

Boss Is Reborn 71

Chapter 71: 71. Ding Wan's inferiority complex

It would not change his snobbish nature if Ding Wan became like this. Even if he held a grudge, he only dared to pick the soft person.

Jin Li was the culprit who ordered them to break his leg, but Ding Wan knew that his life was still in the hands of director Jin. It was only because Ding Yuan threw herself into his arms that he had a chance to catch his breath.

How could he still remember Jin Li's revenge? If he thought about revenge, wouldn't that be courting death? The disparity in strength was too great. Ding Wan could calculate this deficit.

However, Ding Wan's leg was crippled. He couldn't swallow this anger no matter what. He didn't dare to seek revenge on CEO Jin. What should he do?

Of course, he had to blame it all on Ding Shan, the main culprit. She was the source of everything. She indirectly caused Ding Wan humiliation with Jin Li's revenge. Ding Shan also had all the assets in her hands, and Ding Wan did not forget this.

After this, Ding Wan finally understood that there was always someone better than him.

He was initially arrogant and confident because he still had Ding Shan in his hands. He had endless money and endless women to play with. Even though he wanted to please CEO Jin, CEO Jin still had to spend 200 million to buy Ding Shan.

But now that Ding Shan was out of his control and had caused so much trouble, not only did she make others lose their money, he even paid the price of one leg and was beaten up like a dog by Jin Li. This was all because he had no bargaining chips and no capital.

The most important thing now was to get rid of Ding Shan and get more money! A higher status!

Wasn't Ding Shan pretty? Then send her to accompany a more influential figure. Sooner or later, those people would no longer dare to bully him and would have to politely address him as chief Ding!

The broken leg had stimulated Ding Wan. Extreme inferiority would lead to extreme madness. The current Ding Wan was more impatient than before to obtain money and power.

Only then would no one dare to laugh at his leg!

Ding Wan's eyes were red. He was like a devil from hell. His mind was corrupted by all kinds of greedy thoughts. He hugged his leg and gritted his teeth as he shouted, "This is what Ding Shan owes me! I want her to use her body and life to pave the way for me! I want to stand where no one dares to bully me anymore!"

Wang Chun watched Ding Wan from the side, deep in thought. Then, he became more and more violent, as if he was possessed by a devil. She was so scared that he did not dare to breathe loudly. "Old Ding, what's wrong with you? What about Ding Shan?"

Ding Wan widened his eyes and shouted at Wang Chun, “Ding Shan! I want to make Ding Shan’s life worse than death! Let her compensate me for this leg!”

Ding Wan’s chest rose and fell rapidly. He was so angry that it was as if he was on fire. He shifted all his anger onto Ding Shan. Once the evil thoughts appeared, his anger and inferiority complex could no longer be controlled.

Wang Chun choked, “Old Ding, don’t scare me. That B*tch Ding Shan deserves to die. Not only did she take away the money, but she also caused our family of three to lose all our dignity! Little Yuan is still at the hotel. If you do this again, what can I do? We can’t do anything to that Ding Shan now! Let’s wait a little longer. When CEO Jin calms down, he might be able to help us!”

Ding Wan’s eyes were fierce; he muttered to himself, “We can’t wait! We can’t wait any longer! Ding Shan had no intention of turning back from this series of actions. For her to suddenly make things difficult for us, there must be an expert guiding her from behind. With that brain, how could she suddenly want to get rid of us? If we wait any longer, she’ll probably turn the sky upside down!”

Wang Chun asked anxiously, “Then should we go and ask CEO Jin now? He might like Little Yuan...”

Ding Wan snorted coldly, “You don’t like hearing that you’re stupid. Things are different now. In the past, CEO Jin liked Ding Shan and was willing to exchange 200 million with me. Now, we’re in his hands, and he can do whatever he wants! Even if Little Yuan can please him, he might not be willing to help us. I initially thought I could rely on Little Yuan to get into Jin Li’s boat again, but this leg of mine... ..”

Ding Wan’s eyes darkened, and his entire being became gloomy. “Isn’t this leg of mine the evidence? Jin Li doesn’t treat us as human beings at all! I’ve finally seen through it, and I don’t dare to ask for more from him. As for Ding Yuan, don’t let her daydream anymore!”

When Wang Chun thought of Ding Yuan, she felt so uncomfortable that her heart was about to break.

That was her biological daughter. Now that she was forced to accompany that black-hearted old man, she still couldn’t get any benefits. It was really too much of a violation!

Chapter 72: 72. Looking for Yang Hua

Ding Wan pondered for a while and felt there was no good way to do it alone. He still needed someone who understood Ding Shan. It would be best if he could have a say in the entertainment industry.

Ding Wan’s eyes suddenly lit up, and he said to Wang Chun hurriedly, “Where’s my phone? Quick! Look for Yang Hua and call her!”

Wang Chun was still heartbroken for Ding Yuan. When she heard Ding Wan’s words, her sorrowful expression instantly twisted.

She gritted her teeth and glared at Ding Wan, “What do you mean? Open your dog eyes and take a look! Now you’re down and out, and you’ve been beaten up to such a state. I’m still by your side. Our family is the one who shares the joys and sorrows of the same boat! Now That You’ve despised me for being useless, you still want to look for Yang Hua, your lover?”

Wang Chun's jealousy was burning furiously. At first, she wasn't afraid of Yang Hua, but she could still fire Yang Hua quickly because the money that Ding Shan earned was controlled by Wang Chun and Ding Wan. No matter how many lovers there were outside., they would not fall out with each other.

