Chapter191 Explode!

It felt like a cold wind from the very deep of the dark side.

It startled the Burton family. The old master Burton's was anxious and irritated, staring closely at Patrick

Hughes, and his eyes were dark and cold.

A sense of decadence burst. Even if the head of the Burton family, fighting face-to-face with the Hughes family, yet he was still incomparable.

"Oh!" Patrick Hughes suddenly sneered and turned to look at the helicopter outside and waved his hand. Just in three seconds. There was a loud noise in the turbulent night sky.

A firelight tore the night sky. Boom!

The courtyard wall of the ancient castle of the Burton family collapsed directly as the fire fell on it.

Smoke engulfed and a cloud of flame rose.

The firelight and vibration made the Burton family in the hall all frightened. It was really exploded! All the Burton family members terrifically looked at Patrick. Was this guy crazy? This was the mansion of Burton's!

"Patrick Hughes, do you want to fight? Destroying the Burton's mansion, who do you think the Burton family are?" shouted Dyson Burton in anger.

The old master Burton's canthus kept twitching and looked at Dyson Burton angrily. He wanted to stop it, but it was too late.

"Fight?" Patrick laughed and once again he raised his right hand and dropped. Just at that moment, there was another loud noise, and the fire lighted up the night sky.

Boom!

This time, the noise was extremely loud. Along with flames and vibrations, another ancient castle wall collapsed suddenly.

Hegemony! Let's not even mentioned the Burton family, even Jack Hughes' heart was beating crazily and stunned. "My dad... is really super fierce!" said Jack in his heart.

It was dead silent in the hall. Only the thunderbolt roared and fighters hovered in the night sky. All the Burton family members were muddled.

No one expected that someone dared to act such ridiculously to the Burton family.

The Burton family was once supercilious, now they were dragged down by Jack and trampled ruthlessly by Patrick, none of them was able to react to it.

"You, you..." said Dyson Burton who was furious, he was the eldest son of Burton's, a pure bloodline.

Since the glory of the Burton family, he had never suffered such a shame.

If the scandal spread, there would be no dignity for the Burton family.

However, "Shut up!" the old master Burton shouted angrily, it scared Dyson. The old master Burton had the supreme prestige in the family. He was the pillar of the Burton family.

The old master Burton stepped forward and looked at Patrick Hughes in a gloomy way, "I just wanted

Jack to inherit the position of head of Burton family, as his father, is this the way you repay me as the grandfather?"

Jack showed boredom after listening to those words. He was really disgusted by Burtons' words. He gritted his teeth and was about to refute. "What kind of grandfather are you? Bully my wife, force my son, this is what you called a grandfather?" said Patrick, he waived his right hand again as he talked.

Boom! Another artillery shell fell directly. But this time, it hit an open space in the castle manor, which caused a cloud of flame. The ground shook and the smoke engulfed.

The horrible blasting force made everyone in the Burton family frightened. "Patrick Hughes! You are beyond the limit!" Dyson shouted angrily and glared at Patrick.

"Shut up!" The old master Burton's body trembled and turned to roar, "Useless idiots, back off!" If it was someone else who offended the Burton family today, it would be an endless fight. No one shall humiliate the Burton family's pride!

But old master Burton was rational. He knew that even if the Burton family is the richest family in the capital city, it was still incomparable with the Hughes Family.

If the contradiction continued to intensify and escalate, Patrick would really blow up the Burtons family.

"The useless Burton family, useless heirs, you had suffered enough at this old age," said Patrick who did not hide the disdain on his face and looked at the old master Burton.

"Patrick, I am the father of Sophia. I was fully agreed back when Sophia was dating with you. As you know, we didn't even know you were the heir of the Hughes family, yet still I agreed on your marriage,"

The old master Burton flushed with shame and hurriedly explained. He knew that today's situation was irreversible, and Patrick who stood in front of him was enough to destroy the Burton family.

But he knew that he would not be able to let Sophie go, or leave her and Jack.

Jack was the hope of the Burton family!

If she was released today, there will be no such opportunities in the future. Let alone as to meet Jack or Sophie.

"I want, my wife!" Patrick Hughes roared and interrupted the old master Burton's words, "You Burton family regard men superior to women, in Burton family, Sophia has no status and property. The so-called marriage and approval in your mouth is so indifferent. Have you no shame to tell me this?" The roar echoed.

What was following was the firelight tore the night sky again. Boom!

The ground shook, the flames rose.

Everyone in the Burton family was shocked and afraid. At this moment, even a fool could tell that Patrick Hughes, the 'fierce god', didn't even want to talk at all, but wanted the Burton family to make a decision.

Either let Sophia go, or the Burton's mansion will be destroyed!

"I..." said the old master Burton with a frustrated expression on the face, and he was very anxious.

Patrick pointed his finger to the outside and shouted in anger, "Blow up the courtyard wall first, and then the garden. If you still dare to quibble, the next artillery shell will be aimed at this ancient castle!" It was domineering.

Everyone in the Burton family was overwhelmed. The old master was on the verge of tear, looking at the lofty body in front of him, which as if a huge mountain, blocking in front of him.

"I just want him to be the head of Burton family! He is the heir of the Hughes family, but he has to fight and fight for the insignificant opportunity. You can't make him the head of family, but I can, in Burton family!" The old master Burton said hurriedly and almost wailed.

"That's Jack's own decision, he can be the head of Burton family, I will respect his decision, but you can't be this despicable!" Patrick glared with his fierce sight, said, "I've told you my bottom line, now, let my wife go!"

It felt like a cold wind from the very deep of the dark side, the surrounding in the entire hall suddenly became very silent.

The old master Burton stumbled back, and he seemed to be a half-dead man at this moment, his body was breezing, and his face was sallow. Patrick was aggressive and domineering. The old master

Burton had lost all his pride.

In the end, "Someone, come take Sophia out and let her go!" shouted the old master Burton while gritted his teeth hard. Everyone in the Burton family was relieved then. All the terrifying sight fell on Patrick. If the head of the family insisted on not letting go, Patrick, the fierce god will definitely raze the Burton family's mansion to the ground!

With the help of the Burden family, Sophia limped to the lobby lamely, quickly

"Jack!" Sophia struggled when the moment she saw Jack as she rushed to Jack right after leaving the Burton family. But Sophia fell directly to the floor due to severe pain in her hands and legs.

"Mom!" shouted Patrick as he changed his expression, and he rushed directly to Sophia, picked up her and saw the leg injury. Jack slammed back and roared at the old master Burton, "You hit my mother?"

Almost at the same time, Patrick, who saw Sophia's injury, also uttered, "You hit my wife?"

Chapter 192 Blow up Ten More Bombs as Punishment

In the hall,

As Jack and Patrick spoke, suddenly the air seemed to have solidified.

The atmosphere was very intense.

All the people in the Burton family changed their expressions.

Old Master Burton trembled a little and felt very regretful.

Why didn't he control himself just now? Why did he hit Sophie hard just now?

He could feel that Jack and Patrick were staring at him.

Old Master Burton was a man of great experience and arrogance, but now he couldn't help feeling nervous.

The smoke of the bombing outside just now had not dispersed.

That was what Old Master Burton really dreaded.

"I... "

Old Master Burton wanted to explain.

"You let my mother get hurt in two parts. I will get even with you! You can get someone of the Burton family out to get beaten by me as the same!"

Jack said coldly, staring at Old Master Burton fiercely, "Otherwise, I'll hit you myself."

"Jack, this is not the place where you can be arrogant!"

Dyson shouted, "You are so arrogant that you don't deserve to be a member of the Burton family!"

"Arrogant?"

Jack sneered, "Right. It is because of facing the Burton family that I become arrogant! The Burton family is despicable, which is not qualified to make me be your member."

"You..." Dyson was angry and gritted his teeth.

Patrick was looking at Jack, with his eyes full of praise. But when he looked at Sophie, he frowned again.

"Dyson, step forward and accept the punishment!"

Old Master Burton yelled.

Dyson was shocked and looked at Old Master Burton in horror, "Dad, do you want me to stand in front of him and let him beat me?"

"Do you want me to come forward and be beaten?" Old Master Burton shouted angrily.

Dyson's expression changed. He clenched his teeth, lowered his head and walked up to Jack.

Instead of looking at Dyson, Jack helped Sophie to Patrick and said in a cold voice, "Brent!"

"I see!"

Brent walked quickly to Dyson.

Dyson was oppressed by his huge body, and his face turned pale in an instant.

