Chapter 101 The Dreaming Katherine

This night, a thunderstorm was raging outside the Tyson Hotel.

Katherine was inside the presidential suite and had a very long and beautiful dream. It was as if she had gone to an amusement park when she visited as a kid. After riding the bumper cars, she went to ride on the roller coaster. It was blissful, sweet, and like she was being spoiled like a princess. She realized that the story of Cinderella being loved by Prince Charming was rewritten from real life.

The sun started to rise as the storm dissipated.

Katherine wore Killian's shirt and walked to the huge panel windows and drew open the curtains. The warm and comforting sunlight enveloped her entire body. She was bent backward and stretched herself like a kitten and smiled. She looked at the rising sun and had a feeling of being reborn.

All her hardships had ended when she met Killian last night.

What was so great about Jack? Killian was now her true love.

Furthermore, she was sure that with Killian's family background, her parents would not treat her with disrespect and disdain like before.

"You're up so early?" Killian's voice was full of tenderness.

Katherine yawned, "I'm still a little tired." She then turned and returned to the bed.

DT Real Estate Agency.

Jack rushed to the company early that morning.

Previously he had decided to launch the sales of the three properties at once and now he needed to put in all his efforts to see it through. But thanks to the acceptance of sixty percent of Drago Real Estate Agency, it had given DT a huge boost.

Taking advantage of this wave of enthusiasm, perhaps Corbin and his team's worry of the negative impact of simultaneously launching three properties may be allayed. In this case, his stress had also reduced considerably.

As it approached lunchtime, Jack placed his work down and leaned back into his chair to rest. He looked outside the window towards the sky. After several seconds, he took his phone and called

Amber. The phone rang until it cut off automatically. The other party did not answer the call.

He frowned and opened the Wechat app and managed to contact Amber.

Jack, How are you over there?

Amber replied very quickly

Amber, Very well.

The simple answer made Jack feel the coldness of the distance.

It was like two pieces of red-hot metal had been drenched with freezing water. Jack rubbed his swollen nose. Hadn't Amber gotten over what happened? He didn't know how to help Amber overcome the issue and the only thing he could do was to wait. There were ebbs and flows in life.

The environment in which he and Amber grew up was vastly different. So it was natural that they would deal with things differently. He was someone who went through darkness and hardships and the way he dealt with that issue was certainly different from how Amber would as she had grown up in a privileged environment.

He hesitated for a moment and then sent a message.

Jack, Do you need me to go over?

Now he waited for ten minutes and Amber still had not replied.

Jack laughed helplessly and placed his phone down and continued with his work.

At the same moment, in the Presidential Suite of Tyson Hotel.

Katherine showered and put on a long black dress which Killian had one of the hotel staff purchase from Chanel. Standing in front of the mirror, she admired her figure accentuated by the figure-hugging Chanel dress.

Katherine's eyes were dazzled and smiled. She was no longer wallowing in desperation. She had been reborn! Yes, it was a new life! Katherine labeled her encounter last night as such. This was exactly the life she wanted.

Furthermore, she believed that Killian would be able to give her such a life. Just that Lamborghini was sufficient proof of his wealth.

Killian walked into the bathroom and held onto Katherine from behind her. He smiled at Katherine and whispered into her ear, "You're truly beautiful..."

Katherine's pretty face blushed and grinned, "Rascal, haven't you had enough?"

Killian laughed, "Let's go, we'll go for a long drive."

Katherine nodded and smiled. She held onto Killian's hand and obediently followed him. They checked out of the hotel and she got into the Lamborghini. Katherine twitched her eyebrows, "Can you take me to the TM Villa District for a drive? I heard that the scenery is beautiful over there.” Of course, she wasn’t going there to see the scenery but it was due to Jack living there.

The huge changes in this period caused her to lose all of her pride and she would hang her head in shame whenever she encountered Jack. Now that she had met Killian, she naturally wanted to boast in front of Jack and regain her pride and dignity.

But of course, she couldn’t tell Killian these.

“Okay.” Killian started the car.

The Lamborghini started with a roar and like a bolt of yellow lightning, it sped towards the TM Villa District. Katherine laughed coldly inside her as she looked at the beautiful scenery at TM Villa District.

“Jack, you can live here and one day I will also be able to live in this high-end district.”

Beside her, Killian looked at Katherine and asked tenderly, “Do you like it?”

“The scenery is beautiful.” Katherine smiled sweetly.

“In front is the Villa district, do you want to take a look?” Killian asked.

Katherine shook her head, “Forget it, I heard that the security is very strict. We might be chased out of there.”

“Is it?” Killian smiled and floored the accelerator and the Lamborghini immediately roared towards the Villa district.

Katherine’s eyes lit up and before she could react, they were at the entrance of the Villas. As Killian drove the Lamborghini to the main entrance.

“Salute!” The security guards at the entrance stood to attention and saluted, “Welcome home!”

Boom!

It was as if Katherine had been struck by lightning. She cupped her hand over her crimson lips and almost screamed. Oh lord! Did Killian live there?

In front of her, the large doors of the entrance slowly opened. The Lamborghini slowed down significantly and drove slowly into the complex. Katherine continued to cover her mouth and felt that she was dreaming.

Both sides of the road were lined with luxurious and grand villas. Each of them shocked her like a hammer banging onto her head. The Lamborghini drove and stopped at a villa at the Hillside crest.

Katherine finally couldn’t endure any further and asked excitedly, “Killian, do you live here?”

“What do you think?” Killian twitched his eyebrows and winked, “Get down, my little princess.”

His words made Katherine feel as if she was in the clouds.

Princess? She blushed and lowered her head coyly while feeling warm inside her. She waited till Killian opened her door.

“Do you like it?” Killian asked. Katherine nodded happily. At that moment, she was excited and elated.

Her heart was pounding but her mind was blank.

Was this a dream? If this was a dream, she hoped that she would never wake up from it!

“Then from today onwards, this will be my little princess’ home.” Killian smiled at Katherine and patted her back. Her eyes were looking coldly at a villa not far away.

Chapter 102 Killian Is Here!

Katherine’s life had changed totally after the thunderstorm last night. It was as if she emerged from hell and ascended to paradise. She wanted so much to live in a lap of luxury and experience a superior status. But in the past, she could only dream about it.

After she divorced Jack, her heart ached bitterly when Jack had that sudden change of fortunes and ended up living at the TM Villa district. But she didn’t expect that now she was also able to become a lady of one of the villas at the TM district.

“The wheels of fortune keep turning. Jack, who do you think you are? I can live equally well even without you!” Katherine thought. The villa at Hillside crest was definitely the peak of luxury and the most expensive property in the city. One villa here cost more than a hundred million yuan!

When Killian brought her around the villa, Katherine was immersed in excitement. She felt breathless and her heart almost jumped out of her chest. This was such a sudden change of events!

To think that the near-accident actually changed her entire life! All these made her feel dizzy and as if she was floating. When she walked with Killian to the rooftop terrace, Katherine couldn't resist and dove into Killian's embrace.

“Killian, you really do love me! Thanks so much. I'm so lucky to have met you!”

Killian adjusted his spectacles and said tenderly, “You are my woman. I've never seen such an attractive woman. That's why I want to give you all that I have.”

A gentle breeze blew. Their eyes met and they gently kissed for a long period.

“Killian, can you send me home? I would like you to meet my parents.” Katherine grabbed onto his hand excitedly. She was worried that if she were to relax her grip, he would disappear from her. Since

Killian was willing to give her everything, then her only thought now was to bring Killian to meet her parents.

Her parents would be extremely happy to know that Killian not only lived at the TM Villa district and but he also lived at the Hillside Crest. Even more importantly, now she can finally help her brother! She believed that since Killian was willing to let her live at the villa, then he should be willing to help her brother Tommy.

“Okay.”

Killian promptly agreed and pondered for a moment. He then took out a card in his pocket and said, “This card has a million yuan in the account. It’ll be a meeting gift for uncle and auntie. Do you think that it’s appropriate?”

Good lord! A million yuan? How could that be considered inappropriate?!

Katherine’s heart pounded wildly, composed herself, and shook her head, “It’s certainly acceptable! My parents are very easy going.”

If she wasn’t blacklisted by Jack, she would immediately call him or message him through Wechat to boast about it. What was so great about Jack? She simply took two hundred thousand yuan from him and he wanted to divorce her. He even set her up intentionally. How disgusting was that? Killian generously offered a million as a gift! Jack was nothing compared to Killian! Jack was scum!

