Chapter 681 Weird Girl, Jenny Kool

All was calm and peaceful in the following week.

Amelia rushed over to see Yael the moment she heard of the news. What Jack never expected was Amelia was so calm and even comforted Vinna. Before Amelia returned to the Quinn residence, she spoke privately with Jack and assured him that she would continue to control the Quinn family. But when Amelia turned to leave, Jack could see that she raised her hand to wipe her tears. Her calm and steadfastness were an act for him to see.

The days became routine after Amelia departed. Everything seemed normal except for Vinna who remained by Yael's side at the LJ Hospital. Old Master Vaughn also came to visit Yael but his heart ached when he saw Vinna and could only return to the Capital with a lump in his throat. Old Master Vaughn knew that regardless of how he persuaded Vinna, she would not leave Yael's side.

Jack was also clear that the calm that they were experiencing was due to the mystery man who continued to protect him and sheltered Jack from the repeated attempts on his life. Jack had never worried about the consequences of killing George. George deserved to die for what he did to Amber and Yael, regardless of the price tag.

Jack endeavored to stick to the routine of going from home to DT agency and then back home unless there was something important for him to attend to.

Amber's abdomen continued to grow daily and she needed his undivided attention as a husband. Jack and Amber would also go to the hospital every other day to visit Brent and Yael.

On this afternoon.

Jack had just completed his meal with a business associate and settled the terms of their cooperation for an upcoming project. As he wheeled himself out of the restaurant, he saw a girl running frantically towards him. The girl ran into Jack, tripped, lost her balance, and fell into his embrace. Her fragrance immediately overwhelmed Jack.

Suddenly, Jack felt something soft on his face. Jack reacted instantly and carried the girl by her waist so that her bosom would not come in contact with his face. Jack was bewildered when the girl took several steps back.

The girl was young, fair, and tied her hair into two ponytails. What caught Jack's attention were her eyes. She had a pair of large round blue eyes which were mesmerizing. But what the girl said immediately caused Jack to frown.

“I’m sorry, I did this on purpose.”

‘What’s the meaning of this?’ Jack thought. Jack wasn’t a petty person who was easily offended but what she said irked him.

‘What kind of apology was this? Did she do it intentionally? Was she trying to instigate something?’

Jack thought.

“This isn’t an interesting prank.” Jack frowned as he rebuked.

The girl stuck out her tongue cheekily and then reached out her hand and smiled, “I’m Jenny Kool, nice to meet you.”

“Jenny Kool?” Jack repeated the name as it was a very strange name. But when he thought of the way the girl behaved, he shrugged his shoulders and said, “I’m sorry, I’m leaving now.”

Jenny was dumbfounded. She looked on as Jack wheeled past her and towards a distance before she came to her senses and then stomped angrily, “Damn it, so many people are trying to get my attention and I don’t even give them a chance. Now to think that you actually ignored me?”

Jenny ran after Jack and grabbed the handlebars of the wheelchair, preventing Jack from leaving.

“What do you want?” Jack started to get agitated. He didn’t think well of a girl who intentionally ran into him and then was so unreasonable. Even though this girl was very attractive, and even though they had an awkward intimate encounter. But these were not reasons to lower his bottom line. Furthermore, it was she who had done those on purpose.

Jenny released the handlebars and then grabbed her ponytails as she sashayed to the front of Jack.

She giggled and said, “Have a meal with me and I’ll make sure you benefit from it.”

Jack suddenly felt that it was amusing as he thought, ‘Where did this weird girl come from? She intentionally ran into him, didn’t feel embarrassed when Jack’s face was buried in her breasts, and to think that she now wanted to have a meal with him?’

This...

“By the way you said, it seems like you are willing to make me your man and take care of me.” Jack teased and rubbed his nose.

“Yes, I can accept it if you want to think of it that way.”

Jack was speechless. Weirdo!

He shook his head and said, "Apologies, I'm not interested, I'm married."

"I know." Jenny held onto the wheelchair and prevented Jack from leaving and said, "Have a meal with me, I beg of you."

Jack's expression turned cold and then lost his patience. He then looked coldly at Jenny and rebuked,

"Have you no shame?"

His words were sharp and stern. It was very humiliating for a girl to hear these words and also disrespectful towards her. But one had to have self-respect first.

Jenny was stunned and then she was clearly disappointed as she stood aside, "Leave then."

Jack couldn't be bothered with her and wheeled himself to the carpark. Jenny stomped in a tantrum as she looked at Jack leave. She then pouted as she mumbled, "What's the big fuss. I wonder why granny came specially to look for him."

Jenny stretched her back leisurely and then laughed, "It's great that I came alone. There wasn't any fun when I came with granny the last time. Now I'll have my fun and I'm sure I have a chance with Jack."

The last time they met Jack at the airport and when they went home, Jenny couldn't suppress her curiosity and sneaked out of the house and returned to this city. Her purpose was to try to get closer to Jack because she wanted to understand what kind of a person could let her grandmother come specially to look for him. In her memory, her grandmother had never been so concerned over anyone. Even the noble and aristocratic families had to visit her grandmother and not the other way around.

At the carpark.

Jack wheeled himself to the car.

Lone Wolf exited the car, saw Jack's unpleasant expression, and asked, "Mr. Hughes, did something happen?"

"I encountered a weirdo," Jack said as he unconsciously clenched his right fist. He felt that the encounter was rather strange and incomprehensible.

"Shall I handle it?" Lone Wolf frowned. He came with Jack not only to be a driver but also as his bodyguard.

"Don't bother. It's just a twenty-year-old girl." Jack shook his head and continued, "Let's get in the car and return to the office."

Chapter 682 The Turbulent Hatred

Just when Jack Hughes and Lone Wolf drove away.

In front of the restaurant.

Jenny did not leave yet.

She sat on the roadside and played her phone in boredom.

She didn't even care the stares she got from the people who were stunned around her.

Not far away, two figures stopped.

"Sister, I saw Jack with that girl a while ago."

Tommy Parry pointed at Jenny who was at the roadside.

Beside him, Katherine Parry stood.

However, the Katherine Parry and Tommy Parry today were completely different from who they were before.

Katherine wore a little black suit and cut her long hair into short hair. Thus, she looked extremely competent.

On her face was an additional dash of darkness and gloom. She was no longer charming like before.

Even the look in her eyes became extremely cold.

On the other hand, Tommy looked a lot skinnier and lethargic. He stood beside Katherine and yawned from time to time.

“Are you able to get ahold of dad through the phone?”

Katherine’s voice was very low and emotionless.

Tommy yawned and said, “I can’t reach him.”

The look on Katherine’s eyes changed. Her eyes were filled with darkness and a bit of anger.

“Then continue calling him. We already don’t have mom. If we also don’t have dad, then what’s the point of our family?”

“Fine, I know. Sister, give me some money. I’m getting sleepy again.”

Tommy shrugged his shoulders and with a careless attitude, “Also, I won’t be coming home tonight. I’ll be having fun and spending the night at the bar.”

Unconsciously, Katherine clenched her fists, and her face looked pale.

She suddenly turned around and glared at Tommy, “Tommy, are you going to complete all the evil stuff out there?”

As Katherine stared at him, Tommy subconsciously took a step back in fear.

Ever since their mother died, his sister changed a lot.

The look on her eyes from time to time scared Tommy.

However, after yawning again and again, Tommy insisted, "Sister, you are always good to me, I'm really sleepy. How about this, give me some money first. If my sleepiness gets cured, then maybe I won't need to spend the night outside tonight."

Katherine remained motionless, but the cold expression on her face became more intense.

Tommy suddenly panicked and begged, "Please, sister. You're the only one I have, and I'm the only younger brother you have. Mom already died and dad is missing. We only have each other to rely on.

Are you going to abandon me when I need help?"

'Abandon him?'

Katherine's heart felt terribly hurt.

The corners of her mouth tugged upwards and a strange smile appeared.