However, now that the money was gone and Ding Wan mentioned looking for Yang Hua, how could Wang Chun not be afraid?

What if Yang Hua came back, and the two snatched Ding Shan together and dumped her?

Wang Chun felt guilty and acted even more aggressively. She roared threateningly, "Ding Wan, you're quite old. Don't Be shameless! We haven't divorced yet, and your leg is also like this. Only I can be faithful to you. Don't think about finding another woman!"

Ding Wan didn't really care about Wang Chun's rage at first. Wang Chun had always had a bad temper. Ever since she learned about his affair with Yang Hua, she had hated Yang Hua. Ding Wan felt guilty, too; after all, he was the one who had played with Wang Chun's best friend.

However, he didn't expect Wang Chun to bring up Ding Wan's legs while scolding him. This hit Ding Wan's sore spot again.

Did Wang Chun mean he could only rely on her pity and charity to stay by his side?

Ding Wan's expression immediately darkened as he stared at Wang Chun, "If you continue to say such words that I don't like to hear, then divorce me! I see that you're so stupid. What other way is there? You say nice things like sharing weal and woe. Although I'm crippled now, I still have my brain and connections! I'm afraid you'll have to beg for food if you leave me! Who can't leave who?"

Wang Chun heard Ding Wan speak bluntly, and her face alternated between red and white. Her trembling fingers pointed at Ding Wan for a long time, and she was so angry that he couldn't speak.

Ding Wan rubbed his head and cursed irritably.

He had just finished the surgery, and he was already weak enough. His mood rose and fell when he discovered he had developed a disability. He was exhausted and didn't want to tangle with Wang Chun anymore.

Ding Wan sighed deeply, "Ding Shan is still living happily. Are we going to have an internal conflict? The happiest person is Ding Shan. We can still use our identities as parents to suppress her through public opinion. It would be useless if we really got divorced! Can you stop fooling around?"

When Wang Chun heard Ding Wan's words, she regained some of her rationality.

In just a short while, she became agitated and dizzy again. She returned to the hospital bed to take in some oxygen but did not forget to mock, "Since you already know about it, then why are you still looking for that B*tch Yang Hua!"

Ding Wan could not stand the pain and grimaced as he lay down again. He broke out in cold sweat and said, "We're both trapped here. What can we do? Yang Hua has been a manager for so many years. She's more familiar with the entertainment industry than the two of us and knows quite a few people. Who else can we count on if we don't ask her for help now? Don't talk nonsense. If you anger her again and she runs away, we won't be able to do anything!"

Although Wang Chun was still unhappy, she listened to Ding Wan.

With a face full of unwillingness, she found Yang Hua's phone number and called her. After what happened previously, Wang Chun was afraid that Yang Hua would continue to pester her, so she had long blocked Yang Hua.

Ultimately, she never thought there would be a day when she would ask for her help. What a shame!

As soon as Yang Hua picked up the phone, he cursed at the top of his lungs, "Wang Chun! You idiot! Are you willing to let me out of the blacklist? You black-hearted old witch, you actually fired me. Where's my money? Why did you lose all your money? You actually beat up Ding Shan on the street. Are you crazy?"

Yang Hua couldn't contact anyone after she was beaten up by Wang Chun and fired from the studio.

Chapter 73: 73. Flirting

Yang Hua had relied on Ding Shan and Ding Wan for many years to support her. Her life was very comfortable.

However, she suddenly lost her job. She also saw on the news that Ding Shan had dissolved the studio and transferred her assets away. Yang Hua was so anxious that she screamed.

That was her money too! She was just one step away. If she had had a little more time, she would have been able to control all of Ding Shan's money!

Now it was gone. It was all gone!

However, there was no other way. Yang Hua could not find anyone. Ding Wan and Wang Chun's phones could not be reached. The calls to Ding Shan were always cut off.

Yang Hua lived in anxiety and pain every day. Her heart ached when she thought about how much money had been transferred away by Ding Shan.

Yang Hua was severely beaten by Wang Chun. There were bruises all over her body, but no matter how severe the injuries were, they could not compare to the pain in her heart.

She could only try to make a call every day. Once she was discharged from the hospital, she ran to the Ding family's building to stop them. However, she did not expect to see the news of Ding Wan and Wang Chun beating Ding Shan up on the street and sending her to the police station.

Yang Hua rolled her eyes and almost fainted.

Were these two idiots? What kind of stupid operation was this? The money had already been taken away, and they still dared to beat people up?

Yang Hua did not need to think to know that the public opinion on the Internet would be in an uproar. However, it would definitely be in Ding Shan's favor and not theirs.

After that, Ding Yuan accused Ding Shan, and Ding Shan reported the case. The development of the situation became more and more ridiculous. Yang Hua watched helplessly as the Ding family played their few good cards to pieces. It would be difficult for them to turn the tables now!

Yang Hua was so angry at home that she almost vomited blood. She did not expect Wang Chun to suddenly call. The emotions suppressed for a long time instantly exploded. Yang Hua wished that she could find Wang Chun, and the two of them could have another fight!

When love rivals met, their eyes were especially red, not to mention that the former best friends had turned against each other.

Wang Chun was already unhappy. When she heard Yang Hua scold her as she picked up the call, she could not help it, "I'm stupid, so my best friend seduced my husband. If you still have a face, you should be polite to me. You're the one who let me down! Do you still have the face to scold me? What do you mean you don't have any money? That's Ding Shan's money! Ding Shan earned it for our family. What does it have to do with you?"

