

BOOT CAMP 601

Chapter 601: Unstoppable

Even Yao Jing started to stretch her neck. Now that the sand was blown into her eyes, Ye Jian would definitely not be able to hold on anymore!

Those not in the army would never know how much hard work it takes to be in a military stance. When Ye Jian was training under the tutelage of Principal Chen, there would be steel needles on her legs. As long as she moved, the needles would pierce her and she would bleed.

She had a waist frame on her back, and iron balls, sandbags were tied to her wrists. Her eyes were squinting forward and she would never blink, even if the sand got into her eyes! As long as the command wasn't over, no matter rain or shine, storm or calm, she would stand upright and strong, even if there was a hurricane!

So what if the sand got into her eyes? So what if sweat got into her eyes?

The army must have the appearance of an army, and a soldier must have the appearance of a soldier, the image of a soldier, and the grandiose of a soldier! They must deter enemies, provide a sense of security to the people, act with power, and be unstoppable when attacking.

Wearing the military uniform meant that you'll have to be able to withstand suffering. Wind, sand, sweat, and tears are just negligible things.

Ye Jian kept her head up and stared at the sunlight that could make other people's skin peel. She stood there for twenty minutes, without moving.

The classmates who were sitting down started becoming impatient. They were feeling uncomfortable sitting under the hot sun. Ye Jian, who was standing still would be even more uncomfortable.

"Twenty-five minutes! She didn't even move!"

"Not only did she not move, I saw sand getting blown into her face and she didn't even blink once! Did the sand get blocked by her long eyelashes?"

"Are you stupid? How can eyelashes block sand from going into her eyes? Do you want to try some fake eyelashes?"

"My eyes still sting after rubbing. Look at Ye Jian, she's standing so straight. Just with that, us boys are not as good as her!"

There was nothing surprising about this. If he mentioned that Ye Jian had helped the Ministry of Public Security to find the truth within four hours, the rest of his classmates would be shocked.

Drinking the entire bottle of water, Yang Heng held on to the empty bottle tightly. He was looking at Ye Jian. Isn't she attractive? Of all the students from the two schools, who can be like her?

One in a thousand? One in ten thousand? ...Perhaps it would be hard to find someone like her among ten million people!

She was still standing there, even as the sun rays turned from white to a touch of gold. Her shadow was stretched longer by the west-sloping sunlight, in line with the other instructors' shadows, all that while maintaining her aura.

She had trained for about half an hour prior to this. Now that she was there for forty minutes, it would mean that she had trained continuously for an entire hour without stopping.

One hour was already the limit for the boys, and to her, it still seemed so easy and relaxed. She didn't feel tired at all.

Looking at her, Yang Heng laughed. His handsome eyes had a kind of pride. Look, the girl that's standing there is his friend. So outstanding, and everyone in school would treat her with respect.

Yang Heng felt that Ye Jian would become one of the centennial figures in Provincial No.1 Middle School, and her photo would surely be hung in the school's hall of fame, and the juniors would look up to her.

Maybe one day when he returns to his alma mater, he can point at the photos and tell others that she was his friend!

Chapter 602: You've Misjudged

Yang Heng was a smart boy. He knew that if you sincerely treated her as a friend, Ye Jian would surely repay her friend with the same sincerity, just like brothers.

Compared to Yao Jing and Luo Ran, Ye Jian was someone worthy of befriending.

As he thought of Luo Ran who had jumped out, a cold look flashed across his handsome face. This brat is asking for trouble, I'll have to find an opportunity to warn him when we return to school after the military training.

As for Yao Jing, the warning didn't work. He'll have to think of another way.

The other boys were thinking about how to get to know Ye Jian, and he was already trying to solve some problems for Ye Jian.

Five more minutes passed, and Class One's instructor looked at the time and told the officer, "She has reached the stage of a new recruit."

