Chapter 451: You go, I don't want to see you

At the time on the way that Jack went to Amber's house.

The news of the hijacking of the plane was rapidly sweeping the major media.

After the plane landed, as the "savior" of the incident, Tiana, became the focus of media coverage.

The big living room.

Amber was sitting listlessly, pressing the remote control and scrolling through the TV channels.

Steve and Rosie came out from the kitchen and walked to the living room with the cut fruits.

Seeing Amber's listlessness and despair, the couple felt distressed, and at the same time, they cursed Jack severely.

Especially Steve, his eyes filled with resentment and anger.

Amber was his beloved daughter. Since childhood, he cared for her very much.

But for the sake of Jack, three years after graduating from college, she refused all the rich and talented young men he arranged.

Even when Jack was destitute and had nothing at all, she returned to Jack without hesitation.

After so many difficulties, but when his daughter was pregnant, Jack cheated.

Steve never thought his precious daughter would suffer such a nightmare.

In his eyes, even if Jack was the heir of the Hughes family, the real child of the Old Master of the Hughes family, Jack was still a beast in this matter!

These days, Amber had been depressed and thinner and had to suffer from morning sickness. When Steve saw this, he felt pain in his heart.

If Rosie didn't stop him several times, he even had the urge to fly to beat Jack violently.

"Baby, your Mommy just peeled the fruit, eat some."

Steve squeezed out an almost flattering smile, held the fruit plate, and came up to Amber.

"I don't have appetite. Oops, Dad, don't stop me from watching TV."

Amber's eyebrows knitted slightly, and she said.

Steve bitterly moved to the side, sat down, took a look at the TV that kept changing channels, and was a bit helpless.

Rosie put her arm around Amber and said gently, "Amber, mom and dad have a private party tonight, why don't you come with us? You should go out and relax."

Amber frowned and shook her head, "I won't go, I don't want to see your business partners."

"It's not business, it's a family dinner."

Rosie smiled and explained, "Do you still remember Tiana? Weren't you and her the best girlfriends when you were little?"

"Tiana?"

Amber's dull eyes finally showed a trace of light, and she muttered a little bit of complaining, "It has been many years since we have been in contact. She left a sentence to chase her dream back then, and then stopped contacting me."

"Haha, she has that kind of temperament. She doesn't like makeup but arms, and it's fine now. She came back today and listened to your uncle and aunt to say that she seems to have finally realized her dream now."

Rosie said with a smile, "She seems to be an Interpol. When she came back this time, it happens that you two can have a good meeting. When you got married, she didn't have time to participate."

When she heard the word "marriage", Amber's expression suddenly darkened, and the slightest light in her eyes disappeared.

This scene fell into the eyes of Rosie and Steve.

The couple's hearts tightened for a moment, and Steve was busy pushing Rosie's shoulder, signaling that she had said the wrong thing.

Looking at Amber's expression, Rosie felt at a loss for a while and didn't know what to say.

Luckily, Steve reacted quickly and took the remote control from Amber's hand.

"Ouch, baby girl, don't change the channel, dad is dizzy."

Coincidentally, the TV channel stopped at the local news channel.

As for news reports, the hijacking incident and the video footage of Tiana being surrounded by numerous media for interviews after getting off the plane were being broadcasted.

"God!" Steve let out a shocking curse.

He rubbed his eyes with some disbelief, "Rosie, Amber, you guys take a look, is this Tiana?"

Amber and Rosie looked towards the TV screen.

Both mother and daughter were stunned at the same time.

Even though Amber had not seen Tiana for many years, she could still sense the familiar feeling from the outline of her face.

"It's really her!" Rosie nodded her head and said with a face full of astonishment, "A hijacking incident?"

My God, such a big thing, Tiana solved it all by herself?"

"This girl, became a hero as soon as she came back!" Steve exclaimed.

The couple immediately focused on the news.

Neither of them noticed that Amber also stared at the TV screen intently.

But different from her parents, Amber's gaze rested on the corner of the video, where was the hanging ladder of the aircraft hatch.

Passengers orderly walked down from the hanging ladder, and a familiar figure in the crowd, as if a heavy hammer, hit Amber's eyes hard.

Was he coming?

Amber stared closely at the TV screen, and her heartbeat speeded up at this moment.

While she was surprised and looking forward to his coming, raging anger aroused in her heart.

He, how dare he still have the guts to come?

Seeing that figure in the crowd, slowly walked down the suspended ladder, and finally disappeared from the camera, all sorts of feelings well up in her heart.

Both her hands were subconsciously clenched into fists.

She suddenly said, "Mom and Dad, I'll go with you tonight, I haven't seen Tiana for years."

"Really?"

Steve looked at Amber in surprise.

"Good, good, let's have a good chat with Tiana tonight, she became a big hero as soon as she came back, this is a big happy event."

Rosie also smiled and patted Amber's shoulder.

So many days since she back home, Amber always shut herself in the house, which made this couple worried.

Now Amber wanted to go out for a walk, so the couple felt more at ease.

People would have mentally problem if they kept shutting themselves down.

Their daughter would feel better if she went out for a walk and took a break.

"Come on, let's go now, this is Tiana's big happy event, I have to prepare a gift."

Amber squeezed out a smile, got up, and said.

Steve and Rosie felt more at ease, and they agreed with a smile.

The family quickly finished packing and drove to Tiana's home.

...

"This is Amber's family's home?"

After Jack left the airport and took a two-hour ride, he finally arrived at Amber's home.

Instead of a house, it was more like a villa manor.

When he was in college, he had never known how rich Amber's family was.

Even if he divorced Katherine and was with Amber, he never came to Amber's home in person.

Even if Jack had achieved outstanding achievement, he was shocked when he came to Amber's house for the first time.

He looked at the large manor villa, which was much larger than the TM Villa District.

There were also bodyguards patrolling the manor, and the security level was high.

However, thinking about the strength of Steve, Jack was relieved.

Taking a deep breath, Jack was about to go to the gate to report.

The phone WeChat rang suddenly.

He stopped and took out his phone to take a look.

In an instant, his eyes widened and his heart twitched hard.

It was a WeChat message from Amber.

The content was "You go, I don't want to see you."

Chapter 452: I'm not the Real Savior, He is!

This moment.

Jack stood under the blazing sun, but there was a feeling of coldness all over his body.

The few words on the screen were like a knife cutting his heart.

"You know I'm here?"

Jack murmured, "Don't you even want to see me for once?"

Lost in a trance for a moment, Jack tried to dial Amber's phone.

But the phone rang once and then was hung up.

Unwillingly, he dialed several times in succession, with the same result.

"Can you pick up my phone?"

Jack sent a WeChat message to Amber.

Immediately after, he hurriedly added, "I'm here to explain the situation and take you home."

When sending the WeChat message, Jack looked a bit flustered.

Even his hands trembled faintly when typing.

He was scared!

Fear of losing Amber because of this misunderstanding.

Even if he desperately wanted to restrain, he could not calm the ups and downs of his heart.

After sending the WeChat messages, Jack squatted on the roadside, staring at his phone, biting his nails, and waiting silently.

It's just a long wait.

The two WeChat messages were like sinking into the sea, without any news.

"I can definitely wait for you!" Jack firmly said with great intensity eyes, "I want to take you home."

...

The night was gradually falling.

Inside the luxurious villa.

In the dining room, there were happy laughter and cheerful voices.

It was a private banquet. To be exact, it was a private dinner between the Knight family and the Harvey family.

The friendship between the two families had laid a solid foundation since Steve was young, and for so many years, the two sides had been cooperating forward.

"Steve, I still remember when we wanted to get ahead, and Rosie and my wife were pregnant, we stupidly wanted our child to get married."

A middle-aged man with graying temples and a majestic brow raised his red wine glass and laughed,

"It turned out that we have daughters and they became good friends."