In the end, she still grabbed 500 Yuan from her pocket and handed it to Tommy.

When Tommy saw the money, his eyes lit up. Once he grabbed the money, he turned away and ran.

As she watched Tommy disappear from the crowd, Katherine looked extremely cold and stern. She murmured, "It was just because I always save you when you need. That's why you became like this."

As she spoke, tears filled Katherine's eyes.

"Mom, could you see that from the heaven? Were you happy now that Tommy had been spoiled like this because of you?"

Katherine raised her hand, wiped the tears on the corners of her eyes, and firmly said, "But mom, don't worry. I'll take good care of him. I only have one younger brother, so I need to help him. And...I will also take revenge for you!"

Hatred and anger surged like tide and enveloped Katherine's entire body.

She would never forget what happened that night in front of the grave of Jack's mother.

That moment was the darkest, most hopeless, and most helpless moment in her life!

Although it had been so long, she would still be awoken by her nightmares. Then, she could only open her eyes and fear to go to sleep again, and stayed awake through the long, long night.

Her mother's death was like a sharp knife that intensely pierced right into Katherine's heart.

She clearly remembered every detail of that night.

When her mother was in her arms, she wanted to burn some Joss Paper for her, but she was called to be unworthy to do so.

She clearly remembered the look on Jack Hughes, Lyndall Long, and Willy Parker's faces and eyes.

She once loved the first two men.

But these two men killed her mother right in front of her and firmly left.

That night, Katherine wailed and used her hands to dig a grave and bury her mother under the heavy rain.

She still clearly remembered the pain on her hands as the gravel scratched them when she dug the ground.

That night, she cried all night in front of her mother's grave.

"Whoosh..."

Katherine let out a heavy sigh and slowly raised both of her hands.

Her white and smooth hands became rougher now.

On the palm of her right hand was a line of scar.

As she stared at her scar, the look in Katherine's eyes became intense.

This scar was left from the time she scratched her hand from digging her mother's grave with her bare hands.

The wound was incredibly deep and painful back then, which was why the scar couldn't completely disappear.

"I, Katherine Parry, will not rely on anyone from then on. I will make sure to avenge my mother's death!"

Her promise was flat and firm.

However, Katherine wasn't aware of the looks she was given by the people passing by right now.

They stared at her with fearful and anxious eyes like she was a crazy woman.

Everyone quickly stepped away from her and left.

Katherine wasn't aware of her own changes. She only knew that the reason why her home became the way it was now, was due to her divorce with Jack Hughes.

She didn't want to bother with others and be entangled in other matters. She only knew that Jack and Lyndall were the ones who killed her mother that night.

After a long while.

Katherine calmed down.

She moved her long legs and walked towards Jenny who was sitting on the side of the road.

At this moment.

Jenny was about to leave.

The reason she sneaked out this time wasn't just to find Jack, but to play around just for fun.

Although the whole family pampered her at home, she couldn't do a lot of other things.

One of them was that she wasn't allowed to play around anywhere.

She finally got out of her home and if she could not have some fun completely before she was caught, wouldn't that be a pity?

"Who are you?"

When she lifted her head, Jenny already saw Katherine who walked in front of her and blocked her way.

Katherine subtly smiled, "Nice to meet you. I'm Katherine Parry."

Jenny didn't stretch out her hand to hold Katherine's hand. Instead, she took a step back in caution unconsciously.

Although she was well-protected since she was a child, which was why she was always innocent.

But being innocent didn't mean she was stupid.

Katherine lowered her right hand, raised her brow, then asked, "You know Jack Hughes?"

"Yeah."

Jenny responded, then shook her head, "But not really. It was my first time seeing him, and I want to get to know more about him."

"We can be friends, and I can help you get to know him," Katherine finally felt at ease.

"You know Jack?" Jenny was a bit surprised.

"Of course, we're friends."

Katherine took out a business card and handed it to Jenny with a smile, "If you need anything here, just contact me. Don't forget what I have said. I can help you get to know Jack Hughes."

Chapter 683 The Anxious Amber, Beware of Kool Family

Jack did not know what happened after he left.

He did not care about Jenny who was acting weird.

Such a strange girl whom he met by chance was not worth paying attention to.

Back to DT Company.

Jack got busy again.

DT Company was expanding, and it expanded rapidly.

Initially, it was the reconstruction project of West Shantytowns which turned things around.

Ever since then, it was with the great help of Aiden and Drago, they had been expanding in an invincible way.

The snowball had been completely rolled by him.

He only needed to keep pushing the snowball as follow-up, and it would roll bigger and bigger.

In order to cope with many newly opened properties at the same time.

Jack also selected some elites from the company and let them manage one property each, which could be considered as practice.

Although most of the company's projects have been handled to Corbin with full authority.

But some extremely important things that determined DT Company's directions and development process still had to be controlled by Jack himself.

These things added up together were not easy at all.

After being busy for a whole day.

When it was almost time to get off work, there was still a pile of documents that had not been read.

Jack chose to stop working and packed up to go home.

No matter how important the work was, it was more worthy to accompany Amber.

Along the way, during her pregnancy, he neglected Amber too much, now he could only make it up by accompanying her more.

It was already getting dark when he got home.

Jack was surprised to find Amber anxiously sitting on the sofa in the living room, rubbing the bridge of her nose gently with her finger.

“Are you not feeling well?”

Jack was worried; he pushed his wheelchair and stopped beside Amber.

“No, I just feel my eyelids keep twitching.”

Amber released her hand and smiled to Jack, “It has been like this the whole afternoon.”

Jack immediately let out a sigh of relieve.

He could still remember the advice from Director Lansing when Amber had an accident last time.

Amber stopped smiling and said in a heavy tone, “Twitching on the left eye forecasts fortune but twitching on the right eye forecasts disaster, it’s my right eyelid that has been twitching the whole day, is anything going to happen? I keep feeling uncomfortable, like something is going to happen.”

“You are being superstitious, how can you believe all these rumours?”

Jack put his hands on the sofa and sat on it, and then took Amber into his arms. He said with a smile,

“Come on, let me hug you, I would not let anything bad happen to my beloved one, who is being superstitious.”

“Stop that, Daisy is still at home.”

Amber blushed immediately and wanted to push Jack away, but Jack would not let go. She immediately became a little anxious, “Let go of me, Daisy is really at home. My eyelids keep twitching today so I let Daisy stay with me at home to prevent from any accidents; I planned to let her go to the hospital when you’re back.”

Just when the voice faded.

There was a sound from the kitchen door.

Daisy walked out from the kitchen, "Amber, what do you feel like eating tonight?"

After she said that.

Daisy was stunned, staring straight at Jack and Amber on the sofa.

Jack and Amber stared back at Daisy.

The air seemed to freeze in a sudden.

The next second.

Daisy's eyes turned away automatically, and pretended to whistle casually. She turned around and walked back to the kitchen and said, "I'll make you something light and cook some herbal soup to reduce internal heat for Mr. Hughes."

Reduce heat?

Jack shook his body, the couple only hugged, did it mislead Daisy?

Amber, who was still in his arms felt more embarrassed now.

She knew what Daisy meant.

Her body trembled slightly; Amber's right hand slipped quietly onto Jack's waist and pinched him hard,

"It's all your fault, I told you Daisy is at home. Now she has misunderstood, let go of me quickly."

Jack grinned in pain and let out a gasp.

He was still cheerful, and his right hand never let go of Amber.

"I'm hugging my own wife; it's not breaking the law. I won't let go, I would never let go."

Amber could not do anything else but gave up struggling.

She turned her face to the other side angrily, but her brows gradually furrowed, "I keep feeling panic, could something really happen?"

"Oh, don't worry about it. Why not I stay at your side everyday from tomorrow onwards to protect you and your mother? Is it good?"

Jack said firmly.

"Really?" Amber's eyes brightened and gloominess all gone. She raised her hand and pinched Jack's nose and said, "The dummy cannot take back what he said then."