Wang Chun ignored Ding Wan's anxious look at the side and spoke as fast as she could, "Ding Shan is capable now. She took all the money and ran away. Why would you yell at me if Old Ding and I couldn't leave now? Are you afraid of being beaten up?"

Ding Wan closed his eyes in despair. He was angered by Wang Chun's stupidity.

Initially, he wanted to use Yang Hua to work for him. If Wang Chun continued talking, he would almost expose the knowledge!

Ding wan quickly reprimanded, "What nonsense are you talking about! Shut Up!"

Yang Hua's eyes turned to the other end of the phone and immediately calmed down.

She had been in the entertainment industry for many years and must have some connections. She was just angry now, but after listening to Wang Chun's words and Ding Wan's attitude, what else could she not understand?

They only remembered her because they had nowhere else to go. That B*tch Wang Chun beat her up. Now that she did not have any money in her hands, she still wanted her to help.

Yang Hua was no longer flustered; she said sarcastically, "Yo, are you sure you still want to talk to me like that? Look at how many stupid things you guys have done without me. So what if I scold you? I've been in charge of Ding Shan's business for many years, and I've worked hard without any credit! Then how can it not be counted as my money?"

After saying that, she raised her voice and shouted, "Old Ding! Am I right? Did you miss me?"

Ding Wan quickly coaxed Yang Hua, "Yes, yes, yes. All these years, I've been relying on you to help me. You're the most capable and the most understanding in my thoughts!"

Wang Chun's expression was as ugly as if she had eaten sh*t. she glared at Ding Wan and could not help but curse again.

Ding Wan quickly gave Wang Chun a crazy look and mouthed, "Stop talking! I'm just acting!"

Then, Ding Wan reached out and asked for Wang Chun's phone.

Wang Chun held her breath in. She never thought that she would have to suffer such humiliation one day. She had to listen to her husband flirting with her best friend.

However, Ding Wan had already analyzed the pros and cons of the situation. Compared to such a playboy husband, Wang Chun still wanted money more. Therefore, she could only pass the phone to Ding Wan with an ashen face.

Chapter 74: 74. Ding Shan was a wolf cub

Once Ding Wan received the phone, he deliberately softened his voice and coaxed Yang Hua. Although he still had Wang Chun by his side and Ding Wan felt a little guilty in front of his wife, there was nothing he could do in this situation.

Yang Hua's anger on the other end of the phone was much less than before.

She and Wang Chun were now sworn, enemies. They hated each other as much as they liked each other in the past.

Moreover, Yang Hua no longer regarded Wang Chun as her best friend. She had scolded her many times behind her back and looked down on her in her heart. However, due to her status as his first wife, he gave in to her a little, and Yang Hua's heart was already imbalanced.

However, Yang Hua still put some sincerity toward Ding Wan.

She had been telling herself not to care about his first wife for so many years. As long as she and Ding Wan worked together to control Ding Shan, they would be the most suitable couple. It was only a matter of time before they kicked Wang Chun in front of Ding Shan. She already had the mentality of a stepmother.

When the incident happened, Yang Hua was caught off guard and beaten up by Wang Chun. She had been depressed and anxious for so many days. She had just vented her anger on Wang Chun. When it was Ding Wan's turn, all that was left was the woman's complaints and coquettishness.

Yang Hua pinched her throat and complained to Ding Wan, "Old Ding, don't you know how ruthless Wang Chun was? She beat me up and made me stay in the hospital for a few days. My body hurts!"

Ding Wan's expression froze. He glanced at Wang Chun, who was so angry that she was about to vomit blood and felt helpless in his heart.

How could Ding Wan not understand Wang Chun? They had been married for so many years. Wang Chun might be a little stupid, but she was definitely not the kind of person who would suffer a loss. When she found out he was having an affair with Yang Hua, she didn't take it lying down. He did not even dare to go against Wang Chun at that time.

Yang Hua was lucky she did not beat her to death on impulse.

However, she definitely could not say that to Yang Hua. Ding Wan could only continue to coax her, “Are you feeling better? It’s my fault for not visiting you in time. I’m sure you already know about the things that have happened in the past few days. I’m so angry that my eyebrows are burning!”

Yang Hua snorted coldly. “You’re thinking of my good qualities now? What were you doing earlier? If you could think of asking me for my ideas, you wouldn’t have fallen into such a state!”

Yang Hua recalled that Ding Shan had deliberately tricked her into telling her the truth that day, which had caused Wang Chun to realize that she was having an affair with Ding Wan. She couldn’t help but get angry, “I told Wang Chun long ago that Ding Shan has changed! Ding Shan had been pretending for so long and fooled all of us. She’s just a black-hearted wolf cub! Wang Chun’s mind was filled with jealousy! Now she’s delaying the important matter!”

Wang Chun listened to Yang Hua’s relentless criticism of her. Despite his age, she secretly scolded Yang Hua for being so shameless in front of Ding Wan.

However, she could not refute it. On the day she hit Yang Hua, she had indeed told her that it was Ding Shan who was driving a wedge between them. However, she was too angry and blinded by jealousy. She did not want to listen to it at all. Now, she could only grit her teeth and could not refute.

Ding Wan had always been obedient to Yang Hua. His voice was romantic and affectionate, “Good, good, good. I know you have always been the smartest. Good Baby, quickly think of a way. Do you really want to watch Ding Shan take all the money away and continue to make money smoothly in the entertainment industry?”