"It's because that night, we both drank a lot of wine, you wanted to let Tiana marry Amber, and thanks to my sober finally." Steve laughed.

The crowd talked and laughed.

Only Amber looked despondent, holding the phone tightly in both hands, and placing it under the table.

She wanted to catch up with her best friend, whom she had not seen for many years at first.

But with Jack's phone call and WeChat messages, Amber no longer had that thought.

"Amber, do you have something on your mind?"

Tiana sat beside Amber and asked with concern, "I feel like you are preoccupied with something tonight."

"No, it's fine." Amber forced a smile.

But Tiana frowned and said, "We haven't seen each other for so many years, you don't even want to talk to me, and you still say you don't have something on your mind?"

"No, Tiana, I just don't feel well." Amber really didn't have the mood.

Even if Tiana, who was in front of her, was her childhood best playmate.

The words just fell, Amber's face changed suddenly and she hurriedly got up, and ran into the toilet.

The sudden scene made the table became instantly quiet.

Rosie's expression changed, and she hurriedly got up and followed her to the toilet.

Steve smiled and said, "It's okay, it's okay, let's continue. By the way, Tiana, once you came back this time, you have become the hero!"

In these words, the topic smoothly changed.

Tiana's parents had revealed a smile of relief and happiness.

The airplane hijacking incident was big news.

And it had long been reported by major media.

In the country of admiring hero, Tiana became the "savior" of all the people on a plane. And this made her parents felt very honorable.

"No, Mr. Steve, it was just a fluke."

Tiana lowered her head and said shyly.

Thinking about the scene on the plane, Tiana still felt a little lucky.

Without the presence of the man called "Jack", even if she came forward, she would fail.

"You are quite modest."

Steve laughed, "Your parents told me that you have been working hard in the past few years, and now you are already an Interpol officer. With this identity and strength, it is reasonable to save everyone on the plane. Why is it a fluke in your mouth?"

Tiana's father also laughed, "Tiana, Steve and I have been friends for almost 30 years, there is no need to worry about it."

"You're a father, the child knows how to be modest, but you're still trying to get the child to be smug?"

Tiana's mother laughed and scolded.

Steve took over, "Mrs. Harvey, I have to talk about you with this. We are not conservative people. Tiana has such an achievement, not to mention you two, even I feel proud of her."

Listening to the conversation between Steve and his parents, Tiana became shyer and shyer.

She was telling the truth, but it turned out to be interpreted as modesty.

Listening to their praise words, Tiana couldn't take it anymore.

She was stubborn and upright, otherwise, she would not have left her privileged life behind at a young age and became an Interpol officer.

It was because of this character, so she was always a bit ashamed of this glory.

The real glory should belong to that man!

"Tiana, quickly tell me about the specific things that happened, this kind of plot only happens in the movie, I am curious about it."

To digress Amber's pregnancy vomiting matter, Steve could only pursue the question.

Now that Amber was pregnant, and Jack had done such a brutal thing, so in his heart, he was a bit ashamed to mention it in front of people.

Seeing Steve and her parents' gazes with expectation, Tiana clenched her fists and said helplessly,

"Mr. Knight, Mom, and Dad, it was just a fluke."

What?!

Steve and Tiana's parents froze at the same time.

All three of them reacted, Tiana's words were not modest there was something else hidden.

Immediately after, Tiana slowly said, "After the plane took off, I did take the lead in discovering those four bandits. But at that time, I was proud of my strength and professional identity, so I wanted to solve the whole incident alone, and specially alerted the passengers one by one in the first class."

"After the incident, I was also really the first to stand up to face the four bandits, but, but I ..."

Speaking of this, Tiana's pretty face was flushed and red lips whispered, "But I really couldn't beat those four bandits, they were all tall and also proficient in fighting skills, and even two of them carried special knives, and I was in danger soon after."

Thinking about when she refused Jack's help as a professional, Tiana now suddenly felt ashamed that she even wanted to hide herself in a cave.

She gritted her teeth, "If not for the presence of another expert on the plane at that time, who secretly helped me out, wounding the four bandits and curbing their ability to move, I might have died at the hands of the four bandits."

Boom!

Steve, Tiana's parents, were dumbfounded on the spot.

What Tiana said was different from what she said during the news interview, but the fact that they heard from Tiana, who was the person involved in this matter, gave the three of them the unreal feeling of being in a trance.

"Tiana, but what you said you solved it alone in the interview, right?"

Tiana's mother followed up incredulously, "Moreover, with the plane's size, how could that expert you mentioned secretly helped you?"

"He used flying cards, poker cards was like darts in his hands, and his strikes were fast and accurate."

Tiana's eyes flickered with intense awe. Then she smiled bitterly and shrugged, "I said that in the interview video because I guessed that gentleman did not want to reveal his identity. So I said that on purpose. In fact, I was the seeming savior, it was that gentleman who actually saved the whole plane."

"Flying cards?!"

Steve and Tiana's parents were all stunned.

A small poker card could hurt people?

After a pause, Tiana sighed, "After I finished the interview, I caught up with the gentleman. As I guessed, he didn't want to reveal his identity because he was in a hurry."

"My God, Tiana, the gentleman you said is too low-key and introverted." Steve was in a trance.

Tiana's father also sighed, "Because he was in a hurry, he even dismissed such merits. Was his business more important than this?"

Even Tiana's father could never have been like that in the same situation.

Tiana's expression suddenly became weird, and her red lips whispered, "He, he said, he said, he rushed to ask his wife's forgiveness."

At this very moment, Amber, who had finished vomiting, returned to the dining room with an awkward expression with Rosie supporting her.

Hearing Tiana's words, Amber suddenly stopped in place and was in a daze.

Chapter 453: Amber, I'll Avenge You!

As soon as Tiana's words came out, Steve and Tiana's parents all froze.

"Because he need to ask his wife's forgiveness he gave the credit to you?"

Tiana's father was in a trance and couldn't believe it, "Is he stupid?"

"What do you know?"

Tiana's mother propped her chin with her right hand and said enviously, "I really envy that gentleman's wife, her husband loves her so much."

Tiana also nodded along, "I think he must love his wife very much, I admire at her fortune."

Thinking of the conversation with Jack outside the airport, Tiana's eyes were full of envy.

If that girl knew that her husband didn't even want such great credit but her forgiveness, she would be very moved, right?

No wonder Tiana and her parents thought so.

It was because they all knew how great this credit of solving a hijacking and successfully saving everyone on the plane was.

Epecially Tiana, she knew exactly what the credit means based on her job.

To put it bluntly, as an Interpol officer, with this credit, after returning to the headquarters, she was enough to be promoted to three consecutive levels!

Steve was lost in thought for a moment and let out a bitter laugh, "Loyal man like him is rare in this world."

At the dinner table, the atmosphere became a bit odd.

After hearing the whole story from Tiana, their previous feeling of excitement had faded.

Both Steve and Tiana's parents all focused on the man who in love with his wife.

"Mom, let's go."

Amber's look was better and she returned to her seat with Rosie.

Seeing Amber's pale face, even paler than before, Tiana asked with concern, "Amber, what's wrong with you? In the past, you were not so sentimental as you are now."

"It's really nothing."

Amber shook her head and forced a smile, "Tiana, don't worry too much about me, today is your big day."

"I'm not here, I just made it clear to your father and my parents."

Tiana shrugged her shoulders. As if she suddenly thought of something she rubbed her hands and looked at Amber eagerly, "By the way, I was on a mission during your wedding. I didn't have time to participate. I'm really sorry. Please forgive me. I have a gift for you."

After saying that, she got up and ran upstairs.

Amber's expression changed slightly.

Steve and Rosie both looked at Amber with distress.

Tiana's words had touched her sore spot.

But Tiana didn't do it on purpose, so they could not blame her.

Soon, Tiana ran back with a gift box in her arms.

