

Born Winner 841

Chapter 841 The Iga Clan Again

Snap!

The window glass, which had been tightly closed, exploded.

A figure wrapped in a tight robe jumped straight in through the window in a fleeting moment, even causing a large area of bamboo leaves to fly in.

The moment the figure jumped in and still in the air, the plate, which had been shoot out by Mysterious

Man, reached just in front of the figure.

Everything was just right and wonderful.

Even the killer hadn't reacted yet.

Snap!

The plate struck the killer's head. With a miserable scream, the killer flew backwards again and fell outside the house.

The sudden change of events had caused Jack and the others to distraught.

Jack looked at Mysterious Man with an instantly frightened and strange look.

How strong was this guy?

Even Mr. Ward, Brent and Daisy were in a daze.

Mysterious Man calmly picked up the cigarette erected on the table. And while putting it in his mouth, he turned back with a shout.

“We’ve got company! Welcome them!”

With a single word, the three of them instantly came to their senses.

What he meant were killers!

Almost simultaneously, pow, pow, pow...

In the house, the sound of breaking glass sounded one after another.

And the window that had been smashed by the killer previously, a round grenade-like object was suddenly thrown in from outside after the sounds of glass breaking.

At once, a thick cloud of smoke, released from the smoke grenade, spread in all directions.

At the same time, smoke bombs were thrown in one after another through the broken windows.

The smoke rose in all directions, covering all the place rapidly.

And there was even a pungent smell in the thick smoke.

“Cover the young master and retreat!”

Mr. Ward gave an order.

Brent and Daisy immediately went over to protect Jack and Amber as they retreated towards the outside.

Their sights were blocked, and in such a situation, continuing to stay in the room would be purely seeking death.

“Ahh!”

The moment Brent and Daisy returned to Jack and Amber, Amber suddenly let out a scream, raising her hand to point at the window that had broken first.

In a fleeting moment, Jack glanced over and saw a blurred figure already standing there.

“You guys retreat!”

Mysterious Man said and then rushed towards the figure in large strides.

With the smoke and mist covering, the two engaged as soon as they met.

The sound of battling went off inside the room instantly.

They were experts!

Jack stared at the two blurred figures in the smoke as they fought back and forth and instantly made a decision in his mind.

Just as Mysterious Man and his opponent were exchanging blows, there were breath-taking dangers that suddenly surged towards Jack from all directions.

They were in perils.

Jack's body tingled all over instantly.

"There are plenty!"

Jack quickly scanned the place.

Amid the thick smoke, it was impossible to see. Not even a blurred figure could be seen.

But the smell of dangers that enveloped Jack's body made him sure that in the smoke, no, in the entire house, many killers were standing inside right now!

The same feeling also appeared in Mr. Ward, Brent and Daisy.

Just that before the three made their next move, the sound of highly dense and hurried footsteps came violently from the ground.

“Be careful!”

With a loud roar from Mr. Ward, he moved a step sideways, waved his hand and slapped towards the smoke above Amber.

Bang!

A muffled voice sounded.

Under the light, as the muffled voice rang out, a sharp blade narrowly swept past Amber’s side and fluttered to the ground.

“Ahh!”

Amber trembled as she screamed in horror.

The next second, Amber hid under the table, and she fearfully hid under the table.

And at the same time, Jack tugged the table’s edge, covering Amber under the table.

In the meantime, Mr. Ward, Brent and Daisy struck out at the smoke in front of them.

Instantly, a buzzing and whistling sound rang out from the smoke at the same time.

Jack concentrated as he looked at the misty air in front of him. The dense smoke was completely blurring his vision.

Even though he knew that he was very close to Mr. Ward and the others, he could only do his best to capture an extremely blurred figure in the smoke.

Besides, other figures were shifting in the smoke too.

“Are there so many people here this time?”

Jack curled his lips, revealing an odd smile, “Which force has put so much effort to kill me this time?”

The last sentence of his resounded through the room.

Simultaneously, “They are the Iga Clan!”

Mysterious Man’s hoarse voice, coming from not far away, responded to the doubts in Jack’s mind.

“Iga TobiRyuu, please accept my respectful ‘slash’!”

Suddenly, a cold and stern voice came into Jack’s ears.

Jack’s face changed, and he had his heart in his throat instantly.

An unprecedented horrific, homicidal intent covered his whole body, trembling with sweat.

But the smoke in front of him was so thick, and the battle was so chaotic that he couldn’t tell where the sound was coming from in an instant.

In the nick of time, “Break!”

Relying entirely on instinct, Jack smoothly picked up a plate on the table and slammed it into the air towards the smoke in front of him.

Pop!

As soon as the plate was thrown out, it exploded.

Vaguely, Jack could see a Katana slashing at his head.

Bang!

Jack right hand slapped the edge of the table, using force to move his wheelchair.

Clang!

The Katana slashed on the armrest of the wheelchair, with sparks flying off.

Without the slightest pause, the Katana deflected and slashed towards Jack’s back.

The moment Jack moved his wheelchair, he leaned down and plunged to the ground.

But he could still feel the cold sensation of the Katana moving across his back as it cut through.

“Baka!”

Accompanied by an angry curse from the smoke.

The slash that Jack almost dodged suddenly deflected once again, with the tip of the blade heading downward.

Pouch!

As the tip of the blade went upwards, there was a large amount of blood.

On the other hand, Jack even let out a muffled grunt as a sharp pain came from his back, causing him to fall from his wheelchair towards the ground instantly.

“Ahhh!”

Amber’s terrified scream sounded in his ears instantly.

Obviously, this scene had scared Amber quite severely.

As Jack slumped on the floor, he twisted his head to look under the table, and he could vaguely see

Amber curled up into a ball, holding her head and screaming.

However, his back was incomparably painful, and he could even feel the blood flowing out of the wound. The warmth and sticky wetness instantly spread all over his back.

“Young Master!”

“Mr. Hughes!”

Concurrently, Mr. Ward, Brent and Daisy yelled in the smoke.

However, Mr. Ward and Daisy screamed miserably after the yell.

These two miserable screams instantly got Jack’s dander up.

He forcibly endured the severe pain and turned over, gazing at the thick smoke around him with a cold expression.

The next second, Jack propped one hand on the ground and slowly stood up.

His eyes were raging with hostility and a blank look on his face.

However, his voice sounded like thunder.

“If you want to kill me, then come with me!”

After saying that, Jack ignored hiding his legs and turned around, heading to the bamboo garden outside the house...

Chapter 842 Bloody Trap at Hand!

The moment Jack rushed out of the house, his eyes suddenly opened up.

The bright lights in the courtyard illuminated everything clearly and legibly.

However, he didn’t stop but quickly headed outside.

Now that the room was filled with smoke, the Iga Clan had the upper hand. It would be equivalent to a beast at bay if they kept fighting in the room as they didn't know the numbers of their opponents.

If the battle couldn't be shifted as soon as possible, in the end, not only Jack but also Mr. Ward, Brent and Daisy, wouldn't be able to hold out.

Just as Jack was rushing towards the front door, the smoke at the hall entrance behind him parted, and a ninja, holding a Katana, rushed out the hall.

The ninja landed on his toes as fast as lightning.

The Katana in his hand was dragging behind him. The tip of which cut the ground, sending sparks into the air.

At the same time, he called out.

"Kill Jack Hughes!"

It was like a command, followed by the ninjas rushing out the smoke one after another.

Under the light, the ninjas were rushing towards the courtyard.

In the blink of an eye, the hall, which had been a scene of chaos, became tranquil.

After a second of silence, a few more figures were rushing out the smoke one after another.

“Young master, young master...”

Mr. Ward’s face was pale, and there was a deep wound on his left arm. Blood gurgling and staining his whole arm red.

It was a cut by a Katana during the fight with the ninja earlier.

But after rushing out of the smoke, it was as if he didn’t notice the wound on his left arm and was about to chase after them.

“Mr. Ward...”

However, Brent grabbed Mr. Ward and pulled Daisy out of the smoke, “Mr. Ward, please take care of Daisy for me. I’ll go!”

Mr. Ward, terrified and disoriented, was about to retort. Still, his face instantly changed as soon as he saw Daisy’s appearance.

At this moment, Daisy’s body was covered with several stab wounds, and her abdomen was crimson.

Daisy’s whole body was so weak that she might have fallen to the ground if it wasn’t for Brent’s support.

Among the several people, Daisy was wounded and had never recovered from her previous injuries. As for her, the battle just now had drained her out.