"A new recruit? That's a misjudgment." The officer laughed, they were all standing under the sun, and even though he didn't move, his shirt was already soaked with sweat. He stared at the spear-like figure, "She's a veteran."

Veteran? The instructor was taken aback. "You mean she's already a soldier?"

"Definitely not a soldier, but there must be someone in the army training her secretly. Our chemical defense regiment... sigh, we're a little late, a little late!" The officer heaved a long sigh of pity. They were late, she was already trained to the level of a qualified soldier. It would be difficult for the chemical defense regiment to pull her in.

Although the instructor did not have that much emotion as the officer, he felt that it was a pity that someone like Ye Jian was not a part of them.

Applause rang as the sixteen figures marched over, and it got louder and louder. It was like they were welcoming back a triumphant hero, praising her heroism with applause.

But half an hour seemed like only three minutes to Ye Jian. Those few years of training had already brought her body condition to the peak. Her energy, every muscle, and bone had been trained to the best. Half an hour was a piece of cake for her, without any discomfort.

And the other students could only hold their military stance for fifteen minutes, at best. The officer purposely increased the time, to shake up the students who were defiant and fearful of being affected. It was to let them know that accusing people was arrogance, they should feel ashamed of themselves!

An Jiaxin clapped till her palms were flushed red. She looked at the figure sitting in the first row, on the far right. Rage flashed past her face and she smiled again. She softly walked through the two groups and got behind Ye Ying.

"Ye Ying, did you see? Did you think Ye Jian was afraid of your little trick? Do you regret it now? Hahaha, you want her to make a fool of herself, and instigate the class to reject her, you must be blind."

The righteous An Jiaxin wanted to provoke Ye Ying and let her know that her vile thoughts would eventually bring brilliance to Ye Jian.

"Doesn't it feel good to shoot oneself in the foot? Ye Ying, he who is unjust is doomed to destruction! Ye Jian has always minded her own business and brushed off the things that you did. She's magnanimous and kind-hearted! Stop thinking too highly of yourself. If she wanted to be calculative, do you think you can successfully complete high school?"

An Jiaxin was warning her to not mess with her. Ye Jian wasn't calculative, but that doesn't mean that she won't be in the future. If Ye Ying still wanted to use these underhanded methods, she might get into trouble!

Chapter 603: Fainting Because Of Anger

Ye Ying was already enraged, and her eyes seemed to be spitting fire. But her heart was doused with pails of cold water. When she heard An Jiaxin's voice, she turned her head fiercely and gave An Jiaxin a death glare with her blazing eyes.

When she turned her head, An Jiaxin saw a white face. She's angry! It feels so good! She angered herself like this! Heart disease? It clearly looks like she's going to have a heat stroke!

Looking at An Jiaxin, who was always at odds with her, Ye Ying lashed out, "Stop gloating over here. You won't know what will happen in the end! Just wait for it! Wait! I'll never let Ye Jian off!"

“Don’t be ungrateful, Ye Ying! If you dare to do anything to Jian, I’ll be the first one to not let you off!” An Jiaxin could not reason with her and couldn’t bear with it any longer. She berated, “Who do you think you are? You’re not as good as Jian in studies and in skills! Not even in character! Wait? Sure! I’ll wait! I’ll wait for you to fail miserably!”

An Jiaxin knew at a glance that Ye Ying, who was entrapped in her own paranoia, would not let go. Seeing that her good friend Ye Jian had become the focus of the audience, her anger that was caused by Ye Ying started to dissipate a little. She chuckled, “This time, I’ll have to thank you for putting Jian in the limelight. Now everyone in school will know who Ye Jian is! Thank you, Ye Ying!”

You can threaten Ye Ying, you can warn Ye Ying. But you must not thank her for ‘helping’ Ye Jian.

That was sarcasm as its best. Ye Ying was unable to accept that. An Jiaxin’s words were pricking her heart, bringing pain to her.

