I Am A Boss Mommy That Wants To Slack chapter 631-When Karl opened his phone, the corners of his lips still had a smile.

In his imagination, there should be messages all over the internet scolding Jing Zhen right now.

Jing Zhen's influence must be gone, and the people's hearts were lost. He would soon become their prisoner.

As he thought about this, he looked at the comments.

The first few were from the internet trolls he had paid for, all scolding Jing Zhen.

The number of likes was quite high...

But when he refreshed the page, that comment was suddenly pushed to second place, and the number of likes for the first-place comment had reached over ten thousand.

Keep in mind that Country A only had a few million people, so having a comment with tens of thousands of likes was quite an impressive feat.

Karl stared at the comment, which read:

—A global technological challenge that no one can overcome has been conquered by His Majesty the King? Am I the only one who suddenly feels that the King is really amazing and powerful?

Karl was dumbfounded.

What on earth was this?

Below this comment, there were also a lot of replies:

—Oh my God, if I had accomplished this, I would have made it known to the world. Was His Majesty the King keeping it a secret because he feared that releasing it would harm humanity? Suddenly, I feel that important figures are indeed amazing. I feel so guilty thinking about my own shallowness!

—Ah, friends, guess what I found out? The King's daughter, our Princess, is also the famous Prof. Z of China! Oh my gosh, how did the royal family's brains grow? Why are they all scientific giants?

—The royal family's part-time work is so impressive, how can we not love them?

—Please, with these genes, Your Majesty the King should have more children! If the King can't have more children, then the Princess should! Don't waste such good genes!!

Apart from these compliments, another comment suddenly appeared in the thread:

—Oh, my friends, my cousin works for the United Nations, and I just heard some explosive news. Do you want to hear it?

Everyone replied that they wanted to hear it.

That person then left another comment:

—Actually, this technology is being researched all over the world, but only our King has succeeded. Now, the United Nations wants to steal the patent! The UN exposed the King's crimes to guide public opinion and make us give up on the King. They are so evil! Is it wrong for the King to have researched and developed this technology? But the King has never made this technology public or used it for harmful purposes! He just wanted to study it! Moreover, His Majesty the King went to China for more than 20 years because of this technology! He would rather be a son-in-law in China than use this technology. How great is our King?!

As soon as this news came out, the people of Country A exploded.

Jing Zhen instantly became the representative of the words "handsome" and "pitiful," and for a time, people across the country shouted in their hearts

(We can't let them take His Majesty the King away!)

(His Majesty the King is the leader of our Country A, and we will defend him to the death!)

These comments completely overturned Karl's understanding and were completely different from what he had imagined.

He was dumbfounded.

His subordinates also rushed in urgently. "Mr. Karl, this is bad!"

Karl slowly put down his phone and threw the glass in his hand at his subordinate. "I've already seen it! What are you doing? You didn't find any of this? They have controlled public opinion!"

The subordinate didn't dare to dodge, and the glass hit him. It then fell to the ground, and the whiskey spilled on the floor.

"This is called the mentality of 'admiring the strong'."

At this moment, Shen Qianhui was explaining to a group of people from the PR department, "Our society is developing very rapidly now, and everything is different from the past. The values of everyone have been reshaped. Although the things studied by His Majesty the King may indeed be harmful to humanity, the King has not published or released them. Moreover, I specifically mentioned that he went to China to keep this secret. In an instant, the King's character has been elevated, and the people will certainly love him more!"

The staff of the PR department was stunned by Shen Qianhui's manipulation of the situation.

They had never thought it could be played like this.

For a moment, everyone's gaze at Shen Qianhui changed, from disrespect to reverence.

Jing Zhen personally supported Shen Qianhui's arm. "Wife, the direction of public opinion on the internet is under control now. Please go back and rest." After that, he said to the people in the PR department, "If you have any problems in the future, find the Queen!"

He didn't even glance at the former PR department director, and he helped Shen Qianhui out the door.

Outside the door.

Chu Cichen and the guard of the royal palace were still standing there. The two had just heard the exclamations coming from the room.

The exclamations were mixed with disbelief and astonishment.

It was clear that something had happened.

The guard sneered at Chu Cichen, "Did you hear that? Something happened! As soon as the Queen entered, they would definitely push everything onto her. I just tried to stop the Queen from entering, all for her own good!"

Chu Cichen, however, still stood quietly beside him, with an incredibly confident expression on his face. He smirked and said, "Really? Let's wait and see then."

As soon as he finished speaking, he saw Jing Zhen helping Shen Qianhui out of the doorway....

I Am A Boss Mommy That Wants To Slack chapter 632-The guard looked at them and sneered at the Queen.

See, they were driven out.

But just as he thought of this, he heard the voices of the other PR department staff inside the door. "Your Majesty, should we create a group chat? Can we add your WeChat? It will be convenient for us to consult with you during our work!"

Country A's main communication method, like China's, was WeChat.

Shen Qianhui naturally agreed.

She nodded and handed over her phone. The other party quickly scanned the QR code and looked at her with admiration. "We will have to bother you more in the future."

The guard was dumbfounded.

Shen Ruojing followed Shen Qianhui and Jing Zhen out, and as soon as she stepped out the door, she saw Chu Cichen. She first gave him a reassuring smile, letting him know that everything went smoothly.

She then saw him smirking and looking at the guard who had just stopped them from entering.

Next, the guard suddenly ran in front of the Queen, knelt down on both knees, and kowtowed heavily five times!

When he raised his head again, his forehead was red.

Shen Ruoqing raised her eyebrows, glanced at Chu Cichen with her eyes, and knew that it must have been his doing...

In fact, if Chu Cichen hadn't done this, she would have done the same.

This was because she wanted to establish authority for Shen Qianhui!

If every guard in the palace was like this guard, casually refusing Shen Qianhui, where would her dignity as the Queen be?

But she didn't expect that Chu Cichen had thought the same way.

If Shen Ruoqing were to punish this guard herself, it would actually be unreasonable. But she didn't know what method Chu Cichen had used to make the guard submit...