"This pair of Crystal Shoes is especially for you. They were customized by top craftsmen. This pair is the one and only in the world."

Tiana handed the gift box to Amber, "At that time, I had thought with these crystal shoes on your feet, when you walked to your husband you must be the most beautiful and happiest bride in the world.

What a pity, I was knee-deep in my mission. I couldn't arrange time for you in such a rush.

"It's okay, Tiana."

Amber's expression was unreadable, her eyes were slightly red and once she opened the gift box a pair of shining crystal shoes appeared in front of her.

However, that wedding was not perfect.

And even stained with blood.

And after that ...

Amber subconsciously looked at her slightly bulging belly, and she was instantly aggrieved.

'I have endured so much for you, why do you have to do this to me?'

Especially when Amber heard Tiana's words just now, the husband who even gave up his credit for his wife.

"Why did I marry the wrong one?"

Tiana looked around and raised her eyebrow, "By the way, I have not seen your husband, Amber. Why didn't you bring him here to meet me. It's a pity."

Amber trembled and all her grievances could no longer be contained suddenly.

The rims of her eyes were red, and tears dripped down the corners of her eyes onto the crystal shoes in her arms.

This scene instantly froze Tiana.

Tiana's parents were also stunned.

Steve and Rosie looked at each other, and their eyes full of distress.

Steve looked even more sullen, picking up the full glass of white wine on the table and drank it all in one gulp.

"Steve, what's wrong?" Tiana's father asked.

Tiana was also startled when she reacted.

She hurriedly hugged Amber, "Amber, what happened? Don't scare me."

With this question, Amber cried louder immediately.

She threw herself into Tiana's arms and cried loudly.

She had been repressing herself for the past few days.

She tried hard to pretend to be calm and reassure her parents.

But she couldn't do it. When it was late at night, she would always think of Jack and the memories with Jack.

But when she thought about Rena Yales, Amber's heart was pain like being cut by a knife.

The torture of morning sickness made her on the verge of collapse under this dual psychological and physiological depression.

In the dining room, Amber's cries echoed.

Tiana's parents also felt distressed.

The two families were friends, Tiana's parents felt uneasy watching Amber's emotional breakdown.

"Steve, say something, what is going on?" Tiana's father asked again.

However, Steve sighed. He grabbed his hair with both hands and did not say anything.

Rosie gently patted Amber's back, "Amber, mommy is here, don't cry, don't cry. Whoever leaves you, mom and dad will always be by your side."

Tiana thought for a while, and anger revealed in her beautiful eyes.

"Amber, who offended you? Tell me, I'll avenge you!"

Amber left Tiana's arms with tears, and she bit her red lips.

After a few seconds of pause, she cried and said, "I am wholeheartedly for him, why he cheated on me?"

Boom!

The crying sounded like thunder in the ears of Tiana and her parents.

Betrayal?

Cheating?

In an instant, Tiana was boiling with rage, and her pretty face was full of ferocious anger.

"Bastard! He dares to cheat on you, my fists can't wait to teach him a lesson!"

"Amber, mommy is here, don't cry. You have to be considerate of your own health and the child." Rosie said bitterly.

Tiana's mother also stood up and went to Amber's side, patting her back and comforting her, "Amber, don't cry. Your mom is right, even if the sky falls, you still have your parents' and our love and accompany."

As a woman, she could best understand Amber's pain at this time.

"I can bear it, I can bear it."

While crying and wiping tears, Amber said with a trembling voice, "But he came, he came to me now, he said he wanted to take me home, I really can't help it. How else does he want to explain this matter?

How could he take me home with this matter unsolved?"

Bang!

Just as the words fell, Tiana slapped on the table hardly.

She frowned and she gnashed her teeth in anger, "He's here? It's just right!"

After saying that, Tiana got up and pulled Amber up, and said aggressively, "Amber, take me to him, I'll teach him a lesson!"

Chapter 454: What's Going on?

Steve's face changed.

He was about to stop them.

Tiana's father stopped him, "Steve, a cheater should pay for his behavior. Don't worry, Tiana knows what she should do."

Steve wanted to say something, but when he saw Amber was crying, his heart was in pain, so he held back.

Rosie had said many times that this matter must be resolved after all.

If this thing kept dragging on like this, they didn't know how Jack would feel, but it's a serious hurt to their beloved daughter.

Now, since Jack was here and Tiana was boiling with rage, maybe it's a breakthrough!

"I don't want to see him."

Amber shook her head with tears in her eyes.

Tiana raised her eyebrows, "This is revenge, not a meeting!"

She didn't care if Amber agreed or not, she pulled Amber straight outside.

"Dare to bully my bestie like this, today I must beat him badly!"

Although she and Amber hadn't seen each other for many years, they were bosom friends, and the two families were friends. What's more, no women in the world could bear her husband's cheating.

A pregnant woman, all she got from her husband was betrayal?

This kind of thing, not to mention it happened to Amber, even if it happened to a casual stranger, Tiana would never look on with folded arms.

Five minutes later, a Lamborghini sped away from the villa.

Another two minutes later, a Rolls-Royce also drove out of the villa.

In the Rolls-Royce car.

Steve and his wife were worried, while Tiana's parents flushed with anger.

"Steve, you are being too careful. Tiana is going to teach him a lesson, why we all have to go with them?" Tiana's father was a bit puzzled.

"I don't feel easy about letting them go without us, as their parents, we should ensure their safety."

Steve smirked.

He was clear about Jack's identity and knew even more about how terrifying Jack's fighting skills were.

Going along was also because he was worried about Amber and Tiana.

In the end, it was not certain who taught who a lesson.

However, he was too embarrassed to say this. After all, Tiana's family was to help Amber.

"I hope problem would be solved tonight, so Amber will feel better." Rosie sighed.

Tiana's mother also sighed along with her, "Amber has been suppressing herself so much, and she is pregnant. If she doesn't vent it out, her situation would be worse."

On the other side.

A Lamborghini was speeding on the road.

Amber was in a daze, holding the phone tightly in both hands.

Tiana was boiling with anger while driving with furious expression

"Amber, where is that guy now?"

Amber shook her head, "I don't know, why don't we go back, I really don't want to see him."

"We aren't going to meet him, we are going to beat him up!"

Tiana waved her fist fiercely, "Don't worry about that, let's give him a beating once I see him, and vent your anger."

"But ..." Amber's was worried.

Before he finished speaking, the phone rang suddenly.

Amber's pretty face changed abruptly when she saw the caller ID.

She hesitated for a while.

Seeing this, Tiana's heart shuddered, "Who is calling?"

The tears that Amber had just stopped filled her eyes again.

"It's him?"

Tiana raised her eyebrow, suddenly grabbed Amber's phone, and picked up the call.

In a low voice, she asked, "Where are you?"

On the phone, Jack was a bit stunned, "Who are you?"

"It doesn't matter who I am, I'm coming to you with Amber now!"

On the phone, Jack was silent for a few seconds.

Then he happily said an address, which was a hotel not far away from Amber's home.

After hanging up the phone, Tiana returned the phone to Amber, and patted Amber's shoulder, "Okay, I'll definitely help you teach him a good lesson later."

Looking at Tiana who was aggressive and full of confidence, Amber's feelings were mixed, and her mind was in a mess.

Was she really going to see him?

On the other side, after Jack hung up the phone, he stood up ecstatically, changing his previous depressed and lonely look.

He felt familiar with the strange woman's voice on the phone.

But that's all it was.

He didn't have the mood to think about it. What he was more concerned about was that the woman was coming to him with Amber.

She's a great helper!

Jack went into the bathroom and rewashed and dressed up.

Then there was a long wait.

When the phone rang again, the caller ID "Darling" made him smile happily.

He picked up the phone at once, but on the other end of the phone, it was still the rough and angry voice just now.

"Come to the hotel parking lot! Immediately, right now!"

Pop!