“Shut up!” Ye Ying’s voice was distorted as she glared at An Jiaxin, who was preparing to return to her position. She wanted to get back at her before she returned. Clenching her fists tight, she suddenly leaned over and softly fell onto Meng Wen’s body.

She was enraged and unable to accept what had happened. Finally... she had fainted for real.

She made herself faint over.

Meng Wen had been sitting beside her. When An Jiaxin started speaking, she couldn’t hold her head up and shifted her body aside, not wanting to hear those words.

However, when Ye Ying fell, she suddenly screamed. Unfortunately, the applause was too loud and only the girl on her right heard her screams. Not even her classmates behind could hear her.

Fortunately, the students who picked on Ye Jian were all sitting in front. When Ye Ying fell over, the soldier who was maintaining order immediately noticed it. It was common for girls to faint during military training. The soldier didn’t panic and contacted the medic. Two minutes later, Ye Ying was stretched out.

Fainting was a good thing. At least she avoided the storm that came next.

No one paid attention to whether or not Ye Ying had a heart attack. Everyone’s attention was focused on Ye Jian. High-pitched screams, loud cheers, warm applause. All to welcome Ye Jian’s return.

Meng Wen wanted to leave too. Usually, she liked to pick on Ye Jian. Because without her, there would be one less competitor in class and one more ticket to the top universities.

Chapter 604: The Person That Everyone Applauded For

However, Ye Jian came. Meng Wen couldn’t accept it.

She was already very good at her studies but she still answered the teachers during lessons, depriving her of the chance to shine. She wanted to embarrass her during the military training but ended up making things awkward for herself.

The other nine people felt like digging a hole and burying themselves. Luo Ran ate a mouth of dust. His head was still pressed on the ground and he couldn't move his body.

He couldn't see how Ye Jian performed in the past 40 minutes. He only heard the loud cheers from the other people. If the officer wasn't pushing him on the ground, he would have rushed out and booed at Ye Jian.

All the instructors went back to their classes. The students welcomed them with a big round of applause. Even though their hands hurt from clapping, they didn't stop.

Yao Jing just pretended to clap.

How could she be happy when the person she hated performed so well?

She couldn't. She just wanted to destroy and ruin that person whom everyone was applauding for. She wanted to throw her into the darkness and make sure that she would never be able to see the light again.

Wang Dandan glanced at Yao Jing. She thought of something as she saw Yao Jing's expression. Then, she continued clapping to welcome her instructor. She was also clapping for the lady she respected, Ye Jian.

"Jingjing, I feel that Ye Jian isn't a simple person. You might want to forget about the grudges between the two of you," Wang Dandan smiled as she spoke to Yao Jing. She wasn't worried that Yao Jing would get angry. "You saw what she did. Do you think that someone can do it so perfectly after practicing for only 30 minutes?"

"That's impossible. She must have trained for at least a few years. Don't offend the wrong person. Yang Heng might even leave you."

Yao Jing's expression darkened. She wiped the sweat off her forehead and smiled. "Dandan, what do you mean? You seem to think that I will try to hurt Ye Jian."

"Do you think you'll get the same result like in junior high?" Wang Dandan smiled sweetly as she turned her head. Her upper canine teeth were protruding so it made her look really cute. She wasn't as pretty as Yao Jing but she was very sweet-looking. "Didn't your parents come to school last time? What was the result?"

"I'm reminding you because we're friends. Of course, you can choose whether to listen or not. I feel that Yang Heng might not like Ye Ying. You don't have to love the branches because of the tree."

She winked as she spoke. There seemed to be a hidden meaning behind her words.

Yao Jing had retracted her smile. She looked at her friend with a slightly cold expression. After some time, she laughed and said, "Love the branches because of the tree. It sounds like a good way of putting it. Well, Yang Heng was the one who admitted he liked Ye Ying. He's my brother."

Wang Dandan didn't say anything. She frowned slightly and stopped persuading Yao Jing.

