Chapter 951 Coincidence

The imposing squad raced over.

The battle horses trampled on the streets, the metallic and crisp sounds could be heard from their hooves.

Galloping majestically, full of force.

Jack and the others also saw the 'large-scale' unit.

"What mission are they executing?"

Jack was puzzled.

At the side, Debut and Yarol were also curious.

"It looks like a battalion of five hundred soldiers. This must be an important mission."

"If it's a battalion, it must be about some capture and killing mission."

However.

Achilles shook his head and laughed lightly, "This is only a scout and patrol squad."

What?!

Jack and the two others looked at Achilles dumbfoundedly.

Achilles raised his hand and pointed at the huge battalion. "You just joined the Dragon Cavalry, so you are not sure about the details. Depending on the mission, the soldiers will show different expressions.

The battle horses galloping speed will differ too. If it is really something related to capture and killing, the horses will be galloping thunderously without leaving any traces. Not like now, the horses are marching uniformly."

"Only on a safe mission like the scout and patrol, they could remain composed and have the leisure to maintain their formation."

Jack and the two others suddenly understood.

The next second.

The large battalion marched majestically and arrived in front of the western city gates.

Holmes ordered the battalion to stop. Then. He rode his horse and went through the handover procedure with the city gates garrison officer.

During that time.

The battalion of five hundred soldiers remained silent.

Whether it was the soldiers or their horses, they all remained in extreme silence.

Just from this point alone, you could show the military qualities of the Dragon Cavalry.

"If they need to deploy a battalion of five hundred soldiers to execute a scout and patrol mission, it means that the situation is not so good!"

Debut told Jack and the others in a faint voice.

Jack and Yarol nodded their heads.

Since they joined the Dragon Cavalry, they had already executed the scout and patrol mission twice, and both times were perilous. But that being said, it was common to have a five-man squad execute the scout and patrol mission. And to deploy a battalion to act as a scout and patrol unit, the number of soldiers in it was already a hundred times more than the normal squad.

"Nowadays, the snowfields are simmering with danger. Plus, now we are in the season of deep winter.

During this time, the polar night will appear, and the foreign tribes will sure come out and find trouble.

Therefore, the deployment of a larger battalion for the scout and patrol unit is a necessity."

Achilles' gaze deepened. Compared to Jack and the others, he was the former Chief Guard, therefore he knew a lot more about the northern region.

After they heard what Achilles had said.

Debut and Yarol both nodded.

However, Jack frowned solemnly, thinking in his mind.

If they suddenly increase the scales of the scout and patrol units, maybe it was related to the polar nights. But the main reason must be due to the appearance of the Coalition Order that had suddenly caused the snow plains to be in simmering chaos right now.

“Safe trip!”

After the handover procedure was done, the city gates garrison officer saluted Holmes.

He saluted back, rode his battle horse, and waved his right hand. "Forward!"

Rumble...

The massive troop of soldiers went out of the city.

Compared to when they had just arrived at the western city gates, they were moving even faster now.

Holmes got out of the Thegiant city first. His battle horse led ahead, rushing through everyone.

And the troops behind him followed through.

"Let's go, we can only have some more leisure time for two more days. After that, I think we will have to follow another battalion for the scout and patrol mission."

Achilles shrugged and intended to leave with Jack and the others.

However, at this moment.

"Wait!"

Jack accidentally caught a glimpse at the scout and patrol unit. Then, his pupils shrank to an extent and pulled Achilles. "Isn't that Shawn?"

Kaboom!

Hearing what Jack said, Achilles, Debut, and Yarol felt as if they were struck by a lightning.

The three of them raised their heads and looked outside of the city gates. The battalion of five hundred soldiers had already rushed out, and the gigantic gates were closing slowly.

The man that Jack saw was the last person, at the rear of the battalion.

When Achilles and the rest looked towards there, they could only see a back figure.

In a sudden flash.

Achilles' facial expression changed, and shouted fiercely, "Shawn!"

As he shouted, all the city gates garrison soldiers were stunned and looked towards him.

And after he shouted.

Jack and the rest could obviously see that the last person tried to lower his head even more.

At this moment, that motion was an obvious sign of guilt!

Achilles was shocked.

And his mind became extremely clear.

Last time when they were patrolling with Debut and the rest, they had already seen Shawn followed the supply convoy and went out of the city in the middle of the night.

And now, it was a special timing, where the whole city was being purged, looking for the traitor.

The most crucial thing was, Achilles was very sure that the Golden Guard unit that Shawn was in, was not responsible for any scout and patrol mission at this moment.

Then...

“Shawn is the traitor!”

Achilles shouted decisively, and immediately rushed towards the western city gates.

Jack and the others' facial expressions also changed and followed behind Achilles.

No matter if the person was Shawn or not, but as long as there was suspicion, the most important thing to do now was to stop the person from leaving.

It would be fine if they recognized the wrong person.

But if it was the right person, and if Shawn successfully got out of the city, it would be hard to catch him again.

The rank like Shawn was not considered as a high-rank officer in the Dragon Cavalry. However, they were still able to get access to some medium-level military information!

When Jack and the others rushed to the city gates, the stunned garrison Deputy General also got back his senses. He hurriedly asked, "Mr. White, is there a problem?"

He did not assume any superiority when he talked to Achilles.

After all, Achilles was the former Chief Guard.

Achilles' face flushed with anger and pointed at the closed city gates. "Get him back. Order the scout and patrol unit to return at once. I suspect that there is a traitor inside that unit, disguised as one of our soldiers, and went out of the city with the battalion!"

“What?”

The Deputy General’s facial expression changed dramatically. As a Deputy General, he knew what was going on now in Thegiant city.

If the traitor openly escaped the city from his hands, ...It would be more than a disaster for him!

The Deputy General’s face turned pale. At that moment, he instantly turned around and shouted in fear,

"Recall the scout and patrol unit! Get one thousand men here right now and follow me. We are going to chase them down!"

At this moment, his voice broke the peace and serenity of the western city gates and was sent into a frenzy.

"They won't be able to catch up with them!"

Between the chaos, Jack said coldly to Achilles, then immediately pointed at the military-grade SUV nearby the city gates.

"Debut and Yarol, the two of you stay here! Jack, follow me!" At that instant, Achilles realized what Jack meant. He rushed towards the SUV together with Jack.

A city gate garrison unit would not have enough allocations of battle horses and military-grade SUVs.

Therefore, even how afraid and anxious the Deputy General was, he would not be able to chase the scout and patrol unit down even he could gather a thousand soldiers.

No matter how fast the human legs could run, they could never win the chase against horses with four legs.

Summoning back the scout and patrol unit would be useless as well. The normal unit would come back, but what if Shawn was really hiding in the battalion? Would he foolishly follow them back?

He must have already planned what to do after he left the city since he decided to hide in the scout and patrol unit.

When the western city gate was in chaos.

Vroom!

The violent roar of the engine thundered.

In everyone's eyes.

A military-grade SUV did a tail-flick drift, and tail flames could be seen from the exhaust pipes. In front of all the soldiers, it rushed ahead and drove out of the western city gates. With great speed, it chased towards the scout and patrol unit that had just left the city...

Chapter 952 Three Golden Guards, Fifty Thousand Soldiers, All Out!

Outside of Thegiant City.

The snowy wind was blowing violently.

The shouting voice of the garrison Deputy General and Achilles were hidden in the snowstorm and the galloping sounds of the battle horses.

Therefore, the scout and patrol unit that Holmes was leading did not experience any abnormalities.

However, following an urgent phone call.

The whole scout and patrol unit was thrown into a mess.

“Holmes, there is a traitor hiding in our unit!”

When Holmes heard what the signalman said, his scalp trembled as if he was struck by lightning.

“Stop marching!”

Holmes shouted decisively as he swung his command whip.

The traitor in the Dragon Cavalry was the reason why Thegiant City was in a turmoil.

The Commander personally ordered the three Golden Guards to check and screen the whole army, and he already told them that he rather kill the wrong person than let the guilty one go.

From the Commander's attitude, he already knew how serious this matter was!

If the traitor really hid in their unit, the single crime of helping him escape the city would be sufficient to behead his head!

The imposing and majestic battalion that was previously rushing through the snow plains immediately stopped on the spot at his order.

However.

As the battalion stopped moving, there was one battle horse that rushed forward. Instead of stopping, it made a sharp turn, heading straight into the depths of the northern region.