However, this was not the place to talk, and she would ask when there were no outsiders around.

Shen Ruoqing was about to follow Jing Zhen to send Shen Qianhui back to the palace when she suddenly saw someone entering the door and announcing, "Your Majesty, Family Leader Yan is here. He said you asked him to come to the palace."

Hearing this, Jing Zhen immediately looked at Shen Qianhui with an apologetic face. "Wife, I still have some things to discuss with him. You should go back first."

Shen Qianhui understood that now was a busy time, and she was never a pretentious person, so she nodded and left directly.

As Shen Ruoqing was about to catch up, she heard Jing Zhen call her. "Jingjing, wait a moment. This matter concerns you."

Shen Ruoqing stopped and followed Jing Zhen to a nearby meeting room.

The meeting room they usually used had been occupied by the PR department staff, so Jing Zhen didn't drive them away but entertained Family Leader Yan in another room. After all, there was no shortage of rooms in the palace.

After waiting for a while, Family Leader Yan strode in.

Upon entering, Family Leader Yan's gaze fell on Shen Ruoqing first. His face still had a hint of displeasure, and his eyes flickered with deep thoughts.

As if considering something, Jing Zhen stepped forward and said, "Cousin, today is a family dinner, so you don't need to be too formal."

Family Leader Yan was slightly taken aback.

The Empress Dowager was a member of the Yan family, and the current Family Leader Yan was her nephew. In theory, Family Leader Yan was considered Jing Zhen's maternal family's power.

However, due to the death of Princess Concubine Yan and his eldest son, Family Leader Yan held resentment toward Jing Zhen in his heart.

Even so, the Empress Dowager's authority was too deep, and Family Leader Yan dared not defy his aunt. Thus, on the surface, he was still respectful toward Jing Zhen...

And Jing Zhen had always maintained a distance from him.

Right now, suddenly hearing Jing Zhen call him "cousin" made Family Leader Yan instantly vigilant. He knew that this old fox must be up to no good!

Family Leader Yan performed the proper salute. "Your Majesty, this is the palace, and everything should still follow the rules."

After saying this, Family Leader Yan stood up. "I wonder why Your Majesty has summoned me?"<sup>1</sup>

His words were cold and distant.

Shen Ruoqing observed him from the side and glanced at Jing Zhen. A sudden insight then flashed through her mind, and she immediately understood Jing Zhen's intention in calling Family Leader Yan over...

As expected, in the next moment, the old fox Jing Zhen spoke, "Cousin, I told my mother that you might blame me for the matters concerning Princess Concubine Yan and my nephew, who is your eldest son. However, my mother said it was impossible. The Yan family is her maternal family and my strongest support. She told me to turn to you if I have any problems. But now, it seems that you still hold a grudge against me, am I right?"

Family Leader Yan didn't dare to admit it.

Now, the King was very popular online, so Family Leader Yan quickly refuted, "No, not at all. You've always been fair and impartial!"

"I knew my cousin was the most considerate! In that case, you must support me, right? So..."

I Am A Boss Mommy That Wants To Slack chapter 633-Shen Ruojing's eyes darkened.

Family Leader Yan's heart suddenly filled with caution.

What did this mean?

He hurriedly stepped back. "Your Majesty, what do you mean by this?"

Jing Zhen sighed, and his charming peach blossom eyes were full of helplessness. "After returning to the country this time, I found that I only have the power to manage, but I have no prestige in the military. So, I decided to let Jingjing join your Yan family's army for some experience!"

Family Leader Yan."???"

He was completely dumbfounded.

Let the Princess join his Yan family's army?

The military forces in Country A were divided among three families.

The Yan family, the Luo family, and the Ji family.

Did Jing Zhen decide to firmly grasp military power through this crisis?

Family Leader Yan clenched his jaw, looking at Shen Ruojing with an unreadable expression.

He subconsciously refused, "I'm afraid that won't work."

"Why not?"

Family Leader Yan replied, "I know that Princess is Agent 518 in the Dark Web Organization, and her skills are definitely not a problem. However, the military is not the same as an organization. The structure within the Dark Web Organization might be strong, but in the military, everything must follow orders, and military orders are as unyielding as mountains!"

Shen Ruojing looked at him coldly.

Family Leader Yan thought the Dark Web Organization was a loose civilian organization, but what he didn't know was that the Dark Web Organization was managed with the same military principles, and it was even stricter than the military. Otherwise, they wouldn't constantly push her and Dugu Xiao to compete for the leadership position!

Shen Ruojing said, "Uncle Yan, I can do it."

She had to do it.

After this incident, Shen Ruojing realized that power was the ultimate truth!

If the royal family had prestige in the military, then Karl's plan would be a joke! If Jing Zhen or she could control the three armies, who would dare to underestimate Jing Zhen?

No matter what people said online, the public could only do so much. The real power against external enemies was still the military!

So, even if Jing Zhen didn't help her enter the military and meddle in military affairs, Shen Ruojing was already prepared to find a way to try out the depth of Country A's military.

Family Leader Yan frowned. "Your Highness, governing an army is not the same as governing a country!"

"I know."

Family Leader Yan wanted to say something else, but Jing Zhen, who was standing next to Shen Ruojing, looked at him with sorrow. "So, cousin, you're actually still blaming me, and that's why you don't want Jingjing to enter the military, right?"

Family Leader Yan."?"

Jing Zhen's peach blossom eyes were full of emotion, and at this moment, he looked at Family Leader Yan so directly, with a hint of grievance in his eyes. Even Family Leader Yan felt unbearable being looked at like this!

He quickly looked away, and his whole body was covered in goosebumps, feeling truly creeped out.

Without thinking, he blurted out, "No, not at all!"

"That's good." Jing Zhen turned to Shen Ruoqing and instructed, "You go with your Uncle Yan. Don't be afraid of hardship or tiredness!"

Family Leader Yan."???"

When did he agree?!

But seeing Jing Zhen say this, Shen Ruoqing obediently followed, leaving Family Leader Yan at a loss. Refusing further would make both Jing Zhen and the Crown Princess lose face.