Dyson looked at Brent in horror. At this moment, he wanted to turn around and run away.

But all of a sudden, Old Master Burton was holding Dyson's back with a crutch.

"Stand straight!"

Dyson looked determined and straightened up.

Old Master Burton was not only his father, but also the owner of the Burton family.

His father told him to do this.

There was no other way for Dyson.

If Dyson didn't listen to his father, he would have nothing in the Burton family!

Quickly,

As soon as Brent got close to Dyson, with no pause, he kicked Dyson's right leg with his leg.

"Bang!"

"Click!"

There was a dull sound, accompanied by a slight sound of bone cracking that everyone could hear.

"Ouch!"

Dyson flew out, fell to the ground and screamed bitterly.

Dyson's face was distorted with pain and was drenched with sweat.

His scream frightened all the people of the Burton family.

But no one dared to stop Brent!

Brent came forward again with a gloomy expression and kicked Dyson's left hand with his right foot again.

"Bang!"

"Click!"

Under this terrible attack, Dyson, lying on the ground, writhed violently in an instant, and his left hand presented a strange twist.

His scream echoed in the hall.

It was like killing a pig.

"It's over!"

Jack said coldly.

Looking down at his mother in his arms, his expression became mild, "Mom, I'll take you home."

"Go home. Let's go home..."

Sophie didn't hesitate, her red eyes full of tears. She looked at the figure in front of her with tears.

It was more than 20 years.

Every day and night, she was missing this person.

But she didn't expect that they would meet on such an occasion.

She had mixed feelings about their reunion.

But at this moment, she couldn't tell him that she missed him very much.

Jack turned away with Sophie, and Brent, Mr. Ward and Yael followed him.

Patrick was standing in the hall.

He faced all the Burton family by himself.

He said coldly, "Remember, now I'm the head of the Hughes family. You must respect my people."

His words were overbearing.

He was a very arrogant person.

With everyone watching, Patrick turned around and walked outside calmly.

When he got to the door, he stopped.

"Blow up ten more bombs as punishment. If today's thing happens again, I will destroy the Burton family."

After hearing what he said,

All of the Burton family's minds were blank. They felt as if they were falling into a glacier at the moment.

Did Patrick want to bully the Burton family to death?

They couldn't imagine what the Burton family would look like after ten bombs?

But Old Master Burton didn't react, so the rest of the Burton family didn't dare to speak.

Old Master Burton seemed to have accepted the heavy punishment!

Jack and others got on the helicopter and left.

The fighters hovering over the castle suddenly roared.

Ten bombs were with dazzling flames.

Like a meteor shower, they landed in the manor of the Burton family.

There was a series of explosions.

Ten flaming mushroom clouds rose in the sky, which was spectacular.

In the Burton family hall,

Everyone's expression was very terrible. Everyone was clenching their teeth.

There were a lot of explosions outside.

But it was very quiet in the hall.

This was a disgrace to the Burton family!

This was really galling and humiliating!

They could even expect that tonight's Burton family would be stapled on the humiliation column and become a laughingstock of the capital city.

Old Master Burton was shaking all over. His dry hands clenched into fists, and his eyes darkened as if he wanted to eat people.

He cared most about the reputation of the Burton family.

But as the bombs exploded, the reputation of the Burton family disappeared.

Old Master Burton was furious!

But he couldn't say something.

He heard Dyson's scream. He looked at Dyson worriedly and said, "Send Dyson to the hospital!"

Then someone came to help Dyson.

At this time, the other sons of Old Master Burton finally came back to their senses and gathered around Old Master Burton.

"Dad, do you really let us suffer such humiliation?"

"They broke into the Burton family, smashed the door of the Burton family and bombed the manor of the Burton family. How can the Burton family keep a foothold in the capital city in the future?"

"Jack is disobedient and arrogant. Dad, you can't let him be the owner of the Burton family!"

A series of words made Old Master Burton fidgety.

He felt as if countless mosquitoes were humming in his ears.

"Shut up!"

Old Master Burton yelled, "If I don't let Jack be the owner of the Burton family, which one of you can be the owner of the Burton family? Everything I do is for the sake of the future of the Burton family."

All the people in the Burton family dare not speak, but they were doubtful.

People in the Burton family were not as capable as Sophie's bastard?

For the future of the Burton family, was Old Master Burton willing to let the Burton family be stapled on the humiliation column?

The helicopter roared and headed for the capital city.

On the plane,

Jack was sitting with his parents.

The atmosphere was a little odd.

Originally, it was a happy thing for the family to meet again, but they didn't say anything.

Mr. Ward, Brent and Yael all looked out at the night sky.

Yael whispered, "The three of us are like three big light bulbs."

This sentence made the people in the helicopter laugh.

The atmosphere also became a little more relaxing.

"Jack, give me your mother."

Patrick took Sophie from Jack's arms and gave him a provocative glance, "She's my wife."

All of a sudden, Jack was stunned.

Chapter 193 Let's Clinch a Deal

There were many powerful people in the capital city.

Although the castle of the Burton family was in the mountains,

But what happened tonight, like thunder and lightning, was quickly spread to all the intelligence networks of the capital city.

The Burton family was broken into.

The Burton family was bombed and there were even fighters there.

One by one, intelligence had been sent to the desk of all kinds of forces.

Everyone was shocked.

This thing got the whole city astir.

In the capital city, the Burton family was the richest, whose position was unshakable.

Who?

Who dared to be the enemy of the Burton family?

For a time, some people gloated, some were doubtful and some were happy.

The Burton family had become a laughingstock for all people!

However, all forces were pursuing the cause of this matter.

When intelligence information was constantly appearing in front of some people, these people felt more and more shocked.

The capital city tonight was like the rain in the night.

It was blowing hard. The city was threatened by black clouds. The lightning was flashing and thunder was crashing. And the rain was pouring down in torrents.

In a hotel of the capital city,

In the room, Jack sat with Brent, Mr. Ward and Yael.

Brent and Yael were smoking.

Mr. Ward was reading book.

Jack had nothing to do, looking out the window at the heavy rain and lightning, in a daze.

Tonight's incident also shocked him.

His father's hegemony left an indelible impression on him.

When he was a child, every time he was in conflict with others, he was looking forward to his father's help.

But he didn't have a father, but the person who conflicted with him had a father.

When he was a child, whenever Jack conflicted with others, no matter who was right or wrong, Jack eventually fell into the disadvantage.

When he was wrong, he was beaten.

But when he was right, he was also beaten.

His mother was exhausted with raising him alone. Every time Jack was aggrieved, he didn't dare to tell his mother. He hid in a dark corner, like a dog, and silently licked his wound. When he recovered, he would face his mother and show a smile.

It had been more than 20 years.

He finally felt the feeling of having a father.

It was strong and shocking. Jack had mixed feelings about having a father.

The parents were in the next room, and his father was helping his mother with her injuries.

And he consciously came to Mr. Ward's room.

Because he knew that when his father and mother met again more than 20 years later, his mother must have a lot to say to his father.

And he also had something to say to his father, but that was after his parents finished their talk.

"Mr. Ward, stop pretending!"

Yael's voice broke the silence in the room.

Jack looked back and saw that Yael had stood up and opened Mr. Ward's book.

To Jack's surprise, there was a book hidden in the book.

But the cover of that book...

The cover of the book made Jack blush.

Mr. Ward's body trembled and he was in a panic.

He quickly put away the book, angrily glared at Yael, "Kiddo, I'm committed to reading only the sages' book!"

"Hum! You are just a rascal!"

Yael rolled his eyes upwards.

Jack and Brent looked at each other.

If it wasn't for Yael, they didn't expect that Mr. Ward would read that kind of book.

Mr. Ward's lofty image in their hearts had completely collapsed.

Then,

Yael walked to Jack and reached out his right hand, "Name your price, and I'll be your man tonight."

What?

Jack shivered, blushed, and looked at Yael in horror, "What do you mean? I'm not that kind of person."

Yael's sudden action also shocked Mr. Ward and Brent.

Did Yael discover Young master's secret?

Suddenly, Mr. Ward's eyes lit up and he became excited, "Young master, don't you promise him?"

How could Jack promise him?

Jack was not calm and wanted to explain.

Mr. Ward stamped, "Yael agreed to your invitation."

Jack was stunned and understood.

He took Yael's hand excitedly, "Let's clinch a deal!"

They looked at each other and smiled.

Yael said, "But you have to make a good offer. If you want me to do something for you, you have to live up to my life, and it costs a lot for me to help you."