Jack smiled pleasantly.

He did not take Amber's words seriously; she thought something would happen due to her eyes twitching, which was too random.

Amber did not know, but he knew that the mysterious man was always protecting them in secret.

With the presence of that person, they would be safe.

About Killian's incident, it just happened by really rare chances.

Such incident would not happen again.

But he also understood Amber's worries, women's emotions were extremely easy to fluctuate during pregnancy period, what more to say when Amber had experienced many ups and downs.

It made sense that she would imagine things.

However, in order to comfort Amber, he decided to accompany her more. Otherwise according to the current state of this girl, it could be foreseen that she would not be able to sleep well tonight.

Soon, Daisy was done preparing dinner.

And Mr. Ward, who had not been seen elsewhere, walked down the stairs.

"Master, I'd like to tell you something after dinner."

Mr. Ward said in a heavy tone as soon as he got to the dining table.

Jack's brows wrinkled and nodded.

After dinner, Daisy sent food to the hospital for Vinna, Lyndall and Lone Wolf and at the same time, she had to pick Vinna back.

Jack, Amber and Mr. Ward went to the rooftop together; Jack had no other choice but to let Amber follow as she was still anxious.

The wind at night was breezy.

Jack asked, "Mr. Ward, what do you want to tell me?"

"The old master called me just now, and that's what I am going to tell you about now."

Mr. Ward looked serious, and he was silent for three seconds, then he slowly said, "Old master said, watch out for Kool Family."

"Kool Family?"

Jack asked in doubt, "Which wealthy family is this again?"

But,

What surprised Jack was, Mr. Ward shaking his head, "I am not sure about that either, the old master sounded mysterious when he talked about this, he only asked me to warn you about watching out for Kool Family, he never mentioned about anything else.”

What did that mean?

Jack frowned.

His father specially reminded him to be careful, it must be something big.

But regarding this matter, he only warned Jack to be careful without further elaboration.

Where did these Kool Family members come from?

Suddenly,

Jack’s body trembled, his eyes lit up.

Wait!

Kool Family?

Jenny?!

Chapter 684 I’m Jack’s Girlfriend

In the silence.

The strange girl with blue eyes that had been forgotten by Jack once again appeared in his mind.

There were very few people with such surname as Kool.

Among those who had dealt with him would only be Jenny.

Furthermore, Jenny was so strange that made her memorable.

Subconsciously, Jack clenched his hands and his brows wrinkled, his eyes were burning.

Mr. Ward notice Jack's reaction, he asked, "Master, what's wrong?"

Jack shook his head heavily.

Then he asked, "My father really did not mention anything about what to watch out for Kool Family?"

"No."

Mr. Ward glanced at Jack deeply.

He could see that Jack was hiding something from him, but as a slave, it was best not to mention anything if Jack did not want to tell.

"Let's go, it's getting late."

Jack said calmly, and then pushed the wheelchair downstairs himself.

Mr. Ward stood on the rooftop by himself, letting the night wind blow his white hair and mumbled,

"Master... Kool Family ...why is old master being this careful?"

Back to the bedroom.

Amber was still awake; she was lying on the bed worriedly, looking at the ceiling.

“Still worried?”

Jack’s brows stretched out.

Amber’s nose wrinkled slightly, opened up her hands and acted like a spoiled child, “Waiting for you, come and cuddle me.”

Jack smiled softly and got into the blanket, he hugged Amber into his arms, patted her back gently, and soothing Amber to sleep.

Amber lay in Jack’s arms like a cat, with her eyes closed and eyelashes trembled a little. Soon, she fell asleep and her breathing became steady.

But Jack was not sleepy at all.

He stared at the ceiling with his brows wrinkled and eyes full of doubts.

The encounter with Jenny during the day came back to his mind bit by bit like sieving.

Jack did not care about Jenny at all before this; the only thing affecting him was her weirdness.

But in today's era, weirdo is everywhere.

This made Jack think what happened during the day was just a coincidence.

But with his father's call, it confused everything.

And the strange expressions shown by Jenny during the day, did not seem strange anymore, he thought deep down his heart.

If the appearance of Jenny and her strange behaviour were for a reason,

It made everything appear reasonable.

"Jenny ... Kool Family ..."

Jack frowned and murmured.

His eyes brightened, then suddenly hesitated again, "If Jenny is not from Kool Family, was it really just a coincidence?"

"Dear..."

Amber's soft voice was heard in a sudden.

Jack came back to his senses and saw Amber opening her eyes in his arms. She looked at him sleepily, "Is anything bothering you?"

“No, let’s sleep.”

Jack acted clam and smiled, then turned off the light and went back into the blanket, trying to be asleep with his arms around Amber.

Amber fell asleep again in darkness and did not get awakened anymore.

Jack lay on the bed and stayed up all night.

He would not act like this if this was before.

But now, it was getting more and more blurry, his ultimate goal of becoming the master of the Hughes Family was just a loophole in the cloud of the sky, leaking brightness.

Now with all the gloominess, the brightness seemed to be dimmed off.

If he was not careful, the consequences would be unbearable.

And...he might lose even more!

He might lose something even more unbearable than the position of the master of Hughes Family.

Caution is the parent of safety; this was Jack’s usual style of doing things.

Not to mention, now that he had Amber and the baby that needed to be protected.

Early the next day,

Jack, who had not slept the whole night, could not hide his exhaustion on face, his eyes were covered with bloodshot.

He did not wake Amber.

He woke up quietly and went downstairs for breakfast, then asked Mr. Ward to send him to DT Company.

But thinking about Amber who was anxious last night, Jack reminded Mr. Ward to stay at home and protect Amber if he did not have anything to do before he left.

Jack did not believe in rumour like “Twitching on the left eye forecasts fortune but twitching on the right eye forecasts disaster”. But in order to be careful, he would not want anything to go wrong especially when Amber’s belly was getting bigger and she was getting closer to labour.

As it was time to start working,

Jack suppressed his heavy thought and devoted himself with tons of work.

The sun gradually rose,

The whole city was full of vibrant in the daylight.

When it was nearly noon,

Outside DT Company, it was crowded and the traffic was busy.

A pretty shadow was approaching.

Her ponytail, blue eyes and pink skin made her look like a doll.

Plus she was dressed like Lolita.

The appearance of Jenny earned enough attention from people around her.

“My God, this girl is so pretty, so cute!”

“Lolita, wow, she’s so breathtaking; buddy, give me a hand, I feel like fainting.”

“If such girl could be my girlfriend, I would willingly use ten years of my life to be exchanged.”

...

With all the whispering and weird gazes around her.

Jenny was already used to it and did not show any strange emotions.

In fact, ever since she was young, everyone in Kool Family had been treating like jewel because of her look.

Jenny was confident with her own look, she never found it strange when people were staring, it would be weird if no one was staring.

“This is his company?”

Jenny moved gently, walking towards the building while muttering, “Hey! This man is just normal, he does not even have his own company office building, it’s just a rented building. I have no idea why grandma is interested in him, that she travelled so far to this small place just for him.”

It was precisely because of this “ordinary” company that Jack was working at, that got Jenny even more curious about him.

She did not know why her grandmother travelled so far for him.

But she knew that very few people were worthy of such act.

What more to say, this “ordinary” man sitting in the wheelchair.

Due to the attention from people around her and her appearance with unique dressing.

Jenny was blocked by the building security as soon as she entered the lobby of the building.

“Miss, this is an office building, with big companies on it, are you one of the company employees?” the security guard’s eyes shifted, and he felt shy to look at Jenny.

“Sir, I’m here to look for someone.” Jenny’s blue eyes flickered.

“Looking for someone? Who are you looking for? We will contact for you, and you can enter upon confirmation.” said the security guard.

“So troublesome?” Jenny pouted.

The security guard explained with a smile, “What to do, our building is filled with big companies, and they have their own management rules and regulations.”

“Sir, there is no need, actually...”

