

Boss Is Reborn 367

Chapter 367. I Like You The Most

At this moment, Xiang Hong's heart was beating very fast.

He was worried that Ding Shan would be unhappy. He did not discuss it with her in advance and did this.

Even though Ding Shan said that she was an actress and didn't mind going public with her relationship, he couldn't guarantee that she would accept it in such an elegant way.

Xiang Hong had to admit that he was selfish. Every time he liked her a little more, he would think thousands of people also liked her. This made him wonder if so many other feelings would drown out his love.

Xiang Hong knew his thoughts were childish and not something a mature man should have. However, this thought had always been buried in his heart.

He wanted to make himself special to Ding Shan. He wanted her to know that even if countless people liked her, he would be the one who liked her the most.

Xiang Hong didn't discuss Yin Hui about his sudden confession today. He didn't tell anyone and just did it.

He had to admit that after he met her, his life had been off track, and his thoughts had become crazier and crazier. However, he was pleased. He had never felt so free in the past twenty years.

However, he still did not know if Ding Shan could understand the reason for his actions. Would she think that he was too impulsive?

Just as Xiang Hong looked at Ding Shan nervously, thinking she was about to get angry, Ding Shan revealed a weak but sweet smile. She slowly reached out her hand and waved it before Xiang Hong's eyes. "What are you daydreaming about? Put it on for me."

Xiang Hong was stunned for a moment. Then, his eyes bloomed like fireworks and were filled with surprise. He took out the ring and put it on Ding Shan. He then smiled in satisfaction. "The size is just right."

The scene of Xiang Hong's successful confession was recorded by the camera and played in front of an audience all over the country. Everyone ate a big bowl of dog food. Some people crazily sent out their hearts to express their blessings on the bullet screen, while others sadly said, "The new husband that just appeared is gone, sigh."

However, it was undeniable that the audience felt the romance and passion of love. In this dazzling era, there was someone who could overcome so many difficulties to tell one person, "I like you."

"I like you the most in the world."

At that moment, Yin Hui was giving orders to the public relations team of the Festival Group as he cursed, "Detestable! Why didn't he tell me in advance? What did he mean by that? Is he not going to do my show anymore after finding a wife? He won first place, but he still didn't step out! Oh my God, the audience won't curse me to death, will they?"

Lin Si and Lu Chen, watching the show from the side, laughed without sympathy. Lu Chen patted Yin Hui's shoulder and said, "Aiya, work a little harder. Consider it; you're the matchmaker for Ding Shan and Xiang Hong. You played a significant role in Xiang Hong's success in wooing his wife. Don't worry; he'll treat you well in the future!

"You're the matchmaker!" Yin Hui pushed Lu Chen's hand away.

Lin Si was watching the two men bickering. He looked into the distance with a hint of melancholy in his eyes.

Although he initially did not think well of Ding Shan and Xiang Hong, he had to admit that they were both very courageous. Xiang Hong dared to disregard his family's opinion and confess his love to Ding Shan on his own accord during the live broadcast, while Ding Shan dared to respond openly to Xiang Hong's love.

This was a two-way run.

Lin Si laughed at himself. Was he jealous? Unfortunately, he was not Xiang Hong; that person was not Ding Shan.

On the night of the final, Idol Creation Camp officially announced that Mysterious Person X had given up his first place in the temple, so the trainee who was in tenth place was replaced by the ninth.

The nine trainees stepped out. Although Xiang Hong and Ding Shan's love affair had blown up the entire entertainment industry on the night of the final, causing the other trainees to receive less attention, Starshine entertainment vigorously promoted the newly established male idol group and immediately held 20 national tours. They were also preparing to release their first original album this year.

After Ding Shan and Xiang Hong's announcement of their relationship died down, the entertainment industry gradually regained its calm. However, Ding Shan and Xiang Hong's love story was still widely circulated in the entertainment industry. Countless secondary works were based on the two of them. Some people even adapted the reality of 'A beautiful and gentle female celebrity and a cold and proud undercover trainee' into a novel. Ding Shan went from the entertainment industry to the novel industry.

The male idol group 'Zivon,' formed by nine trainees selected from 'Idol Creation Camp,' gradually became a first-class male group in China and progressively went international.
