

Boss Is Reborn 364

Chapter 364. The Result

The bullet comments in the live broadcast room increased crazily in these three minutes. Many trainees' fans directly asked for votes for their idols in the live broadcast room, and ordinary viewers began to play guessing games, guessing which trainees would be the last to debut.

Many people mentioned Mysterious X's name in the speculation about the champion. An audience member said in the bullet screen, "I suddenly remember that we still don't know the true identity of this Mysterious Person X."

The bullet comments in the live broadcast room rolled out on the small screen next to the big screen. Ding Shan also saw the bullet comments discussing Mysterious X's identity.

She thought, "When the final results of the competition are out, will Xiang Hong reveal his identity? If the audience knew that the Mysterious X was the president of the Xiang Group, would they feel that it was magical? Then, they may think, 'Even the president is a trainee now. It seems that the competition in the entertainment industry is fierce.'

While Ding Shan's thoughts ran wild, the voting ended. The host held nine envelopes that the program team had sent up. In the close-up shot, the letters were sealed with wax seals. The letters were numbers 1 to 9 in ancient Chinese. These numbers represented the trainees' ranking.

The host seemed to be very nervous as well. She took a deep breath and opened the envelope with a '9' in anticipation and curiosity.

Standing on the stage, Wen Xiu clenched his fists nervously when he saw the emcee open the envelope.

In the past, Wen Xiu did not care about any other ranking besides first place. However, his popularity had plummeted. He knew very well that the scandal with Chen Tong had caused a significant loss of his fans. In the early stages of the finals, his vote ranking had dropped by several places. In today's live voting, his situation was also hazardous.

It's possible that he may not even enter the top nine ... Wen Xiu gritted his teeth and looked at Chen Tong with some resentment.

At first, he had hoped to get some benefits from Chen Tong, but after he got into her good books, he discovered that she had no resources in the entertainment industry. She was just a puppet controlled by the company! It was all this woman's fault.

Wen Xiu began to regret his decision. He shifted his gaze to Ding Shan, who stood beside Chen Tong.

If he had continued to attack Ding Shan, would the situation have been different? Would Ding Shan eventually be moved and fall in love with him?

When Wen Xiu saw Ding Shan's attitude towards him was icy, he gave up on Ding Shan out of helplessness and anger. However, Chen Tong and Ding Shan could not be compared.

He heard that Ding Shan had even set up her studio and would be her boss in the future. Just this point alone was much better than Chen Tong's.

At this moment, Wen Xiu's expression was constantly changing. He was usually very sunny and handsome, but at this moment, he revealed a bit of fierceness and gloominess. When the camera swept across his face, he seemed in a terrible mood.

The host announced the trainees from the sixth to the ninth place, but Wen Xiu was not among them.

Wen Xiu's heart grew increasingly colder.

He knew that he couldn't rise in the ranking with his current popularity. If he were not in the sixth to ninth place, then it would be more impossible for him to get into the top spots... All the confidence and hope in Wen Xiu's heart gradually collapsed. His ears began to ring, and he almost couldn't hear what the host said.

The host continued to announce the rankings.

4th, 3rd, 2nd.

When she heard that Wen Xiu was not in second to ninth place, Ding Shan did not feel excited or overjoyed. She was very calm.

She wouldn't be angry even if Wen Xiu left his Daoist (characteristic) path today.

Because Ding Shan suddenly understood that God had let her be reborn not to let her cling to the past but to let her get something more precious.

From now on, Wen Xiu was just a stranger to her.

Wen Xiu did not manage to deceive her in this lifetime and had even made the wrong choice. Today, he had lost the chance to escape the entertainment industry. From now on, his future in the entertainment industry will only get more demanding and challenging. There was no need for Ding Shan to continue taking revenge on him. He was not a healthy person, to begin with. After this incident, she was afraid that his mental state would collapse.

After announcing the second place, the host's voice became increasingly excited. She began to announce the first place voted by the trainees on the night of the final.

Even though many of the people present had predicted the final result, everyone still slowed their breathing and waited for the dust to settle.

"Mysterious X, first place!" The host announced loudly.

The crowd erupted in wild cheers and applause. The entire stage's lights shone and focused on Mysterious X. Golden flashes floated down from the sky. At this moment, everyone's attention was on him, as if the whole world was crowning this man.