If Jack hadn't lured the ninjas away in time, perhaps...

"I'm fine. You guys just go and save Mr. Hughes..."

Daisy looked dull, and her pale face was filled with anxiety and worry.

"You and Mr. Ward stay here!"

Brent's expression was solemn as he rebuked in a stern voice, not allowing Daisy to retort at all.

He was clear that it would be difficult for Daisy to continue fighting against that crowd of Iga Ninjas with her injuries. And it would be suicide for going there.

Mr. Ward was old, and the battle just now, where the smoke blocked his vision, had also significantly depleted him.

In terms of combat power, that would only be Brent and Mysterious Man left.

After chiding, Brent looked at Mysterious Man.

Mysterious Man was in the best shape of the few. His expression was cold, and he was holding a Katana, which was dripping with blood.

Obviously, Mysterious Man was the only one who had killed his opponent in the short fight just now.

Mysterious Man said with a cold and stern gaze, "Brent and I will be fine to go. You guys stay here."

His words instantly made Daisy and Mr. Ward fall silent.

Just the following sentence of his had not only let Mr. Ward and Daisy heart-pounding but even Brent was struck by lightning.

Mysterious Man slowly swung his Katana, shaking off some of the blood and striding towards the outside, while saying it icily.

"Three Iga Ninja Lords and eighteen Iga Ninja Masters. If you two go, you will die too! Brent... follow me!"

Boom!

At this moment, Mr. Ward and Daisy stayed entirely in place.

Three Ninja Lords and eighteen Iga Ninja Master?

Had the Iga Clan put that much effort to kill the young master?

Daisy had witnessed the scene of Mysterious Man fighting with the Iga Ninja Lord. And at that time, Mysterious Man had fought to be injured to kill the Iga Ninja Lord.

And now... the Iga Clan had sent three at once!

That was tremendous!

Any of the Iga Clan's Ninja Lord would be a terrifying presence in the Ninja world.

Last time, it was a fiasco for the two Iga Ninja Lords sent to kill Jack.

This time, they even sent three more Ninja Lords and eighteen Ninja Master.

If one were to describe all of this, it would be Bloody Trap right now!

"God bless the young master..."

Mr. Ward's eyes were red as he looked up to the sky and wailed.

On the other hand, Daisy was disoriented as she sat down on the ground, with her body chilling, looking blankly at Brent, who had followed Mysterious Man away.

In fact, at this moment, Brent was in a trance as he followed Mysterious Man.

As he was striding, he even had a feeling of floating on his feet, like dreaming.

Three Ninja Lords!

This was indeed a horrible crisis!

After all, being a Ninja Lord in the Iga Clan was even able to start a separate sect. And the assassination in South Maine City was enough to feel the terror of the Iga Ninja Lords.

There was a vast chasm between an Iga Ninja Lord and a Ninja Lord of the ninjas.

The ratings in the Ninja world were all set by the Iga Ninja Lords!

And now, there were three Ninja Lords and a group of Ninja Master chasing after Jack!

“Can it really work?”

Brent murmured in a heavy tone, showing great despair...

And this was a time like no other in his life!

He had never been in such a state of despair and despondency, even when he had been on the battlefield and had experienced life-and-death situation countless times.

“Our mission is to replace the three Ninja Lords. When Lone Wolf and the others arrive, they will be enough to take care of the remaining Ninja Master!”

Mysterious Man said in a hoarse voice.

But the emotions revealed in his words were also very desperate as if he had fallen into the abyss.

Brent shuddered as he listened, and his eyes were fluttering, but he regained consciousness quickly.

What Mysterious Man said was to replace and not kill!

Brent gave a bitter smile suddenly.

“Two for three. Even you are uncertain yet?”

“Have a guess.”

Mysterious Man glanced back at Brent.

Brent grinned.

Was there a need to guess?

Even the high and mighty, domineering Mysterious Man had now uttered the word ‘replace’, was there still a need to guess?

Brent took a deep breath and smiled ruefully, “For the young master, so be it!”

Instantly, the intention of dying was emanated from Brent’s body.

Even Mysterious Man was astonished when looking at Brent at this moment.

The next second, Mysterious Man handed over the blood-stained Katana to Brent.

“Take the weapon. I’ll figure it out myself later!”

Chapter 843 Jack VS The Three Ninja Lords!

The night was cold.

Following the murder intent, sounds of thunderous killing rang in the Four Impressions Club.

The tens of ninja masters had no intention of chasing after Jack.

They were instead stopping and obstructing the security guards led by Lone Wolf.

The empty land outside Bamboo Grove was filled with shadows.

In a split moment of chill.

Slashing sounds and gun sounds echoed in the air.

Blood was everywhere, and tragic wailings rang through.

Under the light, this scene was particularly shocking.

Lone Wolf had brought many security guards, but when facing tens of ninja lords, it was as if sheep facing wolves.

The battle intensified.

Even the tens of ninja lords in the crowd looked like they would be able to kill them all easily.

When the Mysterious Man and Brent reached the Bamboo Grove.

“You chase after them first, I will get the weapons!”

Mysterious Man instructed, and dashed straight into the crowd, heading straight for one of the ninja masters.

Brent didn't hesitate either, holding his samurai long sword, he followed the edge of the battle zone, and swiftly chased towards the direction in which Jack and the others had left.

But he didn't get far.

In the thorns, a sudden cold light burst through.

Without hesitation, Brent immediately swung his sword.

Bang!

Sparks burst out.

The burst of strength from Brent's hands instantly forced the opponent to stagger back three steps.

“Sir, I am your opponent!”

When the ninja master opposite him stabilized himself, he said in a deep voice.

Nevertheless.

“Go to hell!”

Brent didn't hesitate, he spat out three words, swung his sword and dashed towards him.

He knew it.

These ninja masters were here to obstruct them from saving Jack.

If he couldn't settle this quickly, and get rid of the ninja masters in front of him as soon as possible, he would definitely be dragged into deeper mud.

They were just ninja masters, Brent didn't take them to heart.

But if the opponent tried their utmost to delay them, this would be worrying.

What's more, Jack's side couldn't be delayed.

The three ninja lords had already chased after him, and it was only Jack who was singularly handling them.

Brent knew Jack's strength, he also knew Jack's unusual fighting instinct.

Jack could control the situation with his own strength, even without using his own fighting instinct!

Not far away from Bamboo Grove.

At that moment, the night was heavy, and the bamboo forest was pitch dark.

Even though the night sky was filled with stars and moon, but even the light of the stars and moon couldn't pass through the deep layers of bamboo leaves.

Whoosh!

Jack was like lightning, the wind from his dash left the bamboo leaves rustling.

Behind him was three silhouettes, their speed was even faster than him, closing the distance between them.

Jack's expression was grim, in his ears echoed the killer shouts that were coming from behind him.

He was sure that the danger in Bamboo Grove was already solved.

But now was his real threat!

"Iga Tobi Ryuu, who is Iga TobiKou to you?"

Jack asked while running.

"That is my brother!"

A voice answered.

Jack sneered, "So you are brothers, but to be honest, your brother Iga TobiKou is way worse than you,

he died in my hands!”

“Fuck!”

With this simple sentence, Iga who was behind him fell into a fury.

Just when this scolding rang through.

Swish...

A dense rustling sound rang though the bamboo woods.

Jack’s expression changed, fear and shock appeared in his eyes.

At this moment, even if he didn’t turn around to look, the chills that passed from his feet to his spine were enough to make him imagine what was behind him.

Ninjas were not just fighting machines and ninja art. Darts... were also their strength.

Dense whistling sounds.

Jack couldn’t imagine the number of darts that were behind him, they were coming from the killer that was chasing after him.

In the flash of a light.

His expression sharpened, and he suddenly waved his right hand.

Whoosh!

With a crisp sound, the bamboo instantly broke from its roots.

Whoosh...

As Jack pulled, the bamboo fell directly towards him.

Using the force of pulling the bamboo, Jack rushed forwards.

Puff...

The darts and kunai fell from the sky along with the bamboos, hitting the bamboo branches and leaves, and were obstructed.

And there were not many darts and kunai that were left that had pierced through the bamboos.

Jack turned around suddenly, facing the flying darts and kunai. His body was as healthy as an ape, he ducked and moved around quickly.

Boom!

At the moment Jack managed to duck from a dart and kunai.

The bamboo that was pulled down by him, broke into two.