Yang Hua’s mood improved after being coaxed by Ding Wan. She stopped pretending and asked directly, “Where Are you hiding now? Weren’t you sent to the detention center by Ding Shan? How can you still call me?”

Ding Wan sneered, “That little B*stard isn’t powerful enough to trap me to death in the detention center. Someone bailed us out, but we still need to hide from the limelight. We can’t get out. On the surface, we still need to rely on you to deal with things.”

Ding Wan didn’t want to talk about the tragic situation last night, nor did he want to embarrass himself in front of his past lover.

Ding Wan was an old hand at talking to people and phantoms. He rolled his eyes, and even if it was dark, it could be said to be white. Therefore, he only talked about being bailed out and did not mention anything else.

This way, Yang Hua could still feel that he was not wholly useless and still had some ability. This way, she would be willing to help him.

As expected, Yang Hua smiled when he heard, “Sure, Old Ding, you’re still so resourceful. “Since you’ve already said that, I’ll help you guys again. But let me say something ugly first. I, Yang Hua, am not easy to bully. If Wang Chun still goes overboard with me this time, let’s break up as soon as possible. No one should blame anyone!”

Chapter 75: 75. I’m the best at exposing dirt

When Ding Wan heard that Yang Hua had agreed to it, how could he not listen to her? He chuckled and replied, "The assets that the three of us have worked hard for, we definitely can't let Ding Shan take them away so easily. This time, the three of us will work together. We can't be instigated by that b*tch Ding Shan anymore. I've already scolded Wang Chun. Don't be angry anymore, good baby."

Yang Hua was satisfied and said a few more words with Ding Wan.

Wang Chun was disgusted, listening from the side. She was almost 50 years old, but she was still so undisciplined. No wonder Ding Wan did not like to come home when he was out partying. It was because a seductive vixen like Yang Hua seduced him!

She was 10,000 times more despicable than Ding Shan!

He even said that three people shared the property. Yang Hua had relied on her charity to become Ding Shan's manager, and now she was acting as the Boss.

Who was on her side? If they could snatch back the assets and force Ding Shan back, she would be the first to tear Yang Hua's face off!

Wang Chun was not willing to listen to the flirtatious banter anymore. With an unfriendly tone, she said sarcastically, "You say it quite nicely. Before the matter is settled, you already want to split the money. I don't know if you can make Ding Shan come back obediently and hand over the money."

Ding Wan was also looking forward to Yang Hua's answer. If he were to say this, it would make Yang Hua unhappy. It was appropriate for Wang Chun to say it to provoke Yang Hua.

Wang Chun indeed provoked Yang Hua. She was the last person who wanted to be at a disadvantage to Wang Chun. Naturally, she could not wait to prove herself in front of Ding Wan.

She snorted confidently, "I, Yang Hua, have been a manager for so many years for nothing? The two of you have great fish and meat. When you are enjoying yourself, haven't I always been the one who brings Ding Shan to work, rain or shine? For so many years, everything has been done by me. Don't I have some connections?"

Yang Hua's words were not wrong. When Ding Wan and Wang Chun received the massive amount of money that Ding Shan had earned, they could not help but squander it freely. They left most of the matters to Yang Hua to handle.

However, Yang Hua was not so kind as to personally stay by Ding Shan's side. She took advantage of Ding Wan and Wang Chun's absence to monopolize power and secretly hide a lot of benefits.

However, at this moment, she said it in a dignified manner.

Ding Wan naturally knew Yang Hua was not as selfless and outstanding as she said. However, he could not be calculative at this time. He could only ask nicely, "Then how do you plan to deal with Ding Shan?"

Yang Hua snorted coldly and had acted like an A-list female celebrity manager for many years, "Doesn't Ding Shan still want to continue working in the entertainment industry? The survival rules of the entertainment industry are not that simple. As long as she stays in the entertainment industry, she will inevitably be subject to the supervision and criticism of public opinion.”

“Haven’t you realized? We are fighting a public opinion war right now. Didn’t Ding Shan do much to make those idiots feel sorry for her and support her independence? If we can’t fight back, she’ll become the most innocent little wretch on the Internet!”

Ding Wan also knew that they were competing to see who could convince the public and control public opinion. No matter what Ding Shan did, no one would be willing to believe her.

However, when he thought of the things that had happened in the past few days, Ding Wan sighed, and his eyes were clouded, “A war of public opinion? As her father, it was perfectly normal for me to discipline her. Wasn’t I still sent to the detention center by her? At that time, I only taught her a few lessons. Still, the people around me started shouting about my domestic violence. It was useless no matter how I explained that I was her father. How am I going to control the public opinion?”

Yang Hua snorted coldly, “I’ve seen the video. It’s all over the Internet. Others will misinterpret the words you say. What kind of society are we in now? It’s not okay for biological parents to beat people up. No matter what you say, it’s useless. You’ll only make them think that even their biological fathers are like this. Ding Shan will be even worse off!”

“We also have to learn how to play the victim. First, we must tarnish Ding Shan’s image and expose some dirt on her. Then, we can use the parent’s identity to suppress her from the moral high ground. We’re not afraid that she won’t obediently come back and admit her mistake. Even if she doesn’t want to come back, she’ll be scolded by the netizens until she has no choice but to come back!”