Family Leader Yan then took a deep breath. "Your Highness, if that's the case, then you should accompany me to inspect the military tomorrow. However, since the military is all men, you can only take a look and then leave."

Shen Ruoqing looked at him. "Since it's about experiencing the hardships of the soldiers, I naturally should stay there."

Family Leader Yan frowned immediately and said, "Your Highness, this is against the rules! You..."

Before he could finish, Shen Ruoqing interrupted, "Uncle Yan..."

She just found out that as long as you thickened your skin a bit, every negotiation would become smoother.

Shen Ruoqing said firmly, "I plan to establish a women's army!"

Family Leader Yan was slightly stunned. “What?”

Shen Ruojing had thought it through; she wanted to establish her own power and connections!

At the banquet for Princess Daisy, several noble ladies also had this idea.

The low status of women in Country A needed to change. Hence, Shen Ruojing not only wanted to lead women out of the inner courtyard but also guide them to study, gain knowledge, hold office, and even... become soldiers!

In men’s eyes, women’s greatest weakness was physical strength. But if Shen Ruojing could create a women’s army that was on par with men’s army, women’s status could directly skyrocket!

She didn’t want to take it slow, wait for ten or twenty years and gradually improve women’s status...

She wanted to make a leap, to achieve it in one step! Otherwise, wouldn’t she have to struggle for so many more years before she could retire?

As Shen Ruojing was planning her retirement, she heard Family Leader Yan’s angry voice. “Nonsense, this is impossible. In the whole of Country A, apart from you, there won’t be a second woman who dares to become a soldier!”

Shen Ruojing smiled. “What if I can gather ten people? Can we form a small team then?”

Family Leader Yan scoffed, “Fine.”

He thought that Shen Ruojing couldn’t possibly gather ten people.

Turning his head, he saw Chu Cichen waiting outside the door.

A hint of mockery flashed in Family Leader Yan’s eyes. “Your Highness, the easiest way for you to control the military is to marry into it. Since you and him didn’t get married, and he can’t bring you any help as he is just an ordinary Chinese businessman, why do you have to hang yourself on this tree?”

Shen Ruojing’s eyes flashed with anger at his words. “Does Family Leader Yan look down on businessmen so much? As far as I know, the royal family is also one of the three major economic empires!”

Family Leader Yan immediately retorted, “How can that be the same? His family’s wealth is nothing in my eyes. The royal family only has you as the sole heir, which means the future royal family is yours.. With your current value increasing, only the heirs of the three major economic empires are worthy of you! Oh, no, there’s one more person who is also worthy of you, and that’s the founder of the Loong Corporation!”

I Am A Boss Mommy That Wants To Slack chapter 634-Upon hearing Family Leader Yan’s words, Chu Cichen raised his head to look at him, his lips curling with profound meaning.

Shen Ruoqing, however, didn’t seem to pay any attention to the words and said, “I don’t need Family Leader Yan to be concerned about my personal life.”

Just a moment ago, he was addressed as Uncle Yan, but now he was referred to as Family Leader Yan.

It was clear that Shen Ruoqing was not happy.

Family Leader Yan could naturally feel it, but after thinking it over, he thought about his youngest son at home...

The Queen Dowager’s era would eventually pass, and when she was gone, the relationship between the Yan family and the King would become distant. At that time, the status of the Yan family would undoubtedly decline. However, if the youngest son of the family could marry Shen Ruoqing, and their future child would inherit the throne of Country A, it would be the greatest continuation of the Yan family’s legacy!

When Family Leader Yan thought of this and also of Shen Ruoqing’s upcoming visit to the military camp, he spoke, “Your Highness, I am already old, and now the affairs of the military are managed by my youngest son. When do you plan to go? Let my youngest son, who is also your cousin, accompany you.”

Shen Ruoqing didn’t think much and simply replied, “Alright, I’ll go there tomorrow with ten women.”

Family Leader Yan nodded upon hearing this. “There’s no need for the Princess to send me off.”

“Take care.” Shen Ruoqing curled her lips. “Uncle Yan, see you tomorrow.”

When Chu Cichen was not mentioned, he was still an uncle.

Family Leader Yan twitched the corner of his mouth, feeling that Princess Shen was taking advantage of him too much. But for some reason, perhaps because of blood relation, he could not resist her smile.

If it was the King’s smile, it would make him feel chills down his spine, but the Princess’s smile made him feel much more comfortable.

Family Leader Yan then withdrew his gaze, bowed, and took his leave. As he passed Chu Cichen, he suddenly stopped and looked at him. “Do you know why the Princess works so hard?”

Chu Cichen looked at him, but before he could say anything, Family Leader Yan sneered. “Isn’t it because you can’t provide any help? Let’s not talk about the military forces of Country A. Just talking about business, is your family as rich as the royal family? The four great families of China’s capital depend on the royal family for their livelihood, so what does your Chu family amount to? If I were you, I would have withdrawn long ago. The Princess is still young and has a promising future, but what about you?”

Chu Cichen.”...”

He didn’t say anything, or perhaps he thought that this person was at least a relative of Shen Ruoqing’s and was saying these words for her sake, which prevented him from retorting.

He smiled faintly. “How do you, Family Leader Yan, know that I am completely useless? At least... I can make her happy.”

He looked past Family Leader Yan to Shen Ruoqing not far away and smiled at her. Shen Ruoqing immediately smiled back, with a completely different expression from when she faced Family Leader Yan just moments ago. Her eyes were filled with genuine happiness.

This scene fell into Family Leader Yan’s eyes, and he suddenly felt an inexplicable jealousy.

This damn niece. He had thought that her smile and the way she called him uncle was sincere, but it turned out to be just another act. The acting skills of this family were so good that it would be a waste for them not to win an Oscar!

Oh, it seemed that his royal cousin was an actor in China.

Family Leader Yan suddenly felt a tightness in his chest and turned away angrily.

The two men were speaking softly, so Shen Ruoqing didn't hear them. She then approached Chu Cichen curiously and asked, "What did you say? Why did Uncle Yan leave in such a huff?"