Jenny said shyly with her head down, clutching her ponytail with her right hand, and said in a low voice,

“Actually...I’m the girlfriend of Jack from DT Company.”

Chapter 685 Kick Her Out

Boom!

A word that blew everyone’s mind.

Her voice sounded like from a mosquito but worked like a thunder spread in the entire lobby.

The security guard was dumbfounded.

The crowd of onlookers who stopped nearby was also dumbfounded.

What's more, thinking that they heard it wrong, some of the onlookers even hurriedly cleaned their ears.

Oh my god!

Were you kidding me?

This lady came here for blackmailing money, right?

For a while, the gaze that originally focused on Jenny Kool became weird.

"What? You don't believe it? I'm really his girlfriend."

Jenny raised her head and looked at the security guard seriously.

"Puff!"

The security guard couldn't help but laughed out straightly, "Lady, if you come to find someone, let's follow the drills. You don't have to make such a joke. No one in this building doesn't know that DT's Master Hughes has already married."

"Yes, lady, even if you want to get into the building, please find a better reason."

"Hahaha... I thought this lady was pretty just now, now she's making nonsense."

"From falling in love to getting married, Master Hughes, he always keeps a high-key. Every local people knows who's his wife. You must not be a local person, right?"

People were all talking at once.

Facing the laughter of everyone.

Jenny frowned and seemed a bit upset.

Why didn't you believe me?

"Lady, if you don't have important things, please head out this way. I'm just a security guard, I couldn't decide anything." The security guard wasn't in patient anymore and he asked her out with trying hard not to crack up.

However.

Jenny suddenly smiled slyly, the blue pupil looked at the security guard deeply, "Sir, although Jack Hughes has a wife, that doesn't mean he can't have a girlfriend?"

Quiet.

The noisy lobby suddenly become silent.

Everyone couldn't laugh at her but stunned instead.

It was so quiet as if a needle dropped on the ground can be heard and the atmosphere suddenly became strange.

Yup!

He could only have one wife, but he still could have several girlfriends.

What's more, DT's Master Hughes was outstanding in Hughes young generation.

Such a man had a few girlfriends...

For once second, everyone looked each other and still felt incredible somehow.

"My God, his girlfriend ... this is such a big news." An excited voice.

Within one second, as if pouring the water in the hot oil pan, it was a blast for the onlookers.

"Hey... the man would become to bad boys when they are rich. I also heard that Master Hughes's wife was pregnant for a long time. He must cheat on her during the pregnancy?"

"Don't say that, Master Hughes is not that kind of person. He is always willing to spend money on his wife. Also, we are working together, you should know what kind of man he is."

"Can you stop defending him, it's quite normal to have some mistresses outside for people like Master Hughes?"

People were all talking at once.

Some of them held a suspicion and some of them believed in Jack.

Listening to everyone's exclaimed debates.

Jenny had a smile on her face as if the trick worked well.

She put her hands behind her body, she spitted her tongue and said to the security guard, "Sir, can I get in?"

"I, I have to call DT."

The security guard frowned with some hesitations, then turned to walk to the front desk.

Jenny was waiting there with a frown expression.

"I don't believe you won't see me as I spread roorback of you and try to blackmail you directly, dare you will not see me?"

This was the idea in the Jenny's mind.

At this moment.

Jack was in the middle of his work. The approval of each project needed to be approved as soon as possible. He already spent the whole morning on signing out the documents.

Although he asked Corbin Koch to hand some projects out to each department, but when it came to something important, he still has to make a decision.

Thanks to the extreme fitness training so his body took the speed of becoming stronger, which amazed even to people like Twelve Golden Guard.

Otherwise, only with this high strength workload, he might be dying.

Knock! Knock!

Someone was knocking on the door.

Corbin came in in a hurry.

"What's going on?"

Jack took breathe out, leaned back on the chair, so he could rest for a while.

"Master, you seem to be blackmailed."

Corbin frowned and he was angry. He believed in that Jack.

With the relationship between him and Jack, he was always Jack's close subordinate from he started working in the company. Also, it was Jack who promoted him to this position.

As a close subordinate, he knew Jack better than others.

So when he received a call from the front desk, he was determined that Jack was blackmailed by people.

"What?"

Jack's eyebrows rose up and he was puzzled, "I stayed in the office the whole morning, where does the blackmail come from?"

Corbin said seriously, "There was a lady downstairs. She was looking for you but was stopped by security, and then the lady said she is your girlfriend."

Snapped!

The pen broke into two pieces in Jack's hand.

The easiness on his face also disappeared and was replaced by anger and depression.

This kind of blackmail, he didn't like it at all!

Even ... extremely angry about this!

Thinking about the first day when Amber Knight decided to be with him. She was always be there for him even he was in poor and broke. She even ignored her parents' disagreement but to be with him.

Jack would always put in mind about her love.

Because of Rena Yales caused a series of incidents, which made Amber even weaker as she couldn't eat anything, almost led to serious result.

Now, Amber was pregnant, Jack tries to avoid the same thing from happening.

But he didn't expect that this kind of blackmail came from nowhere still found him.

If she wanted to blackmail him, he could accept generously.

But to blackmail their relationship, he would not accept it for sure!

"Kick her out!"

When he spoke the three-word out, the temperature in the office suddenly fell to the freezing point.

Even Corbin's expression was changed and he was nervous.

At this moment, in the face of Jack, he felt the coldness like he was facing of the Antarctic iceberg, the icy cold feeling could get straight into his soul.

"Yes, sir!"

When Corbin left.

Jack was still indifferent and his sight was even colder, "If you want to provoke my relationship with my wife, no matter who you are, I don't agree."

Took a deep breathe.

Jack took out his phone and texted Amber to see what was she doing.

Soon, Amber texted him back.

"I'm sitting here in a daze, honey, my eyelids are pumping."

Jack frowned but still comforted her, "It's okay, don't be superstitious, Mr. Ward and Daisy Hill are all at home. With them beside you, you will be safe and sound. "

"Well, then you work hard and earn more money for baby's milk powder." Amber replied back.

Jack smiled softly, looked at the text on the screen, he felt warm in the heart.

The indifference slowly went away.

Took a deep breath and let himself calm down. He focused back on work.

He kept working till almost lunch time.

Bang!

The door was bumped by Corbin.

After came in, Corbin was upset and said, "Master, we are in trouble! The lady who is going to blackmail you went to the top of the building and is going to jump out of it!"

Chapter 686 Ok, Go Ahead and Jump

Jack stopped his work.

He looked indifferent and hardhearted.

An unknown anger turned on in his body.

Suddenly, Jack smiled with a sound "hehe...".

He laughed because he was in extreme anger.

Corbin felt horrified.

Even he was familiar with Jack, he was still scared by Jack's reaction.

He said nervously, "The lady asked you to see her, otherwise, she would jump out of the building."

"Then let her jump!"

Jack crossed his hands over the chest, sitting on the wheelchair grimly, he turned his head facing to the window. From this direction, he could clearly see everything outside, "You go upstairs and tell her to jump out of the building from this direction as I can see her body. If she quit, I would look down upon her." His voice was cold and sharp as a knife.

"But ..." Corbin hesitated.

Jack continued, "I will take it if you want to beat me up. But someone who wants to tarnish relationship between me and my wife. I'd rather watch them die."

Parents, wife, children, brothers were people Jack wanted to protect.

From bottom of his heart, they were more important than his life and no blasphemy was allowed.

What's more, Amber was already in danger because of one misunderstanding.

Jack would never allow the same thing happened twice!

Corbin lips moved as trying to say something but he was in fear because of Jack's anger. He eventually said, "She said that she met you yesterday. She said that she, Jenny, was born to be yours!"

Boom!

Jack's indifferent face suddenly changed a little.

Blue veins in the corners of the eyes appeared and they were pumping wildly.

Really...was she from Kool Family?

What was the purpose of her doing this?

Just when Jack was shocked and hesitated, Corbin gritted his teeth, turned around and left.