The three shadows of the ninja lords brazenly rose from behind the bamboo, and landed steadily ten metres away from Jack.

Surrounding him, the killer atmosphere was strong.

The only thing that echoed in the air was the rustling sound of bamboo leaves being blown by the wind in the surrounding bamboo forest.

Jack's expression was grim, he was trying his best to be calm, but deep in his eyes, he couldn't hide his fear.

He felt a very strong pressure from the three ninja lords in front of him.

It was as if the end was near.

The three ninja lords stood silently on the spot, not attacking immediately.

But the killing intent emitted from the silence.

It made Jack feel very sure that his death was near.

This feeling, he had already experienced before when he was facing Iga TobiKou, it didn't feel strange to him at all.

What's more... in front of him were three ninja lords!

“Ha!”

Jack suddenly laughed, “Who am I Jack, to attract such attention of the Iga Clan, last time there were two ninja lords that failed terribly, now it’s even three ninja lords coming over!”

“Being able to kill my brother and that of equal status, has already proved your strength.”

One of them took a step forward, a visor concealed his face, only his eyes were shown. He had a killing intent that showed he was out for blood, “This is also why the three of us came together, Sir... you really exceeded Iga TobiRyuu’s expectations!”

“I’m proud of that.”

Jack shrugged, and looked at his surroundings where no one was in sight. The bamboo forest was pitch dark. He laughed helplessly, “You three ninja lords are teaming up to kill me, according to your warrior spirit, I don’t think you would kill me when I am under such a helpless condition right?”

Hearing that, the two ninja lords behind Iga TobiRyuu exchanged a glance.

But Iga TobiRyuu gave a cold laugh, “We are ninja lords, carrying out our duties is our main goal. As for warrior duties, if you want it, I can give it to you.”

“Bam!”

A blinding light flashed across.

Iga TobiRyuu suddenly slashed a bamboo, he flew towards Jack with a Katana, and then quickly retracted the Katana like a scabbard.

“Bam!”

Jack held the bamboo that had shot towards him, and sneered, “You guys... are too shameless, how could you know that I can kill you three with just a bamboo...”

Chapter 844 Tricks !

His laughter was sly.

His contempt was not concealed at all.

Suddenly, the eyes of Iga TobiRyuu and the three ninja lords turned cold.

They were ninja lords, they were ninja lords from the Iga Clan.

It could be called the most supreme existence in the ninja world.

Regardless of status or strength, no matter where they went, they had never been underestimated by others, and had always been praised and lauded.

But now, Jack’s words were like a burning sword that slashed across their face. Not only did they slash their faces, but they also burned the flesh and blood on their faces!

What's more... it's three of them!

Not just towards one of them!

“Fuck!”

Suddenly, the two ninja lords standing on the left and right of Iga burst out loudly at the same time.

Like two mighty beasts, brandishing a samurai long sword, they rushed towards Jack brazenly.

As they rushed towards him, their samurai swords danced, two gusts of wind emitted from the two ninja lords, and the thick bamboo leaves that were strewn on the ground flew up.

Bamboo leaves fluttered around in the silent bamboo woods.

His vision was foggy.

Jack's brows were furrowed, his expression grim, he perked up in attention.

When he was facing Iga TobiKou, he had already understood the scary power of the Iga ninja lord.

Even if it was Iga TobiKou who had first underestimated his enemy, and then fell into a shocking killer battle after that.

The final result was still that he was almost killed by Iga TobiKou.

Now that he was facing three of them at the same time, if he had any intention of underestimating them, then it wasn't a pity if he died.

What he said just now was just to anger the three ninja lords.

In his final death battle, he was just trying to find a tinge of hope.

But things were not progressing in the way Jack had expected.

With a sharp gaze, Jack's eyes took a look at Iga TobiRyuu.

His words were the most hurtful towards Iga TobiRyuu, but now Iga TobiRyuu was rooted to the spot and not attacking. This was sufficient to prove that his words just now had no effect whatsoever on the three ninja lords.

Being able to train to Iga ninja lord's level, it required not just pure strength, there was also attitude considered... and his was beyond them!

Bam!

Bam!

Cold light streaked across the sky suddenly, flashing across Jack's face.

All of a sudden.

All the hair on Jack's body stood up, as if he had fell into an icy cave.

His eyes subconsciously narrowed into a thin line.

In his sight, the two samurai long swords had flown into the sky, and were slashing down at him.

In the speed of light.

Jack flagrantly waved the bamboo in his hand, but he didn't immediately attack. Instead, he approached from an angle by the side, slicing through.

Bang bang!

Two continuous rings sounded.

The two samurai swords that were sliced by Jack repelled. At the same time, Jack also kicked his feet on the ground and flew back.

A bamboo and a Katana, comparing these two weapons, they were definitely not on the same level.

If they had to attack each other head-to-head, the two Katana alone would be enough to make the only "weapon" in his hand crumble on the spot.

Apart from using some tricks, he had no other option!

At the moment when Jack repelled the two long swords and retreated, the two ninja lords who rushed up gasped in shock at the same time, apparently surprised by Jack's attack at this moment.

As a result, when Jack pulled away and flew back, the two ninja lords, who were extremely experienced in fighting, didn't immediately take advantage of the victory to attack, but it was too late!

They didn't try anything fancy, instead they straight away used a normal Katana to slash.

They were sure that with two people attacking him, even a normal Katana slash would be sufficient to kill Jack.

But the result now made the two ninja lords' hearts turn cold.

The bloodthirsty look in Iga TobiRyu's eyes who stood majestically rooted on the spot dimmed, and a look of surprise flashed in it.

“Using tricks, using a diagonal angle to attack the Katana's side, it's not a hard attack, but it is instead changing the Katana's trajectory. You could have such a quick decision within such a short time, you are indeed the Hughes family's heir.

An air of hostility surfaced on Jack's face who was retreating back.

“Do not insult me with the name of the Hughes family successor, you should say, I deserve to be the successor to the Hughes family!”

Iga TobiRyuu’s eyes crinkled, his veins pounding.

With Jack’s words, he could feel the arrogant air coming from him.

However, he didn’t retaliate.

Iga TobiRyuu was a prominent ninja from the Iga Clan, he had also met some of the successors of the Hughes family. But without any exception, in his eyes, under the attack of the two ninja lords, they couldn’t have had made the decision that Jack had made.

A hint of anxiousness appeared in the eyes of the two attacking ninja lords.

“Unruly generation, how arrogant!”

“You indeed have some talent, but you still have to die.”

Bam!

Bam!

Before he finished his sentence.

The two ninja lords kicked off from the ground, like fire, they suddenly took their Katana and attacked

Jack again.

There was still some use!

Jack's expression was grim, but in his eyes showed a hint of glee.

At the very least, Iga TobiRyuu and the two of them, had chosen the most head-on attacking method!

They wanted to crush him with pure fighting strength. This gave him the possibility of delaying things.

If it were the three ninja lords' own strategies, it would have been very confusing.

Jack felt a total disappointment.

Facing these three ninja lords, Jack had never thought that he could really turn around and attack them.

He had wanted to delay time, dragging the battle from the bamboo grove, which was full of extremely unfavourable smoke, to this empty bamboo forest. If he delayed it until Brent and the mysterious man arrived, the battle would be slightly easier.

He looked at the two ninja lords that were sprinting towards him like arrows.

Jack didn't meet them right away, he raised his right arm, holding the bamboo, retreating while dancing, as if a lightning, quickly hitting the bamboos on his left and right.

Slap!

Crisp sounds rang in the air. In the bamboo forest, it was as if firecrackers were going off.

But while he was retreating, the two ninja lords were rushing forwards.

The speed of both parties was not on the same level.

This resulted in the distance between them getting closer and closer.

The two ninja lords were keen to kill, wrapped in a terrible chill, and they were pulling closer.

With the distance drawing closer, the two ninja lords felt stunned at the same time.

Because they could both see clearly that Jack's lips were mumbling, as if saying something.

However, even though they were surprised, they had no intention of stopping.

With their strength, what's more there were two of them against one, if they stopped simply because of this odd situation, it would be downright humiliation for them!

The same situation happened to Iga TobiRyuu.

Looking at the grim face of Jack, as well as him mumbling to himself, an uneasy thought came to him.

Slap...

The sound of firecrackers caused by Jack who was hitting the bamboo, rang out loudly in the woods.

When the two ninja lords got closer to Jack, with their hearing, they finally could hear clearly what Jack was mumbling about.

“Five metres.”

“Four metres.”