Chu Cichen sighed, "He said that I'm useless and incapable of bringing you any greater benefits. I just said that at least I can make you happy. So, he probably thinks that I'm too thick-skinned."

Shen Ruoqing."?"

The corner of her mouth twitched, thinking that this man was becoming more and more glib. The Chu Cichen she knew before wasn't like this!

After confirming his identity, he became clingy. Where was the cold and domineering demeanor from before?

Shen Ruoqing still remembered how this man had treated her without any pretense and had casually said with a cool tone, "After all, you are the mother of my child..."

Thinking about the past, Shen Ruoqing suddenly felt as if those events happened a long time ago, yet it seemed like they had occurred just yesterday.

She smiled. "I'm naturally happy to see you. After all, you are the father of my three children."

Chu Cichen."?"

Why did he suddenly feel that Jingjing had the intention of bringing up the past?

He quickly changed the subject. "You're joining the army?"

Shen Ruojing nodded. "Yes, I don't want to be helpless when my loved ones face threats again. Controlling the army means having complete control over Country A."

Chu Cichen nodded. "Alright, do you need me to do anything?"

"No need," Shen Ruojing said, "After joining the military, I also want to find opportunities to make female soldiers stand out. You should just stay at home and think of ways to entertain the leader of your Loong Corporation. By the way, they should be arriving in two days, right?"

Chu Cichen nodded.

Shen Ruojing asked, "Are there any taboos for your leader? Since they are willing to meet us for your sake, we from Country A must show enough sincerity in hosting them.. Also, what should we pay attention to when talking to them?"

I Am A Boss Mommy That Wants To Slack chapter 635-Chu Cichen coughed and looked at Shen Ruojing, unsure of what to say.

He glanced around and then lowered his voice. "Our boss has a characteristic."

"What is it?"

"He's henpecked, so you just need to praise his wife as much as you can."

Shen Ruojing immediately got into the role. "To be married to a man who has reached the level of your boss, his wife must be so incredible! She must be beautiful, smart, and talented!"

Chu Cichen stared at her with deep eyes. "Yes, yes, you're right."

Shen Ruojing. "Why do I feel like you're mocking me?"

.....

Chu Cichen quickly waved his hands. "I wouldn't dare, I wouldn't dare at all.

After all, you're so beautiful, smart, and talented."

Shen Ruojing."?"

Why did those words sound familiar?

However, before she could think more about it, Chu Cichen quickly changed the subject again. “Do you have any candidates for your female soldier squad? It seems like the women of Country A might be too scared.”

“How can that be!”

Shen Ruojing’s attention was successfully diverted. She then took out her phone, opened WeChat, and said, “At the banquet with Princess Daisy last time, I joined a group for noble ladies of Country A! You have no idea, those seemingly well-behaved noble ladies have actually become quite open-minded. If I call for them in the group, many will definitely sign up.”

With the advancement of the internet, the consciousness of Country A’s women had awakened slowly. They were just waiting for an opportunity.

As Shen Ruojing said this, she sent a message in the group chat, explaining her intentions.

As expected, many people signed up!

And those noble ladies rushed forward without thinking.

Shen Ruojing looked at the people in the group. When she saw a noble lady who had been bedridden for years with congenital heart disease signing up, she couldn’t help but mention that lady and sent two words, ‘Stop it’.

Ji Bingbing was the legitimate daughter of the Ji family, very different from Princess Consort Ji and was very much loved by her family. However, because she had congenital heart disease and wasn’t suitable for exercise, she was confined to her home all day.

Even so, at that state banquet, she was impressed by the grace of the Princess.

She never knew that a woman could live so freely!

Ji Bingbing had heartfelt admiration for Shen Ruojing, so when she saw that the Princess was recruiting ten people, she immediately signed up without considering her health, just wanting to help the Princess achieve something.

As a result, the Princess replied with ‘Stop it’?

Although her family elders and brothers often said the same thing to her, it was the first time Ji Bingbing had heard it from a woman. After imagining the Princess's speaking manner, these two words coming from her red lips made Ji Bingbing feel a sense of being pampered!

She couldn't help but blush slowly.

Ah, what should she do? She was falling more and more in love with the Princess!

But since the Princess didn't want her to become a soldier, going might bring trouble and hold the Princess back. So, she decided to do something else for the Princess!

Thinking of this, Ji Bingbing stood up, rushed to her soldier brother, and directly shouted, "Brother, the Princess is going to become a soldier tomorrow, and you're not allowed to bully her!"

Having just received this news, Ji Bingbing's brother, who was in contact with several team leaders and planning to teach Princess Shen Ruoqing a lesson, was puzzled.

Shen Ruoqing, of course, had no idea how many fans she had gained. She only selected a few noble ladies with good health from the group, told them to report to the barracks tomorrow, and then put away her phone. "It's done."

Chu Cichen looked at her and smiled. "Good."

He actually knew that this wouldn't be an easy task, but seeing Shen Ruoqing so enthusiastic...

She was usually reluctant to do anything, as this woman was determined to retire. But now she was full of fighting spirit, so he wouldn't dampen her enthusiasm!

As for the hidden dangers, he didn't mention them...

Chu Cichen lowered his eyes. He would help her make up for them!

Time quickly passed to the next day.

Shen Ruoqing and her cousin Yan Zixuan had agreed to enter the barracks at nine o'clock. So, she arrived early at the entrance of the military area at 8.30 a.m., waiting for the noble ladies from her team to arrive. However, not a single noble lady had arrived yet.

Shen Ruoqing couldn't help but take out her phone and sent a message in WeChat.

But the few people who had agreed to come yesterday didn't reply at all.

As Shen Ruoqing was wondering what was going on, Ji Bingbing, the sick beauty from the group, replied, [Princess, they've all been locked up by their families, and their phones might have been confiscated. They probably won't be able to come out today! Wait for me, I'll come over now, at least to help make up the numbers.]

Seeing this message, Shen Ruoqing was dumbfounded.

In her excitement yesterday, she had forgotten that these noble ladies had no personal freedom, and their families would never let them go to the barracks to become soldiers.