Ding Wan’s eyes lit up, and he hurriedly asked, “You have an idea? I’m good at scolding her from the moral high ground, but what dirt can we expose about her? Don’t we have to find someone to consult and gather some evidence?”

Chapter 76: 76. Unspoken rule

Yang Hua smiled sinisterly, full of confidence, “Who else am I looking for? For so many years, to publish articles for Ding Shan and grab resources, I have frequently clashed with the public relations of other female celebrities. It is the most basic operation to expose negative information to each other. There is no need for any evidence. I am just taking things out of context. If there isn’t anything, I can make it up for her. Others say that I have offended many people because of my bad temper. They don’t know how many people buy information from me in private. I am the best at exposing dirt!”

Ding Wan chuckled in satisfaction. It was as if he had already seen Ding Shan being scolded by the entire Internet and running back crying to beg for forgiveness.

Yang Hua was an expert in this area. Once she made a move, even if she did not want to skin Ding Shan alive, it would be enough to make her suffer.

When Wang Chun heard Yang Hua’s confident words, she was extremely jealous.

She didn't feel good. Before this, she had the chance to stay by Ding Shan's side and fight for her career. Now, she was the one who could command the world like this.

It was a pity that she only cared about having fun back then and trusted Yang Hua. As a result, her figure was out of shape due to her long-term desire for fun. She couldn't get a word in with many things in the entertainment industry. However, Yang Hua maintained her spectacular appearance and had also gotten to know many people in the industry.

Wang Chun was really regretting it now. She only hoped that she could quickly capture Ding Shan back so that she could have a chance to regain control of Ding Shan.

This time, she had to firmly grasp the power in her hands. She thought about how she lived a rich and elegant life as a strong woman, but now she had become like this. Lying in the ward under Yang Hua's feet, the reluctance and hatred in Wang Chun's heart grew more fierce.

Ding Wan was still in a hurry to discuss exposing the news with Yang Hua. He did not care about Wang Chun's emotions at all. After hearing Yang Hua's confident promise, Ding Wan was so excited that his legs did not hurt as much anymore.

He asked excitedly, "Then when will you publish it? What kind of dirt should we plant on her? It would be best if she has a bad reputation and will never be exonerated!"

Yang Hua thought for a while, then flipped through her phone and came up with an idea, "Do you still remember that we accepted a big internet movie for that B*tch last year? That director was interested in Ding Shan then, so he took advantage of her openly and secretly on the set."

"The little B*tch was scared out of her wits then, so she came to tell me that she didn't want to act anymore, but I persuaded her because the penalty for breaching the contract was too high. "Actually, that director had mentioned it to me a few times in private, but I felt that his status was too low and he didn't have much money, so I didn't agree."

Yang Hua smiled proudly. "I wanted to tell you then, and I even took a picture of the director hugging Ding Shan at the scene. I forgot about it after that. Isn't this a good opportunity to make use of it now?"

"That Internet movie was as bad as sh*t. It was criticized quite badly on the Internet. How would they feel if the netizens knew that Ding Shan was willing to let down her guards and rely on the director to get such a movie? Would anyone be willing to look for her to film in the future? Haha!"

Ding Wan laughed loudly after hearing that.

That's right, didn't Ding Shan always act like a victim? Her group of fans had been talking online about how he had mistreated her all these years; arranging improper resources for her.

What if all this was because Ding Shan didn't cherish her reputation? And tried to have an unspoken rule with the director? In the end, it was still such a lousy movie. Wasn't this despicable? Wasn't it self-depravity?

Yang Hua continued to talk about her plan, "I'll contact my entertainment account in a while and post this photo. Then, I'll write another article and let all the Internet trolls repost it. It'll cause a huge wave on the internet. Based on the current public attention, it'll definitely be the headline of the front page and the number one trending topic!"

"After we scold her online for a while, we'll post another article under your name. We'll say that we discovered Ding Shan had gone down the wrong path. To prevent that B*tch from making mistakes repeatedly, we used the wrong method in a moment of impatience. Then, the netizens misunderstood and repeatedly tried to persuade her, but it was no avail. We hit her because she didn't meet our expectations. We didn't expect Ding Shan to take the opportunity to take revenge on her biological parents. This way, we can make things right for the last few days!"

Ding Wan nodded his head repeatedly, unable to contain his joy. He felt that he had indeed found the right person. "We'll do as you say!"

Yang Hua urged, "Remember, our biggest advantage now is that you and Wang Chun are her parents. Ding Shan is willing to deteriorate. So it's not a matter of beating or scolding. The starting point is for Ding Shan to turn over a new leaf, not to lecture her as a matter of course. We absolutely can not repeat the wrong thing! She can still turn over a new leaf if we stick to these two points!"

Chapter 77: 77. Is as stupid as you

Ding Wan listened to Yang Hua's instructions and repeatedly agreed, "Alright, then I'll leave all of this to you. You must let that B*tch have a reputation of being beaten up by everyone! I'll take this opportunity to show off my authority as a father and thoroughly educate her. No one will think I'm a domestic bully when that time comes. They'll only think that she deserves it! She's not worthy of pity!"

Yang Hua smiled. He felt that Ding Wan was indeed an intelligent person. He knew everything. He would definitely be able to do these things with ease. Indeed, the two of them were a perfect match.

After the discussion, the two of them hung up the phone reluctantly. Yang Hua went to prepare for the release of the press release.

Ding Wan let out a long sigh of relief. He lay on the bed in satisfaction. Finally, he was no longer as broken as when he had just woken up.