She knew Yao Jing in junior high. Their families were close so she knew Yao Jing quite well. If she couldn't persuade Yao Jing, only Yang Heng could do it.

Chapter 605: Blushing

Ye Jian wasn't someone they should offend.

Wang Dandan's family did business so she immediately knew what was the best solution. She didn't know Ye Jian's background. Hence, it was better to maintain a good relationship with Ye Jian. She hoped that Yao Jing could understand this too.

After returning to her class, the applause from the students got louder.

There would always be applause, it was just about the timing. Ye Jian used two lifetimes to win the applause.

Finally, she managed to achieve recognition during her most beautiful years. She used her ability to answer to her youth. She didn't waste her youth.

The instructors blew their whistle. Everyone walked back to their training position. Due to Ye Jian's influence, all of them straightened their backs and started practicing seriously under the hot sun.

The students from Class One rushed towards Ye Jian. An Jiabin was the first to hug her. Everyone carried her up and threw her into the air. They laughed as they caught the lady who brought honor to their class.

Ye Jian, you'll be the most beautiful scenery in the memory of all the graduates. Even when you grow old, your smile and your performance will still be etched in the memory of everyone.

"Ye Jian, Ye Jian!"

"Ye Jian, Ye Jian!"

"One, two, three, throw! Hahaha, catch her, catch her!"

Laughter floated in the air. Everyone sang and laughed as they created a beautiful memory in their youth.

Ye Jian's laughter was like the spring in the mountains, refreshing and invigorating.

The instructor blew his whistle and asked the excited students to put Ye Jian down. He gave them enough time to bond together so that they would become a close-knit team.

They just experienced some unhappiness so they needed this positive energy to heal the wounds. Ye Jian was the best person for this job.

Everyone saw her capabilities. They knew that she came back not to pull them down. She was here to bring them honor.

“Students, do you still think that your classmate is a burden?” The faces of those nine people were red with embarrassment. They had lost their confidence.

Ye Jian went back to her original position. The student behind her shouted, “Ye Jian, you’re so amazing. I’ll only respect you from now on.”

“Haha, they can’t even raise their heads now. Ye Ying fainted at a good time. If not, she’ll be embarrassed too.” Since there were people who didn’t like Ye Jian, there were students who didn’t like Ye Ying too.

Ye Jian just smiled. She never liked talking behind other people’s backs. She felt that if this person didn’t have a good personality, other people would know too. She didn’t need to tell anyone about it.

Chapter 606: Don’t Waste Your Youth

The officer started explaining why the students needed to undergo military training and why they needed to work together as a team.

“Those who seem to be quarreling for the class, in actual fact, you’re worried about yourself. You’re worried that you’ll get implicated and your results will drop. You’re afraid that you can’t get number one. You’re afraid of everything but you never thought of helping your friend. You can use your free time to teach your classmates and help those improve.”

“However, you just want to evade the problem. Students, this isn’t why we had military training. We want to train your perseverance and your teamwork. We hope that you can develop good habits and lifestyles. You all still need to work harder.”

“Your teamwork is your pillar. This pillar must never fall. Someone must hold it up at all times. Those that are capable will hold it up and help the weaker students. That’s how you can walk further. You shouldn’t discriminate against a certain person so that you can gain personal success. Personal victory doesn’t help in a team.

These words were not directed at the nine people in front. It was directed at everyone.

The instructor blew the whistle again. The morale of the class reached a new height. Everyone was excited. Their voices got louder as they replied.

Ye Jian used her actions to prove that she wouldn’t pull the class down. She was even able to lead her class to new heights. No one dared to question her now.

The officer seemed to have forgotten about Luo Ran. He only walked over to him after Class One started their training again.

The soldier that pushed Luo Ran on the ground wasn't an instructor. If Ye Jian was here, she would notice the intent gaze in his eyes and the thick calluses on his fingers.

This was a sniper of the chemical defense regiment. He was an outstanding sniper.