The barracks were full of men from Country A. After spending time here, traditional-minded people would think that women had lost their purity. So, their families would never allow them to come!

Shen Ruoqing frowned. What should she do?

As she was thinking, her cousin Yan Zixuan came out, smiling at her..
"Princess, where is your female soldier squad?"

I Am A Boss Mommy That Wants To Slack chapter 636-Yan Zixuan's words carried a hint of sarcasm.

Last night, after his father returned home, he was told to develop a relationship with the Princess, but how could that be possible?

He was a soldier and would eventually wield military power. In his mind, a real man was supposed to marry and have concubines. Hence, to cultivate a relationship with the Princess? That was ridiculous!

How could he possibly please a delicate woman?

So, he actually came here today with some resentment.

Seeing that Shen Ruoqing hadn't even gathered ten people, he couldn't help but mock her, "Didn't you say that you would bring a team of female soldiers? A team of female soldiers should have at least ten people, right? Where are they? How can a single person form a squad?"

Shen Ruoqing sensed the resentment in his words and didn't respond.

She was a little worried too.

Although she didn't consider this issue yesterday, Shen Ruoqing didn't think it was a big problem. After all, if a woman couldn't even handle her family, even if she came today, she wouldn't be able to stay in the barracks for long.

What she wanted was not a group of weak and delicate ladies but real comrades who could fight alongside her.

In the future, it was even possible that these female soldiers would help her control the military power of various families...

Shen Ruoqing then ignored her cousin and looked into the distance.

Seeing her like this, Yan Zixuan came over. "Cousin, my father told me that if you want to visit the barracks now, it's possible. I can take you in. I think we shouldn't wait any longer. Even if we wait for eternity, those people won't be able to make it. After all... women should be at home taking care of their husbands and children, right? Why do they want to be soldiers? Isn't that courting death? Who would dare marry a woman who has been a soldier?"

Yan Zixuan was tall and burly, with a rough appearance. He was a simple-minded warrior, unlike his scheming brother.

Hence, he spoke without thinking, but such people were often pure-hearted, so Shen Ruoqing wouldn't argue with him.

Because there was only one way to deal with such people.

No matter how much you say, it would only lead to one outcome. When a scholar meets a soldier, reason cannot prevail.

So, the only way was to subdue him!

But now, outside the barracks, it wouldn't be good for Shen Ruoqing to start a fight. She needed to find an opportunity to land a heavy punch that could knock him out instantly. Otherwise, small fights would be useless.

She had already learned some habits of the barracks yesterday, so she had her own ideas.

Therefore, she didn't argue with Yan Zixuan.

She stubbornly stared into the distance.

There must be reliable women in Country A. If that were not the case, she wouldn't have to try so hard and could simply give up.

Seeing that she was still staring into the distance and ignoring him, Yan Zixuan sneered.

He hadn't married yet and was wholly focused on managing the barracks. Also, he only had two concubines at home and didn't care about women at all. It could be said that people like him simply looked down on women from the bottom of their hearts.

He felt that today was a perfect opportunity to make the Princess look bad, so he simply took out his watch and glanced at it. "Your Highness, just a reminder, it's already 8:45. In fifteen minutes, if they haven't arrived, they'll be considered late. The military camp has strict management, and latecomers will be directly dismissed!"

Shen Ruoqing ignored him.

Yan Zixuan became a timer. "It's 8:50 now..."

Shen Ruoqing still ignored him.

Five minutes passed.

Yan Zixuan. "It's 8:55 now, only five minutes left. Do you still expect a miracle to happen?"

Shen Ruoqing finally couldn't help but look at him. "Can you shut up? It's not even summer yet, and frogs aren't nearly as talkative as you. How can a grown man be so noisy!?"

Yan Zixuan.”!!”

He got angry. “You...”

“Shh...” Yan Zixuan’s words were suddenly interrupted by Shen Ruoqing. She then looked forward with bright eyes.

Yan Zixuan followed her gaze and saw a woman appear around the corner of the road.

It was Luo Yan!

She was wearing the dress from yesterday. As there was a traitor in the group, the few noble ladies chosen by Shen Ruoqing had been directly controlled by their families. Luo Yan’s parents had also forcibly taken her phone and locked her up.

She had no chance to change into casual clothes. She then tried everything she could and finally climbed out through the window. At this moment, her face was covered in dust, her clothes were torn, and even her feet were worn out from the journey.

But her eyes were determined. She was holding her skirt and still walking forward.

Upon seeing her, Yan Zixuan was slightly taken aback. He didn’t know why, but the stubborn Miss Luo from the Luo family seemed to have become a bit more adorable.

But how was that possible?

Look at her dirty appearance, what kind of image was that?

“Even if one has come, it’s not enough, Your Highness.” Yan Zixuan simply looked at Shen Ruoqing again, but as soon as his words fell, he saw a second noble lady appear behind Luo Yan...

That person looked just as disheveled as Luo Yan, but her steps were firm and unwavering as she approached.

Then came the third, the fourth...

In the end, eight out of the ten noble ladies chosen by Shen Ruoqing yesterday had arrived!

Shen Ruoqing's eyes sparkled.

Eight out of ten was already a lot. Although this was the result after Shen Ruoqing's selection, she had chosen these noble ladies because she believed that they had strong determination.

They didn't disappoint her!

"Princess, Luo Yan reports my arrival!"

"Princess, 1 report my arrival!"

"Princess,..."

One after another, delicate voices sounded, composing the most perfect symphony for Shen Ruoqing today.

Shen Ruoqing smiled.

However, Yan Zixuan was determined to ruin the atmosphere. "Your Highness, even with you here, there are only nine of you, still one short. It's not enough, so your team of female soldiers cannot be established...."

I Am A Boss Mommy That Wants To Slack chapter 637-One person short...

Shen Ruoqing narrowed her eyes. She was just about to speak when a voice came from the side. "Who says that we're one person short? Princess, I've come to report as well!"

Hearing these words, Shen Ruoqing turned her head to find that her little maid, Yu Jing, had actually come.

She was slightly taken aback. "Who asked you to come?"