They held hands as they walked out of the villa and got into the Lamborghini. They drove slowly out of the garden and out of the villa district.

Just at this moment, two men walked out from a villa just as the Lamborghini drove past. The two men were Mr. Ward and Brent.

“Huh?!” Mr. Ward frowned. Although it was just momentarily, he saw that the driver was Killian.

Brent also was puzzled, “Mr. Ward, did we see wrongly?”

“I am old and my eyesight is poor but how can a young man like you see wrongly?” Mr. Ward pondered deeply and murmured, “Killian indeed came to the city, but...”

Mr. Ward looked coldly and fiercely at the direction of the Lamborghini. Brent’s expression changed vastly when he saw Mr. Ward’s look. As far as he could remember, Mr. Ward always maintained a very pleasant and peaceful demeanor. He rarely displayed a ferocity as he had now.

“Killian is with Katherine?”

“And not he lived next to Master Hughes?”

“Is he playing with fire?” Mr. Ward’s voice was like a chilling wind blown from the depths of a chasm causing Brent to shiver.

Brent asked with anxiety, “Mr. Ward, what do you think are Killian’s intentions? Should we tell Master Hughes immediately?”

“Killian’s shrewdness far exceeds George. What he is doing now is not only to get on the nerves of Master Hughes but he certainly has other sinister motives.”

Mr. Ward pondered for a moment and said, “We should definitely inform Master Hughes. Additionally, from now on, you must follow Madam whenever she goes out. You must never let her be alone, not even with Daisy.”

“Understood.” Brent nodded.

There were many elites in the Hughes family. George was one of them. But his twin brother Killian was an elite among the elites! After spending so much time in the Hughes family, Brent knew how capable Killian was.

Mr. Ward was worried that Killian may do something to Sophie and hence he instructed him to protect Sophie. Daisy was certainly no match for Killian's fighting abilities.

Five o'clock in the afternoon.

Jack received Mr. Ward's message when he was having a meeting with the various department heads regarding the property launch. As soon as he saw the messages, Jack's face turned cold and he raged with fury. His sudden behavior change tensed up the entire conference room.

Corbin and the rest were stunned and no one knew what was going on but everyone could tell that Jack was furious. The tensed moment lasted for more than ten seconds.

"Sigh..." Jack heaved a long sigh, composed himself, and smiled, "Let's continue."

Corbin and the rest felt relieved but everyone was wondering what just happened.

The meeting ended.

Jack didn't stay around and immediately left the office and went home. Along the way home, he clenched his fists tightly until the veins on the back of his hands throbbed. His eyes betrayed his fury.

Was Killian trying to shame him?

Was Killian trying to provoke him?

Although he had ended his relationship with Katherine, Killian was using Katherine to get on his nerves.

Were they truly in love? Bullshit!

He didn't believe that Killian really liked Katherine. Although there were true stories of children of wealthy families falling in love with regular folks, but now it was between Killian and Katherine. How was it possible that something like that happened to Killian and Katherine?

The taxi finally reached the villa. Jack got out of the taxi and saw Mr. Ward and Brent waiting at the entrance.

"Master Hughes, they live at that villa." Brent pointed to a villa not far from them.

Jack scoffed, "Got it." After that, he walked straight into his villa.

Brent was stunned, "That's it?"

Mr. Ward smiled, "Then what do you expect? Do you want to tear down their place? Or do you expect to kill Killian and Katherine?" Brent scratched his head and chuckled. He didn't say a word thereafter.

Back in the villa, Jack was relieved when he ascertained that his mother was fine.

He walked to the rooftop terrace, sat on the chair, and looked across to that villa. In fact, he had been mentally prepared that Killian would eventually turn up. He even was prepared for the worse.

But never had he expected Killian to move to a villa next to him and to get involved with his ex-wife!

Just as Jack was fuming in anger, the atmosphere was very different at the Parry family.

Chapter 103 The Parry family's True Colors

At the moment, the Parry family was shrouded in jubilation and the atmosphere was really lively.

In the afternoon, when Katherine and Killian both left TM Villa District, they didn't return home immediately. Instead, they went somewhere nearby to make some purchases.

In Katherine's eyes, this was Killian's first time going to her house.

His meeting with her parents was something not to be taken lightly.

It was her luck that Killian was a generous person who spared nothing in buying the gifts.

He had bought hundred-year-old mountain ginseng, ganoderma. At the same time, he also prepared a jade bracelet for Elissa.

The total cost of these gifts easily exceeded one million yuan.

Katherine had a big smile on her face with the way things were developing. She was even surer that her chance encounter with Killian had enabled her to meet her true love.

That day, Killian drove his Lamborghini and entered the compound of the Parry family house. His appearance caused a stir in their tiny community.

When Kieran and Elissa saw Katherine emerged from that Lamborghini, they were completely stunned.

Although this couple never really understood cars, but Tommy knew everything about that car.

Tommy exclaimed, "This car costs at least five million yuan!" His words caused both Kieran and Elissa to feel a throbbing sensation in their head.

Soon after, Killian and Katherine carried their hefty gifts and entered the house. They placed those presents on the table while also handing Elissa a bank card which had a credit limit of a million yuan.

Everything came crashing at them ceaselessly, and both Kieran and Elissa were starting to doubt the authenticity of everything. It was as if they were in a dream world, which felt very unrealistic.

This feeling pegged them for the entire afternoon.

They were only able to fully recognize the reality of things by the time the sky finally turned darker in color.

Katherine finally got herself a super second-generation rich!

The Parry family was going to prosper!

On the dining table, there were all kinds of delicacies.

The cost needed to prepare these delicacies alone amounted to Kieran's salary for a month, but the members of the Parry family didn't feel that this was too outrageous.

It would be a joke if they couldn't do this much at least!

After all, the gifts brought by Killian probably amounted to an exorbitant price of two million yuan. There was nothing wrong about spending a month's worth of his salary to treat Killian to a good meal.

Kieran, Elissa and Tommy were all excited beyond words. They could feel their heart pounding furiously against their ribcage.

Ever since Katherine had divorced with Jack, the whole Parry family was seemingly plunged into a boiling pot of water. There was not a day when they could live their life peacefully ever since.

However, with Killian's arrival, they had an illusion that all the dark clouds hanging over them were suddenly being swept away, revealing the clear skies beyond them.

Kieran, Tommy and Elissa were all enjoying the ancient wine brought by Killian.

The whole family was praising Killian mightily with their words littered with flattery and compliments.

As she watched them basking in such jubilant atmosphere, Katherine felt some tears welling up in her eyes. She was overcome with strong touching emotions at the moment.

They had finally left their turbulent days behind them.

Finally, she could also do something substantial for this family too, such as paying her due respects to her parents and assisting his young brother in his life.

All of this was possible because of Killian!

With such a thought in mind, Katherine's tender body slipped into Killian's embrace while her fine hands held on to Killian's hands strongly. She spoke with extreme gentleness by Killian's ear, "Killian, I'm really thankful because I met you. You must be God's greatest present for me."

"The same can be said about you." Killian revealed a warm smile.

They looked pretty much in love with each other.

Elissa was grinning widely as she watched them cooing to each other. Her smile was so wide and her eyes had formed a crescent moon shape.

Kieran couldn't stop letting out sighs of relief as he smiled inconspicuously with his head lowered.

On the other hand, Tommy seemed like he had forgotten about his grief for losing Shirley. His face was brimming with agitation at the moment.

They truly believed that after Katherine married Killian, their family would finally prosper and ascend to greater heights.

This was Killian's first time visiting their house, yet he was able to fork out presents worth almost two million yuan. Even if Katherine didn't contribute anything significant to the family in the future, they would still be able to rest easy for the rest of their lives.

"Killian, don't blame me for being a busybody, but when you arrived with your car in the afternoon, there was a huge commotion out there."

Elissa deliberately asked with the aftereffects of alcohol still existing in her system, "I heard from Tommy that your car cost at least five million yuan. Is that true?"

"Mrs. Tanner, you are Katherine's mother. Why would I blame you for being a busybody?" Killian shook his head with a smile on his face.

Elissa was even happier upon getting his response.

Compared to Killian, Jack was just a nobody!

Killian was going to be Elissa's perfect son-in-law!

The next second, what Killian said sent a thunderous shock to Elissa's mind, "However, that car didn't cost me five million yuan. It actually cost me more than seven million yuan."

Elissa's face displayed one of extreme astonishment upon hearing that.

Both Kieran and Tommy also had their mouths gaping.

Killian continued to smile faintly while explaining, "Since the car has been modified slightly, so the price is higher than normal but it's not expensive anyway."