Everyone saw that scene.

And it drew the attention of Holmes and the others.

“Chase him!”

Holmes eyes were burning with fury, shouting angrily and bellowing in fear.

Rumble...

At his order, the massive unit started rushing towards the rider who was escaping.

However, because of the short pause, the rider had surpassed and outpaced them for a long distance.

As soon as the massive unit started chasing.

A military-grade vehicle roared from the direction of the city, rushing from behind like a beast.

"Make a turn here, he exposed himself!"

Jack, who was sitting at the passenger seat, had a cold expression. He narrowed his eyes and gazed towards the back figure of the rider, who was escaping on this boundless snow plains.

Eek!

Achilles stepped on the brakes at once and turned the steering wheels, which drifted the car wheels.

Then, he stepped on the gas at once. With a huge roar, the military-grade vehicle let out a beastly bellow, overtaking the scout and patrol unit leaving them behind. They chased towards Shawn.

"God dammit, damn, why is this happening to me?"

"Bastard, go catch him at all costs! You are allowed to kill him on the spot if you need to!"

"Damn it, who is this traitor? Why does it have to be me?"

...

Holmes ordered the battalion to keep chase while he was cursing nonstop. His expression was distorted, and he was scolding angrily and fearfully.

The signalman who was following closely beside him, waited for him to pause, then reported loudly,

"Commander, the traitor is Shawn!"

Kaboom!

Like a thunder strike.

The fearful and angry Holmes instantly trembled. At that moment, his eyes went black and nearly fell off his horse.

As he steadied himself on the horse, Holmes eyes went red, "Bastard! Asshole! Shawn, I treated you as my comrade, you treacherous traitor, why do you want to frame me?"

His miserable yell echoed through the snow plains.

It even suppressed the sound of the wind and snow and the galloping sounds of the horses.

At the same time.

Thegiant City, at the western city gates.

The silence and killing malice swept through half the city.

The garrison Deputy General led his team and knelt on the floor, with a pale and scared face.

On the city walls, the standing guards all knelt in fear as well.

Only a few people stood there, like towering mountains.

The killing malice that swept through half the city was emitted from these people.

No, to be exact, it was emitted out from the person standing in the middle.

"Commander, it is true. Shawn has gone missing."

One of the Golden Guards reported. His face was filled with slaughterous desire.

"It's too late, we are too slow. Actually, we didn't know that it was him. He escaped the city and exposed himself."

Zenith put his hands behind him. He stood tall like a spear, emanating his killing intent, which formed a dominating spirit, boorishly crushing half of Thegiant city. Then, he laughed at himself and said, "My reputation has all gone down to the drains from this humiliation."

As his laughter begun.

The three Golden Guards behind him all knelt in fear.

"Please forgive us, Commander!"

"It's nothing, don't worry."

Zenith shook his hands. "Since they have begun chasing him, as long as they bring his head back, and hang it on the flag of the western city gates, I will exempt everyone who is involved from the punishment. If they don't bring his head back, then..."

He did not finish his sentence, and his voice stopped briskly.

Then, a chilling and terrifying force suddenly gushed out from his body and shoot straight into the skies.

It even instantly affected their surroundings.

From the three Golden Guards, down to the common soldiers, everyone was covered in this chilling force. They were so terrified they didn't even dare to breathe and remain completely still.

The three Golden Guards were very clear.

According to Zenith, if the people out there failed to bring the traitor's head back, perhaps...Even they, who were responsible for the purging would have to be punished.

"Who is chasing the traitor?"

Zenith asked.

One of the Golden Guards replied hastily, "Achilles and Jack, and the battalion of the scout and patrol unit. Everything happened in a flash, and Achilles was the one who discovered it. At that time, the battalion has already headed out of the city and speeding up. The garrison Deputy General wanted to gather his men and give chase, but it was too late. Then, Achilles and Jack took the SUV and rushed out of the gates."

"The two of them?"

Zenith raised his eyebrows, turned around, and looked down at the three Golden Guards in front of him. He smiled coldly, "You are lucky that it was the two of them. If not, from you Golden Guards, down to the common garrison soldiers, you all have to be punished!"

From his words, it sounded like he was sure that Jack and Achilles could definitely catch up with Shawn!

After Zenith said those words.

The three Golden Guards lowered their head guiltily.

The three Golden Guards had been busy with the purge, but they accidentally let the traitor secretly hid inside the scout and patrol unit and got out of the city openly.

It was also a burning shame for the three Golden Guards!

Shortly, Zenith ordered again.

"Relay the order, the three of you bring your Golden Guard armies, and rendezvous with Achilles they all."

What?!

His words shocked the three Golden Guards, and they raised their heads right away.

In the Dragon Cavalry, the military ranks and titles were segmented clearly and strictly.

Compared to the normal armies, the Golden Guards in the Dragon Cavalry were special; they were ranked only below Zenith, but higher than normal generals.

In the Dragon Cavalry, the thirty hundred thousand soldiers were divided into twelve corps and controlled by the Twelve Golden Guards. In their respective corps, they were led by different ranks of officers.

A General in the Dragon Cavalry could only command ten thousand soldiers. As for the Golden Guard, they were able to command a total of twenty-five thousand soldiers.

In other words, two Golden Guards corps... would be a total of fifty thousand soldiers!

To deploy three Golden Guards, and fifty thousand soldiers just to chase a single traitor...wasn't this too much?

Zenith felt the gaze of the three Golden Guards.

He looked at them coldly, and his eyes shone. "Why? I already gave you a chance to make amends for your mistakes, so do you still have something to say? If the traitor reaches the foreign tribes, even though it would not be a devastating impact for Thegiant City and the Dragon Cavalry, but it would still cause some damage!"

Chapter 953 Shawn's Rescuer!

It was half an hour later.

The fifty thousand armies led by the three Golden Guards marched out from the northern gate majestically.

The scene was magnificent.

The troops were moving continuously as they looked like a long dragon.

Within the time frame of half an hour, it was already considered the shortest time taken for fifty thousand armies to march out the city.

It was important to know that when the armies march to battle apart from provisions.

Even in a single hasty march, not only the troops had to be organized in a short period of time, but the armaments had to be allocated for everybody too.

This series of jobs were implemented for fifty thousand armies, not just for a few hundred or a few thousand armies.

It was when the fifty thousand armies left the Thegiant City.

The three Golden Guards gave their order.

The massive fifty thousand armies spread out instantly like a torrent as if a dark cloud crashing down onto the vast snowfield. They were heading deep into the Northern Territory rapidly with terrifying oppression as if they were toppling the mountains.

This was the hasty march to help Jack and others. The fifty thousand armies did not have to follow the formation strictly in order to support hundreds of them.

The first goal...was to be fast!

The fifty thousand armies were striving to find Jack, Achilles and the others as soon as possible.

The continuous march was like a long dragon, heading out of the Northern Territory swiftly.

Nobody was worried about the consequences of crossing the border out of the territory.

In recent years, this had become a common thing in the Northern Territory.

Even the five of them who scouted and patrolled would dare to leave the territory and patrol deep into the foreign tribes, let alone the fifty thousand armies!

With the military strength of the fifty thousand armies, they could still simply win the battle even if the foreign armies revolted.

It was at the Thegiant City.

Zenith stood up tall with his hands on the back. His facial expression was cold and serious.

In his sight, the fifty thousand armies of the Dragon Cavalry were like a dark cloud rolling deep into the Northern Territory and slowly disappearing.

It was after they had completely disappeared from the snow.

Zenith then only raised his head slowly and closed his eyes. His deep voice was covered by the blizzard and howling winds.

“Master...this Northern Territory, I don't know if my apprentice can withstand it this time!”

His tone was in dismay and there was even a strong sense of melancholy.

It was hard to imagine that Zenith who was the God of War conquering the Northern Territory and leading the three hundred thousand armies of the Dragon Cavalry would say such words.

If these words had not been hidden in the snow but had been heard by the armies of the Dragon

Cavalry, perhaps...the whole military would be shocked!

The snowfield was vast and boundless.

The wind was so chill as if a knife cutting.

The heavy snowfall poured down.

In the snow, the armies were riding on their horses boldly.

Shawn lowered his body while riding on his horse to reduce the wind resistance and avoid the unpleasant snow pounding on his face.

Underneath his helmet, he looked serious with a sense of panic.