"Release him and send him to the infirmary." The officer looked at the tired young man. This kind of brat needed more beating. They had been punishing him for four days but he was still so arrogant. He would definitely be a scourge in society.

The soldier picked Luo Ran up like a little chick. "Be obedient. If you still want to eat dust, I can make sure you'll need a gastric lavage today."

If he was a real soldier, he would have been punished even more severely.

Luo Ran was a stubborn person. He was used to being arrogant so he couldn't stand this humiliation. He wanted to shout at them but when he opened his mouth, his throat was dry. His voice was hoarse.

"Damn it. You just wait!"

The officer smiled. "Fine. We'll be waiting for you. We're just afraid you might not dare to come and find us." What a delinquent. They couldn't punish him now but if he dared to provoke soldiers after he left this military unit, he would be seeking death.

In the infirmary, Ye Ying started to regain consciousness after the help of the medics. She heard someone shouting angrily the moment she woke up. "Let me go! I want to sue you! You're ill-treating us! I want to sue you!"

Chapter 607: Ye Jian, You Became My Most Beautiful Memory

It was Luo Ran's voice. Ye Ying opened her eyes with some effort. Yes, she could look for Luo Ran and ask him to take care of Ye Jian! No, not in the military unit. She should do it outside.

She mustn't implicate herself. Then... she should look for Yao Jing. They were having their route march tomorrow. She could find a chance tomorrow.

That's right! This was a good opportunity! She must grab it.

She would look for Yao Jing and ask her to make a stand. Her parents were government officers. If something happened to Yao Jing, the school wouldn't punish her too severely. She needed to drag Yao Jing out while wiping away her traces.

Ye Ying was still lying on the bed half-conscious but her mind was already working furiously.

The door of the infirmary opened. The soldier who dragged Luo Ran in said, "I'm afraid you need to give him a tranquilizer shot."

This young man was still so arrogant after entering the military unit. It was time for him to know how to be obedient.

The military doctor looked at the abrasion on the right side of Luo Ran's face and the dust on the right side of his body. He knew that this young man had been punished just now. "This is a naughty fellow. I'm afraid one shot is not enough. We'll need a few more shots."

"You can decide how many shots to give him. I'll suppress him while you inject him." The soldier's voice was cold. He didn't sound as if he was joking. The soldier moved and slammed Luo Ran on the sickbed. Luo Ran screamed in pain. However, he couldn't do anything.

He couldn't win in terms of fighting. He chose the wrong place to throw a tantrum. Luo Ran felt his camouflage uniform being torn apart. As he struggled furiously, he saw the military doctor walking over with a syringe.

He was injected but it wasn't a tranquilizer. It was just an antiphlogistic medication.

However, Luo Ran did become quiet. He didn't dare to move when he was being injected.

The teacher in charge of logistics came to the infirmary hurriedly. He heaved a sigh of relief when he saw Luo Ran lying on the sickbed obediently.

This Luo Ran was so irritating! He had never seen such an arrogant student before. He even dared to go against his instructors in the military unit. Wasn't he afraid of getting broken bones?

"I'm sorry to trouble you. There are two students who got heatstroke. Please go and take a look at them. I'll talk to him." The teacher had to apologize for the student when they created trouble.

After the military doctor left, the teacher reprimanded Luo Ran. "Luo Ran! I don't care how unhappy you are but please remain obedient for the last two days! Do you understand me?"

"Why should I? I just went over to say the truth. I didn't do anything wrong." Luo Ran never respected his teachers. The school recently built two new computer rooms. All the computers in the rooms were donated by his father. This was to ensure that he was able to graduate from senior high.

The school took his money and still wanted him to listen to them?

The teachers in school decided that if he didn't create any huge trouble, they would let him graduate no matter what his results were. They had no expectations of him. He wouldn't take part in the university entrance examination anyway. He just needed a junior high diploma.

