

Chapter 367 We Agree

As she spoke, Grace winked at Jeffrey.

'Damn it!' The wink gave Jeffrey goose bumps!

Even Nellie couldn't believe her ears. "What did you say?"

Rolling her eyes, Grace repeated, "I said I fell in love with Jeffrey and I don't want to marry Brian anymore. Mrs. Oliver, how about this? Brian and Jeffrey are both your sons, right? Anyway, it's a union between our families. I can marry either of them. What if we make Jeffrey the groom instead of Brian?"

'What the fuck?' Jeffrey was too stunned to say a word.

Meanwhile, Brian's face turned red from wrath.

Just like him, Nellie was enraged too. She said in a trembling voice, "Grace, marriage is not a joke!"

However, Grace had no intention of giving up so easily. She smile and squeezed Nellie's hand. "I'm not joking. I thought it through before I made the decision. I had no idea that Jeffrey was also your son. Otherwise, I wouldn't have agreed to get engaged to Brian. Now that I know that Jeffrey is your son, of course, I will choose him over Brian!"

Suppressing her anger, Nellie explained, "The news about your engagement with Brian has already been announced. Everyone in the city must have heard about it by now..."

"Well, it doesn't matter to me. It's not as if Brian and I are already married." Grace waved her hand. "Mrs. Oliver, don't be so stubborn. Let people say whatever they like. You're not going to suffer any loss with what I want, anyway."

What she said made Nellie shiver in anger. 'I can't believe this! This woman must be out of her mind! Indeed, Brian and Jeffrey are both my sons. But Brian is infamous because of his relationship with Eris. Although Bruce had some romantic affairs, none of it were serious. Overall, he has a good reputation.'

Even though Brian had a bad reputation, he was still too good for Grace.

In fact, if only the company hadn't been in such financial distress, Nellie wouldn't have forced Brian into making such a sacrifice. It was already painful enough for her to sacrifice Brian. Now Grace suddenly wanted to marry Jeffrey!

'How shameless she is!' Of all the people Nellie had met in her entire life, she thought Grace was the most shameless woman. "Grace..."

"Mrs. Oliver, don't worry. If you agree to let Jeffrey be my husband, I will definitely treat your family well. What do you think? With your permission, I'll be more than happy to increase the dowry to one billion dollars!"

"Enough!" Brian said.

Anger was written all over Grace's face when she turned to Brian. "I'm talking to your mother, not to you!"

"Grace, you are going too far!"

"You are so weird!" Ignoring him, Grace returned her attention to Nellie. "One billion dollars! Am I sincere enough?"

She thought it was enough to move Nellie.

After hesitating for a moment, Nellie shook her head. "I'm afraid I have to refuse your offer."

Frowning, Grace asked, "Why?"

"Because I have a girlfriend!" It was Jeffrey who spoke. "You'd better give up!" He would rather die than live with such a woman.

Jeffrey never judged people by their looks. But the woman in front of him was not only ugly but also shameless. Prior to this, she had already agreed to get married with Brian tomorrow. But when Grace saw Jeffrey, she regretted getting engaged with Brian. She even came to his room wearing a sexy nightgown in the middle of the night in an attempt to seduce him.

'She is so disgusting. How could there be such a shameless woman in the world? She comes from a wealthy family? Bah!' Jeffrey thought.

"You have a girlfriend?" To his surprise, Grace only shrugged her shoulders. "It doesn't matter. You can break up with her. Look, your brother and I are about to get married tomorrow, but I broke off the engagement after seeing you. Isn't it a good example?"

'What the hell?' There was nothing else Jeffrey could say to this kind of shameless woman. Therefore, he thought it was better to shut up.

"Mrs. Oliver, please think about it. I'm sincere."

"No..."

In desperation, Grace said, "Two billion dollars! As long as you agree, I'm willing to give you two billion dollars as dowry! What do you think?"

Nellie's heart skipped a beat. 'Two billion dollars! My God!' For a moment, she felt a little dizzy.

Jaylen, who was standing beside her, reached out to hold her. Nellie held his arm for support. To be honest, she was tempted.

For God's sake, it was two billion dollars! Not twenty dollars! Not two hundred thousand dollars! But two billion dollars! With that amount of money, she would definitely be able to solve the company's crisis. It would be a lie if she said she wasn't tempted.

Jeffrey was in a relationship with Mia. And the Andrade family were rich. But they were just dating. Who knew when they would plan to marry? Even if they got married, it wasn't guaranteed that the Andrade family would help them get through the crisis. And if they agreed to give them money at that time, could the company wait that long?

Moreover, the news about Jeffrey and Mia's relationship had been exposed for several days already. Yet, Nellie still didn't know how the Andrade family reacted to it. If they forced Mia to leave Jeffrey, then...

It made Nellie think twice.

Her reaction gave Grace a ray of hope. "Don't hesitate anymore. I'll give you three billion dollars!"

Nellie's entire body trembled. This time, it was not out of anger, but excitement.

When she turned to look at Jaylen, she saw the same excitement in his eyes. Nellie forced herself to calm down and held Grace's hand tightly. "Do you have that much money?"

"Of course!" Grace snorted. "You underestimated our family. Don't you often say that the Cook family is a nouveau riche? I don't mind telling you that our family is indeed a nouveau riche. The last thing the nouveau riche need is money!"

Nellie licked her dry lips and said, "Even if your family is rich, do you have the final say?"

The more Nellie seemed interested, the more confident

Grace was. She patted her chest and smiled. "Of course! I'm the only child of my parents. They have doted on me since I was born. Although I'm ugly and fat, I am the apple of their eye. No matter what it is that I want, they give it to satisfy me."

"Really?"

"Of course! Since we're at it, I'll tell you a secret. My parents bought a mine before. Recently, we found precious jadeite in that mine. The news is still in the confidential stage. If it wasn't because I fell in love with Jeffrey, I wouldn't tell you. I don't think I have to explain any further. I'm sure you know the value of the jadeite."

Both Nellie and Jaylen were overjoyed. 'Jadeite mine! Oh my God.' If Grace was telling the truth, then the Cook family was indeed capable of giving them three billion dollars.

"Isn't your company in danger? I assure you, three billion dollars is merely a taste of what's to come. If Jeffrey treats me well, money won't be a problem. You can think about it carefully."

"There's no need to think about it." For the sake of money, Nellie made up her mind. "We agree!"