For Killian, it turned out that seven million yuan was not expensive at all!

Oh my god!

"Mr—Mr. Hughes, so this price tag is not expensive for you at all?"

Tommy finally couldn't restrain his excitement any longer as he spoke with trembling lips, "In terms of pricing, your car is equivalent to more than a dozen of my Audi."

"Audi?"

Killian's brows were knitted slight as he asked with a darkened expression, "How much does it cost?"

Tommy froze when he sensed the change in Killian's expression. Did he say something inappropriate?

Anyway, he still answered him, "It costs around three hundred thousand yuan."

Kieran and Elissa were both in a daze at that moment.

Elissa was the one who was able to come back to her sense quickly. She punched Tommy's arm hard and seethed, "You rascal, what the hell are you saying?"

Tommy was at a complete loss.

Katherine was also racing to explain to Killian despite they all didn't know the reason behind the change in Killian's expression.

Nevertheless, they knew very well that Tommy must have said something wrong, judging from Killian's expression.

However, before she could say anything, Killian suddenly smiled, "Tommy, you are Katherine's little brother after all, and we would be family soon. That would mean that you would be my brother as well, but it's too pitiful for you drive a car that only cost three hundred thousand. Come with me and choose a car for yourself tomorrow. You only need to consider the models that cost more than a million yuan."

At that moment, it was as if a huge explosion had gone off in their heads.

One million yuan?

He was instructing Tommy not to consider any car that was priced lower than one million yuan?

Oh my god!

Katherine's tiny frame jerked slightly and she could feel herself getting hotter and hotter for some reason. She wanted to just dig into his embrace right there and then.

Kieran had a shocked expression on his face and his heart was jumping wildly. However, the corners of his mouth inadvertently lifted.

On the other hand, Elissa was squeezing Kieran's thighs under the table. Her nails were digging into his flesh so hard that a few visible scratches could be seen at first glance.

She was staring at Killian with stars in her eyes. She found herself unable to avert her gaze for a long time.

"Mr. Hughes, no, I mean, my brother-in-law, are you being serious?"

Tommy had sprang up from his seat at that moment and he was clutching Killian's arms while dishing out his question with agitation.

Killian revealed a frown on his face probably due to Tommy's aggressiveness and strength.

Elissa jolted and immediately hurled a pair of chopsticks on Tommy's body, "You bastard, what are you doing?"

If this were Jack in the past, Elissa would turn a blind eye to Tommy's actions at the moment. They would even join with Tommy's assault on Jack if Tommy were to start a scuffle with him.

However, things were very different at the moment. Killian was the uber rich son-in-law in Elissa's eyes!

And the amount of wealth he possessed was certainly no joke!

"Mrs. Parry, don't worry." Killian's frown disappeared and his face returned to his usual expression as he told Tommy, "I will come get you at eight in the morning tomorrow. You can think about what kind of car do you fancy, but remember that don't even consider those that are priced lower than one million yuan. Those cars don't suit you anyway."

"Al—Alright, Killian. Thank you so much." Tommy was so excited that his heart was almost jumping out of his chest.

After finishing up their scrumptious and satisfying meal, Killian stood up and announced, "Mr. and Mrs.

Parry, the time is getting late. I will excuse myself now."

“Dad, mum, Tommy, I’m going with Killian too.” Katherine also stood up.

Elissa immediately said, “Alright, stay safe when you are on the road. Katherine, take good care of Killian.”

As she said this, she winked at Katherine too.

Katherine was able to understand her signals and her face blushed instantly. She complained, “Mum, Killian was drunk now so he can’t drive at the moment. We will take a cab back.”

“Fine, it’s getting late now, you should go home now.” Elissa urged them on.

“Oh, right. Dad, mum, Killian actually lives in TM Villa District. I’ll invite you guys over if everyone has some free time to kill.” Katherine suddenly thought of something and she said this joyously.

Once again, Kieran, Elissa and Tommy all felt a thunder striking them and rendered them immobile on the spot.

Elissa recalled her bad experience at the main gate of that district and suddenly felt that all her grievances could finally disappear.

Those security guards had done her a good number. Now that her son-in-law was actually a resident there, she wanted to see the expression on those security guards’ faces the next time she went there.

As she mulled this over, Elissa had a victorious expression on her face. She nodded approvingly, “Fine, fine, fine.”

After Katherine and Killian left, Kieran suddenly said worriedly, “Kate has only known Killian for a very short amount of time. Isn’t it inappropriate to allow her to just go with him like that? It’s not going to look very good on her.”

He was a teacher, so it was natural that he would take her reputation into consideration.

However, as soon as he finished his words, Elissa pinched him hard and retorted, “What do you know?”

A rich son-in-law like him is something who usually only exists in our dreams. In contrast, shouldn’t we make sure that Kate is able to stick herself to him permanently? What if we miss out on him?”

“Dad, mum, am I dreaming now?” Tommy suddenly interjected.

“I have the same feeling.”

Elissa raised her eyebrows while asking Kieran, “Can you still feel pain?”

Kieran nodded in response.

Elissa’s eyes were shining brightly as she said longingly, “The Goddess of luck finally decides to bestow her grace on us. Katherine is the reason our family is going to become rich and prosperous in the future. Kate is really my good daughter.”

Chapter 104 You Seem to Enjoy a lot for Having Such a Worthless Partner

Under the dark sky, the yellow Lamborghini was like a stroke of lightning that shot through the streets.

Katherine was in an upbeat mood at the moment. She had a sensation that her body was wrapped in the gusts of wind in spring time which made all her muscles loose.

Killian’s intrusion into her life finally helped her to rediscover what it meant to have a home.

Her nightmare which had lasted for several months finally came to an end.

Katherine was even entertaining the prospect that God was actually testing her mettle through those past few months of trials and tribulations. In the end, as if rewarding her for passing the test, he had sent Killian to her side.

After all, she finally caught a glimpse of a rainbow after braving through a thunderstorm!

“Killian, I love you.”

Katherine confessed with emotion.

Killian continued to focus on the road ahead as he replied, “I love you too.”

“Tonight, I am yours.”

“You are mine forever.”

His sweet words successfully caused her to blush. She felt like she was on cloud nine.

However, she never noticed that the corners of Killian’s mouth had slowly curled up, and his depthless eyes were now icy cold.

For him, as the elites of the all-encompassing Hughes family, he was a potential candidate to become the next head of the family.

He was never short of beautiful women around him.

Katherine was indeed pretty, but in Killian’s eyes, there was nothing distinguishing about her at all.

He had laid his eyes on countless women who were even prettier than Katherine. Of course, she would never know about such thoughts.

At the moment, Katherine was plunged into the river of love and she couldn’t retrieve herself anymore.

Her mind was filled with endless longing and fantasy, and all she was feeling at the moment was an indescribable happiness.

At the TM Villa District, it was as clear as day with the lights casting a glow on everything.

As the most prestigious community in the city, the night view here was unrivalled.

The lights formed an image of marvelous explosion of colors. This whole place was practically a paradise on earth.

Katherine who was in the passenger's seat of the Lamborghini couldn't move her eyes away from such an exotic sight. This was her first night staying in this wealthy area!

"If Jack that bastard were to learn about this, he would probably be so mad, right?"

"Jack, who do you think you are? With that insignificant amount of money you have, you can't even compare to Killian's maids. Always remember that I was the one who decided to break up with you!"

"Jack, if I were to see you again in this district with Killian by my side, would you feel so shameful that you would look for a hole to hide yourself in?"

These sentences were flashing by quickly in Katherine's heart, and she even imagined Jack's reaction had he known about this. This single thought made her heart flutter in happiness.

She was always prideful since she was young. She always received compliments from the people surrounding her all along.

Even if she was married to Jack, she always viewed herself as a queen perched on top of the throne.

What she never thought beforehand was that her life would be hell just months after she had divorced Jack.

She was tortured by depression and despair for so long, but now her life seemed to have started afresh and she couldn't wait to show off her new life to Jack!

However, she couldn't be too impatient.

Since they were both staying in the same district, not to mention they were staying in the most prestigious villa in the valleys of the hill, it would mean that their encounter was just a matter of time!

The Lamborghini sped into the villa area and entered the garage of Killian's villa.

Katherine jumped of the car heartily and hooked her arms around Killian's and together they entered the house.

As she strode along, her face was the same joyous and satisfied smile as before.

"Killian, let's go to the balcony on top of the villa..." A bold idea suddenly occurred to Katherine.

The moon was casting a white glow on everything on top of the balcony, and there was nothing that could conceal them if they were there.

