

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 351 Die Together with Jenna

Ralph was completely stunned.

She looked at Connie in a daze, unable to digest the news for a while.

So...

The man she saw just now was not Ralph, but another man?

It...

How was it possible?

She had never heard that Ralph had a twin brother!

If it weren't for the twins, then who was that man?

A stranger who looked very similar to Ralph?

Or...

Just like Jenny, who was transformed from Jenna by plastic surgery?

But...

Connie sighed when she saw how dazed Ralph was.

She didn't know whether or not she had told Ralph the truth, nor did she know the consequences of what she had done.

But...

She really couldn't bear to see Ralph continue to be so miserable.

She took a deep breath and started to speak with Ralph as if she had made up her mind.

"That man is called Ian, Ralph's brother."

"In the past, their mother, Jenna, gave birth to two sons."

"But in order not to let the children be threatened by Jenna, she gave one of her sons to others when she was in the hospital."

"Not even Mr. Old Chapman knows about this."

"But Jenna wrote a letter to your father before she died. The letter mentioned that child and told the contact information of his current parents."

"But..."

Connie sighed, "At that time, your father had been controlled by Jenna with drugs and lost his memory. He was exiled to a small village abroad."

"He isolated himself from the outside world in the small mountain village and raised York and Richeal."

"Later, because of you, Ralph spent a lot of effort to get your father back..."

"You also know what happened next. After Jerry recovered his memory, one day, he opened his mailbox and saw the letter that had been delayed for more than 20 years."

"Then he sent York and Richeal to find that child."

Ralph was stunned.

She looked up at Connie's face and said,

"So..."

"Father told me before that York and Richeal were looking for York's female netizens, so they were actually lying to me?"

So they were looking for Ralph's brother?

Connie nodded, "Yes."

"Your father sent York and Richeal to find the man who was impolite to you just now."

"His name is Ian, and he followed Jenna's surname."

Ralph bit her lip and nodded silently.

That's right.

Her Ralph would never treat her like this.

He wouldn't betray her and get engaged to others.

But...

She suddenly looked up at Connie's face.

"What about Ralph?"

"He..."

Connie bit her lip and took a deep breath, "About Ralph..."

"I hope you can be mentally prepared."

Ralph bit her lip, her hands tightly gripping the quilt covering her body, "Tell me."

When she spoke these two words, her voice was trembling violently.

In fact, Ralph had roughly guessed it.

If Ralph was fine, others would not let Ian pretend to be him.

If Ralph was fine, he would not leave her alone and would not let her be sad.

She bit her lip, and the uneasiness in her heart kept surging up.

But she still suppressed her emotions and waited for Connie's answer.

"He..."

Connie sniffed and said, "He is in a coma now, and his physical function is weakening little by little."

"According to the expert's inference, if he doesn't wake up soon, he may... die in within one year."

Ralph's eyes widened.

"How could it be..

."

How could it be?

The last time she saw him...

Although he was in a coma, the scene was very chaotic.

But she still clearly remembered that he was not like this.

At least he was not like what Connie said.

It had only been a week.

What on earth had happened to him?

"He was poisoned by Jenna."

Connie closed her eyes and tried her best to tell Ralph what Alfred had told her about Ralph.

"That day, after you fainted, Ralph woke up."

"He said that his memories cluttered, and he didn't even remember if he had sex with Jenny..."

"But Jenny insisted that they had done it, and even said..."

Connie bit her lip and said, "She even said that Ralph had sex with her while calling her mother..."

"She said that when Ralph had sex with her, he not only called her mom, but also said that he wanted to have sex with mom since childhood..."

"He even forced Jenny to respond to him by calling him her son..."

Connie didn't say anything else.

Although Connie had never seen Jenny's appearance at that time, she could almost conclude from Alfred being gritting teeth how annoying Jenny was.

Ralph bit her lip and grabbed the quilt with both hands. Her joints began to turn white.

It's impossible, it's impossible.

She said it was impossible, not because she simply did not want to believe her, but because she believed that all this was not true.

The understanding between husband and wife made her very clear that Ralph had no hobby in this aspect.

In fact, when they had sex, he was a person who was concentrated and rarely spoke.

Every time he spoke, he deliberately wanted to tease her.

He was definitely not the kind of person who could call his mother while having sex.

She knew this better than anyone else.

What's more, Ralph would not force a woman to respond to him or call him...

After all, he was so strong that her couldn't think at all, even her voice was broken. How could she say coherent sentence while making love?

Thinking of this, she bit her lips tightly. She could basically conclude that nothing had happened between Jenny and Ralph.

If Jenny had really done it with Ralph, she definitely wouldn't have said something like that.

However, at that time, Ralph had been drugged unconscious. He was sober, and no one knew the truth.

The woman closed her eyes, "What happened then?"

"Then..."

Connie sighed and said, "Ralph hasn't spoken all the time. He is in a strange mood."

"That day, your and Aiden's plan was actually a failure."

"Aiden didn't catch Jenna, but was controlled by her."

"But fortunately, your father led his men to the house where you found Ralph, so that we could continue to confront Jenna."

"That night when Jenny said those words..."

"Ralph broke into Jenna's base alone, rescued Aiden, and perished together with Jenna."

"When everyone found him, he was already in this state now. There was only Jenna's body guarding him." .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 352 He Said Uncle Was a Monster

After listening to Connie's description, Connie leaned against the bed, unable to move as if she had been struck by lightning.

It was hard for her to imagine...

After she fainted because she couldn't accept the shock of Ralph and Jenny having sex...

So many things had happened.

What's more, she didn't expect that Jerry, who had followed her back to Odense from Rexwell, kept such a secret of Ralph's twin brother from her.

Back then, when York and Richeal had gone to find York's female netizens, she had wondered why Richeal had to go with him.

At that time, Jerry gave her an answer.

Richeal had been secretly in love with York for a long time, so she was jealous and wanted to watch him. She couldn't let him have sex with the female netizens.

At that time, Ralph was deeply troubled by Ralph's deception, so she didn't ask any more questions.

Now she thought about it, she realized how ridiculous that answer was.

At that time, Richeal could accept that York pretended to date with her, and she could also accept that York had been in touch with more than a dozen female netizens. Why could she suddenly not stand that York was too close to a female netizen?

Jerry even hid such a thing from her...

Did he hide anything else from her?

And Ralph...

Ralph closed her eyes and said in a hoarse voice,

"Where... is Ralph now?"

Connie pursed her lips and said, "He is lying in the intensive care unit arranged by the Bartons. He has a special doctor to take care of him. No one is allowed to approach him."

Ralph bit her lip, "No one is allowed to approach..."

She opened her eyes and looked at Connie's face.

"Including Alfred, the second young master?"

Connie was stunned.

After a long while, she bit her lip. "Alfred... seems to be able to visit him."

"But..."

She and Alfred hadn't contacted each other for three or four days after they had great disagreement on whether or not they should tell Ralph the truth last time.

Alfred even said that Connie was an outsider of the Bartons' affairs.

"But what?"

"But now I'm in a cold war with him..."

Connie sighed and reached out to grab Ralph's hand.

"Lottie, I understand how you want to see Mr. Chapman, but it's really difficult."

"Even if I don't have a cold war with Alfred, I can't guarantee that Alfred will help you see Ralph..

."

Ralph's lips curled into a smile, "All you need to do is get Alfred to agree to meet me."