The phone hung up.

Jack froze for a moment. This voice. How could this voice become more familiar as he heard it?

Where in the end had he heard it before?

Shaking his head, he was busy walking out of the room and went downstairs.

In the hotel parking lot, Amber and Tiana were sitting in the Lamborghini.

Amber's hands clenched together, and her expression was unreadable. There were tensions, worries, and emotions that were hard to describe.

Tiana put down her phone and glanced at Amber, "Amber, sit here and watch how I will give him a good lesson."

As she said that, she also moved her neck and wrists, making clicking sounds.

She was very aggressive.

Amber sat at the side and was silent.

Only her eyes glanced at the direction of the hotel from time to time.

Finally, a familiar figure appeared.

"Tiana, he's here."

Amber suddenly said.

"Watch this!"

Tiana opened the car door angrily, slammed it shut, and strode towards Jack in the distance.

Just because of the distance, and because Jack was looking around for Amber after he entered the parking lot, so Tiana did not see Jack's appearance.

And in another corner, inside the Rolls-Royce car.

Steve and his wife and Tiana's parents also stared at Jack, who walked to the parking lot, with a serious expression.

When they saw Tiana get out of the car and aggressively walked towards Jack, Tiana's parents smiled heartily at once.

Tiana's father patted Steve's shoulder, "Steve, watch carefully. My baby daughter has not practiced for nothing these years, she will help you make this beast pay for his sin."

At the same time.

Tiana, who was striding towards Jack, frowned gradually.

The arrogance on her face gradually disappeared.

Looking at the figure that was looking around, as the distance got closer.

'How come I feel more familiar with him as I got closer?'

Tiana was puzzled but did not stop.

Instead, she shouted at Jack sternly, "Hey, are you Amber's husband?"

Hearing the shout, Jack, who was looking around at no one else, was busy looking at the sound.

Once he saw Tiana, he was stunned.

And Tiana also abruptly stopped and stared at Jack in shock.

That familiar cold face was like a heavy hammer in an instant, hitting her eyes fiercely.

"It's you?"

"It's you?"

Almost simultaneously, Jack and Tiana exclaimed in unison.

"Where's my wife?" Jack asked immediately.

"Are you really Amber's husband?"

Tiana's pretty face instantly turned red, she was embarrassed and panicked.

What the hell was this?

Amber's husband was the savior?

Chapter 455: The Savior is my Husband?

"Where is my wife?"

Jack walked towards Tiana with quick steps.

He did not expect that Amber would know Tiana, but he remembered that just now Tiana had said on the phone that she was with Amber.

He only wanted to see Amber at this time!

Seeing Jack walking towards her, Tiana's pretty face turned red, and she was terrified and helpless.

No more arrogance and viciousness.

There was only shock in her heart.

As Jack was getting closer, his face was like a heavy hammer, slamming on Tiana's heart.

"Ah!"

Suddenly, Tiana let out a scream, turned around and ran away.

A loud scream.

Jack froze in place and was confused.

In the Lamborghini, Amber was also confused.

In Rolls-Royce, Steve and his wife and Tiana's parents were also confused.

What happened?

Tiana ran back to the Lamborghini as if she was in great shock.

Under Amber's stunned gaze, she started the car, kicked the accelerator, flicked and drifted, and drove out of the parking lot.

The sudden change surprised Amber.

She instinctively looked through the car window at Jack, who was frozen in place.

The same time she looked out, Jack also finally came back to his senses and gazed at the Lamborghini.

At this moment, they saw each other.

That longed-for face was in his eyes.

"Amber!"

Jack yelled and rushed to chase the car in a panic.

The frightened Tiana drove the car so fast and disappeared from Jack's sight.

Jack stopped at the same place and was lost in frustration, "Why you're unwilling to see me? I came for your forgiveness!"

"What the hell is wrong with this?"

Tiana's father came to his sense. He patted his forehead and couldn't figure it out and hurriedly asked the driver to start the car.

It was Tiana who went to beat Jack, how come she turned around and ran away like a frightened rabbit when she saw him?

Steve and his wife also looked at each other with confusion and bewilderment on their faces.

The Lamborghini was roaring on the road.

Tiana was still in shock. While driving with her eyes staring straight ahead she hysterically murmured.

"Impossible, how is it possible? Why?"

And as for Amber, she met Jack's gaze just now.

At this time, she was sad and lowered her head. Her hands clenched together, and her nails even scratched her skin.

In silence, crystal tears flowed down the corner of her eyes.

The time to return to the villa was shortened by nearly half under Tiana's windy speed.

Crunch!

The Lamborghini stopped directly on the road of the villa garden.

Inside the car, there was silence.

Tiana was dazed and lost in thought, with shock written all over her pretty face.

Thinking about what just happened, she felt like her body was on fire.

God!

'I'm simply crazy, why did I think of teaching him a lesson?'

Then her gaze fell on the always silent Amber, and she incredulously confirmed again, "Amber, that guy is really your husband? He ... called Jack?"

"Mm." Amber raised her head and smiled sadly, tears already streaming down her face.

Tiana's delicate body trembled and was speechless.

What a coincidence?

At this time, the Rolls Royce finally drove into the villa as well.

As soon as they parked, Steve and his wife and Tiana's parents hurriedly got out and ran to the Lamborghini.

Opening the door, Steve was surprised and asked.

"Tiana, what happened just now?"

Facing the gaze of the four elders, Tiana wanted to hide herself.

"Say something."

Tiana's father urged, "You said you would teach him a lesson, why did you run away instead like seeing a horrible ghost?"

Hearing that, Amber also looked at Tiana in confusion.

Tiana's reaction when she saw Jack just now was abnormal!

"I ..."

Tiana rubbed her face with a frightened look, "I, I don't dare to teach him a lesson."

What?!

Several people froze at the same time.

Steve's gaze flashed. Could it be that Tiana knew Jack's identity and background?

"What do you mean you don't dare to teach him a lesson?"

Tiana's father asked again. He knew his daughter's character. This matter today, even if it was the King of Heaven, he estimated that Tiana would dare to kick him to the hell.

However.

Tiana said, "He is my life saver."

Boom!

Everyone, including Amber, was dumbfounded.

Immediately after, Tiana said again, "The hijacking incident, it was Jack who helped me, if not for his secret help, I would have died on the plane."

Her words were like another thunderstorm, and the expressions of everyone present changed dramatically.

They were all dumbfounded.

"Amber, your husband is the savior in the hijacking incident!" Tiana's pretty face flushed red. At this moment, she was ashamed that she wanted to hide herself.

On the plane, without Jack's help, she would have died in the hands of the bandits.

On the contrary, she thought to teach Jack a lesson?

"My husband... is the savior?" Amber was shocked, and she could not come back to her senses for a while

Which girl did not expect her husband to be a great hero?

But for the situation between her and Jack now, Amber didn't know whether to be happy or sad.

Tiana looked at the lost Amber, and suddenly a look of envy appeared on her face.

She murmured, "It turns out that he was in a hurry to ask your forgiveness."

Her words were as if an invisible big hand that quietly touched Amber's heartstrings.

At this moment, she had mixed feelings, and her mind was in a mess.

Steve and his wife and Tiana's parents' expressions were strange too.

Earlier they were still talking about why the Savior did not want the credit, but it turned out that... was for Amber?

Especially Tiana's father, he could not help but blurt out, "He doesn't even want such a great credit but specially went to apologize to you. This kid will not treat you like we thought, right?"

These words were like water poured into a hot pot.

Instantly, it angered Amber and her parents.

Steve looked a little sullen, "That beast has already betrayed my daughter. Isn't it pretentious to do this now? No matter how much he gives up, he can't escape the fact that he betrayed my daughter!"

"Steve, calm down!"

Tiana's father said anxiously, "I didn't say this doesn't exist either. just that I think this chap can give up such a great credit and rushed to see Amber, he must be sincere and is not a cold-blooded person."