The teacher had no interest in talking to Luo Ran. He glared at him before leaving the infirmary.

Chapter 608: Trapped Beast

Ye Ying waited for the teacher to leave before opening her mouth. "Luo Ran, if you continue like this, you'll be the one getting hurt." The best solution now was to use Luo Ran to hurt Ye Jian. He hated Ye Jian anyway.

Luo Ran was about to leave but when he heard the voice, he rushed back and saw Ye Ying's pale face. She was getting an IV drip.

This was a sick beauty. Luo Ran's eyes lit up as he sat on the side of the sickbed. "Why did you come to the infirmary? Did you faint from the heat? Didn't you say that you don't need to participate in the exercises? Did your instructor make things difficult for you?"

Ye Ying knew Luo Ran's feelings towards her. However, she didn't want to interact with such people. His face was swollen like a pig's head.

A look of contempt flashed passed Ye Ying's eyes. "Ye Jian just came but she's already working so hard. How can I drag my class down? I just didn't know that I'm so weak."

She fainted because of anger but she pretended it was because of her weak body.

"It's her again! Don't worry. We're having our route march tomorrow, right? Just wait and see! I'll take care of her sooner or later!" Luo Ran's gaze was vicious. He scoffed, "Let me come up with a plan today. I'll teach her a lesson tomorrow."

She didn't say anything but he was already furious!

Ye Ying was elated. She lowered her voice and said, "The instructors are already watching over you. They'll definitely notice your small actions. Don't act rashly."

This was to remind Luo Ran that he must be careful.

"Fine. This has nothing to do with you. It's between Ye Jian and me. I..." The door opened. Luo Ran hurriedly closed his mouth and walked out with his hands in his pocket. Two men carried a lady in on a stretcher. He rolled his eyes and left the infirmary.

Ye Ying was anxious. She hadn't hinted at Luo Ran to ask Yao Jing for help. She looked at the IV drip. There was half a bag left. She would have to go and find him later. There was enough time since the route march was tomorrow.

This time, she must drag Yao Jing in.

There were only two beds in the infirmary. The military doctor saw that Ye Ying was awake so he asked one of the young men to take the IV drip. Then, he said to Ye Ying, "Your condition is improving. We need this bed for this female student."

It was normal that some weak students would feel unwell during the afternoon training.

Ye Ying wanted to rest further but she had to get up. She looked at the clock in the room. She would be done at around 5 pm. She was just in time for dinner.

At 5 pm, the training came to an end. The students from Class One were shocked. Why did time pass so quickly today? They didn't feel tired at all.

“Instructor, we are feeling very energetic. Shall we continue for half an hour more?” One of the male students laughed. “It’s a rare occasion. Take the chance while it’s still available.”

It was past training time so the instructor wasn’t as stern as before. Thus, the students weren’t so afraid of him too. After five days of interaction, they knew that their instructor was only fierce during training time.

“I feel energetic too. Ye Jian, you’re my source of life!”

The entire class erupted in laughter. “You came from your mother, not Ye Jian. Haha, if you want to find your source of life, you should look for your mother!”

Chapter 609: Battle Song Start

“Ye Jian is the force that binds us together! That’s what you should be saying.”

“Come, let’s sing the song ‘Union is Strength’. Everyone must sing in their loudest voice.” The instructor was happy too. He felt proud that his students were all excited and motivated. Of course, the hero was Ye Jian. She was like a catalyst that released all the potential in her classmates.

Once they started, the other classes joined in too. No one wanted to lose out. Everyone started fighting to see who sang the loudest.

“Class Four, are you ready?”

“Yes!”

“Do you want to win?”

“Yes!”

“Where are the heroes of Class Eight?”

“Here!”

“We are the best! We are afraid of no one!”

“Class Six, Class Six, where’s your voice? If you can’t sing, don’t make noise!”

The entire field echoed with singing voices.