She felt herself captivated by such an exciting prospect!

The current her knew how to enjoy such wild excitement with Killian.

Killian didn't seem to hate her idea.

It was only some time past ten tonight, so it was not too late yet.

However, for Sophie who was still slowly recuperating, resting was the most important part in her efforts to preserve her health.

Daisy also went to bed early because she needed to take care of Sophie.

On the balcony of Jack's villa, Jack was drinking so beers with Brent and Mr. Ward.

A mild breeze caressed their face as they let the alcohol slipped down their throat.

They were only feeling slightly tipsy and it was the most optimal state for them.

“Young master, don't you feel any anger.” Brent asked hesitantly with a bottle of beer in his hand. He was able to muster this much courage with the help of alcohol in his system.

“I was indeed angry.”

Jack squinted his eyes and let out a laugh, "Are you curious as to why I am able to maintain my composure?"

"Brent..." Mr. Ward only took a few sips of alcohol so he was still clear-minded. He knew that Brent shouldn't have brought this up, so he wanted to hint at him to stop this topic.

However, Jack raised his hand to interrupt Mr. Ward.

He wasn't the least bit disturbed by what Brent was asking about. He knew that Brent would come at him at some point.

Brent saw his reaction and nodded in accordance to Jack's inquiry.

Jack smiled while answering, "That stupid hag has become other's tools but she misinterpreted it as luck coming her way. I'm merely an onlooker, so why should I be affected by any of this?"

Mr. Ward frowned upon hearing that.

Brent didn't get what Jack was trying to say, "Then, you're angry about..."

Jack gulped down another mouthful of beer before replying, "I am just angry that I can't differentiate evil people, and I am angry about Killian's viciousness."

Brent and Mr. Ward exchanged a doubtful glance.

Was this really the truth?

Just as Mr. Ward averted his gaze, there was a momentary glint of coldness in his eyes. His brows were furrowed too.

Both Brent and Jack were able to catch a glimpse of Mr. Ward's peculiar expression.

They were confused by the drastic change in his expression.

Due to the fact that Jack was facing away from the direction where Mr. Ward was training his gaze on, he then turned around and saw Brent following Mr. Ward's gaze. He was staring at a scene opposite him.

"Fuck! Damn it!"

With a loud crashing sound, Brent cursed while hurtling his beer bottle onto the table in front of him.

The bottle was smashed into pieces because of his excessive strength.

At the same time, Jack also turned around and saw what was happening on a balcony opposite them.

He was instantly besieged by a coldness, and his gaze was surging with anger.

Normally, such villas they were staying in valued privacy as their most important selling point, and it was close to impossible to peek into the interior of another villa.

However, the same could not be said about the balcony on top of the building.

Although the night glow was hazy, but he could still make out the outline of two human beings on the balcony opposite.

He was even able to get a clear look of their faces.

Under the hazy and yellowish glow, Katherine was intertwined with Killian and they seemed to be immersed in their own world.

However, with the smashing sound caused by Brent, the couple looked in this direction.

For a moment, Katherine and Jack locked gazes.

With something exploding in the distance in her mind, Katherine felt her body tremble slightly.

When she came back to this villa, she had expected to meet Jack at any given moment.

However, she didn't expect that it would be this soon!

They were practically just next to each other! They were actually neighbors!

After this tremendous shock dissipated, Katherine suddenly felt her heart thumping hard.

She was smug, excited... various complicated emotions were merging and expanding in her chest.

She looked like a proud peacock as she hooked Killian's arms intimately while slowly approaching the edge of their balcony. She raised her head slightly and produced an arrogant smile, "Jack, I can't believe that I will see you here. This comes as a real shock to me. Let me introduce to you my boyfriend and his name is Killian."

Jack said nothing in response to that. He simply adjusted his glasses and nodded with a faint smile on his face.

On Jack's side, the three of them didn't plan to expose Killian.

Mr. Ward had a mild anger building up from within his body.

Brent was looking furious as if he was going to devour Killian at any given moment.

Only Jack was looking nonchalant as if nothing could affect him in any way.

"You wouldn't have thought of this, would you? You wouldn't have imagined that I would appear in this place, right? Let me tell you, Killian is far better than you, and you can't even compare to one of his underlings." Katherine spoke these words with extreme arrogance and pettiness.

She wanted to show off her new life.

She wanted Jack to feel belittled and sorry for himself.

She wanted Jack to know that she was having a better life than him now!

However, Jack simply mumbled a vague response, "Oh."

Katherine was stunned upon hearing that.

This was not the outcome she wished for!

He shouldn't be able to remain this calm!

Was it because that she hadn't provoked him enough?

The next second, Katherine suddenly shouted, "Killian!"

"Hmm?"

Killian tilted his face in her direction.

Katherine immediately tiptoed and pressed her red lips on Killian's. She was very aggressive at the moment.

Jack rubbed his nose and flashed a strange smile on his face, "You seem to enjoy a lot for having such a worthless partner."

The moment he said that, both Killian and Katherine froze.

Chapter 105 Family Rule

Soon after that.

Killian looked angry.

Katherine even left Killian furiously.

The night wind was slightly cold, but it was not on par with their rage.

But when Katherine glared angrily to the opposite side of the villa...

Jack and Mr. Ward Brent already left.

Katherine muttered as she cried out of shame.

It shouldn't be like that!

How could that be?

She kept thinking of the scene where Jack was humiliated and was supposed to be angry. She really didn't think that Jack could say that sentence calmly!

The contempt from his tone made her fly into a rage out of humiliation instead!

"You should go down first."

Killian sounded cold as he gazed to the terrace of the villa.

Katherine was dumbfounded as she nodded instead of talking back. She then obediently went downstairs.

What Jack had said was heartbreaking for her.

She was really not in the mood to provoke Killian anymore.

After Katherine left, Killian slowly pushed the glasses on his pointed nose.

Under the yellow dim light, anger finally showed up on his calm face and he was giving out cold vibes.

“I wanted to trample your dignity with this and make you angry, but I never thought that you'd be so calm. George deserved what you did to him.”

Killian sneered as he said that. He then rubbed his temples, turned around, and went downstairs.

While walking, Killian murmured, “That woman is useless now.”

Inside the villa.

Because Katherine's natter, Jack became fully sober.

Mr. Ward and Brent were anxious to see Jack's calmness.

Brent couldn't hold it in any longer so he said, “Young Master, I can help you... I was also the one who helped Killian improve his battle skills.”

It was too exaggerated and Killian went too far.

Why should he disgrace other's wife?

Brent knew Killian would seek revenge so he would definitely look for Jack... But humiliating Jack in such way was really unexpected.

“Brent, you shouldn't act rashly!”

Mr. Ward cleared his throat and frowned when he said, “Young Master, you should calm down.”

“I know.”

Jack smiled, “Even if I don't know why he used so many evil ways, but he must have wanted to make me angry to achieve his goal.”

Mr. Ward frowned as he lowered his head and pondered.

Jack's reaction was very surprising and Jack's words also reminded Brent of something.

Killian had meticulous mind and was extremely subtle... Using Katherine as Jack's ex-wife to humiliate

Jack was obviously too childish.

The Killian that Mr. Ward knew was very meticulous in everything.

All of the sudden, Mr. Ward trembled with an angry look on his eyes.

“Killian, what a ruthless scheme!”

“Huh?”

Both Jack and Brent looked towards Mr. Ward at the same time.

Mr. Ward's chest moved up and down as he continuously took a few deep breaths. He was clearly suppressing the anger in his heart.

After Brent calmed down, he slowly said, “The Hughes family dominates the world, its family members are everywhere and its factions are complicated. Long ago, the ancestors had formulated a family rule for the family tree for the Hughes family's continuation.”

Jack was stiff, Killian's move might have something to do with the family rule that Mr. Ward said!

Mr. Ward's voice was low and deep when he said, “It's one of the family rules to prevent family members fighting, creating internal conflict, and affecting the prosperous Hughes family.”

“What's the rule?” Jack asked.

“The younger generations from the Hughes family may not hurt the other members of the same clan...”

Otherwise, they will be driven out of the Hughes family and their name will also be removed from the family tree. Even if he's one of the successors, he'd also be disqualified.”

That punishment would be quite severe.

“Mr. Ward, why didn't I know that?” Brent looked surprised.

Mr. Ward glanced sideways at him, “We're both servants, do we have the authority to know things like family rule? If I didn't follow the head of the family back then, I won't qualify to know either!”

A family rule related to the family members and even the selection of successors that would qualify.