"Logan, you ..."

Steve still wanted to argue.

But Tiana suddenly said, "Mr. Knight, with this credit, I can have a great promotion. Even for Jack, it is also an opportunity to become famous internationally. If he really doesn't care about Amber, how could it possible that he gave up it just because he was in rush?"

Her words made Steve speechless.

"Amber, what do you think?" Rosie suddenly spoke.

Then all their eyes instantly fell on Amber.

In the end, their opinions and words were all personal, and everything depended on Amber's last decision.

"Amber, why don't you answer his call and meet him?" Tiana carefully inquired.

Amber was in a trance.

Facing Tiana, she hesitated.

In the end, she picked up the phone.

With a hint of expectation, she dialed Jack's number.

However, the phone rang once and was hung up.

Amber's delicate body trembled as she listened to the busy tone from the phone, and her heart suddenly sank.

What exactly did he... mean?

Chapter456: The Unexpected Killer

In the parking lot of the hotel.

Jack frowned with a cold face.

His phone was in his right hand, and the screen was still on.

His eyes narrowed and he stared coldly into the dark corner opposite.

"Do you know how long I've been waiting for this call?"

Patter... Patter...

The sound of footsteps rang slowly and clearly in the silent parking lot.

After Amber left Tiana's car, Jack remained in the parking lot blankly.

He wondered what had just happened.

A mixed feelings of disappointment, melancholy and reluctance made him restless.

After a long time, the phone rang.

When Jack saw that it was Amber's number, he was instantly ecstatic.

But before he answered the phone, a killing intent came from the dark corner.

So he hung up the phone.

"Someone sent me to kill you."

Out of the darkness came a vague figure.

Jack's eyes became sharp.

The man in tight clothes looked like a ninja with two samurai swords, one was long and another was short.

Only his eyes were uncovered, revealing his fierce killing intent.

As if an evil serpent locking its eyes on the prey.

"Who sent you?" Jack asked.

"I am paid to do my job. Your question is insulting my professional ethics."

The dark figure slowly walked towards Jack, his voice was hoarse with endless coldness. He suddenly said, "Unless you pay me more."

Jack was speechless.

Who is insulting whom?

Clang!

At the moment he was stunned, a cold light flashed suddenly.

The slender samurai sword reflected a dazzling cold light under the light.

He rushed towards Jack directly like lightning.

"Don't you want a better payment?"

Jack arched his body, with a sneer at the corner of his mouth.

Hum!

The katana set off a gust of wind, and then slashed towards his head.

He dodged sideways, and directly kicked towards the abdomen of the killer.

This kick took a lot of effort.

There was even a buzz.

Jack did not doubt the power of this kick.

After years and days of training, he already has the power to kick the slate broken.

However.

Clang!

The cold light flashed again.

Oh no!

Jack's eyes widened.

In his sight, the killer drew his short katana at Lightning speed, and directly slashed it towards his right leg.

Pooh!

A cluster of blood spilled into the air with the short katana.

Bang!

In an instant, Jack slammed the killer's chest with a punch.

As the killer retreated, he also staggered back.

He felt a sharp pain in his right calf.

"That was close!"

Jack panicked at the lightning speed of the killer in front of him and a chill ran down his spine.

If he hadn't reacted quickly just now, and retreated the force of his right leg, not only his skin would be cut by the killer's short katana.

Instead... the katana would have cut off his bones!

Jack frowned and stared at the dark figure opposite.

It was not that he had never seen a master ninja.

Back when the incident of the Assassin Squad, Kotaro was a ninja.

But he was a real killer on the Azrael List.

Then who was this one?

Judging from the brief fight just now, the killer was no weaker than Kotaro!

"Great!"

The killer suddenly smiled.

The next second, he directly rushed toward Jack like lightning.

The long and short katanas in his hands brought a whistling and buzzing sound, flashing dazzling cold light.

They were waved like a wall, without any leak.

The overwhelming killing intent erupted from the killer.

It shocked Jack.

Then he saw him dashing towards him.

Without a second thought, Jack turned around and ran.

He was not a fool nor a reckless man.

It was wise to make a prompt decision and leave.

The opponent was no weaker than Kotaro, who even had weapons in hands.

Remaining fighting recklessly would only get himself into the abyss.

He remembered that it cost him great effort to kill Kotaro.

If he really wanted to fight with this man, at least he had to be equipped with a knife!

Otherwise, when there was no great disparity in strength, taking the weapon from the opponent was impossible!

Jack was very confused while escaping.

That was because from beginning to end, the killer's accent and tone were the same as his own.

He was not like Kotaro at all. Even though Kotaro's pronunciation was clear, the crappy accent was still obvious.

Whiz...

The sound of the katanas slashing the wind was continuous behind him.

"Kunai?!"

Jack was shocked, and while running fast, his feet kept changing positions.

Kunais and darts whizzed past him.

They hit the parking lot's floor and pillars, spattering large sparks.

"You can't escape!"

The hoarse voice of the killer behind him was like a nail in his coffin.

Whiz!

Almost at the same time, Jack heard the wind ranging by his ears.

Puff!

There was a sharp pain in his right arm, like being bitten by a poisonous snake.

Fuck!

Jack was agitated, turned his head and saw that a wound was severed by kunai on his right arm.

The flesh cut out and the blood flowed.

But the sharp pain that resembled a bite of a poisonous snake was not just caused by a incised wound.

"Poison?"

Jack's pupils shrank, but he did not dare to slow down a bit.

Just as he expected.

The killer behind him sneered, "Being poisoned, how far can you run? Do you know how the Komodo dragon hunts?"

When the Komodo dragon hunts, after biting the prey, it would not fight with the prey, but rely on the bacteria in the mouth to "poison" the prey's wound. When the prey escaped, it followed closely. After the poison showed its effect, it stepped forward and feasted on it.

Obviously, the killer didn't care if he can escape or not.

As long as the wound was poisoned, there must be a time when the poison took effect. That was the moment when the killer would really make an all-out attack!

"Who the hell are you?"

While running wildly, Jack was a little panicked

He was not afraid to fight the killer, escaping was to buy time. Whenever he could find a tool used as a weapon, he would have the courage to turn around and fight him head-on.

But now he was poisoned!

"On the way to the netherworld, I will burn paper money to tell you."

The killer's laughter was full of mockery, "I have offered you a chance to hire me, but you refused. It's too late now!"

Jack suddenly laughed.

His laugh was harsh.

"Then it depends on whether you can kill me!"

The front was the exit of the parking lot. He would be saved as long as he ran out, even at night. He didn't believe that the killer would dare to pursue and kill him in broad daylight.

As long as time was gained, he would seek a way to cure himself!

"Do you think I can't hunt you outside?"

As soon as the thought came up, the killer sneered behind him.

Jack's heart twitched fiercely.

He gritted his teeth and rushed along the ramp of the parking lot.

However, when he saw the situation outside the parking lot, he was completely dumbfounded...

Chapter457: Calling for Help

Outside the parking lot was a road.

Jack remembered clearly that there would be a steady stream of traffic..

But the road in front of him was empty, even without a car.

The bypass lights were glowing yellow, and the sky was drizzling. The wet ground made the yellowish street lights even dimmer.

"The road was closed ahead of time?"

Jack quickly reacted and shuddered.

He snorted and laughed, "In order to kill me, you actually have the ability to seal the road. It seems that my life is very important in your eyes."

Buzzing!

There was a hum behind them, accompanied by hurried footsteps.

As Jack was smiling, the bloodthirsty fierce suddenly flashed in his eyes.

He turned around abruptly, not avoiding the long katana that was slashing towards his face.

He directly smashed the killer with a punch.

Buzzing!

Almost at the same time, the dark figure seemed to have expected it, and moved the short katana quickly to protect his chest.