Jack set his mind.

What's more, this kind of life-threatening matter had nothing to do with them. It was the lady who wanted to commit suicide.

Even if she really jumped off, it had nothing to do with them.

However.

Just when Corbin was about to walk out of the office.

He heard an extremely heavy sigh.

That made Corbin's footsteps stopped suddenly.

"Let's go to see her."

Jack's expression was unconcerned, with anger in his eyes, pushing the wheelchair to Corbin's side.

The Corbin was suddenly puzzled.

How did his attitude suddenly change?

A weird and bold idea came to mind, but it was forced to be erased by Corbin as soon as it came out.

In his mind, Jack was definitely not the one who could do such a thing!

At the roof of the building.

Because of the height, the wind whistled.

At this time, the security of the building as well as the security of DT real estate agency were all gathered here.

And Jenny was in a Lolita dress was stopping at the edge of the roof, facing towards the distant place.

The strong wind made Jenny's long hair dancing in the air as well as her dress.

It also made everyone freaked out.

"Lady, listen to me, come down first, and we can talk it through after you get down!" The security guard who initially stopped her was sweaty as hell.

He didn't expect that after asking her to leave, this young lady would actually take advantage of security negligence to run to this rooftop to kill herself.

If she really jumped off, then his job might be blew away, no, everyone in the security department would lose their jobs.

"You lied! I really came down, then I had no chance to talk!"

Jenny turned her head and stared at the security guard angrily.

The security's face was anxious, his face turned to red, he suddenly gritted his teeth and knelt on the ground with a "puff" sound, "Okay, please don't jump off. If you jumped, we were all screwed. Listen to me, we have notified DT's Master Hughes, and he will be here soon, please come down first."

His voice was shaking, he almost burst into tears while begging.

However, Jenny totally ignored what he said, "I don't care. I won't come down if I can't see Jack.

Anyway, I am telling you that I'm his girlfriend. If he won't see me, I will jump from here today."

The resolute tone made everyone scared.

Jenny didn't bother to continue talking, turned her head to face the sky, but looked down.

In the open space below the building, she could only see people gathered and looked at where she stood. Because of the height, the crowd below looked like ants gathered together.

No one noticed that there was a sly smile at the corner of Jenny's mouth.

"Huh, hum, hum... I caused this mess to force you to see me. Jack, I have never been so dramatized for a boy in my life. If you were not the one even grandma would come to find you personally, I won't tarnish my reputation to do this."

The whisper drowned in the sound of the wind.

But when she said this, Jenny showed a strange arrogance.

In her opinion, there were very few people who could let her put down her self-esteem to meet.

Jack was one of them!

This was his honor!

Bang!

Someone kicked the half-covered iron door on the roof open.

This sound also caused everyone to look back in surprise.

When they saw Jack was pushed onto the rooftop by Corbin, everyone was immediately ecstatic.

"Come here! lady, Master Hughes comes to see you!"

The security guard who was kneeling on the ground was almost crying at this time, he first shouted to

Jenny, then hurriedly got up and walked in front of Jack, he was begging, " Master Hughes, please, we must solve this, otherwise everyone in the security department will lose our jobs."

Although a group of building security guards did not say anything, the expectations in their eyes were clear to see.

"I'll deal with it, it has nothing to do with you."

Jack said indifferently.

Immediately, not only the security guard but the security guards from the building seemed to be relieved.

At the same time.

Jenny who stood at the edge of the roof looked back in surprise, and the azure blue eyes burst into excitement when she saw Jack.

"Hehe...you are finally here!"

"Is this kind of prank fun?"

Jack stared at Jenny standing on the edge of the roof indifferently.

"This is called a prank?"

Jenny pouted and looked a little angry. She looked down at the edge of where she stood, then looked back at the crowd who gathered below like ants, and then looked back at Jack, "Are you not going to let me come down first? ?"

In one question, everyone on the scene immediately brightened their eyes and they all looked at Jack.

As long as the lady came down and be safe, everything would be fine.

But what responded to her was Jack's indifference also the coldness in his squinted eyes.

"Aren't you afraid of me jumping down?"

Seeing that Jack stood still, Jenny's expression began to be serious and to threat him.

The atmosphere was instantly tense.

Even Corbin was also anxious and worried.

But Jack raised his hand and rubbed his nose, "I ask you a question, you have to answer me first."

"What's the problem?" Jenny raised her eyebrows.

"Are you from the Kool Family?"

Jenny was taken aback for a moment, then raised her hand to touch her chain and meditated,

"Although there are many people with the surname Kool, the Kool Family you are asking must refer to an extraordinary family? My family happens to be such a family. It should be regarded as the family in your mouth."

"Ah!"

Jack smiled, then under others' horrified looking, he turned the wheelchair calmly and headed off downstairs.

The indifferent voice echoed on the rooftop like thunder.

"Then you can just jump."

Chapter 687 The humiliation of Jenny Kool

What?!

The indifferent response was beyond others' expectations.

Everyone present was stunned.

Those security guards were almost crazy.

Was Mr. Hughes here to save person?

Or was he in a hurry to get Jenny to jump off a building, to get security guards to lose their jobs?

Corbin was also shocked. As Jack turned around, he still stood still.

At the edge of the roof, Jenny's blue eyes were full of disbelief. Her opened her red lips slightly, "You, what did you say?"

"I said you can jump if you want, but you should pay attention when you jump. Don't hit the onlookers below."

Jack stopped his wheelchair at the door of the roof, and his voice was very cold.

His father had warned him to be alert to the Kool family.

And Jenny was the person of the Kool family.

In that case, why did he care about her?

Jack didn't have to humbly beg a girl to live who blasphemed his love affair with Amber.

If she wanted to die, she had better die soon!

After she died, Jack could low his guard against the Kool family.

"I..."

Jenny was so stunned that her eyes almost fell out of her eyes.

She was very angry!

This was totally different from what she expected.

She was about to jump off a building. But Jack told her not to hit anyone else?

"Mr. Hughes..."

The security guard who first met Jenny was so worried that his eyes were red. He was about to kneel down with a cry.

But Jack seemed to know what was going to happen.

Before the security guard knelt down, Jack said coldly, "Don't kneel to me. It has nothing to do with me.

Go kneel to that crazy woman."

Hearing this,

Those security guards changed their expressions quickly.

With a neat sound.

All the security guards knelt down.

"Miss, please don't jump. As soon as you jump, all the people in our security department will lose our jobs!"

"Miss, you are still young. Live well and don't do stupid things!"

"Miss, please, I beg you to come down!"

.....

The cries came one after another.

Everyone was going crazy and crumble at this time. Before, they were looking forward to Jack's help.

Now Jack was on the scene, but instead of helping them, he let Jenny jump off the building? How could that be?

Corbin glanced at those security guards who were kneeling down, hesitated for a moment, and walked to Jack, "Jack, it will have a bad effect if we don't deal with it soon."

"It's OK. If she dies, things will be solved." Jack replied coldly.

Corbin was shocked, "What?"

What happened to Jack today?

Jenny stood on the edge of the roof, facing a dilemma.

She wanted to force Jack to come out to see her, but she didn't expect Jack's reaction to be so indifferent.

Was she really going to jump in front of so many people?

No way!

She couldn't jump!

But it would be a shame if she didn't jump.

Jenny blushed with anger and clenched her fist. At this moment, she really wanted to rush forward and beat that man in the wheelchair.

In order to force Jack to see her, she didn't care about her own reputation, which should be Jack's honor!

But why was Jack so cold to her?

"Miss, I have parents and children to support. I'm old and I have to work as a security guard. If you jump here, my family will be ruined. Please don't jump!"

That security guard knelt forward and wailed with tears full of his eyes.

This was not a false statement.

Only those who really lived at the bottom of society could realize how hard and helpless the life of people at the bottom was.

And there was no shortage of people at the bottom.

Before, Jack and his mother were the members of the underclass.