Ordinary servants would definitely not qualify to know.

However, Jack frowned at Mr. Ward's words because he didn't understand if.

If that family rule existed, then it probably was Killian's goal of using Katherine to make Jack angry.

But Jack was confused because he had done the same thing!

“Mr. Ward, I did break one of George's legs.” Jack asked, “According to this family rule, I'd be disqualified as the successor, no... I'd be driven out of the family tree.”

Mr. Ward smiled strangely, “Think about it carefully, is it really the same?”

Jack was dumbfounded.

All of the sudden, he realized something.

Last time Tyson Hotel, he attacked George because of Amber.

Jack only attacked because George schemed on Amber first... Jack even lost and Brent was the one who broke George's leg!

Even if George and Killian's schemes seemed like the same thing, but it was completely different in nature!

Katherine was indeed Jack's ex-wife, but after the divorce, they're basically two completely unrelated people.

Killian used his "ex-wife" to step on his dignity, make him angry, and hurt Killian, that's exactly against the family rule!

Mr. Ward smiled at the sight of Jack realizing it, "The family had investigated about George, he was the first one to mess around and Brent was the one who attacked him... Old Master also sided with Young Master, so Young Master could avoid it."

After a pause, Mr. Ward stopped smiling, "Just now, fortunately the Young Master calmed down.

Otherwise, even if Brent intervened, it'd be hard for Young Master to avoid the family rule and it'd also be hard for Old Master to side with him.”

“When those family members take a firm hold of the family rule, Young Master will definitely be driven out of the family tree and Old Master will have to give up on Young Master.”

Jack smiled bitterly.

That was the principle.

However, Jack was just the “bastard” in the Hughes family members' eyes and he wasn't even in the family tree.

It'd definitely make the father he had never met give up... Even if father was willing to support him, father would have no choice else than giving up.

Else than Jack's father in the Hughes family, no one would probably regard Jack, the “bastard”, as important?

“Killian, what an evil plan! He's killing people without weapon.”

Brent kept on sighing.

Mr. Ward also said, “Even if Killian is ruthless, but his subtleness is indeed so unfathomable.”

Jack suddenly smiled, "What if I use the family rule?"

Mr. Ward stiffened before he dejectedly said, "I'm afraid that Young Master... Won't be able to do so."

"Fuck!"

Jack had predicted it before but he still couldn't help cursing.

Brent felt indignant at the injustice, "Then doesn't that mean that Killian can keep plotting against Young Master, but Young Master can't use the same way to plot on them?"

Before Mr. Ward could say anything...

Jack smiled bitterly as he patted Brent's shoulder.

"If there is no right cause, there will be no good solution. Qualifying as the successor is already the limit, even if it's more resentful, I must bear with it."

Chapter 106 Dreams Shattered and World Collapsed

Jack sounded so helpless that Mr. Ward and Brent wrung their hands in disappointment.

The word "birth" was like the iceberg above the sea level.

One would think that it's very small and insignificant.

But no one knew that there was a giant hiding under the sea level.

“Moreover, it's true that we can't use weapon to kill someone.”

Jack suddenly laughed.

That surprised Mr. Ward and Brent.

However, Jack just returned to his room without explaining.

“Mr. Ward, did Young Master mean that he has a plan?” Brent asked.

Mr. Ward smiled, nodded, and said, “The more I see it, the more I feel that Young Master is so similar to the Old Master back then.”

It was silent all night.

When the sun had risen again on the next day.

In the villa where Killian was at, the vibe was very cold instead.

Plop!

Killian threw his cloak to Katherine who was still in a deep sleep, “Fuck off.”

What happened on that night killed their moods... Even if Katherine wanted to sleep in the same bed as Killian, he rejected her too.

They slept in two different rooms.

Katherine woke up from her slumber and looked at Killian helplessly, "Killian... W-what happened?"

"I'm telling you to fuck off."

Killian looked cold and his tone was also very cold.

Katherine was dumbfounded.

She didn't know what in the world happened!

But Killian's change made her feel like he's a completely different person!

The day before he was still sweet to her, why did he suddenly become like that?

Katherine, who was stunned, suddenly panicked.

She didn't care about getting dressed so she just crawled off the bed and threw herself to Killian's feet, hugging Killian's legs and said, "Killian, why are you being like this? What have I done wrong? Tell me, I'll change... I'll definitely change."

After experiencing the difficulties, she finally lived well.

No matter how, Katherine wouldn't want to go back to her difficult situation.

After running into Killian by chance, everything changed for her... She reckoned the short two days as the happiest time of her life.

If she lost Killian, she really couldn't imagine how her life would become!

She couldn't give up, she wouldn't dare to do so!

Even if she had to let go of her dignity and give up on everything, she had to be with Killian.

“You didn't do anything wrong, but I'm telling you to fuck off.” Killian kicked Katherine off.

He was so cold like he was kicking a dead dog.

But that's the fact, since Katherine was useless, then why would he let her stay by his side?

He never lacked of beautiful ladies beside him. As long as he's willing to, there would be countless women who would want to serve him.

“No, Killian, don't dump me, I.. I was wrong, I was really wrong...”

Katherine was crying in fear, even if she didn't know why, she subconsciously felt that she had done something wrong so she threw herself to Killian and begged for forgiveness.

Bam!

Killian kicked Katherine, “You're just a tool and I have never lacked of women, there's a bunch of women who are prettier than you... Do you think I'll make you stay?”

People who had seen the beauties would absolutely not be reluctant to leave those that weren't as beautiful.

Killian was thinking like that too, at that time.

Katherine was indeed beautiful, but Killian had seen a lot of pretty ladies who was prettier than her since he was young.

“That's impossible, Killian, yesterday you're not like this! Why did you change so suddenly?”

Katherine was going crazy. She was crying so badly but she kept hugging Killian's leg, looking so lowly, “Yesterday you even said that you'll love me forever. You also bought so many things for my family...

After spending so much, I don't believe that you don't love me anymore... You still love me, right?”

“Ha!”

Killian sneered as he leaned over, lowered his head, and stared at Katherine coldly, “I only used a few million yuan just to play with you. For me, a few million yuan worth nothing... Money is just a number for me.”

He said that while kicking Katherine's shoulders, “If that is love, then I have spent tens of millions for other women, and so they should also commit suicide in front of me?"

Katherine was stunned.

She collapsed on the ground with tears streaming down her face.

Tens of millions just for fun?

Was that all?

Seeing how Killian turned around and was about to leave, Katherine suddenly thought of something, it was like taking ineffective measures in times of crisis.

That's right, death!

If she forced Killian with death, she'd definitely get him back!

Thinking of that, Katherine turned around and threw herself to the side of the bed like she's crazy... She then picked up a fine ceramic cup and smashed it into pieces. Soon after, she held the piece of ceramic tightly and pressed it against her throat.

"Killian, if you dump me, I'll really die in front of you!"

Katherine was too agitated that her hands and throat were bleeding because of the ceramic piece.

Killian turned around and slightly frowned at that sight, he seemed to be disgusted.

“You can just die if you want to, but don't make the place dirty. I want to live in this villa for a long time and the Persian carpet here is worth 300 thousand yuan every meter, it's very troublesome to clean it up if it gets dirty.”

Boom!

Killian's words made Katherine feel like she was struck by lightning, she was really desperate.

She... Wasn't as good as the carpet?

How heartless was him to say such words?

“Besides, your life is worthless to me... Not to mention if you commit suicide, even if I kill you,.” Killian's words were extremely cold.

“Hehe...”

Katherine emotionally collapsed, she threw the ceramic, got up, and glared at Killian angrily as she cried, “Killian! I was blind, I misjudged you! I thought I had found my true love, you...”

“Fuck!”

Killian cursed in disgust because he hated women nagging like her.

He just simply left the room.

Katherine desperately cried, cursed, and vented off her feelings.

At that time, she felt like her dreams shattered and world collapsed.

That felt even worse than killing her!

On the other side.

In the villa's dining room.

Early in the morning, Jack and the others were having breakfast harmoniously on the dining table.

Even if the privacy in the villa was good, but it's impossible to seal off all sounds.

Hearing Katherine's heart-breaking cry from the villa next door...

Jack and the others stopped at the same time.

“Jack, why do I think that it sounds like Katherine?” Sophie frowned as she said that.

Jack didn't answer.

Members of the Parry family finally paid the price for their own bad manners.

That was probably because the evils would get treated badly by other evils, right?

But he just didn't expect that Killian would act so fast and so decisive.

That made him realize new things about Killian.