Now, he had hope in his heart. The matter of ruining Ding Shan's reputation had become an obsession in his heart.

When the time came, Ding Shan would no longer have the face to stay in the entertainment industry. She would obediently return home. That would mean that he could hit and scold her as he pleased. After venting his anger, he could just throw her onto the bed of those big bosses and still have unlimited money to spend.

Why did she have to stir up so much trouble instead of being an excellent big star? Then don't blame him for being merciless!

As the saying goes, a tiger will not eat its own son. But who asked that little bastard not to be his biological son? Not many people knew this secret.

After raising her for many years, he had satisfied his addiction to being a big star. Now that he had no choice but to ruin her career as a star, he could only rely on her face to play her final role! It was not in vain that he had kept her alive back then.

Ding Wan felt much better in his heart. He was finally in the mood to go online and look at the latest entertainment news.

There was still considerable evidence that Ding Shan's fans had painstakingly gathered online. They listed the vicious acts that Ding Wan, Wang Chun, and Yang Hua had committed against Ding Shan over the years. Their words were fierce and indignant.

The corners of Ding Wan's mouth curled up sarcastically. He thought, "What a good dog that Ding Shan raised. They can't wait to come out and bite people. When you see the dirt on your master later, I wonder if you will still have the face to scream on the Internet. Now, the more you feel sorry for her, the more you will step on her later!

They are all fence-sitters. If I didn't need you to step on Ding Shan again, I wouldn't have bothered with you people. If you call me black-hearted, who among those big bosses isn't black-hearted? If you want to make money, you must do whatever it takes. It's better than you guys who only know how to type on the keyboard and deserve to be used.

Don't you see how much money you have? You're even starting to feel sorry for Ding Shan. Ding Shan took away so much of my money! She's the black-hearted one! How can it be your turn to feel sorry for her?"

Ding Wan's mind was utterly twisted. As he looked at his fans' comments, he cursed cynically. He had never looked Ding Shan in the eye, let alone Ding Shan's fans.

In his eyes, they were just tools for him to amass money.

As Ding Wan watched, he saw the news of Ding Yuan accusing Ding Shan of domestic violence. Although some time had passed, the topic was still scorching. Everyone felt sorry for Ding Shan under the police's clarification notice that her sister had falsely accused her.

Ding Wan frowned, wondering when this had happened. Bit by bit, according to the timeline compiled by her fans, he watched the video that Ding Yuan had found a reporter to post and another video of Ding Shan being interviewed at the police station entrance. Only then did he realize that this was the case!

Ding Wan cursed as he threw his phone to Wang Chun. He gritted his teeth and shouted, "I say, how would CEO Jin know that it wasn't Ding Shan that night? Look! Your daughter did this! Why is she as stupid as you?"

Wang Chun was initially still immersed in the sorrow of Yang Hua that couldn't be compared. After being scolded by Ding Wan, she was confused and subconsciously retorted, "Why are you scolding little Yuan? What do you mean by my daughter? Are you not her biological father?"

Ding Wan's emotions, which he had managed to calm down with much difficulty, boiled up again. He was furious, and his teeth were itching, "The two of us were locked up in the detention center. We hoped that she could hide somewhere safe and not be caught by CEO Jin. But she was fine! She found some Bullsh*t reporter and said that the injuries on her body were caused by Ding Shan. CEO Jin must have seen it! He recognized it! That's why he taught us a lesson!"

Wang Chun cried out in shock. She quickly picked up his phone to check the video on the Internet. Suddenly, she saw that Ding Yuan's injury test report showed that it was done by a man. There were also many photos of the bruised fingerprints and whip wounds left behind by the man who had been dug out.

Chapter 78: 78. She deserved it

Wang Chun was stunned. She watched the video back and forth a few times and could not believe it. "This is impossible. How could Xiao Yuan..."

Ding Wan narrowed his eyes, "Not only did we underestimate Ding Shan, but even our daughter has also changed since who knows when! But she should never have done that. Why didn't she use her brain no matter how much she hates Ding Shan? Why did she have to cause trouble at this time? My leg is the bill for her stupidity!"

Wang Chun wiped her tears and subconsciously spoke up for Ding Yuan, "That won't happen. Little Yuan has been very obedient since she was young. She's like a little princess. Why would she have such thoughts? She must have seen that the two of us were caught and thought of this idea in a moment of impatience."

Ding Wan snorted coldly. Thinking back to Ding Yuan's performance last night, his heart turned cold, "Look at her now. How is she a little princess with pure thoughts? Last night, we wouldn't have been let off so easily if she didn't take the initiative to seduce CEO Jin. She has thoughts and ambitions now. Even I might not be more daring than her."

Wang Chun wanted to defend Ding Yuan, but Ding Yuan's actions last night also gave Wang Chun a shock. She was left kneeling in the corner, trying to shield Ding Yuan. She didn't expect Ding Yuan to come up with such a method in such a short time. She had coaxed CEO Jin away.

Wang Chun had only cared about her daughter. Now that she had seen the news and heard what Ding Wan said, she couldn't help but feel some lingering fear. She couldn't accept that her daughter had become so evil for a moment.

Even though Wang Chun knew that she and Ding Wan weren't good people, they were both doing it for their benefit.

How many people were clean? But for Ding Yuan, Wang Chun didn't realize that she had such a personality. Could it be that she had also been faking it in the past?

Ding Wan, on the other hand, accepted it very quickly. Dragons gave birth to dragons, and phoenixes gave birth to phoenixes. The children of mice could dig holes.