Looking at her persistent look, Connie wanted to say something but stopped on second thought.

After a while, she smiled helplessly, "I'll try my best."

"But Lottie, for the time being, you may... still need to pretend that you don't know anything."

"Got it."

Ralph leaned against the head of the bedside and smiled bitterly at Connie.

"Don't worry."

She knew what was more important.

Even though she was eager to see Ralph in person and want to know his current state.

But...

Now that everything was in front of her, she would not act rashly.

After that, she asked Connie about the recent situation of the children.

After learning that the children were being taken care of by Kayden and Natalia, she sighed deeply and felt relieved.

No matter what Ian's purpose was, she could rest assured that the children were by Kayden's and Natalia's side.

One of them was her favorite and later friend.

The other one had been taken care of by Ralph for more than a decade.

No matter who it was, neither of them would treat Elijah, Fabian and Stella harshly.

The most important thing at the moment was to see Ralph.

Only when she saw him with her own eyes would she feel relieved.

Otherwise...

She always felt empty in her heart.

Not long after Connie left, Kayden and Natalia came to visit her with three children.

Ralph sat silently by the bed, holding her hand without saying a word.

On the other hand, Fabian kept inquiring after her health.

As Stella bickered with her second brother, she peeled off orange for Ralph to eat.

"We heard that uncle is going to divorce you.

Kayden sighed and looked up at her face.

"Originally, Natalia and I wanted to hide it from the three little guys, but in the end, we chose to tell them."

"But I didn't expect them to be more mature than we thought."

"The three little children chose to follow you after your divorce."

"I thought that uncle wouldn't agree, but I didn't expect him to agree..."

After that, Kayden sighed.

"Uncle seemed to have changed into another person after coming back this time. He is very distant from me and Natalia. He is also very cold to the children."

"I wonder whether he suffered from something..."

Lottie listened quietly to Kayden and finally smiled gently.

"It's up to him."

"He betrayed me and our children. Now he wants to divorce me. I have nothing to miss."

Kayden and Natalia looked at each other in shock.

After a long time, Natalia took the three children back to the car.

Sitting in a wheelchair, Kayden frowned at Lottie and lowered his voice.

"Do you really think uncle betrayed you?"

Lottie smiled. "Isn't this the truth?"

Kayden was silent for a moment.

After a while, he took a deep breath.

"Do you know?"

"Uncle brought Jenny back this time."

Lottie was stunned.

She hadn't expected that Ian would bring Jenny back.

What did he want to do?

Kayden sighed when he saw how shocked Lottie was.

"It seems that you don't know at all."

"Jenny is now uncle's fiancée..."

"I asked uncle's attitude toward her. He said that he had already had sex, so he couldn't leave her alone outside."

"He also said that he wouldn't be engaged to Jenny, nor would he marry her, but..."

"He'll always keep Jenny by his side."

"Moreover, when he attended all the formal occasions recently, Jenny has always been with him..."

Lottie suddenly felt suffocated.

Although she knew that Ralph was Ralph on the surface, while behind his back, he was Ralph's brother, Ian.

However, even if the man was Ian, he shouldn't have kept Jenny by his side...

Jenny had a face that was exactly the same as Jenna's and had even schemed for Ralph to sleep with her...

Ian should hate her a lot. Why did he keep Jenny by his side?

And..."Why are they going to attend all kinds of events together?"

Kayden sighed, "I didn't know that Jenny and uncle's birth mother looked exactly the same."

"Until one day, my father saw my uncle appear with Jenny..."

"My father's worldview has been influenced."

"He said uncle was a pervert."

Lottie bit her lip.

The pervert was not Ralph, but Ralph's brother, Ian.

But he was Ralph at that time.

If things continued like that, Ralph would probably go crazy when he saw the news after he woke up.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 353 Does Ralph Have Any Other Enemies?

"Lottie?"

Kayden frowned when he saw her staring into the distance in a daze. He looked up at her and asked, "Do you also think this behavior is very abnormal?"

Lottie bit her lip.

If he remembered correctly, outside the doctor's office, she had clearly heard Ian told the doctor that he had a fiancée.

Could it be that his fiancée was Jenny?

That was impossible.

Judging from Ian's tone of voice, the fiancée must have known him for a long time.

As for Jenny, Ralph had met her only after he was unconscious.

If that was the case, then he had brought Jenny to all of the formal occasions when he had a girlfriend.

Such an action was very strange.

Lottie couldn't figure out either Ralph's or Ian's intention.

Unless he was really a freak with a serious maternal complex.

However, Ian had been sent away by Jenna after he was born. He had spent less than a day with his biological mother.

How could he have such a complex feeling?

Lottie couldn't figure it out.

In fact, the most direct way was to ask Ian in person.

But she couldn't reveal the fact that she already knew the truth.

At least, before she saw Ralph, she could not expose herself.

Otherwise, if the other side strengthened their defense and vigilance, she would never see him again.

Thinking of that, Lottie rubbed the space between her eyebrows irritably.

"Kayden, leave it to me."

"Please help me take good care of the three children with Natalia."

Kayden nodded.

After chatting for a while, Natalia called Kayden and said that the three children had been waiting anxiously.

Kayden had no choice but to go out in his wheelchair.

When he reached the door, he paused for a moment and turned to look at Lottie.

"I don't know if I should tell you something."

Lottie frowned. "What's wrong?"

"I always wanted to divorce Natalia, but I couldn't find a reason. I've found it now."

Kayden smiled sadly and said, "Yara is back."

"I want to take advantage of Yara's return and let Natalia go back to the entertainment industry. She'll be a famous star again."

"But before that, she might be sad for a while."

"If you have time, try to persuade her."

After a while, Lottie remembered that Natalia's brother had told her about "Yara". The woman was Natalia's good friend in the orphanage, and later she replaced Natalia and fell in love with Kayden.

However, hadn't Yara died of terminal illness?

Natalia's younger brother, Zack, had said to Lottie clearly that the reason why Natalia hadn't exposed Yara's actions was that Yara was suffering from a terminal illness.

Kind Natalia could not explain to Kayden because she couldn't hurt a dying person.

But at the moment.

..

"Is Yara still alive?"

Kayden paused slightly.

"Yes."

"The one who died at that time was not her, but the patient in the same ward. She was taken abroad by the doctor and recovered."

Lottie was so shocked that she couldn't speak.

After a while, she looked up and frowned at Kayden.

"So are you going to divorce Natalia and marry Yara?"

"It's just an excuse."

Kayden sighed. "Yara has a fiance now."

"Although I don't know who her fiance is, it's great if she can be happy."

After that, Kayden pushed his wheelchair and left.

Lottie leaned against the head of the bed, rubbing her aching head.

She had only been in a coma for a week.

After waking up, the whole world changed.

But she didn't have time to think about Natalia and Kayden.

Her mind was filled with Ralph.

Early the next morning, Connie sent good news.

"Alfred is on the way. He'll be in your ward soon."

"If you want to say anything to him, just say as much as you can. There is enough time."

Lottie pursed her lips. Just as she sent Connie the words "Thank you", the door of the ward was opened.

It was Alfred, who came in with breakfast for two.

They hadn't seen each other for a long time. Alfred was more handsome and spirited than before.

As soon as he entered, he frowned and looked at Lottie's face. "Where is she?"

Lottie was stunned. She instantly understood that the "her" Alfred mentioned was Connie.