"Mr. Chu," Yu Jing respectfully replied, "He even prepared several people, saying that if you needed more, we would fill in the gaps."

Now they were only one person short, so Yu Jing had come by herself.

Shen Ruojing had thought of this possibility herself and had even made preparations. If there were too few people coming, she wouldn't need to establish this army anymore, and if there were only a few people short, she had her own ways. However, since Chu Cichen had prepared everything for her, she was too lazy to use her own methods.

After all, it was quite annoying to deal with Yan Zixuan.

Moreover... being watched and helped by Chu Cichen was actually a very fortunate thing. At least, she wouldn't have to deal with any problems alone in the future.

Shen Ruojing looked at Yan Zixuan. "Ten people, is that enough?"

Yan Zixuan wanted to make trouble and pointed at Yu Jing. "Her status isn't enough!"

Shen Ruojing immediately raised her eyebrows, but before she could speak, Luo Yan beside her interjected, "How is it not enough? Are all the men in your male army noble sons? Your male soldiers can recruit from civilians, so why can't our female soldiers? Yu Jing is a dignified person! Yan Zixuan, stop causing trouble here, and quickly prepare tents and uniforms for our troops. We want to enter the barracks immediately!"

Yan Zixuan."?"

He had just thought that Luo Yan was somewhat cute, but now her willful appearance was really annoying. He said directly, "On what basis do you command me? Don't you know that in the army, I am the general! You should listen to me, you..."

Before he could finish, Luo Yan suddenly ran up to him and stepped on his foot!

"Hiss!" Yan Zixuan gasped and immediately jumped up, holding his foot. "What are you doing?"

"You call yourself a general? You can't even dodge my sneak attack, so what kind of general are you? Hehehe..." Luo Yan stuck her tongue out at Yan

Zixuan. But seeing him raise his hand, she immediately ran behind Shen Ruoqing,

“What are you doing? A big man hitting a woman? What kind of man are you?”

Yan Zixuan.”!!”

He was really driven crazy by Luo Yan. After a while, he didn't bother to make things difficult for them anymore and simply went to the entrance of the barracks. With a wave of his hand, the door was pushed open, and then he led the ten women into the barracks.

Shen Ruoqing followed Yan Zixuan, and after entering the barracks, she looked around.

The Yan family's army was very strict, so the barracks were very orderly.

Shen Ruoqing followed him around the barracks, and then their group of noble ladies was surrounded by the men inside.

Then, someone inquired, “General, what are these women here for? Could it be that you knew we haven't seen a woman in half a year and specially found some to help us pass the time?”

Yan Zixuan heard this and deliberately didn't respond, even misleading them, “Stop talking nonsense!”

These noble ladies, who had spent their days in the inner courtyard, had no idea about the men in the barracks who were like wolves and tigers when they saw women. Their gazes alone were enough to make these women unable to bear it. They were still too naive.

(Now, let them know how difficult it is to leave the inner courtyard!)

Everyone seemed to understand something, so they immediately turned their attention to the ten women.

“Wow, you must come and see their clothes! This is simply too shabby!”

“Little beauty, where did you come from? How did your shoes wear out? You look really pitiful. Do you need our help?”

“I think this one looks the best!”

“It’s clearly the woman in the middle who’s the most beautiful, but why does she look so fierce?”

As a group of soldiers rushed over and surrounded them, Luo Yan and the others consciously protected Shen Ruojing in the middle.

Shen Ruojing wanted to say that it was unnecessary; she wasn’t afraid of being looked at. Not to mention that she had participated in variety shows back home, but even in the Dark Web Organization, women were extremely rare, so she had spent her days mingling with a group of men.

However, Shen Ruojing was still with these noble ladies.

Being scrutinized by a group of men, these women were clearly having a hard time.

They were of noble birth and had always been in the inner courtyard. Even when they went to school, it was divided into girls’ schools and boys’ schools. Hence, they had never seen so many men before, and being looked at with such impolite eyes made them feel angry and annoyed.

Even Luo Yan, who had a more outgoing personality, became impatient with the stares and glared back. “What are you looking at?”

“Little beauty, I’m looking at your waist. The clothes around your waist are torn, and that skin is really white!”

Upon hearing this, Luo Yan immediately lowered her gaze and indeed found that her clothes were torn, exposing a section of her waist.

In fact, these soldiers didn’t have any bad intentions; they had just been deprived for too long. When they suddenly saw so many beautiful women, they couldn’t help but make a few teasing remarks.

But how could these noble ladies endure this?

I Am A Boss Mommy That Wants To Slack chapter 638-Surrounded like this, Shen Ruojing turned her head to look at the noble ladies around her.

Some of them could no longer bear the teasing. Their eyes were turning red, and they looked around in fear and unease. Some had even crouched down, hugging their knees and gazing painfully at their surroundings.

Shen Ruojing watched them.

Yan Zixuan, standing nearby with his arms crossed, also looked at them.

He first noticed that Shen Ruojing had no reaction, probably because she had seen many men in China and was not afraid at all. This was not surprising, but what Yan Zixuan hadn't expected was that besides the little maid who was always closely following Shen Ruojing without fear, Luo Yan didn't back down either.

Although she covered her waist with one hand, she also glared back at the group of men with a fierce look in her eyes, like a little puppy with its claws out, not realizing that her appearance had no deterrent effect.

Compared to the other noble ladies who were frightened and crouching down, hugging their bodies, Luo Yan seemed... cute?

Cute again?

Yan Zixuan immediately discarded the thought in his mind. What was wrong with him today? Maybe it was because he hadn't seen a woman for so long that he was developing feelings for such a rude and ill-mannered woman.

Yes, it was time to go home and pamper his two concubines.

His mother used to say that a man should not always be cooped up in the barracks, or he would go mad.

He didn't believe it at first, but now he thought that it might be true.

As Yan Zixuan was lost in thought, he suddenly heard Shen Ruojing's voice. "What are you afraid of?"

Shen Ruojing stared at the noble ladies who were crouching on the ground, trembling and hugging their knees. After she finished speaking, they raised their heads and looked at her.

