

Boss Is Reborn 27

Chapter 27 -

027. Star TV 1

Ever since Ding Shan debuted at the age of three, she had been managed by Yang Hua and Ding Wan according to a fixed pattern. She never dared to have any personal thoughts because not only would it not be realized, but she would also receive a scolding or even a slap in the face.

Ding Shan could only place all her emotions on her acting career. Every time she went on stage, every time she faced the camera, Ding Shan would release her inner emotions with a venting attitude. Therefore, people were always deeply attracted by the screen- Ding Shan. The Ding Shan that could shock the audience with her emotions, was deeply attractive.

However, later on, Yang Hua, Ding Wan, and the others became more and more excessive, and the work they arranged became more and more ridiculous. The audience did not buy it, and Ding Shan also lost her spiritual sustenance, becoming more closed and uncomfortable.

Yang Hua took an inch and took a mile. To swallow the pay and prevent Ding Shan from resisting, she often signed some contracts privately without Ding Shan's knowledge. Anyway, when the day arrived, she would just send Ding Shan to the set.

Ding Shan knew that if she had not come back from her rebirth and changed everything in time, then these things might never have been known to anyone.

Ding Shan said calmly, "Keep this list of names and leave some evidence. Help me contact them. If they are willing to terminate the contract, I will repay the reward in full and pay the legal compensation. However, there are a few contracts that should have tyrannical terms and there is a sky-high penalty for breach of contract. We don't have to be afraid. You can tell them that the contract was not signed by me and has no legal effect. If it is not terminated, they will just have to wait for the subpoena."

Xiao Zhao majored in business management, so the legality of the contract was naturally not a problem for her. After listening to Ding Shan's words, she carefully checked them, as expected, she found a huge loophole. "Sister Shan, you're amazing! Their contracts don't conform to the norms at all, and it's not written in your handwriting. It's meaningless!"

Xiao Zhao quickly sorted the contracts and sent out a notice of termination and a solution in turn. However, she found a strange email in her mailbox. They repeatedly sent out several messages as if they were afraid that she wouldn't be able to see them. Xiao Zhao thought that it was a spam advertisement, but in such a short period, three more messages were sent over. It was enough to show how anxious the sender was.

Xiao Zhao opened the email and looked at it in confusion for a long time before reading it out in a low voice, "Star TV, the country's first innovative talent show variety show. The CEO is personally interviewing us. Please accept our invitation and reply immediately. Is this a new scam?"

Ding Shan did not hear it clearly and asked, "What variety show?"

Xiao Zhao scratched her head. "Sister Shan, I think it's a scam or a prank. How can a collaboration invitation be sent like this? It's not formal at all. And the President is personally interviewing them? What kind of lousy company is that?"

Ding Shan was also a little amused. "What's the name of the company?"

Xiao Zhao replied, "Star TV. I don't have any idea of it, but it does sound a little familiar..." as she said that, she started to search curiously.

Ding Shan did have an impression. In her previous life, this star TV company relied on a few popular varieties shows to break through the encirclement and gain a firm foothold in the entertainment companies. In her previous life, Ding Shan's unfaithful boyfriend just happened to have signed with this company.

Wen Xiu... in the days since she came back, Ding Shan had forgotten about him. She couldn't remember which variety show Wen Xiu had debuted from. After all, when Ding Shan first met him, he wasn't very popular and didn't have much of a presence in the industry. It wasn't until she got together with Ding Shan that he gained a lot of benefits in the open and in the dark. In the end, she even sold Ding Shan for a good price.

When she thought of this, Ding Shan still felt a pain in her heart. She didn't dare to forget the feeling of being fed to a dog.

She vaguely remembered that star entertainment seemed to be on the right track in a year. Ding Shan couldn't help but be interested. "Do you have a way to contact them?"

Xiao Zhao was checking Star Entertainment's company qualifications, she said hesitantly, "Sister Shan, this seems to be a real company! All the departments are very complete, and the registered capital is 500 million! The legal person is called Yin Hui... This name is so familiar."

Xiao Zhao thought for a moment and slapped her thigh. "I remember! That Young Master Yin! He is a typical second-generation rich kid. He has been tormenting the entertainment company for several years, but all of them have failed. Sister Shan, even if it is true, he is not very reliable!"
