhifan?” Xia Jinyuan could tell what she was talking about and raised his eyebrows slightly. “To you...”

Ye Jian didn’t want to talk about this. With her dark eyes, she gazed at him and interrupted gently, “Was it painful? Back then.”

Such a deep and wide scar, even if she was looking at it now, she could feel her back hurt.

“It didn’t hurt at that time, I just blacked out.” He brushed the topic off with a calm voice. The red light came on and Xia Jinyuan stopped the car. He held onto the steering wheel gracefully with one hand while he laid the other on the winded-down window. He looked at her frown and laughed softly, “I don’t have any impression of it now. The pain is gone. I’ll tell you if it hurts the next time I get an injury.”

Touch-wood?

Xia Jinyuan laughed brightly. His deep eyes were lit dimly as if there was a halo spreading out. Ye Jian’s heart suddenly pumped harder as she avoided his gaze.

Her heart was in a conflict, but her gaze was always somehow attracted to him. He was like the light. No matter how dangerous he was, he would attract those who had lived too long in the darkness.

It was already 1 am when they reached the school’s back door. Xia Jinyuan stood under the streetlamp and watched Ye Jian walked towards the back door. With his hands in his pocket, he looked at her entering the school and the smile in his eyes gradually faded away.

A chip. The little fox understood well that she needed to watch out for Ye Zhifan. Winning chips for herself was the right thing to do. But his heart hurt when Ye Jian had to deal with someone like Ye Zhifan at such a young age. She was living a tougher life than her peers.

Who is the one backing Ye Zhifan? It looks like he needs to investigate.

The car dashed fast and went straight to the hotel. Xia Jinyuan's cell phone had vibrated a few times and he only returned the call when he got back to the hotel.

"Q King, when are you going to return after tomorrow's holiday? We're waiting for you in the Capital City." Dressed in shorts and a sports t-shirt, J5 stood on the balcony of the military guest house and teased while holding an unlit cigarette in his mouth. "I heard someone mention your little fox in the meeting today. Not bad, the leaders are paying attention. What a bright future."

Xia Jinyuan turned on the lights in the room and also the cell phone's loudspeaker. While undressing, he said lazily, "Naturally. That's the little fox that I fancy. I wanted to fight for her, but it was useless."

"Are you bragging now?" J5 couldn't get used to it. Everyone else was single. And it was only Xia Jinyuan who fancied a senior high student. "Remember, our love lives are all in your hands. Don't just date and forget about us."

Everyone from the Xueyu unit knew that Q King liked a senior high student named Ye Jian. Even Z7 said she was a good girl!

But she's young and still in senior high.

But it was good that she's young too. Otherwise, these twenty-six-year-old 'elder' comrades would not be able to take it!

There must not be any physical contact, Q King can only look and think about it!

"Let the brothers wait. Wait for my revolution to succeed." After walking past the bathroom, Xia Jinyuan turned and looked at the scar on his lower back through the mirror... It was still okay, not that horrifying. The little fox seemed to be shocked.

Chapter 429: Bathing At Midnight

After taking a look, he left the bathroom and picked up his pajamas – shorts and sports t-shirt issued by the military unit. He then entered the bathroom again. "I'll return tomorrow afternoon. How many of you have reached?"

"Five. Five others left in advance." September in the Capital City was much cooler than the South. Standing on the balcony and enjoying the night breeze, J5 felt even more restless. "There's a briefing tomorrow night with those from the Imperial City. You must rush back."

Xia Jinyuan, who was preparing to shower, turned on the water and in the midst of rushing water sounds, he replied, "Okay. See you tomorrow afternoon. I'm hanging up."

"Wait, why didn't you ask anything when your little fox was mentioned in the meeting?" Before the connection was lost, J5 asked, "You don't even care? Hey, hey! Damn, he really hung up!"

Something's wrong. Why didn't he care? That's unlike the 'wolf'. There must be something going on. Something that I don't know!

Wait, just now.. he heard the sound of water!

He answered the phone late, and there was the sound of water in the middle of the night... J5's facial expressions tensed up as if he had discovered something big. Did Q King already... bed his little fox?!

It shouldn't be, but my heart is not at ease! No, I have to talk to someone about this. If I don't, I won't be able to sleep tonight. It was all habits that were left behind while he was an instructor. He would lose sleep if he didn't understand the whole thing!

G3 woke up from all the ruckus and flipped J5 over his shoulder, slamming him onto the corridor and shut the door. With the door separating the two of them, G3 said coldly, "I haven't slept for three nights. I rushed to Capital City and attended the meeting while struggling to keep my eyes open. Knock on the door again and I'll throw you down from the third floor!"