Lottie smiled. "Connie told you that she's with me?"

Otherwise, Alfred would not have brought breakfast for them.

Alfred frowned.

"So I was fooled?"

Lottie shrugged and took over the breakfast he handed over. "Kind of."

Alfred's face instantly turned pale.

After all, he had refused an advertisement shooting in the morning to come to Connie.

But she fooled him!

Thinking of that, Alfred sighed. After putting down the things in his hand, he gracefully walked to the door.

"Sorry to disturb you. I'm leaving."

"Wait."

Lottie frowned and looked up at Alfred's face seriously.

"I want to see Ralph."

"The real Ralph."

Her words shocked Alfred. He was shocked and then he became helpless.

"Did she tell you?"

Lottie pursed her lips and nodded silently. "I guessed it."

"You wouldn't have figure it all out.

She must have told you."

Alfred sighed and turned back to the ward, closing the door.

"Lottie, we've known each other for so long. You know what kind of person I am."

"If I can help you, I will never refuse."

"But this one..."

"I can't help you."

Lottie closed her eyes. "Why?"

"Ralph is my husband."

"Don't I have the right to see my husband?"

Alfred frowned and interrupted her.

"It's not that you don't have the right. I just don't want you to see him on the verge of death."

Alfred took a deep breath. "And you know very well that because I don't want to inherit the family business of the Bartons, I can't get in touch with many core secrets."

"Even if I promise you that I can take you to see Ralph secretly, can you see him?"

"Not even I can't!"

Lottie bit her lip and looked up at Alfred seriously.

"So what does Ian want to do?"

To completely replace Ralph's life?

Or something else?

Otherwise, Lottie really couldn't figure out why they had to keep the secret that Ralph was in a coma.

They also made his twin brother to pretend to be him and live safe and sound.

Was it to confuse the enemy...

But wasn't Jenna dead?

Could it be that Ralph had other enemies? .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 354 Why Must We Get divorced?

"I don't know what that man wants to do, but I always feel that he is not a good person."

Alfred sighed and looked up at Lottie.

"But now, both your father and my mother are confused by him and obey him. I can't do anything about it in a short time..."

Lottie bit her lip, the questions were swirling in her mind like dark clouds, which made it hard for her to breathe.

The woman took a deep breath. "Are you sure that I can't see Ralph?"

What Ian wanted to do was not the most important thing for Lottie.

The most important thing was to see Ralph...

Even if he was really in a coma as they had said, she would not feel at ease until she saw him.

Alfred shook his head.

Lottie closed her eyes weakly.

She sighed. "That's a pity."

"I was thinking that if you help me find a way to see Ralph, I will help you put in a good word in front of Connie and let Connie believe that you like her."

"But now it seems..."

Her words shocked Alfred.

He frowned as he looked at her face. "You... can you really put in a good word for me in front of Connie?"

Connie had really made him distressed.

Although they had no feelings when they were lovers, he always felt that Connie admired him so much.

But what happened?

After several dates, Connie directly broke up with him, saying that she was not worthy of him!

At that time, Alfred was still a movie star and he was pride.

He felt that Connie was ordinary. He was a king of the silver screen. If she broke up with him, she would be regretful.

But what he didn't expect was...

After breaking up, Connie was happier.

She even began to obey her family's arrangements and meet her blind date.

There was a man who was not as good-looking as him, whose assets were not as much as his, and whose work was not as good as his, but she wanted to get along with him!

Alfred couldn't stand Connie's feeling of inferiority and began to ask Connie to make up with him.

But Connie refused him every time.

Gradually, Alfred realized that...

He fell in love with Connie.

It was different from the feeling of like he had for Lottie. The love for Connie was very strong. She wanted to take her as his own and not allow any man to touch her.

Therefore, in the end...

He, the respected king of the silver screen, had to pursue Connie!

And Connie, who had said that she would like Alfred for the rest of her life, avoided meeting him as if he was a snake!

Thinking of that, Alfred sighed.

The conditions offered by Lottie were indeed very tempting.

He had pursued Connie for so long, but there was no result. He really needed help.

But...

"I'll think of a way."

Looking at Alfred's embarrassed expression, Lottie knew that he would find a way.

Lottie smiled. "Then I'll wait for your message."

Alfred sighed and turned to leave.

At noon, Lottie received a message from Alfred, saying that he was waiting for her at the gate.

Lottie quickly got out of bed and got dressed. She avoided the doctors and nurses and went down to the first floor.

Outside the hospital, Alfred was already waiting there in his car.

She took a deep breath and opened the door to get in.

In the car, Alfred handed her a set of nurse's clothes. "When we get there later, find a place to change your clothes."

"I said I found a miracle-working doctor and would take the doctor to see Ralph."

"Today morning, through my hard work, my uncle finally agreed to let me take the miracle doctor to visit him."

Lottie was taken aback.

She looked at Alfred in shock. "So you want me to pretend to be a miracle doctor?"

Although she was a qualified actress...

But she didn't have any medical knowledge. As long as the Bartons was not foolish, they could see the flaw at a glance!

Her words made Alfred roll his eyes silently.

"Do you think they are fools, or do you think I am?"

He glanced at her coldly.

"Of course I know you can't pretend to be a doctor."

"The doctor is someone else. You are just an assistant as a nurse."

Hearing his words, Lottie finally relaxed.

She breathed a sigh of relief. She quietly listened to Alfred's instructions and remembered the route of the car.

If she could memorize the route, she could find the way herself without Alfred.

Alfred knew what she was thinking. He opened his mouth and wanted to say something, but in the end, he didn't say anything.

Forget it.

She was just worried about the person she loved the most.

Why would he give her a blow?

He had been pursuing Connie for so long, but he failed again and again. Lottie hadn't laughed at him.

Soon, they arrived at a closed hospital.

There was a black car parked at the gate of the hospital.

Lottie frowned. She felt that the car was a little familiar.

The door opened.

The person who got out of the car was Lottie's fanatical fan, Hank.

Lottie was so shocked that she could not close her mouth.

"Is this the one who is going to pretend to be the famous doctor?"

Alfred nodded.

"I can only contact him because he's the only one who's willing to help you and won't tell others."

Lottie rubbed the space between her brows helplessly.

She still remembered that she had promised Hank that as long as she could cure Fabian and save Elijah and Ralph from Jenna...

Then she would return to the entertainment industry to be an actor.

Everything seemed to have been completed.

But she didn't want to be a star at all.

When Alfred opened the door, he looked back at her.

"You can change the cloth in the car."

"The window is single transparent. We can't see what's going on inside."

Lottie nodded. She closed the car door and began to change.

Outside the car, Hank and Alfred had a talk.

Just as she was about to get off the car after changing her clothes, her phone rang.

It was Ralph's number.

She frowned. Ian had taken over Ralph's identity, Ian must be using his phone.

Why was Ian calling her at that time?

Did he find that she had escaped from the hospital?

Lottie pursed her lips and hesitated for a while. She finally answered the phone.

"Hello?"

"Lottie."

The man's voice on the other end of the phone was extremely cold. "I'm in the hospital."

"Where did you go?"

Lottie bit her lip and could only lie.

"I'm not in a good mood. I'm going out to relax."

"All right."

The man on the other end of the phone laughed.

"Come back to me after you're done relaxing."

"I've made a divorce agreement. Come back and have a look. If there's no problem, sign the contract."