“Three metres.”

What?!

The two ninja lords' gaze froze.

Just when Jack was at “three metres”.

His right hand suddenly waved, and with a bang, he broke the bamboo on his right.

He then leaped into the air, his right foot felt like a dragon moving horizontally, and slammed on the bamboo.

The broken bamboo instantly slammed into the two ninja lords who were three metres away.

The expressions of the two ninja lords changed drastically, and they swung their swords at the same time.

In an instant, in the darkness, the cold light flashed.

Slap...

Jack once again retreated two metres, at the same time a crisp sound of bamboo being hit rang through.

Bang!

When Jack stabilized himself, there was a crash on the opposite side.

The bamboo that was kicked out by him was slashed and scattered all over the ground by the two ninja lords using a thunder Katana in this very short period of time.

But still.

He didn't wait for the two ninja lords to continue.

On Jack's lips suddenly appeared a mocking laugh.

"It's too late!"

What?!

At this moment, when the two ninja lords faced Jack's laughter, they suddenly felt as if their scalp had turned numb.

Chapter 845 The Supreme Glory

"What?"

Almost at the same time, Iga TobiRyuu who stopped at that same place was startled.

And yet.

At that moment.

Iga TobiRyuu and two Ninja Lords suddenly constricted their pupils.

The three of them saw clearly that the muscles of Jack's right hand rose up massively, and waved and yanked behind him with a tremendous force!

Crunch...

In the silent bamboo forest, a piercing sound suddenly echoed.

Bang, bang, bang, bang...

The bamboos, with the sound, shook and snapped apart like a mountain, covering and swallowing down everything in the direction of the two Ninja Lords.

That sudden change made the two Ninja Lords exclaim at the same time.

Facing the overwhelming collapse of the bamboos, they couldn't help but feel shocked.

However.

When the two of them wanted to rush out of the range of the bamboo's "threat", a sensation of cold swept from the sole of the foot to the top of the skull.

Because they were surprised to realize that every bamboo that broke and fell down just blocked their way out!

That made them have no way to go back during that fast collapse!

Crash...

When the bamboos fell, the branches crossed each other and collided.

The loud sound of the bamboo cracking echoed in the forest.

All that happened in just a blink of an eye.

After that "boom" sound, dozens of bamboos thoroughly landed, like a collapsing mountain, and the two Ninja Lords were buried in it.

At the same moment, the screams of the two Ninja Lords sounded in the bamboos.

And with that.

The bamboos were dead silent again.

“What’s going on?”

Iga TobiRyuu was completely stunned, and his eyes, the only part visible on his masked face, had a shocked expression.

He had no idea about what was happening and how Jack was able to do that.

The crushing of the bamboo was not enough to kill those two companions on the spot, but it created an effective stall.

But now, Iga TobiRyuu didn’t care anymore about what Jack was up to, but he was curious to know how Jack did it!

As Jack flew away, he waved the bamboo with his right hand and tapped the other bamboos quickly along the way. Iga TobiRyuu was keeping his eyes on that weird action.

Anyway, he was sure that those quick strikes would never make the bamboos completely collapse in an instant just with the waving of Jack’s arms.

“Listen!”

Distant far away, Jack was laughing.

Iga TobiRyuu's body shook, and his brows furrowed extremely.

He listened hurriedly and carefully.

Whoosh!

Suddenly, in the darkness, there was a faint wind crackling.

The sound was so subtle that if you didn't pay attention, you couldn't hear it at all!

Wait!

That was...

Iga TobiRyuu's eyes lit up with fear and his body, wrapped in tight ninja dress, began to tremble faintly.

His eyes were glued to Jack's face.

Faintly visible, Jack's right hand moved slightly.

"Your fish scale strings?"

Iga TobiRyuu let out a loud scream of fear, so much so that his voice became hoarse.

At that moment, he understood instantly as if he was suddenly enlightened.

It was impossible to provoke all that just by beating on the bamboos.

But it could be done by wrapping the fish scale strings around each of the bamboos as they were struck, using the sound of the beating on the bamboos as a cover!

Striking the bamboos would not cause the bamboos to break in an instant, but a powerful blow would be enough to shatter the fibrous structure in the points where they were struck, and then they would be wound by the fish scale strings. In an instant, he would be able to break dozens of bamboos in an instant just using a minimal force, and create that appalling spectacle.

When Iga TobiRyu figured it out, he gave Jack a different look.

In his eyes, there was shock, disbelief, and even some fear...

None of the intelligence information they had received about Jack matched the real Jack.

Before his arrival, they calculated the risks and difficulties of killing Jack basing on the reminders of Iga TobiKou and the two Ninja Lords.

So, that time, there were three Ninja Lords leading eighteen Ninja masters swarming forward.

Anyway, the way Iga TobiRyu was looking at Jack at that moment was hard to describe.

On his back, he even felt cold.

If all that was provoked by a smart and experienced strong warrior, he would never have such a feeling, but he would see it as reasonable.

But in front of him, there was Jack, a guy who was less than thirty years old!

The intelligence also showed that the time of his transformation was within this year or more.

His mind, calculation, and determination...just provoked that scaring scene.

Iga TobiRyuu was already considered the best of the Iga Clan. He knew himself that he did not have that ability of calculation and calmness when he was at Jack's age and in such a deadly situation.

Clang!

Iga TobiRyuu suddenly brandished his katana and let out a piercing roar in the air.

Then he moved his right foot towards Jack.

He said softly, "Your majestic temperament, discernment and abilities shocked me. Among all the people of your age, I, Iga TobiRyuu, respect you as the strongest one!"

Iga TobiRyuu pronounced those words from the bottom of his heart.

As a man having a rich combat experience, that scene was enough to make him praise Jack in that way!

“Should I be happy or unhappy that my opponent who wants to kill me is praising me?”

Jack rubbed his nose and smiled playfully.

He didn't mind to talk more to Iga TobiRyuu. No matter if they were good or bad people, everyone would die from talking too much. But at some point, like right now, talking more could help him buy more time.

“For a Ninja, this is your supreme glory!”

“I wonder if you can keep absolutely calm until the day you will die” Iga TobiRyuu said. He surged fiercely, and a violent roar under his feet rolled up some bamboo big leaves.

Buzz!

He just finished speaking.

Iga TobiRyuu rushed to a place less than five meters away from Jack.

Unexpectedly, he lifted the katana and dropped it, and then he suddenly slashed down with a violent rage.

Boom...

The katana was far less than Jack was, but when it fell, an overwhelming gust of wind provoked by its lethality drove some thick bamboo leaves on the ground into a gully, directly towards Jack.

“Lethality?!”

Jack’s expression changed dramatically, and for an instant, he was tense, as if he were held captive by a killing intent.

He had already seen the same scene!

When Isaac Wells used his ‘Killer God’s Slash’, he could obtain that kind of effect!

The katana of Iga TobiRyuu was definitely not as good as that of Isaac, but its lethality would be enough to kill!

The whistling of the katana sounded in the ears.

Facing the overwhelming lethality of the katana, Jack got gooseflesh.

“Break it!”

With a piercing roar, Jack bowed sharply, and the bamboo in his hand cleaved the air directly in front of him like a sword.

Boom!

There was an explosion.

The bamboo was blown apart by the lethality of the katana.

Immediately.

Puff!

A tuft of blood suddenly sprayed across the air in the dark bamboo forest.

Chapter 846 Doing It As Same As Before?

Plink... plink...

Blood dripped down on top of the bamboo leaves and made a sound.

The smell of the blood gradually overwhelmed the scent of decay in the bamboo forest.

Jack hunched over while his right hand pressed tightly against his left shoulder.

But blood continued to seep out between his fingers, running down his arms and dripping onto the ground.

Iga TobiRyuu slowly withdrew his Katana. He looked at Jack with astonishment.

“You’re... one of the few who survived my Iaido Slash...”

His voice was deep. As he tried to suppress the shock of what just happened. And yet, he couldn’t help but praise Jack, "If it weren't for the mission, I, Zhuge TobiRyuu would like to befriend you."

It was hard to convince someone.

It was even harder to subdue an opponent who wanted to take your life.

However, at that moment, the Iga Ninja Lord, Iga TobiRyuu praised Jack from the bottom of his heart.

His voice fell on Jack's ears.

Jack, however, stretched the corner of his mouth and smiled, "If I had reacted slower, that slash would have split me in half."