As he lowered himself on the back of the horse, his left hand was pulling on the reins tightly while his right hand was holding a phone and a whip at the same time. Sometimes, he whipped the horse fiercely, but he also stared at the phone and was agitated.

The horse was at its extreme speed.

However, the military off-road vehicle which was just speeding behind him seemed to be haunted by a ghost, approaching him closely.

This made Shawn collapse and rage.

“Damn it, damn it, why has it failed to this extent?”

Shawn gritted his teeth with a terrifying and fierce gaze, “Achilles, are you the nemesis of the Shawn family in this whole life? The entire city has been purged because of you. I have already escaped through the western gate, but why I still meet you?”

“Wait until I escape to the Hun Royal Palace in the northern, I swear to lead the Hun Royal Palace and the foreign tribes to conquer the Thegiant City one day. I will torture and kill you Achilles to take revenge for my brother and also for today’s plight!”

Hatred, killing intention and anger almost surged out from Shawn’s body at this moment.

He had planned everything.

He had substituted with one of his soldiers perfectly and everything was just as his planning. He left the city safe and sound.

However, he had never imagined that he would meet Achilles unluckily!

Initially, the escape plan had gone perfectly and safely. But due to Achilles, it had turned out to be such now!

It was even irritating when he knew that the military off-road vehicle was driven by Achilles!

The engine sound of the military off-road vehicle echoed in his ears.

It was even in this extremely cold weather.

Beads of perspiration were formed on Shawn's forehead as he stared at the phone with his scarlet eyes, "The Wolf Royal Palace, rescue me, rescue me! I have already been brought by Timur on this only path. I have surrendered to the Wolf willingly. If you cannot save me at this moment, then who else can you rely on to access the situation in the Thegiant City? I don't want to die, I don't want to die..."

He knew Achilles's strength.

Even on the military ground, he had fought against the new recruit called Jack at that time.

He could not win either of them.

The worst thing was that both of them were inside the military off-road vehicle behind him at this moment.

He was certain that he would be doomed if the military off-road vehicle managed to chase after him.

Snapping...

As Shawn was extremely frightened and worried, he whipped the horse violently.

“Faster, you this beast. Hurry up for me!”

At this moment, Shawn looked extremely fierce while whipping the horse mercilessly as if an innocent flower in the rainstorm.

The horse shrieked miserably and galloped with all its might.

Its speed had increased even more!

The military off-road vehicle sped across the snowfield, creating the rolling snow waves behind it.

It was inside the vehicle.

The atmosphere became solemn.

Jack sat on the passenger’s seat and looked ahead at Shawn with a sullen face.

On the other hand, Achilles stepped on the accelerator to the maximum and controlled the steering wheel with both arm muscles bulging.

The fact that warhorses were common in this extremely cold northern region, was mostly because warhorses were easier to control and handle.

On the contrary, a military off-road vehicle would go out of control at an extreme speed if the driver was not careful. The consequences of this would definitely be even more horrible than falling off from the warhorse.

“I should have thought that it was him. That night, Debut and I clearly saw him leaving the city with the supply convoy!”

Achilles broke the silence in the vehicle out of the blue.

Jack took a look at Achilles, “It is not too late to find out now.”

Achilles shook his head, “If I had been a little more suspicious that time, perhaps we would not have encountered such tragedy in our previous patrolling mission. Cole would not have to recuperate for three months before joining the battle again.”

He did not wait for Jack to say anything.

Bang!

Achilles punched his fist on the steering wheel and said guiltily, "I was once at least a Chief Guard, but I actually committed such a low mistake. I really deserve to die!"

"Then let's chase after him and finish him off. Take revenge and bring his head back for Cole!"

Jack understood Achilles's feeling. An outstanding person like Achilles would be strict with every detail.

He would also see every mistake seriously and repent deeply.

Jack glanced back at the rolling snow waves behind the vehicle.

Even if his vision was blurred, he could hear the hoofbeats of the scouting and patrolling troop behind him.

It was but...

Boom...

Just as he turned around, the hoofbeats echoing in his ears suddenly became denser and louder.

"What is going on? Why doesn't it feel right?"

Jack frowned in confusion.

It was before uttering his last word.

Achilles who was driving suddenly said in a deep voice, "Look ahead, there is an avalanche."

Jack jerked his head back and looked in front. He was petrified as his whole body was in goosebumps.

It was at the end of his vision ahead.

The massive snow was falling at a height of about ten metres.

It was like a tsunami heading in this direction.

A line of black torrents could be seen vaguely underneath the snowstorm.

That was...the cavalry contingent!

"It is at least ten thousand armies!"

Achilles's voice caused Jack's pupils to constrict extremely out of the blue.

It was in the meantime.

Shawn who was tired of escaping felt ecstatic when facing the massive avalanche.

"The Wolf, the wolf is above. I'm rescued, I'm finally saved!"

Chapter 954 Melee

Boom...

Ten thousand horses galloped across the vast snowfield spectacularly.

The snowstorm fell and rolled, covering the sun and the sky.

“I’m here! The Great Wolf, I’m here, I’m your most loyal subject!”

As he met the huge troops of armies, Shawn waved his hand and shouted joyfully.

Starting from the purge when he decided to escape from the Thegiant City, this was the only path in front of him!

Therefore, Shawn did not hesitate to shout out these words and did not even feel uncomfortable at all.

“You this betrayer, deviating human ethics!”

Inside the military off-road vehicle, Achilles still scolded angrily at Shawn who was waving his hand even though Shawn could not hear his voice.

Jack’s expression also became cold and stern.

The feud between the inner territory and the foreign tribes had already been accumulating for a thousand years, even for thousands of years.

The relationship between them was very terrible just like water rivalling with fire.

The main problem between the inner territory and the foreign tribes was not only about the territory issue. However, the most crucial was about...the survival issue!

The environment inside the territory was more suitable for humans to live in as compared to the harsh and cold weather outside the territory.

This was actually the key reason that there were endless battles between the inner and outer territory.

Just due to this key reason, the two had been at loggerheads since before. It was at the very most that commerce and trade could be carried out at the border of the territory.

There was nothing more between the inner and outer territory.

Betraying the inner territory and defecting to the foreign tribes, was something absolutely intolerable in the hearts of everybody in the territory.

But now...Shawn was just doing that!

It was all of a sudden.

Jack's firm gaze suddenly flickered, "It doesn't seem to be ten thousand armies from a single tribe."

In his sight, a tremendous troop was rushing towards him. The boundless troop was seemed to be hidden in the snowstorm.

However, there were still some large flags rising and appearing in the snow, waving in the air with the wind.

But compared to the ten thousand armies of the Oirat Tribe that was seen on the last scouting patrol, the flags in this ten thousand armies were even mixed this time.

Jack saw that there were at least ten tribal flags at a glance!

“The allied armies have already made their first attempt!”

Achilles lowered his voice and smiled despondently, “Usually, it is impossible to have ten tribes forming ten thousand allied armies.”

These words made Jack’s heart sank as he was indeed depressed.

Now, the sudden appearance of the ten thousand armies was obviously due to Shawn.

The ten thousand armies formed by the ten tribes were now doing something that everyone was worried about. The foreign tribes in the outer territory were heading towards the most terrifying and serious consequence.

It was in the meantime.

It was behind the military off-road vehicle.

Holmes was leading five hundred armies of the Dragon Cavalry and was heading to them continuously.

When they saw the ten thousand armies, all of the troops including Holmes were frightened and they took a deep cold breath.

“Holmes, what should we do?”

One of the centurions asked in fear.

“Chief Guard Achilles is right in front of us. If he doesn’t retreat, how dare we retreat?”

Holmes’s gaze flickered for a few moments and suddenly became resolute.

“He is no longer the Chief Guard. He is just only a sergeant!” The centurion’s expression changed drastically.

The armies around him also gazed at Holmes in fear and trepidation.

Five hundred armies battled against the ten thousand armies.

This was absolutely an impossible mission.

Even if Achilles was there, he alone would not be able to make a radical change in such a desperate situation!

It was but then.

“How many armies do we have?”

Holmes asked out of the blue.

The words caused the dissuasive centurion to startle for a moment, but he still reported, “Five hundred!”

“Kill them all!”

Holmes blurted out these three words clearly and decisively.

Boom!

As soon as the words were uttered, the five hundred armies of the Dragon Cavalry were stunned as if they were struck by lightning.

Holmes...was he crazy?

Why would he give such an order?