Hearing the security guard's cry, Jack's indifferent face softened.

"Oh, since you all beg me so much, I won't jump down."

Jenny pretended to be angry and went to a safe place on the rooftop, but she kept staring at the security guard, very grateful.

The crying and pleading of the security guard just provided an excuse for her.

However,

Looking at Jenny, the security guard and all the people on the scene were stunned.

Too casual!

She changed her mind too quickly.

"Ha!"

Corbin couldn't help laughing. He looked up at Jenny with strange eyes.

Hearing Corbin's laughter, Jenny trembled a little, and her delicate face turned red, as if she had bleeding on her face. She felt hot.

"Strange!"

Jack shook his head helplessly, "Corbin, let's go."

Since Jenny was from the Kool family, whether Jack's father reminded him to be on guard against, he could not be too close to Jenny.

Jack was disgusted by the strange words and behaviors of Jenny. And, she blasphemed his relationship with Amber, which he couldn't stand.

"Hey, wait for me. I'm here to see you!"

Seeing Jack leaving, Jenny soon chased after him.

The security guards were left, kneeling on the ground, in a daze.

In the elevator,

Jack was sitting in a wheelchair indifferently, looking straight ahead.

Corbin, standing behind the wheelchair, was looking strangely at Jenny in the corner.

Really, the appearance and figure of Jenny were great. Her blue eyes, which were like the sea, were very charming and enchanting.

But after knowing the words and deeds of Jenny,

Corbin was not interested in Jenny at all.

In Corbin's view, the word "strange" was the most appropriate word to describe her.

"I really come to see you."

Her hands clasped together and made a circle with her fingers, "I just want to invite you to have a meal and stay with you for a while. You are the first man in 20 years to get such a good treatment from me!"

"So, I should be honored?"

Jack raised his eyebrows and looked at Jenny.

With red lips, Jenny muttered, "No."

Suddenly,

Jack showed a serious expression, "Corbin, go to buy a Tibetan mastiff to the company."

"What?"

Corbin was a little surprised.

Jenny also looked at Jack in surprise, "I want to invite you to have a meal, why do you want to buy a Tibetan mastiff?"

Jack coldly raised his hand and pointed at Jenny, and said to Corbin, "Get her out of here right now."

After the Tibetan mastiff is bought back, if this strange woman is within 10 meters of me, you can immediately let the dog bite her!"

Jenny shocked, and she had an impulse to go ballistic.

It was a shame!

It was a disgrace to her!

Was it necessary for him to humiliate her so nakedly?

Was she so disgusting? She just wanted to invite Jack to eat and stay with him, but Jack wanted to buy a Tibetan mastiff to guard against her.

Hearing this,

Corbin laughed, "OK, Jack, I'll buy it right away."

"Ding!"

The elevator came to the first floor.

Corbin urged Jenny to leave.

Jenny, angered by Jack, walked out of the building angrily.

The autumn sun was still hanging,

But she didn't feel any warmth.

Shame!

She was exasperated!

She was indignant!

In the past 20 years, as the young lady of the Kool family, she had never been treated like this!

"How dare this bastard humiliate me?"

Jenny clenched her fists and gritted her teeth.

Suddenly, her eyes lit up.

"Hum, I have one last chance."

Then, Jenny took out a card which Katherine gave her yesterday.

Chapter 688 Katherine Parry in the Bar

It was at night.

The city was quiet at midnight.

There were only a few cars on the road.

However, some parts of the city were still lively.

Jenny Kool who was wearing a white long dress walked to the entrance of the bar.

She was inexperienced in society. She also knew that there were a lot of people making trouble in places like a bar. Therefore, she had changed her clothes in order to look as simple as possible.

However, with her pretty look and body postures, she had attracted the attention of countless people in front of the bar even though she was only wearing a white dress.

When they saw Jenny still looking a little childish and young, glowing light could be seen in their eyes as if the wolves had seen a little sheep.

And... it was an extremely delicious little sheep.

She had only stood there for five minutes, there were three people coming towards her to ask for her contact number.

Jenny rejected all of them.

“Could it be that my clothes are still too eye-appealing?”

Jenny had some doubts as she looked at the white long dress on her body. In the end, she still took a deep breath and walked into the bar.

Places like a bar would never stop any girl from entering, especially for the pretty girls.

Every pretty girl was the best tool to earn money for the owner of the bar!

Jenny actually didn't want to come. However, from noon until just now, she had called Katherine Parry's phone number on the business card countless times. Yet, her phone had been turned off. So, she could only come to this place.

After walking through the dim corridor, the sound of the loud music and people's shouts were heard.

Jenny was shocked as her heart beat vigorously.

The next second.

Wrinkle could be seen on her pretty nose as she frowned. 'This kind of place ... was really noisy.'

Since young, she was treasured and cherished by the Kool family. She had received the best education that the nobles received. As a daughter who was treasured and cherished, every member of her family was afraid that she would be hurt.

It had caused her to have a noble quality education. At the same time, she was still inexperienced in society even though she was already twenty years old.

In the past, Jenny only saw the places like a bar in the movies, TV, and novels. This was the first time she had been here.

However, the noisy environment made her feel uncomfortable.

After taking a deep breath, Jenny walked into the bar.

The colorful lights were attractive and gorgeous.

The lights had made the darkness have a lively atmosphere.

A lot of people were dancing in the middle of the dance floor.

The handsome men and pretty girls were enjoying music and alcoholic drink in the darkness to relax.

A DJ took control and made the atmosphere of the bar lit on the stage.

Jenny looked at the DJ as she frowned, "She is wearing so little. Doesn't she have a mother? Wouldn't she scold her?"

After she said the words, a few men and women who passed by her looked at her with a strange look.

Yet, Jenny didn't notice them. She just walked towards the bar table. That place was slightly quieter and it had some high chairs for her to sit down and rest.

"Pretty girl, what do you want to drink? I will treat you." The bartender was amazed by Jenny's pretty look. He smiled while looking at her as if he had treated her as prey.

“Just give me a glass of red wine.”

Jenny was here to meet Katherine. She didn't want to care about other matters.

She was not used to staying in this kind of environment like in a bar.

Soon, the bartender served her a glass of wine. He still wanted to chat with Jenny. However, Jenny directly turned her head away from him and she didn't want to chat with the bartender at all.

‘This girl...was hard to deal with!’

The bartender felt upset as he walked away to continue working.

Jenny was looking around to search Katherine in the darkness.

‘Why did she work in such a messy place?’

‘Could this kind of person... know that bastard, Jack?’

If it wasn't Jenny was curious about Jack and she wanted to know more about him, she really wanted to leave immediately.

However, in the noon, Jack Hughes had already bought a fierce Mastiff to stop her from going nearer.

Now, she could only hope that she could know something from Katherine.

When Jenny was looking for Katherine.

In the washroom of the bar.

Katherine in a long black dress who was drunk staggered and walked out.

Katherine stood in front of the sink. She had heavy makeup on her face but she looked bad as she frowned.

A large amount of alcohol had stimulated her stomach. Her stomach still felt bad after she vomited.

Splash...

After turning on the water tap, Katherine splashed the water onto her face. Then, she put her face closer to the tap and drank the water without caring about her image.

While working in the places like a bar, she had to always ensure her appearance and body posture in a flawless state.

This was because it would directly determine her income for the night.

No customer was willing to let a woman who was full of alcoholic smell come closer.

Even if the woman was pretty!

However, those who came here to enjoy themselves wanted to relieve themselves. Furthermore, a bar must have some pretty women.

In fact, with Katherine's age, it was pretty late to work in a bar. If she was described with jargon, she was considered outdated. However, she didn't have any other way.

She had to work to live and pay for her brother's living expenses. She also couldn't contact her father.

Working in a bar was the best work that she could think of. The job let her earn a lot and it suited her the most too.

Luckily Katherine's appearance was not bad and she had been living a comfortable and wealthy life during the three years when she married Jack. Therefore, her appearance after heavy makeup still didn't lose to those girls at the age of twenty.

