

Boss Is Reborn 352

Chapter 352. New Prey

The performances went on one by one. There were surprising dark horse teams and teams that made mistakes that made people feel pity.

Among them, 'Lion' performed by the Wen Xiu group was perfect in terms of completion.

Before tonight's live broadcast, the trainees' first public performance had been uploaded to the internet in advance.

The netizens had noticed that something was wrong with Wen Xiu's condition. No one knew who had revealed the news of Wen Xiu's father's illness, but many netizens were very distressed that Wen Xiu had to endure the worry for his loved ones and continue to practice.

Especially Wen Xiu's fans were madly posting, "My heart aches for my brother", "Brother is too dedicated", and "My heart is about to break when I see him frowning".

There was also a portion of the audience that was worried that Wen Xiu's poor state might affect his performance.

However, in the stage performance of 'Lion', Wen Xiu's performance was very eye-catching, even more, outstanding than the performance of the center spot.

In an instant, the bullet screen was filled with "Wen Xiu, the only King of the stage! He's the well-deserved Lion King! He's so handsome!" "Wen Xiu, you're my god to be able to perform so well in such a state!"

The strong rhythm ended abruptly, and the trainees dancing passionately to the music gathered in the center of the stage, posing in a handsome and aggressive 'Lion' stance.

Wen Xiu revealed a fierce and sinister hunting expression. His fingers turned into sharp claws, and his keen eyes stared at the camera. There was a hint of charm in his dangerous aura, causing the audience to boil with excitement. Countless people were shouting Wen Xiu's name.

"The lion's team has the best performance, and the audience's response is also excellent." Chen Xi commented from the side.

Su Yan nodded. "It might be the team with the highest votes today."

Ding Shan had a calm smile on her face. She didn't express any opinion and calmly clapped with the other instructors.

Although Wen Xiu was a hypocritical liar, she had to admit he was mighty.

Ding Shan felt that if Wen Xiu had chosen to be down-to-earth and develop his career in the entertainment industry, he might have achieved a lot. However, he had put all his thoughts on being opportunistic and could not continue exploring his potential and talent.

However, all of this had nothing to do with Ding Shan. In her past life, Wen Xiu was considered her enemy, but in this life, the two of them were still incompatible as fire and water.

After the performance ended, Wen Xiu turned his gaze to the coaches' seats and revealed a bashful yet sunny smile.

Ding Shan felt that something wasn't right. Wen Xiu didn't seem to be smiling at her.

Ding Shan followed Wen Xiu's gaze and finally noticed the eye contact between him and Chen Tong.

No wonder Chen Tong showed an infatuated expression when Wen Xiu shone on stage just now and even applauded hard.

Could it be that Wen Xiu had decided to give up on Ding Shan and choose Chen Tong as his prey?

Ding Shan didn't know whether to be happy or speechless.

Although Chen Tong had offended her many times, Ding Shan still didn't want her to be deceived and used by someone like Wen Xiu. Her ending in her previous life was so miserable. If Chen Tong were to be targeted by Wen Xiu, it would probably not end well for her.

Chen Tong and Wen Xiu's gazes were vaguely ambiguous, but they did not look at each other for too long. The host took the microphone and walked to the side of the trainees, asking them how they were feeling.

"I think our performance was very successful!" Wen Xiu immediately stood up and spoke into the microphone.

The trainee next to Wen Xiu was the true center of this group. When he saw that Wen Xiu was the first to answer, his expression turned slightly ugly.

However, on the stage, it was not convenient to be calculative about such things. Wen Xiu and the host chatted for more than a minute. After being in the limelight, the others said a few simple words. Finally, this group of trainees went to wait below the stage.

When Wen Xiu got off the stage, he put his index and middle fingers together on his forehead and raised his finger at the audience. At the same time, he blinked and smiled. This incredible action made Wen Xiu's fans scream even more incensed below the stage.

"It seems like Wen Xiu is very popular," Li Yang lowered her head and whispered to Ding Shan, "If there's no accident, they should be the first place in the first public performance."

An accident? Ding Shan thought of a certain someone.

Would there be no accidents?

Very quickly, the emcee announced that the last group for the first public performance would be coming on stage. The song they would be performing was 'Not just a song.'

The lights dimmed.

Unlike the explosive atmosphere of other passionate songs, this song was very gentle. The first note quieted the noisy venue.

'I crossed the mountains just to meet you here, to solve the mystery you buried for me ....'