Holmes did not wait for the armies to answer and he roared, “This is a military order. Being an army of the Dragon Cavalry, we must fight and sacrifice for the Dragon Cavalry. Even if there was a mountain of corpses or a sea of blood in front of us, since someone is charging ahead, we all must head forward to kill the enemies with all our might. This...only belongs to the Dragon Cavalry!”

This remarkable comment echoed through the armies like rolling thunder.

Yet, everybody’s spirits were lit and boosted at this instant.

The fear and trepidation that were originally on their face receded quickly at this moment. Instead, it was replaced by a bold and firm determination to sacrifice!

“Draw out your swords and kill!”

Holmes was the first to draw out his heavy and huge Dragon Cavalry Sword. It was biting cold at the moment.

It was in the next second.

Clang, clang, clang...

In the troop, swords were shining and flashing under the biting cold weather.

It was in the meantime.

Shawn who was ecstatic finally rushed into the ten thousand armies of the allied foreign tribes.

Without any obstacles, a path was formed in the massive formation of the foreign army as if a python swallowed its prey, Shawn with ease.

“I’m saved, I’m rescued! The Great Wolf above, I will be the most loyal subject of the Wolf from now on!”

As he entered the foreign army, Shawn felt nothing although the crowd around him looked completely different. He was delighted to express his loyalty in front of the many foreign tribes sincerely.

“With your participation, the foreign tribes will definitely be able to conquer the Thegiant City!”

A middle-aged man smiled joyfully at Shawn.

However, Shawn took a deep breath and tried to calm down at this moment.

He turned around instantly. Then, he headed towards the military off-road vehicle and the scouting and patrolling troop not far away from them with the foreign army.

Shawn’s gaze was eerie as he smiled hideously.

“Achilles, just now you tried to chase and kill me. Now...it is time for your death!”

Shawn raised his right hand violently and pointed at the military off-road vehicle, “I hope that you guys can kill these armies of the Dragon Cavalry and tear them apart. This is the greatest wish from me as I entered the foreign tribes!”

“No problem!”

The middle-aged man smiled and nodded. He then drew out a machete with a clang and raised it into the air, “Follow the will of the Great Wolf and slaughter all the enemies in front of you!”

“Kill them!”

In the winter, the screams of killing seemed to silence the snow and howling winds.

It was in the next second.

The military off-road vehicle which was ridden by Jack and Achilles was rushing and banging into the foreign army brutally.

Clang, clang, clang...

Countless swords and spears hit on the military off-road vehicle, creating huge sparks as well as deforming the sturdy military off-road vehicle.

However, Jack and Achilles were sitting inside the vehicle seriously.

Boom, boom, boom...

Achilles controlled the steering wheel with all his might. He drove the military off-road vehicle and banged into the foreign army without bothering their attacks.

When there was no way back, the only path...was to move forward!

Jack was not afraid of the scene in front of him as he had already gained one experience battling against ten thousand enemies.

It was necessary to know that.

It was only five of them fighting against ten thousand enemies previously.

This time, it was better at least there were five hundred armies, a hundred times more!

“Kill them!”

It was when Jack and Achilles drove the military off-road vehicle and dashed into the foreign army.

Holmes also led the five hundred armies of the Dragon Cavalry fearlessly like a fiery sharp sword piercing into the foreign army.

The melee...erupted abruptly!

Chapter 955 The Mysterious Foreign Soldiers on the Battlefield

Holmes led the five hundred Dragon Cavalry to charge into Foreign Army.

A melee was about to break out!

The five hundred Dragon Cavalry were few in number compared to Foreign Army.

Dragon Cavalry had already developed an extremely strong combat power after years of battle with foreign tribes.

Therefore, the moment Dragon Cavalry rushed into Foreign Army, they didn't scatter as if they were caught in a quagmire.

Rather, they were as if a heated sharp knife was stuck into the lard and charged straight into the centre of the mass of people in a group.

War cries and screams echoed across the battlefield.

Blood, corpses and mutilated limbs were instantly shed across the battlefield.

The cruelty on the battlefield was even more evident when the scale was larger.

Some soldiers of Dragon Cavalry slashed the head of foreign soldiers, but in an instant, there were a few lances that pierced right through the bodies of the soldiers of Dragon Cavalry.

As they went into the centre of the battlefield, even though Holmes had the intention to lead them to join with Jack Hughes and Achilles White on the military buggy, their power gradually slowed down under the siege of the foreign soldiers and they were completely divided into two battlefields with Jack and Achilles.

Creak... creak...

The military buggy had been completely deformed and it was making unbearable sounds while it was rampaging.

Although it was under Achilles's control, the military buggy had functioned to the utmost. It wasn't just rammed by foreign soldiers, but also rammed by the strong war horses!

"Get ready!"

Achilles rubbed his nose and said in a deep voice when he sensed Jack was looking at him.

Bang!

In the next second, Jack kicked the passenger door and the door straight away struck two foreign soldiers off their war horses.

At the same time, he leapt out of the car. As soon as he landed, he rushed to the front of a soldier with an irresistible force like a tiger which went into a herd of sheep.

"Get off your horses!"

With an explosive roar, he kicked the neck of the war horse.

There was loud bang and the horse made a deafening neigh sound. The soldier on its back fell down straight away.

He took a step forward and his right leg was like an axe, breaking the sternum of the soldier, then snatched the sword away as fast as lightning.

All this was done in one go.

Then, he charged into the soldiers nearby with a sword in his hand.

In the military buggy which was almost ruined, Achilles took in everything Jack had just done, looked at the massive army and smiled bitterly.

“How good would it be if you could still enter the state of Bewitchedness this time.”

The scene that Jack swept through the ten thousand people of Oirat Tribe last time was still vivid in his mind.

Now, where was it similar to last time?

Achilles understood that Jack was able to in the state of Bewitchedness because it was related to Cole Sanchez’s injury. However, it was obviously impossible to be in that state again by such a coincidence.

“Breathe... I hereby swear that I’ll kill Shawn even if I die!”

His eyes sparkled suddenly when he said his in deep and stern voice. He soon locked on Shawn on the battlefield.

Boom!

He slammed the throttle under his feet and directly drove the almost scrapped military buggy towards Shawn.

“Stop him! Stop him now! He’s trying to kill me!”

Shawn was constantly paying attention to the situation. When he saw Achilles driving towards him, he soon felt dreadful.

Although he had a deep blood feud with Achilles, the shock that Achilles had left on him when he was Chief Guard had long been engraved in his mind.

“Don’t worry, Shawn. Even if he is present today, he will definitely die a violent death!”

The middle-aged woman who had ordered the army before patted his shoulder with confidence, “I’ve come to lead this team to protect you!”

After Shawn heard this, he secretly breathed a sigh of relief, but his tightly furrowed brow remained.

As expected, as Achilles drove the buggy towards him, the surrounding foreign soldiers pounced the military buggy regardless of the cost like a tidal wave.

They forcibly blocked the military buggy with the majestic stance of the war horses.

Creak... creak...

In the face of the ramming as well as the frantic slashing of the soldiers, the military buggy rapidly broke down and clouds of smoke had risen from the engine with faint sparks lasing.

“I still have to go over and take your life myself after all!”

Achilles exhaled fiercely. In the twinkling of an eye, he kicked the driver’s door open and the enemies in front of him flew off. He leapt forward like Jack, soon knocked down two soldiers and grabbed his sword to stand on his feet.

Meanwhile, Jack held a sword and a gun in both hands and followed Achilles as he rushed towards Shawn.

They were powerful and overwhelmingly domineering.

He held the weapons in his hand and brought a piercing wind just like Azrael. When his sword slashed the soldiers, a large amount of blood splashed and a soldier fell down.

As the saying goes, cut off the head of the snake. Jack clearly knew it.

This melee was all caused by the traitor, Shawn.

As long as he killed him, it didn't really matter what happened afterwards.

Shawn had stayed in Dragon Cavalry for many years. Even though he was unable to probe into top secrets, he definitely knew all about the low-level secrets and the matters in Thegiant City.

Such a scam would have involved in the allied army of foreign tribes.

The foreign tribes which had joined forces had already put Thegiant City and three hundred thousand Dragon Cavalry under the heavy pressure.

If they were assisted by Shawn, it would only be a matter of time for the majestic Thegiant City to be trampled down when the allied army of foreign tribes moved south.