"Cost a lot?" Jack was stunned.

Yael cracked a smile.

He turned around, took out his cell phone and made a call.

Soon, the phone was connected.

Yael said coldly, "From now on, I'm not a member of the Quinn family. Take me out of the genealogy."

"Pa!"

Yael hung up.

It was quiet in the room.

Jack was confused.

So were Mr. Ward and Brent.

It really cost a lot!

Even for a member of a powerful family, it was a disaster.

However, Yael casually refused.

That was what really shocked the three people.

Yael turned around, looked at Jack and shrugged.

"Don't be so surprised. Anyway, I was deliberately cultivated by the Quinn family as a useless person.

Now that I have goals and my parents are dead, I don't have to stay in the Quinn family."

Jack was very confused.

Looking at Yael, Jack mumbled and wanted to ask him.

A patricide made a greatest mistake. But instead of killing Yael, the Quinn family still raised Yael.

Yael killed his father for some reasons.

In retrospect, Jack was very clear that Yael's attitude changed after Jack saved his mother this time.

After taking a deep breath, Jack finally suppressed his doubts and didn't ask Yael.

It was Yael's secret.

It was also the secret of the Quinn family in X City.

He respected Yael. If Yael didn't want to say, he wouldn't ask more.

Just as Jack didn't ask Daisy, Jack wouldn't ask Yael.

Jack looked at Yael.

Jack suddenly felt that this patricide in front of him didn't seem to be very cold-blooded and cruel.

"Ding! Ding!"

There was a knock at the door.

Jack was upset.

Was it his turn at last?

Brent got up and opened the door.

At the door were Patrick and Sophie.

The two held each other with red eyes.

Obviously, they cried.

"Old master!"

"The owner of the Hughes family!"

Brent, Mr. Ward and Yael saluted.

Patrick nodded and looked at Jack gently.

Jack was dull. At this moment, he looked at his father, and he was a bit at a loss, with his mind going blank.

When all the thoughts and expectations came true, Jack couldn't deal with them as easily and casually as he expected.

"You did a good job!"

Patrick nodded and praised Jack, "You're better than I thought. In the past 20 years, I've been sorry for you and your mother."

Jack smiled and didn't speak.

"Our son has been able to support his mother."

Patrick turned to Sophie and smiled softly.

Then he looked at Jack again, "You have to be more careful. You're not good enough to take your mom back to the Hughes family. The inheritors of the Hughes family are not only Killian and George. But I will help you, step by step, to surpass them."

"I can surpass them myself," Jack said.

Patrick chuckled and nodded, "Well, that's the courage my son should have!"

"I'm going back to the Hughes family right now. Tonight's incident will certainly cause a great sensation, and the Hughes family also needs to suppress the public opinion on this matter."

Then, Patrick looked at Yael, "I know about Yael. You are a dutiful son! Help my son well, and my son will give you what you want one by one in the future!"

Jack frowned.

Yael scratched his head and said, "Ha, ha! I'm just a brute who killed my father."

Patrick smiled noncommittally.

Patrick turned around and left.

Chapter 194 Went Back Home

Patrick Hughes had left.

He came in a sudden, and left in a sudden too.

This had made Jack Hughes who just calmed down and came back to his senses feel disappointment.

Sophie Burton saw through Jack's mind and she smiled softly, "Your Dad is waiting for us to go back home."

Those simple words had another meaning.

There was light glowing in Jack's eyes.

He held his fists secretly.

He and his mother had stayed and lived together for more than twenty years.

He must walk through the door of the Hughes family fair and square to let his Mom enjoy the honor that should have belonged to her.

No one talked that night.

In the morning, the rain had stopped.

Jack and the others hurriedly left the capital city.

The Burton family would definitely cause tides in the capital city for everything that had happened last night.

In Jack's eyes, the capital city had become a huge vortex after last night.

They would be dragged into the vortex if they were to stay any longer.

He didn't feel good about the Burton family at all.

He only had disgust, anger, and hatred towards them.

Even if the Burton family was willing to let him be the head of their family, he would rather fight hard for the small chance to head the Hughes family.

He had no intention to be dragged into the vortex caused by the Burton family.

In fact, everything happened according to what Jack had thought of.

After last night, all the big forces had clearly investigated the reason behind what happened in the Burton family last night.

Even though Patrick's appearance was not earth-shattering, it was enough to shock the whole city.

All forces were also shocked by Patrick's appearance.

This was because the Hughes family had higher status compared to the Burton family even though the latter was the richest in the capital city.

Some talented people from the forces had reacted rapidly in the shock.

When the stock market opened, the stock price of the companies under the Burton family had dropped dramatically together.

Furthermore, some hidden forces had prepared to make moves at the capital city.

In the Ancient Castle Villa of the Burton family.

After the bomb attack last night, Ancient Castle Villa was in a state of devastation.

The wall of the yard collapsed. The large garden was destroyed too.

The ancient castle was the only thing remaining.

If Old Master Burton hadn't made the final resolution quick, the ancient castle would have been bombed too.

The Burton family, who was mysterious and splendid, seemed to have met its death as the setting sun.

Everyone from the Burton family was terrified and upset.

Everything that happened last night had completely destroyed the pride of the members of the Burton family.

In a luxurious room in the ancient castle.

Old Master Burton sat silently by the window with a burning cigar in his hand.

From this angle, he could clearly see the devastation of the garden.

Old Master Burton's eyes looked red and tiredness could be seen on his face.

He did not sleep for the whole night. He only sat there.

Even after the night, he still had a lot of grudges.

“Father.”

Dyson Burton’s voice came behind him, “Doctor said you cannot smoke anymore.”

Old Master Burton laughed and said, “I can barely keep up with this old body. Could it be that I could live for another thousand years if I did not smoke?”

Dyson was stunned.

After hesitating for a while, he said, “Father, actually we brothers could be in charge of the Burton family. However, you refused to let go of it.”

He kept looking at Old Master Burton when he said that.

He was frightened.

As he knew that he was asking his father to elect a new head for the family.

It was like forcing the king to abdicate in ancient times!

“Haha, you brothers, who are capable of doing this?”

Old Master Burton laughed lonely, “I also want to let go of my power and step down from being the head of the family. However, who is capable of being the head of the family? All of you are more brave than wise and are only capable of fighting each other.”

Old Master Burton knew the behavior of his sons since they were young.

If he wasn't well aware, why would he take this much effort to plan and let Jack who had a surname of 'Hughes' to be the head of the family?

Even though he had planned how to let his son replace Jack as the head of the family again after the family was well-built by Jack.

However, during the time with Jack as the head of the family, it would be the shame and joke of the Burton family in others' eyes.

Dyson's face turned red.

However, he still clenched his teeth and said stubbornly, “Father, I think I am capable to take charge of the Burton family. You may not know that after your moves, the stock prices of the listed companies under our Burton family have dropped dramatically today. Some of them couldn't survive after the drop.”

“I don't have to know, but I have expected that. For a while, the Burton family is going to have more trouble.”

Old Master Burton's face looked dark and gloomy and he sighed helplessly, "The appearance of Patrick last night means he has used his power to interfere with the situation of the capital city and make the hidden forces stir towards the clear trend. I think those people had prepared themselves to deal with our Burton family since yesterday."

The Burton family had been the richest for years.

This position had attracted a lot of attention and made a lot of enemies.

A lot of people had wished to remove the splendid Burton family from the capital city.

However, they feared the power of the richest Burton's family so much that they didn't dare to make a move.

This had made the capital city remain peaceful.

Yet, Patrick appeared last night, and more than ten bombs were dropped.

They had completely destroyed the Burton family. Old Master Burton clearly knew that people would expect the exposed meat after the skin was ripped off.

"Then what should we do?" Dyson's expression changed.

Old Master Burton smiled bitterly, "If Jack was here, he wouldn't ask me this kind of question. That is why he could be the head of the family but not you."

...

When the plane landed at the airport, it was already 11 am.

Mr. Ward had prepared a car earlier. After they came out of the airport, they rode the car and went back to their home at TM Villa District.

When they reached home, Daisy Hill had fully filled the table with dishes.

After seeing Sophie, Daisy was stunned. Then, she cried with joy, rushed towards Sophie, and hugged her.

"Mrs. Hughes, you really scared me to death. You really scared me to death."

Sophie felt the pain of her wound after Daisy hugged her and she made a grunt.

This had scared Daisy and she immediately apologized.

However, Sophie smiled and said, "It is fine. It is only a small injury, not a big deal."