Killian was very subtle, he would think meticulously before doing anything, his actions were ruthless and decisive.

Jack would fear such a person too.

"Young Master, have you sensed how powerful your opponent is?" Mr. Ward asked with a faint smile.

Jack rubbed his nose, "Indeed, very powerful!"

Before Mr. Ward said anything, Jack's eyes suddenly looked passionate for fights.

"Let him be strong, the winner takes it all! If we don't compete, it'll be hard to tell who the winner is!"

Chapter 107 Suicide!

Katherine returned to Parry's in despair.

She was like a phoenix with no feather. Her fantasy was shattered, and her life was worse than before.

The door was opened.

She was greeted by her parents with cheerful smiles, and Tommy who was neatly dressed in suits and leather shoes.

"Let's go, Katherine. Let's buy a car with my brother-in-law." Tommy took Katherine's hand and said excitedly.

He stayed up all night last night, and what Killian had said lingered in his mind.

"Don't even hesitate about cars under one million!"

Tommy never dreamed of driving a million-yuan luxury car in his life. But his future brother-in-law gave him the opportunity.

After a sleepless night, Tommy finally decided several models he wanted to see.

Tommy's heart couldn't stop pounding with the thought of taking a ride in a million-yuan luxury car.

As for his Audi, he planned to let his father use as a mean of transport.

"By the way, Kat, where is Killian?"

Elissa raised her eyebrows, looked at Katherine behind, and said with a smile, "Talk to Killian later. Let us accompany Tommy to the 'car-shopping'"

"You know nothing about cars, Mom. Don't tag along." Tommy looked a little annoyed.

"I don't know anything about cars, but can't I tag along and have fun?"

Elissa raised her eyebrows and said, "My baby daughter has a promising future, and I have a rich son-in-law to buy a luxury car for my baby son. Can't I take a few photos to show off?"

She knew nothing about cars, but she couldn't care more about face.

Thinking about being flattered by the salespeople at the car shop soon, Elissa was a little carried away.

She had only seen scene like this before on TV.

Kieran on the side began to speak but then hesitated. He wanted to persuade her, but he knew it was impossible to stop Elissa from showing up. So, he bit his tongue.

However, none of them realized how down Katherine looked at the time.

Katherine could hear the laughter. It was like a burning knife, stabbing her heart fiercely.

Luxury cars?

Showing off?

Looking at her mother with watery eyes, Katherine was suddenly disgusted by her mother. The poor pretending to be rich was really disgusting.

Without talking much, Katherine lowered her head, walked pass her parents and Tommy, and directly went into the bathroom.

The water flowed like waterfall in the shower.

The cold water instantly wetted Katherine's whole body.

In a daze, she slowly took off the wet black Chanel dress, and put the shower gel all over her body.

Then she picked up the brush that she used to brush clothes and started brushing her body fiercely.

Meanwhile she whispered softly, sobbing, "Filthy...so filthy...so damn filthy..."

The delicate skin was quickly splattered with blood.

After being washed away by the water, the blood faded.

Katherine frowned, while brushing and whispering hysterically, as if she couldn't feel the pain.

Outside the bathroom.

Elissa, Kieran and Tommy were all dumbfounded.

The three looked confused when they heard the water in the bathroom.

"I thought we were going to buy a car? Why is Katherine taking a shower early in the morning after she got home?" Tommy asked in confusion.

Elissa and Kieran looked at each other.

Elissa knocked the door, "Are you done yet, Kat? Tommy is still waiting for you. He is going to buy a car."

The water kept running in the bathroom, but there was no answer from Katherine.

Elissa frowned and was about to knock on the door. But she was stopped by Kieran.

He frowned and called out softly, "Did something happen, Kat?"

Just then.

Katherine suddenly screamed frantically in the bathroom.

Then, there was a hysterical cry.

"Fake, everything is fake!"

"There is no luxury car!"

"He lied to me. He is done with me."

...

Katherine confided the truth along with a hysterical cry.

Outside the door, Kieran, Elissa and Tommy were shocked.

How was this possible?!

Everything was just fine yesterday!

How could it happen overnight?

"Kat..." Tommy was the first to react, "Did you upset my future brother-in-law? What should I do if he refused to buy me a car?"

Elissa snapped instantly after hearing what Tommy said.

He was awake all night, and so was she.

Elissa was thrilled about the soon-to-be-real extravagant life. How proud would she be in front of her relatives and friends in the future?

Bang bang...

Elissa pounded the bathroom door recklessly, and shouted, "What did you do to upset Killian? It must be you, naughty girl. I've been indulging you. Who can stand your bad temper? Apologize to Killian right now! This is a command!"

Her tone was sharp and harsh.

The kindness from last night and just now was gone.

"Why did it have to be my fault? You are my mother. Was it my fault just because he is rich and dumped me?"

Katherine kept crying hysterically in the bathroom.

"Oh well, how dare you talk back when your mother lectures you?"

Elissa wasn't going to stop, and she shouted with arms on her hips, "Killian gave away millions when he visited us for the first time. Why would he dump you? You must have done something wrong. Go find him. Or I will kill myself here today!"

Threat!

Elissa was furious at the moment.

All her fantasies would be shattered if Killian was gone.

She cared about face the most. Everything was ready. And she was ready to move into TM villa. But all the sudden, the opportunity was gone?

"Several millions? They were bullshit! He doesn't care about those millions! Do you care about me or the money, mum?"

Elissa frowned, "Of course I care about the money. I gave birth to you. The purpose was to earn money, not losing it!"

"Enough! That was way too harsh!" Kieran couldn't stand it anymore.

Elissa slapped Kieran on the chest, "Katherine is the one who made a mistake. Can't I lecture her as a mother?"

"My fault? Yes, it was! I didn't try hard enough to please him. Is that right?"

Katherine suddenly stopped crying in the bathroom, "I have had enough of this life!"

Bang!

There was only the sound of running water in the bathroom.

"Kat..."

Kieran was shocked, and hurriedly pulled Elissa away. He then shouted at Tommy, "Smash the door open, Tommy!"

Tommy was already startled by his mother.

In a panic, he slammed the door open.

There was some blood mixed with the water on the floor.

And Katherine was also covered in blood, including her head.

"Ah!"

Tommy looked pale and couldn't help screaming in fright.

Meanwhile Kieran and Elissa were also shocked. When they leaned forward, their looks changed drastically.

"Ah!"

The entire family screamed in horror.

Chapter 108 Declare A War

Noon.

Jack was busy in the office.

Corbin walked in, "Someone asked the security to send a note, Mr. Hughes."

Jack took the note, opened it and frowned right away.

The content of the note was very simple.

"Meet me at the cafe downstairs."

What really made Jack frown was the signee, Killian.

"Who is it, Mr. Hughes?" Seeing Jack's expression, Corbin asked curiously.

Jack tore up the note and threw it into the trash can, "A dog."

Just then, he got up and walked out.

Killian suddenly wanting to see him was not a good thing.

It was a Greek gift to him.

However, Jack wasn't intended to avoid it. The two were eventually going to battle on stage. The life-or-death struggle was inevitable.

It was lunch break at noon.

People come and go at the cafeteria downstairs.

As soon as Jack walked into the cafe, he saw Killian sitting in the corner by the window.

Killian sat alone quietly, staring at the crowds outside the street, gently stirring the steaming coffee with a spoon in his hand.

He looked ordinary just like people around him.

But who could have thought that he would be a candidate for inheriting Hughes' power and wealth?

"You wanted to see me?"

Jack walked over and sat down.

Killian sat still, glancing at the street outside calmly, with a smile on the corner of his mouth, "I found out that there are quite a few beautiful women around your company."

Jack frowned.

Just then, Killian raised his finger and pointed, "Look at those legs and slender waist... nice."

He shook his head right away, "Sadly it's not challenging at all. I can get her in bed with two million yuan."

"That's it?" Jack became impatient.

Killian turned his head, glanced at Jack with a smile. He looked sorry after taking a sip of coffee.

"Sorry, I didn't know that Katherine was your ex-wife."

"Haha!"

Jack sneered.

Killian leaned on the chair lazily, "So, in order to apologize, I have already kicked her out."

"And then?" Jack frowned and looked at Killian.

Killian's eyes flickered but restored equilibrium right away.

Suddenly, he burst into laughter, "You were right. She is a cheater and there was no fun. I am way over her league."

Jack seemed calm and looked at Killian quietly.

Facing Jack's gaze, Killian had a smile his face. In fact, he was unconsciously gripping the spoon.

"Phew..."