To be precise, it was to cut directly to Jack's wrist.

But.

Just when the short katana was about to cut Jack's wrist,

Jack's right fist suddenly changed its direction and went straight up.

Bang!

A powerful punch hit the killer's chin heavily.

The killer leaned back in an instant, and fell heavily to the ground.

"There is no way to run. Killing you is my way out!"

Jack exuded a murderous intent.

At this moment, his air changed drastically, as if a mountain was rising from the ground.

The ferocious eyes locked on the killer as if a bloodthirsty beast aiming its prey.

But just when he was ready to strike while the iron was hot.

His right foot lifted up and shook suddenly, and then fell heavily to the ground.

A strong sense of dizziness came like a tide.

Suddenly, Jack felt the world was spinning, and his head was dizzy.

He even felt that the killer on the ground had become double images.

"Does the toxicity take effect so quickly?"

Jack shook his head vigorously, and the unstoppable weakness made him lose the ability to continue the fight...

He gritted his teeth fiercely, turned and ran towards the empty road.

The killer was startled, and then slowly stood up from the ground.

With a wave of the katanas in his hand, there was a buzzing sound.

He let out a sneer that seemed like another nail in his coffin, "You have a poisonous attack. Wait to be preyed."

He ran wildly and fast along with Jack.

But he was not in a hurry. He just followed Jack far behind to make sure he was in his sight.

If it was before, he wouldn't mind killing Jack in advance.

But just now at the exit of the parking lot, Jack's counterattack made the killer feel flustered.

He was not an ordinary prey!

Jack terrifying combat instinct even frightened the killer.

Before the desperate situation, he couldn't be sure whether Jack would suddenly turn defeat into victory or not.

In the dark night.

Jack's feet were weak, completely exhausted from running.

The toxic attack occurred, and the stronger feeling of weakness was taking his strength and consciousness quickly.

But he didn't dare to stop, because as soon as he stopped, he would be greeted by the killer's katanas.

In front of the killer in his heyday, he was no match with him at all.

Run!

Run at all effort!

He couldn't stop!

To stop was to die!

Jack felt weaker and weaker as his breathing became heavier.

In a daze, he felt a little moist at the tip of his nose.

He raised his hand to touch, only to find that it was a red nosebleed.

This poison... It worked so fast.

Jack's heart sank to the bottom. At that moment, he even felt a sense of despair.

The poison took effect too quickly, and the road was closed in advance. How could he escape?

Even though his consciousness was rapidly blurring at this time, Jack was still clear about one thing.

The killer behind him was not the only one wanted to kill him.

It was definitely not possible for one person to seal the whole road ahead of time.

In desperation, he took out his phone and instinctively wanted to call for help.

But when the phone was connected, he was like being struck by lightning and hung up in a panic.

Because he suddenly discovered that he had dialed Amber's number.

It was obviously impossible to ask Amber for help at a matter of life and death.

What's more, he was unwilling to endanger Amber and the child.

But in foreign land, who else could save him besides the Knight family?

His consciousness was getting blurred.

His footsteps became more and more feeble.

Jack's eyes began to become hollow and dull. The blood from his nose was also from flowing to gushing.

The blood stained the clothes on his chest, he was in a total mess.

Jack held the phone tightly, and he decided to turn around with his remaining senses and ran towards the nearby residential district.

When the road was closed, running along the road would not help at all.

They could block the road, but not the continuous row of houses.

As Jack's pace slowing down, so did the killer.

Weaving his way through the narrow lanes, a kind of crumbling powerlessness overwhelmed him.

As his pace slowed down, the footsteps of the killer behind him also slowed down.

Jack sneered, "Aren't you supposed to come up and give me a deathblow?"

"I'm afraid of you."

The killer's tone was calm, but he did not hide his inner thoughts.

The scene at the exit of the parking lot gave him a deep alert.

In his eyes, Jack looked like a trapped beast who was still fighting.

A beast would lose its true power only when it truly died.

When there was still a little extra energy before death, the beast could still fight as fierce as he should be.

"Oh!"

Jack twitched the corners of his mouth, ecstatic in his heart.

There was still a chance...

At this time, he was very clear about his state. If this killer was not that cautious, a strike after catching up with him would end his life.

There was a light ahead.

Passing the laneway, the wind swept over him became stronger and stronger.

It also brought a hint of fishy and salty smell.

Was that the beach?

Jack's consciousness had been tranced to the extreme, and he might fall to the ground at any time.

As he getting closer, he could vaguely hear the sound of the waves.

"Hey, there is a dead end ahead." The killer laughed, "The prey of the Komodo dragon will soon be in its mouth."

Jack's body shook, and there was a bloody taste in his throat.

Puff!

A mouthful of blood spurted out and stained the walls of the narrow alley.

He held on to the wall with his left hand and continued to run, and his right hand held the phone tightly.

He couldn't stop!

Once he stopped, everything would go to an end.

In a daze, he suddenly had a flash of inspiration.

As if... He knew who to ask for help.

He stared at the phone with bleary eyes, and his right hand was trembling looking through the call log.

Finally, he found that number.

Then he dialed it out.

After only a ring, the phone was connected.

"Help me, I'm..."

"Call for help? Bastard! "

The killer noticed Jack's behavior, and suddenly burst into anger.

Whoosh!

A dart shot out.

Puff!

The dart sank into Jack's back.

Jack still staggered forward.

"Where're you?"

On the phone, an old voice asked in an astonishing tone.

At this time, Jack finally walked out of the lane. But the scene before him made him completely desperate.

There was indeed the sea ahead, but also a cliff, and he had no way to go!

"Go to hell!"

Behind him, the killer's voice suddenly thundered.

Jack turned around abruptly, vaguely seeing the dark shadow in front of him.

Faintly, he felt a cold glow in the air.

"Ah!"

Jack's hollow eyes suddenly flashed with a sharp light.

Just as the long katana was about to fall, he turned around abruptly and jumped without hesitation...

Chapter458: Lucky Enough to Survive from Death

"Grandpa, his eyelids moved!"

A surprised voice sounded in his ears.

"Am I not dead? Am I saved? "

Jack gradually revived.

He was so weak that he couldn't even open his eyes.

Severe pain wrapped his whole body, as if being stabbed by countless sharp needles.

But he could hear clearly that the voice belonged to Rena.

Then Carlos's voice rang in his ears.

"Thank God. You are finally out of danger. Don't move. The poison penetrates into your blood, but you are lucky to survive. Remember to have a good rest."

Jack's heart settled down.

He finally escaped.

When facing the killer's katanas, he chose to jump into the sea without hesitation.

He just used the opportunity of falling into the sea to tell Carlos where he was.

Jack would never sit and wait for his doom.

Even if there was only a long shot, he had to fight for it.

Standing in place, he would only be killed by the killer.

But falling into the vast ocean could give Carlos a chance to rescue him. Even if the chance was slim, it was better than being killed by a single blow.

Fortunately... He was right!

"Rena, take good care of Mr. Hughes." Carlos's command sounded in his ears.

"What?!"

Rena was taken aback and said with some dissatisfaction, "Grandpa, I am a woman, and he is a man.

It is improper for us to stay alone. Don't you care about your granddaughter?"

"If you are to be innocent, everything will be proper. You always think about all that stuff. What can I do?"

Carlos laughed strangely, "Mr. Hughes is a senior of the Grand Freemasons. It is your honor to take care of him. Those guys are all eager to take care of him. I am doing you a favor by appointing you this job."

Jack laughed in his heart.

Carlos really good at making up excuses.

The footsteps gradually faded away, showing that Carlos had left.

It was quiet again.

Immediately, Jack felt something approaching.

A tangy fragrance came, followed by bursts of heat and whispers.

"Can you hear me?"

Jack, "..."

He could hear it, but couldn't speak.

"Alas... Why did he make himself so miserable?"