"Mom, let's eat first."

Jack let Daisy support his mother and he helped Yael Quinn and Mr. Ward take a seat.

There was still noise in the kitchen.

Jack looked at Daisy, "Is there someone else?"

Daisy smiled and said, "It's Amber. After Mrs. Hughes went missing, I was frightened. After informing young master and the others, I also informed Amber. She was scared and so she came here hurriedly."

Upon saying this, the kitchen door was opened.

Amber Knight who was in an apron, had a red face because of the smoke from cooking, brought out a bowl of soup.

After putting down the soup, she rubbed her hands, sat beside Sophie, and apologized, "Mrs. Hughes, I am sorry. I didn't take good care of you when Jack was not around."

A sudden apology.

It didn't only daze Sophie, even Jack didn't expect it.

However, Jack had a warm feeling in his heart.

For this matter, did Amber do anything wrong?

She lived alone and his mother was kidnapped at home. How would Amber know about this?

“Silly girl, it was my own fault. Why would you blame yourself?” Sophie said softly.

“But I am Jack’s fiancée and you are my future mother-in-law. After Jack left, I should have taken care of you but I did not, and then you were kidnapped. So, this was my fault,” Amber said seriously.

Jack and the others couldn’t help laughing.

Jack touched Amber’s high nose angrily, “You little fool, your logic is quite smooth.”

Amber wrinkled up her nose and glared at Jack.

At this very moment, Yael suddenly stood up.

He reached out his right hand towards Jack, “Jack, I would definitely make friends with you for the sake of sister-in-law.”

Jack glared at him, “Brent, beat him up!”

Chapter 195 Invitation From the Vaughn family of the Capital City

The following days.

Jack Hughes became busy again leading the project of DT real estate agency.

He and Yael Quinn would also build up the framework of the financial company. The follow-up matter would only need to be led by Yael.

He didn't care about any matter from the capital city caused by the Burton family.

He wasn't related to that kind of Burton family even if they reached their end or were close to death.

He had only two places to go every day, which were his home and the company. Amber Knight would come to TM Villa District to accompany Sophie every day since the incident.

Sometimes, she would learn to cook from Daisy Hill.

It was simple and happy and it made Jack feel sweet.

However, it didn't mean Jack could keep out of the affair even though he didn't care about the matter caused by the Burton family.

In the evening.

Jack, Mr. Ward, Brent, and Yael sat on the balcony while drinking beer and enjoying the night wind.

The balcony at the rooftop of the villa became a place for them to chill and rest in their free time.

"Young master, the matters that arise from the capital city are pretty huge." Mr. Ward murmured.

Jack smiled and didn't comment about it.

Yael drank a mouthful of beer and said, "The Burton family has been the richest family of the capital city for so many years. I think there are many people who want to have that position. This time, Jack and Mr. Hughes had ripped off the 'skin' of the Burton family. Those people would definitely take down the Burton family while it is in trouble.”

He shrugged his shoulders as he said, “The Quinn family from X city was also wanted to be taken down by a lot of people secretly.”

Mr. Ward curled his lips and looked at the night sky, “I don't care about the matters from the capital city.

Yet, they are slowly coming in our way.”

Jack frowned and looked at Mr. Ward with a shocking look.

He indeed did not care about the Burton family. Even if the capital city was in the eyes of the storm, he would still stay in his position patiently.

However, if the 'storm' was blown towards them, at last, he and DT real estate agency would definitely be dragged into the vortex.

It was not yet the time to fight against the powerful forces from the capital city with his current power.

Yael's expression became serious too.

As a part of the Quinn family, he clearly knew about the fight among rich families and forces.

“The matter during that night was too big. The capital city is full of powerful forces. It would be too easy for them to clearly investigate the matter.”

Yael frowned and murmured, “Jack, what do you think about this matter?”

“I could only watch and not do anything.”

Jack self-mocked and laughed, “The ‘storm’ of the capital city came and stayed at this small DT real estate agency. I have no other measures besides only looking at it.”

“Young master does not have to worry about it. After all, the head of the Hughes family and the entire Hughes family still have your back.” Brent said and comforted.

Yael frowned and said, “Even though the Burton family knows Jack’s background, didn’t they still kidnap Mrs. Hughes.”

Brent was speechless.

However, Mr. Ward smiled, “It’s fine. We will just see how things change.”

...

The next morning.

After Jack and Brent had their monstrous training, they had breakfast and prepared to go to the company.

However, an invitation letter was sent to the house door by the security guard of the TM Villa District.

After opening the invitation letter, Jack suddenly felt a little upset.

“Why does it come so fast?”

“Is it from the capital city?” Mr. Ward frowned and asked.

Jack nodded and sighed helplessly, “It is from the Vaughn family from the capital city. They invite me to an auction in the city tonight.”

“An auction?”

Mr. Ward was stunned, then he immediately smiled and said, “Since it is an invitation to an auction, they should have come with a good intention.”

Jack hesitated for a while and said, “Mr. Ward, let’s talk about the Vaughn family in the car.”

Having immersed himself in the real estate industry for three years, he still clearly knew about families involved in the real estate industry.

However, he had to ask Mr. Ward about the other rich families outside this industry.

The Rolls Royce was driven towards DT real estate agency.

In the car, Mr. Ward started narrating, “Young Master, the Vaughn family is considered to have a pretty clean family background. Its power is not that big in the capital city. It specializes in the film and entertainment industry. After three generations of hard work, it seemed to be one of the few tops in the industry. Now, they have cooperated with international film companies.”

Weak power.

Clean family background.

Jack quickly processed the most important messages from Mr. Ward’s prepared information. He felt relieved.

The Vaughn family should indeed come with good intention to make a good relationship as what Mr.

Ward said.

Otherwise, how could this ‘weak’ family dare to deal with him?

After stretching his body, Jack said, “I will ask Yael to accompany me there tonight.”

Mr. Ward nodded. He was not confused about why Jack would bring Yael but not him.

In fact, Jack thought that Mr. Ward was already old. Before that, he had no other people to help him, so he could only rely on Mr. Ward. Now, Yael who was also from a rich family could share the responsibility with Mr. Ward.

He was busy the whole day.

At 6 pm in the afternoon.

Jack knocked off on time. He walked downstairs and waited for a while.

A loud engine sound was heard from the far corner of the street. The loud sound could be heard on the whole street.

After that, Jack saw a black Koenigsegg rush towards him.

Beep!

The Koenigsegg stopped. The car door was opened and Yael walked out, "Let's go, Jack!"

Jack was silent as he was shocked.

His heart beat faster as he looked at the Koenigsegg.

This car was extremely expensive!

"Jack, stop being stunned. It is only a car, why are you so shocked?" Yael laughed with an unserious tone.

Jack wanted to say something but he didn't. Then, he got into the car.

Feeling the luxury inside the car, he was a little blank.

He was the heir of the Hughes family while Yael was the abandoned member of the Quinn family.

These two totally different lifestyles made Jack feel like he was the abandoned member.

"Yael, how much private savings do you have?"

Jack couldn't help to ask, "At first, you bought the villa beside my house, and now you bought this expensive car. I feel like you are the one who looks like the heir of the Hughes family."

"Not much. Not much."

Yael smiled mysteriously. He gave Jack a scornful look while driving, "Your father gave you so much money and you hid it yourself without showing off. Are you not allowing me to show off?"

Jack went speechless.

The Koenigsegg was driven extremely fast.

When they reached the auction, it was already 7.30 pm.

The night fell.

Looking at the ancient attic in front of him, Jack was a little dazed.

He had been to many high-class places. However, this was the first time he been to an auction.

His action and behavior looked overcautious.

However, Yael looked relax and chill as he swaggered into the auction.

While walking, he complained to Jack, "Jack, the auction in your city looked so bad. The auction from my X City has better style. Look at this auction's name, TB Attic, it's so outdated."

Jack couldn't help laughing.

When the pair reached the entrance, they showed the invitation letter. Then, they were led into the auction by a specially-assigned person.

The light suddenly turned dim.

Following the long corridor, they walked deeper into the auction. The light was only focused on the middle of the stage in the hall.

"Sir, please follow me."

The staff from the auction brought Jack and Yael to a private room on the second floor.

When two of them went upstairs, an extremely soft laughter sounded not far away from them in the darkness, "Grandfather, that Jack looks so unserious. He looks like a prodigal!"