Jack exhaled out of relief, "I am leaving if that's all you had to say."

With that said, he got up was about to leave.

"Tell me, what will happen to her family when she gets home?"

Killian had a faint smile, his eyes flickered, "Look, I've been nice to you. Bet you didn't handle it so decisively back then. I did it. I'm giving you a demonstration."

Demonstration?

Jack stopped walking.

He looked sullen and angry.

There were fierce flashes in his eyes.

He has already made a clean break with Katherine. They owe nothing to each other.

Although the Parrys badgered him over and over again, he didn't blame them. It wasn't because he was soft-hearted, but he felt unnecessary.

Only when they hurt his mother did he angrily fight back.

What about Killian?

He sketched out a dreamy fantasy for the Parrys, just to humiliate Jack.

Killing someone is nothing more than a head falling on the ground. Shattering their dreams was definitely more devastating.

Don't take the person out of the darkness if you never intended to give them light.

What's more, Killian's behavior was more ruthless than dismembering the Parrys!

Jack took a deep breath.

He suppressed the anger and walked outside.

Watching Jack's back, Killian finally showed a confident smile on his face, and whispered softly, "Well...

I thought you wouldn't be upset about it."

Snapped!

He snapped his fingers and called over a waitress.

Glancing at the petite and good-looking waitress, Killian pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose and put a Bauhinia bank card onto the waitress' tray.

He then made a gesture, hinting the waitress to approach and whispered softly, "Spend one night with me and I will give you one million!"

The waitress shivered, and suddenly blushed out of nervousness.

Without staying anything, she stared at Killian in fear.

"You are a prostitute, I can tell. If one million is not enough, let's make it two." Killian leaned on the chair, his eyes were full of disdain, arrogant like an emperor sitting on his throne.

The waitress's eyes flickered, while clenching her hands gritting her teeth.

"Three million!" Killian said.

The waitress trembled, lowered her head, and said in a low voice, "...Ok."

...

Jack left the cafe, but he didn't have lunch.

He returned to the office feeling upset.

Killian's sudden visit was like a thorn, stabbed in his heart.

He wasn't a sloppy character, and he wouldn't always worry about Katherine.

He learnt about Killian's character from last night's experience.

So, he was upset about the purpose of his visit.

This state of mind continued until three o'clock in the afternoon.

When Corbin walked into the office, Jack looked up and found that he was upset.

"What's wrong?" Jack asked.

Corbin looked sad and frowned, "Do you remember the material suppliers that Aiden helped us to set up?"

Jack nodded.

"They called just now, saying that they will stop supplying, and are willing to compensate according to the contract." Corbin said.

Jack stopped being upset and calmed down instantly.

Snapped!

The pen in his hand was broken by his thumb.

"So, you came here just to declare a war?"

Jack sneered, "How much did you give Mr. Lott, that he mutinied so quickly?"

"Declare a war? Mutinied? What happened, Mr. Hughes?"

Corbin was confused. Jack obviously knew what had happened.

"It's okay, you may go. EnRich will keep supplying us." Jack waved his hand and said.

Even Aiden has changed his side, Jack had no doubt that all the materials suppliers will boycott DT once again.

Fortunately, Amber was the boss of Enrich Building Materials. With her support, DT's project would not be shut down.

"But in this way, our project progress will have to slow down." Corbin said.

With the help of several material suppliers, DT's reconstruction project in West Shantytowns was developing rapidly.

It was like a few water pipes filling the pond together. And now there was only one pipe left, so the speed was very slow.

"It's ok."

Jack waved his hand and asked Corbin to leave.

After Corbin left, a helpless expression suddenly appeared on Jack's face.

The word "born" could really stress you out!

Just then.

A WeChat message.

Jack took a look, and he wasn't frustrated anymore.

It was from Amber.

"Jack, I am going back to China next month. Also, my parents want to see you, too."

Chapter 109 Katherine Under Hysteria

The week after that.

Was like being in smooth water for Jack.

The only ripple was what he had expected earlier.

The suppliers of materials all over the city once again boycotted DT real estate agency.

Last time, it was Aiden, who helped DT tide over the difficulties, and this time the boycott was led by Aiden himself.

Jack felt that the material dealers would not loosen the boycott for some time.

Fortunately, EnRich building materials company was supplying for DT, which helped in keeping the project in West Shantytowns going on.

At the same time, Jack did not intend to shelve the sales of the three real estates.

What he needed at that moment was money to leverage bigger projects.

Moreover, since Killian has declared war, and made Aiden pointed the sword at his throat.

If the matter dragged on, who knows what Killian would do within the long period of the renovation project in West Shantytowns?

On the other side, in LJ Hospital.

The atmosphere was tense inside the ward.

Katherine did not die, she was rescued. She had awakened a while ago. Her forehead was still wrapped with gauze, and she was still in a slight daze.

She had been staring at the ceiling blankly, laying on the hospital bed. Sometimes, she muttered in pain and tears, "Dirty...dirty..."

Kieran who was taking care of her, was heartbroken when he saw this.

Since the day Katherine had a meltdown and committed suicide, the family has finally calmed down.

As a father, Kieran could not bear to think about the broken-down state Katherine was on that day.

Even Kieran did not know, what had caused this family to be in such a state?

What kind of sin have they committed?

Looking at Katherine who was raving in the hospital bed, Kieran's eyes reddened. His hands trembled as he wanted to comfort Kathy by caressing her.

Before he could do so, Katherine's body shuddered. Suddenly, she huddled herself tightly as she trembled in fear.

The scene caused tears to shed on Kieran's face.

Snap!

The ward door opened.

Elissa and Tommy walked in.

Kieran quickly wiped the tear marks on his face, but Elissa caught a glimpse of it.

“Useless coward, crying like a bitch.” Elissa rolled her eyes and complained.

Kieran was depressed and gloomy.

Then, Elissa pointed to Katherine on the hospital bed and said to Tommy coldly.

“Tommy, aren’t you going to wake your sister and ask her to eat?”

Tommy’s lips shuddered, but he could not help himself from saying, “mom, Kathy is already in such a state. Please speak softly.”

“Why speak softly? Would all these happen to our family if it had not been because of this damn girl?”

Elissa glared at Tommy irritably. “Fine, now she’s in hysteria, making the whole family go around her.

What did I owe in my past lives?”

Divorced with Jack and Killian abandoned her.

Two things that Elissa kept in mind. Katherine had the chance to be the wife of the rich, twice!

But Katherine lost all of them!

Elissa had always been timid and swallowed her pride in the Parry family and relatives from her side because she was poor all the while. She had expected her daughter to marry someone rich and turn the table.

Tommy wanted to speak but stopped. He took the thermal barrel and sat beside Katherine, saying softly, "Sister, let's eat."

Katherine, who was holding herself tightly, shuddered slightly as her reddened eyes stared wide.

Suddenly, as if she had been electrocuted, she sprang up and hugged Tommy.

"Brother, brother, don't be afraid... I'm here... I will certainly help you..."

The sudden hug made Tommy screamed.

Kieran, who was by her side, was caught off guard.

But Elissa was quick to react.

As she paced towards them, her face turned into an unfriendly look. She raised her hand and slapped

Katherine on the face, "Let go of Tommy!"

The slap was loud and clear.

Katherine's head was forced to the side by the slap and finger marks could be seen on her pretty face.

"Mom, what are you doing?" Tommy was terrified.

The moment he spoke, Katherine who was hugging him tightly, wailed at the top of her voice.

Her wail was ear-piercing and sad.

Elissa was annoyed with the sound of her crying, so she beat up Katherine as she pulled her hair. She swore at her as she hit her.

“Damned useless daughter. Why do you have to torture my son when you’re under hysteria?”

“Let go! Let go of him! If you hurt Tommy. I will kill you at once.”

“Useless daughter, cheap wrench. Look what you have done to this family?”

...

Slap, slap, slap...

The loud and heavy slapping sound echoed the room.

It was a mess inside the ward.

Tommy wanted to stop his mother. But he was grasped tightly by Katherine, making him unable to stop Elissa.

Katherine trembled and cried bitterly upon the beat.

Suddenly.

“Have you had enough? Let go of Kathy!”

Kieran stood up angrily. He slapped hard on Elissa's face with his big hands.

The slap was hard and merciless.

The slap made Elissa staggered back. The look in her eyes was hollow.

In the blink of an eye, one side of Elissa's face swelled up.

She did not immediately react but looked at Kieran in terror and anger. She was in a daze by the slap given on her face.

All the time, Kieran was a yes-man around her and did not dare to speak against her.

