

THE BORN WINNER (JACK AND KATHERINE)

Chapter 15 You are Going to Pay for Humiliating Me

Jack hung up the phone.

He was silent with a cold face.

He did not know why Katherine went on a blind date with Ben Hall. Ben still insisted on treating Katherine as a prostitute after knowing she was his ex-wife.

It was humiliating him!

Is it possible for him to swallow his anger after being humiliated like this?

He replied Katherine.

“If you haven’t bought a house for Tommy yet, I would suggest you to go to West Shantytowns tomorrow morning to buy a house. Maybe you can help fund his bride price.”

West Shantytowns was an old city. The house prices had not been high and even had a downward trend in the past year.

It was enough for the Parry family to buy a house with their wealth.

Moreover, he believed that the house prices in the West Shantytowns would definitely go up against the market.

The bride price that Shirley asked Tommy for were really a lot. But if the Parry family was smart enough to buy a house in the West Shantytowns and they waited until the house price raised and sold it, it would be almost enough to fund the bride price.

However, he laughed, “With my previous status in the Parry family, perhaps you will treat it as nonsense, right?”

He didn’t care anymore. He got up and walked out. He had already done his best to this extent, even if the Parry family didn't listen to him.

The rain became heavier.

When Jack reached downstairs, a black Rolls-Royce Phantom was parked aside the road.

After getting into the car, Jack looked at Mr. Ward and said calmly, "Let's go."

"Young master, when will it be released tomorrow?" Mr. Ward asked calmly as the Rolls Royce was driven. He looked at Jack with admiration.

Jack was capable to think of such a masterstroke to run a losing trade into a steady profit.

This kind of capability and boldness was enough to prove Jack's excellence.

Even those well-educated members of the family might not be able to work out such a move.

Jack showed that he was worthy to be depended on to achieve the objective.

But the younger members of the family always had to rely on their family background since they were young.

"We do it in the evening," Jack laughed, "Will this make the people of the entire city unable to sleep tomorrow night?"

Mr. Ward was stunned, and then he laughed oddly, "Young master, that's a bit bad."

Half an hour later, the Rolls-Royce Phantom was parked on the roadside outside a club.

MJ Club had always given the impression of high end. Those who attend were either rich or noble.

But the so-called 'high end' also meant somehow good quality and service. This was why it attracted some wealthy businessmen to flock here.

Ben was one of them.

In the three years at DT real estate agency, Jack knew very well that Ben spent at least seven out of ten nights at the club. He came here even more often than his home.

They waited for five minutes.

Jack, who was sitting in the car, saw several people had taken Ben out of MJ Club through the rain curtain.

Under the lights, Ben was wearing a bathrobe and he looked terrified. He screamed and struggled.

But the security guard at the entrance of the club ignored all of this.

“Mr. Ward, please wait for a moment. I will be back soon,” Jack said as got out of the car.

When he walked into the alley next to him, he heard Ben screamed out loud.

“Stop hitting me. Please stop hitting me. Who the hell did I offend? Who are you?” Ben wailed in pain.

The five men stopped. They gathered around Ben in silence.

The pressure made Ben’s fat greasy body curled up into a ball as he shivered.

But he was still confused.

After his failed ‘blind date’ with Katherine, he was filled with anger. That was why he came to the MJ Club.

Everything was ready. He was taking a shower when five strong men broke in. They wrapped him in a bathrobe and took him out.

What made him more terrified was that the people in MJ Club did not even stop this.

He almost scared out of their pants.

He knew the owner of the club was such a big shot. Yet, the owner didn’t interfere with this kind of matter that would damage the club’s reputation?

“You are pissing me off!”

The familiar voice made Ben’s body tremble. He looked incredulously out of the crowd, thinking he had heard wrongly.

Jack pushed a way through his people, and slowly walked up to Ben, “You are going to pay for humiliating me.”

“Jack?!”

Ben’s eyes rounded with horror, pointing at the five men in front of him, “This, did you do all this?”

Jack raised his eyebrows. He turned his head and said, “Let him believe it.”

The five men pounced on Ben. They punched and kicked him again.

The screams echoed.

Five minutes later, the five men stopped. Ben was already bruised and swollen.

“Do you believe now?” Jack asked.

Ben nodded. But right after that he spat out a mouthful of blood and laughed, “Hahaha... damn, I really took you for granted. After being a dog by my side for three years, you actually managed to buy DT real estate agency.”

Regarding the acquisition of DT real estate agency, Ben had asked his brother-in-law about it. But his brother-in-law carefully concealed it.

However, he was well aware of Jack’s capabilities. It was definitely impossible for Jack to acquire DT real estate agency. But if someone very rich and powerful noticed Jack’s capabilities and secretly supported him, then this could made sense.

Jack looked at Ben coldly and dared not to make a noise.

Ben took a glance at the people around and sneered, “A dog is still a dog. You put on an act like this right after you turned the table. Hiring these five bodyguards must have spent a lot, right? You really fucking think highly of yourself!”

Pointing at the five men, he laughed, “You guys, what kind of dogs are you for this bastard? How much he paid you? I’ll pay you double. Just beat him to death!”

“Don’t blame me for not reminding you. This guy’s wife is a prostitute. Even if he took over DT real estate agency, I had signed a contract with a sky-high price. It will soon go bankrupt. If you stay with him, be mindful you might not even get a salary!”

“I had divorced Katherine, but you were still using her to humiliate me. You deserve to die!”

Jack said coldly, “By the way, you are such a useless bastard. You may think that DT real estate agency will definitely go bankrupt. But I tell you, with me, Jack Hughes, DT real estate agency will only get stronger and stronger!”

Ben was stunned.

Jack did not care about it. He got up and left.

Ben laughed loudly, “Hahaha... You are so fucking funny. You signed a sky-high contract for a huge loss of 30 million yuan. Do you think you are a god to turn things around? You are definitely done! Wait for me. When your DT real estate agency goes bankrupt and you become a tramp, I will definitely find someone to break your legs and let you live worse than death!”

Jack laughed disdainfully. ‘We’ll see if I can turn things around tomorrow.’

He put his hands in his pockets and slowly walked out of the alley.

Immediately, Ben’s scream once again resounded in the alley.