Then, a husky laughter sounded, "Vinna, the intelligence agency of our Vaughn family had reached its limit to find out the incident that night. They couldn't find out Jack Hughes's look. Later, you have to act with flexibility. If you had mistaken Jack Hughes, then it would not be done smooth."

"Don't worry. It's definitely the unserious one. The man in a suit beside him acted so overcautiously.

Would the heir of the Hughes family act like this in such a small event?" A certainty was within her soft voice.

"You are right."

The husky voice suddenly became a little deep, "Vinna, would you blame grandfather? The Vaughn family would depend on you tonight. If you could get Jack Hughes's trust, we, the Vaughn family would have built ourselves another leverage for our future."

"I would not blame grandfather. Moreover, Jack was the heir of the Hughes family. If he fell for me, I would not have any loss too."

In the darkness, a tall and beautiful figure in a long dress slowly walked towards the second floor.

Chapter 196 Recognized the Wrong Person

In the private room on the second floor.

The pendant light was lit gracefully.

When Jack and Yael entered the private room, they glanced at the surrounding, then looked at each other.

After the staff left the room.

Jack frowned as he said, "Are all the private rooms in the auction decorated like this?"

"I am confused too," Yael showed a disturbed expression on his face, "The decoration is very disturbing."

Jack's lips twitched. He was tranced as he sat on the couch.

It would not be a big deal if it was just the dim light.

The problem was the whole private room was filled with a strong fragrance, and there was a half nude art painting on the wall.

That...made him doubt that, was that an auction or an art gallery?

Both the men felt strange sitting in a private room decorated like that.

However, Jack noticed that they could see the whole auction stage from the French window in the private room. The room might be the best location.

The Vaughn family was showing their sincerity, but...

Jack glanced at the private room again and then at Yael.

That was a little too much.

When Yael felt Jack's gaze was on him, he showed a stern look, "don't think too much!"

"Get lost!"

Jack scolded back as he laughed.

Knock! Knock!

A knocking sound on the door was heard.

Then, a soft voice called out from outside the door.

"I'm Vinna Vaughn from the Vaughn family. Mr.Hughes, may I come in?"

Jack nodded.

Yael then said, "come in."

Vinna, who was dressed in a long white dress like a fairy, came in.

A tint of surprised look showed on her pretty face.

The same shock was seen on Jack and Yael's face.

Jack only knew that the invitation that evening was from the Vaughn family from the capital, but they did not expect a lady to attend.

And, it was an enchanting beautiful lady.

The long white dress showed the most of Vinna's tall and almost perfect figure, which presented her perfect curves under the lamination of the light.

Her facial features were exquisite, which had a perfect proportion. Her eyes were like stars and her makeup was light. She was comparable to those artists and stars on the TV.

While Jack was surprised, he thought of Amber at the same time.

Both ladies were pretty. But when compared, Amber was more like a fairy maiden, while Vinna was more mature and tactful.

They were both pretty, but one was enchanting while the other was just pretty.

"So pretty!"

Yael blurted out, breaking the silence in the room.

Vinna broke off from her surprise and looked at Jack in disdain.

Why was a bodyguard in the room with Mr. Hughes?

The place was decorated personally by her, and the atmosphere in the room was ruined because of the bodyguard.

The disdain she showed was gone in a second, but Jack noticed that.

Jack was dumbfounded. Was he invited just for her to show him a disdain look?

Vinna smiled. Her smile was like the spring breeze, giving out a beautiful charm. When she walked her waist swayed and she looked around charmingly.

Then, under Jack and Yael’s gaze of shock.

Vinna bowed slightly when she approached Yael and handed out her right hand, “Pleasure to meet you, Mr. Hughes. I look forward to tonight.”

Did she recognize the wrong person?

Jack and Yael looked at each other. They were dumbfounded.

Jack felt that it was a little hilarious.

Did he look so unlike a rich person compared to Yael?

The Vaughn family invited him, but they did not know which one was him and recognized the wrong person.

Vinna frowned slightly. She looked at Jack and said with a tint of anger, "What is so funny about?"

She didn't like the bodyguard in front of her at all.

She and her grandfather personally prepared the private room so that she could have a personal time with Jack.

She believed that with her beauty and maturity, she would be able to make Jack fall in love with her in one night.

But the presence of the bodyguard disturbed her plan.

Jack restrained his smile. He was not angry at all, instead, he felt that the scene was interesting.

He wondered how would Vinna react when she knew the truth.

Vinna smiled gently and looked at Yael, "Mr. Hughes, you're indeed generous. You let your bodyguard come into a private room with you and not wait outside. That is so much different from the rich men's son I've met so far."

"Poof!"

Yael burst into laughter too. His face was blushing.

Vinna was puzzled by the scene.

Did she say something wrong?

Yael shook his hand, "It's okay. He's my friend. There is nothing to hide."

Jack did not deny. So, Yael understood what he meant and did not tell Vinna the truth either.

As Yael spoke, he moved a step forward and looked at Vinna from above. His look on her was loving.

He gently moved his lips and said in a deep voice, "What I did not expect was you, Miss Vinna could be so pretty. You surprised me."

Feeling Yael's look and the way he praised her.

Vinna was pleased.

Since the first impression was satisfying, things would be easier later.

She had many ways to deal with playboys.

As her impression increased, he would be hers soon.

“Mr. Hughes, please don’t make fun of me. How am I qualified to your praise with just my appearance?”

Vinna held on to Yael’s right hand gently with her fair hand. The moment she touched him and felt Yael’s hand trembled a little, she was even more confident.

However, both let go of each other’s hands eventually due to politeness.

But Yael and Vinna were still gazing into each other. Both had a smile on their face.

It could also be taken as they were flirting at each other.

Jack, who witnessed it with his own eyes, blushed a little.

Was this a game of the high-end players? The ultimate battle of the playboy and playgirl?

He glanced at the light and the decoration in the private room.

Jack finally understood the real intention of the Vaughn family.

The Vaughn family wanted to build a bridge, but they did not even investigate about him?

It did not matter that they did not recognize him. But, couldn’t they investigate that he had a fiancé?

“Have a seat.”

After a while, Yael took Vinna's hand and invited her to take a seat in a very gentlemanly manner.

While Vinna showed the elegance of a lady, but her charm was still on her.

When both of them were in their seats, they started to have a hot chat.

Jack was left out and sat alone aside.

However, Jack did not care much. He didn't like that kind of situation.

Since Vinna recognized the wrong person, he would just let Yael, the experienced playboy take care of the situation.

As long as they don't affect him, he was fine no matter how they communicate.

"By the way, Mr.Hughes. The auction tonight is something you should look after."

Vinna said suddenly in a delicate voice.

Jack raised an eyebrow and looked over at them instinctively.

Vinna frowned a little when she sensed Jack's gaze. Then she turned towards Yael and smiled as she said, "The final piece in the auction tonight is a piece of jewelry, the Blue Ocean Teardrop. That is a blue sapphire designed by the top designer. Its charm could make every woman dream for it."

The hint was given!

There was no need for Vinna with such a family background to ask others to bid the Blue Ocean

Teardrop for her. But it could be a test.

If “Jack” was willing to bid the jewelry for her, then their relationship could be closer.

Jack rubbed his nose. His gaze deepened, as he pondered.

“Blue Ocean Teardrop? It seemed that I haven’t bought any gifts for Amber since we dated.”

Chapter 197 Blue Ocean Teardrop

As time passed.

The crowd in the auction grew.

The lights in the private rooms on the second floor lit up one after another.

However, due to the special design of the private room, outsiders would not be able to see the person sitting in them.

Jack ignored Yael and Vinna who were flirting.

He scrolled through his phone and sent a message to Amber, “I want to give you a gift.”

“What gift? (Happy)”, Amber replied at an instant.

Jack replied, “You’ll know when you get it.”

After sending out the message, he muted his phone and placed it in his pocket.

He watched the auction stage lit up as he leaned back in his seat.

The auction was about to start.

Jack was persistent on getting the “Blue Ocean Teardrop” that would be auctioned last.

That was the gift he was going to give Amber.

He did not consider the price at all. The auction would not sell items with extremely high value, moreover, he was rich.

“Mr. Hughes. The private room is a little hot.”

Vinna said in a clinger manner suddenly, “Can you ask your bodyguard to leave? I want to adjust my dress to cool myself down.”

Yael’s eyes lit up at once, but he immediately looked distressed.

Vinna recognized the wrong person. He did not dare to ask Jack to leave.

A smile rose on Jack’s face.