Lottie narrowed her eyes.

"Why must we divorce?"

"Didn't you know that? I don't want my fiancée to be sad."

"Then aren't you afraid that your fiancée will be sad when you take Jenny to all kinds of parties?" .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 355 Please Wake Up

Ian probably hadn't thought that Lottie would know so quickly about him taking Jenny to various major occasions.

He frowned and laughed coldly, "Jenny looks exactly the same as my mother. You know this, right?"

"I brought Jenny to all sorts of major occasions. Not only will my fiancée not be jealous, she will even think that I am someone who values my family."

After saying that, Ian frowned, as if he didn't dare to say anything more to Lottie, for fear that she would see the flaw.

Ian snorted. "Remember to come back and sign the divorce agreement."

After that, he hung up directly.

Lottie held her phone in her hand and her brows tightly furrowed.

Ian...

What exactly did he want to do?

But she didn't think too much.

Because Alfred knocked on the window.

"Are you done?"

"I'm done."

After calming down, Lottie let out a long sigh of relief. She tidied up her clothes and got out of the car.

"Don't worry, I'm here."

Hank smiled at Lottie. "I'll definitely cover you up, my idol."

Alfred helplessly rubbed the space between his eyebrows and looked up at Lottie.

"I've been an actor for much longer than you. Why don't I have such a powerful fan?"

Lottie smiled awkwardly. "Well..."

"I don't know either."

She still had not figured out why Hank liked her.

In fact, there were only few roles that were acted by her and he was unlikely to be attracted by her role.

Was he attracted by her beauty...

She didn't think she was that beautiful.

In short, it was a mystery.

"I'll tell you when you have time in the future."

Hank winked at Lottie and followed Alfred. They entered the private hospital together.

The atmosphere in the hospital was suffocating.

As Lottie walked, she carefully observed her surroundings.

Feeling her gaze, Hank frowned and lowered his voice.

"Don't look around."

"You're just here to work."

Ralph pursed her lips. She could only lower her head and force herself to continue walking forward.

Not long after, they met an acquaintance.

That was Richeal, one of the children adopted by Jerry.

At this moment, Richeal was wearing a red windbreaker and a pair of black leather boots. She looked very heroic.

She seemed to have just come out of Ralph's ward.

Seeing Alfred coming with two people, Richeal raised her eyebrows and strode over.

"Mr. Barton, I heard that you brought a famous doctor here?"

After that, she raised her eyebrows and glanced at Hank, "Is this the famous doctor you brought?"

In the end, her eyes fell on the woman who was holding a medicine chest and wearing a mask beside Hank, "This must be the assistant of the famous doctor?"

"Why does she look so familiar?"

Hank frowned and raised his leg to stand between Richeal and Ralph.

"My assistant is exceedingly beautiful. It's normal for you to think she looks familiar. After all, beauties are almost the same."

Richeal smiled.

She gracefully paced over and fixed her gaze on Ralph, "Beautiful?"

The woman stretched out her hand and gently lifted Ralph's jaw.

"I just like beautiful girls. Why don't you take off your mask and let me appreciate it?"

Ralph's jaw was lifted by Richeal. She bit her lip, a trace of panic flashing across her eyes.

But after a while, she immediately calmed down, lowered her voice, and said in a hoarse voice,

"Miss, don't listen to his nonsense. I'm actually... ugly."

"The voice is so unpleasant."

Richeal glance at Ralph disgustedly. Finally, she took out a business card from her pocket and stuffed it into Ralph's chest pocket.

"It doesn't matter if you don't let me see your face now."

She smiled and leaned close to Ralph's ear, "There's my contact information on it. When you're available later, remember to look for me."

After saying this, the woman smiled and strode away.

After a few steps, she suddenly stopped and looked back at the guard outside Ralph's ward.

"I like the people brought here by Mr. Barton. Don't make things difficult for them."

After that, the woman left.

Ralph frowned as she looked after Richeal, with her heart full of doubts.

Richeal was a child who had been raised by Jerry. Logically speaking, she should be on her side.

But...

The place where Ralph was located was jealously guarded. Even Ralph's cousin, Alfred, had to coax and pester unceasingly to get a chance to come here.

Why was Richeal not only unimpeded, but also able to command the guards?

Since Richeal was on Ian's side, why didn't he stop her?

It was obvious that Richeal had recognized her from her actions just now.

However, Richeal did not say anything. Instead, she asked the guards not to make things difficult for them.

Ralph couldn't figure it out.

When she woke up, everything became blurred, like an invisible net that locked her inside.

Sometimes, Ralph felt that as long as she worked hard, she would know the truth.

Sometimes, she felt that the truth was far away from her...

While she was thinking, they had already arrived outside Ralph's ward.

After a strict inspection of their belongings, the guards allowed them to put on protective suits and enter Ralph's ward.

The moment Ralph opened the door, she felt as if her entire heart was hanging in mid-air.

She was looking forward to seeing him.

But she was afraid to see him again.

She was afraid that the man she saw would be weaker than she had imagined.

After they entered the room, the door was closed.

Ralph raised her head.

She finally saw the man she missed day and night.

Ralph was lying in the bed with his entire face pale.

Ralph was stunned for a few seconds before slowly moving her leg and walking toward the bed.

After walking for a few steps, her tears fell down uncontrollably.

Ralph.

The one, who used to be her whole world, was now lying there quietly.

His breathing was so weak that it was hard to see the ups and downs. She could only know that he was really alive through the monitor beside him.

Her delicate facial features seemed to be covered with a layer of gray, pale and haggard.

From his current state, there was no difference between being alive and being dead.

If they said he was dead, but his heart and breath were still weak.

Alfred and Hank stood at the door, holding their breath involuntarily.

This was the first time Alfred had seen Ralph since he had an accident.

Before he came here, he did not know that Ralph's situation was so severe.

Hank stood at the door, holding the first aid kit tightly with both hands.

He was a doctor.

Therefore, he knew very well that Ralph's current situation had reached the worst.

If he remove all the tubes and instruments on his body, he might die in less than an hour.

What kind of accident could make him like this?

"Honey."

Ralph walked over and gently held the man's cold hand.

"I heard from Connie that you and Jenna perished together."

"You are very good and brave."

The woman closed her eyes and her tears fell silently.

"When will you wake up?"

"I haven't had time to praise you in person."

She opened her eyes, gently placed his cold hand on her cheek, and gently kissed his finger.

"Even you believe Jenny's lies?"

"Nothing happened between you and her. Wake up quickly. .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 356 It's Skin Trauma

Lying in the bed, Ralph still didn't move, as if he hadn't heard Ralph's words at all.

The woman closed her eyes, the sorrow and sadness in her heart covered layer by layer.

She could not describe her current mood.

The moment he saw Ralph, it was as if sky and ground suddenly become colorful.

But now, the world turned gray again.

She held the man's hand tightly, and her tears fell silently, drop by drop on the man's palm.

"Wake up quickly, okay?"

Ralph bit her lip and tried her best not to sound so sad.

"Without you, I really don't know how to continue living..."

If Ralph was really like what others said, he would die of organ failure a year later.

Then what was the meaning of her life?

She didn't know.

She could not even think of a reason for her to live if Ralph died.

Perhaps others would say that she could live for the sake of the child.

However, although others didn't know, Ralph understood.

Without her and Ralph, her three children would still live a good life, even better than other children.