The moment when the lethality approached, Jack swung the bamboo. At the same time, he used all of his strength to sidestep, breaking through the lock on from Iga TobiRyuu's killing blow.

To be exact.

The swinging of the bamboo was only a momentary delay. Jack's real aim was to sidestep so that he could break through the lock on from Iga TobiRyuu's killing blow.

He never had thought that using bamboo was able to parry the lethality. He was thinking about how to survive the lethality, while retaining most of his strength.

And obviously, he had done it!

“I’ve never seen such skills in my entire life.”

Iga TobiRyuu said in a deep voice. The way he looked at Jack became gradually colder, “But I know that you’re just trying to delay. So that your guards can catch up to you. So, I want to have a duel with you in a proper manner!”

What?!

Jack looked aghast.

With a flash in his eyes, he saw a short blade flown towards him with a swoosh.

It was from Iga TobiRyuu who drew his samurai shuriken from his waist and threw it to him.

Whap!

Jack raised his hand and caught the samurai shuriken and swung it in the air. It immediately made a gust of wind from the swing.

“Great blade!”

Jack could not help but praise the craftsmanship of the samurai shuriken. And then, he looked at Iga

TobiRyuu with an odd expression, “Are you sure you want to duel with me properly?”

“Didn’t you want to talk about Bushido?”

Iga TobiRyuu slowly stood up and took a step back on his right foot. While inserting his Katana back into its sheath, he looked straight at Jack like a hawk. His gaze was stern, “In the heart of a ninja, there’s no Bushido. There’s only the mission and the will to become stronger!”

“Are you trying to make me your grindstone for your samurai shuriken?”

It was clear for Jack as he shook his head and laughed lightly.

“You have the strength to be qualified as one. Your strength is no weaker than an Iga Ninja Lord!”

Iga TobiRyuu replied in a deep voice.

Suddenly.

Wham! Wham!

At that very moment, two loud thuds were being heard in the bamboo forest.

Hidden by the thick bamboo forest, two Ninja Lords leaped out from it by jumping on top of intertwined bamboos.

When they landed, the two Ninja Lords were in much disarray as they could be.

The ninja outfits were torn and tattered by bamboo branches. Their skins were exposed by each gaping hole which still bore blood.

Even with the protection of the mask, parts of their face were exposed and were dripping with blood.

Although there were cuts and bruises everywhere, they weren't fatal.

But with this wretched appearance was the greatest humiliation to the two Ninja Lord!

"TobiRyuu-kun, you're going to duel him?"

When one of them saw the samurai shuriken in Jack's hand, anger rose in his eyes, "TobiRyuu-kun, we're on a mission. This is not a child's play!"

"He survived from my Iaido Slash, and this gave me the will to duel with him!"

Without looking back, Iga TobiRyuu responded to the scolding Ninja Lord.

Rumble!

The two Ninja Lords felt like they were struck by lightning.

With terrified eyes, they looked at Jack, who was standing across them.

They knew the power of Iga TobiRyuu's Iaido Slash, and even the two of them couldn't even take it on without injuring themselves.

Yet Jack... had already taken it with just an arm injury. Which was indeed amazing!

“With the three of us Ninja Lords here. Even if his reinforcement arrived, couldn’t we three be able to kill him instantly?”

The questioning voice of Iga TobiRyuu was heard once again.

The two Ninja Lords with the wretched appearance looked at each other and gave a simultaneous nod.

But no more words were spoken.

It was apparent that they approved of the duel between Jack and Iga TobiRyuu.

“Then I will reluctantly accept your challenge!”

Jack gripped his samurai shuriken tightly in his right hand and no longer bothered with his left arm, which was bleeding. He slowly bowed down and took a fighting stance.

Facing the three Ninja Lords, he had no chance of winning in a fight. He could only try to stall for time by any means possible.

But if he were to fight only Iga TobiRyuu, he’d have the confidence to win it!

“Phew...”

Jack slowly exhaled, and as the breath exhaled, his mind gradually calmed down. He was as still as calm water. His gaze was like a torch.

In the bamboo forest.

The surroundings returned to dead silence.

The atmosphere was filled with killing intent as sharp as a sword.

Even the duel had not begun. The killing intent between Jack and Iga TobiRyuu had already collided.

In a flash.

Bam!

Jack was the first to strike. He brazenly split bamboo and kicked it towards Iga TobiRyuu with the samurai shuriken in his hand.

“Baka!”

Without dodging, Iga TobiRyuu held his Katana with both hands and charged head-on.

“Splat!”

With the bursting sound from the Katana breaking through the bamboo. After destroying it, he approached Jack with breakneck speed.

But.

Jack mustn't let him come too close.

Jack immediately drew himself back and retreated.

At the same time.

Split-splat...

He swung the samurai shuriken in flurry streaks, slicing the bamboo along the way with lightning-fast speed as he fell back.

It's a familiar scene.

It made Iga TobiRyuu's pupils contract.

The two Ninja Lords trembled with anger as if their anger was about to spill out from their eyes.

Was he going to do what he just did?

Did he really think that Iga TobiRyuu was as stupid as pigs?

Jack's just plain stupid!

"Jack, you're too young, too simple. I, Iga TobiRyu, will never fall into your tricks again!"

Splat!

With a crunching sound, Iga TobiRyuu sliced through a long bamboo completely.

Like lightning, he rushed towards Jack at great speed.

But Jack, however, looked cold, completely ignoring Iga TobiRyuu's words.

As he fell back, his samurai shuriken struck the bamboo along the way in rapid succession.

Split-splat...

It was like the sound of firecrackers exploding for a long time.

And as their distance drew closer.

Iga TobiRyuu heard a murmuring countdown from Jack's mouth.

"Five metres."

"Four metres."

Three metres."

Iga TobiRyuu was a little disappointed, as the same trick was used. When a trick was used for the first time, Ninja Lords might get caught off guard.

But using the same trick twice was an utterly foolish move!

When he heard 'three meters', Jack swung his samurai shuriken and split a bamboo in one slice. The bamboo flew up in the air. With his thick leg, he kicked the bamboo at Iga TobiRyuu with a loud bang.

Every single detail was the same as before.

Iga TobiRyuu, who was very confident, didn't swing his Katana at the oncoming bamboo as what the two Ninja Lords had done earlier.

Instead, using the momentum of his forwards lunge, he leaned back with his head and his back almost touching the ground. He dodged underneath bamboo that was heading towards him. As he continued to chase Jack.

However.

At that very moment.

The two spectating Ninja Lords' expression changed abruptly.

In unison, they exclaimed.

"Look out!"

Chapter847 Jack And Iga TobiRyuu's Fight

Crap!

The groans of his partners caused Iga TobiRyuu's hairs to stand as he laid on the ground.

Almost at the same moment, Iga TobiRyuu was engulfed with the terror of being close to coming killed.

Iga TobiRyuu raised his head and saw Jack's grin. This felt like a sledgehammer pounding forcefully onto Iga TobiRyuu's chest. In a flash, Iga TobiRyuu's stabbed his sword into the ground to stop his slide.

But before Iga TobiRyuu drew his sword, Jack had already rushed forward towards him and drew the samurai shuriken.

Stab! Jack plunged the samurai shuriken into Iga TobiRyuu's abdomen and blood gushed out. The intense pain caused Iga TobiRyuu to panic immediately.

He yelled in agony and frowned deeply and instinctively swung his fist at Jack.

Bash! The punch caused Jack to stumble backward five steps and extended the distance between them. Iga TobiRyuu took the opportunity and struggled onto his feet. He looked down and was furious to see his injuries. Iga TobiRyuu had the feeling of being a survivor. If he had been just a fraction of a second slower, that stab could have been fatal! It showed how deadly Jack's strike was and his desire to quickly finish this fight. This caused Iga TobiRyuu to have a different view of Jack and Iga TobiRyuu even began to fear Jack.

He quickly composed himself while slowly raising his head. It was dead silent.

“You had anticipated this.” Jack scoffed and continued, “Otherwise how can we be equals?”

Iga TobiRyuu shuddered and looked at Jack’s injured left shoulder and smiled.

The other two ninja lords looked on in fear as Iga TobiRyuu and Jack communicated.

During their fight, they had thought that Jack was only reacting to their attacks but they never expected that Jack already anticipated their plans.

It was their underestimation of Jack that he was almost able to strike Iga TobiRyuu fatally.

Iga TobiRyuu barely survived Jack’s strike. Although Jack was their assassination target, they could not deny that Jack almost ended the fight with just one knife stroke!