The Vaughn family of the capital was indeed worthy of being in the entertainment industry. Even the young lady of the family acted in such a way.

“Vinna, it’s okay. He’s my friend.”

Yael spoke out abruptly.

Vinna was stunned.

He...he could even say that in such a situation?

Jack was caught off guard, and his face blushed. He coughed hard.

Then he stared at Yael. That bastard. How could he even say that?

Yael knew he had said something awkward. He blushed as he pointed at the auction stage. “The auction is about to begin. Let’s focus on the auction.”

Vinna glanced at Jack in annoyance.

With another person with them, she was unable to show her charm.

The Vaughn family was not among the top in the capital, but the entertainment industry that they own was the one and only tycoon in the industry.

However, they were nothing compared to the top families in the capital.

If they could get the attention of the Hughes family, or just the attention of the heir of the Hughes family,

Jack, they could use the fame of the family for some time before the family announced their next head of the family.

She was willing to do anything for her family.

Not to mention. The “Jack” she was with at the moment was the type she liked.

All of a sudden.

The light of the auction stage lit up fully.

At the same time, the scattered lights at the rest of the auction site were dimmed.

All the lights were focused on the stage.

A tall and straight middle-aged man in a suit and shoes walked onto the stage with a smile.

The auction began officially!

It was the first time Jack participated in an auction. He observed the auction with interest.

But after looking at the few items sold, he lost interest. It was because the items sold on the auction was as he predicted. The items were something valuable for ordinary people, but it was nothing for him.

None from the second-floor private room bid either.

The ones who bid were all from the first floor.

He glanced at Yale and Vinna.

Both of them were almost about to cuddle onto each other, flirting.

From what Jack knew about Yael, if it wasn't for him around them, Yael would be doing it with the lady at that moment.

"Mr.Hughes..."

Feeling Jack's gaze, Vinna called out.

Yael was in an awkward situation, "He's my friend. It's okay."

Vinna was speechless.

She was frustrated.

She had been flirting for so long, and he still cared about friendship?

What was he thinking of her?

But for the purpose she came today, she suppressed her frustration and leaned in Yael's arm obediently.

Jack retrained himself from laughing.

He did not want to spoil Yael's luck either. He forcefully focused on the seemingly boring auction on the auction stage.

In the auction, there were round of bidding sessions. The atmosphere was getting enthusiastic.

When the atmosphere came to its peak, it was finally the last three rounds of auction.

And at that moment, there was finally someone from the private room on the second floor who bid for an item.

Jack watched silently.

He was waiting for the Blue Ocean Teardrop that came last.

"Mr. Hughes, the Blue Ocean Teardrop is about to be put on auction."

Yael smirked at the right moment, "You like it? I'll bid that for you then."

Spending billions to get a girl was something normal with his playboy character and the wealth, he had.

Moreover, the lady in his arms was a fair, beautiful, and rich woman. He would not lose anything spending a few billion.

“Vinna likes anything that Mr. Hughes gets me.”

Vinna was delighted. She leaned fully into Yael’s arms.

She was waiting for him to say that.

As long as “Mr.Hughes” was willing to spend the money, it meant that there was a possibility for them in the future.

But, Vinna did not notice that Jack, who was sitting beside them stared at Yael with a warning look and shook his head.

Yael was dumbfounded.

Did Jack want it too?

Then he realized that Jack wanted to bid on the Blue Ocean Teardrop for Amber.

Yael was in a melancholy. He couldn’t bear doing that as looked at the pretty Vinna in his arms.

“Ladies and gentlemen the next item is the finale of the auction, the Blue Ocean Teardrop.”

Followed by the voice from the auctioneer, two pretty girls in Chinese Cheongsam held on a tray as they walked on the stage.

All the eyes focused on the tray covered with a silk cloth.

When the auctioneer uncovered the silk cloth.

At an instant.

A brilliant blue light illuminated under the bright spotlight. It was beautiful and dazzling.

Wow!

The auction was filled with awe from the crowd.

Jack was surprised and attracted by the light illuminated from the Blue Ocean Teardrop too.

Vinna was also surprised.

She did not expect that there would be such high-quality jewelry in that kind of auction.

“This auction has something.” Yael couldn’t help but praise.

As the lights faded away.

All of them saw the real appearance of the Blue Ocean Teardrop.

It was a delicately carved jewelry. Or it could be called a work of art.

The blue sapphire was still shining, and the bright blue was breathtaking.

It was too dazzling, making the diamond on the jewelry a foil.

The whole necklace was gorgeous and flawless.

The voices of awe were heard from the auction again.

Some even looked at the lady companion they brought along and sighed after checking the amount of money they had left.

“It’s called the Blue Ocean Teardrop. The owner of the auction got a high-quality blue sapphire by chance and specially invited a top Italian designer to design and make it. You can call it a piece of jewelry or a work of art, but I think I prefer to describe it with all women’s dream.”

After the introduction.

The auctioneer announced loudly, “the reserve price is 50 million, and each round of bidding is 10 million. The bid starts now!”

Boom!

“50 million is just the reserved price? My god, I can’t afford it.”

“Oh my god, I might not even make as much money as the price of the Blue Ocean Teardrop in my whole lifetime.”

“Such a beautiful artwork is really valuable. I’ll even die for the person who is willing to give it to me as a gift.”

...

There was an uproar in the auction on the first floor.

Right at the same time.

A calm voice suddenly came from the private room, which was in the middle on the second floor.

“One hundred million!”

Chapter 198 Blank Mind

The voice was calm.

Yet the voice was like a giant thunderclap.

In an instant, everyone looked towards the room which the voice came from.

“One hundred million, the guest in the room upstairs, bid one hundred million!”

The auctioneer shouted excitedly.

Immediately, everyone in the auction hall finally came back to their senses.

The shout of surprises filled the air.

“Oh my God! Who’s that sitting upstairs? He already bid 100 million?”

“The price is doubled, looks like this person is determined!”

“It’s too ruthless, it’s inhumane, could the person in the room be Aiden Lott?”

...

In the room.

Jack put down the microphone and leaned back in his chair. He was waiting quietly.

This was his first time attending an auction.

Yet he had worked out some tricks by watching a few rounds of the auction.

The premise of highest bidder wins. With rounds of bidding, it would only make someone more excited and kept on bidding.

And it would usually end up with the price far exceeding the original price of the lot.

So the fastest way to resolve an auction was by bidding with a high amount.

It could also ensure that any competitors to be rationale and not get carried away

“100 million?”

Yael blurted out.

Vinna's eyebrows were knitted together, and she looked furious, "Mr. Hughes, is this bodyguard of yours bidding for you? This is too much, and he is out of bounds!"

The way of master and servant. How can a servant do anything without being told by his master?

As a direct descendant of the Vaughn family, she was a rich beauty.

Vinna had participated in countless auctions, and there were quite incidents where their bodyguard was to do the bidding. But all those bodyguards had bid at the behest of their masters.

She had even done it to get her bodyguard to help with the bidding.

And just now, 'Mr. Hughes' didn't say a word.

"I want to buy it," Jack calmly said. "This Blue Ocean Teardrop is for my fiancée."

Vinna was very shocked, her eyes were filled with disbelief.

Immediately, she started snorted, "Oh my, you have a lot of nerves! You're mere Jack's bodyguard, you simply bid 100 million, do you have that much of money?"

Vinna didn't hide her contempt and disdain for Jack when she said this.

A mere bodyguard who opened his mouth and bid for 100 million?

Why wouldn't you look at yourself in a mirror?

"100 million, is that a lot?"

Jack gave Vinna a sidelong glance.

Vinna smiled, "Not much, not much at all. But don't blame me for not being kind enough to remind you that this is an official auction. If you are unable to pay after the knocked down , you'll be subjected to legal action."

Jack smiled disdainfully and paid no further attention.

But it was such a look from Jack seemed to trigger Vinna's nerves.

She was so furious that she was about to explode.

She was Vinna Vaughn from the Vaughn family, yet she was...scorned by a bodyguard?

She turned her head towards Yael, "Mr. Hughes, this is your bodyguard?"

Yael was embarrassed for a while.

He looked at Jack, Yael said helplessly, "He's my brother, please don't mind him."

"But you clearly said that you were going to buy it for me."

Vinna pouted and took Yael's arm. She said pitifully, "Mr. Hughes, you've promised me. Are you going to be a man of your word?"

In the beginning, Vinna would never have acted like this.

But now she was sure that 'Mr. Hughes' was interested in her.