Shen Ruojing's eyes were gentle and polite. She knew that it took courage for these women to escape the inner courtyard, and not everyone could be fearless like Luo Yan.

Just like in China's feudal society, would you let a woman raised in a secluded chamber go to the barracks and be stared at by many men?

Modern people might not think it was a big deal, but for these ladies, they might feel that their innocence had been lost.

So, after saying that, Shen Ruojing encouraged everyone. "Nowadays, men and women are equal. Don't be afraid. If they look at us, we can treat them like cabbages, or we can look back at them!"

Treating them like cabbages was a phrase of encouragement used in China when people go on stage for the first time.

At this moment, the phrase seemed quite fitting for the situation.

The noble ladies couldn't help but raise their heads, looking at the people around them. If the person staring at them with malicious eyes was a cabbage, maybe it wouldn't be so scary?

Perhaps it was the deterrent power of Shen Ruojing's words, or perhaps it was the comforting meaning in her voice, but the noble ladies gradually calmed down. When they looked at the group of men again, there was much less fear in their hearts.

Seeing that they were no longer trembling, Shen Ruojing continued, "Can you stand up?"

There were two meanings in this sentence.

One was the literal meaning. "Can you stand up now? How can you move forward while crouching like this?"

The second meaning was... "Can the women of Country A stand up?"

The noble ladies understood and exchanged glances, seeing encouragement in each other's eyes.

These noble ladies had received systematic and high-quality training, having attended aristocratic girls' schools and possessing impressive personal qualities.

So, they helped each other stand up.

One by one...

Eventually, everyone stood up, gathering their courage to look at the group of men around them.

The soldiers were a bit confused, not understanding what was going on, but that didn't stop them from joking around.

"Wow, this girl has guts! She dares to look at me!"

"Hahaha, these ladies seem pretty feisty, interesting!"

"Hey, General, aren't women not allowed in the barracks? So, who are they? Did the army invite celebrities to perform for us? Is it because they think we've been training too hard lately?"

"Yeah, General, we haven't had a proper rest in half a month for the upcoming martial arts competition. Is this a day off for us?"

Everyone was talking and making comments.

Just as Yan Zixuan was about to say something, Luo Yan immediately snapped. "Perform for you? You wish! I think you should demonstrate a formation for us first. Do you even know who we are?"

After saying that, Luo Yan pointed to Shen Ruojing.. "Upon seeing Princess Shen Ruojing, shouldn't you kneel and pay your respects?"

I Am A Boss Mommy That Wants To Slack chapter 639-The soldiers were all stunned, looking at Shen Ruojing in disbelief.

What?

This was their princess?

So, everyone turned to look at Yan Zixuan.

Yan Zixuan originally wanted these men to bully the women a bit, as their gazes alone could drive a woman mad. But now, his plan had backfired, giving Shen Ruoqing a chance to train these noble ladies.

Realizing it was useless to deny it, he admitted, “Yes, this is the Princess. What are you waiting for? Pay your respects!”

The soldiers present immediately knelt down like dumplings. “Greetings, Your Highness!”

.....

Shen Ruoqing looked at them and then turned to the standing noble ladies, speaking indifferently, “These ladies will be your comrades in the future. Put away your lewd behavior and watch your language. If I hear any more obscenities, don’t blame me for being impolite!”

Hearing this, the soldiers became afraid.

The royal family’s prestige was still influential among the people and the military.

Everyone immediately apologized, “We were wrong, please forgive us, Your Highness.”

Shen Ruoqing naturally wouldn’t blame them.

In fact, being around men for a long time could be quite suffocating, as they often spoke without considering their words. She had gotten used to this during her time in the Dark Web Organization. These soldiers were already much better than the men in that organization.

Shen Ruoqing simply said, “Get up.”

Of course, some were convinced, while others were not.

So they stood up and asked, “Your Highness, General, what do you mean by saying they’ll be our comrades in the future?”

Yan Zixuan didn't speak, but Shen Ruoqing explained, "It means that our team of ten female soldiers will join your ranks, and we will be your comrades in battle!"

"What? Are you joking?"

"How can I trust my back to a woman?"

"Actually, the army's kitchen staff is short-handed. If you really want to be a soldier, you can go to the kitchen."

"Or you can wash our clothes. Women should just stay behind and take care of the home!"

Everyone was talking.

While they respected the Princess, that didn't mean they respected the other noble ladies.

Especially when it came to being a soldier, women were naturally at a disadvantage.

Luo Yan single-handedly faced the group,

"Why not train for a few days and then compare our abilities? What are you all ranting about?"

"Looking down on women? Weren't you born from a woman? Without women, who makes your clothes and shoes? Would they appear out of thin air?"

"What's wrong with women? I think you're just afraid of us. Otherwise, why would you only want us to do laundry? Let's compete fairly!"

Luo Yan's words ignited the men,

"Fine, a fair competition! How do you propose we do that?"

Luo Yan didn't know what to say when asked.

At that moment, Shen Ruoqing suddenly spoke, "Didn't you just say that there's a martial arts competition coming up? Let your general give our troop a spot, and we'll participate to show you!"

Shen Ruoqing was waiting for this opportunity.

She had researched that the three armies didn't get along well. So, in order to compete for control of the military and enhance their sense of honor, they held a martial arts competition every year. Each military district would then select three teams to compete.

It was tough to secure a spot for one of the three teams, as representing the military district in the competition was a dream for many soldiers.

Hence, following Luo Yan's argument with the soldiers, Shen Ruoqing seized the opportunity to propose this condition.

Yan Zixuan naturally disagreed. "No way!"

"Right, how can that be?" The other soldiers also chimed in.

"If you participate, won't it be like we have one less team? How can we compete with other military districts then?"

"Yeah, and our final selection of thirty people would be reduced to twenty. No way, we don't agree!"

Just as Shen Ruoqing was about to speak, Luo Yan, unwilling to back down, said, "Why are you so worked up? Are you afraid to lose?"

"How could we be afraid to lose? We are..."

Before they could finish, Luo Yan's sharper voice cut them off. "Then give us a spot and let us show you our strength! Don't be so hesitant, big men!"