Just how terrifying were Jack’s abilities?

Whoosh! Iga TobiRyuu did not hang around to chat and immediately raised his katana and rushed towards Jack. He had not forgotten about what he was there to do. Every second that he delayed would expose all of them to extra risks. However, he also wanted to use this encounter with Jack to push his limits and hone his skills.

Time was of the essence. Now Iga TobiRyuu did not have the luxury of time to use Jack as a means of sharpening his skills. Jack did not attempt to avoid Iga TobiRyuu's charge but stood firm and extended the samurai shuriken forward.

Then, clank clank clank...

Sounds of the swords clashing could be heard from the bamboo forest. Each clashing of the swords was accompanied by sparks flying. The sparks dimly lit up Jack and Iga TobiRyuu's bodies. The two exchanged blows and the swords blurred as they were swung at each other. Even the other two ninja lords looked on with awe.

The two silhouettes of Iga TobiRyuu and Jack blurred in the dim forest. Both fought all out for their lives. Occasionally there would be the crackle of a bamboo stem being chopped and crashing down onto the ground. Both Jack and Iga TobiRyuu could see clearly each other's wounds as they fought.

Although their wounds were not life-threatening, the fresh blood seeping out of Iga TobiRyuu's wound caused the other two ninja lords to look at this fight differently.

"Those in the Iga Clan who were responsible for gathering information on Jack had failed them. There was such a huge difference between what they were told about Jack's fighting abilities and what they were experiencing now!" One of the ninja lords remarked. They did not know how Iga TobiKou died but from the way Jack fought Iga TobiRyuu, they were sure that Jack exploited Iga TobiKou's error to deal a fatal blow onto him!

The other ninja lord nodded and smiled, "It was truly astounding that Jack could kill Iga TobiKou at his age. Although Iga TobiKou and Iga TobiRyuu were brothers, their skills were of different levels. It was only a matter of time when Jack succumbed to Iga TobiRyuu. But to have such skills at this age, Jack is clearly a talent and a true fighter."

"But alas, he would have to die eventually and destined to be killed by Iga TobiRyuu." He said this with utter disdain. Jack was regarded as a walking dead in the presence of three great ninja lords.

If it had not been Iga TobiRyuu trying to use the fight with Jack to hone his skills, the three ninja lords would have joined efforts to kill Jack and he would be dead within seconds! There was nothing to say that they had to fight Jack one on one.

When a champion of his domain had reached his peak, it would be rare to find a fighter that could fight on the same level to advance his skills. It would be even rarer that the opponent could fight so well as to threaten the champion's life. At Iga TobiRyuu's skill level, it was very rare to find a worthy fighting opponent... that could threaten his life!

Clank! Both swords clashed amid a shower of sparks. The intense impact of the swords sent both stumbling backward.

Iga TobiRyuu was first to regain his footing and without hesitation, the muscles on his hands tensed as he raised his katana, slashed and yelled, "Iaido Slash!"

Whoosh! The intense power of the slash rushed forward towards and engulfed Jack. Although Jack had once encountered the "Iaido Slash", he stood his ground and did not move. Instead, he started to grin frostily under the ferocious glare of Iga TobiRyuu.

Jack raised his samurai shuriken and prepared to receive the "Iaido Slash" head on!

Chapter 848 Iaido Slash

"Is he insane? Does he think that Iga TobiRyuu's Iaido Slash can be so easily countered?" The two ninja lords remarked in unison. Even for them, they would never attempt to take repeated blows of the Iaido Slash from Iga TobiRyuu. They would certainly try to avoid it if they could. In their assessment, Jack had other choices apart from standing his ground and receiving the Iaido Slash from Iga TobiRyuu. However, instead of choosing the other options, Jack chose the worse possible option which was to face it head-on!

“Die with your arrogance!” Even Iga TobiRyuu yelled when he saw that Jack did not choose to run.

During the fight with Jack, Iga TobiRyuu could sense that Jack was careful to avoid most of his fatal blows but this time, Jack who was holding onto the samurai shuriken, did not choose to dodge.

He looked determined to fight! That to Iga TobiRyuu was simply waiting for his death! There was a huge difference in Iga TobiRyuu’s sword skills!

“I’ll be able to counter this!” Jack remarked.

Time seemed to slow down at that moment. The slash of the sword was simple and powerful.

Boom! It rocked loudly. Shockwaves could be seen with the naked eye and radiated outwards in all directions. Even the leaves at Jack’s feet were tossed upward by the advancing shockwaves.

Rustle...

The surrounding bamboo stems knocked against each other, splintered, and shattered with the propagating shockwaves.

With the samurai shuriken extended, Jack could feel the intense energy in the shockwaves piercing his hands and then his body.

Instantly, his arms started to bleed, and felt the intense pain from the shockwaves. The shockwaves tattered his clothes and his body started to bleed.

“Spew!” Jack shuddered and spit out a mouthful of blood.

Iga TobiRyuu started to grin sinisterly when he saw this and said, “I regard you as my strongest opponent but I hope that you aren’t so arrogant. You deserve credit to be able to survive my blow but it was out of arrogance and stupidity rather than skill. You have disappointed me!”

Once he finished saying, the other two ninja lords also started to nod in agreement. To them, what Jack did was nothing more than youthful defiance and blatant arrogance. He was simply lucky to have survived this horrific and powerful blow. But his arrogance was unacceptable!

In the martial arts world, the most unbecoming of a warrior was arrogance. No matter how talented a warrior was, if he were to be arrogant just because of whatever skills he had, then he would not last long.

Then, Jack raised his hand and gently wiped the blood from his mouth. He then said something that blew away Iga TobiRyuu and the other two ninja lords.

Jack said firmly, "If I don't endure another blow from you, how... would I be able to learn from it?" His tone was calm but had a hint of mischief. Jack grinned frostily as he looked at Iga TobiRyuu.

Kaboom! Jack's words rocked Iga TobiRyuu and the other two ninja lords. Their minds were instantly blown away!

Learn? Was this chap insane? Did he think that everything could be learned?

Surprise, disbelief, disdain, and all sorts of feelings stirred within the three ninja lords.

Such swordplay could only be unleashed when a certain level of skills had been attained. Only then could a swordsman be able to even attempt to perfect the skill!

Learn? It was a dream made by a fool! No one could even attempt it without strong foundations in sword skills. If someone without such sword skills could master this technique, then it would break all rules and norms of the martial arts world!

"Jack, oh Jack... your arrogance has exceeded my imaginations." Iga TobiRyuu composed himself and said with frustration. His right hand still gripped the katana tightly until his veins throbbed and scolded,

“I wanted to spar with you because I regarded you as a worthy opponent but now you’ve tested my patience, and I...”

Before Iga TobiRyuu could finish saying, Iga TobiRyuu’s expression changed drastically and was horrified. Jack was bare-bodied, bleeding and slowly took up the stance of the “Iaido Slash”.

Then, Jack calmly and softly said but what he said exploded in Iga TobiRyuu’s ears, “Focusing my internal strength towards the sword, I’ll give it a try!”

At that moment, Iga TobiRyuu became horrified. He felt as though he was a prey being hunted by a predator. Terror gripped his entire body and the other two ninja lords also felt similar.

However, compared to Iga TobiRyuu, the other two ninja lords still had the luxury to watch in relative safety.

“That’s impossible. He couldn’t possibly learn it.”

“Fuck! Does he think that he can learn it simply by experiencing it twice? Even God could not possibly allow this to happen. No one could possibly learn such form of swordplay just by observing it twice...”

The doubts of the two ninja lords echoed through the bamboo forest. The next second...

“Iaido Slash!” On Jack’s declaration, he bolted towards Iga TobiRyuu like an arrow shot from the bow.

The atmosphere was tensed and death lingered in the air. At that moment, Jack's ferocity brought chills to all the ninja lords. They could feel the coldness of death piercing straight into their bones.

Iga TobiRyuu shuddered as his wide-open eyes looked on in disbelief. When his eyes regained their focus, he could see that Jack was already inches from him.

There was no hesitation nor any desire to dodge. He knew that it would be impossible for Jack to grasp the swordplay and Iga TobiRyuu did not believe that Jack could possibly successfully replicate the

"Iaido Slash".

That was why he simply stood in place and braced for the impact, just as Jack did a moment ago.

Boom! The wind rushed.

Clank! The two swords impacted in a shower of sparks.

It was as if Jack and Iga TobiRyuu were frozen in time and place as both stood in position with their swords raised.