Elissa was in-charge in this family.

But the slap that Kieran gave her that day made Elissa felt a little fear.

After some time.

Elissa rolled on the ground, showing her tantrum after a sudden scream. "Oh, this makes no sense.

You've lost your senses. Kieran, you are a coward outside, but bullying your wife now. I am unlucky enough to have myself married to you!"

Kieran was trembling with anger.

He looked pitifully at Katherine, who was shivering on the bed.

No one would not love their daughter as a father.

But, Elissa, was not concerned about her daughter's condition now as a mother.

With his teeth clenched, Kieran said to Elissa angrily, “shut up! You are the one who caused all these to our family. If you weren’t always despising the poor and favoring the rich, even trying to play up to people of power and influence. Would our family turn into such a situation?”

Elissa was about to argue, but Kieran raised his hand.

“Get lost! Get out of here and don’t disturb Kathy from recovering!”

“If you won't leave now. I will beat you right now and divorce you!”

His voice was like thunder and was full of anger.

The coward Kieran stood up for once in a blue moon.

Elisa was in a daze. She finally left gloomily after Tommy persuaded her to leave.

In the ward, Katherine cried suddenly and hugged Kieran, “dad, I, I'm afraid... I, I am dirty now... I can't help my brother anymore...”

Hearing this, Kieran burst into tears.

Outside the hospital.

Elissa said to Tommy, “you’re such a useless son. Why did you ask me to leave? You should stop your father, not me!”

“Mom, that’s enough!”

Tommy was frustrated and angry, “Our family is already in such a state. Can’t we talk about this later after helping sister recover?”

“How am I enough? Your sister must have done something wrong, offending Killian. Otherwise, why would Killian take the effort to toy around with us by spending millions without any reasons?” Elissa was outraged.

Right!

Killian!

Tommy’s facial expression became serious and anger grew in him.

“Right, it was all because of him that Kathy has become like this. I, I’m going to him.”

Chapter 110 How Dare You Frame My Son?

At TM Villa District.

An Audi A4 zoomed in.

Crunch!

The Audi A4 pulled up at the gate.

Tommy stuck out his head and shouted angrily, "I'm here for Killian! Let me in!"

The security guard looked at each other.

From what they have seen so far, only the maids of the houses in this villa would drive an Audi A4 to get groceries items.

Responding to Tommy's rant, one of the security guards said, "sir, you are not allowed to enter the community unless invited by the residents or you are the resident yourself."

Tommy had expected this to happen. His eyes were reddening with fury.

His family was destroyed in Killian's hand!

What kind of man is he if he does not stand up by this time?

The Audi A4's engine roared like a wild beast.

With tires grinding against the ground and smoke billowing.

The Audi crashed directly into the villa gate like a wild animal, along with a loud honk.

Tommy remembered what happened to his parents last time.

Reasoning with these villa security guards would only make himself seemed unreasonable.

The sudden act scared the hell out of the security guards, and they quickly came forward to stop him.

However, the Audi did not decrease its speed but accelerated even more. The security guards stumbled back in shock.

Bam! Clang!

With a loud banging sound, the gate was knocked open.

Smoke billowed from the distorted front part of the Audi.

But Tommy, who was in anger was like the incarnation of a furious beast. He ignored the smoke and continued to drive the Audi to the villas located halfway up the hill.

He remembered that Katherine had mentioned that Killian lived in one of the few of the most expensive villas halfway up the hill!

“That is bad. That is really bad!”

At the gate, the security guards' faces were pale, and they wailed.

Some even quickly inform the property office.

That was the TM Villa District, a place where the top elites of the city live in.

If the residents saw someone breaking into the district, they would complain and make a fuss out of it.

If they could not deal with the matter appropriately, even the property management with Aiden backing them up would not escape from punishment!

In the property management office.

The property manager, looking furious, got up and banged his hand on the table.

“Fk! Where exactly did this wild boy come from? How dare he cause trouble in our TM Villa District?”

“Stop him, I don't care how you do it. Stop him at once!”

“Beat him hard! Beat the hell out of him!”

Strict orders was given in a menacing tone of voice.

Although Aiden was the alpha in the business of this city, he was not an easily bullied honest man.

TM Villa District is worthy to be the top residential district in the city, no matter the price or the status of residents living there!

If the property manager did not apply an extreme means upon the breakthrough. The reputation of TM

Villa District would be ruined, which would cause tremendous damage to them!

Tommy was speeding the smoking Audi towards the villas located halfway up the hill.

Behind him, several cars of the security guards of the property followed closely.

Many residences, who saw the scene and were stunned then furious.

Since when the TM Villa District's security became so rusty?

The main purpose they bought the villas in the TM Villa District, was because of the privacy, security, and environment provided.

Now someone has forced their way into the villa district.

The rich people never minded showing their superiority in public, but they hate it when someone dares to challenge them.

The person driving the Audi dashing into the villa was just a hot-headed young man who dared to pull a tooth from the tiger in the eyes of the crowd!

“Is this the place?”

Tommy glanced across the few glorious villas with his reddened eyes.

What made him frowned, was he did not know the exact location of Killian's villa.

Involuntarily, he slowed down the car.

But when he turned his head sideways to check.

Right in front of the Audi, a black Audi A6 roared like a raging beast and crushed directly in Tommy's direction.

Boom!

A loud bang was heard.

The two cars collided and stopped the Audi A4 from moving.

The terrifying impact completely distorted the front part of the Audi and caused a cloud of thick smoke.

Tommy was caught off guard. His head bumped into the stirring wheel, causing his forehead to bleed.

At about the same time, several property vehicles, which were following him just now, sped towards his sides tightly surrounding the Audi A4.

"Pull him out! Pull him out now!"

A middle-aged security guard stepped down from the Audi A6 and spat fiercely on the ground, "Damn, how dare you cause trouble in TM Villa District? You are indeed reckless!"

At least ten security guards came down from the cars and surrounded the Audi A4 at an instant.

They opened the door of the car roughly and pulled Tommy, who was shouting in horror, out of the car as if they were pulling dead a dog.

The next moment, punches and kicks were given to him.

Property managers have ordered, and the security guards did not care about being civilized.

All they must do was to teach the young man a hard lesson. The property manager will be responsible if something happens!

Tommy curled himself into a ball as he was beaten up by the security guards and let out horrible shrieks like a pig being slaughtered. His shrieking sound lingered in the villa district.

Many of them saw the scene, but no one came out to stop.

To the onlookers, it was entirely reasonable for the security guard to punish such a reckless person.

In the villa.

Killian stood at the window, looking out at Tommy, who was being beaten up. His was calm.

His sight diverted slowly to the villa next door.

In fact, Tommy's car was bumped and stopped at the front of Jack's villa.

"The old woman must be at home, right?"

Killian smiled meaningfully, "I wonder, will she come out and stop this?"

Then he turned and walked out of the villa.

When he went outside and stood by the security guards, Tommy who was beaten on the ground noticed him at once.

"Killian, you son of a bitch! You have made our family so miserable. I'll fight you with my life."

Tommy's eyes reddened at once. With his face smudged with blood, he pushed himself out of the security guards surrounding him, and dashed like a beast towards Killian, who was standing still.

"Stop him!"

All the security guards' faces turned pale at once.

But.

Just as Tommy dashed towards Killian.

Bang!

Killian gave a kick. Tommy, who was near him, was thrown to a distance.

Before Tommy could get up, Killian rushed towards him and slammed his foot on Tommy's face.

"Remember, my name is Killian Hughes."

"You..... Ah... Ah..."

Tommy struggled desperately, but Killian was stepping on his face and he couldn't move.

The security guards were all in a daze.

That resident...was fierce.

Killian leaned over slowly, a terrifying intention of killing glowed in his stary eyes, "even if I were to kill you, I will kill you just like a dog. And, get your Parry family out of this city immediately."

With that, he took a check slip out of his pocket, opened Tommy's mouth with force, and stuffed the check slip in his mouth.

"Here is five million. You poor bastards. If your family wasn't related to Jack, I'll not spare a penny on you."

Boom!

Tommy was totally stunned.

Did Killian Hughes... have something to do with Jack Hughes?

A strong sense of humiliation and anger surged out in him, like a roaring river.

They must have joined hands to destroy the Parry family!

That was all Tommy had in mind.

Just then.

Bam! Clang!

The gate of the villa facing the scene of the incident opened.

Sophie walked out of the villa with Daisy holding her.

“Killian Hughes, how dare you frame my son? I should have thrown you to your death against the wall a long time ago!”