They were strong, mature, and sensible. No matter where she went, she was at ease.

But...

But how could Ralph be at ease?

Holding the man's hand, she sniffed and bit her lips silently.

"You still owe me a splendid wedding, Ralph."

"You haven't seen me get the trophy of the best actress yet."

"You... haven't seriously confessed to me that you love me."

Alfred and Hank stood at the door. They couldn't help but sigh when they saw Ralph's sobbing face.

In the end, Alfred could not stand it anymore. He turned to look at Hank and lowered his voice.

"You are a doctor. Can you... think of a way out?"

Hank shook his head subconsciously.

"His current situation is very dangerous. Other than looking forward to a miracle, there is no other way..."

Speaking of this, Hank frowned and became confused.

"Logically speaking, Ralph was just going to perish with Jenna. The injuries should all be skin trauma."

"But now, his state..."

But it was like an internal injury.

From the inside to the outside.

"Jenna is a poison-making expert."

Halfway through Hank's words, he was interrupted by Ralph.

The woman held the man's hand with her eyes closed, and her voice was full of sorrow.

"Maybe he was poisoned when he was arguing with Jenna."

Hank walked over with a frown and finally began to check Ralph carefully.

He took out the needle, drew Ralph's blood and put it into the medicine chest.

"I'll go back and study it for you."

"Maybe I can help you find a way to detoxify."

His words instantly excited Ralph.

"Can we really find a way to detoxify?"

"Almost."

Hank took a deep breath and said, "Even if we can't find anything to completely detoxify, we can still find a way to relieve it."

Ralph grabbed Hank's hand excitedly.

"Thank you so much!"

Hank waved his hand.

"If you really want to thank me, just wait for Mr. Chapman to recover and go back to the entertainment industry to film a movie and win the award of best actress for me."

Ralph bit her lip and nodded forcibly, "Okay!"

If Hank could really wake Ralph up...

Not to mention one award.

She was willing to work hard for ten awards.

She was willing to fight for Hank's requests for the rest of her life!

As long as Ralph woke up!

"All right."

Alfred frowned and glanced at Ralph's hand that was holding Hank's, "I know you're excited, but you can't grab another man's hand in front of Ralph.

"Aren't you afraid that he will be jealous?"

Ralph pursed her lips.

"If he wakes up from jealousy, I'll take him other men in front of him every day!"

Alfred rolled his eyes and looked down at the time.

"It's about time to leave."

"You'll be suspected if you don't leave now."

"I'll bring you here next time."

Ralph nodded and looked back at Ralph. Only then did she leave with Alfred reluctantly.

What she didn't see was...

The moment she turned and left, the finger of the man's right hand, which was full of her tears, gently moved .

The three of them left the hospital unimpeded.

When Ralph was sent back to the ward by Alfred, there stood the most unexpected person at the door of her ward.

It was Jenny.

Jenny was now even more beautiful than before, and her face was even ruddier than before.

When Ralph entered the ward, she was sitting on the chair beside Ralph's bed. Her gaze was indifferent as she looked at a magazine that had been placed on the low table beside the bed.

She put down the magazine and stood up with a smile, "You're back?"

"Ms. Green, you're really energetic to hang around as soon as you wake up."

Ralph's lips curled into a smile as she walked in, "I've been in a coma for too long. I'm going out to exercise my muscles and bones."

As she spoke, she walked up to Jenny.

"Crack!"

Just as Jenny wasn't paying attention, Ralph raised her hand and slapped her hard in the face.

Jenny was beaten so hard that she took a step back and widened her eyes.

"Ralph, are you insane!?"

"It's because I'm not insane that I want to hit you!"

The woman snorted coldly and continued to bring Jenny over as if she was carrying a chicken. She fiercely slapped Jenny again.

Jenny was beaten until her entire body lay prone on the windowsill, blood spewing out from her mouth.

"Ralph, you.

.."

"What?"

The woman snorted and walked forward.

"I'm in a bad mood, then you came to me. How can I let go of this good opportunity?"

After that, she slapped her again, "Didn't you come here to let me vent?"

"Then I'll show you now!"

When she finished speaking, she didn't hold back any longer and punched hard on Jenny, causing her to continuously wail.

Her angry roar echoed in the corridor.

"Ralph!"

"Let go of me!"

"I am Ralph's fiancée now. You can't do this to me!"

"If you treat me like this, Ralph will not spare you!"

Ralph curled her lips. From Jenny's words, it seemed that she still didn't know how Ralph was now.

But it's just in time.

If the "Ralph" that Jenny mentioned dared to save her, she would also beat him up!

Without Ralph, she would rather become the "Madwoman" they mentioned!

Ralph had been beating Jenny for a long time.

For some reason, no matter how Jenny wailed, no one in the hospital rushed over to help.

The corridor was quiet, as if there was no one.

It wasn't until Ralph was tired from the beating that Jenny was badly battered, then a nurse carefully peeked in from the door.

"Miss Green, the doctor asked you to go over."

Jenny, who was beaten to the point where her voice was not clear, roared angrily,

"I've called for help for so long. Didn't anyone hear me?"

The nurse's face turned pale, and then she stammered, "We're peeping at the horror movie., so we didn't notice..."

After that, she looked at Jenny, pretending to be very shocked, "How did you get beaten up like this?"

"I'll find someone else to help bandage you!"

After saying that, the nurse slipped away.

Lying on the ground, Jenny glared angrily at Ralph, "Just you wait! I'm going to sue you!"

Ralph wiped the blood of Jenny stained on her face.

"I avoided the vital parts. They are all skin trauma."

"Just sue me." .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 357 For the Antidote

"Jenny!"

The elevator door of the hospital opened and Ian rushed out.

As soon as he heard that Jenny had come looking for Ralph, he hurried over to the hospital from outside.

He was afraid that Jenny would do something that would harm Ralph.

However, Ian never expected that...

When he rushed into Ralph's ward, he saw such a scene.

Jenny was beaten black and blue and couldn't get up from the ground with a swollen face.

His sister-in-law, Ralph, whom he worried about, was leisurely leaning against the head of the bed, wiping the blood on her face with a tissue while looking at Jenny on the ground with a sneer.

"Tell me, what did you do to my husband that day?"

Jenny lay prone on the ground, her entire body curled up in pain, but she still stubbornly said,

"I slept with Ralph that day!"

"Ralph is so strong!"

"He..."

"You're courting death!"

Before Jenny could finish her words, Ralph directly kicked her down in an instant.

But she still gritted her teeth and continued to say stubbornly,

"He slept with me and said that I was the most beautiful woman in the world. He also asked me to call him hubby, he..."

"Bang!"

Ralph kicked her again. Jenny spat out a mouthful of blood, but in the end, she gave in to the pain.

"What exactly do you want me to say!?"

"Tell me the truth about that day."

Ralph curled her lips and turned on the recording pen.

"I know my husband best."

"You said you slept with him, but I slept with him too. I slept with him more often."

"I know better than you whether he is a person who likes to talk in bed or a person who will force a woman to call him hubby."

As she spoke, she lowered her eyes and looked down at Jenny's face from above.

"I'll give you two choices today."

"One of them is telling me clearly about what happened that day."

"The other one is lying here, beaten to death by me today."

After that, she smiled.

"Miss Jeremiah, I've given you the choices. Choose one."