The other two ninja lords saw the exchange and were initially startled but now broke out in sniggers,

"What a joke, that chap is far too arrogant."

“He barely knew how to swing his sword and now after enduring the “Iaido Slash” twice, he thinks that he could learn and replicate the “Iaido Slash”? What an embarrassment!”

Then, as both of them were chuckling.

Crackle! A loud sound interrupted the two ninja lords’ chuckles. Their expressions turned into horror as they looked towards Jack and Iga TobiRyuu who were still in their respective stance.

Iga TobiRyuu was facing slightly towards the two ninja lords and both of the ninja lords could see that the face mask of Iga TobiRyuu had been cut in two and slowly slid down from Iga TobiRyuu’s face onto the ground.

At the same time, Iga TobiRyuu’s body started to shudder and then stumbled backward a couple of steps. Regardless of how he tried to resist, he could not conceal the mouthful of blood that he threw up and it started to trickle down the corner of his mouth...

Chapter 849 The Time Is Just Right

In the bamboo forest.

It was as quiet as stagnant water.

As the night wind blew, the bamboo leaves were rustling and falling.

The eyes of the top two Ninja Lords were full of horror. They stood in place motionlessly in a daze.

Quietly, a big invisible panic enveloped the two people's whole bodies.

Their entire body felt cold and a chill went down their spine.

Based on their personalities, it was also difficult to contain their emotions at this time. Fears raced through their minds.

"Cra, cracked?"

"Oh, God, why would there be such a demon in the world?"

Two terrified voices sounded from the mouths of the two Ninja Lords.

They were certain that Jack and Iga TobiRyuu had exchanged blows and did not have any inch difference.

However, Iga TobiRyuu's mask broke in half. Obviously...Jack's such slash was lethal to Iga TobiRyuu!

It was a killing slash that appeared out of thin air. Wasn't this...lethality?!

"No, that's not right. His flash is a far cry from Iga TobiRyuu's 'Iaido Slash'."

A Ninja Lord understood something out of the blue and murmured, "Iga TobiRyuu's 'Iaido Slash' is able to kill people with lethality from a long distance. Whereas, he did damage to Iga TobiRyuu at close range after he and Iga TobiRyuu slashed at each other. This can only be considered a prototype at most, yes, the prototype of 'Iaido Slash'."

When it reached the last part of his sentence, this Ninja Lord clearly became impatient. He spoke faster and faster and his voice pitch was also getting higher and higher.

The other Ninja Lord, however, laughed bitterly, "He can figure out the prototype by just watching it twice, isn't that enough?"

Ninja Lord's body shook. He twisted his head and looked at his companion with widened eyes. He was speechless for a moment.

Enough?

It was really enough!

Demons and even they themselves also had never seen such a talent.

He was able to roughly figure out the prototype of 'Iaido Slash' and even simulate it by just watching it twice, how would this still be considered not enough?

The two of them were 'Iga TobiRyuu's partners and were both Ninja Lords of Iga Clan.

They had been with Iga TobiRyuu for a long time and fighting together so they had seen Iga TobiRyuu used 'Iaido Slash' many times. But, they were still unable to figure out the main idea of it.

To compare like this, the difference between them was shown clearly.

Compared to the panic of the two Ninja Lords.

At this time, Iga TobiRyuu was even more shocked.

His slightly old face was covered with wrinkles but when he was facing Jack at this moment, his face was gently twitching.

He looked at Jack in a way as if he had seen a ghost.

'Iaido Slash' was a unique death blow that was developed by him after spending five years of efforts.

He had modified and refined it many times.

Except for himself, nobody knew how much effort he put in.

But when he was facing Jack now, after only using 'Iaido Slash' two times, Jack could already learn how to use the prototype of it...

Iga TobiRyuu's right hand that was holding the sword was trembling undisguisedly.

"Then, what are my five years of honing and effort considered?"

A strong wave of doubt was raging in Iga TobiRyuu's mind.

He had never doubted himself so much.

But after experiencing a slash from Jack, he began to doubt!

Even, his entire mind was rippling and violently undulating at this moment.

The power of Jack's such slash was indeed much inferior to his 'Iaido Slash'. If it was really 'Iaido Slash', the slash just now was enough to split a person in half.

However, although it was just a prototype, it still managed to make Iga TobiRyuu find it hard to accept!

How outstanding was this junior's...talent?

"How's that? What I've learnt from you looks quite decent, right?"

Jack kept his sword and laughed teasingly.

Although he was laughing, he felt somewhat disappointed and bitter.

His capability in controlling lethality was not like the control of muscles that could be done by him with physical observation and speculation.

In comparison, controlling muscles was easier and mastering lethality was something that could only be figured out after practicing and reaching a certain level.

This was like when he watched 'Black Hand Arrows' controlled the muscles to push more muscles in order to come out with a stronger power. At that time, he managed to learn and simulate everything thoroughly after watching it a few times.

But, to master lethality, even if Jack's slash just now was already considered quite ultimate, he still only managed to learn how to do a prototype of it.

He still could not master the kernel of lethality!

Using a huge force to push the speed of slashing to the extremely ultimate state in a short instant in order to squeeze the air so that the air also became lethal and would even have the power to hurt people out of thin air.

But, to compare his with Iga TobiRyuu's real lethality, there was still a huge difference.

"Hmph!"

Iga TobiRyuu could not hide the fear in his eyes and his trembling right hand was gripping Katana. After shaking it forcefully, his hand abruptly stopped trembling.

He slowly spoke. However, his cold and harsh words were not meant for Jack, but the other two Ninja Lords.

“We have to quickly finish this battle. We can’t leave this guy alive. The later, the more dangerous he is!”

His tone was resolute and his killing intent was displayed vividly.

Iga TobiRyuu’s attitude now was totally different from Iga TobiRyuu’s previous attitude.

Iga TobiRyuu thought that if he continued to fight against a crazy demon that could offset his power that was gained after five years of effort, he was really unsure of who would be the whetstone for another party.

Executing the mission was the prime purpose.

He did not dare to continue betting!

Jack raised his eyebrows and smiled, “What, are three of you going to come and attack me together at the same time?”

At the same time.

The two Ninja Lords were also running towards him. Their killing intentions were horrifying and their auras were extremely cold and immense.

“Jack, I, Iga TobiRyuu, am going to send you to hell!”

Iga TobiRyuu straightened his body and when he faced Jack, he slowly lowered his head. His right hand was also clenched and placed at his heart.

He said impolitely.

If it was not because he had to get back at Jack for killing Iga Tobikou and if it was not because of the mission given by Iga Clan to kill Jack.

Iga TobiRyuu really had the intention of making friends with Jack after the fight against him just now.

This idea was not absurd as different people had different views...after all, everyone would have something extremely different in their mind.

Nevertheless.

When Iga TobiRyuu was lowering his head.

Jack’s laugh came along with it, “The time is just right. It should be almost there.”

What?!

Iga TobiRyuu, who was lowering his head, was horrified.

He abruptly looked up and saw that Jacob was looking in the direction behind him with a face full of smiles.

Wait!

In an instant, Iga TobiRyu's heart pounded wildly. He immediately turned back and looked in the direction where Jack was looking.

In the darkness.

It could be vaguely seen that two figures were moving quickly towards this side.

"Fuck, are those Ninja Masters lemons?"

At this moment, Iga TobiRyu could no longer contain the anger in his mind. He cursed furiously.

After they had followed Jack out of Bamboo Grove earlier in order to kill him, what they had planned was to let more than ten Ninja Masters delay everyone, so that three of them who were Ninja Lords would have a chance to surround and kill Jack.

But...wasn't this only after a short while?

Although he wanted to utilize Jack as a whetstone to train himself to a greater level, he never forgot the real purpose of this trip. So, even when he was fighting against Jack, he was also strictly calculating the time.

What happened in the bamboo forest was only a few minutes before and after.

However, although there were more than ten Ninja Masters, they could not even delay for a few minutes!

At the same time.

The two Ninja Lords that were rushing towards Jack turned around simultaneously when they heard Iga TobiRyuu's angry curses.

When they saw the two figures not far away.

One of the Ninja Lords sternly yelled.

"Iga TobiRyuu, let's end the fight quickly!"

Before the words were completely uttered.

The two Ninja Lords leaped up in the air at the same time and shook their hands to throw countless shurikens towards Jack.

In an instant, countless shurikens, like a curtain of rain, moved towards Jack as if they were going to engulf him.