In Ding Wan's opinion, Ding Yuan's current state was nothing. As his daughter, it was a good thing that she had learned how to use tricks to fight for her interests. However, Ding Yuan was still too inexperienced. She had failed to steal the chicken and had eaten the rice. As a result, the entire family suffered as well.

Wang Chun's motherly instincts made it impossible for her to make malicious assumptions about Ding Yuan. After being sad for a while, she accepted Ding Yuan's current state.

She thought for a moment and said, "I originally didn't want Little Yuan to be involved in these matters. I just wanted to let Little Yuan squander all Ding Shan's money. But now, Little Yuan can't get away. It seems that she also hates Ding Shan. Then, we must destroy Ding Shan this time. As long as it's what little Yuan wants, I will support her!"

Ding Wan snorted coldly, "You're the one who's been spoiled by her! No matter how much she hates Ding Shan, she should wait for us to come out and discuss it first. Since she was young, have we never been satisfied with what she wants? Is there a need for her to accuse Ding Shan in front of the cameras? In the end, she was even sent to the detention center by Ding Shan. I asked her last night and see how she stammered. She should know how stupid she is!"

Wang Chun's eyes were red as she shouted, "Then she has been taken away by CEO Jin. Why don't you feel sorry for your daughter at all? Are you still her biological father?"

Ding Wan also shouted at Wang Chun irritably, "That's what she deserves! Would we have been beaten up badly if she didn't post some video and let CEO Jin see it? Now that she is attending to CEO Jin, it can be considered that she has made up for her mistakes!"

Ding Wan thought it was only because Ding Yuan was his biological daughter. Otherwise, he wouldn't even want to acknowledge her with such a stupid look. He would have thrown her face all over the Internet!

He had initially wanted to abandon Ding Shan and make Ding Yuan a minor celebrity. Now, what was the point of flattering her? Fortunately, she was alone and knew how to seduce CEO Jin. Otherwise, she would have become a useless chess piece!

Ding Wan was selfish and did not have much affection for his daughter. Usually, he saw that Ding Yuan was obedient and occasionally doted on her. But now that Ding Yuan had gotten into trouble and her temperament had changed drastically.., in Ding Wan's eyes, she was no longer just a child who needed to be doted on. Instead, he could analyze whether she was a partner that could be worked with or a chess piece that could be used.

Ding Yuan had already grown up, and it was time for her to contribute to the family. Ding Wan did not have that much of a fatherly love to take care of Ding Yuan for her entire life.

Chapter 79: 79. Spring and Autumn dream

Even though Wang Chun was very selfish, she retained her motherly warmth.

She said hatefully, "If you ask me, I don't blame Little Yuan for accusing Ding Shan. Originally, this method was also excellent. If you want to blame someone, blame it on Ding Shan for going to report it to the police. Otherwise, why would she get an injury test? Without that bullsh*t injury test report, CEO Jin would naturally not know!”

Wang Chun’s gaze was vicious, “Usually that B*tch pretends to love Xiao Yuan very much, but in the end, when she turns hostile, she’s more ruthless than anyone else. It’s normal for Xiao Yuan to hate her! Now that Xiao Yuan’s image has been ruined, I don’t know how much more torture she’ll have to suffer under CEO Jin’s hands. In the end, isn’t it still that B*tch Ding Shan’s fault? Old Ding, don’t forget who our biological daughter is. Don’t blame the wrong person! I want to let that B*tch experience all my daughter’s suffering and scolding!”

When Ding Wan heard Wang Chun’s words, he sighed deeply, “Alright, I can tell. I only have Ding Yuan as my biological daughter. I can’t really do anything to her. Everyone will be happy if she steadies CEO Jin’s side first. If she can still climb up CEO Jin’s side, there will be a better way out in the future.”

Ding Wan rasped coldly, “Isn’t she just being scolded on the Internet now? After Ding Shan is exposed, her image will be ruined. When that time comes, everyone’s attention will be on her. Little Yuan will wait for a few years. If she is properly packaged, there might still be some hope. We don’t have to be too pessimistic. After this matter, I finally understand. Whoever can control public opinion will be able to rule the world. As long as we have the capital, black or white, it’s all up to us!”

Wang Chun nodded, her face full of viciousness, “Now, our enmity with Ding Shan is even greater. Let’s settle the old and new grudges together. For the sake of Little Yuan, I won’t argue with Yang Hua for the time being. If she can help us make that B*tch stink and get our money back, it’s not a big deal for me to share some with her. In any case, I can still get it back from that B*tch in the future!”

Ding Wan smiled evilly. “You’re finally a little smarter. It’s good that you can think like that. If we regain control of Ding Shan, do we still have to worry about not having money to spend? Even if she can’t become a big star, many old men are anxious to sleep with her!”

Ding Wan and Wang Chun chatted for a while in the ward, still dreaming of a comeback. Even the slightly brighter Ding Wan was blinded by hatred. He did not realize why CEO Jin did not seek revenge on Ding Shan. He thought that CEO Jin really despised Ding Shan.

Little did he know that Ding Shan’s ability and Xiang Hong, who was willing to protect her, were not something that Ding Wan and the others could easily plot against.

However, people had to have dreams. This was also why Ding Shan did not capture them all in one go.

Firstly, if they were pushed too hard in the beginning, it was inevitable that people like Ding Wan would jump over the wall in desperation and do something outrageous. Once they were forced into a desperate situation, they would do anything.