The domineering aura from her body not only caused Jenny, who was lying on the ground, to tremble, but also caused Ian, who was standing at the door, to tremble violently!

He didn't know much about Ralph before, but he had heard something about her from York and Richeal.

They said that Ralph was kind, gentle, beautiful and cute...

But now, looking at the fierce woman in the ward, he didn't even dare to breathe.

Was she the gentle, kind, lovely and beautiful women of the Bells?

Did they misunderstand the meaning these words?

...

Even though Jenny had been beaten like this by Ralph, Ian had no intention of opening the door and entering.

In fact, she also wanted to find out if Ralph had had an affair with Jenny.

Therefore, not only did Ian not enter the ward to protect Jenny, he even stopped the doctors and security guards who were called by the nurse to help Jenny.

Inside the door.

Jenny waited for a long time, but no one pushed open the door and entered.

She bit her lip and looked up at Ralph in front of her. She could only take a deep breath.

"I'll tell you..."

The woman bit her lip, slowly got up from the ground, and looked up at Ralph.

"That day... Jenna's medicine was fake. I can tell."

"Ever since Ralph was locked up by Jenna and me, he had never thought or done anything to me."

"I couldn't get in touch with Jenna over there, so I couldn't let her give me a new set of medicine. So I gave the medicine that made people faint to Ralph."

Jenny's words caused Ralph to knit her brows tightly.

If she remembered correctly, when Aiden replaced Jenna with Ralph's medicine, it was also a medicine that made people faint.

In other words, that day, Ralph was fed two sets of medicine which could make him faint...

She narrowed her eyes slightly.

It was no wonder that when she arrived that day, Ralph looked unconscious.

Jenny also said that he was too tired to have sex with her.

However, every time after Ralph made love, only Ralph knew whether he would be tired or excited than before. .

That day, Jenny's words were actually full of loopholes.

However, at that time, Ralph had almost lost her mind due to the impact of the scene in front of her. That was why she had been fooled by Jenny's simple lies.

The woman took a deep breath, "What happened later?"

"Then..."

Jenny bit her lip and subconsciously glanced outside the ward.

There was a figure standing outside the ward.

Jenny didn't know who that figure was, but she knew very well that he had already stood there for a long time.

He had no intention of helping her.

At this time, Jenny could only save herself.

She bit her lip and carefully moved her body toward the door while answering Ralph's question.

"Then it was just like what you saw."

"I took off Ralph's shirt and scratched his back with my nails. I told you that it was made when I had sex with him."

"I took off my clothes then, tore them into pieces, and threw them everywhere, creating a scene that we had done crazy things."

"Finally, I squeezed the edible yogurt everywhere, pretending that we have made love for many times."

After that, she sat up and looked at Ralph's face provocatively.

"How is it? Is my layout particularly perfect?"

"It was so perfect that you believed it completely at that time and even fainted."

"After you fainted, Ralph woke up."

"He's more ridiculous than you. He saw everything in the room, you fainted, and he didn't even believe himself."

"He thought that under the influence of the medicine, something that shouldn't have happened between him and me when he was unconscious."

"Then he hugged the unconscious you and called you for a long time, heartbroken.

.."

"I still remember the voice clearly now."

"Then, he didn't want to live anymore. He went to fight with Jenna desperately."

"And then, he can't leave me."

After speaking, Jenny raised an eyebrow and looked at Ralph.

"I'm afraid you still don't understand why Ralph you see now wants to be with me?"

"Since you don't know anything, I'll tell you."

"Because..."

"Only I have the antidote of Ralph's poison."

As she spoke, she laughed wildly.

"After being with Jenna for so many years, do you really think I'm just a puppet of her?"

"I also have the antidote of Jenna's poison."

"What I'm giving Ralph now is the medicine that he needs to be used every day. It can only keep him alive for a few days."

"Once he did not take the medicine, he will die."

"That's why he obeyed me."

The woman's words made Ralph bite her lips hard.

So...

Ian had been pretending to be Ralph to stabilize Jenny...

He wanted to obtain the antidote from Jenny, right? .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 358 What About Ralph?

Outside the door, Ian heard Jenny's words and sighed heavily.

At first, he didn't want Ralph to know this.

But now that Ralph had already beaten Jenny to this state, Jenny would use Ralph's antidote to threaten her sooner or later.

So he decided not to stop her.

But what he didn't expect was...

After Jenny told her about Ralph's poisoning, she immediately revealed another secret.

"By the way, after you woke up, did you see Ralph now?"

"Do you think he is still your husband?"

"Does he still love you?"

"Let me tell you, in fact, he is not-"

"Jenny!"

Before the woman could finish her words, the door of the ward was pushed open.

Ian rushed in with a nervous face, "Jenny, shut up!"

"Why should I shut up?"

Lying on the ground, Jenny sneered as she looked at Ian's face.

"The person who has been standing outside is really you."

From the moment Ian stood outside the door, Jenny saw him.

She thought that this man would rush in to help her.

But he didn't.

That was why Jenny was so exasperated that she broke her agreement with Ian. First, she told Ralph about Ralph's poisoning, and then she wanted to expose the fact that Ian was pretending to be Ralph.

She thought that Ian was really so tolerant, but when it came to exposing his identity, he still couldn't tolerate.

Thinking of this, Jenny curled her lips and coldly glared at Ian. She raised her eyes to look at Ralph.

"Do you think this man likes you?"

"Do you think he loves you?"

"Do you think he is your husband, Ralph?"

"Let me tell you, in fact, he is..."

"Shut up!"

Just as Jenny was about to reveal Ian's true identity, Ian's brows twisted fiercely as he squatted down and covered Jenny's mouth.

"You should know what to say and what not to say!"

Jenny furrowed her brows and her mouth was covered by his hand, but she still cried out in dissatisfaction.

The scene in front of her amused Ralph.

She let out a sigh of relief and calmly sat down on the edge of the bed. Her gaze swept indifferently across Ian and Jenny.

"Now that things have come to this point, do you think you can keep it a secret?"

The woman's words made Ian's face turn pale in an instant.

In fact, he knew very well...

Jenny had already spoken to this point. Even if Jenny didn't say anything else next, Ralph should already know what was going on.

Ian sighed. "Ralph, I can actually explain this.

"There's no need to explain."

The woman stood up.

"Perhaps I should follow Ralph and respectfully call you... big brother?"

"Mr. Louis, there are some things that you can't hide if you want to."

"Whether it's me or the children, they all have the right to know Ralph's situation, because we are family members who are closer to him than you and Aiden."

Ian and Jenny, who were lying on the ground, were stunned by Ralph's words.

The two of them stared blankly in the direction of Ralph.

After a while, Ian licked his dry lips.

"You... already know?"

Ralph curled her lips.

"Not only did I know, but I also went to visit him."

After that, she narrowed her eyes and looked at Ian coldly.

"No matter what, you are Ralph's brother. He has become like this, you are acting in front of me."

"If he really can't wake up, I won't even see him for the last time."

"Do you think it's fair?"

"Or do you think that you can make decisions for him, for me, and that there is no need for us to meet before we die?"

Ralph's question was cold and sharp, loud and clear.

Ian was completely stunned for a moment. In the end, he could only sigh and let go of Jenny on the ground. He closed his eyes, "This is not what I meant.

.."

"I can testify that this is indeed not what he means."

Jenny, who had been released by Ian, coughed out a mouthful of blood and changed into a comfortable position, lying on her back on the floor. She looked at Ralph with a cold smile, then looked up at the ceiling. "Because, this is my order."