Chapter 850 Inglorious Clown, How Dare You Harm Mr. Hughes?

Whoosh whoosh whoosh...

The sky was full of shurikens that were coming down like a heavy downpour.

Although Jack looked calm, his eyes were flashing with insidious hostility.

In an instant, he kicked the bamboo in front of him and used the repulsive force to fly back.

Simultaneously, the samurai shuriken in his hand was waved rapidly as if an invisible shadow shield was formed in front of him to prevent all the shurikens from approaching him.

Clang clang clang...

Sparks burst out and surrounded Jack.

In the blink of an eye.

The shurikens that came down from the sky like a curtain of rain were all able to be knocked down by Jack.

But, before Jack managed to stabilize himself.

A figure appeared in front of him outrageously.

It was Iga TobiRyuu!

“Go to hell!”

After a beastly shout, Iga TobiRyuu raised his Katana and slashed at Jack head-on with tremendous and terrifying killing intent.

“Die!”

Jack’s expression suddenly became ferocious. The samurai shuriken in his hand was directly shaken to deal with the attack.

A deafening clang sounded.

Jack and Iga TobiRyuu simultaneously moved back.

But before Jack could stabilize himself, the other two Ninja Lords were already approaching.

Such domineering and continuous attacks were like catastrophic tsunamis.

Iga TobiRyuu and the other two people were trying to kill Jack instantly with this kind of violent and overwhelming attack.

As for the bodyguards who were coming over, they did not bother at all.

As long as they managed to kill Jack within a very short time, the mission would be considered as completed.

After that, it would be as easy as ABC for three of them who were Ninja Lords to escape.

If a ninja could not even hide himself exceptionally, then he did not deserve to be called Ninja Lord!

The best proof of this statement was that the three of them were able to hide outside Bamboo Grove for so long with eighteen Ninja Masters.

Clang clang clang...

Facing the stormy swordsmanship of the two Ninja Lords, Jacob looked cold and stern while hostility was rampaging in his eyes.

His right hand was like a dragon as it was holding the samurai shuriken and quickly shaking it to defend himself.

The sparks burst out like a gorgeous display of fireworks and lanterns.

But, after each powerful slash, the recoil force that came along with the samurai shuriken to Jack's hand let him feel bitter inwardly.

The purlicue of his right hand that was holding the samurai shuriken had long been cracked. The blood was splattering and he even felt that his right hand was overshadowed by a feeling of numbness.

However, he did not dare to stop and did not even dare to hold back any of his power.

The swordsmanship of the two Ninja Lords was deadly and they were aiming at his vulnerable parts.

Even a single slash would be enough to kill him!

In the midst of the fierce battle, Jack looked at the two distant figures that were approaching rapidly.

Although the distance was not long, when he faced the desperate attacks of the two Ninja Lords at this time, it was so distant as if they were moving towards him from the Milky Way.

Was this the real power of...Ninja Lord?

When Jack was facing the two Ninja Lords, there was a little fear in his mind.

When he faced Iga Tobikou previously, Iga Tobikou initially had some contempt and it was until the final situation had worsened only then he fully focused and made every endeavour to give him a slash.

And when he faced Iga TobiRyuu just now, Iga TobiRyuu also intended to take him as a whetstone so his every slash was not that fatal.

In the two battles, Jacob could not really experience and understand the real strength of Ninja Lord.

But when Jack was facing the ultimate fatal skills of the two Ninja Lords now, the attacks that were as vast as a great mountain and as fierce as thunder and fire made him truly experience the terrifyingly brutal power of Ninja Lord!

Clang clang!

Two slashes.

Jack once again defended himself from the deadly slash of the two Ninja Lords.

But, he himself also stumbled and somewhat lost his balance.

Just when the two Ninja Lords' bodies were fixed due to the parry, in the gap between them, there was abruptly a whistling and piercing sound of the wind.

Like a wild dragon that came out of its lair, a Katana was directly stabbed towards Jack through the gap between the two of them.

Oh no!

Jack's face changed greatly.

In his sight, Iga TobiRyuu's cold and stern face was revealed.

Dodging was no longer possible in the flash of an eye.

Jack gritted his teeth and his expression looked extremely firm.

Clang!

A knife sound sounded.

The samurai shuriken with its tip facing downward was forcefully thrust down to the front of his body.

Clang!

The tip of Iga TobiRyuu's Katana was instantly stabbed at the surface of the samurai shuriken. The terrifyingly great force directly pressed the samurai shuriken and hit Jack's abdomen with a 'bang'.

"You must die!"

Iga TobiRyuu did not pause his movement at all. His hand immediately reversed the direction of Katana and the blade was rubbing against the surface of the samurai shuriken.

Bringing up large sparks, it directly sliced Jack's abdomen horizontally.

Puff!

Fresh blood splashed.

Iga TobiRyuu had already gone to the place behind Jack. His right hand was still holding Katana backhandedly and he was maintaining a stance to kill someone.

Jack, on the other hand, was standing in place.

Painful!

Extremely painful!

The excruciating pain in his abdomen instantaneously enveloped his entire body.

His pupils constricted to the extreme and he looked down at the fresh blood on his abdomen.

In the flash of an eye just now, he only thought of resisting Iga TobiRyuu's head-on stab.

He totally did not expect that Iga TobiRyuu would be able to switch from a stab to a horizontal cut in an instant...

If the samurai shuriken was not parried vertically on top of his abdomen which served as a cushion against the attack.

Such slash would be...breaking his stomach!

Clang!

Clang!

Once again, two deafening knife sounds sounded and stimulated his eardrums.

Jack looked up immediately. In his sight, the Katana in the hand of the two Ninja Lords were emitting a frightening and cold light even in the darkness. It was so blinding and piercing.

And behind him.

The sound of Iga TobiRyuu's knife sounded at the same time.

This was a fatal battle!

Three Ninja Lords blocked all of Jack's routes of escape and attacked in three directions at the same time.

Even Jacob's outstanding combat instincts also did not know what to do at this moment as if his brain was down.

At this moment.

Time seemed to have been slowed down.

Death was approaching as if the great mountain had tipped over and collapsed.

Jack stood in place in despair. His right hand was holding the samurai shuriken but he did not move...

However.

Whoosh!

In the nick of time.

An ear-splitting sound of wind sounded throughout the sky.

The speed was even as fast as lightning!

Jack felt that something had passed by him. At the same time, an explosive 'clang' sound, as well as Iga TobiRyuu's angry scream, sounded behind him.

Turnaround!

Jack's heart tightened and a fierce intent appeared in his eyes.

Facing the two Katanas that were about to approach.

His body leaned back and in the moment of keeping a distance from Katana, he twisted his upper body to the front with the help of the waist. At the same time, he swung his samurai shuriken directly to the abdomen of the two Ninja Lords in front of him.

This was fighting like Kilkenny cats!

The competition was to test whether they dared to die without regret!

The two Ninja Lords felt the coldness around their waists. At the same time, they were immensely shocked.

They totally did not expect that Jack was surprisingly still able to resist like this.

After a moment of hesitation.

The two Ninja Lords' eyes suddenly became firm.

As Jack's samurai shuriken was about to horizontally cut the two people's abdomen and also when the Katana of the two people were about to slash Jack's body.

Bang, bang!

The two Ninja Lords withdrew their swords forcefully at the same time. They bent their waist and moved back.

Buzz!

The samurai shuriken in Jack's hand precisely and unmistakably slashed through the position where the two Ninja Lords were standing just now.

Although it missed.

Jack was calm.

After straightening his body, he exhaled heavily.

He had won the bet of this slash!

Jack quickly retreated to the side so that Iga TobiRyuu and the two Ninja Lords were at his left and right side. In such a situation, being attacked from left and right was better than being attacked from front and back.

He looked askance at Iga TobiRyuu.

Jack was a bit stunned.

At this time, Iga TobiRyuu was standing in place and his expression looked hideous and frightening.

The Katana that was in his right hand had flown out of his hand and was stuck in the ground beside him. And on the bamboo beside him, a Katana completely pierced through the bamboo.

When Jack looked down, he saw that Iga TobiRyuu's pulicue of his right hand was completely torn.

Fresh blood was flowing profusely like a spring.

How strong should the force of the thrown Katana just now be?!

Even Jack was also shocked when he saw this. He narrowed his eyes.

Almost at the same time.

In the darkness, an extremely hoarse voice echoed.

“Being an inglorious clown from the island, how dare you harm Mr. Hughes?”