However, with this certainty in mind, his way to reinforce Achilles hadn't yet progressed far.

Suddenly, a cold light blasted out from his side and the wind howled.

Jack who was concentrated in killing the enemies was startled all of a sudden.

A strong sense of crisis arose.

Without hesitation, he blocked the spear that was thrust at him from his side and slashed the incoming soldiers brazenly.

Clang!

Sparks flew everywhere as the spears collided.

He didn't decrease his speed and continued slashed the soldiers in front of him brazenly.

However, he clearly saw that the soldiers suddenly showed a smile that made him feel terrified as he got closer.

It was bizarre, absurd and ghastly.

Buzz!

The next second, a strong wind buzzed.

A heavy axe suddenly came out behind the soldier in front of him and slashed at his sword with a domineering and arrogant stance.

Clang!

Sparks emitted.

The sword broke into two.

At the same time, a strong and huge force directly applied on his body.

His expression changed drastically and he staggered back five steps before he could stand still.

What a strong force!

He frowned tightly and his expression looked solemn as he felt his right hand was tingling. His heart was thudding faster at this moment and he stared the sturdy soldiers straight in the eye who was holding the axe.

In terms of strength, foreign soldiers... was the first one who made him feel stressed ever since he entered Dragon Cavalry and involved in the battlefield!

Chapter 956 The Expendable Wolf

As Jack's sword broke, he staggered back.

The soldiers around him seemed to stop lunging towards him.

Instead, they all gathered around and watched intently with their weapons in hands.

This created a gap between him and the mysterious foreign soldiers, as if it was an arena.

He was nervous and he frowned at the mysterious soldier.

Even on the battlefield, it was hard to find someone who could stand up to him with his physical strength.

Although he was a new soldier, he was strong enough to arm-wrestle with Chief Guard, Achilles.

By chance, such a demon had appeared among the ordinary soldiers!

In his sight, this soldier was about one metre eighty tall. He wasn't unattainable, but his entire body was sturdy as a brown bear which gave off a rugged and powerful feeling.

His square face was covered with golden beard, especially his fiery gaze with golden pupils invariably conveyed his fierceness.

Under Jack's gaze, this soldier slowly took off his beast robe and revealed his bronze-coloured muscles.

He clearly saw there was a wolf tattooed with its head tilted up at his heart position.

"The great Wolf has ordered us to take all your lives!"

This soldier slowly placed his left fist on the tattoo and his face was full of devotion, "The Expendable

Wolf Regiment will complete the task entrusted by Wolf even at cost of our lives!"

After he finished his words, Jack tensed suddenly.

Out of the corner of his eye, he saw three more soldiers who seemed to be as powerful as the soldier in front of him.

The Expendable Wolf Regiment?!

He was despairing as four of the soldiers surrounded him.

This was the first time he had ever perceived an army regarding foreign tribes on the battlefield.

But from their words, Jack had understood some information.

This was an army that belonged solely to Wolf!

If every Expendable was as strong as the soldier in front of him, such an army would have lethality which would be so terrifying and creepy.

Not only do they dare to charge into battlefield and kill, they even... dared to lose their lives!

The three soldiers who stepped out also slowly took off their robes and exposed their bronze-coloured muscles which weren't weaker than their companions.

Then, three of them clenched their fists and placed them on the position of Wolf tattoo.

"The Expendable Wolf Regiment would complete the mission entrusted by Wolf even at the cost of our lives!"

After they finished saying, Jack suddenly showed his power and his imposing manner changed dramatically.

In the twinkling of an eye, without waiting for them to get up, he straight away wielded his sword and charged to the ordinary soldiers at his side.

Poof!

“Ah!”

The blood splattered and miserable screams exploded.

After killing a soldier, he quickly seized the sword from the corpse.

Then, his waist twisted like a python, forcibly changing his direction and charging directly towards the Expendable Wolf who held the axe.

At the same time, the four soldiers held the weapons and charged towards Jack.

Even if the soldiers just held axes, they didn't have the intention of dodging and retreating when facing his attack, but wielded his axe and deal with him.

Clang!

The slash was powerful and the sound was as loud as thunderclap.

However, Jack was prepared this time as he had kept something up his sleeve. At the moment the sword slashed against the axe, he struck the sword sideways and slashed the right hand of the soldiers. A large spark was ignited between the surfaces.

Buzz!

Buzz!

Buzz!

However, his back, left and right sides simultaneously resounded with the whistling of wind.

In an instant, his body tensed and his fur raised.

With a clench of his teeth, he bent down his body and weaved through them when he was about to clash with them. Meanwhile, he turned around brazenly, wielding his weapons and faced them once again with a frontal stance.

Clang, clang, clang...

The shadow was like a storm as the sword was directly swung towards the four soldiers in front of him.

The scene where corpses fell on the battlefield just now came the four soldiers' way now.

He even had the feeling that he had fallen into the mire for a moment.

The weapons in his hands were somewhat weak when he faced these four brave soldiers while they were able to counter-attack from time to time after they had resolved his offensive.

He was caught in a stalemate.

At the same time, Achilles who headed straight to Shawn also encountered The Expendable Wolf.

Same as Jack, the appearance of The Expendable Wolf caught Shawn off guard and frightening.

By now the ordinary soldiers around him had tacitly retreated backwards.

Instead, there were six The Expendable Wolves tangling up with Achilles.

However, with Achilles's combat power, it was easier for him to deal with the six soldiers.

Jack only owned the terrifying combat power when he was in the state of Bewitchedness.

Without entering the state, his strength would still be somewhat weaker than Achilles.

In the distance, Shawn smirked as he looked at Achilles who could no longer move.

He praised undisguisedly, "I really don't expect that there would be such brave men outside the territory. It was really an eye-opener for me!"

The middle-aged man beside him said proudly, "These are the loyal and brave soldiers of The Expendable Wolf Regiment and also the warriors of foreign tribes that followed Wolf with all their hearts. They formed an army that is loyal to Wolf and each of them is outstanding!”

“I hope all of them to become meat paste and stay in this snowy plain.”

He clenched his fists and his expression was indifferent as he stared Achilles straight in the eye.

“As you wish, they will complete your mission perfectly.” The middle-aged man smiled smugly.

On the other side, compared to the stalemate of Jack and Achilles, the situation of the five hundred Dragon Cavalry that led by Holmes took a turn for the worse drastically with the appearance of The Expendable Wolf.

“Retreat! Retreat quickly! Form up!”

During the slaughter, blood splashed everywhere and Holmes who watched his comrades fall one by one felt a sense of panic as he was in danger.

He had been fighting with foreign tribes for many years.

He already had a good idea of their strength.

However, the few dozen soldiers that appeared in front of him had completely shattered his courage.

It was entirely different from his impression of their power.

The soldiers were simply like the tigers that were killing wolves. Even if they had to be wounded, they would want to kill the soldiers of Dragon Cavalry.

Bravery and fearlessness seemed like the dark cloud that shrouded on top of his head.

At this moment, he had to make an immediate decision, telling everyone to retreat and form up to defend against the soldiers who had suddenly appeared.

Chapter 957 Bewitched Again

“Ahh!”

“Save us, save us!”

“Holmes, what now? What are we going to do now?”

...

In his ears, there was a constant stream of horrifying screams and panicked wails.

Holmes, who was riding his horse, felt dizzy, and his body almost fell off from his horse.

As he witnessed the scene of horrific defeat.

He had never even dreamt that the Dragon Cavalry would ever be defeated on the battlefield. And to ever witnessed such calamity by his own eyes.

Blood was gushing like fountains.

Every time blood spewed, the limbs and even the heads of the soldiers of the Dragon Cavalry flew straight up in the air!

The scene was like demonic hell!

Dozens of Foreign troops suddenly appeared and decimated the five hundred Dragon Cavalry troops with a sinister and unstoppable force.

In the Northern territory.

The Dragon Cavalry had long been used to arrogance!

Under the leadership of Zenith Harol, no matter how big the battle was. It was always won in an invincible, indestructible, and dominating manner.

As a matter of fact, when Holmes led the five hundred Dragon Cavalry troops into the Foreign Army, they fought well and had the upper hand as the Dragon Cavalry had always been.

Until dozens of the Foreign troops appeared in their sight.

As if these devilish Shura came crawling from the deepest circle of hell. They not only made Holmes dumbfounded, even more and more of the Dragon Cavalry troops' morale almost collapsed and in depths of fear.