Looking at herself in the mirror, Katherine slowly showed a look of resentment and hatred.

"Jack, what I have today is all caused by you, bastard. Wait for me. As long as I, Katherine Parry, am still alive, I would definitely take revenge for my Mom, my brother, myself, and my family!"

Katherine who was in front of the mirror looked furious. Her face who had heavy makeup looked ferocious and full of hatred.

“Huh...”

After letting out a breath of alcohol, Katherine held the water with her hands and splashed it on her face. She took a few tissues and wiped off the water on her face. She tidied up her clothes and walked out to continue working.

However, at the same time.

The door of the male’s washroom suddenly opened.

A drunken and potbellied middle-aged man who was bald walked out.

The middle-aged man’s face was fatty and there was a scar on his chin. There were tattoos and thick gold chains on his arms. He was full of branded items.

When he saw Katherine, glowing light could be seen in his eyes.

The middle-aged man’s face was full of lust as he stood behind Katherine. His burning gazes moved up and down on Katherine’s back.

He grinned as he moved forward to wrapped his arms around Katherine’s waist. Then, he harshly pinched her waist without caring about her.

This had scared Katherine as she showed a painful look. At the same time, she also shouted.

However, when Katherine turned her body and clearly saw the middle-aged man's look, she was shocked and frightened, "Pa, Park..."

"Katherine?"

The middle-aged man who was called 'Park' was stunned. Then, he laughed with a lustful face.

Alcohol could make someone lose his mind and quickly increase someone's desire in some aspects.

Park hugged Katherine who was frightened and he moved his hands up and down on her back, "Your brother, Tommy, has owed me quite a lot of money. I have been wanting him to let him sell you to pay for his debt. And today, I find you without any effort. You are gifted to me by God."

"Be obedient and promise me. After you stay with me, you and your brother will be able to get out of this suffering situation. If I cover your brother, he could just muddle along until he dies. No one in this city would dare to touch him."

While saying the words, Park harshly pulled Katherine into the male's washroom.

Chapter 689 Five Hundred Thousand Yuan, It Was a Sky-High Amount!

Katherine Parry was shocked and frightened as she struggled desperately.

She shouted loudly but no one came to rescue her because the loud music had suppressed her voice.

Desperation, fear, and panic...

While facing Park who had a strong and tall body, Katherine didn't have the strength to resist him.

Slap!

Park slapped Katherine's face, "Why the fuck are you shouting? If you do not obey me, then pay me back the money! A total of five hundred thousand yuan with interest!"

Boom!

Katherine was completely stunned.

Blood could be seen at the corners of her mouth. Her face was a mess but her eyes showed a look as if she couldn't believe it.

'When did Tommy have so much debt?'

"It is impossible. There is no way that my brother owes you that much." Katherine grabbed her hair tightly as she shook her head with a painful look.

Park tightly grabbed Katherine's hair and he laughed coldly, "He doesn't owe me that much? Haha.

Don't you fucking know how your brother behaves? He smokes, drinks, asks for prostitution, gambles, and takes drugs. I am the one who lent him money to pay for the expenses. Do you really think that you could pay for his expenses when you only earn around ten thousand yuan?”

When he said that.

Park slowly lowered his head and moved close to Katherine’s neck who was stunned and harshly took a breath.

The rich body fragrant suddenly made Park lose his mind and show an evil smile.

He showed a lustful smile, “If you obey me, I will write off the five hundred thousand of debts. You will definitely earn a lot through this deal!”

Upon saying that.

Park’s hands suddenly had a lot of force. He grabbed Katherine’s hair with his hand while holding Katherine’s arm with another hand to drag her into the male’s washroom.

The dim light.

The pain on her face.

And Park who showed a lustful smile in front of her.

Katherine was in a panic as if her soul had left her body. She was completely stunned.

She was pushed into a toilet stall by Park. She wanted to resist him instinctively.

However, the five hundred thousand yuan of debt that Tommy Parry owed was a sky-high amount for her!

'How could this happen?'

'Why would this happen?'

At the moment, Katherine's eyes were red and teary.

Bang!

Park harshly pressed her hands that she had instinctively raised to resist him against the wall with his hands.

He showed a ferocious and scary smile, "I am owning you for sure!"

Her gaze was blurred by the tears. However, she could still clearly see Park's fatty face moving towards her quickly.

At that moment.

Katherine suddenly came back to her senses.

She shouted and her right hand forcefully broke free from Park's hand.

As her right hand passed through her back, a sharp light was suddenly seen.

“Fuck!”

Park’s expression changed a lot as he hurriedly fell back.

Stab!

The knife was swung past Park’s stomach. Blood could be seen on his stomach.

The pain immediately made Park’s slightly sober from being drunk.

His face looked pale as he lowered his head to look at his stomach. There was a wound and blood could be seen.

Luckily, he reacted quickly and dodged in time just now so that this knife stab was only a minor injury.

However, he was still scared after thinking about it.

“Bitch!”

When Park was shocked, his face suddenly looked ferocious and furious. He suddenly moved close towards Katherine as if he wanted to engulf her.

He was the head of the gangster in this area. He used to commit a lot of crimes. He also used to be attacked by a lot of people.

However, he was actually attacked by a woman!

It was a disgrace for him!

“Don’t come here. You don’t fucking come here!”

Katherine’s hair looked messy as she held the fruit knife tightly with her hands. She looked ferocious and frightened and her eyes looked furious.

At this moment, Katherine didn’t look charming at all.

Now, she only looked fierce like a beast that was fighting in a trapped place!

Park was scared by Katherine’s reaction and he stopped in place. He had been involving himself in the underworld for a lot of years and he could differentiate whether the person dared to attack the others or the person only looked tough outside but he was actually timid.

Katherine who was in front of him let him feel dangerous.

He had no doubt that if he moved closer to her, she would really dare to stab him!

“Bitch, do you fucking dare to touch me?”

Park covered the wound on his stomach with his hand and spat on the ground. He harshly threatened

Katherine, "Let me tell you. You have to sleep with me because of this stab tonight! I would get the five hundred thousand yuan of debt that Tommy owes separately!"

"Bullshit..."

Katherine's small body trembled as if she had gone crazy, "It is impossible. Tommy promised me that he would definitely stop doing this. He will not fool around. There is no way he owes you five hundred thousand yuan!"

"Don't you believe me?"

Park showed a ferocious and scary smile. He took out his phone and directly called Tommy's number.

"Hello, Park!"

When the phone call was picked up, Tommy's flattered laughter could be heard.

"Tommy!"

After Katherine heard Tommy's voice, she immediately cried and shouted.

"Sister?"

On the phone, Tommy was stunned, "Why are you staying with Park?"

“Save me. Tommy, please come and save me... Sob...”

Katherine cried loudly. Her mother passed away and his father was missing. Now, the only one she could rely on was her brother, Tommy.

“Park, what have you done to my sister?”

On the phone, Tommy shouted loudly.

“Haha, Tommy. Don’t you fucking shout at me. I am giving you a chance to pay your debt today!”

Park’s fatty face laughed as he trembled. He lustfully looked at Katherine who was crying as he said to Tommy, “Let me sleep with your sister. From tonight onwards, the debt you owe will be written off. If your sister is willing to stay with me, you will enjoy the wealth with me without any trouble!”

On the phone, Tommy became silent.

Katherine held the fruit knife tightly with her hands. She cried as her small body kept trembling.

Finally, Tommy’s voice was heard on the phone.

“Sister, please sleep with Park for a night. There is five hundred thousand yuan. That’s a sky-high amount!”

Boom!

Katherine who was crying was suddenly struck by lightning.

Tommy's casual tone was like a sharp knife that was harshly stabbed into Katherine's heart.

"Tommy, I, I am your sister. What, what do you treat me as?"

Before Katherine stopped crying, she almost used all her strength to shout.

