

Boss Is Reborn 359

Chapter 359. I'll Make You Fall in Love With me

Xiang Hong raised his head and returned to his usual expression when facing Yin Hui. He glanced at him indifferently and said, "What's the matter?"

Yin Hui nodded and walked to Xiang Hong's side. He took a stack of printed documents and handed them to Xiang Hong. "I've checked Wang Shi's side, but I suddenly felt something was wrong."

Xiang Hong flipped through the document. It showed Wang Shi's call history during this period. During the incident, Wang Shi often contacted a number from country K. At the back of the document was the transfer record of Wang Shi's bank account. There was a large sum of money from country K.

Xiang Hong frowned.

Yin Hui sat on the table casually, his fingers tapping as he analyzed, "You also think something is wrong. There's something else that's not right. I went to check the account number of the money transfer and found out that it was an underground money house in country K. That money house is not an account that ordinary people can open. The threshold is an astronomical number. How do you think Wang Shi could have come into contact with such a Big Shot?"

A memory fragment flashed through Xiang Hong's mind. He remembered that Ding Shan had once mentioned a person called Madam Lin.

"You don't have to worry about this; I'll investigate." Xiang Hong's tone carried a trace of coldness.

After getting closer to Xiang Hong, Ding Shan would subconsciously lower her head whenever she saw him as if she was afraid that the people around her would see through their relationship.

Xiang Hong didn't even try to hide it. He called her "Teacher Ding," and he didn't mind staring at her in front of everyone.

Ding Shan was angry and helpless. She could only secretly glare at him when no one was paying attention.

The training was still going on intensely. The second public performance would be separated from singing, dancing, and Rap, giving each trainee a chance to show off their most prominent advantages.

The video of Xiang Hong playing the piano in his first public performance was widely spread on major social media platforms. The video had more than 50 million views. The original author of 'Not just a song' also posted on Weibo halfway, praising the song's great adaptation. According to this Weibo post, netizens also found out that the editor of the song was Mysterious X. For a time, Mysterious X's creative talent caused widespread discussion.

"You can even arrange songs?" Ding Shan was a little surprised when she saw the netizens' discussion. She asked about it when the two of them were taking a walk that night.

"I don't know, I just learned it."

Xiang Hong's tone had no intention of showing off, but Ding Shan was deeply shocked.

What? Did he learn it on the spot? He knew how to adapt a song in less than a week, and even the original author praised him.

Ding Shan felt a little dizzy for a moment. She gritted her teeth and looked at Xiang Hong. "Can you tell me what you can't learn?"

Xiang Hong revealed a smile, "Yes, I do. I still haven't learned how to make you fall in love with me."

Ding Shan was speechless.

With the experience of his first time adapting a song, Xiang Hong seemed to have found a path that he was good at. He signed up to participate in the creative team for the second public performance and performed an original song of his own on the stage.

The song's name was 'My planet is suitable for you to live,' and it sounded like a refreshing love song.

The melody of this song was simple, and the lyrics were sweet. After the second live broadcast on the public stage, it quickly became a hit and the background music of a popular video. Countless online singers covered this song, and it was even called 'The confession song.'

Ding Shan looked at the lyrics of the song. She suspected that Xiang Hong had written them down on the night of his confession. Many of the words in the lyrics matched the scene from that night.

Even though Ding Shan had her suspicions, she was too embarrassed to ask Xiang Hong. She was afraid that Xiang Hong would ask her again, "Do you like this song?"

That man was too good at stirring up people's hearts. Sometimes, Ding Shan even wondered if he had been in many relationships. However, Xiang Hong said that he had only had one woman in his life.

"It's that heartless woman who stole my purity that night and tried to use money to get rid of me." Xiang Hong's lips curled into a smile as he turned to look at Ding Shan.

Ding Shan was too embarrassed to show her face. Don't tell me you'll keep this up for the rest of your life.

Due to his extremely high popularity, Xiang Hong successfully advanced to the final round. By the end of the final round, there were only 25 trainees left, and the competition was getting more intense.

At the same time, Ding Shan was surprised to find that Wen Xiu had not been looking for her for a while. Instead, he had been contacting Chen Tong in private. Xiao Zhao even mentioned that she had seen them leaving the film Park together.