The next day, J5, who had no sleep, waited for Xia Jinyuan to enter the Capital City. Meanwhile, in the province, Ye Jian received Xia Jinyuan's call at noon in the teacher's office.

It turned out that he was already at the airport and had called to inform her. Ye Jian heaved a sigh of relief, pursed her lips and smiled, "Okay, see you next time."

It was still better to meet less. At least until she can make up her mind.

Xia Jinyuan, who was waiting for his flight, noticed her long breath. This little girl, she can't bear to stop seeing me. However, how can I let her be? His lips curled up and he smiled faintly, "This little fox says one thing and means another. I'm sure you don't want to see me again."

"No, you misunderstood." He could still notice it through the phone call. Ye Jian subconsciously straightened her back and listened to his low voice. "Oh, it turns out that you wish that I would come back often. Okay, I'll see you next holiday. Be good and wait for me in school."

It was very gentle, like feathers brushing across the heart... But one sentence could invoke her emotions so easily and make her feel like his affection was following her around.

"Go and eat. I'm going to check-in now. Goodbye, Ye Jian." Believe me, Little Fox. We will meet soon. It's inevitable.

The plane rushed into the sky and the blue sky rumbled. Ye Jian, who was going to the cafeteria, stood under the shade of a tree and looked at the long trail of white smoke and an airplane that was small like a matchbox... Is he inside the plane that's flying towards the North?

She didn't care whether they had good or bad grades. All that mattered to her was whether their family background was good or bad.

Chapter 430: Don't Come!

She had a good conversation with Jiao Hai on the first day of school. After all, he was the top student in the tenth grade. However, when she found out that his parents were just ordinary workers, she immediately showed a disdainful expression and her passion was never the same as before.

"I can't participate in the military training. But I will have water ready. Come to me if you're thirsty." Ye Ying smiled while emanating gentleness and generosity. "If you're tired, I can massage your shoulders too."

One of the girls chuckled, "No, no. I'm afraid someone will hit me. So did you agree to it? Ah, Yang Heng is handsome and he plays basketball. His grades and family background is good too. What are you waiting for?"

Ye Jian couldn't help but laugh when she heard that. Don't tell me that Ye Ying's senior high school life was the same as her junior high's.

She had to be wary of Yang Heng. He better not become the second Gao Yiyang... No, Gao Yiyang just didn't manage to see her true colors. He turned over a new leaf after that.

Her pace accelerated and soon, Ye Ying's voice could not reach her ears anymore. The sun was scorching hot and Ye Jian reached the cafeteria after passing through the lawn where the leaves had wilted.

The cafeteria was bustling with conversations and discussions about the military training. Some were exhilarated, while others were frowning. Everyone was different and had different opinions about the military training.

"I don't want to go, I want to take time off. The sun will be so hot that everyone will be tanned."

"Go ahead. I heard the soldiers from the military unit will be our instructors. It would be great if they are handsome. I will be happy even if the sun is hot."

Two twelfth grade seniors were discussing softly while they were lining up. When she found An Jiaxin and the others, they were also talking about the military training.

Yang Yi, who was in the same dormitory as Ye Jian, saw her sitting down and asked, "Do you want to go? The whole senior high school is participating. I heard that we will be sleeping in the field and feeding mosquitoes every day."

"Everyone has to go because it will be entered into our school records. There are no special exceptions." Ye Jian showed no signs of resistance or objection. The military training was a piece of cake for her. She said to the group of girls, "It's an opportunity to train. There's no harm trying."

"Anyway, we can spend seven days of the holiday together. I think it's quite interesting."

An Jiaxin who was nibbling on her spare ribs sighed heavily and frowned. "What military training? My dad wants me to enter a military school... I checked it out and sh*t, military school isn't somewhere a stupid person like me can enter. Becoming a female soldier after graduation sounds more reasonable."

"My dad wants me to enter police school and your dad wants you to enter military school. Great minds think alike." Zhang Bin, who was walking past with his finished plate chuckled, "I think a tomboy like you should enter military school. You will definitely beat up all the male soldiers!"

An Jiaxin roared, "Tomboy? You're asking for a beating!"

"Zhang Bin makes sense. I think your dad is right. You should enter a military school." Ye Jian smiled. She didn't contact her classmates ever since she left Fujun Town. She didn't know about An Jiaxin's future plans...

But it would be good if she entered the military school.

She's tall, has a good personality and the makings of an officer. Her physical fitness was good too. She just had to pass the test.