However, Tommy didn't care about her on the phone at all. Instead, he asked Park.

"Park, you have to keep your words. I am hanging up the phone now."

Bang!

The phone call was hung up without any hesitation.

Katherine was completely desperate.

She had relied on her brother and she tried her best to protect him. However, when she needed her brother to save her, her brother pushed her into the other's arms without any hesitation.

'What the fuck was this?'

"Have you heard it clearly?"

Park frowned as he looked at Katherine, "Now... should you be obedient?"

Clang...

The hands of Katherine who was desperate and had an emotional breakdown trembled. The fruit knife in her hands fell onto the ground and the crisp sound could be heard.

Glowing light could be seen in Park's eyes. At that moment, he pressed on Katherine as if a tiger pounced on its prey.

"Ah!"

Katherine felt like she couldn't see anything and she shouted because of fear.

Without waiting for Katherine to resist, Park's body had already pressed on her and she was completely locked in place.

She struggled!

She struggled instinctively!

However, the body size difference between a man and a woman was too big. Her struggle seemed insignificant.

Katherine looked miserable as she cried loudly.

At this moment.

Suddenly, a shy girl's voice was echoing in the male's washroom.

“Sir, what are you doing?”

Chapter 690 Jenny's Skills

The timid voice of a girl was suddenly heard in the men's bathroom.

Immediately making Park, who had been bullying, stop abruptly.

He turned his head suddenly. His eyes lit up when he saw the girl standing at the door!

Stunning!

Looking at Jenny, there was only one word that came into Park's mind.

Katherine was still struggling in his arms.

Park's hands pressed firmly. His last bit of rationality was the only reason that made him not discard

Katherine and go for the girl who was in front of him.

Katherine was to be finished!

But this stunning girl who was in front of him , he was not sure how big the consequences would be.

“Fuck off! I am doing my business!”

Park shouted angrily at Jenny.

Jenny's pretty face changed. She didn't turn around and leave.

She had been looking outside for Katherine for a long time, but Katherine was nowhere to be seen.

She had to come the ladies' bathroom due to human urgency. As soon as she came here, she heard a woman's scream coming out of the men's bathroom.

Her curiosity drove her in.

Her gaze swept past Park and landed on Katherine who was being pressed down by him.

She couldn't see her face too clearly because of the angle but she still felt a sense of familiarity.

"Katherine?"

Jenny exclaimed.

Katherine, who was struggling, was also surprised. When she saw Jenny, she seemed to find one last ray of hope.

"Help me! Please, help me!" Katherine cried and begged.

"Fuck! Do you know each other?"

Park's expressions suddenly became solemn. There was a fear of consequence in his eyes.

He hadn't been anxious about the consequences even in doing this kind of forcible thing as he had been holding the weakness of Katherine and Tommy.

But if the stunning girl in front of him ran out to call for help, the consequences would be unimaginable.

However.

Jenny's behavior made Park's eyes flash and the corners of his mouth suddenly arched into a smile.

Hearing Katherine's anguished wails.

Jenny was far from being scared like a normal girl who would be turning around and running away to ask for help.

On the contrary, she entered the men's bathroom looking ignorant, shut the door behind her and locked it.

This scene.

Instantly made Katherine feel like she was falling into the abyss.

'Has this girl lost her mind?'

'What does she want to do?'

"What are you trying to do?"

The smile on Park's face turned deeper. His gaze towards Jenny was like a tiger looking at a lamb.

The lighting was splendid.

A brazen idea suddenly popped in the drunken and evil mind of Park.

With the delicate physique of Katherine and Jenny, he was enough to hold them both by himself.

As long as he succeeded, the next thing...

"Tut tut.."

Park's body couldn't help but shake.

But Jenny didn't seem to notice his strange attitude.

Still ignorant, she slowly walked towards Katherine and Park.

She raised her hand, "I know her. You can't hurt her. I will save her."

"Fuck! Are you fucking kidding me?"

Park's eyes were full of fierceness and he instantly let go of Katherine as he pounced on Jenny, "I feel quite lucky with women tonight. I am going to do it with both of you!"

Seeing this, Katherine's face was pale with fright. Without Park's confinement, her body fell on the ground weakly.

However.

Just as Park stretched out his hands towards Jenny.

The ignorance on Jenny's face suddenly disappeared, replaced by endless chill.

"What?"

For a very short moment, Park felt frightened, his back suddenly feeling cold.

Suddenly, he saw Jenny sway in front of him.

A slender delicate pale hand held Park's right hand in an instant.

As Jenny twisted, Park's wrist instantly bent in the opposite direction with a cracking noise.

"Aah!"

Screams filled the men's bathroom as if a pig was being slaughtered.

The severe pain caused Park to become vicious, swinging his left fist towards Jenny.

Jenny avoided him and instantly wrapped her hands around Park's left hand and turned her back against him.

Bang

The perfect over-the-shoulder throw caused Park's burly figure to draw a parabola in the air before slamming heavily on the ground.

As he fell, he screamed again like a pig.

It almost knocked the air out of him.

In his fright and panic, Park struggled to get up.

"Hah!"

Jenny's mocking laugh rang suddenly.

Park tilted his head instinctively and saw a foot coming towards him at a swift speed.

Boom

"Pfff!"

Jenny kicked Park on his face. A mouthful of blood and a few teeth spurted out of Park's mouth.

After which, Park shifted his head and fainted.

There was complete silence in the men's room.

The scene just now was extremely short and flowed naturally without even slightly detaining the time.

Katherine was completely dumbfounded.

Her beautiful eyes widened and her delicate pale hand covered her mouth as she looked at Jenny in horror.

Looking at the harmless looking delicate girl, who would have known she had such skills?

Katherine knew the identity of Park so it was even more shocking for her at this time.

Park was the mafia boss of the underworld. Of course, he was highly skilled in kung fu.

If ordinary people confronted Park, even if multiple people join forces, they had no chance of getting even close to him.

But in front of Jenny, had Park become weak to this degree?

“Okay. It’s all okay now.”

Jenny turned around and clapped her hands with a smile. The awe-inspiring chill on her face was gone,

“Our Kool family has a whole system of training in fighting skills. Even though I am a girl, but growing up since childhood, I have never missed out my training.”

With that, Jenny helped Katherine get up.

Katherine burst into tears emotionally. She hugged Jenny and cried loudly, saying thank you over and over again.

She hadn't expected that her own brother could push her into this trap.

And now, the one who pulled her out of it, was this girl who she had only met once.

This difference seemed like countless sharp knives that burned red-hot cutting all over Katherine's body.

Jenny hugged Katherine and kept comforting her.

When Katherine's crying gradually ceased, only then she helped her cope with the aftermath.

Then she walked out of the bar with Katherine.

After experiencing the situation just now, Katherine no longer had any thought of going to work.

The two found a food stall nearby.

After sitting, Katherine's heart was still thumping as the fear lingered.

She let the food stall owner serve them a box of beers and drained a whole bottle. It made her feel a bit at ease.

"It's okay. It's all over."

Jenny still comforted Katherine.

Any woman who had encountered the situation just now couldn't be calmed down with just a few words.

But on the contrary, Jenny felt sympathy and pity towards Katherine who was still dazed.

"Thank you. If it weren't for you tonight, I'm afraid I would have just..."

While talking, Katherine's eyes filled up with tears.

"It's okay. It was nothing."

Jenny comforted, "I happened to be looking for you tonight. It really was fate that I was able to save you."

"Looking for me?"

Katherine was startled.

Jenny propped her chin on her right hand, her big eyes flashed as she looked at Katherine and smiled,

"Yeah. Didn't you say that you and Jack are friends? I want you to help me meet Jack and stay with him for a while."

Hearing her words.

Katherine's pupils shrank suddenly.

Hatred and anger flitted deep in her eyes.

Looking at Jenny who was anticipating.

Katherine drank a glass of beer suddenly, wiped the beer off the corners of her mouth and smiled slightly, "Okay. I will help you."