Even though Holmes had ordered to tighten the defensive formation.

One by one, the Dragon Cavalry troops weren't fighting alone with their brothers in arm at their side.

But facing the dozen 'Evil Shura' who suddenly appeared, even the defensive formation was useless against them.

Not only they could not defend these Shura, also they could not even hold up a simple defensive formation.

Without the fear of death, every single one of them punched right through the defensive formation held up by the Dragon Cavalry. They wreaked havoc onto the puny formation and slaughtered them, which frightened even the Dragon Cavalry troops.

"Where, where in the hell did these devils come from?"

Looking at the sacrifice made by the troops of the Dragon Cavalry, Holmes's body trembled and his eyes reddened, "This kind of force shouldn't have existed outside the Northern territory, let alone they are even in a formation... damn it, damn it... Argh..."

Furious, Holmes leaned back and let out a wail.

“Please... save us, save us arghh...”

“For the sake of the Dragon Cavalry, I will fight till death.”

“A group of barbarians, if I die today, I’ll drag you all down to hell with me!”

...

There were soldiers of the Dragon Cavalry who wailed for help, those who faced their demise honorably, and those who still maintained their bravery and pounced on the Expendable Wolf fearlessly.

There were wrecked and mutilated bodies all over the battlefield.

As soldiers of the Dragon Cavalry fell one by one in a pool of blood, staining the white snow red and filling the air with the sickeningly thick smell of blood.

If this scene was exposed, it would definitely shock the whole world!

The combat capabilities of the Dragon Cavalry were second to none in all of the armies in the whole world!

Who would have ever thought that the Dragon Cavalry would get mauled by someone else?

The surrounding foreign army at that moment became audiences, or in other words surrounded them to facilitate the hunting of the dozen of Expendable Wolves.

Holmes's face was stained with blood.

His gaze was drifting, sometimes there was determination, and sometimes they were gloomy.

His body was constantly shivering.

As the cries and wails of his fallen comrades filled his ears.

And even sometimes there was blood splattering onto his face.

Just then, he dared to lead his comrades to charge in without fear because he was well aware of the combat capabilities of the Dragon Cavalry. As they rushed to obliterate the Foreign Army, there would definitely be some casualties.

But the casualties would only be minor!

Achilles and Jack had charged into the Foreign Army. If they didn't back them up, both of them could have been decimated by the enemy!

They charged in to relieve some pressure from them and at least be able to delay until reinforcements arrive!

The hunt for the traitor was a matter that would inevitably lead to the dispatch of a large strike force from Thegiant city.

If they stalled long enough for the large strike force to arrive, the tide would have definitely turned!

But the scenes he witnessed in front of his eyes, was bloody as purgatory. As the troops fell like dominos!

As he looked at numbers of fallen soldiers piling up, even though they fearlessly pulled off a combined counterattack, in front of the dozen of Expendable Wolves, they all gave their lives to those heavy blades and battle axes.

After all, only a handful of Dragon Cavalry soldiers could wield the heavy Dragon Cavalry Sword!

Alas, the five hundred soldiers under the command of Holmes, only a few could wield the heavy Dragon Cavalry Sword, including himself!

And to fight against dozen of the Expendable Wolves was nearly impossible!

“Huff... for the people, for thegiant city, and for the glory of... the Dragon Cavalry!”

Suddenly, Holmes straightened his posture with determination in his eyes, “All of you, follow me... charge!”

With his burst of roar.

Holmes clamped down his horse with his legs and charged full force at the nearest Expendable Wolf.

“Hya!”

At that moment, Holmes had gone frenzy.

With the momentum from his speeding horse, he used his Dragon Cavalry Sword in his hand and slashed down on him with tremendous force.

The Expendable Wolf hastily raised his wide, heavy blade to parry!

Clank!

With tremendous force, the Dragon Cavalry sword immediately crushed the heavy blade. The blade then landed on top of the Expendable Wolf’s shoulder, which then caused him to kneel with both knees.

“Hya!”

With another explosive roar, Holmes wielded his Dragon Cavalry Sword in his hand and directly reaped the life of Expendable Wolf in front of him.

However.

In a flash.

There were cold flashes illuminated to the left and right at the same time.

“Look out!”

As the soldiers around him warned.

Slash!

Bang!

A battle-axe brazenly cleaves over his horse.

At the same time, another cold flash reflected from a heavy blade swung at him.

In full view of the crowd, Holmes flew into the air.

But both of his legs were still on his fallen horse...

Clink-clank...

With his sword and spear in hand, Jack pushed back four Expendable Wolves in front of him.

Hearing an explosive roar not far away from him, he turned his head immediately. He saw the sight of Holmes's upper torso in mid-air.

The fury and fierceness still present in that lifeless, ghastly white face. His eyes were still extremely determined!

"Holmes..."

Jack's heart suddenly twitched.

His gaze hastily swept over the tide of Foreign army and focused on the area where the Dragon Cavalry troops were.

The scene was tragic!

It was horrible!

Bloods and torn apart bodies were scattered all around.

As the group of Dragon Cavalry soldier was like meat on the cutting board in the face of the Expendable Wolf.

That scene.

Had caused Jack's body to tremble.

The next second.

He closed his eyes.

This scene, however, caused the four Expendable Wolves to simultaneously freeze in place.

Was it a good idea to close your eyes in the middle of a fierce battle? Was this his death wish?

However.

All of a sudden.

A monstrous and fierce aura exploded from him, which even startled the Expendable Wolf.

As the top warriors among the different tribes, the four Expendable Wolves' expression changed immediately and even became frightened.

In a trance.

They seemed to see that Jack, who was still standing in place with his eyes closed, had a mountain of... corpses and blood rising up behind him!

"This is..."

"The Wolf is above, he, he is not an ordinary soldier...."

"Damn it, this kind of rage, is he, is he trying to summon the devils from hell?"

The four Expendable Wolves were shocked and terrified.

As they watched in horror.

Jack... slowly opened his eyes.

Chapter 958 Capture Him Alive at Any Cost!

When Jack slowly opened his eye, it was as if his surrounding had been put on hold.

His red-blood eyes looked deep and demonic that they seemed to contain blood and corpses. His majesty and sinisterness were as if the firmament was overturned and suppressed the sky.

The corners of his mouth gradually curved up and showed an evil smile.

His body also trembled vaguely.

The veins stood out from his neck to face.

Swish!

At the same time, the surrounding soldiers stepped backwards with fearful expressions and the circle formed around him became two times larger.

At this moment, everyone looked at him with a horror look.

Is he... a ghost?

Wolf, how could a person have such a change?

Even though the four Expendable Wolves were ready to sacrifice themselves since they entered Expendable Wolf Regiment, a sense of fear still arose as they faced him.

Some even began to swallow incessantly and their throats were choky.

They were indeed the Expendables and weren't afraid of death.

However, when Reaper really stood before them, the feeling of facing death head-on would definitely waver even if they were determined.

“Hoho...”

He wheezed. The blizzard blew his robe and his black hair blew in the wind.

At this moment, it was as if he was the focus of the battlefield.

It wasn't glamorous.

Rather, it was... full of intention to kill him!

“Howl!”

Without waiting for the crowd to recover their wits, he suddenly roared like a tiger and it was extremely powerful.

The ordinary soldiers around him who were closest to him even showed a painful look.

In a matter of moments, the roar didn't seem to stop yet, but he had wielded his weapons and rushed towards the four soldiers fiercely.

Poof!

The slash was as fast as lightning as it directly crossed the neck of an Expendable Wolf.

A head which was full of dumbfounded fear didn't even show a horrified expression before it spurted blood.

The remaining three soldiers trembled.

They brandished their battleaxe in their hands and slashed directly towards Jack after they recovered their wits.

However, he had become extremely hostile and violent at this time.

In the face of the three soldiers' attacks, he didn't dodge or evade them, but deal with them directly with a brutal and domineering stance.

The Expendable Wolves weren't afraid of death.

Jack didn't know what life and death were when he was bewitched!

Clang!

He struck the blades in the hands of two soldiers instantly under his tremendous force.

In an instant, with a stance that was as graceful as a gazelle and with his waist twisted like a python, he swept past the axes and slammed his head into the chest of a soldier in the middle.

Bang!

There was a loud bang and a scream.

The chest of the soldier almost exploded and his white ribs fractured, piercing the skin and were exposed to the air.