Singing was a tradition in the military. Now, it has become a tradition of military training too. It was able to unite the people and display the morale of the students. It could also invigorate the students and release their stress. In the military, singing was used to encourage the soldiers. Here, it was used to encourage the students.

Singing also livened up the atmosphere of the training. The instructors were always very stern during training so the students were frightened of them. Singing allowed them to bring the gap closer so that students could become more friendly with their instructors too.

Class One took the lead and brought the atmosphere to a new height. Everyone screamed their lungs out as they sang. You could even see the veins on the neck of some students.

An Jiaxin's throat was dry from all the singing. She smiled and said to Ye Jian, "Look at how motivated everyone is. The other classes are jealous of our class."

She didn't ask Ye Jian why she was able to complete the exercises so perfectly. She didn't plan to ask too. She felt that there was no point in asking.

Ye Jian was an amazing person. She could do anything.

On the other hand, Ye Jian was thinking about how she should explain to An Jiaxin. She couldn't expose Principal Chen's identity. There must be a reason why a world-class sniper hid in a small village.

"There's nothing to be jealous of. Ye Ying requested a challenge so I have to satisfy her." Ye Jian's expression was calm. "I feel like I'm back in junior high where she always finds trouble for me.

She was irritated.

The fragrant smell of food floated over. An Jiaxin swallowed her saliva unconsciously. "That person always like cheap tricks. She never changed." She remembered the hatred in Ye Ying's voice and immediately turned serious. "While you were practicing, I went to warn her. She told me to wait for it. Her expression looked as though she wanted to eat me."

Chapter 610: 20km Route March

Ye Jian knew what reaction Ye Ying would have. She didn't even need to think.

She smiled and said, "Why do you need to provoke her? She wanted to embarrass me but in the end, the results were against her wishes. If you provoke her again, she might faint."

"She really fainted less than a minute after I warned her. F**k! Jian, do you think she'll say that I caused her to faint after she woke up?" An Jiaxin wasn't afraid of trouble so she smiled as she continued, "I feel accomplished. She was always the one who angered us but now, it's finally my turn to anger her. I feel good for some reason."

She retracted her smile. "But I'm worried that she'll continue to think of ways to harm you. She wanted the entire class to kick you out of the military training but you became their idol in the end. Based on her personality, she won't give up."

"I think that she'll do something during the route march tomorrow."

She didn't expect a route march to happen during this military training. It seemed like the province really placed much importance in the military training.

“20km. We’ll gather at 5 am tomorrow. We’ll be going into the mountains. My legs feel weak just thinking about it.” An Jiixin’s attention was all on the route march. Her excitement and energy just now as gone.

Ye Jian frowned. Luo Ran, Ye Ying, and maybe even Yao Jing... she should be more careful.

As they walked, the students from the other classes were already queuing for their food. In the afternoon, the sun almost burned them. Now, as the sun sets, the entire sky was golden.

“Ye Jian, Ye Jian, you’re our idol. You must go in front.” The students in front waved at Ye Jian when they saw her walking over. “Can the students in front please give way? Our idol will be first.”

An Jiixin waved back as though she was the one being welcomed. “Thank you for your hard work.”

The instructor who came to find Ye Jian saw this scene. He smiled helplessly. “I’ve observed you for a long time. If you didn’t have long hair, I might have thought that you’re a guy.”

Which part of her looked like a lady?

An Jiixin turned and looked at the instructor beside her. She replied seriously, “It’s not good to eavesdrop on others. Instructor, you shouldn’t do this.”

“With your voice, I don’t have to eavesdrop.” The instructor laughed. This lady was very likable. As expected of the advanced class. All the students were motivated and obedient. They were much easier to handle than his comrades’ classes.

The male student who was scooping the food immediately helped Ye Jian to fill up her plate. The amount of meat and vegetables he gave piled high like a mountain. The male students standing in front raised their eyebrows. “Brother, are you sure Ye Jian can finish it? Don’t treat her like a man!”