Rena sighed and said in Jack's ear, "Fortunately, you know to ask us for help. The Grand Freemasons's strength here is well-known. With a call from you, they got you out of the vast ocean. Do you feel a little fortunate to join Grand Freemasons now? "

Rena's words made Jack have mixed feelings.

He was forced to join Grand Freemasons at the beginning.

But now his life was indeed saved by Grand Freemasons.

"You have been in a coma for seven days. In order to snatch you back from the gate of hell, grandpa and Mafia Boss used the power of the entire Grand Freemasons."

Rena whispered, with a bit of resentment, "I have been by your side for seven days. When could you open your eyes?"

"Seven days?"

Jack was shocked. In seven days, Amber...

He remembered that before the accident, Amber happened to call him.

It was just that he was in danger, and he had no time to be distracted. So he hung up the phone.

The chance between him and Amber was lost because of this.

Now that seven days had passed, how was his wife now?

When he was worried, Rena's voice sounded in his ear again.

"You've been on the bed for seven days, let me clean your body."

Rena's voice sounded, followed by her faded steps.

Jack lay motionless on the bed, but there was a bang in his mind.

Clean his body? !

How could this happen?

It was improper for them to touch each other, let alone he was married!

Soon, the sound of footsteps reappeared, getting closer and closer.

Jack immediately panicked, and he shouted "No" in his heart, struggling hard.

No, if he could move his lips and say "no" at this time, he would definitely be able to stop Rena.

But damn, he couldn't talk, and his body was so weak that he couldn't even keep his eyes open.

"But just like my grandfather said, although I am a woman, I have no ill intention on you."

Rena's voice suddenly sounded, seeming to comfort Jack or herself, "You have been in a coma for seven days. I cleaned your body every day. Even if you're awake now, don't misunderstand that I have feelings for you."

She just finished speaking.

Jack heard the sound of water and rubbing towels.

Afterwards, his chest felt a little cold as his clothes were slowly uncovered.

The smooth touch slowly swept across his chest.

Even if it was slight, he still felt that it was Rena's hand!

"No, stop, you can't do this!"

Jack shouted in his heart.

But he couldn't stop Rena at all, and her moist fingertips lightly stroked his chest.

Then, they paused in the middle of his chest.

Rena exclaimed leisurely, "After watching it over and over again, this muscle line is still so beautiful."

Jack, "..."

Didn't she fucking say that she didn't like him?

Was Rena crazy?

Immediately, Jack felt the towel fall on his chest. Rena gently wiped every inch of skin on his chest.

The dampness and coldness invaded the pores, and it was indeed much more comfortable than the sticky feeling just now.

But at this time, Jack was a little shocked.

He didn't care whether he felt well or not.

Shouldn't a man come to do that for him?

He wanted to resist, and stop her.

But at this time he didn't have the ability at all.

He seemed to be a fish lying on a chopping board and could only be "slaughtered" by Rena.

"How on earth do you exercise? Even and firm, neither too much nor less, I have only seen such muscle proportions in Roman sculptures."

Rena wiped Jack's body, while admiring, "During exercise, such muscles must be able to explode with strong power."

Jack felt like weeping but had no tears.

At this moment, his grief and indignation reached the extreme.

Even if it was a dream, he never expected that there would be such a scene between him and Rena.

Soon, the chest was wiped clean.

Rena's voice then sounded, "You should endure a little bit of pain, and I'll turn you over."

Passively bearing the severe pain caused by turning his body over, Jack panicked.

Lying on the bed, his back felt the coolness from the water on the towel quickly.

While frightened, Jack also noticed that Rena wiped his back very carefully and did not omit any inch.

It could be seen that she was very dedicated.

It moved Jack very much.

How many people could do that besides parents, husbands and wives in the world?

But with Rena's words, the emotion that Jack just had, disappeared instantly.

Only endless panic was left.

"Okay, the upper body is wiped clean, and it's time to clean the lower body."

Bang!

Jack panicked to the extreme in an instant.

Rena... Do you really think of yourself as a guy?

Chapter459: Jack, Where Are You?

No way!

No way!

Stop!

Jack screamed in his heart, and was crazy at that moment.

But he didn't even have a chance to stop it.

There was a rustling sound.

The cold touch crashed Jack's mind.

The lower part of the body... It really didn't need to be cleaned.

Rena, you are a woman. Did you know that?

Jack could clearly feel Rena's hands moving down, and the coldness brought by the wet fingertips touching the skin was like an electric shock.

Finally, Jack felt a chill.

Hiss...

He heard Rena take a gasp.

It was over...

Jack was completely desperate.

At this moment, he was like a dead fish on the chopping board, and could only be "slaughtered" by Rena.

Immediately.

"It's no big deal. An innocent mind makes everything innocent. I have watched it for seven days, and it's okay. I can be completely indifferent to worldly temptations."

Rena's deep breathing sounded suddenly in his ears.

Then, Jack heard that she was reciting the scriptures seriously.

"When Bodhisattva Avalokiteshvara was practicing the profound Prajna Paramita, he illuminated the Five Skandhas and saw that they were all empty, and he crossed beyond all suffering and difficulty."

He listened to the sound of reciting scriptures, feeling the coldness of the towel rubbed on his thighs.

Jack felt like weeping but had no tears.

However, he could also feel that Rena was serious when she carefully helped him clean his body.

She really didn't touch anywhere that shouldn't be touched.

This comforted Jack a bit, who was in collapse.

This scrub should have made him more comfortable. But for Jack, who was sober at this time, it was a torture.

Feelings of guilt, helplessness, despair, and self-blame overwhelmed him.

They were like sharp knives, slicing his bones and flesh.

It lasted for nearly ten minutes.

Finally.

"Okay, I finished!"

Rena's voice was like the sound of nature to Jack.

At that moment, Jack felt a sense of relief.

Finally... It was over.

The sound of Rena washing the towel with water echoed in his ears.

Soon, footsteps sounded.

Rena left.

Jack was lying on the bed, it's quiet all around.

At this time with the quiet environment, his brain gradually became more active.

Who sent the killer that night?

Closing the entire road, and sending a killer, the master behind was obviously a big shot.

But in this foreign land, did he have enemies?

Thoughts surged, but entangled like rotten cotton wool.

Jack couldn't understand. He obviously had no enemies in this foreign land.

All his focus was on fighting for the position of the head of the Hughes family.

The enemies should be related to this matter, or to the people around him.

But now, all those enemies had been trampled on by him.

From beginning to end, Jack never extended his sphere of influence to here.

Ha had no power here, let alone enemies.

He couldn't understand it, but a sense of exhaustion came like a tide.

"The body is still too weak, and it is hard to even think deeply."

Jack lamented in his heart. According to Carlos, his survival was pure luck.

He had just out of danger, Jack didn't dare to expect that he could stand up immediately.

He simply suppressed the doubt in his heart.

He no longer resisted tiredness and fell asleep.

...

In the Knight family's villa.

By the garden pond.

The water was gurgling and the fountain was surging.

Amber sat lonely by the pond, with a sad expression and hollow eyes.

She grabbed the fish feed in her hands little by little and threw it into the lake.

Her eyes were a little red and swollen. Being haggard and tired, she no longer looked beautiful as she used to be.

Looking at the shoal of fish gathered in the pool in front of her, Amber sprinkled all the fish feed in her hands into the water.

She habitually took out her mobile phone and dialed Jack's number.

As expected, his phone was still switched off.

It had been seven days!

Amber's eyes flickered, her red lips lightly opened, and she murmured sadly, "Jack, what do you mean? Where are you? You came all the way and said you wanted to apologize to me. But you disappear now."

She did not forgive Jack. In fact, no woman would choose to forgive her husband's cheating.

Unless she didn't love him, or didn't care about any relationship.

Amber was neither of these two.

She learned from Tiana that in order to ask her forgiveness, Jack even paid no attention to the credit of being the savior in the hijacking incident.