Jack didn't pause his movement and he wielded his weapons and straight away killed him as if Azrael had came.

On the other side, Achilles White who was dealing with six Expendable Wolves alone suddenly heard his roar echoing and his eyes shone brightly at once.

It came!

It came again!

His Bewitchedness had come at just the right time!

As Achilles had experienced it before, he was clear about the deafening roar.

If it was in any other time, he would have been worried about Jack when he entered the state of madness.

However, in the current situation, his Bewitchedness was really a saviour!

If all of them were to face the Foreign Army, there might still be a possibility of tangling and killing them.

But these Expendable Wolves who suddenly appeared were all the top warriors of foreign tribes.

He and Jack were able to resist temporarily with their combat power.

However, he clearly knew that the five hundred Dragon Cavalry led by Holmes had already been defeated earlier.

When Holmes and the others were completely wiped out, all the power was resisted by him and Jack.

Even he was arrogant, he couldn't see any chance of survival!

"Jack, kill Shawn!"

After forcing the soldiers back with a single slash, Achilles used all his strength and shouted loudly.

He knew that Jack was irrational at this moment.

The most crucial thing now was to kill Shawn!

In his mind, he and Jack could die, but Shawn must die too!

“What’s going on? What’s really going on?”

At this moment, Shawn looked panicked and his eyes fluttered in fear as he stared at Jack who was killing people in the distance.

Even they had heard his roar just now.

They could even feel the overwhelming violence clearly.

“He’s just a new recruit. Why would he be like this? Why?”

Shawn grabbed the middle-aged man beside him, “Did you see that? Did you see that? What’s going on with him?”

A series of questioning revealed his great panic at this moment.

The middle-aged man was also looked solemn with an indescribable gloom in his eyes.

Jack’s change caused everyone to be frightened.

His sinisterness was like a big invisible hand which covered the battlefield.

This was like a bolt from the blue to the middle-aged man.

No one could block him!

This was the only adjective that the middle-aged man could think of after he saw Jack break out.

He had witnessed with his own eyes that the Expendable Wolf whom he was so proud of was killed with a single slash by Jack.

Also, he witnessed that the three remaining soldiers who couldn't even resist Jack's single move were straight away killed by him!

Such a scene was a far cry from the stalemate just now.

On the other hand, Jack was completely different.

How could a mere new recruit have such terrifying combat power?

"Kill him! Kill him now!"

Shawn pointed fearfully at Jack who was killing people in the distance without waiting for the middle-aged man's response.

Jack's change had made him feel a more terrifying threat than Achilles!

His roars were heard continuously.

It was as if a heavy hammer, smashing on Shawn's nerves ruthlessly, causing him to be trepid.

At this moment, a correspondent approached the middle-aged man, "General, here's an urgent telegram from Wolf!"

The middle-aged man took the satellite phone after recovering his wits.

"Wolf, Shawn has been successfully came to our aid, but there was a change which one of the new recruits of Dragon Cavalry make me surprised."

He finished his brief and concise report.

After two seconds of silence, his expression changed abruptly and filled with horror, "Wolf, are you sure?"

Then, there was another two-second pause,

This caused Shawn to sweat profusely due to anxiety.

In the end, the middle-aged man only responded with two words, "Yes, Wolf."

After hanging up phone, Shawn hurriedly asked, "How is it?"

The middle-aged man frowned morosely and ignored him.

Instead, he said to the lieutenant general beside him, "Pass the order now. Everyone surround that new recruit and capture him alive... at any cost!"

Chapter 959 He Is More Valuable Than You!

Boom!

Shawn was very agitated as if he was being struck by lightning.

He stared at the middle-aged man with his eyes opening wide as he did not dare to believe, "Are you crazy? This fellow isn't even a human, why does the Wolf want to capture him alive? The cost for this..."

Being served in the Dragon Cavalry, he was not stupid at all. Although he was not totally proficient in every matter on the battlefield, yet he was considered quite experienced too.

Jack's combat power had increased drastically due to his change.

His heroic performance of killing the enemies in the midst of ten thousand armies was just as easy as taking something out of one's pocket.

At this moment, how could he still be captured alive?

The cost for this would be tragic and devastating!

However, it was before Shawn could finish speaking.

The middle-aged man took a cold and stern glance at Shawn, “How can you influence the decision made by the Wolf? We all are willing to sacrifice our lives for the Wolf. If the Wolf demands to capture him alive, then the military order must be obeyed!”

This remark made Shawn stammer as he was about to say something. He was so angry that his face turned red.

The middle-aged man waved his sleeve, “Shawn, we do need you, but...”

He raised his muscular arm and pointed straight at Jack who was wiping out the enemies with his unbeatable strength. Then, he slowly revealed something that astounded Shawn at the instant.

“He is more valuable than you! As the last resort, we will abandon you and capture him!”

These words...were told by the Wolf just now!

Even the middle-aged man was astonished, he still spoke directly without disguise when facing Shawn at this moment.

Shawn was dumbfounded and frightened.

When his face turned red and hot, he frowned while looking at Jack on the battlefield.

At this moment, he did not dare to say anything even though he was really unsatisfied.

There was no way back anymore ever since that night he had joined Timur and had already embarked on this path of no return.

If he returned to the territory, he would face the unbearable wrath of Zenith and the three hundred thousand armies of the Dragon Cavalry.

The only support that he could rely on was to shelter in the foreign tribes of Hun Royal Palace.

He was worried and apprehensive when he left the city.

However, he was yearning for wealth and glory in the Hun Royal Palace at the same time.

But now the words from the middle-aged man were giving him a big slap that shattered his dreams!

He was actually worth...less than a new recruit?!

“Ow!”

Jack’s beast-like roar resounded once again on the battlefield.

The thundering roar terrified all the whole universe!

Shawn’s heart skipped a beat and he raised his eyes to look at Jack who was surrounded in the centre.

However, his face turned extremely pale at the instance after glancing at Jack.

“He is coming, he is coming over!”

In his sight, Jack whose face was as fierce as a devil was wielding his sword like a Killer God slaying all the enemies ahead. He was dashing towards their direction boldly.

Since the order was given by the middle-aged man, a huge crowd of armies surged towards Jack.

Although Jack’s speed was reduced as if he was trapped in a swamp, still nobody could stop him.

It was even crucial that the order from the Wolf conveyed by the middle-aged man was to capture him alive!

This caused everybody in the allied Foreign Army to be constrained when they fought against Jack.

The middle-aged man ignored Shawn’s miserable wails.

Staring at the unrivalled Jack, the middle-aged man frowned intensely as he narrowed his eyes.

It was on the battlefield.

With a sword in his hand, Achilles fought bravely like a thunderbolt as he killed one of the Expendable

Wolves on the spot directly.

With a thundering roar, he carried the corpse of the Expendable Wolf on his sword and threw it at the five Expendable Wolves at his opposite.

Taking advantage of this short pause, Achilles turned around and looked at Jack on the battlefield.

He was stunned after looking at Jack.

“Is it really...coming?”

According to his military strength, he still knew a bit about Bewitchedness even though he did not have a deep understanding of it.

After Bewitchedness, a person would be crazy and irrational, leaving only his demonic and vicious killing intention.

When Jack went bewitched just now, he shouted “Kill Shawn” at Jack, but it was actually an impulsive “casual shout” by him.

Being trapped by the allied Foreign Army, the Dragon Cavalry led by Holmes was suffering a terrible defeat.

The only person he could rely on was Jack who had gone bewitched.

Achilles really did not expect that a “casual shout” would make Jack dashing in his direction and killing the enemies brutally!

Buzz, buzz, buzz...

Waves of strong wind howled behind his head suddenly.

It was in a flash.

Achilles's expression became serious and his gaze was concentrated.

With his waist like a python, he leaned backward instantly. Meanwhile, his right foot stomped on the ground with a violent "thud". Using this force, Achilles slid to the back swiftly and firmly with his feet on the ground.

As he leaned backward, his upper body nearly reached the ground. In his vision, five swords were slashing down on him brutally at the same time.

Poof!

Poof!

Two pools of blood spurted in all directions.

The scarlet and warm blood splashed onto Achilles's face.

Bang!

Achilles brushed past the five Expendable Wolves. He stomped his feet on the ground and stood straight up like a python.

The five Expendable Wolves at his opposite also paused at the same time.

Both their movements seemed to be frozen abruptly.