Vinna and 'Jack' liked each other and willingly. She was just acting like a child, and it wasn't anything serious.

Yael shrugged helplessly, "As you've heard, my brother wants to give it to her fiancée. Isn't it good to help someone out? He bided 100 million means that he really wants it. Let's just give it to him this, and I'll just buy another for you."

"But does he have that much money to buy it?"

Vinna was indignant, she had never taken the 'Blue Ocean Teardrop' seriously before. And was purely for a medium to bring 'Jack' to get closer to her.

But when she finally saw the Blue Ocean Teardrop, she was moved even with her knowledge.

What woman wouldn't love a bejewelled jade?

Mostly that this bejewelled jade was a top-notch artwork!

This kind of top-quality jewellery was rare, even for a top-class auction like the Sotheby's.

"Ugh..., if you like it that much, just bid it yourself."

Yael spread his arms in annoyance and didn't want to care about it.

With Yael's cynical and play boyish character, he was willing to spend money just to pick up some girl.

Even though Vinna mistakenly recognised him as Jack.

But with Vinna annoying him, it's not fun anymore.

Vinna was confused.

He looked at Yael in disbelief.

On the auction stage.

The auctioneer shouted.

"100 hundred million, going once!"

This shout made Vinna come back to her senses.

Growing up pampered and spoiled, everything given to her was the best. And she's also raised up in the entertainment

With an indignant grit of her teeth, Vinna picked up the microphone, "150 million!"

Rumble!

The whole venue exploded in shock when the voice was heard.

The sounds of the guests were deafening.

The shouts filled the air.

It was all because the bidding was from the same room.

There... there were people on the same team bidding against each other?

The auctioneer was also confused, "Erm, dear guest, we only accept a single bid from the same room."

Just after he finished his sentence.

Jack's voice was heard from the same room

"200 million!"

Rumble!

Once again, everyone gasped, and their faces went pale.

At this moment, even the guests in other rooms on the second floor were on their feet. Although they couldn't see the bidder, they all stood up and looked towards the room's direction.

“Insane, this is madness!”

“Two persons bidding from the same room and raised it by 50 million each time. That’s not how you rich bastards show off, right?”

“The reserve price of 50 million and after two bids it’s already 200 million. Holy crap, this is breaking news!”

...

The auction room was filled with shouts of surprise.

The atmosphere had reached its climax.

Inside the room, however, was cold as ice.

Vinna’s white teeth clenched her red lips as her eyes glared at Jack with resentment.

Bastard!

What an asshole!

This stinking bodyguard, did he think that this was a game?

“You are just a bodyguard, yet you opened your mouth and bid for 200 million, where on earth did you have that courage?” Vinna scolded coldly.

Jack swept a cold glance at Vinna.

“I... Fine, if you want to contend, then I’ll see who you really are!”

Vinna wasn’t stupid, although this person seemed to be ‘Jack Hughes’ bodyguard, ‘Jack Hughes’ said that he was his brother. It was apparent that they had a deeper connection.

But it had come to this, and she wasn’t the person that could hold her tongue.

After she finished her sentence.

Vinna picked up the microphone again.

Facing the already noisy venue, her red lips flicked open, and she was about to raise her bid.

Suddenly, Yael raised his hands and wrapped around her waist.

“Baby, you need to calm down, please!”

Vinna stunned for a moment.

Before she came around.

Yael smiled awkwardly and said to Jack, “Jack, are you really not going to tell her? It’s your own money that you'll lose if you go on like this."

Boom!

Vinna was too shocked, her body trembled.

Her eyes widened and shocked as she looked at Jack, who was sitting there indifferently. Her mind went blank.

Chapter 199 Cried in Aggravation

Vinna was stunned, her mind was blank, her eyes widened and stared at Jack.

She felt that the sky was spinning.

In front of her, the man was Jack Hughes, so whose arms was she snuggling in just now?

Jack gave a sidelong glare at Vinna, feeling somewhat frustrated.

The auctioneer downstairs had already started to shout.

When 'Going thrice' came out from his mouth.

Thump!

The gavel had fallen.

The thumping sound was clear, and no one gave another bid.

As the 200 million had knocked down in the auction house, the deafening shouts filled the room.

Whether it was the ground floor or the second floor's guests, all eyes were on the room in the middle.

Everyone was curious about which one of them had made such an astronomical bid!

Blue Ocean Teardrop was rare; otherwise, it wouldn't have caused Vinna to freak out.

But with the scale of this auction house in this city. Whether the appearance of the Blue Ocean

Teardrop or the bidding of 200 million was enough to send a shockwave to every guest.

Inside the room.

"Let's go."

Jack got up, walked past Vinna and headed outside.

He didn't even give a single glance at Vinna when he headed out.

He had gotten what he wanted, and the Vaughn family's purpose was evident.

If the Vaughn family had tried to get closer to him by ordinary means, Jack wouldn't mind about it. But he couldn't accept that they played this badger game on him.

Vinna's body trembled once more, she finally came around.

Looking at Jack's back, Vinna red lips mumbled, "Mr. Hughes..."

The words came to her lips, but she couldn't make up a sentence.

When she thought of how she had treated Jack just now, she felt a sense of shame that made it difficult to even apologise.

“Baby...”

Yael was somewhat fond of Vinna's beauty. Among all the girls he had ever seen, she was definitely in the top three of his shortlists.

What's more, Vinna had a powerful background that made her to be the number one in Yael's shortlists.

“Go away!”

Vinna was furious and rebuked angrily at Yael.

Yael stunned and shrugged, “Actually, I'm not that bad either. I'm at least a former member of Quinn's family in X city. Because I killed my father and I ask for my own expulsion from the family pedigree?”

Rumble!

Vinna was shocked as if she was struck by lightning, and her gorgeous face turned pale.

As the Vaughn family's first daughter, the Quinn family's incident in X city back then was well known, and everyone knew about them.

She didn't know Yael, but she heard about this incident.

At the thought that she had snuggled into the arms of a man who killed his father, Vinna heart raced.

Nausea and fear were felt to the core.

Vinna grabbed the cup in a rage and smashed it directly at Yael.

"Get the hell out of here!"

"I'm leaving. Here, this is my contact details."

Yael put down a business card with a face full of indifference, turned around and left.

Vinna's face was pale in the room, her chest was heaving violently.

The scene from earlier replayed in her mind as if it were a nightmare.

Her mind was filled with shame, hatred, remorse, and panic.

It overwhelmed her.

After leaving the room, Jack and Yael didn't leave the auction house. They were led by staff to the backstage of the auction house and went through all the formalities.

The formalities were quickly filled out. The staff delivered the jewellery box containing 'Blue Ocean Teardrop' to Jack.

"Mr. Hughes, congratulations. This is a precious item that my boss has treasured for many years. And when he learnt of the arrival of his distinguished guest. He especially brought it out for the auction."

"Who is your boss?" Jack asked curiously.

Since it was taken out because of a distinguished guest, it was probably because of Vinna Vaughn's family.

Vaughn family was one of the more powerful families in the capital city, but they were not enough to be the top.

But in this city, they were the dragons that descended.

"Aiden Lott," the staff didn't conceal the fact that there was no need to hide from such a big customer.

Jack was stunned, looked at the jewellery box in his hand and smiled slightly, "Thank you then."

After saying this, he left with Yael.

As the two left, the staff member responsible for delivering Jack's Blue Ocean Teardrop gradually frowned.

He hurried to an empty corner.

A phone call was made.

“Boss, things have taken a turn for the worse. The Blue Ocean Teardrop didn’t fall into the hands of Ms.

Vaughn.”

“Well, was the gentleman named Jack Hughes who bought it?”

On the phone, Aiden’s surprisingly calm voice made staff members brow furrow.

But he still responded, “Yes, his name is Jack Hughes.”

“Very well, the item has fallen to its rightful owner.”

Snap!

The phone was hanged up.

The staff was dumbfounded.

Wasn’t the owner trying to impress Ms. Vaughn so that he brought out the Blue Ocean Teardrop?

Instead, the owner took it out, especially for Jack?

Was the auction house wrong in its assumptions?

In the meantime.

Vinna walked out of the auction house lost in thought. Her gaze was hollow as she walked towards a

BMW X7

As soon as she got into the car, a raspy voice was heard.

“How was it, Vinna?”

Vinna’s body trembled, her hollow gaze quickly focused, then flushed with tears.

A strong sense of aggravation overwhelm her.

She jumped straight into the old man’s arm and sobbed, “Grandpa, I’m sorry. I, I mistook him for someone else.”