Ralph's brows furrowed tightly.

Jenny curled her lips and said lightly,

"I didn't want you to meet Ralph. Is there a problem?"

She curled her lips and looked at Ralph indifferently.

"The deal I made with the Bartons is to make you think that Ralph doesn't love you anymore. When you give up completely, take your children away from Ralph and leave Rexwell, I will give the real antidote to the Bartons and let Ralph wake up."

She looked at Ralph, and layers of resentment flashed across her eyes.

"Why did you get Ralph's love? Why did he love you so much?"

"I've already knocked him out, but even if he's unconscious, he's still thinking about you!"

"I can't accept it, I can't accept it!"

Jenny narrowed her eyes and glared at Ralph with extreme hatred.

"So I want to break you up. I want you to have no chance to be together for the rest of your life!"

Ralph was stunned.

She had imagined countless reasons for Ian to pretend to be Ralph, but she had never thought that...

Ian pretending to be Ralph was actually Jenny's request.

It was Jenny who threatened Ian with Ralph's life and made him pretend him.

The purpose was to make her give up on Ralph, so that she could leave with the children and never come back!

She bit her lip.

Ralph didn't understand why Jenny's obsession with Ralph was so deep.

It was obvious that she knew Ralph.

..It didn't last long.

"But you still failed."

Ian, who had remained silent all this while, sighed and indifferently interrupted Jenny's words.

"Back then, I told you that my younger brother and sister-in-law would not be torn apart."

"Really?"

The man's words caused Jenny to let out a cold snort as a hint of a smile appeared in her eyes.

"Why can't I break them up?"

"Since we can't leave each other alive, I can make them die!"

After speaking, Jenny staggered up from the ground, a cold smile on her lips.

"In Ralph's current state, as long as he doesn't have my antidote, you can hold a funeral in less than a week."

"In this world, no one can detoxify him except me."

After that, the woman narrowed her eyes as if she had made up her mind. She looked up at Ralph's face.

"So, as long as I die, you can't save Ralph even if you find the God!"

As her voice fell, Jenny, like a sharp arrow, dashed straight towards the French window behind Ralph-

"Bang!"

The huge glass shattered, and the sound of heavy objects falling to the ground came from downstairs.

Then came the noise outside and the woman's scream.

In the room, Ralph and Ian reacted for a moment before they realized what had happened!

Ralph dashed toward the window like a madman.

Ian pulled her back.

"Stop looking."

"This is the 15th floor."

"There's no chance of survival."

Every cell in Ralph's body was shaking.

She looked up at Ian with her scarlet eyes.

"What about Ralph?"

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 359 I Want to Kill Yara

Ian heaved a deep sigh at Ralph's question.

What about Ralph?

He didn't know how to reply to Ralph at this time.

If...

If Ralph had other antidotes, he wouldn't have spent so much effort to leave his fiancée behind and play along with Jenny.

"There will always be a turning point."

Ian let out a sigh and tightly grabbed Ralph's arm.

"The medicine that Jenny left behind is enough for Ralph to take for a week."

"We will definitely think of a way within a week."

Ralph nodded with a pale face.

This was the only thing they could do now.

"It's all my fault."

It was also her fault.

Without knowing the agreement between Ian and Jenny, she only wanted to vent her anger on Jenny. However, all of a sudden, she destroyed all of Ian's plans in order to help Ralph.

But...

She really couldn't control herself.

Half an hour ago, she had just returned from Ralph's place.

She saw with her own eyes the man she loved the most, the man she regarded as the only faith, lying on the bed.

Apart from breathing, he was no different from a dead man.

The main cause of all this was Jenny!

When she returned to the ward, the first person she saw was Jenny.

All the anger, grievance, and unwillingness rose in her heart at the same time.

Only then would she throw all caution and throw punches at Jenny.

Ralph admitted that she had acted on impulse.

And the impulsive result...

It was hard to accept.

She almost gave Ralph one chance to live away.

Now, she had to find a way to save Ralph's life within a week.

Ralph closed her eyes and said in a hoarse voice,

"If he can't wake up..."

"I'll go and accompany him."

The woman's words made Ian frown. "Are you accompanying him?"

"Why are you accompanying him?"

"Are you going to die with him?"

"What about your children?"

The man glared coldly at Ralph's face.

"What about Ralph, Fabian and Stella? He doesn't care them, you don't care?"

"Is this your consciousness and responsibility as parents?"

When it came to children, Ralph's heart couldn't help but ache.

She could not let them live alone.

But...

If in the future, she had to live with the reputation of killing her beloved..

She couldn't do it.

She couldn't do it!

"Ralph, don't think nonsense now."

"There's still a week left. I don't care if you're standing by Ralph's side and calling him, or if you're using some other methods."

"Before the medicine is used up, I won't allow you to say anything related to giving up. Remember!"

After that, the man lifted his leg and left.

Ralph stood where she was, and finally collapsed weakly to the ground.

The recording pen that had been in her pocket fell out.

She picked up the recording pen.

Perhaps it was because she was too sad, when she picked up the recording pen, her hands trembled uncontrollably.

She accidentally touched the play button with her finger.

Jenny's words that had been recorded in the recording pen began to echo in the ward.

"I took off Ralph's shirt and scratched his back with my nails. I told you that it was made when I slept with him."

"I took off my clothes again, tore them into pieces, and threw them everywhere, creating a scene that we are crazy about."

"Finally, I squeezed it everywhere with the yogurt I ate, pretending that we have done many times together."

"He's more ridiculous than you. He saw everything in the room, you fainted, and he didn't even believe himself."

"He thought that under the influence of the medicine, something that shouldn't have happened between him and me when he was unconscious."

"Then he hugged the unconscious you and called you for a long time, heartbroken..."

The recording stopped abruptly.

Ralph only felt her mind a mess.

She took a deep breath and played the recording again.

Again and again.

Tears flowed down her face as she listened to Jenny's voice.

If she trust in Ralph little more back then, she wouldn't have been stimulated by Jenny's provocation...

Then, would she not faint and wait for Ralph to wake up?

Ralph wouldn't choose to risk his life against Jenna just because he misunderstood his relationship with Jenny...

In this matter, Ralph felt that she was innocent.

But sometimes, she felt that she was not innocent.

Her distrust of Ralph was also one of the reasons who made things become like this...

When Ralph played the recording pen in her hand for the fifth time, Connie rushed in from outside.

"Lottie!"

She had heard that someone had jumped off the building at the hospital and had rushed over in a hurry because she was afraid that it was Ralph.

By the time Connie arrived at the hospital, the woman's body had been carried away by the police.

She didn't dare to identify the corpse. She was afraid that the person was Ralph...

So she still rushed to the ward firmly.

However, on the way to the ward, she had always heard the nurses talking that the person who jumped off the building was from the ward No.1503.

Connie's heart was hanging all the way.

Because Ralph's ward was No.1503.

She was afraid that Ralph would jump off the building after seeing Ralph's situation.

Finally, when she rushed into the ward, her heart finally settled down when she saw Ralph sitting on the carpet!

Connie rushed up and hugged Ralph tightly.

"They all said that the person who jumped off the building from No.1503. You scared me to death!"

Ralph looked at Connie in a daze and pursed her lips. "Someone did jump off the building..."