However, blood was dripping slowly from the sword in Achilles's hand at this moment.

Bang!

Bang!

Two of the five Expendable Wolves fell to the ground suddenly.

As the two fell to the ground, the halt was instantly broken as everything was back to reality.

The remaining three Expendable Wolves turned around and stared at Achilles fiercely at the same time.

Their cold and sharp gaze was like those wolves hunting on the snowfield.

Achilles shook the sword in his hand slowly and sneered, "If you want to kill me, you must be prepared to sacrifice more human lives even you're willing to die."

It was on the other side.

Bang, bang, bang...

The successive explosive sounds were thundering.

The sword in Jack's hand was like a meat grinder at this moment. He wielded his sword as if a violent storm striking the enemies and leaving only their corpses.

The sword was just a common battlefield sword. It totally could not be compared to the Dragon Cavalry Sword.

However, the common battlefield sword created such an overwhelming and scary killing power after Jack had gone bewitched and his strength had increased drastically.

The surrounding foreign armies were terrified and hesitated when they faced Jack. After recalling their military order, they eventually gritted their teeth and attacked Jack like moths to a flame.

But...Jack was unstoppable at this moment.

Moreover, the military order was to capture Jack alive. These foreign armies who dashed towards Jack were indeed moths to a flame!

“Ho ho...”

In a short while, Jack’s whole body was already covered with blood. He gasped heavily as he slew the enemies ahead.

Due to the sudden incident, he and Achilles were dressed in light uniforms and equipment when they were chasing after Shawn. At this moment, his uniform was soaked with blood and blood flowed out from his uniform to the ground continuously.

Poof!

He slashed a Foreign Army with his sword once again.

Without waiting for Jack to take a step, his bloodshot eyes suddenly flashed fiercely.

About dozens of Expendable Wolves pounced directly towards Jack like ferocious wolves to kill him.

However, each of the foreign Expendable Wolves behind them was emerging from the crowd and heading to them rapidly. There were at least a hundred of them!

Chapter 960 Everybody Was in Horror, Fear Enveloping

The middle-aged man gave his order.

All the Expendable Wolves surged towards Jack.

Only the three Expendable Wolves who were fighting against Achilles did not move.

On the other side, the remaining Dragon Cavalry lost their fighting spirit with the defeat of Holmes. The leftover Dragon Cavalry immediately formed a defensive formation to safeguard themselves from the attack.

It was after being attacked by about ten Expendable Wolves brutally.

There were only about ten of them left!

At this moment, they huddled together and fought against the ordinary foreign armies around them.

It was only a matter of time before they were defeated!

Yet, the Dragon Cavalry fought fearlessly as the spirit of the Dragon Cavalry was...never sit still waiting for death!

Even if they fought to their last breath, still they had to fight in the battle!

“Kill...”

Jack said in a hoarse and deep voice.

As he faced the Expendable Wolves, his bloodshot eyes were blazing and his killing intention was surging!

The majestic sinister energy erupted from Jack's body.

It was as if the gates of the hell had been opened and corpses and blood were everywhere, even covering the sky.

Even the Expendable Wolves who were pounding on Jack could feel the sinister energy released by Jack. At this moment, they were frightened and trembled in fear as they felt the overwhelming corpses and blood as well as ghosts wailing in a trance.

However, they had handed their lives over to the Wolf from the moment they joined the Wolf. Death was not a big deal for them.

All for the sake of the foreign tribes, all for the sake of the Wolf!

Therefore, the Expendable Wolves did not stop their steps even though they were already trembling.

The ordinary foreign armies could hardly capture Jack alive.

The only thing they could do was to sacrifice under Jack's sword and to exhaust Jack's energy gradually.

The fighting spirit of the Expendable Wolves was far higher than the ordinary foreign armies!

Boom!

It was just when the Expendable Wolves headed towards Jack.

Jack dragged his blood-soaked sword boldly and dashed towards the Expendable Wolves quickly.

“Ah!”

While facing the charging Jack, a fierce look appeared on the Expendable Wolves’ faces. They wielded their swords violently and slashed directly towards Jack.

It was but then.

There was a cold flash.

Poof!

Blood spurted and gushed out all over.

Jack was as fast as lightning. After settling one of the Expendable Wolves with a single slash, he backhand snatched the sword from the dead Expendable Wolf’s hand.

As he held the swords in both hands, the strong wind howled and leaving only the corpses as if he was in a no man’s land.

The killing spree erupted once again.

Previously, he was fighting against the ordinary foreign armies. But now, he was battling against the Expendable Wolves.

This was the difference.

The difference was not too obvious for Jack who had gone bewitched.

It was just nothing more than...using one or two more slashes!

About ten Expendable Wolves surged towards Jack, roaring and slashing directly onto Jack brutally with their swords.

However, Jack who was surrounded by the ten dodged quickly from their attacks. He was like a blood-soaked devil holding the swords in both hands and slashing onto the Expendable Wolves' necks violently.

Blood spurted out everywhere.

There were miserable wails.

All the Expendable Wolves fell in front of Jack one by one.

This caused all the foreign armies around to tremble in fear.

Was this fellow...still a human?

Probably it would be almost the same when devils descended to the world?

The bloody death and horror enveloped everybody on the battlefield.

Even the middle-aged man and Shawn were no exception.

Shawn was stunned as he looked at Jack who was slaying the enemies like mud. He muttered, "That time when I fought against him, he definitely wasn't this strong!"

There was a strong sense of doubt and disbelief in his tone.

In his view, either the Expendable Wolves' strength or even the former Chief Guard Achilles would still be in extreme danger when facing six Expendable Wolves at the same time.

But Jack was now...facing hundreds of Expendable Wolves!

In Shawn's eyes, Jack was just a new recruit.

Even he was originally the most outstanding in the military selection, he would not have stayed in the new recruit troop if he was such strong when he entered the Dragon Cavalry. Instead, he would have been promoted instantly by Zenith!

Worse still, he had fought against Jack!

Even though the strength possessed by Jack that time had terrified him, but the impact was not as great as it is now!

“Such an unbeatable blood-soaked Killer God. This kind of boldness, no wonder that he has earned the favour of the Wolf!”

The middle-aged man’s face was flushed red and he said something while gritting his teeth.

The foreign tribes outside the territory practised the survival law of big fish eat little fish, respecting the powerful ones.

The middle-aged man was startled as he faced Jack at this moment. He also understood the reason that the wolf had given the order to capture Jack alive in the phone call just now.

However, the middle-aged man’s gaze became more serious gradually.

As compared to the panic Shawn, he was even rational for being the commander of the allied Foreign Army.

In his sight, even though Jack was surrounded by hundreds of Expendable Wolves as well as slaying the enemies, Jack was also actually...heading towards them close bit by bit!

Even the Expendable Wolves who were not afraid to sacrifice could not even stop Jack to move ahead!

While facing the attacks by the Expendable Wolves, Jack who had gone bewitched held his swords in both hands and slaughtered the enemies brutally.

However, the surrounding Expendable Wolves were far stronger than the ordinary foreign armies!

The difference between the two was not only in the aspect of strength, but also in the different attitudes when facing life and death!

It was when Jack wielded his sword and killed the two Expendable Wolves in front of him.

He did not wait to draw his swords out of the bodies of the Expendable Wolves.

Poof!

There was a cold flash in the air and a sword was slashed onto Jack's shoulder violently.

"Ow!"

Jack shrieked instantly due to the excruciating pain.

Blood spurted out like a fountain on his left shoulder.

It was but then.

Jack's bloodshot eyes sparked brightly after shrieking.

He drew out his swords from the bodies of the Expendable Wolves. With a brutal slash, he directly slew the Wolf army who had slashed him into two on the spot!

It was right after that.

Jack continued wielding his two swords while fighting against the Expendable Wolves as if he could not notice the excruciating pain on his left shoulder. He just allowed the swords to land on his left shoulder boldly.

This scene was like a bolt from the blue.

Everyone was worried and terrified.

The cruel battlefield was all about strength and courage.

But even these foreign tribes had never seen anyone such heroic on the battlefield!

If someone else was struck by that slash, he would lose his combat strength and be injured severely even if he would not die on the spot.

But Jack...did not feel anything!

After taking the slash, the only change was perhaps the speed of wielding the sword with his left hand was slightly affected due to the swords stabbing on his left shoulder!

At this moment, everybody was in horror!

The entire battlefield was enveloped with fear!