Rumble!

The old master’s body trembled as his face changed drastically.

He brought Vinna from the capital city and prepared all this to get closer to Jack. So that he could ride with the Hughes family.

After all, the Hughes family was above the rest, as if they were high in the clouds overseeing all beings.

Even the Vaughn family was only nobody compared to them.

It was challenging to make friends with the Hughes family usually.

Not to mention the Hughes family heirs. Even with the elites of the generation were challenging to socialize with them.

It also proved how important and scarce Jack was. As he was the only heir in exile.

“Didn’t... Didn’t I tell you not to mistake him as someone else?” The old man’s voice trembled a bit.

He understood the special status of Jack as a successor. But he was willing to bet for the Vaughn family’s future, which was why he rushed here.

But now, after all those preparations and even he was ready for his granddaughter to marry him. And yet she had actually... misidentified him!

“Grandpa, you’ve seen them. Which one of them looked more like Jack Hughes, you can tell it at a glance.”

Vinna cried in aggravation. “At least Jack is the heir to the Hughes family, who would have thought that on such occasion he would show such restraint?”

The old man’s body trembled, his face flushed red, and he clenched his teeth.

Looking at the teary-eyed Vinna, the old man sighed helplessly, "It's just that, it's not your fault. Even I was at fault, and I admit it. We can only think about what our next move can be."

"Grandpa, I really can do something for the Vaughn family. I'm really not to blame this time around."

Vinna cried out in aggravation, her delicate body was trembling.

The old man was distressed for a while, patting her back to soothe her while asking with a frown, "Who is the cynical man? Since he can walk with Jack Hughes, he shouldn't be an ordinary person, right?"

Vinna heard what he said.

Vinna looked frightened, "He is the father-killer of the Quinn family in X city."

Rumble!

The old man was dumbfounded, "How did the brute who killed his father get so close with Jack?"

...

On the other hand.

Aiden hung up the phone with a smug smile on his face.

"I've given you such a precious treasure, you should be able to appreciate my kindness, right?"

Chapter 200 Someone is Coming to The Capital City

As the head of the local area, Aiden was the first to know the arrival of the Vaughn family.

Even if the Vaughn family suddenly coming to the capital city made him puzzled, he quickly understood after some investigation.

The Vaughn family came for Jack.

So when the Vaughn family decided to meet Jack in the auction room, he knew that the opportunity had arrived.

After changing sides for so many times, Aiden ruined his own fortune, Jack's words also made him so embarrassed and he lost his dignity already, so he dared not take sides again.

The Vaughn family's arrival had brought a chance for Aiden to show his goodwill to Jack.

Thus, Aiden generously took the "Blue Ocean Teardrop" out.

It seemed like he did it for Vinna, but it was actually for Jack.

A jewelry that was worthy to be called as a piece of art, Aiden was certain that Jack would win its auction for Amber.

After all, Jack had showed his love and proposed in extreme ways.

It was enough to prove that Jack would spend any price for Amber.

“I did it so bad already, now I can only make up a little bit of our relationship.”

Aiden was sad as he shook his head helplessly, “I’ll be able to befriend the Vaughn family.”

...

On the way home, Yael drove the Koenigsegg so quickly.

Jack glanced at Yael helplessly, “You exposed it yourself, you can’t blame me for this.”

Vinna was indeed very beautiful, it was normal for Yael for to have some intentions towards her.

Moreover they somehow seemed so close like they were going to do it.

But Yael’s anger in his heart annoyed Jack.

“You’re blaming me?”

Yael glanced sideways at Jack, “If I don’t yell stop, maybe the Blue Ocean Teardrop’s price might be even more expensive.”

Jack shrugged, “Then you don’t need to be so irritable now.”

“She is very beautiful, you know! She was still in my arms but then at the next second, she told me to fuck off, I’m so sad.” said Yael.

Jack closed his mouth and stopped responding.

The Koenigsegg rushed all the way into the TM Villa District villa, and after getting off the car, Yael drifted out of the TM Villa District.

Jack was puzzled for a moment but he ignored it and just entered the villa.

“Young Master, you're back, how was it?”

Mr. Ward asked first.

“The Vaughn family wanted to get me to side with them, but I couldn't accept their way of doing it.” Jack swayed the jewelry box, “I bought Amber a jewelry instead.”

“How did they do it?” Mr. Ward asked.

Jack didn't hide anything, so he just told Mr. Ward everything.

After hearing that, Mr. Ward and Brent were dumbfounded.

“Yael rushed out, he's probably looking for Vinna now.” Jack added.

Mr. Ward laughed, “That boy won't suck up to other people immediately after a rebuff, he might be sharing about his sex skills somewhere else.”

Jack looked at Mr. Ward strangely.

Yael's image had gotten even worse.

Mr. Ward smiled awkwardly after feeling Jack and Brent's gaze on him.

"But it makes sense that Yael falls for Vinna, Vinna is well known as a beauty in the entertainment circle, so many bosses of the entertainment circle would want to get close to her."

"But it would need strength too, the Vaughn family's tycoon position is not a joke." Jack answered that before going up to his room.

Jack took out the "Blue Ocean Teardrop" again and looked at it carefully.

Even if the light in his room was not as bright as the auction room's, the "Blue Ocean Teardrop" still reflected beautiful and dreamy blue light.

The item that Aiden specially took out to show his goodwill was indeed very valuable.

Jack put the "Blue Ocean Teardrop" back to the box and smiled indifferently, "This goodwill is still not enough for you to return to your previous state."

Over and over again, if it was not an emergency and risky situation, Jack wouldn't even consider Aiden's help in the past and wouldn't let him go.

Making Aiden lose his dignity was also for the sake of safety in the future.

Jack's everything was in that city and Aiden was the head of the city, would he be okay if someone else intruded?

If they wanted to intrude, they would have to be under his control!

Jack took his phone out and sent a chat to Amber.

“I got the present.”

Amber almost replied the chat instantly.

“Really? Show it to me!”

Jack smiled, “Dummy, if I show it to you now, the present won't be a surprise anymore.”

“Tch... Will you be able to surprise me? (tsundere emoji)”

“Just wait, have some rest.”

After replying the chat, Jack glanced at the “Blue Ocean Teardrop” jewelry box, and smiled confidently.

Amber had an outstanding family background and ordinary jewelry wouldn't surprise her, but what if it was a jewelry that was worth 200 million?

...

Everything was normal during the two days after that.

To Jack's surprise, the Vaughn family didn't do anything else.

That was abnormal.

The Vaughn family came from faraway place just to get him.

But just after the first failure, they completely gave up?

What a joke.

It was exactly like what Jack had guessed.

The Vaughn family had yet to give up, they kept staying in the city.

But because there were some mistakes due to the circumstances, Vinna couldn't let the matter go for those two days.

So the plan as set aside.

Even the Vaughn family's Old Master couldn't find a way out.

It was supposed to be a wonderful situation when they were one step ahead, but then they were deadlocked.

They were a step ahead, but then they lagged behind the others.

At least, Jack's first impression on them was bad.

If they wished to redeem it later, it would be hard.

Early in the morning.

Inside the Tyson Hotel.

Vinna was still sleeping when the phone call noise woke him up.

It was from his Grandfather.

"Vinna, you should meet Jack tonight, someone is coming to the capital city."

That single sentence made Vinna fully awake.

"Who is it?"

"The Wattson family!"

Vinna frowned, "That bitch from the Wattson family?"

"Yeah! You know her tricks clearly. If we can't get Jack before her, how many chances will us, the Vaughn family, have left?"

Grandfather's words made Vinna's face turn pale.

The bitch that she spoke of was her archenemy.

Since they were young, no matter their looks or capabilities, they had always been enemies.

Else than her looks, she knew she was inferior to her.

Her beautiful eyes looked determined.

Vinna said, "Grandfather, don't worry, tonight will be a success! Jack must be mine, I won't let that bitch have her way!"

"Then, I'll invite Jack right away."

At the same time.

Inside DT's office.

Jack was looking at the note on the table.

"Making a fuss with the Burton family is such a big deal?"

The note was sent by Lone Wolf, and Lone Wolf didn't leave after handing it to Jack.

"Young Master, the Burton family is the richest in the capital city and Young Master made a fuss with them, it is a big deal." even if Lone Wolf didn't follow Jack to the capital city, but he knew some about that.

Jack smiled helplessly.

He picked the note up and looked inside it.

Then, he was stunned.