Moreover, Ding Wan was not a person who would give up easily. The money was more important than his life. If one wanted to take care of such people, you would have to wait for them to reveal all their tricks. Then finally, you would give them a heavy blow. You could not afford to give them any more time to catch their breath and could not allow them to make a comeback.

Secondly, the hatred in Ding Shan’s heart was too intense. Ding Wan’s family’s heartless behavior had made Ding Shan suffer in her previous life. How could she let them give up so easily?

She had to let them continue to ignite hope and be repeatedly attacked and tortured. Only then would they be able to face Ding Shan's despair and breakdown.

While Ding Wan and the others were plotting, Ding Shan was resting in the apartment. This period could be considered the most leisurely period of her two lifetimes.

In her previous life, Ding Shan had never been spared from being squeezed by Ding Wan and the others. She had just been reborn in this life and received a few critical events. Although Ding Shan could handle them quickly, it was inevitable that she had put in some effort.

Ding Wan and his family had been locked up in the detention center, and Ding Shan had also announced that she had a two-month break. Now that she did not have any work, she could finally have a good rest.

As for Ding Wan and the others, no matter what tricks they had up their sleeves after coming out, Ding Shan was not afraid. No matter how glib their tongue was, she was not wholly unprepared.

Looking at Xiao Zhao's message on the phone, she said that the police had called. Before Ding Wan and Wang Chun were sent to the detention center, they had already taken their blood. They had it tested with the blood samples Ding Shan had left in the hospital. The results would be out the next day.

Chapter 80: 80. Was a little scared

Ding Shan held back the surging waves in her eyes and carefully preserved her skin.

Even if the heavens struck lightning, they still had to be avenged for some grudges. What's more, Ding Wan and the others had brought this upon themselves. If the heavens wanted to strike lightning, they would definitely be struck to death!

Ding Shan had never intended to harm others, but in her previous life, she had ended up like that. If the wicked had their own retribution, how could Ding Yuan and the others still be so unrestrained in her previous life?

That wasn't right either. Before she committed suicide, she had left a gift for Ding Yuan. Those wealthy businessmen and second-generation rich children would wait for her body. Under the effects of the medicine, they would only extend their evil claws toward Ding Yuan. Who knew if, at that time., did Ding Yuan enjoy this belated retribution?

After returning to her previous life, Ding Shan had also come to an understanding. She wanted to take advantage of her life to seek revenge and redress grievances.

She would never surrender again. To deal with such evil people, kindness and patience would have to become a grindstone in their hands. Only those more ruthless and willing to go all out could make them afraid.

Ding Shan looked carefully at herself in the mirror. She was still relatively young in her memory. Her skin was smooth and tender, and it could be broken with just a blow. However, due to her long-term fatigue, she did not look very energetic.

Ding Shan touched her face longingly and could not help but recall her previous life.

One time, she had just escaped death from a wealthy businessman. She sat in front of the bedroom mirror and heard Ding Wan counting money outside the locked door. He laughed in satisfaction. Wang Chun and Ding Yuan said they would use the money to buy new clothes and cosmetics.

The three of them were really happy. With money, they looked pleased.

However, Ding Shan was locked in the room. There were countless bruises on her face and body. She was like a withered flower that had lost its moisture and was emitting an aura of decay.

She was clearly in the prime of her life, but she could only become a walking corpse as a tool for them to amass money.

Even till her death, Ding Shan would never forget how terrifying her face was in the mirror. Her eyes were sunken, and her face was sallow. She was only in her twenties but already had a few wrinkles. She looked highly decadent.

No girl did not want to be beautiful, and no girl was willing to die in her prime.

From then on, Ding Shan never looked in the mirror again until she died.

Time passed quickly. When Ding Shan looked in the mirror again, it was as if the faces of two lifetimes constantly overlapped. One looked despair and was about to die, while the other was full of vigor and hope.

Ding Shan gently lifted the corner of her mouth with her fingertip and revealed a sweet smile. However, there were tears in her eyes. Ding Shan blinked and held back her tears.

She was still alive. This was a past that she could never return to in her present life. Let's consider her rebirth as good karma for her previous life.

Since this was God's compensation for her, she definitely would not let them off so quickly.

Although Ding Shan did not know that CEO Jin had bailed Ding Wan and the others out, she knew that the detention center would not be able to hold Ding Wan and the others for a few days.

It would definitely be another bloodbath when the three of them came out.

Unexpectedly, Ding Shan still underestimated the degree to which Ding Wan and others sought her death.

Yang Hua did not disappoint Ding Wan's expectations. After the call ended, she personally wrote a speech. The words were ambiguous, and she used her identity as that of a spectator. She vividly described the incident where Ding Shan seduced the director and tried to reverse the unspoken rules.

Yang Hua was indeed worthy of being a manager for many years. Her mind had never been on Ding Shan. Instead, she had made many good friends. They were all insiders who shared the same bad taste as her and were blinded by greed.

Yang Hua steeled her heart and took out her last savings. She used them all to manage the media and entertainment accounts. She asked them to create a unified story and report a bloodstained storm.

The time was chosen to be the night with the most traffic. It was the most suitable time for people to watch some entertainment gossip.

Yang Hua sneered, "Ding Shan, I can lift you up, but I can also destroy you. The money I spent today is all on your head. Soon, you will have to pay me back twice as much. For the rest of your life, you will be my slave, and I will squeeze blood out of you!"