She was swayed, and she wanted an explanation from Jack.

Whether his explanation is reasonable or not, she needed to meet him.

However, Jack suddenly hung up her phone and went missing for seven days.

For a moment, Amber felt as if her heart had been hollowed out.

The mixed feelings in her heart kept her awake at night with worry for seven days, and she had lost a lot of weight.

The second floor of the villa.

Steve and Rosie looked at Amber by the pond distressedly.

"Steve, did you find Jack or not?"

Rosie was unusually anxious, and her tone was no longer as gentle as usual.

Jack came here to apologize, and they thought they could have a talk.

That was because, no matter right or wrong, Jack and Amber had to talk to each other and make things out.

Now that Jack was missing, all emotions and pressure fell on her daughter.

As a parent, she didn't want her baby girl in such pain.

"I have sent subordinates to find him, and the entire intelligence force of QY International Group has been dispatched. In addition to this, I also asked Logan and other business partners to find him."

Steve looked helpless, "But they couldn't find him. What can I do?"

Rosie looked at Steve's helpless expression, and suddenly became angry.

But she was clear that getting angry at this time was of no avail.

"How about asking Tiana to accompany Amber? By the way, we can ask her about the investigation."

There were tears in Rosie's beautiful eyes, "Seeing my daughter like this now, my heart felt like being cut by a knife. "

"I'm going to call Tiana."

Steve sighed, turned to leave the window, and whispered as he walked, "Jack, where are you?"

Two hours later.

The door of the villa opened and a Lamborghini came in.

After Tiana got out of the car, she saw Amber still sitting by the pond. She couldn't help but frown slightly, showing sympathy.

"Amber."

She walked to Amber's side.

"Is there any news about Jack?" Amber quietly raised her hand, wiped away the tears from the corner of her eyes, and looked at Tiana with a forced smile.

This week, not only her father was looking for him with all strength.

Tiana also used the power of Interpol.

Tiana felt distressed.

But she still shook her head, "Nothing was found. But according to our intelligence, something wrong happened to him."

Bang!

Amber's body trembled suddenly as if struck by lightning.

In an instant, she showed a look of panic.

"What happened to him?"

Chapter460: I must Find him, Dead or Alive

"Go back to the house and I'll tell you."

Tiana said solemnly.

Amber was in a trance, she nodded, got up and was about to move forward.

She had no appetite these days, which made her exhausted physically and mentally. Her footsteps were weak, and she immediately staggered.

Tiana was taken aback and hurriedly stepped forward to help.

"Why are you abusing yourself so much?" Tiana said.

Amber smiled sadly and said nothing.

They went back to the villa.

Steve and Rosie also walked downstairs.

Rosie hurriedly stepped forward to help Amber.

Steve told Tiana to sit down and asked, "Tiana, how is your investigation?"

Whether it was the intelligence power of QY International Group, the Harvey family or Steve's business partners.

Their abilities of investigating this matter was no better than the organization that Tiana worked for.

And the organization Tiana was in was very special. If not in person, Steve would not even be able to ask Tiana about this matter.

Tiana furrowed her brows, sorted out her thoughts, and then said slowly.

"According to the address of the hotel where Jack lived, I secretly investigated all the surveillance of the hotel and nearby streets. After I got the results, I concluded that something was wrong with him."

"Wait!"

Steve hurriedly interrupted, "We have investigated the monitoring of the hotel and nearby streets, and there is no abnormality at all."

"Mr. Knight, your investigation indeed told you that nothing abnormal happened."

Tiana unconsciously showed a trace of arrogance, "But the results of my intelligence agency's investigation are completely different from yours."

After a pause, Tiana said in a deep voice, "It was the night Jack hung up Amber's phone. The surveillance of the road outside the hotel and the hotel parking lot was shut down. And the road was closed that night."

Bang!

Her words were like a big thunder in the living room.

Steve and Rosie were dumbfounded

Amber clenched her hands together with a scared expression.

"But for the information I got, there was nothing unusual in the hotel and the road that night." Steve couldn't believe it.

He knew his own power, and the capabilities of his intelligence agencies.

But what Tiana said now was completely different from the intelligence results he knew!

"What if the monitoring you saw is fake?"

Tiana raised her eyebrows with sparkling eyes, "I believe you're clear about that today's technology can modify the video, right? It just needs to modify the monitoring time of a pre-recorded video. With the help of hackers, it shouldn't be difficult, right?"

Steve's lips moved slightly, but he was speechless.

It was really easy for hackers to modify a pre-recorded video.

And because the videos were outdated, even if it was for a survey, it was impossible to view every video in a short time.

However, Steve fell silent.

A bitter coldness rushed down his spine.

At that moment, he even felt his scalp numb.

Seeing Steve's expression, Tiana said, "Now you know how complicated the matter is?"

Steve nodded and said nothing.

Amber and Rosie looked at Steve at the same time.

Amber's voice trembled and urged, "Dad, how complicated is the matter? What happened to Jack?"

Steve resisted his chill, and said to Amber, "Although it is easy to modify the video, I can't do it, understand?"

Amber's body shook, and she was terrified to the extreme.

In other words, he had no permission to modify the surveillance video, and the person who could do this was definitely superior to her father!

QY International Group was already famous around the world.

It was also powerful in the business world.

How scary was someone superior to her father?

How could Jack provoke such a person?

In an instant, tears filled Amber's red eyes.

She got up suddenly and forced herself to walk out, regardless of her weakness.

"Amber, what are you going to do?"

Tiana reacted first and hurriedly stepped forward to stop her.

"I'm going to find him."

Amber struggled and cried, "I must find him, dead or alive!"

She said this sentence with all her strength.

Steve and Rosie also chased after her, and together with Tiana, they stopped Amber.

"Amber, you are so weak now. You should have rest at home and take good care of you and the baby!"

"Dad will find Jack. If you run out now, instead of finding Jack, you will put yourself in danger."

"Hum..."

Amber cried loudly, her emaciated face was full of tears, "He clearly said he was going to explain to me. Why is he suddenly missing now? I'm going to find him and ask him what he means in person!"

"Mom and Dad, will you go find him with me? He is the savior. He can save everyone on the plane.

Why can't he save himself? No, even if he is dead, I have to see his body!"

She was almost pleading, and her tone was heart-piercing.

Steve and Rosie were as anxious as ants in a hot pot.

They didn't know how to dissuade Amber.

Even if he 'cheated on' her.

But they knew how their daughter love Jack.

If she didn't love him, why she couldn't get over him?

Especially when Jack in danger now.

One wave had not settled, another wave had risen. How could their daughter bear it?

Bang!

Suddenly, there was a muffled sound.

Tiana raised her hand and struck the back of Amber's neck.

Amber fainted immediately.

This scene scared Steve and Rosie greatly.

Tiana hurriedly explained, "Don't worry. It's okay. I just let her sleep for a while."

Hearing this.

The expressions of Steve and Rosie eased a lot.

Steve hurriedly asked, "Tiana, have you found anything yet?"

"No, I only know so much so far."

Tiana shook her head, glanced at Amber who was fainted, and said to Steve and Rosie, "Please comfort Amber. I have personally experienced Jack's kungfu skills. An accident must have happened, but he should be safe now."

"Okay."

After got in the Lamborghini, she rubbed her nose and smiled bitterly.

"What did Grand Freemasons send thousands of people along the coastline to look for that night?"

This was another piece of information she found through the organization.

It was only because of Grand Freemasons's special status that she hid this piece of information from them.

However, this incident happened to be about the same time as Jack's disappearance, which drew her attention.

"Grand Freemasons concealed this matter carefully. Thousands of people were dispatched, but the intelligence power of Mr. Steve and my dad couldn't detect it. They are really something."

Tiana started the car with sparkling eyes, "Then, let's start with Grand Freemasons first!"