Luo Yan looked directly at Yan Zixuan, acting arrogantly. "Do you dare to give it to us?"

Yan Zixuan knew this was a provocative tactic, but for some reason, seeing Luo Yan's proud attitude and disdain for him...

Yan Zixuan gritted his teeth and said, "What's there to be afraid of? I'll give you all a chance! My army has been winning championships for years anyway. This time, giving you a spot is like giving a just handicap for the other two armies!"

With the matter settled, Shen Ruoqing looked at Yan Zixuan. "Alright, you've prepared our uniforms yesterday. Now take us to change our clothes!"

Yan Zixuan led the group forward.

As they walked, he finally realized that he had fallen for a provocation.

How did he impulsively agree to that?

It was simply too careless!

Every year, the three armies competed for the championship, but their strengths were similar. Yan's army had been a bit stronger in recent years, winning the championship every time. However, this didn't guarantee that they could secure the championship by sending out two teams!

Ah, he must have had water in his brain just now.

The more Yan Zixuan thought about it, the angrier he became. He looked at the group of female soldiers and led them to a room without a door. He then said, "The clothes are inside. You can go change. Oh, right, we male soldiers usually change clothes casually. If you want to be like men... go ahead and change. We'll be watching you here."

Shen Ruoqing."??"

Luo Yan.."??"

I Am A Boss Mommy That Wants To Slack chapter 640-At the main camp of the Yan Family Army, a row of small bungalows was built. The place to change clothes was on the first floor, with the main entrance and the spacious windows wide open.

Many male soldiers were walking back and forth, and they could see the situation inside with a turn of their heads.

Moreover, the soldiers who followed Yan Zixuan were all curiously looking at them, standing outside the door to watch the excitement.

When they heard Yan Zixuan's words, they understood the general's attitude toward them, and they all started laughing,

“Yeah, we usually change clothes here, it’s convenient and fast. If you want to be like us, go ahead and change!”

“Go ahead and change, what are you afraid of? We are all comrades!”

“That’s right, if we were about to go on the battlefield, we would change clothes on the spot. Are we supposed to set up a special tent for you to change clothes?”

.....

“Hurry up and change, stop dawdling!”

A group of people laughed, making the noble ladies in the room extremely ashamed.

They could leave their houses and walk to the front of the army, letting this group of people watch them. But changing clothes in front of them was not acceptable!

Even in the most open countries, women wouldn’t behave like this.

Luo Yan was already a very bold woman, and she had even studied abroad. However, she still covered her chest and glared at Yan Zixuan, scolding him, “Scoundrel!”

Yan Zixuan raised his eyebrows. “Don’t say that about me, I can’t bear it. It’s you who want to be soldiers, and I’m not making things difficult for you! Also, the exit door is still open.”

After saying this, Yan Zixuan’s face suddenly became serious. “But once you put on this military uniform, you will shoulder the responsibility of defending your country and family. It’s not something you can casually take off! So, ladies, please think carefully before putting it on!”

The scene suddenly became quiet. Many women had never been soldiers and did not understand the weight and responsibility of this uniform. At this moment, seeing Yan Zixuan speak so seriously, they all understood something.

Although Yan Zixuan seemed to be targeting them and didn’t appear reliable, he was a qualified soldier and leader.

At least, the people in the Yan Family Army respected him because he was very competent in terms of physical strength and other aspects. He was even among the best in the army. He had achieved his position step by step through his abilities.

The Yan family head was the proudest of this youngest son of his because the army was the most important thing for their family.

At this moment, everyone seemed less disgusted with Yan Zixuan because of his seriousness. But the next moment, they heard him continue. "If you don't want to leave, change your clothes!"

Luo Yan glared at him angrily. "We can change clothes, but you must leave."

Yan Zixuan sneered, "Is this how you treat your comrades? But don't worry, there's no filth in the army like you think. Everyone has pure camaraderie, so no one will treat you as a woman! Change, and stop dawdling. If you don't change, then leave!"

He stepped aside.

"You!" Luo Yan was so angry that she pointed at him, wanting to scold him but unable to speak.

She could only anxiously look at Shen Ruoqing. "Your Highness, what should we do now?"

Would they really change clothes under everyone's watchful eyes?

As a woman, this was not allowed!

However, Shen Ruoqing lowered her eyes and suddenly smiled. "Little General Yan, are you saying that you all usually change clothes and watch each other?"

"That's right!" Yan Zixuan sneered.

Shen Ruoqing frowned and suddenly said, "In that case, why don't you men change clothes for us to see first? After all, we are women, and it's embarrassing for us. This is our first time entering the military camp, and we're not used to life here!"

Yan Zixuan."!!"

He coughed, and the thought of undressing in front of these women suddenly made him feel a little embarrassed.

However, the men beside him burst into laughter. "What's the big deal? Come on, we'll change for you to see- Come on, brothers, let's do it together!"

Actually, if a man were surrounded by a group of women, he would feel shame as well. But if it were a group of men being watched by these ten women, the ones covering their eyes would definitely be these ten women!

As long as they had thick skin, nothing mattered.

Yan Zixuan understood this, and seeing his brothers being so supportive, he felt happy.

(That's right, what am I afraid of?)

If these women saw them changing clothes, these male soldiers wouldn't actually lose anything. On the contrary, it would be damaging to the reputation of these women!

So, Yan Zixuan, this straightforward man, boldly stepped forward and began to unbutton his shirt. "Alright, no problem. Today, we, a hundred or so brothers, will demonstrate things for you!"

"Hahaha, Your Highness, make sure to watch closely. My muscles are very impressive!"

"Yeah, miss, don't be scared and close your eyes. Take a good look, hahaha!"

A group of rough men were certain that these women wouldn't dare watch them, so they began to undress. Except for Shen Ruoqing, the rest of the noble ladies, including Yu Jing, turned their bodies away in a hurry, not daring to look at them.

And so, this group of men burst into laughter.

Yan Zixuan stopped his actions and showed disdain on his face.. "I advise you all to leave as soon as possible!"