She pursed her lips and said in a hoarse voice,

"The person who jumped off the building is Jenny.

Connie's eyes widened instantly.

"Jenny?"

Ralph nodded and hugged Connie tightly. She told Connie about the agreement between Ian and Jenny, as well as Connie's antidote.

Finally, she closed her eyes and her tears soaked the cloth on Connie's shoulder.

"It's all my fault."

"If I hadn't beaten Jenny up and let her achieve her goal, wouldn't everything have become so bad?"

"Ralph only has a week left..."

"Connie, if he really can't hold on..."

"Does it mean that I killed him myself?"

Connie didn't know what to say to comfort and defend herself in the face of such a series of questions.

After a while, she took a deep breath.

"There will be a solution to everything."

"Lottie, isn't there a week left?"

"In this week, you will accompany Ralph and talk to him all the time. Let him return what he owes you."

"I don't believe it if he has consciousness, hearing your voice and hearing you ask him to pay for the thing that owe you, he will not work hard to wake up."

"Isn't that what they do on TV?"

Ralph closed her eyes. "That's the only way."

If there were other antidotes in the world, with Ian and Aiden's ability and the financial resources of the Chapman family, they could find them...

Just as Connie was comforting Ralph and was about to take her to look for Ralph, her phone rang.

It was Kayden.

"Lottie, can you help me?"

"Natalia meets Yara now."

"Now... Natalia wants to kill Yara with a knife."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 360 His Unrequited Love Is Back

Ralph was taken aback.

Natalia actually wanted to kill someone with a knife?

She frowned and asked Kayden where they were. Then she and Connie took a taxi.

She had thought that the three of them should be in a secret place.

After all, Natalia used to be a big star. No matter what she had done, she had avoided others' attention.

But what Ralph hadn't expected was...

They were on the top floor of a restaurant.

There were only three floors in the restaurant, and there were many people below.

On the top floor, Natalia held a knife in her hand and glared angrily at a girl curled up in the corner.

A large group of people surrounded her.

At the front of the crowd was Kayden, who was sitting in a wheelchair.

Behind Kayden, there were policemen, security guards, and people from the army.

There were reporters everywhere and live streaming everywhere.

Obviously, this was no longer a personal dispute.

This was a murder in front of the civilians of the whole city.

Ralph rubbed the space between her eyebrows. Just as she pulled Connie into the restaurant, a black Maserati stopped at the entrance of the restaurant.

Ralph recognized that it was Ralph's car!

And Ralph's car was now being used by Ian...

She frowned and turned to look in the direction of the car.

As expected.

The door opened and the man walked out of the car. It was Ian, who had just been with Ralph at the hospital.

Ralph walked over with a frown. "What are you doing here?"

Although she now knew that this man was Ralph's twin brother, Ian, she...

In the eyes of outsiders, Ian was Ralph after all.

Moreover, hadn't he gone to deal with Jenny's matters ?

Why did he still have the energy to come here and meddle in Kayden's affairs?

Ian paused when he saw that Ralph was also there. Finally, he pursed his lips and raised his head to look in the direction of the rooftop.

"Well, the one who was pointed at by a knife is my fiancée."

"I told her not to come to Rexwell. My current identity is not suitable for her to come!"

"But she insisted on coming over and said that she wanted to meet her old friends. What happened now?"

After that, Ian looked at the rooftop again.

Natalia seemed to be arguing with Yara excitedly.

He didn't have time to care about Ralph and rushed straight into the dining room.

The man's shoulder slammed into Ralph's shoulder, and it hurt a little.

However, she could not feel the pain at all.

She was full of shock.

So...

Ian's fiancée was Yara! ?

It was the one who had taken advantage of her incurable disease to take away Natalia's identity and stayed with Kayden. After her death, Kayden and Natalia were not allowed to be together..."Yara?"

Ralph's mind was mess.

In other words, Ralph's biological brother's fiancée was his nephew Kayden's ex-girlfriend, unrequited love! ?

"Lottie, why are you in a daze?"

Connie frowned and said, "Let's go. If you don't go up, Natalia might really hurt someone. There are so many people watching today. She can't get away with it!"

It wasn't until then that Ralph came to her senses. She quickly pulled Connie into the restaurant.

There were more people in the restaurant than outside.

It took them a lot of effort to squeeze into the rooftop.

At this moment, Natalia was holding a knife and looking at Yara with a sneer.

"What else?"

"In addition to lying to us that you have terminal diseases, what else did you lie to?"

Yara was petite and shrank into a corner.

She bit her lip and said pitifully,

"No more."

"There's no more. Natalia, you asked me many questions. I can't think of anything..."

After that, she took a deep breath and said with tears in her eyes,

"And I didn't lie to you about terminal diseases on purpose..."

"You went to the orphanage after you were lost. We were friends for a long time.

Later, after your parents took you home, they took me home and raised me."

"At that time, it was really a wrong diagnosis from the hospital. I really thought I had terminal diseases."

"In order not to let your family take more money to help me, saved me. That's why I... I pretended to die and left you, leaving alone outside."

"But later I found out that I hadn't terminal diseases. I didn't dare to come back to Rexwell to find you, until now..."

"I heard that you're with Kayden, and I know that you've always liked Kayden, so I think you've finally found happiness. I wanted to congratulate you, so I went back to Rexwell. I didn't expect..."

The more she said, the more tears she shed.

"I didn't expect that you would take this opportunity to say that what I did back then was a lie..."

"Although I'm really grateful for your family's kindness to me, but what I did was what I did, and what I didn't do was what I didn't do. You can't let me admit that you were in love with Kayden with letters because you are now with him, right?"

"Although so many years have passed, I don't care anymore."

"But those letters were indeed written by me!"

The woman's words made the hatred in Natalia's eyes even more intense.

"Bullshit!"

Natalia narrowed her eyes and said, "Yara, how long are you going to lie?"

At that time, Yara was suffering from terminal diseases. She wanted Natalia to leave her last dignity before she died. She wanted Natalia to admit that the person who wrote to Kayden online was Yara.

At that time, Natalia really thought that she was going to die, so she did not expose her.

But now?

After so many years, Kayden still didn't want to believe that the person who wrote to him was Natalia.

Not only that, but Yara was still alive.

The first thing she did after returning to Rexwell was to talk to Kayden about their past in letters.

If Natalia had not been worried that Kayden's legs not well and she had someone to followed him, she would not have known that Kayden had already been in touch with Yara and that she had not died!

However, he had never told her about this!

It was no wonder that Kayden had always wanted to divorce her. He had always said that he would let her go and that she would become the glorious Natalia of the past.

In the beginning, Natalia only thought that Kayden felt inferior, or that his legs could not recover, so he did not want to drag her down.

She still felt sorry for him. She always found a reason not to divorce and insisted on this marriage.

But now, looking at Yara, she suddenly came to her senses.

So...

It turned out that his real unrequited love had come back!

It turned out that Kayden had never forgotten Yara!

"Natalia."

Suddenly, Ralph's voice came from.

Natalia was stunned and subconsciously turned to look at Ralph.

"Lottie..."

She should know exactly how sad she was.

All along, Natalia had been pretending to be strong. The moment she saw Ralph, her tears fell instantly. "Lottie, I..."

Just as Natalia was looking excitedly at Ralph, Yara, who had been forced into a corner, narrowed her eyes-

She rushed up and snatched the knife from Natalia's hand. .
